<sup>12</sup> And when they be gone forth, I shall spread abroad on them my net, I shall draw them down as a bird of the air. I shall beat them, by the hearing of the company of them. (And when they be gone forth, I shall spread abroad my net upon them, and I shall draw them down like a bird in the air. I shall beat them, like their company, or their congregation, hath heard, or I shall beat them, for the evil which they have done.)

- <sup>13</sup> Woe to them for they went away from me; they shall be destroyed, for they trespassed against me. And I again-bought them, and they spake leasings against me, (or And I wanted to save, or rescue, them, but they spoke lies about me).
- <sup>14</sup> And they cried not to me in their heart, but yelled in their beds. They chewed cud on wheat, and wine, and they went away from me. (And they did not cry to me in their hearts, but wailed upon their beds. They gashed, or wounded, themselves for corn, and for wine, and they went away from me.)
- $^{15}$  And I taught, and comforted the arms of them, and they thought malice against me. (And I taught them, and I strengthened them, and still they thought malice against me.)
- <sup>16</sup> They turned again, that they should be without yoke; they be made as a guileful bow. The princes of them shall fall down by sword for the strong vengeance of their tongue; this is the scorning of them in the land of Egypt. (They turned away again, so that they would be without my yoke; they be made like a crooked bow. And so their leaders shall fall down by the sword because of the boasting and the deceitfulness of their tongues; this shall be their mocking in the land of Egypt.)

- <sup>1</sup> A trump be in thy throat, as an eagle on the house of the Lord; for that that they went over my bond of peace, and brake my law. (Let a trumpet be at thy lips, like an eagle on the House of the Lord; for they have broken my covenant, and rebelled against my teaching.)
- <sup>2</sup> They called me to help, (and said), A! my God, we Israel have known thee. (They called to me for help, and said, O my God! we Israel have known thee.)
- <sup>3</sup> Israel hath cast away good [thing], the enemy shall pursue him. (But Israel hath thrown away a good thing, and the enemy shall pursue them.)
- <sup>4</sup> They reigned, and not of me; they were princes, and I knew not. They made their gold and silver (into) idols to them, that they should perish. (They reigned, but not by me; they ordained rulers, but I did not know them. They made their silver and gold into idols for themselves, and so now they shall perish.)
- <sup>5</sup> A! Samaria, thy calf is cast away; my strong vengeance is wroth against them. How long may they not be cleansed? (O Samaria! thy calf is thrown away; my strong vengeance is raging against them. How long until they be cleansed?)
- <sup>6</sup> for also it is of Israel. A craftsman made it, and it is not (a) god; for the calf of Samaria shall be into webs of araneida. (for it is also of Israel. A craftsman made it, and it is not God; for the calf of Samaria shall be like spider webs.)
- <sup>7</sup> For they shall sow wind, and they shall reap whirlwind. A stalk standing (up) is not in them, the seed shall not make meal; that if also it maketh meal, aliens shall eat it. (For they shall sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind. A standing stalk is not among them, the seed shall not make meal, or grain; and even if it maketh meal, foreigners, or strangers, shall eat it up.)

<sup>8</sup> Israel is devoured; now Israel is made as an unclean vessel among nations (or and now Israel is made like an unclean, or a worthless, vessel among the peoples),

<sup>9</sup> for they ascended to Assur. Ephraim is a wild ass, solitary to himself, (or for they went up to Assyria. Ephraim is like a wild donkey, alone unto itself). They gave gifts to [their] lovers;

<sup>10</sup> but also with meed they hired nations (or and with money they hired men from among the nations). Now I shall gather them together, and they shall rest a little from (the) burden of the king and of (the) princes.

<sup>11</sup> For Ephraim multiplied altars to do sin, altars were made to him into trespass. (For Ephraim multiplied altars to do sin, yea, altars were made for them to do sin.)

- <sup>12</sup> I shall write to them my manyfold laws, that be areckoned as alien laws. (I wrote for them my many laws, but they be reckoned as foreign, or strange, laws.)
- <sup>13</sup> They shall bring sacrifices, they shall offer, and eat fleshes; and the Lord shall not receive those. Now he shall have mind on the wickednesses of them, and he shall visit the sins of them; they shall turn (again) into Egypt. (They shall bring sacrifices, they shall offer, and eat the meat, but I the Lord shall not receive them. Now I shall remember their wickednesses, and I shall punish their sins; and they shall return to Egypt.)
- <sup>14</sup> And Israel forgat his maker, and builded temples to his idols, and Judah multiplied strong cities; and I shall send fire into the cities of him, and it shall devour the houses of him. (For Israel forgot their Maker, and built temples to their idols, and Judah made many fortified cities; but I shall send fire into their cities, and it shall devour their houses, or their palaces.)

- <sup>1</sup> Israel, do not thou be glad, do not thou make full out joy as (other) peoples; for thou hast done fornication, (going away) from thy God. Thou lovedest meed on all the cornfloors of wheat. (Israel, do not thou be happy, do not thou rejoice like other peoples; for thou hast done adultery, or idolatry, going away from thy God. Thou hast received thy reward, or thy bounty, on all the threshing floors for corn.)
- <sup>2</sup> The cornfloor and presser shall not feed them, and wine shall lie to them. (But soon the threshing floor and the winepress shall not feed them, and the wine shall fail before them.)
- <sup>3</sup> They shall not dwell in the land of the Lord. Ephraim turned again in to Egypt, and ate defouled thing among Assyrians. (They shall not live in the land of the Lord. Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and shall eat defiled things among the Assyrians.)
- <sup>4</sup> They shall not offer wine to the Lord, and they shall not please him. The sacrifices of them be as bread of mourners; all that shall eat it shall be defouled. For the bread of them is to the life of them; they shall not enter into the house of the Lord. (They shall not offer wine to the Lord, and they shall not please him. Their sacrifices be like the bread of mourners; all who shall eat it shall be defiled. For their bread shall only be for their life, or for their sustenance; they shall not enter into the House of the Lord with it.)
- <sup>5</sup> What shall ye do in the solemn day, in the day of the feast of the Lord? (What shall ye do on the solemn day, yea, on the feast day of the Lord?)

- <sup>6</sup> For lo! they be gone out from destroying. Egypt shall gather them together, Memphis shall bury them. A nettle shall inherit the desirable silver of them, a clote shall be in the tabernacles of them, (or Nettles shall inherit their treasures of silver, thorns shall grow in their tents).
- <sup>7</sup> Days of visitation be come, days of yielding be come. Know ye, that Israel is a fool, a mad prophet, a spiritual man, for the multitude of thy wickedness is also the multitude of madness. (Days of punishment have come, days of yielding vengeance have come, and Israel shall know it. And now the prophet shall be made a fool, and the spiritual man a madman, for the multitude of thy wickedness and thy hatred.)
- <sup>8</sup> The beholder of Ephraim with my God is a prophet; a snare of falling is made now on all the ways of him, strong vengeance is in the house of his God. (The watchman for Ephraim was sent from his God; but the prophet is made a snare of falling in all their ways, and strong vengeance is in the House of his God, or but a snare of falling is made on all the ways of the prophet, and strong vengeance is in the House of his God.)
- <sup>9</sup> They sinned deeply, as in the days of Gibeah. The Lord shall have mind on the wickedness of them, and shall visit the sins of them. (They sinned deeply, like in the days of Gibeah. The Lord shall remember their wickedness, and shall punish them for their sins.)
- <sup>10</sup> I found Israel as grapes in desert, I saw the fathers of them as the first apples of a fig tree, in the top thereof; but they entered to Baalpeor, and were aliened [away] in[to] confusion, and they were made abominable as those things which they loved. (I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness, I saw their forefathers like the first fruits of a fig tree, high on the top of it; but they turned to Baalpeor, and went their way in confusion, and they were made as abominable as those things which they loved.)
- <sup>11</sup> Ephraim as a bird flew away; the glory of them is of child-bearing, and of the womb, and of conceiving. (The glory of Ephraim shall fly away like a bird; yea, away from child-bearing, and away from the womb, and even away from conceiving.)
- $^{12}$  (So) That if they nurse their sons, I shall make them without children among men, (or And even if they do nourish their children, I shall soon make them to be without any children). But also woe to them, when I shall go away from them.
- <sup>13</sup> I saw that Ephraim was as Tyre, founded in fairness; and Ephraim shall lead out his sons to the slayer. (I saw that Ephraim was like Tyre, founded in beauty; but Ephraim shall lead out their sons to the killer.)
- <sup>14</sup> Lord, give thou to them; what shalt thou give to them? give thou to them a womb without children, and dry teats. (Lord, give thou them; but what shalt thou give them? give thou them childless wombs, and dry breasts!)
- <sup>15</sup> All the wickednesses of them be in Gilgal, for there I had them hateful; for the malice of their findings. I shall cast them out of mine house; I shall not lay to, that I love them. All the princes of them go away (from me). (All their wickednesses be in Gilgal, and it was there that I began to hate them. For the malice of their deeds, I shall throw them out of my House; and no more shall I love them. All their leaders have rebelled against me.)

- <sup>16</sup> Ephraim is smitten, the root of them is dried up; they shall not make fruit. That though they engender, I shall slay the most loved things of their womb. (Ephraim is struck down, their roots be dried up; they shall not make fruit. And if they do beget, or give birth, then I shall kill the most beloved things from their wombs.)
- $^{17}$  My God shall cast them away, for they heard not him, (or My God shall cast them away, for they did not listen to him); and they shall be of unstable dwelling among (the) nations.

- <sup>1</sup> Israel was a vine full of boughs, fruit was made even to him, (or Israel was a vine full of branches, bringing forth fruit unto himself); by the multitude of his fruit he multiplied (the) altars, by the plenty of his land he was plenteous. [Israel a vine full of boughs, fruit is made even to him; after the multitude of his fruit he multiplied altars, after the plenty of his land he was plenteous in simulacra, or false gods.]
- <sup>2</sup> In simulacra the heart of them is parted, now they shall perish. He shall break the simulacra of them, he shall rob the altars of them. (Their hearts be all turned toward their idols, and now they shall perish. Yea, God shall destroy their idols, and shall rob their altars.)[The heart of them is parted, now they shall perish. He shall break together the simulacra of them, he shall spoil the altars of them, (or He shall altogether break their idols, he shall spoil their altars).]
- <sup>3</sup> For then they shall say, A king is not to us, for we dread(ed) not the Lord. And what shall a king do to us? (And then they shall say, We have no king, for we did not fear the Lord. But what good could a king do for us anyway?)
- <sup>4</sup> Speak ye words of unprofitable vision, and ye shall smite bond of peace with leasing; and doom as bitterness shall burgeon on the furrows of the field. (Speak ye words of unprofitable vision, and ye shall strike a covenant with lies; and a bitter justice shall burgeon on the furrows of the field.)
- <sup>5</sup> The dwellers of Samaria worshipped the kine of Bethaven. For the people thereof mourned on that calf, and the keepers of the house thereof; they made full out joy on it in the glory thereof, for it passed from that people. (The inhabitants of Samaria worshipped the calf of Bethaven. And so the people there, and the keepers of its temple, mourned when that calf was taken away; yea, they had rejoiced over it in its glory, before that it was taken away from that people.)
- <sup>6</sup> For also it was borne to Assur, a gift to the king venger. Confusion shall take Ephraim, and Israel shall be shamed in his will. (For it shall be carried over to Assyria, as a gift to the great king. And so shame shall overtake Ephraim, yea, Israel shall be ashamed of their own willfulness or Israel shall be shamed by their own willfulness.)
- <sup>7</sup> Samaria made his king to pass (away) as froth on the face of (the) water. (Samaria and his king were swept away, like froth upon the water.)
- <sup>8</sup> And the high things of idol, the sin of Israel, shall be lost. A clote and a briar shall ascend on the altars of them, (or And the high places, that is, the hill shrines, of Aven, or of Bethaven, the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed.

Thorns and briars, or nettles, shall grow upon their altars). And they shall say to mountains, Cover ye us, and to little hills, Fall ye down on us.

- <sup>9</sup> From the days of Gibeah Israel sinned; there they stood. Battle shall not (over)take them in Gibeah, on the sons of wickedness. (From the days of Gibeah Israel hath sinned; and they have stood there in rebellion. So now in Gibeah shall not the battle overtake them?)
- <sup>10</sup> By my desire I shall chastise them; peoples shall be gathered together on them (or peoples shall be gathered together against them), when they shall be chastised for their two wickednesses.
- <sup>11</sup> Ephraim is a cow calf, taught for to love threshing; and I went on the fairness of the neck thereof. I shall go upon Ephraim. Judah shall ear, and Jacob shall break furrows to himself. (Ephraim is a cow calf, taught to love threshing; and I put a yoke upon its comely neck. And I shall go upon, or I shall drive, Ephraim. Yea, Judah shall plow, and Jacob, or Israel, shall break the furrows for themselves.)
- <sup>12</sup> Sow ye to you rightfulness in truth, and reap ye in the mouth of mercy, and make ye new to you a field newly brought to tilth. Forsooth time is to seek the Lord, when he cometh, that shall teach you rightfulness. (And so I said, Sow ye for yourselves righteousness, or justice, in truth, and reap ye in the mouth of mercy, and make ye new to you a field newly brought to fallow. For it is time to seek the Lord, and when he cometh, he shall rain blessings upon you.)
- <sup>13</sup> Ye have eared unfaithfulness, ye have reaped wickedness, ye have eaten the corn of leasing. For thou trustedest in thy ways, and in the multitude of thy strong men. (But instead, ye have plowed unfaithfulness, ye have reaped wickedness, and ye have eaten the fruit of lies. For thou hast trusted in thy chariots, and in the multitude of thy strong men.)
- <sup>14</sup> Noise shall rise in thy people, and all thy strongholds shall be destroyed; as Shalman was destroyed of the house of him, that took vengeance on Betharbel; in the day of battle, when the mother was hurtled down on the sons. (And so now the noise of battle shall rise against thy people, and all thy strongholds shall be destroyed; like Shalman destroyed Betharbel in the day of battle, when the mother and her sons were hurtled down to the ground.)
- <sup>15</sup> So Bethel did to you, for the face of malice of your wickednesses. As the morrowtide passeth, the king of Israel shall pass forth. (So Bethel, it shall be done to you, for the great malice of your wickednesses. Like the morning passeth into the day, so the king of Israel shall be swept away.)

- <sup>1</sup> For Israel was a child, and I loved him; and from Egypt I called my son. (When Israel was a boy, I loved him; and I called my son out of Egypt.)
- <sup>2</sup> They called them, so they went away from the face of them. They offered to Baalim, and made sacrifice to simulacra. (And I called to them, but they went further away from me. They offered to the Baalim, and made sacrifice to idols.)
- <sup>3</sup> And I as a nurse of Ephraim bare them in mine arms, and they knew not, that I kept them. (And I as the nurse of Ephraim carried them in my arms, but they did not know, that it was I who had kept them safe.)

- <sup>4</sup> I shall draw them in the ropes of Adam, in the bonds of charity. And I shall be to them as he that enhanceth the yoke on the cheeks of them; and I bowed down to him that he should eat. (I drew them to me with the ropes of man, or of people, yea, with the bonds of love. And I was to them like he who lifteth up a little child to his cheeks or like he who lifteth off their yoke; and I bent down to feed them.)
- <sup>5</sup> He shall not turn again into the land of Egypt. And Assur, he shall be king of him, for they would not turn (again to me). (And so they shall (not) return to the land of Egypt. And the Assyrian, he shall be their king, because they would not return to me.)
- <sup>6</sup> A sword began in the cities thereof, and it shall waste the chosen men thereof, and shall eat the heads of them. (And a sword shall begin in their cities, and it shall destroy their chosen ones, and it shall eat their leaders.)
- <sup>7</sup> And my people shall hang, at my coming again. But a yoke shall be put to them (al)together, that shall not be taken away. (But my people shall persist in their rebellion. And a yoke shall be put upon them, and it shall not be taken away.)
- <sup>8</sup> How shall I give thee (up), Ephraim? shall I defend thee, Israel? how shall I give thee (up)? As Admah I shall set thee; as Zeboiim. Mine heart is turned within me; my repentance is disturbed together. (How can I give thee up, Ephraim? how can I abandon thee, Israel? how can I give thee up? Shall I make thee like Admah? or like Zeboiim? My heart is turned within me; my repentance is altogether kindled.)
- <sup>9</sup>I shall not do the strong vengeance of my wrath. I shall not turn (again), to lose Ephraim; for I am God, and not man. I am Holy in the midst of thee, and I shall not enter into a city. (I shall not do the strong vengeance of my anger. I shall not return, or turn back, to destroy Ephraim; for I am God, and not a man. I am the Holy One in thy midst, and I shall not enter into thy cities.)
- <sup>10</sup> They shall go after the Lord. He shall roar as a lion, for he shall roar, and the sons of the sea shall dread. (They shall follow after the Lord. And he shall roar like a lion, and when he shall roar, his sons shall come to him from the west.)
- <sup>11</sup> And they shall fly away as a bird from Egypt, and as a culver from the land of Assyrians. And I shall set them in their houses, saith the Lord. (And they shall fly away like a bird out of Egypt, and like a dove out of the land of Assyria. And I shall put them again in their own houses, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>12</sup> Ephraim compassed me in denying, the house of Israel in guile. But Judah a witness went down with God, and with faithful saints. (Ephraim surroundeth me with denial, or with treachery, yea, the house of Israel surroundeth me with deceitfulness. And Judah still rebelleth against me, the faithful and the holy God.)

<sup>1</sup> Ephraim feedeth (on the) wind, and followeth heat. All day he multiplieth leasing, and destroying; and he made bond of peace with Assyrians, and bare oil into Egypt. (Ephraim feedeth on the wind, and followeth after the east wind. All day they multiplieth lies, and destruction; and they made a covenant of peace with Assyria, and carried tributes of oil to Egypt.)

- <sup>2</sup> Therefore the doom of the Lord is with Judah, and visiting is on Jacob; by the ways of him, and by the findings of him, he shall yield to him. (And so the Lord hath a judgement to bring against Judah, and Jacob shall be punished; yea, because of their ways, and their deeds, the Lord shall vield vengeance unto them.)
- <sup>3</sup> In the womb he supplanted his brother, and in his strength he wrestled with the angel.
- <sup>4</sup> And he was strong to the angel, and was comforted, [or And he had victory at the angel, and he was comforted]; he wept, and prayed (to) him; in Bethel he found him, and there he spake with us. (And he was strong against the angel or And he fought against the angel, and was the stronger; and he wept, and prayed to him; yea, he found him in Bethel, and there he spoke with him.)
  - <sup>5</sup> And the Lord God of hosts, the Lord, is the memorial of him. (With the Lord God of hosts, yea, the Lord is his name.)

- <sup>6</sup> And thou shalt turn (again) to thy God. Keep thou mercy and doom, and hope thou ever[more] in thy God. (And thou shalt return to thy God. Practise thou love and justice, or Practise thou love and judgement, and hope thou forevermore in thy God.)
- <sup>7</sup> Canaan loved false challenge, a guileful balance in his hand. (The merchant loved false practises, yea, a deceitful balance was in his hands.)
- 8 And Ephraim said, Nevertheless I am made rich, I have found an idol to me; all my travails shall not find to me the wickedness, which I sinned. (And Ephraim said, Nevertheless I am made rich, I have made my fortune; and in all my labours no one shall not find any wickedness in me, by which I have sinned.)
- <sup>9</sup> And I am thy Lord God from the land of Egypt; yet I shall make thee to sit in tabernacles, as in the days of feast. (And I am the Lord thy God since thy days in the land of Egypt; and I shall make thee to sit in tents again, like in the old days.)
- <sup>10</sup> And I spake by prophets, and I multiplied vision, either prophesy, and I was likened in the hand of (the) prophets. (And I spoke by prophets, and I multiplied visions, or prophesies, and I used likenesses, or parables, in the hands of the prophets.)
- 11 If Gilead worshippeth an idol, therefore they err in vain offering to oxes in Gilgal; for why and the altars of them shall be as heaps on the furrows of the field.
- 12 Jacob fled into the country of Syria, and Israel served for a wife, and served, either kept (sheep) for a wife. (Jacob fled into the country of Syria, or Aram, and then Israel served a man in order to get a wife, yea, served him, and kept sheep, for a wife.)

<sup>13</sup> But by a prophet the Lord led Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet he was kept (safe). (But by a prophet the Lord led Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet they were kept alive.)

14 Ephraim stirred me to wrathfulness in his bitternesses, and the blood of him shall come on him; and his Lord shall restore to him the shame of him. (Ephraim stirred me to bitter anger, and his blood shall come upon him; and his Lord shall return his shame unto him.)

- <sup>1</sup> For Ephraim spake, hideousness assailed Israel; and he trespassed in Baal, and was dead. (For when the people of Ephraim spoke, fear, or terror, assailed the other Israelites; and they trespassed by worshipping Baal, and many died.)
- <sup>2</sup> And now they added to do sin, and made to them a molten image of their silver, as the likeness of idols; all is the making of craftsmen. To these they say, A! ye men, offer, and worship calves. (And they added to do more sin, and made for themselves a cast image, and idols made out of silver; yea, all the making of craftsmen. To whom they say, O ye men! offer to these, and worship the calves.)
- <sup>3</sup> Therefore they shall be as a morrowtide cloud, and as the dew of morrowtide, that passeth forth, as dust ravished by whirlwind from the cornfloor, and as smoke of a chimney. (And so they shall be like a morning cloud, and like the morning dew, that passeth away, and like the dust that is taken up by the whirlwind from the threshing floor, and like the smoke out of a chimney.)
- <sup>4</sup> Forsooth I am thy Lord God from the land of Egypt; and thou shalt not know God, except me, and no saviour is, except me. (But I am the Lord thy God since thy days in the land of Egypt; and thou shalt know no other god, except me, and there is no other saviour, except me.)
  - <sup>5</sup> I knew thee in the desert, in the land of wilderness.
- <sup>6</sup> By their pastures they were filled, and had abundance; they raised [up] their heart, and forgat me, (or then they raised up their hearts, and forgot me).
- $^7$  And I shall be as a lioness to them, as a leopard in the way of Assyrians. (And I shall be like a lioness to them, I shall watch them like a leopard by the wayside.)
- <sup>8</sup> I as a female bear, when the whelps be ravished, shall meet them; and shall all-break the inner things of the maw of them. And I as a lion shall waste them there; a beast of the field shall rend them. (I shall meet them like a female bear, robbed of her cubs, and I shall break the inner things of their maw, or I shall tear apart their innards. And like a lion I shall destroy them there; yea, I shall tear them apart like a wild beast.)
- <sup>9</sup> Israel, thy perdition is of thee; thine help is only of me. (Israel, thy perdition (is from me); now who (can) help thee? or and now only I (can) help thee!)
- <sup>10</sup> Where is thy king? mostly save he thee now in all thy cities; and where be thy judges, of which thou saidest, Give thou to me a king and princes? (Where is thy king now? let him save thee in all thy cities; and where be thy rulers, of whom thou saidest, Give thou me a king and princes?)
- $^{11}$  I shall give to thee a king in my strong vengeance, and I shall take away in mine indignation. (I gave thee a king in my strong vengeance, and then in my indignation I took him away.)
- <sup>12</sup> The wickedness of Ephraim is bound together; his sin is hid. (The wickedness of Ephraim is recorded; and the records of his sins be hidden away.)
- <sup>13</sup> The sorrows of a woman travailing of child shall come to him; he is a son not wise. For now he shall not stand in the defouling of sons. (The sorrows of a woman labouring with child shall come to him; he is not a wise son, for he would not leave the place of his conceiving.)

- <sup>14</sup> I shall deliver them from the hand of death, and I shall again-buy them from death. Thou death, I shall be thy death; thou hell, I shall be thy morsel. Comfort is hid from mine eyes, (But I shall save, or rescue, them from the hand of death, and I shall buy them back from death. O death, bring on thy death; O Sheol or O grave, bring on thy destruction. Mercy is hid from my eyes,)
- <sup>15</sup> for he shall part betwixt brethren. The Lord shall bring a burning wind, going up from desert; and it shall make dry the veins thereof, and it shall make desolate the well(s) thereof; and he shall ravish the treasure of each desirable vessel. (and I shall divide between brothers. Yea, the Lord shall bring in a burning wind, going up from the desert; and it shall dry up their springs, and make their wells desolate; and it shall take away all their valuable treasures.)

<sup>16</sup> (Let) Samaria perish, for it stirred his God to bitterness; perish it by sword. The little children of them be hurtled down, and the women with child thereof be carved. (And so Samaria shall perish, for she stirred her God to bitterness; she shall perish by the sword. Their little children shall be hurtled down, and their women with child shall be carved, or cut, up.)

- <sup>1</sup> Israel, be thou turned again to thy Lord God, for thou falledest down in thy wickedness. (Israel, return thou to the Lord thy God, for thou hast fallen down in thy wickedness.)
- <sup>2</sup> Take ye words with you, and be ye turned again to the Lord; and say ye to him, Do thou away all wickedness, and take thou good; and we shall yield the calves of our lips. (Make ye your words ready, and return to the Lord; and say ye to him, Do thou away all our wickedness, and accept our prayers; and we shall give, or offer, sacrifices with our lips.)
- <sup>3</sup> Assur shall not save us, we shall not go upon horse; and we shall no more say, Our gods be the works of our hands; for thou shalt have mercy on that motherless child, which is in thee. (Assyria shall not save us, and we shall not go on horses; we shall no more say to the works of our hands, Ye be our gods; for only in thee is there mercy, or love, for the motherless child.)
- <sup>4</sup> (And the Lord saith), I shall make whole the sorrows of them; I shall love them willfully (or I shall love them willingly), for my strong vengeance is turned away from them. [I shall heal the contrition of them; I shall love them of my free will, for my strong vengeance is turned away from them.]
- <sup>5</sup> I shall be as dew, and Israel shall burgeon as a lily. And the root thereof shall break out as of the Lebanon; (I shall be like the dew, and Israel shall flower like a lily. And it shall be rooted like the mighty trees of Lebanon;)
- <sup>6</sup> the branches thereof shall go (forth). And the glory thereof shall be as an olive tree, and the odour thereof shall be as of the Lebanon. (and its branches shall go forth. And its glory shall be like an olive tree, and its aroma shall be like the trees of Lebanon.)
- <sup>7</sup> They shall be turned again, and sit in the shadow of him; they shall live by wheat, and shall burgeon as a vine. The memorial thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon. (The people shall return, and shall sit under my shadow; they shall grow an abundance of corn, and shall flower like a vine. They shall be as famous as the wine of Lebanon.)

<sup>8</sup> Ephraim, what shall idols do more to me? I shall hear him, and I shall dress him as a green fir tree. Thy fruit is found of me. (What more shall Ephraim, or the people of Israel, have to do with idols? Now I shall hear them, and I shall shelter them like a green fir tree. Remember, thy fruit cometh from me.)

<sup>9</sup> Who is wise, and shall understand these things? who is understanding, and shall know these things? For the ways of the Lord be rightful, and just men shall go in those; but trespassers shall fall in those. (Those who be wise, shall understand these things; and those who have understanding, shall know these things. For the ways of the Lord be right, and the righteous, or the just, shall walk in them; but sinners shall fall in them.)

JOEL

- <sup>1</sup> The word of the Lord is this, that was made to Joel, the son of Pethuel.
- <sup>2</sup> Eld men, hear ye this, and all dwellers of the land, perceive ye with ears. If this thing was done in your days, either in the days of your fathers. (Old men, hear ye this, and all the inhabitants of the land, listen! Was such a thing as this ever done in your days, or in the days of your forefathers?)
- <sup>3</sup> Of this thing tell ye to your sons, and your sons tell to their sons, and the sons of them tell to another generation. (Tell ye this thing to your children, and your children tell their children, and their children tell to another generation.)

of a locust, and rust ate the residue of a bruchus.

<sup>5</sup> Drunken men, wake ye, and weep; and yell ye, all that drink wine in sweetness; for it perished from your mouth. (Drunken people, wake ye up, and weep; and yell ye, all who drink wine for its sweetness; for it hath perished from your mouth.)

<sup>6</sup> For why a folk strong and unnumberable ascended on my land. The teeth thereof be as the teeth of a lion, and the cheek teeth thereof be as of a whelp of a lion. (For a people, strong and innumerable, came upon my land. Their teeth (be) like the teeth of a lion; and their molars (be) like that of a lion's cub.)

<sup>7</sup> It setted my vinery into desert, and took away the rind of my fig tree. It made naked and spoiled that vinery, and casted forth; the branches thereof be made white. (They destroyed my vines, and took the rind off my fig trees. They made bare and spoiled that vineyard, and cast it down; its branches were made white.)

husband, at the time of her marriage.)

<sup>9</sup> Sacrifice and moist sacrifice perished from the house of the Lord; and priests, the ministers of the Lord, mourned. (There is no grain or wine to offer in the House of the Lord; and the priests, the ministers of the Lord, mourned.)

<sup>10</sup> The country is made bare of people. The earth mourned; for wheat is destroyed. Wine is shamed, and oil was sick, either failed. (The land is made bare of people. The earth mourned, for the corn, or the grain, is destroyed. The wine is dried up, and the oil languished, or failed.)

<sup>11</sup> The earth-tillers be shamed, the vine-tillers yelled on wheat and barley; for the ripe corn of the field is perished. (The earth-tillers despaired, the vine-tillers mourned for the wheat and the barley; for the harvest of the field hath perished.)

<sup>12</sup> The vinery is shamed; and the fig tree was sick. The pomegranate tree, and the palm tree, and the fir tree, and all the trees of the field dried up; for joy is shamed from the sons of men. (The vines be dried up, and the fig trees languished, or failed. The pomegranate tree, the palm tree, the fir tree, and all the trees of the field have dried up; and joy is gone away from among the people.)

- <sup>13</sup> Ye priests, gird you(rselves), and wail; ye ministers of the altar, yell. Ministers of my God, enter ye, lie ye in sackcloth; for why sacrifice and moist sacrifice perished from the house of your God (or for there is no grain or wine to offer in the House of your God).
- <sup>14</sup> Hallow ye fasting, call ye the company, gather ye together eld men, and all dwellers of the earth, into the house of your God; and cry ye to the Lord, (Call ye for a fast, call ye the congregation, gather ye together the old men, that is, the elders, and all the people of the land, into the House of your God; and cry ye to the Lord,)
- <sup>15</sup> A! A! A! to the day; for the day of the Lord is nigh, and shall come as a tempest from the (Al)mighty. (O! O! O! what a day! for the day of the Lord is near, and it shall come like a tempest from the Almighty.)
- <sup>16</sup> Whether foods perished not before your eyes; gladness and full out joy perished from the house of your God? (All the food hath perished before our eyes; and happiness and rejoicing have departed from the House of our God.)
- <sup>17</sup> Beasts waxed rotten in their drit. Barns be destroyed, cellars be destroyed, for wheat is shamed. (The seed grew rotten in the dirt, or the dry earth. The barns be empty, and the cellars be bare, for the corn, or the grain, is parched, or dried up.)
- <sup>18</sup> Why wailed a beast? why lowed the flocks of oxen and kine? for no pasture is to them; but also the flocks of sheep perished. (Why do the beasts wail? why do the herds of oxen and cattle bellow? because there is no pasture for them; and the flocks of sheep have also perished.)
- $^{19}$  Lord, I shall cry to thee, for fire ate the fair things of desert, and flame burnt all the trees of the country. (Lord, I shall cry to thee, for fire ate up the beautiful things of the desert or for fire ate up the pastures of the wilderness, and flames burned down all the trees of the countryside.)
- <sup>20</sup> But also beasts of the field, as a cornfloor thirsting rain, beheld [up] to thee; for the wells of waters be dried up, and fire devoured the fair things of desert. (And the beasts of the field, like a threshing floor thirsting for rain, looked up to thee; for the water wells be dried up, and fire devoured the beautiful things of the desert or and fire devoured the pastures of the wilderness.)

- <sup>1</sup> Sing ye with a trump in Zion, yell ye in mine holy hill. All the dwellers of earth be disturbed; for the day of the Lord cometh, (Sing ye with a trumpet in Zion, yell ye upon my holy hill. All the people of the land be troubled; for the day of the Lord cometh,)
- <sup>2</sup> for the day of darknesses and of mist is nigh, the day of cloud and of whirlwind. (These locusts be) As the morrowtide spread abroad on hills, (like) a much people and strong. None was like it from the beginning, and after it shall not be, till into years of generation and of generation. (for the day of darkness and of mist is near; the day of cloud and of whirlwind. These locusts be like the morning spread abroad upon the hills, like a strong, innumerable host, or army. Nothing was ever like them before, and after them, nothing shall ever be like them again.)

- <sup>3</sup> Before the face thereof shall be fire devouring, and after it shall be burning flame; as a garden of liking the land shall be before them, and wilderness of desert (it) shall be after them, and none is that shall escape them. (At the front, they be like a devouring fire, and at the back, they be like a burning flame; before they come, the land shall be like a Garden of Eden, but after they leave, it shall be a wilderness of the desert, and there is nothing that shall escape them.)
- $^4\,\mathrm{The}$  looking of them  $\mathit{shall}$   $\mathit{be}$  as the looking of horses; and as horsemen, so they shall run.
- <sup>5</sup> As the sound of carts on the heads of hills they shall skip; as the sound of the flame of fire devouring stubble, as a strong people made ready to battle. (They shall skip over the hilltops, sounding like the rattle of carts, and like the flames of fire devouring stubble; they shall come like a strong, innumerable host, or army, prepared to do battle.)
- <sup>6</sup> Peoples shall be tormented of the face thereof, all faces shall be (as) driven into a pot. (The peoples shall be tormented before them, yea, all their faces shall turn pale with fear.)
- <sup>7</sup> As strong men they shall run, as men warriors they shall ascend on the wall. (These) Men shall go in their ways, and they shall not bow away from their paths. (They shall run like strong men, and like fighting men they shall go up on the walls. They shall go straight in their ways, and they shall not turn away from their paths.)
- <sup>8</sup> Each man shall not make strait his brother, each man shall go in his path; but also they shall fall down by windows, and shall not be hurt. (No one shall divert his neighbour, each one shall go on his own path; and they shall go in through the windows, and not be hurt.)
- <sup>9</sup> They shall enter into the city, they shall run on the wall; they shall ascend on houses, they shall enter as a night thief by windows. (They shall enter into the city, they shall run upon the walls; they shall go up on the houses, and they shall go in through the windows like a night thief.)
- <sup>10</sup> The earth trembled of his face, heavens were moved, the sun and the moon were made dark, and stars withdrew their shining. (The earth trembled before them, the heavens were moved, the sun and the moon were made dark, and the stars withdrew their shining.)
- <sup>11</sup> And the Lord gave his voice before the face of his host, for his hosts be full many; for those be strong, and do the word of him. For the day of the Lord is great, and full fearedful, and who shall suffer it?
- <sup>12</sup> Now therefore saith the Lord, Be ye turned again to me in all your heart, in fasting, and weeping, and wailing; (And yet even now, saith the Lord, turn ye again to me or return to me, with all your heart, with fasting, and weeping, and wailing;)
- <sup>13</sup> and carve ye your hearts, and not your clothes, and be ye turned again to your Lord God, for he is benign, and merciful, patient, and of much mercy, and abiding, either forgiving, on malice. (and carve ye, or rend ye, your hearts, and not your clothes, and turn ye again to the Lord your God or and return to the Lord your God, for he is benign, and merciful, patient, and of much mercy, and forgiving of malice.)
- <sup>14</sup> Who knoweth, if God be (not) turned again, and forgive, and leave blessing after him? sacrifice and moist sacrifice to our Lord God. (Who knoweth, if God shall not turn again, (or repent), and forgive, and even leave a blessing behind him? so, offer ye grain and wine to the Lord our God!)

- <sup>15</sup> Sing ye with a trump in Zion, hallow ye fasting, call ye (a) company; (Sing ye with a trumpet in Zion, call ye for a fast, call ye the congregation;)
- <sup>16</sup> gather together the people, hallow ye the church, (or gather together the people, call ye the congregation), gather ye together (the) eld men, gather ye together (the) little children, and (those) sucking the breasts; a spouse go out of his bed, and a spousess (out) of her chamber.
- <sup>17</sup> Priests, the ministers of the Lord, shall weep betwixt the porch and the altar, and shall say, Lord! spare thou, spare thy people, and give thou not thine heritage into shame, that nations be lords of them. Why say they among peoples, Where is the God of them? (The priests, the ministers of the Lord, shall weep between the porch and the altar, and shall say, Lord! spare thou, spare thy people, and give thou not thy own inheritance into shame, so that the nations be their lords. Why let the heathen say, Where is their God?)
- <sup>18</sup> The Lord loved jealously his land, and spared his people. (And then the Lord jealously, or zealously, loved his land, and spared his people.)
- <sup>19</sup> And the Lord answered, and said to his people, Lo! I shall send to you wheat, and wine, and oil, and ye shall be [ful] filled with those; and I shall no more give you (to be a) shame among heathen men. (And the Lord said to his people, Behold! I shall send you corn, (or grain), and wine, and oil, and ye shall be fulfilled, (or satisfied), with them, or and ye shall be filled full with them; and I shall no more allow you to be the reproach of the heathen.)
- <sup>20</sup> And I shall make him that is at the north far from you; and I shall cast him out into a land without way, and desert; his face against the east sea, and the last part thereof at the last sea; and the stink thereof shall go up, and the root thereof shall ascend, for he did proudly. (And I shall make those who be at the north to go far away from you; and I shall throw them out into a land without a way, and turned into a desert; their front forces shall turn toward the East Sea, or the Dead Sea, and their last parts toward the West Sea, or the Mediterranean Sea; and the stink of their carrion, or of their corpses, shall go up, for I shall go out against them, because of what they did so proudly to thee.)
- <sup>21</sup> Earth, do not thou dread, make thou full out joy, and be glad; for the Lord magnified that he should do. (O earth or O land, do not thou fear, rejoice, and be happy; for the Lord magnified what he said he would do.)
- <sup>22</sup> Beasts of the country, do not ye dread, for the fair things of desert burgeoned; for the tree brought his fruit, the fig tree and [the] vinery gave their strength. (Beasts in the fields, do not ye fear, for the beautiful things of the desert have burgeoned or for the pastures of the wilderness have become green; the trees have brought forth their fruit, and the fig trees and the vines gave their harvest.)
- <sup>23</sup> And the sons of Zion, make ye full out joy, and be ye glad in your Lord God, for he gave to you a teacher of rightfulness, and he shall make morrowtide rain and eventide rain to come down to you, as in the beginning. (And people of Zion, rejoice, and be ye happy in the Lord your God, for he gave you a teacher of righteousness or for he gave you the right amount of rain, and he shall make the morning, or the early, rain and the evening, or the late, rain come down to you, like before.)

- <sup>24</sup> And cornfloors shall be *[full-]*filled of wheat, and pressers shall flow with wine and oil. (And the threshing floors shall be filled full with grain, and the winepresses shall flow with wine and oil.)
- <sup>25</sup> And I shall yield to you the years which the locust, bruchus, and rust, and wortworm, my great strength, ate, which I sent into you. (And I shall give back to you the years which the locust, and the bruchus, and rust, and the wortworm, my great host, or my great army, ate, which I sent against you.)
- <sup>26</sup> And ye shall eat eating, and ye shall be [ful] filled; and ye shall praise the name of your Lord God, that made marvels with you; and my people shall not be shamed [into] without end. (And ye shall have plenty to eat, and ye shall be fulfilled, or satisfied, or and ye shall be filled full; and ye shall praise the name of the Lord your God, who made miracles for you; and my people shall not be shamed forever.)
- <sup>27</sup> And ye shall know, that I am in the midst of Israel; and I am your Lord God, and none is more; and my people shall not be shamed [into] without end. (And ye shall know, that I am in the midst of Israel; and I am the Lord your God, and no one is greater; and my people shall not be shamed forever.)
- <sup>28</sup> And it shall be, after these things I shall shed out my spirit on each man, (or And it shall be, after these things I shall pour out my spirit upon everyone); and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy; your eld men shall dream dreams, and your young men shall see visions.
- <sup>29</sup> But also I shall shed out my spirit on my servants, and handmaids, in those days; (And I shall even pour out my spirit upon slaves, and slave-girls, in those days;)
- <sup>30</sup> and I shall give great wonders in heaven, and in earth, blood, and fire, and the heat of smoke. (and I shall give great wonders in the heavens, and upon the earth, yea, blood, and fire, and the heat of smoke.)
- <sup>31</sup> The sun shall be turned into darknesses, and the moon into blood, before that the great day and horrible of the Lord come. (The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that the great and terrible day of the Lord come.)
- <sup>32</sup> And it shall be, each that calleth to help the name of the Lord shall be safe; for why salvation, either saving, shall be in the hill of Zion and in Jerusalem, as the Lord said, and in the residue men, which the Lord calleth. (And it shall be, that everyone who calleth on the name of the Lord for help, shall be saved; for salvation, or saving, shall be on Mount Zion, and in Jerusalem, as the Lord hath said, and among those who remain, or those who survive, that is, the remnant, whom the Lord calleth.)

CHAPTER 3

<sup>1</sup> For lo! in those days, and in that time, when I shall turn the captivity of Judah and of Jerusalem, (For behold! in those days, and at that time, when I shall restore the prosperity of Judah and Jerusalem,)

- <sup>2</sup> I shall gather all folks, and I shall lead them [forth] into the valley of Jehoshaphat*; and I shall dispute there with them on my people, and mine heritage Israel, which they scattered among nations; and they parted my land, (I shall gather all the nations, and I shall lead them forth into the Valley of Doom, or the Valley of Judgement; and I shall judge them there on behalf of my people Israel, my own inheritance, whom they have scattered among the nations; for they have divided up my land,)
- <sup>3</sup> and sent lot on my people; and they setted a knave child in the bordel house, and sold a damsel for wine, that they should drink. (and cast lots for my people; and they put a boy child in the bordellery, and sold a young girl for wine, so that they could have something to drink.)
- <sup>4</sup> But what to me and to you, thou Tyre, and Sidon, and each end of Palestine? Whether ye shall yield venging to me? and if ye venge you against me, soon swiftly I shall yield while to you on(to) your head. (But what be you to me, O Tyre, and Sidon, and all of Philistia? Shall ye avenge yourselves against me? if ye do avenge yourselves against me, soon and swiftly I shall turn back your despicable deeds upon your own heads.)
- <sup>5</sup> Ye took away my silver and gold, and ye brought my desirable things and fairest things into your temples of idols. (Ye took away my silver and gold, and ye brought my most desired and beautiful things into your temples of idols.)
- <sup>6</sup> And ye sold the sons of Judah, and the sons of Jerusalem, to the sons of (the) Greeks, that ye should make them far from their coasts. (And ye sold the people of Judah, and of Jerusalem, to the Greeks, so that ye could send them far away from their own coasts.)
- <sup>7</sup> Lo! I shall raise them from the place in which ye sold them; and I shall turn your yielding into your head. (Behold! I shall raise them up from the place into which ye sold them; and I shall turn back your (despicable) deeds upon your own heads.)
- <sup>8</sup> And I shall sell your sons and your daughters in(to) the hands of the sons of Judah, and they shall sell them to (the) Sabeans, a far(-off) folk, for the Lord spake.
- <sup>9</sup> Cry ye this thing among heathen men, hallow ye battle (or prepare ye for battle), raise ye (up) strong men; all men warriors, nigheth, and goeth up.
- <sup>10</sup> Beat ye together your plows† into swords, and your mattocks, either pickaxes, into spears; a feeble man say, that I am strong, (or let the weak say, I am strong).
- <sup>11</sup> All folks, break ye out, and come from compass (about), and be ye gathered together; there the Lord shall make thy strong men to die. (All the nations, break ye out, and come from all around, and be ye gathered together; and there the Lord shall make thy strong men to die.)
- <sup>12</sup> Folks rise together, and goeth up into the valley of Jehoshaphat; for I shall sit there, to deem all folks in compass. (Let all the nations rise up, * CHAPTER 3:2 Also known as the Kidron Valley; it is said to be the setting for the Last Judgement, and so it is called the 'Valley of Doom' in other translations. † CHAPTER 3:10 In other writings, John Wycliffe renders this word in this verse as 'plowghschares' ('ploughshares'/plowshares').

and go into the Valley of Doom, or the Valley of Judgement; for there I shall sit, and judge all the nations around them.)

- <sup>13</sup> Send ye sickles, either scythes, for [the] ripe corn waxed; come ye, and go ye down, for the presser is full; pressers be plenteous, for the malice of them is multiplied. (Send ye in sickles, or scythes, for the grain is ripe, or the harvest is ready; come ye, and go ye down, for the winepress is full; yea, the winepresses be overflowing, for their malice, or their wickedness, is multiplied.)
- <sup>14</sup> Peoples, peoples in the valley of cutting down; for the day of the Lord is nigh in the valley of cutting down. (Peoples, peoples in the Valley of Doom, (or the Valley of Judgement); for the day of the Lord is near in the Valley of Doom!)

<sup>15</sup> The sun and the moon be made dark, and (the) stars withdraw their shining.

<sup>16</sup> And the Lord shall roar from Zion, and shall give his voice from Jerusalem, and (the) heavens and (the) earth shall be moved; and the Lord is the hope of his people, and the strength of the sons of Israel, (or and the Lord is the hope of his people, and the defender of the Israelites).

<sup>17</sup> And ye shall know, that I am your Lord God, dwelling in Zion, in mine holy hill; and Jerusalem shall be holy, and aliens shall no more pass by it. (And ye shall know, that I am the Lord your God, living in Zion, on my holy hill, or living upon Mount Zion, my holy hill; and Jerusalem shall be holy, and foreigners shall no more pass through, or invade, it.)

<sup>18</sup> And it shall be, in that day, mountains shall drop sweetness, and little hills shall flow with milk, and waters shall go by all the rivers of Judah; and a well shall go out of the house of the Lord, and shall moist the strand of thorns. (And it shall be, on that day, the mountains shall drip with sweetness, and the little hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall flow with water; and a fountain, or a spring, shall go out of the House of the Lord, and shall water the Shittim Valley.)

<sup>20</sup> And Judah shall be inhabited [into] without end, and Jerusalem into generation and into generation. (And Judah shall be inhabited forever, and Jerusalem for all generations.)

<sup>21</sup> And I shall cleanse the blood of them, which I had not cleansed; and the Lord shall dwell in Zion. (And I shall purge unto the blood, that is, unto the death, those whom I have not yet purged; and then the Lord shall live in Zion or and then the Lord shall live upon Mount Zion.)

AMOS

¹ The words of Amos be these, that was in the shepherds' things of Tekoa, which he saw on Israel, in the days of Uzziah, that is, Azariah, king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam, son of Jehoash*, king of Israel, before two years of the earth-moving. (These be the words of Amos, a shepherd from Tekoa, what he said about Israel, in the days of Uzziah, the king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam, the son of Jehoash, the king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.)

<sup>2</sup> And he said, The Lord shall roar from Zion, and shall give his voice from Jerusalem; and the fair things of shepherds mourned, and the top of Carmel was made dry, (or and the pastures of the shepherds were parched, and the top of Mount Carmel was made dry).

<sup>3</sup> The Lord saith these things, On three great trespasses of Damascus, and on four, I shall not convert it, for it threshed Gilead in iron wains. (The Lord saith these things, For the three great trespasses of Damascus, and for the fourth, I shall not turn away their punishment, for they carved, or sliced, up the people of Gilead with iron wagons, or with iron sleds.)

<sup>4</sup> And I shall send fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall devour the houses of Benhadad.

- <sup>5</sup> And I shall all-break the bar(s), [or locks], of Damascus, and I shall lose a dweller from the field of idol, and him that holdeth the sceptre from the house of lust and of lechery; and the people of Syria shall be translated to Kir, saith the Lord. (And I shall altogether break the locks of Damascus, and I shall destroy the inhabitants of the field of Aven, and him who holdeth the sceptre of the house of Eden; and the people of Syria, or of Aram, shall be carried away captive to Kir, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>6</sup> And the Lord saith these things, On three great trespasses of Gaza, and on four, I shall not convert it, for it translated perfect captivity, to close that together in Idumea. (And the Lord saith these things, For the three great trespasses of Gaza, and for the fourth, I shall not turn away their punishment, for they carried away their Israelite captives, and delivered up, or sold, them to Edom.)

shall devour the houses there.)

<sup>8</sup> And I shall lose the dwellers of Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre of Ashkelon; and I shall turn mine hand on Ekron, and the remnants of Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord God. (And I shall destroy the inhabitants of Ashdod, and him who holdeth the sceptre of Ashkelon; and I shall turn my hand against Ekron, and the remnants of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord God.)

<sup>9</sup> The Lord God saith these things, On three great trespasses of Tyre, and on four, I shall not convert it, for they closed together perfect captivity in Idumea, and had not mind on the bond of peace of brethren. (The Lord God saith these things, For the three great trespasses of Tyre, and for the fourth, I shall not turn away their punishment, for they delivered up, or sold,

- <sup>10</sup> And I shall send fire into the wall of Tyre, and it shall devour the houses thereof. (And I shall send fire onto the city walls of Tyre, and it shall devour the houses there.)
- <sup>11</sup> The Lord saith these things, On three great trespasses of Edom, and on four, I shall not convert it, for it pursued by sword his brother, and defouled the mercy of him, and poured further his strong vengeance, and kept his indignation till into without end. (The Lord saith these things, For the three great trespasses of Edom, and for the fourth, I shall not turn away their punishment, for they pursued their own kinsmen with swords, and defiled their own mercy or and gave them no mercy, and poured out more of their strong vengeance, and kept their indignation kindled forevermore.)
- $^{12}$  And I shall send fire into Teman, and it shall devour the houses of Bozrah.
- <sup>13</sup> The Lord saith these things, On three great trespasses of the sons of Ammon, and on four, I shall not convert him, for he carved the women with child of Gilead, for to alarge his term. (The Lord saith these things, For the three great trespasses of Ammon, and for the fourth, I shall not turn away their punishment, for they carved up the women with child in Gilead, in order to enlarge their boundaries.)
- <sup>14</sup> And I shall kindle fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the houses thereof, in yelling in the day of battle, and in whirlwind in the day of moving together. (And I shall send fire onto the city walls of Rabbah, and it shall devour its houses, and there shall be shouting on the day of battle, and in the great moving, or in the tumult, on the day of the whirlwind.)
- <sup>15</sup> And Malcham shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the Lord. (And their king shall go into captivity, he and his leaders together, saith the Lord.)

- <sup>1</sup>The Lord God saith these things, On three great trespasses of Moab, and on four, I shall not convert it, for it burnt the bones of the king of Idumea till to ashes. (The Lord God saith these things, For the three great trespasses of Moab, and for the fourth, I shall not turn away their punishment, for they burned the bones of the king of Edom unto ashes.)
- <sup>2</sup> And I shall send fire into Moab, and it shall devour the houses of Kerioth; and Moab shall die in sound, in the noise of a trump, (or and Moab shall die amid the sound of trumpets).
- <sup>3</sup> And I shall lose a judge of the midst thereof, and I shall slay with it all the princes thereof, saith the Lord. (And I shall destroy their judge, or their ruler, in their midst, and I shall kill all their leaders along with him, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>4</sup> The Lord saith these things, On three great trespasses of Judah, and on four, I shall not convert him, for he hath cast away the law of the Lord, and kept not the commandments of him; for their idols, after which the fathers of them went, deceived them. (The Lord saith these things, For the three great trespasses of Judah, and for the fourth, I shall not turn away their punishment, for they have thrown away the Law of the Lord, and they did not obey his commandments; for they were deceived by the same idols, which their forefathers served.)

- $^{\rm 5}$  And I shall send fire into Judah, and it shall devour the houses of Jerusalem.
- <sup>6</sup> The Lord saith these things, On three great trespasses of Israel, and on four, I shall not convert him, for that that he sold a just man for silver, and a poor man for shoes. (The Lord saith these things, For the three great trespasses of Israel, and for the fourth, I shall not turn away their punishment, because they sold the righteous, or the innocent, into slavery for some silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes.)
- <sup>7</sup> Which all-foul the heads of poor men on the dust of [the] earth, and bow away the way of meek men; and the son and his father went to a damsel, that they should defoul mine holy name. (Who push down the heads of the poor into the dust of the earth, and push the meek out of their way; and the son and his father went after the same young woman, and in doing so, they defile my holy name.)
- <sup>8</sup> And they ate on clothes laid to wed beside each altar, and drank the wine of condemned men in the house of their God. (And they lie down beside each altar, on clothes taken as a pledge from the poor, and drink the wine of the condemned in the house of their gods.)
- <sup>9</sup> Forsooth I destroyed Amorite from the face of them, whose highness was the highness of cedars, and he was strong as an oak; and I all-brake the fruit of him above, and the roots of him beneath. (And I destroyed the Amorites before them, who were as tall as cedars, and were as strong as oaks; and I altogether broke their fruit above, and their roots below.)
- <sup>10</sup> I am, that made you to go up from the land of Egypt, and led you out in desert by forty years, that ye should wield the land of (the) Amorite. (I am he, who brought you up from the land of Egypt, and led you through the wilderness for forty years, so that ye could possess the land of the Amorites.)
- <sup>11</sup> And I raised of your sons into prophets, and (into) Nazarites of your young men. Whether it is not so, ye sons of Israel? saith the Lord. (And I raised up prophets from among your sons, and Nazarites from out of your young men. Is that not so, ye Israelites? saith the Lord.)
- <sup>12</sup> And ye poured out wine to (the) Nazarites, and commanded to (the) prophets, and said, Prophesy ye not.
- <sup>13</sup> Lo! I shall creak under you, as a wain charged with hay creaketh. (Behold! I shall creak under you, like a wagon, loaded with hay, creaketh.)
- <sup>14</sup> And flight shall perish from a swift man, and a strong man shall not hold his strength, and a stalworthy man shall not save his life; (And the swift shall not be able to escape, and a strong man shall not be able to hold onto his own strength, and a stalwart man, or a warrior, shall not be able to save his own life;)
- <sup>15</sup> and he that holdeth a bow shall not stand, and a swift man shall not be saved by his feet; and the rider of an horse shall not save his life, (and he who holdeth a bow shall not stand, and the swift shall not be saved by their own feet; and the rider of an horse shall not be able to save his own life,)

<sup>16</sup> and a strong man of heart shall flee naked among strong men in that day, saith the Lord. (and even the most strong-hearted of the strong shall flee away naked on that day, saith the Lord.)

- <sup>1</sup> Sons of Israel, hear ye the word which the Lord spake on you, and on all the kindred, which I led out of the land of Egypt, and said, (Israelites, hear ye the word which the Lord spoke about you, yea, about all the tribes, whom he led out of the land of Egypt, and he said,)
- <sup>2</sup> Only I knew you of all the kindreds of earth; therefore I shall visit on you all your wickednesses. (It was only you I knew, and cared for, out of all the families, or all the nations, of the earth; and so I shall punish you for all your wickednesses.)
- <sup>3</sup> Whether twain shall go together, no but it accord to them? (Shall two walk together, unless both of them agree?)
- <sup>4</sup> Whether a lion shall roar in a forest, no but he have prey? Whether the whelp of a lion shall give voice from his den, no but he take anything? (Shall a lion roar in a forest, unless he first have some prey? Shall a lion's cub give voice from his cave, unless he first catch something?)
- <sup>5</sup> Whether a bird shall fall into a snare of (the) earth, without a fowler? Whether a snare shall be taken away from (the) earth, before that it take something? (Shall a bird fall into a snare on the ground, without a fowler having first set it there? Shall a snare spring from the ground, before that it catch something?)
- <sup>6</sup> Whether a trump shall sound in a city, and the people shall not dread? Whether evil shall be in a city, which evil the Lord shall not make? (Shall a trumpet sound in a city, and the people have no fear? Shall evil be in a city, which evil the Lord did not send? or which evil the Lord shall not come to fight against?)
- <sup>7</sup> For the Lord God shall not make a word, no but he show his private to his servants (the) prophets. (For the Lord God shall not do anything, unless first he tell his secret, or his private, plans to his servants, the prophets.)
- <sup>8</sup> A lion shall roar, who shall not dread? the Lord God spake, who shall not prophesy? (A lion shall roar, who shall not be afraid? the Lord God hath spoken, who shall not prophesy?)
- <sup>9</sup> Make ye heard in the houses of Ashdod, and in the houses of the land of Egypt; and say ye, Be ye gathered together on the hills of Samaria, and see ye many strong vengeances in the midst thereof, and them that suffer false challenge in the privy places thereof. (Make ye heard in the great houses, or the palaces, of Ashdod, and in the palaces of the land of Egypt; and say ye, Be ye gathered together on the hills of Samaria, and see ye many strong vengeances in their midst, and those who suffer oppression there.)
- <sup>10</sup> And they could not do rightful thing or And they knew not (to) do rightful thing, saith the Lord, and they treasured wickedness and raven in their houses. (And they did not know how to do what is right or And they do not know how to be honest, saith the Lord, and they treasured wickedness and spoils in their palaces.)
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore the Lord God saith these things, The land shall be troubled, and be *(en)*compassed; and thy strength shall be drawn down of thee, and thine houses shall be ravished [or and thine houses shall be robbed]. (And so the Lord God saith these things, The land shall be troubled, and surrounded; and thy strength shall be drawn out of thee or and thy fortress shall be pulled down, and thy palaces shall be robbed.)

- <sup>12</sup> The Lord saith these things, As if a shepherd ravisheth from the mouth of a lion twain hips, either the last thing of the ear, so the children of Israel shall be ravished, that dwell in Samaria, in the country of (a) bed, and in the bed of Damascus. (The Lord saith these things, Like a shepherd taketh out of the mouth of a lion only two legs, or the last part of an ear, so only a few Israelites, who live in Samaria, shall be rescued, from the corner of a bed there, and from their beds in Damascus.)
- $^{13}$  Hear ye, and witness ye in the house of Jacob, saith the Lord God of hosts.
- <sup>14</sup> For in the day, when I shall begin to visit the trespassings of Israel on him, I shall visit also on the altars of Bethel; and the horns of the altar shall be cut away, and shall fall down into the earth. (For on the day, when I shall begin to punish Israel for their trespasses, I shall destroy the altars of Bethel; and the corners of the altars shall be cut off, and shall fall to the ground.)
- <sup>15</sup> And I shall smite the winter house with the summer house, and the houses of ivory shall perish, and many houses shall be destroyed, saith the Lord. (And I shall strike down both the winter house and the summer house, and the ivory houses, or the palaces, shall perish, yea, every great house shall be destroyed, saith the Lord.)

- <sup>1</sup> Ye fat kine, that be in the mount of Samaria, hear this word; which make false challenge to needy men, and break poor men; which say to your lords, Bring ye, and we shall drink. (Ye fat cows of Bashan, who live on the mount of Samaria, hear this word; ye who oppress the needy, and trample down the poor; who say to your lords, (or to your masters), Bring ye us something to drink!)
- <sup>2</sup> The Lord God swore in his holy (place), for lo! days shall come on you; and they shall raise you in shafts, and your remnants in boiling pots. (The Lord God swore by his holiness, for behold! days shall come upon you; and then they shall raise you up with shafts, and shall put your remnants into boiling pots.)
- <sup>3</sup> And ye shall go out by the openings, one against another, and ye shall be cast forth into Harmon, saith the Lord. (And ye shall go out by the openings in the walls, one after the other, and ye shall be thrown forth onto the dunghill, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>4</sup> Come ye to Bethel, and do ye wickedly; to Gilgal, and multiply your trespassing; and offer ye early your sacrifices, in three days your tithes, (or and offer ye your sacrifices early in the morning, and your tithes every three days).
- <sup>5</sup> And sacrifice ye praising of bread made sour, and call ye (out about your) willful offerings, and tell ye; for ye, sons of Israel, would so, saith the Lord God. (And offer ye the unleavened bread of thanksgiving, and shout ye out about your freewill offerings, and tell ye everyone; for ye, Israelites, delight to do so, saith the Lord God.)

- <sup>6</sup> Wherefore and I gave to you astonishing of teeth in all your cities, and neediness of loaves in all your places, [or Wherefore and I gave to you edging of teeth in all your cities, and need of loaves in all your places]; and ye turned not again to me, saith the Lord. (And so I set your teeth on edge in all your cities, and made you to need food in all your places; and yet ye turned not again to me or and still ye did not return to me, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>7</sup> Also I forbad rain from you, when three months were yet to coming, till to ripe corn; and I rained on one city, and on another city I rained not; one part was berained, and the part dried upon (that) which I rained not. (And I forbade any rain to come to you, when there were yet three months left until the harvest; and I rained on one city, and on another city I did not rain; yea, one part was berained, and the part on which I did not rain, dried up.)
- <sup>8</sup> And twain and three cities came to one city, to drink water, and those were not [ful] filled; and ye came not again to me, saith the Lord. (And the people of two or three cities came to one city, to drink water, and still they were not fulfilled, or satisfied; and still ye did not come back to me, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>9</sup> I smote you with burning wind, and with rust, either mildew, the multitude of your orchards, and of your vineries; and a wortworm ate your olive places, and your fig places; and ye came not again to me, saith the Lord. (I struck you with burning wind, and with rust, or mildew, yea, the multitude of your orchards, and your vineyards; and the wortworms ate your olive places, and your fig places; and still ye did not come back to me, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>10</sup> I sent into you death (as) in the way of Egypt, I smote with sword your young men, till to the captivity of your horses, and I made the stink of your hosts to go up into your nostrils; and ye came not again to me, saith the Lord. (I sent death into you, like I did into Egypt, and I struck down your young men with the sword, and I took away your horses, and I made the stink of the corpses, or of the carrion, in your tents, or in your camps, to go up into your nostrils; and still ye did not come back to me, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>11</sup> I destroyed you, as God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye be made as a brand ravished (out) of (the) burning; and ye turned not again to me, saith the Lord. (I destroyed you, like God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were made like a brand, or a stick, snatched from the fire; and still ye did not return to me, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>12</sup> Wherefore, thou Israel, I shall do these things to thee; but after that I shall do to thee these things, Israel, be made ready into against-coming of thy God. (And so, O Israel, I shall do these things to thee; and after I shall do these things to thee, Israel, prepare to meet thy God or prepare to face my judgement.)
- <sup>13</sup> For lo! he formeth hills, and maketh wind, and telleth to man his speech; and he maketh a morrow mist, and goeth on high things of earth; the Lord God of hosts is the name of him. (For behold! he formeth the hills, and maketh the wind, and telleth his thoughts and his words to the people; and he maketh a mist in the morning, and goeth on all the high places of the earth; yea, the Lord God of hosts (is) his name.)

- <sup>1</sup> Hear ye this word, for I raise on you a wailing. [Hear ye, house of Israel, this word, that I raise on you a wailing.]
- <sup>2</sup> The house of Israel fell down, he shall not put to, that it rise again; the virgin of Israel is cast down into her land, none is that shall raise her (up). [The maiden of Israel fell down, she shall not put to, that she rise again; she is cast down into her earth (or she is cast down onto the ground), there is not that shall raise her (up again).]
- <sup>3</sup> For the Lord God saith these things, The city of which a thousand went out, an hundred shall be left therein; and of which an hundred went out, ten shall be left therein, in the house of Israel.
- <sup>4</sup> For the Lord saith these things to the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live;
- <sup>5</sup> and do not ye seek (out) Bethel, and do not ye enter into Gilgal, and ye shall not pass to Beersheba; for why Gilgal shall be led (away) captive, and Bethel shall be unprofitable. (and do not ye go to Bethel, and do not ye enter into Gilgal, and ye shall not go on to Beersheba; because Gilgal shall be led away captive, and Bethel shall come to nothing.)
- <sup>6</sup> Seek ye the Lord, and live ye, lest peradventure the house of Joseph be burnt as fire; and it shall devour Bethel, and there shall none be, that shall quench. (Seek ye the Lord, and live ye, lest perhaps the house of Joseph shall burn like fire; and it shall devour Bethel, and there shall be no one, who shall quench it.)
- <sup>7</sup> Which convert doom into wormwood, and forsake rightwiseness in the land, (Ye who change justice, or judgement, into wormwood, and desert righteousness in all the land,)
- <sup>8</sup> and forsake him that maketh Arcturus and Orion, and him that turneth (the) darknesses into the morrowtide, and him that changeth day into night; which calleth waters of the sea, and poureth out them on the face of [the] earth; the Lord is name of him. (and desert him who maketh Arcturus, or the Pleiades, and Orion, and him who turneth the darkness into the morning, and him who changeth the day into the night; he who calleth to the waters of the sea, and poureth them out onto the face of the earth; the Lord is his name.)
- <sup>9</sup> Which scorneth destroying on the strong, and bringeth robbing on the mighty. (Who bringeth destruction and destitution, to the strong and the mighty.)
- <sup>10</sup> They hated a man reproving in the gate, and they loathed a man speaking perfectly. (They hated the man who rebuked them in the court, and they loathed the man who spoke truthfully.)
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore for that that ye robbed a poor man, and took from him the chosen prey, ye shall build houses with square stone, and ye shall not dwell in them; ye shall plant most loved vineyards, and ye shall not drink the wine of them. (And so for ye robbed the poor, and took away the chosen prey from them, ye shall build houses with square stones, but ye shall not live in them; ye shall plant the most beautiful vineyards, but ye shall not drink their wine.)
- <sup>12</sup> For I knew your great trespasses many, and your strong sins; enemies of the rightwise man, taking a gift, and bearing down poor men in the gate. (For I know of your great many trespasses, and of your strong, or your mighty, sins; ye, the enemies of the righteous, taking bribes, and oppressing the poor in the courts.)

- 13 Therefore a prudent man shall be still in that time, for the time is evil. (And so the prudent shall be silent at that time, for the time is evil.)
- <sup>14</sup> Seek ye good, and not evil, (so) that ye live, and the Lord God of hosts shall be with you, as ye said (that he is).
- <sup>15</sup> Hate ye evil, and love ye good, and ordain ye in the gate doom (or and ordain ye justice in the court); if peradventure the Lord God of hosts have mercy on the remnants of Joseph.
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore the Lord God of hosts, having lordship, (or And so the Lord God of hosts, who ruleth, or who is sovereign), saith these things, Wailing shall be in all streets, and in all things that be withoutforth it shall be said, Woe! woe! and they shall call an earth-tiller to mourning, and them that know how to wail, to wailing.
- <sup>17</sup> And wailing shall be in all ways, for I shall pass forth in the middle of thee, saith the Lord. (And there shall be wailing on all the ways, for I shall pass through in the midst of thee, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>18</sup> Woe to them that desire the day of the Lord; whether to desire ye it to you? This day of the Lord shall be darknesses, and not light. (Woe to those who desire the day of the Lord; do ye desire it for yourselves? or do ye desire that it come to you? This day of the Lord shall be darkness, and not light.)
- <sup>19</sup> As if a man run from the face of a lion, and a bear run to him; and he enter into the house, and lean with his hand on the wall, and a serpent dwelling in (the) shadow bite him.
- <sup>20</sup> Whether the day of the Lord shall not be darknesses, and not light; and mist, and not shining therein? (Shall not the day of the Lord be darkness, and not light; and cloud, or fog, and not sunshine, or brightness.)
- <sup>21</sup> I hated and casted away your feast days, and I shall not take the odour of your companies. (I hated and threw away your feast days, and I shall not receive the aroma from your offerings.)
- <sup>22</sup> That if ye offer to me your burnt sacrifices, and gifts, I shall not receive, and I shall not behold the avows of your fat things. (And if ye offer me your burnt sacrifices, and gifts, I shall not receive them, and I shall not look upon the fat beasts of your vows, or of your offerings.)
- <sup>23</sup> Do thou away from me the noise of thy songs, and I shall not hear the songs of thine harp.
- <sup>24</sup> And doom shall be showed as water, and rightwiseness as a strong stream. (Let justice flow like a river, and righteousness like a strong stream.)
- <sup>25</sup> Whether ye offered to me hosts, and sacrifices in desert forty years, ye house of Israel? (Did ye offer me gifts, and sacrifices, for forty years in the wilderness, ye house of Israel?)
- <sup>26</sup> And ye have borne tabernacles to Moloch, your god, and (the) image of your idols, the star of your god, which ye made to you. (No! but now ye carry about the tent, (or the shrine), of your god Moloch, and your images of Chiun, the star of your god or your star god, which ye made for yourselves.)
- <sup>27</sup> And I shall make you for to pass over Damascus, said the Lord; God of hosts is the name of him. (And so I shall make you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the Lord; the God of hosts is his name.)

- <sup>1</sup> Woe to you, that be full of riches in Zion, and trust in the hill of Samaria, ye principal men, the heads of peoples, that go proudly to the house of Israel. (Woe to you, who be very rich in Zion, and trust in the hill of Samaria, ye principal men, yea, the leaders of the people, whom the house of Israel proudly followeth.)
- <sup>2</sup> Go ye into Calneh, and see ye, and go ye from thence into Hemath the great; and go ye down into Gath of Palestines, and to all the best realms of them, if their term be broader than your term. (Go ye into Calneh, and see ye, and go ye from there into the great city of Hamath; and go ye down into Gath of the Philistines, for be those kingdoms any better than yours? or be their territories any broader, or larger, than your territories?)
- <sup>3</sup> And ye be parted into the evil day, and nigh to the seat of wickedness; (And ye declare that the evil day is far off, and yet ye do the very wicked things that shall bring it nigh;)
- <sup>4</sup> and ye sleep in beds of ivory, and do lechery in your beds; and ye eat a lamb of the flock, and calves of the middle of the drove, (or and ye eat a lamb from the flock, and calves out of the midst of the herd);
- <sup>5</sup> and ye sing at the voice of (the) psaltery. As David they guessed them, for to have (made) instruments of song, (and ye sing with the voice of the lute, for ye think yourselves like David, and so make instruments of song;)
- <sup>6</sup> and drink wine in vials; and with best ointment they were anointed; and in nothing they had compassion on the sorrow, either defouling, of Joseph. (and drink wine from basins, and anoint yourselves with the best ointment; but ye have no compassion on the sorrow, or on the defiling, of Joseph.)
- <sup>7</sup> Wherefore now they shall pass in the head of men passing over, and the doing, or treason, of men doing lechery, shall be done away. (And so now ye shall be the first to go into captivity, and then the treason of people doing lechery, shall be done away, or shall be ended.)
- <sup>8</sup> The Lord God swore in his soul, saith the Lord God of hosts, I loathe the pride of Jacob, and I hate the houses of him, and I shall betake the city with his dwellers; (The Lord God swore in his soul, saith the Lord God of hosts, yea, I loathe Jacob's pride, or his arrogance, and I hate his houses, and I shall deliver the city and its inhabitants unto the enemy;)
- <sup>9</sup> that if ten men be left in one house, and they shall die. (and if only ten men be left in one house, they shall still all die.)
- <sup>10</sup> And his neighbour shall take him, and shall burn him, that he bear out (the) bones of the house. And he shall say to him, that is in the privy place of the house, Whether there is yet (any) with thee? And he shall answer, An end is. And he shall say to him, Be thou still, and think thou not on the name of the Lord. (And his friend, or his relative, shall take him up, to bury him, and he shall carry his bones out of the house. And he shall say to him who is in the private place of the house, Is there anyone left in there with thee? And he shall answer, No. And he shall say to him, Be thou silent, and do not thou even say the Lord's name.)
- <sup>11</sup> For lo! the Lord shall command, and shall smite the greater house with fallings, and the less(er) house with carvings, either (with) breakings.

- <sup>12</sup> Whether horses may run in stones, either it may be eared with wild oxen? For ye turned doom into bitterness, and the fruit of rightwiseness into wormwood. (Can horses run on stones, or can the sea be plowed with oxen? For ye turned justice into bitterness, and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood.)
- <sup>13</sup> And ye be glad in nought, and ye say, Whether not in our strength we took to us horns? (And ye be happy over nothing, and ye say, Did we not get our power by our own strength?)
- <sup>14</sup>Lo! I shall raise on you, the house of Israel, saith the Lord God of hosts, a folk; and it shall all-break you from the entry of Hemath unto the stream of desert. (Behold! O house of Israel, I shall raise up a nation against you, saith the Lord God of hosts; and it shall altogether break you from the entrance to Hamath unto the Stream of the Arabah, (or the Brook of the Desert).)

- <sup>1</sup> The Lord God showed these things to me; and lo! a maker of locust(s) in the beginning of burgeoning things of eventide rain, and lo! eventide rain after the clipper of the king. (The Lord God showed these things to me; and behold! he made locusts at the beginning of the burgeoning things of the late growth, and behold! it was the late growth after the king's clippings, (or the first cutting).)
- <sup>2</sup> And it was done, when he had ended for to eat the herb of (the) earth, I said, Lord God, I beseech, be thou merciful; who shall raise Jacob, for he is little? (And it was done, when the locusts had finished eating the herbs of the earth, I said, Lord God, I beseech thee, be thou merciful; who shall raise up Jacob, for he is so small? or for they be so weak?)
  - <sup>3</sup> The Lord had mercy on this thing; It shall not be, said the Lord God.
- <sup>4</sup> The Lord God showed to me these things; and lo! the Lord God shall call doom to fire, and it shall devour much depth of water, and it ate (al)together a part. (The Lord God showed me these things; and behold! the Lord God called for judgement by fire, and it devoured a great depth of water, and it ate a part of it.)
- <sup>5</sup> And I said, Lord God, I beseech, rest thou; who shall raise Jacob, for he is little? (And I said, Lord God, I beseech thee, rest thou; for who shall raise up Jacob, for he is so small? or for they be so weak?)

<sup>6</sup> The Lord had mercy on this thing; But also and this thing shall not be, said the Lord God. (The Lord had mercy on this thing; And also this shall not be, said the Lord God.)

- <sup>7</sup> The Lord God showed to me these things; and lo! the Lord standing on a wall pargeted, or plastered, and in the hand of him was a trowel of a mason. (The Lord God showed me these things; and behold! the Lord was standing by a plastered wall; and in his hand was a mason's trowel or a plumb line.)
- <sup>8</sup> And the Lord said to me, What seest thou, Amos? And I said, A trowel of a mason. And the Lord said, Lo! I shall put a trowel in the middle of my people Israel; I shall no more put to, for to over-lead it; (And the Lord said to me, What seest thou, Amos? And I said, A mason's trowel, or A plumb line. And the Lord said, Behold! I shall put a trowel in the midst of my people Israel, or I shall put a plumb line in the midst of my people Israel; no more shall I pass by them;)

- <sup>9</sup> and the high things of idol shall be destroyed, and the hallowings of Israel shall be desolate; and I shall rise on the house of Jeroboam by sword. (and the high places, or the hill shrines, of Isaac shall be destroyed, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be made desolate; and I shall rise against the house of Jeroboam with a sword.)
- <sup>10</sup> And Amaziah, priest of Bethel, sent to Jeroboam, king of Israel, and said, Amos rebelled against thee, in the middle of the house of Israel; the land may not sustain all his words. (And Amaziah, the priest of Bethel, sent word to Jeroboam, the king of Israel, and said, Amos is conspiring against thee in the midst of the house of Israel; the land cannot survive all his words.)
- <sup>11</sup> For Amos saith these things, Jeroboam shall die by sword, and Israel (taken) captive shall pass from his land. (For Amos saith these things; Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and the people of Israel shall be taken away captive from their own land.)
- <sup>12</sup> And Amaziah said to Amos, Thou that seest, go; flee thou into the land of Judah, and eat thou there thy bread; and there thou shalt prophesy. (And then Amaziah said to Amos, Go thou away, O seer or O prophet; flee thou into the land of Judah, and eat thy food there; and there thou shalt prophesy.)
- <sup>13</sup> And thou shalt no more put to, that thou prophesy in Bethel, for it is the hallowing of the king, and is the house of the realm. (But no more shalt thou come forth here, so that thou prophesy at Bethel, for it is the king's place of worship, and the house of the realm, or for it is the sanctuary of the king, and a royal palace.)
- <sup>14</sup> And Amos answered, and said to Amaziah, I am not a prophet, and I am not [the] son of a prophet; but an herder of neat I am, drawing up sycamores. (And Amos answered, and said to Amaziah, I am not a prophet, and I am not the son of a prophet; but I am a herdsman, and a gatherer of the figs of the sycamores.)
- $^{15}$  And the Lord took me, when I followed the flock; and the Lord said to me, Go, and prophesy thou to my people Israel.
- <sup>16</sup> And now hear thou the word of the Lord. Thou sayest, Thou shalt not prophesy on Israel, and thou shalt not drop (thy word) on the house of idol. (And so now hear the word of the Lord. Thou hast said, Thou shalt not prophesy against Israel, and thou shalt not drop thy word against the house of Isaac.)
- <sup>17</sup> For this thing the Lord saith these things, Thy wife shall do fornication in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by sword, and thy land shall be meted with a little cord; and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel (taken) captive shall pass from his land. (For this thing the Lord saith these things, Thy wife shall go a whoring in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be measured with a little cord; and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and the people of Israel shall be taken away captive from their own land.)

- <sup>1</sup> The Lord God showed to me these things; and lo! an hook of apples. (The Lord God showed me these things; and behold! a basket of summer fruit.)
- <sup>2</sup> And the Lord said, What seest thou, Amos? And I said, An hook of apples. And the Lord said to me, The end is come on my people Israel; I shall no more put to, that I pass by him. (And the Lord said, What seest thou, Amos? And I said, A basket of summer fruit*. And the Lord said to me, The end is come for my people Israel; no more shall I pass them by.)
- <sup>3</sup> And the hinges, either twists, of the temple shall greatly sound in that day, saith the Lord God. Many men shall die, silence shall be cast forth in each place. (And on that day, wailings shall be heard in the palace, saith the Lord God. Many shall die everywhere; they shall be thrown out in silence, or Many shall die; they shall be thrown out everywhere! Silence!)
- <sup>4</sup> Hear ye this thing, which all-break a poor man, and make needy men of the land for to fail; (Hear ye this, which shall altogether break the poor, and shall make the needy of the land to fail;)
- <sup>5</sup> and ye say, When shall harvest pass, and we shall sell merchandises? and the sabbath, and we shall open (our) wheat (again)? that we make less the measure, and increase the shekel, and that we set privily guileful balances; (and ye say, When shall the new moon pass, and then we can sell our corn again? and the Sabbath end, and we can sell our wheat again? and we can make the measure less, and increase the shekel, and we can secretly, or privately, set deceptive balances, or scales, again;)
- <sup>6</sup> that we wield for silver needy men, and poor men for shoes, and we sell out-castings of wheat? (and we can buy the needy for some silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes, and we can sell the refuse of our wheat again?)
- <sup>7</sup> The Lord swore against the pride of Jacob, (yea), I shall not forget till to the end all the works of them. (The Lord swore by the pride of Jacob, Yea, I shall never forget any of their works, or their deeds.)
- <sup>8</sup> Whether on this thing, the earth shall not be moved together, and each dweller thereof shall mourn? And it shall go up as all the flood, and shall be cast out, and shall float away, as the strand of Egypt. (For on this matter, shall not the earth be altogether moved, and each of its inhabitants shall mourn? It all shall go up like a river, and shall be thrown out, and shall flow away, like the River of Egypt, that is, the Nile.)
- <sup>9</sup> And it shall be, saith the Lord, in that day the sun shall go down in midday, and I shall make the earth to be dark in the day of light. (And it shall be, saith the Lord, on that day the sun shall go down at midday, and I shall make the earth to be dark in the light of day.)
- <sup>10</sup> And I shall convert your feast days into mourning, and all your songs into wailing; and I shall bring in on each back of you a sackcloth, and on each head of you baldness; and I shall put it as the mourning of [an] one begotten son, and the last things thereof as a bitter day. (And I shall turn your feast days into mourning, and all your songs into wailing; and I shall put a sackcloth on every back, and baldness on every head; and I shall make it like the mourning for an only son, and the last things, or the end, of it shall be like a bitter day.)

- <sup>11</sup> Lo! the days come, saith the Lord [God], and I shall send out hunger into (the) earth; not hunger of bread, neither thirst of water, but of hearing the word of God. (Behold! the days shall come, saith the Lord God, and I shall send out hunger, (or famine), into the earth; not a hunger for food, or a thirst for water, but a hunger for hearing the word of God.)
- <sup>12</sup> And they shall be moved (al)together from the sea till to the sea, and from the north till to the east they shall compass (about), seeking the word of the Lord, and they shall not find. (And they shall wander about from sea unto sea, and they shall go all around, from the north unto the east, seeking the word of the Lord, but they shall not find it.)
- <sup>13</sup> In that day fair maidens shall fail, and young men in thirst, (On that day beautiful young women, and strong young men, shall fail for thirst,)
- <sup>14</sup> which swear in the trespass of Samaria, and say, Dan, thy god liveth, and the way of Beersheba liveth; and they shall fall, and they shall no more rise again. (yea, they who swear by the trespass of Samaria, and say, O Dan, as thy god liveth, or By the god of Dan, and By the sacred way of Beersheba; they all shall fall, and they shall never rise again.)

- <sup>1</sup> I saw the Lord standing on the altar, and he said, Smite thou the hinge(s), and the over-thresholds, either lintels, be moved (al)together; for avarice is in the head of all, and I shall slay by sword the last of them; there shall no flight be to them, and he that shall flee of them, shall not be saved. (I saw the Lord standing by the altar, and he said, Strike thou the hinges, and the lintels be shaken; for greed is in all their hearts, and I shall kill all of them with the sword; there shall be no escape for them, and even he who shall flee, shall not be saved.)
- <sup>2</sup> If they shall go down till to hell, from thence mine hand shall lead out them; and if they shall ascend till to heaven, from thence I shall draw them down. (Yea, if they shall go down to Sheol, or the land of the dead, my hand shall bring them out of there; and if they shall go up to heaven, I shall pull them down from there.)
- <sup>3</sup> And if they shall be hid in the top of Carmel, from thence I seeking shall do them away, (or And if they shall be hidden on top of Mount Carmel, I shall seek them out there, and I shall do them away); and if they shall hide themselves from mine eyes in the deepness of the sea, there I shall command a serpent, and it shall bite them, (and devour them).
- <sup>4</sup> And if they shall go away into captivity before their enemies, there I shall command to sword, and it shall slay them. And I shall put mine eyes on them into evil, and not into good. (And if they be taken away into captivity by their enemies, I shall command to the sword there, and it shall kill them. I shall look upon them for evil, and not for good, or I shall look at them to do evil, and not to do good.)
- <sup>5</sup> And the Lord God of hosts shall do these things, (he) that toucheth earth, and it shall fail, and all men dwelling therein shall mourn; and it shall go up as each strand, and it shall float away as the flood of Egypt. (And the Lord God of hosts shall do these things, yea, he who toucheth the earth, and it faileth, and all the people living there shall mourn; and it shall go up like a stream, and it shall flow away like the River of Egypt.)

- <sup>6</sup> He that buildeth his going up in heaven, shall do these things, and founded his burden on earth; which calleth waters of the sea, and poureth out them on the face of (the) earth; the Lord is(the) name of him. (He who buildeth his stairway in the heavens, and putteth his dome over the earth, shall do these things; who calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; the Lord is his name.)
- <sup>7</sup> Whether not as the sons of Ethiopians ye be to me, the sons of Israel? saith the Lord God. Whether I made not Israel for to go up from the land of Egypt, and Palestines from Cappadocia, and Syrians from Kir? (Be ye not like the Ethiopians to me, ye Israelites? saith the Lord God. Did I not make Israel to go up from the land of Egypt, like the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians, or the Aramaeans, from Kir?)
- <sup>8</sup> Lo! the eyes of the Lord God be on the realm sinning (or Behold! the eyes of the Lord God (be) upon the sinning realm, (or upon this sinful kingdom)), and I shall all-break it from (off) the face of [the] earth; nevertheless I all-breaking shall not all-break the house of Jacob, saith the Lord.
- <sup>9</sup> For lo! I shall command, and shall shake together the house of Israel in all folks, as wheat is shaken together in a riddle, and a little stone shall not fall on the earth. (For behold! I shall command, and shall altogether shake the house of Israel among all the nations, like corn, (or grain), is altogether shaken in a sieve, and yet a little stone of it shall not fall upon the earth.)
- <sup>10</sup> All sinners of my people shall die by sword, which say, Evil shall not nigh, and shall not come on us. (All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, yea, they who say, Evil shall not come near us, and it shall not come upon us.)
- <sup>11</sup> In that day I shall raise the tabernacle of David, that fell down, and I shall again-build openings of the walls thereof, and I shall restore the things that fell down; and I shall again-build it, as in old days, (On that day I shall raise up David's house, that fell down, and I shall rebuild,or repair, the openings in its walls, and I shall restore the things that fell down; and I shall rebuild it, like in the old days,)
- <sup>12</sup> that they wield the remnants of Idumea, and all nations; for that my name is called to help on them, saith the Lord doing these things. (so that they possess the remnants of Edom, and of all the nations that were once called mine, saith the Lord, and he shall do this.)
- <sup>13</sup> Lo! days come, saith the Lord, and the earer shall (over)take the reaper (or Behold! days shall come, and the plowman shall overtake the harvester), and the treader, or (the) stamper, of (the) grape(s)shall (over)take the man sowing seed; and mountains shall drop sweetness, and all small hills shall be tilled.
- <sup>14</sup> And I shall convert the captivity of my people Israel, and they shall build (up the) forsaken cities, and shall dwell; and shall plant vineyards, and they shall drink wine of them; and shall make gardens, and shall eat fruits of them. (And I shall restore the prosperity of my people Israel, and they shall rebuild the deserted cities, and they shall live in them; and they shall plant vineyards, and shall drink their wine; and they shall make gardens, and shall eat their fruit.)

 $^{15}$  And I shall plant them on their land, and I shall no more draw out them of their land, which I gave to them, saith the Lord thy God. (And I shall plant them on their land, and no more shall I pull them out of their land, which I gave them, saith the Lord thy God.)

OBADIAH

- <sup>1</sup>[The] Vision of Obadiah. The Lord God saith these things to Edom. We heard an hearing of the Lord, and he sent a legate, either a messenger, to heathen men. Rise ye, and together rise we against him into battle. (The vision, or the prophecy, of Obadiah. The Lord God saith these things about Edom. We heard a word from the Lord, and he sent a messenger to the heathen. And he said, Rise ye, let us rise up together against Edom in battle.)
- <sup>2</sup> Lo! I gave thee (to be) little in heathen men, thou art full much worthy to be despised. (Behold! I made thee, (O Edom), to be the least among the heathen, and thou art very worthy to be despised.)
- <sup>3</sup> The pride of thine heart enhanced thee, dwelling in the crazings of stones, araising thy seat. Which sayest in thine heart, Who shall draw me down into earth? (The pride of thy heart exalted thee, or raised thee up, thou living in the chinks of stones, and making thy home high in the heights. Who sayest in thy heart, Who can ever pull me down to the ground?)
- <sup>4</sup> Though thou shalt be raised as an eagle, and thou shalt put thy nest among stars, from thence I shall draw thee down, saith the Lord. (But even though thou shalt be raised up like an eagle, and even if thou shalt put thy nest among the stars, I shall still pull thee down from there, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>5</sup> If night thieves had entered to thee, if outlaws by night, how shouldest thou have been still? whether they should not have stolen things enough to them? If gatherers of grapes had entered to thee, whether they should have left namely raisins, or clusters, to thee? (If night thieves come in upon thee, yea, outlaws by night, do they not steal only what they want for themselves? And if gatherers of grapes come in upon thee, do they not at least leave the raisins, (or the clusters), for thee? But thy enemies have left thee with nothing!)
- <sup>6</sup> How sought they Esau, searched the hid things of him? (Yea, how they sought out Esau, and searched for all his hidden treasures, (or all his riches)!)
- <sup>7</sup> Till to the terms they sent out thee; and all men of thy covenant of peace scorned, either deceived, thee, men of thy peace waxed strong against thee; they that shall eat with thee, shall set ambush, either treasons, under thee; (and they shall say), there is no prudence (left) in him. (And they sent thee out unto thy borders; and all thy allies mocked, or deceived, thee, yea, men at peace with thee grew strong against thee; those who ate with thee, set ambush for thee; and they said, There is no wisdom left in him.)
- <sup>8</sup> Whether not in that day, saith the Lord, I shall lose the wise men of Idumea, and prudence (out) of the mount of Esau? (On that day, saith the Lord, I shall destroy the wise men of Edom, and leave no wisdom on the mount of Esau!)
- <sup>9</sup> And thy strong men shall dread of midday, either south, that a man of the hill of Esau perish. (And thy strong men, O Teman, shall have fear, and everyone on the mount of Esau shall perish.)
- <sup>10</sup> For slaying and for wickedness against thy brother Jacob, confusion shall cover thee, and thou shalt perish [into] without end. (For the killing and the wickedness done against thy brother Jacob, shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off forever.)

<sup>11</sup> In the day when thou stoodest against him, when aliens took the host of him, and strangers entered into the gates of him, and sent lot on Jerusalem, thou were also as one of them. (For on the day when thou stoodest aside, and when foreigners took all of his wealth, and strangers entered into his gates, and cast lots for Jerusalem, thou were just like one of them.)

<sup>12</sup> And thou shalt not despise in the day of thy brother, in the day of his pilgrimage, and thou shalt not be glad on the sons of Judah, in the day of perdition of them; and thou shalt not magnify thy mouth in the day of anguish, (And thou should not have had glory on the day of thy brother, on the day of his misfortune, and thou should not have been happy over the sons of Judah, on the day of their perdition; and thou should not have opened thy mouth in laughter, and mocking, on the day of their anguish,)

<sup>15</sup> for the day of the Lord is nigh on all heathen men. As thou hast done, it shall be done to thee; he shall convert thy yielding into thine head. (for the day of the Lord is near for all the heathen. As thou hast done, now it shall be done to thee; and what thou hast yielded, shall now return upon thy own head.)

<sup>16</sup> For as ye drank on mine holy hill, all heathen men shall drink busily, and they shall drink, and they shall swallow up; and they shall be as if they be not. (For as ye drank on my holy hill, all the heathen shall busily drink, and they shall drink, and they shall swallow it all down; and then they shall be as if they had never been.)

<sup>17</sup> And salvation shall be in the hill of Zion, and it shall be holy; and the house of Jacob shall wield them which wielded them. (And deliverance shall be upon Mount Zion or And those who escape shall be upon Mount Zion, and it shall be holy; and the house of Jacob shall rule those who once

<sup>18</sup> And the house of Jacob shall be fire, and the house of Joseph shall be flame, and the house of Esau shall be stubble; and they shall be kindled in them, and they shall devour them; and remnants shall not be of the house of Esau, for the Lord spake, (or and no one of the house of Esau shall be left, for the Lord hath spoken).

<sup>19</sup> And these that be at the south, shall inherit the hill of Esau; and they that be in the low fields, shall inherit Philistines; and they shall wield the country of Ephraim, and the country of Samaria; and Benjamin shall wield Gilead. (And then those who be at the south, or in the Negeb, shall inherit the mount of Esau; and those who be in the low lands, or in the Shephelah, shall inherit the Philistines; and they shall possess the countryside of Ephraim, and the countryside of Samaria; and Benjamin shall possess Gilead.)

<sup>20</sup> And transmigration, either passing over, of this host of sons of Israel shall wield all places of Canaanites, till to Zarephath; and the transmigration of Jerusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall wield the cities of the south. (And this army of the exiles of the Israelites shall possess all the places of the Canaanites, unto Zarephath; and the exiles of Jerusalem, who be in Sardis, shall possess the cities of the south, or of the Negeb.)

<sup>21</sup> And saviours shall go up into the hill of Zion, for to deem the hill of Esau, and a realm shall be to the Lord. (And the victors shall go up from Mount Zion, to judge the mount of Esau, and the kingdom shall be the

JONAH

- <sup>1</sup> And the word of the Lord was made to Jonah, the son of Amittai, and said,
- <sup>2</sup> Rise thou, and go into Nineveh, the great city, and preach thou therein, for the malice thereof goeth up before me. (Rise thou up, and go to the great city of Nineveh, and preach thou there, for the malice of the people there goeth up before me.)
- <sup>3</sup> And Jonah rose for to flee into Tarshish, from the face of the Lord. And he came down to Joppa, and found a ship going into Tarshish, and he gave ship-hire to them; and he went down into it, for to go with them into Tarshish, from the face of the Lord. (But Jonah rose up to flee to Tarshish, away from the Lord. And he came down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish, and he bought passage with them; and he went down into it, to go with them to Tarshish, away from the Lord.)
- <sup>4</sup> Forsooth the Lord sent a great wind into the sea, and a great tempest was made in the sea, and the ship was in peril for to be all-broken.
- <sup>5</sup> And shipmen dreaded, and men cried to their god; and sent vessels, that were in the ship, into the sea, that it were made lighter of them. And Jonah went down into the inner things of the ship, and slept by a grievous sleep. (And the shipmen feared, and the men cried out to their god; and they sent vessels, or equipment, and other things, that were on the ship, into the sea, so that it was made lighter. And Jonah was down in the hold of the ship, and slept a troubled sleep.)
- <sup>6</sup> And the governor came to him, and said to him, Why art thou cast down in sleep? rise thou, call thy God to help, if peradventure God again-think of us, and we perish not. (And the captain came down to him, and said, Why art thou sleeping? rise thou up, call thy God to help us, and perhaps your God shall remember us, and then we shall not perish.)
- <sup>7</sup> And a man said to his fellows, Come ye, and cast we lots, and know we, why this evil is to us. And they cast lots, and lot fell on Jonah. (And a man said to his fellows, Come ye, and cast we lots, and then we shall know, why this evil hath come upon us. And they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.)
- <sup>8</sup> And they said to him, Show thou to us, for cause of what thing this evil is to us; what is thy work, which is thy land, and whither goest thou, either of what people art thou? (And they said to him, Tell thou us, for what cause, or for what reason, hath this evil come upon us; what is thy work, which is thy land, and where goest thou, and of what people art thou?)
- <sup>9</sup> And he said to them, I am an Hebrew, and I dread the Lord God of heaven, that made the sea and the dry land. (And he said to them, I am a Hebrew, and I fear the Lord God of heaven, who made the sea and the dry land.)
- <sup>10</sup> And the men dreaded with great dread, and said to him, Why didest thou this thing? for the men knew that he flew from the face of the Lord, for Jonah had showed to them. (And the men had great fear, and said to him, Why didest thou do this? for the men knew that he had fled from the Lord, for earlier Jonah had told them that.)

- <sup>11</sup> And they said to him, What shall we do to thee, and the sea shall cease from us? for the sea went, and waxed great on them. (And they said to him, What shall we do to thee, and then the sea shall cease from threatening us? for the sea grew great against them.)
- <sup>12</sup> And he said to them, Take ye me, and throw or send me into the sea, and the sea shall cease from you; for I know, that for me this great tempest is on you. (And he said to them, Take ye me, and throw me into the sea, and then the sea shall cease from threatening you; for I know, that it is because of me, that this great tempest hath come upon you.)
- <sup>13</sup> And the men rowed, for to turn again to the dry land, and they might not, for the sea went, and waxed great on them. (And the men rowed, to try to return to the dry land, but they could not, for the sea grew great against them.)
- <sup>14</sup> And they cried to the Lord, and said, Lord, we beseech, that we perish not in the life of this man, and that thou give not on us innocent blood; for thou, Lord, didest as thou wouldest. (And they cried out to the Lord, and said, Lord, we beseech thee, that we perish not for taking the life of this man, and that thou do not put innocent blood upon us; for all this, Lord, is as thou desirest, or for all this is thy doing, Lord.)
- <sup>15</sup> And they took Jonah, and threw into the sea; and the sea stood of his boiling. (And then they took Jonah, and threw him into the sea; and at last the sea ceased its roiling.)
- <sup>16</sup> And the men dreaded the Lord with great dread, and offered hosts to the Lord, and vowed avows. (And the men feared the Lord with great fear, and offered sacrifices to the Lord, and vowed vows.)
- <sup>17</sup> And the Lord made ready a great fish, that he should swallow Jonah; and Jonah was in the womb of the fish three days and three nights. (And the Lord made ready a great fish, that would swallow Jonah; and then Jonah was in the belly of the fish for three days and three nights.)

- <sup>1</sup> And Jonah prayed to the Lord his God from the fish's womb,
- <sup>2</sup> and said, I cried to God of my tribulation, and he heard me, (or and he said, I cried out to God in my tribulation, and he heard me); from the womb (or the belly) of hell I cried, and thou heardest my voice.
- <sup>3</sup> Thou castedest me down into deepness, in the heart of the sea, and the floods compassed me [about]; all thy swells and thy waves passed on me. (Thou hast thrown me down into the depths, into the heart of the sea, and the water surrounded me; yea, all thy swells and thy waves passed over me.)
- <sup>4</sup> And I said, I am cast away from the sight of thine eyes; nevertheless again I shall see thine holy temple. (And I said, Though I am thrown away from thy sight; nevertheless I shall see thy holy Temple again.)
- <sup>5</sup> Waters (en)compassed me till to my soul, deepness environed me, the sea(weed) covered mine head. (The water surrounded me unto my very breath, the depths environed me, the seaweed covered my head.)
- <sup>6</sup> I went down to the uttermost places of hills, the bars of earth (en)closed me (al)together, into without end; and thou, my Lord God, shalt raise up my life from corruption. (I went down to the uttermost places, or the very roots, of the hills, or of the mountains, and there the bars, or the gates, of the earth would have locked me in forever; but thou, my Lord God, raised up my life from corruption.)

<sup>7</sup> When my soul was anguished in me, I bethought on the Lord, that my prayer come to thee, to thine holy temple. (And when my soul was anguished within me, I thought about the Lord, and that my prayer would come to thee, in thy holy Temple.)

8 They that keep vanities, forsake their mercy idly. (Those who worship idols, idly desert thy mercy.)

<sup>9</sup> But I in voice of praising shall offer to thee; whatever things I vowed, I shall yield to the Lord, for mine health. (But I shall offer to thee, with my words of praise; yea, whatever I have vowed, I shall give to the Lord, for my deliverance, or my salvation.)

<sup>10</sup> And the Lord said to the fish, and it casted out Jonah on/to the dry land. (And then the Lord spoke to the fish, and it cast out Jonah on/to the dry land.)

CHAPTER 3

- <sup>1</sup> And the word of the Lord was made the second time to Jonah, and said,
- <sup>2</sup> Rise thou, and go into Nineveh, the great city, and preach thou in it the preaching which I speak to thee. (Rise thou up, and go to the great city Nineveh, and preach thou in it the preaching which I tell thee or which I told thee before.)
- <sup>3</sup> And Jonah rose, and went into Nineveh, by the word of the Lord. And Nineveh was a great city, of the journey of three days. (And Jonah rose up, and went to Nineveh, by the word of the Lord. And Nineveh was such a great, or such a large, city, that it took three days' journey to walk across it.)
- <sup>4</sup> And Jonah began for to enter into the city, by the journey of one day, and cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overturned, or destroyed. (And after one day's journey in the city, Jonah cried aloud, and said, In forty days, Nineveh shall be destroyed!)
- <sup>5</sup> And men of Nineveh believed to the Lord, and preached fasting, and were clothed with sackcloths, from the more till to the less. (And the people of Nineveh believed the word of the Lord, and proclaimed a fast, and were clothed with sackcloths, from the greatest unto the least.)

<sup>6</sup> And the word came to the king of Nineveh; and he rose off his seat, and casted away his clothing from him, (or and he rose up off his throne, and threw off his clothes), and was clothed with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.

<sup>7</sup> And he cried, and said in Nineveh of the mouth of the king and of his princes, saying, Men, and work beasts, and oxen, and sheep, taste not anything, neither be fed, neither drink water. (And he cried aloud, and had it said in Nineveh by the command of the king and of his princes, saying, People, and work beasts, and oxen, and sheep, taste not anything, neither be fed, nor drink water.)

<sup>8</sup> And men be covered with sackcloths, and work beasts, (and) cry to the Lord in strength; and be a man converted, or all-turned, from his evil way, and from (the) wickedness that is in the hands of them. (And let everyone, and their work beasts, be covered with sackcloths, and cry out to the Lord with all their strength; let everyone be turned, or converted, from their evil ways, and from the wickedness that they do.)

- <sup>9</sup> Who knoweth, if God be converted, and forgive, and be turned away from strong vengeance of his wrath, and we shall not perish? (Who knoweth, if God shall not be converted, (or shall not change his thinking), and forgive us, and turn away from the strong vengeance of his anger, and then we shall not perish!)
- <sup>10</sup> And God saw the works of them, that they were converted from their evil way; and God had mercy on the malice which he spake, that he would do to them, and did not. (And indeed God saw their works, and that they were converted, or were turned, from their evil ways; and God repented for the malice, which he had said he would do to them, and so he did not harm them.)

- <sup>1</sup> And Jonah was tormented with great torment, and was wroth. (And Jonah was greatly tormented, and was very angry, about what happened.)
- <sup>2</sup> And he prayed to the Lord, and said, Lord, I beseech, whether this is not my word, when I was yet in my land? For this thing I purposed for to flee into Tarshish; for I know, that thou, God, art meek and merciful, patient, and of much merciful doing, and forgiving of malice. (And he prayed to the Lord, and said, Lord, I beseech thee, was this not just what I said would happen, when I was still in my own land? For this very reason I fled to Tarshish; for I knew, that thou, God, art humble and merciful, patient, and of much merciful doing, and forgiving of malice.)
- $^{3}$  And now, Lord, I pray, take my life from me; for death is better to me than life.
- <sup>4</sup> And the Lord said, Guessest thou, whether thou art well wroth? (And the Lord said, Thinkest thou, that thou art right to be so angry?)
- <sup>5</sup> And Jonah went out of the city, and sat against the east of the city, and made to him a shadowing place there; and sat under it in shadow, till he saw what befell to the city. (And Jonah went out of the city, and sat down to the east of it, and made a place of shade for himself; and he sat there in the shadows or and he sat there in the shade, until he saw what befell the city.)
- <sup>6</sup> And the Lord God made ready an ivy, and it went upon the head of Jonah, that (a) shadow/that shade were on his head, and covered him; for he had travailed. And Jonah was glad on the ivy, with great gladness. (And the Lord God made ready some ivy, and it went up over Jonah's head, so that a shadow, or some shade, was over his head, and it covered him; for he had laboured so. And Jonah was glad for the ivy, yea, with great gladness.)
- <sup>7</sup> And God made ready a worm, in the going up of gray day on the morrow; and it smote the ivy, and it dried up. (And then God made ready a worm, at the dawning of the day the next morning; and it struck, or attacked, the ivy, and it dried up, and died.)
- <sup>8</sup> And when the sun was risen, the Lord commanded to the hot wind and burning; and the sun smote on the head of Jonah, and he sweltered. And he asked to his soul that he should die, and said, It is better to me to die, than to live. (And when the sun was risen, the Lord commanded to the hot and burning wind; and the sun shone down upon Jonah's head, and he sweated. And he said to himself that he wanted to die, yea, he said, It is better for me to die, than to live.)

<sup>9</sup> And the Lord said to Jonah, Guessest thou, whether thou art well wroth on the ivy? And he said, I am well wroth, till to the death. (And the Lord said to Jonah, Thinkest thou, that thou art right to be so angry about the ivy? And he said, Yea, I am right to be so angry about it, unto the death!)

- <sup>10</sup> And the Lord said, Thou art sorry on the ivy, in which thou travailedest not, neither madest that it waxed, which was grown under one night, and perished in one night. (And the Lord said, Thou art sorry about, or thou art grieved over, the ivy, over which thou hast not laboured, nor madest that it grew, and furthermore which grew up in one night, and then perished in one night.)
- <sup>11</sup> And shall I not spare the great city Nineveh, in which be more than sixscore thousand of men, which know not what is betwixt their right half and left half, and many beasts? (And yet should I not be sorry over, and so then spare the great city Nineveh, in which be more than one hundred and twenty thousand people, who know not their right hand from their left hand, yea, and the many beasts that also be there?)

MICAH

- <sup>1</sup> The word of the Lord, which was made to Micah (the) Morasthite, in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah; which word he saw on Samaria and Jerusalem (or which vision he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem).
- <sup>2</sup> Hear ye, all peoples, and the earth perceive, and the plenty thereof, and be the Lord God to you into a witness, the Lord from his holy temple. (Hear ye, all the peoples, or all the nations, and the earth, and its plenty, understand, that the Lord God shall be a witness against you, yea, the Lord in his holy Temple.)
- <sup>3</sup> For lo! the Lord shall go out of his place, and shall come down, and shall tread on high things of earth. (For behold! the Lord shall go out of his place, and shall come down, and shall tread upon the high places of the earth.)
- <sup>4</sup> And mountains shall be wasted under him, and valleys shall be cut, as wax from the face of fire, and as waters that run down into a pit. (And the mountains shall be destroyed under him, and the valleys shall be cut open, like wax in the fire, and like the water that runneth down into a pit.)
- <sup>5</sup> In the great trespass of Jacob is all this thing, and in the sins of the house of Israel. Which is the great trespass of Jacob? whether not Samaria? and which be the high things of Judah? whether not Jerusalem? (All of this is because of the great trespass of Jacob, and the sins of the house of Israel. What is the great trespass of Jacob? is it not Samaria? and what is the high place, or the hill shrine, of Judah? is it not Jerusalem?)
- <sup>6</sup> And I shall put Samaria as an heap of stones in the field, when a vineyard is planted; and I shall draw away the stones thereof into a valley, and I shall show the foundaments thereof. (And I shall make Samaria into a heap of stones in a field, where a vineyard can be planted; and I shall put all its stones into a valley, and I shall lay bare its foundations.)
- <sup>7</sup> And all graven images thereof shall be beaten together, and all hires thereof shall be burnt in fire; and I shall put all the idols thereof into perdition; for of the hires of an whore those be gathered, and to hire of an whore those shall turn again. (And all its carved idols shall be altogether broken, and all its images, or all its figures, shall be burned in the fire; and so I shall put all its idols into perdition; for they be bought with the wages of a whore, and they shall return to the wages of a whore.)
- <sup>8</sup> On this thing I shall wail and yell, I shall go spoiled and naked; I shall make wailing as of dragons, and mourning as of ostriches. (On this thing I shall wail and yell, I shall go robbed of my clothes and naked; I shall wail like the jackals, and mourn like the owls.)
- <sup>9</sup> For wound thereof is despaired; for it came till to Judah, it touched the gate of my people, till to Jerusalem. (For its wound is incurable; for it came unto Judah, and it touched the gate of my people, yea, it came unto Jerusalem.)
- <sup>10</sup> In Gath do not ye tell (it), by tears weep ye not; in the house of dust with dust (al)together sprinkle you. (Do not ye tell it out in Gath, weep ye not with tears; in Beth-aphrah sprinkle yourselves all over with dust.)

- <sup>11</sup> And ye (of) a fair dwelling, pass to you, which is confounded with evil fame; it is not gone out, which dwelleth in the going out; a nigh house shall take of you wailing, which stood to itself. (And ye of Shaphir, go ye away, shamed with evil fame, or with ill repute; they who live in Zaanan be afraid to go out; they of Beth-ezel shall wail, and there shall be no refuge there.)
- <sup>12</sup> For it is made sick [in] to good, which dwelleth in bitternesses. For evil came down from the Lord into the gate of Jerusalem, (They who live in Maroth wait anxiously for something good; for evil came down from the Lord unto the very gate of Jerusalem.)
- <sup>13</sup> the noise of [a] four-horsed cart, of dread to the people dwelling at Lachish, (or Bind the horses to the chariots, ye people living in Lachish). It is the beginning of (the) sin of the daughter of Zion, for the great trespasses of Israel be found in thee.
- <sup>14</sup>Therefore he shall give warriors on the heritage of Gath, on the houses of leasing into deceit to (the) kings of Israel. (And so he shall send warriors against Moreshethgath; the town of Achzib shall give no help to the kings of Israel.)
- <sup>15</sup> Yet I shall bring an heir to thee, that dwellest in Mareshah; the glory of Israel shall come till to (the cave in) Adullam. (And yet I shall bring an heir to thee, who livest in Mareshah; the glory, or the leaders, of Israel shall go and hide in the cave at Adullam.)
- <sup>16</sup> Be thou made bald, and be thou clipped on the sons of thy delights; alarge thy baldness as an eagle, for they be led (away) captive from thee. (Be thou made bald, yea, shave thyselves, for the children that thou lovest; make thy baldness like that of a vulture, for they be led away captive from thee.)

- <sup>1</sup> Woe to you, that think unprofitable thing, and work evil in your beds; in the morrowtide light they do it, for the hand of them is against God. (Woe to you, who think up unprofitable things, and work out evil plots in your beds; then in the morning light they do it, for they have the power in their hands.)
- <sup>2</sup> They coveted fields, and took violently; and ravished houses, and falsely challenged a man and his house, a man and his heritage. (They coveted fields, and violently took them; and they robbed houses, and oppressed a man and his house, yea, every man and his inheritance.)
- <sup>3</sup> Therefore the Lord saith these things, Lo! I think on this family evil, from which ye shall not take away your necks; and ye shall not walk proud, for the worst time is. (And so the Lord saith these things, Behold! I think evil against this family, from which ye shall not be able to take away your necks, (or be able to escape); and ye shall not walk proudly, for this shall be the worst time for you.)
- <sup>4</sup> In that day a parable shall be taken on you, and a song shall be sung with sweetness of men, saying, By robbing we be destroyed; a part of my people is changed; how shall he go away from me, when he turneth again that shall part your countries? (On that day a parable shall be made about you, and a song shall be sung with sadness by people, saying, We be destroyed by robbing; a part, or a portion, of my people hath been taken away; he hath divided up our countryside unto those who took us captive.)

- <sup>5</sup> For this thing, none shall be to thee sending a little cord of lot, in company of the Lord. (And because of this, no one shall be casting for thee a little cord by lot, in the congregation of the Lord.)
- <sup>6</sup> A! thou Israel, speak ye not speaking; it shall not drop (a word) on these men, confusion shall not catch, (O thou Israel! thou saith to me, Speak ye not! ye shall not drop a word upon us, for shame shall not catch us!)
- <sup>7</sup> saith the house of Jacob. Whether the Spirit of the Lord is abridged, either such be the thoughts of him? Whether my words be not good, with him that goeth rightly? (O house of Jacob, is the Spirit of the Lord abridged, that is, is his patience at an end, or do such things be his thoughts? Be my words not good, to him who goeth uprightly?)
- <sup>8</sup> And on the contrary, my people rose together into an adversary; ye took away the mantle above the coat, and ye turned into battle them that went simply. (But on the contrary, my people altogether rose up like an adversary; ye took away the cloak over the coat, from those who returned from battle, and thought themselves safe.)
- <sup>9</sup> Ye casted the women of my people out of the house of their delights; from the little children of them ye took away my praising without end. (Ye threw the women of my people out of their happy homes; and took away my blessings, or my glory, from their little children forever.)
- <sup>10</sup> Rise ye, and go, for here ye have no rest; for the uncleanness thereof it shall be corrupted with the worst rot.
- <sup>11</sup> I would that I were not a man having spirit, and rather that I spake a leasing. I shall drop (a word) to thee into wine, and into drunkenness; and this people shall be, on whom it is dropped. (I wish that I did not haveGod's spirit, but rather that I spoke lies. And then I would drop a word to thee about wine, and about drunkenness; and this people shall be, on whom it is dropped.)
- 12 With gathering I shall gather Jacob; I shall lead together thee all into one, the remnants of Israel. I shall put him together, as a flock in the fold; as sheep in the middle of folds they shall make noise, (by reason) of multitude of men. (With gathering I shall gather Jacob; I shall lead thee, the remnants of Israel, all together into one. I shall put them like a flock in the fold; and like sheep in the middle of the fold they shall make noise, because of the multitude of the people.)
- <sup>13</sup> For he shall go up showing (the) way before them; they shall depart, and pass the gate, and shall go out thereby; and the king of them shall pass before them, and the Lord in the head of them, (or and their king shall go before them, and the Lord shall beat their head).

<sup>1</sup> And I said, Ye princes of Jacob, and dukes of the house of Israel, hear. Whether it is not yours for to know doom, (And I said, Ye leaders of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, listen. Is it not for you to know what is right, or to do what is just,)

them. (ye who hate good, and love evil? Who violently take away their very skin, and their flesh from off their bones.)

- <sup>3</sup> Which ate the flesh of my people, and (un)covered, [or flayed (off)], the skin of them from above; and brake together the bones of them, and cutted (them up) together as in a cauldron, and as flesh in the middle of a pot. (Who eat the flesh of my people, and uncover, or flay off, their skin; and altogether break their bones, and altogether cut them up, as if to put them into a cauldron, yea, like meat in the middle of a pot.)
- <sup>4</sup> Then they shall cry to the Lord, and he shall not hear them; and he shall hide his face from them in that time, as they did wickedly in their findings. (Then they shall cry to the Lord, but he shall not hear them; and he shall hide his face from them at that time, for they did wickedly in their deeds.)
- <sup>5</sup> The Lord saith these things on the prophets that deceive my people, that bite with their teeth, and preach peace; and if any man giveth not in the mouth of them anything, they hallow battle on him. (The Lord saith these things about the prophets who deceive my people, who bite with their teeth, and preach peace; and if anyone will not put something into their mouths, or into their pockets, they proclaim battle against them.)
- $^6$  Therefore night shall be to you for vision, or prophecy, and darknesses to you for divination; and the sun shall go down on the prophets, and the day shall be made dark on them.
- <sup>7</sup> And they shall be confounded that see visions, and diviners shall be confounded, and all shall cover their cheers, for it is not the answer of God. (And they who see visions shall be shamed, and diviners shall be shamed, and all of them shall cover their faces, for it is not the answer of God.)
- <sup>8</sup> Nevertheless I am filled with (the) strength of the Spirit of the Lord, and with doom and power (or and with judgement and with power), (so) that I show to Jacob his great trespass, and to Israel his sin.
- <sup>9</sup> Hear these things, ye princes of the house of Jacob, and doomsmen of the house of Israel, which loathe doom, and pervert all right things; (Hear these things, ye leaders of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, who hate justice, and pervert, or warp, every good, or right, thing;)
- $^{10}$  which build Zion in bloods, and Jerusalem in wickedness. (who build up Zion with bloodshed, and Jerusalem with wickedness.)
- <sup>11</sup> The princes thereof deemed for gifts, and [the] priests thereof taught for hire, and the prophets thereof divined for money; and on the Lord they rested, and said, Whether the Lord is not in the middle of us? evils shall not come (up)on us. (Its leaders judged, or governed, for bribes, and its priests taught for pay, and its prophets divined for money; and yet they rested, or relied, upon the Lord, and said, Is not the Lord here in the midst of us? yea, evil shall not come upon us.)
- <sup>12</sup> For this thing because of you, Zion as a field shall be eared; and Jerusalem shall be as an heap of stones, and the hill of the temple shall be into high things of woods. (For this thing, because of you, Zion shall be plowed under like a field, and Jerusalem shall become a heap of stones, and the Temple mount shall become the high place of a forest.)

- ¹ And in the last days, the hill of the house of the Lord shall be made ready in the top of [the] hills, and shall be high over small hills. And peoples shall flow to him, (And in the last days, the hill of the House of the Lord shall be made to be above the tops of all the other hills, and shall be high over all the small hills. And the peoples, or the nations, shall flow to it,)
- <sup>2</sup> and many peoples shall hasten, and shall say, Come ye, ascend we to the hill of the Lord, and to the house of God of Jacob; and he shall teach us of his ways, and we shall go in his paths. For the law shall go out from Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem; (yea, many people shall hasten there, and shall say, Come ye, go we up to the hill of the Lord, and to the House of the God of Jacob, or Come ye, let us go up the hill of the Lord, to the House of the God of Jacob; and he shall teach us his ways, and we shall go on his paths. For the Law shall go out from Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem;)
- <sup>3</sup> and he shall deem betwixt many peoples, and shall chastise strong folks till into far. And they shall beat together their swords into shares*, and their spears into pickaxes; folk shall not take sword against folk, and they shall no more learn to fight. (and he shall judge between many peoples, and shall chastise, or shall discipline, strong nations afar off. And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pickaxes; yea, nation shall not take up sword against nation, and they shall no more prepare for battle.)
- <sup>4</sup> And a man shall sit under his vineyard, and under his fig tree; and there shall not be that shall make afeared (or and there shall be no one and nothing that shall make him afraid), for the mouth of the Lord of hosts spake.
- <sup>5</sup> For all peoples shall go, each man in the name of his Lord God; but we shall walk in the name of our Lord God into the world, and over. (For all peoples go forth, each person in the name of their god; but we shall walk in the name of the Lord our God, forever and ever.)
- <sup>6</sup> In that day, saith the Lord, I shall gather the halting, and I shall gather her that I casted away, and whom I tormented I shall strengthen. (On that day, saith the Lord, I shall gather together the halt, or the lame, and those whom I have cast away, and I shall strengthen those whom I tormented.)
- <sup>7</sup> And I shall put the halting into remnants, and her that travailed in[to] a strong folk. And the Lord shall reign (up)on them in the hill of Zion, from this time now and till into without end. (And I shall make the halt into a remnant, and those who laboured, or who struggled, into a strong nation. And the Lord shall reign over them on Mount Zion, from this time now until forever.)
- <sup>8</sup> And thou, dark tower of the flock of the daughter of Zion, unto thee he shall come, and the first power shall come, the realm of the daughter of Jerusalem. (And thou, dark tower of the flock of the daughter of Zion, it shall come unto thee, yea, the former power shall come unto the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.)

- <sup>9</sup> Now why art thou drawn together with mourning? whether a king is not to thee, either thy counsellor perished? for sorrow hath taken thee as a woman travailing of child. (Now why art thou altogether drawn with mourning? is there not a king for thee, or hath thy counsellor perished? hath sorrow taken thee like a woman with child in labour, or giving birth?)
- <sup>10</sup> Thou daughter of Zion, make sorrow, and haste, as a woman travailing of child; for now thou shalt go out of the city, and shalt dwell in the country, and shalt come unto Babylon; there thou shalt be delivered, there the Lord shall again-buy thee, from the hand of thine enemies. (O daughter of Zion, make sorrow, and make haste, like a woman with child in labour; for now thou shalt go out of the city, and shalt live in the open country, and shalt come to Babylon; there thou shalt be saved, there the Lord shall rescue thee, from the hands of thy enemies.)
- <sup>11</sup> And now many folks be gathered on thee, which say, Be it stoned, and our eye behold into Zion. (And now many nations be gathered against thee, who say, Let it be stoned, and brought down unto ruins, and then we shall look upon Zion.)

<sup>12</sup> Forsooth they knew not the thoughts of the Lord, and understood not the counsel of him, for he gathered them as the hay of the field. (But they did not know the Lord's thoughts, and did not understand his counsel, or his advice, for he gathered them like the hay of the field.)

<sup>13</sup> Rise thou, and thresh, daughter of Zion, for I shall put thine horn of iron, and I shall put thy nails brazen; and thou shalt lose, either waste, many peoples, and shalt slay to the Lord (for an offering) the ravens of them, and the strength of them to the Lord of all earth. (Rise thou, and thresh, O daughter of Zion, for I shall make thy horns out of iron, and thy hooves out of bronze; and thou shalt destroy, or shalt waste, many peoples, or many nations, and shalt offer their stolen goods, or their spoils, to the Lord, yea, their wealth to the Lord of all the earth.)

CHAPTER 5

<sup>1</sup> Now thou, daughter of a thief, shalt be destroyed; they putted on us besieging, in a rod they shall smite the cheek of the judge of Israel. (Now, daughter of a thief, thou shalt be destroyed; they have put besieging against us, and they shall strike the cheek of the judge, or of the ruler, of Israel with a rod.)

<sup>2</sup> And thou, Bethlehem Ephratah, art little in the thousands of Judah; he that is the lordly governor in Israel shall go out of thee to me, (or but he who shall be the ruler, or the governor, in Israel shall go out of thee to me); and the going out of him is from [the] beginning, from (the) days of everlastingness.

<sup>3</sup> For this thing he shall give them (up), till to the time in which the (woman) travailing of child shall bear child, and the remnants of his brethren shall be turned again to the sons of Israel. (For this thing he shall give them all up, until the time in which the woman with child in labour shall give birth to her child, and then the remnants of his kinsmen shall return to the Israelites.)

<sup>4</sup> And he shall stand, and shall feed in the strength of the Lord, in the height of the name of his Lord God; and they shall be converted, for now he shall be magnified till to the ends of all earth. (And he shall stand, and shall rule them in the strength of the Lord, in the majesty of the name of the Lord his God; and they shall continue in safety and security, for now he shall be magnified unto the ends of the earth.)

- <sup>5</sup> And this shall be peace, when (the) Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our houses; and we shall raise on him seven shepherds, and eight primates men, either the first in dignity. (And he shall be a man of peace. But when the Assyrians shall come into our land, and when they shall tread down our houses, then we shall raise up against them seven or eight shepherds, or primates, that is, those who be the first in dignity.)
- <sup>6</sup> And they shall waste the land of Assur by sword, and the land of Nimrod by (the) spears of him; and he shall deliver us from Assur, when he shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our coasts. (And they shall destroy the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with their spears; and they shall save us from the Assyrians, when they shall come into our land, and when they shall tread upon all our coasts.)
- <sup>7</sup> And remnants of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples, as dew of the Lord, and as drops on herb, which abideth not man, and shall not abide the sons of men. (And the remnants of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples, like dew from the Lord, and like drops on the grass, which do not wait for people, and do not follow their commands.)
- <sup>8</sup> And remnants of Jacob shall be in heathen men, in the middle of many peoples, as a lion among beasts of the woods, and as a whelp of a lion roaring in flocks of sheep; and when he passeth, and defouleth, and taketh, there is not that shall deliver. (And the remnants of Jacob shall be among the heathen, in the midst of many peoples, like a lion among the beasts of the woods, and like a lion's cub roaring among the flocks of sheep; and when he passeth by, and taketh, and defileth them, there is no one who shall save them.)
- $^{9}$  And thine hand shall be raised (up)on thine enemies, and all thine enemies shall perish.
- <sup>10</sup> And it shall be, in that day, saith the Lord, I shall take away thine horses from the middle of thee, and I shall destroy thy four-horsed carts. (And it shall be, on that day, saith the Lord, I shall take away thy horses from thy midst, and I shall destroy thy chariots.)
- <sup>11</sup> And I shall lose the cities of thy land, and I shall destroy all thy strongholds, either wardings; (And I shall destroy the cities of thy land, and I shall destroy all thy fortresses;)
- <sup>12</sup> and I shall do away witchcrafts from thine hand, and divinations, either tellings by devil's craft, shall not be in thee. (and I shall do away witchcraft from thee, and no more shall there be divinations, or fortune-telling by the devil's craft, among thee.)
- <sup>13</sup> And I shall make for to perish thy graven images, and I shall break together from the middle of thee thine images, and thou shalt no more worship the works of thine hands. (And I shall make thy carved idols to perish, and I shall altogether break thy images, or thy figures, in thy midst, and thou shalt no more worship the works of thy hands.)

- <sup>14</sup> And I shall draw out of the midst of thee thy woods (dedicated to idols), and I shall all-break thy cities. (And I shall pull down thy sacred poles in thy midst, and I shall altogether break, or completely destroy, thy cities.)
- <sup>15</sup> And I shall make in wrath and indignation vengeance in all folks, which heard not. (And in anger and indignation, I shall take vengeance upon all the nations, who did not obey me.)

- <sup>1</sup> Hear ye which things the Lord speaketh. Rise thou, strive thou by doom against mountains, and little hills hear thy voice. (Listen ye to what the Lord saith. Rise thou, state thy case to the mountains, and let the little hills hear thy voice.)
- <sup>2</sup> Mountains and the strong foundaments of earth, hear the doom of the Lord; for the doom of the Lord shall be with his people, and he shall be deemed with Israel. (O mountains and the strong foundations of the earth, listen to the Lord's case; for the Lord hath a case against his people, and he shall judge Israel.)
- <sup>3</sup> My people, what have I done to thee, either (in) what was I grievous to thee? Answer thou to me. (My people, what have I done to thee, or how have I grieved thee? Answer thou me.)
- <sup>4</sup> For I led thee out of the land of Egypt, and of the house of servage I delivered thee; and I sent before thy face Moses, and Aaron, and Mary. (For I led thee out of the land of Egypt, and I brought thee out of the house of servitude, or of slavery; and I sent thee Moses, and Aaron, and Miriam.)
- <sup>5</sup> My people, bethink, I pray, what Balak, king of Moab, thought, and what Balaam, son of Beor, of Shittim, answered to him till to Gilgal, that thou shouldest know the rightwiseness of the Lord. (My people, remember, I pray thee, what Balak, the king of Moab, thought, or planned, to do against you, and what Balaam, the son of Beor, answered to him; remember the journey from Shittim to Gilgal, so that thou shalt know the Lord's righteousness.)
- <sup>6</sup> What worthy thing shall I offer to the Lord? shall I bow the knee to the high God? Whether shall I offer to him brunt sacrifices, and calves of one year? (What worthy thing shall I offer to the Lord? shall I bow my knee to the Most High God? Shall I offer him burnt sacrifices, and one year old calves?)
- <sup>7</sup> Whether God may be satisfied in thousands of wethers, either in many thousands of fat goat bucks? Whether I shall give my first begotten for my great trespass, the fruit of my womb for sin of my soul? (Can God truly be satisfied even with thousands of rams, or with many thousands of fat goat bucks? Shall I give my first begotten son for my great trespass, yea, the fruit of my womb for the sin of my soul?)
- <sup>8</sup> I shall show to thee, thou man, what is good, and what the Lord asketh of thee; forsooth for to do doom, and for to love mercy, and be busy for to walk with thy God. (I shall tell thee, ye people, what is good, and what the Lord asketh of thee; and that is, to act rightly, or with justice, and to love mercy, or and to love mercifully, and to be busy, or committed, to walk with thy God.)
- <sup>9</sup> The voice of the Lord crieth to the city, and health shall be to all men dreading thy name. Ye lineages, hear; and who shall approve it? (The voice of the Lord crieth to the city, and success, or victory, shall be for all those who fear his name or for all those who revere his name. Listen, ye tribes, to him who hath gathered thee together, or Listen, ye tribes, all ye who gather together in the city.)

- <sup>10</sup> Yet fire is in the house of unpious men, the treasures of wickedness, and a less measure, (which make me) full of wrath. (Yet in the house of the unrighteous, or of the wicked, there is fire, yea, the treasures of wickedness, and a false measure, which make me very angry.)
- <sup>11</sup> Whether I shall justify the wicked balance, and the guileful weights of a little sack, (Can I justify a wicked, or a false, balance, and a bag of deceitful weights,)
- <sup>12</sup> in which rich men thereof be filled with wickedness? And men dwelling therein spake leasing, and the tongue of them was guileful in the mouth of them. (in which the rich there be filled with wickedness? And those living there spoke lies, and their tongues were deceitful in their mouths.)
- <sup>13</sup> And I therefore began for to smite thee, in(to) perdition on thy sins. (And so I began to strike thee down unto perdition, for thy sins.)
- <sup>14</sup> Thou shalt eat, and shalt not be [ful] filled, and thy meeking is in the middle of thee (or and thy humbling is in thy midst); and thou shalt take (hold), and shalt not save; and (that) which thou shalt save, I shall give into (the) sword.
- <sup>15</sup> Thou shalt sow, and shalt not reap; thou shalt tread the olive, and shalt not be anointed with oil; and (make) must, and shalt not drink (the) wine.
- <sup>16</sup> And thou keptest the behests of Omri, and all the work of the house of Ahab, and hast walked in the lusts of them, that I should give thee into perdition, and men dwelling in it into hissing, either scorning, and ye shall bear the shame of my people. (And thou hast followed the ways of Omri, and all the work of the house of Ahab, and hast walked in their lusts, so that now I shall give thee unto perdition, and the people living there unto hissing, or mocking, and ye shall bear the shame of my people.)

- <sup>1</sup> Woe to me, for I am made as he that gathereth in harvest (the) raisins of (the) grapes; there is no cluster for to eat; my soul desired (the) figs ripe before (the) others.
- <sup>2</sup> The holy (man) perished from [the] earth, and (a) rightful (man) is not in men; all ambush, either set treason, in blood; a man hunteth his brother to death. (The holy people have perished from the earth, and there is no one upright among the people; all ambush, or set treason, for blood; everyone hunteth his brother, or his kinsman, unto the death.)
- <sup>3</sup> The evil of their hands they say good; the prince asketh, and the doomsman is in yielding; and a great man spake the desire of his soul, and they troubled together it. (They say that the evil of their hands is good; the leader, or the ruler, and the judge, ask for gifts, or bribes; the great man spoke of the evil desire of his heart, and he got it; yea, they all make trouble together.)
- $\overline{}^{4}$  He that is the best in them, is as a paliurus, that is, a teasel, either a sharp bush; and he that is rightful is as a thorn of hedge. The day of thy beholding, thy visiting cometh, now shall be destroying of them. (He who is the best in them, is like a paliurus, that is, a teasel, or a sharp bush; and he who is upright is like a thorn on a hedge. The day of thy beholding, and of thy punishment, cometh, yea, now shall be their destruction.)

- <sup>5</sup> Do not ye believe to a friend, and do not ye trust in a duke; from her that sleepeth in thy bosom, keep thou the closings of thy mouth. (Do not ye believe a friend, and do not ye trust in a leader; and keep thou the private, or the secret, words of thy mouth, from her who sleepeth in thy bosom.)
- <sup>6</sup> For the son doeth wrong to the father, and the daughter shall rise (up) against her mother, and the wife of the son against the mother of her husband; the enemies of a man be the (ones) at home, either the household members, of him, (or a man's enemies (be) those who be at home with him, (or the members of his own household)).
- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth I shall behold to the Lord, I shall abide God my saviour; the Lord my God shall hear me. (But I shall look to the Lord, I shall wait for God my Saviour; and the Lord my God shall hear me.)
- <sup>8</sup> Thou, mine enemy, be not glad on me (or do not be happy over me), for I fell down, (for) I shall rise (up again); (and) when I sit in darknesses, the Lord is my light.
- <sup>9</sup> I shall bear wrath of the Lord, for I have sinned to him, till he deem my cause, and make my doom; he shall lead out me into light, I shall see [the] rightwiseness of him. (I shall bear the anger of the Lord, for I have sinned against him, until he judge my case, and declare my sentence; and then he shall lead me out into the light, and I shall see his righteousness.)
- <sup>10</sup> And mine enemy shall behold me, and she shall be covered with confusion, which saith to me, Where is thy Lord God? Mine eyes shall see her, now she shall be into defouling, as clay, either fen, of streets. (And then my enemies shall see me, and shall be covered with shame, they who say to me, Where is the Lord thy God? My eyes shall see them, and they shall be defiled, like the clay, or the mud, in the streets.)
- <sup>11</sup> Day shall come, that thy walls be builded; in that day law shall be made afar. (The day shall come, when thy walls shall be rebuilt; on that day, thy borders shall be enlarged.)
- <sup>12</sup> In that day, and Assur shall come till to thee, and till to strong cities, and from strong cities till to [the] flood; and to sea from sea, and to hill from hill. (On that day, they shall come to thee from Assyria, and from the fortified cities, yea, from the fortified cities unto the Euphrates River; and from every sea, and from every hill, or from every mountain.)
- <sup>13</sup> And [the] earth shall be into desolation for her dwellers, and for fruit of the thoughts of them. (And the earth shall be made into desolation, or into a wasteland, because of what her inhabitants did; yea, this shall be the fruit of their deeds.)
- <sup>14</sup> Feed thou thy people in thy rod, the flock of thine heritage, that dwell alone in [the] wild wood; in the middle of Carmel they shall be fed of Bashan and of Gilead, (as) by eld days, (Feed thou thy people with thy rod, yea, the flock of thy inheritance, who live alone in the wild wood, and in the midst of the fertile land; they shall be fed in Bashan and in Gilead, like in the old days.)

<sup>15</sup> by days of thy going out of the land of Egypt. I shall show to him wonderful things; (Make thou for us miracles, (or wonders), like in the days of our going out of the land of Egypt;/I shall show thee miracles, (or wonders), like in the days of thy going out of the land of Egypt;)

<sup>16</sup> heathen men shall see, and they shall be confounded on all their strength; they shall put hands on their mouth, the ears of them shall be deaf; (the heathen shall see, and they shall be confounded in spite of all their strength; they shall put their hands upon their mouths, and their ears shall

17 they shall lick dust as a serpent; as creeping things of [the] earth they shall be disturbed, or troubled, (out) of their houses; they shall not desire our Lord God, and they shall dread thee. (they shall lick the dust like serpents, or snakes, yea, like creeping things upon the earth; they shall be distressed, and shall come out of their strongholds; and they shall come to thee, O Lord our God, and they shall fear thee.)

<sup>18</sup>God, who is like thee, that doest away wickedness, and bearest over the sin of the remnants of thine heritage? He shall no more send in his strong vengeance, for he is willing mercy; (God, who is like thee, who doest away wickedness, and passest over the sins of the remnants of thy inheritance? He shall no more send in his strong vengeance, for he delighteth in mercy;)

<sup>19</sup> he shall turn again, and have mercy on us. He shall put down our wickednesses, and shall cast far into deepness of the sea all our sins. (he shall return, and have mercy upon us. He shall put down our wickednesses, and shall throw down all our sins into the depths of the sea.)

<sup>20</sup> Thou shalt give truth to Jacob, mercy to Abraham, which thou sworest to our fathers from eld days. (Thou shalt give truth to Jacob, and mercy, or love, to Abraham, as thou sworest to our forefathers in the old days.)

NAHUM

- <sup>1</sup> The burden of Nineveh; the book of (the) vision of Nahum (the) Elkoshite.
- <sup>2</sup> The Lord is a punisher, and the Lord is venging; the Lord is venging, and having strong vengeance; the Lord is venging against his adversaries, and he is wrathing to his enemies (or and he is raging at his enemies).
- <sup>3</sup> The Lord is patient, and great in strength, and he cleansing shall not make (the wicked) innocent. The Lord cometh in tempest, and the ways of him be in whirlwind, and clouds be the dust of his feet; (The Lord is patient, and great in strength, and in cleansing, he shall not make the wicked innocent, or let them go unpunished. The Lord cometh in the tempest, and his ways be in the whirlwind, and the clouds be the dust of his feet;)
- <sup>4</sup> he blameth the sea, and drieth it, and bringeth all floods into desert, (or he rebuketh the sea, and it drieth up, and maketh all the rivers into deserts, or into dry riverbeds). Bashan is made sick, and (also) Carmel, and the flower(s) of Lebanon languished.
- <sup>5</sup> Mountains be moved together of him, and little hills be desolate. And [the] earth trembled together from the face of him, and the roundness of earth, and all dwelling therein. (The mountains be altogether moved, or shaken, before him, and the little hills be made desolate. And the earth altogether trembled, or shook, before his face, yea, the whole earth, and all those who live upon it.)
- <sup>6</sup> Who shall stand before the face of his indignation? and who shall against-stand in the wrath of his strong vengeance? His indignation is shed out as fire, and stones be dissolved, either broken, of him. (Who can stand before his anger? yea, who can stand against the anger of his strong vengeance? His indignation is poured out like fire, and the stones be dissolved, or broken, by him.)
- <sup>7</sup> The Lord is good, and strengthening in the day of tribulation, and knowing them that hope in him. (The Lord is good, and a stronghold, or a fortress, in the day of tribulation, and he knoweth those who trust in him.)
- <sup>8</sup> And in great flood passing forth, he shall make end of his place; and darknesses shall pursue his enemies. (And like a great river flowing forth, he shall make an end of the place of his enemies; and darkness shall pursue his enemies.)
- <sup>9</sup> What think ye against the Lord? He shall make end; double tribulation shall not rise together. (What do ye plan, or plot, against the Lord? He shall make an end; and tribulation shall not rise up a second time.)
- <sup>10</sup> For as thorns embrace themselves together, so the feast of them drinking together shall be wasted, as stubble full of dryness. (For as tangled thorns, like very dry stubble, be quickly destroyed, or burned up, so shall be the feasts of those of you drinking together.)
- <sup>11</sup> Of thee shall go out a man thinking malice against the Lord, and treat trespassing in soul. (Out of thee came a man plotting malice against the Lord, and treating, or pondering, trespassing in his soul.)
- 12 The Lord saith these things, If they shall be perfect, and so many, and thus they shall be clipped, and it shall pass by. I tormented thee, and I shall no more torment thee. (The Lord saith these things, Though they be perfect, and so many, still they shall be cut down, or destroyed, and they shall pass away from thee. I have tormented thee, but I shall torment thee no more.)

13 And now I shall all-break the rod of him from (off) thy back, and I shall break thy bonds.

<sup>14</sup> And the Lord shall command on thee, it shall no more be sown of thy name. Of the house of thy god I shall slay; I shall set thy sepulchre a graven image, and an image welled together, either molten, for thou art unworshipped. (And the Lord hath commanded about thee, that thy name shall no more be sown. In the temples of thy gods I shall destroy the carved figures and the figures welded together, or cast. And I shall build thy sepulchre, or thy tomb, for thou art dishonourable.)

<sup>15</sup>Lo! on hills the feet of the (one) evangelizing and telling peace. Judah, hallow thou thy feast days, and yield thy vows, for why Belial shall no more put to, that he pass forth in thee; all he is perished. (Behold! upon the hills the feet of the messenger bringing good news and telling peace. Judah, consecrate thou thy feast days, and pay thy vows, for the wicked shall no more pass through thee; they have altogether perished.)

- <sup>1</sup> He went up, that shall scatter before thee, that shall keep [the] besieging; behold thou the way, comfort thou loins, strengthen thou virtue greatly. (He went up, who shall scatter thee, and shall make the siege, or the attack; look thou on the way, and strengthen thou thy loins, yea, greatly strengthen thou, or brace, thyselves.)
- <sup>2</sup> For as the Lord yielded the pride of Jacob, so the pride of Israel; for destroyers scattered them, and destroyed the generations of them. (For the Lord shall restore the pride of Jacob, and the pride of Israel; for the destroyers scattered them, and destroyed their generations, or their descendants.)
- <sup>3</sup> The shield(s) of strong men of him be fiery, men of the host be in red clothes; reins of fire of [the] chariot(s), in the day of his making ready; and the leaders thereof be asleep. (The shields of their strong men be painted fiery red, the men in their army be clothed in red clothes; the reins of the chariots flash like fire, on the day of their preparation for battle; and their leaders be on alert.)
- <sup>4</sup> In ways they be troubled together, carts of four horses be hurtled together in streets; the sight of them as lamps, as lightnings running about. (On the ways they make the people altogether troubled, or full of fear, yea, carts with four horses hurtle through the streets; they look like lamps, like lightning running about.)
- <sup>5</sup> He shall bethink of his strong men, they shall fall in their ways; and swiftly they shall go up on the walls thereof, and [the] shadowing place shall be made ready. (They shall call out their strong men, and they shall stumble as they hastily make their way forward; but they shall go up swiftly on the walls, and prepare the battering rams for the siege.)
- <sup>6</sup> Gates of floods be opened, and the temple is broken down to [the] earth. (The gates by the river be opened, and the palace is broken into, and falleth down to the ground.)

- <sup>7</sup> And a knight is led away captive, and the handmaids thereof shall be driven sorrowing as culvers, grutching in their hearts. (And their horsemen be led away captive, and the slave-girls there be driven away, sorrowing like doves, grumbling in their hearts.)
- <sup>8</sup> And Nineveh, as a cistern of waters the waters thereof; forsooth they fled; Stand ye, stand ye, (they cried), and there is not that shall turn again. (And so Nineveh was made like a water cistern, yea, like its water, as it fled away; Stand ye! stand ye in your place! they cried; but there was no one who turned back.)
- <sup>9</sup> Ravish ye silver, ravish ye gold; and there is none end of riches, of all desirable vessels. (Steal ye the silver, rob ye the gold; yea, there is no end of the riches, of all their desirable vessels.)
- $^{10}$  It is destroyed, and cut, and rent, (or torn), and heart failing, and unknitting of small knees, and failing in all reins; and the face of all be as (the) blackness of a pot.
- <sup>11</sup> Where is the dwelling of lions, and [the] pastures of whelps of lions? To which city the lion went, that the whelp of the lion should enter thither, and there is not that shall make afeared. (Where now is the lions' den, and the pastures of the lion's cubs? To whichcity the lion went in first, so that the lion's cubs could enter in there afterward, and there would be no one who would make them afraid.)
- <sup>12</sup> The lion took enough to his whelps, and slew to his lionesses; and filled their dens with prey, and his couch with raven. (The lion took enough for his cubs, and killed prey for his lionesses; yea, he filled their dens with prey, and his lair with spoils.)
- $^{13}$  Lo! I to thee, saith the Lord God of hosts; and I shall burn thy carts of four horses till to the highest, and sword shall eat thy small lions, (or Behold! I am against thee, saith the Lord God of hosts; and I shall burn up thy carts with four horses unto smoke, and the sword shall eat thy small lions); and I shall destroy thy prey from the land, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

CHAPTER 3

- <sup>1</sup> Woe to the city of bloods, all of leasing, full of rending; raven shall not go away from thee. (Woe to the city of bloodshed, or to the murderous city, all of lies, full of tearing apart; all the spoils, or the prey, shall never be taken away from thee.)
- <sup>2</sup> Voice of scourge, and voice of rush of wheel, and of horse making noise, and of [a] four-horsed cart burning, (The sound of the scourge, and the sound of the rush of wheels, and of horses making noise, and of charging carts with four horses,)
- <sup>3</sup> and of knight going up, and of shining sword, and glistening spear, and of [the] slain multitude, and of grievous falling, neither there is end of carrions. And they shall fall together in their bodies, (and of horsemen going up, or mounting, and of shining swords, and of glistening spears, and of the slain multitude, and of grievous falling, and there is no end of corpses. Yea, they shall altogether fall, or shall stumble, over all the bodies,)

- <sup>4</sup> for the multitude of [the] fornications of the whore fair and pleasant, and having witchcrafts; which sold folks in her fornications, and families in her enchantments, either sorceries. (for the multitude of the fornications of Nineveh the whore, who is beautiful and pleasing, and useth witchcrafts; she who duped nations by her fornications, and families by her enchantments, or her sorceries.)
- <sup>5</sup> Lo! I to thee, saith the Lord God of hosts; and I shall show thy shameful things in thy face; and I shall show to folks thy nakedness, and to realms thine evil fame, either shame. (Behold! I am against thee, saith the Lord God of hosts; and I shall show thy shameful, (or thy private), parts in public; yea, I shall show thy nakedness to the nations, and thy shame to every kingdom.)
- <sup>6</sup> And I shall cast out on thee thine abominations, and I shall punish thee with despites, and I shall put thee into ensample. (And I shall cast out upon thee thy abominations, and I shall punish thee with despising, and I shall make thee into an example.)
- <sup>7</sup> And it shall be, each man that shall see thee, shall leap away from thee, and shall say, Nineveh is destroyed. Who shall move head on thee? whereof shall I seek to thee a comforter? (And it shall be, that all who shall see thee, shall leap away from thee, and shall say, Nineveh is destroyed. Who shall shake their head in pity over thee? And now where shall I find a comforter for thee?)
- <sup>8</sup> Whether thou art better than Alexandria of peoples, that dwelleth in floods? Waters be in compass thereof, whose riches is the sea, waters be[the] walls thereof. (Art thou any better than Thebes, or No, of the peoples of Egypt, which is set by the river? Water is all around it, and its protection cometh from the sea, yea, the waters be its walls.)
- <sup>9</sup> Ethiopia is[the] strength thereof, and Egypt, and there is none end; Africa and Libya were in help thereof. (Ethiopia and Egypt were its strength, and there was no end to its power; Africa and Libya were its helpers.)
- <sup>10</sup> But and it in transmigration, or passing over, is led into captivity; the little children thereof be hurtled down in the head of all ways. And on the noble men thereof they cast lot, and all great men thereof be set together in gyves, either fetters. (But they were carried away into exile, and they were led off into captivity; its little children were hurtled down in the corners of all the streets. And they cast lots on its noble men, and all of its great men were placed in bonds, or in chains.)
- <sup>11</sup> And thou therefore shalt be drunken, and shalt be despised, and thou shalt seek help (because) of the enemy.
- <sup>12</sup> All thy strongholds be as a fig tree, with his figs unripe, (or All thy fortresses be like fig trees, with their ripe figs); if they shall be shaken, they shall fall into the mouth of the eater.
- <sup>13</sup> Lo! thy people be women in the middle of thee; the gates of thy land shall be showed to opening to thine enemies; fire shall devour thine hinges. (Behold! thy soldiers in thy midst (be) like women; the gates of thy land be wide open to thy enemies; and fire shall devour thy hinges.)
- <sup>14</sup> Draw up to thee water for asieging, build thy strongholds; enter in[to] fen, and tread, thou undergoing hold a tilestone. (Draw up for thyselves water for the siege, and build up thy fortresses; enter into the clay, and tread it, and form some bricks.)

<sup>15</sup> There fire shall eat thee, thou shalt perish by sword, it shall devour thee, as bruchus doeth; be thou gathered together as a bruchus, be thou multiplied as a locust. (But even so, the fire shall still eat thee, and thou shalt perish by the sword, yea, it shall devour thee, like the bruchus doeth; be thou gathered together like the bruchuses, be thou multiplied like the locusts.)

<sup>16</sup> Thou madest thy merchants more than be stars of heaven; a bruchus is spread abroad, and fly away. (Thou haddest more merchants, or more traders, than there be stars in the heavens; but now all of them be gone, like a bruchus that spreadeth its wings, and flieth away.)

<sup>17</sup> Thy keepers be as locusts, and thy little children be as locusts of locusts, which sit together in hedges in the day of cold; (then) the sun is risen, and they fled away, and the place of them is not known, where they were. (Thy lords be like the locusts, and thy chiefs be like the grasshoppers, which sit together in hedges on a cold day; then when the sun is risen, they flee away or they fly away, and the place where they have gone is not known.)

them together, and lead them home.)

<sup>19</sup> Thy sorrow is not privy, thy wound is worst; all men that heard thine hearing pressed together hand on thee, for on whom passed not thy malice evermore? (Thy sorrow shall never be assuaged, thy wound is the very worst it could be; all those who heard of thy news, or of thy fate, clapped their hands for joy over thee, for upon whom did not fall thy unceasing malice?)

HABAKKUK

- <sup>1</sup> The burden that Habakkuk, the prophet, saw. (The vision that the prophet Habakkuk saw.)
- <sup>2</sup> How long, Lord, shall I cry, and thou shalt not hear? I suffering violence shall cry on high to thee, and thou shalt not save? (How long, Lord, shall I cry, and thou shalt not hear me? I suffering violence shall cry aloud to thee, and shalt thou not save me?)
- <sup>3</sup> Why showedest thou to me wickedness and travail, for to see prey and unrightwiseness against me? Why beholdest thou despisers, and art still, the while the unpious man defouleth a right-fuller than himself? And thou shalt make men as fishes of the sea, and as creeping things not having a leader; and doom is made, and against-saying is more mighty. (Why hast thou shown me wickedness and struggle, in order to see robbery and unrighteousness done against me? Why beholdest thou despisers, and art silent, while the wicked defile someone more upright than themselves? Shalt thou make people like the fish of the sea, and like the creeping things that do not have a leader? yea, judgement is made, or justice is given, but saying against, or contention, is more mighty, or more powerful.)
- <sup>4</sup> For this thing law is broken, and doom cometh not till to the end; for the unpious man hath might against the just, therefore wayward doom shall go out. (And so because of this, the law is broken, and judgement, or justice, cometh not unto its proper end; for the wicked have might, or power, against the just, or the righteous, and so perverted justice, or warped judgement, shall go forth.)
- <sup>5</sup> Behold ye in heathen men, and see ye, and wonder ye, and greatly dread ye; for a work is done in your days, which no man shall believe, when it shall be told. (Behold ye the heathen, and see ye, and wonder ye, and greatly fear ye; for a work is done in your days, which no one shall believe, when it shall be told to them.)
- <sup>6</sup> For lo! I shall raise Chaldees, a bitter folk and swift, going on the breadth of earth, that he wield tabernacles not his. (For behold! I shall raise up the Chaldeans, a swift and bitter nation, going upon the breadth of the earth, in order to take tents, (or homes), not their own.)
- <sup>7</sup> It is horrible, and dreadful; the doom and the burden thereof shall go out of itself. (They be terrible, and fearful, that is, they instill terror, and fear; and law, and justice, or judgement, shall go out from them alone.)
- <sup>8</sup> His horses be lighter than leopards, and swifter than eventide wolves, and his horsemen shall be scattered abroad; for why his horsemen shall come from far, they shall fly as an eagle hasting to eat. (Their horses be lighter than leopards, and swifter than wolves in the night, and their horsemen shall be spread abroad everywhere; yea, their horsemen shall come from afar, and they shall fly like eagles hastening to eat.)
- <sup>9</sup> All (these) men shall come to prey, the faces of them is as a burning wind; and he shall gather as gravel (the) captivity, (All these men shall come for prey, their faces be like the burning wind; and they shall gather up captives like the sand,)

<sup>10</sup> and he shall have victory of kings, and tyrants shall be of his scorning. He shall laugh on all stronghold, and shall bear together [an] heap of earth, and shall take it. (and they shall have victory over kings, and only scorn, or mocking, for any tyrant. They shall laugh at every stronghold, or every fortress, and shall bear together heaps of earth, and then shall take, or shall capture, them.)

11 Then the spirit [of him] shall be changed, and he shall pass forth, and fall down; this is the strength of him, of his god. (Then their spirit shall be changed, and they shall pass forth, and shall fall down, or Then they shall pass forth like the changing wind, and shall fall down; for their own strength

12 Whether thou art not from the beginning, thou, Lord my God, mine holy, and we shall not die? Lord, into doom thou hast set him, and thou groundedest him strong, that thou shouldest chastise. (Lord, art thou not God from the beginning? yea, my God, my Holy One, and so we shall not die. Lord, thou hast ordained them for judgement, and thou hast used them, O strong God, to chastise, or to discipline, us.)

13 Thine eyes be clean, see thou not evil, and thou shalt not be able to behold to wickedness. Why beholdest thou not on men doing wickedly, and thou art still, while the unpious man devoureth a more just man than himself? (Thine eyes be pure, thou seest no evil, and thou art not able to look upon wickedness. But why beholdest thou not upon those doing wickedly, and thou art silent, while the wicked devour those who be more just, or more righteous, than themselves?)

- 14 And thou shalt make men as fishes of the sea, and as a creeping thing not having a prince. (And shalt thou make people like the fish of the sea, and like the creeping things that do not have a leader?/And why makest thou people like the fish of the sea, and like the creeping things that do not have a leader?)
- 15 He shall lift up all in the hook; he drew it in his great net, and gathered into his net; on this thing he shall be glad, and make joy withoutforth. (For they lift up all the people by their hooks; they gather them into their great nets, and draw them along in their nets; and then they be happy, and rejoice, over this.)
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore he shall offer to his great net, and shall make sacrifice to his net; for in them his part is made fat, and his meat is chosen. (And they even make offerings to their great nets, and make sacrifices to their nets; for by them their portions be made fat, and their meats be chosen and tasty.)
- 17 Therefore for this thing he spreadeth abroad his great net, and evermore he ceaseth not for to slay folks. (And so for this they spread abroad their great nets, and they never cease to slaughter the nations.)

CHAPTER 2

<sup>1</sup> On my keeping I shall stand, and shall pitch my step on [the] warding; and I shall behold, that I see what thing shall be said to me, and what I shall answer to him that reproveth me. (I shall stand watch at my station, and shall climb the stairs of the watchtower; and I shall see, what shall be said to me, and what I shall answer to him who rebuketh me.)

<sup>2</sup> And the Lord answered to me, and said, Write thou the sight, either revelation, and make it plain on tables, that he (may) run, that shall read

- it. (And the Lord said to me, Write thou what thou seest, and make it clear on a tablet, ready for a courier to carry it with haste or so that it can easily be read.)
- <sup>3</sup> For yet the vision is far, and it shall appear into the end, and shall not lie; if it shall make dwelling, abide thou it, for it coming shall come, and shall not tarry. (For yet the vision is far off, but it shall appear in the end, and it shall not lie; and even if it appeareth to be delayed, wait thou for it, for it is coming, and indeed shall come, and shall not be late.)
- <sup>4</sup>Lo! the soul of him, that is unbelieveful, shall not be rightful in himself; forsooth the just man shall live in his faith. (Behold! the soul of him, who is unbelieving, shall not be right within himself; but the just, (or the righteous), shall live by faith.)
- <sup>5</sup> And as wine deceiveth a man drinking, so shall the proud man be, and he shall not be made fair; for as hell he alarged his soul, and he is as death, and he is not [ful] filled; and he shall gather to him all folks, and he shall gather together to him all peoples. (And like wine deceiveth someone who is drinking, so shall be the proud person, and he shall never be content, or at peace; for he enlarged his soul, or his mouth, as wide as Sheol, or the land of the dead, but he, like death itself, shall never be satisfied, or fulfilled; even though he shall gather all the nations unto himself, yea, though he shall gather together all the peoples unto himself.)
- <sup>6</sup> Whether not all these peoples shall take a parable on him, and the speaking of dark sentences of him? And it shall be said, Woe to him that multiplieth things not his own; how long, and he aggregateth against himself thick clay? (Shall not all these (peoples) turn him into a parable, (or an example), and speak dark sentences about him? And so it shall be said, Woe to you who multiplieth riches not your own! how long shall you gather unto yourself things taken in pledge?)
- <sup>7</sup> Whether not suddenly they shall rise together, that shall bite thee? And they shall be raised tearing thee, and thou shalt be into raven to them; and thine ambushers in evil shall wake. (Shall they not suddenly rise up, and bite thee? Yea, they shall be raised up, and shall tear thee apart, and thou shalt become prey, or spoils, to them; and thy ambushers in evil shall watch for thy fall.)
- <sup>8</sup> For thou robbedest many folks, all shall rob thee, which shall be residue, either left, of peoples, for blood of man, and for wickedness of land, of the city, and of all men dwelling in it. (For thou hast robbed many nations, all who shall be the residue, or those left, of the peoples, shall rob thee, for the bloodshed, or the murder, of the people, and for the wickedness done in the land, to the city, and to all the people who live there.)
- <sup>9</sup> Woe to him that gathereth evil covetousness to his house, that his nest be on high, and guesseth him for to be
- delivered (out) of the hand of evil. (Woe to you who gathereth evil gain, or filthy lucre, unto your house, so that your nest would be on high, and thinketh yourself to be delivered, or saved, from the hand of evil.)
- <sup>10</sup> Thou thoughtest confusion to thine house; thou hast slain many peoples, and thy soul sinned. (Thou hast brought shame to thy house; thou hast killed many people, yea, thy soul hath sinned.)

<sup>11</sup> For the stone of the wall shall cry, and a tree that is betwixt jointures of buildings shall answer. (And so the stones in the walls shall cry out, and a beam of the timbers that is between the joinings of the building shall answer them.)

12 Woe to him that buildeth a city in bloods, and maketh ready a city in wickedness. (Woe to you who buildeth a city with bloodshed, or with murder, and who maketh ready a city with wickedness.)

13 Whether not these things be of the Lord of hosts? For peoples shall travail in much fire, and folks in vain, and they shall fail. (Be not all these things from the Lord of hosts? For peoples and nations shall labour, or shall struggle, amid much fire, or much adversity, and all for nothing, for they all shall fail.)

<sup>14</sup> For the earth shall be filled, that it know the glory of the Lord, as waters covering the sea. (For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, like the waters covering, or filling, the sea.)

15 Woe to him that giveth drink to his friend, and sendeth his gall, and maketh drunken, that he behold his nakedness. (Woe to you who sendeth your gall, or your anger, onto your friend, as if giving him drink, and maketh him drunk, so that you can behold his shame, or his nakedness.)

<sup>16</sup> He is filled with evil fame for glory; and thou drink, and be fast asleep; the cup of the right half of the Lord shall compass thee, and casting up, either spewing, of evil fame (shall be)[up] on thy glory. (Thou shalt be filled with shame and not with glory; yea, thou shalt drink, and then be asleep; the cup of the right hand of the Lord shall be given to thee, and then thy shame shall exceed thy glory.)

<sup>17</sup> For the wickedness of Lebanon shall cover thee, and [the] destruction of beasts shall make them afeared, of bloods of man, and of wickedness of [the] land, and of the city, and of all men dwelling therein. (For the wickedness done to Lebanon shall now be done to thee, and the destruction of its beasts shall now make thee afraid, because of the bloodshed, or the murder, of the people, and the wickedness done in the land, to the city, and to all the people who live there.)

<sup>18</sup> What profiteth the graven image, for his maker graved it, a welled thing together, and [a] false image? for the maker thereof hoped in [the] making, that he made dumb simulacra. (What is the profit, or the benefit, of an engraved figure? for its maker engraved it, a thing welded together, yet it is but a false, or an empty, and useless, image; even though its maker hoped in the making of it, he hath made only dumb idols.)

<sup>19</sup> Woe to him that saith to a tree, Wake thou; (and), Rise thou, to a stone being still; whether he shall be able to teach? Lo! this (thing) is covered with gold and silver, and no spirit is in his entrails. (Woe to you who saith to a piece of wood, Wake up thou! and, Rise thou! to a stone being still; shall it be able to teach you (anything)? Behold! this thing is covered with gold and silver, but there is no breath in its innards.)

- <sup>2</sup> Lord, I heard thy praising, and I dreaded; Lord, it is thy work, in the middle of years, quicken thou it. In the middle of years, thou shalt make (thyself) known; when thou shalt be wroth, thou shalt have mind of mercy. (Lord, I have heard of thy deeds, and I am filled with reverence for thee; Lord, it is thy work, in the midst of the years, quicken thou it or do thou it again. In the midst of the years, thou shalt make thyself known; even when thou shalt be angry, thou shalt remember to be merciful.)
- <sup>3</sup> God shall come from the south, and the holy from the mount of Paran. The glory of him covered heavens, and the earth is full of his praising. (God shall come from Teman, the Holy One from Mount Paran. His glory shall cover the heavens, and the earth shall be full of his praising.)
- <sup>4</sup> The shining of him shall be as light; (with) horns in the hands of him. There the strength of him was hid, (His shining shall be like the light; with rays coming from his hands. That is where his strength, or his power, is hidden,)
- <sup>5</sup> death shall go before his face; the devil shall go out before his feet. (death shall go out before him; and the devil shall follow his feet or and the devil shall follow him.)
- <sup>6</sup> He stood, and meted the earth; he beheld, and unbound folks, and hills of the world were all-broken; the little hills of the world were bowed down, of the ways of his everlastingness. (He shall stand, and shall measure the earth; he shall look, and the nations shall tremble, or shall shake; the mountains of the world shall be altogether broken, and the little hills of the world shall be bowed down, unto his everlasting ways.)
- <sup>7</sup> For wickedness I saw the tents of Ethiopia, the skins of the land of Midian shall be troubled. (I saw that the tents of Cushan were under wickedness, and that the tent curtains of the lands of Midian were troubled, or trembled.)
- <sup>8</sup> Lord, whether in floods thou art wroth, either in floods is thy strong vengeance, either in the sea is thine indignation? Which shalt ascend on thine horses; and on thy four-horsed carts is salvation. (Lord, art thou angry with the rivers, or is thy indignation against the sea? Thou shalt go upon thy horses; and salvation, or deliverance, is in thy four-horsed carts, or and victory is in thy chariots.)
- <sup>9</sup> Thou raising shalt raise thy bow, (according to the) oaths to lineages which thou hast spoken; thou shalt part the floods of earth. (Thou shalt raise thy bow, in accordance with the oaths to the tribes which thou hast spoken; thou shalt divide the earth with thy rivers.)
- <sup>10</sup> Waters saw thee, and hills sorrowed, the gutter of waters passed; deepness gave his voice, highness raised his hands. (The mountains saw thee, and they trembled; the waters from the gutters of the heavens passed by; the depths gave their voices, and raised up their hands into the highness, or on high.)
- <sup>11</sup> The sun and moon stood in their dwelling place; in the light of thine arrows they shall go, in the shining of thy spear glistening. (The sun and the moon stood in their dwelling places; they shall go in the light of thy arrows, and in the shining of thy glistening spear.)

<sup>12</sup> In gnashing thou shalt defoul earth, and in strong vengeance thou shalt astonish folks. (Thou shalt defile the earth with thy gnashing, and thou shalt greatly astonish the nations with thy vengeance.)

15 Thou madest a way in the sea to thine horses, in clay of many waters. (Thou hast made a way in the sea with thy horses, through the clay of many

<sup>16</sup> I heard, and my womb is troubled together; my lips trembled together of the voice. Rot entered in[to] my bones, and sprang under me; that I rest again in the day of tribulation, and I shall go up to our people girded together. (I heard, and my belly altogether shook; my lips altogether trembled at the sound. Rot entered into my bones, and sprang up under me. O! that I might rest again after the day of tribulation, when thou shalt go up against those who assail us.)

and there be no herd in the stalls:)

<sup>18</sup> Forsooth I shall have joy in the Lord, and I shall make joy withoutforth in God my Jesus. (still I shall have joy in the Lord, and I shall rejoice in God my Saviour.)

<sup>19</sup> God the Lord is my strength, and he shall put my feet as of harts; and on mine high things, the overcomer shall lead forth me, singing in psalms. (The Lord God is my strength, and he shall make my feet like the feet of harts; and the Overcomer shall lead me forth on the high places, singing in psalms.)

ZEPHANIAH

- <sup>1</sup> The word of the Lord, that was made to Zephaniah, son of Cushi, son of Gedaliah, son of Amariah, son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah, the son of Amon, king of Judah.
- <sup>2</sup> I gathering shall gather all things from the face of (the) earth, saith the Lord;
- <sup>3</sup> I gathering man and beast, I gathering volatiles of (the) heaven(s), and fishes of the sea; and fallings of unpious men shall be, and I shall lose men from the face of [the] earth, saith the Lord. (I shall gather people and beasts, and I shall gather the birds of the air, and the fish of the sea; and I shall bring the unrighteous, or the wicked, unto their downfall, or unto their knees, and I shall destroy all the people from off the face of the earth, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>4</sup> And I shall stretch out mine hand on Judah, and on all the dwellers of Jerusalem; and I shall lose from this place the remnants of Baal, and the names of keepers of [the] houses, with [the] priests; (And I shall stretch out my hand over Judah, and over all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I shall destroy from this place the last remnants of Baal, and the very names of the heathen priests;)
- <sup>5</sup> and them that worship on roofs the knighthood of heaven, and worship, and swear in the Lord, and swear in Malcham; (and those who worship upon rooftops the host of the heavens, and who worship, and swear by the Lord, and then also swear by Molech, or Milcom;)
- <sup>6</sup> and which be turned away behind the back of the Lord, and which sought not the Lord, neither ensearched him. (and those who be turned away behind the back of the Lord, and those who did not seek the Lord, nor consulted him.)
- <sup>7</sup> Be ye still from the face of the Lord God, for nigh is the day of the Lord; for the Lord made ready a sacrifice, he hallowed his called men. (Be ye still before the face of the Lord God, for the day of the Lord is near; for the Lord hath made ready a sacrifice, and he hath consecrated, or hath dedicated, his chosen people.)
- <sup>8</sup> And it shall be, in the day of sacrifice of the Lord, I shall visit on princes, and on sons of the king, and on all that be clothed with pilgrims', either strange, clothing. (And it shall be, on the day of the sacrifice of the Lord, I shall punish the leaders, and the king's sons, and all those who be clothed in foreign, or in strange, clothing.)
- <sup>9</sup> And I shall visit on each that proudly entereth on the threshold in that day, which fill the house of their Lord God with wickedness and guile. (And I shall punish all who proudly enter onto the threshold on that day, they who fill their lord's house with wickedness and deceit.)
- <sup>10</sup> And there shall be in that day, saith the Lord, a voice of cry from the gate of fishes, and yelling from the second gate, and great defouling from little hills. (And there shall be on that day, saith the Lord, loud cries from the Fish Gate, and yelling from the second gate, or from the second quarter, and great defiling from the little hills.)

- <sup>11</sup> Yell ye, dwellers of Pila; all the people of Canaan was still together, all men wrapped in silver perished. (Yell, ye inhabitants of Maktesh; and then all the merchant people were altogether silent, or perished, and also all those dealing in silver perished.)
- <sup>12</sup> And it shall be, in that time, I shall seek (throughout) Jerusalem with lanterns, and I shall visit on all men pitched in their dregs, which say in their hearts, The Lord shall not do well, and he shall not do evil. (And it shall be, at that time, I shall seek throughout Jerusalem with lanterns, and I shall punish all those pitched in their dregs, yea, those who say in their hearts, The Lord shall not do good, and he shall not do evil.)
- <sup>13</sup> And the strength of them shall be into ravishing, and the houses of them into desert; and they shall build houses, and shall not inhabit; and they shall plant vineyards, and they shall not drink the wine of them. (And their wealth shall be robbed, and their houses shall be made desolate, or deserted; and they shall build houses, but shall not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but they shall not drink their wine.)
- <sup>14</sup> Nigh is the great day of the Lord, nigh and swift full much; the voice of the day of the Lord is bitter, a strong man shall be in tribulation there. (The great day of the Lord is near, near and coming very swiftly, or very soon; the day of the Lord shall be bitter, the strong shall cry out in tribulation there.)
- <sup>15</sup> That day is a day of wrath, day of tribulation and anguish, day of neediness and wretchedness, day of darknesses and mist, day of cloud and whirlwind,
- day of trump and of noise on strong cities and on high corners. (a day of trumpets and of battle cries against the fortified cities and the high towers.)
- <sup>17</sup> And I shall trouble men, and they shall walk as blind, for they have sinned against the Lord; and the blood of them shall be shed out as earth, and the bodies of them shall be as turds. (And I shall trouble people, and they shall walk as if they be blind, for they have sinned against the Lord; and their blood shall be poured out like dust, and their bodies shall be like turds.)
- <sup>18</sup> But the silver of them, and [the] gold of them, shall not be able to deliver them in the day of wrath of the Lord; in fire of his fervor all earth shall be devoured, for he shall make end with hasting to all men inhabiting the earth. (But their silver, and their gold, shall not be able to save them on the day of the Lord's anger; in the fire of his fervor all the earth shall be devoured, for he shall make a hasty end to all those who inhabit the earth.)

- <sup>1</sup> Come ye together, be [ye] gathered, ye folk not worthy to be loved, (Come ye, be ye gathered together, ye nation not worthy to be loved,)
- <sup>2</sup> before that (his) commanding bring forth as dust (the) passing day; before that wrath of strong vengeance of the Lord come (up) on you, before that the day of his indignation come [up] on you. (before that by his commanding the day pass away like the dust; before that the anger of the strong vengeance of the Lord come upon you, before that the day of his indignation come upon you.)
- <sup>3</sup> All mild, either patient, men of earth, seek ye the Lord, which have wrought the doom of him; seek ye the just, seek ye the mild, if any manner ye be hid in the day of strong vengeance of the Lord. (All meek, or humble, people of the earth, seek ye the Lord, yea, they who have obeyed his commands; seek ye to be just, or to be righteous, seek ye to be meek, or to be humble, so that perhaps ye can be hid on the day of the strong vengeance of the Lord.)

<sup>4</sup> For Gaza shall be destroyed, and Ashkelon shall be into desert; they shall cast out Ashdod in midday, and Ekron shall be drawn out by the root. (For Gaza shall be destroyed, and Ashkelon shall be made into a desert, or shall be deserted; they shall throw down Ashdod at midday, and Ekron shall be drawn out by the roots.)

<sup>5</sup> Woe to you that dwell in the little part of the sea, a folk of lost men. The word of the Lord on you, Canaan, the land of Philistines, and I shall destroy thee, so that a dweller be not; (Woe to you who live by the sea coast, ye nation of the Cherethites. Here is the word of the Lord about you, Canaan, the land of the Philistines; I shall destroy thee, so that there be no inhabitants left there;)

for sheep.)

<sup>7</sup> And it shall be a little part of him, that shall be left of the house of Judah, there they shall be fed in the houses of Ashkelon; at eventide they shall rest, for the Lord God of them shall visit them, and shall turn away the captivity of them. (And the coast shall be for those who shall be left of the house of Judah; they shall pasture their sheep there, and they shall rest in the evening in the houses of Ashkelon; for the Lord their God shall return to them, and shall restore their prosperity.)

<sup>8</sup> I heard the shame of Moab, and blasphemies of the sons of Ammon, which they said shamefully to my people, and they were magnified on the terms of them. (I heard the insults of Moab, and the taunts of the Ammonites, which they shamefully said to my people, as they encroached upon their land.)

<sup>9</sup> Therefore I live, saith the Lord of hosts, God of Israel, for Moab shall be as Sodom, and the sons of Ammon as Gomorrah; dryness of thorns, and heaps of salt, and desert till into without end. The remnants of my people shall ravish them, the residues of my folk shall wield them. (And so as I live, saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Moab shall become like Sodom, and the Ammonites like Gomorrah; yea, dryness of thorns, and heaps of salt, and a desert, or a wasteland, forevermore. The remnants of my people shall rob them, yea, those of my nation who remain, or who survive, shall rule over them.)

<sup>10</sup> Soothly this thing shall come to them for their pride, for they blasphemed, and were magnified [up] on, (or lorded themselves over), the people of the Lord of hosts.

11 The Lord shall be horrible on them, and he shall make feeble all gods of earth:

and men of their place shall worship him, all the isles of heathen men. (And so the Lord shall be terrible to them, or shall terrify them, and he shall make feeble, or shall bring down unto nothing, all the gods of the earth; and the people in the places there, shall worship him, yea, on all the islands of the heathen.)

- <sup>12</sup> But and ye, Ethiopians, shall be slain by my sword. (And ye Ethiopians shall also be killed by my sword.)
- <sup>13</sup> And he shall stretch forth his hand on the north, and shall lose Assur; and he shall put the fair city Nineveh into wilderness, and into without way, and as desert. (And he shall stretch out his hand over the north, and shall destroy Assyria; and he shall make the beautiful city of Nineveh into a wilderness, and without a way, and like a desert.)
- <sup>14</sup> And flocks, and all the beasts of folks, shall lie, (or shall rest), in the middle thereof; and onocrotalus, and urchin shall dwell in [the] thresholds thereof; voice of the singing in the window, and a crow in the lintel, for I shall make thine the strength thereof. (And flocks, and all the beasts of the nations, or of every kind, shall lie down, or shall rest, in its midst; and owls, and bitterns shall live on its thresholds; the sound of the singing, or of the chirping, at the windows, and of the crows cawing on the lintels, for I shall make all its structures thine.)
- <sup>15</sup> This is the glorious city dwelling in trust, which said in her heart, I am, and there is none other more without me. How is it made unto desert, a couch of beast; each man that shall pass by it, shall hiss, and shall move his hand. (This is the glorious city living in false trust, which said in her heart, I am, and there is no other besides me. How it shall be made into a desert, (or into a wilderness), yea, a den for beasts! Everyone who shall pass by it, shall hiss, and shall wave their hands, (or shall shake their fists).)

- <sup>1</sup> Woe! thou city, stirrer to wrath, and bought again a culver. (Woe! O city, a stirrer to anger, filthy and defiled.)
- <sup>2</sup> It heard not the voice of the Lord, and received not teaching, either chastising; it trusted not in the Lord, it nighed not to her God. (It did not listen to the voice of the Lord, and did not accept his discipline, or his correction; it did not trust in the Lord, it did not come near to its God.)
- <sup>3</sup> Princes thereof in middle thereof were as lions roaring; judges thereof were wolves, in the eventide they left not into morrow. (Its princes in its midst were like roaring lions; its judges were like wolves, and by the evening they had left nothing for the next morning.)
- <sup>4</sup> [The] Prophets thereof were wild, and unfaithful men; [the] priests thereof defouled holy thing, they did unjustly against the law. (Its prophets were wild, and unfaithful men; its priests defiled the holy things or its priests defiled the holy place, and they did unrighteously, or wickedly, against the Law.)
- <sup>5</sup> The Lord is just in the middle thereof, and shall not do wickedness; early, early he shall give his doom in light, and it shall not be hid; forsooth the wicked people knew not confusion. (But the Lord in its midst is just, or is righteous, and shall never do wickedness; morning after morning he bringeth forth his judgement, and it shall never be hid; but the wicked people there were still not ashamed.)
- <sup>6</sup> I lost folks, and the corners of them be destroyed; I made the ways of them desert, while there is not that shall pass. The cities of them be desolate, for a man is not left, neither any dweller. (The Lord saith, I have destroyed nations, and I have also destroyed their towers, or their fortresses;

I have made their ways deserted, where there is no one who shall pass by. Their cities be desolate, for now no one is left there, not one inhabitant.)

- <sup>7</sup> I said, Nevertheless thou shalt dread me, thou shalt receive teaching; and the dwelling place thereof shall not perish, for all things in which I visited it; nevertheless full early they rising, have corrupted all their thoughts. (And I said, Now, my people, thou shalt fear me or thou shalt revere me, and thou shalt receive my discipline, or my correction; and thy dwelling place shall not perish, even after all the things which I did to it; but rising very early, they have continued to be corrupt in all their thoughts, and in all their doings.)
- <sup>8</sup> Wherefore abide thou me, saith the Lord, in the day of my rising again into coming. For my doom is, that I gather folks, and I shall gather realms; and I shall shed out on them mine indignation, and all the wrath of my strong vengeance; for in fire of my fervour all earth shall be devoured. (And so wait thou for me, saith the Lord, for the day to come of my rising again. For my judgement, or my justice, is, that I shall gather people, and I shall gather kingdoms; and then I shall pour out upon them my indignation, and all the anger of my strong vengeance; for in the fire of my fervour all the earth shall be devoured.)
- <sup>9</sup> For then I shall yield to peoples a chosen lip, that all call inwardly in the name of the Lord, and serve to him with one shoulder. (And then I shall give pure lips to the peoples, so that all of them can call upon the name of the Lord, and they shall serve him with one shoulder, or with one accord.)
- <sup>10</sup> Over the floods of Ethiopia, from thence my beseechers, the sons of my scattered men, shall bring gift to me. (Over the rivers of Ethiopia, from there my beseechers, the children of my scattered people, shall bring gifts to me.)
- <sup>11</sup> In that day thou shalt not be confounded on all thy findings, in which thou trespassedest against me; for then I shall take away from the middle of thee great speakers of thy pride, and thou shalt no more put to, for to be enhanced in mine holy hill. (On that day thou shalt no longer be ashamed for all thy doings, in which thou hast trespassed against me; for then I shall take away from thy midst all those who proclaim, or who declare, thy great pride, and thou shalt no more exalt, or no more raise up, thyselves upon my holy hill or and thou shalt no more rebel against me upon my holy hill.)
- <sup>12</sup> And I shall leave in the middle of thee a poor people and needy; and they shall hope in the name of the Lord. (And I shall leave in the midst of thee a poor and needy people; and they shall trust, or shall seek safety, in the name of the Lord.)
- <sup>13</sup> The remnants of Israel shall not do wickedness, neither shall speak leasing, and a guileful tongue shall not be found in the mouth of them; for they shall be fed, and shall rest, and there shall not be that shall make afeared. (The remnants of Israel shall not do wickedness, nor shall speak lies, and a deceitful tongue shall not be found in their mouths; for they shall be fed, and shall rest, and there shall not be anyone who shall make them afraid.)
- <sup>14</sup> These things saith the Lord, Daughter of Zion, praise thou heartily, sing thou, Israel; be thou glad, and make thou joy withoutforth in all thine heart, thou daughter of Jerusalem.

<sup>15</sup> The Lord hath taken away thy doom, [he] hath turned away thine enemies; the king of Israel, the Lord, is in the middle of thee, thou shalt no more dread evil. (The Lord hath stopped thy judgement, or thy punishment, he hath turned away thy enemies; the King of Israel, the Lord, is in thy midst, thou shalt no more fear any evil.)

<sup>16</sup> In that day it shall be said, Jerusalem, do not thou dread; Zion, thine hands be not aclumsid. (On that day it shall be said, Jerusalem, do not thou fear; Zion, let not thy hands be benumbed, or be made limp.)

<sup>18</sup> I shall gather the fools, either vain men, that went away from the law, for they were of thee, that thou have no more shame on them. (I shall gather the fools, or the empty and useless people, who went away from the Law, for they were of thee, so that no more shalt thou have shame over

<sup>19</sup> Lo! I shall slay all men that tormented thee in that time, and I shall save him that halteth, and I shall gather her that was cast out; and I shall put them into praising, and into name in each land of confusion of them, (Behold! I shall kill all those who tormented thee at that time, and I shall save, (or shall rescue), him who halteth, (or who was lame), and I shall gather her back who was cast out; and I shall get them praise and a good, (or a respected), name, in each land where they were put to shame,)

<sup>20</sup> in that time in which I shall bring you, and in the time in which I shall gather you. For I shall give you into name, and into praising to all peoples of earth, when I shall convert your captivity before your eyes, saith the Lord. (at that time in which I shall bring you back, and at the time in which I shall gather you. For I shall get you a good name and praise among all the peoples of the earth, when I shall restore your prosperity before your eyes, saith the Lord.)

HAGGAI

<sup>1</sup> In the second year of Darius, king of Persia, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, the word of the Lord was made in the hand of Haggai, prophet, to Zerubbabel, son of Shealtiel, duke of Judah, and to Joshua, the great priest, [the] son of Josedech*, and said, (In the second year of Darius, the king of Persia, in the sixth month, on the first day of the month, the word of the Lord was made by the prophet Haggai, to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the ruler, or the governor, of Judah, and to Joshua, the son of Josedech, the High Priest, who said,)

<sup>2</sup> The Lord of hosts saith these things, and speaketh, This people saith, Yet cometh not the time of the house of the Lord to be builded. (The Lord of hosts speaketh these things, and saith, This people saith, The time hath not yet come for the House of the Lord, or the Temple, to be rebuilt.)

<sup>3</sup> And the word of the Lord was made in the hand of Haggai, the prophet, and said, (And the word of the Lord was made by the prophet Haggai, who said.)

<sup>4</sup> Whether it is time to you, that ye dwell in houses coupled with timber, and this house be desert(ed), either forsaken? (Is it right for you to live in houses built with timber, while this House, my Temple, is deserted, or abandoned, or while this House of mine lieth in ruins?)

<sup>5</sup> And now the Lord God of hosts saith these things, Put ye your hearts on your ways. (And now the Lord God of hosts saith these things, Think ye upon the ways of your lives.)

<sup>8</sup> Go ye up into the mountain, bear ye trees, and build ye an house; and it shall be acceptable to me, and I shall be glorified, saith the Lord. (Then, go ye up the mountain, carry ye back some wood, and build ye a House for me; and it shall be acceptable to me, and I shall be glorified, saith the Lord.)

<sup>9</sup> Ye beheld to more, and lo! it is made less; and ye brought into the house, and I blew it out. For what cause, saith the Lord of hosts? for mine house is desert(ed), and ye hasten each man into his house. (For ye looked for more, and behold! it is made less; and ye brought (the harvest) back home, and I blew it out. For what reason, (or why), saith the Lord of hosts? because my House lieth in ruins, while each person hasteneth into his own house.)

<sup>10</sup> For this thing heavens be forbidden, that they should not give dew on you; and the earth is forbidden, that it should not give his burgeoning.

(And so because of this, the heavens be forbidden, so that they shall not give you any of their dew; and the earth is forbidden, so that it shall not give you any of its produce.)

- <sup>11</sup> And I called dryness on earth, and on mountains, and on wheat, and on wine, and on oil, and whatever things the earth bringeth forth; and on men, and on beasts, and on all labour of hands. (And I have called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon whatever things the earth bringeth forth; and upon the people, and upon the beasts, and upon all the products of their labour.)
- <sup>12</sup> And Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua, the great priest, the son of Josedech, and all remnants of the people, heard the voice of their God, and the words of Haggai, the prophet, as the Lord God of them sent him to them; and all the people dreaded of the face of the Lord. (And Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua, the son of Josedech, the High Priest, and all the remnants of the people, heard the voice of their God, and the words of the prophet Haggai, for the Lord their God had sent him to them; and all the people had fear before the Lord.)
- <sup>13</sup> And Haggai, a messenger of the Lord, of the messengers of the Lord, said to the people, and spake, I am with you, saith the Lord. (And Haggai, a messenger of the Lord, with the message of the Lord, spoke to the people, and said, I am with you, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>14</sup> And the Lord raised the spirit of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, duke of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua, the great priest, the son of Josedech, and the spirit of the remnants of all people; and they entered, and made work in the house of the Lord of hosts, their God. (And the Lord raised up the spirit of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the ruler, or the governor, of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua, the son of Josedech, the High Priest, and the spirit of the remnants of all the people; and they went, and began to work on, or to rebuild, the House of the Lord of hosts, their God.)
- <sup>15</sup> In the four and twentieth day of the month, in the second year of king Darius. (On the twenty-fourth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of King Darius.)

- <sup>1</sup> In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, the word of the Lord was made in the hand of Haggai, the prophet, and said, (In the seventh month, on the twenty-first day of the month, the word of the Lord was made to the prophet Haggai, and said,)
- <sup>2</sup> Speak thou to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the duke of Judah, and to Joshua, the great priest, the son of Josedech, and to others of the people, and say thou, (Speak thou to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the ruler, or the governor, of Judah, and to Joshua, the son of Josedech, the High Priest, and to all the people, and say thou,)
- <sup>3</sup> Who in you is left, that saw this house in his first glory? and what see ye this now? whether it is not thus, as if it be not before your eyes? (Who is left among you, who saw this House in its first glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not thus, as if it be not before your eyes?)

- <sup>4</sup> And now, Zerubbabel, be thou strengthened, saith the Lord, and Joshua, the great priest, the son of Josedech, be thou strengthened, and all the people of the land, be thou strengthened, saith the Lord of hosts; and do ye, for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts. (And now, Zerubbabel, take courage! saith the Lord, and Joshua, the son of Josedech, the High Priest, take courage! and all the people of the land, take courage! saith the Lord of hosts; and build ye (it), for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>5</sup> (This is) The word that I covenanted with you, when ye went out of the land of Egypt, and my Spirit shall be in the midst of you. Do not ye dread, (This is what I promised you, when ye went out of the land of Egypt, and my Spirit shall always be in your midst. Do not ye fear or Fear not,)
- <sup>6</sup> for the Lord of hosts saith these things, Yet one little thing is, and I shall move heaven, and earth, and sea, and dry land; (for the Lord of hosts saith these things, Yet a little while, and then I shall move, or I shall shake, heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the dry land;)
- <sup>7</sup> and I shall move all folks, and the desired to all folks shall come; and I shall fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts. (and I shall shake all the nations, and the treasure of all the nations shall come here; and I shall fill this House with glory, saith the Lord of hosts.)
  - <sup>8</sup> Mine is (the) silver, and mine is (the) gold, saith the Lord of hosts.
- <sup>9</sup> The glory of this last house shall be great, more than of the first, saith the Lord of hosts. And in this place I shall give peace, saith the Lord of hosts. (The glory of this latter House, or of this Temple, shall be greater than that of the first House, saith the Lord of hosts. And I shall give thee peace and prosperity in this place, saith the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>10</sup> In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of king Darius, the word of the Lord was made to Haggai, the prophet, and said, (On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of King Darius, the word of the Lord was made to the prophet Haggai, and said,)
- <sup>11</sup>The Lord God of hosts saith these things, Ask thou priests the law, and say thou, (The Lord God of hosts saith these things, Ask thou the priests about the Law, and say thou,)
- 12 If a man taketh hallowed flesh in the hem of his clothing, and toucheth of the highness thereof bread, either pottage, either wine, either oil, either any meat, whether it shall be hallowed? Soothly priests answered, and said, Nay. (If a person taketh consecrated meat in the hem of his clothing, and with part of his clothes toucheth any bread, or broth, or wine, or oil, or any other meat, shall that thing become consecrated, or sanctified? And the priests answered, and said, No.) 13 And Haggai said, If a man defouled in soul toucheth of all these things, whether it shall be defouled? And priests answered, and said, It shall be defouled. (And then Haggai asked, If a person with a defiled soul toucheth any of these things or If a person who hath touched a dead body toucheth any of these things, shall that thing then become defiled? And the priests answered, and said, Yea, it shall be defiled.)
- <sup>14</sup> And Haggai answered, and said, So is this people, and so is this folk before my face, saith the Lord, and so is all the work of their hands; and all things which they offer there shall be defouled. (And Haggai answered, and said, And so is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord, and so be all the works of their hands: and all the things which they offer there shall be defiled.)

15 And now put ye (this on) your hearts, from this day and above, before that a stone on a stone was put in the temple of the Lord, (And now think ye about this, from this day and back, before that a stone was put upon a stone in the Temple of the Lord,)

<sup>16</sup> when ye went to an heap of twenty bushels, and there were made ten; ye entered to the presser, that ye should press out fifty gallons, and there were made twenty. <sup>17</sup> I smote you with burning wind, and with mildew, and hail, (in) all the works of your hands; and there was none in you that turned again to me, saith the Lord. (I struck you with burning wind, and with mildew, and with hail, on all the works of your hands; and still there was no one among you who returned to me, saith the Lord.)

18 Put ye (this on) your hearts from this day, and into coming, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, from the day in which foundaments of the temple of the Lord be casted, put ye (this) on your heart. (Think ye upon this, from this day forward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, from the day on which the foundations of the Temple of the Lord be laid, think ye upon this.)

<sup>19</sup> Whether now seed is in burgeoning? and yet vineyard, and fig tree, and pomegranate, and the tree of olive flowered not. From this day I shall bless. (and I shall destroy the thrones of kings, and I shall altogether break the power of the kings of the heathen, and I shall destroy the four-horsed carts, and their riders, or and I shall destroy the chariots, and their drivers; and the horses shall fall down, and their riders, yea, every man by the sword of his kinsman.)

ZECHARIAH

- <sup>1</sup> In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of the Lord was made to Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, (the) prophet, and said,
- <sup>2</sup> The Lord is wroth on your fathers with wrathfulness. (The Lord was truly angry with your forefathers.)
- <sup>3</sup> And thou shalt say to them, The Lord of hosts saith these things. Be ye turned again to me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I shall be turned again to you, saith the Lord of hosts. (And thou shalt say to the people, The Lord of hosts saith these things. Return ye to me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I shall return to you, or Come ye back to me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I shall come back to you.)
- <sup>4</sup> Be ye not as your fathers, to which the former prophets cried, saying, The Lord of hosts saith these things, Be ye converted from your evil ways, and your worst thoughts; and they heard not, neither took attention to me, saith the Lord of hosts. (Do not ye be like your forefathers, to whom the earlier prophets, or the prophets of old, cried, saying, The Lord of hosts saith these things, Turn ye away from your evil ways, and your worst thoughts; and they did not listen, nor pay any attention to me, saith the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>5</sup> Where be your fathers and (the) prophets? whether they shall live [into] without end? (And now where be your forefathers, and the prophets? do they live forever?)
- <sup>6</sup> Nevertheless my words and my lawful things, which I commanded to my servants (the) prophets, whether they caught not your fathers? And they were turned again, and said, As the Lord of hosts thought for to do to us by our ways, and by our findings, he did to us. (Nevertheless my words and my laws, which I commanded to my servants the prophets, did they not catch, or overtake, your forefathers? And then they repented, or turned, and said, As the Lord of hosts thought to do to us because of our ways, and our deeds, so he hath done to us.)
- <sup>7</sup> In the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month Sebat, that is, January, in the second year of Darius, the word of the Lord was made to Zechariah, son of Berechiah, son of Iddo, prophet, and said, (On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, that is, January, in the second year of Darius, the word of the Lord was made to the prophet Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, and said,)
- <sup>8</sup>I saw by night, and lo! a man going on a red horse; and he stood betwixt places where myrtles waxed, that were in the depth, and after him were horses red, diverse (or dappled), and white.
- <sup>9</sup> And I said, My lord, who be these? And an angel of the Lord said to me, that spake in me, I shall show to thee what these be. (And I said, My lord, what be these horses? And the angel of the Lord who spoke to me, said to me, I shall show thee what these horses be.)
- <sup>10</sup> And the man that stood betwixt places where myrtles waxed, answered, and said, These it be, which the Lord sent, that they walk through (the) earth. (And the man who stood between the places where the myrtles grew, answered, and said, These be they, which the Lord sent, to walk through the earth.)

- $^{11}$  And they answered to the angel of the Lord, that stood betwixt places where myrtles waxed, and said, We have walked through (the) earth, and lo! all (the) earth is inhabited, and resteth.
- $^{12}$  And the angel of the Lord answered, and said, Lord of hosts, how long shalt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem, and on [the] cities of Judah, to which thou art wroth? (or with whom thou art angry?) This now is the seventieth year.
- <sup>13</sup> And the Lord answered to the angel, that spake in me (or who spoke to me), good words, and words of comfort.
- <sup>14</sup> And the angel that spake in me, said to me, Cry thou, saying, The Lord of hosts saith these things, I loved Jerusalem and Zion in great fervor; (And the angel who spoke to me, said to me, Cry thou, saying, The Lord of hosts saith these things, I loved Jerusalem and Zion with great fervor;)
- $^{15}$  and in great wrath I shall be wroth on rich folks; for I was wroth a little, forsooth they helped into evil. (and with great anger I shall rage against the rich nations; because before, when I was but a little angry, they helped evil to increase.)
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore the Lord saith these things, I shall turn again to Jerusalem in mercies. Mine house shall be builded in it, saith the Lord of hosts; and a plummet shall be stretched out on Jerusalem. (And so the Lord saith these things, I have returned to Jerusalem with mercy. My House shall be rebuilt in it, saith the Lord of hosts; and a plumb line shall be stretched out upon Jerusalem.)
- <sup>17</sup> Yet cry thou, saying, The Lord of hosts saith these things, Yet my cities shall flow with goods, and yet the Lord shall comfort Zion, and yet he shall choose Jerusalem. (Once again cry thou, saying, The Lord of hosts saith these things, Once again my cities shall overflow with good things, and once again the Lord shall comfort Zion, and once again he shall choose Jerusalem.)
- <sup>18</sup> And I raised mine eyes, and I saw, and lo! four horns. (And I raised up my eyes, and I saw, and behold! four horns.)
- $^{19}$  And I said to the angel, that spake in me, What be these? (or And I said to the angel, who spoke to me, What be these horns?) And he said to me, These be (the) horns that winnowed Judah, and Israel, and Jerusalem.
- $^{20}$  And the Lord showed to me four smiths. (And the Lord showed me four men with hammers.)
- <sup>21</sup> And I said, What come these for to do? Which spake, saying, These be the horns, that winnowed Judah by all men, and no man of them raised his head; and these came for to make them afeared, that they cast down the horns of heathen men, which raised the horn on the land of Judah, for to scatter it. (And I said, What do these smiths come to do? Who answered and said, These be the horns, that winnowed all the people of Judah, so that no one could raise up their head; and these smiths came to make the heathen afraid, yea, so that they cast down the horns of the heathen, who raised the horns upon the land of Judah, in order to scatter it.)

- <sup>1</sup> And I raised mine eyes, and saw, and lo! a man, and lo! in his hand, a little cord of meters. (And I raised up my eyes, and saw, and behold! a man, and behold! in his hand, a little measuring cord.)
- <sup>2</sup> And I said, Whither goest thou? And he said to me, That I mete Jerusalem, and Judah; (to see) how much is the breadth thereof, and how much is the length thereof. (And I said, Where goest thou? And he said to me, So that I can measure Jerusalem, and Judah; to see how much is its breadth, and how much is its length.)
- <sup>3</sup> And lo! the angel that spake in me, went out, and another angel went out into the meeting of him, (And behold! the angel who spoke to me, went out, and another angel went out to meet him,)
- <sup>4</sup> and said to him, Run thou, speak to this young man, and say thou, Jerusalem shall be inhabited without wall, for the multitude of men and beasts in the middle thereof. (and said to him, Run thou, speak to this young man, and say thou, Jerusalem shall be inhabited like a city without walls, for the multitude of the people and of the beasts in its midst.)

<sup>5</sup> And I shall be to it, saith the Lord, a wall of fire in compass; and I shall be in glory in [the] middle thereof. (And I shall be to it, saith the Lord, a wall of fire all around it; and I shall also be the glory in its midst.)

- <sup>6</sup> A! A! A! flee ye from the land of the north, saith the Lord, for in four winds of heaven I scattered you, saith the Lord. (O! O! O! flee ye from the land of the north! saith the Lord, for by the four winds of the heavens I have scattered you, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>7</sup> A! thou Zion, flee, that dwellest at the daughter of Babylon. (O thou Zion! flee, thou who livest in Babylon.)
- <sup>8</sup> For the Lord of hosts saith these things, After glory he sent me to heathen men, which robbed you; for he that shall touch you, shall touch the apple of mine eye. (For the Lord of hosts saith these things, After the glory he hath sent me to the heathen, who robbed you; for he who toucheth you, toucheth the apple of my eye.)
- <sup>9</sup> For lo! I raise mine hand on them, and they shall be preys to these that served them; and ye shall know, that the Lord of hosts sent me. (For behold! I shall raise my hand against them, and they shall be prey for those who served them; and then ye shall know, that the Lord of hosts hath sent me.)

<sup>11</sup> And many folks shall be joined to the Lord in that day, and they shall be to me into a people, and I shall dwell in the middle of thee; and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts sent me to thee. (And many nations shall join the Lord on that day, and they shall be his people, and he shall live in their midst; and then thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me to thee.)

<sup>12</sup> And the Lord shall wield Judah into his part, in the land hallowed, and shall choose yet Jerusalem. (And the Lord shall take Judah for his portion, in the hallowed, or in the consecrated, land, and shall once again choose Jerusalem.)

<sup>13</sup> Each flesh be still from the face of the Lord, for he rose of his holy dwelling place. (Each person be still before the face of the Lord, for he hath risen up from his holy dwelling place.)

priest Joshua, standing before the angel of the Lord; and Satan stood on his right half, that he should be adversary to him. (And the Lord showed me Joshua, the High Priest, standing before the angel of the Lord; and Satan stood at his right hand or and the Adversary stood at his right hand, so that he could accuse him, or so that he could be adverse, or hostile, to him.)

<sup>2</sup> And the Lord said to Satan, The Lord blame in thee, Satan, and the Lord that chose Jerusalem, blame in thee. Whether this is not a dead brand ravished from the fire? (And the Lord said to Satan or And the Lord said to the Adversary, The Lord rebuke thee, Satan, yea, the Lord who chose Jerusalem, rebuke thee. Is not this man like a firebrand snatched from the fire?)

angel.)

<sup>4</sup> Which answered, and said to them that stood before him, and he said, Do ye away foul clothes from him. And he said to him, Lo! I have done away from thee thy wickedness, and I have clothed thee with changing (of) clothes. (Who answered, and said to those who stood before him, and he said, Do ye away his filthy clothes. And then he said to him, Behold! I have done away thy wickedness from thee, and I have clothed thee with a change of clothing or and I have clothed thee with clean clothes.)

<sup>5</sup> And he said, Put ye a clean mitre on his head. And they putted a clean mitre on his head, and clothed him with clothes. And the angel of the Lord stood, (And he said, Put ye a clean turban upon his head. And they put a clean turban upon his head, and clothed him with clean clothes. And the angel of the Lord stood by,)

<sup>6</sup> and the angel of the Lord witnessed to Joshua, and said,

<sup>7</sup> The Lord of hosts saith these things, If thou shalt go in my ways, and shalt keep my keeping, also and thou shalt deem mine house, and shalt keep my porches; and I shall give to thee goers, of these that now here stand nigh. (The Lord of hosts saith these things, If thou shalt go in my ways, and shalt perform your duties, then thou shalt judge, or thou shalt rule, my House, and shalt keep charge of my courtyards, and I shall give thee the right to come and go amongst those who now stand here nearby.)

<sup>8</sup> Hear thou, Joshua, great priest, thou and thy friends that dwell before thee, for they be men signifying thing[s] to coming. Lo! soothly I shall bring my servant springing up, either Christ born. (Hear thou, Joshua, the high priest, thou and thy friends who be seated before thee, for they signify the things to come. Behold! truly I shall bring forth my servant, The Branch.)

<sup>9</sup> For Io! the stone which I gave before Joshua, on one stone be seven eyes; and lo! I shall grave the graving thereof, saith the Lord of hosts, and I shall do away the wickedness of that land in one day. (For behold! the stone which I put before Joshua, and on that one stone be seven eyes, (or seven facets); and behold! I shall engrave its engraving, (or its inscription), saith the Lord of hosts, and I shall do away the wickedness of that land in one day.)

<sup>10</sup> In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, a man shall call his friend under a vine, and under a fig tree. (On that day, saith the Lord of hosts, a man shall call his friends to come, and sit down, and rest under a vine, and under a fig tree.)

- <sup>1</sup> And the angel turned again, that spake in me, and raised me, as a man that is raised (up out) of his sleep. (And the angel who spoke to me, returned, and raised me up, like a man who is raised up from his sleep.)
- <sup>2</sup> And he said to me, What seest thou? And I said, I saw, and lo! a candlestick all of gold, and the lamp thereof on the head thereof, and seven lanterns thereof on it, and seven vessels for to hold oil to the lanterns, that were on the head thereof. (And he said to me, What seest thou? And I said, Behold! I see a gold candlestick, and a lamp on top of it, and seven lanterns on it, and seven vessels to hold oil for the lanterns, on top of them.)
- <sup>3</sup> And two olives thereon, one of the right half of the lamp, and another on the left half thereof. (And two olive trees beside it, one on the right side of the lamp, and the other on its left side.)
- <sup>4</sup> And I answered, and said to the angel that spake in me, and I said, What be these things, my lord? (And I answered, and said to the angel who spoke to me, and I said, What be these things, my lord?)
- <sup>5</sup> And the angel that spake in me, answered, and said to me, Whether thou knowest not what be these things? And I said, No, my lord. (And the angel who spoke to me, answered, and said to me, Knowest thou not what these things be? And I said, No, my lord.)
- <sup>6</sup> And he answered, and said to me, and spake, This is the word of the Lord, saying to Zerubbabel, Not in host, neither in strength, but in my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts. (And he answered, and spoke to me, and said, This is the word of the Lord, saying to Zerubbabel, Not by army, nor by strength, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>7</sup> Who art thou, great hill, before Zerubbabel, into plain? and he shall lead out the first stone, and shall make even grace to grace thereof. (Who (art) thou, great mountain, compared to Zerubbabel? nothing but a flat plain! yea, he shall lay the first stone, and shall make the (last stone's) beauty equal to the beauty of the (first stone).)
  - 8 And the word of the Lord was made to me, and said,
- <sup>9</sup> The hands of Zerubbabel founded this house, and the hands of him shall perform it; and ye shall know, that the Lord of hosts sent me to you. (Zerubbabel's hands founded this House, and his hands shall finish it; and then ye shall know, that the Lord of hosts sent me to you.)
- <sup>10</sup> Who forsooth despised little days? and they shall be glad, and shall see a stone of tin in the hand of Zerubbabel, (or Who hath despised the day of small things? they shall be happy, and shall see the plumb bob in Zerubbabel's hand). These be the seven eyes of the Lord, that run about into all (the) earth.
- <sup>11</sup> And I answered, and said to him, What be these twain olives on the right half of the candlestick, and at the left half thereof? (And I answered, and said to him. What be these two olive trees on the right side of the candlestick, and on its left side?)

12 And I answered the second time, and said to him, (or And I spoke a second time, and asked him), What be the twain ears, either ripe fruit, of olives that be beside the two pipes of gold, in which be (the) oil vessels of

13 And he said to me, and spake, Whether thou knowest not what be these things? And I said, No, my lord. (And he spoke to me, and said, Knowest thou not what these things be? And I said, No, my lord.)

14 And he said, These be two sons of oil shining, which stand nigh to the lordly governor of all earth. (And he said, These be the two sons shining with oil, who stand near to the Lord who ruleth over all the earth.)

CHAPTER 5

<sup>1</sup> And I was converted, and raised mine eyes, and saw, and lo! a book flying. (And I turned, and raised up my eyes, and behold! I saw a flying book, or and behold! I saw a scroll flying through the air.)

<sup>2</sup> And he said to me. What seest thou? And I said, Lo! I see a book flying: the length thereof was of twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof of ten cubits. (And I said, Behold! I see a flying book, or Behold! I see a scroll flying through the air; its length (was) twenty cubits, and its breadth (was)

<sup>3</sup> And he said to me, This is the curse, that goeth on the face of all (the) earth; for each thief shall be deemed, as it is written there; and each man swearing (falsely) shall be deemed of this also. (And he said to me, This is the curse, that goeth forth over the face of all the earth; for each thief shall be judged, as it is written there; and each person who falsely sweareth shall also be judged by this, and swept away.)

<sup>4</sup>I shall lead out it, saith the Lord of hosts, and it shall come to the house of a thief, and to the house of him that sweareth falsely in my name; and it shall dwell in the middle of his house, and shall waste him, and his trees, and his stones. (I have sent it out, saith the Lord of hosts, and it shall come to the thief's house, and to the house of him who sweareth falsely in my name; and it shall stay, (or remain), in the midst of his house, and it shall destroy him, and his wood, (or his timber), and his stones.)

<sup>5</sup> And the angel went out, that spake in me (or who spoke to me), and said to me, Raise (up) thine eyes, and see, what this thing is that goeth out.

<sup>6</sup> And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an amphora, either a pot, going out. And he said, This is the eye of them in all earth, (or And he said, This is their sin in all the earth).

<sup>7</sup> And lo! a talent of lead was borne (up from it); and lo! a woman (was) sitting in (the) middle of the pot.

<sup>8</sup> And he said, This is unpiety, either unfaithfulness. And he casted down her in(to) the middle of the pot, and sent a gobbet of lead into the mouth thereof. (And he said, This is Unrighteousness, or Wickedness. And he threw her down into the midst of the pot, and put the piece of lead back into the mouth of the pot.)

<sup>9</sup> And I raised mine eyes, and saw, and lo! two women going out, and a spirit in the wings of them; and they had wings as the wings of a kite, and raised the pot betwixt heaven and earth. (And I raised up my eyes, and saw, and behold! two women going out, and the wind in their wings; and they had wings like the wings of a stork, and they raised up the pot between heaven and the earth.)

<sup>10</sup> And I said to the angel that spake in me, Whither bear these the pot? (And I said to the angel who spoke to me, Where shall they take the pot?)

<sup>11</sup> And he said to me, That an house be builded thereto in the land of Shinar, and be stablished, and set there on his foundament. (And he said to me, To the land of Shinar, or to Babylon, so that a house, or a temple, can be built for it, and it can be established, and put there upon its own foundation, or upon its own base.)

- <sup>1</sup> And I was converted, and raised mine eyes, and saw, and lo! four [four-]horsed carts going out of the middle of twain hills, and the hills were hills of brass. (And I turned, and raised up my eyes, and saw, and behold! four four-horsed carts, (or four chariots), going out from the midst of, (or between), two bronze hills.)
- <sup>2</sup> In the first four-horsed cart were red horses, and in the second four-horsed cart were black horses; (The first four-horsed cart, or chariot, had red horses, and the second four-horsed cart, or chariot, had black horses;)
- <sup>3</sup> and in the third four-horsed cart were white horses, and in the fourth four-horsed cart were diverse horses, and strong. (and the third four-horsed cart, or chariot, had white horses, and the fourth four-horsed cart, or chariot, had dappled horses.)
- <sup>4</sup> And I answered, and said to the angel that spake in me, What be these things, my lord? (And I said to the angel, who spoke to me, What be these things, my lord?)
- <sup>5</sup> And the angel answered, and said to me, These be four winds of heaven, which go out, that they stand before the lordshipper of all earth. (And the angel answered, and said to me, These be the four winds of the heavens, which go out from before the Lord, who ruleth over all the earth.)
- <sup>6</sup> In which were black horses, they went out into the land of the north; and the white went out after them; and the diverse went out into the land of the south. (The cart, or the chariot, which had the black horses went out to the land of the north; and that which had the white horses went out to the west; and that which had the dappled horses went out to the land of the south.)
- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth they that were strongest went out, and sought for to go, and run about by all earth. And he said, Go ye, and walk ye through the earth. And they walked through the earth. (And the chariot with the red horses went out to the east; and they all sought to go, and to run about through all the earth. And he said, Go ye, and run ye through all the earth. And so they ran through all the earth.)
- <sup>8</sup> And he called me, and spake to me, and said, Lo! they that go out into the land of the north, made my spirit for to rest in the land of the north.
  - <sup>9</sup> And the word of the Lord was made to me, and said,
- <sup>10</sup> Take thou of them that (be) of the transmigration, either captivity, of Heldai, and of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah; and thou shalt come in that day, and shalt enter into the house of Josiah, son of Zephaniah, that came from Babylon. (Take thou the gifts from those who be of the exiles, or of the exiles)

the captives, yea, from Heldai, and from Tobijah, and from Jedaiah; and thou shalt go that day, and shalt enter into the house of Josiah, the son of Zephaniah, who came from Babylon.)

- <sup>11</sup> And thou shalt take gold and silver, and shalt make crowns, and put on the head of Joshua, the great priest, the son of Josedech; (And thou shalt take that gold and that silver, and thou shalt make a crown, and put it on the head of Joshua, the son of Josedech, the High Priest;)
- <sup>12</sup> and shalt speak to him, and say, The Lord of hosts saith these things, saying, Lo! a man, Coming forth, either Born, is his name, and under him it shall spring. And he shall build a temple to the Lord, (and shalt speak to him, and say, The Lord of hosts saith these things, saying, Behold! a man whose name (is) The Branch shall come forth, and shall spring up. And he shall rebuild the Temple of the Lord,)
- <sup>13</sup> and he shall make a temple to the Lord; and he shall bear glory, and shall sit, and shall be lord on his seat; and the priest shall be on his seat, and counsel of peace shall be betwixt them twain. (yea, he shall build the Temple of the Lord; and he shall bear glory, and shall sit, and shall be lord, or shall rule, upon his throne; and the priest shall be beside his throne, and a concord of peace shall be between these two.)
- <sup>14</sup> And crowns shall be to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen, the son of Zephaniah, (as) a memorial in the temple of the Lord. (And the crown shall be in the charge, or under the care, of Heldai, and Tobijah, and Jedaiah, and Josiah, the son of Zephaniah, as a memorial in the Temple of the Lord.)
- <sup>15</sup> And they that be far, shall come, and build in the temple of the Lord; and ye shall know, that the Lord of hosts sent me to you. Soothly this thing shall be, if by hearing ye shall hear the voice of your Lord God. (And they who be far, shall come, and help to rebuild the Temple of the Lord; and then ye shall know, that the Lord of hosts hath sent me to you. Truly this shall be, if by hearing ye shall obey the voice of the Lord your God.)

- <sup>1</sup> And it is made in the fourth year of Darius, king, the word of the Lord was made to Zechariah, in the fourth day of the ninth month, that is Chisleu, that is, November. (And it was done in the fourth year of King Darius, the word of the Lord was made to Zechariah, on the fourth day of the ninth month, that is Chisleu, or November.)
- <sup>2</sup> And Sherezer, and Regemmelech, and men that were with them, sent to the house of the Lord, for to pray the face of the Lord; (And Sherezer, and Regemmelech, and the men who were with them, sent word to the House of the Lord, for them to pray to the Lord;)
- <sup>3</sup> that they should say to priests of the house of the Lord of hosts, and to prophets, and speak, Whether it is to weep to me in the fifth month, either I shall hallow me, as I did now many years? (and so that they could ask the priests of the House of the Lord of hosts, and the prophets, Is it for me to weep and to consecrate, or to dedicate, myself in the fifth month, as I have done now for so many years?)
  - <sup>4</sup> And the word of the Lord [of hosts] was made to me, and said,

- <sup>5</sup> Speak thou to all the people of the land, and to priests, and say thou, When ye fasted, and wailed in the fifth and seventh month (s), by these seventy years, whether ye fasted a fast to me? (Speak thou to all the people of the land, and to the priests, and say thou, When ye fasted, and wailed in the fifth month and in the seventh month, during those seventy years, did ye ever fast in honour of me?)
- <sup>6</sup> And when ye ate, and drank, whether ye ate not to you, and drank not to yourselves? (And when ye ate, and drank, did ye not eat, and drink, to please only yourselves?)
- <sup>7</sup> Whether the words of prophets be not, which the Lord spake in the hand of the former prophets, when yet Jerusalem was inhabited, and was full of riches, and it, and the cities thereof in compass thereof, and at the south and in field place was inhabited? (Were not these the words of the prophets, which the Lord spoke by the earlier prophets, or by the prophets of old, when Jerusalem was still inhabited, and was full of riches, and it, and the cities there all around it, and to the south, or in the Negeb, and on the lowlands, or on the Shephelah, were all inhabited?)
  - 8 And the word of the Lord was made to Zechariah, and said,
- <sup>9</sup> The Lord of hosts saith these things, and speaketh, Deem ye true doom, and do ye mercy, and doings of mercy, each man with his brother. (The Lord of hosts speaketh these things, and saith, Judge ye with true justice, and do ye mercy, and doings of mercy, each man with his brother or each person with his neighbour.)
- <sup>10</sup> And do not ye falsely challenge a widow, and fatherless, either motherless, and comeling, and poor man; and a man think not in his heart evil to his brother. (And do not ye oppress a widow, or the fatherless, or the motherless, child, or a newcomer, that is, a stranger, or a poor person; and do not let anyone think evil in his heart against his brother, or against his neighbour.)
- <sup>11</sup> And they would not take heed, and they turned away the shoulder, and went away, and made heavy their ears (or and closed their ears), lest they heard.
- <sup>12</sup> And they set their heart as an adamant (stone), lest they heard the law, and words which the Lord of hosts sent in his [holy] Spirit, by the hand of the former prophets; and great indignation was made of the Lord of hosts. (And they hardened their hearts like a stone, lest they heard the Law, and the words which the Lord of hosts sent by his Holy Spirit, by the earlier prophets, or by the prophets of old; and so the Lord of hosts had great indignation.)
- <sup>13</sup> And it is done, as he spake; and as they heard not, so they shall cry, and I shall not hear [them], saith the Lord of hosts. (And it is done, as he had said it would be; and because they did not listen to me, so now they shall cry, and I shall not hear them or and I shall not listen to them, saith the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>14</sup> And I scattered them by all realms, which they knew not, and the land is desolate from them; for that there was not a man going and turning again, and they have put [the] desirable land into desert. (And I scattered them into all the kingdoms, which they did not know about, and the land was made empty of them; and because there was no one going forth, and returning, they have made, or turned, this most desirable land into a desert. or deserted and desolate.)

CHAPTER 8

 $^{1}$  And the word of the Lord of hosts was made to me, and said,  $^{2}$  The Lord of hosts saith these things, I hated Zion with great fervor, and with great indignation I hated it. (The Lord of hosts saith these things, I hated the enemies of Zion with great fervor, and I hated them with great indignation.)

<sup>3</sup> The Lord of hosts saith these things, I am turned again to Zion, and I shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth, and [the] hill of the Lord of hosts shall be called an hill hallowed. (The Lord of hosts saith these things, I have returned to Zion, and I shall live in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called the City of Truth, and the hill, or the mount, of the Lord of hosts shall be called The Holy Hill, or the Sacred Mountain.)

<sup>4</sup> The Lord of hosts saith these things, Yet eld men and eld women shall dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, and the staff of a man shall be in his hand, for the multitude of years. (The Lord of hosts saith these things, Once again old men and old women shall sit in the streets of Jerusalem, and the staff of a man shall be in his hand, for the multitude of his years.)

<sup>5</sup> And the streets of the city shall be filled with young children and damsels, playing in the streets thereof. (And the streets of the city shall be filled with young boys and young girls, playing in its streets.)

<sup>7</sup> The Lord of hosts saith these things, Lo! I shall save my people from the land of the east, and from the land of the going down of the sun;

<sup>8</sup> and I shall bring them (back), and they shall dwell in the middle of Jerusalem; and they shall be to me into a people, and I shall be to them into God, and in truth, and in rightwiseness. (and I shall bring them back, and they shall live in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I shall be their God, in truth, and in righteousness.)

<sup>9</sup> The Lord of hosts saith these things, Be your hands strengthened, which hear in these days these words by the mouth of prophets, in the day in which the house of the Lord of hosts is founded, that the temple should be builded (again). (The Lord of hosts saith these things, Be strong! you who hear in these days these words from the mouths of the prophets, yea, those prophets from the days in which the House of the Lord of hosts was founded, who say that the Temple should now be built.)

Noothly before those days hire of men was not, neither hire of work beasts was, neither to man entering and going out was peace for tribulation; and I let go all men, each against his neighbour. (Truly before those days there was no hiring of men, or of work beasts, nor was there peace from tribulation for anyone entering in or going out; yea, I let everyone go, each against his neighbour or each against the other.)

- <sup>11</sup> But now not after the former days I shall do to the remnants of this people, saith the Lord of hosts, (But now I shall not do to the remnants of this people like in the earlier days, saith the Lord of hosts,)
- <sup>12</sup> but the seed of peace shall be; the vine shall give his fruit, and the earth shall give his burgeoning, and heavens shall give their dew; and I shall make the remnants of this people for to wield all these things. (but they shall sow, or plant, their seeds in peace; the vine shall give its fruit, and the earth shall give its burgeoning, or its produce, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I shall make the remnants of this people to possess all these things, or all that they want.)
- <sup>13</sup> And it shall be, as ye, the house of Judah, and the house of Israel, were cursing among heathen men, so I shall save you, and ye shall be blessing. Do not ye dread, be your hands strengthened; (And it shall be, (that) as ye, the house of Judah, and the house of Israel, were examples of a curse among the heathen, so now I shall save you, and ye shall be examples of a blessing. Do not ye fear or Fear not, but take courage!)
- <sup>14</sup> for the Lord of hosts saith these things, As I thought to torment you, when your fathers had stirred me to wrath, saith the Lord, and I had not mercy, (for the Lord of hosts saith these things, As I thought to torment you, when your forefathers had stirred me to anger, saith the Lord, and I had no mercy,)
- <sup>15</sup> so I converted thought in these days to do well to the house of Judah and to Jerusalem; do not ye dread. (but now turned, I have thought, or I have resolved, in these days to do good to the house of Judah and to Jerusalem; do not ye fear or fear not.)
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore these be the words which ye shall do; speak ye truth, each man with his neighbour; deem ye truth and the doom of peace in your gates; (And so these be the things which ye shall do; speak ye truth, each person with his neighbour; judge ye truthfully, and give ye the kind of justice that bringeth peace within your gates;)
- <sup>17</sup> and think ye not in your hearts, any man, evil against his friend, and love not a false oath; for all these things it be which I hate, saith the Lord. (and think ye not in your hearts, anyone, evil against his friend, or against his neighbour, and do not love to make a false oath, or to commit perjury; for all these be the things which I hate, saith the Lord.)
  - <sup>18</sup> And the word of the Lord of hosts was made to me, and said,
- <sup>19</sup> The Lord of hosts saith these things, The fasting of the fourth month, and the fasting of the fifth, and the fasting of the seventh, and the fasting of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah into joy and gladness, and into solemnities full clear; love ye only truth and peace. (The Lord of hosts saith these things, The fasting of the fourth month, and the fasting of the fifth month, and the fasting of the seventh month, and the fasting of the tenth month, shall be cheerful feasts of happiness, and joy, for the house of Judah; love ye only truth and peace.)
- <sup>20</sup> The Lord of hosts saith these things, Peoples shall come on each side, and dwell in many cities; (The Lord of hosts saith these things, Peoples shall come from everywhere, and shall live in many cities;)
- $^{21}$  and the dwellers shall go, one to another, and say, Go we, and beseech the face of the Lord, and seek we the Lord of hosts; also I shall go. (and the inhabitants shall go, one to another, and say, Let us go, and beseech the face of the Lord, and seek we the Lord of hosts; and I shall also go, or yea, come with me.)

<sup>22</sup> And many peoples shall come, and strong folks, for to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to beseech the face of the Lord. (And many peoples, and strong nations, shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to beseech the face of the Lord.)

<sup>23</sup> The Lord of hosts saith these things, In those days, in which ten men of all languages of heathen men shall take (hold), and they shall take the hem of a man a Jew, and say, We shall go with you; for we have heard that God is with you. (The Lord of hosts saith these things, In those days, in which ten men of all the languages of the heathen shall take hold, yea, they shall take hold of the hem of a Jewish man, and say, We shall go with you; for we have heard that God is with you.)

- <sup>1</sup> The burden of the word of the Lord, in the land of Hadrach, and of Damascus, (which shall be) the rest thereof; for of the Lord is the eye of man, and of all [the] lineages of Israel. (The charge, or the heavy burden, of the word of the Lord, for the land of Hadrach, and the city of Damascus, which shall be its resting place; and the eyes of these people, like those of all the tribes of Israel, shall be upon the Lord.)
- <sup>2</sup> And Hemath shall be in the terms thereof, and Tyrus, and Sidon; for they took to them wisdom greatly. (And Hamath shall be within its borders, and Tyre, and Sidon; even though they think themselves to have great wisdom.)
- <sup>3</sup> And Tyrus builded his stronghold, and gathered silver as earth, and gold as fen of streets. (And Tyre built its fortress, and gathered silver like the dust, and gold like the mire, or like the mud, in the streets.)
- <sup>4</sup> Lo! the Lord shall wield it, and shall smite in the sea the strength thereof, and it shall be devoured by fire. (Behold! the Lord shall possess it, and shall strike down its strength into the sea, and the city itself shall be devoured by fire.)
- <sup>5</sup> Ashkelon shall see, and shall dread; and Gaza, and shall sorrow full much; and Ekron, for the hope thereof is confounded; and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited; (Ashkelon shall see it, and shall have great fear; and Gaza, and it shall have great sorrow; and Ekron too, for its hope is confounded, or what it trusted in hath perished; and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited;)
- <sup>6</sup> and a parter shall sit in Ashdod, and I shall destroy the pride of Philistines. (and those who be parted, or who be half-breeds, shall live in Ashdod, and I shall destroy the pride of the Philistines.)
- <sup>7</sup> And I shall take away the blood of him from the mouth of him, and the abominations of him from the middle of the teeth of him, and he also shall be left to our God; and he shall be as a duke in Judah, and Ekron as Jebusite. (And I shall take away the blood-filled sacrifice from their mouths, and the abominations from the midst of their teeth, and they shall belong to our God; and they shall be like a family in Judah, and Ekron shall be like the Jebusites.)

- <sup>8</sup> And I shall compass mine house of these that hold knighthood to me, and go, and turn again; and an exactor, or unjust asker, shall no more pass on them, for now I saw with mine eyes. (And I shall surround my House with those of my host, or of my army, yea, they who go, and return, at my command; and no more shall an oppressor overrun them, for now I have seen their suffering with my own eyes.)
- <sup>9</sup> Thou daughter of Zion, make joy withoutforth enough; sing, thou daughter of Jerusalem; lo! thy king shall come to thee, he (is) just, and (a) saviour; he (is) poor, and ascending on a she-ass, and on a colt or a foal, the son of a she-ass. (O daughter of Zion, make full out joy, (or rejoice); sing, O daughter of Jerusalem; behold! thy King shall come to thee, he is just, and a saviour, or and the victor; he (is) poor, and riding on a female donkey, and on a colt or a foal, the son of a female donkey.)
- <sup>10</sup> And I shall lose the four-horsed cart of Ephraim, and an horse of Jerusalem, and the bow of battle shall be destroyed; and he shall speak peace to heathen men, and the power of him shall be from sea till to sea, and from floods, till to the ends of [the] earth. (And he shall destroy the four-horsed carts, or the chariots, of Ephraim, and the horses of Jerusalem, and the bows for battle shall be destroyed; and he shall speak peace to the heathen, and his power shall be from sea unto sea, and from the Euphrates River, unto the ends of the earth.)
- <sup>11</sup> And thou in the blood of thy testament sentest out thy bound men from the lake in which is no water. (And by the blood of my covenant with thee, I sent out thy bound men from the pit in which there was no water.)
- <sup>12</sup> Ye bound of hope, be turned again to (the) stronghold; and today I tell, and I shall yield to thee double things, (Ye prisoners of hope, return to the stronghold, or to the fortress; for today I declare that I shall give thee double for all thy trouble,)
- <sup>13</sup> for I shall stretch forth to me Judah as a bow, I filled the land of Ephraim. And I shall raise thy sons, thou Zion, on thy sons, thou land of Greeks, and I shall set thee as the sword of strong men. (for I shall stretch forth Judah unto me like a bow, and I have filled the land of Ephraim with arrows. And I shall raise up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Greece, and I shall make thee like the sword of the strong.)
- <sup>14</sup> And the Lord God shall be seen on them, and the dart of him shall go out as lightning. And the Lord God shall sing in a trump, and shall go in whirlwind of the south; (And the Lord God shall be seen above them, and his darts, or his arrows, shall go out like the lightning. And the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and then shall go forth in the whirlwinds of the south;)
- <sup>15</sup> the Lord of hosts shall defend them, and they shall devour, and make subject with stones of a sling; and they drinking, shall be filled as with wine, and shall be filled as vials, or cruets, and as horns of the altar. (the Lord of hosts shall defend them, and they shall devour them, and make them subject with the stones of a sling; and they drinking, shall be filled with wine, and shall be filled up like the basins, or like the bowls, and like the horns, or like the corners, of the altar.)
- $^{16}$  And the Lord God of them shall save them in that day, as a flock of his people, for holy stones shall be raised [up] on the land of him. (And the Lord God of them shall save them on that day, his people like a flock, and like holy stones that shall be raised up on his land.)

<sup>17</sup> For what is the good of him, and what is the fair thing of him, no but wheat of chosen men, and wine (of) burgeoning (for the) virgins? (For what is his good thing, and what (is) his beautiful, (or his wonderful), thing? it is wheat for the chosen, and new wine for the virgins!)

CHAPTER 10

<sup>1</sup> Ask ye of the Lord rain in late time, and the Lord shall make snows, and rain of might of cloud; and he shall give to them, to each by himself, herb in the field. (Ask ye of the Lord for a late rain, and the Lord shall make snows, and for rain out of the might, or out of the power, of the clouds; and he shall give to all, to each one in his turn, grass, or hay, in his field.)

<sup>2</sup> For simulacra spake unprofitable things, and diviners saw leasing; and dreamers spake vainly, idly they comforted; therefore they be led away as a flock, they shall be tormented, for a shepherd is not to them. (For idols spoke unprofitable things, and diviners saw lies; and dreamers spoke in vain, yea, they comforted in vain; and so the people be led away like a flock of sheep, and they shall be tormented, for they do not have a shepherd.)

<sup>6</sup> And I shall comfort the house of Judah, and I shall save the house of Joseph; and I shall convert them, for I shall have mercy on them; and they shall be as they were, when I had not cast away them; for I shall be the Lord God of them, and I shall graciously hear them. (And I shall strengthen the house of Judah, and I shall save the house of Joseph; and I shall restore them, for I shall have mercy upon them, and they shall be as they were, when I had not cast them away; for I shall be the Lord their God, and I shall graciously hear, or I shall graciously answer, them.)

<sup>7</sup> And they shall be as the strong men of Ephraim, and the heart of them shall be glad, as of wine; and the sons of them shall see, and be glad, and the heart of them shall make joy withoutforth in the Lord. (And they shall be like the strong men of Ephraim, and their hearts shall be happy, as if from wine; and their sons shall see, and be happy, and their hearts shall rejoice in the Lord.)

<sup>8</sup> I shall hiss to them, and I shall gather them, for I again-bought them, and I shall multiply them, as they were multiplied before. (I shall whistle for them, and I shall gather them together, for I have redeemed them, and I shall multiply them, so that they become as numerous as they were before.)

<sup>9</sup> And I shall sow them among peoples, and from far they shall bethink of me; and they shall live with their sons, and shall turn again. (And I shall sow them among the nations, and from far off they shall remember me; and they shall live with their children, and then shall return.)

- <sup>10</sup> And I shall bring again them from the land of Egypt, and I shall gather them from Assyrians; and I shall bring them to the land of Gilead and of Lebanon, and place shall not be found to them. (And I shall bring them back from the land of Egypt, and I shall gather them from Assyria; and I shall bring them to the lands of Gilead and of Lebanon, until there be no more places found for them.)
- <sup>11</sup> And he shall pass in the wave of the sea, and shall smite waves in the sea, and all depths of flood shall be confounded; and the pride of Assur shall be meeked, and the sceptre of Egypt shall go away. (And they shall pass through their sea of trouble, and I shall strike the waves of the sea, and all the depths of the River, or of the Nile, shall dry up; and the pride of Assyria shall be made humble, and the sceptre, or the power, of Egypt shall pass away.)
- <sup>12</sup> I shall comfort them in the Lord, and they shall walk in the name of him, saith the Lord. (I shall strengthen them in the Lord, and they shall walk proudly in his name, saith the Lord.)

- $^{\rm 1}$  Thou Lebanon, open thy gates, and (then the) fire shall eat thy cedars.
- <sup>2</sup> Yell, thou fir tree, for the cedar fell down, for great men be destroyed; yell, ye oaks of Bashan, for the strong forest is cut down.
- <sup>3</sup> The voice of yelling of shepherds, for the great worship of them is destroyed; the voice of roaring of lions, for the pride of Jordan is wasted. (The sound of the yelling of the shepherds, or of the leaders, for their great glory is destroyed; the sound of the roaring of the lions, for the thickets of Jordan be destroyed.)
- <sup>4</sup>My Lord God saith these things, Feed thou beasts of slaughter, (The Lord my God saith these things, Feed thou the beasts for slaughter,)
- <sup>5</sup> which they that wielded slew; and sorrowed not, and sold them, and they said, Blessed be the Lord, we be made rich. And the shepherds of them spared not them, (which they who possessed them killed; and they did not have any sorrow, or any regret, and they sold them, and they said, Blessed be the Lord, for we be made rich. And their shepherds did not spare them.)
- <sup>6</sup> and I shall no more spare on them that inhabit the earth, saith the Lord. Lo! I shall betake men, each into the hand of his neighbour, and in(to) the hand of his king, and they shall rend together the land; and I shall not deliver from the hand of them, (and so no more shall I spare any who inhabit the earth, saith the Lord. Behold! I shall deliver all of the people, each one into the hands of his neighbour, and into the hands of his king, and they shall altogether, (or shall completely), tear down the land; and I shall not rescue them from their hands,)

<sup>7</sup> and I shall feed the beast of slaying. For this thing, ye poor men of the flock, hear, (or and I shall feed the beasts for slaughter. And so for this, ye poor of the flock, listen). And I took to me two staffs; one I called Fairness, (or Favour), and the tother I called Little Cord; and I fed the flock.

<sup>8</sup> And I cutted down three shepherds in one month, and my soul was drawn (al)together in them; for also the soul of them varied in me. (And I cut down three shepherds in one month, for I lost patience with them; and their souls loathed me.)

<sup>9</sup> And I said, I shall not feed you; that that dieth, die; and that that is cut down, be cut down; and the residues devour, each man the flesh of his neighbour. (And I said, I shall not feed you; he who shall die, die; and he who shall be cut down, be cut down; and the rest devour each other; yea, each person the flesh of his neighbour.)

<sup>10</sup> And I took my staff, that was called Fairness, and I cutted down it, that I should make void my covenant, which I smote with all peoples. (And I took my staff, that was called Fairness, or Favour, and I cut it down, or I broke it in two, so that I would make void my covenant, which I struck with all the peoples, or all the nations.)

<sup>11</sup> And it was made void in that day; and the poor men of the flock that kept to me, knew thus, for it is the word of the Lord. (And it was made void, or annulled, on that day; and the poor of the flock who were watching me, knew this, for it was the word of the Lord.)

<sup>12</sup> And I said to them, If it is good in your eyes, bring ye my meed (or bring ye my reward, or my wages); and if nay, rest ye. And they weighed my meed, thirty pieces of silver.

- <sup>13</sup> And the Lord said to me, Cast away it to the maker of images, the fair price, by which I am appraised of them. And I took [the] thirty pieces of silver, and casted forth them in the house of the Lord, to the maker of images. (And the Lord said to me, Throw it forth to the maker of figures, the fair price, by which I was appraised by them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and threw them into the House of the Lord, to the maker of figures./ And the Lord said to me, Throw it forth into the Temple treasury, the fair price, by which I was appraised by them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and threw them into the House of the Lord, into the Temple treasury.)
- <sup>14</sup> And I cutted down my second staff, that was called Little Cord, that I should part, or unbind, the brotherhood betwixt Judah and Israel. (And I broke in half my second staff, that was called Little Cord, or Union, so that I could part, or unbind, the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.)

<sup>15</sup> And the Lord said to me, Yet take to thee the vessels of a fond shepherd; (And the Lord said to me, Now get thee for thyself the implements of a foolish shepherd:)

<sup>16</sup> for lo! I shall raise a shepherd in earth, which shall not visit forsaken things, and shall not seek scattered things, and he shall not heal a thing all-broken, and shall not nourish forth that that standeth. And he shall eat fleshes of the fat, and shall unbind the claws of them. (for behold! I shall raise up a shepherd in the land, who shall not visit the forsaken, or seek out the scattered, and he shall not heal anyone who is broken, (or who is ill), and shall not feed anyone who standeth up straight, (or who is healthy). But he shall eat the flesh of the fat beasts, and he shall cut off their hoofs.)

- <sup>1</sup> The burden of the word of the Lord on Israel. And the Lord said, stretching forth heaven, and founding the earth, and making the spirit of a man in him, (The charge, or the heavy burden, of the word of the Lord for Israel. And the Lord said, stretching forth the heavens, and founding the earth, and making, or forming, the spirit of a man within him,)
- <sup>2</sup> Lo! I shall set Jerusalem (as) a lintel of gluttony to all peoples in compass, but also Judah shall be in besieging against Jerusalem.
- <sup>3</sup> And it shall be, in that day I shall set Jerusalem a stone of burden to all peoples; all that shall lift it shall be drawn with cutting down, and all realms of earth shall be gathered against it. (And it shall be, on that day I shall make Jerusalem like a burdensome stone to all the nations; yea, all who shall try to lift it shall be drawn, or shall be cut, down, and all the kingdoms of the earth shall be gathered against it.)
- <sup>4</sup> In that day, saith the Lord, I shall smite each horse in[to] dread, either losing of mind, and the rider of him in[to] madness; and on the house of Judah I shall open mine eyes, and shall smite with blindness each horse of (the) peoples. (On that day, saith the Lord, I shall strike each horse with fear, that is, unto the losing of its mind, and his rider with madness; and I shall open my eyes upon the house of Judah, and I shall strike each horse of the nations with blindness.)
- <sup>5</sup> And the dukes of Judah shall say in their hearts, Be the dwellers of Jerusalem strengthened to me in the Lord of hosts, the God of them. (And the leaders of Judah shall say in their hearts, Let the inhabitants of Jerusalem find their strength in the Lord of hosts, their God.)
- <sup>6</sup> In that day I shall set the dukes of Judah as a chimney of fire in wood, and as a brand of fire in hay; and they shall devour at the right side and left side all peoples in compass. And Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in his place, in Jerusalem. (On that day I shall make the leaders of Judah like a chimney of fire in the woods, and like a firebrand in the hay; and they shall devour on the right side and on the left side all the nations around them. And Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in its place, yea, in Jerusalem.)
- <sup>7</sup> And the Lord shall save the tabernacles of Judah, as in the beginning, that the house of David glory not greatly, and the glory of men dwelling in Jerusalem be not against Judah. (And the Lord shall save the tents, or the armies, of Judah first, so that the glory of the house of David, and the glory of those who live in Jerusalem, be not greater than that of Judah.)
- <sup>8</sup> In that day the Lord shall defend the dwellers of Jerusalem; and he that shall offend of them, shall be in that day as David, and the house of David shall be as of God, as the angel of the Lord in the sight of him. (On that day the Lord shall defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he of them who shall stumble on that day, shall be as strong as David, and the house of David shall be like God, yea, like the angel of the Lord going before them.)

- <sup>9</sup> And it shall be, in that day I shall seek to all-break all folks that come against Jerusalem. (And it shall be, on that day, I shall seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.)
- <sup>10</sup> And I shall pour out on the house of David, and on the dwellers of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace, and of prayers; and they shall behold to me, whom they pricked. And they shall bewail him with wailing, as on the one begotten son; and they shall make sorrow on him, as sorrow is wont to be made in the death of the first begotten son. (And I shall pour out upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace, and the spirit of prayer; and they shall look upon me, whom they have pierced. And they shall bewail me with wailing, as if over their only child; and they shall make sorrow upon him, as sorrow is wont to be made upon the death of the first-born son.)
- <sup>11</sup> In that day great wailing shall be in Jerusalem, as the wailing of Hadadrimmon in the field of Megiddon. (On that day great wailing shall be in Jerusalem, like the wailing of Hadadrimmon on the Plain of Megiddo.)
- <sup>12</sup> And the land shall wail; families and families by themselves; the families of the house of David by themselves, and the women of them by themselves; families of the house of Nathan by themselves, and the women of them by themselves;
- $^{13}$  families of the house of Levi by themselves, and the women of them by themselves; families of Shimei by themselves, and the women of them by themselves.
- $^{14}$  All other families, families and families by themselves, and the women of them by themselves.

- <sup>1</sup> In that day an open well shall be to the house of David, and to men dwelling at Jerusalem, into washing away of a sinful man, and of a woman defouled in unclean blood. (On that day there shall be an open well for the house of David, and for those who live in Jerusalem, to wash clean any sinful man, and any woman defiled with unclean blood.)
- <sup>2</sup> And it shall be, in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I shall destroy the names of idols from the land, and they shall no more be thought on; and I shall take away from earth false prophets, and an unclean spirit. (And it shall be, on that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I shall destroy the names of idols from off the land, and they shall no more be thought upon; and I shall take away from the land the false prophets, and the unclean spirits.)
- <sup>3</sup> And it shall be, when any man shall prophesy any more, his father and mother that engendered him, shall say to him, Thou shalt not live, for thou hast spoken leasing in the name of the Lord; and his father and his mother, the engenderers of him, shall prick him, when he hath prophesied. (And it shall be, when any man shall prophesy any more, his father and his mother who begat him, shall say to him, Thou shalt not live, for thou hast spoken lies in the name of the Lord; and his father and his mother, who begat him, shall pierce, or shall stab, him, when he hath prophesied.)

- <sup>4</sup> And it shall be, in that day, prophets shall be ashamed, each of his vision, when he shall prophesy; neither they shall be covered with a mantle of sackcloth, that they lie; (And it shall be, on that day, every prophet shall be ashamed of his vision, when he shall prophesy; nor shall any of them be covered with a mantle of sackcloth, because they lie;)
- <sup>5</sup> but he shall say, I am not a prophet; I am a man an earth-tiller, for Adam is mine ensample from my youth. (but he shall say, I am not a prophet; I am a farmer, and mankind is my example from my youth.)
- <sup>6</sup> And it shall be said to him, What be these wounds in the middle of thine hands? And he shall say, With these I was wounded in the house of them that loved me. (And it shall be said to him, What be these wounds in the midst of thy hands? And he shall say, I was wounded with these in the house of those who loved me.)
- <sup>7</sup> Sword, be thou raised on my shepherd, and on a man cleaving to me, saith the Lord of hosts; smite thou the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered. And I shall turn mine hand to the little (ones). (Sword, be thou raised against my shepherd, and against a man cleaving to me, saith the Lord of hosts; strike thou down the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered. And then I shall turn my hand against the young ones.)

<sup>9</sup> And I shall lead the third part by (the) fire, and I shall burn them, as silver is burnt, and I shall prove them, as gold is proved. He shall call to help my name, and I shall graciously hear him; and I shall say, Thou art my people, and he shall say, Thou art my Lord God. (And I shall lead the third part through the fire, and I shall burn them, like silver is burned, and I shall prove them, like gold is proved. They shall call my name for help, and I shall graciously hear, or I shall graciously answer, them; and I shall say, Thou art my people, and they shall say, Thou art the Lord our God.)

- <sup>1</sup> Lo! days shall come, saith the Lord, and thy spoils shall be parted in the middle of thee. (Behold! days shall come, saith the Lord, and thy prey, (or thy spoils), shall be divided in thy midst.)
- <sup>2</sup> And I shall gather all folks to Jerusalem, into battle; and the city shall be taken, and houses shall be destroyed, and women shall be defouled. And the half part of the city shall go out into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be taken away from the city. (And I shall gather all the nations to Jerusalem, into battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses shall be destroyed, and the women shall be defiled. And half the city shall go out into captivity, but the rest of the people shall not be taken away from the city.)
- <sup>3</sup> And the Lord shall go out, and shall fight against those folks, as he fought in the day of strife. (And the Lord shall go out, and shall fight against those nations, like he fought in the former days of strife.)
- <sup>4</sup> And his feet shall stand in that day on the hill of Olives, which is against Jerusalem at the east. And the hill of Olives shall be parted of the middle part thereof to the east, and to the west, by full great before-breaking; and the half of the hill shall be departed to the north, and the half thereof to the south. (And his feet shall stand that day on the Mount of Olives, which is toward Jerusalem at the east. And the Mount of Olives shall be divided at its middle to the east, and to the west, by a very great breaking, or a very great earthquake; and half of the mountain shall be removed to the north, and half of it to the south.)

<sup>5</sup> And ye shall flee to the valley of mine hills, for the valley of hills shall be joined together till to the next. And ye shall flee, as ye fled from the face of earth-moving in the days of Uzziah, king of Judah; and my Lord God shall come, and all saints with him. (And ye shall flee to the valley of my hills, for this new valley shall reach unto Azal. And ye shall flee, as ye fled from the face of the earthquake in the days of Uzziah, the king of Judah; and the Lord my God shall come, and all the saints with him.)

<sup>6</sup> And it shall be, in that day light shall not be, but cold and frost. (And it shall be, on that day there shall not be any light, but only cold and frost.)

<sup>7</sup> And there shall be one day, which is known to the Lord, not day, neither night, and in the time of eventide light shall be. (And there shall be one day, which is known only to the Lord, which is not day, or night, and there shall be daylight in the evening.)

<sup>8</sup> And it shall be, in that day quick waters shall go out of Jerusalem, the half of them shall go out to the east sea, and the half of them to the last sea; in summer and in winter they shall be. (And it shall be, on that day living, or fresh, water shall go out of Jerusalem, half of it shall go out to the East Sea, that is, the Dead Sea, and half of it shall go out to the West Sea, or the Mediterranean Sea; this shall happen both in summer, and in winter.)

<sup>9</sup> And the Lord shall be king on all earth; in that day there shall be one Lord, and his name shall be one. (And the Lord shall be King over all the earth; and on that day there shall be one Lord, and his name shall be the one name.)

<sup>10</sup> And all earth shall turn again till to desert, from the little hill Rimmon to the south of Jerusalem. And it shall be raised, and shall dwell in his place, from the gate of Benjamin till to the place of the former gate, and till to the gate of the corners, and from the tower of Hananeel till to the pressers of the king. (And all the land shall turn again into desert, from Geba unto Rimmon, and southward. But Jerusalem shall be raised up, and shall remain in its place, from the Benjamin Gate to the place of the former gate, and unto the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Hananeel unto the king's winepresses, or the king's vats.)

 $^{11}$  And they shall dwell therein, and cursedness shall no more be, but Jerusalem shall sit secure. (And they shall live there, and there shall be no more cursedness, but Jerusalem shall be safe and secure.)

on the hand of his neighbour. (On that day great panic sent from the Lord shall be among them, and each person shall take hold of the hand of his neighbour; yea, his hand shall be locked upon the hand of his neighbour.)

<sup>14</sup> But also Judah shall fight against Jerusalem; and the riches of all folks in compass shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and many clothes enough. (And also Judah shall fight against Jerusalem; and the riches of all the nations around shall be gathered together, yea, gold, and silver, and a great deal of clothes.)

<sup>15</sup> And so falling shall be of horse, and (of) mule, and of camel, and of ass, and of all beasts that were in those castles, as this falling. (And a plague shall fall upon every horse, and mule, and camel, and donkey, yea, upon all the beasts that be in their camps, or yea, upon all the beasts that were with those armies.)

<sup>16</sup> And all that shall be residue of all folks, that came against Jerusalem, shall go up from year into year, that they worship the king, Lord of hosts, and hallow the feast of tabernacles. (And all who shall remain of all the nations, that came against Jerusalem, shall go up year after year, in order to worship the King, the Lord of hosts, and to keep, or to celebrate, the Feast of Tabernacles.)

<sup>17</sup> And it shall be, rain shall not be on them that shall not go up of the families of earth to Jerusalem, that they worship the king, Lord of hosts. (And it shall be, that rain shall not fall upon those families of the earth, who shall not go up to Jerusalem to worship the King, the Lord of hosts.)

<sup>18</sup> That and if the family of Egypt shall not go up, and shall not come, neither on them shall be rain; but falling shall be, by which the Lord shall smite all folks, which went not up, for to hallow the feast of tabernacles. (And if any family of Egypt shall not go up, and shall not come, no rain shall fall upon them; but they shall suffer the same dis-ease, or the same disaster, with which the Lord shall strike all the nations, which do not go up to Jerusalem, to celebrate the Feast of Tabernacles.)

<sup>19</sup> This shall be the sin of Egypt, and this the sin of all folks, that ascended not, for to hallow the feast of tabernacles. (This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and this shall be the punishment of all the nations, that did not go up, to celebrate the Feast of Tabernacles, that is, the Festival of Shelters.)

<sup>20</sup> In that day, that that is on the bridle of the horse shall be (inscribed), Holy to the Lord; and cauldrons shall be in the house of the Lord, as vials, or cruets, before the altar. (On that day, what is on the bridle of the horse shall be inscribed, Holy to the Lord; and cauldrons, or pots, shall be in the House of the Lord, like the basins, or the bowls, before the altar.)

<sup>21</sup> And every cauldron in Jerusalem and Judah shall be hallowed to the Lord of hosts. And all men shall come offering, and shall take of those, and shall seethe in those; and a merchant shall no more be in the house of the Lord of hosts in that day. (And every cauldron, or pot, in Jerusalem and Judah shall be dedicated to the Lord of hosts. And everyone shall come to make an offering, and shall take these pots, and shall boil the flesh in them; and from that day forth, no more shall there be any merchants, or any traders, in the House of the Lord of hosts.)

MALACHI

<sup>1</sup> The burden of the word of the Lord to Israel, in the hand of Malachi, the prophet. (The charge, or the heavy burden, of the word of the Lord to Israel, by the prophet Malachi.)

<sup>2</sup> I loved you, saith the Lord, and ye said, In what thing lovedest thou us? Whether Esau was not the brother of Jacob, saith the Lord, and I loved Jacob, (I loved you, saith the Lord, and ye said, How hast thou loved us? or How hast thou shown that thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother, saith the Lord, and I loved Jacob,)

fit only for jackals, or for wild animals.)

<sup>4</sup> That if Idumea saith, We be destroyed, but we shall turn again, and build those things that be destroyed; the Lord of hosts saith these things, These men shall build, and I shall destroy; and they shall be called the terms of wickedness, and a people to whom the Lord is wroth, till into without end. (And when Edom saith, We be destroyed, but we shall return, and rebuild those things that be destroyed; the Lord of hosts saith these things, These people can rebuild, but then I shall destroy it again; and they shall be called the land of wickedness, and a people with whom the Lord is angry forevermore.)

<sup>5</sup> And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The Lord be magnified on the term(s) of Israel. (And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The Lord is great even beyond the borders of Israel.)

<sup>6</sup> The son honoureth the father, and the servant shall dread his lord; therefore if I am (a) father, where is mine honour? and if I am (a) lord, where is my dread? saith the Lord of hosts. A! ye priests, to you that despise my name; and ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name? (The son honoureth the father, and the servant shall fear his lord; so if I am a father, where is my honour? and if I am a lord, where is your fear of me? saith the Lord of hosts. O ye priests! to you who despise my name; and ye say, How have we despised thy name?/The son honoureth the father, and the servant shall revere, or shall respect, his lord; so if I am a father, where is my honour? and if I am a lord, where is your reverence, or your respect, for me? saith the Lord of hosts. O ye priests! to you who despise my name; and ye say, How have we despised thy name?)

<sup>7</sup> Ye offer on mine altar defouled, either unclean, bread, and ye say, Wherein have we defouled thee? In that thing that ye say, The board of the Lord is despised. (Ye offer on my altar defiled, (or unclean), food, and ye say, How have we defiled thee? Because ye say, The table of the Lord can be despised, or The Lord's altar is contemptible, (or it is worthy to be despised).)

<sup>8</sup> If ye offer a blind beast to be sacrificed, whether it is not evil? And if ye offer a crooked and sick beast, whether it is not evil? Offer thou it to thy duke, if it shall please him, either if he shall receive thy face, saith the Lord of hosts. (If ye offer a blind beast to be sacrificed, is that not evil? And if ye offer a lame, or a sick, beast, is that not evil? Offer thou it to thy ruler, and see if it shall please him, or if he shall even receive thee, saith the Lord of hosts.)

- <sup>9</sup> And now beseech ye the cheer of the Lord, that he have mercy on you; for of your hand this thing is done, if in any manner he receive your faces, saith the Lord of hosts. (And now, beseech ye before the Lord's face, that he should have mercy upon you, for this thing is done by your hand, and also if there is any way that he shall receive you, saith the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>10</sup> Who is in you that closeth doors, and burneth (on) mine altar of his own will, either freely? Will is not to me in you, saith the Lord of hosts; and I shall not receive a gift of your hand. (Who is there among you who shall close the Temple doors, and so not allow anything to be burned upon my altar? I take no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hosts; and I shall not receive any gift from your hands.)
- <sup>11</sup> For from the rising of the sun till to the going down, my name is great among heathen men; and in each place a clean offering is sacrificed, and offered to my name; for my name is great among heathen men, saith the Lord of hosts. (For from the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same, my name is great among the heathen, or the Gentiles; and in each place a clean, or a pure, offering is sacrificed, and offered in my name; for my name is great among the heathen, or the Gentiles, saith the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>12</sup> And ye have defouled it in that that ye say, The board of the Lord is defouled, and that that is put above is contemptible, or worthy for to be despised, with [the] fire that devoureth it. (But ye have defiled it because ye say, The table of the Lord, (or the Lord's altar), can be defiled, and that the food that is put upon it is contemptible, (or it is worthy to be despised), by the fire that devoureth it.)
- 13 And ye said, Lo! of travail; and ye have blown it away, saith the Lord of hosts. And ye brought in of ravens a crooked thing, and sick, and brought (it) in (as) a gift; whether I shall receive it of your hand? saith the Lord. (And ye said, Behold! so much trouble! or how wearisome! and ye have blown it all away, saith the Lord of hosts. And then ye have brought in from your robberies a lame thing, or a sick thing, and brought it in as a gift (for me); shall I receive it from your hand? saith the Lord. No!)
- 14 Cursed is the guileful, that hath in his flock a male beast, and he making a vow, offereth a feeble beast to the Lord; for I am a great king, saith the Lord of hosts, and my name is dreadful among folks. (Cursed is the deceiver, who hath in his flock a male beast, yet when making a vow, he offereth a sick or a weak beast to the Lord; for I am a great King, saith the Lord of hosts, and my name is feared among the heathen.)

- <sup>1</sup> And now, A! ye priests, this commandment is to you. (And now, O ye priests! this command, (or this decree), is for you.)
- <sup>2</sup> If ye will (not) hear, and if ye will not put on the heart, that ye give glory to my name, saith the Lord of hosts, I shall send neediness into you, and I shall curse your blessings; and I shall curse them, for ye have not put on the heart. (If ye will not listen to me, and if ye will not put it in your hearts, that ye should give glory to my name, saith the Lord of hosts, I shall send need, or want, into you, and I shall curse your blessings; yea, I shall curse them, for ye have not put it in your hearts.)

- <sup>3</sup> Lo! I shall cast forth to you the arm, and I shall scatter on your face the drit of your solemnities, and it shall take you with it. (Behold! I shall cut off your arms, (that is, I shall punish your children), and I shall rub the dirt, (or the dung), from (the animals that you offer at) your solemn feasts, all over your faces, and then you shall be taken away with it.)
- <sup>4</sup> And ye shall know, that I sent to you this commandment, that my covenant were with Levi, saith the Lord of hosts. (And ye shall know, that I have given you this command, (or that I have issued this decree), so that my covenant with the Levites shall not be broken, saith the Lord of hosts./And ye shall know, that I have given you this command, (or that I have issued this decree), that my covenant with the Levites is not finished, (or it is not over), saith the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>5</sup> My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave to him a dread, and he dreaded me, and he dreaded of the face of my name. (My covenant for life and peace was with them; and I gave them the fear of me, and they did fear me, and they were afraid before my name, or and I gave them reverence, or respect, for me, and they did revere, or respect, me, and they did have reverence, or awe, before my name.)
- <sup>6</sup> The law of truth was in his mouth, and wickedness was not found in his lips; in peace and in equity he walked with me, and he turned away many men from wickedness. (The Law of Truth was in their mouths, and wickedness was not found on their lips; they walked with me in peace and in uprightness, and they turned many people away from wickedness.)
- <sup>7</sup> For the lips of a priest keep knowing, and they shall again-seek the law of his mouth, for he is the angel of the Lord of hosts. (For a priest's lips (should) guard (my gift of) knowledge, and (my) people should seek the Law from his mouth, because he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>8</sup> But ye went away from the way, and caused to stumble full many in the law; ye made void the covenant of Levi, saith the Lord of hosts. (But then ye went away from the way, and have caused a great many people to stumble in the Law; ye priests have made void my covenant with the Levites, saith the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>9</sup> For the which thing and I gave you worthy to be contemptible, either worthy to be despised, and bowed to all peoples, as ye kept not my ways, and took a face [of a person] in the law. (For which thing I made you worthy to be held contemptible, or worthy to be despised, and bowed low before all the people of Israel, for ye have not kept my ways, and took a face of a person in the law, that is, ye have shown partiality.)
- <sup>10</sup> Whether not one father is of all you? whether not one God made of nought you? Why therefore each of you despiseth his brother, and defouleth the covenant of your fathers? (Is there not one Father of us all? did not the one God make all of us out of nothing? And so why do each of you despise his brother, or his kinsman, and defile your forefathers' covenant?)
- <sup>11</sup> Judah trespassed, and abomination is done in Israel, and in Jerusalem; for Judah defouled the hallowing of the Lord, which he loved, and he had the daughter of an alien god. (The people of Judah trespassed, and abomination was done in Israel, and in Jerusalem; for the people of Judah defiled the holiness of the Lord or for the people of Judah defiled the Temple of the Lord, and they married the daughters of a foreign, or of a strange, god.)

- <sup>12</sup> The Lord destroy the man that shall do this thing, the master and disciple, from the tabernacle[s] of Jacob, and him that offereth a gift to the Lord of hosts. (May the Lord destroy any man who shall do this thing, a master or a disciple, yea, let him be thrown out of, or banished from, the tents of Jacob, even though he may offer a gift to the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>13</sup> And again ye did this thing; ye covered with tears the altar of the Lord, with weeping, and wailing; so that I behold no more to (the) sacrifice, neither receive anything (as) pleasant of your hand. (And ye also did this thing; ye covered the altar of the Lord with tears, with weeping, and wailing; and so I shall no more look upon your sacrifice, nor receive anything as pleasing, or acceptable, from your hands.)
- <sup>14</sup> And ye said, For what cause? For the Lord witnessed betwixt thee and the wife of thy puberty, that is, (of the) time of (thy) marriage, whom thou despisedest, and this is thy fellow, and the wife of thy covenant of peace. (And ye said, For what reason? Because the Lord hath witnessed what is between thee and the wife of thy youth, she whom thou hast despised, even though she is thy partner, or thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant of peace, or to whom thou hast pledged thy troth, or hast promised to be faithful.)
- <sup>15</sup> Whether one (he) made not, and the residue of spirit is his? and what seeketh (the) one (God), no but the seed of God? Therefore keep ye your spirit, and do not thou despise the wife of thy youth; (Did not God make two one, both flesh and spirit? and what seeketh he, but a godly seed? And so keep ye watch over your spirit, and do not thou despise the wife of thy youth;)
- <sup>16</sup> when thou hatest her, leave thou her(not), saith the Lord God of Israel. Forsooth wickedness shall cover the cloth of him, saith the Lord of hosts; keep ye your spirit, and do not ye despise. (even if thou hatest her, leave thou her not, saith the Lord God of Israel. Yea, let his cloak cover his wickedness, saith the Lord of hosts; so keep ye watch over your spirit, and do not ye despise her.)
- <sup>17</sup> Ye made the Lord for to travail in your words, and ye said, Wherein made we him for to travail? In that that ye say, Each that doeth evil, is good in the sight of the Lord, and such men please him; either certainly, Where is God of doom? (Ye have travailed, or tired, the Lord with your words, and ye have said, How have we travailed, or tired, him? Because ye say, Everyone who doeth evil, is good in the sight of the Lord, and such people please him; and certainly when ye say, Where is the God of judgement?)

CHAPTER 3

<sup>1</sup> Lo! I shall send mine angel, and he shall make ready the way before my face; and anon the Lord, whom ye seek, shall come to his holy temple, and the angel of the testament, whom ye will. Lo! he cometh, saith the Lord of hosts; (Behold! I shall send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before my face; and at once the Lord, whom ye seek, shall come to his holy Temple, and also the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in. Behold! he cometh, saith the Lord of hosts;)

<sup>2</sup> and who shall be able to think (on) the day of his coming? and who shall stand to see him? For he shall be as fire welling together, and as the herb of fullers, either tuckers; (and then who shall be able to even think, let alone endure, on the day of his coming? and who shall be able to stand firm to see him? For he shall be like a fire welling together, or purging and refining, and like fuller's, or tucker's, soap;)

<sup>3</sup> and he shall sit welling together and cleansing silver, and he shall purge the sons of Levi; and he shall purge them as gold and as silver, and they shall be offering to the Lord sacrifices in rightwiseness. (and he shall sit welling together and cleansing, or purging and refining, silver, and he shall purge the Levites; yea, he shall refine them like gold and silver, and then they shall offer to the Lord sacrifices in righteousness.)

- <sup>4</sup> And the sacrifice of Judah and of Jerusalem shall please the Lord, as the days of the world, and as old years. (And then the sacrifices, or the offerings, of Judah and of Jerusalem shall please the Lord, like in the days of old, and like in the years long ago.)
- <sup>5</sup> And I shall come to you in doom, and I shall be a swift witness to misdoers, either enchanters of devil's craft, and to adulterers, and to forsworn men, and that falsely challenge the hire of an hired man, and widows, and fatherless children, and oppress a pilgrim, and dreaded not me, saith the Lord of hosts. (And I shall come to you in judgement, and I shall be a swift witness against all evil-doers, that is, enchanters of the devil's craft, and adulterers, and perjurers, and those who cheat hired men out of their wages, and do wrong to widows, and fatherless, or motherless, children, and foreigners, yea, those who do not fear me, or those who do not revere or respect me, saith the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>6</sup> Forsooth I am the Lord, and I am not changed; and ye sons of Jacob be not wasted. (Yea, I am the Lord, and I do not change; and so ye sons of Jacob be not completely lost, or separated from me.)
- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth from the days of your fathers ye went away from my lawful things, and kept not; turn ye again to me, and I shall again turn to you, saith the Lord of hosts. And ye said, In what thing shall we turn again? (Though from the days of your forefathers ye went away from my laws, and did not keep them; return ye to me, and I shall return to you, saith the Lord of hosts. And ye said, How can we return (to thee)?/Though from the days of your forefathers ye went away from my laws, and did not keep them; turn ye back to me, and I shall turn back to you, saith the Lord of hosts. And ye said, How do we turn back (to thee)?)
- <sup>8</sup> If a man shall torment God, for ye tormented me. And ye said, In what thing tormented we thee? In tithes and in first fruits; (Shall a man rob God, for ye have robbed me. And ye said, How have we robbed thee? In the matter of tithes and of first fruits;)
- <sup>9</sup> and ye be cursed in neediness, and all ye folk deceived me, and tormented. (and so ye be cursed with need, or with want, yea, your whole nation hath deceived me, and hath robbed me.)
- <sup>10</sup> Bring ye each tithe into my barn, that meat be in mine house, and prove ye me on this thing, saith the Lord, if I shall not open to you the gutters of heaven, and shall shed out to you blessing, till to abundance. (Bring ye each tithe into my barn, so that there be food in my House, and prove ye me on this thing, saith the Lord; see if I shall not open the windows of heaven for you, and pour out blessings upon you, yea, in abundance.)

<sup>11</sup> And I shall blame for you that that devoureth, and he shall not destroy the fruit of your land; neither barren vine shall be in the field, saith the Lord of hosts, (And I shall rebuke the devourers, or I shall forbid the pests, for your sakes, and they shall not destroy the fruit of your land; nor shall there be any barren vines in your fields, saith the Lord of hosts,)

<sup>12</sup> and all folks shall say you blessed; for ye shall be a desirable land, saith the Lord of hosts. (and all the nations shall say that you be blessed; for ye shall have a very desirable land, or for yours shall be a very desirable land, saith the Lord of hosts.)

<sup>13</sup> Your words waxed strong on me, saith the Lord; and ye said, What have we spoken against thee? (Your words have grown strong against me, saith the Lord; and ye said, What have we said against thee?)

<sup>14</sup> And ye said, He is vain, that serveth God; and what winning for we kept his behests, and for we went sorrowful before the Lord of hosts? (Ye have said, It is empty and futile to serve God; and what profit, or what benefit, is there for us, though we have kept his commands, and we have gone sorrowfully before the Lord of hosts, because of our shortcomings?)

<sup>15</sup> Therefore now we say proud men [be] blessed; for they be builded doing wickedness, and they tempted God, and be made safe. (And so now we say that proud people be blessed; for they be built up, or become prosperous, doing wickedness, and they tempted God, and came to no harm.)

- <sup>16</sup>Then men dreading God spake, each with his neighbour; and the Lord perceived, and heard, and a book of mind is written before him, to them that dreaded God, and thought on his name. (Then those who feared God spoke, each with his neighbour; and the Lord perceived, and heard, and a Book of Remembrance was written before him, listing those who feared God, and who kept his name in their thoughts./Then those who revered God spoke, one to another; and the Lord perceived, and heard, and a Book of Remembrance was written before him, listing those who revered God, and who kept his name in their thoughts.)
- <sup>17</sup> And they shall be to me, saith the Lord of hosts, in the day in which I shall make, into a special treasure; and I shall spare them, as a man spareth his son serving to him. (And on that day that I shall make, or And on that day when I shall act, saith the Lord of hosts, they shall be my special treasure; and I shall spare them, like a man spareth his son who serveth him.)
- <sup>18</sup> And ye shall be turned again, and ye shall see, what is betwixt the just man and the unpious, betwixt the (one) serving to the Lord, and (the one) not serving to him. (And ye shall turn, and ye shall see, what shall happen to the righteous, and to the unrighteous, yea, to those who serve the Lord, and to those who do not serve him.)

CHAPTER 4

<sup>1</sup> For lo! a day shall come, burning as a chimney; and all proud men, and all that do unpiety shall be stubble; and the day coming shall enflame them, saith the Lord of hosts, which shall not leave to them root and burgeoning.

(For behold! a day shall come, burning like a chimney; and all who be proud, and all who do unrighteousness, (or wickedness), shall become stubble; and this coming day shall enflame them, (or shall set all of them ablaze), saith the Lord of hosts, and it shall not leave them with any roots, or with any burgeoning.)

<sup>2</sup> And to you dreading my name the sun of rightwiseness shall rise, and health in (the) pens of him; and ye shall go out, and shall leap, as a calf of the drove. (And to those of you who fear my name, or who revere my name, the Sun of righteousness shall rise, with healing in his wings; and ye shall go out, and shall leap, like a calf of the herd.)

<sup>3</sup> And ye shall tread the unpious men, when they shall be ashes under the sole(s) of your feet, in the day in which I do, saith the Lord of hosts. (And ye shall tread upon the unrighteous, or upon the wicked, when they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet, on the day in which I shall do this, saith the Lord of hosts.)

<sup>4</sup> Bethink ye on the law of my servant Moses, which I commanded to him in Horeb, to all Israel commandments and dooms. (Remember ye the Law of my servant Moses, which I commanded to him at Mount Sinai, yea, my ordinances and judgements, or laws, for all the people of Israel.)

<sup>5</sup> Lo! I shall send to you Elijah, the prophet, before that the great day and horrible of the Lord come. (Behold! I shall send you the prophet Elijah, before that the great and terrible day of the Lord shall come.)

<sup>6</sup> And he shall turn again the heart of fathers to sons, and the heart of sons to the fathers of them, lest peradventure I come, and smite the earth with (a) curse. Amen. (And he shall turn the hearts of the fathers toward their sons, and the hearts of the sons toward their fathers, lest perhaps I come, and strike the land with a curse, and destroy it. Amen.)

TOBIT

- <sup>1</sup> Tobit*was of the lineage and of the city of Naphtali, which is in the higher parts of Galilee, above Hazor, behind [or after] the way that leadeth to the west, and it hath in the left side the city of Thisbe,
- <sup>2</sup> when he was taken [or caught] in the days of Shalmaneser, king of Assyrians [or king of Assyria], never-theless he set in captivity, either taken prisoner, forsook not the way of truth,

<sup>3</sup> so that he parted each day all things which he might have, with his captive brethren that were of his kin.

- <sup>4</sup> And when he was younger than all (the) others in the lineage of Naphtali, nevertheless he did no childish thing in work [or in deed].
- <sup>5</sup> Forsooth when all the Jews went to worship the golden calves, which Jeroboam, the king of Israel, had made, this Tobit alone fled the companies of all those Jews;
- <sup>6</sup> and he went to Jerusalem, to the temple of the Lord, and there he worshipped the Lord God of Israel; and he offered faithfully all his first fruits, and his tithes;
- <sup>7</sup>so that in the third year he gave all his tithe to converts, that is, men that were turned to the belief [or the converted from Gentiles], and to comelings (or to newcomers).
- <sup>8</sup> The young man kept (or did) these things, and things like these, by [or after](or according to) the law of (the) God of heaven.
- <sup>9</sup> And when he was made a man, he took a wife, Anna, of his lineage; and he engendered [or he begat] of (or by) her a son, and he put his own name to him;
- <sup>10</sup> whom he taught from young childhood to dread God, and for to abstain from all sin.
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore when by captivity Tobit was come, with his wife and son, into the city of Nineveh, with all his lineage,
- <sup>12</sup> and all ate there of the meats of heathen men [or and all ate of the meats of (the) Gentiles], this Tobit kept his soul, or his conscience, clean, and he was never defouled (or defiled) in (or with) the meats of them, that were forbidden to (the) Jews by Moses' law.
- <sup>13</sup> And for he was mindful of the Lord in all his heart, God gave grace to him in the sight of Shalmaneser, the king;
- $^{14}$  and he gave to Tobit power to go wither ever he would, and he had freedom to do whatever things he would.
- <sup>15</sup> Therefore he went by (or unto) all men that were in (the) captivity, and gave to them the behests of health (or of deliverance).
- <sup>16</sup> And when he was come into Rages, a city of Media, and had ten talents of silver, of these things by [or with] which he was honoured of (or by) the king;
- <sup>17</sup> and (when) he saw Gabael needy, that was of his lineage, with much company of his kin, Tobit gave to him, under an obligation, [or under writing], (or pledge), the foresaid weight of silver.

- 18 And after much time, after that Shalmaneser, the king, was dead, when Sennacherib, his son, reigned for him for when his son Sennacherib reigned for himl, and had the sons of Israel hateful in his sight.
- <sup>19</sup> Tobit went each day by all his kindred, and comforted them, and he parted (some) of his chattel to each man [or divided to each], as he might;
- <sup>20</sup> he fed hungry men, and gave clothes to naked men, and he busily ordained sepulchre(s) to (or for) dead men and (the) slain.
- <sup>21</sup> And when king Sennacherib (re)turned again, fleeing from Judea for the vengeance that God did there to him for his blasphemy, and was wroth, and killed [or slew] many of the sons of Israel, Tobit buried their bodies.
- 22 And after that this was told to the king, he commanded Tobit to be slain, and he took (away) from him all his chattel [or all his substance].
- <sup>23</sup> And Tobit fled with his son and with his wife, and he was hid naked, that is, spoiled, (or bereft), of all his chattel, for many men loved him.

  24 Forsooth after five and forty days, the sons of the king killed [or slew]
- the king:
- 25 and then Tobit (re)turned again to his house, and all his chattel for and all his faculties] was restored to him.

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth after these things, when a feast day of the Lord was, and a good meat (or meal) was made in the house of Tobit, he said to his son.
- <sup>2</sup> Go thou, and bring some men of our lineage, that dread God, (so) that they (can) eat with us.
- <sup>3</sup> And when he, young Tobias, was gone forth, (later) he (re)turned again, and told to his father, that one of the sons of Israel lay strangled in the street; and anon (or at once) Tobit rose up from his sitting place, and left the meat (or the meal), and came fasting to the body;
- <sup>4</sup> and he took it, and bare it to his house privily, for to bury him warily [or slyly], when the sun was gone down.
- <sup>5</sup> And when he had hid the body, he ate bread with mourning and trembling,
- <sup>6</sup> and remembered the word, which the Lord said by Amos, the prophet, Your feast days shall be turned into mourning and lamentation, either wailing, [or into wailing and sorrowing].
  - <sup>7</sup> And when the sun was gone down, Tobit went, and buried him.
- 8 Forsooth all his neighbours blamed him, and said, Now for the cause of this thing thou were commanded to be slain, and scarcely thou hast escaped the behest of death, and again thou buriest dead men?
- <sup>9</sup> But Tobit dreaded more God than the king, and he took away the bodies of slain men, and hid them in his house, and buried those in the middle of (the) nights.
- <sup>10</sup> And it befelled, that in (or on) a day Tobit was made weary of (or from) burying dead bodies; and he came home, and laid himself beside a wall, and slept there;
- 11 and while he slept, hot turds, or drit, fell down from the nest of swallows upon his eyes; and he was made blind.
- 12 And therefore the Lord suffered (or allowed) this temptation to befall to him, (so) that the ensample of his patience should be given to (his) aftercomers, as also it is of holy Job.

- <sup>13</sup> For why when Tobit dreaded God ever[more] from his young childhood, and kept his commandments, he was not sorry, or heavy, or grutching, (or grumbling) against God, for that the sickness of blindness came to him;
- <sup>14</sup> but he dwelled unmoveable in the dread of God, and did thankings to God in all the days of his life.
- <sup>15</sup> For why as kings upbraided saint Job, or blessed Job, so it befelled to this Tobit, that his elders and kinsmen scorned his life, and said,
  - <sup>16</sup> Where is thine hope*, for which thou didest alms-deeds and buryings?

<sup>17</sup> And Tobit blamed them, and said,

- <sup>18</sup> Do not ye speak so, for we be the sons of holy men, and we abide that life, which God shall give to them that change never their faith from him.
- <sup>19</sup> And Anna, his wife, went each day to the work of weaving, and she brought home the livelode (or the livelihood) which she might get of (or from) the travail of her hands.
- <sup>20</sup> Whereof it befell, that she took (or received) a kid of goats, for her weaving, and she brought it home.
- <sup>21</sup> And when her husband had heard the voice of this kid bleating, he said, Look ye, lest peradventure this kid be gotten of (or from) theft [or it be stolen], but if it so be yieldeth it again(or back) to his lords; for it is not leaveful (or lawful), either to eat either to touch anything of theft.
- <sup>22</sup> At these words the wife of Tobit was wroth, and answered, Now is openly thine hope made vain, and thine alms-deeds have appeared, that is, feigned and void, as done for hypocrisy.
- <sup>23</sup> And by these and other such words she said shame [or reproof] to him.

- <sup>1</sup> Then Tobit inwardly sorrowed, and began to pray with tears, and said,
- <sup>2</sup> Lord, thou art just, and all thy dooms be just, and all thy ways be mercy, and truth, and doom.
- <sup>3</sup> And now, Lord, have thou mind of (or on) me, and take thou not vengeance of (or for) my sins, neither have thou mind of (or on) my trespasses [or remember my guilts], neither of my fathers.
- <sup>4</sup> For we obeyed [or obeished] not to thy commandments, and therefore we be taken into rifling [or into wasting], and into captivity, and into death, and into a fable or jangling, and into shame [or into reproof] to all nations, among which thou hast scattered us.
- <sup>5</sup> And now, Lord, thy dooms be great and dreadful; for we have not done after thy commandments, and we have not gone cleanly [or clearly] before thee.
- <sup>6</sup> And now, Lord, by [or after] thy will do thou mercy with me, and command thou my spirit to be received in peace; for it speedeth more to me (or it is more expedient for me) to die than to live.
- <sup>7</sup> And also it befelled in the same day, that Sarah, the daughter of Raguel, was in Rages (or in Ecbatana), a city of Media, and she heard shame [or the reproof] of (or from) one of the handmaids of her father;

* CHAPTER 2:16 These believed the rewarding of good and of evil is only in present life, as the friends of Job did.

- <sup>8</sup> for she was given to seven husbands, and a fiend [or a devil], Asmodeus by name, killed them, anon (or at once) as they had entered [in] to her.
- <sup>9</sup> And when Sarah blamed her maid for her guilt, (or for her sin), the damsel answered to her, and said, Thou slayeress of thine husbands, see we never upon (the) earth son either [or] daughter of thee;
- <sup>10</sup> whether also thou wilt slay me, as also thou hast slain seven men? At this word Sarah went into the higher closet [or into the over bed-place] of her house, and three days and three nights she ate not, neither drank;
- <sup>11</sup> but she continued in prayer with tears, and besought God, that he should deliver her from this shame [or reproof].
- <sup>12</sup> And it was done in (or on) the third day, while she had fulfilled her prayer, (or her praying),
- 13 she blessed the Lord, and said, God of our fathers, thy name is blessed, which when thou hast been wroth, [thou] shalt do mercy, and in time of tribulation thou forgivest sins to them, that inwardly call thee.
- <sup>14</sup> Lord, to thee I turn (al)together my face [or To thee, Lord, I turn my face]; and I lift up mine eyes to thee.
- <sup>15</sup> Lord, I ask of thee, that thou loose me from the bond of this shame, either certainly that thou take me away from above the earth [or certainly from above the earth thou deliver me].
- <sup>16</sup> Lord, thou knowest, that I never coveted (a) man for fleshly lust, and I have kept my soul clean from all covetousness [or from all lust].
- <sup>17</sup> I meddled [or I mingled] me never with players dissolutely and unhonestly, neither I gave myself to be (a) partner with them that go in unstable-ness.
- <sup>18</sup> But, Lord, I consented to take an husband with thy dread, not with my lust.
- <sup>19</sup> And either I was unworthy to them, either they peradventure were not worthy to me; for in hap [or peradventure] thou hast kept me to (or for) another husband.
  - <sup>20</sup> For thy counsel is not in the power of man to know it.
- <sup>21</sup> Forsooth each that worshippeth thee hath this for certain, that if his life is in proving, he shall be crowned, if he continue patiently; soothly if he is in tribulation, he shall be delivered; and if he is in chastising, it shall be leaveful (or lawful) to come to thy mercy.
- <sup>22</sup> For thou delightest not in our losses; for after tempest thou makest peaceable, and after mourning and weeping thou bringest in [or thou pourest in] full out joying.
- $^{23}$  God of Israel, thy name be blessed into worlds, that is, till into without end.
- <sup>24</sup> In that time the prayers of both Tobit and Sarah were heard in (the) sight of the glory of the highest God;
- <sup>25</sup> and Raphael, the holy angel of the Lord, was sent to heal them both, whose prayers were rehearsed in one time (or were spoken at the same time) in the sight of the Lord.

<sup>1</sup> Therefore when Tobit guessed his prayer to be heard, that he might die, he called Tobias, his son, to him, <sup>2</sup> and said to him, My son, hear thou the words of my mouth, and build or ground thou them as a foundament (or as a foundation) in thine heart.

- <sup>3</sup>When God hath taken my soul, bury thou my body; and thou shalt have (or thou shalt give) honour to thy mother in all the days of her life or and in all the days of thy life thou shalt do honour to thy mother;
- <sup>4</sup> for thou owest to be mindful (or thou ought to remember), what perils and how great perils she suffered for thee in her womb.
- <sup>5</sup> And when also she hath [full]-filled or hath ended the time of her life, thou shalt bury her beside me.
- <sup>6</sup> And in all the days of thy life have thou God in mind, and be thou ware [or beware], lest anytime thou consent to sin, and forsake the behests (or the commandments) of our God.
- <sup>7</sup> And of thy own chattel [or thy substance] do thou alms-[deed(s)], and do not thou turn away thy face from any poor man*; and so it shall be done, that the face of the Lord be not turned away from thee.
  - 8 As thou mayest, that is, after thy power, be thou merciful.
- <sup>9</sup> If thou hast much, give thou plenteously [or abundantly]; if thou hast a little, also be thou busy to part willfully, (or willingly), or gladly a little.
- <sup>10</sup> Certainly then thou treasurest to thee a good meed (or a good reward), in the day of need:
- <sup>11</sup> for why alms-[deed (s)] delivereth from all sin and from death, and shall not suffer (or allow) the soul to go into darknesses.
- <sup>12</sup> Alms-[deed(s)] shall be the great trust before the highest God to all men doing it.
- <sup>13</sup> Son, take heed to thyself, and flee from all fornication, and besides thy wife, suffer (or allow) thou never to know (that) sin.
- <sup>14</sup> And suffer (or allow) thou never pride to have lordship in thy wit, neither in thy word; for all loss [or all perdition], either damnation, took beginning in pride.
- 15 Whoever worketh anything to (or for) thee, yield thou anon his meed (that is, give him his reward at once), and utterly the hire of thine hired man, or thy workman, dwell it not with thee.
- <sup>16</sup> That that thou hatest to be done to thee of (or by) another man, see thou, lest anytime thou do that thing to another man. [That of another thou hatest to be done to thee, look thou, that anytime thou do it not to another.]
- $^{17}$  Eat thy bread with hungry men and needy, and with thy clothes cover thou naked men.
- <sup>18</sup> Ordain thy bread and thy wine on the sepulchre, or the burying, of a just [or (a) rightwise] man, and do not thou eat and drink thereof with sinners.
  - <sup>19</sup> Ever[more] seek thou perfectly counsel of (or from) a wise man.
- <sup>20</sup> In all time bless thou God, and ask thou of (or from) him, that he *(ad)*dress, (or he direct), [or make ready] thy ways, and all thy counsels dwell in him.
- <sup>21</sup> Also, my son, I show (or I tell) to thee, that while thou were yet a little child [or a little infant], I gave ten talents of silver to Gabael, in Rages, a city of Media; and I have his obligation [or the writ of it] with me;

* CHAPTER 4:7 If thou mayest not give chattel, give thou will (or a resolve to help), and (a) sign of compassion.

- <sup>22</sup> therefore inquire thou busily, how thou shalt come to him, and receive thou of (or from) him the foresaid weight of silver, and restore to him his obligation for his writl.
- $^{23}$  My son, do not thou dread; for-sooth we lead a poor life, but we shall have many goods (or many good things, or rewards), if we dread God, and go away from all  $\sin^{\dagger}$ , and do well.

- <sup>1</sup>Then Tobias answered to his father and said, Father, I shall do all things, whichever thou commandedest to me [or Whatever thou hast commanded to me, Father, I shall do];
- <sup>2</sup> but I know not, how I shall get this money; Gabael knoweth not me, and I know not him; what token shall I give to him? but neither I knew anytime the way, by which me goeth thither.
- <sup>3</sup> Then his father answered to him, and said, Certainly I have his obligation here with me, which the while thou showest it to him, he shall restore [or he shall yield] anon (or at once) the money.
- <sup>4</sup> But go now, and inquire, [or ensearch, (or search out)] to (or for) thee some faithful man, that shall go with thee for his hire safe, (so) that thou receive that money yet while I live.
- <sup>5</sup> Then Tobias went forth, and he found a shining young man, standing, tucked up [or gird(ed)], and as ready to go;
- <sup>6</sup> and he knew not that it was the angel of God [or an angel of God]. And he greeted the young man, and said, Of whence have we thee, good young man?
- $^7$  And he answered, I am of the sons of Israel. And Tobias said to him, Knowest thou the way, that leadeth into the country of Media?
- <sup>8</sup> To whom he answered, I know it, and I have gone often all the ways thereof, and I have dwelled with Gabael, your cousin or your brother, that dwelleth in Rages, a city of Media, which city is set in Ecbatana.
- <sup>9</sup> To whom Tobias said, I beseech thee, abide thou me here, till I tell these things to my father.
- <sup>10</sup> Then Tobias entered, and told all these things to his father; on the which things his father wondered, and he prayed the young man, that he would enter in to him [or that he should come in to him].
- <sup>11</sup> Then he entered, and greeted, or saluted, Tobit, and said to him, Joy be ever[more] to thee!
- <sup>12</sup> And Tobit said, What manner joy shall be to me, that sit in darknesses, and see not the light of heaven?
- <sup>13</sup> To whom the young man said, Be thou of strong wit; it is in the most nigh time, or full nigh (time), that thou be healed of (or by) God [or full nigh it is that of God thou be cured].
- <sup>14</sup> Then Tobit said to him, Whether thou mayest lead my son to Gabael into Rages, a city of Media, and when thou comest again, I shall restore [or I shall yield] thy meed to thee?
- <sup>15</sup> And the angel said to him, I shall lead him thither, and bring again him to thee or and I shall lead again him whole to thee.

† CHAPTER 4:23 That is, deadly (or mortal) sin, for we may not utterly eschew all (that is) venial in this life.

- <sup>16</sup> To whom Tobit answered, I pray thee, show to me, of what house, either [or] of what lineage thou art?
- $^{17}$  To whom Raphael, the angel, said, Askest thou the kin [or the kindred] of the hired man, either askest thou who is the hired man himself, that shall go with thy son?
- <sup>18</sup> But lest peradventure I make thee doubtful, I am Azariah, that is interpreted, the helper of God, the son of the great Ananias, that is interpreted, the grace of God.
- <sup>19</sup> And Tobit answered, Thou art of great kin; but I ask or (I) pray thee, that thou be not wroth, that I would know thy kin [or thy kindred].
- <sup>20</sup> And the angel said to him, I shall lead forth thy son whole [or sound], and I shall bring again to thee thy son whole [or sound] or I shall lead him again whole [or sound] to thee.
- <sup>21</sup> And Tobit answered, and said, Well go ye, and the Lord be in (or on) your way, and his angel go with you.
- <sup>22</sup> Then when all things were ready, that should be borne in (or on) the way with them, Tobias made farewell to his father and his mother; and both went together or and they walked forth both together.
- <sup>23</sup> And when they were gone forth, his mother began to weep, and to say to Tobit her husband, Thou hast taken the staff*, or the substance, of our eld (age), and hast sent him away from us;
- <sup>24</sup> I would that that money had never been, that thou hast sent him for, or for which thou sentest him;
- $^{25}$  our poverty sufficed to us, (so) that we should have areckoned this thing to be riches to us, or (so) that we should areckon this riches, that we see our son.
- <sup>26</sup> And Tobit said to her, Do not thou weep; our son shall come safe thither, and he shall *(re)*turn again safe to us, and thine eyes shall see him (again).
- <sup>27</sup> Soothly (or Truly) I believe, that the good angel of God goeth with him, and he/that angel shall dispose well all things, that be done about him, so that he (re)turn again with joy to us.
  - <sup>28</sup> At this voice, or word, his mother ceased to weep, and was still.

- <sup>1</sup> And Tobias went forth, and a dog pursued him [and an hound followed him], and he dwelled, or abode, in the first dwelling of his journey beside the flood of Tigris (or by the Tigris River).
- <sup>2</sup> And he went forth to wash his feet; and lo! a great fish went out to devour him.
- <sup>3</sup> Which fish Tobias dreaded, and cried with (a) great (or a loud) voice, and said, Sire, he/this fish assaileth me.
- <sup>4</sup> And the angel said to him, Take the fish by the gill, or by the jaw[or Catch his fin], and draw him to thee. And when he had done this thing, he drew the fish into a dry place, and it began to sprawl, [or to quop, (or to flap)] before his feet.

* CHAPTER 5:23 That is, the sustaining, for children owe to fathers and mothers the service of reverence, and of needful purveyance, if they have need.

- <sup>5</sup> Then the angel said to him, Draw out the entrails of this fish [or Open this fish], and keep to thee (or keep for thyself) his heart and gall and maw; for these things be needful to (or for) medicines profitably.
- <sup>6</sup> And when he had done this thing, he roasted the flesh thereof, and they took (it) with them in (or on) the way; and they salted (the) other things, that should suffice to them in (or on) the way, till they came into Rages, the city of Media.
- <sup>7</sup> Then Tobias asked the angel, and said to him, Azarias, brother, I beseech thee, that thou say to me, what remedy these things shall have, which thou hast commanded to be kept of the fish.
- <sup>8</sup> And the angel answered, and said to him, If thou puttest a little part of his heart upon hot coals, the smoke thereof driveth away all kind of fiends [or devils], either [or] from man either from woman, so that it nigh (or approach) no more to them.
- <sup>9</sup> And the gall is much worthy to anoint eyes, in which is a web [or rime], and they shall be healed [or be whole].
  - <sup>10</sup> And Tobias said to him, Where wilt thou, that we dwell, or abide?
- <sup>11</sup> And the angel answered, and said, (Living) Here is a man, Raguel by name, a nigh man of thy lineage, and he hath a daughter, Sarah by name; but neither he hath (a) male child neither any other female or maid child, except her.
- <sup>12</sup> All his chattel [or all his substance] is due to thee; and it behooveth thee (to) have her to (or for)thy wife.
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore ask thou her of her father (or And so ask thou her father for her); and he shall give her (for) a wife to thee.
- <sup>14</sup> Then Tobias answered, and said, I have heard, that she was given to seven husbands, and all they be dead; but I have heard this also, that a fiend killed them [or a devil slew them].
- <sup>15</sup> And therefore I dreaded, lest per-adventure also these things befall to me; and since I am an only son to my father and mother, I dread to put down to hell their eld or old with dreariness (or I fear to drive them to the grave through great sorrow).
- <sup>16</sup> Then the angel Raphael said to him, Hear thou me, and I shall show to thee, who they be, over whom the fiend [or the devil] hath mastery;
- <sup>17</sup> certainly the fiend hath power over them, that take so their weddings [or (their) wedlock], that they close out God from them, and from their mind; the fiend [or the devil] hath power over them, that give so (much) attention to their lechery [or to their lusts], as an horse and a mule do, that have none understanding.
- <sup>18</sup> But when thou hast taken her to (or as thy) wife, enter into thy bedplace, and by three days be thou continent from her, or be thou chaste abstaining thee from her in all fleshly lust, and to none other thing thou shalt give attention (to) with her, but only to prayers.
- <sup>19</sup> Forsooth in that first night, when the maw of the fish is burnt, the fiend [or the devil] shall be driven away.
- <sup>20</sup> And in the second night, thou shalt be received [or admitted] in(to) the coupling, or (the) marriage (covenant), of (the) holy patriarchs.
- $^{21}$  And in the third night, thou shalt get blessing, that whole (or healthy) sons be engendered of (or by) you.

 $^{22}$  But when the third night is passed, (then) thou shalt take the virgin [or the maiden] with the dread of the Lord, and thou shalt be led more by the love of begetting of children than by lust, (so) that in the seed of Abraham thou get blessing in sons.

CHAPTER 7

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth they entered [or went in] to Raguel; and Raguel received them with joy.
- <sup>2</sup> And Raguel beheld Tobias, and said to Edna, his wife, This young man is full like (or very like) my sister's son [or How like is this young man to our aunt's son].
- <sup>3</sup> And when he had said these things, he said, Of whence be ye, young men, our brethren? And they said, We be of the lineage of Naphtali, of the captivity of Nineveh.

<sup>4</sup> And Raguel said to them, Know ye Tobit, my brother? And they answered, We know him.

- <sup>5</sup> And when he spake many good things of (or about) Tobit, the angel said to Raguel, Tobit, of whom thou askest, is the father of this man (Tobias).
- $^{\rm 6}\,\rm Then$  Raguel bowed down himself, and with tears he kissed Tobias, and he wept on his neck,
- <sup>7</sup> and said, My son, blessing be to thee; for thou art the son of a good and a full noble man.
  - <sup>8</sup> And Edna, his wife, and Sarah, their daughter, wept.
- <sup>9</sup> And after that they had spoken thus, Raguel commanded a wether (or a ram) to be slain, and a feast to be made ready. And when Raguel moved them to sit down to meat (or for the meal),
- <sup>10</sup> Tobias said, I shall not eat, neither drink here today, no but thou confirm first mine asking, and [thou] promise to give to me Sarah, thy daughter to (or for my) wife.
- <sup>11</sup> And when this word was heard, Raguel dreaded, witting (or knowing) what befelled to those seven men; and he began to dread, lest peradventure it should befall in like manner to this Tobias, [and he die]. And when he doubted, or mused in this manner, and gave none answer to the asker.
- <sup>12</sup> the angel said to him, Do not thou dread to give her to this man; for thy daughter oweth (or ought) to be given to this man dreading God (or who feareth the Lord); therefore another man might not have her.
- <sup>13</sup> Then Raguel said, I doubt not, that God hath received my prayers and my tears in his sight.
- <sup>14</sup> And I believe, that therefore the Lord made you to come to me, that also this woman should be joined to her kindred by, [or after], (or according to) the law of Moses; and now, Tobias, do not thou bear any doubt, that I shall give her to thee.
- <sup>15</sup> And he took the right hand of his daughter, and gave (it) to the right hand of Tobias, and said, God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob, be with you, and he join you together, and he [full]-fill his blessing in you.
- <sup>16</sup> And they took a charter, and they made together a writing of witnessing of the marriage [or the wedlock].
  - <sup>17</sup> And after these things they [plenteously] ate, and blessed God.

- <sup>18</sup> And Raguel called to him(self) Edna, his wife, and commanded [to] her to make ready another bed-(place).
- <sup>19</sup> And she led Sarah, her daughter, in to it, and Sarah wept; and Edna said to her, My daughter, be thou of strong wit; the Lord of heaven give to thee joy, for the annoy(ance), (or all the harm), that thou hast suffered.

- $^{1}$  And after that they had supped, they brought the young man Tobias in to her.
- <sup>2</sup> And Tobias bethought him (self) of (or on) the words of (Raphael) the angel, and brought forth, or he drew out of (or from) his scrip [or his bag] a part of the maw of the fish, and he putted it upon (the) quick (or the live) coals.
- <sup>3</sup> And then Raphael, the angel, took the fiend [or the devil], and bound him fast(or securely) in the desert of higher Egypt.
- <sup>4</sup> Then Tobias admonished the virgin [or the maiden], and said to her, Sarah, rise up, and pray we (to) God today, and tomorrow, and the second morrow or and after tomorrow; for in these three nights we be joined to God; and when the third night is passed, we shall be in our marriage [or wedlock];
- <sup>5</sup> for we be the children of holy men, and we may not, or we be not able to be joined or coupled together as (the) heathen men [or as (the) Gentiles]be, that know not God.
- <sup>6</sup> Soothly they rose up together, and they both prayed together busily, that health (or deliverance) should be given to them.
- <sup>7</sup> And Tobias said, Lord God of our fathers, (the) heavens, and all lands or earths, and the sea, and wells, and floods (or rivers), and each creature of thine, that is in those, bless thee;
- <sup>8</sup> thou madest Adam (out) of the slime of [the] earth, and thou gavest to him an help (or a helper), Eve.
- <sup>9</sup> And now, Lord, thou knowest, that I take my sister to (or for my) wife, not for cause [or because] of lechery, but for love alone of heirs, or of begetting [or of bringing forth] of children, in which thy name be blessed into worlds of worlds.
- <sup>10</sup> And then Sarah said, Lord, have thou mercy on us, have thou mercy on us, and wax we both eld together whole in body and soul.
- <sup>11</sup> And it was done about the cock's crowing or the crowing of the cock's, Raguel made [or commanded] his servants to be called, and they went with him to dig a grave.
- <sup>12</sup> For he dreaded, lest it had befallen in like manner to Tobias, that befelled also to the other seven men, that entered into wedlock to (or with) Sarah before.
- <sup>13</sup> And when they had made ready a pit, Raguel went again to his wife, and said to her,
- <sup>14</sup> Send one of thine handmaids, and see she, whether Tobias is dead, (so) that I (can) bury him, before that (the) light of day come.
- <sup>15</sup> And she sent one of her hand-maids, which entered into the closet, [or into the bed-place]or (the) bed chamber, and found them safe and sound, sleeping together by them-selves (or with each other).
- <sup>16</sup> And she *(re)*turned again, and told (a) good message. And they blessed the Lord, that is, Raguel and Edna, his wife,

- <sup>17</sup> and said, Lord God of Israel, we bless thee, for it hath not befallen to us, as we (had) guessed;
- $^{18}$  for thou hast done thy mercy with us, and hast shut out from us the enemy pursuing us.
- <sup>19</sup> Soothly thou hast done mercy with (those) two alone. My Lord, make thou them to bless thee fullier [or more fully], and for to offer to thee the sacrifice of thy praising, and of their health (or their deliverance), (so) that the university, or the multitude, of folks know, that thou art God alone in all (the) earth.
- <sup>20</sup> And anon (or at once) Raguel commanded his servants to fill (in) the pit, which they had made, before that (the) light of day came [or before that it waxed light].
- <sup>21</sup> And Raguel said to his wife, that she should array a feast, and make ready all things, that were needful to men making journey [or were necessary to (or for) way-goers].
- $^{22}$  Also he made to be slain two fat kine, and four weathers (or four rams), and [plenteous] meats to be made ready to (or for) all his neighbours, and to (or for) all his friends.
- <sup>23</sup> And Raguel made Tobias to swear, or to promise him, that he should abide with him (for) two weeks.
- <sup>24</sup> And (of) all (the) things, that Raguel had in possession, he gave the half part to Tobias; and he made this scripture (or a written obligation), that the half part, that was left of his chattel, should come to the lordship of Tobias after the death of him and his wife.

- <sup>1</sup> Then Tobias called to him(self) the angel (Raphael), whom soothly he guessed (to be) a man. And Tobias said to him, Azarias, brother, I ask of thee, that thou harken (to) my words.
- <sup>2</sup> If I shall betake or Though I betake myself (as)[a] servant to thee, yet I shall not by my cunning, (or by my knowing, or my knowledge), be even worthy to thy purveyance, or wisdom.
- <sup>3</sup> Nevertheless I beseech thee, that thou take to (or with) thee (some) beasts, either (or and some) servants, and go thou to Gabael into Rages, a city of Media, and yield or betake thou to him his obligation [or his writ]; and take [or receive] of (or from) him the money that he oweth to my father, and pray him to come to my weddings [or my bridals].
- <sup>4</sup> For thou knowest, that my father numbereth the days of our journey, and if I [shall] tarry one day more, his soul [or his life] shall be made sorry.
- <sup>5</sup> And certainly thou seest, how Raguel hath charged me to dwell here with him, whose charging I may not despise.
- <sup>6</sup> Then Raphael took four of the servants of Raguel, and two camels, and went into Rages, a city of Media, and he found Gabael, and gave to him his obligation [or his writ], and received of (or from) him all the money;
- <sup>7</sup> and he showed (or told) to him of (or about) Tobias, the son of Tobit, and all (the) things that were done. And he made Gabael to come with him to the weddings [or to the bridals].
- <sup>8</sup> And when Gabael entered into the house of Raguel, he found Tobias sitting at the meat (or the meal); and Tobias rose up anon (or at once), and they kissed themselves together (or and they greeted each other).

- <sup>9</sup> And Gabael wept, and blessed God, and said, The Lord God of Israel bless thee, for thou art the son of a full good man, and just [or rightwise], and dreading God, and doing alms-deeds;
- <sup>10</sup> and the blessing of God be brought or come upon thy wife, and upon your fathers and mothers,
- <sup>11</sup> and see ye your sons, and the sons of your sons, till into [or unto] the third and the fourth generation; and your seed be blessed of (or by the) God of Israel, that reigneth into worlds of worlds, or without end, (or forever).
- <sup>12</sup> And when all men had said Amen, they went to the feast or to (the) meat (or to the meal); and they used the feast of those weddings [or (the) bridals] with the dread of the Lord.

- <sup>1</sup> Soothly when Tobias made tarry-ing for cause of his weddings [or by reason of the bridals], Tobit his father was heavied, or anguished, and he said to his wife, Why guessest thou, that my son tarrieth thus, either why he is withholden there? or he is held there thus long?
- <sup>2</sup> Guesseth thou, whether Gabael is dead, and no man yieldeth to him the money?
- <sup>3</sup> Forsooth he began to be sorry full much, and Anna, his wife, with him; and both began to weep together, for that their son *(re)*turned not home again to them in (or on) the day set.
- <sup>4</sup>Then his mother wept with tears without remedy [or with unremediable tears], and said, Alas to me! my son, why sent we thee to go (on) a pilgrimage, thou (who) art the light of our eyes, the staff* of our eld (age), the solace of our life, and the hope of our heirs, or after-comers?
- <sup>5</sup> We had all things together in thee alone, and we ought not to have let thee go (away) from us [or we should not (have) let thee go from us].
- <sup>6</sup> To whom Tobit said, Be still, and do not thou be troubled [or disturbed]; our son is whole and safe; for that man is faithful enough, with whom we sent him forth.
- <sup>7</sup> But his mother might not be comforted in any manner, but each day she went out, and looked about after (or for) him, and compassed all the ways, by which the hope of his again-coming (or his coming again) seemed to her, to see him coming (from) afar, if it might be done.
- <sup>8</sup> And soothly Raguel said to (Tobias), the husband of his daughter [or his son-in-law], Dwell thou here, or Abide thou here with me, and I shall send a messenger to tell of thine health to Tobit, thy father.
- <sup>9</sup> To whom Tobias said, I know, that my father and my mother reckon now [or count] the days of mine absence from them, and their spirit is tormented in them.
- <sup>10</sup> And when Raguel had prayed Tobias with many words, and he would not hear Raguel, or consent to him by, or for, any reason, Raguel betook to him Sarah, and half the part of all his chattel, or of all his good(s)[or he took to him Sarah, and the half part of all his substance], in servants, and damsels or handmaidens, in sheep and camels, and in kine, and in much money; and he delivered from himself Tobias safe and joying, and said, * CHAPTER 10:4 For as a sick man is sustained by a staff, so father and mother in eld (age) owe (or ought) to be sustained of (or by) sons.

- <sup>11</sup> The holy angel of the Lord be in your way, and bring you sound home, [or and full bring you sound], (or The holy angel of the Lord be with you on your way, and bring you home safe and sound), and find ye all things rightfully [or right] about your father and your mother,
- <sup>12</sup> and mine eyes see your sons, before that I die. And (then) the father and mother took their daughter, and kissed her, and let her go forth with Tobias her husband.
- <sup>13</sup> and admonished her to honour the father and mother of her husband [or her father- and mother-in-law], and to love her husband, and to rule well her meine (or household), and to govern wisely her house, and to show herself unreprovable (or beyond reproach).

- <sup>1</sup> And when they *(re)*turned again, they came to Haran, which is in the middle of the way against (or towards) Nineveh, in (or on) the eleventh day (of their journey) from departing from the house of Raguel.
- <sup>2</sup> And (Raphael) the angel said, Tobias, brother, thou knowest, how [or (in) what manner] thou leftest thy father.
- <sup>3</sup> Therefore if it pleaseth thee, go we before; and the meine (or the household), with thy wife, together with the beasts, pursue [or follow] they our way with soft(er) going.
- <sup>4</sup> And when this thing pleased Tobias, that they should go before, Raphael said to Tobias, Take with thee of the gall of the fish, for it shall be needful. Then Tobias took with him of that gall, and they went forth.
- <sup>5</sup> And Anna sat beside the way each day in the cop (or on the top) of the hill, from whence she might behold from afar.
- <sup>6</sup> And while she beheld from the same place the coming of him, she saw (him) afar, and she knew anon (or at once that) her son (was) coming; and she ran home, and told to her husband, and said, Lo! thy son cometh.
- <sup>7</sup> And Raphael said to Tobias, When thou hast entered into thine house, anon (or at once) worship thou the Lord thy God, and do thou thankings to him, and then nigh (or approach) to thy father, and kiss him.
- <sup>8</sup> And anon (or at once) anoint on his eyes of (or with) this gall of the fish, which thou barest with thee; for why know thou, that anon (or at once) his eyes shall be opened, and thy father shall see the light of heaven, and he shall be joyful in (or at) thy sight.
- <sup>9</sup>Then the dog [or the hound] ran (ahead) before (them), that was together in the way (or that was with them on the way), and he made joy with the fanning of his tail to old Tobit and his wife, as a messenger coming and bringing good tidings.
- <sup>10</sup> And his blind father rose up, and began to run, stumbling with his feet, and when he had given his hand to a child (or to a servant)to lead him, he ran against (or towards) his son.
- <sup>11</sup> And Tobit, with his wife, received their son, and kissed him, and both began to weep for joy.
- <sup>12</sup> And when they had worshipped God, and had done thankings to him, they sat down together.
- <sup>13</sup> And then Tobias took of the gall of the fish, and anointed the eyes of his father.

- <sup>14</sup> And he (Tobit) abode the working of that medicine almost half an hour, and then the web, [or the rime], as the little skin of an egg, began to go out of his eyes.
- $^{15}$  Which web Tobit took, and drew it from his eyes, and anon (or at once) he received his sight.
- <sup>16</sup> And they glorified God, that is, Tobit, and his wife, and all that knew him.
- <sup>17</sup> And Tobit said, Lord God of Israel, I bless thee, for thou hast chastised me, and thou hast saved me; and lo! now I see Tobias, my son.
- <sup>18</sup> Then also Sarah, the wife of his son, entered after seven days, and all the meine (or all the household), and the beasts whole, and (the) camels, and much money of (or with) the wife, but also the money which he had received of Gabael (or and also the money which Tobias had received from Gabael).
- <sup>19</sup> And he told to his father and mother all the benefices, [or benefits], or all the goodnesses of God, which he had done about him by the man, that had led him in (or on) the way.
- $^{20}$  And Achior and Nadab, the nigh cousins of Tobit, came to Tobit, and were joyful with him, and they thanked God with him of (or for) all the good-nesses that God had showed about him.
- $^{21}$  And by (or for) seven days they ate, and joyed [or gladded] with great joy.

- <sup>1</sup> Then Tobit called to him his son (Tobias), and said to him, What may we give to this holy man, that came with thee?
- <sup>2</sup> And Tobias answered, and said to his father, Father, what meed (or what reward) shall we give to him, either what thing may be worthy to (or for) his benefices, [or his benefits], or his goodnesses?
- <sup>3</sup> He led me forth, and he hath brought me again whole; and he received of (or from) Gabael the money that he owed to thee; and he made me to have a wife, and he drove away the fiend [or the devil] from her; he made joy to (or for) her father and mother; he delivered me from the devouring of a fish; and he made thee to see the light of heaven; and we be full-filled with all goods by him; what thing worthy to these things may we give to him?
- <sup>4</sup> But, father, I ask thee, that is, I beseech thee, that thou pray him, if peradventure he shall vouchsafe to take to (or for) himself the half part of all (the) things, whatever things be brought hither.
- <sup>5</sup> And the father and the son called him, (that is, Raphael the angel), and took him asides half, and they began to pray him, that he would vouchsafe to have acceptable the half part of all (the) things, which they had brought thither.
- <sup>6</sup> Then Raphael said to them privily, Bless ye God of heaven, and acknowledge ye to him before all men living, [or before all things living], (or before all those who live), for he hath done his mercy with you.
- <sup>7</sup> For it is good to hide the private (or the secret) of an earthly king; but it is worshipful to show and acknowledge the works of God.
- <sup>8</sup> Prayer is good with fasting, and with alms-[deed(s)], more than to hide treasures of gold;

- <sup>9</sup> for why alms-[deed(s)] delivereth from death, and those alms-(deeds) it is that purgeth sins, and maketh man to find everlasting life.
- <sup>10</sup> Forsooth they that do sin and wickedness, be enemies of their (own) soul.
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore I (shall) show (or I shall tell)[the] truth to you, and I shall not hide from you a privy word.
- <sup>12</sup> When thou, Tobit, prayedest with tears, and buriedest dead men [or and thou buriedest the dead], and leftest thy meat (or thy meal), and hidest those dead men by day in thine house, and buriedest them in the night, I offered thy prayers* to the Lord.
- <sup>13</sup> And for thou were acceptable to, [or accepted (by)] the Lord, it was need-ful that temptation should prove thee.
- <sup>14</sup> And now (or And so) the Lord sent me for to cure [or to heal] thee, and to deliver Sarah, the wife of thy son, from the fiend [or the devil].

<sup>15</sup> For I am Raphael, the angel, one of the seven that be present [or that stand] before the Lord.

- <sup>16</sup> And when they had heard this, they were disturbed, or troubled, that is, they wondered and were astonish-ed, and they fell down trembling upon their face(s).
  - <sup>17</sup> And the angel said to them, Peace be to you, do not ye dread;
- <sup>18</sup> for when I was with you, I was (there) by God's will. Therefore bless ye him, and sing ye to him.
- <sup>19</sup> Certainly I seemed to eat and to drink with you; but I use invisible meat, and drink that may not be seen of (or by) men.
- <sup>20</sup> Therefore it is time, that I (re)turn again to him, that sent me; but bless ye God, and tell ye out all his marvels; bless ye him, and sing ye to him.
- <sup>21</sup> And when he had said these things, he was taken away [or borne away] from their sight; and they might no more see him.
- <sup>22</sup> Then they felled down upon their face(s) the space of three hours, and they blessed God; and (then) they rising up, told (out) all his marvels (to everyone).

CHAPTER 13

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth the elder Tobit opened his mouth, and blessed God, and said, Lord, thou art great without end, and thy realm is into all worlds (or forever);
- <sup>2</sup> for thou beatest [or thou scourgest], and makest safe; thou leadest down to hells (or to the grave), and leadest (up) again; for none is that escapeth thine hand.

<sup>3</sup> Sons of Israel, acknowledge ye to the Lord, and praise ye him in the sight of heathen men [or (the) Gentiles];

- <sup>4</sup> for therefore he scattered you among (the) heathen men, that know not God, (so) that ye tell out his marvels, and make them to know, that none other God is almighty besides him or that there is none other God Almighty except him.
- <sup>5</sup> He hath chastised us for our wickednesses; and he shall save us for his mercy.

* CHAPTER 12:12 For angels offer to God the prayers of just men; they be spirits of service sent into service, for them that take the heritage of health (or who receive the inheritance of deliverance); to (or see the Book of) Hebrews, in the first Chapter.

- <sup>6</sup> Therefore behold ye, what things he hath done with you, and acknowledge ye to him with dread and trembling; and enhance ye (or exalt ye) the King of worlds in your works.
- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth I in the land of my captivity shall acknowledge to him; for he hath showed his majesty upon, [or into], (or unto) a sinful folk.
- <sup>8</sup> Therefore, ye sinners, be ye converted, that is, be ye altogether in heart, and word, and deed, turned from your sin, and do ye rightfulness [or rightwiseness] before God, and then believe ye, that he shall do his mercy with you.
  - <sup>9</sup> Soothly I and my soul shall be glad in him.
- $^{10}$  All (the) chosen of the Lord, bless ye him; make ye the days of gladness, and acknowledge ye to him.
- $^{11}$  Jerusalem, the city of God, the Lord hath chastised $^*$  thee for the works of thine hands.
- <sup>12</sup> Acknowledge thou to God in thy goods (or for thy good things), and bless thou God of worlds, that is, without ending, (so) that he build again in thee his tabernacle, and again-call to thee all thy prisoners [or call again to thee all thy captives]; and (so) that thou have joy into all worlds of worlds (or forever).
- $^{13}$  Thou shalt shine with bright light, and all the coasts of the earth shall worship [or honour] thee.
- <sup>14</sup> Nations, that is, many men from diverse countries, shall come from [a] far to thee, and they shall bring gifts to thee, and shall worship the Lord in thee, and they shall have thy land into hallowing;
- <sup>15</sup> for they shall call in thee the great name./and in thee, Jerusalem, they shall inwardly call the great name of the Lord.
- $^{16}$  And they shall be cursed, that despise thee, and they shall be damned or condemned, that blaspheme thee; and they shall be blessed, that build [up] thee.
- $^{17}$  Forsooth, Jerusalem, thou shalt be glad in thy sons, for all they shall be blessed [or for all shall be blessed], and they shall be gathered together to the Lord.
  - $^{18}$  Blessed be all that love thee, and that have joy upon thy peace.
- <sup>19</sup> My soul, bless thou the Lord, for the Lord our God hath delivered Jeru-salem, his city, from all tribulations thereof.
- $^{20}$  I shall be blessed, if the relics (or the remnants), or the after-comers of my seed shall be abiding to see the clearness, [or the clarity], (or the glory) of Jerusalem.
- <sup>21</sup> The gates of Jerusalem shall be builded of sapphire, and of smaragdus (or of emerald), and of precious stone(s); all the compass of the walls thereof shall be of white and clean stone.
- <sup>22</sup> And all the streets thereof shall be strewed; and alleluia, that is, the praising of God, shall be sung through(out) the streets thereof.
- <sup>23</sup> Blessed be the Lord, that hath enhanced (or hath exalted) it, (so) that his realm be upon it into worlds of worlds (or forever). Amen.

* CHAPTER 13:11 That is, shall chastise (thee), for it was not (yet) destroyed in the time of Tobit.

- <sup>1</sup> And thus the words of Tobit were ended; and after that he was lightened of his blindness[or after that he is lighted to see], he lived two and forty years, and saw the sons of his son's sons.
- <sup>2</sup> And when an hundred years and twain were filled, he was buried worshipfully (or honourably) in Nineveh.
- <sup>3</sup>Soothly when Tobit was of six and fifty years he lost the light of his eyes; and when he was sixty years (of) age he received his sight again.
- <sup>4</sup> Forsooth the residue of his life was in joy, and he went [or passed] in peace with (a) good increasing of God's dread.
- <sup>5</sup> And in the hour of his death, he called to him(self) Tobias, his son, and (the) seven young sons of him, his son's sons, and said to them,
- <sup>6</sup> The perishing, or (the) destruction, of Nineveh shall be nigh, for the word of God shall not fall away void; and your brethren, that be scattered from the land of Israel, shall *(re)*turn again to it.
- <sup>7</sup> And all (the) desert land of it shall be full-filled, and the house of God, which is burnt therein, shall be builded again, and all that dread God shall (re)turn again thither.
- <sup>8</sup> And heathen men shall forsake their idols, and they shall come to Jerusalem, and shall inhabit it or and they shall dwell therein.
- <sup>9</sup> And all the kings of (the) earth shall have joy therein, and they shall worship [or honour] the King of Israel.
- <sup>10</sup> Therefore, my sons, hear ye your father; serve ye the Lord in dread and in truth; and inquire ye [or inwardly seeketh] to do those things that be pleasant to him.
- $^{1\hat{1}}$  And command ye your sons to do rightwisenesses and alms-deeds; and that they be mindful of God, and bless God in all time, in truth, and in all their virtue or power.
- <sup>12</sup> Now therefore, my sons, hear ye me, and do not ye dwell here in Nineveh, but in whatever day ye have buried your mother beside me in a sepulchre, from that day *(ad)*dress (or direct) ye your steps, (so) that ye go out from hence;
- <sup>13</sup> soothly I see that the wickedness of Nineveh shall bring destruction thereto.
- <sup>14</sup> And it was done after the death of his mother, Tobias went away from Nineveh, with his wife, and his sons, and with the sons of his sons, and he (re) turned again to the father and mother of his wife.
- <sup>15</sup> And he found them sound in good eld (age). And he did the care of them, and he closed their eyes; and after that he took all the heritage (or all the inheritance) of the house of Raguel, and Tobias saw the fifth generation, the sons of his sons.
- <sup>16</sup> And when ninety years and nine were fulfilled in the dread of the Lord, they buried him with joy.
- <sup>17</sup> Forsooth all his kindred, and all his generation, dwelled perfectly in good life, and in holy conversation, so that they were acceptable both to God and to men, and to all that dwelled in (the) earth (or in the land).

JUDITH

<sup>1</sup> And so Arphaxad, king of Medes, had made subject many folks to his empire; and he builded a full mighty city, which he called Ecbatana.

- <sup>2</sup>Of square stones and carved [or hewn] he made the walls thereof, in the height of threescore cubits and ten [or seventy cubits], and in the breadth of thirty cubits. And he set the towers thereof in the height of an hundred cubits.
- <sup>3</sup> And by the squareness of the towers ever either side was stretched forth, by [or in] the space of twenty feet; and he set the gates of that city in (or to) the height of those towers.

<sup>4</sup> And he had glory, as a mighty man in the power of his host, and in the glory of his chariots [or his four-horsed carts].

- <sup>5</sup> Therefore Nebuchadnezzar, king of Assyrians, that reigned in the great city Nineveh, in the twelfth year of his realm he fought against Arphaxad, and he got, or took, Arphaxad in a great field,
- <sup>6</sup> that was called Ragau, beside the flood (s), (or the rivers), of Euphrates, and Tigris, and Hydaspes, in the field of Arioch, the king of Elamites.
- <sup>7</sup> Then the realm of Nebuchadnezzar was enhanced (or exalted), and his heart was raised (up)into pride; and he sent to all men, that dwelled in Cilicia, and in Damascus, and in Lebanon,

<sup>8</sup> and to (the) folks, that were in Carmel, and in Gilead, and to men dwelling in Galilee, and in the great field of Esdraelon,

- <sup>9</sup> and to all men [or to all], that were in Samaria, and beyond the flood (or the river) of Jordan, unto Jerusalem; and to all the land of Goshen, till that men come to the hills of Ethiopia.
  - <sup>10</sup> To all these men, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Assyrians, sent messengers;
- <sup>11</sup> and all these (men) against-said with one will, and they sent (back) again his messengers void, and they casted them away without honour.
- <sup>12</sup> Then Nebuchadnezzar was wroth to all that land, and he swore by his realm and by his throne, that he would defend him(self) from all these countries [or regions], that is, (that he would) assail all those countries.

- <sup>1</sup> In the thirteenth year of king Nebuchadnezzar, in the two and twentieth day of the first month, a word was made [or is done] in the house of Nebuchadnezzar, king of (the) Assyrians, that he would defend him(self)from his enemies.
- <sup>2</sup> And he called to him(self) all his elder men, and all the dukes, (and) his warriors [or his fighters]; and had with them the private of his counsel (or his secret counsel).
- <sup>3</sup> And he said, that his thought and intent was set in that thing, to make subject each land to his empire.
- <sup>4</sup> And when this saying had pleased all (his) men, king Nebuchadnezzar called Holofernes, the prince of his chivalry, and said to him,
- <sup>5</sup> Go thou out against each realm of the west, and against them principally (or specifically), that despised my commandment [or mine empire].

- <sup>6</sup> Thine eye shall not spare any realm, and thou shalt make subject to me each strengthened (or fortified) city.
- <sup>7</sup> Then Holofernes called the dukes and (the) magistrates of the power of (the) Assyrians, and he numbered men into the making ready, [or the speeding, (or expediting)], of (the) battle, as the king commanded to him, sixscore thousand of footmen fighters, and twelve thousand horsemen and archers.
- <sup>8</sup> And he made all his purveyance to go before him in multitude of unnumberable camels, with those things that sufficed plenteously to his hosts, and he sent droves of oxen, and flocks of sheep, of which (there) was none number.
- <sup>9</sup> He ordained wheat to be made ready of (or from) all Syria in his passage.
- <sup>10</sup> And he took with him much gold and silver of (or from) the king's house.
- <sup>11</sup> And Holofernes, and all his host, went forth with chariots [or four-horsed carts], and horsemen, and archers, which covered the face of the earth, as locusts.
- <sup>12</sup> And when he had passed the ends [or the coasts] of (the) Assyrians, he came to the great hills called Auge, that be at the left half [or side] of Cilicia; and he went up into all the castles (or the villages) of them, and he got [or wielded] each strong place there.
- <sup>13</sup> And he brake and destroyed the most strong city called Bectileth, and he robbed all the sons of Rassis, and the sons of Ishmael, that were against (or towards) the face of (the) desert, and at the south coast of the land of (the) Cheleans.
- <sup>14</sup> And he passed over Eu-phrates, and came into Mesopotamia, and he brake, and wasted, all the high cities that were there, from the strand [or the stream] of Abron till that men come to the sea.
- <sup>15</sup> And he occupied the ends or the coasts thereof from Cilicia unto the ends of Japheth, that be at the south.
- <sup>16</sup> And he brought with him all the sons of Midian (or the Midianites), and he took from them all their riches; and he killed [or he slew] by the sharpness of sword all men against-standing him.
- <sup>17</sup> And after these things he came down into the fields of Damascus, in the days of ripe corn [or of reap(ing)], that is, in harvest, and he burnt all those corns [or all the sown things], and he made all the trees and vines to be cut down;

<sup>18</sup> and his dread [or the dread of him] fell upon all men inhabiting the land or dwelling upon (the) earth [or in the land].

- <sup>1</sup> Then the kings and princes of all (the) cities and provinces, that is, of Syria, of Mesopotamia, and Celosyria (or Greater Syria), and of Lebanon, and of Cilicia, sent their messengers, [or their legates], (or their ambassadors). And when they came to Holofernes, they said,
- <sup>2</sup> Thine indignation cease about us; for it is better, that we live and serve Nebuchadnezzar, the great king, and to be subject to thee, than that we die, and suffer with our perishing the harms of our servage (or our servitude), that is, suffer more harms then is servage.

- <sup>3</sup> Each city of ours [or All our cities], and all our possession(s), all our mountains, and little hills, and our fields, and droves of oxen, and flocks of sheep, and of goats, and of horses, and of camels, and all our riches and our meines (or families) be in thy sight;
  - <sup>4</sup> (yea), all things be under thy law.
  - <sup>5</sup> Also we and our children be thy servants.
- $^{\rm 6}$  Come thou and be thou a peace-able lord to us, and use thou our service, as it pleaseth thee.
- <sup>7</sup> Then Holofernes came down from the hills, with knights [or with horsemen] in great strength (or force), and he got each city, and each man inhabiting the land, or and each man that dwelled in that land.
- <sup>8</sup> And of (or from) all the cities he took to him helpers (or got for himself helpers), strong men and chosen to battle.
- <sup>9</sup> And so (the) great dread of Holofernes lay [or fell] upon all (the) provinces, (so) that the dwellers of all (the) cities, and the princes and men of honour, went together out with their peoples to meet him coming towards them.
- <sup>10</sup> and received him with crowns and lamps, and they led dances before him with pipes and tympans [or (with) trumps and timbrels].
- <sup>11</sup> Nevertheless they doing these things might not assuage the fierceness of his heart:
- $^{12}$  for why both he destroyed their cities, and hewed down their [maumet] woods.
- <sup>13</sup> For king Nebuchadnezzar had commanded to him, that he should destroy all the gods of (the) earth [or of the land], that is, that he alone should be said god of all these nations, that might be made subject/s by the power of Holofernes.
- <sup>14</sup>And Holofernes passed over all Celosyria (or through all Greater Syria), and all the country of Appany, and all Mesopotamia, and he came to (the) Idumeans in the land of Geba;
- Idumeans in the land of Geba;

  15 and he took the cities of them, and dwelled there by thirty days, in which days he commanded all the host of his power to be gathered together.

- <sup>1</sup> Then the sons of Israel, that dwelled in the land of Judea, heard these things, and they dreaded greatly of the face of Holofernes.
- <sup>2</sup> Also trembling and hideousness assailed the wits of them, lest he should do this thing to Jerusalem, and to the temple of the Lord, which thing he had done to other cities and temples of them.
- <sup>3</sup> And they sent into all Samaria, by compass till to Jericho, and before-occupied all the cops (or the tops), or the heights, of the hills;
- <sup>4</sup> and they compassed their towns with walls, and gathered together wheat into the making ready of (or for) battle.
- <sup>5</sup> Also the (high) priest Joakim wrote to all men, that were dwelling(over) against Esdraelon, which is even against (or opposite) the face of the great field besides Dothan, and to all men by whom passage might be,
- <sup>6</sup> that they should hold [or wield] the goings-up of the hills, by which hills a way to (or for) their enemies might be to Jerusalem, and that they should keep (or be on guard) there, where (a) straight way might be among the hills.

- <sup>7</sup> And the sons of Israel did after this behest (or command), that Joakim, the (high) priest of the Lord, had ordained to them.
- <sup>8</sup> And all the people cried to the Lord with great instance, or hearty beseeching, and they and the women of them meeked their souls in fastings.
- <sup>9</sup> And the priests clothed them-selves with hair-shirts, and the young children bowed themselves against (or towards) the face of the temple of the Lord, and they covered the altar of the Lord with an hair-shirt.
- <sup>10</sup> And they cried together to the Lord God of Israel, lest the children of them should be given into prey, and the wives of them into parting, or departing, by (the) violence of ravishers, and their cities into destroying, and their holy things into defouling (or their temple defiled).
- <sup>11</sup> Then Joakim, the great (or high) priest of the Lord, compassed all Israel, and spake to them, and said,
- <sup>12</sup> Know ye, that the Lord shall hear your prayers, if ye dwelling dwell perfectly [or abide still] in fastings and in prayers in the sight of the Lord.
- <sup>13</sup> Be ye mindful of Moses, the servant of the Lord, which not in fighting with iron, but in praying with holy prayers, casted down Amalek (or the Amalekites) trusting in his virtue, or in his strength, and in his power, and in his host, and in his shields, and in his chariots, and in his knights [or in his horsemen];
- <sup>14</sup> and so shall all the enemies of Israel be cast down, if ye continue in this work, which ye have begun.
- <sup>15</sup> Therefore at this exciting, or stirring, [or exhortation], of (or by) him, the men of Israel prayed heartily to the Lord, and dwelled in the sight of the Lord,
- <sup>16</sup> so that also they, that offered burnt sacrifices to the Lord, were girt with hair-shirts, and they offered sacrifices to the Lord, and ashes were put upon their heads.
- $^{17}$  And all men of all their heart prayed to the Lord, that he would visit his people Israel.

- <sup>1</sup> And it was to Holofernes, (the) prince of the chivalry of (the) men of Assyria, that the children of Israel made ready themselves to against-stand [or to withstand]him, and that they had closed *(al)*together the ways of the hills.
- <sup>2</sup> And by over-great madness he burnt out into great wrathfulness [or with full much madness he burned out into great wrath]; and he called all the princes of Moab, and the dukes of Ammon,
- <sup>3</sup> and said to them, Say ye to me, who this people is [or who be these people], that besiegeth the hilly places; either which, and what manner, and how great be their cities; also what is the virtue, or the strength, of them, either what is the multitude of them, either who is the king of their chivalry;
- <sup>4</sup> and why before all men, that dwell in the east, have these men despised me, and they have not gone out to receive us with peace?

- <sup>5</sup> Then Achior, duke of all the sons of Ammon, answered and said, My lord, if thou vouchest safe to hear me, I shall say the truth in thy sight of (or about) this people that dwelleth in the hilly places [or the mountains], and a false word shall not go out of my mouth.
  - <sup>6</sup> This people is of the generation of (the) Chaldeans;
- <sup>7</sup> and this people dwelled first in Mesopotamia; for they would not pursue [or follow] the gods of their fathers, that were in the land of Chaldea.
- <sup>8</sup> Therefore they forsook the ceremonies of their fathers, that were with the multitude of gods,
- <sup>9</sup> and they worshipped (the) one God of heaven, which also commanded to them to go out from thence, and to dwell in Canaan. And when hunger had covered all the land, they went down into Egypt, and there they were so multiplied by four hundred years [or and there by four hundred years so be multiplied], (so) that the host of them might not be numbered*.
- <sup>10</sup> And when the king of Egypt had grieved them, and had made them subjects [or had under-yoked them] in the buildings of his cities in clay and tilestone, they cried to their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with diverse vengeances.
- <sup>11</sup> And when (the) men of Egypt had cast out from them*(selves)* the men of Israel, and the vengeance had ceased from the men of Egypt, and (then) again when they would take the men of Israel, and again-call them to their service,
- <sup>12</sup> then(the) God of heaven opened the sea to (or for) these men of Israel fleeing away, so that on this side and on that side [or so that on either side] the waters were made (as) firm as walls, and in their walking these men with dry feet passed the deepness of the sea.
- <sup>13</sup> In which place the while (an) unnumberable host of (the) men of Egypt pursued Israel, it was (or they were) so covered with waters, that there dwelled not namely one man alive, that should tell the deed to (their) aftercomers.
- <sup>14</sup> Also the men of Israel went out of the Red Sea (or the Reed Sea), and they occupied the deserts of the hill of Sinai (or of Mount Sinai), in which deserts there might never (a) man dwell, neither any son of man rest there.
- <sup>15</sup> There bitter wells were made sweet to them for to drink; and by forty years they got livelode (or their livelihood) from heaven.
- $^{16}$  And wherever they entered, their God fought for them, and he overcame their adversaries without bow and arrow, and without shield and sword.
- <sup>17</sup> And there was no man that casted down this people, no but when it went away from the worshipping of their Lord God (or the Lord their God).
- <sup>18</sup> Soothly as often ever as they worshipped any other except that their own God, they were given into prey, and into sword, and into shame [or reproof].
- <sup>19</sup> But as often ever as they repented that they had gone away from the worshipping of their God, (the) God of heaven gave to them virtue (or strength) to against-stand their enemies.

* CHAPTER 5:9 This nativity beginneth at Isaac, and endeth in the going out of Egypt.

- <sup>20</sup> Certainly they casted down the king(s) of Canaanites, and of Jebusites, and of Perizzites, and of Shechemites, and of Girgashites, and of Amorites, and all the mighty men of Heshbon, and they had in possession the lands of them, and the cities of them;
- <sup>21</sup> and till that they had sinned in the sight of their God, good things and prosperity were with them, for the God of them hateth wickedness.
- <sup>22</sup> For why and before these years, when they had gone away from the way which God had given to them, that they should go therein, they were destroyed of (or by)diverse nations by (or in) many battles, and full many of them were led prisoners [or led captive] into a land not theirs.
- <sup>23</sup> But a while ago they *(re)*turned again to the Lord their God, and they were gathered together from the scatter-ing, in which they were scattered; and now they have gone up into all these hilly places, and again they have Jerusalem in possession, where the holy of holy things be (or where the Temple is).
- <sup>24</sup> Now therefore, my lord, inquire thou perfectly, if any wickedness of them is in the sight of their God, and go we then up to them; for their God betaking shall betake them to thee, and they shall be made subject under the yoke of thy might.
- <sup>25</sup> Truly if none offence of this people is before their God, we be not able to against-stand them; for the God of them shall defend them, and we shall be into shame to all earth (or in reproof to all the land).
- <sup>26</sup> And it was done, when Achior had ceased to speak these words, all the great men of Holofernes were wroth against him, and they thought to slay him, and they said together,
- <sup>27</sup> Who is this that saith, that the sons of Israel, men without armour, [or arms, (or weapons)], and without virtue, or strength, and without cunning, (or knowing, or knowledge), of the craft of fighting be able to against-stand king Nebuchadnezzar and his hosts?
- <sup>28</sup> Therefore (so) that this Achior know, that he deceiveth us, go we up into the hilly places [or the mountains]; and when the mighty men of them be taken, then he shall be pierced with a sword with the same men;
- <sup>29</sup> and (then) all folk (shall) know, that Nebuchadnezzar is (the) god of (the) earth, and except him there is none other.

- $^{1}$  And it was done, when they had ceased to speak, Holofernes had disdain greatly, and he said to Achior,
- <sup>2</sup> For thou hast prophesied to us, and saidest, that the folk of Israel is defended of (or by) their God, (so) that I show to thee, that no god is but Nebuchadnezzar;
- <sup>3</sup> when we have slain them all as one man, or when we as one man have slain all the sons of Israel, then also thou shalt perish with them by the sword of (the) men of Assyria, and all Israel shall perish diversely with thee in perdition;
- <sup>4</sup> and thou shalt prove, that Nebuchadnezzar is lord of all (the) earth; and then the sword of my chivalry shall pass through thy sides, and thou shalt be pierced, and thou shalt fall among the wounded men of Israel, and thou shalt no more breathe again [or shalt no more take breath], till thou be destroyed with them.

- <sup>5</sup> But certainly if thou guessest thy prophecy sooth, thy cheer (or thy face) fall not down; and the paleness that hath gotten thy face, go away from thee, if thou guessest that these my words may not be fulfilled.
- <sup>6</sup> But that thou know, that thou shalt feel this thing together with the children of Israel, lo! from this hour thou shalt be fellowshipped to the people of them, (so) that when they have taken, or suffered, worthy pains of my sword, thou be subject to like vengeance.

<sup>7</sup>Then Holofernes commanded to his servants to take Achior, and to lead him into Bethulia, and to betake him into the hands of the sons of Israel.

- <sup>8</sup> And the servants of Holofernes took him, and they went forth by the field places, but when they had nighed (or approached) to the hilly places [or to the mountains], slingers, or men throwing stones with slings, went out against them.
- <sup>9</sup> And they turned away from the side of the hill, and they bound Achior to a tree by his hands and feet, and so they left him bound with ropes [or cords], and they *(re)*turned again to their lord.
- <sup>10</sup> And the sons of Israel went down from Bethulia, and they came to Achior, whom they unbound [or loosed], and led him to Bethulia, and they set him in the midst of the people, and they asked [him], what manner of things befell, (so) that the men of Assyria had left him bound.
- <sup>11</sup> In those days these princes of(the)Jews were there, Uzziah, the son of Micah, of the lineage of Simeon, and Charmis, which is also called Gothoniel.
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore in the midst of (the) elder men [or in the middle of the elders], and in the sight of all men, Achior said all the things, which he was asked of (or by) Holofernes, and had told to Holofernes, and how the people of Holofernes would slay him for this word that he had said,
- <sup>13</sup> and how Holofernes himself was wroth, and commanded him to be betaken for this cause to the men of Israel, that the while he overcame the sons of Israel, then he commanded that also that Achior perish with diverse torments, for this thing that he had said, (that the) God of heaven is the defender of his people.
- <sup>14</sup> And when Achior had expounded all these things, all the people felled down on their face(s), and worshipped the Lord; and with common wailing [or lamenting] and weeping they shed out to the Lord their prayers of (or with) one will.
- <sup>15</sup> saying, Lord God of heaven and of earth, behold the pride of them, thine enemies, and behold thou to our meekness, and take heed to the face of thy saints, and show that thou forsakest not men trusting in thee, and that thou makest low men trusting of (or in) themselves, and men having glory, or and them that have glory, of (or in) their own virtue, or strength.
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore when the weeping was ended, and the prayer of the people by all the day was fulfilled,
- <sup>17</sup> they comforted Achior, and said, God of our fathers, whose virtue or power thou hast preached, he is (a) rewarder of all goodness, and he shall give thee grace[or recompensation] for this while, (so) that thou see more the perishing of them.
- <sup>18</sup> And when the Lord our God hath given this freedom to his servants, that we have overcome our enemies, also the Lord be then with thee in the midst or in the middle of us, that as it shall please thee, so thou live with all thy thing(s)[or with all (of) thine thou dwell].

- 19 Then after that this council was ended, Uzziah, the chief priest, received Achior into his house, and made a great supper to (or for) him.
- <sup>20</sup> And when all the priests were called together, after that the fasting was (ful)filled, they refreshed Achior and themselves[or they ate].
- 21 And afterward all the people was called together, and they prayed by [or throughout] all the night within the church, and they asked (for the) help of (the) God of Israel.

CHAPTER 7

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth in the tother day (or on the next day) Holofernes commanded his hosts to go up against Bethulia.
- <sup>2</sup> And there were with them six-score thousand of footmen fighters, and twelve thousand knights [or horse-men], without [or besides] those men, that were there ready, which the cap-tivity had occupied, and were brought from (the) provinces and cities, (out) of all (the) youth, or of able fighters.
- <sup>3</sup> And all there together made them-(selves) ready to (or for) battle against the sons of Israel; and they came by the side of an hill unto the cop (or the top), or the height thereof, that beholdeth Dothan, from the place which is said Balbaim unto Cyamon, which is (over) against Esdraelon.
- <sup>4</sup> And the sons of Israel, as soon as they saw the multitude of them, they bowed down themselves upon the earth, and threw [or putting] ashes upon their heads, and they prayed with one will, that God of Israel should show his mercy upon his people.
- <sup>5</sup> And they took their armours, [or their arms, (or weapons)] of battle, and they sat by the places by which the path of the straightway betwixt the hilly places (was), and they kept those places all the day and night.
- <sup>6</sup> Certainly Holofernes, the while he went about by compass, found that the well, that flowed into the water conduit of (the)men of Israel, was (ad)dressed (or directed) at the south part without the city, and he commanded their water conduit to be cut asunder for to be hewn down.

<sup>7</sup> Nevertheless (the) wells were not far from the walls of the city, of which wells (the) men of Israel were seen to draw water by stealth, or privily, rather to refresh them (selves) than to drink.

- <sup>8</sup> But the sons of Ammon (or of Edom) and of Moab nighed to Holo-fernes, and they said to him, The sons of Israel trust not in spear and arrow, but (the) hills [or the mountains] defend them, and (the) little hills set in the rock of stone make them strong.
- <sup>9</sup> Therefore (so) that thou mayest overcome them without (the) assailing of battle, set thou [or put] keepers of (or about)their wells, (so) that they draw not water(out) of those; and thou shalt slay them without sword, either certainly when they be made faint [or wearied] for default of water, they shall betake to thee their city, the which city, for it is set in the hills, they guess it may not be overcome.
- <sup>10</sup> And these words pleased before Holofernes, and before all his knights; and he ordained by compass by each well an hundred men.
- <sup>11</sup> And when this keeping was filled by twenty days or And when by twenty days the keeping of the wells was fulfilled, the cisterns and the gatherings of waters failed to (or for) all the men of Israel dwelling in Bethulia, so that there was not (anything) of water within the city, whereof they should be fulfilled, namely one day, for the water was given by measure to the people each day.

<sup>12</sup> Then all men and women, young men and eld, and little children, were gathered together to Uzziah, the chief priest, and all they said together with one voice, <sup>13</sup> The Lord deem betwixt us and thee, for thou, not willing (or desiring) to speak peaceably with the men of Assyria, hast done evil things against us, and for this thing God hath sold us into the hands of them.

<sup>14</sup> And therefore there is none that helpeth us, when we be cast [or thrown] down in thirst, and in great loss before their eyes [or in great perdition].

<sup>15</sup> And now therefore gather ye together all men, that be in this city, (so) that all we peoples betake us-selves by free will to Holofernes.

<sup>16</sup> It is better that we be made prisoners [or captive], and bless God and live, then that we die thus, and we be shame [or reproof] to each man, and since we see our wives and our young children die for default, (or because of our own failure), before our eyes.

<sup>17</sup> We call into witnessing today [or We take to witness today] heaven and earth, and the God of our fathers, that punisheth us after our sins, that now ye betake this city into the hands of the chivalry of Holofernes, and that our end be made short in the sharpness of sword, which end is now made longer in the dryness [or the drought] of thirst.

<sup>18</sup> And when they had said these things, great weeping and yelling was made of (or by) all men in the great church, and by many hours they cried with one voice to the Lord, and said, <sup>19</sup> We and our fathers have sinned, we have done unjustly [or unrightwise-ly], and we have done wickedness.

- <sup>20</sup> Thou, Lord, for thou art merciful, have mercy on us, and avenge our wickednesses with thy scourge; and, Lord, do not thou betake men acknowl-edging thee to a people that knoweth not thee,
- <sup>21</sup> (so) that they say not among heathen men [or (the) Gentiles], Where is the God of them?
- <sup>22</sup> And when they were made faint with these cries, and were made weary with these weepings, and were still, Uzziah rose up, all beshed with tears, and said,
- <sup>23</sup> Brethren, be ye patient, and by these five days abide we the mercy of the Lord;
- $^{24}$  for in hap (or perhaps) he shall cut [or put] away his indignation, and he shall give glory to his name.
- <sup>25</sup> Soothly if when these five days be passed, help cometh not, we shall do these words which ye have spoken.

CHAPTER 8

<sup>1</sup> And it was done, when Judith, the widow, had heard these words, which was the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elkiah, the son of Ananias, the son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Ahitub, the son of Elijah, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of Salamiel, the son of Sarasadai, the son of Israel.

- <sup>2</sup> And her husband was Manasseh, that was dead in the days of (the) barley harvest;
- <sup>3</sup> for he stood busily over (the) men binding together reaps [or sheaves] in the field, and (the) heat came upon his head, and he was dead in Bethulia his city, and he was buried there with his fathers.
- <sup>4</sup> And Judith left of (or by) him, or living after him, was (a) widow then three years and six months.
- <sup>5</sup> And in the higher parts of her house she made to her (or for herself) a privy closet, in which she dwelled close with her damsels [or handwomen];
- <sup>6</sup> and she had an hair-shirt on her loins, and she fasted all the days of (her) life, except sabbaths, and the beginnings of months, or the first days of the moon [or new moons], and the feasts of the house of Israel.
- <sup>7</sup> And she was of full seemly beholding, to whom her husband had left many riches, and plenteous meine, (or household, or servants), and possessions full of [or with] droves of oxen, and of flocks of sheep.
- <sup>8</sup> And this Judith was most famous among all men; for she dreaded God greatly, neither any was that spake of her an evil word [or nor there was that should speak of her (an) evil word].
- <sup>9</sup> Therefore when this Judith had heard, that Uzziah had promised, that when the fifth day was passed, he would betake the city to Holofernes, she sent to (or for Uzziah, and for) the priests Chabris and Charmis.
- <sup>10</sup> And they came to her; and she said to them, What is this word, in which (thou) Uzziah hath consented to betake the city to (the) men of Assyria, if within five days help come not to us?
  - 11 And who be ye that tempt the Lord?
- <sup>12</sup> This is no word that stirreth mercy; but rather it stirreth God's wrath, and kindleth his madness (or his anger).
- <sup>13</sup> Have ye set a time of (or for) the mercy doing of the Lord, and in your will (or by your determining) have ye set a day to (or for) him? [Ye have set a time of mercy doing of the Lord, and in your doom ye have ordained a day to him.]
- <sup>14</sup> But for the Lord is patient, do we penance for this sin, and ask we with tears his forgiveness;
- <sup>15</sup> for God shall not menace so as man, neither as a son of man he shall be inflamed to wrathfulness [or wrath].
  - 16 And therefore meek we our souls to him, and in a contrite spirit and
- made meek serve we to him;
- <sup>17</sup> and say we weeping to the Lord, that after his will so he do his mercy with us; and as our heart is troubled [or disturbed] in the pride of them, our enemies, so have we glory in our meekness.
- <sup>18</sup> For we have not pursued [or followed] the sins of our fathers, that forsook their God, and worshipped alien gods;
- <sup>19</sup> for which great trespass they were given to their enemies into sword, and into raven, and into confusion; but we know not another God besides him.
- <sup>20</sup> Therefore, we being meek, abide we his comfort, and he shall seek, or avenge, our blood of (or for) the torments [or the tormenting] of (or from) our enemies; and he shall make meek all folks [or all (the) Gentiles], whichever have risen against us; and the Lord God shall make them without honour.

- <sup>21</sup> And now, brethren, for ye be priests in (or of) the people of God, and the soul of them hangeth (on the words) of you, raise ye up their hearts to God at (or with) your speech, (so) that they be mindful (or remember), that our fathers were tempted, (so) that they should be proved, whether they worshipped God verily (or truly)[or if verily they praised their God].
- <sup>22</sup> They owe to be mindful (or ought to remember), how our father Abraham was tempted, or assayed, and how he was proved by many tribulations, and he was made the friend of God.

<sup>23</sup> So Isaac, so Jacob, so Moses, and all that pleased the Lord, passed forth faithful(ly) by (or after) many tribulations.

<sup>24</sup> And they that received not (or could not take the) temptations with the dread of the Lord, and brought forth their unpatience, and the shame [or the reproof] of their grutching (or grumbling) against the Lord, serpents.

<sup>26</sup> And therefore avenge we not us [or ourselves] for these things which we suffer;

- <sup>27</sup> but areckon we, that these same torments be less than our sins, and believe we, as servants of the Lord that be chastised, that the beatings, or the torments, [or the scourges] of the Lord be come to (or for)our amending, and not to (or for) our perdition.
- <sup>28</sup> And Uzziah and the priests said to Judith, All these things, that thou hast spoken, be sooth (or be true), and no reproving is in thy words.
- <sup>29</sup> Now therefore pray thou for us, for thou art an holy woman, and dreading God.
- <sup>30</sup> And Judith said to them, As ye know (or So that ye know), that this thing, that I might speak, is of (or from) God,

<sup>31</sup> so prove ye, if this that I have purposed to do, is of (or from) God, and pray ye, that God make steadfast my counsel.

- <sup>32</sup> Ye shall stand at the gate this night, and I shall go out, or I shall go forth, with my free handmaid; and pray ye, that, as ye said, the Lord behold his people Israel these five days.
- <sup>33</sup> But I desire not, that ye inquire (into) my doing, and till I tell to you, none other thing be done, or be there done none other thing of (or by) you, no but prayer for me to our Lord God.
- <sup>34</sup> And Uzziah, the prince of Judah, said to her, Go thou in peace, and the Lord be with thee in the vengeance [or in the avenging] of our enemies. And they, Uzziah and the priests, turned, and went away.

- $^1$  And while they went away, Judith entered into her oratory, and she clothed herself with an hair-shirt, and putted ashes upon her head; and she bowed down herself to the Lord, and cried to the Lord, and said,  $^2$  Lord God of my father Simeon, which gavest to him a sword into
- <sup>2</sup> Lord God of my father Simeon, which gavest to him a sword into defense of (or from the) aliens, that were defoulers in their defouling, and made naked the hip of a virgin [or the maiden] into her own confusion;
- <sup>3</sup> and thou gavest the women of them into prey, and the daughters of them into captivity, and all the prey into parting [or division] to thy servants, that loved fervently thy fervent love; Lord, I beseech thee, help thou me a widow.

- <sup>4</sup> For thou madest the former things, and those things thou thoughtest to make afterward, and this thing is made to us, which thou wouldest.
- $^{\rm 5}\,{\rm For}$  all thy ways be ready, and thou hast set thy dooms in thine own purveyance.
- <sup>6</sup> Behold thou the strengths, (or the strongholds), [or the tents] of the men of Assyria now, as then thou vouchedest safe to behold the strengths, (or the strongholds), [or the tents] of the men of Egypt, when they came armed after thy servants, and trusted in their chariots [or four-horsed carts], and in the multitude of their warriors [or fighters].
- <sup>7</sup> But thou beheldest on the powers [or the tents] of them, and darknesses made them faint [or over-travailed them];
  - <sup>8</sup> the bottom of the sea held their feet, and (the) waters covered them.
- <sup>9</sup> Lord, also these men be made so, that trust in their multitude, or Lord, be these men made also in like manner, which trust in their multitude, and in their chariots, and in their sharp shafts without iron [or in (their) weapons], and in their arrows; and have vain glory in their spears;
- <sup>10</sup> and they know not, that thou thyself art our God, that all-breakest battles from the beginning, and the Lord is (the) name to thee.
- <sup>11</sup> Raise up thine arm, that is, thy power, as thou didest at [or from] the beginning, and hurtle down the power of them in thy virtue (or with thy power), or and in thy virtue (or with thy power) hurledest down the power of them; (yea), the power of them fall it down in thy wrathfulness, which promise them(selves) to defoul thine holy things (or the Temple), and to defoul [or to pollute] the tabernacle of thy name, or which promise them(selves) to defoul (or to defile) the tabernacle of thy name, and to cast down with their sword the horn, or the might, of thine altar.
- <sup>12</sup> Lord, make thou, that the pride of them be cut off [or cut away] with their own sword;
- <sup>13</sup> and be Holofernes taken with the snare of his eyes in (or on) me; and (then) thou shalt smite him with the lips of my charity, that is, by my sweet words, and showing love.
- $^{14}$  Give, Lord, thou to me steadfastness in soul, (so) that I despise him and his virtue, or his power, and destroy him.
- <sup>15</sup> For it shall be a memorial, or a mindfulness, (or a remembrance) to thy name, when the hands of a woman have cast [or have thrown] him down.
- <sup>16</sup> For why, Lord, thy virtue, or thy power, is not in multitude, neither thy will is in the strengths of horses; and proud spirits [or proud men] pleased not thee at [or from] the beginning, but the prayer of meek men and mild hath ever*[more]* pleased thee.
- <sup>17</sup> God of heavens, thou art (the) Creator of (the) waters, and Lord of all creature(s), or of each creature, (or of all Creation), hear thou me (a) wretched woman praying, and trusting of (or in) thy mercy.
- <sup>18</sup> Lord, have thou mind of thy testa-ment (or of thy covenant), and give a word in my mouth to speak, and make thou strong the counsel of thee in mine heart, (so) that thine house dwell perfectly in thine hallowing;
- <sup>19</sup> and that all folks know, that thou art God, and that none other is except thee [or and there is none other besides thee].

<sup>1</sup> And it was done, when Judith had ceased to cry to the Lord, she rose up from the place, in which she lay bowed down to the Lord.

<sup>3</sup> And she washed her body, and anointed her[self] with (the) best myrrh, and she setted [or she pleated] the hair of her head, and setted a mitre on her head, and she clothed her(self) with the clothes of her gladness, and clothed her feet with sandals; and she took the ornaments of (or for her) arms, and lilies, and earrings, and [finger] rings, and she adorned herself with all her adornments or ornaments.

- <sup>4</sup> To whom also the Lord gave brightness or fairness, for all this ornament hanged not of lechery, but of virtue; and therefore the Lord made large this fairness on her, (so) that by uncomparable fairness, or fairness that might not be comparisoned, she appeared seemly to the eyes of all men. [To whom also the Lord gave brightness, for all this composition not of lust, but of virtue hung or hanged; and therefore the Lord made more this fairness into her, that she appeared to the eyes of all men with fairness uncomparable.]
- <sup>5</sup> And then she putted upon her free handmaid a bottle of wine to bear with her, and a vessel of oil, and meat (or food) made of meal [or pottage], and dried figs, and loaves, and cheese, and they went forth.
- <sup>6</sup> And when they were come to the gate of the city, they found Uzziah and the priests of the city abiding (or waiting for)her(there).
- <sup>7</sup> And when they had seen her, they were astonished, and wondered [or marvelled] full much on her fairness.
- <sup>8</sup> Nevertheless they asked her nothing, and they let her pass forth, and said, The God of our fathers give grace to thee, and make strong with his virtue all the counsel of thine heart, and Jerusalem have glory on thee, and thy name be in the number of holy and just men [or in the number of saints and rightwise men].
- <sup>9</sup> And all they, that were there, said with one voice, Be it done! be it done!
- <sup>10</sup> Certainly Judith [or Then Judith] prayed (to) the Lord, and she passed forth through the gates, and her hand-maid with her.
- <sup>11</sup> And it was done, when she came down off (or from) the hill about the rising of the day, the spyers [or the spies] of (the) Assyrians met her, and they held her, and said, From whence comest thou, either whither goest thou?
- <sup>12</sup> And she answered, I am a daughter of (the) Hebrews, and therefore I have fled from the face of them, for I know, that it shall come, that they shall be given to you into prey, for they have despised you, and for they would not betake themselves willfully (or willing-ly)to you, (so) that they should have found grace in your sight.
- <sup>13</sup> And for this cause I thought within me, and I said, I shall go to the face, or the presence, of the prince Holo-fernes, for to show to him the privates (or the secrets) of the men of Israel, and I shall show to him, by what entry he may get them, so that not one man of his host fall down [or so that there fall not one man of his host].

<sup>15</sup> And they said to her, Thou hast kept thy life, for thou hast found such a counsel, that thou wouldest come down to our lord.

<sup>16</sup> And know thou this thing, that, when thou standest in his sight, he shall do well to thee, and thou shalt be most acceptable [or most accepted] in his heart. And they led her to the tabernacle (or to the tent) of Holofernes, and they showed her to him.

17 And when she had entered before his face, anon (or at once)

Holofernes was taken by his eyes [or is caught in his eyes]with lust.

<sup>18</sup> And his knights said to him, Who shall despise the people of Jews, that have so fair women, that we owe (or we ought) not to fight skillfully against them for these women?

<sup>19</sup> And Judith saw Holofernes sitting within a curtain, that is, in a chair, covered with such a curtain, [or in (or under) the canopy], that was wide beneath, and narrow or sharp above, that was woven of purple and gold, and smaragdus (or emerald), and most precious stones,

<sup>20</sup> and when she had looked into his face, she worshipped [or honoured] him, and bowed down herself on the earth; and the servants of Holofernes raised her up, for their lord commanded so.

CHAPTER 11

- <sup>1</sup> Then Holofernes said to her, Be thou comforted, and do not thou dread in thine heart, for I (have) never annoyed (or harmed any) man, that would serve Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Assyria.
- $^{2}\,\mathrm{And}$  if thy people had not despised me, I had not raised mine hand or my power upon it.

<sup>3</sup> But now say to me, for what cause wentest thou away from them, and why it pleased thee to come to us.

- <sup>4</sup> And Judith said, Take thou the words of thine handmaid; for, if thou pursuest [or followest] the words of thine handmaid, the Lord shall make [or shall do] a perfect thing with thee.
- <sup>5</sup> Forsooth Nebuchadnezzar, the king of [the] earth, liveth, and his virtue or his power liveth, which is in thee to the chastising of all souls or all lives erring; for not only by thee men shall serve him, but also (the) beasts of the field shall obey to him by thee.
- <sup>6</sup> For the prudence of thy soul is told to all folks; and it is showed [or it is open] to all the world, that thou alone art good and mighty in all his realm; and thy teaching is preached in all provinces.

<sup>7</sup> Neither this thing is hid, which Achior hath spoken, neither that thing is unknown, which thou commandedest to befall to him.

- <sup>8</sup> For it is known, that our God is so offended by sins, that he hath sent by his prophets to the people, that he would betake them to their enemies for their sins.
- <sup>9</sup> And for the sons of Israel know, that they have offended the Lord their God, the trembling of him [or his trembling] is upon them.
- <sup>10</sup> Furthermore also hunger hath assailed them, and for (the) dryness [or the drought] of water they be reckoned [or counted] now among dead men.

- <sup>11</sup> And this thing they ordain, that they slay their beasts, and drink their blood;
- 12 and they have thought to give these holy things of their Lord to buy with, (yea), wheat, wine, and oil, which God commanded to be not touched, and they will waste the things, which they ought not to touch with hands; therefore for they do these things, it is certain that they shall be given into perdition. [and the holy things of their Lord, that God commanded not to be touched, wheat, wine, and oil, these things they have thought to give out, and will waste those things, that with hands they should not touch; then for these things they do, it is certain that into losing (or destruction) they shall be given.]
- $^{13}$  Which thing I, thine handmaid, know, and therefore I fled from them, and the Lord hath sent me to tell these same things to thee.
- <sup>14</sup> For I, thine handmaid, worship God, also now with thee; and thine handmaid shall go forth, and I shall pray (to) God;
- <sup>15</sup> and he shall say to me, when he shall yield to them, (yea), the Jews, (for) their sin; and I shall come, and tell to thee, so that I bring thee through the midst [or by the middle] of Jerusalem, and thou shalt have all the people of Israel as sheep to which is no shepherd, and there shall not bark, or chide, either speak foul, against thee namely one;
  - <sup>16</sup> for these things be said to me by the purveyance of God.
- $^{17}\,\mathrm{And}$  for God is wroth to them, I am sent to tell to thee these same things.
- <sup>18</sup> Certainly all these words pleased before Holofernes, and before his servants; and they wondered [or marvelled] at the wisdom of her;
- $^{19}$  and one said to another [or to the tother], There is not such a woman on earth in sight, in fairness, and in wit of words.
- $^{20}$  And Holofernes said to her, God did well, that sent thee before the people, that thou give or betake it (or them) into mine hands;
- <sup>21</sup> and for thy promise is good, if thy God doeth these things to (or for) me, he shall be also my God, and thou shalt be great in the house of Nebuchadnezzar, and thy name shall be named in all (the) earth.

- $^{1}$  Then Holofernes commanded her to enter, where his treasures were kept, and he commanded her to dwell there; and he ordained, what should be given to her of his feast.
- $^2$  To whom Judith answered, and said, Now I may not eat of these things, which thou commandedest to be given to me, lest offence come on me; but I shall eat of these things, which I have brought with me.
- <sup>3</sup> To whom Holofernes said, If these things fail, which thou hast brought with thee, what shall we then do to (or for) thee?
- <sup>4</sup> And Judith said, Lord, (as) thy soul liveth, for thine handmaid shall not spend all these things, till God shall do in mine hands these things which I have thought to do. And his servants led her into the tabernacle, wither he had commanded.
- <sup>5</sup> And she asked of (or from) Holofernes, while she entered, that freedom should be given to her to go out to prayer, in the night, and before the light of the day came, to be eech the Lord.

- <sup>6</sup> And he commanded to his cham-berlains, that, as it pleased her, she should go out, and enter [or come] in, for to pray (to) her God by (or for) three days.
- <sup>7</sup> And she went out, or went forth, in (the) nights into the valley of Bethulia, and washed herself in a well of water.
- <sup>8</sup> And as she went up there, she prayed the Lord God of Israel, that he would *(ad)*dress, (or direct), [or govern] her way to the deliverance of his people.
- <sup>9</sup> And she entered in, and dwelled clean in the tabernacle, till that she took her meat (or her food) in the eventide.
- <sup>10</sup> And it was done in (or on) the fourth day, Holofernes made a supper to (or for) his servants, and he said to Bagoas, the chamberlain [or (a) gelding], Go thou, and counsel [or sweetly move] that Hebrew woman, (so) that she consent willfully (or willingly) to dwell with me.
- <sup>11</sup> For it is a foul thing with men of Assyria, if a woman scorn a man, in her doing, and that she pass free from him.
- <sup>12</sup> Then Bagoas entered in to Judith, and said, A good damsel be not ashamed to enter in to my lord, (so) that she be honoured before his face, and that she eat with him, and drink wine with gladness.
  - <sup>13</sup> To whom Judith answered, Who am I, that I against-say my lord?
- <sup>14</sup> I shall do all (the) thing*(s)*, that shall be good and best before his eyes. And whatever thing pleaseth him, this thing shall be best to (or for) me in all the days of my life.
- <sup>15</sup> And she rose up, and adorned herself with her clothes, and entered, and stood before the face of Holofernes.
- <sup>16</sup> And the heart of Holofernes was stirred to lust; for he was burning in fleshly covetousness [or lust] of (or for) her.
- <sup>17</sup> And Holofernes said to her, Drink thou now, and take meat in gladness [or Drink now, and sit down in joy]; for thou hast found grace before me.
- <sup>18</sup> And Judith said, Lord, I shall drink, for my soul is magnified today before all the days of my life.
- <sup>19</sup> And she took, and ate, and drank before him those things, which her handmaid had made ready to (or for) her.
- <sup>20</sup> And Holofernes was made glad [or merry] towards her, and he drank full much wine, how much he had never drank in one day in his life.

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth as soon as eventide was made, his servants hast(en)ed to their inns [or their harbourgeries], that is, (to their) tents; and Bagoas closed together the doors of the closet where Holofernes lay, and went forth.
  - <sup>2</sup> For all men were made faint, or drunk, of (or from the) wine;
- <sup>3</sup> and Judith alone was there within the closet [or the privy chamber] (with him).
- <sup>4</sup> Certainly Holofernes lay in the bed, asleeped [or asleep] with full much drunkenness.
- <sup>5</sup> And Judith said to her damsel, that she should stand withoutforth before the door of the closet [or the privy chamber], and espy, [or wait about], (or watch), that no man were nigh.
- <sup>6</sup> And Judith stood before the bed of Holofernes, and she prayed with tears, and with moving of her lips she said in silence,

- JUDITH CHAPTER 13:7
- <sup>7</sup> Lord God of Israel, confirm me, or make me stable, and in this time behold thou to the works of mine hands, (so) that, as thou hast promised, thou raise up Jerusalem thy city; and that I perform this thing, which thing I believing thought to be able to be done by thee.
- <sup>8</sup> And when she had said this, she nighed [or went] to the pillar that was at the head of his bed, and she loosed his sword, that hanged [or hung]there bound on the pillar.
- <sup>9</sup> And when she had drawn out of the sheath that sword, she took the hair of his head; and said, Lord God of Israel, confirm me in this hour.
- <sup>10</sup> And she smote twice on [or into] his neck, and she cutted off his head; and she took away his curtain [or his canopy] from the pillars, and she wallowed (or rolled) away his body headless.
- <sup>11</sup> And after a little [while] she went out, and she betook the head of Holofernes to her handmaid, and commanded, that she should put it into her scrip (or into her bag).
- <sup>12</sup> And the two women went out or went forth by their custom, as (if) to (or for) prayer, and they passed the tents, that is, (the) host, of (the) Assyrians, and they compassed the valley, and came to the gate of the city.

13 And Judith said afar to the keepers of the walls, Open ye the gates, for God is with us, that hath done great virtue in Israel.

- <sup>14</sup> And it was done, when the men had heard her voice, they called the priests of the city.
- <sup>15</sup> And all men from the least till to the most ran to her; for they hoped not, that she should come now (or for they had not even hoped, or expected, that she would ever return).
- <sup>16</sup> And they tended (the) lights, and all men compassed about her. And she went up into an higher place, and commanded silence to be made. And when all (the) men were still [or had held their peace], Judith said,
- <sup>17</sup> Praise ye the Lord our God, that hath not forsaken them that trust in him, and by me, his handmaid,
- <sup>18</sup> he hath fulfilled his mercy, which he promised to the house of Israel, and in this night he hath slain in (or by) mine hand the enemy of his people.
- <sup>19</sup> And she took out of the scrip (or the bag) the head of Holofernes, and showed it to them, and said, Lo! the head of Holofernes, prince of the chivalry of (the) Assyrians; and lo! his curtain [or the canopy of him], in (or under) which he lay in his drunken-ness, where also the Lord our God killed him by the hand of a woman.
- <sup>20</sup> Forsooth the Lord God liveth, for his angel hath kept me, both going from hence, and dwelling there, and (re)turn-ing again from thence hither; and the Lord hath not suffered (or allowed) his handmaid to be defouled (or defiled), but without defouling [or pollution] of sin he hath again-called me to you, and I have joy in (the) victory of the Lord, or in his victory, and in my escaping, and in your deliverance.
- $^{21}$  Acknowledge ye all to him, or to the Lord, for he is good, for his mercy is into without end.
- <sup>22</sup> Soothly all men worshipped the Lord, and said to her, The Lord hath blessed thee in his virtue, for by thee he hath brought to nought our enemies
- $^{23}$  And then Uzziah, the prince of the people of Israel, said to Judith, Daughter, thou art blessed of (or by) the high Lord God, before all women on (the) earth.

- <sup>24</sup> Blessed be the Lord God, that made heaven and earth, and that *(ad)*dressed (or directed) thee into the wounds of the head of the prince of our enemies:
- <sup>25</sup> for today he hath magnified so thy name, that thy praising go not away from the mouth of men, that shall be mindful of the virtue of the Lord without end (or who shall remember the power of the Lord forever); for which thou sparedest not thy life for the anguishes and tribulations of thy kin [or thy kindred], but helpedest the falling before the sight of our God, or for which men thou sparedest not thy life, but puttedest it for the anguishes and tribulations of thy kin, and thou hast holpen (or hast helped) the falling of the people before the sight of our God.
- <sup>26</sup> And all the people said, Amen! amen! or Be it thus done! be it thus done! [or So be it!]
- <sup>27</sup> And then Achior was called, and he came; and Judith said to him, That God of Israel, to whom thou gavest witnessing, that he avengeth him(self) of his enemies, hath cut off the head of all unbelieveful men in this night by mine hand.
- <sup>28</sup> And (so) that thou prove that it is so, lo! the head of Holofernes, which in the despite of his pride despised God of Israel, and he menaced death to thee, and said, When the people of Israel is taken, I shall command thy sides to be pierced with a sword.
- <sup>29</sup> And when Achior saw the head of Holofernes, he was anguished for dread, and he fell down on his face upon the earth, and his soul suffered anesthetizing, that is, swooning.
- <sup>30</sup> And after that he had taken again his spirit, and was comforted, he felled down at the feet of Judith, and wor-shipped [or honoured] her, and said,
- $^{31}$  Blessed art thou of thy God in all the tabernacles of Jacob; for in all folk, that shall hear thy name, God of Israel shall be magnified in thee.

- $^{\rm 1}$  For sooth Judith said to all the people, Brethren, hear ye; hang ye up this head upon your walls.
- <sup>2</sup> And it shall be, when the sun riseth, each man take his armours, [or his arms], (or weapons), and go ye out with fierceness, not that ye go all down beneath the hill, but as men making (an) assault.
- <sup>3</sup> And then it shall be need(ed), that the spyers [or the spies] of the land flee to raise up their prince to battle.
- <sup>4</sup> And when the dukes of them shall run together to the tabernacle of Holofernes, and find him headless [or beheaded], wallowed, [or wrapped], (or rolled up), in his (own) blood, dread shall fall down upon them.
- <sup>5</sup> And when ye know that they flee, go ye securely after them, for God shall all-break them [or tread them] under your feet.
- <sup>6</sup> Then Achior saw the virtue that God of Israel had done, and he forsook the custom of heathenness, and he believed to (or in) God; and he circumcised the flesh of his rod, and he was put (or was joined) to the people of Israel, and all the after-coming of his kin till into this day, or unto this time.

- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth anon (or at once) as the day rose, they hanged the head of Holofernes on the wall; and each man took his armours, (or his arms, or weapons), and they went out with great noise and yelling.
- <sup>8</sup> Which thing the spyers [or the spies] saw, and they ran to the tabernacle of Holofernes.
- <sup>9</sup> And they, that were in the taber-nacle, came, and made noise before the entering of the bed-(place)[or the in-coming of the privy chamber]of Holofernes, and they imagined by craft(y) unrestfulness for cause of upraising [him], that Holofernes should awake not (because) of the raisers, but (because) of the noise of(the) sounders.
- $^{10}$  For no man was hardy, (or bold enough), to open the tabernacle of the virtue, that is, of the prince of the chivalry (or cavalry), of (the) Assyrians by knocking, either by entering.
- <sup>11</sup> But when his dukes, and his tribunes [or the leaders of thousands], and all the greater men of the host of the king of Assyria were come, they said to the chamberlains,
- <sup>12</sup> Enter ye, and raise ye him up; for mice be gone out of the caves, and they dare (to) move us [or to call forth us] to battle.
- <sup>13</sup> Then Bagoas entered into his closet [or into his privy chamber], and he stood before the curtain of his bed, and he made beating together (or clapping) with his hands; for he supposed him to sleep with Judith.
- <sup>14</sup> But when by the wit, or listening, of his ears he perceived not any stirring [or moving] of (or by) Holo-fernes lying there, he came nigh and nighed to the curtain, and he drew it up, or he raised it, and he saw the dead body of Holofernes without (his) head, defouled [or rotting] in his (own) blood, and lying upon the earth (or the ground), and he cried [out] with (a) great (or a loud) voice with weeping, and rent his clothes.
- <sup>15</sup> And Bagoas entered into the tabernacle of Judith, and found not her [or (and) found her not], and anon (or at once) he went out to the people,
- <sup>16</sup> and said, An Hebrew woman hath made confusion in the house of king Nebuchadnezzar; for lo! Holofernes lieth in the earth (or on the ground), and his head is not with him.
- <sup>17</sup> And when the princes of the virtue, or the power, of (the) Assyrians had heard this thing, all they rent their clothes, and unsufferable [or intolerable] dread and trembling felled down upon them, and their souls were troubled greatly.
- <sup>18</sup> And (an) uncomparable cry was made by the middle of their tents or throughout their tents.

- <sup>1</sup> And when all the host had heard (that) Holofernes (was) beheaded, mind and counsel fled from them, and they shaken by trembling and dread alone, or they stirred with only trembling and dread, took the help [or the succour] of flight,
- <sup>2</sup> so that no man spake with his neighbor; but each man bowing down his head, and all their things were forsaken or left behind (by) them, they were busy to escape the Jews or (the) Hebrews, which they had heard to come armed upon them; and they fled by the ways of fields, and by the paths of little hills.

- <sup>3</sup> Therefore the sons of Israel saw (the)Assyrians fleeing, or flying away, and they pursued [or followed] after them, and came down, and they sounded with (their) trumps, and yelled after them.
- <sup>4</sup> And for (the) Assyrians not gather-ed together went headlong into flight, forsooth the sons of Israel pursuing (them) with a company made feeble all the men of them, which they might find.
- <sup>5</sup> And Uzziah sent messengers by (or to) all the cities and countries [or regions] of Israel.
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore each country and each city, sent forth chosen young men armed after them; and they, the Jews, pursued those Assyrians with the sharpness of sword, till they came to the last part of their coasts.
- <sup>7</sup> And the residue men, or the remnant, of the sons of Israel, that were left in the city of Bethulia, entered into the tents of (the) Assyrians, and took away with them the prey, which (the) Assyrians fleeing (away) had left, and (the)men of Israel were greatly charged with chattel.
- <sup>8</sup> And they that were overcomers, in (or after) their pursuit(re)turned again to the city(of) Bethulia, and they took away with them all (the) things whatever were of those Assyrians, so that there was no number in sheep, and beasts, and in all (the) moveable things of them, so that from the least unto the most, all (the) men of Israel were made rich of (or by) the preys.
- <sup>9</sup> Forsooth Joakim, the highest [or the high] bishop, (or the High Priest), came from Jerusalem into Bethulia with all the priests, to see Judith.
- <sup>10</sup> And when she had gone out to him, all they blessed her with one voice, and said, Thou art the glory of Jerusalem, and thou art the gladness of Israel, (and) thou art the honour of our people, which hast done manly,
- <sup>11</sup> and certainly thine heart was comforted in God(or was strengthened by God), for thou lovedest chastity, and after thine husband thou knew not another man; therefore and the hand of the Lord comforted (or strengthened) thee, and therefore thou shalt be blessed [into] without end.
  - <sup>12</sup> And all the people said, Be it done! be it done! or Amen! amen!
- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth by thirty days scarcely were the spoils of (the) men of Assyria gathered up of (or by) the men of Israel.
- <sup>14</sup> Certainly they gave to Judith all (the) things, that were proved to be proper (or the property) of Holofernes, in gold, in silver, and in clothes, and in gems, and in all appurtenance of household; and all (these) things were given to her of (or by) the people.
- <sup>15</sup> And all (the) peoples, with women, and virgins, and with young men, made joy, in (or with) organs and harps.

- <sup>1</sup> Then Judith sang this song to the Lord,
- <sup>2</sup> and said, Begin ye to praise God in (or with) tympans [or timbrels]; sing ye to the Lord in (or with) cymbals; sing ye sweetly a new psalm to him; fully make ye joy [or full out joyeth], and inwardly call ye his name.
  - <sup>3</sup> The Lord all-breaketh battles, the Lord is (the) name to him;
- <sup>4</sup> which hath set his castles, that is, (his) angels, or his strengths, (or his strongholds) in the midst of his people [or that put his tents in the middle of his people], for to deliver us from the hand of all our enemies.

- <sup>5</sup> Assur (or The Assyrians) came from the hills, from the north, in the multitude of his strength; whose multitude stopped (the) strands [or the streams], and the horses of them covered (the) valleys.
- <sup>6</sup> And he said, that he should (or that he would) burn my coasts, and slay my young men with (the) sword, to give my young children into prey, and the virgins thereof into captivity.
- <sup>7</sup> But the Lord Almighty annoyed (or harmed) him, and betook him into the hands of a woman, and she shamed [or confounded] him.
- <sup>8</sup> For the mighty prince of them felled not down by (the) strength of young men, neither the sons of giants killed him, neither high giants putted themselves to him; but Judith, the daughter of Merari, overcame him by the fairness of her face.
- <sup>9</sup> For she unclothed her(self) from the cloth (or the cloak) of [her] widowhood, and clothed her(self) with [or in] the cloth (or the cloak) of gladness, into the full out joying of the sons of Israel.
- <sup>10</sup> She anointed her face with ointment, and she bound together the tresses of her hairs with a coronal [or a mitre], to deceive him.
- <sup>11</sup> Her sandals ravished his eyes, her fairness made his soul captive; with a sword she cut off his neck.
- <sup>12</sup> Men of Persia had hideousness of (or at)[or dreaded] her steadfastness, and men of Media of (or at) her hardiness.
- <sup>13</sup> Then the strong powers of the men of Assyria [or (the) Assyrians] yelled for dread, when my meek men of Israel, waxing dry for thirst, appeared to them.
- <sup>14</sup> The sons of young women have pricked them, and they have killed them as children fleeing; they perished in battle from (or before) the face of my God [or the face of my Lord].
  - <sup>15</sup> Sing we an hymn to the Lord, and sing we a new hymn to our God.
- <sup>16</sup> Lord God, thou art a great Lord, and full [or all] clear art thou in thy virtue, whom no man may overcome.
- <sup>17</sup> Each creature of thine serve thee, for thou saidest, and so all things were made; thou sentest thy Spirit, and then all things were made or formed of nought; and none is that against-standeth thy commandment.
- <sup>18</sup> For (the) hills shall be moved from the foundaments (or their foundations) with (the) waters; and (the) stones shall float abroad as wax before thy face [or as wax shall melt before thy face].
  - <sup>19</sup> And they that dread thee, shall be great with thee by (or in) all things.
- <sup>20</sup> Woe to the folk rising up upon my kin; for the Lord Almighty shall take vengeance in (or on) them, and in the day of doom he shall visit them.
- <sup>21</sup> For he shall give fire and worms in the fleshes of them, (so) that they be burnt, and live, and they feel the fierceness thereof till into without end.
- <sup>22</sup> And it was done after these things, all the people after the victory came to Jerusalem to worship the Lord; and anon (or at once) as they were cleansed [or were purified]after(or according to)the law, all men offered burnt sacrifices, and avows, and their promises.
- <sup>23</sup> Forsooth Judith gave then into the cursing of forgetting all the armours, [or all the arms, (or the weapons)] of battle of Holofernes, which the people had given to her, also the curtain, [or the canopy], which she had taken away.

<sup>24</sup> Certainly all the people was merry after (or before) the face of (the) holy men [or (the) saints]; and by three months the joy of this victory was hallowed with Judith.

<sup>25</sup> And after those days each man went again into his own things, or into his own dwelling place; and Judith was made great in Bethulia, and she was more clear (or more glorious) than all the women of the land of Israel.

- <sup>26</sup> For chastity was joined to her virtue of steadfastness, so that she knew no man fleshly all the days of her life, since Manasseh, her husband, was dead.
- <sup>27</sup> In (the) holidays (or the holy days), or the feast days, Judith came forth, and with great glory she was worshipped (or honoured) before (all) other women.
- <sup>28</sup> And she dwelled in the house of her husband an hundred years and five; and she left, (or let go), or made her handmaid free. And then Judith was dead, and she was buried with her husband in Bethulia, or And (then) she was dead, and buried with her husband in Bethulia;

- <sup>30</sup> Forsooth in all the space of her life, there was none that overcame, or disturbed, (or troubled) Israel, and (for) many years after her death.
- <sup>31</sup> And the day of the victory of this feast is taken of (or by) Hebrews, and reckoned in the number of holy days, and it is worshipped of the Jews (or hon-oured or celebrated by the Jews), from that time till into this present day.

ADDITIONS TO ESTHER

The Greek version of Esther, found in the Septuagint, contains six additions not found in the Hebrew version of Esther that is in most Bibles. These additions to Esther consist of a prologue, prayers by Mordecai and Esther, the texts of the decrees from King Ahasuerus, amplifications to, and elaborations of, the narrative, and a postscript. In the "Wycliffe Bible" and the first edition of the King James Bible (1611), these additions to Esther are included, but are placed at the end of the Hebrew version of Esther, beginning with verse 4 of Chapter 10, and concluding in Chapter 16. That format is followed here; but in addition, the place where each passage occurs in the Greek version of Esther, and where it would belong in the Hebrew version of Esther, is indicated at the beginning of each section in parentheses. (Modern translations of the Apocrypha, such as the New English Bible, and the Good News Bible, print the entire Greek version of Esther with these additions clearly marked.) Also, in the Greek version of Esther, the names of several of the principals are spelled differently. In order to avoid confusion, and to aid comprehension, here they have been changed to the Hebrew names.

(In the Greek Esther, the following verses also appear as verses 4-13 of Chapter 10.)

CHAPTER 10

- <sup>4</sup> And Mordecai said, These things be done of (or by) God.
- <sup>5</sup> I have mind on a dream, which I saw, signifying these same things, and nothing of those was void.
- <sup>6</sup> A little well, that waxed [or grew] into a flood (or a river), and was turned into light, and (the) sun, and (then was) turned again into full many waters, this well is Esther, whom the king took into wife, and would that she were his queen.
  - <sup>7</sup> And the two dragons, I am, and Haman;
- $^8$  and (the) folks that came together, be these, that endeavoured to do away the name of (the) Jews.
- <sup>9</sup> But my folk Israel it is, that cried to the Lord; and the Lord made safe his people, and he hath delivered us from all evils, and he hath done great signs, or tokens, and wonders among (the) heathen men [or the Gentiles;]
- <sup>10</sup> and he hath commanded two lots to be, one of God's people, and the other of all heathen men [or of all (the) Gentiles].
- <sup>11</sup> And then ever either lot came into a day ordained, or determined, [or set], from that time before God and all folks.
  - <sup>12</sup> And the Lord had mind on his people, and had mercy on his heritage.
- <sup>13</sup> And these days shall be kept in the month (of) Adar, or March, in the fourteenth and the fifteenth day of the same month, with all busyness and joy of the people gathered into one company, into all the generations of the people of Israel afterward.

(In the Greek Esther, and likewise for the Hebrew Esther, the following verse serves as a Postscript after the 10 new verses added to Chapter 10.)

11:1 1959 ADD: CHAPTER 11

<sup>1</sup> In the fourth year, when Ptolemy and Cleopatra reigned, Dositheus, that said himself to be a priest and of the kin of Levi, and Ptolemy, his son, brought this epistle of lots into Jerusalem, which epistle they said, that Lysimachus, the son of Ptolemy, translated. This is a rubric; for this beginning was in the common translation, which beginning is not told in Hebrew, neither at any of the translators. [The fourth year, reigning Ptolemy and Cleopatra, Dositheus, that a priest and of Levi kindred said himself to be, and Ptolemy, his son, brought this epistle of Purim, the which they said, Lysimachus, the son of Ptolemy, in Jerusalem to have interpreted. This forsooth was the beginning in the common translation, that neither in Hebrew, nor with any of the interpreters is told.]

(In the Greek Esther, verses 2-12 that follow, serve as a Prologue to Chapter 1; in the Hebrew Esther, they would be placed at verse 5 of Chapter 2.)

<sup>2</sup> In the second year, when Arta-xerxes*, (that is, Xerxes, or Ahasuerus), the mightiest king reigned, Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, of the lineage of Benjamin, saw a dream in the first day of the month Nisan, that is, June; [The second year, reigning Arta-xerxes* the most, the first day of the month Nisan, Mordecai, the son of Jair, son of Shimei, son of Kish, of the lineage of Benjamin,]

*In the Hebrew Esther, this king is called Ahasuerus; his son is called Artaxerxes (though historically the son may have been "Artaxerxes II" and the father "Artaxerxes I"). In order to avoid confusion, and to aid comprehension, the Hebrew name of the king will be used in this translation.

<sup>3</sup> and Mordecai was a man a Jew, that dwelled in the city of Susa, a great man, and among the chief or the first men, of the king's hall. [a man Jew, that dwelt in the city of Susa, a great man, and among the first of the king's hall, saw a sweven (or a dream).]

<sup>4</sup> And he was of that number of prisoners [or captives], which Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, had translated (or had transferred) from Jerusalem with Jeconiah, king of Judah. And this was his dream.

<sup>5</sup> He saw that voices, and noises, and thunders, and earth-movings [or earthquakes], and great troubling [or disturbing], appeared upon the earth.

- <sup>6</sup> And lo! two great dragons, and they were made ready against themselves into battle:
- <sup>7</sup> at whose cry all (the) nations were stirred together, to fight against the folk of just [or rightwise] men.
- <sup>8</sup> And that was a day of darknesses, and of peril, of tribulation, and of anguish, and great dread [or great fear] was then upon the earth.
- <sup>9</sup> And the folk of just [or rightwise] men, dreading their (own) evils, was disturbed (or troubled), and made ready to (or for the) death.
- <sup>10</sup> And they cried to God; and when they cried, a little well increased [or waxed] into a full great flood, and it turned again into full many waters.
- <sup>11</sup> And then the light and the sun rose up; and meek men were enhanced (or exalted), and devoured (the) noble men.
- <sup>12</sup> And when Mordecai in his sleep had seen this thing, and had risen from his bed, he thought, what God would do, and he had fast set [or fixed] in his soul this vision, and coveted to know, what the dream signified.

(In the Greek Esther, verses 1-6 that follow conclude the Prologue to Chapter 1; in the Hebrew Esther, they would be placed at verse 21 of Chapter 2.)

CHAPTER 12

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth Mordecai dwelled (at) that time in the hall of the king, with Bigthan (or Gabatha) and Teresh (or Tharra), the honest servants and chaste (or the honest and chaste servants), [or (the) geldings] of the king, that were porters, (or doorkeepers, or guards), of the palace.
- <sup>2</sup> And when he had understood the thoughts of them, and had beforeseen full diligently their busynesses, he learned that they endeavoured them(selves) to set [or to put] their hand(s) upon the king Ahasuerus, and he told of that thing to the king.
- <sup>3</sup> And when enquiring was had of ever either of them, the king commanded them, that acknowledged [or had confessed]their treason, to be led to the death.
- <sup>4</sup> And the king wrote in books that thing, that was done, and also Mordecai took mind of this thing to be written in letters./Forsooth the king wrote in books that, that was done, but also Mordecai betook the mind, (or the memory, or remem-brance) of the thing to letters.
- <sup>5</sup> And the king commanded Mordecai, that he should dwell in the hall of the palace, and he gave to him gifts for the telling.
- <sup>6</sup> Forsooth Haman, the son of Ham-medatha, a Bougaean (or an Agagite), was most glorious before the king, and he would have annoyed (or harmed) Mordecai, and his people, for the twain honest (and chaste) servants (or the two eunuchs) of the king that were slain. Hitherto is the proem; those things, that pursue(or that follow), were set in that place where it is written in the book, And they took away the goods, either the chattels of them; which things we found in the common translation. [Haman forsooth, the son of Hammedatha, (a) gelding, was most glorious before the king, and would annoy (or do harm) to Mordecai, and his people, for the two geldings of the king that were slain. Hitherto the proem; those things, that follow, in that place were put, where is written in the volume, And they wasted the goods, or their substances; the which only in the common translation we have found.]

(In the Greek Esther, verses 1-7 below follow verse 13 of Chapter 3; in the Hebrew Esther, these 7 verses would also follow verse 13 of Chapter 3.)

- <sup>1</sup> Soothly this was the sampler of the epistle. The greatest king Ahasuerus, from India unto Ethiopia, saith health to the princes and dukes of an hundred and seven and twenty provinces, which princes and dukes be subject/s to his empire.
- <sup>2</sup> When I was lord of full many folks, and I had made subject all the world to my lordship, I would not mis-use the greatness of (my) power, but govern (my) subjects by (or with) mercy and softness, (so) that they, leading their life in silence without any dread, should use peace coveted of (or by) all deadly (or mortal) men.

- <sup>3</sup> And when I asked of my coun-sellors, how this might be [ful] filled, one, Haman by name, that (sur)passed other men in wisdom and faithfulness, and was the second after the king,
- <sup>4</sup> showed [or told] to me, that a people was scattered in all the roundness of lands, the which people used new laws, and did against the custom of all folks, and despised the commandments of kings, and defouled by his dissention the according of all nations, [or the one accord, or the concord, of diverse nations with their dissentions defoul.]
- <sup>5</sup> And when we had learned this thing, and saw, that one folk rebel against all the kind of men, and that it used wayward, [or shrewd, (or depraved)] laws, and was contrary to our commandments, and disturbed, or troubled, the peace and according [or the accord] of provinces subject to us.
- <sup>6</sup> we commanded, that whichever [or whosoever] Haman showed, which (or who) is sovereign [or provost] of all (the) provinces, and is the second from the king, and whom we honour in the place of (a) father, (that) they with their wives and children, be done away of (or by) their enemies, and no man have mercy upon them, in the fourteenth day of the twelfth month (of) Adar, or March, of the present year;
- <sup>7</sup> (so) that (the) cursed [or wicked] men go down to hell (or into the grave) in one day, and yield peace to our empire, which they had troubled [or disturbed]. Hitherto is the sampler of the epistle; these things, that pursue[or (that) follow], I found written after that place, where it is read, And Mordecai went, and did all things, which Esther had commanded to him; nevertheless those things be not had in Hebrew, and utterly those be not said at (or by) any of the translators[or interpreters].

- <sup>8</sup> Forsooth Mordecai besought the Lord, and was mindful of all his works, or and he was mindful of all the works of the Lord, [Mordecai forsooth pray-ed the Lord, mindful of all his works,]
- <sup>9</sup> and said, Lord God, King Almighty, all things be set in thy lordship, either power, and there is none, that may against-stand thy will; if thou deemest for to save Israel, we shall be delivered anon (or at once). [and said, Lord, Lord, king almighty, in thy power all things be set, and there is not, that may withstand to thy will; if thou deem to save Israel, anon we shall be delivered.]
- <sup>10</sup> Thou madest heaven and earth, and whatever thing [or and all thing that] is contained in the compass of heaven.
- $^{11}$  Thou art Lord of all things, and there is none that against-standeth thy majesty.
- <sup>12</sup> Thou knowest all things, and knowest, that not for pride and spite, neither for any covetousness of vain glory I did this thing, that I worshipped not Haman the most proud man[or that I honour not the most proud Haman;]
- <sup>13</sup> for I was ready willfully (or will-ingly) to kiss, or for I was ready to have kissed willfully (or willingly), yea, the steps of his feet for the health (or the deliverance) of Israel, [forsooth gladly for the health of Israel also the steps of his feet I were ready to kiss,]

- <sup>14</sup> but I dreaded, lest I should bear over to man, or to a man, the honour of my God, and lest I should worship any man except my God.
- <sup>15</sup> And now, Lord King, God of Abraham, have thou mercy on thy people, for our enemies will lose us (or they desire to destroy us), and do away thine heritage;
- <sup>16</sup> despise not thy part, which thou again-boughtest (or redeemedest) from Egypt. [not despise thou thy part, that thou hast again-bought from Egypt.]
- <sup>17</sup> Hear thou my prayer, and be thou merciful to the lot, and the part of thine heritage; and turn thou our mourning into joy, (so) that we living praise thy name, Lord; and close thou not the mouths of men praising thee.
- <sup>18</sup> And all Israel with like mind and beseeching cried to the Lord, for cause that certain death nighed to them (or because that certain death approached unto them).

(In the Greek Esther, verses 1-19 below follow the preceding verses, prior to Chapter 5; in the Hebrew Esther, these 19 verses would also follow the preceding verses, prior to Chapter 5.)

- $^{1}$  Also queen Esther fled [or flew] to the Lord, and dreaded the peril, that nighed (or approached).
- <sup>2</sup> And when she had put away the king's clothes that pertained to the queen, she took clothes covenable to (or suitable for) weepings and mourning; and for diverse ointments, she filled (or covered) her head with ashes and drit, or vile power, or dust, and she meeked (or humbled) her body with fastings; and with braiding, or twisting [or tearing or pulling] away of her hair, she filled all (the) places, in which she was wont to be glad;
- <sup>3</sup> and she besought the Lord God of Israel, and said, My Lord, which alone art our King, help me a woman left alone, and of whom none other helper is except thee; [And she pray-ed the Lord God of Israel, saying, My Lord, that art king alone, help me (who is) solitary (or alone), and of whom save thee is none other helper;]
  - <sup>4</sup> my peril is in my hands.
- <sup>5</sup> I have heard of (or from) my father, that thou, Lord, hast taken away Israel from all folks [or shouldest have taken Israel from all Gentiles], and our fathers from all their greater men before, (so) that thou shouldest wield an everlast-ing heritage; and thou hast done to them, as thou hast spoken, or (hast) promised(them).
- <sup>6</sup> We have sinned in thy sight, and therefore thou hast betaken us into the hands of our enemies;
- <sup>7</sup> for we worshipped the gods of them. Lord, thou art just [or Rightwise thou art, Lord];
- <sup>8</sup> and now it sufficeth not to them, that they oppress us with hardest servage (or with the harshest servi-tude), but they reckon the strength of their hands to the power of (their) idols [or maumets],
- <sup>9</sup> and therefore they will change thy behests (or thy commands), and do away thine heritage, and close the mouths of men praising thee, and quench the glory of thy temple and [of thine] altar,

<sup>10</sup> that they open the mouths of heathen men, or and they will open the mouths of heathen men, and praise the strength of (their) idols, and preach a fleshly king without end. [that they open the mouths of Gentiles, and praise the strength of maumets, and preach a fleshly king into evermore.]

<sup>11</sup> Lord, give thou not thy king's rod (or thy sceptre) to them, that be nought, lest they laugh at our falling; but turn thou the counsel of them upon themselves, and destroy thou him, that began to be cruel against us.

<sup>12</sup> Lord, have thou mind, and show thee to us in the time of tribulation; and, Lord, King of gods, and King of all power, give thou trust to me; [Have mind, Lord, and show thee to us in time of our tribulation; and give to me trust, Lord, king of Jews, and of all power;]

<sup>13</sup> give thou a word well (ad)dressed (or well-directed), [or a seemly word], in my mouth in the sight of the lion Ahasuerus*, and turn over his heart into the hatred of our enemy, (so) that both he perish, and other men that consented to him.

<sup>14</sup> But deliver us in (or with) thine hand, and help me, having none other help but thee,

<sup>15</sup> Lord, that hast the cunning (or the knowing, or the knowledge) of all things; and Lord, thou knowest that I hate the glory of wicked men, and that I loathe the bed of uncircumcised men, and of each alien [or of all

(the) heathen].

<sup>16</sup> Lord, thou knowest my frailty and my need, that I hold abominable the sign of my pride and of my glory, which is on mine head in the days of my showing, and that I loathe it as the cloth of a woman having unclean blood, and I bear (it) not, or use it, in the days of my stillness, [Thou knowest infirmity and my need, that I loathe the sign of pride and of my glory, that is upon mine head in the days of my showing, and I loathe it as the cloth of the woman in flux of blood, and I bear not in the days of my silence,]

<sup>17</sup> and that I ate not in the board of Haman (or at Haman's table), neither the feast of the king pleased me, and I drank not the wine of moist (or liquid) sacrifices (or the drink offerings),

<sup>18</sup> and that thine handmaid was never glad, since I was translated (or brought) hither till into (the) present day, but in thee, Lord God of Abraham.

<sup>19</sup> A! (or O) strong God above all, hear thou the voice of them, that have none other hope than thee, and deliver thou us from the hand(s) of wicked men, and deliver thou me from my dread.

(In the Greek Esther, the next 2 verses would follow verse 8 of Chapter 4; in the Hebrew Esther, these 2 verses would also follow verse 8 of Chapter 4.)

1' And no doubt that Mordecai sent to Esther, that she should enter to the king, and pray for her people, and for her country.

1" He said, Be thou mindful of the days of thy meekness, how thou were nourished (or brought up) in (or by) mine hand; for Haman, ordained the second from the king, or which is ordained the second person in power from the king, spake against us into death; therefore thou inwardly call the Lord, and speak to the king for us, and deliver us from death.

(In the Greek Esther, verses 1-16 below, follow Esther's prayer, which follows Mordecai's prayer, all of which precede Chapter 5; in the Hebrew Esther, these 16 verses would replace the first 2 verses of Chapter 5.)

<sup>1</sup> Forsooth in the third day she putted off the clothes of her adorning (or of her mourning), and was compassed with her glory.

<sup>2</sup> And when she shined in the king's (or in the royal) clothing, and had inwardly called the Governor of all things and the Saviour God, she took two servantesses,

<sup>3</sup> and soothly she leaned on one, as not sustaining to bear her body, for delights and full great tenderness; [and upon the one forsooth she leaned, as for delights and full much tenderness not suffering to bear her own body;]

<sup>4</sup> but the other servantess pursued the lady, and bare up her clothes trailing down upon the earth (or upon the ground). [the tother forsooth of the damsels followed the lady, bearing up the clothes flowing down into the earth.]

- <sup>5</sup> Soothly she was beshed [or thrush-ed] with (the) colour of roses in the cheer, or in (or on) her face, or And Esther in her face was coloured with rose colours, and with her pleasant and shining [or bright] eyes she covered her sorrowful soul, that was drawn together with full much dread.
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore she entered through all the doors by order, and she stood against (or before) the king, where he sat upon the seat of his realm, and was clothed in the king's clothes, and shined in gold and precious stones, and he was dreadful in sight. [Then she gone in all the doors by order, stood against (or before) the king, where he sat upon the see (or the throne) of his reign, clothed with king's clothes, and shining with gold and precious stones; and he was fearful in sight.]

<sup>7</sup> And when he had raised up his face, and had showed the madness, or austereness, of his heart with burning eyes, the queen felled [or fell] down before him; and when her colour was changed into paleness, she rested her head bowed down upon her handmaid.

- <sup>8</sup> And God turned the spirit of the king into mildness, and he hast(en)ed, and dreaded, and skipped [or started] out of the seat, or and the king hast(en)-ing, and dreading, rose up anon of (or at once from) his seat; and he sustain-ed her, or he held up the queen with his arms, till she came again to herself; and he spake fair to her by these words,
  - <sup>9</sup> Esther, what grief hast thou? I am thy brother; do not thou dread,
- <sup>10</sup> thou shalt not die, for this coming to me without (my) calling; for this law is not made for thee, but for all (other)men. Therefore nigh thou hither, (or And so approach thou to me), [or Come hither then],
- <sup>11</sup> and touch the sceptre, that is, the king's rod. And when she was still, he took the golden rod, and putted (it) on her neck; [and touch the king's rod. And when she held her peace, he took the king's rod, and put (it) upon her neck;]

<sup>12</sup> and he kissed her, and said, Why speakest thou not to me?

<sup>13</sup> And she answered, Lord, I saw thee as an angel of God, and mine heart was troubled for the dread of thy glory; [The which answered, I saw thee, lord, as the angel of God, and mine heart is disturbed for dread of thy glory;]

<sup>15</sup> And when she spake, again she felled down in a swoon, and was almost dead. [And when she spake, again she fell down, and utterly swooned.]

1' The sampler of the letter of king Ahasuerus, which he sent for the Jews to all the provinces of his realm; and this same sampler is not had in the book of Hebrew. [The sample of the epistle of king Ahasuerus, that for the Jews he sent to all the provinces of his realm; the which and it is not had in (the) Hebrew volume.]

- <sup>1</sup> The great king Ahasuerus, from India unto Ethiopia, saith health to the dukes and princes of an hundred and seven and twenty provinces, that obey to our commandment. [Ahasuerus, the great king, from India unto Ethiopia, of an hundred and seven and twenty provinces, to dukes and princes, that to our commanding obeish, saith greeting(s).]
- <sup>2</sup> Many men mis-use into pride the goodness and (the) honour of princes, which is given to them;
- <sup>3</sup> and not only they endeavor to oppress subjects to kings [or and not only endeavor to oppress the subjects to the king], but they bear not duly the glory given to them, and make ready treasons against them, that gave their glory to them.
- <sup>4</sup> And they be not appeased (or satisfied) to do not thankings for (these) benefices or goodnesses, and to defoul in themselves the laws of courtesy; but also they deem, that they may flee, or be able to flee, the sentence of God seeing all things.
- <sup>5</sup> And they break out into so much madness, that they endeavor them(selves) with (the) ropes of leasings (or of lies) to destroy them, that keep diligently the offices betaken to them, and do so all things, (so) that they be worthy (of) the praising of all men; [And in so much to madness break out, that to them that busily keep the offices taken to them, and so all things do, that they be worthy (of) the praising of all men, with the privy and subtle flatterings, or little cords, of leasings they endeavour to turn upside-down,]
- <sup>6</sup> while by subtle fraud false men deceive the simple ears of kings, and guessing other men by (or to be of) their own kind./and while malicious men guessing other men by (or to be of) their own kind blameful by subtle fraud, they deceive the simple ears of kings.
- <sup>7</sup> Which thing is proved both by eld stories, and by these things that be done each day; how the studies of kings be made shrewd (or depraved) by evil suggestions of some men. [The which thing and of old stories is proved, and of these things that be done each day; how by evil suggestions of some men the studies of kings be depraved.]
  - <sup>8</sup> Wherefore it is to purvey for the peace of all (the) provinces.
- <sup>9</sup> And though we command diverse things, ye owe (or ye ought) not to guess, that this cometh of (or from) the unstableness of our soul, or of our heart; but that we give sentence by our counsel for the manner and need of times, as the profit of the common thing asketh.
- <sup>10</sup> And that ye understand more openly that thing, that we say; Haman the son of Hammedatha, a man of Macedonia by soul and folk [or (by) will and kindred], and an alien from the blood of Persians, and defouling our piety with his cruelty, was a pilgrim, or a stranger, and was received of (or by) us;

11 and he feeled (or experienced) in himself so great courtesy of (or from) us, that he was called our father, and he was worshipped [or honoured] of (or by) all men as the second person after the king;

12 the which Haman was raised into so great swelling of pride, that he endeavoured to deprive us of the realm and of our life [or of (our) spirit].

13 For by some new and unheard (of) casts he asked into death Mordecai, by whose faith and benefices we live, and also the fellow of our realm, Esther, with all her folk:

14 and he thought these things, that when they were slain, he should set treason to our aloneness, that is, to us-self (or ourselves) alone, [or our only-hood], and that he should trans-late, (or transfer), [or over-bear, (or bear over)] the realm of (the) Persians into the realm of the Macedonians.

<sup>15</sup> Forsooth we found not the Jews in any guilt utterly, that were ordained to death by him that is the worst of dead-ly (or mortal) men; but againward (or on the contrary) that they/the Jews, use just laws, [We forsooth utterly find in no blame the Jews, ordained to death of (or by) the worst man of deadly men; but again-ward, using right laws,]

16 and be the sons of the highest and most God, and ever-living,/and be the sons of the highest and most, and of everlasting God, by whose benefice, or goodness, the realm was given both to our fathers and to us, and is kept unto this day. [and (be) the sons of the highest, and the most, and evermore living God, through whose benefit and to our fathers and to us the realm is taken, and unto today is kept.]

<sup>17</sup> Wherefore know ye, that those letters be void, which that Haman sent under our name. [Wherefore those letters, that under our name he gave forth, knoweth to be as none.]

<sup>18</sup> For which great trespass both he that imagined it, and all his kindred, hangeth in gibbets before the gates of the city of Susa; for not we, but God yielded to him that, that he deserved. [For the which hideous guilt before the gates of this city, that is, Susa, and he that cast, and all his kindred, hangeth in gibbets; not us, but God to him yielding that (that) he deserved.]

19 Forsooth this commandment, which we send now, be (it) set forth in all (the) cities,/Therefore this behest, that we send forth now, be it set up in all (the) cities, (so) that it be leaveful to (or lawful for) the Jews to use their (own) laws.

<sup>20</sup> Which Jews or Whom also ye owe (or ye ought) to help, (so) that they may slay them, that made them-selves ready to (or for) the death of (the) Jews, in the thirteenth day [or the fourteenth day] of the twelfth month, which is called Adar, or March; of sorrow and of wailing] into joy to (or for) them.

<sup>23</sup> (so) that it be known afterward, that all men, that obey faithfully to the kings of Persia, receive worthy meed (or reward) for their faith; and that they, that set treason to the realm of them, perish for the felony.

<sup>24</sup> And each province and city, that will not be partner of this solemnity, perish by (the) sword and by fire; and be it so undone or destroyed, that not only it be without way to men, but also to beasts without end, for (an) ensample of despising and unobedience.

WISDOM OF SOLOMON

- <sup>1</sup> Ye that deem the earth, love rightfulness; feel ye of the Lord in goodness, and seek ye him in the simpleness of heart. [Love ye right-wiseness, that deem the earth; feeleth of the Lord in goodness, and in simpleness of heart seeketh him.]
- <sup>2</sup> For he is found of them, that tempt not him [or that tempt him not]; for-sooth he appeareth to them, that have faith into him. (For he is found by those, who do not test him; he appeareth to those, who have faith in him.)
- <sup>3</sup> For why wayward thoughts part or sever from God; but proved virtue reproveth unwise men.
- <sup>4</sup> For why wisdom shall not enter into an evil-willed soul; neither it shall dwell in a body subject to sins. [For into an evil-willing soul shall not go in wisdom; nor shall dwell in a body subject to sins.]
- <sup>5</sup> Forsooth the Holy Ghost of wisdom shall fly or flee away from a feigned man, and he shall take away himself from thoughts, that be with-out understanding; and the unwise man shall be punished of (or by) wickedness coming above (or upon him). [An holy spirit forsooth shall flee the feigner, or the feigned thing, of dis-cipline, and shall take himself away from thoughts, that be without under-standing; and he shall be chastised from the overcoming wickedness.]
- <sup>6</sup> For the spirit of wisdom is benign, and he shall not deliver a cursed man from his lips; for why God is witness of his reins, and the searcher of his heart is true, and the hearer of his tongue.
- <sup>7</sup> For why the Spirit of the Lord hath filled the world; and this thing, that containeth all things, hath the cun-ning (or the knowing) of (the) voice.
- <sup>8</sup> Therefore this he that speaketh wicked thing [or For that he that speaketh wicked things], may not be hid; and doom and punishing shall not pass (by) him.
- <sup>9</sup> For why asking shall be in the thoughts of a wicked man [or the unpious]. Forsooth the hearing of his words shall come to God, and to the punishing [or the correction] of his wickednesses;
- <sup>10</sup> for the ear of fervent love heareth all things [or for the ear of the jealous heareth all things], and the noise of grutchings (or of grumblings) shall not be hid.
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore keep ye you from grutch-ing (or from grumbling), that profiteth nothing, and from back-biting spare ye the tongue; for a dark word shall not go into vain; forsooth the mouth that lieth, slayeth the soul.
- <sup>12</sup> Do not ye covet death, in the error of your life, neither get ye perdition in (or with) the works of your hands;
- $^{13}$  for God made not death, neither he is glad in the perdition of living men.
- <sup>14</sup> For why God made (out) of nought all things [or Forsooth God made, that all things were], that those should be; and he made the nations of the world able to be healed. For why medicine of destroying is not in those men, neither the realm of hells [or of hell] is in (the) earth.

- <sup>15</sup> For rightfulness is everlasting, and undeadly (or immortal); but unrightful-ness is(the) getting of death. [Right-wiseness forsooth is perpetual, and undeadly; unrightwiseness forsooth purchasing of death.]
- <sup>16</sup> Forsooth wicked [or unpious] men called that unrightfulness by hands and words, and they guessed [or esteemed] it a friend, and floated away, and they putted promises to it; for they be worthy (of) the death, that be of the part thereof.

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth wicked men said, thinking with themselves not rightfully, The time of our life is little, and with annoy-ance (or harm); no refreshing is in the end of a man, and none there is, that is known, that *(re)*turned again from hells (or from the grave)[or from hell].
- <sup>2</sup> For we were born (out) of nought, and after this time we shall be, as if we had not been; for why smoke is blown out in (or of) our nostrils, and a word of sparkle to stir our heart.
- <sup>3</sup> For our body shall be quenched ashes, and the spirit shall be scattered abroad as soft air; and our life shall pass as the step of a cloud, and it shall be departed as a mist, which is driven away of (or by) the beams of the sun, and is grieved of (or by) the heart thereof.
- <sup>4</sup> And our name shall take forget-ting by the passing of time; and no man shall have mind (or remembrance) of our works.
- <sup>5</sup> For why our time is the passing of a shadow, and no *(re)*turning again of (or after) our end there is [or and there is not turning again of (or after) our end]; for it is asealed, and no man *(re)*turneth again.
- $^6\,\mathrm{Therefore}$  come ye, and use we the goods that be, and use we a creature, as in youth, swiftly.
- <sup>7</sup> Fill we us with precious wine and ointments; and the flower of time pass not (by) us.
- <sup>8</sup> Crown we us with roses, before that they wither; no meadow be, that our lechery pass not by [or through].
- <sup>9</sup> No man of us be there without part of our lechery; everywhere leave we the signs of gladness; for this is our part, and this is our heritage, (or our inheritance), [or our lot].
- <sup>10</sup> Oppress we a poor just [or rightwise] man, and spare we not a widow, neither reverence we hoar hairs of an old man of much time.
- $^{11}$  But our strength be the law of rightfulness; for why that that is feeble, is found unprofitable.
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore deceive we a just [or the rightwise] man, for he is unprofitable to us, and he is contrary to our works; and he upbraideth [or reprovingly putteth] to us the sins of (the) law, and he defameth on [or against] us the sins of our teaching.
- $^{13}$  He promiseth that he hath the cunning (or the knowing) of God, and he nameth himself the son of God.
  - <sup>14</sup> He is made to us into showing of our thoughts.
- $^{\rm 15}\,{\rm He}$  is grievous to us, yea, to see; for why his life is unlike to other men, and his ways be changed.

- <sup>16</sup> We be guessed of him to be triflers, that is, men of no virtue, and he abstaineth himself from our ways, as from uncleannesses; and he beforesetteth [or telleth before] the last things of just men, and he hath glory, that he hath God (as)his father.
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore see we, if his words be true; and assay we, what things shall come to him; and we shall know, what shall be the last things of him.
- $^{18}$  For if he is the very (or the true) son of God, he shall up-take him, and shall deliver him from the hands of them that be contrary to him.
- <sup>19</sup> Ask we him by despising and tor-ment, (so) that we know his reverence, and that we prove his patience.
- <sup>20</sup> By most foul death condemn we him, for why beholding [or respect] shall be of his words.
- $^{21}$  They thought these things, and they erred; for why their malice blinded them.
- <sup>22</sup> And they knew not the sacra-ments of God, neither they hoped (for) the meed (or the reward) of rightful-ness [or rightwiseness], neither they deemed the honour of holy souls.
- <sup>23</sup> For why God made man unable to be destroyed, [or undeadly], (or immortal), and God made man to the image of his likeness.
- <sup>24</sup> But by envy of (or from) the devil death entered into the world; forsooth they pursue him, that be of his part.

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth the souls of just men be in the hand of God; and the torment of death shall not touch them.
- $^{2}% \,\,\mathrm{They}\,\,\mathrm{seemed}$  to the eyes of unwise men to die; and torment was deemed the outgoing of them.
- <sup>3</sup> And from (a) just way they went into destroying, and that that is of (or for) us the way of destroying [or destruction]; but they be in peace.
- <sup>4</sup> Though they suffered torments before men, the hope of them is full of undeadliness (or of immortality).
- <sup>5</sup> They were travailed in a few things, and they shall be disposed well in many things; for why God assayed them, and found them worthy to (or for) himself.
- <sup>6</sup> He proved them as gold in a furnace, and he took them as the offering of (a) burnt sacrifice;
- <sup>7</sup> and the beholding of them shall be in (the) time of yielding. Just men shall shine, and they shall run about as sparkles in a place of reeds. [and in time shall be the beholding of them. They shall shine rightwise, and as sparkles in reedy places they shall run hither and thither.]
- <sup>8</sup> They shall deem nations, and shall be lords of peoples; and the Lord of them shall reign without end.
- <sup>9</sup> They that trust on (or in) him, shall understand truth; and faithful men in love shall assent to him; for why (free) gift and peace is to his chosen men.
- $^{10}$  But wicked men, by [or after] those things that they thought, shall have punishing [or corrections]; which despised just thing [or the rightwise], and went away from the Lord.

- <sup>11</sup> For he that casteth away wisdom and lore, is cursed [or is unhappy]; and the hope of wicked men is void, and their travails be without fruit, and their works be unhabitable, and unprofitable.
- <sup>12</sup> The women of them be unwitty [or unwise], and the sons of them be full wayward [or most wicked].
- <sup>13</sup> The creature (or the generation) of them is cursed; for why the woman barren and undefouled is blessed [or for happy is the barren, and the undefouled], that hath not known the bed in trespass; she shall have fruit in the beholding of holy souls.
- <sup>14</sup> And a man unmighty to engender, or to (be)get, [or a gelding], is blessed, that hath not wrought wickedness by (or with) his hands, neither thought most wayward [or wicked] things against the Lord; for why a chosen [free] gift of faith shall be given to him, and a most acceptable [or most allowed] heritage (or inheritance) in the temple of God.
- $^{15}\,\mathrm{For}$  why the fruits of good travails is glorious, and the root of wisdom that falleth not down.
- <sup>16</sup> But the sons of adulterers shall be in destroying, and the seed of a wicked bed shall be destroyed [or outlawed].
- <sup>17</sup> And soothly though they shall be of long life, they shall be areckoned into nought; and the last eld (age) of them shall be without honour.
- <sup>18</sup> And if they be dead swiftlier, they shall not have hope, neither allowing in the day of knowing.
  - <sup>19</sup> Forsooth wicked nations be of hard ending.

- <sup>1</sup> How fair is a chaste generation with clearness [or clarity]; for the mind thereof is undeadly, for it is known, both with God, and with men.
- <sup>2</sup> When it is present, they pursue [or follow] it; and they desire it, when it hath led out itself, and it over-coming getteth by victory the meed of battles undefouled, and is crowned without end.
- <sup>3</sup> But the manyfold engendered multitude of wicked [or unpious] men shall not be profitable; and (as) plantings of adultery they shall not give deep roots, neither shall set stable steadfastness.
- <sup>4</sup> Though they burgeon in boughs [or (in) branches] for a time, they set unsteadfastly shall be moved of (or by) the wind, and they shall be drawn out by the root of the greatness of winds [or and of the muchliness of winds (they shall be) pulled up by the roots].
- <sup>5</sup> For why boughs [or branches] unperfect shall be broken *(al)*together; and the fruits of them be unprofitable, and sour to eat, and covenable to (or suitable for) nothing.
- $^6$  For why all (the) sons, that be born of wicked men, be witnesses of wickedness against fathers and mothers, in their asking.
- <sup>7</sup> But a just man [or The rightwise], though he be before-occupied by death, shall be in refreshing.
- <sup>8</sup> For why worshipful eld (age) is not of long time [or long enduring], neither it is reckoned by the number of years;
- <sup>9</sup> the wits of a man be hoary, and the age of eld (or old age)is life without wem, (or spot), [or undefouled].

<sup>10</sup> He pleased God, and was made dearworth(y), [or loved], and he living among sinners was translated, or borne over;

11 he was ravished, lest malice should change his understanding, either lest feigning should deceive [or beguile] his soul.

- 12 For why deceiving of trifling maketh dark good things, and the unstable-ness of covetousness turneth over [or overturneth] the wit without malice.
  - <sup>13</sup> He was ended in short time, and [ful] filled many times;

14 for why his soul was pleasant to [or pleased] God; for this thing God hast(en)ed to lead him out from the midst of wickednesses:

- 15 but peoples saw and understood not, neither setted [or putted] such things in their hearts or entrails. For the grace and mercy of God is on (or with) his saints, and (the) beholding for (the) respect of God is on (or for) his chosen men.
- <sup>16</sup> Forsooth a just man dead condemn-eth quick wicked men; and youth ended swiftlier condemneth the long life of an unjust man. [Forsooth the rightwise dead condemneth the un-pious men alive; and youth swiftlier ended, the long life of the unrightwise.]
- 17 For they shall see the end of a wise man, and they shall not understand, what thing God thought of him, and why the Lord made him less [or diminished him].

<sup>18</sup> For they shall see, and shall despise him; but the Lord shall scorn them. And after these things they shall be falling down without honour, and in despising among dead men without end.

- <sup>19</sup> For he shall all-break them swollen without voice, and he shall move them from the foundaments (or the foundations); and they shall be desolate till to the last thing. And they shall be wailing, and the mind (or the memory) of them shall perish.
- <sup>20</sup> They shall come fearedful in the thought of their sins; and their wickednesses on the contrary side shall lead them over.

- <sup>1</sup> Then just [or rightwise] men shall stand in great steadfastness against them that anguished them, and which took away their travails.
- <sup>2</sup> They shall see (it), and shall be disturbed (or troubled) with horrible dread, and they shall wonder in the suddenty for marvel in the suddenness] of their health (or of their deliverance) unhoped (for);
- <sup>3</sup> and they shall wail for anguish of spirit, and they shall say, doing penance within themselves, and wailing for the anguish of spirit, These men it be, which we had sometime into scorn, and into likeness of upbraiding.
- <sup>4</sup> We mad men guessed their life madness, and the end of them without
- <sup>5</sup> how therefore be they reckoned [or counted] among the sons of God, and their part [or lot] is among (the) saints?(!)
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore we erred from the way of truth, and the light of rightfulness [or of rightwiseness] shined not to us, and the sun of understanding rose not up to (or on) us.
- <sup>7</sup> We were made weary in the way of wickedness and of perdition; and we went [or we have gone] hard ways. But we knew not the way of the Lord:

- <sup>8</sup> what profited pride to us, either what brought the boast of riches to us? [what profited to us pride, or boast of riches what gave it to us?]
- <sup>9</sup> All those things passed as (a) shadow, and as a messenger before running [or running before].
- <sup>10</sup> And as a ship, that passeth through the flowing water, of [the] which when it hath passed, it is not to find a step [or a step is not to find], neither the path of the bottom thereof in (the) waves.
- <sup>11</sup>Either as a bird, that flyeth over in the air, of which no proof is found of the way thereof [or of the which none evidence is found of his way], but only the sound of wings beating (the) light wind, and carving [or cutting] the air by the might of (the) way, and with wings moved together it flew over, and after this no sign is found of the way thereof [or of his way].
- <sup>12</sup> Either as an arrow shot out into a place ordained, the air is parted, and is closed again anon (or at once), (so) that the passing thereof be not known.
- <sup>13</sup> Right so we born ceased anon (or at once) to be, and soothly we might show no sign of virtue; but we were wasted in our malice. They that sinned, said such things in hell (or in the grave).
- <sup>14</sup> For the hope of a wicked man [or the unpious] is as the flower of a briar, [or (a) thistledown], which is taken away of (or by) the wind, and as small froth [or foam] which is scattered abroad of (or by) a tempest, and as smoke which is spread abroad of (or by the) wind, and as the mind of a guest of one day, that passeth forth.
- <sup>15</sup> But just [or rightwise] men shall live without end, and the meed of them is with the Lord; and the thought of them is with the Highest.
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore they shall take of (or from) the hand of the Lord the realm of fairness, and a diadem of comeli-ness; for he shall govern them with his right hand, and he shall defend them with his holy arm. [Therefore they shall take the realm of worship, and the diadem of fairness of (or from) the hand of the Lord; for with his right hand he shall cover them, and with his holy arm defend them.]
- <sup>17</sup> And his fervent love [or the jealousy of him] shall take armour, and he shall arm the creature to the vengeance of (his) enemies.
- <sup>18</sup> He shall clothe rightfulness for an habergeon (or a breastplate), and he shall take certain doom for a basinet (or a helmet); [He shall clothe for the breastplate rightwiseness, and he shall take for the helmet certain doom;]
- <sup>19</sup> he shall take a shield that may not be overcome, equity, either evenness; [he shall take the shield unquench-able equity;]
- <sup>20</sup> forsooth he shall whet [or sharpen] hard wrath into a spear, and the world shall fight with him against unwitty (or unwitting) men [or the unwise].
- <sup>21</sup> Straight sendings-out of lightnings shall go, and as the sides of a rainbow, when the bow of clouds is crooked, they shall be destroyed; and they shall skip into a certain place. [The sendings-out of lightnings shall go even right, and as at the teasing the bow of clouds bent, they shall be outlawed; and to a certain place they shall leap in.]
- <sup>22</sup> And full hailstones shall be sent from a stony wrath, and the water of the sea shall wax white against them, and (the) floods shall run *(al)*together hard.

<sup>23</sup> The spirit of virtue shall stand against them, and as the whirling of wind it shall depart them; and the wickedness of them shall bring all the land to desert, and malice shall destroy the seats of mighty men. Wisdom is better than strengths (or strongholds), and a prudent man doeth more than a strong man.

CHAPTER 6

<sup>1</sup> Therefore, ye kings, hear, and understand; and ye judges of the coasts of (the) earth, learn.

companies of nations, give ears;

- <sup>3</sup> for why power is given of (or from) the Lord to you, and virtue is given of (or from) the Highest, that shall ask (about) your works, and shall search (vour) thoughts.
- <sup>4</sup> For when ye were ministers of his realm, ye deemed not rightfully [or rightly], neither ye kept the law of rightfulness, neither ye went by the will
- <sup>5</sup> Hideously [or Horribly] and soon he shall appear to you; for why harshest [or most hard] doom shall be made in (or on) them, that be sovereigns.
- <sup>6</sup> Forsooth mercy is granted to a little man [or to the little]; but mighty men shall suffer torments mightily.
- <sup>7</sup> For the Lord, which (or who) is lord of all things, shall not withdraw the person of any man, neither he shall dread the greatness of any man; for he made both the little man and the great man, and charge is to him evenly of all men [or for little and great he made, and evenly care is to him of all].
- <sup>8</sup> But stronger torment nigheth (or approacheth) to stronger men.
  <sup>9</sup> Therefore, ye kings, these my words be to you, (so) that ye learn wisdom, and that ye fall not down.
- <sup>10</sup> For they that keep rightfulness [or rightwiseness], shall be deemed right-fully; and they, that learn just things, shall find, what they shall
- 11 Therefore covet ye my words, and love ye those [or loveth them]; and ye shall have teaching.
- <sup>12</sup> Wisdom is clear, and that shall never fade; and it is seen lightly of (or easily by) them that love it, and it is found of (or by) them that seek it.
- 13 It before-occupieth them that covet it, (so) that it show itself the former (or first) to them.
- <sup>14</sup> He [or Who] that waketh by light to it, shall not travail; for sooth he shall find it sitting nigh his gates.

15 Therefore to think on wisdom is perfect wit, and he that waketh (or watcheth) for it, shall soon be secure.

- <sup>16</sup> For why it goeth about, and seek-eth men worthy to (or of) it; and in their ways [or and in his ways] it shall show itself gladly to them, and in all purveyance it shall meet them.
- <sup>17</sup> For why the beginning of wisdom is the veriest (or truest) covetousness of learning [or (the) most very coveting of discipline]. Therefore the busyness of learning is love [or (the) care of discipline is loving];

18 and love is the keeping of (the) laws thereof [or of his laws]. Soothly the keeping of laws is (the) perfection of uncorruption; everlasting realm [or kingdom].

- <sup>21</sup> Therefore if ve, kings of the people, delight in seats (or thrones), and in kings' rods (or sceptres), [or kings' dignities], or regalties, love ye wisdom, (so) that ye reign without end. All ye, that be sovereigns to peoples, love the light of wisdom.
- <sup>22</sup> Soothly what is wisdom, and how it is made, I shall tell (you); and I shall not hide from you the sacraments (or the secrets) of God; but from the begin-ning of birth I shall seek (for), and I shall set into the light the cunning thereof (or the knowing of it), and I shall not pass (by)[or beside] (the) truth.

a man shall not be a partner of (or with) wisdom.

<sup>25</sup> Therefore take ye teaching [or discipline] by my words, and it shall profit to you.

CHAPTER 7

<sup>1</sup> Forsooth and I am a deadly (or a mortal) man, like other men, and of (the) earthly kind of him that was made first,

- <sup>2</sup> and in the womb of my mother I was formed flesh. In the time of ten months I was crudded (or curdled) together in blood, of the seed of man, and by (the) according delight [or (the) covenable delighting] of (or with) sleep.
- <sup>3</sup> And I was born, and took common air, and in like manner I fell down into (or onto) the earth made [or into the made earth]; and I weeping sent out the first voice, like all men.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore one entering (or one entrance) to life is to (or for) all men, and like going out. [One entry is to (or for) all to life, and like issue.]

<sup>7</sup> Wherefore I desired, and wit (or understanding) was given to me; and

I inwardly called, and the spirit of wisdom came into me.

8 And I setted wisdom before realms (or kingdoms), and seats (or thrones); and I said, that riches be nought [or be nothing] in comparison thereof.

<sup>9</sup> and I comparisoned not a precious stone to it; for why all gold in comparison thereof is (but) a little gravel, and silver shall be areckoned as clay in the sight thereof.

<sup>10</sup> I loved wisdom more than health and fairness; and I purposed to have it for light, for the light thereof may not be quenched for for unquenchable is the light of it].

<sup>11</sup> Forsooth all goods (or all good things) came together to me with it; and unnumberable honesty (or incalculable honour)is by the works thereof. [Forsooth there came to me all goods together with it; and unnumberable honesty by the hands of it.]

<sup>12</sup> And I was glad in all things; for this wisdom went before me, and I knew not, for it is the mother of all goods (or and I did not know, that she is the mother of all good things).

13 Which wisdom I learned without feigning, and I commune without envy; and I hide not the honesty, (or the honour, or the riches) thereof.

14 For it is treasure without number to men, and they, that used that treasure, were made partners of God's friendship, and were praised for the gifts of cun-ning, (or of knowing), [or of discipline].

15 Forsooth God gave to me to say of sentence, and to before take or and to take before worthy things of these things that be given to me; for he is the leader of wisdom, and amender of wise men.

<sup>16</sup> For why both we, and our words, and all wisdom, and learning [or discipline] of cunning (or of knowing) of works be in his hand.

<sup>17</sup> Forsooth he gave to me the very cunning (or the true knowing) of these things that be, (so) that I know the disposition of the world, and the virtues of (the) elements:

18 the beginning, and the ending, and the middle of times; the changings of whiles, and the endings of times; the changings of manners, and (the) partings [or the divisions] of times;

<sup>19</sup> the courses of the year, and the dispositions of (the) stars;

22 for why wisdom, the craftsmaker of all things, taught me. For in that wisdom unmade is the spirit of under-standing, holy, manyfold, one alone, subtle, temperate, wise, moveable, undefouled, certain, sweet, loving a good deed, which spirit forbiddeth nothing to do well; [forsooth the craftsman of all things taught me by wisdom. For sooth there is in it the spirit of understanding, holy, manyfold, only, subtle, mannerly, fair speaking, moveable, undefouled, certain, sweet, loving a good deed, that nothing prevented or hindered to do well;]

spirits], he is clean, and subtle.

<sup>25</sup> For it is a breathing of God's virtue (or God's power), and it is some clean coming forth of the clearness of Almighty God; and therefore no defouled thing runneth into it.

<sup>26</sup> For it is (the) brightness of ever-lasting light, and it is a mirror without wem of God's majesty [or and a mirror without wem of the majesty of God], and it is an image of his goodness.

<sup>27</sup> And when it is one [or And since it is one], it may (or it can do) all things; and it dwelleth in itself, and reneweth all things, and by nations it beareth over itself into holy souls; it maketh the friends of God, and prophets.

<sup>28</sup> For God loveth no man, but him that dwelleth with wisdom.

- <sup>29</sup> For why this wisdom is fairer than the sun, and is above all the disposition of (the) stars; wisdom comparisoned to light, [it] is found the former (or better or before it).
  - <sup>30</sup> For why night cometh after the light; but wisdom overcometh malice.

- <sup>1</sup>Therefore wisdom stretcheth forth from the end till to the end strongly, and disposeth all things sweetly.
- <sup>2</sup> I loved this wisdom made[or This I loved], and I sought it out from my youth; and I sought to take it (as) a spousess to me, and I am made a lover of the fairness thereof [or of the form of it].
- <sup>3</sup> He that hath the fellowship of God, glorifieth the gentleness thereof [or It having the company of God, glorifieth the gentleness of it]; but also the Lord of all things loved it.
- <sup>4</sup> For it is the teacheress of the learning [or of the discipline] of God, and chooseress of his works.
- <sup>5</sup> And if riches be coveted [or be desired] in life, what is richer than wisdom, that worketh all things?
- <sup>6</sup> Soothly if wit worketh, who is a craftsmaker [or craftsman] more than wisdom, of these things that be?
- <sup>7</sup> And if a man loveth rightfulness [or rightwiseness], the travails of this wisdom have great virtues; for it teach-eth soberness, and prudence, and right-fulness [or rightwiseness], and virtue; and nothing is profitabler [or more profitable] than these in life to men.
- <sup>8</sup> And if a man desireth (a) multi-tude of cunning (or much knowing), wisdom knoweth things (which have) passed, and guesseth of things to coming; it knoweth the fellnesses or falsenesses of words, and (the) assoilings of arguments; it knoweth signs and showings of things to coming, before that they be made [or the tokens and wonders it knoweth, ere they be done]; and the befallings [or chances] of times and of worlds.
- <sup>9</sup> Therefore I purposed to bring to me this wisdom, to live together (with me); witting that it shall commune with me of goods (or about good things), and speaking together of (or about) my thought(s), and of mine annoyances, (or about my troubles), shall be.
- <sup>10</sup> For this wisdom I shall have clear-ness at (or with) companies (or crowds), and honour at (or with the) elder men;
- <sup>11</sup> I shall be found young and sharp in doom (or in judgement), and in the sight of mighty men I shall be won-derful, and the faces of princes shall worship me [or shall marvel (at) me].
- <sup>12</sup> They shall abide me, being still, and they shall behold me, speaking; and the while I speak many things, they shall set (their) hands on their mouth(s).
- <sup>13</sup> Furthermore by this wisdom I shall have undeadliness (or immortality); and I shall leave everlasting mind to them, that shall come after me.
  - <sup>14</sup> I shall dispose peoples; and nations shall be subject to me.
- <sup>15</sup> Hideous kings hearing me shall dread (or fear); and in (the) multitude I shall be seen good, and strong in battle.
- <sup>16</sup> I shall enter into mine house, and I shall rest with wisdom; for the conversation thereof hath no bitter-ness, and the dwelling together thereof hath none annoyance (or troubles), but gladness and joy.

- <sup>17</sup> I thought these things at (or with-in) me, and I remembered in mine heart; for why wisdom is undeadly (or immortal) in thought,
- <sup>18</sup> and good delighting is in the friendship thereof; and honesty (or honour) without default is in the works of (the) hands thereof [or and in the works of the hands of it honesty without failing]; and wisdom is in the strife of (the) speech thereof; and great clearness is in the communing of (the) words thereof; I went about, seeking to take wisdom to me.
  - <sup>19</sup> Forsooth I was a witty child, and I got a good soul.
  - <sup>20</sup> And when I was more good, I came to a body undefouled.
- <sup>21</sup> And as I knew, that else I may not be chaste [or continent], no but God give it, and this same thing was wisdom, to know whose this gift was; I went to the Lord, and I besought him, and I said, of (or with) all mine entrails [of mine heart].

- <sup>1</sup> God of my fathers, and Lord of mercy, that madest all things by thy word [or with thy word],
- <sup>2</sup> and ordainedest man by thy wisdom, that he should be lord of (the) creature(s), which is made of (or by) thee,
- <sup>3</sup> that he dispose the world in equity and rightfulness [or rightwiseness], and deem doom in right ruling of heart;
- <sup>4</sup> give thou to me wisdom, that standeth nigh (to) thy seats; and do not thou reprove me from (among) thy children.
- <sup>5</sup> For I am thy servant, and the son of thine handmaid; I am a sick [or a feeble] man, and of little time, and less to the understanding of doom and of laws.
- <sup>6</sup> And if any man is perfect among the sons of me, if thy wisdom fleeth away from him, he shall be reckoned into nought.
- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth thou hast chosen me (to be a) king to thy people, and a judge [or (a) doomsman] of thy sons and daughters;
- <sup>8</sup> and thou saidest, that I should build a temple in thine holy hill, and an altar in the city of thy dwelling place; the likeness of thine holy tabernacle, which thou madest ready at the beginning [or that thou preparedest from the beginning].
- <sup>9</sup> And thy wisdom is with thee, that knoweth thy works, which also was present then, when thou madest the world, and knew what was pleasant (or pleasing) to thine eyes, and what was *(ad)*dressed, (or directed), [or right] in thy commandments.
- <sup>10</sup> Send thou that wisdom from thine holy heavens, and from the seat of thy greatness, (so) that it be with me, and travail with me; and that I know what is acceptable [or allowed] with thee.
- <sup>11</sup> For why that wisdom knoweth and understandeth all things; and it shall lead me forth in my works soberly, and it shall keep me in his power.
- <sup>12</sup> And my works shall be acceptable, and I shall dispose thy people justly [or rightwisely], and I shall be worthy of the seats (or of the seat) of my father.
- <sup>13</sup> For who of men may know the counsel of God? either who may think, what (is the) will (of) God?

<sup>14</sup> For why the thoughts of deadly (or of mortal) men be dreadful (or fearful), and our purveyances be uncertain.

15 For why the body that is corrupt[ed], grieveth the soul; and (the) earthly dwelling presseth down the wit, thinking many things.

- <sup>16</sup> And of hard we guess those things, that be in (or on the) earth; and we find with travail those things, that be in beholding. But who shall search those things, that be in (the) heavens?
- <sup>17</sup> But who shall know thy wit, no but thou give wisdom, and send thine Holy Spirit from (the) highest things?
- <sup>18</sup> And if the paths of them, that be in lands, be amended, and if men have learned those things, that please thee. For why, Lord, whichever pleased thee from the beginning, were made whole by wisdom.

CHAPTER 10

- <sup>1</sup> This wisdom of God kept him, that was formed first of God, the father of the world, when he alone was made (out) of nought. And this wisdom led him out of his trespass, and led [or brought] him out of the slime of the earth,
- <sup>2</sup> and gave to him virtue (or power) to hold together all things, that is, gave to him the lordship over all lower things.
- <sup>3</sup> As the unjust man in his ire went away from this wisdom, brotherhood perished by the ire of man-quelling. [From this as the unrightwise went away in his wrath, by the wrath of manslaughter perished fraternity.]
- <sup>4</sup> For which thing when the water did away the earth, wisdom healed (it) again; governing a just [or the rightwise] man by a despisable tree.
- <sup>5</sup> This wisdom also in the consent of pride, when nations had raised themselves, knew a just man [or knew the rightwise], and kept (him) without *(com)*plaint [or blame] to God; and this wisdom kept strong mercy in sons.

<sup>6</sup> And it delivered a just man [or the rightwise] fleeing from wicked [or un-pious] men perishing, when fire came down into the place of five cities.

- <sup>7</sup>For which wicked men the land smoking is made desert, into witness-ing of waywardness, [or shrewdness, (or depravity)], and trees having fruits in uncertain time; and the mind of an unbelieveful soul standing an image of salt.
- <sup>8</sup> For why men passing (by, or ignoring) wisdom, not only fell in this, that they knew not goods [or (the) good things], but also they left to men the mind of their unwisdom, (so) that in these sins, which they did, they might not be hid.
  - <sup>9</sup> Forsooth wisdom delivered them from sorrows, that keep it.
- <sup>10</sup> Soothly this wisdom led forth a just man [or (the) rightwise] by rightful [or right] ways, that fled from the ire [or the wrath] of his brother; and it showed him the realm [or the kingdom] of God, and gave to him the cunning (or the know-ing) of saints; it made him honest (or rich) in travails, and fulfilled his travails.
- <sup>11</sup> It helped him in the fraud of deceivers [or the guile of the men coming about to him], and made him honest, (or honourable, or rich).
- <sup>12</sup> It kept him from (his) enemies, and defended him from deceivers; and it gave to him a strong battle, (so) that he should overcome, and know, that wisdom is the mightiest of all.

<sup>13</sup> This wisdom forsook not the just [or rightwise] man (when he was) sold, that is Joseph, when his brothers sold him to men of Ishmael, but delivered him from (the) sinners; and it went down with him into a ditch, that is, (in)to the prison of the king of Egypt;

<sup>14</sup> and it forsook not him in bonds, till it brought to him the sceptre of the realm, and power against them that oppressed him; and it showed them (to be) liars, that defouled him, and it gave to him everlasting clearness

(or glory).

15 This wisdom delivered a just [or rightwise] people, and wholly without [complaint for blome] from (the) nations that approsed it

(com)plaint [or blame], from (the) nations that oppressed it.

<sup>16</sup> It entered into the soul of God's servant, and he stood against hideous kings, in great wonders and miracles [or in great wonders and signs].

<sup>17</sup> And it yielded to (the) just [or rightwise] men the meed of their travails, and led them forth in a wonderful [or a marvellous] way; and it was to them in (a) covering of the day, and in the light of stars by night.

18 And it translated, either led over, them through the Reed Sea or the Red Sea; and bare them over through full much water.

- <sup>19</sup> But it drenched (or drowned) down the enemies of them into the sea; and led them out from the depth of hells [or the deepness of hell], that is, from the bottom of the sea.
- <sup>20</sup> Therefore just [or rightwise] men take away the spoils of wicked [or un-pious] men; and, Lord, they magnified in song thine holy name, and praised together thine hand, (their) overcomer.

<sup>21</sup> For why wisdom opened the mouth of dumb men, and made the tongues of young children not speak-ing to be wise [or (to be) fair speaking].

CHAPTER 11

<sup>3</sup> They stood against kings, and a-venged them(selves) of (their) enemies. [They stood against enemies, and of the enemies they venged themselves.]

- <sup>4</sup> They thirsted, and they inwardly called thee; and water (out) of (or from) a full high stone was given to them, and (the) rest of thirst was given to them(out) of (or from) an hard stone.
- <sup>5</sup> For by which things the enemies of them suffered pains, for (the) default-[ing] of their drink, and the sons of Israel were glad, when they had plenty; by these things, when these failed to those enemies, it was done well with them.

<sup>7</sup> And when they were made less [or diminished], in the leading away of young children slain, thou gavest suddenly plenteous water to them [or thou gave to them abounding water in manner not hoped (for)];

<sup>9</sup> For when they were assayed, soothly they took chastising with mercy;

for when they were assayed, soothly they took chastising with mercy; they knew, how wicked [or unpious] men deemed with ire [or with wrath], should suffer torments.

- <sup>10</sup> Soothly thou admonishing as a father, provedest these men; but thou as an hard king asking condemnedest them (or the others).
  - <sup>11</sup> For why men absent and men present were tormented in like manner.
- <sup>12</sup> For why double annoyance (or troubles) had taken them, and wailing with the mind (or the remembrance) of things passed.
- $^{13}$  Soothly when they heard, that it was done well with themselves by their torments, they bethought on the Lord, and wondered on the end of the out-going.
- <sup>14</sup> For at the end of the befalling, they worshipped (or honoured) him, whom they scorned (had) cast out in shrewd (or depraved) putting forth; and thou didest not in like manner to just men.
- <sup>15</sup> Forsooth for unwise thoughts the wickednesses of them were punished; for some men erring worshipped dumb serpents [or adders], and superfluous beasts, thou sentest into them a multi-tude of dumb beasts, into vengeance;
- <sup>16</sup> (so) that they should know, that by what things a man sinneth, he is tormented also by these things [or by those things also he shall be tormented].
- <sup>17</sup> For why thine hand almighty [or thine almighty hand], that made the world of matter unseen, was not un-mighty to send into them a multitude of bears, either [or] hardy lions,
- <sup>18</sup> either beasts of new kind full of ire, and unknown beasts, either beasts frothing heat of fires, either bringing forth the odour of smoke, either sending out from the eyes hideous sparkles (or sparks); [or of new kind of unknown beasts, and full of wrath, or spitting breathing(s) of fires, or bringing forth smell of smoke, or putting out grizzly (or dreadful) sparks from (the) eyes;]
- $^{19}$  of which beasts not only the hurting might destroy them, but also the sight [or the looking] might slay by dread.
- <sup>20</sup> For why and without these beasts they might be slain by one spirit, and suffer persecution of those (or by them for) their own deeds, and be scattered by the spirit of thy virtue (or by the breath of thy power). But also thou hast disposed all things in measure, and in number, and in weight;
- <sup>21</sup> for it was left ever to thee alone to be able to do much; and who shall against-stand the virtue (or the power) of thine arm?
- <sup>22</sup> For as the tongue (or a pointer) of a balance, so is the world before thee; and as a drop of dew rising before the light [or and as a drop of morrowtide dew], that cometh down into (or onto the) earth.
- <sup>23</sup> And thou hast mercy of (or for) all things (or for all), for thou mayest or thou be able to (do) all things; and thou dissemblest, either forbearest, the sins of men, for penance.
- $^{24}$  For thou lovest all things that be, and thou hatest nothing of those, that thou madest; for thou not hating any-thing ordainedest, either madest.
- <sup>25</sup> But how might anything dwell, no but thou wouldest? or but if thou wouldest? (or if thou haddest not willed it?) either how should a thing be kept, that were not called of (or by) thee?
- $^{26}\,\mathrm{But},$  Lord, thou lovest souls, thou sparest all things; for those things be thine.

<sup>2</sup> and therefore thou chastisest by parts these men that err; and thou ad-monishest [or warnest], of which things they sin, and thou speakest to them, (so) that when they have forsaken (their) malice, they believe in thee, Lord.

<sup>3</sup> For thou wouldest lose(or destroy) those eld [or old] dwellers of thine holy land, which thou loathest;

<sup>4</sup> for they did works hateful to thee, by medicines, that is, by witchcrafts, and false divinings, and sacrifices offered to fiends, and unjust [or unrightwise] sacrifices;

<sup>5</sup> and the slayers of their sons, with-out mercy, and eaters of (the) entrails

[or the bowels] of men, and (the) devourers of blood;

<sup>6</sup> and by the hands of our fathers thou wouldest lose (or destroy) from thy middle sacrament, that is, from Judea, fathers and mothers, authors of souls, that is, of their children, unhelped;

7 (so) that our fathers should take the worthy pilgrimage of God's children, which is to thee the dearworthiest land of all.

<sup>8</sup> But also thou sparedest these as men, and thou sentest wasps, the before-goers of thine host, (so) that those [or they] should destroy them (by) little and little.

<sup>9</sup> Not for thou were unmighty to make wicked [or unpious] men subject to just [or rightwise] men in battle, either to destroy at once, by cruel beasts, either by an hard word;

<sup>10</sup> but thou deemedest by parts, and gavest place to penance, and knewest, that the nation of them was wayward [or shrewd (or depraved)], and their malice was kindly (or by kind), that is, made hard by long custom, and that their thought might not be changed without end.

11 For it was a cursed seed at [or from] the beginning. And thou not dreading any man, gavest forgiveness to the sins of them.

12 For why who shall say to thee, What hast thou done? either [or] who shall stand against thy doom? either [or] who shall come in thy sight, to be(the) avenger of wicked men? either who shall areckon [or reckon] to thee, if nations perish, which thou madest?

<sup>13</sup> For why none other than thou is God, to whom is charge of all things, that thou show, that thou deemest doom not unjustly. [Forsooth there is none other God than thou, to whom is care of all, that thou show, for not unrightwisely thou deemest doom.]

14 Neither king neither tyrant in thy sight shall inquire of these men, which thou hast lost [or hast destroyed].

<sup>15</sup> Therefore since thou art just, thou disposest justly all things [or Since then thou art rightwise, all things rightwise-ly thou disposest]; also Father, thou condemnest him, that oweth not (or ought not) to be punished*, and thou guessest him a stranger from thy virtue.

<sup>16</sup> For why thy virtue (or thy power) is the beginning of rightfulness [or of rightwiseness]; and for this (or because of this), that thou art lord (or the Lord) of all men, thou makest thee to spare all men.

* CHAPTER 12:15 That is, punishest sometime, to (or for the) proving of his patience, (as) it is open (ly) (known) of saint Job.

<sup>17</sup> For thou, that art not believed to be perfect [or full ended] in virtue (or in strength), thou showest virtue (or strength); and thou leadest over these men, that know not thee, in hardiness.

<sup>18</sup> But thou, lord [or lordshipper] of virtue, deemest with peaceableness, and disposest us with great reverence; for it is subject to thee to be able to, when thou wilt.

- <sup>19</sup> Forsooth thou hast taught thy people by such works, that it behooveth a judge to be just, and benign, either merciful; and thou madest thy sons (to be) of good hope, for thou deemest, and givest place to (or for) penance in sins.
- <sup>20</sup> For if thou tormentedest the enemies of thy servants, and men due to death with so great perceiving, either attentiveness, and deliveredest, and gavest time and place [or giving time and place], by which they might be changed from malice;
- <sup>21</sup> with how great diligence deemest thou thy sons, to whose fathers thou gavest oaths and covenants of good promises?
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore when thou givest chastising [or discipline] to us, thou beatest [or thou scourgest] manyfold our enemies, (so) that we, (when) deeming, think (of) thy goodness; and when it is deemed of us, that we hope (for) thy mercy.
- <sup>23</sup> Wherefore and to them, that lived unwisely, and unjustly in their life, thou gavest sovereign torments, by these things which they worshipped.
- <sup>24</sup> For they erred full long in the way of error, and guessed to be gods these things that be superfluous in beasts, and lived by custom of young children unwittily [or living by manner of unwise young children].
- <sup>25</sup> For this thing thou gavest doom, into scorn, as to children unwitty [or unwise children];
- <sup>26</sup> but they, that were not amended by scornings and blamings, feeled the worthy doom of God.
- <sup>27</sup> For they bare heavily in these things, which they suffered, in which things they suffering had indignation [or disdained]; they seeing him, whom they denied sometime them to know, knew him(as the) very (or the true) God, by these things which they guessed (to be) gods among them, when those were destroyed; for which thing and the end of their condemnation shall come on them.

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth all men be vain, that is, void of truth, in which the cunning (or the knowing) of God is not; and of these things that be seen (to be) good, they might not understand him, that is, and they perceiving the works knew not, who was the worker [or (the) craftsman];
- <sup>2</sup> but they guessed (to be the) gods (and) governors of the world, either the fire, either the wind, either the air made swift, either the compass of stars, either full much water, either the sun and moon;
- <sup>3</sup> and if they delighted in the fairness of those things, and guessed them(to be) gods, know they, how much the Lord of those things is fairer than those; for why the engenderer of fairness made all these things. [in whose fairness delighted, if they guessed (to be) gods, know they, how much more the lordshipper of them is the fairer; the (be)getter forsooth of fairness all these thing ordained.]

- <sup>4</sup> Either [Or] if they wondered on the virtue and works of those things, understand they of those [things], that he that made these things, is stronger than those;
- <sup>5</sup> for by the greatness [or the muchliness] of fairness and of (the) creature(s) the Creator of these might be seen knowingly, either might be known by his works.
- <sup>6</sup> But nevertheless yet in these men is less *(com)*plaint; for they err, in hap seeking God, and willing (or desiring) to find (him).
- <sup>7</sup> For when they live in his works, they seek, and hold for a sooth (or a truth), that those things be good, that be seen.
  - <sup>8</sup> Again soothly it oweth (or ought) not to be forgiven to these men.
- <sup>9</sup> For if they might know so much, that they might guess (at) the world, how found they not lightlier (or easier) the Lord thereof?
- <sup>10</sup> forsooth they be cursed, and the hope of them is among dead men, that called gods the works of men's hands, gold, and silver, the finding of craft, and likenesses of beasts, either a stone unprofitable, the work of an eld hand. [Unhappy forsooth they be, and among the dead the hope of them is, that called gods the works of the hands of men, gold, and silver, the finding of craft, and the likenesses of beasts, or unprofit-able stone, the work of the old hand.]
- <sup>11</sup> Either [Or] if any craftsman, a carpenter, heweth down of the woods a straight tree, and eraseth away perfectly all the rind thereof [or and of this taughtly pare away all the rind], and useth his craft diligently, and maketh a vessel full profitable into conversation of life;
- <sup>12</sup> soothly he useth the reliefs (or the remnants) of this work to the making ready of (his) meat;
- <sup>13</sup> and the residue of these things, which he maketh to no work [or that to none use], a crooked tree, and full of knots, he engraveth diligently by his voidness, that is, made of (or by) him by his engraving, and by the cunning (or the knowing) of his craft he figureth it, and likeneth it to the image of a man,
- <sup>14</sup> either maketh it like to some of beasts, and anointeth (it) with red colour, and maketh the colour thereof ruddy with painture, and anointeth, [or daubing, or painting] each spot which is in it,
- <sup>15</sup> and maketh to (or for) it a worthy dwelling place, and setteth it in the wall, and he fasteneth it with iron,
- $^{16}$  lest peradventure it fall down; and he purveyeth for it, and knoweth, that it may not help itself; for it is an image, and help is needful thereto.
- <sup>17</sup> And he maketh a vow, and in-quireth of his chattel, and of his sons, and of weddings; he is not ashamed to speak with him, that is without (a) soul:
- <sup>18</sup> and soothly for health he beseech-eth a thing unmighty [or feeble], and for life he prayeth (to) a thing without life, [or and for life he prayeth (to) the dead] and he calleth an unprofitable thing into (or for) help. And for (a good) journey he asketh of that thing, that may not go;
- <sup>19</sup> and of getting and of working, and of (the) befalling of all things he asketh of him, which is unprofitable in all things. [and of purchasing, and of working, and of the chance of all things he asketh of it, that in all things is unprofitable.]

1985

- <sup>1</sup> Again another man thinking to sail in a ship [or Again another thinking to sail], and beginning to make journey through fierce waves, inwardly calleth (upon) a tree (or a piece of wood) more frail than the tree (or the piece of wood) that beareth him.
- <sup>2</sup> For why covetousness to get money[or winning] found (or was the reason to create) that idol; and a craftsman made it by his wisdom.
- <sup>3</sup> But thou, Father, governest by purveyance, for thou gavest (a) way in the sea [or for thou hast given in the sea (a) way], and a most steadfast path among (the) waves;
- <sup>4</sup> showing that thou art mighty to make whole of [or to heal] all things, yea, (even) if a man goeth to the sea without (a) ship;
- <sup>5</sup> but that the works of thy wisdom should not be void, for this thing men betake their lives, yea, to a little tree, and they pass (over) the sea, and be delivered (or saved) by a ship.
- <sup>6</sup> But at the beginning, when proud giants perished, the hope of the world fled to a ship, and sent again seed of birth to the world, which was governed by thine hand.
- <sup>7</sup> For why blessed is the tree (or the wood), by which rightfulness was made. [Blessed forsooth is the tree, by the which is done rightwiseness.]
- <sup>8</sup> But the idol which is made by hand(s) is cursed, both it, and he that made it, for soothly he wrought great trespass [or unbelievefulness]; soothly that idol, when it was frail, was named God (or a god).
- <sup>9</sup> Forsooth in like manner the wicked man and his wickedness [or the unpious and the unpiousness of him] be hateful to God.
- <sup>10</sup> For why that that is made shall suffer torments, with him that made it
- <sup>11</sup> For this thing and to the idols of nations shall not be (a) beholding [or (a) reward]; for the creatures of God be made into hatred, and into temptation to the soul of men, and into a trap [or a mouse-catch], to the feet of unwise men.
- $^{12}$  For the beginning of fornication, that is, idolatry, which is ghostly (or spiritual) fornication, is the seeking out of idols, and the finding of those idols is the corruption of life.
- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth those were not at the beginning, neither those shall be without end. [Forsooth they were not from the beginning, nor shall be into without end.]
- <sup>14</sup> For why the voidness of men found (or brought) these idols into the world; and therefore the end of those is (or shall be) found short(ly), (or soon).
- <sup>15</sup> For why the father making sorrow with bitter mourning, made soon to him an image of the son that was ravished; and began to worship (or to honour) him now as a god, that was dead then as a man; and he ordained holy things [or temples] and sacrifices among his servants.
- <sup>16</sup> Afterward in time coming betwixt, when the wicked custom was strong, this error was kept as a law, and images were worshipped by (the) lordship (or under the commands) of tyrants.
- <sup>17</sup> The figure of them was brought from (a)far, which the men might not honour in open, for they were far (off)[or These whom in open men might not worship, for that afar they were, from afar the figure of them is brought];

and they made an open image of the king, whom they would honour; that by their busyness they should worship him as present, that was absent.

- <sup>18</sup> Forsooth the noble [or the great] diligence of a craftsman brought in also them, that knew not, to the worship-ping of these things, or of these kings.
- $^{1\bar{9}}$  For he willing (or desiring) more to please the king, that took him, that is, chose him to make an image to (or of) the king, travailed perfectly by his craft, to make a likeness into better, that is, in making the king (appear) fairer, [or that the likeness into better he should figure].

<sup>20</sup> Soothly the multitude of men, deceived by the fairness of (the) work, guessed [or esteemed] him now a god, that was honoured as a man before that time.

<sup>21</sup> And this was the deceit [or the deceiving] of man's life; for why men serving greatly, either to affection, either to kings, putted to stones and trees the name that may not be communed, (or communicated), [or the uncommunicable name].

<sup>22</sup> And it sufficed not, that they erred about the cunning (or the knowing) of God; but also they living in great battle of uncunning, call so many and so great evils peace.

<sup>23</sup> For either they slaying their sons in sacrifice, either [or] making dark sacrifices, either having wakings [or watches] full of madness,

- <sup>24</sup> keep now neither clean life, neither clean weddings [or spousals]; but also one man slayeth another man by envy, either or doing adultery maketh sorry his neighbor.
- <sup>25</sup> And all things be meddled, [or mingled], (or mixed) together, blood, manslaying [or manslaughter], theft, and feigning, corruption, unfaithfulness, dis-turbing (or troubling), and forswearing,
- <sup>26</sup> noise, forgetting of goods of the Lord (or of the good things from the Lord), defouling of souls, changing of birth (or gender), unsteadfastness of weddings, unordaining of lechery and of unchastity. [strife, the unminding of the goods of the Lord, the defouling of souls, the mis-changing of birth, the unstableness of bridals, the unordain-ing of lechery and of uncleanness.]
- $^{27}$  For why the worshipping of cursed idols is the cause, and the beginning, and the end, of all evil.
- <sup>28</sup> For why either they wax mad, while they be glad; either [or] certainly they prophesy false things, either [or] they live unjustly, either [or] they forswear soon.
- <sup>29</sup> For the while they trust in idols, that be without soul, they swear evil, and hope not, that they shall be annoyed (or harmed).
- <sup>30</sup> Therefore ever either shall come to them worthily; for they deemed evil of God, and gave attention to idols [or taking heed to maumets], and they swore unjustly in an idol, and they despised rightfulness [or rightwiseness].
- <sup>31</sup> For why an oath is not virtue, but the pain of sinners goeth forth ever[more], into the breaking of just [or rightwise] things.

CHAPTER 15

 $^{\rm 1}$  For sooth thou, our God, art sweet, and true, and patient, and dispose th all things in mercy.

- <sup>2</sup> For if we sin, we be thine, and know thy greatness; and if we sin not, we know, that we be accounted at thee [or for with thee we be counted].
- <sup>3</sup> For why to know thee, is perfect rightfulness [or full ended rightwiseness]; and to know thy rightfulness [or rightwiseness], and virtue, is the root of undeadliness (or immortality).
- <sup>4</sup> Forsooth the thinking out of evil craft of men brought not us into error, neither the shadow of painture [or of painting] travail without fruit, an image graven by (or with) diverse colours;
- <sup>5</sup> whose beholding giveth covetous-ness to an unwise man, and he loveth the likeness of a dead image without (a) soul. [whose sight to the unwise giveth coveting, and loveth the like-ness of the dead image without soul.]
- <sup>6</sup> The lovers of evils be worthy (of) the death, that have hope in such [things]; and they that make those, and they that love (them), and they that wor-ship (them)be worthy (of) the death.
- <sup>7</sup> But also a potter, thrusting (or squeezing)[the] nesh earth, by great travail maketh each vessel to (or for) our uses; and (out) of the same clay he maketh vessels that be clean to use (or be for clean uses), and in like manner those that be contrary to these; forsooth what use is of these vessels, the potter is (the) judge.
- <sup>8</sup> And (then) he that was made of earth a little before, maketh a god of the same clay with vain travail; and the potter, asked to yield the debt of the soul which he had, leadeth himself after a little time (back)to the earth, from whence he was taken. [And with vain travail (a) god he maketh (out) of the same clay, he that a little before of earth was made; and after a little he leadeth himself (from) whence he is taken, again asked (for) the debt of the soul that he had.]
- <sup>9</sup> But he hath care, not for he shall travail, neither for his life is short, but he striveth with goldsmiths and silver-smiths; but also he pursueth [or followeth] workers of brass, and setteth before glory; for he maketh superfluous [or over-void] things.
- <sup>10</sup> For the heart of him is ashes, and superfluous earth is his hope, and his life is viler [or fouler] than clay.
- <sup>11</sup> For he knew not God, that made him, and that inspired a soul *(in)*to him [or that inspired to him a soul]; and he loveth those things which he hath wrought; and he knew not God, that blowed in him a spirit of life.
- <sup>12</sup> But they guessed fleshly delight-ing [or a playing place] to be our life, and the conversation of life to be made to (or for) winning, either covetousness, and that it behooveth to get on each side, yea, of (or by) evil.
- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth this man that maketh frail vessels, and graven images of the matter (or material) of earth, knoweth that he trespasseth above all men.
- <sup>14</sup> Forsooth, Lord, all (the) unwise men and cursed be proud over the measure of their soul, and be enemies of thy people, and upbraid it [or (be) mis-saying to it];
- <sup>15</sup> for they guessed all the idols of (the) nations to be gods, that have neither sight of eyes to see, neither nostrils to perceive a spirit, either wind, neither ears to hear, neither fingers of hands to touch, but also their feet be slow to go.

- <sup>16</sup> For why a man made those [or A man forsooth made them], and he that borrowed a spirit, made those; for why no man may make a god like himself.
- <sup>17</sup> For since he is deadly (or mortal), by wicked hands he maketh a dead idol[or the dead he maketh with wicked hands]; for he is better than these gods, which he worshippeth; for soothly he lived, when he was deadly (or mortal), but they lived never.

<sup>18</sup> But also most wretched men worship beasts; for why unreasonable beasts, comparisoned to these men, be worse than they.

<sup>19</sup> But neither by sight any man may of these beasts behold goods [or good things]; forsooth they have driven away [or they (have) fled] the praising of God, and his blessing.

CHAPTER 16

- <sup>1</sup> For these things, and things like these, they suffered torments worthily, and they were destroyed by (a) multitude of beasts.
- <sup>2</sup> For which torments thou disposed-est well thy people, to which thou gavest covetousness of their delight-ing a new savour, making ready meat to (or for) them a curlew, that is, a multitude of curlews.
- <sup>3</sup> That soothly they coveting meat, were turned away, yea, from needful coveting, for those things that were showed, and sent to them; but these men made poor in short time, tasted new meat.
- <sup>4</sup> For soothly it behooved perishing to come on them without excusing, using tyranny; but to show only to these Hebrews, how their enemies were destroyed. [Forsooth it behooved to them, haunting tyranny, death to come on without excusation; to them forsooth only to show, how the enemies of them were destroyed.]
- <sup>5</sup> Forsooth when the fierce ire of beasts came on them, they were destroyed by the bitings of wayward serpents. But, Lord, thine ire dwelled not without end [or But not into evermore thy wrath abode still];
- <sup>6</sup> but they were troubled in short time *(un)*to (their) amending [or (their) correction], and had a sign of health (or of deliverance), to (the) remembering of the commandment of thy law.

<sup>7</sup> For he that was converted, was healed not by that that he saw, but by thee, (the) Saviour of all men [or (the) saviour of all].

<sup>8</sup> Forsooth in this thou showedest to our enemies, that thou it art [or thou art], that deliverest from all evil.

<sup>9</sup> Forsooth the bitings of locusts and of flies killed them, and health of (or for) their life was not found; for they were worthy to be destroyed of (or by) such things.

<sup>10</sup> But neither the teeth of dragons, neither of venomous beasts overcame thy children; for why thy mercy came, and healed them.

- <sup>11</sup> For they were tormented in mind of (or by) thy words, that is, that they should be mindful of thy behests, and they were healed swiftly [or swiftly they were saved]; lest they falling into deep forgetting of God, [they] might not use thine help.
- <sup>12</sup> For neither herb, neither plaster healed them; but, Lord, thy word [or but thy word, Lord], that healeth all things.
- <sup>13</sup> Lord, thou art, that hast (the) power of life and of death; and leadest forth to the gates of death, and leadest (up) again.

- <sup>14</sup> But soothly a man slayeth his soul by malice; and when the spirit is gone out, it shall not *(re)*turn again, neither the body shall again-call the soul, which is received;
  - <sup>15</sup> but it is impossible to escape thine hand.
- <sup>16</sup> For why wicked [or unpious] men, denying to know thee, were torment-ed [or scourged] by the strength of thine arm; they suffered persecution by [or with] new waters, and hails, and rains, and were wasted by fire.
- <sup>17</sup> For why that was wonderful, the fire had more might in the water, that quencheth all things; for why the world was (the) avenger of (or for) just [or rightwise] men.
- <sup>18</sup> For why sometime the fire was mild [or tamed], lest the beasts should be burnt, that were sent to (or sent against) wicked [or unpious] men; but that they seeing should know, that they suffer persecution by the doom of God.
- <sup>19</sup> And sometime the fire burnt on high on each side in the water, above the virtue (or the power) of fire, to destroy the wicked nation of the land.
- <sup>20</sup> For which things thou nourished-est thy people with (the) meat of angels, and thou gavest from heaven bread made ready to (or for) them, without travail; having all delighting in itself, and the sweetness of all savour.
- <sup>21</sup> For thou showedest thy chattel [or thy substance], and thy sweetness, which thou hast, to sons; and the bread serving to the will of each man, was turned to that, that each man would (or desired).
- <sup>22</sup> Forsooth snow and ice suffered the might [or the strength] of (the) fire, and melted not; (so) that they should know, that fire burning, in hail and rain lightning, destroyed the fruits of (the) enemies.
- <sup>23</sup> Soothly again this was wonderful, also (the) fire forgot his virtue (or its own strength), (so) that (the) just men should be nourished.
- <sup>24</sup> For why the creature serving to thee the Maker, waxeth white into torment against unjust men [or burneth out into torment against unrightwise men], and is made lighter [or softer] to do well, for them that trust in thee.
- $^{25}$  For this thing and all things trans-figured then, that is, changed from the property of their kind, served to thy grace, nourisher of all things, to the will of them, that be desired of (or by) thee;
- <sup>26</sup> (so) that, Lord, thy sons should know, which thou lovedest [or that thy sons, whom thou lovedest, Lord, should know], that not the fruits of birth, that is, not only (the) fruits coming forth of (or from the) earth, feed men, but thy word keepeth them, that believe in thee.
- <sup>27</sup> For why that that might not be destroyed of (or by the) fire, that is, manna, melted anon (or at once)as it was made hot of (or by) a little beam of the sun;
- <sup>28</sup> (so) that it were known to all men, that it behooveth to come before the sun to thy blessing, and to worship thee at the rising of the light [or and at the springing of light to honour thee].
- <sup>29</sup> Forsooth the hope of an unkind man shall melt away as (the) ice of winter, and shall perish as superflu-ous water.

- <sup>1</sup>Forsooth, Lord, thy dooms be great, and thy words may not be (or be not able to be) fully told out; unlearned souls erred for these. [Forsooth great be thy dooms, Lord, and untellable thy words; for these the undisciplined souls erred.]
- <sup>2</sup> For the while wicked men hold for steadfast, (so) that they may be lords of (the) holy nation, they were fettered with bonds of darknesses, and of long night, and were closed under roofs; and they fugitives were subject to everlasting [or perpetual] purveyance.
- <sup>3</sup> And the while they guess them-(selves) to be hid in (their) dark sins, they were scattered by (the) dark hiding of forgetting [or by the dark veil of forgetting they be scattered], dreading hideously, and disturbed (or troubled) with full great wondering.
- <sup>4</sup> For the den that withheld them, kept not without dread; for why sound coming down disturbed (or troubled) them, and sorrowful persons appearing to them, gave dread to them.
- <sup>5</sup> And soothly no might [or strength] of [the] fire might give light to them, and the clear flames of stars might not lighten that hideous night.
- <sup>6</sup> Soothly sudden fire full of dread appeared to them [or Forsooth there appeared to them sudden fire, full of dread]; and they were smitten with the dread of that face, that was not seen, and guessed those things to be worse, that were seen.
- <sup>7</sup> And (the) scorns of witchcraft were laid to (it), and the glory of wisdom was chastising with despising. [And of divining craft the scorns were laid to (it), and the glory of wisdom correction with strife.]
- <sup>8</sup> For they, that promised themselves to put away dreads and disturbings [or perturbations] from a sick soul, were full with scorn, and were sick for dread.
- <sup>9</sup> For why though nothing of the wonders against kind disturbed them, they were moved [or stirred (up)] by the passing of beasts, and by the hissing of adders,
- $^{10}$  and they trembled, and perished [or fearful, they perished]; and denied, that they saw the air, which a man might not escape or flee, by any reason; for why worst things before-occupy often, while the conscience reproveth.
- $^{\tilde{1}1}$  For since wickedness is dreadful, it is given into condemnation of (or by) all men; for why a conscience disturbed (or troubled) presumeth ever[more] wicked things.
- <sup>12</sup> For why dread is nothing, but help of presumption, and showing of thought of helps [or (and a) betraying of the helps of thought].
- <sup>13</sup> And the while less abiding is from within, it guesseth greater power of that cause, of which it giveth torment.
- <sup>14</sup> Forsooth they, that came into a mighty night, and coming above (or up-on) from (the) lowest things, and from (the) highest things, they sleeping the same sleep, [They forsooth, that verily the unmighty night, and sleeping the same sleep, overcoming from the lowest, and from the highest,]
- <sup>15</sup> were hurled sometime by dread of wonders against kind, sometime the souls failed by leading over; for why sudden dread and unhoped (for), came on them.

- <sup>16</sup> Afterward if any of them had fell down, he was kept closed in (a) prison, without iron (bars);
- <sup>17</sup> for if any churl was, either shep-herd, either a workman of (the) fields, and was before-occupied, he suffered need that might not be escaped [or (was) unescapable]. For why all men were bound together by [or with] one chain of darknesses;
- <sup>18</sup> either a wind hissing, either (a) sweet sound of birds betwixt the thick boughs of trees, either the fierceness of water running down greatly,
- <sup>19</sup> either a strong sound of stones cast down, either the running unseen of beasts playing, either the strong voice of beasts lowing, either (an) echo sounding again from (the) highest hills, made them failing for dread. [or strong sound of stones falled down, or the unseen course of playing beasts, or the strong voice of lowing beasts, or the again-sounding rebounding of sound from the highest hills, made them failing for dread.]
- <sup>20</sup> Forsooth all the world was light-ened with clear light, and was not withholden in works hindered. [For-sooth all the roundness of (the) earth's was lighted with clear light, and con-tained in works not letted (or hindered).]
- <sup>21</sup> But a grievous night, the image of darknesses, that was to coming on them, was set on them alone; there-fore they were grievouser to themselves than the darknesses. [Forsooth only to them was overset a grievous night, image of darknesses, that was to come onto, or unto, them; then they to them-selves were more grievous than the darknesses.]

- <sup>1</sup> But full great light there was to thine holy servants[or To thy saints for sooth was most light], and soothly (the) enemies heard the voice of them, but they saw not the figure, either shape; and for also they suffered not by the same things, they magnified thee.
- <sup>2</sup> And for they were hurt before, they did thankings [or graces] to thee, for (or because) they were not hurt; and that (a) difference should be betwixt them and (the) Egyptians, they asked thee, God.
- <sup>3</sup> For which thing they had a burn-ing pillar of fire, the leader of (the) unknown way; and thou gavest the sun, without hurting of good harbour.
- <sup>4</sup> Forsooth they were worthy to want [or to lack] light, and to suffer the prison of darknesses, which held [or kept] thy sons enclosed; by which sons[or by whom] the uncorrupt light of (the) law began to be given to the world.
- <sup>5</sup> When they thought to slay the young children of (the) just men [or the infants of (the) rightwise men]; and when one son was put forth, and delivered, (to reprove them) thou tookest away the multitude of (their) sons, that is, of the first engendered of Egypt, for the leading over of them, and thou lostest (or destroyedest) them *(al)*together in strong water.
- <sup>6</sup> Forsooth that night was known before of (or by) our fathers, that they witting verily to which [or what] oaths they believed, should be more patient [or more steadfast].
- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth health (or the deliverance) of just [or rightwise] men was received verily of thy people, and also destroy-ing of unjust [or unrightwise] men.

- $^{\rm 8}$  For as thou hurtedest our adversaries, so thou excitedest also us, and magnifiedest us.
- <sup>9</sup> For why (the) just [or the right-wise] children of good men made sacrifice privily, and disposed the law of rightfulness [or of rightwiseness] into according; they disposed just [or right-wise] men to receive goods and evils in like manner, and sung [or singing] praisings to the Father of all men.
- <sup>10</sup> But (the) unseemly voice of (the) enemies sounded, and weepful wailing of beweepers of young children [or weepful wailing of bewept young children] was heard.
- <sup>11</sup> For sooth the servant was torment-ed by like pain with the lord; and a man of the people suffered things like the king.
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore in like manner all men by one name of death had dead men unnumberable, for neither quick (or living) men sufficed to bury (those dead); for why the nation of them, that was clearer than (the) others, was des-troyed in one moment. [Then (in) like manner all with one name of death had unnumberable dead men, nor the quick forsooth sufficed to bury; for (in) one moment the nation of them, that was more clear, is destroyed.]
- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth of all (the) Egyptians(the) men not believing for benefices, prom-ised them(selves) then to be God's people, when the destroying of the first engendered things was first. [Of all forsooth they not believing for the benefits, then when first was the death of the first (be)gotten, they promised themselves the people of God to be.]
- <sup>14</sup> Forsooth when all things held restful silence, and the night had the middle way in his course, [When for-sooth quiet silence contained all things, and the night in his course had the mean way,]
- <sup>15</sup> Lord, thy word almighty coming swiftly from heaven, came from the king's seats (or throne); [thine almighty word, Lord, going out from heaven, from the king's seats (or seat) came;]
- <sup>16</sup> a sharp sword bearing thy commandment not feigned, came forth, overcomer into the middle of the land of destroying; and it stood, and filled all things with death, and it stood in (or on the) earth, and stretched forth till to heaven.
- $^{17}$  Then anon the sights of evil dreams disturbed (or troubled) them, and dreads not hoped (for) came above (or upon them).
- <sup>18</sup> And another man cast forth half quick [or alive] into another place, showed for what cause of death he died.
- <sup>19</sup> For why (the) sights that disturbed (or troubled) them, beforewarned (of) these things, (so) that they should perish not unwittingly [or unknowing-ly], why they suffered evils.
- <sup>20</sup> Forsooth (the) temptation of death, that is, punishment by death, touched then also just [or rightwise] men, and moving (al)together of (the) multitude was made in (the) desert; but thine ire dwelled not long, [or and there is made of the multitude a stirring in (the) wilderness; but not long abode still thy wrath].
- <sup>21</sup> For a man without *(com)*plaint [or without blame] hast*(en)*ed to beseech [or to pray] for (the) peoples, and he brought forth prayer the shield of his service, and he alleged (or he offered up) prayer by incense, and against-stood ire [or withstood to the wrath]; and he setted [or put] an end to the need, and showed that he was thy servant.

- <sup>22</sup> Forsooth he overcame companies, not by virtue of body, neither by armour, (or arms, or weapons) of power; but he remembered the oaths, and the testament(s) of (the) fathers (or the covenants made with the fathers), and by word he made him(self) subject, that travailed himself.
- <sup>23</sup> For when dead men fell down by heaps, each on (the) other, he stood betwixt [or between]dead men and living, or the dead and the quick (or the living), and cut away the fierce-ness of burning, and parted that way, that led to quick (or living) men.
- <sup>24</sup> For why all the world, by signify-ing either figure, was in the cloth (or the cloak) lasting to the heels, which he had; and the great things of (the) fathers were engraved in four orders of stones; and, Lord, thy magnificence was written in (or on) the diadem of his head. [Forsooth in the clothing of the priest('s) cape, that he had, was all the roundness of (the) earth's; and the great things of (the) fathers were graven in four orders of stones; and thy great doing in (or on) the diadem of his head was written.]
- <sup>25</sup> Forsooth he that destroyed, gave stead to these things, and dreaded these things, for why the temptation alone was sufficient to ire. [To these forsooth he gave stead, that destroyed, and these things he full out dreaded; forsooth there was alone sufficient tempting of wrath.]

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth ire without mercy came on wicked men till into the last, that is, till to the drenching (or the drown-ing) of them; for why God before-knew also the things to coming of them.
- $^2$  For when they were turned, and had suffered (or allowed), that they should lead out them, and had before-sent them with great busyness, the deeds of repenting pursued them.
- <sup>3</sup> For they having yet mourning be-twixt the hands, and they beweeping at the sepulchres of dead men [or and weeping at the monuments of the dead], took to them(selves) another thought of uncunning, (or of unknowing, or of ignorance); and they pur-sued those Hebrews, as fleers away, which they praying had sent forth.
- <sup>4</sup> For why worthy need [or worthy necessity] led them to this end, and they lost remembering of these things, that had befallen, that punishing should [ful] fill those things, that failed [or lacked] of torments,
- <sup>5</sup> and that soothly thy people should pass wonderfully; forsooth that they should find a new death.
- <sup>6</sup> For why each creature serving to thine behests (or thy commands), was reformed to his kind at the beginning, (so) that thy children should be kept unhurt.
- <sup>7</sup> For why a cloud beshadowed the castles of them (or their camp), and dry earth appeared in water that was before (or where water was before), and a way without letting (or hindrance)appeared in the Red Sea or the Reed Sea, and a field burgeoning from (a) full great depth;
- <sup>8</sup> by which field all the nation passed, that was covered with thine hand; forsooth they saw thy marvels and wonders.

<sup>9</sup> For they as horses devoured meat, that is, took the armours of (the) Egyptians, which they saw dead on the brink of the sea (or on the seashore), and as lambs they made full out joy, magnifying thee, Lord, that deliveredest them.

<sup>10</sup> For they were mindful yet of those things, that were done in the dwelling of them among (the) Egyptians; how the land brought forth flies, for the nation of beasts, and the flood (or the river) brought forth (a) multitude of paddocks [or frogs] for fishes.

<sup>11</sup> Forsooth at the last they saw a new creature of birds, when they were led by covetousness, and asked (for) meats of feast.

12 For in the speaking to, that is, at the asking of them, of (or for) their desire, a curlew ascended [or went up] to them from the sea;

- <sup>13</sup> and dis-eases [or travails] came on (the) sinners, and not without provings [or evidences] of those things, that were done before by the fierceness [or the force] of floods. For they suffered justly, by [or after] their wickednesses; for they ordained more abominable unhospitality.
- <sup>14</sup> Soothly some received not un-known comelings; soothly others took good men harboured into thralldom, [or servage, (or servitude)].
- <sup>15</sup> And not only they did these things, but soothly also another beholding [or respect] of them was, that they against their will received strangers.
- <sup>16</sup> Forsooth they that used the same ordinances, tormented with cruelest sorrows them, that (they had) received with gladness.
- <sup>17</sup> Forsooth they were smitten with blindness, as they in the gates of the just man [or the rightwise], when they were covered with sudden darknesses; each man sought the passing (out) of his (own) door.
- <sup>18</sup> Forsooth while elements be turn-ed into themselves, as the sound of manner [or of quality] is changed in (an) organ, and (yet) all things keep their sound; wherefore it may be guessed of that certain sight.
- <sup>19</sup> Beasts of the field were turned into beasts of water; whatever were swim-ming things, went in (or on) the land.
- <sup>20</sup> Fire in water had power above his virtue (or its own strength); and (the) water forgot the kind quenching.
- <sup>21</sup> Again-ward flames of corruptible beasts dis-eased not the fleshes of (the)Hebrews going together (with them); neither departed that good meat, that was departed (as) lightly as ice.
- <sup>22</sup> Forsooth, Lord, thou magnifiedest thy people in all things, and honouredest; and despisedest not, and helpedest them in each time and in each place.

ECCLESIASTICUS

- <sup>1</sup> All wisdom is of (or from) the Lord God, and was ever with him, and is before the world.
- <sup>2</sup> Who numbered the gravel of the sea, and the drops of rain, and the days of the world?
- <sup>3</sup> Who measured the highness [or the height] of heaven, and the breadth of (the) earth, and the depth of the sea? Who ensearched (or searched for) the wisdom of God, that goeth before all things?
- <sup>4</sup> Wisdom was formed first of all things, and the understanding of prudence, from the world, that is, from without beginning.
- <sup>5</sup> The well of wisdom is the son of God in high things; and the entering of that wisdom is (the) everlasting commandments. [The well of wisdom (is) the word of God in heights; and the in-going of it (is) everlasting commandments.]
- <sup>6</sup> To whom was the root of wisdom showed? and who knew the subtleties thereof?
- <sup>7</sup> To whom was the lore [or the discipline] of wisdom showed, and made open? and who understood the multiplying of the entering thereof, that is, of the work thereof?
- <sup>8</sup> One is the highest Creator [or the maker (out) of nought] of all things, almighty, and a mighty king, and worthy to be dreaded full much, sitting on the throne of that wisdom, and God having lordship.
- <sup>9</sup> He formed it in the Holy Ghost, and he saw, and numbered, and he measured (it). And he shedded [or poured] out it [up] on all his works,
- <sup>10</sup> and on each flesh by his gift [or and upon all flesh after his gift]; he giveth it to them that love him.
- <sup>11</sup> The dread of the Lord is glory, and glorying [or joying], and gladness, and a crown of full out joying.
- <sup>12</sup> The dread of the Lord shall delight the heart; and shall give gladness and joy into [the] length of days.
- <sup>13</sup> To him that dreadeth God, it shall be well in the last things, or in the last days; and he shall be blessed in the day of his death. Forsooth they to whom wisdom appeareth in sight, that is, by (the) revelation of prophecy, love it in sight, and in (the) knowing of his great things. The love of God is honourable wisdom.
- <sup>14</sup> The beginning of wisdom is the dread of the Lord; and it is formed together in the womb with faithful men, and it goeth with chosen women, and it is known with just [or rightwise] men and faithful.
- <sup>15</sup> The dread (or fear) of the Lord is religiosity of cunning, (or knowing, or knowledge). Religiosity shall keep, and shall justify the heart; and shall give mirth and joy. It shall be well to him that dreadeth God; and he shall be blessed in the days of his comfort [or (the) ending of him].
- <sup>16</sup> The fullness of wisdom is for to dread God; and fullness is of the fruits thereof.
- <sup>17</sup> It shall fill each gift [or each house] of him of (or for) generations, and (the) receipts of (or the recep-tacles with) the treasures thereof.

- <sup>18</sup> The crown of wisdom is the dread of the Lord, and filleth peace [or ful-filling peace], and the fruit of health. And he saw, and numbered it; for-sooth ever either be the gifts of God.
- <sup>19</sup> Wisdom shall part the cunning (or the knowing) and understanding of prudence; and it enhanceth the glory of them, that hold it.
- <sup>20</sup> The root of wisdom is for to dread God; forsooth the branches thereof be long enduring [or long living]. Understanding and religiosity of cunning, (or knowing, or knowl-edge)be in the treasures of wisdom; but wisdom is abomination to sinners.
- <sup>21</sup> The dread of the Lord putteth away sin, for he that is without dread of God, may not be [or shall not be able to be] justified;
- <sup>22</sup> for why the wrathfulness of his pride [or willfulness] is the destroying of him.
- <sup>23</sup> A patient man shall suffer the dis-eases of a proud man till into (a) time; and afterward there shall be yielding of mirth.
- $^{24}$  Good wit shall hide the words of him till into a time; and the lips of many men shall tell out the wit of him.
- <sup>25</sup> In the treasures of wisdom is signifying of cunning (or of knowing); but the worshipping of God is (an) abomination to a sinner.
- $^{26}$  A! (or O) son, coveting wisdom, keep thou rightfulness [or rightwiseness], and God shall give it to thee.
- <sup>27</sup> For why the dread of the Lord is wisdom, and cunning (or knowing), [or discipline], and that that is well pleasant (or well-pleasing) to him is faith and mildness (or meekness); and God[or it] shall [full]-fill the treasures of him.
- <sup>28</sup> Be thou not rebel(lious), and unbelieveful to the dread of the Lord; and nigh (or approach) thou not to him in or with double heart.
- <sup>29</sup> Be thou not an hypocrite in the sight of men; and be thou not slandered in (or caused to stumble by) thy lips.
- <sup>30</sup> Take thou keep (or care) to those [things], lest thou fall, and bring dishonor to thy soul; and lest God show thy privates (or thy secrets), [or hid things], and hurtle thee down in the midst of the synagogue, that is, of (the) gathering together of faithful men; for thou nighedest wickedly [or maliciously] to the Lord, and thine heart was full of guile and of falseness.

- <sup>1</sup> Son, nighing to the service of God, stand thou in rightfulness [or rightwiseness], and dread; and make ready [or prepare] thy soul to (or for) temptation.
- <sup>2</sup> Bear down thine heart, and suffer, and bow down thine ear, and take the words of understanding, and haste thou not into the time of death [or oppressing].
- <sup>3</sup> Suffer thou the sustainings of God; be thou joined to God, and abide thou, (so) that thy life wax, (or grow, or increase) in the last time.
- <sup>4</sup> Take thou all thing that is set to thee, and suffer thou in sorrow, and have thou patience in thy lowness [or meekness].
- <sup>5</sup> For why gold and silver is proved in fire; forsooth men worthy to be received be proved in the chimney of lowness [or of meekness].

- <sup>6</sup> Believe thou to God, and he shall recover thee; and (ad)dress (or direct) thou thy way, and hope thou into him. Keep thou his dread, and wax thou eld therein [or in him wax old].
- <sup>7</sup> Ye that dread the Lord, abide his mercy, and bow ye not away from him, lest ye fall down [or lest ye fall].
- <sup>8</sup> Ye that dread the Lord, believe to (or in) him, and your meed (or your reward) shall not be voided [away].
- <sup>9</sup> Ye that dread the Lord, hope into him, and mercy shall come to you into delighting.
- <sup>10</sup> Ye that dread the Lord, love him, and your hearts shall be lightened or enlightened. Sons, behold ye the nations of men, and know ye, that no man hoped in the Lord, and was shamed (or confounded); none dwell-ed [or abode still] in his behests (or commandments), and was forsaken; either who inwardly called him, and he despised him?
- <sup>11</sup> For why God is piteous (or com-passionate), and merciful, and he shall forgive sins in the day of trib-ulation; and he is (the) defender to (or of) all men, that seek him in truth.
- <sup>12</sup> Woe to the double in heart, and with cursed lips, and mis-doing [or evil-doing] hands; and to a sinner entering [or going] into the land by two ways.
- <sup>13</sup> Woe to them that be dissolute of [or unstable in] heart, that believe not to God; and therefore they shall not be defended of (or by) him.
- <sup>14</sup> Woe to them that have lost patience, and that have forsaken rightful [or right] ways, and have turned away [or aside] into shrewd (or depraved) ways. And what shall they do, when the Lord shall begin to behold (upon them)?
- <sup>15</sup> They that dread the Lord, shall not be unbelieveful to his word; and they that love him, shall keep his way(s).
- <sup>16</sup> They that dread the Lord, shall inquire (of)[or inwardly seek] those things, that be well pleasant (or well-pleasing) to him; and they that love him, shall be filled with his law.
- <sup>17</sup> They that dread the Lord, shall make ready [or prepare] their hearts, and shall hallow their souls in his sight. They that dread the Lord, shall keep his commandments, and they shall have patience till to the beholding of him:
- <sup>18</sup> and shall say, If we do not penance, we shall fall into the hands of the Lord, and not into the hands of men. For by the greatness of him, so and his mercy is with him. The sons of wisdom be the church of just [or rightwise] men, and the nation of them is obedience and love.

- $^{1}$  Dearworthy sons, hear ye the doom of the father; and do ye so, (so) that ye be safe (or be saved).
- <sup>2</sup> For why God honoured the father in (or over the) sons, and he seeketh, and hath made steadfast the doom of the mother into (or over the) sons.
- <sup>3</sup> He that loveth God, shall pray for (his) sins, and he shall abstain himself from those [or from them], and he shall be heard in the prayer of days.
  - <sup>4</sup> And as he that treasureth, so he that honoureth his mother.
- <sup>5</sup> He that honoureth his father, shall be made merry in sons, and he shall be heard in the day of his prayer.

- <sup>6</sup> He that honoureth his father, shall live by [or with] longer life; and he that obeyeth to the father, shall refresh the mother, that is, shall comfort her.
- <sup>7</sup> He that dreadeth the Lord, honoureth father and mother; and he shall serve in work, and word, and in all patience to them that engendered [or begat] him, as to lords.
- <sup>8</sup> Honour thy father, (so) that the blessing of God come to thee; and his blessing dwelleth in the last.
- <sup>9</sup> The blessing of the father maketh steadfast the houses of sons; but the cursing of the mother draweth out the foundaments (or the foundations) [by the root].
- <sup>10</sup> Have thou not glory in the des-pising of thy father; for it is not glory to thee, but confusion [or shame].
- <sup>11</sup> For why the glory of a man is of the honour of his father; and the shame of the son is a father without honour.
- <sup>12</sup> Son, receive the eld [or the last age] of thy father, and make thou not him sorry [or (have) sorrow] in his life;
- <sup>13</sup> and if he faileth in wit, give thou forgiveness, and despise thou not him in thy virtue (or in thy strength);
- <sup>14</sup> for why the alms-[deed(s)] of (or for) the father shall not be [in] forgetting (or forgotten). For why good shall be restored to thee for the sin of the mother, and building [up] shall be made to thee in rightfulness [or rightwiseness];
- <sup>15</sup> and it shall remember of thee in the day of tribulation, and thy sins shall be released [or loos(en)ed], as ice in (the) clearness, either heat, of the sun.
- $^{16}$  He is of full evil fame, that forsaketh the father; and he that wratheth the mother, is cursed of (or by) God.
- $^{17}$  Son, perform thy works in mild-ness (or in meekness), and thou shalt be loved over the glory of men.
- $^{18}$  In as much as thou art great, make thee meek in all things, and thou shalt find grace before God;
  - <sup>19</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
- <sup>20</sup> for why the power of God alone is great, and he is honoured of (or by) meek men.
- <sup>21</sup> Seek thou not higher things than thou [or thyself], and inquire [or search] thou not (about) stronger things than thou;
- <sup>22</sup> but ever[more] think thou (upon) those things, which God commanded to thee; and be thou not curious in (or about the) full many works of him. For it is not needful to (or for) thee to see with thine eyes those things, that be hid.
- <sup>23</sup> In superfluous things do not thou seek [or ensearch] manyfold; and be thou not curious in (the) many works of him; for why full many things above the wit of men be showed to thee.
- <sup>24</sup> For the suspicion of many men hath deceived them(selves), and withheld their wits in vanity.
  - <sup>25</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
- <sup>26</sup> An hard heart shall have evil in the last time; and he that loveth peril shall perish therein. An heart that entereth [or going] by two ways, that is, that hath the knowing of good in understanding, and malice in will, shall not have prosperities, either rest; and a man of shrewd (or depraved) heart, shall be slandered in those (or shall be caused to stumble by them).

- <sup>27</sup> A wicked heart shall be grieved in sorrows; and a sinner shall heap to, or add to, [or lay to], to do sin.
- <sup>28</sup> Health (or Deliverance) shall not be to the synagogue of proud men; for why the thick wood [or bush] of sin shall be drawn out [or taken up] by the root in them, and it shall not be understood, of (or by) sinners who will not think on God's dooms.
- <sup>29</sup> The heart of a wise man is understood in wisdom, and a good ear shall hear wisdom with all covetousness. A wise heart and able to understand shall abstain itself from sins, and shall have prosperities in the works of rightfulness [or rightwise-ness].
- <sup>30</sup> Water quencheth (a) fire burning, and alms-[deeds] against-standeth sins.
- <sup>31</sup> And God, the beholder of him that yieldeth grace, that is, (that) doeth alms-(deeds), hath mind after-ward; and he shall find steadfastness in the time of his fall.

- <sup>1</sup> Son, defraud thou not the alms-[deed(s)] of a poor man, and turn not over (or away) thine eyes from a poor man [or from the poor].
- <sup>2</sup> Despise thou not an hungry man, and wrath thou not a poor man in his neediness. [The hungering soul not despise thou, and stir thou not out to wrath the poor in his mis-ease.]
- <sup>3</sup> Torment thou not the heart of a needy man, and tarry thou not the gift to a man that is set in anguish. [The heart of the helpless not torment thou, and draw thou not along (a) gift to the man put in straits.]
- <sup>4</sup> Cast thou not away the praying of a man set in tribulation, and turn not away thy face from a needy man. [The praying of the troubled not cast thou away, and turn thou not away thy face from the needy.]
- <sup>5</sup> Turn not away thine eyes from a poor man for ire [or wrath], and give not occasion, [or cause], to men ask-ing to curse thee (from) behind.
- <sup>6</sup> For the prayer of him that curseth thee in the bitterness of soul, shall be heard; forsooth he that made him, shall hear him.
- <sup>7</sup> Make thee easy to speak to the congregation of poor men, and make meek thy soul to a priest, that is, do thou due reverence to an eld man, and make meek thine head to a great man.
- <sup>8</sup> Bow down without sorrow thine ear to a poor man [or to the poor], and yield thy debt, and answer thou peaceably in mildness (or with meekness).
- <sup>9</sup> Deliver thou him that suffereth wrong from the hand of a proud man, and bear thou not heavily in thy soul (when deeming).
- <sup>10</sup> In deeming be thou merciful as a father to fatherless children, and be thou for an husband to the mother of them; and thou shalt be as an obedient son of the Highest, and he shall have mercy on thee more than a mother hath mercy on her child.
- <sup>11</sup> Wisdom inspireth [or inbreathed] life to his (or to its) sons, and receiveth men seeking him (or it), and shall go before (them) in the way of rightfulness [or rightwiseness];

- $^{12}$  and he that loveth that wisdom, loveth life, and they that wake to it, shall embrace the peaceableness, [or the gladness], either sweetness, thereof.
- <sup>13</sup> They that hold it, shall inherit life; and whither it shall enter, God shall bless.
- <sup>14</sup> They that serve it, shall be obeying to the Holy (One); and God loveth them, that love it.
- <sup>15</sup> He that heareth it, deemeth folks; and he that beholdeth it, shall dwell trustily.
- <sup>16</sup> If a man believeth to it [or give faith to it], he shall dwell, and inherit it; and the creatures of them shall be in confirming, that is, the works of them shall be confirmed in good.
- <sup>17</sup> For in temptation it goeth with him, and among the first it chooseth him. It shall bring in on him dread, and fear, and proving, and it shall torment him in the tribulation of his doctrine [or his teaching], till it tempt him in his thoughts, and (it) believe to (or in) his soul.
- <sup>18</sup> And it shall make him steadfast, and shall bring (the) right way to him, and it shall make him glad; and shall make naked his privates to him (or shall make open his secrets to him), and shall treasure on him cunning (or knowing), and understanding of rightfulness [or rightwiseness].
- <sup>19</sup> Forsooth if he erreth, God[or it] shall forsake him, and shall betake him into the hands of his enemy.
- <sup>20</sup> Son, keep thou or wait (on) time, and eschew thou [or shun away] from evil. Be thou not ashamed (even) for thy life to say (the) truth;
- <sup>21</sup> for why there is shame that bringeth sin, and there is shame that bringeth glory and grace.
- <sup>22</sup> Take thou not a face against thy face, that is, against thy soul, neither a leasing (or a lie) against thy soul.
- <sup>23</sup> Shame thou not thy neighbour in his fall[ing], neither withhold thou a word in the time of health.
- <sup>24</sup> Hide not thy wisdom in the fairness thereof; for why wisdom is known in (the) tongue, and wit, and cunning (or knowing), and teaching in the word of a wise man; and stead-fastness is in the works of rightfulness [or rightwiseness].
- <sup>25</sup> Against-say thou not (or Say thou not against) the word of truth in any manner; and be thou ashamed of the leasing (or lies) of thy mis-learning.
- <sup>26</sup> Be thou not ashamed to acknowl-edge thy sins; and make thee not subject to each man for sin.
- <sup>27</sup> Do not thou stand against [or withstand] the face of the mighty, neither enforce (or endeavor) thou against the stroke of the flood (or the river).
- <sup>28</sup> For rightfulness fight thou for the health of thy soul, and till to the death strive thou for rightfulness; and God shall overcome thine enemies for thee. [For rightwiseness fight for thy soul, and unto death strive for rightwiseness; and God shall outfight, or overcome, for thee thine enemies.]
- <sup>29</sup> Do not thou be swift in (or with) thy tongue, and unprofitable and slack, [or sloth(ful)], in (or with) thy works.
- <sup>30</sup> Do not thou be as a lion in thine house, turning upside down thy menials, and oppressing them that be subject/s to thee.
  - <sup>31</sup> Thine hand be not ready to take, and closed (al)together to give.

- <sup>1</sup> Do not thou take heed to wicked possessions, and say thou not, Sufficient life is to me [or There is to me sufficient life], that is, long is to coming to me, therefore I must get many things; for it shall nothing profit in the time of vengeance, and of failing [or oppressing], either death.
- <sup>2</sup> Pursue thou not the covetousness of thine heart in thy strength, [Not follow thou in thy strength the coveting of thine heart,]
- <sup>3</sup> and say thou not, As I might, either, who shall make me subject for my deeds? For why God avenging shall avenge.
- <sup>4</sup> Say thou not, I have sinned, and what sorrowful thing befell to me? For the Highest is a patient yielder.
- <sup>5</sup> Of the forgiveness of sins, do not thou be without dread, neither heap thou, [or lay thou], sin upon sin.
- <sup>6</sup> And say thou not, The merciful doing of God is great [or The mercy of God is great]; he shall have mercy on the multitude of my sins. For why mercy and ire nigheth soon from him, and his ire beholdeth on sinners.
- <sup>7</sup> Tarry thou not to be converted to the Lord, and delay thou not [or put thou it off] from day into day. For why his ire shall come suddenly, and he shall lose (or destroy) thee in the time of vengeance.
- <sup>8</sup> Do not thou be anguished in unjust [or unright] riches; for those [or they] shall not profit in the day of failing, either of death, and of vengeance.
- $^9$  Winnow thee not into each wind, and go thou not into each way; for so a sinner is proved in (or with a) double tongue.
- <sup>10</sup> Be thou steadfast in the way of the Lord, and in truth and cunning (or the knowing) of thy wit; and the word of peace and of rightfulness [or of rightwiseness] pursue thee perfectly.
- $^{11}$  Be thou mild (or meek) to hear the word of God, (so) that thou understand, and with wisdom bring thou forth a true answer.
- $^{12}$  If thou hast understanding, answer thy neighbor; else thine hand be on thy mouth, lest thou be taken (or caught) in a word unwisely taught, and be ashamed.
- <sup>13</sup> Honour and glory is in the word of a wise man; but the tongue of an unprudent man is his destroying.
- <sup>14</sup> Be thou not called a privy evil speaker in thy life, and be thou not taken in (or with) thy tongue, and be ashamed. Shame and penance is on a thief, and worst shame, either cursing, is on a man of (or with a) double tongue. Forsooth hatred and enmity and despising is to a privy backbiter.
- <sup>15</sup> Justify thou a little man and a great man [or the little and the great] in like manner.

- <sup>1</sup> Do not thou for a friend (or instead of a friend) be made (an) enemy to thy neighbour; for why an evil man shall inherit upbraiding and despising, and each sinner envious and double-tongued.
- <sup>2</sup> Enhance thee not in the thought of thy soul, as a bull doeth; lest thy virtue [or strength] be hurtled down by folly,
- <sup>3</sup> and it eat thy leaves, and lose (or destroy) thy fruits, and thou be left as a dry tree in (the) desert [or (the) wilderness].

- <sup>4</sup> Forsooth a wicked, [or shrewd, (or depraved)] soul shall lose [or destroy] him that hath it, and it giveth him into the joy of the enemy, and it shall lead forth into the part of wicked men.
- <sup>5</sup> A sweet word multiplieth friends, and assuageth enemies; and a tongue well gracious shall be plenteous [or abound] in a good man.

<sup>6</sup> Many peaceable men be to thee, and (or but) one (out) of a thousand be a counsellor to thee.

- <sup>7</sup> If thou hast a friend, have him in temptation, that is, prove thou him in thine adversity, and betake not lightly [or not lightly open, or trust], thyself to him.
- <sup>8</sup> For there is a friend by (or for) his (own) time, and he shall not dwell [or abide] in the day of tribulation.
- <sup>9</sup> And there is a friend which is turned to enmity; and there is a friend, that shall show openly hatred, and chiding [or strife], and despisings.
- <sup>10</sup> Forsooth there is a friend, (a) fellow of (the) table, and (he) dwell-eth not in the day of need.
- <sup>11</sup> If a friend dwelleth steadfast, he shall be as a man even with thee, and he shall do trustily in (or with) thy menial [or homely] things.
- <sup>12</sup> If he meeketh himself before thee, and hideth him(self) from thy face, thou shalt have good friendship of one accord [or of one will].
  - 13 Be thou parted from thine enemies, and take heed of thy friends.
- <sup>14</sup> A faithful friend is a strong defending [or strong protection]; for-sooth he that findeth him, findeth treasure.
- <sup>15</sup> No comparison is to a faithful friend; weighing of gold and of silver is not worthy against the goodness of his faithfulness.
- <sup>16</sup> A faithful friend is(the) medicine of life, and of undeadliness (or of immortality); and they that dread the Lord, shall find him.
- $^{17}$  He that dreadeth the Lord, shall have evenly good friendship; for why his friend shall be at the likeness of him.
- <sup>18</sup> Son, from thy youth take thou doctrine, and till to [thine] hoar hairs thou shalt find wisdom.
- <sup>19</sup> As he that eareth (or ploweth), and that soweth, nigh thou to it, and abide thou (for) the good fruits there-of. For thou shalt travail a little in the work thereof, and thou shalt eat soon of the generations thereof [or the gettings of it].
- <sup>20</sup> Wisdom is over-sharp or is full-sharp to untaught men, and an heartless man shall not dwell therein.
- <sup>21</sup> As the virtue (or the strength) of a stone, proving shall be in them; and they shall not tarry to cast away it [or to throw it afar].
- <sup>22</sup> Forsooth the wisdom of teaching is by the name thereof, and it is not open to many men; but it dwelleth with them, of whom it is known, till to the sight of God.
- <sup>23</sup> Son, hear thou, and take the counsel of understanding, and cast thou not away my counsel.
- <sup>24</sup> Set in thy foot into the stocks thereof, and thy neck into the bies, (or the bands), [or the collars] thereof.
- <sup>25</sup> Make subject thy shoulder, and bear it, and be thou not annoyed (or harmed) in the bonds thereof.
- $^{26}$  In all thy will go to it, and in all thy virtue keep the ways thereof [or of it].

- <sup>27</sup> Inquire thou (of or about) it [or Ensearch it], and it shall be made open to thee; and thou made holding wisdom forsake not it.
- <sup>28</sup> For in the last things thou shalt find rest therein, and it shall turn [or shall be turned] to thee into delight-ing.
- <sup>29</sup> And the stocks thereof shall be to thee in defence [or protection] of strength, and the foundaments of virtue, and the bie(s), (or the bands), [or the collars] thereof, in(to) a stole of glory.
- <sup>30</sup> For why the fairness of life is in wisdom, and the bonds thereof be heal(th)ful, [or wholesome] binding.
- <sup>31</sup> Thou shalt wear it as a stole of glory, and thou shalt set [or shalt put] on thee a crown of thanking.
- <sup>32</sup> Son, if thou takest heed to me, thou shalt learn wisdom; and if thou givest thy will, thou shalt be wise.
- <sup>33</sup> If thou bowest down thine ear, thou shalt take (or receive) teaching; and if thou lovest for to hear, thou shalt be wise.

(or in) heart to the wisdom of them:

- <sup>35</sup> (so) that thou mayest hear each telling of God, and the proverbs of praising flee or fly not away from thee.
- <sup>36</sup> And if thou seest a wise man, wake thou to him, and thy foot [often] tread on the grees (or the steps) of his doors.
- <sup>37</sup> Have thou thought in (or on) the commandments of God, and be thou most busy in his behests; and he shall give to thee [an] heart, and covetousness of wisdom shall be given to thee.

<sup>4</sup> Do not thou seek of (or from) a man (the) leading [or the dignity of a leader], neither of a king the chair of honour.

- <sup>5</sup> Justify thou not thee (or thyself) before God, for he is the knower of the heart; and do not thou desire to be seen wise with the king.
- <sup>6</sup> Do not thou seek to be made a judge, no but thou mayest break wickednesses by (thy) virtue; lest thou dread the face of a mighty man, and set slander (or a cause of stumbling) in thy swiftness.
- <sup>7</sup> Do not thou sin in (or against) the multitude of a city, neither send thee, (or thyself), (down) into the people;
  - 8 neither bind thou [to] double sins, for thou shalt not be guiltless in one.
- <sup>9</sup> Do not thou be a coward in thy soul, to pray; and despise thou not to do alms-[deeds].
- <sup>10</sup> Say thou not, God shall behold in the multitude of my gifts; and when I shall offer to God alder-Highest [or to the highest God], he shall take my gifts.
- <sup>11</sup> Scorn thou not a man in the bitterness of (his) soul; for why God is the beholder, that maketh meek, and enhanceth (or exalteth).
- <sup>12</sup> Do not thou love a leasing (or a lie) against thy brother; neither do thou in like manner against a friend.

- <sup>13</sup> Do not thou desire to lie any leasing (or any lie); for why the continuance thereof [or the busyness for sooth of them] is not good.
- <sup>14</sup> Do not thou be a jangler [or full of words] in the multitude of priests; and rehearse thou not a word in thy prayer.
- <sup>15</sup> Hate thou not travailous works, and earth-tilthing, [or churlish doing] made of (or from) the Highest.
- <sup>16</sup> Areckon thou not thee in the multitude of unlearned men. Have thou mind on ire [or wrath], for it shall not tarry.
- <sup>17</sup> Make thou meek greatly thy spirit, for why the vengeance of the flesh of an unpious man is fire, and worm(s).
- <sup>18</sup> Do not thou trespass against thy friend delaying money; neither despise thou a full dearworth(y) brother for gold.
- <sup>19</sup> Do not thou depart [or go away] from a wise woman, and good, whom thou hast gotten in the dread of the Lord; for why the grace of her shame-fastness is above gold.
- <sup>20</sup> Hurt thou not a servant working in truth, neither an hired man giving his life.
- $^{21}$  A witty, (or a witting, or knowing) servant be dearworthy to thee as thy (own) soul; defraud thou not him of freedom, neither forsake thou him (when) needy.
- <sup>22</sup> Beasts be to thee? take thou heed to those [or them]; and if those [or they] be profitable, dwell those still at [or with] thee.
- <sup>23</sup> Sons be to thee? teach thou them, and bow thou them under chastising from their childhood.
- <sup>24</sup> Daughters be to thee? keep thou the body of them, and show thou not (a) glad face to them.
- $^{25}$  Give thy daughter to marriage, and thou doest a great work; and give thou her to a wise man.
- <sup>26</sup> If a woman is to thee after thy soul, cast her not away; and (or but) betake thou not thee in all thine heart to an hateful woman.
  - <sup>27</sup> Honour thy father; and forget thou not the wailings of thy mother.
- $^{28}$  Have thou mind that thou haddest not been, no but by them, and yield thou to them as they did to thee.
  - <sup>29</sup> In all thy soul dread thou God, and hallow thou his priests.
- <sup>30</sup> In all thy virtue (or strength) love thou him that made thee; and forsake thou not his ministers [or servants].
- <sup>31</sup> Honour thou God of (or with) all thy soul; and honour thou priests, and cleanse thee with (thine) arms, that is, by offerings gotten with thy travail. Give thou to them the part of the first fruits, and of purging, as also it is commanded to thee; and of thy negligence purge thou thee with few men. Thou shalt offer to the Lord the gift of thine arms, and the sacrifice of hallowing, the beginnings, that is, the first fruits and dimes (or tithes), of holy men [or holy things].
- <sup>32</sup> And (ad)dress (or direct)[or put forth] thine hand to a poor man, (so) that thy mercy and (thy) blessing be performed.
- <sup>33</sup> Grace is given [or Grace of gift] in the sight of each that liveth; and forbid thou not grace to a dead man.
- $^{34}$  Fail thou not in (or to do) comfort to them that weep; and go thou with them that mourn.

- <sup>35</sup> Be thou not slow to visit a sick man [or the sick]; for by these things thou shalt be made steadfast in love.
- <sup>36</sup> In all thy works have thou mind on [or have in mind] thy last things; and thou shalt not do sin without end.

- <sup>1</sup> Chide [or Strive] thou not with a mighty man, lest thou fall into his hands.
- <sup>2</sup> Strive thou not with a rich man, lest peradventure he make (a) play again-ward to (or towards) thee [or he set strife to thee]. For why gold and silver hath lost (or destroyed) many men; and it stretcheth forth till to the heart[s] of kings, and turneth (them).
- <sup>3</sup> Chide thou not with a man, a jangler, [or Strive thou not with a tonguey man], and lay thou not trees into his fire.
- <sup>4</sup> Commune thou not with an untaught man, lest he speak evil of thy kindred.
- <sup>5</sup> Despise thou not a man turning away himself from sin, neither upbraid thou him [nor put thou reproof to him]; have thou mind, that all we be in corruption.
- <sup>6</sup> Despise thou not a man in his eld (age); for why (some) of us men wax eld [or old].
- <sup>7</sup>Do not thou make joy of (or over) thine enemy (being) dead, witting that all we die (or knowing that we all die), and will (or desire) not (to) come into joy of (or with) our enemies.
- <sup>8</sup> Despise thou not the telling of wise priests, and be thou conversant [or (al)together dwell] in the proverbs of them; for of (or from) them thou shalt learn wisdom, and teaching of understanding, and to serve without (com)plaint to great men.
- <sup>9</sup> The telling of elder men pass not (by) thee; for they have learned of (or from) their fathers. For of (or from) them thou shalt learn understanding; and in the time of need thou shalt give [an] answer.
- <sup>10</sup> Kindle thou not the coals of sinners, and reprove them; and be thou not burnt with the flame of [the] fire of their sins.
- <sup>11</sup> Stand thou not against the face of a man full of despising [or of the strifeful]; lest he sit as an espyer to thy mouth.
- <sup>12</sup> Do not thou lend to a man stronger than thou [or than thyself]; that (or but) if thou hast lent, have thou it as lost.
- <sup>13</sup> Promise thou not above [or over] thy power or virtue; that (or but) if thou hast promised, bethink thou as yielding, for thou art holden to do thy might, (that is, thou art held to pay it back).
  - <sup>14</sup> Deem thou not against a judge; for he deemeth after that, that is just.
- <sup>15</sup> Go thou not in the way with an hardy man, lest peradventure he aggregate (or bring together all) his evils in (or on) thee; for he goeth after his (own) will (or desire), and thou shalt perish together with (him through) his folly.
- <sup>16</sup> Make thou not chiding [or jangling] with a wrathful man, and go thou not into (a) desert with an hardy man; for why blood, that is, shedding out of innocent blood, is as nought before him, and where none help is, (or where there is no help), he shall hurtle thee down.

- <sup>17</sup> Have thou not counsel with fools; for they may not (or be not able to) love, no but those things that please them(selves).
- $^{18}\,\mathrm{Make}$  thou not a counsel before a stranger; for thou knowest not, what he shall bring forth.
- <sup>19</sup> Make not thine heart known to each man [or To all men thine heart open thou not], but only to a very (or a true) friend, and proved; lest peradventure he bring to thee false grace, that is, feigned friendship, and despise thee.

- <sup>1</sup>Love thou not jealously the woman of thy bosom [or Be thou not jealous to the woman of thy bosom]; lest she show on thee the malice of evil doctrine.
- <sup>2</sup> Give thou not to a woman the power of (or over) thy soul; lest she enter in thy virtue, and thou be shamed [or confounded].
- <sup>3</sup> Behold thou not a woman of many wills (or desires), that coveteth now this man, now that man; lest peradventure thou fall into the snares of her.
- <sup>4</sup> Be thou not customable with a danceress, neither hire thou her; lest peradventure thou perish in the speedy work of her.
- <sup>5</sup> Behold thou not a virgin [or a maiden]; lest peradventure thou be caused to stumble in (or by) the fairness of her.
- <sup>6</sup> Give thou not thy soul to whores in anything; lest thou lose thee, and thy soul, and thine heritage, (or lest thou destroy thyself, and thy soul, and thy inheritance).
- <sup>7</sup> Do not thou behold about in the lanes of the city; neither err thou (or wander) in the large streets thereof. [Do thou not behold about in the ways of the city; nor err thou about in the streets of it.]
- <sup>8</sup> Turn away thy face from a woman well-arrayed; and behold thou not about the fairness of another or of another man's wife. Many men have perished for the fairness of a woman; and thereby covetousness [or lust] burneth on high as fire or burneth out as fire. Each woman which is an whore, either customable to fornication, shall be defouled as a fen, or a turd, in the way. Many men wondering on the fairness of an alien woman were made reprovable, for why the speech of her burneth on high as fire.
- <sup>9</sup> Sit thou not in any manner with an alien woman, neither rest thou with her on a bed [or nor lie thou with her upon the arm]; and jangle [or strive] thou not with her in wine, lest peradventure thine heart bow [or she bow down thine heart] into her, and thou fall [or slide] into perdition by thy blood.
- <sup>10</sup> Forsake thou not an eld [or old] friend; for a new friend shall not be like him. New wine is(like) a new friend; (after) it shall wax eld [or old], and (then) thou shalt drink it with sweetness.
- <sup>11</sup> Covet thou not the glory and riches of a sinner; for thou knowest not, what destroying of him shall come. [Love thou not the glory and riches of the sinner; for sooth thou knowest not, what be to come (of) the turning upside-down of him.]
- <sup>12</sup> The wrong of unjust [or unright-wise] men please not thee, and know thou that a wicked man [or the unpious] shall not please till to hells, [or unto hell], (or the grave).

- <sup>13</sup> Be thou far from a man that hath power to slay, that is, from a cruel tyrant, and thou shalt not have suspicion of the dread of death; and if thou nighest to him, do not thou do any trespass [or anything do amiss], lest peradventure he take away thy life. Know thou the communing of death; for thou shalt enter into the midst of snares, and thou shalt go on the armours, [or arms], (or weapons) of them that sorrow.
- <sup>14</sup> By thy virtue, keep thee (away) from thy neighbour that may speak against thee to a tyrant; and treat thou with wise men and prudent men.
- <sup>15</sup> Just [or Rightwise] men be guests, or meat-frères, (or meal companions) to thee; and thy glorying be in the dread of God.
- <sup>16</sup> And the thought of God be to thee in wit, that is, apply thy wit to think on God; and all thy telling-[out]be in the behests (or about the commands) of the Highest.
- <sup>17</sup> Works shall be praised in (or from) the hand of craftsmen, and the prince of the people in the wisdom of his word; forsooth in the wit of elder men [or of elders] a word shall be praised.
- <sup>18</sup> A man, a jangler, [or a tonguey man], is dreadful [or fearful] in his city; and a foolhardy man in his word shall be hateful.

- <sup>1</sup> A wise judge shall deem his people; and the princehood of a witty, (or a witting, or a knowing) man shall be steadfast [or be stable].
- <sup>2</sup> After the judge of the people, so and his ministers [or the servants of him]; and what manner man is the governor of the city, such be also men dwelling therein.
- <sup>3</sup> An unwise king shall lose (or destroy) his people; and (or but) cities shall be inhabited by the wit of prudent men.
- <sup>4</sup> The power of (the) earth is in the hand of God, and all the wickedness of heathen men [or the Gentiles] is abominable; and he shall raise (up) a profitable governor at a time [or in (due) time] on it.
- <sup>5</sup> The power of man is in the hand of God; and he shall set his honour on the face of a wise man in the law [or the scribe].
- <sup>6</sup> Have thou not mind on all the wrong of the neighbour; and do thou nothing in the works of wrong-(doing).
- <sup>7</sup> Pride is hateful before God and men; and all the wickedness of (the) heathen men [or (the) Gentiles]is abominable.
- <sup>8</sup> A realm is translated, either taken away, [or borne over], from a folk into folk for unrightfulnesses, and wrongs, and despisings, and diverse guiles, [or for unrightwisenesses, and wrongs, and strives, and diverse treacheries].
- <sup>9</sup> Nothing is curseder than an avarice man. What (or Why) art thou proud, thou earth and ashes? Nothing is worse, than for to love money, [or Nothing is more wicked, than to love money]; for why this man hath, yea, his soul set to (or for) sale, for in his life he hath cast away his innerest things, [or this forsooth hath his soul sellable, or able to be sold, for in his life he threw away his (most) inward things].
- 10 Each power is short life (or short-lived); long sickness [or infirmity] grieveth the leech (or the physician). A leech (or The physician) cutteth away [or cutteth off] short sickness; so and a king is today [or today is], and tomorrow he shall die.

- <sup>11</sup> Forsooth when a man shall die, he shall inherit serpents, and beasts, and worms.
- <sup>12</sup> The beginning of [the] pride of man was to be apostate [or to go backward] from God; for his heart went away from him that made him.
- <sup>13</sup> For why pride is the beginning of all sin [or For the beginning of all sin is pride]; he that holdeth it, shall be filled with cursings, and it shall destroy him into the end. Therefore the Lord hath shamed the covents, or convents, (or the gatherings) of evil men, and hath destroyed them unto the end.
- <sup>14</sup> God destroyed the seats (or the thrones) of proud dukes; and made mild men to sit for them.
- $^{15}\,\mathrm{God}$  made dry the roots of proud folks; and planted meek men of those folks.
- <sup>16</sup> The Lord destroyed the lands of folks [or Gentiles]; and lost those [or destroyed them] unto the foundament (or unto the foundation of the earth).
- 17 He made dry the roots of them, and lost (or destroyed) them; and made the mind of them (or their memory) to cease from the earth. God lost the mind of proud men; and left the mind of meek men in wit, (or God destroyed the memory of the proud; but left the memory of the humble).
- <sup>18</sup> Pride was not made to (or for) men; neither wrathfulness to (or for) the nation of women, that is, to all men born of women.
- <sup>19</sup> This seed of men that dreadeth God, shall be honoured; but this seed shall be dishonoured, that over-pass-eth (or that passeth over) the commandments of the Lord.
- <sup>20</sup> In the midst of brethren the governor of them is in honour; and they that dread God, shall be in his eyes, that is, shall be honourable, and please him.
  - <sup>21</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
  - <sup>22</sup> The glory of rich men honoured and of poor men is the dread of God.
- $^{23}$  Do not thou despise a just [or the rightwise] poor man; and do not thou magnify a rich sinful man.
- <sup>24</sup> The judge is great, and he is mighty in honour; and (or but) he is not greater than that man that dread-eth God. [Great is a judge, and the mighty is in worship; and (or but) he is not more than he that dreadeth God.]
- <sup>25</sup> Free children serve a witty, (or a witting, or a knowing) servant; and a prudent man and learned shall not grutch (or grumble), when he is blamed, and an uncunning, (or an unknowing, or an ignorant) man shall not be honored.
- $^{26}$  Do not thou enhance thee in thy work to be done; and do not thou be slow [or despair] in the time of anguish.
- <sup>27</sup> He is better that worketh, and hath plenty [or aboundeth] in all things, than he that hath glory, (or boasteth), and needeth bread.
- <sup>28</sup> Son, keep thy soul in mildness (or in meekness), that holdeth due measure, and refraineth (from) excess; and give thou honour to it, after his (or its) merit.
- <sup>29</sup> Who shall justify him that sinneth against his (own) soul? and who shall honour him that dishonoureth his (own) soul?
- <sup>30</sup> A poor man hath glory by his learning and dread; and there is a man that is honoured for his chattel [or his substance].

<sup>31</sup> Forsooth if a man hath glory in poverty, how much more in chattel [or substance]? and he that hath glory in chattel [or in substance], dread poverty.

- <sup>1</sup> The wisdom of a man made meek shall enhance his head; and shall make him to sit in the midst of great men.
- <sup>2</sup> Praise thou not a man in (or for) his fairness; neither despise thou a man in (or for) his sight.
- <sup>3</sup> A bee is little among birds; and his fruit hath the beginning of sweetness.
- <sup>4</sup> Have thou never glory in cloth-ing, and be thou not enhanced (or exalted) in the day of thine honour; for why the works of the Highest alone be wonderful, and his works be glorious, and hid, and unseen.
- <sup>5</sup> Many tyrants have set in (or upon a) throne; and a man of whom was no supposing bare the diadem (or crown).
- <sup>6</sup> Many mighty men be oppressed strongly; and glorious men be given into the hands of other men. [Many mighty men be oppressed greatly; and the glorious be taken into the hands of other men.]
- <sup>7</sup> Before that thou ask, blame thou not any man; and when thou hast asked, blame thou justly [or chastise thou rightly].
- <sup>8</sup> Before that thou hear, answer thou not a word; and in the midst of elder men add thou not to speak.
- <sup>9</sup> Strive thou not, of (or in) that thing that dis-easeth [or grieveth] not thee; and stand thou not in the doom of sins [or (with) sinners].
- 10 Son, thy deeds be not in many things; and if thou art rich, thou shalt not be without part of guilt. For if thou pursuest or shalt follow, thou shalt not [over]-take; and thou shalt not escape, if thou runnest before.
- <sup>11</sup> There is a man travailing, and hast(en)ing, and sorrowing, and unpious; and by so much the more he shall not have plenty [or he shall not abound]
- <sup>12</sup> There is a man fade, that is, feeble, failing more than others, needy of recovering, failing more in virtue, and plenteous in poverty; and the eye of God beheld him in good, and raised him (up) from his lowness, [There is a man withered, needing recovering, more failing in virtue, and abounding in poorness; and the eye of God beheld him in good, and reared him (up) from his lowness;]
- <sup>13</sup> and enhanced his head; and many men wondered [or marvelled] in (or about) him, and honoured [or worshipped] God.
- <sup>14</sup> Goods and evils, that is, prosperities and adversities, life and death, poverty and honesty (or honours or riches), be of (or from) God.
- <sup>15</sup> Wisdom, and learning, and cunning (or knowing) of the law be with the Lord; love [or loving] and the ways of good men be at, [or with], (or from) him.
- <sup>16</sup> Error and darknesses be made together to (or with) sinners; forsooth they that make full out joy in evil, wax eld [or old] together into evils.
- <sup>17</sup> The gift of God dwelleth to (or with) just [or rightwise] men; and (the) increasings of him shall have prosperities [into] without end.
- <sup>18</sup> Some man there is made rich in doing scarcely [or (in) scarcely doing], and this is the part of his meed, <sup>19</sup> in that that he saith, I have found rest to (or for) me, and now I alone shall eat of my goods. And he know not that time passeth him, and death nigheth (or approacheth), and he shall leave all things to other men, and shall die [or and die].

<sup>20</sup> Stand thou in thy testament, and speak thou (al)together in it; and wax thou eld [or old] in the work of thy behests (or of thy commands).

<sup>21</sup> Dwell [or Abide] thou not in the works of sinners; but trust thou in God, and dwell in thy place. For it is easy in the eyes of God, suddenly to make honest (or rich) a poor man.

22 The blessing of God hast(en)eth into the meed of a just man [or the rightwise]; and the going forth of him maketh fruit in swift honour.

- <sup>23</sup> Say thou not, What is need to me (or What do I need)? and what goods (or good things) shall be (for) me hereafter?
- <sup>24</sup> Say thou not, I am sufficient, and what shall I be made worse hereafter?
- <sup>25</sup> In the day of goods (or good things), be thou not unmindful of evils, and in the day of evils, be thou not unmindful of goods (or good things); (On a good day do not forget the bad days, and on a bad day do not forget the good days;)
- <sup>26</sup> for it is easy before God to yield in the day of death, to each man after
- <sup>27</sup> The malice of one hour maketh forgetting of most lechery; and in the end of a man is making naked of his works.
- <sup>28</sup> Praise thou not any man before his death; for why a man is known in (or by) his sons.
- <sup>29</sup> Bring thou not each man into thine house; for why many treasons be of a guileful man.
- <sup>30</sup> For why as the entrails of stinking things break out, and as a partridge is led into a trap, either (a) net, and as a capret is led into a snare, so and the heart of proud men; and as a behold-er seeing the fall of his neighbour.
- 31 For he turneth goods [or good things] into evils, and setteth treasons, and putteth a wem, (or a spot, or a blemish) on chosen men.
- 32 Fire is increased of a sparkle (or by a spark), and blood is increased of (or by) a guileful (or treacherous) man; for why a sinful man setteth treason [or waiteth] to (or lieth in wait for) blood.
- <sup>33</sup> Take heed to thee from a guileful man, for he maketh [or forgeth] evils; lest peradventure he bring in on thee scorning without end.
- 34 Receive thou an alien to thee, and he shall destroy thee in a whirlwind, and he shall make thee alien (or alienated) from thine own ways.

- <sup>1</sup> If thou doest well, know thou to whom thou doest (it); and much grace shall be to [or there shall be much grace in] thy goods (or thy good doings).
- <sup>2</sup> Do thou well to a just man [or to the rightwise], and thou shalt find great yielding; though not [or if not] of (or from) him, certainly of (or from) the
- <sup>3</sup> It is not well to him that is customable [or is busy] in evils, and to him that giveth not alms; for why the Highest both hateth sinners, and doeth mercy to them that do penance.

- <sup>4</sup> Give thou to a merciful man [or to the merciful], and receive thou not a sinner, that is, (one) obstinate in sins; God shall yield vengeance both to unfaithful men and to sinners, keep-ing them in the day of vengeance. Give thou to a good man, and receive thou not a sinner.
- <sup>5</sup> Do thou good [or well] to a meek man, and give thou not to an unpious man, that is, (one) obstinate in sin; forbid thou (thyself) to give loaves to him, lest in those [or (with) them], he be(come) mightier than thou. For (then) thou shalt find double evils in all goods, whichever [or whatever] thou doest to (or for) him;
- <sup>6</sup> for why the Highest both hateth sinners, and shall yield vengeance to unfaithful men [or the unpious].

<sup>8</sup> A friend shall not be known in goods (or in good times), and an enemy shall not be hid in evils, that is, adversities.

- <sup>9</sup> In the goods (or the good times) of a man, his enemies be sorry; and a friend is known in the sorrow and malice of him, that is, in (the) adversity of him.
- <sup>10</sup> Believe thou never to [or Not trust] thine enemy; for his wickedness rusteth as (or like) iron.

11 Though he be made meek, and go low, cast away thy soul [or throw away thy will], and keep thee from him.

- <sup>12</sup> Set thou not him beside thee, neither sit he at thy right side, lest he turn (against thee), and stand in thy place; lest peradventure he turn into thy place, and inquire (about) thy chair, and in (or at) the last time thou know (or remember) my words, and be pricked in (or with) my words.
- <sup>13</sup> Who shall do medicine to an enchanter smitten of (or by) a serpent, and to all men that nigh to (or approach) beasts,
- $^{14}$  and to him that goeth with an evil man, and is wrapped (up) in the sins of him?
- <sup>15</sup> In one hour he shall dwell with thee; soothly if thou bowest away, he shall not bear up.
- <sup>16</sup> The enemy maketh sweet in (or with) his lips, and in his heart he setteth treason to overturn thee into the ditch. The enemy weepeth in (or with) his eyes; and (or but) if he find-eth (the) time, he shall not be [full]-filled of (or with enough) blood.
- <sup>17</sup> If evils befall to thee, thou shalt find him the former (or the first) there. The enemy shall weep before thine eyes, and he as helping shall under-mine thy feet.
- <sup>18</sup> He shall stir [or move] his head, and he shall beat, [or flap, (or clap) for joy] with (his) hand(s); and he shall speak privily many evils of (or about) thee, and shall change his cheer (or his face).

- <sup>1</sup> He that toucheth pitch, shall be defouled of (or by) it; and he that communeth with a proud man, shall (be) clothe*(d)(with)[or in]* pride*.
- <sup>2</sup> He raiseth [or taketh] a weight [up] on himself, that communeth with a more honest (or more honoured) man than himself; and be thou not fellow to a man richer than thou. What (or How) shall a caldron commune to (or with) a pot? for when those hurtle themselves together, the pot shall be broken.

<sup>4</sup> If thou givest, he shall take (from) thee; and if thou hast not, he shall forsake thee.

<sup>5</sup> If thou hast, he shall live together with thee, and shall make thee void; and he shall not have sorrow on thee.

<sup>6</sup> If thou art needful [or necessary] to him, he shall deceive [or beguile] thee; and he shall flatter, and shall give hope, telling to thee all goods (or every good thing); and shall say, What is need to thee [or What need is to thee]?

<sup>7</sup> And he shall shame thee in his meats, till he annihilate or extinguish thee twice and thrice, and at the last he shall scorn thee; afterward he shall see, and shall forsake thee, and he shall move his head to (or at) thee. Be thou made meek to God, and abide thou his hands.

<sup>8</sup> Take heed, lest thou be deceived, and be made low in folly. Do not thou be low in thy wisdom, lest thou be made low, and be deceived into folly.

<sup>9</sup> When thou art called of (or by) a mightier man, go thou away; for by this he shall more call thee.

<sup>10</sup> Be thou not greatly pressing, lest thou be hurtled down; and be thou not far from him, lest thou go into forgetting.

- <sup>11</sup> Withhold thou not to speak with him evenly, that is, speak thou to him without reverence, and believe thou not to his many words; for of (or with) much speech he shall tempt thee, and he shall laugh privily, and shall ask thee of (or about) thine hid things.
- <sup>12</sup> His cruel soul shall keep thy words, and he shall not spare of [or from] malice, and of [or from] bonds.
- $^{13}$  Beware to thee, and take heed diligently to thine hearing; for thou goest with thy destroying. But thou hearing those things, see as in sleep, and thou shalt wake.

<sup>14</sup> In all thy life love thou God, and inwardly call thou him in thine health, that is, for thine health (or thy deliverance), (both) temporal and everlasting.

- <sup>15</sup> Each beast loveth a beast like itself; so and each man oweth (or ought) to love his neighbour.
- <sup>16</sup> Each flesh shall be joined to flesh like itself, and each man shall be fellowshipped to a man like himself.
- <sup>17</sup> As a wolf shall commune some-time with a lamb, so a sinner with a just [or a rightwise] man.
- <sup>18</sup> What communing [or communi-cation]is of an holy man to (or with) a dog? either what good part is of a rich man to (or with) a poor man?
- <sup>19</sup> The hunting of a lion is a wild ass in (the) desert [or wilderness]; so (in) the pastures of rich men be poor men.
- <sup>20</sup> And as meekness is (an) abomi-nation to a proud man, so and a poor man is (an) abomination of (or to) a rich man.
- <sup>21</sup> A rich man moved, that is, disturbed, either hurled, is confirmed of (or by) his friends; but a meek man, when he falleth, shall be cast [or put] out, yea, of (his) known men (or by his friends).
- <sup>22</sup> Many recoverers (or helpers) be to a rich man deceived; he spake proudly, and they justified him. (But) A meek man is deceived, furthermore also he is reproved; he spake wisely, and no place was given to him.

- <sup>23</sup> The rich man spake, and all men were still [or held their peace]; and they shall bring [or shall bear] his word till to the clouds. (But) A poor man spake, and they say, Who is this? and if he offendeth (or if he stumble), they shall destroy him.
- <sup>24</sup> Chattel [or substance] is good to him, to whom is no sin in conscience; and the worst poverty is in the mouth of a wicked man [or the unpious].
- <sup>25</sup> The heart of a man changeth his face, either in good either in evil. Of hard and with travail, thou shalt find the step of a good heart, and a good face (together).
  - <sup>26</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)

- <sup>1</sup> Blessed is the man, that stood not by the word(s) of [or from] his mouth, and was not pricked in (or with) the sorrow of trespass.
- <sup>2</sup> He is blessed, that hath not sorrow of (or in) his soul, and falleth not down [or away] from his hope.
- <sup>3</sup> Chattel, that is, riches, is without reason to a covetous man, and hard niggard, (or stingy, or miserly); and whereto is gold to an envious man?
- <sup>4</sup>He that gathereth of his will un-justly, gathereth to (or for) other men; and another man shall make waste [or do lechery] in (or with) his goods.
- <sup>5</sup> To what other man shall he be good, which is wicked to himself? and he shall not be merry in his goods.
- <sup>6</sup> Nothing is worse, than he that hath envy to himself; and this is the yielding of his malice.
- <sup>7</sup> And if he doeth good, he doeth (it) unwittingly, and not willfully (or willingly); and at the last he showeth his malice.
- <sup>8</sup> The eye of an envious man is wicked, and turning away the face, and despising his soul.
- <sup>9</sup> The eye of the covetous man is never filled; he shall not be filled into the part of wickedness, till he perform unrightfulness [or unrightwiseness], and make dry his soul.
- $^{10}$  An evil eye to evils, and the needy man shall not be filled of [or with] bread; and he shall be in sorrow on (or at) his table.
- <sup>11</sup> Son, if thou hast, do well with thyself, and offer thou worthy offerings to God.
- <sup>12</sup> Be thou mindful that death shall not tarry, and the testament of hells [or of hell], that is, the ordinance of God, of the death of each man, which is showed to thee; for why the testament of this world shall die by death.
- <sup>13</sup> Before (thy) death do thou good to (or for) thy friend, and by thy mights [or strengths] stretch thou forth, and give to a poor man.
- <sup>14</sup> Be thou not deceived [or beguiled] of (or from) a good day, and a little part of a good day pass not thee (unfulfilled or unappreciated).
- <sup>15</sup> Whether thou shalt not leave to other men thy sorrows, and [thy] travails?
  - $^{16}$  In the parting of lot give thou, and take, and justify thy soul.
- <sup>17</sup> Before thy death work thou rightfulness [or rightwiseness]; for at hells, [or hell], (or in the grave), it is not to find meat.

- <sup>18</sup> Each man shall wax eld [or old] as hay, and as a leaf bringing fruit in a green tree. Others be engendered, and others be cast [or fall] down; so the generation of flesh and blood, another is ended, and another is born.
- <sup>19</sup> Each corruptible work shall fail in the end; and he that worketh it, shall go with it. And all [or each] chosen work shall be justified; and he that worketh it, shall be honoured in (or by) it.
- <sup>20</sup> Blessed is the man, that shall dwell in wisdom, and that shall bethink in rightfulness [or rightwiseness], and shall think in wit (about) the beholding of God.
- <sup>21</sup> Which [or Who] thinketh out, either findeth out, the ways of him in his heart, and shall be understanding in the hid things of him;
  - <sup>22</sup> going as a searcher after it, and standing in the ways of it.
- <sup>23</sup> Which beholdeth by the windows thereof, and heareth in (or at) the gates thereof; [Who beholdeth by the windows of it, and in the gates of it is hearing;]
- $^{24}$  which [or who] resteth nigh the house thereof, and setteth a stake in the walls thereof. [who resteth beside the house of it, and in the walls of it pitcheth a pale.]
- <sup>25</sup> He shall set his little house at the hands of him, and goods (or good things) shall rest in his little house, by (the) enduring of the world;
- <sup>26</sup> he shall set his sons under the covering thereof [or the roof of it], and he shall dwell under the boughs [or branches] thereof;
- <sup>27</sup> he shall be covered under the covering thereof [or the roof of it] from heat, and he shall rest in the glory thereof.

- <sup>1</sup> He that dreadeth God, shall do good works; and he that holdeth rightfulness [or rightwiseness], shall take (or receive) it, that is, wisdom.
- <sup>2</sup> And it as a mother honoured shall meet him, and as a woman from virginity [or from maidenhood] it shall take (or shall receive) him.
- <sup>3</sup> It shall feed him with the bread of life, and of understanding; and it shall give drink to him with water of heal(th)ful [or of wholesome] wisdom;
- <sup>4</sup> it shall be made steadfast in him, and he shall not be bowed (or turned away) from the evenness of rightfulness. And it shall hold him, and he shall not be shamed [or confounded];
- <sup>5</sup> and it shall enhance him at (or it shall exalt him above) his neighbours. And in the midst of the church he [or it] shall open his mouth; and God shall fill him with the spirit of wisdom, and of understanding, and shall clothe him with the stole of glory.
- <sup>6</sup> God shall treasure on him mirth, and full out joying; and shall inherit him with (an) everlasting name.
- <sup>7</sup> Fond men [or Men fools] shall not take that wisdom, and (or but) witty men shall meet (with) it. (Yea), Fond men [or Men fools] shall not see it;
- <sup>8</sup> for why it goeth away far from pride, and guile [or treachery]. Men leasing-mongers [or liars] shall not be mindful thereof, and soothfast men be found therein; and shall have pros-perity unto the beholding of God.
- <sup>9</sup> Praising is not fair in the mouth of a sinner, for he is not sent of the Lord (or it was not sent to him from the Lord).

<sup>10</sup> For why wisdom went forth from God; forsooth praising shall stand nigh (to) the wisdom of God, and it shall be plenteous [or abound] in a faithful mouth, and the Lord shall give it to him.

<sup>11</sup> Say thou not, It goeth away by God; for why do thou not those things (or why do thou do those things), which God hateth. [Thou shalt not say, By God it is away; those things for sooth it hateth, thou shalt not do.]

<sup>12</sup> Say thou not, He made me for to err; for why wicked [or unpious] men be not needful to him.

13 The Lord hateth all cursedness of error, and it (also) shall not be amiable [or loveful] to them, that dread him.

<sup>15</sup> He added his commandments, and laws; if thou wilt keep the commandments, those [or they] shall keep thee, and keep pleasant (or pleasing) faith without end.

16 He hath set to thee water and fire; (ad)dress, (or direct), [or put forth] thine hand to that, that thou wilt.

- $^{17}$  Before man is life and death, good and evil; that, that pleaseth him, shall be given to him.
- $^{18}\,\mathrm{For}$  why the wisdom of God is much, and he is strong in power, and seeth all men without ceasing.

<sup>19</sup> The eyes of the Lord be to them, that dread him; and he knoweth all the travail [or all the work] of man.

<sup>20</sup> He commanded not to any man to do wickedly [or unpiously]; and he gave not to any man space to do sin.

- <sup>1</sup> For he coveteth not the multitude of sons unfaithful and unprofitable.
- <sup>2</sup> Be thou not glad in wicked [or unpious] sons, if they be multiplied; neither delight thou on (or in) them, if the dread of God is not in them.
- <sup>3</sup> Believe thou not to (or in) the life of them, and behold thou not into the travails of them. For why better is one dreading God, than a thousand wicked [or unpious] sons. And it is more profitable to die without sons, than to leave wicked [or unpious] sons.
- <sup>4</sup> A country shall be inhabited of (or by) one witty man; and it shall be made (a) desert of (or by) three wicked men.
- <sup>5</sup> Mine eye saw many other things, and mine ear heard stronger things than these.
- <sup>6</sup> Fire shall burn on high in the synagogue of sinners, and ire shall burn on high in a folk unbelieveful.
- <sup>7</sup> Eld [or Old] giants that were destroyed, trusting on their virtue (or in their own strength), prayed not for their sins;
- <sup>8</sup> and God spared not the pilgrim-age of them, that is, their life, which is a pilgrimage (here) on earth, but he killed [or smote] them, and cursed them, for the pride of their word(s).
- <sup>9</sup> He had not mercy on them, and he lost [or destroying] all the folk enhancing (or exalting) themselves in their sins.
- <sup>10</sup> And as he killed six hundred thousand of footmen, that were gather-ed together in the hardness of their heart(s), that is, rebelty (or in rebellion) against God;

- <sup>11</sup> and if one had been hard-nolled, (it is a) wonder if he had been guiltless. For why mercy and ire [or wrath] is with him; prayer is mighty, and shedding out ire [or pouring out wrath].
- <sup>12</sup> By, [or After], (or According to) his mercy, so is the chastising of each man; he is deemed by, [or he deemeth a man after], (or according to) his works.
- $^{13}$  A sinner in (or with his) raven shall not escape; and the sufferance of him that doeth mercy shall not tarry.
- <sup>14</sup> All mercy shall make (a) place to (or for) each man, after the merit of his works, and after the understanding of his pilgrimage.
  - <sup>16</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
- <sup>17</sup> Say thou not, I shall be hid from God; and from the highest, that is, heaven, who shall have mind on me? Say thou not, I shall not be known in (such) a great (number of) people; for why which [or what] is my soul in so great a (number of) creature(s)?
- <sup>18</sup> Lo! heaven, and the heavens of heavens, the great ocean, [or (the) deepness], and all [the] earth, and those things that be in those [or in them], shall be moved in his sight (or by his presence);
- <sup>19</sup> (the) mountains (al)together, and (the) little hills, and the foundaments (or the foundations) of (the) earth; and when God beholdeth those [or them], those [or they] shall be shaken (al)to-gether with trembling.
- <sup>20</sup> And in all these things the heart is unwise, and (or but) each heart is understood of (or by) him. And (or But) who understandeth his ways?
- <sup>21</sup> and a tempest, which the eye of man saw not? For why full many works of him be in hid things,
- $^{22}$  but who shall tell out the works of his rightfulness, either [or] who shall suffer (them)? For why the testament is far from some men; and the asking of men is in the ending.
- <sup>23</sup> He that is made little in heart, thinketh (upon) vain things; and a man unprudent and a fool thinketh (upon) fond things [or follies].
- <sup>24</sup> Son, hear thou me, and learn thou teaching [or discipline] of wit, and give thou attention to my words in thine heart;
- <sup>25</sup> and I shall say teaching in equity, and I shall seek to tell out wisdom. And give thou attention to my words in thine heart; and I say in equity of spirit the virtues, which God hath set on his works at the beginning [or that God put into his works from the beginning], and in truth I tell out the cunning (or the knowing) of him.
- <sup>26</sup> In the doom of God be his works from the beginning; and in the ordinance of those, he parted [or severed] the parts of those [or them], and he parted the beginnings of those [or them] in his folks.
- <sup>27</sup> He adorned without end the works of them; they hungered not, neither travailed, and they ceased not of their works.
- <sup>28</sup> Each shall not make strait [or anguish] the next to him, till into without end. Be thou not unbelieve-ful to the word of him.
- <sup>29</sup> After these things God beheld into the earth, and filled it with his goods (or his good things).
- <sup>30</sup> Forsooth the soul of each living thing told before his face; and that soul is again the turning again of those things.

- <sup>1</sup> God formed man (out) of (the) earth; and after his image he made man.
- <sup>2</sup> And again he turned man into that image; and after himself he clothed him with virtue, (or with power, or strength).
- <sup>3</sup> He gave to him the number of days, and (a short) time; and he gave to him power of (or over) those things that be on (the) earth.
- <sup>4</sup> He setted [or put] the dread of man on all flesh, and he was lord of beasts and of flying birds [or fowls].
  - <sup>5</sup> He formed of man an help like him[self];
- <sup>6</sup> he gave to them counsel, and tongue, and eyes, and ears, and heart to think out (things); and he filled them with [the] teaching [or discipline] of understanding.
- <sup>7</sup> He made to them the cunning (or the knowing) of spirit, he filled the heart of them with wit (or understand-ing); and he showed to them evils and goods.
- <sup>8</sup> He setted the eye of them (or He set his eye) on the hearts of them, to show to them the great things of his works, (so) that they praise *(al)*together the name of hallowing;
- <sup>9</sup> and to have glory in his marvels [or to glory in the marvellous things of him], (so) that they tell out the great things of his works.
  - <sup>10</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
- <sup>11</sup> He added to them teaching; and he inherited them with the law of life.
- $^{12}$  He ordained an everlasting testament (or covenant) with them; and he showed to them his rightfulness, and dooms.
- <sup>13</sup> And the eye(s) of them saw the great things of his honour, and the ears of them heard the honour of (his) voice;
- <sup>14</sup> and he said to them, Take heed to you from all wicked thing. And he commanded to them, to each man of his neighbour.
- $^{15}$  The ways of them be ever before him; those [or they] be not hid from his eyes.
  - <sup>16</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
- <sup>17</sup> On each folk he made sovereign a governor; and Israel was made the open part of God.
  - 18 (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
- <sup>19</sup> And all the works of them be as the sun in the sight of God; and his eyes behold without ceasing in (or on) the ways of them.
- <sup>20</sup> Testaments were not hid from the wickedness of them; and all the wickednesses of them were in the sight of God.
  - <sup>21</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
- <sup>22</sup> The alms of a man is as a bag [or a little sack] with him, and it shall keep the grace of a man as the apple of the eye;
- <sup>23</sup> and afterward man shall rise again, and it shall yield to them a yielding, to each man into (or onto) the head of them; and (it) shall (re)turn into the lower parts of (the) earth.
- <sup>24</sup> Forsooth it gave to men repenting the way of rightfulness [or rightwiseness], and confirmed men failing to suffer, and ordained to them the part of truth.

<sup>26</sup> Turn thou again to the Lord, and turn thou away from thine unrightful-ness [or unrightwiseness], and hate thou greatly cursing, that is, cursed sin.

<sup>27</sup> And know thou the rightfulnesses [or rightwisenesses], and (the) dooms of God; and stand thou in the part of good purpose, and of prayer of (or to) the highest God. Go thou into the parts of the holy world, with men living [or with men alive], and giving acknowledging to God.

<sup>28</sup> Dwell thou not in the error of wicked men. Acknowledge thou before death; acknowledging [or confession] perisheth from a dead man, as nothing. Living thou shalt acknowledge, living and whole thou shalt acknowledge, and shalt praise God; and thou shalt have glory in the merciful doings of him.

<sup>29</sup> The mercy of God is full great, and his help to them that convert to him. [How great the mercy of God, and the mitigation, or help, of him to men converting to him.]

<sup>30</sup> For why not all things may be or be able to be in men; for why the son of man is not undeadly (or immortal), and malices pleased into vanity.

- <sup>31</sup> What is clearer [or more clear] than the sun? and this shall fail; either [or] what is worse than that, that flesh and blood thought out? and of this he shall be reproved.
- <sup>32</sup> He beholdeth the virtue of [the] highness of heaven; and all men be(but) earth and ashes.

CHAPTER 18

 $^{1}$  He that liveth without beginning and end, made (out) of nought all things together;

<sup>2</sup> God alone shall be justified,

- $^{3}$  and he dwelleth a King unover-come [or unvanquished] without end.
- <sup>4</sup> Who shall suffice to tell out his works? for why who shall seek (out) the great [worthy] things of him?
- <sup>5</sup> But who shall tell out the virtue (or the strength) of his greatness? either [or] who shall lay to for to tell out his mercy?
- <sup>6</sup> It is not to make less, neither to lay to; neither it is to find the great things of God. [There is not to lessen, nor to add (to); nor there is to find the great worthy things of God.]

<sup>7</sup> When a man hath ended, then he shall begin [or beginneth]; and when he hath rested, (then) he shall work.

- <sup>8</sup> What is a man, and what is the glory of him? and what is good, either [or] what is the wicked thing of him?
- <sup>9</sup> The number of the days of men, that be commonly [or as much (as)] an hundred years,
- <sup>10</sup> be areckoned as the drops of the water of the sea; and as the stone (or a stone) of gravel, so a few years in the day of everlastingness [or the spiritual world].
- 11 For this thing God is patient in (or with) them, and sheddeth [or he shall pour] out on them his mercy.
- <sup>12</sup> He saw the presumption, [or (the) pride], of their heart, for it was evil; and he knew the destroying of them, for it was wicked, [or shrewd, (or depraved)]. Therefore he filled his mercy in them, and showed to them the way of equity.

- 13 The merciful doing of man is about his neighbour; but the mercy of the Lord is over each [or upon all] flesh. He that hath mercy, and teach-eth, and chastiseth as a shepherd his flock,
- <sup>14</sup> do he mercy, taking the teaching of merciful doing; and he that hast(en)-eth in the dooms thereof [or of him].
- 15 Son, in goods [or good things] give thou not (com)plaint, and in (or with) each gift give thou not heaviness of an evil word.
  - <sup>16</sup> Whether dew shall not cool heat? so and a word is better than (a) gift.
- <sup>17</sup> Lo! whether a word is not above [or over] a good gift? but ever either is with a man justified [or a justified man].
- <sup>18</sup> A fool shall upbraid sharply [or shall give reproof]; and the gift of an untaught man maketh (the) eyes to fail.
- 19 Before the doom make thou ready rightfulness to thee; and learn thou, before that thou speak. Before sickness give thou [or take] medicine;
- <sup>20</sup> and before the doom ask thyself, and thou shalt find mercy in the sight of God.
- <sup>21</sup> Before sickness make thee meek, and in the time of sickness show thy living. [Before sickness meek thee, and in the time of infirmity show thou thy conversation or thy living.]
- <sup>22</sup> Be thou not hindered to pray ever[more], and dread thou not to be justified till to [or unto the] death; for why the meed of God dwelleth without end.
- <sup>23</sup> Before prayer make ready [or prepare] thy soul; and do not thou be as a man that tempteth God, that is, that a man betake himself to peril, and believe that that he may do reasonably, and (then) abide to be delivered of (or by) God.
- <sup>24</sup> Have thou mind of (or remember the) ire [or wrath] in the day of ending; and make thou in living [or conversation] the time of yielding.
- <sup>25</sup> Have thou mind of (or remember) poverty in the day of abundance [or the time of plenty]; and the need of poverty in the time [or day] of riches.
- <sup>26</sup> From the morrowtide unto the eventide the time shall be changed; and all these things be swift [or hasted] in the eyes of God.
- <sup>27</sup> A wise man shall dread in all things; and in the days of trespasses he shall flee from uncunning (or unknowing), either sloth.
- <sup>28</sup> Each fell, [or witty, (or witting, or knowing)] man, that is, attentive to eschew evils, by God's dread, know-eth wisdom; and to him that findeth it, he shall give acknowledging (to it).
- <sup>29</sup> Witty, (or Witting, or knowing) men in words also they did wisely, and understood truth, and rightful-ness [or rightwiseness]; and besought proverbs and dooms.
- <sup>30</sup> Go thou not after thy covetous-nesses; and be thou turned away from thy will. [After thy lusts go thou not; and from thy will turn thee away.]
- <sup>31</sup> If thou givest to thy soul the covetousnesses thereof [or (its) lusts], it shall make thee into joy to thine enemies.
- <sup>32</sup> Delight thou not in companies (or crowds), neither in little companies[or in small things]; for why the sinning [or the trespassing] of them is continual.

<sup>33</sup> Be thou not mean in the striving of love [or for money], and something is [not] to thee in the bag; for why thou shalt be envious to thy (own) soul.

- <sup>1</sup> A drunken workman shall not be made rich; and he that chargeth not little sins[or despiseth little things], falleth down into grievouser sins, little and little.
- <sup>2</sup> Wine and women make to be apostates, yea, wise men, [or Wine and women make also wise men to go backward]; and they reprove witty, (or witting, or knowing) men. And he that joineth himself to whores, shall be wicked;
- <sup>3</sup> rot and worms shall inherit him, and he shall be set on high into more ensample, and his soul shall be taken away from (the) number of chosen men.
- <sup>4</sup> He that believeth soon, is un-stable [or light] in heart, and shall be made less; and he that trespasseth against his (own) soul, shall be had furthermore.
- <sup>5</sup> He that joyeth in wickedness, shall be cursed; and he that hateth blaming [or correction], shall be made less in life;
- <sup>6</sup> and he that hateth jangling [or much speech], quencheth malice. He that sinneth against his (own) soul, shall [not] repent [or do penance]; and that is merry in malice, shall be cursed [or reproved].
- $^{7}$  Rehearse thou (or Repeat) not an hard word, and wicked; and thou shalt not be made less.
- <sup>8</sup> Do not thou tell thy wit to friend and (or) to (an) enemy; and if trespass is to thee, do not thou make (it) naked.
- <sup>9</sup> For he shall hear thee, and shall keep thee, and he as defending the sin shall hate thee; and so he shall be ever(more) with thee.
- $^{10}$  Thou hast heard a word against thy neighbour; die it (al)together in (or with) thee, and trust thou that it shall not break thee.
- <sup>11</sup> A fool travaileth greatly of (or in) the face of a word, as the sorrow of (the) bearing of a young child [or (the) wailing of the birth of a child].
- <sup>12</sup> An arrow fastened [or fixed] in the hip of a dog, so a word in the heart of a fool.
- <sup>13</sup> Reprove thou [or Chastise] a friend, lest peradventure he understand not, and say, I did (it) not; either if he hath done (it), lest he add to do (it) again.
- <sup>14</sup> Reprove thou [or Chastise] a neigh-bour, lest peradventure he say (it) not; and if he saith or said, lest per-adventure he rehearse (or repeat it).
- <sup>15</sup> Reprove thou [or Chastise] a friend, for why trespassing is done often; and believe thou not to each word.
- <sup>16</sup> There is a man that falleth [or that slideth] by his tongue, but not of will, that is, wittingly and of (or on) purpose. For why who is he, that trespasseth not in (or with) his tongue?
- <sup>17</sup> Reprove thou [or Chastise] a neighbour, betwixt thee and him, before that thou menace or threaten; and give thou place to the dread of the Highest.
  - <sup>18</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
  - <sup>19</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)

- $^{20}$  For why all wisdom is the dread of God, and in that wisdom for to dread God; and the ordinance [or the disposing] of (the) law is in all wisdom.
  - <sup>21</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
- <sup>22</sup> And the teaching of wickedness is not wisdom; and the prudence of sins is not good thought. [And wisdom is not the discipline of shrewdness (or depravity); and good thinking is not the prudence of sins.]
- <sup>23</sup> There is wickedness of prudence, and cursedness is therein; and there is an unwise man, which is made little in wisdom. [There is shrewdness (or depravity) of prudence, and in it cursing; and there is an unwise man, that is less(en)ed in wisdom.]

<sup>24</sup> Better is a man that hath little wisdom, and failing in wit, in the dread of God, than he that hath plenty of [or aboundeth in] wit, and breaketh the law of the Highest.

<sup>25</sup> There is (a) certain subtlety [or slyness], and it is wicked. And there is a man, that sendeth out a certain word, telling out (the) truth.

<sup>26</sup> There is a man that meeketh himself wickedly to deceive men the more; and his inner things be full of guile. [There is, that shrewdly meeketh himself; and the entrails of him be full of treachery.]

<sup>27</sup> And there is a just [or rightwise] man, that maketh low greatly [or under-putteth] himself of (or by) much meek-ness; and there is a just [or rightwise] man, that boweth the face, and feign-eth him(self) to see not that, that is unknown.

<sup>28</sup> (Even) Though [or And if] he is forbidden of (or by the) feebleness [or infirmity] of strengths to do sin; if he findeth (the) time to do evil, he shall do evil.

<sup>29</sup> A man is known by (his) sight (or by his appearance); and a witty, (or a witting, or a knowing) man is known by meeting of face.

<sup>30</sup> The clothing of (the) body, and the laughing of teeth, and the enter-ing [or the going in] of a man, tell out of him.

- <sup>1</sup> There is false reproving in the ire of a man full of despising [or There is lying correction in (the) wrath of the wrongful]; and there is doom which is not proved to be good; and there is a still man, and he is prudent.
- <sup>2</sup> It is full good to reprove [or How good (it) is to reprove], more than to be wroth, and to forbid not a man acknowledging in prayer.
- <sup>3</sup>The covetousness of a gelding hath defouled the maidenhood of a young woman, so (or is as) he that maketh wicked doom by violence. [The lust of the gelding deflowered the young woman, or (made her) bereft of her maidenhood, so he that doeth by force wicked doom.]
- <sup>4</sup> It is full good, that a man that is reproved, show openly penance; for so thou shalt escape willful sin. [How good (it) is, the chastised to show penance; so for sooth thou shalt flee away (from) willful sin.]
- <sup>5</sup> There is a still man, which is found wise; and he (that) is hateful, which is foolhardy to speak.
- <sup>6</sup> Soothly there is a still man, not having wit of speech; and there is a still man, knowing the season of coven-able, (or of suitable, or opportune) time.

- <sup>7</sup> A wise man shall be still till to (the right) time; but a jolly, [or reck-less, or wild] man and (an) unprudent man shall not keep time.
- <sup>8</sup> He that useth many words, hurteth his (own) soul; and he that taketh power to himself unjustly [or wrongfully], shall be hated.
- <sup>9</sup> There is going forth in evils to a man unlearned [or undisciplined]; and there is finding into (im)pairing [or into harm].
- <sup>10</sup> There is a gift, which is not profitable; and there is a gift, whose yielding is double.
- <sup>11</sup> There is making less for glory; and there is a man, which shall raise the head from meekness.
- $^{12}$  There is a man, that again-buyeth many sins for (a) little price, and restoreth those [or them] in sevenfold.
- <sup>13</sup> A wise man in words maketh himself amiable [or lovable]; but the graces of fools shall be shed [or poured] out.
- <sup>14</sup> The gift of an unwise man shall not be profitable to thee; for his eyes be sevenfold, that is, his intent is manyfold and diverse.
- <sup>15</sup> He shall give little things [or Few things he shall give], and he shall up-braid many things; and the opening of his mouth is enflaming. Today a man lendeth, and tomorrow he asketh (for)it; and such a man is hateful.
- <sup>16</sup> A friend shall not be to a fool, and grace shall not be to his goods. For they that eat his bread, be of false tongue, that is, flatterers praising his follies;
- <sup>17</sup> how often, and how many men shall scorn him?(!) For he parteth [or he dealed] not by even wit that, that was worthy to be had; in like manner and that, that was not worthy to be had.
- <sup>18</sup> The falling [or sliding] of a false tongue is as he that falleth in (or on) the pavement; so the falls of evil men shall come hastily.
- <sup>19</sup> A man without grace is as a vain fable; and it shall be customable in the mouth of unlearned men. [An unkind man as a vain fable; and it shall be often in the mouth of the undisciplined.]
- <sup>20</sup> A parable, that is, a true sentence and great, shall be reproved (when it cometh out) of the mouth of a fool; for he saith not it [or he saith it not] in his (or its) time.
- $^{21}$  There is a man, that is forbidden to do sin, for (or because of) poverty; and he shall (not) be pricked in his rest.
- <sup>22</sup> There is a man, that shall lose (or destroy) his (own) soul for shame; and for the unprudence of a person he shall lose it. Forsooth he shall lose (or destroy) himself for the taking (or the favouring) of a person.
- <sup>23</sup> There is a man, that for shame promiseth to a friend; and (then) he hath gotten [or won] him(self)(an) enemy without cause, [or willfully, (or willingly)].
- <sup>24</sup> Leasing (or Lying)is a wicked shame in a man; and it shall be customably [or busily] in the mouth of unlearned men [or the undisciplined].
- <sup>25</sup> Better, or less evil, is a thief than the customableness of a man, a leasing-monger, that is, a man accustomed to lying, [or a liar]; forsooth both they (or both of them) shall inherit perdition.
- <sup>26</sup> The manners of men leasing-mongers [or liars]be without honour; and their shame is with them without ceasing.

- <sup>27</sup> A wise man in words shall bring forth himself; and a prudent man shall please great men.
- <sup>28</sup> He that worketh his land, shall make high the heap of fruits; and he that worketh rightfulness, shall be enhanced (or exalted). Soothly he that pleaseth great men, shall escape wickedness.
- <sup>29</sup> Presents and gifts blind the eyes of judges; and as (one) dumb in the mouth it [or he] turneth away the chastisings of them.
  - <sup>30</sup> Wisdom hid, and treasure unseen, what profit is in ever either?
- <sup>31</sup> He is better, that hideth his unwisdom, than a man that hideth his wisdom.
  - <sup>32</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)

- <sup>1</sup> Son, thou hast done sin? [or Son, hast thou sinned?] add thou (to it) not again; but beseech thou for the former sins, that those [or they] be forgiven to thee.
- <sup>2</sup>As from the face of a serpent [or a shadow adder] flee thou sins; and if thou nighest (or approachest) to them, those [or they] shall take thee. The teeth of a lion be(as) the teeth there-of, that slay the souls of men.
- <sup>3</sup> All wickedness is as a sharp sword on either side; health is not to the wound thereof [or of it].
- <sup>4</sup> Chidings and wrongs shall destroy chattel [or substance]; and an house that is over-rich, shall be destroyed by pride; so the chattel [or substance] of a proud man shall be drawn up by the root.
- <sup>5</sup> The prayer of a poor man shall come from the mouth unto (the) ears of God; and doom shall come to him hastily.
- <sup>6</sup> He that hateth reproving, is (in) a step of the sinner; and (or but) he that dreadeth God, shall be turned [or converted] to (him in) his heart.
- <sup>7</sup> A mighty man with an hardy tongue is known afar; and a witty (or a witting or a knowing) man can or knoweth how to keep himself [or to slide] from that man.
- <sup>8</sup> He that buildeth his house with other men's costs, is as he that gathereth his stones in winter.
- <sup>9</sup> Sheaves, or stubble, [or flax top(s)], gathered together is the synagogue of sinners; and the ending of them is the flame of fire.
- <sup>10</sup> The way of sinners is set (al)to-gether [or planted] with stones; and in the end of them be hells*, [or hell], and darknesses, and pains.
- <sup>11</sup> He that keepeth rightfulness, shall hold the wit (or the understanding) thereof. The perfection of God's dread is wisdom and wit.
- <sup>12</sup> He shall not be taught, which is not wise in (what is) good. Forsooth unwisdom is, which is plenteous in evil; and wit is not, where (there) is bitterness. [He shall not be learned, that is not wise in good. There is forsooth unwisdom, that aboundeth in evil; and there is not wit, where is bitterness.]
- <sup>13</sup> The cunning, (or knowing, or the knowledge) of a wise man shall be plenteous as flowing (water); and the counsel of him dwelleth as a well of life.
- 14 The heart of a fool is as a broken vessel; and it shall not hold any wisdom.

* CHAPTER 21:10 It is said 'hells' in plural number, for many places be there.

<sup>16</sup> The telling of a fool is as a burden in (or on) the way; for why grace shall be found in (or on) the lips of a wise man.

<sup>17</sup> The mouth of a prudent man is sought in the church; and men shall think (on) his words in their hearts.

<sup>18</sup> As an house destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool; and the cunning (or the knowing) of an unwise man is words that may not be or be not able to be told out [or (that be) untellable].

<sup>19</sup> Stocks in (or on) the feet is teach-ing [or doctrine] to a fool; and as bonds of hands on the right hand.

- <sup>20</sup> A fool enhanceth his voice in laughing; but a wise man shall laugh scarcely still.
- <sup>21</sup> Teaching is a golden ornament to a prudent man; and as an ornament of the arm [or an arm-circle] in (or on) the right arm.
- <sup>22</sup> The foot of a fool is light (or easily) into the house of a neighbour; and a wise man shall be ashamed of the person of a mighty man.
- <sup>23</sup> A fool beholdeth from the window into the house; but a learned man shall stand withoutforth.

25 The lips of unprudent men shall tell fond things [or follies]; but the words of prudent men shall be weigh-ed in a balance.

<sup>28</sup> A privy backbiter shall defoul his soul, and in all things he shall be hated, and he that dwelleth, shall be hated; a still man and wise shall be honoured.

CHAPTER 22

<sup>1</sup> A slow man is (as) stunned in (or as) a stone of clay; and all men shall speak on [or of] the [great] despising of him.

<sup>2</sup> A slow man is (as) stunned of (or as) the dung of oxes [or the drit of oxen]; and each man that toucheth him, shall shake the hands.

<sup>3</sup> The shame of a father is of a son unlearned [or undisciplined]; but a fond [or a fool(ish)] daughter shall be in decreasing [or diminishing] of the honour of father and mother.

her husband, is in despising [or in reproof] of (or by) the father.

- <sup>5</sup> A bold woman, that is, shame-less, shameth the father and husband, and shall not be made less than unfaithful men; forsooth she shall not be honoured of (or by) ever either.
- <sup>6</sup> Melody in mourning is uncoven-able (or unsuitable) telling; beatings and teaching, [or scourges and doc-trine], (be) in all time with wisdom.
- <sup>7</sup> He that teacheth a fool, (is) as he that glueth together a tilestone, [or a sherd, (or shard)]. He that telleth a word to him that heareth not, is as he that raiseth a man sleeping from a grievous [or heavy] sleep.
- <sup>8</sup> He that telleth wisdom to a fool, speaketh with a man sleeping; and in the end of the telling he shall say, Who is this?

- <sup>10</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
- 11 Weep thou on (or for) a dead man, for why his light [or the light of him] failed; and weep thou on (or for) a fool, for he failed of wit. Weep thou a little on (or for) a dead man, for he hath rested. Forsooth the life of a full wicked man is full wicked, more than the death of a fool.

12 The mourning of (or for) a dead man is seven days; but the mourning of (or for) a fool and of (or for) a wick-ed man is all the days of their life.

13 Speak thou not much with a fool, and go thou not with an unwise man. Keep thee from him, (so) that thou have not dis-ease [or grief]; and thou shalt not be defouled in the sin of him. Bow thou away from him, and thou shalt find rest; and be thou not annoyed (or harmed) by his folly.

14 What shall be made heavier than lead? and what other name than a fool is to it [or to him]?

- 15 It is lighter (or easier) to bear gravel, and salt, and a gobbet of iron, than a man unprudent [or an impru-dent man], and a fool, and unfaithful.
- <sup>16</sup> As an heap [or (a) joining] of trees, bound together in the foundament of the building, shall not be unbound [or unloosed], so and an heart confirmed in the thought of counsel.

<sup>17</sup> The thought of a wise man shall not be made shrewd (or depraved) in any time, neither dreaded.

<sup>18</sup> As chaffs in high places, and sand without meddling of him [or and mor-tar without due cost], set against the face of the wind, shall not dwell; so and a dreadful heart in the thought [or in the thinking] of a fool againststandeth not against the fierceness of dread. As adorning, either pargeting, full of gravel in a clear wall, so and a fearedful heart in the thought of a fool [or the trembling heart in the thinking of a fool] shall not dread in any time; so and he that dwelleth ever[more] in the behests (or the commands)

<sup>20</sup> He that casteth [or throwing] a stone to (or at) birds, shall cast down those [or them]; so and he that doeth wrong to a friend, departeth [or loseth] friendship.

21 Though thou bringest forth a sword to a friend, despair thou not; for there is going again to the friend.

22 If he openeth a sorrowful mouth, dread thou not; for why there is according, except (for) despising, and shame, and pride, and showing for opening] of private(s), (or of secrets), and a treacherous wound; in all these things a friend shall fly [or flee] away.

<sup>23</sup> Have thou faith with a friend in his poverty, (so) that thou be glad also in his goods. In the time of his tribulations, dwell thou [or abide still] faithful to him, (so) that also thou be even-heir in the heritage of him.

<sup>24</sup> Heat and smoke of fire is made high before the fire of a chimney; so and cursings, and despisings, and menaces, [or curses, and wrongs, and threats], come before blood.

<sup>26</sup> (even) though [or and if] evils come to me by him, I shall suffer. Each man that shall hear, shall keep warily himself from him.

<sup>27</sup> Who shall give keeping to (or keep watch over) my mouth, and a certain sealing on my lips, (so) that I fall not by those, and that my tongue lose (or destroy) not me? [Who shall give to my mouth ward, and upon my lips a certain mark, that I fall not from them, and my tongue lose me?]

- <sup>1</sup> Lord, Father, and lordly governor of my life, forsake thou me not in the thought [or the thinking] and (the) counsel of them, that is, of fools and unfaithful men; neither suffer (or allow) thou me to fall in that shame.
- <sup>2</sup> Who setteth above in my thought(s) beatings, and in mine heart the teaching of wisdom, that in the uncunnings, (or unknowings, or ignorances) of them he spare not me, and that the trespasses of them appear not? [Who putteth upon in my thinking scourges, and in mine heart doctrine of wisdom, that to the unknowings of them he spare not to me, and appear not the guilts of them?]
- <sup>3</sup>Lest mine uncunnings, (or my unknowings, or ignorances) increase, and my trespasses be multiplied, and my sins be plenteous [or abound]; and lest I fall in the sight of mine adversaries, and mine enemy have joy.
- <sup>4</sup> Lord, Father, and God of my life, forsake thou not me in the thought(s) of them. Give thou not to me enhancing of mine eyes, yea, suffer not (or do not allow) that pride be lord over me;
  - <sup>5</sup> and turn thou away from me all shrewd (or depraved) desire.
- <sup>6</sup> Do thou away from me the covetousnesses of the womb, and the covetousnesses of lechery [or of lust] take me not; and give thou not me (over)(in)to a soul unreverent and undiscreet or unsavoury.
- <sup>7</sup> Sons, hear ye the teaching of (the) mouth; and he that keepeth it, shall not perish by his lips, neither shall be caused to stumble in worst works.
- <sup>8</sup> A sinner and proud man shall be taken [or caught] in his vanity; and a cursed man shall be caused to stumble in those [or in them].
- <sup>9</sup> Thy mouth be not customable (or accustomed) to swearing; for why many fallings be therein. [To swearing use not thy mouth; many forsooth fallings be in it.]
- <sup>10</sup> Forsooth the naming of God be not customable [or continual] in thy mouth, and be thou not meddled to, [or mingled, (or mixed with)] the names of saints; for thou shalt not be guiltless of them.
- <sup>11</sup> For as a servant that is asked busily, shall not want (or lack) wan-ness, [or envy]; so each man swearing and naming shall not be purged of sin in all. A man swearing much shall be filled with wickedness; and vengeance shall not go away from his house. And if he deceiveth a brother, his trespass shall be above [or upon] him; and if he feigneth, he shall trespass doubly [or double]. And if he sweareth in vain, he shall not be justified; for why his house shall be filled with worst yielding.
- $^{12}$  Also again-ward another speech is into death; be it not found in the heritage of Jacob. For why all these things shall be done away from merciful men; and they shall not delight in trespasses.
- <sup>13</sup> Thy mouth be not customable (or accustomed) to unreverent speech; for why a word of sin is in it. [To the undisciplined speech use not thy mouth; forsooth there is in it the word of sin.]

- <sup>14</sup> Have thou mind on (or Think upon) thy father and mother; for (or when) thou standest in the midst of great men. Lest peradventure God forget thee in the sight of them; and lest thou made a fool by thus customableness [or busyness], suffer shame, either scorning, [or reproof], and haddest rather to be not born, and curse the day of thy birth.
- <sup>15</sup> A man customable in (or accustomed to using) the words of shame [or reproof], in all (his) days shall not be taught.
- <sup>16</sup> Two kinds be plenteous [or abound] in sins, and the third bring-eth ire and perdition. An hot soul burn-ing as fire shall not be quenched, till it swallow something; and a wicked man in the mouth of his flesh shall not fail, till he kindle (a) fire.
- $^{17}$  Each bread is sweet to a lecher-ous man; he shall not be made weary, trespassing till to the end.
- <sup>18</sup> Each man that passeth [or that over-goeth] his bed, doeth despite against his soul, and saith, Who seeth me? Darknesses (en)compass me, and (the) walls cover me, and no man behold-eth me. Whom dread I? The Highest shall not have mind on my sins.
- <sup>19</sup> And he understandeth not, that the eye of him, that is, of God, seeth all things; for why the dread of such a man putteth away from him(self) the dread of God, and the eyes of men that dread him put away from him God's dread. And he knew not, that the eyes of the Lord be much more clearer than the sun, and behold all the ways of men, and the depth of the sea, and they behold the hearts of men into hid parts.
- <sup>20</sup> For why all things were known to the Lord, before that they were made or formed of nought; so and after the making, he beholdeth all things.
- <sup>21</sup> This man shall be punished in the streets of the city; he shall be driven away as an horse colt, and he shall be taken [or caught], where he hopeth not. And he shall be shame to all men; for he understood not the dread of the Lord.
- <sup>22</sup> So and each woman forsaking her husband shall do sin, and ordaining heritage, that is, (an) heir of her husband, of (or by) an alien matrimony.
- $^{23}$  For first she was unbelieveful in the law of the Highest, and the second time she forsook her husband; and the third time she was defouled in adultery, and ordained to him sons of (or by) another man.
- $^{24}$  She, this woman, shall be brought into the church, and men shall behold on her sons.
- <sup>25</sup> Her sons shall not give [or take] roots, and her branches shall not give fruit.
- <sup>26</sup> They shall leave the mind (or the memory) of her into cursing, and the shame of her shall not be done away.
- <sup>27</sup> And they that be left shall know, that nothing is better than the dread of God, and nothing is sweeter than to behold in the commandments of the Lord.
- <sup>28</sup> It is great glory to pursue [or to follow] the Lord; for why length of days shall be taken of (or received from) him.

 $^{1}$  Wisdom shall praise his soul, and he shall be honoured in God; and he shall have glory in the midst of his people.

<sup>2</sup> And he shall open his mouth in the churches of the Highest; and he shall have glory in the sight of his virtue (or his power). And he shall be enhanced in the midst of his people; and he shall [much] wonder in holy fullness, either plenty. And in the multitude of chosen men he shall have praising; and among blessed men he shall be blessed, and say,

<sup>3</sup> I, the first engendered [or (be)got-ten] before each creature, came forth from [or (out) of] the mouth of the Highest. I (was) made in (the) heavens, that (or where) light never failing rose up, and as a cloud I covered all (the) earth,

<sup>4</sup> I dwelled in highest things, and my throne (is) in a pillar of [a] cloud.

<sup>5</sup> I alone went about the compass [or the circle] of heaven, and I pierced the depth of the sea;

<sup>6</sup> and I went in the waves of the sea, and I stood in (or on) all the land [or all (the) earth]. And I had the first dignity in each people, and in each folk; and I trod by virtue (or power) on the necks of all excellent men and meek [or all high and low];

<sup>7</sup> and in all these men I sought rest, and I shall dwell in the heritage (or inheritance) of the Lord.

- <sup>8</sup> Then the Creator [or the former] of all [things] commanded, and said to me; and he that formed me, rested in my tabernacle; and he said to me, Dwell thou in Jacob, and take thou heritage in Israel, and send thou roots in(to) my chosen men [or my chosen].
- <sup>9</sup> I was engendered from the begin-ning and before worlds, and I shall not fail unto the world to coming; [From the beginning and before worlds I am formed, and unto the world to come I shall not cease to be;]

<sup>10</sup> and I ministered [or served] in an holy dwelling before him. And so I was made steadfast in Zion,

- $^{11}$  and in like manner I rested in a city hallowed, and my power was in Jerusalem. [and in an hallowed city (in) like manner I rested, and in Jerusalem (was) my power.]
- <sup>12</sup> And I rooted in a people honour-ed; and the heritage thereof into the parts of my God, and my withholding in the plenty or the fullness of saints.
- <sup>13</sup> I was enhanced as a cedar in Lebanon, and as a cypress tree in the hill of Zion.
- $^{14}$  I was enhanced as a palm tree in Cades or in Kedesh, (or in Engedi), and as the planting of (a) rose in Jericho. And as a fair olive tree in fields; and I was enhanced as a plane [or a platan] tree besides (the) water in streets.
- <sup>15</sup> As canel and balm giving great smell, I gave odour; as chosen myrrh I gave the sweetness of odour. And as storax, and galbanum, and ungulam, and gum, and as Lebanon not cut down, I made hot [or I smoked] my dwelling place; and mine odour as balm [or balsam] not meddled, [or mingled, (or mixed)].
- <sup>16</sup>I as terebinth stretched forth my boughs [or branches]; and my boughs [or branches]be boughs (or branches) of honour, and of glory [or grace].
- <sup>17</sup> I as a vine made fruit the sweet-ness of odour; and my flowers be the fruits of honour, and of honesty (or of riches).
- <sup>18</sup> I am a mother of fair love, and of dread, and of knowing, and of holy hope. In me is all grace of way, and of truth; in me is all hope of life and of virtue.

- <sup>19</sup> All ye that covet me, pass (or come) to me; and be ye filled of (or with) my generations.
- <sup>20</sup>For why my spirit is sweet above [or over] honey; and mine heritage is above [or over] honey, and honey-comb. My mind is in*(to)* the gener-ation of worlds (or I shall always be remembered).
- <sup>21</sup> They that eat me, shall hunger yet [or yet shall hunger]; and they that drink me, shall thirst yet [or yet shall thirst].
- <sup>22</sup> He that heareth me, shall not be shamed; and they that work in me, shall not do sin; and they that declare me, shall have everlasting life.
- <sup>23</sup> All these things is the book of life, and the testament of the Highest, and the knowing [or acknowledging] of (the) truth. Moses commanded a law in the commandments of rightful-nesses [or the behests of rightwise-nesses], and (for an) heritage to the house of Jacob, and (the) promises to Israel.
- $^{24}$  He setted, that is, ordained, either promised, to David, his child, to raise [up] of (or from) him a king most strong, and sitting without end in the throne of honour.
- <sup>25</sup> Which king filleth wisdom, as Pishon sheddeth out water; and as Tigris in the days of new things.
- <sup>26</sup> Which, as Euphrates, [full]-filleth wit; which multiplieth, as (the) Jordan in the time of harvest [or reap(ing)].
- <sup>27</sup> Which sendeth teaching as (the) light; and is nigh all men, as Gihon in the day of vintage.
- <sup>28</sup> Which maketh perfectly first to know that wisdom[or That perform-eth first to know it]; and a feebler man shall not ensearch it.
- <sup>29</sup> For why the thought(s) thereof shall be (as) plenteous of (or as) the sea, that is, his knowing is more plenteous than the sea; and his counsel in the great ocean [or in the great deepness]is uncomprehensible. I wisdom shedded [or poured] out floods; I as a way, that is, a strong running, of full great water [or water without measure] of the flood.
- <sup>30</sup> I as the flood Dorix, and as a water conduit I went out of [or from] paradise.
- <sup>31</sup> I said, I shall water my garden of plantings; and I shall greatly fill the fruit of my child-bearing. And lo! a plenteous way of water is made to (or for) me; and my flood nighed to the sea.
- <sup>32</sup> For I (en)lighten teaching as the cheer morrowtide [or morrowtide light] to all men; and I shall tell out it unto far. I shall pierce all the lower [or nether] parts of (the) earth, and I shall behold all that sleep; and I shall (en)lighten all that hope in the Lord.
- <sup>33</sup> Yet I shall shed [or pour] out teach-ing as prophecy, and I shall leave it to them that seek wisdom; and I shall not fail into the generations [or pro-genies] of them, till into the holy world.
- <sup>34</sup> See ye, that I travailed not to me alone, but to all that seek out (the) truth.

<sup>1</sup> In three things it is pleased to my spirit, which be approved before God and men; [the] according of brethren, and (the) love of neighbours, [and] a man and woman well consenting to themselves.

- <sup>2</sup> My soul hated three species, (or kinds), and I am grieved greatly to (or by) the soul of them; a poor man proud, and a rich man (that is a) liar, and an eld [or old] man (that is) a fool and unwitty (or unwise), [or doted].
- <sup>3</sup> How shalt thou find in thine eld (age) those things, which thou gathered not in thy youth?
- <sup>4</sup> Doom of discretion is full fair in hoariness, either (an) eld man, [or How fair the doom in hoariness], and to priests to know counsel.
- <sup>5</sup> Wisdom is full fair to eld [or old] men, and glorious understanding. and counsel.
- <sup>6</sup> The crown of eld men is in much cunning, (or knowing, or knowledge); and the glory of them is the dread of God.
- <sup>7</sup> I magnified nine things unsus-pect(ed) of the heart; and I shall say the tenth thing by tongue to men. A man which living is merry in sons [or A man that is joyed in sons living], and seeing the destroying of his enemies.
- <sup>8</sup> He is blessed that dwelleth with a witty (or with a wise) woman, and he that fell not [or not slidden] by his tongue, and he that served not to men unworthy to himself.
- <sup>9</sup> He is blessed that findeth a very (or a true) friend, and he that telleth out rightfulness to an ear hearing.
- <sup>10</sup> He is full great that findeth wisdom and cunning (or knowing); but he is not above [or over] him that dreadeth God*.
- <sup>11</sup> The dread of God hath set itself above [or over] all things. Blessed is the man to whom it is given to have the dread of God; to whom shall he be likened, that holdeth that dread?
- <sup>12</sup> The dread of God is the beginning of his love; forsooth the beginning of faith is to be fast-joined thereto [or to him].
- 13 The sorrow of (the) heart is each wound; and the wickedness of a woman is all malice†. A leech (or A physician) shall see each wound, and (or but) not the wound of (the) heart; and all wickedness, and (or but) not the wickedness of a woman;
- 14 and each covering [or all hid thing], that is, (the) colouring of malice, and not the covering [or the hid thing] of haters; and each [or all] vengeance, and not the vengeance of enemies.
- 15 None head is worse [or wickeder] than the head of an adder dwelling in (a) shadow; and none ire [or wrath] is above [or over] the ire of a woman.

<sup>16</sup> It shall please more to dwell with a lion and a dragon, than to dwell with a wicked woman.

- <sup>17</sup> The wickedness of a woman changeth her face; and she blinded her cheer (or her face) as a bear doeth, and she shall show as a sack(cloth) in the midst of (her) neighbours.
- 18 Her husband [greatly] wailed; and his wicked wife heard, and sighed a little, [or hearing (her), sighed a little].

CHAPTER 25:10 The dread of God is the more (or the most) good, and passeth all (other) goods † CHAPTER 25:13 That is, as the sorrow of heart passeth each wound of (the) body, so the malice of a woman passeth all the malice of a man. (This verse, and those which follow to the end of this chapter, are only found in some early copies of this book, and are more reflective of that author's bitter personal experience, than of divine inspiration. And, of course, it goes without saying, that anyone could fashion a list of comparable grievances regarding life with a wicked man. T.P.N.)

- <sup>19</sup> All malice is short on (or is little compared to) the malice of a woman; the part [or the lot] of sinners, that is, the pain of hell, fall on her.
- <sup>20</sup> As a going-up (or an ascent) full of gravel in (or to) the feet of an eld [or old] man, so is a woman (that is) a great jangler to a peaceable [or quiet] man.

- <sup>24</sup> The beginning of sin was made of (or by) a woman; and all we die by
- <sup>25</sup> Give thou not issue to thy water, yea, not a little issue; neither to a wicked woman freedom, [or leave], of going forth [or going out].
- <sup>26</sup> If she goeth not at thine hand, she shall shame thee in the sight of (thine) enemies. Cut her away from thy fleshes, lest ever[more] she misuse thee

- <sup>1</sup> The husband of a good woman is blessed; for why the number of their vears is double for the number for-sooth of the years of him double].
- <sup>2</sup> A strong woman, that is, against sins, delighteth her husband; and (he) shall [ful] fill in peace the years of his life.
- <sup>3</sup> A good woman is a good part (or partner); in the good part of them that dread God, she shall be given to a man for [his] good deeds.
- <sup>4</sup> Forsooth (if) the heart of a rich man and (or) of a poor man is good; in all time their cheer (or his face)is glad.
- <sup>5</sup> Mine heart dreaded of three things, and my face dreaded [or was afeared] in (or of) the fourth thing. Betraying of a city, and the gathering together of people, that is, in conspiring of the people against the prince, and false challenge; all (these) things (be more) grievous on (or worse than)
- <sup>6</sup> The sorrow of heart, and mourn-ing, is a jealous woman. In a jealous woman is(a) beating [or scourge] of (the) tongue, and she communeth with
- <sup>7</sup> As a yoke of oxes [or oxen] which is moved, so and a wicked woman; he that holdeth her, is as he that taketh [or caught](hold of) a scorpion.
- <sup>8</sup> A drunken woman is great ire, and despising [or strife]; and her filth-(hood)[or nakedness] shall not be covered.
- <sup>9</sup> The fornication of a woman is in the raising of (her) eyes; and [she] shall be known in (or by) the eyelids of her.
- <sup>10</sup> Make thou firm the keeping in (or of) a daughter not turning away her-self; lest she mis-use herself, if she findeth (an) occasion.
- <sup>11</sup> Be thou ware of all unreverence of her eyes; and wonder thou not, if she despiseth thee.
- <sup>12</sup> As a way-goer thirsting shall open the mouth at a well, and shall drink of each water next; and the foresaid daughter shall sit against each pale, and shall open the arrow case against each arrow [or against all arrow(s) shall open the quiver], till she fail.

fat his bones.

- <sup>14</sup> The cunning (or the knowing) of her is the gift of God. A wise woman and a still (one) is not (ex)changing of (or with) a learned [or the taught] soul.
- <sup>15</sup> Grace [up] on grace is an holy woman, and shamefast. Forsooth all weighing is not worth a continent soul.
- <sup>16</sup> As the sun rising in the world in the highest things of God, so the fairness of a good woman is into the ornament, or the adornment, of her house.
- <sup>17</sup> A lantern shining on an holy candlestick, and the fairness of a face on (or in)[the] steadfast age, that is, as such a lantern lighteneth the church, and such a face maketh fair ripe age, so a good woman maketh fair her house.
- <sup>18</sup> Golden pillars on silvern founda-ments (or foundations), and steadfast feet on the soles of a steadfast [or a stable] woman. Everlasting foundaments on a firm stone, and the behests, (or the commands), [or the commandments] of God in the heart of an holy woman.

    <sup>28</sup> In two things mine heart was made sorry [or is made sorrowful], and
- in the third thing wrathfulness came to me. A man warrior failing by neediness, and a wise man despised. And God hath made him ready to (or for) the sword, that passeth over [or over-goeth] from rightfulness [or rightwiseness] to sin.
- <sup>29</sup> Two species appeared hard and perilous to me; a merchant is delivered of hard from his negligence, and a taverner shall not be justified of or from sins of lips.

- $^{1}$  Many men have trespassed for neediness; and he that seeketh to be made rich, turneth away his eye.
- $^2$  As a stake [or a pale] is fastened in the midst of a heap [or a joining] of stones, so and a man shall be anguished by sins betwixt the midst of selling and buying. Trespass shall be all-broken with him that trespasseth.
- <sup>3</sup> If thou holdest not thee diligently in the dread of the Lord, thine house shall soon be turned upside down.
- <sup>4</sup> As dust shall dwell in the holes of a riddle, so the anguish of a man shall dwell in the thought(s) of him.
- <sup>5</sup> A furnace proveth the vessels of a potter; and the temptation of tribulation proveth just [or rightwise] men.

<sup>6</sup> As churl-like travail [or earth-working] about a tree showeth the fruit thereof, so a word of thought showeth the heart of man.

temptation, that is, (the) proving, of men.

- <sup>8</sup> If thou pursuest rightfulness [or followest rightwiseness], thou shalt take it; thou shalt clothe it as a long cloth, (or a cloak), [or an aube] of honour, and thou shalt dwell with it, and it shall defend thee without end, and in the day of knowing thou shalt find steadfastness.
- <sup>9</sup> Volatiles [or Fowls] come together to birds like themselves; and truth shall (re) turn again to them that work it.
- <sup>10</sup> (As) a lion setteth espies [or wait-eth (or lieth in wait)] ever[more] to hunting; so sins to them that work wickedness.
- <sup>11</sup> An holy man dwelleth in wisdom, as the sun dwelleth; for why a fool is changed as the moon.
- <sup>12</sup> In the midst of unwise men keep thou a word to (the) time; but be thou busy in the midst of them that think (upon) the law of God.
- <sup>13</sup> The telling of sinners is hateful; and the laughing of them is in the trespasses of sin.
- <sup>14</sup> Speech swearing much shall make (for) standing up of hairs, for astonishing, to the head; and unrever-ence thereof [or (the) irreverence of it] is stopping of (the) ears.
- <sup>15</sup> The shedding out of blood is in the chiding [or jangling] of proud men; and the cursing of them is grievous hearing, for in their chiding they blaspheme God often, and it is full grievous to faithful ears to hear such blasphemy of God.
- <sup>16</sup>He that showeth openly the privates (or the secrets) of a friend, loseth (or destroyeth) faithfulness; and he shall not find a friend to his soul.
- <sup>17</sup> Love thou a neighbour, and be thou joined with him in faith. For (or But) if thou showest openly the privates (or the secrets) of him, thou shalt not perfectly pursue after him.
- <sup>18</sup> For as a man that loseth his friend, so he that loseth the friendship of his neighbour.
- <sup>19</sup> And as a man that letteth go a bird from [or out of] his hand, so thou that hast forsaken thy neighbour, and thou shalt not take (or get) him (again).
- <sup>20</sup> Thou shalt not pursue [or follow] him, for he is far absent [or far he is away]; for he escaped as a capret from a snare, for the soul of him is wounded.
- <sup>21</sup> Thou shalt no more be able to bind him together; but of (or after) evil saying is according. Soothly to show openly the privates (or the secrets) of a friend, is despair of a soul unblessed [or unfaithful].
- <sup>22</sup> He that twinkleth with the eye, maketh [or forgeth] wicked things; and no man shall cast him away.
- <sup>23</sup> In the sight of thine eyes he shall defoul his mouth, and he shall wonder on thy words; but at the last he shall turn waywardly [or pervert] his mouth, and in his word he shall give slander [or in (or regarding) thy words he shall give slander].
- <sup>24</sup> I [have] heard many things, that is, evils, and I made (them) not even to him, yea, I areckoned not another malice even to the malice of this man; and the Lord shall hate him.

25 If a man casteth a stone on high it shall fall on his (own) head; and the guileful wound of a guileful [or treach-erous] man shall part wounds.

<sup>26</sup> And he that diggeth a ditch, shall fall into it; and he that setteth a stone to a neighbour, shall offend therein [or shall stumble in it]; and he that setteth a snare to another man, shall perish therein.

<sup>27</sup> If a man maketh worst [or wicked] counsel, it shall be turned [up] on him; and he shall not know from whence it shall come to him.

<sup>28</sup> The scorning and despising of proud men and vengeance shall set espy to him, as a lion doeth.

a snare; for sooth sorrow shall waste them, before that they die.

<sup>30</sup> Ire [or Wrath] and madness or rage, ever either be abominable; and a sinful man shall hold those [or them].

CHAPTER 28

<sup>1</sup> He that will be avenged, shall find of (or from) the Lord vengeance; and he keeping shall keep his sins to be punished harder by his rightfulness.

<sup>2</sup> Forgive thou to thy neighbour that annoyeth (or harmeth) thee, and then (thy) sins shall be released [or be forgiven] to thee (after) praying.

<sup>3</sup> A man keepeth ire [or wrath] to (or for a) man; and seeketh he of (or from) God medicine (or remedy)?

<sup>4</sup> He hath no mercy on a man like himself; and (yet) beseecheth he the Highest for his own sins?

who shall pray for his sins?

- <sup>6</sup> Have thou mind on the [or thy] last things, and cease thou [or leave (off)] to be (anyone's) enemy. For why failing and death nigh not in the commandments of God, for Rotten-ness for sooth and death, stand on in the behests of him].
- <sup>7</sup> Have thou mind on [or Remem-ber] the dread of the Lord, and be not wroth to the neighbour. Have thou mind on the testament of the Highest, and despise thou the ignorance of thy neighbour.
- 8 Abstain thee from strife, and thou shalt decrease, either abridge, (thy) sins. For why a wrathful man kindleth strife;
- <sup>9</sup> and a sinful man, that is, a sower of discords, shall disturb (or shall trouble) friends, and he shall send in enmity in the midst of men having peace.
- <sup>10</sup> For why after the trees of the wood, so [the] fire shall burn on high; and after the might of a man, so his wrathfulness shall be, and after his chattel [or his substance] he shall enhance his ire.

11 Hasty striving [or An hasted strife] shall kindle fire, and hasty chiding shall shed out blood; and a tongue bearing witnessing shall bring death.

12 If thou blowest, as fire it shall burn on high; and if thou spittest thereon, it shall be quenched; ever either, that is, a word kindling ire, and a word refraining it, come forth (out) of the mouth.

13 A privy backbiter, and a double-tongued man, yea, he that speaketh fair before a man, and evil behind him, is cursed; for he disturbed (or troubled) many men having peace.

<sup>14</sup> The third tongue hath stirred many men, and hath scattered them from folk into folk. It hath destroyed walled cities of rich men, and hath mined down (or undermined) the houses of great men. It hath cut down the virtues of peoples, and hath unknit strong folks.

<sup>15</sup> The third tongue hath cast out wedded, or honest, women, and hath (de) prived them of their travails.

<sup>18</sup> Many men fell down by the sharp-ness of (the) sword; but not so (many), (or not as many) as they that perished [or died] by their tongue.

- <sup>19</sup> He is blessed that is covered from a wicked, [or shrewd, (or depraved)] tongue; and he that passed not in the wrathfulness thereof, and he that drew not the yoke thereof, and was not bound in the bonds thereof.
- <sup>20</sup> For why the yoke thereof is an iron yoke, and the bond thereof is a brazen bond.
- <sup>21</sup> The death thereof is the worst death; and hell is more profitable, that is, the pain of hell is less evil, then it.
- <sup>22</sup> The perseverance thereof shall not dwell, but it shall hold the ways of unjust men; in his flame it shall not burn just [or rightwise] men.
- <sup>23</sup> They that forsake God, shall fall into it; and it shall burn greatly in them, and it shall not be quenched; and as a lion it shall be sent into them, and as a (leo)pard it shall hurt them.
- <sup>24</sup> Beset thine ears with thorns, and do not thou hear a wicked tongue; and make thou doors to (or for) thy mouth, and locks to (or for) thine ears. Well thou [or melt together], or temper thou, thy gold, and thy silver;

<sup>25</sup> and make thou a balance to (or for) thy words, and rightful bridles to (or for) thy mouth.

<sup>26</sup> And take heed, lest peradventure thou slide in (or with thy) tongue, and fall in the sight of enemies, set-ting treason, [or waiting, (or lying in wait)] to (or for) thee, and thy fall be uncurable [or unhealable] into death.

- $^1\mathrm{He}$  that doeth mercy, lendeth to his neighbour; and he that is full mighty in hand, keepeth the commandments.
- $^{2}\,\mathrm{Lend}$  thou to thy neighbour in the time of his need; and again yield thou to a neighbour in his time.
- <sup>3</sup> Confirm thou a word, and do thou faithfully with him; and in all time thou shalt find that, that is needful to thee.
- <sup>4</sup> Many men guessed borrowing as finding, and gave dis-ease [or grief] to those men that helped them.
- <sup>5</sup> Till they take (or receive), they kiss the hands of the giver; and in promises they make meek their voice. And in (or at) the time of yielding, he shall ask (for more) time, [or delay-ing], and he shall speak words of annoy(ance), (or of hurt), and of grutchings (or grumblings), and he shall challenge falsely, [or plead (for), or complain (about)] the time, to tarry the paying of (the) debt.
- <sup>6</sup> Forsooth if he may yield, he shall be adversary [or enemy]; of a shilling scarcely he shall yield the half [or scarcely of the whole he shall yield the half], and he shall reckon that as (re)funding. Else he shall defraud him in (or of) his money, and the lender shall have him (as) an enemy without cause. And he shall yield to him, that is, to the lender, wrongs and cursings; and for honour and benefice, he shall yield to him despising.

- <sup>7</sup> Many men lend not, not for cause of wickedness, but they dreaded to be defrauded without cause [or will-fully].
- <sup>8</sup> Nevertheless on (or for) a meek man in soul, that is, a full poor debtor, be thou stronger; and for alms-[deed(s)] draw thou not him (along).
- <sup>9</sup> For the commandment of God take (or receive) thou a poor man; and for his neediness leave thou not him void (or do not let him go away empty-handed).
- $^{10}$  Lose thou money for a brother and friend, and hide thou not it under a stone, into perdition.
- <sup>11</sup> Put thy treasure in the command-ments of the Highest; and it shall profit to thee more than gold.
- <sup>12</sup> (En)close thou alms in the bosom of a poor man; and this alms shall pray for thee to be delivered of (or by) God from all evil. The alms of a man is as a bag [or a little sack] with him; and it shall keep the grace of [a] man, that is, God's grace, given to man, as the apple of the eye. And afterward it shall rise again, and shall yield to them a yielding, to each man into (or onto) the head of them.
- <sup>13</sup> Above [or Over (or Better than)] the shield of a mighty man, and above [or over (or better than)] a spear it shall fight against thine enemy.
- <sup>14</sup> A good man maketh faith to (or for) his neighbour in becoming (a) borrow (er), (or a guarantor), for him in need; and he that loseth, shall leave shame to him.
- <sup>15</sup> Forget thou not the grace of the borrower (or of the guarantor); for he gave his life for thee.
- $^{16}$  A sinful man [or The sinner] and unclean fleeth the promiser. A sinner areckoneth to himself the good words of the borrower (or of the guarantor);
  - <sup>17</sup> and the unkind man in wit forsaketh a man delivering him.
- <sup>18</sup> A man promiseth for his neighbour; and when he hath lost reverence, that is, shamefastness before God and man, the borrower shall be forsaken of (or by) him. Worst [or Most shrewd (or depraved)] promise, by which the neighbour promised falsely to deliver his borrow, hath lost [or spoiled] many loving men, and hath moved them as the waves of the sea. It going in compass made mighty men to pass over [or to go out (or to go away)]; and (then) they wandered about among alien folks.
- <sup>19</sup> A sinner breaking [or overpass-ing] the commandment of the Lord shall fall into a wicked promise; and he that endeavoureth to do many things, shall fall into doom.
- <sup>20</sup> Recover thy neighbour by thy virtue (or according to thy power); and take heed to thyself, lest thou fall (in the same manner).
- <sup>21</sup> The beginning of (the) life of a man is water, and bread, and clothing, and (a) house covering filth-[hood](or nakedness).
- <sup>22</sup> Better is the lifelode (or the liveli-hood) of a poor man under the cover-ing of spars, than [plenteous] shining feasts in pilgrimage without (a) house,
- $^{23}$  The least thing pleaseth thee for a great thing, and thou shalt not hear the shame [or reproof] of pilgrimage.

<sup>24</sup> It is(a) wicked life to seek harbour from house into house; and where he shall be harboured, he shall not do trustily, neither he shall open the mouth.

<sup>25</sup> He shall be harboured, and he shall feed, and give drink to unkind men; and yet he shall hear bitter things.

<sup>27</sup> Go thou out from the face of the honour of my friends, for the friendship, either affinity, of mine house [or for (the) need of mine house]; by harbouring thou art made a brother to me.

and the despising of the usurer [or the lender].

CHAPTER 30

<sup>1</sup>He that loveth his son, giveth busily beatings to him, (so) that he be glad in his last thing, and (so) that the son touch not the doors of neighbours.

<sup>2</sup> He that teacheth his son, shall be praised in (or for) him; and shall have glory in him in the midst of (his) menials.

<sup>3</sup> He that teacheth his son, sendeth the enemy into envy; and in the midst of friends he shall have glory in that son.

<sup>5</sup>He saw in his life, and was glad in (or over) him; and in his death he was not sorry [or sorrowed not], neither was ashamed before (his) enemies.

<sup>9</sup> Flatter thou the son, and he shall make thee dreading; play thou with him, and he shall make thee sorry [or sorrow(ful)].

<sup>12</sup> Bow thou (down) his neck in youth, and beat thou his sides, while he is a young child; lest peradventure he wax hard [or inwardly harden], and believe not to thee, and he shall be (a) sorrow of (or to thy) soul to thee.

13 Teach thy son, and work in him; lest thou offend into the filth of him

(or lest his filthy behaviour offend thee).

<sup>14</sup> Better is a poor man whole, and strong in mights [or strengths], than a rich man feeble, and beaten with malice.

<sup>15</sup> The health of (the) soul (or of the body)is in the holiness of rightfulness [or rightwiseness], and it is better than any gold and silver; and a strong body is better than full much chattel [or than money without measure].

<sup>17</sup> Better is death than (a) bitter life, and everlasting rest is better than sickness dwelling continually [or enduring].

18 Goods hid in a closed mouth be as settings forth of meats set about a sepulchre.

<sup>19</sup> What shall sacrifice profit to an idol? for why it shall not eat, neither shall smell. So he that is driven away from the Lord,

<sup>20</sup> and beareth the meeds (or rewards) of wickedness, [or of shrewdness, (or of depravity)], seeing with eyes, and wailing inwardly, as a gelding embracing a virgin [or a maiden], and sighing.

<sup>21</sup> Give thou not sorrow to thy soul, that is, unreasonable sorrow, that annoyeth (or harmeth) both body and soul, and torment not thyself in (or with) thy (own) counsel, as they do that despair through sorrow, and then slay themselves.

 $^{22}$  Mirth of heart, this is the life of man, and is(a) treasure of holiness without failing; and full out joying of a man is long life [or long living].

<sup>23</sup> Have thou mercy on thy soul, and please thou God; and hold together and gather together thine heart in the holiness of him, and put far away sorrow from thee. For why sorrow hath slain many men; and none health is therein [or there is not profit in it].

<sup>25</sup> A shining [or bright] heart is good in meats, (or for meals or digestion); for why meats thereof be made diligently.

CHAPTER 31

<sup>1</sup> Waking of honesty shall make fleshes to fail, (or Waiting for, or Watching over riches shall make the flesh to pine away); and (the much) thought thereof shall take away sleep.

maketh sober the soul.

<sup>4</sup> A poor man travailed in (the) decreasing [or the less(en)ing] of (his) lifelode; and in the end he is made needy. (A poor man worked hard, even though his livelihood continued to decrease; and in the end, he is still needy.)

<sup>5</sup> He that loveth gold, shall not be justified; and he that pursueth or followeth wasting (or corrup-tion), shall be [full]-filled thereof.

- <sup>6</sup> Many men be given into the fallings of gold, that is, many men felled into sins for gold; and the perdition [or the loss] of them was made in the fairness thereof [or of it].
- <sup>7</sup> A tree of offension, (or of offence, or a stumbling block), is the gold of them that make sacrifice; woe to them that pursue [or follow] it, and each unprudent man shall perish therein.

<sup>9</sup> Who is this, and we shall praise him? for he did marvels in his life.

<sup>10</sup> Which [or Who] is proved, (or tried, or tested) therein [or in (or by) it], and is found perfect, and ever-lasting glory shall be to him? which might trespass, and trespassed not, and do evils, and did not.

11 Therefore his goods be estab-lished in the Lord; and all the church of saints shall tell out his alms-deeds.

12 Thou hast set at a great board (or a bountiful table); open thou not first thy cheek on it, that is, begin thou not to eat first. [And] Say thou not, whether those be many things, that be on it.

13 Have thou mind (or Remember), that an evil eye is (a) wayward, or shrewd, (or depraved). What thing worse, than an eye is made?

therefore of all his face he (or it) shall weep, when he seeth.

14 Stretch thou not forth first thine hand; and thou defouled by envy, be ashamed. Be thou not oppressed of (or by) wine in a feast.

15 Understand of thyself the things, that be of thy neighbour. [Understand what be of thy neighbour, of thyself.]

16 Use thou as a discreet and temperate man these things that be set forth to thee; and (so) be thou not hated, when thou eatest (too) much.

<sup>17</sup> Cease thou first because of learn-ing, either nurture; and do not thou be outrageous [or do thou not be too much], lest peradventure thou offend.

18 And if thou hast set in the midst of many men, stretch not forth [or not stretch thou out! thine hand sooner than they; and ask thou not first for to drink.

<sup>19</sup> A little wine is full(y) sufficient to a learned man; and in sleeping thou shalt not travail for that wine, and thou shalt not feel travail.

- <sup>20</sup> Waking, and choler, either bitter moisture, and gnawing [or anguish] to an undiscreet and untemperate man. But the sleep of health is in a scarce (or a moderate) man; he shall sleep unto the morrowtide; and his soul (or his body) shall delight with him.
- 21 And if thou art constrained in eating [too] much, rise thou from the midst, and spew thou; and it shall refresh thee, and thou shalt not bring sickness to thy body.
- <sup>22</sup> Son, hear thou me, and despise thou not me; and at the last thou shalt find (that) my words (be true). In all thy works be thou swift; and all sickness shall not come to thee.

<sup>23</sup> The lips of many men shall bless a shining man in loaves; and the witnessing of his truth is faithful.

- <sup>24</sup> The city shall grutch (or grumble) in the worst bread; and the witnessing of wickedness thereof is sooth (or true).
- <sup>25</sup> Do not thou excite [or stir (up)] them that be diligent [or busy] in (or with) wine; for why wine hath destroyed many men.
- <sup>26</sup> Fire proveth hard iron; so wine drunken in drunkenness shall reprove the hearts of proud men.
- <sup>27</sup> Even life to men is wine drunken in soberness; if thou drinkest it meas-urably, thou shalt be sober. What is the life which is made less by wine? What defraudeth life? death. Wine was made in gladness, not in drunken-ness, at [or from] the beginning.
- <sup>28</sup> Wine drunken measurably is full out joying of soul and of body. Sober drink is (the) health of (the) soul and of (the) body.
- <sup>29</sup> Wine drunken much maketh voiding, and ire [or wrath], and many fallings, or mischiefs.
- 30 Wine drunken much is bitterness of (the) soul. Strength of drunkenness and hurting of an unprudent man maketh virtue less, and making wounds.

<sup>31</sup> In the feast of wine, reprove thou not a neighbour; and despise thou not him in his mirth. Say thou not words of shame [or of reproof] to him; and oppress thou not him in [again]-asking.

CHAPTER 32

<sup>1</sup> They have set thee a governor, do not thou be enhanced (or exalted); be thou among them as one of them. Have thou (the) care of them, and so behold thou; and when all thy care is filled, sit thou to meat [or (to) rest].

<sup>2</sup> That thou be glad for them, and take the ornament of grace; and get

(a) crown, and (the) dignity of (the) congregation (or assembly).

<sup>3</sup> Speak thou, the greater man in birth; for why the word of him that loveth cunning, (or knowing, or knowl-edge) become thee first; and hinder thou not (the) music.

thou be enhanced uncovenably (or inopportunely) in thy wisdom.

<sup>5</sup> A gem of carbuncle in the ornament of gold; and comparison of musics in the feast of wine.

- <sup>6</sup> As in the making [or (the) forging] of gold is a signet of smaragdus (or emerald), so the number of musics is in merry and measurable [or temperate] wine.
- <sup>7</sup> Hear thou [(while) being] still, and good grace shall come to thee for reverence. Young man, speak thou scarcely in (or for) thy cause, (only) when need is. If thou art asked twice, the head have thine answer.

8 In many things be thou as uncunning (or as unknowing), and hear thou

[(while) being] still (al)to-gether, and asking [or seeking].

and good grace shall come to thee for reverence.

- <sup>11</sup> And in the hour of rising, trifle thee not, that is, make thee no tarrying in arraying, either trifling of hairs, as women do; forsooth run thou before first into thine house, and there call thou thee to answer[or and there be thou called to], and there play thou.
- <sup>12</sup> And do thy conceits [or thy conceivings], that is, perform thy good purpose conceived there, and not in sins, and in a proud word.
- 13 On all these things, bless thou the Lord, that made thee, and filling thee greatly of (or with) all his goods.
- <sup>14</sup> He that dreadeth God, shall take his teaching; and they that wake to him, shall find blessing.
- <sup>15</sup> He that seeketh the law, shall be filled thereof; and he that doeth traitorously, shall be caused to stumble therein.
- <sup>16</sup> They that dread God, shall find just doom; and shall kindle rightfulness [or rightwisenesses] as (a) light.
- <sup>17</sup> A sinful man, that is, obstinate in sin, shall eschew blaming [or shall shun correction]; and after his will (or according to his desire), he shall find comparison.
- <sup>18</sup> A man of counsel shall not lose [or destroy] understanding; (but) a man alien and proud shall not dread dreading. Yea, after that he hath done with that dread without counsel, and he shall be reproved by his pursuings [or his followings].

- <sup>19</sup> Son, do thou nothing without counsel; and after the deed thou shalt not repent.
- <sup>20</sup> Go thou not in the way of falling, and offend (or stumble) thou not against (the) stones [or and thou shalt not offend (or stumble) against (the) stones].
- <sup>21</sup> Betake thou not thee to a travail-ous way, lest thou set slander to thy soul (or thou cause thy own soul to stumble);
- <sup>22</sup> and be thou ware of thy sons, and perceive thou [or take heed] of thy menials.
- <sup>23</sup> In all thy work believe thou by (or in the) faith of thy soul; for why this is the keeping of (the) command-ments.
- <sup>24</sup> He that believeth to (or in) God, taketh heed to the commandments; and he that trusteth in him, shall not be made less, either deceived.

- <sup>1</sup> Evils shall not come to him that dreadeth God; but God shall keep (or shall guard) him in temptation, and shall deliver [him] from evils.
- <sup>2</sup> A wise man hateth not the commandments, and rightfulnesses [or rightwisenesses]; and he shall not be hurtled down, as in the tempest of a ship (or as a ship in a tempest).
  - <sup>3</sup>A wise man believeth in the law of God, and the law is faithful to him.
- <sup>4</sup>He that maketh open asking, shall make ready [or shall prepare] a word; and so he shall pray, and shall be heard, and he shall keep (the) teach-ing, and then he shall answer.
- $^5$  The entrails of a fool be as a wheel of a cart, and his thoughts as an axle able to turn about.
- <sup>6</sup> An horse a stallion, so and a friend a scorner, neigheth under each (one) sitting above.
- <sup>7</sup> Why a day overcometh a day, and again the light overcometh light, and a year overcometh a year, (and) the sun overcometh the sun?
- <sup>8</sup> Those be parted of (or separated by) the cunning (or the knowing) of the Lord, by the sun made, and keeping the commandment of God.
- <sup>9</sup> And it [or he] shall change [the] times and the feast days of them, and in those times the Jews hallowed holy days, or holidays, at an hour. God enhanced and magnified of those holy days or holidays; and of those he setted [or put] into the number of days;
- <sup>10</sup> and God made all men of firm earth, and of nesh earth [or soil], whereof Adam was formed.
- <sup>11</sup> In the multitude of (the) cunning (or the knowing) of the Lord, he parted them, and changed the ways of them.
- $^{12}$  (Some) Of them God blessed, and enhanced (or exalted); and (some) of them he hallowed, and chose to (or for) himself [or presented]; (some) of them he cursed, and made low, and turned them from the departing [or to the severing] of them.
- <sup>13</sup> As (the) clay of a potter is in the hand of him, to make [or to form] and dispose, (so) that all the ways thereof be after the ordinance of him [or after his disposition]; so a man is in the hand of him that made him; and he shall yield to him by [or after] his doom.
- <sup>14</sup> Against evil is good, and against life is death; so and a sinner is against a just man [or the rightwise].

<sup>15</sup> And so behold thou into all the works of the Highest; two things against twain, and one thing against one [or two against two, one against one].

<sup>16</sup> And I the last waked, and as he that gathereth dregs of grapes, after the gatherers of grapes. And I hoped in the blessing of God; and as he that gathereth grapes, I filled the presser.

<sup>17</sup> Behold ye, for I travailed not to (or for) me alone, but to [or for] all that seek cunning, (or knowing, or knowledge).

- $^{18}\,\mathrm{Great}$  men, and all peoples hear ye me; and ye governors of the church, perceive with ears.
- <sup>19</sup> Give thou not power over thee in thy life to a son, and to a woman [or a wife], to a brother, and to a friend; and give thou not thy possession to another man, lest peradventure it repent thee, and thou beseech for those (again).

<sup>20</sup> While thou art alive, [or livest], and breathest yet, each man shall not change thee.

- $^{21}$  For it is better, that thy sons pray thee, than that thou behold into the hands of thy sons.
  - <sup>22</sup> In all thy works be thou sove-reign; give thou not a wem into thy glory.
- <sup>23</sup> In the day of (the) ending of (the) days of thy life, and in the time of thy going out [or thy death], part [or deal (out)] thine heritage.

<sup>24</sup> Meats, and a rod, and a burden to an ass; bread, and chastising [or disci-pline], and work to (or for) a servant.

- <sup>25</sup> He worketh in, or under, chastis-ing, and seeketh to have rest; slake or slack thou (thine) hands to him, and he seeketh freedom.
- <sup>26</sup> A yoke and bridle bow down an hard neck; and busy workings bow down a servant. Torment and stocks to (or for) an evil-willed servant;
- <sup>27</sup> send thou him into working, lest he be idle; for why idleness hath taught much malice.
- <sup>28</sup> Ordain thou [or set] him in work, for so it becometh him; (so) that if he obeyeth not, bow thou down him in stocks,
- <sup>29</sup> and make thou not him large over any man, that is, give thou not to him power over any man, but without doom, do thou nothing grievous [or heavy].
- <sup>30</sup> If a faithful servant is to thee, be he as thy soul [or thy life] to thee; treat thou him so as a brother, for thou hast bought him in (or with) the blood of life.
- <sup>31</sup> If thou hurtest him unjustly, he shall be turned into fleeing away [or into flight]; and if he enhancing goeth away, thou knowest not whom thou shalt seek, and in what way thou shalt seek him.

- $^{1}$  Vain hope and a leasing (or a lie), to an unwise man; and dreams [or swevens] enhance unprudent men.
- <sup>2</sup> As he that taketh [or catcheth (at)] a shadow, and pursueth wind, so and he that taketh heed to leasings seen, [or to the seen leasings], or in vain dreams.
- <sup>3</sup> After this thing is the sight of dreams [or swevens]; before the face of a man is the likeness of another man.
- <sup>4</sup> What shall be cleansed of him that is unclean [or Of the unclean, what shall be cleansed], and what true thing shall be said of a liar?

- <sup>5</sup> False divining of error, and false divinings by chittering (or chattering) of birds, and dreams of witches, (all) is vanity. And as the heart of a woman travailing of [or bearing (a)] child, thine heart suffereth fantasies;
- $^6$  no but visitation is sent out of (or from) the Highest, give thou not thine heart in (or to) those dreams.
- <sup>7</sup> For why dreams have made many men for to err, and men hoping in those fell down. [Many men forsooth swevens made to err, and (they) fell away hoping in them.]
- <sup>8</sup> The word of the law of God and of his prophets, shall be made perfect without leasing (or without lies); and wisdom in the mouth of a faithful man shall be made plain.
- <sup>9</sup> What knoweth he, that is not assayed? A man assayed in many things, shall think many things; and he that learned many things, shall tell out understanding.
- <sup>10</sup> He that is not assayed [or not expert (or experienced)], knoweth few things; forsooth he that is a fool in many things, shall multiply malice.
- <sup>11</sup> What manner things know he, that is not assayed? He that is not planted, that is, hath not set root of (or in) understanding, and desire in (or for) good, shall be plenteous in wickedness [or shall abound (in) shrewdness (or in depravity)]. I saw many things in telling out, and full many customs of words.
- $^{12}$  Sometime I was in peril unto death, for the cause of these things; and I was delivered by the grace of God.
- <sup>13</sup> The spirit of them that dread God is sought, and shall be blessed in the beholding of him. For why the hope of them is into God saving them; and the eyes of the Lord be into (or upon) them, that love him.
- <sup>14</sup> He that dreadeth God, shall not tremble [or quake] for anything, and he shall not dread; for why God is his hope.
- <sup>15</sup> The soul of him that dreadeth the Lord, is blessed. To whom beholdeth he, and who is his strength?
- <sup>16</sup> The eyes of the Lord be on them that dread him. God is a defender of might, steadfastness [or firmament] of virtue, covering of (or from) heat, and a shadowing place of (or at) midday; beseeching of offending, that is, hearing beseeching for offenses, and help of (or from) falling,
- $^{17}$  enhancing the soul, and lighten-ing the eyes, and giving health, and life, and blessing.
- <sup>18</sup> The offering of him that offereth of wicked thing, that is, of thing gotten unjustly, is defouled; and the scornings of unjust men be not well pleasant [or well-pleasing].
- <sup>19</sup> The Lord alone is to them that abide him in the way of truth, and of rightfulness [or of rightwiseness]. The Highest approveth not (of) the gifts of wicked men, neither beholdeth in (or on) the offerings of wicked men, neither in (or for) the multitude of their sacrifices he shall do [or shall have] mercy to (or for their) sins.
- <sup>20</sup> He that offereth sacrifice of the chattel [or substance] of poor men, is as he that slayeth the son in the sight of his father.
- <sup>21</sup> The bread of needy men is the life of a poor man; he that defraudeth him, is a man of blood.

- <sup>22</sup> He that taketh away bread (earn-ed) in (or with) sweat, is as he that slayeth his neighbour. He that shed-deth out blood, and he that doeth fraud to an hired man, be brethren.
- $^{23}$  One building, and one destroy-ing; what profiteth it to them, no but travail?
  - <sup>24</sup> One praying, and one cursing; whose voice shall the Lord hear?
- <sup>25</sup> What profiteth the washing of him, that is washed for a dead body, and toucheth again a dead body?
- <sup>26</sup> So a man that fasteth in his sins, and again doing the same sins, what profiteth he in meeking himself? who shall hear his prayer?

- <sup>1</sup> He that keepeth the word of God, multiplieth prayer. Wholeful [or Wholesome] sacrifice is to take heed to (or of) the commandments, and to depart [or go away] from all wicked-ness. And to offer the pleasing of sacrifice for unrightfulnesses [or (for) unrightwisenesses], and beseeching for sins, is to go away from unrightfulness [or unrightwisenesss].
- <sup>2</sup> He that offereth purest flour of wheat, shall yield grace, that is, shall give a pleasant (or a pleasing) service to God; and he that doeth mercy, offereth a sacrifice.
- <sup>3</sup> It is well pleasant [or well-pleas-ing] to the Lord, to go away from wickedness; and prayer is to go away from unrightfulness [or unrightwise-ness].
  - <sup>4</sup> Thou shalt not appear void (or empty) before the sight of God;
- <sup>5</sup> for why all these things be done for the behests, (or for the commands, or the commandments) of God.
- <sup>6</sup> The offering of a just man [or of the rightwise] maketh fat the altar, and is (the) odour of sweetness in the sight of the Highest.
- <sup>7</sup> The sacrifice of a just man is acceptable, and the Lord shall not for-get the mind (or the memory) of him.
- <sup>8</sup> With good will yield thou glory to God, and make thou not less the first fruits of thine hands.
- $^9$  In each gift [or In all gifts] make glad thy cheer, and in full out joying hallow thy tithes.
- <sup>10</sup> Give thou to the Highest after his [free] gift, that is, after the quantity of thy goods, which thou hast of (or from) God; and with good eye make thou the findings of thine hands, that is, with rightful intent, ordain thy good works, to the praising of God and not of man.
- <sup>11</sup> For why the Lord is a yielder, and he shall yield sevenfold so much [or as much] to thee.
- <sup>12</sup> Do not thou offer shrewd (or de-praved) gifts; for he shall not receive those [or them]. And do not thou behold an unjust [or the unrightwise] sacrifice; for the Lord is judge, and glory, or taking, (or favouring) of person(s) is not at [or with] him.
- <sup>13</sup> The Lord shall not take a person against a poor man (or The Lord will not favour some person over a poor person); and he shall hear the prayer of him that is hurt.
- <sup>14</sup> He shall not despise the prayers of a fatherless child, neither a widow, if she sheddeth [or poured] out (the) speech of wailing.

<sup>15</sup> Whether the tears of a widow go not down to the cheek, and the crying of her on him that leadeth forth those tears? For why those ascend from the cheek unto heaven, and the Lord hearing shall not delight in those [or in them].

<sup>16</sup> He that worshippeth God in delighting, shall be received; and his prayer shall nigh unto the clouds.

17 The prayer of him that meeketh himself shall pierce (the) clouds, and till it nigheth (or approacheth), he shall not be comforted, and he shall not go away, till the Highest behold (him). And the Lord shall not be far [or long away], but he shall judge just [or rightwise] men, and shall make doom;

18 and the Strongest shall not have patience in those [or (towards) them], that (or till) he trouble the back(s) of them. And he shall yield vengeance to (the) folks [or (the) Gentiles], till he take away the fullness [or the plenty] of proud men, and trouble (al)to-gether the sceptres of wicked men;

<sup>19</sup> till he yield to men after their deeds, and after the works of Adam*, and after the presumption of him; till he deem the doom of his people, and shall delight just [or rightwise] men in his mercy.

<sup>20</sup> The mercy of God is fair in the time of tribulation, as clouds of rain in the time of dryness [or of drought].

- <sup>1</sup> God of all things, have thou mercy on us; and behold thou us, and show to us the light of thy merciful doings.
- <sup>2</sup> And send thy dread on heathen men, that sought not thee, (so) that they know that no God is, no but thou; that they tell out thy great [worthy] deeds.
- <sup>3</sup> Raise [up] thine hand on heathen men aliens, (so) that they see thy power.
- <sup>4</sup> For as thou were hallowed in us in the sight of them, so in our sight thou shalt be magnified in them;
- <sup>5</sup> (so) that they know thee, as and we have known (thee), that none other is God, except thee, Lord.
- <sup>6</sup> Make thou new signs, and change thou marvels; glorify the hand, and the right arm.
- <sup>7</sup> Raise [up] thou strong vengeance, and shed out ire [or pour out wrath]; take away the adversary, and torment the enemy.
- <sup>8</sup> Haste thou the time, and have thou mind on the end, (so) that they tell out thy marvels.
- <sup>9</sup> And he that is saved, be devour-ed in the ire of flame; and they that treat worst thy people, find perdition.
- <sup>10</sup> All-break thou the head(s) of princes, and of enemies, saying, None other is [or There is none other], except us.
- <sup>11</sup> Gather thou together all the lineages of Jacob, and know they that no God is, no but thou [or there is no God but thou], (so) that they tell out thy great deeds; and thou shalt inherit them, as at the beginning.
- <sup>12</sup> Have thou mercy on thy people, on which thy name is called in to help; and on Israel, whom thou madest even to thy first engendered [or (be)gotten] son.

 $^{13}$  Have thou mercy on Jerusalem, the city of thine hallowing, on the city of thy rest.

14 [Full]-fill thou Zion with thy virtues, that may not be told out [or untellable], and fill thy people with thy glory.

<sup>15</sup> Give thou witnessing, that at [or from] the beginning they were thy creatures; and raise thou (the) prayers, which the former prophets spake in thy name.

<sup>16</sup> Lord, give thou meed (or reward) to them that abide thee, (so) that thy prophets be found true [or faithful];

17 and hear thou the prayer of thy servants. After the blessing of Aaron give thou to thy people, and (ad)dress (or direct) thou us into the way of rightfulness; (so) that all men know, that dwell in (or on the) earth, that thou art God, the beholder of worlds.

18 The womb shall eat all meat(s), and one meat is better than another meat.

- <sup>19</sup> Cheeks touch meat almost, and an unwise heart receiveth false [or leasing (or lying)] words.
- <sup>20</sup> A shrewd (or depraved) heart shall give heaviness, and a wise man shall against-stand [or withstand] it.

<sup>21</sup> A woman shall take each knave [or male] child, and (or but) a daughter is [or there is a daughter] better than a son.

<sup>23</sup> If there is a tongue of healing, [or of curing, (or of caring)], there is also (one) of assuaging, and of mercy; (and) the husband of her is not after (or like most of) the (other) sons of men.

<sup>25</sup> Where an hedge is not, the possession shall be ravished (or snatched) away [or broken]; and where a woman is not, a needy man waileth.

<sup>26</sup> To whom believeth he that hath no nest, and boweth down wherever it is dark, as a thief girt [or girded up], skipping out from city into city?

- <sup>1</sup> Each friend shall say, And I have coupled friendship; but that [or there] is a friend, a friend by name alone.
- $^2$  Whether sorrow is not till to death? Forsooth a fellow of (the) table and a friend shall be turned to enmity.
- <sup>3</sup> A! the worst [or O! most shrewd (or depraved)] presumption, whereof art thou made to cover dry malice, and the guilefulness thereof [or the treachery of it]?
- <sup>4</sup> A fellow of (the) table shall be merry with a friend in delightings, and in the day of tribulation he shall be (an) adversary.
- <sup>5</sup> A fellow of (the) table shall have sorrow with a friend, for cause [or because] of the womb (or the belly); and he shall take (up a) shield against an enemy.
- <sup>6</sup> Forget thou not thy friend in thy soul, and be thou not unmindful of him in thy works. Do not thou take counsel with the father of thy wife; and hide thou counsel from them that have envy to thee.

- <sup>7</sup> Each counsellor showeth counsel, but there is a counsellor to, [or in], (or only for) himself.
- <sup>8</sup> Keep thy soul from an evil counsellor; first know thou, what is his need, and what he shall think in his soul; lest peradventure he send a stake, [or he put a pole, or a pale] into the earth,
- <sup>9</sup> and say to thee, Thy way is good, and (then) he stand again-ward, to see what shall befall to thee.
- <sup>10</sup> With an unreligious man, treat thou\*(not) of (or about) holiness, and with an unjust [or unrightwise] man, (not) of (or about) rightfulness [or rightwiseness] $^{\dagger}$ ,
- 11 and with a woman, (not) of (or about) these things which she hateth [or envieth]. With a fearedful man, treat thou (not) of (or about) battle, with a merchant, (not) of (or about) carrying over of merchandises to chapping[or (about)(ex)changing]; with a buyer, (not) of (or about) selling, with an envious man, (not) of (or about) graces to be done; with an unpiteous man, (not) of (or about) pity, with an unhonest man, (not) of (or about) honesty, with a workman of the field [or the field worker], (not) of (or about) each work; with a work-man hired by the year [or the annual worker], (not) of (or about) much working. Give thou not attention [or Take thou not heed] to these men in all counsel,
- <sup>12</sup> but be thou busy with an holy man, whomever thou knowest (is) keeping God's dread, whose soul is after thy soul. Whoever doubteth in darknesses, shall not have sorrow with thee.
- $^{13}$  And establish thou the heart of good counsel with thee; for why another thing is not more than it (is) to thee.
- <sup>14</sup> The soul of an holy man telleth out truths sometime; more than seven beholders [or lookers about], sitting on high for to behold.
- <sup>15</sup> And in all these things beseech thou the Highest, that he *(ad)*dress (or direct) thy way in truth.
- <sup>16</sup> Before all works a soothfast (or a true) word go before thee; and a stead-fast counsel go before each deed.
  - <sup>17</sup> A wicked, [or shrewd, (or de-praved)] word shall change the heart,
- <sup>18</sup> of which heart four parts come forth; good and evil, life and death; and a busy tongue is lord of those.
- <sup>19</sup> A wise man hath taught many men, and (or but) he is (not) sweet to his (own) soul.
- <sup>20</sup> He that speaketh sophistically, either by sophism, is hateful; he shall be defrauded in each thing.
- <sup>21</sup> For why grace is not given of (or from) the Lord to him, for he is defrauded of all wisdom.
- $^{22}$  A wise man is wise to his (own) soul, and the fruits of his wit be worthy to be praised.
  - <sup>23</sup> A wise man teacheth his people, and the fruits of his wit be faithful.

* CHAPTER 37:10 The author of this book speaketh here (and also in verse 11 below) in scorn, and understandeth the contrary of his saying. † CHAPTER 37:10 In verse 12 of the Early Version, but not in the Later Version, the following sentence appears: Do thou not counsel with him that hath thee suspect, and from men envying to thee, hide thou thy counsel. See verse 10 of the KJV.

- $^{24}\,\mathrm{A}$  wise man shall be filled with blessings, and they that see him shall praise him.
- <sup>25</sup> The life of a man is in the number of days; but the days of Israel be unnumberable.
- $^{26}\,\mathrm{A}$  wise man in the people shall inherit honour, and his name shall be living without end.
- <sup>27</sup> Son, assay thy soul in thy life; and if it is wicked, give thou not power to it;
- $^{28}$  for why not all things speed to (or be expedient for) all men, and not each kind pleaseth each soul.
- <sup>29</sup> Do not thou be greedy in each eating, and shed thou not out thee [or pour thee not out] [up] on each meat.
- <sup>30</sup> For in many meats shall be sickness, and greediness shall nigh unto choler.
- <sup>31</sup> Many men died for (or from) gluttony; but he that is abstinent, shall increase or add (to) life.

- <sup>1</sup> Honour thou a leech (or Honour a physician), for need; for why the Highest hath made [or formed] him.
- <sup>2</sup> For why all medicine is of (or from) God; and he shall take of (or receive from) the king a gift.
- <sup>3</sup> The cunning of a leech shall enhance his head (or The knowledge of a physician shall exalt or lift up his head); and he shall be praised in the sight of great men.
- <sup>4</sup> The Highest hath made or (hath) formed of the earth medicine; and a prudent man shall not loathe it.
- <sup>5</sup> Whether bitter water was not made sweet of (or by) a tree? The virtue of those things came by experience to the knowing of men;
- <sup>6</sup> and the Highest gave cunning (or knowing) to men, for to be honoured in his marvels.
  - <sup>7</sup> A man healing [or curing] in (or with) these things, shall assuage sorrow,
- <sup>8</sup> and an ointment-maker shall make pigments of sweetness, and shall make anointings of health; and his works shall not be ended. For why the peace of God is on the face of (the) earth.
- <sup>9</sup> My son, despise not thyself in thy sickness; but pray thou (to) the Lord, and he shall heal [or cure] thee.
- <sup>10</sup> Turn thou away from sin, and (ad)dress (or direct) thine hands, and cleanse thine heart from all sin.
- <sup>11</sup> Give thou sweetness, and the mind (or a memorial) of clean [or tried] flour of wheat, and make thou (a) fat offering;
- <sup>12</sup> and give thou place to a leech (or to a physician). For the Lord made him, and depart he not [or go he not away] from thee; for his works be needful to thee.
- <sup>13</sup> For why (a) time is (or shall be), when thou shalt fall into the hands of them.
- <sup>14</sup> Forsooth they shall beseech the Lord, that he *(ad)*dress (or direct) the work of them, and health for their living.
- <sup>15</sup> He that trespasseth in the sight of him, that made him, shall fall into the hands of the leech (or the physician).

- <sup>16</sup> Son, bring thou forth tears on, (or over, or for) a dead man, and thou as suffering hard things begin to weep; and by [or after] doom, (or according to custom), cover thou the body of him, and despise thou not his bury-ing.
- <sup>17</sup> But for backbiting, bear thou bitterly the mourning of him (for) one day; and be thou comforted for sorrow [or take comfort for heavi-ness]. And make thou mourning after his merit or deserving one day, either twain [or two], for backbiting.
- <sup>18</sup> For why death hast(en)eth of (or from) sorrow, and covereth virtue (or strength); and the sorrow of heart boweth the head.
- <sup>19</sup> Sorrow dwelleth in leading away; and the chattel [or the substance] of a needy man is after his heart.
- <sup>20</sup> Give thou not thine heart in sorrow, but put it away from thee; and have thou mind on the last things,
- <sup>21</sup> and do not thou forget. For why no *(re)*turning is from death to this present life, and thou shalt nothing profit to this dead man[or] and to this thou shalt nothing profit; and thou shalt harm worst thyself.
- $^{22}$  Be thou mindful of my doom (or Remember my judgement); for also thine shall be thus, to me yesterday, and to thee today.
- <sup>23</sup> In the rest of a dead man, make thou his mind (or his memory) to have rest; and comfort thou him, in the going out of his spirit.
- <sup>24</sup> Write thou wisdom in the time of voidness; and he that is made less in (doing) deeds, shall perceive wisdom; for he shall be filled of [or with] wisdom.
- <sup>25</sup> He that holdeth the plow (or the plough), and he that hath glory in a goad, driveth oxes [or oxen] with a prick, and he liveth in the works of those [or them]; and his telling is in the sons of bulls.
- <sup>26</sup> He shall give his heart to turn furrows; and his waking shall be about the fatness of (the) kine.
- <sup>27</sup> So each carpenter, and principal workman, that passeth the night as the day; that engraveth images en-graved [or the which graved graven brooches], and the busyness of him diverseth [or varieth] the painture; he shall give his heart [in] to the likeness of painture (or of painting), and by his waking he performeth the work.
- <sup>28</sup> So a smith sitting beside the anfelt (or the anvil), and beholding the work of iron, the heat of fire burneth his fleshes; and he striveth in the heat of the furnace. The voice of a hammer maketh new his ear; and his eye is against (or towards) the like-ness of a vessel. He shall give his heart into the performing of (the) works; and by his waking he shall adorn unperfection, that is, matter (or material) which he bringeth to perfection of form.
- <sup>29</sup> So a potter sitting at his work, turning a wheel with his feet, which is put ever[more] in busyness for his work; and all his working is unnumberable.
- <sup>30</sup> In his arm he shall form (the) clay; and before his feet he shall bow (down) his virtue (or strength). He shall give his heart to end perfectly something; and by his waking he shall cleanse the furnace.
  - 31 All these men hoped in their hands; and each man is wise in his craft.
- $^{32}$  A city is not builded without all these men. And they shall not dwell [in], neither go [in];

<sup>33</sup> and they shall not skip over into the church. They shall not sit on the seat of a judge; and they shall not understand the testament of doom, neither they shall make open teach-ing and doom; and they shall not be found in parables.

<sup>34</sup> But they shall confirm the creature (or the nature) of the world, and their prayer is the working of craft;

CHAPTER 39

- <sup>1</sup> and they give their soul, and they ask together [or together seeking] in the law of the Highest. A wise man shall seek out the wisdom of all (the) eld [or old] men; and he shall give attention in (or to the) prophets.
- <sup>2</sup> He shall keep the telling(s) of (the) named men; and he shall enter (al)together into the hard sentences [or the slynesses] of parables.

<sup>3</sup> He shall seek out the privy things of proverbs; and he shall be conversant in the hid things of parables.

- <sup>4</sup> He shall minister in the midst of great men; and he shall appear in the sight of the chief judge. He shall pass into the land of alien folks; for he shall assay goods, and evils in all things.
- <sup>5</sup> He shall give his heart to wake early to the Lord that made him; and he shall beseech in the sight of the Highest. He shall open his mouth in prayer; and he shall beseech for his trespasses.
- <sup>6</sup> For if the great Lord will (or desire to), he shall fill him with the spirit of understanding. And he shall send the words of his wisdom, as rains; and in prayer he shall acknowl-edge to the Lord.
- <sup>7</sup> And he, that is, the Lord, shall (ad)dress (or direct) his counsel, and teaching; and shall counsel in his hid things.
- <sup>8</sup> He shall make open the wisdom of his teaching; and he shall have glory in the law of the testament of the Lord.
- <sup>9</sup> Many men shall praise his wisdom; and it shall not be done away till into the world. His mind shall not go away [or The memory of him shall not go away]; and his name shall be sought from generation into generation.

10 Folks shall tell out his wisdom; and the church shall tell [out] his praising.

- <sup>11</sup> If his name dwelleth, he shall leave more than a thousand; and if he resteth, it shall profit to him.
- <sup>12</sup> Yet I shall take counsel to tell out, for I am [full]-filled as with madness; and mine inner spirit saith in voice,
- $^{13}$  Ye fruits of God, hear me, and make ye fruit, as roses planted on (or by) the rivers of waters.
- <sup>14</sup> Have ye odour of sweetness, as the Lebanon hath. Bring forth flowers, as a lily; give ye odour, and make ye boughs into grace. And praise ye together a song; and bless ye the Lord in his works.
- <sup>15</sup> Give ye great honour to his name, and acknowledge ye to him in the voice of your lips, in songs of lips, and in harps; and thus ye shall say in acknowledging,
  - <sup>16</sup> All the works of the Lord be full good.
- <sup>17</sup> Forsooth water as an heap of stones stood at his word; and as receptacles of waters in the word of his mouth.
- <sup>18</sup> For why peaceableness is made in his commandment; and no default [or less(en)ing] is in the health of him, that is, in (the) saving made by him.

- $^{19}$  The works of each [or all] flesh be before him; and nothing is hid from his eyes.
- $^{20}$  He beholdeth from the world till into the world; and nothing is wonderful [or is marvellous] in his sight.
- <sup>21</sup> It is not to say, What is this thing, either, What is that thing? for why all things shall be sought in their time.
  - <sup>22</sup> The blessing of him shall flow as a flood;
- <sup>23</sup> and as the great flood filled greatly the earth, so his ire [or wrath] shall inherit in folks, that sought not him.
- <sup>24</sup> As he turned waters into dryness-es [or into drought], and the earth was dried, and his ways were (ad)dressed (or directed) to the ways of them; so offensions (or stumbling blocks) in his ire [or in (his) wrath]be (ad) dressed (or directed) to sinners.

<sup>25</sup> Good things were made at the beginning to (or for) good men; so good things and evil be made to (or for) worst men.

- <sup>26</sup>The beginning of needful [or necessary] thing(s) to the life of men, (be) water, fire, and iron, and salt, and milk, and bread of clean [or tried] flour of wheat, and honey, and a cluster of grape(s), and oil, and cloth(es)[or clothing].
- <sup>27</sup> All these things shall turn to holy men into goods; so and to unfaithful [or unpious] men and to sinners into evils.
- <sup>28</sup> Spirits be that be made [or formed] to (or for) vengeance; and in their madness they confirmed their torments. And in the time of ending they shall shed [or pour] out virtue; and they shall confound (or confuse) the strong vengeance of him that made them.
- <sup>29</sup> Fire, hail, hunger, and death; all these things be made [or be formed] to (or for) vengeance;
- <sup>30</sup> the teeth of beasts, and scorpions, and serpents, and a sword punishing wicked men into destroying.
- <sup>31</sup> In the commandments of him, those [or they] shall eat, and those [or they] shall be made ready on the earth in need; and in their times those [or they] shall not (over)-pass one word.
- <sup>32</sup> Therefore from the beginning I was confirmed (or certain); and I counselled, and thought, and left (it all) written (down).
- $^{33}$  All the works of the Lord be good; and each work shall serve in his (or its) hour.
- $^{34}$  It is not to say, This is worse than that; for why all things shall be (ap)proved in their time.
- <sup>35</sup> And now in all the heart and mouth praise ye together, and bless ye the name of the Lord.

- <sup>1</sup> Great occupation is made to all men, and an heavy yoke on the sons of Adam, from the day of the going out of the womb of their mother, till into the day of burying into the mother of all men, that is, into the earth.
- <sup>2</sup> The thoughts of them, and the dreads of (the) heart, (the) findings of abiding, and the day of ending;
- <sup>3</sup> from him that sitteth before on a glorious seat (or a throne of glory), unto a man made low into earth and ashes;

<sup>4</sup> from him that useth jacinth, (or hyacinth), [or blue silk], and beareth a crown, unto him that is covered with raw linen cloth (or a linen cloak),

<sup>5</sup> madness (or anger), envy, noise, doubting, and dread of death, wrathfulness dwelling continually, and strife; and in the time of resting [or repast] in the bed, the sleep of night changeth his cunning (or his know-ing, or his knowledge).

<sup>6</sup> Forsooth a little is as nought in rest; beholding is of him in sleep as in the day. He is disturbed (or is troubled) in the sight of his heart, as he that escapeth [or escaped] in the day of battle.

<sup>7</sup> He rose up in the day of his health, (or his deliverance), and dreading not at any dread,

- <sup>8</sup> with all flesh, from man unto beast, and sevenfold (more), that is, grievous punishment, shall come on sinners.
- <sup>9</sup> At these things, death, blood, striving [or strife], and sword, oppressings, hunger, and sorrow, and beatings;
- $^{10}$  all these things be made on wicked men, and the great flood was made for them.
- <sup>11</sup> For why all (the) things that be of the earth, shall *(re)*turn into the earth; and all (the things that be of the) waters shall *(re)*turn into the sea.
- <sup>12</sup> All gift, given for (the) destroying of rightfulness, and wickedness, done for gift, shall be done away; and faith shall stand into the world (for evermore).
- <sup>13</sup> The riches [or The substances] of unjust men shall be made dry [or dried (up)] as a flood; and shall sound as a great thunder in (the) rain.
- <sup>14</sup> An unjust man shall be glad in opening his hands; so trespassers [or law-breakers] shall fail in the end.
- <sup>15</sup> The sons of (the) sons of wicked [or unpious] men shall not multiply branches; and (be like) unclean roots sown on the cop (or the top) of a stone.
- <sup>16</sup> Greenness beside each water; and at the brink of the flood (or bank of the river), it shall be drawn out by the root before all (the) hay.
  - <sup>17</sup> Grace as paradise in blessings; and mercy dwelleth into the world.
- <sup>18</sup> The life of a workman sufficient to himself shall be made sweet; and thou shalt find treasure therein.
- <sup>19</sup> (The) Building of a city shall con-firm a name; and a woman without wem [or undefouled] shall be reckon-ed above [or over] this, for why her steadfastness shall stand without end.
- <sup>20</sup> Wine and music make glad the heart; and (or but the) love of wisdom gladdeth above [or over] ever either.
- <sup>21</sup> Pipes and psaltery make sweet melody; and (or but) a sweet tongue (is) above [or over] ever either.
- <sup>22</sup> An eye shall desire grace and fair-ness; and green sowings above these things [or over these green tilthes].
- <sup>23</sup> A friend and [a meat]-fellow coming together in time; and (or but) a woman with a man (is) above [or over] ever either.
- <sup>24</sup> Brethren into help in the time of tribulation comfort much; and (or but) mercy shall deliver more than they [or over them].
- $^{25}$  Gold and silver, and setting of feet; and (or but) counsel well-pleasing is above [or over] ever either.

<sup>26</sup> Riches and virtues enhance the heart; and (or but) the dread of the Lord (is) more than this. Making less [or less(en)ing] is not in the dread of the Lord; and in that dread it is not to seek help.

<sup>27</sup> The dread of the Lord is as (a) paradise of blessing; and the blessings of God covered him above all glory.

<sup>28</sup> Son, in the time of thy life, be thou not needy, that is, in (the) time of (thy) present life, granted to thee to work well, be thou not idle; for it is better to die, then to be needy, that is, it is better to die bodily, then to be idle, by which a man dieth ghostly (or spiritually).

<sup>29</sup> A man beholding into another man's board, his life is not in the thought of lifelode (or about liveli-hood); for he sustaineth his life with other men's meats. Forsooth a chas-tised man and learned [or disciplined] and taught], shall keep himself.

<sup>30</sup> Neediness shall be defouled [or made] in the mouth of an unprudent, or (a) slow and idle, man; and (or but) fire shall burn in his womb.

CHAPTER 41

<sup>1</sup> A! [or O!] death, thy mind is full bitter to an unjust [or an unrightwise] man, and having peace in his riches; to a restful [or quiet] man, and whose ways be (ad)dressed (or directed) in all things, that is, hath prosperity in all temporal things, and yet mighty to take meat.

<sup>2</sup> A! [or O!] death, thy doom (or thy judgement) is good to a needy man, and which is made less in strengths, and faileth for age, and to whom is care of all things, and unbelieveful, that loseth (or destroyeth) wisdom.

<sup>3</sup> Do not thou dread the doom of death, that is, set thou thee in such a state, (so) that the doom of death be good to (or for) thee; have thou mind what things were before thee, and what things shall come on (or after) thee; this doom is of the Lord to each man.

<sup>4</sup> And those things that shall come on (or after) thee in the good pleasance (or through the good pleasure) of the Highest; whether ten years, either an hundred, either a thousand. For why none accusing (or excusing) of life is in hell (or in the grave), that is, no man may excuse him (self) there, in alleging (the) goodness of (his) life.

<sup>5</sup> The sons of abominations be the sons of sinners; and they that dwell beside the houses of wicked men.

<sup>6</sup> The heritage of the sons of sinners shall perish; and the continuance of shame [or reproof] with the seed of them.

- <sup>7</sup> (The) Sons (will)(com)plain of a wicked father; for they be in shame [or in reproof] for him.
  - <sup>8</sup> Woe to you, ye wicked men, that have forsaken the law of the Highest.
- <sup>9</sup> And if ye be born, ye shall be born in cursedness; and if ye be dead, your part shall be in cursedness.
- <sup>10</sup> All things that be of the earth, shall *(re)*turn into the earth; so wicked men shall turn from cursing into perdition.
- <sup>11</sup> The mourning of men is in (or for) the body of them; but the name of wicked men shall be done away.
- <sup>12</sup> Have thou busyness of (or for) a good name; for why this shall dwell more with thee, than a thousand treasures great and precious.
- <sup>13</sup> The number of days is the term of (a) good life; but a good name shall dwell without end.

- $^{14}$  Sons, keep ye teaching in peace; for why wisdom hid, and treasure unseen, what profit is in ever either?
  - <sup>15</sup> Better is a man that hideth his folly, than a man that hideth his wisdom.
- <sup>16</sup> Nevertheless *(re)*turn ye again in these things that come forth of (or from)[or go out of] my mouth. For it is not good to keep all unreverence, and not all things please all men in faith.
- <sup>17</sup> Be ye ashamed of fornication, before father, and before mother; and of a leasing (or of a lie), before a justice, and before a mighty man;
- <sup>18</sup> and of trespass, before a prince, and before a judge; and of wickedness, before a synagogue, and a people; and of unrightfulness, or unrightwiseness, before a fellow, and a friend;
- <sup>19</sup> and of theft, in the place wherein thou dwellest; of the truth and the testament of God; of sitting [down] at the meat in loaves; and of the blemishing [or darkening] of [the] gift (or of giving), and (of) taking [of (the) taken];
- <sup>20</sup> of stillness, before them that greet or saluting; of the beholding of a lecherous woman; and of the turning away of the cheer (or the face) of a cousin.
- <sup>21</sup> Turn thou not away thy face from thy neighbour; and be thou ware of taking away a part, and not restoring (it). Behold thou not the woman of another man;
- <sup>22</sup> and ensearch thou not her hand-maid, neither stand thou at her bed. Be thou ware of friends, of the words of upbraiding [or of reproof]; and when thou hast given, upbraid thou not.
- <sup>23</sup> Double thou not a word of hearing, (and) of the showing of an hid word;
- <sup>24</sup> and thou shalt be verily (or truly) without shame [or confusion], and thou shalt find grace in the sight of all men.

- <sup>1</sup> Be thou not (a)shamed for all these things; and take [or accept] thou not a person, (so) that thou do trespass.
- <sup>2</sup> Be thou ware of the law and testament of the Highest, of doom to justify a wicked man; [of the law of the Highest, and of the testament of doom, to justify the unpious;]
- <sup>3</sup> of the word of fellows, and of way-goers, and of the giving of (the) heritage of friends;
- $^4$  of the evenness of balance, and of weights, of the getting of many things, and of few things;
- <sup>5</sup> of (the) corruption of buying, and of merchants, and of much chastising [or much discipline] of sons; and of a worst servant, to make the side to bleed.
- $^6$  A sealing, either closing, is good on a wicked woman. Where be many hands, close thou (up);
- <sup>7</sup> and whatever thing thou shalt betake (or receive), number thou, and weigh thou; forsooth describe thou, either write (down), each gift, and taking (or receiving in).
- <sup>8</sup> Abstain thou from the teaching of an unwitty (or unwise) man, and fool, and of elder men that be deemed of (or by the) young men; and thou shalt be learned in all things, and thou shalt be commendable [or (ap)prov-able (or approved)] in the sight of all men.

<sup>9</sup> An hid daughter of a father is waking [or watch(ing)] and busyness of (or for) him; she shall take away sleep; lest peradventure she be made (an) adulteress in her young waxing age, and lest she dwelling with the husband, be made hateful:

10 lest anytime she be defouled in her virginity [or be polluted in her maidenhood], and be found with child in the keeping of her father; lest peradventure she dwelling with the husband, do trespass, either certainly be made barren.

- <sup>11</sup> Ordain thou keeping [or ward] on a lecherous daughter, lest any time she make thee to come into shame [or reproof] to [thine] enemies, of backbiting in the city, and of casting out of the people; and she make thee ashamed in the multitude of people.
- <sup>12</sup> Do not thou take heed to each man (or to each person) in the fair-ness, that is, in delighting in the beholding of his (or their) fairness; and do not thou dwell in the midst of women.

13 For why a moth cometh forth of (or from) clothes, and (the) wickedness of a man cometh forth of (or from) a woman.

14 For why the wickedness of a man is better, that is, less evil, than a woman doing well, and a woman shaming into shame (or reproach)*.

<sup>16</sup> The sun lightening [or shining through] beheld by all things; and the work thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.

<sup>17</sup> Whether the Lord made not holy men to tell out all his marvels, which the Lord Almighty steadfast in his glory shall confirm?

18 He shall ensearch the depth, and the heart of men; and he shall think in (or on) the fellness, [or the sly wit, or guile], of them. For the Lord knew all cunning (or all knowing or knowl-edge), and beheld into the sign(s) of the world:

19 telling [out] those things that be passed, and those things that shall come; showing the steps of hid things.

- <sup>20</sup> And no thought passeth him (by), and no word hideth itself from him.
- <sup>21</sup> He made fair the great works of his wisdom, which is before the world, and till into the world; neither anything is increased [or added], neither is decreased [or less(en)ed], and he hath no need to the counsel of any [man].
  - <sup>22</sup> All his works be full desirable, and to behold, as a sparkle which is.
- 23 All these things live, and dwell into the world (or evermore); and all things obey to him in all need.
- <sup>24</sup> All things be double, one against one; and he made not anything to fail.
- <sup>25</sup> He shall confirm the goods of each [or of everything]; and who shall be filled, seeing his glory?

CHAPTER 43

CHAPTER 42:14 See note above, for Chapter 25, verse 13.

- <sup>2</sup> The sun in beholding, telling in going out, is a wonderful vessel, the work of (the) high God[or the (Most) High].
- <sup>3</sup> In the time of midday it burneth the earth; and who shall be able to suffer (or to endure) in the sight of his (or its) heat?
- <sup>4</sup> Keeping a furnace in the works of heat; the sun burning hills in three manners, sending out beams of fire [or blasting out fiery beams], and shining again with his (or its) beams, blindeth (the) eyes.
- <sup>5</sup> The Lord is great, that made it; and in the words of him it hast(en)ed (its) journey [or hied the way].
- <sup>6</sup> And the moon in all men[or things] in his (or its) time is(a) show-ing of time, and a sign of the world.
- <sup>7</sup> A sign of the feast [or holy] day is taken of (or from) the moon; the light which is made little in the end.
- <sup>8</sup> The month is increasing by [or after] the name thereof, wonderfully into the ending. A vessel of castles (or of the hosts) in high things, shining gloriously in the firmament of heaven.
- $^{9}$  The fairness of heaven is the glory of stars; the Lord on high lighteneth the world.
- <sup>10</sup> In (or At) the words of the Holy (One), those (or they) shall stand at the doom; and those shall not fail in their wakings [or their watches].
- $^{11}$  See thou the rainbow, and bless thou him that made it; it is full fair in his (or its) shining.
- $^{12}$  It went about heaven in the compass [or the circuit] of his (or its) glory; the hands of (the) high God[or the (Most) High] opened it.
- $^{13}$  By his commandment he hast(en)-ed the snow; and he hast(en)eth to send out the lightnings of his doom.
- <sup>14</sup> Therefore (the) treasures were opened, and clouds fled out [or flew away] as bees [or birds].
  - <sup>15</sup> In his greatness he setted [the] clouds; and stones of hail were broken.
- $^{16}$  Hills shall be moved in (or at) his sight; and the south wind shall blow in (or at) his will.
- <sup>17</sup> The voice of his thunder shall beat [or beateth] the earth; the tempest of the north, and the gathering together of (the) wind. And as a bird putting down to sit sprinkleth (or scattereth the) snow, and the coming down of that snow is as a locust drenching (or drowning) down.
- <sup>18</sup> The eye shall wonder [or marvel] on the fairness of (the) whiteness thereof; and an heart dreadeth [or the heart quaketh] on the rain thereof.
- <sup>19</sup> He shall shed [or pour] out frost as salt on the earth; and while the wind bloweth, it shall be made as (the) cops (or tops) of a briar [or the bramble (bush)].
- <sup>20</sup> The cold northern wind blew, and (the) crystal of (the) water froze together; it resteth on all the gather-ing together of waters, and it clotheth itself with waters, as with an habergeon (or breastplate).
- $^{21}$  And it shall devour hills, and it shall burn the desert; and it shall quench green thing as fire.
- $^{22}$  The medicine of all things is in the hast(en)ing of a cloud; a dew, meeting the heat coming of (or after the) burning, shall make it low.

- <sup>23</sup> The wind was still [or held his peace] in (or by) the word of God; by his thought he made peaceable the depth of (the) waters; and the Lord Jesus*, that is, God, which is (the) Saviour of all men, planted it.
- $^{24}$  They that sail in (or on) the sea, tell out the perils thereof; and we hearing with our ears, shall wonder.
- <sup>25</sup> There be full clear works, and wonderful [or marvellous], diverse kinds of beasts, and of all little beasts, and the creature(s), (or the creation), of wonderful fishes.
- <sup>26</sup> The end of (the) way is confirmed for it [or (by) him]; and all things be made in (or by) the word of him.
- <sup>27</sup> We say many things, and (yet) we fail in words; for sooth he is the (full) ending of words.
- <sup>28</sup> To what thing shall we be mighty, that have (or who hath) glory in all things? for he is all-mighty above [or over] all his works.
  - <sup>29</sup> The Lord is fearedful, and full great; and his power is wonderful.
- <sup>30</sup> Glorify ye the Lord as much as ever ye may or as ye be able to, yet he shall be mightier; and his great doing is wonderful [or marvellous]. Ye blessing the Lord, enhance (or exalt) him as much as ye may or as ye be able to; for he is more than all praising. Ye enhancing him shall be filled with virtue; travail ye not to know God perfectly in this life, for ye shall not take (or shall not receive it) perfectly, that is, for it is unpossible.
- <sup>31</sup> Who saw him, and shall tell (it) out? and who shall magnify him, as he is from the beginning?
- <sup>32</sup> Many things greater than these be hid from us; for we have seen (only a) few things of his works.
- <sup>33</sup> Forsooth the Lord made all things; and he gave wisdom to men doing faithfully [or piously].

- $^{\rm 1}\,\mathrm{Praise}$  we glorious men, and our fathers [and mothers] in their generation.
  - <sup>2</sup> The Lord made much glory by his great doing, from the world.
- <sup>3</sup> Great men in virtue were lords in their powers, and rich in their prudence; telling in (or by the) prophets, (or by prophecies), the dignity of (the) prophets,
- <sup>4</sup> and commanding in (the) present people, and telling holiest words to (the) peoples, by the virtue of prudence.
- <sup>5</sup> Seeking manners of music in their cunning (or in their knowing), and telling songs [or ditties] of scriptures.
- <sup>6</sup> Rich men in virtue, having the study of fairness, making peace in their houses.
- <sup>7</sup> All these men got glory in the generations of their folk; and be had in praisings in their days.
  - $^{8}\,\mbox{They}$  that were born of them, left a name to tell the praisings of them.

<sup>**</sup> CHAPTER 43:23 Though the author of this book, that was an Hebrew man, wrote this book in Greek, nevertheless he setted in here an Hebrew name. (This gloss from the "Wycliffe Bible" notwithstanding, modern translations do not have this or any name here. T.P.N.)

<sup>9</sup> And some there be, of which is no mind (or memory); they perished as they that were not, and they were born as not born; and their sons perished with them.

<sup>10</sup> But also the men of mercy be, whose pieties [or piousnesses] failed not:

 $^{11}$  and good heritage dwelled continually with the seed of them. And the seed of their sons' sons stood in (the) testament,

<sup>12</sup> and the heritage of their sons dwelleth for them, till into without end;

13 the seed of them, and the glory of them, shall not be forsaken.

- $^{14}$  The bodies of them be buried in peace; and the name of them shall live into generations and generations.
- <sup>15</sup> (The) Peoples (shall) tell (of) the wisdom of them; and the church telleth the praising of them.
- $^{16}$  Enoch* pleased God, and was translated into paradise, (so) that he give wisdom to folks.
- <sup>17</sup> Noah was found perfect and just [or rightwise], and he was made reconciling in the time of wrathful-ness. Therefore residue seed was left to (the) earth, when the great flood was made.

18 (The) Testaments of the world were set with him, lest all flesh might be done away by the great flood.

- <sup>19</sup> Abraham was the great father of the multitude of folks; and none was found like him in glory, that is, in virtuous work,
- <sup>20</sup> which kept the law of (the) high God[or of the Highest], and was in testament (or in covenant) with him. He made a testament to stand in his flesh; and he was found faithful in temptation.
- <sup>21</sup> Therefore God with an oath gave to him glory in his folk; God made him to increase, as an heap of earth, and to enhance his seed as (the) stars, and to inherit them from the sea unto the sea, from the flood (or the river) unto the ends of (the) earth.

<sup>22</sup> And to (or for) Isaac God did in the same manner, (as) for Abraham, his father. The Lord gave to him the blessing of all folks; and confirmed nis testament

<sup>23</sup> on the head of Jacob. He knew him in his blessings, and gave heritage to him; and parted [or divided] to him a part in (the) twelve lineages.

CHAPTER 45

<sup>1</sup> And he kept to him men of mercy, finding grace in the sight of each man [or of all flesh]. Moses was loved of (or by) God and of (or by) men; whose mind (or memory) is in blessing.

<sup>2</sup> He made him like in (or to) the glory of (the) saints, and he magnified him in the dread of (his) enemies;

<sup>3</sup> and in his words he made peace-able the wonders against kind. He glorified him in the sight of kings, and he commanded to him before his people, and showed his glory to him.

<sup>4</sup> In the faith and mildness (or meek-ness) of him God made him holy; and chose him (out) of all men.

and chose him (out) of all men.

<sup>5</sup> For he heard him, and his voice; and led him in(to) a cloud. And gave to him an heart to (or for the) commandments, and to (or for) the law of life, and to (or for) teaching; to teach Jacob a [or his] testament, and Israel his dooms.

<sup>7</sup> He ordained to him an ever-lasting testament, or covenant, and gave to him the priesthood of the folk. And he made him blessful in glory, and girt him with a girdle of rightfulness [or rightwiseness]; and [he] clothed him with a stole of glory, and crowned him in the ornaments or the adornments of virtue.

<sup>8</sup> He setted on him sandals [or shoes], and breeches, and a cloth (or a cloak) on the shoulder(s)[or (a) cape],

<sup>9</sup> and girt him about with full many small [or little] golden bells in compass (or all around); to give sound in his going, [and] to make (the) sound heard in the temple, into mind to the sons of his folk.

<sup>10</sup> God gave to him an holy stole, a woven work, with gold and jacinth (or hyacinth), [or blue violet], and purple, the work of a wise man. made rich with doom and truth (or with Urim and Thummim);

- <sup>11</sup> the work of a craftsman, in writhed [fire]-red thread, with precious gems engraved in the binding of gold, and engraved by the work of a craftsman of stones [or the lapidary], into mind, by [or after] the number of the lineages of Israel.
- <sup>12</sup> A golden [or gold] crown on his mitre, set forth with the sign of holiness, the glory of honour, and the work of virtue, adorned to (or for the) desire of (the) eyes.
- <sup>13</sup> Such things so fair were not before him, unto the east. None alien was clothed therein, but only his sons, and his sons' sons alone, by (or for) all time.
  - <sup>14</sup> His sacrifices were ended each day by [or with] fire.
- <sup>15</sup> Moses filled his hands, that is, (made him) sacred (or consecrated himx), and anointed him with holy oil. It was made to him into (an) ever-lasting testament, and to his seed as the days of heaven, to use [the office of] priesthood, and to have praising, that is, to have the office to praise God, and to glorify his people in his name.

<sup>16</sup> God chose him (out) of each living man [or all (the) living], to offer sacrifice to God, incense, and good odour, into mind, for to please [or to make peace] for his people.

 $^{17}$  And he gave to him power in his commandments, and in the testaments of dooms, to teach Jacob (the) witnessings, and in his law to give light to Israel.

<sup>18</sup> For aliens stood against him, and men that were with Dathan and Abiram, and the congregation of Korah, in wrathfulness compassed him for envy, in (the) desert.

- <sup>19</sup> The Lord saw (this), and it pleased not him; and they were wasted in the fierceness of (his) wrathfulness. He made to them wonders against kind, and in the flame of fire he wasted them, for the earth swallowed them, and they went down quick (or alive) into hell.
- <sup>20</sup> And he increased glory to Aaron, and gave (an) heritage to him; and he parted [or he divided] to Aaron the first things of (the) fruits of the earth. He made ready [or prepared] his bread in the first things, into fullness;
- <sup>21</sup> for why and they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord, which he gave to him, and to his seed.

- <sup>22</sup> But in the land of his folk he shall not have heritage, and no part is to (or for) him among the folk; for why God is the part and heritage of him.
- <sup>23</sup> Phineas, the son of Eleazar, was the third in glory, in pursuing [or following] him in the dread of God, and to stand in the reverence of the folk; in the goodness and gladness of his soul he pleased God of Israel.
- <sup>24</sup> Therefore God ordained to him the testament of peace, and made him(the) prince of (the) holy men, and of his folk; (so) that the dignity of (the) priesthood be to him and to his seed, without end.
- <sup>25</sup> And the testament of David, the son of Jesse, of the lineage of Judah, was heritage to him, and to his seed;
- <sup>26</sup> (so) that he should give wisdom into our heart(s), to deem his folk in rightfulness [or in rightwiseness], lest their goods shall be done away; and he made the glory of them to be everlasting, in the folk of them.

- <sup>1</sup> Jesus (or Joshua the son of) Nun, the successor of Moses in prophets (or in prophecies), was strong in battle, that was great by [or after] his name. The greatest into the health (or the deliverance) of (the) chosen men of God, to overcome enemies rising against them, (so) that he should get the heritage of Israel.
- <sup>2</sup> Which [or What] glory he got in raising (up) his hands, and in casting sharp arrows against (the) cities.
- <sup>3</sup> Who before him against-stood so? [or Who before him so withstood?] for why the Lord himself smote the enemies.
- <sup>4</sup> Whether the sun was not letted (or hindered) in the wrathfulness of him, and one day was made as twain [or two]?
- <sup>5</sup> He called to help the highest God, mighty in overcoming enemies on each side; and God, great and holy, heard him,
- <sup>6</sup> in stones of hail of full great virtue (or of power). He made assault against the folk enemy [or the hostile folk], and in the coming down he lost (or destroyed) the adversaries; (so) that (the) heathen men know the might of him, for it is not easy to fight against the Lord; and he pursued or followed mighty men at the back [or behind].
- <sup>7</sup> And in the days of Moses, he and Caleb, the son of Jephunneh, did mercy; to stand against the enemy, and to forbid the folk from sins, and to refrain [or to draw away] the grutching (or the grumbling) of malice.
- <sup>8</sup> And they twain [or two] were steadfast, and were delivered from peril, of (or from) the number of six hundred thousand footmen, to bring them into the heritage, into the land that floweth (with) milk and honey.
- <sup>9</sup> And the Lord gave strength to that Caleb, and till into his eld (age) virtue (or strength) dwelled perfectly to (or with) him; (so) that he went up into the high place(s) of the land, and his seed got (an) heritage (or inheritance).
- <sup>10</sup> And all the children of Israel saw, that it is good to obey to (the) holy God.
- <sup>11</sup> And all (the) judges by their name(s), the heart of whom was not corrupt(ed)by avarice, but were strong in battle, (and) which were not turned away from the Lord by idolatry; (so) that the mind (or the memory) of them be in blessing, <sup>12</sup> and their bones appear [or burgeon] from their place; and their name dwelleth without end, for the glory of holy men dwelleth at (or with) the sons of them.

<sup>13</sup> Samuel, the prophet of the Lord, that was loved of (or by) his Lord God, made new [or renewed] the empire, and anointed princes in (or over) his folk.

 $^{14}$  In the law of the Lord, he deemed the congregation, and he saw the Lord of Jacob.

15 and in his faith, he was proved a (true) prophet. And he was known faithful in (or by) his words, for he saw the Lord of light.

- <sup>16</sup> And he called into help the Lord Almighty, in overcoming enemies standing about on each side, in the offering of a man undefouled (or undefiled).
- <sup>17</sup> And the Lord thundered from heaven, and in (or with)[a] great sound he made his voice heard.

18 And he all-brake [or trod (down)] the princes of (the) men of Tyre, and the dukes (or rulers) of (the) Philistines.

- <sup>19</sup> And before the time of (the) end of his life, and of the world, he gave witnessing (or testimony) in the sight of the Lord, and of Christ (or of his christ, or his anointed), that is, Saul, anointed into king; he took not of (or from) any man riches, yea, till to the shoe; and no man accused him.
- <sup>20</sup> And after this he slept, and he made known to the king, that is, (to) Saul, and he showed to him the end of his life; and he enhanced (or raised up) his voice from the earth in prophecy, to do away the wickedness of the folk.

CHAPTER 47

 $^2$  And as inner fatness departed [or tallow severed] from the flesh, so David from the sons of Israel.

 $^3$  He played with lions, as with lambs; he did in like manner with bears, as with lambs of sheep.

<sup>4</sup> Whether in his youth he killed not a giant, and took away shame [or reproof] from the folk? In raising (up) the hand in (or with) a stone of a sling, he casted down the full out joying of Goliath,

<sup>5</sup> where he called to help the Lord Almighty; and he gave in his right hand to do away a strong man in battle, and to enhance the horn of his folk.

- <sup>6</sup> So he glorified him, that is, made him to be praised, in (or with) ten thousand, and he praised him in the blessings of the Lord, in offering to him the crown of glory.
- <sup>7</sup> For he all-brake enemies on each side, and drew out by the root (the) Philistines contrary, unto this day; he all-brake the horn of them unto without end.
- <sup>8</sup> David in each [or all] work gave acknowledging to (the) holy God, and high, in the word of glory (or with words of glory). Of (or With) all his heart he praised God, and he loved the Lord that made him, and gave to him power [or might] against (the) enemies.
- <sup>9</sup> And he made singers to stand against (or before) the altar; and he made sweet motets in (or by) the sound of them.

- <sup>10</sup> And he gave fairness in hallow-ings, and he adorned times, or solemnities, unto the ending of life; (so) that they should praise the holy name of the Lord, and make large (or magnify) early the holiness of God.
- $^{11}$  Christ* purged the sins of him, and enhanced his horn without end; and he gave to him the testament of kings, and the seat [or a seat] of glory in Israel.
- <sup>12</sup> After him rose (up) a witty (or a wise) son; and for him he, (that is, God), casted down all the power [or all the might] of (their) enemies.
- <sup>13</sup> Solomon reigned in the days of peace, to whom God made subject all [the] enemies, (so) that he should make an house in the name of God, and make ready holiness (or the sanctuary) without end, as he was learned [or taught] in his youth.
- <sup>14</sup> And he was filled with wisdom as a flood is filled; and his soul uncovered [or again-covered] the earth.
  - <sup>15</sup> And thou, Solomon, filledest dark figurative speeches in likenesses;
- $^{16}$  and thy name was published to isles afar, and thou were loved in (or for) thy peace.
- <sup>17</sup> Lands, that is, men dwelling in (those) lands, wondered in (or at) songs, and in (or at) proverbs, and in (or at) likenesses [or comparisons], and interpretings, either expositions;
- <sup>18</sup> and in the name of the Lord, to whom the surname is [or to whom is the surname] God of Israel. Thou gatheredest together gold as latten, and thou filledest silver as lead.
- <sup>19</sup> And thou bowedest [in] thy thighs to women; thou haddest power in thy body to fill the lust of thy body.
- <sup>20</sup> Thou hast given a wem in thy glory, and madest unholy [or cursed-est] thy seed, to bring in wrathfulness to thy children, and thy folly in other men [or in other things thy folly];
- <sup>21</sup> (so) that thou shouldest make the realm parted into twain [or two], and of Ephraim to command an hard commandment.
- <sup>22</sup> But God shall not forsake his mercy, and shall not destroy, neither do away his works, neither he shall lose (or destroy) from generation the sons' sons of his chosen king David, [nor lose from the stock his chosen sons' sons]; and he shall not destroy the seed of him that loveth the Lord. Forsooth God gave (a) remnant to Jacob, and to David of that generation [or lineage].
- <sup>23</sup> And Solomon had an end with his fathers. And he left after him of his seed Rehoboam, (yea), the folly of the folk, and made less from prudence; which Rehoboam turned away the folk by his counsel. And Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, that made Israel to do sin, and gave to Ephraim (the) way to do sin;
- <sup>24</sup> and full many sins of them were plenteous, for they turned them away greatly from their land, that is, sins great and horrible made them to be prisoners far from their land.
- <sup>25</sup> And the lineage (or tribe) of Ephraim sought (out) all wickedness-es, till defence came to them; and (he) delivered them from all (their) sins.

<sup>1</sup> And Elijah, the prophet, rose (up) as fire, that is, burning in the fervent love of God; for why his word burnt as a brand (or as a torch).

<sup>2</sup> Which brought in hunger on them, and they pursuing [or following] him were made few for [or by] envy; for they might not suffer the commandments of the Lord.

<sup>3</sup> By [or Through] the word of the Lord he held together heaven, and casted down from it fire to the earth, that is, by the virtue (or the power) of his prayer, he made fire come down from heaven, on his burnt sacrifice.

<sup>4</sup> So Elijah was alarged, (or en-larged, or magnified) in his marvels; and who may have glory in like manner with thee,

<sup>6</sup> Which castedest down kings to death, and hast broken *(al)*together lightly (or easily) the power of them, and glorious men from their bed.

- <sup>7</sup> Which heardest (the) doom in Sinai, and in Horeb dooms of defence, that is, of God's vengeance.
- <sup>8</sup> Which anointest kings to penance, and makest prophets (to be) successors after thee.
- <sup>9</sup> Which were received in a whirlwind of fire, in a chariot of horses of fire.
- <sup>10</sup> Which art written in the dooms of (their) times, to please, [or assuage], (or appease) the wrathfulness of the Lord, to reconcile the heart of the father to the son, and to restore the lineages of Jacob.
- <sup>11</sup> They be blessed, that saw thee, and were made fair in thy friendship; for why we live only in life, but after death our name shall not be such.
- <sup>12</sup> Elijah, that was covered in (or with) a whirlwind; and his spirit was [full]-filled in*(to)* Elisha. Elisha in his days dreaded not the prince, and no man overcame him by power [or by might];
  - <sup>13</sup> neither any word overcame him, and his dead body prophesied.
- <sup>14</sup> In his life he did wonders against kind [or huge marvels]; and in death he wrought marvels [or marvellous things].
- <sup>15</sup> In all these things the people did not penance, and went not away from their sins, till when they were cast away from their land, and were scattered into each land. And a full few folk was left, and a prince in the house of David.
  - $^{16}$  Some of them did that, that pleased God; but others did many sins.
- $^{17}$  Hezekiah made strong his city, and brought water into the midst thereof; and he digged a rock with iron, and builded a pit to (or for the) water.
- $^{18}$  In his days Sennacherib ascended, or went up, and sent Rabshakeh; and he raised (up) his hand against Zion, and was made proud in his power.
- <sup>19</sup> Then the hearts and hands of them were moved; and they had sorrow as women travailing of [or with] child.
- <sup>20</sup> And they called to help the merciful Lord, and they spreaded abroad the hands, and raised (them)[up] to heaven; and the holy Lord God heard soon the voice of them. He had not mind on [or remembered not] their sins, neither gave them to their enemies; but he purged them in (or by) the hand of Isaiah, the holy prophet, by Isaiah praying for them.

<sup>21</sup> The angel of the Lord casted down the castles (or the hosts) of (the) Assyrians, and all-brake them.

22 For why Hezekiah did that that pleased the Lord, and went strongly in the way of David, his father; which way Isaiah, the great prophet, and faithful in the sight of God, commanded to him.

<sup>23</sup> In the days of him the sun went again aback; and God increased life to the king.

<sup>24</sup> With (or By)[a] great spirit he saw the last things; and he comforted the mourners in Zion, into without end.

25 He showed things to coming [or to come] and hid things, before that those came.

CHAPTER 49

<sup>1</sup> The mind (or the memory) of Josiah made in the making of odour, is (like) the work of a pigment-maker. In each mouth his mind (or his memory) shall be made (as) sweet as honey, and as music [or as melody] in the feast of wine.

<sup>2</sup> He was (ad)dressed (or directed) of (or by) God in the penance of (the) folk, for he brought the people of his realm to penance for their sins, and to the worshipping of (the) very (or the true) God, and destroyed idolatry: and he took away the abominations of wickedness.

<sup>3</sup> And the heart of him governed (un)to the Lord [or And he governed (un)to the Lord his heart]; and in the days of sins he strengthened piety.

- <sup>4</sup> Except David, Hezekiah, and Josiah, all [the] kings did sin. For why the kings of Judah left the law of (the) mighty God, and despised the dread of Goď.
  - <sup>5</sup> For they gave their realm to other men, and their glory to an alien folk.

<sup>6</sup> They burnt the chosen city of holiness; and they made the ways thereof forsaken [or desert(ed)] in the hand of Jeremy (or Jeremiah).

<sup>7</sup> For they treated evil him, which from the womb of the mother was hallowed [or is (made) sacred, (or consecrated)] a prophet, to turn upsidedown, and to lose, (or to destroy), and again to build [up], and make new.

8 (It was) Ezekiel, that saw the sight of glory, which the Lord showed to him in (or on) the chariot of cherubim.

- <sup>9</sup> For he made mind of or remem-bered enemies in (the) rain, that is, in (the) word of his prophecy, to do well to (or for) them, that showed rightful [or right] ways.
- <sup>10</sup> And the bones of (the) twelve prophets appear [or spring out] from their place; and they strengthened Jacob, and again-bought (or redeem-ed) them in (or by) the faith of their virtue.
- 11 How shall we alarge (or magnify) Zerubbabel, that is, praise him worthily? for why and he was a sign (or a signet) in (or on) the right hand of God to Israel;
- <sup>12</sup> and Jesus (or Joshua), the son of Jehozadak? which in their days builded an house [or the house], and enhanced the holy temple to the Lord, made ready into everlasting glory.
- <sup>13</sup> And Nehemiah in the mind of much time, that raised [up] to (or for) us the walls, that were cast down, and made the gates and (the) locks to stand; which Nehemiah raised [up] our houses.
- <sup>14</sup> No man born in (or on the) earth was such as Enoch; for why and he was received (or taken up) from the earth.

- <sup>15</sup> And Joseph, that was born a man, the prince of brethren, the steadfastness of (the) folk, the governor of (his) brethren, the establishing of (the) people; and his bones were visited, and [they] prophesied after (his) death.
- $^{16}\,\mathrm{Seth}$  and  $\mathrm{Shem},$  these got glory with men, and over each man in the generation of Adam.

- <sup>1</sup> Simon, the son of Onias, was a great priest [or Simon, Onias' son, the great priest], which in his life under-setted the house, and in his days strengthened the temple.
- <sup>2</sup> Also the highness of the temple was builded of (or by) him, that is, repaired, (yea), the double building, and (the) high walls of the temple.
- <sup>3</sup> In the days of him the pits of (or for the) waters came forth; and as the sea, those [or they] were filled above measure.
- <sup>4</sup> Which Simon healed (or cared for) his folk, and delivered it from perdition. Which was mighty to alarge (or enlarge) the city;
- <sup>5</sup> which got glory in the conver-sation of (the) folk; and alarged (or enlarged) the entering of the house, and of the large compass [or the porch] about.
- <sup>6</sup> As the day star [or the morrow-tide] in the midst of a cloud, and as a full moon shineth in his (or in its) days;
- <sup>7</sup> and as the sun shining, so he shined in the temple of God; as a rainbow shining among the clouds of glory,
- <sup>8</sup> and as a flower of roses in the days of ver (or of springtime), and as lilies, that be in the passing [or in the goings] of water, and as incense smelling in the days of summer;
- <sup>9</sup> as fire shining, and incense burn-ing in fire; as a firm [or massive] vessel of gold, adorned with each precious stone;
- $^{10}\,\mathrm{as}$  an olive tree springing forth, and a cypress tree raising itself on high;
- <sup>11</sup> while he took the stole (or the robe) of glory, and was clothed in the perfection of virtue. In the ascending [or the going up] of the holy altar, the clothing [or amice] of holiness gave glory.
- <sup>12</sup> Forsooth in taking (the) parts (out) of the hand(s) of (the) priests, that is, the tithe of tithes, which the priests took of (or received from) the people, and he stood beside the altar. The crown of brethren, as a planting of [a] cedar in the hill Lebanon, was about him; so they stood about him as boughs of palm tree(s),
- <sup>13</sup> and all the sons of Aaron stood in their glory. Soothly the offering of the Lord was in the hands of them, before all the synagogue [or gathering] of Israel;
- $^{14}$  and he used full ending on the altar, to alarge, [or to make large], (or to magnify) the offering of the high King.
- <sup>15</sup> And he (ad)dressed (or directed) his hand in (or to the) moist, [or liquor, (or liquid)] sacrifice; and sacrificed in (or with) the blood of (the) grape. He shedded [or poured] out in the foundament (or at the foundation) of the altar, the odour of God to the high prince.

- <sup>16</sup> Then the sons of Aaron cried (a)loud; they sounded in (or with) trumps beaten out with hammers, and made a great voice (or a loud noise) heard into mind before God.
- <sup>17</sup> Then all the people hast(en)ed together, and fell down on the face on the earth, for to worship their Lord God, and to give prayers to Almighty God on high.
- <sup>18</sup> And men singing in their voices alarged, that is, praised God largely; and a sound full of sweetness was made in the great house.
- <sup>19</sup> And the people prayed (to) the high Lord in prayer, till that the honour of the Lord was done perfect-ly, and they performed their [or his] gift (or his service).
- <sup>20</sup> Then Simon came down, and raised (up)[or put out] his hands into all the congregation of the sons of Israel, to give glory to God by (or with) his lips, and to have glory in the name of him.
- $^{21}\!$  And he rehearsed (or repeated) his prayer, willing (or desiring) to show the virtue of God.
- <sup>22</sup> And he prayed more (to) the Lord of all, that made [or did] great things in each land [or all (the) earth]; which increased our days from the womb of our mother, and did with us by [or after] his mercy.
- <sup>23</sup> Give he gladness of heart to us, and that peace be made in Israel by everlasting days;
- $^{24}$  that Israel believe, that God's mercy is with us, (and) that he deliver them in their days.
  - <sup>25</sup> My soul hateth two folks; but the third is not a folk, whom I hate.
- <sup>26</sup> They that sit in the hill of Samaria, and the Philistines, and the fond [or fool(ish)] people, that dwell-eth in Shechem.
- <sup>27</sup> Jesus, the son of Sirach, a man of Jerusalem, wrote in this book the teaching [or the doctrine] of wisdom, and of cunning, (or of knowing, or knowledge); and he renewed (the) wisdom of (or from) his heart.
- <sup>28</sup> He is blessed, that dwelleth in these good [thing] s; he that setteth those [things] in his heart, shall ever-[more] be wise.
- <sup>29</sup> For if he doeth these things, he shall be mighty to all things; for why the light of God is the step of him.

- <sup>1</sup> Lord King, I shall acknowledge to thee; and I shall *(al)*together praise thee, my Saviour. I shall acknowledge to thy name,
- $^2$  for thou art made an helper and defender to me; and thou hast delivered my body from perdition, from the snare of a wicked tongue, and from the lips of them that work a leasing (or a lie); and in the sight of them that stand nigh, thou art made an helper to me.
- <sup>3</sup> And thou hast delivered me, by [or after] the multitude of mercy of thy name, from roarers made ready to (or for) meat; from the hands of them that sought my soul, and from many tribulations that (en)compassed me;
- <sup>4</sup> from (the) over-laying of flame that compassed me, and in the midst of (the) fire I was not burnt;
- <sup>5</sup> from the depth of the womb of hell, and from a tongue defouled, and from a word of leasing (or from lying words);

<sup>6</sup> from a wicked king, and from a tongue unjust [or an unrightwise tongue]. Unto the death, my soul shall praise thee, Lord; and my life was nighing in (or to) hell (or the grave) beneath.

<sup>7</sup> They compassed me on each side, and none was that helped (me); I was beholding into (or looking for) the help of men, and none was.

<sup>8</sup> Lord, I had mind on thy mercy, and on thy working (al)together, that be from the world; for thou deliverest them that abide thee, and thou deliverest them from the hand(s) of heathen men.

<sup>9</sup> Thou enhancedest my dwelling on (the) earth; and I besought for death floating [or flowing] down.

- <sup>10</sup> I called to help the Lord, (the) father (or the Father) of my Lord, that he forsake not me in the day of my tribulation, and forsake not me with-out help, in the time of them that be proud.
- <sup>11</sup> I shall praise thy name continual-ly, and I shall praise it *(al)*together in acknowledging [or in confession]; and my prayer is heard.
- <sup>12</sup> And thou hast delivered me from perdition, and thou hast delivered me from the wicked time. Therefore I shall acknowledge, and I shall say praising to thee; and I shall bless the name of the Lord.
- <sup>13</sup> When yet I was younger, before that I erred, or that I wandered, (or before that I travelled abroad), I sought wisdom openly in my prayer.
- <sup>14</sup> Before the time of eld (age), I asked for it, and unto the last things, I shall inquire (for) it [or I shall greatly seek it]:
- 15 and it shall flower as a grape ripe before others. Mine heart was glad therein [or in it], my foot went a right-ful way; from my youth I sought it.
- <sup>16</sup> I bowed down a little mine ear, and I took it. I found much wisdom in myself,
- $^{17}$  and I profited much therein [or much I profited in it]. I shall give glory to him, that giveth wisdom to me.
  - <sup>18</sup> For why I took counsel to do it; I loved fervently [or greatly](that which is) good, and I shall not be (a)shamed.

- <sup>19</sup> My soul wrestled together therein [or in it]; and I was confirmed in doing it. I stretched forth mine hands on high; and my soul shined [or wailed] in the wisdom of him, and he (en)lightened mine uncunnings, (or my unknowings, or my ignorances).
- <sup>20</sup> I (ad)dressed (or directed) my soul to it; and I found it in knowing (or in knowledge). I had peaceably from the beginning an heart with those, that is, works, either (en) lightenings of wisdom, [or I welded with them (my) heart from the beginning (or I have joined my heart with it from the beginning)]; for this thing I shall not be forsaken.
- <sup>21</sup> My soul was disturbed (or troubled) in seeking it; therefore I shall have peaceably [or shall wield] a good possession.
- <sup>22</sup> For why the Lord gave to me a tongue (for) my meed (or my reward); and in (or with) it I shall praise him.
- <sup>23</sup> Ye untaught men, [cometh] nigh to me; and gather ye you into the house of teaching.
- <sup>24</sup> What tarry ye yet? [or What yet ye tarry?] and what say ye in these things? your souls thirst greatly.
- <sup>25</sup> I opened my mouth, and I spake, Buy ye wisdom to you (or for yourselves) without silver, <sup>26</sup> and make your neck subject to the yoke thereof, and your soul receive teaching, [or and your neck under-layeth to the yoke of it, and your soul undertake discipline]; for why it is in the next to find it.

<sup>27</sup> See ye with your eyes, that I travailed (only) a little, and (then) I found much rest to (or for) me.

<sup>28</sup> Take ye teaching in (or for) much number of silver, and wield ye plenteous gold therein.

<sup>29</sup> Your soul be glad in the mercy of him; and ye shall not be (a)shamed in the praising of him.

<sup>30</sup> Work ye your work before the time; and he shall give to you your meed (or reward) in his (good) time.

BARUCH

- <sup>1</sup> And these be the words of the book, which Baruch, the son of Neriah, son of Mahseiah, son of Zedekiah, son of Hasadiah, son of Hilkiah, wrote in Babylon;
- <sup>2</sup> in the fifth year, in the seventh day of the month, in the time wherein (the) Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire.
- <sup>3</sup> And Baruch read the words of this book to the ears of Jeconiah, son of Jehoiakim (or son of Joachim), king of Judah, and to the ears of all the people coming to (hear) the book;
- <sup>4</sup> and to the ears of the mighty [men], (and of the) sons of (the) kings, and to the ears of (the) priests, and to the ears of the people, from the most unto the least of them, of all (those) dwelling in Babylon, and at the flood Sud (or by the Sud River).
  - <sup>5</sup> Which heard, and wept, and fasted, and prayed in the sight of the Lord. <sup>6</sup> And they gathered money, by [or after] that that each man's hand might;
- <sup>7</sup> and [they] sent (it) into Jerusalem to Jehoiakim, the (high) priest, the son of Hilkiah, son of Shallum, and to the priests, and to all the people that were found with him in Jerusalem:
- <sup>8</sup> when he took (or when he received) the vessels of the temple of the Lord, that were taken away from the temple, to again-call (them) into the land of Judah, in the tenth day of the month Sivan, or May; the silvern [or the silver] vessels, which Zedekiah, the king of Judah, the son of Josiah, (had) made.
- <sup>9</sup> after that Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, had taken (away) Jeconiah, and (the) princes, and all (the) mighty men, and the people of the land from Jerusalem, and led them bound into Babylon.
- <sup>10</sup> And they said, Lo! we have sent to you riches [or monies], of (or with) which buy ye burnt sacrifices, and incense, and make ye sacrifice, and offer ye for sin at the altar of your Lord God.
- <sup>11</sup> And pray ye for the life of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, and for the life of Belshazzar, his son, that the days of them be on (the) earth as the days of heaven;
- <sup>12</sup> that the Lord give virtue (or strength) to us, and (en)lighten our eyes, that we live under the shadow of Nebuchad-nezzar, king of Babylon, and under the shadow of Belshazzar, his son; and that we serve them by many days, and find grace in the sight of them.
- <sup>13</sup> And pray ye for us to our Lord God, for we have sinned to our Lord God, and his strong vengeance is not turned away from us, till into this day.
- <sup>14</sup> And read ye this book, which we [have] sent to you, to be rehearsed (or to be read aloud) in the temple of the Lord, in a solemn day, and in a covenable day, (or on solemn days, and on other suitable days).
- <sup>15</sup> And ye shall say, Rightfulness [or rightwiseness]is to our Lord God, but shame of our face is to us, as this day (it) is, to all Judah, and to (the) dwellers in Jerusalem,
- <sup>16</sup> to our kings, and to our princes, to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers.

- <sup>17</sup> We sinned before our Lord God.
- <sup>18</sup> and believed not, and trusted not in him. And we were not ready to be subject to him, and we obeyed not to the voice of our Lord God, (so) that we went in his commandments, which he gave to us;
- <sup>19</sup> from the day in which he led our fathers out of the land of Egypt, till into this day, we were unbelieveful to our Lord God; and we were scattered, and went away, (so) that we heard not the voice of him.
- <sup>20</sup> And many evils and cursings, which the Lord ordained to his servant Moses, cleaved to us; which Lord led our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give to us a land flowing (with) milk and honey, as (it is) in this day.
  - 21 And we heard not the voice of our Lord God, by [or after] all the words of (the) prophets, which he sent to us, and to our judges;

<sup>22</sup> and we went away, each man into the wit (or the understanding) of his evil heart, to work to alien gods (or to serve foreign gods), and we did evils before the eyes of our Lord God.

- <sup>1</sup> For which thing our Lord God setted steadfastly his word, which he spake to us, and to our judges, that deemed in Israel, and to our kings, and to our princes, and to all Israel and Judah;
- <sup>2</sup> that the Lord should bring on us great evils, that were not done under heaven, as those be done in Jerusalem; by [or after] those things that be written in the law of Moses,
- <sup>3</sup> that a man should eat the fleshes [or the flesh] of his (own) son, and the fleshes [or the flesh] of his (own) daughter.
- <sup>4</sup> And he gave them into the hand of all (the) kings, that be in our compass, into shame [or reproof], and into desolation in all peoples, among which the Lord scattered us.
- <sup>5</sup> And we be made beneath, and not above; for we sinned to our Lord God, in not obeying to the voice of him.
- <sup>6</sup> Rightfulness [or rightwiseness]is to our Lord God, but shame of face is to us and to our fathers, as this day (it) is.
  - <sup>7</sup> For the Lord spake on us all these evils, that came on us.
- <sup>8</sup> And we besought not the face of our Lord God, that we should turn again, each of us from our worst ways.
- <sup>9</sup> And the Lord waked in evils (or watched for evils), and brought those [or them] on us; for the Lord is just [or rightwise] in all his works, which he commanded to us.
- <sup>10</sup> And we heard not the voice of him, that we should go in the commandments of the Lord, which he gave before our face.
- <sup>11</sup> And now, Lord God of Israel, that leddest [or broughtest] thy people out of the land of Egypt in (or with) a strong hand, and in (or with) miracles, and in (or with) great wonders, and in thy great virtue (or with thy great power), and in (or with) an high arm, and madest to thee a name, as this day (it) is:
- <sup>12</sup> we have sinned, we have done unfaithfully, we have done wickedly, our Lord God, in all thy rightfulnesses [or rightwisenesses].
- <sup>13</sup> (Let) Thy wrath be turned away from us; for we be left a few among (the) heathen men, where thou hast scattered us.

- $^{14}$  Lord, hear thou our askings, and our prayers, and lead [or bring] us out for thee; and give thou to us to find grace before the face of them, that led us away:
- <sup>15</sup> (so) that all (the) earth know, that thou art our Lord God, and that thy name is called to help on Israel, and on the kin of him (or by his kin).
- <sup>16</sup> Lord, behold thou from thine holy house on us, and bow down thine ear, and hear us.
- <sup>17</sup> Open thine eyes, and see; for not (the) dead men that be in hell (or in the grave), whose spirit is taken from their entrails, shall give honour [or worship] and justifying to the Lord;
- <sup>18</sup> but a soul which is sorry [up] on the greatness [or muchliness] of evil, and goeth bowed, and sick (or feeble), [or meeked], and [the] eyes failing, and an hungry soul [or the soul hunger-ing], giveth glory to thee, and rightful-ness [or rightwiseness] to the Lord.
- <sup>19</sup> For not by [or after] the rightwise-nesses of our fathers we poured out prayers, and asked (for) mercy before thy sight, our Lord God;
- <sup>20</sup> but for thou sentest thy wrath and thy strong vengeance on us, as thou spakest in the hands of thy children (the) prophets (or by thy servants the prophets), and saidest,
- <sup>21</sup> Thus saith the Lord, Bow ye your shoulder[s], and your neck(s), and do ye travail to (or for) the king of Babylon; and ye shall sit in the land, which I gave to your fathers.
- <sup>22</sup> That (or But) if ye do not, neither hear the voice of your Lord God, to work to (or for) the king of Babylon,
- <sup>23</sup> I shall make your failing from the cities of Judah, and from the gates of Jerusalem; and I shall take away from you the voice of gladness [or of mirth], and the voice of joy, and the voice of (the) spouses, and the voice of (the) spousess; and all the land shall be with-out step of them that dwell therein.
- <sup>24</sup> And they heard not thy voice, that they should work to (or for) the king of Babylon; and (so) thou hast set stead-fastly thy words, which thou spakest in the hands of thy children, (the) prophets (or by thy servants the prophets); that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers should be borne over [or translated] from their place.
- <sup>25</sup> And lo! they be cast forth in the heat of the sun, and in the frost of the night; and men[or they] be dead in the worst sorrows, in hunger, and in sword, and in sending out.
- <sup>26</sup> And thou hast set (or brought down low) the temple in which thy name was called to (or for) help, as this day showeth, for the wickedness of the house of Israel, and of the house of Judah.
- <sup>27</sup> And thou, our Lord God, hast done in (or with) us by [or after] all thy goodness, and by all that great merciful doing of thee, [or after all that thy great mercy doing],
- <sup>28</sup> as thou spakest in the hand of thy child Moses (or by thy servant Moses), in the day in which thou command-edest to him to write thy law, before the sons of Israel, and saidest,
- <sup>29</sup> If ye hear not my voice, this great adorning and much [or this great multitude] shall be turned into the least among (the) heathen men, whither I shall scatter them.

<sup>30</sup> For I knew, that the people shall not hear me, for it is a people of (or with)[an] hard noll. And it (or But they) shall (re)turn to their heart(s) in the land of their captivity;

BARUCH CHAPTER 2:30

- <sup>31</sup> and they shall know, that I am the Lord God of them. And I shall give to them an heart, and they shall under-stand, and ears, and they shall hear.
- <sup>32</sup> And they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and they shall be mindful of my name.
- <sup>33</sup> [And] They shall turn away them-selves from their hard back, and from their wickednesses; for they shall have mind of [or shall remember] the way of their fathers, that sinned against me.
- <sup>34</sup> And I shall again-call them into the land, which I swore to give to the fathers of them, to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; and they shall be lords of it. And I shall multiply them, and they [shall] not be made less.
- <sup>35</sup> And I shall ordain to them another testament everlasting, that I be to them into God, and they shall be to me into a people. And I shall no more move my people, the sons of Israel, from the land which I gave to them.

- <sup>1</sup> And now, Lord Almighty, God of Israel, a soul in anguishes, and a spirit annoyed (or harmed), crieth to thee.
- <sup>2</sup> Lord, hear thou, and have mercy, for thou art merciful God; and have thou mercy on us, for we have sinned before thee,
  - <sup>3</sup> (for) thou sittest without end, and we shall not perish without end.
- <sup>4</sup> Lord God Almighty, God of Israel, hear thou now the prayer of the dead men of Israel, and of the sons of them, that [have] sinned before thee, and heard not the voice of their Lord God, and evils be fastened [or joined] to us.
- <sup>5</sup> Do not thou have mind on (or remember) the wickedness of our fathers, but have thou mind on thine hand, and on thy name, in this time;
  - <sup>6</sup> for thou art our Lord God, and, Lord, we shall praise thee.
- <sup>7</sup> For why for this thing thou hast given thy dread in our hearts, (so) that we call (on) thy name to (or for) help, and praise thee in our captivity; for we shall be converted [or turned] from the wickedness of our fathers, that sinned against thee.
- <sup>8</sup> And lo! we be in our captivity today, whither thou scatteredest us, into shame, and into cursing, and into sin, by [or after] all the wickedness of our fathers, that went away from thee, thou our Lord God.
- <sup>9</sup> Israel, hear thou the command-ments of life; perceive thou with ears, (so) that thou know prudence.
- <sup>10</sup> Israel, what (or why) is it, that thou art in the land of (thy) enemies? Thou waxedest (or grewest) eld in an alien land, thou art defouled with dead men,
- <sup>11</sup> (and) thou art areckoned with them, that go down into hell (or the grave)?
  - 12 Thou hast forsaken the well of wisdom;
- $^{13}$  for why if thou haddest gone in the ways of God, soothly thou haddest dwelled in peace on (the) earth.
- <sup>14</sup> Learn thou, where is wisdom, where is prudence, where is virtue, where is understanding, (so) that thou know (al)together, where is long enduring of life, and lifelode, (or livelihood), (and) where is (the) light of (the) eyes, and peace.

- <sup>15</sup> Who found the place thereof, and who entered into the treasures thereof?
- $^{16}$  Where be the princes of (the) heathen men, and that be lords over the beasts, that be on (the) earth?
- <sup>17</sup> Which played with the birds of heaven; which treasure silver and gold, in which men trust, and none end [there] is of the purchasing of them?
  - <sup>18</sup> Which make silver, and be busy, and no finding is of their works?
- <sup>19</sup> They be destroyed, and went down to hells, [or to hell], (or to the grave); and other men rose (up) in the place of them.
- <sup>20</sup> The young men of them saw light, and dwelled on (the) earth. But they knew not the way of wisdom,
- <sup>21</sup> neither understood the paths thereof; neither the sons of them received it. It was made far from the face of them;
  - <sup>22</sup> it is not heard (of) in the land of Canaan, neither [it] is seen in Teman.
- <sup>23</sup> Also the sons of Hagar, that sought out prudence which is of (or on the) earth, the merchants of (the) earth, and of Teman, and the tale tellers [or the fablers, or janglers], and seekers out of prudence, and of understanding. But they knew not the way of wisdom, neither had mind on the paths thereof.
- $^{24}\,\mathrm{O!}$  Is rael, the house of God is full great, and the place of his possession is great;
  - <sup>25</sup> it is great and hath none end, high and great without measure.
- <sup>26</sup> (The) Named giants were there; they that were of great stature at the beginning, and knew (or knowing in) battle.
- <sup>27</sup> The Lord chose not these, neither they found the way of wisdom [or of discipline]; therefore they perished.
  - <sup>28</sup> And for they had not wisdom, they perished for their unwisdom.
- <sup>29</sup> Who ascended, or went up, into heaven, and took that wisdom, and brought it down from the clouds?
- $^{\rm 30}$  Who (hath) passed over the sea, and found it, and brought it more than chosen gold?
- <sup>31</sup> None is [or There is not], that may know the way thereof, neither that seeketh [out] the paths thereof;
- <sup>32</sup> but he that have all things [or that knoweth all things], knew it, and found it by his prudence. Which made ready the earth in everlasting time, and filled it with two-footed beasts, and (with) four-footed beasts.
- $^{33}$  Which sendeth out (the) light, and it goeth, and called it (again); and it obeyeth to him in trembling.
- <sup>34</sup> Forsooth (the) stars gave light in their keepings, and were glad; those [or they] were called, and those said, We be present [or they said, We come to (thee)]; and those (or they) shined to him with mirth, that made those [or them].
  - 35 This is our God, and none other shall be guessed against him.
- <sup>36</sup> This [or He] found each way of wisdom, and gave it to Jacob, his child (or his servant), and to Israel, his darling [or his dearworth(y)].
  - <sup>37</sup> After these things he was seen in (many) lands, and lived with men.

- <sup>1</sup> This (is the) book of God's behests [or commandments], and the law which is without end. All that hold it, shall come to life. But they that have forsaken it, shall come into death.
- <sup>2</sup> Jacob, be thou converted, and take thou (hold of)[or catch] it; go thou [or walk] by the way at the brightness thereof, against the light thereof.
- <sup>3</sup> Give thou not thy glory to another, and thy dignity to an alien, (or to a strange, or foreign) folk.
- <sup>4</sup> Israel, we be blessed; for those things that please God, be open to us for be known to usl.
- <sup>5</sup> The people of God, Israel worthy to be had in mind (or remembered), be thou patienter, either of better comfort.
- <sup>6</sup> Ye be sold to (the) heathen men, not into perdition; but for that that ye in ire [or wrath] stirred God to wrath-fulness, ye be betaken to adversaries.
- <sup>7</sup> For ye wrathed that God ever-lasting, that made you; and ye offered to fiends, and not to God. [Forsooth ye stirred to bitterness the everlasting God, that made you; offering to devils, and not to God.]
- <sup>8</sup> For ye forgot him that nourished or nursed you, and ye made sorry [or sorrowful] your nurse, Jerusalem.
- <sup>9</sup> For it saw (the) wrathfulness of God coming to you, and it said, Ye nigh coasts of Zion, hear; forsooth God hath brought great mourning to me.
- <sup>10</sup> For I saw the captivity of my people, of my sons and daughters, which he that is without beginning and end [or the Everlasting] brought on them.
- $^{11}$  For I nourished them with mirth; but I left them (or I let them go) with weeping and mourning.
- <sup>12</sup> No man have joy on (or over) me, a widow and desolate. I am forsaken [or left] of (or by) many, for the sins of my sons; for they bowed away from the law of God.
- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth they knew not (the) right-fulnesses of him; neither they went [or walked] by the ways of God's behests (or commandments), neither by the paths of his truth they entered with rightfulness [or rightwiseness].
- <sup>14</sup>The nigh coasts of Zion come, and have they mind on, [or bethink they (of)], (or remember) the captivity of my sons and daughters, which he that is without beginning and end [or the Everlasting] brought on them.
- <sup>15</sup> For he brought on them a folk from (a)far, an evil folk, and of another lan-guage; that reverenced not an eld [or an old] man, neither had mercy on children;
- <sup>16</sup> and they led away the dear-worthy sons of a widow, and made a woman alone desolate of sons.
  - <sup>17</sup> But what may I help you? (or How can I help you?)
- <sup>18</sup> For he that brought on you evils, shall deliver you from the hands of your enemies.
  - <sup>19</sup> Go ye, sons, go ye; for I am forsaken, or I am left alone.
- $^{20}$  I have unclothed me of the stole, either long robe, of peace; but I have clothed me with a sackcloth of beseeching, and I shall cry to the Highest in my days.
- <sup>21</sup> Sons, be ye of better comfort [or be of better heart, or stabler]; cry ye to the Lord, and he shall deliver you from the hand of princes, that be your enemies.

- <sup>22</sup> For I hoped (for) your health without end, and joy came to me from the Holy (One) on (or for the) mercy, that shall come to you from your Saviour without beginning and end [or your Saviour Everlasting].
- <sup>23</sup> For I sent you out with mourning and weeping; but God shall bring [or shall lead] you again to me, with joy and mirth without end.
- <sup>24</sup> For as the neighbouresses [or the neighbours] of Zion saw your captivity made of (or by) God, so they shall see and in swiftness [or in hastel your health of (or your deliverance from our) God, which health (or deliverance) shall come to you from above, with great honour and everlasting shining.

<sup>25</sup> Sons, suffer ye patiently (the) ire [or the wrath] that came on you; for thine enemy pursued thee, but thou shalt see soon the perdition of him [or soon thou shalt see the perdition of him], and thou shalt ascend (or go) upon the necks of him.

<sup>26</sup> My delicate men went (in) sharp ways; for they as a flock that is ravished were led (away) of (or by the) enemies. [My delicates, or nourished in delights, walked sharp ways; soothly they were led as a flock rayished with enemies.1

<sup>27</sup> Sons, be ye patienter [or of evener heart, or stabler], and cry ye [a] far to the Lord; for why your mind shall be of (or on) him that leadeth you.

<sup>28</sup> For as your wit was, that ye erred from God, ye shall convert again, and shall seek him ten times so much (the more).

<sup>29</sup> For he that brought in evils to you, shall bring again everlasting mirth to you with your health (or your deliverance).

<sup>30</sup> Jerusalem, be thou of better com-fort; for he that named thee, exciteth thee. [Jerusalem, be thou more stable, or of better heart; soothly he that named thee, admonisheth thee.]

31 They that travailed thee, shall perish guilty; and they that thanked,

[or joyed], in (or at) thy falling, shall be punished.

- 32 [The] Cities to which thy sons served, shall be punished, and that city that took thy sons, shall be punished.
- 33 For as Babylon made joy in thy hurling down [or in thy falling], and was glad in thy fall, so it shall be made sorry [or it shall be sorrowful] in his (or its own) desolation.

34 And the full out joy of the multitude thereof shall be cut away, and the joy thereof shall be into mourning.

35 For why fire shall come on it from him that is without beginning and end [or (from) the Everlasting], in full long days; and it shall be inhabited of (or by) fiends [or devils], into the multitude [or (the) muchliness] of time.

<sup>36</sup> Jerusalem, behold about to the east, and see thou (the) mirth coming of (or from) God to thee.

<sup>37</sup> For lo! thy sons come, which [or whom] thou leftest (or thou lettest go) scattered; they come gathered from the east unto the west, in (or by) the word of the Holy (One), and make joy [or joying] to the honour of God.

CHAPTER 5

<sup>1</sup> Jerusalem, unclothe thee of the stole of thy mourning, and travailing [or of thy travail]; and clothe thou thee in [or with] the fairness, and (the) honour of it, which is of (or from) God to thee in everlasting glory [or that is to thee of (or from) God in everlasting glorv1.

- <sup>2</sup> God of rightfulness [or rightwise-ness] shall (en)compass thee with a double cloth (or a double cloak), and shall set [or put] on thine head a mitre of everlasting honour.
  - $^3$  For God shall show his brightness in (or to) thee, which is under heaven.

<sup>4</sup> For thy name shall be named of (or by) God to thee without end, The peace of rightfulness [or rightwise-ness], and The honour of piety.

<sup>5</sup> Jerusalem, rise up, and stand in an high place [or stand in (or on) high], and behold about to the east; and see thy sons gathered together from the sun rising till to the west, in (or by) the word of the Holy (One), that make joy in the mind of God.

<sup>6</sup> For they went out from thee, and were led (away) of enemies on feet (or were led away on foot by their enemies); but the Lord shall bring to thee them borne into honour, as the sons of (the) realm [or the sons of

(the) kingdom].

<sup>7</sup> For God hath ordained to make low each high hill, and (the) ever-lasting rocks of stones, and great valleys, to fill the unevenness of (the) earth; (so) that Israel (may) go diligently into the honour of God.

<sup>8</sup> Forsooth the woods, and each tree of sweetness, (over)shadowed Israel, by the commandment of God.

<sup>9</sup> For God shall bring Israel with mirth, into [or in] the light of his majesty, with mercy and rightfulness [or right-wiseness], which is of (or from) him.

EPISTLE OF JEREMIAH

- <sup>1</sup> Here beginneth a sample of the epistle of the same Baruch, which epistle Jeremy (or Jeremiah) sent to the Jews, that were led away (as) prisoners into Babylon, of (or by) the king of (the) Babylonians, that he should tell to them, by that that was commanded of (or by) God to him[or after that it is commanded to him of (or by) God].
- <sup>2</sup> For the sins which ye sinned before God, ye shall be led (away as) prisoners [or (as) captives] into Babylon, of (or by) Nebuchadnezzar, king of (the) Babylonians.
- <sup>3</sup> Therefore ye shall enter into Babylon [or And so ye go into Babylon], and ye shall be there full many years, and into (a) long time, till to seven generations; forsooth after this I shall lead out you from thence with peace.
- <sup>4</sup> But now ye shall see in Babylon gods of gold, and of silver, and of stone, and of tree (or of wood), to be borne on shoulders, showing dread to (the) heathen men [or to (the) folks].
- <sup>5</sup> Therefore see ye, lest also ye be made like [to] alien deeds, and lest ye dread, and [that] dread take you in them. Therefore when ye see a company behind and before (them), worship ye God, [or And so the company of people seen from behind (them) and from before worshipping (them)],
- <sup>6</sup> (then) say in your hearts, Lord God, it behooveth that thou be worshipped [or it behooveth thee for to be worshipped].
- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth mine angel is with you, but (or and) I shall seek your souls [or (and) I myself shall seek out your souls].
- <sup>8</sup> For why the trees (or the wood) of them be polished of (or by) a carpenter; also they be arrayed with gold, and arrayed with silver, and be false [or they also engolded and ensilvered be false], and may not (or be not able to) speak.
- <sup>9</sup> And as to a virgin [or to a maiden] loving ornaments, so, when gold is taken, ornaments be made to (or for the) idols. Certainly the gods of them have golden crowns on their heads;
- <sup>10</sup> wherefore priests withdraw from those gods gold and silver, and spend it in (or on) themselves.
- <sup>11</sup> Soothly they give also of that to whores, and array [or adorn] whores; and again when they receive that of (or from) whores, they array [or they adorn] their gods.
- <sup>12</sup> But those [or these]gods be not delivered from rust and moths. Forsooth when they be covered with a cloth (or a cloak) of purple,
- <sup>13</sup> priests shall wipe the face(s) of them, for (the) dust of the house (or because of the dust of the temple), which is full much among those gods[or that is full much among them].
- <sup>14</sup> Forsooth (these)idols have a sceptre, [or (a) king's rod], as a man hath; (yea), as the judge of a country, (but) that slayeth not a man sinning against himself.
- <sup>15</sup> Also they have in the hand a sword, and an ax; but they deliver not themselves from battle and from thieves.

- $^{16}$  Wherefore be it known to you, that they be not gods; therefore worship (or dread) ye not them.
- <sup>17</sup> For as a broken vessel of a man is made unprofitable, such also be the gods of them. When they be set (up) in the house (or in the temple), the eyes of them be full of dust, of (or from) the feet of men entering [in].
- <sup>18</sup> And as [the] gates be set about a man, that offended the king, either as when a dead man is brought to the sepulchre, so priests keep securely the doors with closings, and locks, lest they be robbed of (or by) thieves.
- <sup>19</sup> They tend lanterns to (or for) them, and soothly many lanterns, of which they may or be able to see none;
- <sup>20</sup> for sooth they be as (the) beams in an house (or in the temple). Soothly men say that (the) serpents, that be of (the) earth, lick out the hearts of them; (yet) while the serpents eat them, and their cloth*(es)[or (the) clothing of them]*, and they feel it not.
- <sup>21</sup> The faces of them be black of (or from) the smoke, which is made in the house (or in the temple).
- <sup>22</sup> Night crows (or bats) and swallows fly above the body (or the bodies) of them, and above the head(s) of them, and birds also, and cats (sit upon them) in like manner.
- <sup>23</sup> Wherefore know ye, that they be not gods; therefore dread ye not them.
- <sup>24</sup> Also the gold which they have, is to (or for their) fairness; no but some man wipe away the rust, they shall not shine. For they (even) feeled (it) not, the while those were welled together [or Forsooth neither (even) the while they were molten together, they feeled (it)].
- <sup>25</sup> They be bought of all price (or for a very high price), in which no spirit (or breath) is in them. [They be bought of all price, in which things spirit is not in them.]
- <sup>26</sup> They without feet be borne on (the) shoulders of men, and show openly their unnobility to men;
- <sup>27</sup> be they shamed also that worship them. Therefore if they fall down to (the) earth, they shall not rise (up) of (or by) themselves; and if any man setteth that idol upright, it shall not stand by itself, but as to (or for) dead things [or as to (or for) dead men] shoulders shall (or must) be put to them.
- <sup>28</sup> The priests of them sell the sacrifices of them, and mis-use; in like manner and the women of them ravish [or taking] away, neither to a sick man, neither to a beggar, they give anything.
- <sup>29</sup> Of their sacrifices foul women, and in unclean blood, touch. Therefore know ye by these things, that they be not gods, and dread ye not them. [Of the sacrifices of them women with child, and menstruate, or in unclean blood, touch (al)together. And so witting of these things, for they be not gods, dread ye them not.]
- <sup>30</sup> For whereof be they called gods? For women set sacrifices to gods of silver, and of gold, and of tree (or of wood);
- <sup>31</sup> and (the) priests that have coats rent, and (their) heads and beard(s) shaven, whose heads be naked, sit in the houses of them (or in their temples). [and in the houses of them sit (the) priests having torn, or cut, coats, and heads and beard(s) shaven, whose heads be naked.]
- <sup>32</sup> Soothly they roar and cry against (or before) their gods, as in (or at) the supper of a dead man.

- <sup>33</sup> (And the) Priests take away the clothes of them, and clothe their wives, and their children.
- <sup>34</sup> And if they suffer anything of evil of (or from) any man, or if they suffer anything of good, they may not (or be not able to) yield back (or to repay it). Neither they may or be able to ordain [or (to) make] a king, neither do (him) away.
- <sup>35</sup> In like manner they may neither give riches, neither yield evil [thing]. If any man maketh a vow to them, and yieldeth not, they ask not (for) this [or If any man shall avow to them, and shall not yield, neither they require, or ask, (for) this thing].
- <sup>36</sup> They deliver not a man from death, neither ravish a sick (or a weak) man from a mightier [or neither deliver a sick man from a more mighty].
- <sup>37</sup> They restore not a blind man to sight; they shall not deliver a man from need.
- <sup>38</sup> They shall not have mercy on a widow, neither they shall do good to fatherless children.
- <sup>39</sup> Their gods of tree (or of wood), and of stone, and of gold, and of silver, be like (the) stones of the mountain; forsooth they that worship them, shall be shamed [or shall be confounded].
- <sup>40</sup> How therefore is it to guess, either to say [or to be said], that they be gods? for why yet when (even the) Chaldeans honour not them.
- <sup>41</sup> Which when they hear that a dumb man may not speak, offer him to Bel, and ask of him to (be able to) speak; as if they that have no stirring, may or be able to feel.
- $^{42}$  And they, when they shall under-stand, shall forsake those idols; for those gods of them have no wit.
- <sup>43</sup> Forsooth women gird (about) with ropes [or cords] sit in ways, and kindled (or burned) bones of olives. Soothly when any of these women is drawn away of (or by) any man passing, and sleepeth with him, she despiseth her neighbouress, that she is not had worthy as herself, neither her rope [or her cord] is broken.
- <sup>44</sup> Forsooth all things that be done to them, be false. How therefore is it to guess, either to say, that those (or that they) be gods? [or How is it to be guessed, or to be said, them to be gods?]
- <sup>45</sup> Forsooth those idols be made of (or by) smiths [or carpenters], and of (or by) goldsmiths. They shall be none other thing, no but that that (the) priests will (or desire) that they be [or that (the) priests will for to be].
- <sup>46</sup> Also those goldsmiths that make them, be not of much time; therefore whether those things [or the things] that be made of (or by) them, may be or be able to be gods?
- <sup>47</sup> Soothly they left false things, and shame (or reproof) to men to coming afterward [or coming after].
- <sup>48</sup> For why when battles and evils come on them, priests think, where they shall hide themselves with those [or with them].
- <sup>49</sup> How therefore owe (or ought) those [or they] to be deemed, that they be gods, which neither deliver them-selves from battle, neither deliver themselves from evils?
- <sup>50</sup> For why when those [or they] be of tree (or of wood), and of stone, and of gold, and of silver, it shall be known afterward,

- <sup>51</sup> of (or by) all folks, and kings, that those things be false, that be made open; for those be not gods, but the works of (the) hands of men, and no work of God is with (or is in) them. [to all folks and kings; which be open, or known, for they be not gods, but (the) works of men's hands, and no work of God (is) with (or is in) them.]
- <sup>52</sup> Whereof therefore it is known, that they be not gods, but the works of (the) hands of men [or but (the) works of men's hands], and no work of God is in them.
  - <sup>53</sup> They raise not a king to a country, neither shall give rain to men.
- <sup>54</sup> Also they shall not deem or judge doom, neither they shall deliver the country from wrong. For those be able to (do) nothing [or For they may (do) nothing], as little crows betwixt the midst of heaven and of (the) earth.
- <sup>55</sup> For when fire falleth into the house of gods of tree (or of wood), and of gold, and of silver, soothly the priests of those [or the priests of them] shall flee, and shall be delivered; but they shall be burnt as (the) beams in the midst.
- <sup>56</sup> Forsooth they shall not against-stand a king and battle. How therefore is it to guess, or to receive, that they be gods? [or How therefore is it to be guessed, or to be received, for they be gods?]
- <sup>57</sup> Gods of tree (or of wood), and of stone, and of gold, and of silver, shall not deliver themselves from night thieves, neither from day thieves, and wicked men be stronger than those gods.
- <sup>58</sup> They shall take away gold, and silver, and cloth(es), by which those [or they] be covered, and (then) they shall go away; neither they (be able to) help themselves.
- <sup>59</sup> Therefore it is better to be a king showing his virtue (or his power), either [or (else)] a profitable vessel in the house, in which he shall have glory that wieldeth it, than false gods; either [or (else)] a door in the house, that keepeth those things that be in it, is better than false gods.
- <sup>60</sup> Forsooth the sun, and moon, and stars, when they be bright [or when they be shining], and sent out to profits, obey.
- <sup>61</sup> In like manner and [the] light-ning, when it appeareth, is clear. Soothly the same thing and (the) wind breatheth in each country.
- <sup>62</sup> And (the) clouds, to which, when it is commanded of (or by) God to go through all the world, perform that, that is commanded to those [or do what thing is commanded to them]. <sup>63</sup> Also (the) fire sent from above, to waste mountains and woods, doeth that, that is commanded to it [or doeth what thing is commanded to it]; but these idols be not like to one of those things, neither by forms, neither by virtues (or in power).
- <sup>64</sup> Wherefore it is neither to guess, neither to say, that they be gods, when they may not (or be not able to) neither deem doom, neither do (good) to men. [Whereof neither it is to be guessed, neither to be said, them for to be gods, when they may neither deem doom, neither do to men.]
- 65 Therefore know ye that those be not gods, and dread ye not them. [And so witting for they be not gods, therefore ye shall not dread them.]
  - 66 For they shall neither curse, neither bless kings.
- <sup>67</sup> Also they show not to (the) heathen men signs in (the) heaven(s), neither those [or they] shall shine as the sun, neither they shall give light as the moon.

<sup>68</sup> Beasts that may or be able to flee under a roof, and do profit to themselves, be better than they. [Beasts be better than they, which may flee under a roof, and profit to themselves.]

<sup>69</sup> Therefore by no manner it is open to you, that they be gods. For which thing, dread ye not them.

<sup>70</sup> For why as a man of rags, or shoeless, in a place where gourds [or cucumbers, that be bitter herbs], waxed, keepeth nothing, so be their gods of tree (or of wood), and of silver, and of gold.

<sup>71</sup> In the same manner and a white-thorn (bush) in a garden [or in a yard]keepeth nothing, on which thorn each bird sitteth, (and) in like manner and their gods of tree (or of wood), and of gold, and of silver, be like [to] a dead man cast forth in(to)(the) darknesses.

<sup>72</sup> Also of purple and of marble, which they hold above it; therefore ye shall know, that they be not gods. Also those be eaten at the last, and it shall be into shame in the country. [And of the purple and marble, that they hold above them(selves), ye shall know also, for they be no gods. Also at the last they themselves be eaten, and it shall be into reproof in the country.]

73 Better is a just man, that hath no simulacra, for why he shall be far from shames (or reproofs).

PRAYER OF AZARIAH & SONG OF THE THREE

- <sup>1</sup> And they walked in the midst of the flame, and praised God, and blessed the Lord. [And they walked in the middle of the flame, praising God, and blessing the Lord.]
- <sup>2</sup> Forsooth Azariah stood, and prayed thus; and he opened his mouth in the midst of the fire, and said,
- <sup>3</sup> Lord, God of our fathers, thou art blessed, and worthy to be praised, and thy name is glorious into worlds; [Blessed art thou, Lord God of our Fathers, and praiseful, or worthy to be praised, and thy name glorious into worlds;]
- <sup>4</sup> for thou art rightful in all (the) things which thou didest to us, and all thy works be true; and thy ways be rightful [or right], and thy dooms (or thy judgements)be true.
- <sup>5</sup> For thou hast done true dooms, by [or after] all (the) things which thou broughtest in on us, and on Jeru-salem, the holy city of our fathers; for in truth and in doom, thou broughtest in all these things for our sins.
  - <sup>6</sup> For we sinned, and did wickedly, going away from thee,
- <sup>7</sup> and we trespassed in all things, and we heard not, neither kept thy commandments, neither we did as thou commandedest to us, (so) that it should be well to (or with) us. [and trespassed in all things, and heard not thine behests, neither kept (them), neither did as thou commandedest to us, that it were well to us.]
- <sup>8</sup> Therefore thou didest by thy very doom (or in thy true judgement) all (the) things which thou broughtest in on us, and all (the) things which thou didest to us; [Therefore all (the) things that thou leddest in upon us, and all (the) things that thou didest to us, in very doom thou hast done;]
- <sup>9</sup> and thou hast betaken us in(to) the hands of (our) enemies, wicked men, and worst trespassers, and to the unjust king, and worst over all (the) earth.
- <sup>10</sup> And now we may not (or we be not able to) open the mouth; we be made (a) shame and (a) reproof to thy servants, and to them that worship thee.
- <sup>11</sup> We beseech (thee), give thou not us to (our) enemies without end, for thy name, and destroy thou not thy testament (or thy covenant), [We pray, betake not us into without end, for thy name, and destroy not thy testament,]
- <sup>12</sup> and take thou not away thy mercy from us, for Abraham, thy darling [or thy dearworthy], and Isaac, thy servant, and Israel, [or Jacob], thine holy (one);
- <sup>13</sup> to which thou spakest, promising that thou shouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as (the) gravel which is in (or on) the brink of the sea.
- <sup>14</sup> For why, Lord, we be made little, more than all folks, and we be low in all (the) earth today, for our sins. [For, Lord, we be made little, more than all heathen men, and we be meek, or low, in each land this day, for our sins.]
- <sup>15</sup> And in this time is no prince [or And there is not in this time prince], and (or) duke, and (or) prophet, neither burnt sacrifice, neither sacrifice, neither offering, neither incense, neither place of first fruits before thee, (so) that we may or we be able to find thy mercy;

<sup>16</sup> but be we received in (or with a) contrite soul, and in (or with a) spirit of meekness.

- <sup>17</sup> As in (the) burnt sacrifice of rams, and of bulls, and as in thousands of fat lambs, so our sacrifice be made today in thy sight, that it please thee; for no shame [or confusion] is to them that trust in thee.
- <sup>18</sup> And now we pursue (or follow) thee in (or with) all the heart, and we dread thee, and we seek thy face.
- <sup>19</sup> Shame thou not us, but do with us by [or after] thy mildness, and by [or after] the multitude of thy mercy.
- <sup>20</sup> And deliver thou us in thy marvels, and give thou glory to thy name, Lord; and all men be (a)shamed, that show evils to thy servants;
- <sup>21</sup> be they shamed in all thy might (or in all their might), and the strength of them be all-broken; [be they confounded in all thy power (or in all their power), and the strength of them be broken (al)together;]

<sup>22</sup> and they shall know, that thou art the Lord God alone, and glorious on (or over) the roundness of (the) lands [or the roundness of (the) earth's].

(Amen).

- <sup>23</sup> And the ministers (or the servants) of the king, that had sent them (in), ceased not to make hot the furnace with cement [or naphtha], and hards of flax [or of hemp], and pitch, and scions [or cuttings] of vines.
- <sup>24</sup> And the flame was shed [or poured] out over the furnace by nine and forty cubits,
- <sup>25</sup> and brake out, and burnt them that it found of (the) Chaldeans beside the furnace. [and brake out, and burnt whom of (the) Chaldeans it found beside the furnace.]
- <sup>26</sup> Forsooth the angel of the Lord came down with Azariah and his fellows, into the furnace, and smote out the flame of the fire from the furnace;
- <sup>27</sup> and made the midst of the furnace as the wind of dew blowing; and utterly the fire touched not them, neither made sorry, neither did anything of dis-ease [or neither made sorrowful, neither brought in anything of heaviness].
  - <sup>28</sup> Then these three as of one mouth praised and glorified God, and blessed God in the furnace, and said,

<sup>29</sup> Lord God of our fathers, thou art blessed, and worthy to be praised, and glorious, and above enhanced into worlds (or for evermore); [Blessed art thou, Lord God of our fathers, and worthy to be praised, and glorious, and above enhanced into worlds;]

<sup>30</sup> and blessed is the name of thy glory, which name is holy, and worthy to be praised, and above enhanced in(to) all worlds. [and blessed (is) the name of thy glory, the which is holy, and worthy to be praised, and above raised in(to) all worlds.]

- <sup>33</sup> Thou art blessed, that beholdest (the) depths of (the) waters, and sittest on cherubim, and praiseable, and above enhanced into worlds. [Blessed art thou, that beholdest (the) deepness-es, and sittest upon cherubim, and praiseful, and above raised into worlds.]
- <sup>34</sup> Thou art blessed in the firmament of heaven, and praiseable, and glorious into worlds. [Blessed art thou in the firmament of heaven, and praiseful, and glorious into worlds.]
- <sup>35</sup> All (the) works of the Lord, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance (or raise) ye him into worlds.
- <sup>36</sup> Angels of the Lord, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance [or raise] ye him into worlds.
- <sup>37</sup> Heavens, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance [or raise] ye him into worlds.
- <sup>38</sup> All (the) waters that be above (the) heavens, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance [or raise] ye him into worlds.
- <sup>39</sup> All the virtues of the Lord, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance [or raise] ye him into worlds. (All the hosts or the powers of the Lord, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and exalt him above all for evermore.)
- $^{40}$  Sun and moon, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance [or raise] ye him into worlds.
- $^{41}$  Stars of heaven, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance [or raise] ye him into worlds.
- $^{42}$  Rain and dew, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance [or raise] ye him into worlds.
- $^{43}$  Each spirit of God, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance [or raise] ye him into worlds.
- <sup>44</sup> Fire and heat, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance [or raise] ye him into worlds.
- <sup>45</sup> Cold and summer, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance [or raise] ye him into worlds.
- <sup>46</sup> Dews and white frost, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance [or raise] ye him into worlds.
- <sup>47</sup> Black frost and cold, bless ye the Lord; praise ye, and above enhance ye him into worlds. [Binding frost and cold, bless ye to the Lord; praise ye, and above raise ye him into worlds.]

DANIEL AND SUSANNA

 $^1\,Here$  beginneth an epistle of (or about) holy Susanna. In those days a man was in Babylon, and his name was Joakim./A man was in Babylon, and his name was Joakim.

<sup>2</sup> And he took a wife, Susanna by name, the daughter of Hilkiah, a woman full fair, and dreading the Lord.

<sup>3</sup> Forsooth her father and mother, when they were rightful [or just], taught their daughter* by [or after] the law of Moses.

<sup>4</sup> Soothly Joakim was full rich, and had a garden nigh his house; and the Jews came to him, for he was the most worshipful [or more honourable] of (or than) all (the others).

<sup>5</sup> And twain eld men [or two old men] were ordained to be judges in that year, of which the Lord spake, that wickedness went out of Babylon, of (or from) the elder judges, that seemed to govern the people.

<sup>6</sup> These judges used often the house of Joakim; and all men that had dooms came to them. [These often haunted the house of Joakim: and all that had dooms came to them.]

<sup>7</sup> Forsooth when the people had *(re)*turned again (home) after midday, Susanna entered, and walked in the garden of her husband.

- <sup>8</sup> And the (two) elder men saw her entering each day, and walking; and they burnt out into the covetousness or concupiscence of (or for) her. [And the (two) elder men saw her each day entering, and walking; and they burned in the covetousness of her.]
- <sup>9</sup> And they turned away their wit, and bowed down [or bowed away] their eyes, (so) that they saw not heaven, neither bethought on just dooms.

<sup>10</sup> Soothly both were wounded by the love of (or for) her, and they showed not their sorrow to them-selves together (or to each other);

<sup>11</sup> for they were ashamed to show to themselves (or to each other) their covetousness or concupiscence, will-ing (or desiring) to lie fleshly by [or with] her.

<sup>12</sup> And they espied each day more busily to see her.

- <sup>13</sup> And the one said to the tother, Go we home, for the hour of meat is.
- <sup>14</sup> And they went out, and parted from themselves. And when they had (re)turned again, they came into one place (or But then they returned again, and they came to the same place); and they asked each of (the) other (or each other) the cause, and they acknowledged their covetousness. And then in common they ordained a time, when they might find her alone.
- <sup>15</sup> Forsooth it was done, when they espied a covenable (or an opportune) day, she entered sometime, as yester-day and the third day ago, with two damsels alone, and would be washed in the garden; for why heat was (or it was hot).
- <sup>16</sup> And there was not any man (there), or And no man was there, except the two eld men [or (the) two old men] hid (there), beholding her.
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore she said to the damsels, Bring ye to me oil, and ointments; and close the doors of the garden, (so) that I (can) be washed. [And she said to the maidens, Bring ye to me oil, and soap, or ointment; and shut ye the doors of the garden, that I be washed.]

- <sup>18</sup> And they did as she commanded; and they closed the doors of the garden, and went out by a postern (or by a back door), to bring those things that she had commanded. And they knew not, that the (two) eld men were hid within.
- <sup>19</sup> Soothly when the damsels were gone out, (the) twain eld men rised (up)[or the two old men rose (up)], and ran to her, and said,
- <sup>20</sup> Lo! the doors of the garden be closed, and no man seeth us, and we be in the covetousness or concupis-cence of (or for) thee. Wherefore assent thou to us, and be thou meddled (or mingled) with us, [or Wherefore accord to us, and be joined with us].
- $^{21}$  And if thou wilt not, we shall say witnessing against thee, that a young man was with thee, and for this cause thou sentest out the damsels from thee.
- <sup>22</sup> And Susanna inwardly sorrowed, and said, Anguishes be to me on each side; for if I do this [thing], death is to me; forsooth if I do (it) not, I shall not escape your hands.
- <sup>23</sup> But it is better for me to fall into your hands, without work, than to do sin [or to sin] in the sight of the Lord.
- <sup>24</sup> And (then) Susanna cried with (a) great (or with a loud) voice, but also the eld men [or the old men] cried (out) against her.
- <sup>25</sup> Forsooth one ran [or Soothly the one ran], and opened the door of (or to) the garden.
- <sup>26</sup> Soothly when the servants of the house had heard the cry in the garden, they fell in by the postern (or by the back door), to see what it was.
- <sup>27</sup> But after that the eld men [or the old men] spake, the servants were ashamed greatly, for never was such a word said of (or about) Susanna.
- <sup>28</sup> And the morrow day was made. And when the people was come to Joakim, her husband, also the two priests (or the two eld men) full of wicked thoughts came against Susanna, for to slay her. [And the morrow day is made. And when the people came to her husband Joakim, and the two priests (or the two old men) came full of evil thought against Susanna, for to slay her.]
- <sup>29</sup> And they said before all the people, Send ye to Susanna (or Send for Susanna), the daughter of Hilkiah, the wife of Joakim. And anon (or at once) they sent (for her).
- <sup>30</sup> And she came with her father, and mother, and children, and all [her] kinsmen.
- <sup>31</sup> And certainly Susanna was full delicate, either tender, and fair of shape [or form].
- <sup>32</sup> And those wicked men command-ed, that she should be uncovered, for she was covered; that namely so (or so that namely) they should be filled of [or with] her fairness.
- <sup>33</sup> Therefore her kinsmen[or her nigh friends] wept, and all that knew her.
- <sup>34</sup> Forsooth the two priests (or the two old men) rised together in the midst of the people, and set [or putted] their hands on the head of her.

- <sup>35</sup> And she wept, and beheld to heaven, for her heart had trust in the Lord. [Which weeping beheld to heaven, forsooth the heart of her was having trust in the Lord.]
- <sup>36</sup> And the priests (or the two old men) said, When we walked alone in the garden, this Susanna entered with two damsels [or with two maidens]; and she closed the door of the garden, and let go the damsels.
- <sup>37</sup> And a young man, that was hid, came to her, and lay by her [or did lechery with her].
- <sup>38</sup> Certainly when we were in a corner of the garden, we saw the wickedness, and ran to them, [For-sooth we, when we were in a corner of the garden, seeing the wickedness, ran to them,]
- <sup>39</sup> and we saw them meddled together. And soothly we might not take (hold of)[or catch] him, for he was stronger than we; and when he had opened the doors, he skipped out [or he leapt out].
- <sup>40</sup> But when we had taken (hold of) this woman, we asked, who was the young man; and she would not show to us. Of this thing we be witnesses.
- <sup>41</sup> The multitude believed to them, as to (or because they were) the elder men and judges of the people, and condemned her to death.
- <sup>42</sup> Forsooth Susanna cried loud with (a) great voice, and said, Lord God, without beginning and end [or Lord God everlasting], thou art or that art (the) knower of hid things, that know-est all things before that they be done [or be made]:
- <sup>43</sup> thou knowest, that they have borne false witnessing against me. And lo! I die, when I have not done any of these things, which these men have made (out) maliciously against me.
  - 44 Forsooth the Lord heard the voice of her.
- <sup>45</sup> And when she was led to the death, the Lord raised (up) the holy spirit of a young child (or of a young man), whose name was Daniel.
- <sup>46</sup> And he cried (out) loud with a great voice, I am clean of (or I am clear from) the blood of this woman.
- <sup>47</sup> And all the people turned again to(wards) him [or And all the people together turned to him], and said, What is this word, which thou hast spoken?
- <sup>48</sup> And when he stood in the midst of them, he said, So ye, fond children of Israel, [or So ye, fools, sons of Israel], not deeming neither knowing that that is true, (have) condemned the daughter of Israel.
- <sup>49</sup> Turn ye again to the doom (or Return to the judgement seat), for they spake false witnessing against her. [Turn ye again to doom, for they have spoken false witnessing against her.]
- <sup>50</sup> Therefore the people *(re)*turned again with haste. And the (other) eld [or old] men of the people, not those two priests(or not those two old men), said to him, Come thou, and sit in the midst of us, and show (it) to us; for God hath given to thee the honour of (an) elder.
- <sup>51</sup> And Daniel said to them, Part ye (or Separate) them atwain afar, [or each from (the) other], and I shall deem them. <sup>52</sup> Therefore, when they were parted one from the other, he called one of them, and said to him, Thou eld man of evil days, now thy sins be come, which thou wroughtest before [or Thou old (man) of evil days, now thy sins come on thee, which thou wroughtest before],

- <sup>53</sup> deeming unjust dooms, oppress-ing innocents, and delivering (or freeing) guilty men, when the Lord saith, Thou shalt not slay an innocent and just man.
- <sup>54</sup> But now, if thou sawest her, say thou, under what tree thou sawest them speaking together to themselves (or with each other)? Which said, Under an haw(thorn) tree. [Now for-sooth, if thou sawest her, say thou, under what tree thou saw them speaking to themselves (or to each other)? Which said, Under a sloe (or a blackthorn) tree.]

55 Forsooth Daniel said, Rightly thou liest in (or against) thine (own) head; for lo! the angel of the Lord, by a sentence taken of (or from) him, shall cut thee by (or across) the middle.

- <sup>56</sup> And when he was (re)moved away, he commanded the tother to come, and said to him, Thou seed of Canaan, and not of Judah, fairness hath deceived thee, and covetousness hath mis-turned thine heart; [And him removed away, he commanded the tother for to come, and said to him, Seed of Canaan, and not of Judah, form, or fairness, deceived thee, and covetousness turned thine heart upside-down;]
- <sup>57</sup> thus ye did to (or with) the daughters of Israel, and they dreaded, and spake to (or with) you, but the daughter of Judah suffered not (or would not allow) your wickedness.
- <sup>58</sup> Now therefore say to me, under what tree thou sawest them speaking together to themselves (or with each other)? Which said, Under a blackthorn (tree)[or Which saith, Under a plum tree].
- <sup>59</sup> Forsooth Daniel said to him, Rightly also thou liest in (or against) thine (own) head; for the angel of the Lord dwelleth, and hath a sword, that he cut thee by (or across) the middle, and slay you.
- <sup>60</sup> Therefore all the people cried (out) loud with (a) great voice, and blessed God, that saveth them that hope in him. [And so all the people cried with great voice, and blessed the Lord, that saveth men hoping in him.]
- <sup>61</sup> And they rised (up) together against the two priests (or the two old men); for Daniel had convicted them by (or with) their (own) mouth(s), (so) that they had borne false witnessing; [And they rose together against the two priests; soothly Daniel had convicted them of their mouth, for to have said false witnessing;]
- 62 and they did to them, as they had done evil (or had intended evilly to do) against the neighbouress, that they should do by the law of Moses, and they killed them. And (so the) guilt-less blood was saved in (or on) that day. [and they did to them, as they had done evil against the neighbour, that they did after the law of Moses, and slew them. And the guiltless blood is saved in that day.]
- 63 Forsooth Hilkiah and his wife praised the Lord in (or on) that day for Susanna, their daughter, with Joakim, her husband, and with all her kins-men, for a foul thing was not found in her. [Forsooth Hilkiah and his wife praised God in that day, for their daughter Susanna, with Joakim, her husband, and all her cousins, for foul thing was not found in her.]
- <sup>64</sup> Forsooth Daniel was made great in the sight of the people, from that day and afterward.

DANIEL, BEL, AND THE SNAKE

- <sup>1</sup> And king Astyages was put to his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia took [or received] his realm.
- <sup>2</sup> Forsooth Daniel ate with the king, and was honoured above all the friends of him.
- <sup>3</sup> Also an idol, Bel by name, was at Babylon, and twelve measures of clean flour, of which measures each contained three bushels, and forty sheep, and six measures of wine, that be called amphoras, were spended in it (or were spent upon it) each day.
- <sup>4</sup> And the king worshipped that Bel, and went each day to honour him; certainly Daniel worshipped his God. And the king said to him, Why worshippest thou not Bel?
- <sup>5</sup> Which answered, and said to him, For I worship not idols made by hand, but God living [or (the) living God], that made (out) of nought heaven and earth, and hath power of (or over) each flesh.
- <sup>6</sup> And the king said to him, Whether it seemeth not to thee, that Bel is a living god? whether thou seest not, how great things he eateth and drinketh each day?
- <sup>7</sup> And Daniel said laughing, King, err thou not; for why this Bel is (made) of clay within, and of brass withoutforth, and eateth not, [neither drinketh], any time.
- <sup>8</sup> And the king was wroth, and called the priests thereof [or the priests of him], and said to them, If ye say not to me, who it is that eateth these costs, either expenses, ye shall die.
- <sup>9</sup> Forsooth if ye show that Bel eateth these things, Daniel shall die, for he blasphemed Bel. And Daniel said to the king, Be it done by [or after] thy word.
- <sup>10</sup> Forsooth the priests of Bel were seventy, besides (their) wives, and little children, either servants, and sons. And the king came with Daniel into the temple of Bel.
- $^{11}$  And the priests of Bel said, Lo! We shall go out, and thou, king, set (forth the) meats, and meddle (or mix the) wine, and close thou the door, and aseal it with thy ring.
- $^{12}$  And when thou comest [in] early, if thou findest not all things eaten of (or by) Bel, we shall die by death, either [or] Daniel shall die, that lied against us.
- <sup>13</sup> Soothly they trusted, for they had made a privy [or an hid] entering under the board (or they had made a secret entrance under the table), and by it they entered ever[more](or repeatedly), and devoured those things.
- <sup>14</sup> Forsooth it was done, after that they went out, and the king setted (forth the) meats before Bel, Daniel commanded to his children (or his servants), and they brought ashes, and he riddled (them) through(out) all the temple, before the king (alone). And (then) they went out, and closed the door, and asealed (it) with the ring of the king, and went forth [or away].
- <sup>15</sup> But the priests entered in the night, by their custom, and the wives, and (the) children of them, and ate and drank all things.

- <sup>16</sup> Forsooth the king rose most early, and Daniel with him.
- <sup>17</sup> And the king said, Daniel, whether the seals be safe? And he answered, King, those (or they) be safe.
- <sup>18</sup> And anon when they had opened the door, the king beheld the board (or at the table), and he cried on high with a great (or a loud) voice, Bel, thou art great, and no guile is at (or with) thee.
- <sup>19</sup> And Daniel laughed, and he held the king, (so) that he entered not with-in. And Daniel said, Lo! the pavement, perceive thou whose steps these be.
- <sup>20</sup> And the king said, I see (the) steps of men, and of women, and of young children. And the king was wroth.
- <sup>21</sup> Then the king took (hold of) the priests, and the wives, and (the) children of them; and they showed to him (the) little privy (or secret) doors, by which they entered, and wasted those things that were on the board (or consumed those things that were on the table).
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore the king killed them, and betook Bel into the power of Daniel, which destroyed that Bel, and his temple.
- <sup>23</sup> And a great dragon (or a large snake) was (also) in that place, and (the) Babylonians worshipped it.
- <sup>24</sup> And the king said to Daniel, Lo! now thou mayest not say, that this is not a quick [or a living] god; therefore worship thou him.
- <sup>25</sup> And Daniel said to the king, I worship my Lord God, for he is God living [or (the) living God].
- <sup>26</sup> But thou, king, give power to me, and I shall slay the dragon (or I will kill the snake), without sword or staff. And the king said, I give (leave) to thee.
- <sup>27</sup> Therefore Daniel took pitch, and tallow [or fatness], and hairs, and seethed (or boiled them) together; and he made gobbets (or lumps), and gave (them) into the mouth of the dragon (or and put it into the mouth of the snake), and the dragon was all-broken [or burst]. And Daniel said, Lo! whom ye worship.
- <sup>28</sup> And when (the) Babylonians had heard this thing, they had indignation greatly; and they were gathered (together) against the king, and said, The king is made a Jew; he destroyed Bel, and killed the dragon (or the snake), and slew [or killed] the priests.
- <sup>29</sup> And they said, when they were come to the king, Betake thou [or Give] to us Daniel, that destroyed Bel, and killed [or slew] the dragon (or the snake); (or) else we shall slay thee, and thine house.
- <sup>30</sup> Therefore the king saw, that they fell in on him greatly; and he was compelled by need, and he betook [or gave] Daniel to them.
- <sup>31</sup> Which sent him into the pit of lions [or into the lake of lions], and he was there (for) seven days.
- <sup>32</sup> Certainly seven lions were in the pit, and two bodies and two sheep were given to them each day. And then those were not given to them, (so) that they should devour Daniel.
- <sup>33</sup> Forsooth Habakkuk, the prophet, was in Judea [or Habakkuk was a prophet in Judea], and he had sodden pottage, and had set in (or put some) loaves in a little pannier [or vessel], (or basket or bowl); and he went into the field, to bear (it) to (the) reapers.

<sup>34</sup> And the angel of the Lord said to Habakkuk, Bear thou the meat (or Take the meal), which thou hast, into Babylon, to Daniel, which is in the pit of (the) lions.

35 And Habakkuk said, Lord, I saw not Babylon, and I knew not for know notl(where) the pit (is).

<sup>36</sup> And the angel of the Lord took him by his top, and bare him by the hair of his head; and set him (down)[or put him (down)] in Babylon, on (or above) the pit, in the fierceness of his spirit.

<sup>37</sup> And Habakkuk cried, and said, Daniel, the servant of God. take thou the meat (or the meal), that God hath sent to thee.

38 And Daniel said, Lord God, thou hast mind on me, and hast not forsaken them that love thee.

<sup>39</sup> And Daniel rose, and ate; certainly the angel of the Lord restored

Habak-kuk anon in(to) his (own) place (again).

40 Therefore the king came in (or on) the seventh day to bewail Daniel; and he came to the pit, and looked in, and lo! Daniel (was) sitting in the midst of (the) lions.

41 (And) The king cried on high with (a) great (or a loud) voice, and said,

Lord God of Daniel, thou art great;

42 and the king drew him out of the pit. Certainly he sent into the pit them, that were (the) cause of his perdition, and they were devoured in a moment before him.

43 Then the king said, They that dwell in all the earth, dread the God of Daniel, for he is God living into worlds (or the living God forevermore); he is (the) deliverer, and (the) Saviour, doing miracles and marvels in heaven and in (or on the) earth, that delivered Daniel from the pit of (the) lions.

1ST MACCABEES

- <sup>1</sup> And it was done, after that Alexan-der (the son) of Philip, king of Macedonia, which reigned first in Greece, and went out of the land of Kittim, smote Darius, king of Persians and of Medes or king of Persia and of Media,
- <sup>2</sup> he ordained many battles, and got strengths (or strongholds) of (or from) all; and he slew the kings of (the) earth,
- <sup>3</sup> and passed forth till to the ends of (the) earth, and took spoils of (or from a) multitude of folks; and (then) the earth was still in the sight of him.
- <sup>4</sup> And he gathered virtue, and host full strong (or And he gathered a very strong army), and the heart of him was enhanced and lift(ed) up. And he got the countries of folks, and tyrants, either strong men; and they were made to him into tribute.

<sup>5</sup> And after these things he fell into the bed, and knew that he should die.

- <sup>6</sup> And he called his noble children (or his honourable servants), that were nourished with him from their youth, and parted to them his kingdom, when he lived yet.
  - <sup>7</sup> And (so) Alexander reigned twelve years, and was dead.
- <sup>8</sup> And his children wielded the realm (or And his servants ruled the kingdom), each in his place,
- <sup>9</sup> and all putted to them diadems (or they all put crowns upon themselves) after his death, and the sons of them after them, (for) many years; and evils were multiplied in (or on the) earth.
- <sup>10</sup> And there went out of them a root of sin, Antiochus the noble (or Antiochus Epiphanes), the son of Antiochus the king, that was at Rome in hostage, and reigned in the hundred and seven and thirtieth year of the realm of (the) Greeks.
- $^{11}$  In those days wicked sons of Israel went out, and counselled many, and said, Go we, and ordain we [a] testa-ment (or covenant) with (the) heathen men, that be about us; for since we parted from them, many evils found us.
  - <sup>12</sup> And the word was seen good before the eyes of them.
- <sup>13</sup> And some of the people sent, and went to the king; and he gave power to them for to do (the) rightfulness of (the) heathen men.
- <sup>14</sup> And they builded a school in Jerusalem, by or after laws of (the) nations:
- <sup>15</sup> and made to them prepuces (or made themselves uncircumcised), and went away from the holy testament, and were joined to (the) nations, and were sold for to do evil.
- <sup>16</sup> And the realm had prosperity in the sight of Antiochus, and he began to reign in the land of Egypt, (so) that he should reign on two realms.
- <sup>17</sup> And he entered into Egypt with a grievous multitude, in (or with) chariots, and elephants, and horsemen, either knights, and [a] plenteous multitude of ships,
- <sup>18</sup> and he ordained battle against Ptolemy, king of Egypt, and Ptolemy dreaded of his face, and flew (or fled); and many were wounded, and fell down.

<sup>19</sup> And he took the strong cities in the land of Egypt, and [he] took the preys of the land of Egypt.

- <sup>20</sup> And Antiochus *(re)*turned, after that he (had) smote Egypt, in the hundred and three and fortieth year, and went up to Israel. And he went up to Jerusalem with a grievous multitude,
- <sup>21</sup> and entered into the hallowing (or the Temple) with pride; and he took (away) the golden altar, and the candle-stick of light, and all the vessels thereof,
- <sup>22</sup> and the board of proposition (or the table of the showbread), and (the) vessels of floating (or liquid) sacrifices, and cruets, and golden mortars, and veil, and crowns, and golden ornament that was in the face (or on the front) of the temple; and he brake all.
- <sup>23</sup> And he took (the) silver and (the) gold, and all (the) desirable vessels, and he took the privy (or hidden) treasures, which he found;
- <sup>24</sup> and when he had taken up all things, he went into his land. And he made (a) slaughter of men, and spake in (or with) great pride.
  - <sup>25</sup> And great wailing was made in Israel, and in each place of them;
- <sup>26</sup> and (the) princes sorrowed inward-ly, and elder men, and (the) maidens, and (the) young men were made sick (or feeble), and (the) fairness of women was changed.
- $^{27}$  Each husband took (up) wailing, and they that sat in (the) husband's bed, mourned.
- <sup>28</sup> And the land was moved *(al)*to-gether on (or for the) men dwelling therein, and all the house of Jacob was clothed with confusion.
- $^{29}$  And after two years of days, the king sent a prince of tributes into the cities of Judea, and he came to Jerusalem with (a) great company.
- <sup>30</sup> And he spake to them peaceable words in guile, and they believed to him. And suddenly he fell in on the city, and smote it with a great wound, and lost much people of Israel.
- <sup>31</sup> And he took preys of the city, and burnt it with fire, and destroyed houses thereof, and walls thereof in compass.
- $^{32}$  And they led (the) women captive, and children, and wielded (the) beasts.
- $^{33}$  And they builded the city of David with [a] great wall and firm, and firm towers; and it was made to them into an high tower, either strength (or a stronghold).
- $^{\rm 34}$  And they putted there a folk of sinners, wicked men, and they were strong in it;
- <sup>35</sup> and they putted arms, and meats (or food), and gathered (the) preys of Jerusalem; and putted up there, and were made into a great snare.
- <sup>36</sup> And this thing was made into espyings in evil, either treasons, to (the) hallowing (or against the Temple), and into an evil devil in Israel evermore.
- <sup>37</sup> And they shed out innocent blood, by compass of the hallowing (or all around the Temple), and defouled the hallowing (or and defiled the Temple).
- <sup>38</sup> And (the) dwellers of Jerusalem fled for them, and it was made (an) habitation of strangers, and it was made strange, either alien, to his seed, and (the) sons thereof forsook it.

- <sup>39</sup> The hallowing thereof (or Its Temple) was (as) desolate as (a) wilderness; (the) feast days thereof were turned into mourning, (the) sabbaths thereof into shame (or reproof), (and the) honours thereof into nought.
- <sup>40</sup> By [or After] the glory thereof, the evil fame thereof was multiplied, and (the) highness thereof was turned into mourning.
- <sup>41</sup> And king Antiochus wrote to all his realm, that all the people should be one.
- <sup>42</sup> And they forsook each man his law; and all folks consented by [or after] the word of king Antiochus,
- <sup>43</sup> and many of Israel consented to him, and sacrificed to idols, and defouled (or defiled the) sabbath.
- <sup>44</sup> And king Antiochus sent books by the hands of messengers into Jerusalem, and into all cities of Judea, that they should pursue (or follow the) laws of (the) folks of (the) earth,

<sup>45</sup> and should forbid burnt sacrifices, and sacrifices, and pleasings for to be done in the temple of God, and that they should forbid the sabbath for to be hallowed, and solemn days,

<sup>46</sup> and holy things for to be defouled (or and that they should defile the Temple), and the holy people of Israel.

<sup>47</sup> And he commanded altars for to be builded, and temples, and idols; and swine's flesh for to be sacrificed, and unclean beasts:

<sup>48</sup> and for to leave their sons uncircumcised, and the souls of them for to be defouled in all uncleanness-es and abominations, <sup>49</sup> so that they should forget the law, and should change all the justifyings of God.

<sup>50</sup> And (that) whoever did not by the word of king Antiochus, should die.

- <sup>51</sup> By all these words he wrote to all his realm, and above-set [or before-set] princes to the people, which should constrain these things for to be done. And they commanded to (the) cities of Judea for to make sacrifice.
- <sup>52</sup> And many of the people were gathered to them, which forsook the law of the Lord, and did evils on earth.

<sup>53</sup> And they drived [or drove] out the people of Israel from (or into) privy places, and in(to) hid places of (or for) fugitives, either fleeing men.

- <sup>54</sup> In the fifteenth day of the month Kislev, that answereth to our November, in the hundred and five and fortieth year, king Antiochus builded (the) abominable idol of desolation, either[or (of)]discomfort, on the altar of God; and by all (the) cities of Judea in compass they builded altars.
- <sup>55</sup> And before the gates of the houses and in streets, they burnt incenses, and sacrificed;
  - $^{56}$  and burnt by fire the books of the law of God, and carved them (up).
- <sup>57</sup> And with whomever the books of [the] testament of the Lord were found, and whoever kept the law of the Lord, by [or after] the commandment of the king, they slew him.
- <sup>58</sup> In their virtue, either power, they did these things to the people of Israel, that was found in each month in the cities.
- <sup>59</sup> And in the five and twentieth day of the month, they sacrificed on the (idol) altar, that was against (or on top of) the altar of God.
- <sup>60</sup> And women, that circumcised their sons, were strangled, by [or after] (the) commandment of king Antiochus;

- $^{61}$  and they hanged (the) children by the necks, by all houses of them, and strangled them that circumcised them.
- $^{62}$  And many of the people of Israel determined, either fully deemed, with- (in) them(selves), that they should not eat unclean things,
- 63 and choosed more for to die, than for to be defouled with unclean meats. And they would not break the holy law of God, and they were slain;
  - 64 and full great wrath was made on the people (of Israel).

- <sup>1</sup> In those days Mattathias, the son of John, son of Simeon, and he was a priest of the sons of Joarib, rose from Jerusalem, and sat in the hill Modin.
  - <sup>2</sup> And he had five sons; John, (that) was named Gaddis;
  - <sup>3</sup> and Simon, that was named Thassis;
  - <sup>4</sup> and Judas, that was called Maccabeus;
- $^{\rm 5}$  and  $\rm \check{I}leazar$ , that was named Avaran; and Jonathan, that was named Apphus.
- <sup>6</sup> These saw the evils that were done in the people of Judea and Jerusalem.
- <sup>7</sup> And Mattathias said, Woe to me! whereto am I born, for to see the destroying of my people, and the defouling of the holy city, and for to sit there, when it is given into the hands of (our) enemies? Holy things be made in the hand of strangers (or The Temple is given into the hands of strangers);
  - <sup>8</sup> the temple thereof (is) as a man unnoble;
- <sup>9</sup> (the) vessels of glory thereof be led away captive. Eld [or Old] men thereof be slain in (the) streets, and young men thereof fell down by (the) sword of (the) enemies.
- <sup>10</sup> What folk inherited not the kingdom thereof, and wielded not (the) preys thereof?
- <sup>11</sup> All (the) adorning thereof is borne away; she that was free, is made the handmaiden.
- $^{12}$  And lo! our holy thing, and our fairness, and our clarity, is desolate, and heathen men defouled it.
  - <sup>13</sup> What therefore is it to us for to live (any longer)?
- <sup>14</sup> And Mattathias and his sons rent their clothes, and covered them(selves) with hair-shirts, and wailed greatly.
- <sup>15</sup> And they that were sent of (or by) king Antiochus, came thither, for to constrain them that fled together into the city of Modin, for to offer and burn incenses, and for to depart from the law of God.
- <sup>16</sup> And many of the people of Israel consented, and came to them; but Mat-tathias and his sons stood steadfastly.
- $^{17}$  And they answered, that were sent of (or by) Antiochus, and said to Mat-tathias, Thou art (a) prince, and most clear (or glorious), and great in this city, and adorned with sons and brethren.
- <sup>18</sup> Therefore go thou the former (or the first), and do the commandment of the king, as all folks have done, and men of Judea, and they that (be) left in Jerusalem. And thou shalt be, and thy sons, among (the) friends of the king, and made large in silver and gold, and many gifts.

- <sup>19</sup> And Mattathias answered, and said with (a) great (or a loud) voice, Though all (the) folks obey to king Antiochus, (so) that they go away each man from the service of the law of his fathers, and consent to his commandments.
  - <sup>20</sup> I, and my sons, and my brethren shall obey to the law of our fathers.
- <sup>21</sup> God be helpful to us; it is not profitable to us for to forsake the law. and (the) rightfulnesses of God.
- <sup>22</sup> We shall not hear the words of king Antiochus, neither shall make sacrifice/s to idols, and break the commandments of our law, that we go by another way.
- <sup>23</sup> And as he ceased for to speak these words, some Jew went to, before the eyes of all men, for to sacrifice to idols on the altar, in the city of Modin, by or after commandment of the king.
- <sup>24</sup> And Mattathias saw, and sorrowed, and his reins trembled together, and his madness, that is, great wrath by (his) fervent love, was kindled by for afterl(the) doom of the law; and he leaped in, and slew him on the altar.
- <sup>25</sup> But and (or also) he slew in that time the man whom king Antiochus sent, which compelled (them) for to offer, and he destroyed the altar.
  - <sup>26</sup> And he loved fervently the law, as Phinehas did to Zimri, son of Salu.
- <sup>27</sup> And Mattathias cried with (a) great (or a loud) voice in the city, and said, Each man that hath fervent love of (or for) the law, ordain a testament, that is, a covenant, and go he out after me.
- <sup>28</sup> And he flew (or fled), and his sons, into (the) mountains, and left whatever things they had in the city.
- <sup>29</sup> Then many seeking doom and rightwiseness, went down into (the) desert, that they should sit there,
- 30 they and the sons of them, and (the) women of them, and (the) beasts of them; for evils were hard on them.
- 31 And it was told to men of the king, and to the host, that were in Jerusalem, [in] the city of David, that some men went away, that destroyed the commandment of the king, into privy places in (the) desert; and many had gone after them.
- 32 And anon (or at once) they went to (or after) them, and ordained against them battle, in the day of sabbaths;
- 33 and said to them, Against-stand ye also now yet? go ye out, and do after the word of king Antiochus, and ye shall live.
- 34 And they said, We shall not go out, neither [we] shall do the word of the king, that we defoul the day of sabbaths.
  - 35 And they stirred battle against them.
- <sup>36</sup> And they answered not to them, neither threw a stone to (or at) them, neither stopped privy places,
- <sup>37</sup> and said, Die we all in our simple-ness (or our innocence), and heaven and earth shall be witnesses on (or for) us, that unjustly ye lose (or destroy)
- 38 And they gave to them battle in (or on the) sabbaths, and they were dead, and (the) wives of them, and (the) sons of them, and (the) beasts of them, till to a thousand persons of men.
- <sup>39</sup> And Mattathias knew, and his friends; and they had mourning on them greatly.

- <sup>40</sup> And a man said to his neighbor, If we all shall do as our brethren did, and shall not fight against (the) heathen men, for our lives, and our justifyings, the sooner they shall destroy us from (off) the earth.
- <sup>41</sup> And they thought in that day, and said, Each man whoever cometh to us in battle, in the day of sabbaths, fight we against him, and die we not all, as our brethren be dead in privy places.
- <sup>42</sup> Then the synagogue of (the) Jews, strong in mights of Israel, was gathered to them. Every willful (or willing) man in the law,
- <sup>43</sup> and all that fled from evils, were added to them, and they were made to them to steadfastness.
- <sup>44</sup> And they gathered an host, and smited sinners in their wrath, and wicked men in their indignation; and the others fled to nations, for to escape.
  - <sup>45</sup> And Mattathias environed, and his friends, and destroyed (the) altars,
- <sup>46</sup> and circumcised children uncir-cumcised, how many ever they found in the coasts of Israel, in strength.
- <sup>47</sup> And they pursued the sons of pride, and the work had prosperity in their hands.
- <sup>48</sup> And they got the law from (or out of) the hands of (the) heathen men, and from (or out of) the hands of kings, and gave not strength to the sinner.
- <sup>49</sup> And (the) days of Mattathias of (or for) dying nighed, and he said to his sons, Now pride is comforted, and chastising, and time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation.
- <sup>50</sup> Now therefore, sons, be ye pur-suers, either lovers, of the law, and give ye your lives for the testament (or the covenant) of (our) fathers.
- <sup>51</sup> And bethink ye on the works of (our) fathers, which they did in their generations, and ye shall receive great glory, and (an) everlasting name.
- <sup>52</sup> Whether in temptation Abraham was not found true, either faithful, and it was areckoned to him to rightwiseness?
- <sup>53</sup> Joseph, in (the) time of his anguish, kept (the) commandment, and was made lord of Egypt.
- <sup>54</sup> Phinehas, our father, in fervently loving the fervent love of God, took testament (or received the covenant) of (an) everlasting priesthood.
- <sup>55</sup> Jesus, either Joshua, while he [ful] filled the word, was made (a) duke in Israel.
- <sup>56</sup> Caleb, while he witnessed in the church (or before the congregation), took heritage (or received the inheritance).
  - 57 David, in (or for) his mercy, got the seat of (the) kingdom, into worlds.
- <sup>58</sup> Elijah, while he fervently loved the fervent love of the law, was received into heaven.
- <sup>59</sup> Hananiah, Azariah, and Mishael, believed, and were delivered from the flame.
- <sup>60</sup> Daniel, in his simpleness (or his integrity), was delivered from the mouth of lions.
- <sup>61</sup> And thus bethink ye by generation and generation, for all that hope into him be not made unsteadfast.
- <sup>62</sup> And dread ye not of the words of a man a sinner, for the glory of him is turd(s) and worm(s);
- 63 today he is enhanced (or is exalted), and tomorrow he shall not be found, for he is (re)turned into his earth, and his thought shall perish.

- <sup>64</sup> Therefore, ye sons, be comforted (or strengthened), and do ye manly in the law; for when ye shall do those things that be bidden to you in the law of your Lord God, in it ye shall be glorious.
- <sup>65</sup> And lo! Simon, your brother; I know, that he is a man of counsel, hear ye him evermore, and he shall be (a) father to you.
- <sup>66</sup> And Judas Maccabeus, strong in mights from his youth, be to you a prince in or of knighthood, and he shall do (the) battle of (or for) the people.
- <sup>67</sup> And ye shall bring to you all (the) doers of the law, and avenge ye the vengeance of your people.
- <sup>68</sup> Yield ye yielding to (the) heathen men, and take ye attention to the behest(s), (or commandments,) of the law.

 $^{70}$  And he was dead in the hundred and six and fortieth year, and was buried of (or by) his sons into (the) sepulchre of his fathers in Modin; and all Israel wailed him with great wailing.

- <sup>1</sup> And Judas, that was called Maccabeus, the son of Mattathias, rose (up) for him.
- <sup>2</sup> And all his brethren helped him, and all that joined them(selves) to his father, and they fought the battle of Israel with gladness.
- <sup>3</sup> And he alarged (or enlarged) glory to his people, and clothed him(self) with an habergeon as a giant, and girt him(self) with his armours of battle in battles, and defended castles (or the host, or his army) with his sword.
- <sup>4</sup> He was made like a lion in his works, and as a whelp of a lion roaring in his hunting.
- <sup>5</sup> And he pursued wicked men, and sought them (out); and he burnt them in flames, that disturbed, or troubled, his people.
- <sup>6</sup> And his enemies were put aback for dread of him, and all workers of wick-edness were troubled (al)together; and health was (ad)dressed in his hand (or deliverance was directed by his hand).
- <sup>7</sup> And he wrathed many kings, and gladded Jacob, that is, the people of Israel, in his works, and into (the) world his mind (or memory)is in blessing.
- <sup>8</sup> And he went through the cities of Judea, and lost unpious men of them, and turned away wrath from Israel.
- <sup>9</sup> And he was named till to the utmost of (the) earth, and he gathered men perishing.
- <sup>10</sup> And Apollonius gathered (the) folks, and from Samaria much virtue, and great, (or a very great host, or army), for to fight against Israel.
- <sup>11</sup> And Judas knew, and went out against him, and smote, and slew him. And many wounded fell down, and the others fled;
- <sup>12</sup> and he took (the) preys of them. And Judas took away the sword of Apollonius, and was fighting there-with in all (his) days.
- <sup>13</sup> And Seron, (a) prince of the host of Syria, heard, that Judas gathered a gathering, and the church (or the con-gregation) of faithful men with him.
- <sup>14</sup> And he said, I shall make to me a name, and I shall be glorified in the realm, and I shall overcome Judas, and them that be with him, which despised the king's word.

<sup>15</sup> And he made ready him(self); and the castles (or the host) of unpious men, strong helpers, went up with him, for to do vengeance on the sons of Israel.

with (a) few men.

- <sup>17</sup> Forsooth as they saw the host coming to them in meeting, they said to Judas, How may we few fight against so great (a) multitude, so strong; and we be made weary by fasting this day?
- <sup>18</sup> And Judas said, It is light, either easy, that many be closed *(up)(al)*together in (the) hand(s) of (a) few; and difference is not in (the) sight of God of heaven, for to deliver in (or with) many either in (or with a) few;

19 for not in (the) multitude of host is the victory of battle, but of (or from) heaven is strength.

<sup>20</sup> They come to us in rebel multitude, and pride, for to destroy us, and our wives, and our sons, and for to rob us.

<sup>21</sup> Forsooth we shall fight for our lives, and our laws;

- $^{22}$  and the Lord himself shall all-break them before our face; for sooth dread ye not them.
- <sup>23</sup> Soothly as he ceased for to speak, he hurled into them suddenly; and Seron was all-broken, and his host, in the sight of him.
- <sup>24</sup> And he pursued him in the going down of Bethhoron, till into the field; and eight hundred men of them fell down, the others forsooth fled into the land of (the) Philistines.

<sup>25</sup> And the dread of Judas, and of his brethren, and the inward fearedness, fell on all (the) heathen men in (the) compass of them;

 $^{26}$  and the name of him came to the king, and all  $\it (the)$  folks told of the battles of Judas.

 $^{27}$  Soothly as king Antiochus heard these words, he was wroth in soul; and he sent, and gathered the host of all his realm, full strong castles (or host).

<sup>28</sup> And he opened his treasury, and gave solds (or wages) to his host, into a year, and commanded them, that they should be ready to all things.

- <sup>29</sup> And (then) he saw, that money failed of (or from) his treasures, and (the) tributes of the country were little, for (the) dissention and vengeance that he did in the land, for to do away the lawful things that were of the first days.
- <sup>30</sup> And he dreaded, that he should not have as once and twice into (the) costs and gifts, which he had given before with (a) large hand; and he was rich over kings that were before him.
- <sup>31</sup> And he was astonished in soul greatly, and thought for to go into Persia, and for to take tributes of (or from the) countries, and for to gather much silver.
- <sup>32</sup> And (so) he left Lysias, a noble man of the king's kin, on (or over) the king's needs, from the flood (or river) Euphrates, till to the flood of Egypt;
  - <sup>33</sup> and that he should nourish (up) Antiochus, his son, till he came again.
- <sup>34</sup> And he betook to him the half of his host, and elephants, and command-ed to him of all these things that he would (have done), and of (the) men inhabiting Judea and Jerusalem;
- <sup>35</sup> and that he should send to them a host, for to all-break, and to destroy utterly the virtue (or strength) of Israel, and the reliefs (or remnants) of

Jeru-salem, and for to do away the mind (or memory) of them from (that) place;

- <sup>36</sup> and for to ordain (as) dwellers (the) sons (of) aliens in all the coasts of them, and by lot for to part the land of them.
- <sup>37</sup> And the king took a part of the residue host, and went out of (or from) Antioch, (the) city of his realm, in the hundred and seven and fortieth year; and passed over the flood Euphrates, and went through the higher countries.
- <sup>38</sup> And Lysias chose Ptolemy, the son of Dorymenes, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the king's friends.
- <sup>39</sup> And he sent with them forty thousand of men, and seven thousand of horsemen, either knights, that they should come into the land of Judea, and destroy it, by [or after] the word of the king.
- <sup>40</sup> And they went forth, for to go with all their power; and they came, and landed (or encamped) at Emmaus, in the field land.
- <sup>41</sup> And (the) merchants of countries (or the country) heard the name of them, and took silver and gold full much, and children (or servants), and came into castles (or the camp), for to take the sons of Israel into servants (or slaves); and the hosts of Syria, and (of) the lands of aliens, were added to them.
- $^{42}$  And Judas saw, and his brethren, that evils were multiplied, and the host applied, or landed, (or encamped) at the coasts of them; and they knew the words of the king, which he commanded the people for to do, into perishing and ending.
- $^{43}$  And they said, each man to his neighbour, Raise we (up) the casting down of our people, and fight we for our people, and our holy things.
- 44 And (the) coming together of (the) host was gathered, for to be ready into battle, and for to pray, and ask (for) mercy, and (for) merciful doings.
- <sup>45</sup> And Jerusalem was not inhabited, but was as (a) desert; there was not that entered and went out, of (its) children thereof; and the holy thing was defouled (or and the Temple was defiled), and (the) sons of aliens were in the high tower, (yea), there was the dwelling of (the) heathen men; and the liking (or joy) was done away from Jacob, and pipe and harp failed there.
- <sup>46</sup> And they were gathered, and came into Mizpeh (over) against (or opposite) Jerusalem; for (the) place of prayer was in Mizpeh, sooner, (or earlier), [or before] then in Jerusalem.
- <sup>47</sup> And they fasted in that day, and clothed them(selves) with hair-shirts, and putted ashes in (or on) their head(s), and rent their clothes.
- 48 And they spreaded abroad (the) books of the law, (out) of the which (the) heathen men sought (the) likeness of their simulacra (or idols, or images);
- <sup>49</sup> and they brought (the) ornaments of (the) priests, and (the) first fruits, and (the) tithes; and they raised (or stirred up the) Nazirites, that had [ful] filled (their) days.
- $^{50}$  And they cried with (a) great (or a loud) voice to heaven, and said, What shall we do to (or with) these, and whither shall we lead them?  $^{51}$  And thine holy things be trodden, and defouled (or And thy Temple is
- <sup>51</sup> And thine holy things be trodden, and defouled (or And thy Temple is trodden down, and defiled), and thy priests be made into mourning, and into casting down, either despising.

- <sup>52</sup> And lo! (the) nations came together against us, for to destroy us; thou know-est what things they think against us.
- <sup>53</sup> How shall we be able to with-stand before the face of them, no but thou, God, help us?
- 54 And they cried in (or with) trumps, (and) with (a) great (or a loud) voice.
- <sup>55</sup> And after these things Judas or-dained dukes of the people, tribunes, that is, [one]leading a thousand, and centurions, (one) leading an hundred, and pentacontrarks, (one) leading fifty, and decurions, (one) leading ten.
- <sup>56</sup> And he said to these that builded houses, and wedded wives, and plant-ed vineyards, and to dreadful men, that they should *(re)*turn again, each man into his house, by [or after] the law.
- <sup>57</sup> And they moved castles, either (the) host (s) of armed men, and they setted together at the south of Emmaus.
- <sup>58</sup> And Judas said, Be ye gird, and be ye mighty sons, and be ye ready in the morrowing, and (so) that ye fight against these nations, that came together for to destroy us, and our holy things (or our Temple).

<sup>59</sup> For better it is, that we die in battle, than for to see evils of our folk, and holy things (or of our Temple).

60 Soothly as (the) will (of God) shall be in heaven, so be it done.

- <sup>1</sup> And Gorgias took five thousand of men, and a thousand chosen horsemen; and they moved (the) tents by night,
- <sup>2</sup> for to apply to (or to attack) the tents of (the) Jews, and for to smite them suddenly; and (the) sons that were of the high tower, were (the) leaders of them.
- <sup>3</sup> And Judas heard (of this), and he rose (up), and (his) mighty men, for to smite the power of (the) hosts of the king, that was in Emmaus;
  - <sup>4</sup> for yet the host was scattered from (the) tents.
- <sup>5</sup> And Gorgias came into the tents of Judas by night, and found no man; and they sought them in (the) hills, for he said, These flee from us.
- <sup>6</sup> And when day was made, Judas appeared in the field with three thousands of men only, which had not coverings and swords.
- <sup>7</sup> And they saw the tents of (the) heathen men strong, and (the) men habergeoned, and the multitude of horsemen in compass of them, and these were taught to battle.
- <sup>8</sup> And Judas said to his men, that were with him, Dread ye not the multitude of them, and dread ye not inwardly the fierceness of them.
- <sup>9</sup> Bethink ye how our fathers were made safe in the Red Sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with much host.
- $^{10}$  And now cry we to heaven, and the Lord shall have mercy on us, and shall be mindful of the testament of our fathers, and shall all-break this host before our face today.
- <sup>11</sup> And (then) all (the) folks shall know, that it is God, that shall again-buy (or who shall redeem), and deliver Israel.
- <sup>12</sup> And (the) aliens raised (up) their eyes, and saw them coming of (or from) the contrary part, [or even against (them)],
- <sup>13</sup> and went out of (the) tents into battle. And they that were with Judas, sang in (or with) trump(s).

<sup>14</sup> And they went together, and (the) heathen men were all-broken, and fled into the field;

<sup>15</sup> forsooth the last fell down by (the) sword. And they pursued them till to Gazara, and till into the fields of Idumea (or Edom), and Azotus, and Jamnia; and there fell down of them till to three thousands of men.

<sup>17</sup> And he said to the people, Covet ye not (the) preys, for (a) battle is against us (or is before us), ed, beholding forth from the hill.

<sup>18</sup> and Gorgias and his host be in the hill nigh us; but stand ye now against our enemies, and overcome them, and after these things ye shall take preys securely (or boldly take the prey).

<sup>20</sup> And Gorgias saw, that his helpers were *(al)*together turned into flight, and tents were burnt; for (the) smoke that was seen, declared that that was done.

<sup>21</sup> And when they beheld these things, they dreaded greatly, beholding together both Judas and the host, ready to (or for) battle in the field.

<sup>22</sup> And they fled all in(to) the field of aliens,

<sup>23</sup> and Judas *(re)*turned again to (the) preys of the tents; and they took much gold, and silver, and jacinth, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

<sup>24</sup> And they converted (or turned and went back), and sung an hymn, or praising, and blessed God into heaven; for he is good, for the mercy of him is into the world (or evermore).

<sup>25</sup> And great health (or deliverance) was made in Israel in that day.

<sup>26</sup> Forsooth whoever of (the) aliens (had) escaped, came, and told to Lysias all (the) things that befell.

<sup>27</sup> And when he heard these things, he was astonished in soul, and failed; for not what manner things he would, such befell in Israel, and what manner things the king commanded.

<sup>28</sup> And in the year pursuing, Lysias gathered of chosen men sixty thousand, and of horsemen five thousand, for to overcome them.

<sup>29</sup> And they came into Judea, and setted tents in Bethhoron (or And they came into Idumea, and set up their tents in Bethsura); and Judas ran to them with ten thousand of men.

- <sup>30</sup> And they saw (the) strong host, and he prayed, and said, Blessed art thou, (O) Saviour of Israel, that hast all-broken the fierceness of the mighty Goliath in the hand of thy servant David, and betookest the castles [or tents], or hosts, of (the) aliens into the hands of Jonathan, son of Saul, and of his squire.
- <sup>31</sup> Close thou *(up)(al)*together also this host in the hand of thy people Israel, and be they confounded in their host, and horsemen.
- <sup>32</sup> Give thou to them inward dread, and make the hardiness of their virtue to fail, and be they moved (al)together in their breaking (al)together.
- <sup>33</sup> Cast down them by the sword of men loving thee, and all that know thy name, *(al)*together praise thee in hymns.
- <sup>34</sup> And they joined together battle, and five thousand of men fell down of the host of Lysias.
- <sup>35</sup> Lysias forsooth saw the flight of his men, and the hardiness of (the) Jews; and that they were ready either for to live, either for to die strongly.

And he went to Antioch, and chose knights, that they multiplied should come again into Judea.

- <sup>36</sup> Forsooth Judas said to his brethren [or Forsooth Judas said, and his brethren], Lo! our enemies be all-broken; go we up or ascend we now, for to cleanse (the) holy things (or the Temple), and make (it) new (again).
  - <sup>37</sup> And all the host was gathered, and they went up into the hill of Zion.
- <sup>38</sup> And they saw (the) hallowing (or Temple) desert*(ed)*, either forsaken, and the altar unhallowed, or defouled by idolatry, and the gates burnt, and in the porches tender trees grown, as in (the) wild wood, or (the) mountains, and (the) little cells destroyed.
- <sup>39</sup> And they rent their clothes, and wailed with great wailing; and putted ashes on their head(s),

- <sup>40</sup> and fell on the face of the earth, and cried in (or with the) trumps of signs, and cried into heaven.
- <sup>41</sup> Then Judas ordained men, for to fight against them that were in the high tower, as long as (or until) they cleansed holy things (or the Temple).
- <sup>42</sup> And he chose priests without wem, having will in (or for) the law of God;
- <sup>43</sup> and they cleansed (the) holy things (or Temple), and took away (the) stones of defouling into an unclean place.
- <sup>44</sup> And he thought on the altar of burnt sacrifices, that was unhallowed, (and) what he should do thereof.
- 45 And a good counsel fell into him, for to destroy it, lest it were to them into shame (or reproof), for (the) heathen men (had) defouled it.
- <sup>46</sup> And (so) they destroyed it, and kept or putted stones in the hill of the house, in (a) covenable (or a suitable) place, till that a prophet came, and answered of (or for) them.
  - 47 And they took whole stones, by [or after] the law, and builded a new
- altar, like that that was (there) before.

  48 And they builded holy things (or the Temple), and the things that were within the house withinforth; and they hallowed the house, and the porches.
- <sup>49</sup> And they made new holy vessels, and brought in a candlestick, and (the) altar of incenses, and a board (or a table) into the temple.
- <sup>50</sup> And [they] putted incense on the altar, and tended (the) lanterns, that were on the candlestick, and gave light in the temple.
- <sup>51</sup> And they putted loaves on the board (or table), and hanged veils, and ended all (the) works that they made.
- <sup>52</sup> And before morrowtide they rose (up), in the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, this is the month Kislev, that is, November-December, of the hundred and eight and fortieth year.
- <sup>53</sup> And they offered sacrifice by [or after] the law, on the new altar of burnt sacrifices, which they made by or after time.
- <sup>54</sup> And by the day in which heathen men defouled it, in (or on) that (day), it was made new, in songs, and harps, and citherns, that be instruments of music, either gitterns, and cymbals.
- <sup>55</sup> And all the people fell on their face(s), and worshipped God, and blessed into heaven him that made prosperity to (or for) them.
- <sup>56</sup> And (so) they made (the) hallow-ing of the altar in (or for) eight days, and offered burnt sacrifices with glad-ness, and helpful things of praising.

1ST MACCABEES CHAPTER 5:12

- 57 And they adorned the face of the temple with golden crowns, and small shields; and hallowed (the) gates, and (the) little houses, either small cells, and putted (on)to them gates (or doors).
- 58 And full great gladness was made in the people, and the shame of heathen men was turned away.
- <sup>59</sup> And Judas ordained, and his brethren, and all the church (or all the congregation) of Israel, that the day of hallowing of the altar be done in his (or its) times, from year into year, by eight days, from the five and twen-tieth day of the month Kislev, that is, December, with gladness and iov.
- 60 And they builded in that time the hill of Zion, and by compass high walls, and firm towers, lest any time (the) heathen men would come, and defoul it, as they did before.
- 61 And he set there an host, for to keep it; and he warded it, for to keep Bethsura, (so) that the people should have strengthening [or warding] against the face of Idumea (or of Edom).

- <sup>1</sup> And it was done, as heathen men heard in compass, that the altar was builded, and the saintuary (or sanctuary) as before, they were wroth
- <sup>2</sup> And they thought for to do away, either destroy, the kin of Jacob, that was among them; and they began for to slay of the people, and pursue
- <sup>3</sup> And Judas overcame the sons of Esau in Idumea, and them that were in Acrabattene, for they sat about (the) men of Israel; and he smote them with a great wound.
- <sup>4</sup> And he thought on the malice of the sons of Bean, that were into (a) snare, and into (an) offence to the people of Israel, and espied it, either set ambushments to it, in (or on) the way(s).
- <sup>5</sup> And these were closed (up)(al)to-gether from him in the towers; and he applied to them (or he encamped near them), and cursed them, and burnt with fire the towers of them, with all (the) men that were in them.
- <sup>6</sup> And he passed (over) to the sons of Ammon, and found (a) strong hand, and plenteous people, and Timothy (or Timotheus), (the) duke of them.
- <sup>7</sup> And he smote many battles with them, and they were broken in (or at) the sight of him; and he smote them.
- 8 And he took the city (of) Jazer, and (the) villages thereof; and he (re)turned again into Judea.
- <sup>9</sup> And (the) heathen men that were in Gilead, were gathered against (the) Israelites, that were in the coasts of them, to do away them for do them away]; and they fled into the strength-ening (or the stronghold) of Dathema.
- 10 And they sent letters to Judas, and his brethren, and said, (The) Heathen men be gathered against us by compass, that they do away us [or do us away];
- <sup>11</sup> and they make ready for to come, and occupy the strengthening (or the stronghold), into which we fled; and Timothy is duke of the host of them.
- 12 Now therefore come thou, and deliver us from their hands, for a multitude of us fell down;

- $^{13}$  and all our brethren that were in places of Tubias, everywhere be slain; and they led away captive the wives of them, and children, and took spoils; and killed there almost a thousand men.
- <sup>14</sup> And yet (while these) epistles were read, and lo! other messengers came from Galilee, with coats rent (or torn), and told by these words,
- <sup>15</sup> and said, that men came together against them from Ptolemais, and Tyre, and Sidon, and all Galilee is [full]-filled with aliens, for to destroy us.
- <sup>16</sup> Soothly as Judas heard, and the people, these words, a great church (or a great congregation) came together, for to think what they should do to (or for) their brethren, that were in tribulation, and were overcome of (or by) them.
- $^{17}$  And Judas said to Simon, his brother, Choose to thee (some) men, and go, and deliver thy brethren in Galilee; I forsooth and my brother Jonathan, shall go into Gilead.
- <sup>18</sup> And (so) he left Joseph, son of Zechariah, and Azariah, dukes of the people, with the residue host in Judea to keeping (it), (or to guard it);
- <sup>19</sup> and [he] commanded to them, and said, Be ye sovereigns to this people, and do not ye smite battle against (the) heathen men, till we (re)turn again.
- <sup>20</sup> And men were given to Simon three thousands, for to go into Galilee; to Judas soothly eight thousand, into Gilead.
- <sup>21</sup> And Simon went into Galilee, and joined many battles with (the) heathen men. And (the) heathen men were all-broken from his face,
- <sup>22</sup> and he pursued them till to the gate of Ptolemais. And there fell down of (the) heathen men almost three thousand of men; and he took the spoils of them.
- <sup>23</sup> And he took them that were in Galilee, and in Arbattis, with (their) wives, and (their) children, and all things that were to them; and brought (them) into Judea with great gladness.
- <sup>24</sup> And Judas Maccabeus, and Jonathan, and his brethren passed (over the) Jordan, and went forth the way of three days into (the) desert.
- <sup>25</sup> And Nabathites or the Nabateans came against them, and received them peaceably, and told to them all things that befell to their brethren in Gilead:
- <sup>26</sup> and that many of them were taken [or caught] in Bozrah, and Bosor, and in Alema, and in Casphor, and Maked, and Carnaim; all these were strong cities and great.
- <sup>27</sup> But and in other cities of Gilead they be holden caught. And on the mor-row they ordained for to move the host to those cities, and for to take (them), and (to) do away them in one day.
- <sup>28</sup> And Judas turned, and his host, the way into (the) desert of Bozrah suddenly; and [he] occupied the city, and slew each male by the sharpness of (the) sword, and took all the spoils of them, and burnt it with fire.
  - <sup>29</sup> And they rose thence in (the) night, and went unto the strengthening.
- <sup>30</sup> And it was made in (the) springing of (the) day, when they raised (up) their eyes, and lo! much people, of whom was no number, bearing ladders and engines, for to take the strengthening (or the stronghold), and overcome them.
- <sup>31</sup> And Judas saw, that battle began, and cry of battle ascended into heaven, as [a] trump, and great cry of [a] city.
  - <sup>32</sup> And he said to his host, Fight ye today for your brethren.

- <sup>33</sup> And he came, and three orders after them [or And he came in three orders after them], and they cried with trumps, and cried in prayer.
- <sup>34</sup> And (the) hosts of Timothy (or of Timotheus) knew, that it was Maccabeus, and they fled from his face. And they have smitten them with (a) great wound; and there fell down of them in that day almost eight thousand of men.
- <sup>35</sup> And Judas turned away into Miz-peh; and [he] overcame (it), and took it, and slew each male thereof, and took (the) spoils of it, and burnt it with fire.
- <sup>36</sup> From thence he went, and took Casphor, and Maked, and Bosor, and other cities of Gilead.
- $^{37}$  For sooth after these words, Timothy gathered another host, and putted tents against Raphon, over the stream.
- $^{38}$  And Judas sent for to behold the host, and they told again to him, and said, That all (the) heathen men that be in our compass, full much host, came together to him.
- <sup>39</sup> And they hired Arabians into help to (or for) them, and they have set (up their) tents over the stream, and be ready for to come to thee into battle. And Judas went against (or towards) them.
- $^{40}$  And Timothy said to the princes of his host, When Judas nigheth, and his host, to the stream of water, if he passeth former (or over first) to us, we shall not be able to abide him, for he mighty shall be able to be against us.
- $^{41}$  Soothly if he dreadeth for to pass (over), and setteth (up his) tents beyond the flood (or river), pass we over to them, and we shall be able to be against him.
- $^{42}$  Forsooth as Judas nighed to the stream of water, he ordained scribes, either writers, of the people, beside the stream, and commanded to them, and said, Leave ye none of (the) men, but come all into (the) battle.
- <sup>43</sup> And he the former (or first) passed over to them, and all the people after him. And all these heathen men were all-broken from the face of them, and they casted away their arms; and they fled to the temple, that was at Carnaim.
- <sup>44</sup> And Judas occupied that city, and burnt the temple with fire, and all that were in it; and Carnaim was oppress-ed, and might not abide [or sustain] against the face of Judas.
- <sup>45</sup> And Judas gathered all Israelites that were in Gilead, from the least to the most, and wives of them, and children, and a full great host, that they should come into the land of Judea.
- <sup>46</sup> And they came till to Ephron, and this great city, put in the entry, was full strong; and there was not for to bow away from it, in (the) right half or left, but the way was through the middle.
- <sup>47</sup> And they that were in the city closed in them(selves), and stopped (up) the gates with stones.
- <sup>48</sup> And Judas sent to them with peace-able words, and said, Pass we by your land, for to go into our land, and no man shall annoy (or shall harm) you, only on feet we shall go. And they would not open to them.
- <sup>49</sup> And Judas commanded for to preach in (the) tents, either (the) host, that each man should apply, (or encamp at), in what place he was.

- <sup>50</sup> And (the) men of virtue applied them (or And the fighting men encamped themselves), and he fought against that city all day and all night, and the city was betaken in*(to)* his hand*(s)*.
- $^{51}$  And they slew each male by the sharpness of (the) sword, and drew up by the roots it [or drew it up by the roots], and took the spoils thereof, and passed by all the city on the slain men.
- <sup>52</sup> And they passed over (the) Jordan, in the great field against the face of (or opposite) Bethshan.
- $^{53}$  And Judas was gathering the last men, and admonished the people by all the way, till they came into the land of Judea.
- <sup>54</sup> And they went up into the hill of Zion with gladness and joy, and offered burnt sacrifices, that no man of them fell down, or was dead, till they (re) turned again in peace.
- <sup>55</sup> And in the days in which Judas was, and Jonathan, in the land of Gilead, and Simon, his brother, in Galilee, against the face of Ptolemais,
- <sup>56</sup> Joseph, son of Zechariah, heard, and Azariah, prince of virtue (or the leaders of the hosts), the things done well, and (the) battles that were made.
- <sup>57</sup> And he said, Make we also a name to us, and go we for to fight against heathen men, that be in our compass.
- <sup>58</sup> And he commanded to these that were in his host, and they went forth to Jamnia.
  - <sup>59</sup> And Gorgias went out of the city, and his men, against them, into fight.
- $^{60}$  And Joseph and Azariah were driven into, or unto, the ends of Judea; and there fell down in that day of the people of Israel, men to two thousands.
- $^{61}$  And a great wound was made in the people; for they heard not Judas and his brethren, and guessed them-(selves) to do (something) strongly.
- <sup>62</sup> Forsooth they were not of (or from) the seed of those men, by which health (or deliverance) was made in Israel.
- <sup>63</sup> And (the) men of Juda(s) were magnified greatly in the sight of all Israel (or And Judas and his men were greatly magnified in the sight of all Israel), and of all (the) heathen men, where the name of them was heard.
  - <sup>64</sup> And they came together, crying to them prosperity, either praisings.
- <sup>65</sup> And Judas went out, and his brethren, and overcame the sons of Esau, in the land that is at the south; and he smote Hebron, and (the) villages thereof, and destroyed the wardings, or the walls, thereof, and burnt with fire (the) towers thereof in compass.
- $^{66}$  And he moved (the) tents, for to go into the land of (the) aliens; and went through Samaria.
- $^{67}$  In that day (some) priests fell down in battle, while they would (or desired to) do strongly, while (or for) without counsel they went out into battle.
- <sup>68</sup> And Judas bowed away (or turned) into Azotus, in the land of (the) aliens, and destroyed (the) altars of them, and burnt in fire the spoils of their gods, and took (the) preys of (the) cities; and *(then)(re)*turned again into the land of Judea.

- <sup>1</sup> And king Antiochus walked through the high countries, and heard that a city, Elymais, was in Persia, the noblest and (most) plenteous in silver and gold;
- <sup>2</sup> and a temple in it was full rich (or and in it was a very rich temple), and there were golden veils, and haber-geons, and shields, which Alexander (the son) of Philip, king of Macedonia, left, that reigned the first in Greece.
- <sup>3</sup> And he came, and sought for to take the city, and (to) rob it; and he might not, for the word was known to them that were in the city.
- <sup>4</sup> And they rised up into battle, and he flew from thence, and went away with great heaviness, and *(re)*turned again to Babylon.
- <sup>5</sup> And there came one, that told to him in Persia, that the hosts that were in the land of Judea were driven (away),
- <sup>6</sup> and that Lysias went with strong virtue in (or with the great power of) the first, or (the) best, men, and was driven (away) from the face of (the) Jews, and (that) they waxed strong in arms, and strengths (or strongholds), and many preys, which they took of tents, either (the) hosts, that they slew;
- <sup>7</sup> and that they destroyed the abomination, which he builded on the altar that was in Jerusalem, and they *(en)*compassed with high walls the hallowing (or the Temple), as before, but and Bethsura, his city.
- <sup>8</sup> And it was done, as the king heard these words, he dreaded, and was moved greatly, and fell down into a bed, and fell into a great sickness for heaviness, for it was not done as he thought.
- <sup>9</sup> And he was there many days, for great heaviness was renewed in him, and he deemed himself for to die.
- <sup>10</sup> And he called all his friends, and said to them, Sleep passed away from mine eyes, and I failed in heart, and fell down for busyness [or I fell down in heart for busyness];
- <sup>11</sup> and I said in mine heart, Into how great tribulation became I [or came I], and into what waves of heaviness in which I am now, that was merry, and beloved in my power?
- <sup>12</sup> Now forsooth I bethink on the evils that I did to Jerusalem, from whence and I took all (the) golden spoils, and silvern, that were therein; and I sent without cause, that men dwelling in Judea to be done away.
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore I knew that these evils found me therefore, and lo! I perish by great heaviness in an alien land.
- <sup>14</sup> And he called (for) Philip, one of his friends, and made him sovereign on all his realm;
- $^{15}$  and gave to him a diadem, and his stole, and ring, for to lead Antiochus, his son, and nourish him (up), (or to nurse him), and that he should reign.
- $^{16}\,\mathrm{And}$  king Antiochus died there, in the hundred and nine and fortieth year.
- <sup>17</sup> And Lysias knew, that the king was dead, and [he] ordained Antiochus, the son of him, for to reign, whom he nourished (or nursed, when he was) young; and [he] called his name Eupator.
- <sup>18</sup> And they that were in the high tower, closed *(up)(al)*together Israel in compass of holy things (or the Temple), and sought to them evils evermore, to (the) strengthening of heathen men.

<sup>19</sup> And Judas thought for to destroy them, and called together all the people, for to besiege them.

<sup>20</sup> And they came together, and besieged them, in the hundred and fiftieth year; and they made arblasts (or arrow-blasters), that is, an instrument for to cast shafts, and stones, and engines.

<sup>21</sup> And some of them that were besieged, went out; and some unfaithful

[or unpious] men of Israel joined themselves to them,

22 and went to the king, and said, How long doest thou not doom, and avengest not our brethren?

<sup>23</sup> And we deemed for to serve thy father, and for to walk in his behests, and obey to his commandments.

<sup>24</sup> And the sons of our people aliened (or alienated) them(selves) from us for this thing; and whichever (or whom-ever) were found of us, were slain, and our heritages were ravished away.

25 And not only to us they stretched out the hand, but and into all our coasts.

<sup>27</sup> And if thou shalt not before come them more swiftly, they shall do greater things than these, and thou shalt not be able to wield them.

<sup>28</sup> And the king was wroth, as he heard this thing, and called together all his friends, and princes of his host, and them that were over (the) horsemen:

<sup>29</sup> but also an hired host from other realms, and (the) isles, and (the) coasts came to him.

- 30 And the number of his host was an hundred thousand of footmen, and twenty thousand of horsemen, and two and thirty elephants taught to battle.
- 31 And they came by Idumea (or through Edom), and they applied to (or encamped at) Bethsura, and fought (for) many days; and they made en-gines, and they went out, and burnt them in (or with) fire, and fought manly.
- 32 And Judas went from the high tower, and moved tents to Bethzechariah, against (the) tents of the king.
- 33 And the king rose before the light, and stirred the host into fierceness, against (or towards) the way of Beth-zechariah; and the hosts made ready them(selves)(al)together into (or for) battle, and sang in (or with) trumps.
- 34 And to (the) elephants they showed (the) blood of grape(s), and (of) morus, or (of) mulberry trees, for to whet them into battle.
- 35 And they parted the beasts by (or among the) legions; and to each elephant a thousand men stood nigh in habergeons chained, or mailed, together, and brazen helmets in (or on) their heads, and five hundred horse-men chosen [or chosen horsemen] were ordained to (or for) each <sup>36</sup> These were there before the time, wherever the beast was; and whither ever it went, they went, and departed not therefrom.

<sup>37</sup> But and firm towers of tree (or of wood)were on them, defending by all the beasts, and on them were engines, and on each by themselves men of virtue (or strong men) two and thirty, which fought from above, and within was the master of the beast.

- <sup>38</sup> And he ordained the residue multitude of (the) horsemen on this half and (on) that half, into two parts, for to move *(al)*together the host with (the) trumps, and for to constrain the men made thick in their legions.
- <sup>39</sup> And as the sun shined into (or onto) the golden shields, and brazen, the hills shined again of (or from) them, and shined again, as lamps of fire.
- <sup>40</sup> And a part of the king's host was parted by (or to the) high hills, and other(s) by (or to the) low places; and they went warily, and ordinately.
- $^{41}$  And all men dwelling in the land were moved (al)together of (or by) the voice of (the) multitude of them, and (the) in-going of (the) company, and (the) hurtling together of (the) armours; for the host was full great and strong.
- $^{42}$  And Judas and his host nighed into battle; and there fell down of the king's host six hundred men.
- <sup>43</sup> And Eleazar, the son of Avaran, saw one of the beasts habergeoned with habergeons of the king, and it was high standing over (the) other beasts; and it was seen to him (or it seemed to him), that the king was on it.
- $^{44}$  And he gave himself for to deliver his people, (and) for to get to him(self) a name everlasting.
- <sup>45</sup> And he ran thereto hardily, into the middle of (the) legion, and killed on the right half and on the left; and they fell down from him hither and thither.
- <sup>46</sup> And he went under the feet of the elephant, and under-putted himself thereto, and slew it; and it fell down into (or onto the) earth on him, and he was dead there.
- <sup>47</sup> And they saw the virtue (or the strength) of the king, and the fierceness of his host, and turned away them-selves from them.
- <sup>48</sup> Forsooth (the) tents (or the host) of the king went up against them, into Jerusalem; and (the) tents of the king applied to Judea, and to the hill of Zion (or the king pitched his tents before or towards Judea, and mount Zion);
- <sup>49</sup> and he made peace with these that were in Bethsura. And they went out of the city, for foods were not to them closed *(up)(al)*together there, for the sabbaths of (the) earth were.
- <sup>50</sup> And the king took Bethsura, and ordained there (a) keeping, for to keep it.
- <sup>51</sup> And he turned the tents to the place of hallowing (for) many days (or And he turned the host, to besiege the Temple for many days); and ordained there arblasts (or arrow-blasters), and engines, and darts, or castings, of fire, and torments for to cast stones and darts, and scorpions for to shoot arrows, and slings.
- <sup>52</sup> Forsooth and they made engines against the engines of them, and [they] fought (for) many days.
- <sup>53</sup> Forsooth meats were not in the city, for that it was the seventh year; and they that (were) left of (the) heathen men in Judea, had wasted the reliefs (or had eaten the remnants) of those things that were kept.
- <sup>54</sup> And few men left in holy things (or And there were only a few men left in the Temple), for hunger had taken them; and they were scattered, each man into his (own) place.

- $^{55}$  And Lysias heard, that Philip, whom king Antiochus ordained, when he lived yet, that he should nourish (up) Antiochus, his son, (so) that he should reign,
- <sup>56</sup> (re)turned again from Persia and Media, and the host that went with him. And that he seeketh for to take the causes of the realm,
- <sup>57</sup> Lysias hast(en)ed for to go, and said to the king, and (the) dukes of the host, We fail each day, and little meat (or food) is (left) to (or for) us, and the place which we besiege, is strong, and it falleth to us for to ordain of the realm.
- <sup>58</sup> Therefore now give we right hands to these men, and make we peace with them, and with all the folk of them;
- <sup>59</sup> and ordain we to them, (so) that they go in lawful things as before; for why for the lawful things of them which we despised, they be wroth, and have done all these things.
- $^{60}$  And the word pleased in the sight of the king, and of (the) princes; and he sent to them for to make peace, and they received it.
- <sup>61</sup> And the king swore to them, and (the) princes; and they went out of the strengthening (or the stronghold).
- <sup>62</sup> And the king entered into the mount Zion, and he saw the strengthening of the place; and he brake full soon the oath that he swore, and commanded for to destroy the wall in compass.
- <sup>63</sup> And he departed away hastily, and *(re)*turned again to Antioch, and found Philip reigning in the city; and he fought against him, and occupied the city by strength.

- $^{1}$  In the hundred year and one and fifty, Demetrius, son of Seleucus, went out from the city of Rome, and went up with a few men into a city nigh the sea, and reigned there.
- $^2$  And it was done, as he entered into the house of the realm of his fathers, the host caught Antiochus, and Lysias, for to bring them to him.
- <sup>3</sup> And the thing was known to him, and he said, Do not ye show to me the face(s) of them.
  - <sup>4</sup> And the host slew them. And Demetrius sat on the seat of his realm;
- <sup>5</sup> and wicked men and unfaithful of Israel came to him, and Alcimus, duke of them, that would be made (the high) priest;
- <sup>6</sup> and accused the people with the king, and said, Judas and his brethren lost (all) thy friends, and diversely lost (or drove)[or scattered] us from our land.
- <sup>7</sup> Now therefore send thou a man, to whom thou believest, that he go, and see all the destroying that he hath done to us, and to (the) countries of the king; and (then) he punish all (the) friends of him, and (the) helpers of them.
- $^8$  And the king chose of his friends Bacchides, that was lord over the great flood (or beyond the Euphrates River) in the realm, and true to the king,
- <sup>9</sup> and [he] sent him, for to see the destroying that Judas did; and he ordained unfaithful Alcimus into (the) priesthood, and bade him (to) do vengeance on the sons of Israel.

- $^{10}$  And they rose, and came with (a) great host into the land of Judea; and they sent messengers, and spake to Judas and his brethren, with peace-able words in guile.
- <sup>11</sup> And they gave not attention to their words; for they saw, that they came with (a) great host.
- <sup>12</sup> And the congregation of scribes came together to Alcimus and Bacchides, for to ask (for) those things that be just;
- <sup>13</sup> and the first (were the) Hasideans, that were among the sons of Israel, and they asked of them (for) peace.
- <sup>14</sup> For they said, A man, (a) priest of the seed of Aaron, cometh, (and) he shall not deceive us.
- <sup>15</sup> And he spake with them peace-able words, and swore to them, and said, We shall not bring into you evils, neither to your friends.
- <sup>16</sup> And they believed to him. And (then) he caught of them sixty men, and slew them in one day, by [or after] the word that is written,
- <sup>17</sup> They shed out the fleshes of thy saints, and (the) blood of them in compass of Jerusalem, and there was not that buried (them).
- <sup>18</sup> And dread and trembling fell into all the people, for they said, There is not truth and doom in them; for they have broken the statute, or ordinance, and the oath that they swore.
- <sup>19</sup> And Bacchides moved tents from Jerusalem, and applied into (or pitched at) Bethzaith; and sent (for), and caught many of them that fled from him; and he killed some of the people, and casted (them) into a great pit.
- <sup>20</sup> And he betook the country to Alcimus, and left with him help, into (the) helping of him. And Bacchides went to the king,
  - <sup>21</sup> and Alcimus did enough, for the princehood of his priesthood.
- <sup>22</sup> And all came together to him, which disturbed, or troubled, their people, and wielded the land of Judea; and [they] did great vengeance in Israel.
- <sup>23</sup> And Judas saw all the evils, that Alcimus did, and they that were with him, to the sons of Israel, much more than (the) heathen men.
- <sup>24</sup> And he went out into all the coasts of Judea in compass, and did vengeance on men forsakers, and they ceased for to go out further into the country.
- <sup>25</sup> Forsooth Alcimus saw, that Judas had (the) victory, and they that were with him; and he knew that he may not (or he was not able to) abide them, and he went again to the king, and accused them in (or of) many sins.
- <sup>26</sup> And the king sent Nicanor, one of his nobler princes, that was haunting enmities against Israel, and command-ed him for to destroy the people.
- <sup>27</sup> And Nicanor came into Jerusalem, with (a) great host, and he sent to Judas and his brethren with guile, by peaceable words, saying,
- <sup>28</sup> Fight be not betwixt me and you; I shall come with (a) few men, for to see your faces with peace.
- <sup>29</sup> And he came to Judas, and they greeted them(selves) together peaceably; and (the) enemies were ready for to ravish (or to kidnap) Judas.
- <sup>30</sup> And the word was known to Judas, that with guile he came to him; and he was afeared of him, and he would no more see his face.
- <sup>31</sup> And Nicanor knew, that his coun-sel was known, and he went out against Judas into fight, beside Capharsalama.

- <sup>32</sup> And there fell down of Nicanor's host almost five thousand men, and they fled into the city of David.
- <sup>33</sup> And after these words Nicanor went up into the hill of Zion, and there went out of (the Temple some) priests of the people, for to greet him in peace, and for to show to him (the) burnt sacri-fices, that were offered for the king.
- <sup>34</sup> And he scorned and despised them, and defouled (them), and spake proudly,
- <sup>35</sup> and swore with wrath, saying, If Judas shall not be taken, and his host, into mine hands, anon when I shall *(re)*turn again in peace, I shall burn (down) this house. And he went out with great wrath.
- <sup>36</sup> And (the) priests entered, and stood before the face of the altar and (the) temple, and weeping, they said,
- <sup>37</sup> Thou, Lord, hast chosen this house, for to call to help thy name in it, that it should be an house of prayer and beseeching to (or for) thy people;
- <sup>38</sup> do thou vengeance in (or to) this man, and his host, and fall they by (the) sword; have mind on their blasphemies, and give not to them that they abide (any longer).
- <sup>39</sup> And Nicanor went out from Jeru-salem, and applied tents to Bethhoron (or and pitched his tents in Bethhoron); and the host of Syria came to him.
- $^{40}$  And Judas applied in (or pitched at) Adasa, with three thousand men. And Judas prayed, and said,
- $^{41}$  Lord, an angel went out, and smote an hundred thousand fourscore and five thousands of them, that were sent from king Sennacherib, for they blasphemed thee;
- $^{42}$  so all-break this host in our sight today, and (so that) other men know, that he spake evil on thine holy things (or against thy Temple); and deem thou him by [or after] the malice of him.
- <sup>43</sup> And the hosts joined battle in the thirteenth day of the month Adar, that is, February-March; and the tents, (or the host), of Nicanor were allbroken, and he fell down first in (the) battle.
- $^{44}\,\mathrm{Soothly}$  as his host saw, that Nicanor fell down, they casted away their arms, (or weapons), and fled.
- <sup>45</sup> And they pursued them the way of one day, from Adasa till men come into Gazara; and they sung in (or with) trumps after them with signifyings.
- <sup>46</sup> And they went out of all (the) castles, (or towns) of Judea in compass, and winnowed them with horns, and again they were converted (or turned back) to them; and all falled [or fell] by (the) sword, and there was left of them not one.
- <sup>47</sup> And they took the spoils of them [in] to prey; and they girded [or cutted] off the head of Nicanor, and his right hand which he stretched forth (so) proudly, and they brought, and hang-ed (them up) against Jerusalem.
- <sup>48</sup> And the people was glad greatly, and they did that day in great gladness;
- $^{\rm 49}$  and ordained this day for to be done in all years, in the thirteenth day of the month Adar.
  - <sup>50</sup> And the land of Judea was still (for) a few days.

- <sup>1</sup> And Judas (had) heard the name (or the fame) of (the) Romans, that they be mighty in strengths, and accord to all things that be asked of them; and whoever went to them, they ordained with them friendships;
- <sup>2</sup> and that they be mighty in strengths. And they heard (of the) battles of them, and good virtues, that they did in Galatia, for they wielded them, and led them under tribute;
- <sup>3</sup> and how many things they did in the country of Spain, and that they brought into power metals of silver and gold that be there;
- <sup>4</sup> and (that) they wielded each place with their counsel, and (with) patience, or wisdom, places that were full far from them; and they all-brake kings that came on them from the utmost places of (the) earth, and they smited them with (a) great wound; forsooth others give to them tribute by all years.
- <sup>5</sup> And they all-brake in battle Philip, and Perseus, kings [or king] of Kittim, and others that bare arms (or weapons) against them, and wielded them.
- <sup>6</sup> And they wielded Antiochus, the great king of Asia, that gave battle to them, and had an hundred and twenty elephants, and multitude of horsemen, and chariots, and full great host all-broken of (or by) them;
- <sup>7</sup> and that they took him quick (or captured him alive), and ordained to him, that he should give great tribute, and they that reigned after him; and that he should give pledges and ordinance,
- <sup>8</sup> in the country of India; and they putted out men of Media, and of Lydia, from the best countries of them, and they gave those countries taken of (or from) them to king Eumenes;
- <sup>9</sup> and that they that were with (the) Greeks, would go, and take away them;
- <sup>10</sup> and the word was known to these Romans, and they sent to them one duke, and they fought against them; and many of them fell, and they led their wives captives, and sons, and robbed them; and wielded the land of them, and destroyed the walls of them, and brought them into servage (or into servitude), till into this day.
- <sup>11</sup> And they destroyed other realms and isles, that sometime against-stood them, and brought [them] into (or under their) power.
- <sup>12</sup> Forsooth with their friends, and (they) that had rest in them, they kept friendship, and they wielded realms that were next (or were near), and that were far; for whoever heard the name of them, dreaded them.
- <sup>13</sup> For they reigned, to whom they would be in help for to reign; forsooth which they would, they disturbed (or displaced) from (their) realm; and they were greatly enhanced (or exalted).
- <sup>14</sup> (Yet) In all these Romans, no man bare (a) diadem, neither was clothed in purple, for to be magnified therein.
- <sup>15</sup> And [for] they made to (or for) them*(selves)* a court, and each day they counselled three hundred and twenty, doing counsel evermore of (the) multitude, (so) that they do what things be worthy.
- <sup>16</sup> And they betake to one man their mastery, either chief governance, by each year, for to be lord of all their land; and all obeish (or obey) to one, and envy is not, neither wrath among them.

- <sup>17</sup> And Judas chose Eupolemus, the son of John, son of Accos, and Jason, the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, for to ordain with them friendship and fellowship;
- <sup>18</sup> and (so) that they should take away from them the yoke of (the) Greeks, for they saw that they oppressed the realm of Israel into servage (or into servitude).
- <sup>19</sup> And they went to Rome, a full great way, and they entered into the court, and said,
- <sup>20</sup> Judas Maccabeus, and his brethren, and the people of (the) Jews, sent us to you, for to ordain with you fellow-ship and peace, and for to write together us (as) your fellows and friends.
  - <sup>21</sup> And the word pleased in the sight of them.
- <sup>22</sup> And this is the again-writing, which they again-writed in brazen tables (or wrote upon brass or bronze tablets), and sent into Jerusalem, (so) that it were there a memorial, either a thing of mind, of peace and fellowship.
- <sup>23</sup> Be it well to (the) Romans, and to the folk of (the) Jews, in the sea and (the) land, without end; and sword and enemy be far from them.
- <sup>24</sup> That if battle befall to (the) Romans before, [or former], (or first), either to all fellows of them in all the lordship of them,
- <sup>25</sup> the folk of (the) Jews shall bear help, as time asketh, with (their) full heart:
- <sup>26</sup> and the Romans shall not give, neither privily minister to the Jews fighting, wheat, armours, (or arms, or weapons), money, ships, as it pleased to (the) Romans; and they shall keep the commandments of them, and take nothing of (or from) them.
- <sup>27</sup> Forsooth in like manner, and if battle falleth before (or first) to the folk of (the) Jews, (the) Romans shall help of (or with)(a)[good] heart, as time suffereth (or alloweth) them;
- <sup>28</sup> and to (the)Romans helping, wheat shall not be given, neither armours, (nor arms, or weapons), money, neither ships, as it pleased to (the) Romans; and they shall keep the command-ments of them without guile.
- <sup>29</sup> By [or After] these words the Romans ordained to the people of (the) Jews,
- <sup>30</sup> That if after these words, these either they will put anything to, either do away, they shall do of (or by) their common assent; and whatever things they shall put to, either do away, they shall be steadfast.
- <sup>31</sup> But also of (the) evils which king Demetrius hath done against them, we have written to him, and we said Why hast thou grieved thy yoke on our friends and fellows, the Jews?
- $^{32}$  Therefore if again they shall come to us against thee, we shall do doom to them, and shall fight with thee by land and (by) sea.

- <sup>1</sup> In the meantime, where (or when) Demetrius heard that Nicanor fell, and his host, in battle, he putted to again for to send Bacchides and Alcimus into Judea, and the right half of the battle array with them.
- <sup>2</sup> And they went the way that leadeth into Gilgal, and they setted (up their) tents in Mesaloth, that is in Arbela; and they occupied it, and slew many persons of men.

chosen [or chosen men] with him.

<sup>6</sup> And they saw the multitude of the host, that they be many, and they dreaded greatly; and many withdrew them(selves) from (the) tents (or out of the host), and there (were) left not of them no but eight hundred men.

<sup>7</sup> And Judas saw that his host fled away, and (that the) battle constrained him, and he was broken (al)together in heart, for he had not time to gather them, and he was discomforted.

- <sup>8</sup> And he said to these that were residue, Rise we, and go we to our adversaries, if we shall be able to fight against them.
- <sup>9</sup> And they turned away (from) him, and said, We shall not be able to, but deliver we [now] our own lives, and (re)turn again we to our brethren, and then we shall fight against them; forsooth we be few.
- <sup>10</sup> And Judas said, Far be it for to do this thing, that we flee from them; and if our time hath nighed, die we in virtue (or bravely) for our brethren, and give we not crime to our glory.
- <sup>11</sup> And the host (of Bacchides) moved from (their) tents, and they stood against them. And (the) horsemen were parted into two parts, and slingers and archers went before the host, and the first men of battle (were) all the mighty (men).

12 Forsooth Bacchides was in the right horn, or battle array. And the legion of two parts came nigh, and cried with (the) trumps.

- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth and these that were on [or of] the part of Judas, cried also, and the earth was moved (al)together of (or by) the voice (or the noise) of (the) hosts, and (the) battle was joined from the morrowtide till to eventide.
- <sup>14</sup> And Judas saw, that the part of Bacchides' host was firmer in (or on) the right half, and all (the) steadfast in heart came together with him.
- <sup>15</sup> And the right part was all-broken of (or by) them; and he pursued them unto the hill of Azotus.
- <sup>16</sup> And they that were in the left horn, or battle array, saw, that the right horn, or battle array, was all-broken, and they pursued (or followed) at the back after Judas, and them that were with him.
- <sup>17</sup> And the battle was made grievous, and there fell many wounded of these and of them.

- <sup>19</sup> And Jonathan and Simon took their brother Judas, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers, in the city of Modin.
- <sup>20</sup> And all Israel bewept him with great wailing, and mourned (for) many days, and said,
  - <sup>21</sup> How fell the mighty (man), that made Israel safe (or who saved Israel).
- <sup>22</sup> And other words of (the) battles of Judas, and of (the) virtues that he did, and of his greatnesses, be not written (here); for those [or they] were full many.
- $^{23}$  And it was done, after the death of Judas, all wicked men in all the coasts of Israel rose out (or rose up), and all that wrought wickedness came forth.

- $^{24}$  In those days full great hunger was made, and all the country of them betook themselves to Bacchides with them.
- <sup>25</sup> And Bacchides chose unpious men, and ordained them lords of the country.
- <sup>26</sup> And they asked out (or about), and sought the friends of Judas, and brought them to Bacchides; and he avenged on them, and scorned (them).
- <sup>27</sup> And great tribulation was made in Israel, what manner was not from the day in which a prophet was not seen in Israel.
  - <sup>28</sup> And all the friends of Judas were gathered, and said to Jonathan,
- <sup>29</sup> Since thy brother Judas is dead, there is no man like him, that shall go out against (our) enemies, Bacchides and them that be (the) enemies of our folk.
- <sup>30</sup> Therefore now we choose thee today for to be prince and duke to us for him, for to fight our battle(s).
- $^{31}$  And (so) Jonathan received in that time the princehood, and rose (up) in the place of Judas, his brother.
  - <sup>32</sup> And Bacchides knew (this), and sought for to slay him.
- <sup>33</sup> And Jonathan knew (this), and Simon, his brother, and all that were with him, and [they] fled into (the) desert of Tekoa, and sat together at the water of the lake Asphar.
- <sup>34</sup> And Bacchides knew (this), and in the day of sabbath he came, and all his host, over (the) Jordan.
- <sup>35</sup> And Jonathan sent his brother (John), (a) leader of that people, and prayed (the) Nabathites or Nabateans, his friends, that he should betake to them his apparel, that was plenteous.
- <sup>36</sup> And (the) sons of Jambri went out of Medaba, and caught John, and all (the) things that he had, and went away, having (or taking) those things.
- <sup>37</sup> After these words it was told again to Jonathan, and Simon, his brother, that the sons of Jambri make great wed-dings, and wed a wife of Nadabath, the daughter of one of the great princes of Canaan, with great pride and apparel.
- <sup>38</sup> And they bethought on the blood of John, their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under (the) cover-ing of the hill.
- <sup>39</sup> And they raised (up) their eyes, and saw, and lo! noise, and great apparel; and a spouse, or (the) husband, came forth, and his friends, and his brethren, against (or towards) them, with tympans, and musics, and many arms.
- <sup>40</sup> And they rose (up) to (or against) them from (the) ambushments, and slew them, and many wounded fell down, and the residues fled into the hill, and they took all the spoils of them;
- $^{41}$  and (the) weddings were converted into mourning, and voice (or the sound) of their musics into wailing.
- $^{42}$  And they avenged the vengeance of their brother's blood, and [they] (re)-turned again to the brink of (the) Jordan.
- <sup>43</sup> And Bacchides heard, and came in the day of sabbaths till to the utmost part of (the) Jordan, in great strength.
- <sup>44</sup> And Jonathan said to his (men), Rise we (up), and fight against our enemies; for it is not today as yesterday, and the third day ago.

- <sup>45</sup> For lo! (the) battle is even against (or before us); soothly the water of (the) Jordan is on this half and on that half, and rivers, and marshes, and forests [or wild woods], and there is no place of turning away (or aside).
- $^{46}$  Now therefore cry ye into heaven, (so) that ye be delivered from (the) hand of your enemies.
- <sup>47</sup> And (the) battle was joined. And Jonathan straightened out (or stretched forth) his hand, for to smite Bacchides, and he turned away from him behind.
- <sup>48</sup> And Jonathan skipped down, and they that were with him, into (the) Jordan, and swam over (the) Jordan to them.
  - <sup>49</sup> And there fell of Bacchides part in that day a thousand men,
- <sup>50</sup> and they, *that is, Bacchides and his men, (re)*turned again into Jerusalem; and *(re)*builded (the) strong cities in Judea, the strength (or the stronghold) that was in Jericho, and in Emmaus, and in Bethhoron, and Bethel, and Thamnatha, Pharathoni, and Taphon, with high walls, and gates, and locks.
- <sup>51</sup> And he setted keeping in them, (so) that they should haunt enmities in (or upon) Israel;
- <sup>52</sup> and he strengthened the city (of) Bethsura, and Gazara, and the high tower, and putted in them helps, and apparel of meats (or food).
- <sup>53</sup> And he took the sons of princes of the country in (or for) hostage(s), or pledges, and putted them in the high tower in Jerusalem, in keeping.
- <sup>54</sup> And in the hundred year and three and fifty [or fiftieth], in the second month, Alcimus commanded (that) the walls of the holy inner house for to be destroyed, and the works of (the) prophets for to be destroyed,
- <sup>55</sup> and he began for to destroy (them). In that time Alcimus was smitten, and the works of him were hindered. And his mouth was closed, and he was dissolved, either made feeble, by palsy, neither he might speak more a word, and command of (or to) his house.
  - <sup>56</sup> And Alcimus was dead in that time, with great torment.
- $^{57}$  And Bacchides saw, that Alcimus was dead, and he *(re)*turned again to the king, and the land was still two years.
- <sup>58</sup> And all (the) wicked men thought, saying, Lo! Jonathan, and they that be with him, dwell in silence, and trust; now therefore bring we Bacchides, and he shall take them all in one night.
  - <sup>59</sup> And they went forth, and gave counsel to him.
- <sup>60</sup> And he rose (up), for to come with much host. And he sent epistles privily to his fellows, that were in Judea, that they should catch Jonathan, and them that were with him; but they might not, for their counsel was known to them.
- <sup>61</sup> And Jonathan caught (those) of men of the country, that were princes of knighthood, fifty men, and slew them.
- <sup>62</sup> And Jonathan and Simon went, and they that were with him, into Bethbasi, that is in (the) desert, and *(re)*builded the destroyed things thereof, and made it strong.
- <sup>63</sup> And Bacchides knew (this), and gathered all his multitude, and announced to them that were of Judea.
- <sup>64</sup> And he came, and setted (up) tents above Bethbasi, and fought against it many days, and made engines (of war).

- <sup>65</sup> And Jonathan left Simon, his brother, in the city, and went out into the coun-try, and came with (a) number (of men);
- $^{66}$  and smote Odomera, and his brethren, and (the) sons of Phasiron, in the tabernacles of them (or tents),
- <sup>67</sup> and [he] began for to smite, and wax in virtues (or increase his forces). Simon soothly, and they that were with him, went out of the city, and burnt (up the) engines (of war).
- $^{68}$  And they fought against Bacchides, and he was all-broken of (or by) them; and they tormented him greatly, for his counsel and his assailing was void.
- $^{69}$  And he was wroth against wicked men, that gave counsel to him for to come into their country, and slew many of them; for sooth he thought with others for to go into his country.
- <sup>70</sup> And Jonathan knew, and sent legates to him, for to make peace with him, and to yield to him (the) prisoners.
- <sup>71</sup> And willfully he took (or accepted), and did by [or after] his words, and swore that he should not do to him any evil in all the days of his life.
- <sup>72</sup> And he yielded to him the captivity, that is, (the Jewish) prisoners, which he took by prey before (out) of the land of Judea. And he *(re)*turned, and went into his land, and putted no more for to come into his coasts.
- <sup>73</sup> And (the) sword ceased from Israel. And Jonathan dwelled in Michmash, and there Jonathan began for to deem the people, and he destroyed the un-faithful [or unpious] men (out) of Israel.

- <sup>1</sup> And in the hundred and sixtieth year Alexander, the son of Antiochus, went up, that is named noble (or who was surnamed Epiphanes), [or that is named noble, went up], and occupied Ptolemais; and they received him, and he reigned there.
- $^2\,\mathrm{And}$  king Demetrius heard, and gathered an host full copious, and went out against him into battle.
- <sup>3</sup> And Demetrius sent [an] epistle to Jonathan with peaceable words, for to magnify him.
- <sup>4</sup> For he said, Before take we for to make peace with him, before that he make (an accord) with Alexander against us;
- <sup>5</sup> for he shall have mind of or on all (the) evils, that we have done against him, and against his brother(s), and against his folk.
- <sup>6</sup> And he gave to him power to gather (an) host, and for to make arms, and him for to be his fellow. And he commanded (that the) hostages, either (the) pledges, that were in the high tower, for to be given to him.
- <sup>7</sup> And Jonathan came into Jerusalem, and read (the) epistles (or the letter), in (the) hearing of all the people, and of them that were in the high tower.
- <sup>8</sup> And they dreaded with great dread, for they heard, that the king gave him power to gather an host.
- <sup>9</sup> And (the) hostages were betaken to Jonathan, and he yielded them (back) to their fathers and mothers.
- $^{\rm 10}$  And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem, and began for to build and renew the city.

<sup>11</sup> And he said to men doing (the) works, that they should make up the walls, and the hill of Zion in compass, with square stones to (or for) strengthening; and they did so.

<sup>12</sup> And (the) aliens fled, that were in the strengths (or in the strongholds), which Bacchides had builded;

13 and each man left his place, and went into his (own) land.

<sup>14</sup> Only in Bethsura dwelt some of them, that forsook the law and the behests of God; for why this was to (or for) them the (place of) refuge.

- <sup>15</sup> And Alexander the king heard (the) promises, that Demetrius (had) promised to Jonathan, and they told to him (of) the battles and virtues which he did, and his brethren, and the travails which they travailed.
- <sup>16</sup> And he said, Whether we shall find any such man? And now make we him our friend and fellow.
  - <sup>17</sup> And he wrote (an) epistle, and sent (it to him), by these words, saying,

<sup>19</sup> We have heard of thee, that thou art a mighty man in strengths, and art able that thou be our friend.

- <sup>20</sup> And now we ordain thee today (to be the) highest priest of thy folk, and that thou be called (the) friend of the king. And he sent to him purple, and a golden crown, that thou feel with us what things be ours, and keep friendships to (or with) us.
- <sup>21</sup> And Jonathan clothed him(self) with an holy stole, in the seventh month, in the hundred and sixtieth year, in the solemn day of Scenopegia (or Feast of Tabernacles). And he gathered an host (or army), and made copious or plen-teous arms (or prepared many weapons).

<sup>22</sup> And Demetrius heard these words, and was made full sorrowful, and said,

- <sup>23</sup> What have we done this thing, that Alexander before-occupied us, for to catch (the) friendship of (or with the) Jews, to his (own) strengthening?
- <sup>24</sup> And I shall write to him praying words, and (promise him) dignities, and gifts, (so) that he be with me in help.
- <sup>25</sup> And (so) he wrote to him by these words, King Demetrius to the folk of (the) Jews, health.
- <sup>26</sup> For ye kept to us covenant, and dwelt in our friendship, and went not to our enemies, we heard, and joyed.
- <sup>27</sup> And now last ye yet for to keep to us faith; and we shall *(re)*quite to you good things, for these things that ye did to (or for) us,
- <sup>28</sup> and we shall forgive to you many [givings of] rents, and we shall give gifts to you.
- <sup>29</sup> And now I assoil (or I absolve) you, and all (the) Jews, of tributes, and I forgive to you the prices of salt, and forgive crowns (or crown taxes),
- <sup>30</sup> and the third part of (the) seed; and I leave to you from this day and afterward, the half part of (the) fruit of the tree(s), that is of my portion, (so) that it be not taken of the land of Judea, and of (the) three cities that be added thereto, of Samaria and Galilee, from this day and into all time.
- <sup>31</sup> And (let) Jerusalem be holy, and free, with his (or its) coasts; and tithes and tributes be of it.
- <sup>32</sup> Also I forgive the power of the high tower, that is in Jerusalem; and I give it to the high or highest priest, that he ordain therein men, whichever he shall choose, that shall keep it.

1ST MACCABEES CHAPTER 10:50

33 And each person of (the) Jews, that is captive (out) of the land of Judea, in all my realm, I deliver free willfully, or without money. that all be absolved of their tributes, yea, of their beasts.

<sup>34</sup> And all solemn days, and sabbaths, and new moons, and all days ordained, and three days before the solemn day, and three days after the solemn day, all these be days of immunity, or franchise, and of remission, to all (the) Jews that be in my realm.

<sup>35</sup> And no man shall have power for to do anything, and move needs, or causes, against any of them in (or for) any cause.

<sup>36</sup> And that there be written (in) of (the) Jews in the king's host, (up) to thirty thousands of men; and plenties shall be given to them, as it behooveth to all (the) hosts of the king.

<sup>37</sup> And of them shall be ordained, that be in the great strengths (or strongholds) of the king; of them shall be ordained over needs of the realm, that be done of faith, and (their) princes be of them; and walk they in their laws, as the king commanded in the land of Judea.

<sup>38</sup> And (the) three cities, that be added to Judea of (or from) the country of Samaria, be areckoned, or deemed, with Judea; (so) that they be under one, and obey not to (any) other power, no but to the highest priest;

<sup>39</sup> (As for) Ptolemais, and the coasts thereof, which I have given (as) a gift to holy men that be in Jerusalem, to needful costs of saints (or the Temple).

<sup>40</sup> And I shall give in each year fifteen thousand of shekels of silver, of the king's reasons, that pertain to me;

<sup>41</sup> and all that is residue, which they that were over (the) needs yielded not in former years, from this time they shall give into the works of the house.

42 And over this, five thousand shekels of silver, which they took of reason of holy things by each year; and these things shall pertain to (the) priests, that use [or be set in] ministry.

43 And whoever shall flee to the temple that is in Jerusalem, and in all (the) coasts thereof, and be guilty to the king, in any cause, be dismissed, or released; and have they free all things, that be to them in my realm.

44 And to build, or restore, works of holy things (or the works of the Temple), costs, or expenses, shall be given (out) of the king's reason, or rent, (or out of the king's accounts),

45 and for to build out the walls of Jerusalem; and for to make (them) strong in compass, expenses shall be given (out) of the king's reason, or rent, for to make out (the) walls in Judea.

<sup>46</sup> As Jonathan and the people heard these words, they believed not to them, neither received them; for they had (in) mind of the great malice that he had done in Israel, and (that he) had troubled them greatly.

<sup>47</sup> And it pleased (al)together to them in (or with) Alexander, for he was to them (the) prince of words of peace, and to him they bare help in all against Demetrius.

<sup>49</sup> And the kings joined battle, and the host of Demetrius fled; and Alexander pursued him, and lay on them;

<sup>50</sup> and the battle was full strong, till the sun went down, and Demetrius fell in that day.

- <sup>51</sup> And Alexander sent to Ptolemy, king of Egypt, legates by (or ambass-adors with) these words, and said,
- <sup>52</sup> For I came again into my realm, and sat in the seat of my fathers; and I have wielded princehood, and I have all-broken Demetrius, and have wield-ed our country;
- <sup>53</sup> and I have joined fight with him, and he and his hosts be all-fouled [or is broken (al)together] of (or by) us, and we sat in the seat of his realm.
- <sup>54</sup> And now ordain we together friendship, and give thy daughter (as) a wife to me, and I shall be thy daughter('s) husband; and I shall give to thee gifts, and to her dignity.
- <sup>55</sup> And king Ptolemy answered, say-ing, Blessed be the day in which thou (re)turnedest again to the land of thy fathers, and hast sat in the seat (or on the throne) of the realm of them.
- $^{56}$  And now I shall do to thee which things thou hast written; but come thou against me to (or meet me in) Ptolemais, (so) that we see us together, and I promise to thee, as thou saidest.
- <sup>57</sup> And Ptolemy went out of Egypt, he and Cleopatra, his daughter; and he came to Ptolemais, in the hundred and two and sixtieth year.
- <sup>58</sup> And Alexander, the king, came to him; and he gave to him Cleopatra, his daughter, and made his weddings at Ptolemais, as kings in great glory (do).
- <sup>59</sup> And king Alexander wrote to Jonathan, that he should come against him (or should come to meet him).
- <sup>60</sup> And he went with glory to Ptolemais, and met there (the) two kings, and gave to them much silver, and gold, and gifts; and found grace in the sight of them.
- <sup>61</sup> And men of Israel, full of venom, came together against him, wicked men, asking against him, and (or but) the king took no attention to them;
- $^{62}$  and commanded Jonathan for to be made naked of his clothes, and him for to be clothed in purple; and they did so.
- <sup>63</sup> And the king setted him for to sit with him, and said to his princes, Go ye out with him into the middle of the city, and preach ye, that no man ask against him of (or about) any need, or cause, neither any man be heavy to him of (or for) any reason.
- <sup>64</sup> And it was done, as they that (had) asked, [or appealed (against) him], (or when they that had accused him), saw his glory that was preached, and him covered with purple, all fled (away).
- 65 And the king magnified him, and wrote him among the first friends, and putted him (a) duke, and partner, or fellow, of (his) princehood.
- <sup>66</sup> And Jonathan (re)turned again into Jerusalem, with peace and gladness.
- <sup>67</sup> In the hundred year and five and sixtieth, Demetrius, the son of Demetrius, came from Crete into the land of his fathers.
- $^{68}$  And king Alexander heard, and was made full sorrowful, and (re)turned again to Antioch.
- <sup>69</sup> And Demetrius ordained Apollonius duke, that was sovereign of Celosyria (or who was the governor of Greater Syria); and he gathered his great host, and came to Jamnia; and sent to Jonathan, the highest priest, and said, <sup>70</sup> Thou alone against-standest us; I am made into scorn and shame (or reproof) therefore, for thou hauntest power in (the) hills against us.

<sup>71</sup> Now therefore if thou trustest in thy virtues (or thy strength), come down to us into the field; and there assemble [or comparison] we together, for with me is (the) virtue (or power) of battles.

<sup>72</sup> Ask thou, and learn who I am, and others that be in help to me, and which say, that your foot may not stand against our face, for thy fathers were converted into flight twice into (or in) their (own) land.

<sup>73</sup> And now how shalt thou be able to sustain (the) multitude of horsemen, and so great host in the field, where is no stone, nor rock, neither place of fleeing?

<sup>74</sup> Soothly as Jonathan heard these words of Apollonius, he was moved in (his) heart; and he chose ten thousand men, and went out from Jerusalem, and Simon, his brother, came to him into help.

<sup>75</sup> And they applied (or pitched their) tents in Joppa, and it, that is, the people of Joppa, shutted out him [or shut him out] from the city, for Joppa was the keeping of Apollonius;

<sup>76</sup> and he fought against it, that is, Jonathan fought against Joppa. And they were aghast, that were within the city, and opened to him; and (so)

Jonathan wielded Joppa.

- 77 And Apollonius heard, and moved three thousand of horsemen, and much host; and went to Azotus, as making (the) way. And anon he went out into the field, for that he had (a) multitude of horsemen, and he trusted in them;
  - <sup>78</sup> and Jonathan pursued him into Azotus, and they joined battle.

<sup>80</sup> And Jonathan knew that ambush-ments were behind him, and they environed his tents (or his host), and casted darts into the people, from the morrow till to eventide.

81 Forsooth the people stood, as Jonathan commanded, and the horses of them travailed out.

- $^{82}$  And Simon led out his host, and joined (battle) against the legion; forsooth (the) horsemen were made weary, and were all-broken of him, and fled.
- <sup>83</sup> And they that were scattered in the field, fled into Azotus; and entered into the house of Dagon [or into Bethdagon], their idol, (so) that there they should deliver themselves.
- <sup>84</sup> And Jonathan burnt Azotus, and (the) cities that were in compass thereof, and took (the) spoils of them; and he burnt in (or with) fire the temple of Dagon, and them that (had) fled into it.
- $^{85}$ And there were that fell by (the) sword with them that were burnt, almost eight thousand men.
- <sup>86</sup> And from thence Jonathan moved (his) tents, and applied them to (or encamped at) Ascalon; and they went out of the city against him in great glory.
- $^{87}$  And Jonathan (re)turned again to Jerusalem with his men, having many spoils.
- <sup>88</sup> And it was done, as king Alexander heard these words, he putted to yet for to glorify Jonathan.

89 And he sent to him a golden lace, either (an) ouch, (or clasp), as custom is to be given to (the) cousins of kings; and he gave to him Ekron, and all (the) coasts thereof in possession.

CHAPTER 11

<sup>1</sup> And the king of Egypt gathered an host, as gravel that is about the brink of the sea, and many ships; and sought for to wield the realm of Alexander in guile, and add it to his realm.

<sup>2</sup> And he went out into Syria with peaceable words, and they opened to him cities, and came to him; for why king Alexander commanded (them) for to go out against (or to meet) him, for he was (the) father of the king's in each city.

- <sup>4</sup> And as he nighed to Azotus, they showed to him the temple of Dagon burnt in fire, and Azotus, and other things thereof (that) were destroyed, and (the) bodies cast forth, and the burials of them that were slain in battle. which they made beside the way.
- <sup>5</sup> And they told to the king that Jonathan did these things, for to make envy to him; and the king was still.
- <sup>6</sup> And Ionathan came to the king with glory into Joppa, and they greeted them together; and they slept there.
- 7 And Jonathan went with the king till to the flood that is called Eleutherus, and *(re)*turned again into Jerusalem.
- 8 Soothly king Ptolemy wielded the lordship of (the) cities till to Seleucia, by the sea coast, and thought against Alexander evil counsels;
- <sup>9</sup> and sent legates (or ambassadors) to Demetrius, and said, Come thou, make we betwixt us (a) covenant, and I shall give to thee my daughter, whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reign in the realm of thy father.
- <sup>10</sup> For it rueth me, that I gave to him my daughter; for he sought for to slay me.
  - 11 And he despised him therefore, for he coveted the realm of him.
- 12 And he took away his daughter, and gave her to Demetrius, and aliened (or alienated) him(self) from Alexander: and his enmities were made known.
- 13 And Ptolemy entered into Antioch, and putted two diadems (on)to his head, of Egypt and of Asia.
- <sup>14</sup> Forsooth Alexander, the king, was in Cilicia in those days, for they rebelled, that were in those places.
- 15 And Alexander heard, and came to him into battle; and Ptolemy, the king, brought forth the host, and came to him in (or with a) strong hand, and drove him away.
- <sup>16</sup> And Alexander flew into Arabia, for to be defended there; soothly king Ptolemy was enhanced (or was exalted).
- <sup>17</sup> And Zabdiel of Arabia took away Alexander's head, and sent (it) to Ptolemy.
- <sup>18</sup> And king Ptolemy was dead in the third day (after); and they that were in (the) strengths perished, of them that were within the castles (or villages).
  - <sup>19</sup> And Demetrius reigned in the hundred year and seven and sixtieth.

- $^{20}$  In those days Jonathan gathered them that were in Judea, for to overcome the high tower, that is in Jerusalem; and they made against it many engines.
- <sup>21</sup> And some wicked men, that hated their (own) folk, went to the king Demetrius [or went to king Demetrius], and told to him, that Jonathan besieged the high tower.
- <sup>22</sup> And as he heard (this), he was wroth, and anon he came to Ptolemais, and wrote to Jonathan, that he should not besiege the high tower, but should come to him in haste, to speak together.
- <sup>23</sup> Soothly as Jonathan heard (this), he commanded for to besiege (it still); and he chose (some) of the elder men of Israel, and (the) priests, and gave him(self) to peril.
- <sup>24</sup> And he took gold, and silver, and cloth(es), and many other presents; and went to the king, to Ptolemais, and found grace in the sight of him.
- <sup>25</sup> And some wicked men of his folk (had) asked (or had spoken) against him;
- <sup>26</sup> and (yet) the king did to him, as they that were before him, did to him; and he enhanced (or exalted) him in (the) sight of all his friends,
- <sup>27</sup> and ordained to him princehood of priesthood, and whatever other precious things (that) he had before; and made him prince of his friends.
- <sup>28</sup> And Jonathan asked of the king, that he should make Judea free, and (also the) three princehoods of three places, and Samaria, and nigh coasts thereof; and he promised to him (in return) three hundred talents.
- <sup>29</sup> And the king consented, and wrote to Jonathan epistles of (or about) all these things, containing (or in) this manner.
- $^{30}$  King Demetrius to Jonathan, brother, health, and to the folk of (the) Jews.
- <sup>31</sup> The ensample (or copy) of (the) epistle, which we have written to Lasthenes, our father, of (or about) you, we sent to you, that ye should know.
  - <sup>32</sup> King Demetrius to Lasthenes, father (or our kinsman), health.
- $^{33}$  To the people of (the) Jews, our friends, and keeping which things be just with us, we deemed for to do well, for (the) benignity of them that they have with us.
- <sup>34</sup> Therefore we ordained to them, all the coasts of Judea, and (the) three cities of offerings, Lydda, and Ramath-aim, and Apherema, that be added to Judea, and (or from) Samaria, and all the nigh coast of them, for to be sequestered, or parted, to all men doing sacrifice in Jerusalem, for these things that the king took before of (or received from) them by all years, and for (the) fruits of the earth, and of apples.
- <sup>35</sup> And of other things that pertained to us, of tithes, and tributes, from this time (forth) we forgive to them; and the plain places of salt-making, and the crowns that were borne to us (or the crown taxes, that be due to us), all things we grant to them;
  - <sup>36</sup> and nothing of these shall be void, from this time and into all time.
- <sup>37</sup> Now therefore busy ye for to make (an) ensample (or a copy) of these things, and be it given to Jonathan, and be (it) put in the holy mount, and in the solemn [or the holy] place.
- <sup>38</sup> And king Demetrius saw, that the land was still in his sight, and that nothing against-stood him, and left (or let go) all his host, each man into his (own) place, except the strange host (or except for the host of strangers, or of foreigners), that he drew from (the) isless of (the) heathen men; and all the hosts of his fathers were enemies to him.

- <sup>39</sup> Forsooth one Tryphon was of the parts of Alexander before, and he saw that all the host grumbled against Demetrius; and he went to Imalcue (the) Arabian, that nourished (up), (or nursed) Antiochus, the son of Alexander.
- <sup>40</sup> And he made great instance (or great insistence) to him, that he should betake him to him, for to reign instead of his father; and [he] told out to him, how great things Demetrius had done, and the enmities of his hosts against him; and he dwelt there many days.
- <sup>41</sup> And Jonathan sent to king Demetrius, that he should cast out them, that were in the high tower in Jerusalem, and which were in (the) helps, or strengths, (or strongholds), for they impugned Israel.
- <sup>42</sup> And Demetrius sent to Jonathan, and said, Not only this I shall do to (or for) thee, and thy folk, but I shall make thee noble by glory, and thy folk, when it shall be covenable (or opportune).
- <sup>43</sup> Now therefore rightly thou shalt do, if thou shalt send men in to help to me, for all mine host went away.
- <sup>44</sup> And Jonathan sent to him three thousand of strong men, to Antioch; and they came to the king, and the king delighted in the coming of them.
- $^{45}$  And there came together that were of the city sixscore thousand of men, and would slay the king.
- $^{46}$  And the king fled into the hall. And they that were of the city occupied the ways of the city, and begun for to fight.
- <sup>47</sup> And the king called (the) Jews into help, and all came together to him, and all were scattered by the city; and slew in that day an hundred thousand of men.
- <sup>48</sup> and [they] burnt the city, and took many spoils in that day, and delivered the king.
- <sup>49</sup> And they saw, (they) that were of the city, that (the) Jews had taken the city as they would; and they were made unsteadfast in their soul, and cried to the king with prayers, and said,
- $^{50}$  Give to us right hands, and cease the Jews for to fight against us and the city.
- <sup>51</sup> And they casted away their arms, (or weapons), and made peace. And (the) Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all men that were in his realm, and were named in the realm. And they went again into Jerusalem, having many spoils.
- <sup>52</sup> And king Demetrius sat in the seat (or throne) of his realm, and the land was still (or quiet) in his sight.
- <sup>53</sup> And he lied (in) all things, what-ever he said, and alienated him from Jonathan, and yielded not to him by benefices, which he had given to him; and Demetrius travailed him greatly.
- <sup>54</sup> After these things Tryphon *(re)*turn-ed again, and (had) Antiochus, a young child, with him; and (he) reigned, and putted on him a diadem.
- <sup>55</sup> And all (the) hosts were gathered *(un)*to him, which king Demetrius (had) scattered; and they fought against him, and he flew, and turned backs.

<sup>56</sup> And Tryphon took (the) beasts, that is, (the) elephants of the host of Demetrius, and wielded Antioch.

- 57 And Antiochus the young wrote to Jonathan, and said, I ordain to thee (the high) priesthood, and I ordain thee on (the) four cities, (and) that thou be (one) of the king's friends.
- 58 And he sent to him golden vessels, into ministry (or for service), and gave to him power to drink in gold, and for to be in purple, and for to have a golden lace, either (an) ouch, (or buckle).
- <sup>59</sup> And he ordained Simon, his brother, duke from the ends of Tyre, till to the ends of Egypt.
- <sup>60</sup> And Jonathan went out, and walked over the flood (or beyond the river) by the cities; and all the host of Syria was gathered to him into help. And he came to Ascalon, and they of the city came against him worshipfully (or with due honour or deference).
- <sup>61</sup> And from thence he went to Gaza, and they that were at Gaza closed (up) them(selves)(al)together, and he besieged it. And he burnt what things were in compass of the city, and spoiled it by (or for) prey.
- 62 And (the) men of Gaza prayed Jonathan, and he gave to them (the) right hand, either peace. And he took the sons of them in(to) hostage (or for hostages), or (as) pledges, and he sent them into Jerusalem, and walked through the country till to Damascus.
- 63 And Jonathan heard, that the princes of Demetrius trespassed in Kedesh, that is in Galilee, with much host, willing (or desiring) to remove him from (the) need of the realm:
- 64 and he came against them (or he came to meet them). Forsooth he left Simon, his brother, within the province.
- 65 And Simon applied to (or encamp-ed at) Bethsura, and fought against it (for) many days, and closed (up)(al)to-gether them.
- <sup>66</sup> And they asked of him for to take right hands, and he gave (it) to them. And he casted out them from thence, and took the city, and putted therein (a) strength (or a stronghold).
- 67 And Jonathan and his host applied to the water of Gennesar, (or encamped at the Lake of Gennesaret, or by the Sea of Galilee), and before the light they walked in the light [or the field] of Asor.
- 68 And lo! the hosts of aliens came against (or met) them in the field, and setted to him espies, (or men in ambush), in the hills. Soothly he came against (them) of (or on) the contrary part.
- <sup>69</sup> Soothly the espies or ambushments, (that is, men in ambush), rose up (out) of their places, and joined battle. And all that were of Jonathan's part
- <sup>70</sup> and no man of them was left, no but Mattathias, son of Absalom, and Judas, son of Chalphi, prince(s) of (the) knighthood and host (or the army).
- <sup>71</sup> And Jonathan rent (or tore) his clothings, and putted earth in (or on) his head, and prayed.
- 72 And Jonathan (re)turned again to them into battle, and (al)together turned them into flight, and fought (them).
- 73 And they of his part that fled saw (this), and they (re)turned again to him, and pursued with him till to Kedesh, to their (own) tents, and fully [they] came till thither.

 $^{74}$  And there felled down in that day of aliens three thousand of them, and Jonathan (re)turned again into Jerusalem.

- <sup>1</sup> And Jonathan saw that the time helped him; and he chose men, and sent them to Rome, for to ordain and renew friendship with them.
- <sup>2</sup> And to (the) Spartans (or Lacedae-monians), and to other places, he sent epistles by [or after] the same form.
- <sup>3</sup> And they went to Rome, and entered into the court, and said, Jonathan, highest priest, and the folk of Jews, sent us, for to renew friendship and fellowship, by the former (times).
- <sup>4</sup> And they gave to them epistles to them by places, (so) that they should lead forth them [or lead them forth] into the land of Judea with peace.
- <sup>5</sup> And this is the ensample of (the) epistles, which Jonathan wrote to (the) Spartans (or to the Lacedaemonians).
- <sup>6</sup> Jonathan, (the) highest priest, and the elder men of the folk, and priests, and other people of Jews, to Spartans (or Lacedaemonians), brethren, health.
- <sup>7</sup> Now before epistles were sent to Onias, (the) highest priest, from Darius, that reigned with you; for ye be our brethren, as the rescript, [or (the) writing], containeth, that is under-put.
- <sup>8</sup> And Onias received the man, that was sent, with honour, and took (or received the) epistles, in which was signified of fellowship and friendship.
- <sup>9</sup> When we had no need of these, and had in comfort or in solace holy books that be in our hands, we had rather for to send to you,
- $^{10}$  for to renew brotherhood and friendship, lest peradventure we be made aliens from (or to) you; for why many times passed, since ye sent to us.
- <sup>11</sup> We therefore in all time without ceasing, in solemn days, and others, in which it behooveth, be mindful of you in (the) sacrifices that we offer, and in observances, as leaveful is (or as it is lawful), and beseemeth, for to have had mind of (our) brethren.
  - <sup>12</sup> Therefore we be glad of your glory.
- $^{13}$  For sooth many tribulations and many battles environed us; and kings, that be in our compass, fought against us.
- <sup>14</sup> Therefore we would not be griev-ous to you, neither to other fellows, and our friends, in these battles.
- 15 For we had help of (or from) heaven, and be delivered, and our enemies be made low.
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore we have chosen Numen-ius, the son of Antiochus, and Antipater, son of Jason, and sent (them) to (the) Romans, for to renew with them both friendship and former fellowship.
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore we commanded to them, that they come also to you, and greet you, and yield to you our epistles of (the) renewing of our brotherhood.
  - <sup>18</sup> And now ye shall do well, answering to us to [or of] these things.
- <sup>19</sup> And this is the rescript, or (the) again-writing, (or copy) of (the) epistles, that Oniares (or that Arius), the king of (the) Spartans, sent (to Onias).
- <sup>20</sup> Oniares (or Arius) to Jonathan, great priest, health. (Arius king of the Spartans, or Lacedaemonians, to Onias, the great priest, greetings.)

- $^{21}$  It is found in (the) writing of (the) Spartans (or of the Lacedaemonians), and of (the) Jews, that they be brethren, and that they be of the kin of Abraham.
- $^{\rm 22}$  And now since we know these things, ye do well, writing to us of your peace.
- <sup>23</sup> But and we have again-written to you. Our beasts and our possessions be yours, and yours ours. Therefore we command (our legates), for to tell these things to you.
- <sup>24</sup> And (then) Jonathan heard, that the princes of Demetrius went out with much host, over that (than) before, for to fight against him.
- $^{25}$  And he went out from Jerusalem, and ran against (or met) them in the country of Hamath; for he gave no space to them, for to enter into his country.
- <sup>26</sup> And he sent espies into (or unto) the tents of them, and they *(re)*turned again, and told (him), that they ordained for to come over thither in (the) night.
- <sup>27</sup> And when the sun had gone down, Jonathan bade his men(to) wake (or to watch), and be ready in arms to battle all (the) night. And he setted keepers by compass of (or about the) tents;
- <sup>28</sup> and (the) adversaries heard, that Jonathan was ready with his men in battle, and they dreaded, and inwardly were aghast in their heart(s), and tended fires in their tents, as if they dwelled still in their tents, but they fled privily.
- <sup>29</sup> Forsooth Jonathan, and they that were with him, knew not till to the mor-row; for they saw (the) lights burning.
- <sup>30</sup> And Jonathan pursued them, and caught not them; for they passed (over) the flood (or river) Eleutherus.
- <sup>31</sup> And Jonathan turned to (the) Arab-ians, that were called Zabadeans; and smote them, and took spoils of them;
- <sup>32</sup> and joined in gathering together his host, and came to Damascus, and walked by (or through) all that country.
- <sup>33</sup> Forsooth Simon went out, and came till to Ascalon, and to the next strengths (or strongholds); and he bow-ed down into Joppa, and occupied it.
- <sup>34</sup> For he heard, that they would give (the) help (or the stronghold) to (the) parties of Demetrius; and he putted there keepers, for to keep it.
- <sup>35</sup> And Jonathan *(re)*turned again, and called together the elder men of the people, and thought with them for to build strengths (or strongholds) in Judea,
- <sup>36</sup> and for to build walls in Jerusalem, and for to raise a great height (or a mound), betwixt the middle of the high tower and the city, for to part it from the city, (so) that it were alone, and neither they buy, neither sell, (in it).
- <sup>37</sup> And they came together, for to build (up) the city. And the wall fell down *(al)*together, that was on the stream, from the rising of the sun; and he repaired it, that is called Caphenatha.
- <sup>38</sup> And Simon builded Adida in Sephela, and strengthened it, and putted on gates and locks.
- <sup>39</sup> And when Tryphon thought for to reign at (or in) Asia, and take a diadem, and stretch out (his) hand into (or upon) Antiochus (the) king,

- <sup>40</sup> he dreaded, lest peradventure Jon-athan should not suffer (or allow) him, but fight against him; and he sought for to catch him, and slay (him). And he rose up, and went into Bethshan.
- <sup>41</sup> And Jonathan went out against him, with forty thousand of chosen men into battle, and came to Bethshan.
- <sup>42</sup> And Tryphon saw, that Jonathan came with much host, for to stretch out hands into (or against) him.
- <sup>43</sup> And he dreaded, and received him with honour, and commended him to all his friends; and gave to him gifts, and commanded to his hosts, for to obey to him as to himself.

44 And he said to Jonathan, Whereto (or Why) hast thou travailed all the people, when battle is not to us?

- <sup>45</sup> And now send again them [or send them again] into their houses. But choose thou to thee a few men, that be with thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, and I shall give it to thee, and other strengths, and host(s), (or other strongholds, and armies), and all sovereigns of offices; and I shall *(re)*turn, and I shall go away. For why therefore I came.
- <sup>46</sup> And he believed to him, and did as he said, and let go the host; and they went away into the land of Judea.
- <sup>47</sup> Forsooth he withheld with him(self) three thousand of men, of which he sent again into Galilee two thousand; soothly a thousand came with him.
- <sup>48</sup> Forsooth as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, (the) men of Ptolemais shutted the gates, and caught (hold of) him; and slew by (the) sword, all that entered with him.
- <sup>49</sup> And Tryphon sent (an) host, and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great field, for to lose (or to destroy) all the fellows of Jonathan.
- <sup>50</sup> And when they knew that Jonathan was taken, and perished, and all that were with him, they admonished them-selves, and went out ready into battle.
- <sup>51</sup> And they saw that pursued, that thing was to them (to fight) for the life, and (they) turned (back) again.
- <sup>52</sup> Forsooth they came all with peace into the land of Judea. And they bewailed Jonathan greatly, and all that were with him, and Israel mourned with great mourning.
- <sup>53</sup> And all (the) heathen men that were in the compass of them, sought for to all-break them; for they said, They have no prince and helper; now therefore overcome we them, and take away from men the mind of them.

- $^{1}$  And as Simon heard, that Tryphon (had) gathered a great host, for to come into the land of Judea, and for to destroy it,
- $^{2}% \,\,\mathrm{m}$  and saw that the people was in trembling and dread, he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people;
- <sup>3</sup> and admonished, and said, Ye know, how great things I, and my brethren, and the house of my father, have done, for (the) laws, and for holy things (or the Temple), (the) battles, and what manner anguishes we saw.
- $^4$  For love, [or For grace, or cause], of these things all my brethren perished for Israel, and I alone am left.

- <sup>5</sup> And now befall it not to me, for to spare my (own) life, [or my soul], in all the time of tribulation; for I am no better than my brethren.
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore I shall avenge my folk, and holy things (or the Temple), and our children, and (our) wives; for all (the) heathen men be gathered, for to destroy us, because of enmity.
- <sup>7</sup> And the spirit of the people was kindled together, as it (or as they) heard these words.
- <sup>8</sup> And they answered with (a) great voice, saying, Thou art our duke instead of Judas, and Jonathan, thy brother(s);
- $^{9}$  fight thou our battle(s), and all things whatever thou shalt say to us, we shall do.
- <sup>10</sup> And he gathered all (the) men fighters, and hast*(en)*ed for to end (or to finish) all the walls of Jerusalem, and [he] strengthened it in compass.
- <sup>11</sup> And he sent Jonathan, the son of Absalom, and with him a new host, into Joppa. And when he had put [or cast] out these men that were in it, he dwelf there.
- <sup>12</sup> And Tryphon moved from Ptole-mais, with much host, for to come into the land of Judea, and Jonathan with him in keeping (or his prisoner).
- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth Simon applied in Adida (or But Simon encamped at Adida), (over) against the face of the field.
- <sup>14</sup> And as Tryphon knew, that Simon rose (up), in the stead [or instead] of his brother Jonathan, and that he was to joining battle with him, he sent to him legates (or messengers), and said,
- $^{15}$  For (the) silver, that thy brother Jonathan ought (or owed), in (the) accounts of the king, (is the reason that) we (have) withheld him.
- <sup>16</sup> And now send thou an hundred talents of silver, and his two sons (as) pledges (or hostages), (so) that he not dismissed (or released) flee from us, and we shall again-send him (or let him go).
- $^{17}$  And Simon knew, that with guile he spake with him. Nevertheless he commanded the silver for to be given, and (the) children, lest he should take great enmity of the people of Israel,
- <sup>18</sup> saying, For he sent not to him (the) silver and (the) children, therefore he (Jonathan) perished.
- <sup>19</sup> And he sent the children, and an hundred talents. And he (Tryphon) lied, and dismissed not Jonathan.
- <sup>20</sup> And after these things, Tryphon came within the country, for to destroy it. And they compassed by the way that leadeth to Adora; and Simon and his host walked into each place, whither ever they went.
- $^{21}$  Soothly they that were in the high tower, sent legates, or messengers, to Tryphon, for to hasten (himself) to come by (the) desert, and send to them foods.
- <sup>22</sup> And Tryphon made ready all the multitude of horsemen, for to come in that night. Soothly there was full much snow, and (so) he came not (there, but instead went) into Gilead.
- <sup>23</sup> And when he nighed to Bascama, he slew Jonathan, and his sons, there
  - <sup>24</sup> And (then) Tryphon (re)turned, and went into his land.
- <sup>25</sup> And Simon sent, and took the bones of Jonathan, his brother, and buried those in Modin, the city of his fathers.

- <sup>26</sup> And all Israel bewailed him with great wailing, and they bemourned [or mourned] him (for) many days.
- <sup>27</sup> And Simon builded on the sepulchre of his father and his brethren an high building in (or to) the sight, with stone(s) polished, or fair dighted, (or hewn), behind and before.
- <sup>28</sup> And he ordained seven small buildings, broad beneath and sharp above, one against one, to (or for his) father, and mother, and four brethren.
- <sup>29</sup> And to these he putted about great pillars, and on the pillars (their) armours, to (or for) everlasting mind; and beside (the) armours ships engraved [or graven ships], which should be seen of (or by) men sailing in (or on) the sea.

<sup>30</sup> This is the sepulchre that Simon made in Modin, (there) till into this day.

- $^{31}$  Forsooth when Tryphon made way with Antiochus, the young king, in guile he slew him,
- <sup>32</sup> and reigned in his stead; and [he] putted on him(self) the diadem of Asia, and made great vengeance in the land.
- <sup>33</sup> And Simon builded (the) strengths of Judea, and warded them with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and locks; and putted foods in (the) strengthenings (or the strongholds).
- <sup>34</sup> And Simon chose men, and sent to King Demetrius, (so) that he should make remission (or give forgiveness) to the country, for all (the) deeds of Tryphon were done by ravishing.
- <sup>35</sup> And king Demetrius answered to him to (or with) these words, and wrote such an epistle.
- <sup>36</sup> King Demetrius to Simon, highest priest, and friend of kings, and to the elder men, and folk of Jews, health.
- <sup>37</sup> We received the golden crown, and (the) baheu, that is, an ornament of (or for) the neck, made with gold rings, which ye sent, and be ready for to make with you great peace, and for to write to (the) provosts of the king, for to release to you what things we forgave;
- 38 for whatever things we ordain to you, be stable. The strengths (or the strongholds) that ye builded, be to you;
- <sup>39</sup> and we forgive ignorances and sins, till into this day, and the crown that ye ought (or also the crown tax that ye owe us); and if any other thing was tributary, either bound to tribute, in Jerusalem, now be it not tributary.
- <sup>40</sup> And if any of you be able for to be written together among our men, be they written together, and peace be betwixt us.
- <sup>41</sup> In the hundred year and seventieth, the yoke of (the) heathen men was taken away from Israel.
- <sup>42</sup> And the people began to write in tables (or on tablets), and common [or open] doings, in the first year under Simon, (the) highest priest, (the) great duke, and prince of (the) Jews.
- <sup>43</sup> In those days Simon applied to (or encamped at) Gazara, and environed it with tents, either men of arms, (or with armed men), and made engines, and applied (or set them close) to the city, and smote one tower, and took it.
- <sup>44</sup> And they that brake out, were within the engine in the city, and (then a) great stirring was made in the city.

- <sup>45</sup> And they went up, that were in the city, with their wives, and sons, on the wall(s), with their coats cut, and cried with (a) great voice, asking of Simon that right hands be given to them,
- $^{46}$  and said, Yield thou not to us by [or after] our malices, but by [or after] thy mercies, and we shall serve to thee.
- <sup>47</sup> And Simon was bowed, either folded, and fought not against them; nevertheless he casted them out of the city, and cleansed fully the houses in which were simulacra (or idols), and then he entered into it with hymns, and blessed the Lord [or blessing the Lord].
- <sup>48</sup> And when all uncleanness was cast out thereof, he setted therein men, that should do the law; and he strengthened it, and made an habitation to him(self).
- <sup>49</sup> Forsooth they that were in the high tower of Jerusalem, were forbidden for to go out and go in, into the country, and buy, and sell; and they hungered greatly, and many of them perished for hunger.

<sup>50</sup> And they cried to Simon, for to take right hands, and he gave (it) to them; and he casted out them from thence, and cleansed the high tower from defoulings (or defilings).

- <sup>51</sup> And they entered into it in the three and twentieth day of the second month, in the hundred and one and seventy year, with praising, and branches of palms, and instruments of music, either gitterns, (or citherns), and cymbals, and harps, [or psalteries], and hymns, and songs, for the great enemy of Israel was all-broken.
- $^{52}$  And he ordained, that in all years these days should be done with glad-ness. And he strengthened the hill of the temple, that was beside the high tower, and dwelt there, he, and they that were with him.
- <sup>53</sup> And Simon saw John, his son, that he was a man of battle, and he putted him duke (or leader) of all virtues, that is, warriors, and he dwelt in Gazara.

- <sup>1</sup> In the hundred and two and seventy [or seventieth] year, king Demetrius gathered his host, and went to Media, for to draw together helps to him(self), for to overcome Tryphon.
- $^2$  And as Arsaces, king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius entered into his nigh coasts, he sent one of his princes, for to take him quick, and that he should bring him to himself.
- <sup>3</sup> And he went, and smote the host of Demetrius, and took him, and led him to Arsaces, and he putted him into keeping (or into prison).
- <sup>4</sup> And the land of Judea was still, either peaceable, in all the days of Simon, and he sought good things of (or for) his folk; and his power and his glory pleased them in all days.
- <sup>5</sup> And with all his glory he took Joppa into haven, and made entry into (the) isles of the sea;
- <sup>6</sup> and alarged (or enlarged) the coasts of his people, and wielded the country.
- <sup>7</sup> And he gathered much captivity, and was lord in Gazara, and Bethsura, and the high tower; and he did away (the) uncleannesses of it, and there was not that against-stood him.

<sup>8</sup> And each man tilled his own land in peace, and the land of Judea gave his (or its) fruits, and (the) trees of (the) fields their fruit.

9 (The) Elder men sat all in (the) streets, and treated of (the) goods of the land; and young men clothed them-(selves) in glory, and stoles of battle. that is armours, in the time of peace.

10 And to the cities he gave foods, and ordained those [or them], that those [or they] were vessels of strengthening, till that the name of his glory was named till to the last of (the) earth.

<sup>11</sup> He made peace on the land, and Israel was glad with great gladness;

<sup>12</sup> and each man sat under his vine, and under his fig tree, neither there was that feared them (or made them afraid).

13 The fighting man against them failed on (the) earth; (the) kings were all-broken in those days.

- 14 And he confirmed all meek men of his people, and he sought out the law, and did away all evil and wickedness;
- 15 and he glorified holy things, and multiplied vessels of holy things. (and he beautified the Temple, and multi-plied the vessels of the Temple.)

<sup>16</sup> And it was heard at Rome, that Jonathan was dead, and till into (the)

Spartans, and they were full sorrowful.

<sup>17</sup> Forsooth as they heard, that Simon, his brother, was made highest priest in his stead, and he wielded the country, and (the) cities in it,

- <sup>18</sup> they wrote to him in brazen tables (or on brass or bronze tablets), for to renew (the) friendship, and fellowship, that they made with Judas and Jonathan, his brethren;
- <sup>19</sup> and they were read in the sight of the church (or the congregation) in
- <sup>20</sup> And this is the ensample (or a copy) of (the) epistles, that (the) Spartans (or Lacedaemonians) sent. The prince and the cities, that is, (the) governors of the cities, of (the) Spartans to Simon, (the) great priest, and to the elder men, and priests, and to (the) other people of (the) Jews, brethren, health.

<sup>21</sup> (The) Legates that were sent to our people, told to us of your glory, and honour, and gladness, and we joyed in (or at) the entry of them.

<sup>22</sup> And we have written what things were said of them in (the) councils [or in (the) council] of (the) people, thus. Numenius, the son of Antiochus, and Antipater, the son of Jason, (the) legates of (the) Jews, came to us, and renewed with us the former friendship.

<sup>23</sup> And it pleased to the people, for to receive the men gloriously, and to put (an) ensample of their words in departed books of the people (or and to put a copy of their address in the public records), that it be to mind to the people of (the) Spartans (or so that it be remembered by the Lacedaemonians); for sooth we have written (an) ensample (or a copy) of these things to Simon, the great priest.

<sup>24</sup> Forsooth after these things, Simon sent Numenius to Rome, having a great golden shield, in (the) weight of a thousand bezants, for to ordain fellowship with them.

<sup>25</sup> Soothly when the people of Rome heard these words, they said, What doing of thankings shall we yield to Simon, and his sons?

<sup>26</sup> For he restored his brethren, and overcame the enemies of Israel from them. And they ordained to him liberty [or they ordained to them (their) liberty],

<sup>27</sup> and wrote (it) in brazen tables (or on brass or bronze tablets), and (the)Jews putted in titles (or on pillars), in the mount of Zion. And this is (an) en-sample (or a copy) of (the) writing. In the eighteenth day of the month Elul, that is, August, in the hundred and two and seventy [or seventieth] year, the third year under Simon, (the) great priest,

<sup>28</sup> in Saramel, in the great coming together of (the) priests, (and) of the people, and (the) princes, and (the) folk, and the elder men [or seniors] of the country, these things were made known;

<sup>29</sup> for many times battles were done [or be made] in your country. Forsooth Simon, the son of Mattathias, of the sons of Jarib, and his brethren, gave themselves to peril, and against-stood (the) adversaries of their folk, (so) that their holy things (or their Temple) and (the) law should stand; and by great glory they glorified their folk (or they brought great glory to their people).

<sup>30</sup> And Jonathan gathered his folk (together), and was made to them a great priest, and is put to his people.

31 And the enemies of them would defoul holy things (or defile the Temple), and destroy the country of them, and stretch forth hands into holy things of them (or upon their Temple).

32 Then Simon against-stood, and fought for his people, and gave many riches [or much money], and armed (the) men of virtue of his folk, and gave to them solds (or wages);

- 33 and strengthened the cities of Judea, and Bethsura, that was in the ends of Judea, where before were (the) armours of (the) enemies, and he put-ted there (a) help, for (a) strengthl, (or a stronghold), (with) men of (the) Iews.
- <sup>34</sup> And he strengthened Joppa, that was at the sea, and Gazara, that was in the coasts of Azotus, in which (the) enemies (had) dwelt before; and he setted there Jews, and whatever things were able to (the) amending of them, he putted in them.

35 And the people saw the doing of Simon, and (the) glory that he thought for to do to his folk, and they made him their duke, and prince of priests, for that he had done all these things, and rightwiseness, and faith that he kept to his folk; and he sought out in all manner for to raise (up) his people.

<sup>36</sup> And in his days it had prosperity in his hands, (so) that heathen men were taken away from the country of them, (and) which were (also) in the city of David in Jerusalem, in the high tower, from which they came out, and defouled all things that were in compass of holy things (or around the Temple), and gave great wound to (its) chastity (or its purity).

<sup>37</sup> And he setted therein men Jews, to defending of the country, and (the) city, and raised (up) the walls in (or of) Jerusalem.

<sup>38</sup> And king Demetrius ordained to him the highest priesthood;

<sup>39</sup> by this he made him his friend, and glorified him in great glory.

<sup>40</sup> For he heard, that (the) Jews were called of (or by the) Romans (their) friends, and fellows, and brethren, and that they received (the) legates (or the ambassadors) of Simon gloriously;

<sup>41</sup> and that (the) Jews, and (the) priests of them, consented, him for to be their duke, and highest priest [into] without end, till there rise a faithful prophet;

- <sup>42</sup> and that he be duke on them, and care, or busyness, were to him for (the) holy things; and that he should ordain governors [or provosts] on the works of them, and on the country, and on arms, and on strengths (or strongholds); and care be to him of (the) holy things (or the Temple);
- <sup>43</sup> and that he be heard of (or obey-ed by all) men, and all (the) writings in the country be written together under the name of him, and that he be covered with purple and gold;
- <sup>44</sup> and that it be not leaveful to (or lawful for) any of the people, and to priests, for to make anything of these void, and against-say (or gainsay) to these things that be said of him, either for to call together (a) covent, or convent, (or an assembly) in the country without him; and for to be clothed in purple, and for to use a golden lace, or (an) ouch (or clasp).
- <sup>45</sup> Soothly he that shall do without this, either [or] shall make void any of these (things), shall be guilty.
- <sup>46</sup> And (so) it pleased (al)together to all the people, for to ordain Simon, and do by [or after] these words.
- <sup>47</sup> And Simon received (this), and it pleased him, that he should use or that he was set in high priesthood or (the) highest priesthood, and be duke and prince of the folk of (the) Jews, and priests, and be the sovereign of all men.
- <sup>48</sup> And they ordained for to put this writing in brazen tables (or on brass tablets), and put them in the wall about the compassing [or the walking place] of (the) holy things (or the Temple precincts), in (a) solemn place;
- <sup>49</sup> forsooth for to put (an) ensample (or copy) of these in the treasury, (so) that Simon have (them) and his sons.

- <sup>1</sup> And king Antiochus, the son of Demetrius, sent epistles from (the) isles of the sea to Simon, the priest, and prince of the folk of (the) Jews, and to all the folk:
- <sup>2</sup> and those were containing this manner (or contents). King Antiochus to Simon, (the) great priest, and to the folk of (the) Jews, health.
- <sup>3</sup> For (as) some men bearing pestilence wielded the realm of our fathers, forsooth I will challenge the realm, and restore it, as it was before; I made a chosen multitude of host, and I made ships of war.
- $^4$  Forsooth I will go forth by coun-tries, (so) that I do vengeance on them that destroyed our country, and that made many cities desolate in my realm.
- <sup>5</sup> Now therefore I ordain, either confirm, to thee all offerings, that kings before me forgave to thee, and what-ever other gifts they forgave to thee;
- $^6$  and I suffer (or allow) thee for to make print, or smiting, of thine own money, in thy region, or country.
- <sup>7</sup> Soothly I suffer Jerusalem for to be holy and free (or I allow Jerusalem and the Temple to be free), and all arms that be made, and strengths (or strongholds), that thou hast made out, and that thou holdest, dwell to thee;
- <sup>8</sup> and all debt of (or owing to) the king, and those that be to coming of (the) king's things, from this time and into all-time be forgiven to thee.
- <sup>9</sup> Soothly when we shall wield our realm, we shall glorify thee, and thy folk, and temple, with great glory, so that your glory be showed in all earth.

- <sup>10</sup> In the hundred year and four and seventieth year Antiochus went out into the land of his fathers, and all (the) hosts came together to him, so that few were left with Tryphon.
- <sup>11</sup> And king Antiochus pursued him, and Tryphon came into Dora, and fled [or fleeing] by the sea coast;
- $^{12}$  for he knew, that evils were gathered on him, and (that) the host forsook him.
- <sup>13</sup> And Antiochus applied on (or encamped at) Dora, with sixscore thousand of fighting men, and eight thousand of horsemen;
- <sup>14</sup> and he compassed the city, and ships came from the sea; and they travailed the city by land and (by) sea, and suffered (or allowed) no man for to enter, either [or] go out.
- <sup>15</sup> Forsooth Numenius came, and they that were with him, from Rome, and had epistles written to (the) kings and countries, in which these things were contained.
  - <sup>16</sup> Lucius, consul, or chief governor, of Romans, to king Ptolemy, health.
- <sup>17</sup> Legates, either messengers, of Jews came to us, (who be) our friends, renewing the former friendship and fellowship, sent of (or from) Simon, prince of priests, and people of Jews.
  - <sup>18</sup> Soothly they brought also a golden shield of a thousand bezants.
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore it pleased to us for to write to (the) kings and countries, that they do not (do) evils to them, neither impugn them, and their cities, and their countries, and that they bear not help to men fighting against them.
  - <sup>20</sup> Forsooth it is seen to us, for to receive of (or from) them the shield.
- $^{21}$  Therefore if any men of pestilence shall flee from the country of them to you, betake ye them to Simon, (the) prince of priests, (so) that he do vengeance on them by [or after] his law.
- $^{22}$  These same things be written to king Demetrius, and Attalus, and Ariarathes, and Arsaces,
- <sup>23</sup> and into all (the) countries, and (to) Sampsames, and Spartans, and Delus, and Myndus, and Sicyon, and Caria, and Samos, and Pamphylia, and Lycia, and Halicarnassus, and Rhodes, and Aradus (or Phaselis), and Cos, and Side, and Aradus, and Gortyna, and Cnidus, and Cyprus, and Cyrene.
- <sup>24</sup> Forsooth they have written (an) ensample of these to Simon, prince of priests, and to the people of (the) Jews.
- <sup>25</sup> Forsooth Antiochus, the king, applied tents in (or encamped at) Dora the second time, moving to it evermore hands, and making engines; and he closed *(up)(al)*together Tryphon, lest he went out.
- <sup>26</sup> And Simon sent to him two thousand of chosen men, into help, and silver, and gold, and plenteous vessels;
- <sup>27</sup> and he would not take those. But he brake all things that he covenanted with him before, and alienated himself from him.
- <sup>28</sup> And he sent to him Athenobius, one of his friends, for to treat with him, and said, Ye hold Joppa, and Gazara, and the high tower that is in Jerusalem, cities of my realm;
- <sup>29</sup> ye have wasted the coasts of them, and have done great destroying in the land, and without (or through-out) the coasts of Judea ye be lords by many places in my realm.

- <sup>30</sup> Now therefore give ye the cities, which ye occupied, and (the) tributes of places, of which ye be lords, out of (the) ends of Judea.
- <sup>31</sup> Either [Or] else give ye for them five hundred talents of silver, and of (the) destroying that ye have destroyed, and of (the) tributes of cities, (an)other five hundred talents; either [or] else we shall come, and overcome you.
- <sup>32</sup> And Athenobius, (the) friend of the king, came into Jerusalem, and saw the glory of Simon, and clearness, in gold, and silver, and plenteous apparel, and was astonished; and [he] told to him the words of the king.
- <sup>33</sup> And Simon answered, and said to him, Neither we took alien land, neither withheld other men's things, but heri-tage of our fathers, that was wielded sometime unjustly of our enemies.
  - <sup>34</sup> Soothly we have time, and challenge the heritage of our fathers.
- <sup>35</sup> For why of Joppa and Gazara that thou askest, they did great vengeance in our people, and [in our] country; of these we (shall) give an hundred talents. And Athenobius answered not a word.
- <sup>36</sup> Soothly he *(re)*turned again with wrath to the king, and told again to him these words, and the glory of Simon, and all things that he saw. And the king was wroth with great wrath.
  - <sup>37</sup> Forsooth Tryphon flew (or fled) by ship into Orthosia.
- <sup>38</sup> And the king ordained Cendebeus, duke of the sea coast, and gave to him (an) host of footmen and horsemen;
- <sup>39</sup> and commanded him for to move (his) tents against (or towards) the face of Judah; and commanded him for to (re)build Kedron, and stop the gates of the city, and overcome the people; forsooth the king pursued Tryphon.
- <sup>40</sup> And Cendebeus came to Jamnia, and began for to stir the people to wrath, and for to defoul Judea, and make the people captive, and slay (them).
- <sup>41</sup> and *(to)(re)*build Kedron. And he setted there horsemen and (a) host, (so) that they should go out, and should walk by (the) way*(s)* of Judea, as the king ordained to him.

- <sup>1</sup> And John ascended or went up from Gazara, and told to Simon, his father, what things Cendebeus did in (or to) the people of them.
- <sup>2</sup> And Simon called his twain elder sons, Judah and John, and said to them, I, and my brethren, and the house of my father, have overcome the enemies of Israel, from youth till into this day; and it had prosperity in our hands, for to deliver Israel sometimes.
- <sup>3</sup> Forsooth now I have elded, [or olded], (or gotten old), but be ye in my stead, and of my brother, and go ye out, and fight for our folk; forsooth (the) help of heaven be with you.
- <sup>4</sup> And he chose (out) of the country twenty thousand of fighting men, and horsemen; and they went out to (or against) Cendebeus, and slept in Modin.
- <sup>5</sup> And they rose early, and went into the field, and lo! a copious host came into the meeting of them, of footmen and horsemen; and a running flood (or river) was betwixt the midst of them.

<sup>6</sup> And he and his people moved the battle array or the tents against the face of them, (or opposite them), and he saw the people trembling to pass over the stream of water, and he passed over the first; and (the) men saw him, and passed (over) after him.

<sup>7</sup> And he parted the people, and horsemen in the middle of footmen; forsooth the multitude of horsemen of (the) adversaries was full plenteous.

- <sup>8</sup> And they cried on high with (the) holy trumps; and Cendebeus was turned into flight, and his host, and many of them fell wounded; soothly the residues fled into (the) strength.
- <sup>9</sup> Then Judas, the brother of John, was wounded; forsooth John pursued them, till Cendebeus came to Kedron, which he (had) builded (again).
- <sup>10</sup> And they fled till to (the) towers, that were in the fields of Azotus, and he burnt them with fire; and there fell of them two thousand of men, and he *(re)*turned again into Judea in peace.
- <sup>11</sup> And Ptolemy (or Ptolemeus), the son of Abubus, was ordained duke in the field of Jericho, and [he] had much silver and gold;

12 for he wedded the daughter of the highest priest.

- <sup>13</sup> And the heart of him was raised (up), and he would wield the country; and he thought guile against Simon and his sons, for to do away them.
- <sup>14</sup> Forsooth Simon walked by (the) cities that were in the country of Judea, and bare busyness of them, and came down into Jericho, he, and Mattathias, his son, and Judas, in the hundred year and seven and seventieth, in the eleventh month; this is the month of Shebat, that is, January-February.
- <sup>15</sup> And (Ptolemy) the son of Abubus, received them into a little strength, that is called Docus, with guile, which he (had) builded; and made to them a great feast, and hid men there.
- <sup>16</sup> And when Simon was full of drink, and his sons, Ptolemy rose with his men, and took their arms, and entered into the feast, and slew him, and his two sons, and some children of him.

<sup>17</sup> And he did a great deceit in Israel, and yielded evils for goods.

<sup>18</sup> And Ptolemy wrote these things, and sent to the king, for to send to him an host into help, and he should (or would) betake to him the country and (the) cities of them, and tributes.

<sup>19</sup> And he sent others into Gazara, for to do away John; and to the tribunes he sent epistles, that they should come to him, and he should give to them silver, and gold, and gifts.

- <sup>20</sup> And he sent other men, for to occupy Jerusalem, and the mount of the temple.
- <sup>21</sup> And some man ran before, and told to John in Gazara, that his father perished, and his brethren, and that he, (Ptolemy), sent that thou also be slain.
- <sup>22</sup> Forsooth as he heard, he wonder-ed [or dreaded] greatly; and he caught the men that came to lose (or destroy) him, and he slew them; for he knew, that they sought for to lose him.
- <sup>23</sup> And other things of John's words, and of his battles, and good virtues, in which he did strongly, and of (the) building of walls, which he fully made, and of things done of (or by) him,
- <sup>24</sup> lo! these be written in the book of days of his priesthood, since he was made prince of priests after his father.

2ND MACCABEES

- $^{1}$  To brethren Jews, that be scattered through(out) Egypt, (the) brethren, that be in Jerusalem, (the) Jews, and that be in the country of Judea, say health and good peace.
- <sup>2</sup> God do well to you, and have mind of his testament, that he spake to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, that be of the number of his true servants;
- <sup>3</sup> and give he (an) heart to you all, (so) that ye worship him, and do the will of him with (a) great heart and (a) willful (or a willing) soul.
  - <sup>4</sup> Open he your heart in his law, and in his behests, and make he peace;
- <sup>5</sup> hear he graciously your prayers, and be reconciled to you, neither forsake you in evil time.
  - <sup>6</sup> And now we be here praying for you.
- <sup>7</sup> While Demetrius reigneth in the hundred year and sixty and ninth, we Jews have written to you in tribulation and fierceness, that came above to (or upon) us in these years, and since Jason went out of the holy land and realm.
- <sup>8</sup> They burnt the gate, and shedded out innocent blood; and we prayed to the Lord, and we be graciously heard, and we have offered sacrifice, and clean flour, and have tended lanterns, and have put forth loaves.
- <sup>9</sup> And now make ye solemn the days of Scenopegia (or Feast of Tabernacles), either cleansing of the temple, of the month Kislev, that is, November.
- <sup>10</sup> In the hundred year and eight and eightieth, the people that is in Jerusalem, and in Judea, and the elder men, and Judas, to Aristobulus, master (or teacher) of Ptolemy, (the) king, that is of the kin of (the) anointed priests, and to them that be in Egypt, (the) Jews, health of soul, and health of body.
- <sup>11</sup> We delivered of (or by) God from great perils, do thankings to him hugely, as we that have fought against such a king.
- 12 For he made for to boil out of Persia them that fought against us and the holy city.
- <sup>13</sup> For why when the duke himself was in Persia, and with him a great host, he fell in the temple of Nanea, and deceived by the counsel of the priest(s) of Nanea.
- <sup>14</sup> Forsooth Antiochus came to the place, as to dwelling with him, and his friends, and for to take many riches [or much monies] by name of dower (or in the mane of a dowry).
- <sup>15</sup> And when (the) priests of Nanea had put forth those [or had put them forth], and he with few entered within the compass of the temple, they closed the temple, when Antiochus had entered.
- <sup>16</sup> And when the privy entry of the temple was opened, they threw stones, and smited the duke, and them that were with him, and they parted (them) limb-meal (or limb for limb); and when the heads were girded off, they casted *(them)(with)*outforth.
  - <sup>17</sup> By all things blessed be God, that betook unpious men.
- 18 Therefore we to making purify-ing, or cleansing, of the temple, in the five and twentieth day of the month Kislev, that is, November, led (it) needful for to signify to you, that and ye do also the day of Scenopegia, and the day of fire, that was given, when Nehemiah offered sacrifices, after that the temple and the altar were builded.

- <sup>19</sup> For why when our fathers were led into Persia, (the) priests that then were worshippers of God, hid privily fire taken of (or from) the altar, in a valley, where was a deep pit and dry; and therein they kept it, so that the place was unknown to all men.
- <sup>20</sup> Forsooth when many years had passed, and it pleased God that Nehemiah was sent from the king of Persia, he sent the sons' sons of the priests that (had) hidden (it), for to seek the fire; and as they told to us, they found not fire, but fat water.
- $^{2\dot{1}}$  And he commanded them for to draw (it up), and bring (it) to him. And Nehemiah, the priest, commanded the sacrifices, that were put on, for to be sprinkled with the water, those and the trees (or the wood), and those things that were put above (or upon them).
- $^{22}$  And as this was done, and the time came, in which the sun shone again, that before was in (a) cloud, a great fire was kindled, so that all men wondered.
- <sup>23</sup> Forsooth all (the) priests made (a) prayer, while the sacrifice was ended; and Jonathan began, and others forsooth answered.
- <sup>24</sup> And the prayer of Nehemiah was having this manner. Lord God, Maker (out) of nought of all things, dreadful and strong, just and merciful, which alone art (the) good King,
- <sup>25</sup> alone giving, alone just, and almighty, and without beginning and end, which deliverest Israel from all evil, which madest (the) fathers chosen, and hallowedest them;
- <sup>26</sup> take thou (the) sacrifice for all thy people Israel, and keep thy part, and hallow (it).
- <sup>27</sup> Gather our dispersion, or scattering, deliver them that serve to heathen men, and behold thou despised men, and made abominable, (so) that heathen men know, that thou art our God.
  - <sup>28</sup> Torment thou men oppressing us, and doing despite in pride.
  - <sup>29</sup> Ordain thy people in thine holy place, as Moses said.
  - <sup>30</sup> Forsooth (the) priests sung hymns, till the sacrifice was ended.
- <sup>31</sup> Forsooth when the sacrifice was ended, Nehemiah commanded (that) the more (or the great) stones for to be beshed of (or with) the residue water;
- <sup>32</sup> and as this thing was done, (a) flame was kindled of (or from) them, but it was wasted of (or by) the light, that again-shined of (or from) the altar.
- <sup>33</sup> Forsooth after the thing was known, it was told to the king of Persia, that in the place in which the priests that were translated (or were led away), had hid fire, water appeared, of (or with) which Nehemiah and they that were with him cleansed (the) sacrifices.
- <sup>34</sup> Forsooth the king beholding and diligently examining the thing, made a temple to (or for) him(self), for to prove that thing that was done.
- <sup>35</sup> And when he had proved (it), he gave many goods to (the) priests, and other gifts; and he took (them) with his hand, and he gave (them) to them.
- <sup>36</sup> Forsooth Nehemiah called this place Nephthar, that is interpreted, either expounded, cleansing; forsooth with many it is called Naphtha.

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth it is found in (the) writings [or (the) describings] of Jeremy (or Jere-miah), the prophet, that he commanded them that passed over (or who were carried away), for to take (of the) fire, as it is signified, and as he bade to men passing over, or (taken) captive.
- <sup>2</sup> And he gave to them the law, lest they forgot the behests of the Lord; and that they should not err in (their) souls, [or understandings], seeing gold-en and silvern simulacra, and (the) ornaments or adornments of them.
- <sup>3</sup> And he said other such things, and admonished, that they should not remove the law from their hearts.
- <sup>4</sup> Soothly it was in that writing, how the prophet bade, by God's answer made to him, that the tabernacle and the ark follow with them (or with him), till he went out into the hill in which Moses ascended, and saw the heritage of God.
- <sup>5</sup> And Jeremy came, and found there a place of [a] den (or a cave), and brought in thither the tabernacle, and the ark, and (the) altar of incense, and stopped the door.
- <sup>6</sup> And some men came together that followed, for to mark the place to (or for) them, and [they] might not find (it).
- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth as Jeremy knew, he blamed them, and said, that the place shall be unknown, till God gather the congregation [together] of people, and be made helpful, or merciful.
- <sup>8</sup> And then the Lord shall show these things, and the majesty of the Lord shall appear; and a cloud shall be, as to Moses it was showed, and as when Solomon asked, that the place should be hallowed to the great God, this cloud showed;
- <sup>9</sup> and as having wisdom, he offered (the) sacrifice of (the) hallowing, and of (the) performing (or the completion) of the temple.
- <sup>10</sup> As and Moses prayed to the Lord, and fire came down from heaven, and wasted the burnt sacrifice(s); as and Solomon prayed, and fire came down from heaven, and wasted the burnt sacrifice[s].
- $^{11}$  And Moses said, For that it is not cleansed, that was for sin, and (so) it was wasted.
- $^{12}$  Also and Solomon in eight days made solemn the hallowing (or celebrated the feast).
- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth and these same things were put in descriptions, and expositions, [or the almeries, (or aumbries)] of Nehemiah; and as he made a little bible (or a library), and gathered books of countries, and of prophets, and of David, and epistles of kings, and gifts.
- <sup>14</sup> Also soothly and Judas gathered all those things which he learned by battle, that befell to us, and they be with us.
- $^{\rm 15}$  Therefore if ye desire these, send ye (someone) which shall bear (them) to you.
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore we doing purifying, have written to you; therefore ye shall do well, if ye shall do these days.
- <sup>17</sup> Forsooth it is God that delivered his people, and yielded his heritage to all, and realm, and priesthood, and (the) hallowing (or the Temple),

- <sup>18</sup> as he promised in the law, we hope that soon he shall have mercy on us, and shall gather (us together) from under heaven into the holy place; for he delivered us from great perils, and purged the place.
- <sup>19</sup> Soothly of Judas Maccabeus, and his brethren, and of (the) purifying of the great temple, and of (the) hallow-ing of the altar;
- <sup>20</sup> but and of the battles, that pertain to Antiochus the noble, (or Antiochus Epiphanes), and his son Eupator;
- <sup>21</sup> and of lightnings that were made from heaven, to them that strongly did for (the) Jews, so that, when they were few, they avenged all the country, and drove (out) an heathen multitude,
- <sup>22</sup> and recovered the most famous temple in all the world; and delivered the city, (so) that the laws that were done away were restored; for the Lord was made helpful to them, with all peaceability.
- <sup>23</sup> And also we attempted or assayed for to abridge in one book, (all the) things comprehended of (or by) Jason of Cyrene in five books.
- <sup>24</sup> Forsooth we beheld the multitude and (the) hardness (or the difficulty) of books, to men willing (or desiring) for to begin the tellings of stories, for (the) multitude of things;
- <sup>25</sup> and soothly we had busyness, (or concern), [or we cared], that it were delectation, or liking, of soul to men willing (or desiring) for to read; forsooth to studious men, that they might lightlier (or easier) betake to mind; forsooth that to all men reading profit be given.
- <sup>26</sup> And soothly we took to us-selves [or ourselves] that received this work, by cause (or because) of abridging, not (an) easy travail, but soothly a work full of wakings (or watching) and [of] sweat.
- <sup>27</sup> As these that make ready a feast, and seek for to please to the will of other men, for (the) grace of many men, we suffer willfully travail (or willingly we suffer this travail);
- <sup>28</sup> forsooth we grant the truth of all authors, but we us-self [or we our-selves] study to shortness, by the form given.
- <sup>29</sup> Forsooth as it is to the chief carpenter [or the wright] of a new house, to be busy of [or to care (for)] all the building; to him soothly that busyeth for to paint, those things be to be sought out, that be covenable to (or suitable for) adorning; so it is to be guessed also in (or with) us.
- <sup>30</sup> Forsooth for to gather understand-ing, and ordain a word, and full busily for to inquire all parts of the story, each by themselves, accordeth to an author;
- $^{31}$  for sooth for to pursue (or to follow) shortness of saying, and for to eschew out pursuings of things, is to be granted to the abridger.
- <sup>32</sup> Therefore from henceforth we shall begin the telling; be it enough for to have said so much of prefaction (or of prefacing), or before speaking; for it is folly for to float out, either be long, before the story, but in that story for to be made short.

<sup>1</sup> Therefore when the holy city was inhabited in all peace, laws also yet were best kept, for the faithfulness of Onias, (the) bishop [or for ordinance and piety of Onias, (the high) priest], and for souls hating evil things,

<sup>2</sup> it was made, that both they kings and princes led the place worthy (to the) highest honour, and lighted the temple with (their) greatest gifts;

<sup>3</sup> so that Seleucus, king of Asia, gave of his rents all (the) expenses pertain-ing to the service of (the) sacrifices.

<sup>4</sup> Forsooth Simon, of the lineage of Benjamin, that was ordained sovereign [or provost] of the temple, when the prince of priests against-stood him, strove for to cast some wicked thing in the city.

<sup>5</sup> But when he might not overcome Onias, he came to Apollonius, son of Thraseus, that in that time was duke of Celosyria and Phenice (or governor of Greater Syria and Phoenicia);

<sup>6</sup> and told to him, that the treasury in Jerusalem was full with riches [or with monies] unnumberable; and that common riches be great, which pertain not to the reason (or to the account) of (the) sacrifices; forsooth that it was possible, that all things fall under (the) power of the king.

<sup>7</sup> And when Apollonius had told to the king of (the) riches [or monies] that were borne in, he sent Helio-dorus called, that was on (or over) his needs, with commandments for to bear out the foresaid money.

<sup>8</sup> And anon (or at once) Heliodorus took the way, soothly by form as if he were to passing by Celosyria and Phenice cities (or visiting the cities of Greater Syria and Phoenicia), but in true thing to performing the king's purpose.

<sup>9</sup> But when he came to Jerusalem, and was received benignly of (or by) the highest priest in the city, he told of (the) doom given of the riches [or (the) monies], and opened for cause of what thing he came; forsooth he asked, if verily these things were so.

<sup>10</sup> Then the highest priest showed, that these things were kept to the lifelodes [or the livelodes](or for the livelihoods) of widows, and of father-less either methods shildren:

less either motherless children;

<sup>11</sup> that some soothly were of Hyrcanus (son of) Tobias, a man full noble in these things, that unpious Simon had told; forsooth that all the talents of silver were four hundred, and of gold two hundred;

<sup>12</sup> for that it was impossible on all manner, that they be deceived, that betook their things to be kept to the place and temple, that by (or in) all the world was honoured for his worship-ping (or its distinction) and holiness.

13 And he said, for these things that he had in commandments of the king, That in all kind those should be borne to the king.

14 Forsooth in the day ordained Heliodorus entered, to ordain of these things; for sooth there was not a little trembling through all the city.

<sup>15</sup> Forsooth (the) priests casted them-selves before the altar, with (their) priests' stoles, and called to help from heaven him that gave (a) law of things put in keeping, (so) that he should keep those things safe to (or for) them that had put those [or them] in keeping.

<sup>16</sup> Now forsooth he that saw the cheer (or the face) of the highest priest, was wounded in soul; for the face and colour was changed, and declared the inward sorrow of (his) soul.

<sup>17</sup> For some sorrowfulness was shed about to the man, and hideousness of body, by which the sorrow of heart was made known to men beholding.

<sup>18</sup> Also other men gathered together flock-meal, and came out of (their) houses, beseeching with open beseech-ing, for that that the place was to coming into despite.

- <sup>19</sup> And (the) women were gird on the breast with hair-shirts, and flowed together by (or in the) streets; but and virgins, that were closed *(up)(al)*together, ran to Onias; others forsooth to the walls, some soothly beheld by (the) windows.
  - <sup>20</sup> Forsooth all held forth (their) hands into heaven, and besought;
- <sup>21</sup> for there was a wretched abiding of (the) multitude mingled (or mixed), and of the highest priest ordained in strife, or anguish.
- <sup>22</sup> And these soothly called Almighty God to help, that things taken in keeping should be kept in all holi-ness, to (or for) them that had put those [or had put them] in keeping.
  - <sup>23</sup> Forsooth Heliodorus performed that thing, that he had deemed,
- <sup>24</sup> and he was present with his knights in the same place about the treasury. But the Spirit of Almighty God made great evidence of his showing, so that all that were hardy for to obey to him, fell down by (the) virtue (or the power) of God, and were con-verted into feebleness, [or unstrength], and inward dread.
- <sup>25</sup> For an horse appeared to them, and had a dreadful sitter (upon him), adorn-ed with (the) best coverings; and he with fierceness rushed the former feet to Heliodorus (or he rushed with fierce-ness at Heliodorus with his forefeet); forsooth he that sat on him, seemed [or was seen] for to have golden armours.
- <sup>26</sup> Also two other young men appear-ed, fair in virtue (or in strength), best in glory, and fair in clothing, that stood about him, and on each side scourged him without ceasing, and beat (him) with many wounds.
- <sup>27</sup> Soothly forsooth Heliodorus fell down to the earth, and they ravished him shed about with much darkness, and casted out him, put in(to) a pack saddle, either (a) horse's litter.
- <sup>28</sup> And he that entered with many runners and knights into the foresaid treasury, was borne, when no man helped him, for the open virtue (or manifest power) of God was known;
- <sup>29</sup> and forsooth by God's virtue he lay dumb, and *(de)*prived of all hope and health.
- <sup>30</sup> Forsooth these Jews blessed the Lord, for he magnified his place; and the temple, that a little before was full of dread and noise, is (now) filled with joy and gladness, for the Lord Almighty appeared.
- $^{31}$  Then for sooth some of Heliodorus' friends prayed anon Onias, for to call to help the Highest, and for to give life to him, that was set in the last spirit.
- <sup>32</sup> Soothly the highest priest beheld, lest peradventure the king would suppose any malice fully done of (or by the) Jews about Heliodorus, and offered for (the) health of the man a wholeful or an healthful sacrifice.
- <sup>33</sup> And when the highest priest prayed, the same younglings, clothed in the same clothes, stood nigh [to] Heliodorus, and said, Do thou thank-ings to Onias, the priest; for why for him the Lord hath given life to thee;
- $^{34}$  thou soothly, that art scourged of (or by) God, tell to all men the great do-ings and power of God. And when these things were said, they appeared not.
- <sup>35</sup> Heliodorus soothly, when a sacrifice was offered to God, and great avows were promised to him, that granted him for to live, and did thankings, or thanks, to Onias; and when his host was received, he went again to the king.

- <sup>36</sup> Soothly he witnessed to all men (about) the works of (the) great God, which he saw under (or with) his eyes.
- <sup>37</sup> Forsooth when the king asked Heliodorus, who was able to be sent yet once (again) to Jerusalem, he said,
- <sup>38</sup> If thou hast any enemy, either traitor of thy realm, send thither, and thou shalt receive him beaten, if never-theless he shall escape; for some virtue (or power) of God is verily (or is truly) in the place.
- <sup>39</sup> For why he that hath dwelling in heavens, is (a) visitor and (a) helper of that place; and he smiteth and loseth (or destroyeth) them, that come to mis-do.
- <sup>40</sup> Therefore of Heliodorus, and (the) keeping of the treasury, thus the thing hath itself.

- <sup>1</sup> Simon forsooth before-said, accuser of (the) riches [or monies], and of the country, spake evil of (or about) Onias, as if he had stirred Heliodorus to these things, and he had been stirrer of evils;
- <sup>2</sup> and he durst say (that) the pur-veyor of the city, and defender of his folk, and lover of the law of God, (was a) traitor [or enemy] of the realm.
- <sup>3</sup> But when (their) enmities came forth in so much, that also by some familiar, [or nigh], friends of Simon, manslayings were done,
- <sup>4</sup> Onias beheld the peril of strife, and that Apollonius was mad, as duke of Celosyria and Phenice (or governor of Greater Syria and Phoenicia), for to increase the malice of Simon.
- <sup>5</sup> And Onias gave himself to the king; not as (an) accuser of (the) citizens, but beholding with himself the common profit of all the multitude.
- <sup>6</sup> For he saw, that it was impossible that peace were given to things without the king's purveyance, and that Simon might not cease of his folly.
- <sup>7</sup> But after the passing out of Seleucus' life, when Antiochus, that was called noble (or Epiphanes), had taken (the) realm, Jason, the brother of Onias, coveted the highest priest-hood or the high priesthood;
- <sup>8</sup> and Jason went to the king, and promised to him three hundred talents and sixty of silver, and of other rents fourscore talents;
- <sup>9</sup> over these things he promised also other talents an hundred and fifty, if it were granted to his power, for to ordain a school, and (a) gather-ing of young men to him; and for to write them that were in Jerusalem (known as the) Antiochenes, or (the) men of Antiochus.
- <sup>10</sup> And when the king had granted this, and he wielded the princehood, anon he began to translate to heathen custom(s), (the) men of his lineage.
- <sup>11</sup> And when these things were done away, which by cause (or because) of humanity, either courtesy, were ordain-ed of (or by) kings to (the) Jews by John, the father of Eupolemus, which was ordained in lawful message of friendship and fellowship with (the) Romans, he destroyed (the) rights, or (the) laws, of (the) citizens, and made shrewd (or depraved) ordinances;
- <sup>12</sup> for he was hardy for to ordain a school of heathenness under that high tower, and for to put all the best of (the) fair young men in bordel houses.

- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth this was not beginning, but some increasing and profit of heathen and alien life, for the unleaveful and unheard great trespass of unpious(ness), and not priest Jason;
- <sup>14</sup> so that (the) priests not now were given about offices of the altar, but they despised the temple, and left (the) sacrifices, and they hast*(en)*ed for to be made fellows of wrestling or of rassling, and of unjust giving of him, that is, of his giving of (the) worst teaching, and in occupations of a dish, either playing with a leaden dish (or discus).
- <sup>15</sup> And soothly they had (the) honours of (their) fathers at nought, and deemed (the) Greek glories best.
- <sup>16</sup> For cause of which perilous contention had them, and they followed their ordinances; and by all things they coveted them for to be like them, which [or whom] they had (as their) enemies and destroyers.
- $^{17}$  Forsooth for to do unfaithfully against God's laws it befalleth not without pain, but the time pursuing (or following) shall declare these things.
- <sup>18</sup> Soothly when Justus, done once in five years (or Now when the athletic game that was done every five years), was made solemnly in Tyre, and the king was present,
- <sup>19</sup> Jason, full of great trespasses, sent from Jerusalem men sinners, (or some Antiochenes), bearing three hundred double drachmas of silver into (or for the) sacrifice of Hercules; which these men that bare out asked, that those [or that they] were not given in sacri-fices, for it needed not, but that those shall be ordained into other expenses.
- <sup>20</sup> But soothly these were offered of (or by) him that sent into (or for) the sacrifice of Hercules; soothly for (the) men present, those [or they] were given into (the) making of great ships.
- <sup>21</sup> Forsooth Apollonius, son of Menes-theus, was sent into Egypt for primates, or princes, of Ptolemy Philometor, the king; when Antiochus knew him made alien from needs of the realm, he counselled for [or to] his own profits, and went from thence, and came to Joppa, and from thence to Jerusalem.
- <sup>22</sup> And he was received of (or by) Jason and the city worshipfully (or honourably), with (the) lights of brands, and praisings, and went in, and from thence he turned the host into Phenice (or unto Phoenicia).
- $^{23}$  And after the time of three years, Jason sent Menelaus, the brother of Simon above-said, bearing riches [or monies] to the king, and of necessary causes to bearing answers.
- <sup>24</sup> And he was commended to the king, and, when he had magnified the face of his power, he turned into (or unto) himself the highest priesthood, and setted above [or above putting to] Jason three hundred talents of silver.
- $^{25}$  And by commandments taken of the king, he came, soothly having nothing worthy to (or of) priesthood; but he bare the soul of a cruel tyrant, and (the) wrath of [a] wild beast.
- <sup>26</sup> And soothly that Jason, that took his own brother captive, was deceived, and was outlawed, and put out into the country of (the) Ammonites.
- <sup>27</sup> But Menelaus forsooth wielded the princehood, but of (or as for the) riches promised to the king, he did nothing, when Sostratus, that was (the) sovereign of the high tower, made exaction, or masterful asking[or that was provost of the high rock, made exaction, or unjust asking],

<sup>28</sup> for why raising [or extraction] of tributes pertained to him; for which cause both were called to the king.

<sup>29</sup> And Menelaus was removed from priesthood, and Lysimachus, his brother, was (his) successor; soothly Sostratus was made sovereign of men of Cyprus.

<sup>30</sup> And when these things were done, it befell (to them of) Tarsus and Mallus for to move debate, for that they were given in gift to the concubine of Antiochus, the king.

- <sup>32</sup> Forsooth Menelaus deemed that he had taken covenable time, and stole some golden vessels of (or from) the temple, and gave (some of them) to Andronicus, and he sold to Tyre others, and by (or to the) nigh cities.
- <sup>33</sup> And when Onias had known this thing most certainly, he reproved him, and held himself in(to) a secure place at Antiochia, beside Daphne.
- <sup>34</sup> Wherefore Menelaus went to Andronicus, and prayed that he would slay Onias. And when he came to Onias, and had given right hands with an oath, though he was suspect to him, he counselled him for to go forth (out) of asylum, and anon he slew him, and dreaded not rightwiseness.

<sup>35</sup> For which cause not only (the) Jews, but and other nations, were wroth, and bare heavily of (or for) the unjust death of so great a man.

<sup>36</sup> But Jews at Antioch, and (the) Greeks, together *(com)*plained of (or about) the unjust death of Onias, and went to the king, that *(re)*turned again from (the) places of (or about) Cilicia.

<sup>37</sup> Therefore the king Antiochus was sorry in soul for Onias, and was bowed to mercy, and shedded tears, and bethought on the soberness and mildness (or humility) of the dead man.

<sup>38</sup> And his heart was kindled, and he commanded that Andronicus, unclothed of (his) purple, be led about by all the city, and that in that place in which he had done unpious(ly) against Onias, the cursed man be (de) prived of life; for the Lord gave to him even-worthy pain.

<sup>39</sup> Forsooth when many sacrileges were done of (or by) Lysimachus, by counsel of Menelaus, in the temple, and the fame (or story) was published, (a) multitude was gathered against Lysimachus; for much gold was then borne out.

- <sup>40</sup> Forsooth when the companies rose, and souls were filled with wrath, Lysimachus began for to use almost three thousand armed wicked hands, by some tyrant leader, eld [or old] in age, and also in madness.
- <sup>41</sup> But as they understood the endeavouring of Lysimachus, others took stones, others strong staffs, (and) some soothly casted ashes into (or onto) Lysimachus.
- <sup>42</sup> And many soothly were wounded, some forsooth were cast down, all forsooth were (al)together turned into flight; also they slew him (the) sacrileger, either (the) thief of (the) holy things, beside the treasury.
- <sup>43</sup> Therefore of these things doom be-gan for to be moved against Menelaus.
- <sup>44</sup> And when the king came to Tyre, three men were sent of the elder men, and brought the cause to him.

<sup>45</sup> And when Menelaus was over-come, he promised for to give many riches [or many monies] to Ptolemy, for to counsel the king.

46 Therefore Ptolemy went to the king, set in some porch, as for cause of refreshing, either colding, [or cool-ing], and led away from (the) sentence;

- 47 and absolved from (the) crimes Menelaus, guilty truly of all the malice. Forsooth he condemned by death these wretches, which should be deemed innocents, yea, if they had led cause with (the) Scythians.
- <sup>48</sup> Therefore soon they gave unjust pain to them, that pursued (the) cause for the city, and [for the] people, and (for the) holy vessels.
- <sup>49</sup> Wherefore and (the) men of Tyre were wroth, and were most liberal with the burying of them.
- <sup>50</sup> Forsooth for (the) covetousness of them that were in power, Menelaus dwelt in power, waxing in malice, and to deceits (or deceiving) of citizens.

CHAPTER 5

- <sup>1</sup> In the same time Antiochus made ready the second going into Egypt.
- <sup>2</sup> Forsooth it befell, that by each city of men of Jerusalem, were seen by forty days, horsemen running about by the air, having golden stoles, and shafts, as companies of knights armed;
- <sup>3</sup> and courses of horses wisely set by orders, and assailings, or fightings together, for to be made nigh, and movings of shields, and multitude of helmeted men, with (unre)strained swords, and castings of darts, and shining of golden armours, and of all kind of habergeons (or breastplates).

<sup>4</sup> Wherefore all men prayed, that the monsters, or wonders, tokens of things to coming, be converted [or be (al)together turned] into good.

<sup>5</sup> But when false tiding [or false rumour] went out, as if Antiochus had gone out of life, Jason suddenly assailed the city, with men taken not less than a thousand; and when (the) citizens fled to the wall together, and at the last the city was taken, Menelaus fled into the high tower.

<sup>6</sup> Forsooth Jason spared not in slay-ing his citizens, neither he thought prosperity against (his) cousins; and he deemed it for to be most evil, that he should take victories of (his) enemies, and not of (his) citizens.

<sup>7</sup> And soothly he wielded not (the) princehood, but took confusion end of his deceits, or his espies; and he flew again, and went into Ammonites.

- <sup>8</sup> And at the last into undoing of him, he was *(en)*closed together of Aretas, tyrant of Arabians, and flew [or flee-ing] from city into city, and was odious to all men, as (an) apostate, or (a) forsaker of (the) laws, and abomin-able, as (an) enemy of (his) country and citizens, and was cast out into Egypt.
- <sup>9</sup> And he that had put out many of their country, perished in pilgrimage, and went to (the) Lacedaemonians, as for cousinage to have there refuge.
- <sup>10</sup> And he that had casted away many unburied, is cast out both unwailed and unburied, and neither useth strange sepulchre, neither taketh part of (his) fathers' sepulchre.
- <sup>11</sup> And when these things were done so, the king supposed, that Jews should forsake fellowship; and for this he went out of Egypt with mad souls, and took the city soothly with arms.
- <sup>12</sup> Forsooth he commanded to the knights, for to slay, neither [to] spare to men running against (them), and to go up by houses, and strangle.

13 Therefore there were made slay-ings of young and elder, destroyings of women and children, and deaths of maidens and little children.

<sup>14</sup> Forsooth in all three days, four-score thousand were slain, forty thousand bound, for sooth not less sold:

- 15 but neither these things sufficed. Also he was hardy for to enter into the temple holier than all the land, by Menelaus (the) leader, that was traitor of (the) laws and (to his) country.
- <sup>16</sup> And he touched unworthily, and defouled, taking in cursed hands the holy vessels, that were put (there) of (or by) other kings and cities, to (the) adorning and glory of the place.
- <sup>17</sup> Antiochus was so alienated from mind, or understanding, and beheld not, that, for (the) sins of men inhab-iting, the Lord was wroth (for) a little (while) to the city; for which thing also despising befell about the place.
- <sup>18</sup> (Or) Else if it had not befallen them for to be wrapped in many sins, as Heliodorus, that was sent from king Seleucus for to rob the treasury, also this (man) anon coming should be beaten, and forsooth put aback from (his) hardiness.
  - 19 But the Lord chose not the folk for the place, but place for the folk.
- <sup>20</sup> And therefore also that place was made partner of evils of the people; afterward for sooth it shall be made fellow also of (the) goods, and it, that is forsaken in wrath of Almighty God, again in reconciling of the great Lord, shall be enhanced with great glory.
- <sup>21</sup> Therefore Antiochus, when he had taken away a thousand and eight hundred talents of the temple, swiftly (re)turned again to Antiochia, and deemed him for pride to lead the land for to sail, (and) the sea forsooth for to make journey, for pride of (his) soul.
- <sup>22</sup> Forsooth he left also sovereigns, to torment the folk, in Jerusalem soothly Philip, of the kin of (the) Phyrgians, crueler than himself in manners, of whom he was ordained:

<sup>23</sup> forsooth in Gerizim, Andronicus and Menelaus, which more grievously than others lay on, [or annoyed, (or harmed)], (the) citizens. And when he was set against (the) Jews,

- <sup>24</sup> he sent an odious prince, Apollon-ius, with an host (of) two and twenty thousands, and commanded to him for to slay all of perfect age, for to sell (the) women and young children.
- <sup>25</sup> Which when he came to Jerusalem, feigned peace, and rested till the holy day of sabbath. And then while (the) Jews held (the) holiday, or the holy day, he commanded his men for to take arms (or weapons),
- <sup>26</sup> and [he] strangled all that came forth together to the spectacle, or (the) beholding; and he ran about the city with armed men, and slew a great multitude.
- <sup>27</sup> Forsooth Judas Maccabeus, that was the tenth, went into (a) desert place, and there led life with men, among wild beasts in hills; and [they] dwelt eating meat (or meals) of hay, lest they were partners of defouling.

CHAPTER 6

<sup>1</sup> But not after much time, the king sent an eld [or old] man of Antiochia, (or of Athens), which should constrain (the) Jews, that they should translate [or transfer (over)] themselves from (the) laws of (the) fathers, and of God;

- <sup>2</sup> also he should defoul the temple in Jerusalem, and should call it (the Temple) of Jupiter Olympus, and in Gerizim, as they were, that inhabited the place, of Jupiter Hospitality.
  - <sup>3</sup> Forsooth the falling in of evils was worst and grievous to all;
- <sup>4</sup> for why the temple was full of lechery and gluttony of (the) heathen men, and of men doing lechery with whores, and women bare in themselves to (the) hallowed houses, at their own will, bearing within those things which it was not leaveful (or lawful).
- <sup>5</sup> Also the altar was full of unleaveful things, which were forbidden by laws.
- <sup>6</sup> Soothly neither sabbaths were kept, neither solemn days of (the) fathers were kept, neither simply, neither openly, [or plainly], any man acknowledged him*(self)(to be)* a Jew.
- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth they were led with bitter need in the day of the king's birth to sacrifices. And when (the) holy things of Liber, that is Bacchus, either a false god, which the heathen men called (the) god of wine, were made solemnly, [or hallowed], they were crowned with ivy, and were constrained for to go about with Liber (or unto Bacchus).
- <sup>8</sup> Soothly the doom went out into the next cities of (the) heathen men, by Ptolemy procuring, that in like manner also they should do against (the) Jews, that they should do sacrifice;
- <sup>9</sup> soothly that they should slay them, that would not pass (or agree) to the ordinances of heathen men. Therefore it was to see wretchedness [or it was wretchedness for to see these things].
- <sup>10</sup> For why two women were accused, that they had circumcised their children; and when they had led them about openly by the city, with [the] infants hanged at their breasts, they casted [them] down by the walls.
- <sup>11</sup> Forsooth other men went together to the next dens, and hallowed privily the day of sabbath, (and) when they were showed to Philip, they were burnt in flames, for they dreaded for religion and observance, for to bear help to themselves with hand.
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore I beseech them, that shall read this book, that they dread not for adversities; but areckon they those things that befell to be not to perishing, but to or for amending of our kin.
- $^{13}$  For why for to not suffer by much time sinners for to do of sentence, [or doom], but anon for to give vengeances, is the showing of (his) great benefice.
- <sup>14</sup> For why, not as in other nations, the Lord abideth patiently, (so) that when the day of doom shall come, he punish them in (the) plenty of (their) sins, so and in us he ordaineth,
- <sup>15</sup> that when our sins be turned about into (the) end, so at the last he avenge on us.
- $^{16}$  For which thing soothly he never removeth his mercy from us; but he chastiseth his people, and forsaketh not in adversities.
- <sup>17</sup> But these things be said of (or by) us [or to you] in (a) few words to the admonishing of men reading; now forsooth it is to come to the telling.
- <sup>18</sup> Therefore Eleazar, one of the former (or first) of the scribes, or men of law, and a man waxed in age, and fair in cheer, was compelled, yawning with open mouth, for to eat swine's flesh.

- <sup>19</sup> And he embraced, or chose, more glorious death, than hateful life, and willfully went before to torment.
- <sup>20</sup> Forsooth he beheld how it behooved for to go, and suffered patiently, and ordained for to not do unleaveful things for the love of life.
- <sup>21</sup> Soothly these that stood nigh, were moved *(al)*together by wicked mercy, for eld [or old] friendship of the man, and they took him privily, and prayed that fleshes should be brought, which it was leaveful to him for to eat, (so) that he were feigned to have eaten, as the king commanded, of the flesh of sacrifice:
- <sup>22</sup> (so) that by this deed he should be delivered from death; and for eld friendship of the man, they did this humanity, or courtesy, in (or to) him.
- <sup>23</sup> And he began for to think (about) the worthy excellence of age, and of his eld (age), and the free-born hoari-ness of nobility, and of (his) best living from child[hood]; and by the ordinances of holy law, and made of God, he answered soon, saying, that he would be sent before into hell.
- <sup>24</sup> For he said, It is not worthy to (or for) our age for to feign, (so) that many young men deem, that Eleazar of four-score year and ten, hath passed to the life of aliens (or the religion of strangers),
- <sup>25</sup> and that they be deceived by my feigning, and that for (a) little time of corruptible life, and that by this I get spot and execration, or cursedness, to mine eld (age).
- <sup>26</sup> For why though in present time I be delivered from (the) torments of men, but neither quick (or alive), neither dead, I shall (not) escape the hand of [the] Almighty.
- <sup>27</sup> Wherefore in passing the life strongly, that is, in dying for the law of God, soothly I shall appear worthy of (my) age;
- <sup>28</sup> forsooth I shall leave strong ensample to young men, if I use perfectly honest death with ready will, and strongly for the worthiest and holiest laws. When these things were said, anon (or at once) he was drawn to (the) torment.
- <sup>29</sup> Forsooth these that led him, and (that) a little before were milder, were turned into wrath, for the words said of (or by) him, which they deemed brought forth by pride of heart.
- <sup>30</sup> But when he should be slain with wounds, he sorrowed inwardly, and said, Lord, that hast holy knowing, openly thou knowest, that when I might be delivered from death, I (now) suffer hard sorrows of (or in)(my) body; for-sooth by soul willfully (or willingly) I suffer these things, for thy dread.
- <sup>31</sup> And soothly this man on [or in] this manner departed from life; not only leaving the mind of his death to young men, but and to all the folk, to (an) ensample of virtue and strength.

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth it befell, that seven brethren taken together with the mother, were constrained of (or by) the king, for to taste against the law swine's flesh; and were tormented with scourgings, and torment made of (or from) bull's leather.
- <sup>2</sup> Forsooth one of them, that was the first, said thus, What seekest thou? and what wilt thou learn of (or from) us? we be ready for to die, more than to break the fathers' laws of God.

- <sup>3</sup> Therefore the king was wroth, and commanded brazen pans, [or pans of brass], and brass pots for to be made full hot.
- <sup>4</sup> And when those anon were made full hot, he commanded the tongue for to be cut off from him that spake first; and when the skin of the head (or his head) was drawn away, he bade (or commanded) both the highest parts of his hands and of his feet for to be cut off, the while the other brethren of him and the mother of him beheld.
- <sup>5</sup> And when he was made then [or now] unprofitable by (or in) all things, he commanded fire for to be brought to him, and yet all quick, breathing, or groaning, for to be burnt in the brazen pan; in which when he was long tormented, the others together with the mother, admonished them*(selves)* together for to die strongly, saying,
- $^6$  The Lord God shall behold truth, and shall give comfort, or give solace, in (or to) us, as Moses declared in before-witnessing of his song, And in (or to) his servants he shall give comfort.
- <sup>7</sup> Therefore when that first was dead in this manner, they led forth the next for to be scorned; and when the skin of his head was drawn off, with the hairs, they asked, if he would eat, before that he were punished in all the body, by all (the) members by themselves.
- <sup>8</sup> And he answered by the [country] voice (or language) of (his) fathers, and said, I shall not do it. For which thing, and this in (the) pursuing place, received like torments of (or as) the first.
- <sup>9</sup> And when he was ordained in the last spirit, he said thus, Soothly thou most wicked, or cursed, losest us in this life, but the King of the world shall raise us (up)that be dead for his laws, in again-rising of everlasting life.
- <sup>10</sup> After this the third was scorned; and when he was bidden, he proffered soon forth his tongue, and steadfastly held forth his hands,
- <sup>11</sup> and said with trust, Of heaven I wield these limbs, but for the laws of God now I despise these same; for I hope, that I shall receive those [or them] of (or from) him (again).
- <sup>12</sup> So that the king, and they that were with him, wondered on the wisdom of the young man, that he led the torments as nought.
- <sup>13</sup> And when this was thus dead, they travailed the fourth, and tormented him in like manner.
- <sup>14</sup> And when he was then at the death, he said thus, Well the rather it is need, that men given to death of (or by) men, abide the hope of God, for they shall be raised-again again of (or by) him; forsooth (the) again-rising to life (or resurrection) shall not be to thee.
  - <sup>15</sup> And when they had brought the fifth, they travailed him.
- <sup>16</sup> And he beheld into him, and said, Thou hast power among men, and though thou be corruptible, thou doest what thou wilt; but do not thou guess, that our kin is forsaken of God.
- <sup>17</sup> But abide thou patiently, and thou shalt see the great power of him, how he shall torment thee, and thy seed.
- <sup>18</sup> After [this] they brought also the sixth; and this began for to die, and said thus, Do not thou err idly; for we suffer these things for ourselves, sinning against our God, and things worthy of wondering be made in us;
- <sup>19</sup> but deem thou not, that it shall be without pain to (or for) thee, that thou hast tempted for to fight against God.

- <sup>20</sup> Forsooth the mother (of them) is wonderful above manner, and worthy (of) the mind of good men (or worthy to be remembered by all good people), which beheld (her) seven sons perishing under the time of one day, and suffer-ed above manner with good will, for the hope that she had into God;
- $^{21}$  she admonished each of them by (the) voice (or language) of (her fore)-fathers, [or of (her) country], and was strongly filled with wisdom, and setted man's wit to woman's thought, and said to them,
- <sup>22</sup> Sons, I know not how ye appear-ed in my womb; for neither I have given to you spirit, and (or) soul, and (or) life, and I myself joined not to-gether the members of each (of you);
- <sup>23</sup> but the Maker (out) of nought of the world, that formed the nativity of man, and found (out the) beginning of all, shall yield again to you spirit, and life, with mercy, as now ye despise yourselves for the laws of him.
- <sup>24</sup> Forsooth Antiochus deemed him-(self) for to be despised, and also by (the) despisable voice of a reprover [or despised by voice of the reproving], and when yet the younger was alive, not only he admonished by words, but with an oath he affirmed to make him rich and blissful [or blessed], and to have him (for) a friend, translated (or turned) from (the) laws of (his) fathers, and to give to him needful things.
- <sup>25</sup> But when the young man was not bowed to these things, the king called the mother, and softly counselled her, that she should be made to the young man into health (or his deliverance).
- <sup>26</sup> Forsooth when he admonished her by many words, she promised him for to counsel her son.
- <sup>27</sup> Therefore she bowed down to him, and scorned the cruel tyrant, and said in (her) country*('s)* voice (or language), Son, have mercy on me, that bare thee in (my) womb (for) nine months, and gave (thee) milk by (or for) three years, and nourished or nursed (thee), and fully brought (thee) into this age.
- <sup>28</sup> I ask, child, that thou behold to heaven and earth, and all things that be in them, and understand, that God made them (out) of nought, and the kind of men (or and mankind also).
- <sup>29</sup> So it shall be done, that thou dread not this tormentor, but be thou made worthy to (or of) thy brethren, and receive death, that in that mercy doing I receive thee (again) with thy brethren.
- <sup>30</sup> When she said yet these things [or When she yet said these things], the young man said, Whom abide ye? I obey not to the bidding of the king, but to (the) commandment of the law, that was given to us by Moses.
- <sup>31</sup> Forsooth thou, that art made (the) finder of all malice against (the) Hebrews, shalt not escape the hand of God.
  - <sup>32</sup> For we suffer these things for our sins;
- <sup>33</sup> and though our Lord be a little wroth to (or with) us, for (our) blaming and chastising, but again he shall be reconciled to his servants.
- <sup>34</sup> Forsooth thou cursed, and most flagitious, or fullest of evil doings, and stirrings, of all men, do not thou vainly be enhanced, that art enflamed by vain hope against his servants;
- $^{35}$  for thou hast not escaped yet the doom of Almighty God, and beholding all things.

- <sup>36</sup> For my brethren suffered now a little sorrow, and be made under (the) testament of everlasting life; thou soothly by (the) doom of God shall pay just pains of (or for)(thy) pride.
- <sup>37</sup> Soothly I, as my brethren, betake my soul and (my) body for the laws of (our) fathers; and I call God to help [or in-calling God], that more ripely he be made helpful to our folk, and that thou acknowledge with (or after) torments and beatings, that he is God alone.
- <sup>38</sup> Forsooth the wrath of (the) Almighty shall fail, or shall have an end, in me, and in my brethren, which is justly brought in [up] on all our kin.
- <sup>39</sup> Then the king was kindled with wrath, and was fierce against him more cruelly above all; and bare (it) unworthily, either heavily, himself (to be) scorned.
- <sup>40</sup> Therefore this (man) was clean (or undefouled), and died, trusting by all things in the Lord.
- <sup>41</sup> Forsooth at the last also the mother was wasted, either died, after the sons.
  - 42 Therefore of sacrifices, and over-great cruelties, is enough said.

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth Judas Maccabeus, and they that were with him, entered privily into (the) castles (or entered privately, or secretly, into the towns); and called together cousins, and friends, and took them that dwelt in Judea [or in Jewry], or in (the) keeping of the law of (the) Jews, and led out men to six thousands.
- <sup>2</sup> And they called the Lord to (or for) help, for to behold on the people, that was defouled of (or who were trampled upon by) all men; (and) for to have mercy on the temple, that was defouled of unpious men;
- <sup>3</sup> and for to have mercy on (the) destroying of the city, that was anon to be made plain *(al)*together (or to be levelled to the ground); and for to hear the voice of (the) blood crying to him,
- <sup>4</sup> and for to have mind on the wickedest deaths of little children innocents, and of (the) blasphemies given to (or against) his name; and for to have indignation on these things.
- <sup>5</sup> And Maccabeus, with the multitude gathered, was made unsufferable to (the) heathen men; for the wrath of the Lord was converted into mercy.
- <sup>6</sup> And he above-came to castles (or towns) and cities, unwarned (or unannounced), and burnt them (up); and occupied covenable places, and gave not few slayings of (his) enemies.
- <sup>7</sup> Soothly in (the) nights he was most borne to seek out runnings; and fame of his virtue was shed out, either showed, everywhere.
- <sup>8</sup> Forsooth Philip saw, that the man by little and little came to increase, and that full often things befell to him in prosperity; and he wrote to Ptolemy, duke of Celosyria and Phenice (or Ptolemeus, the governor of Greater Syria and Phoenicia), that he should bear help to the king's needs.
- <sup>9</sup> And he swiftly sent Nicanor (the son) of Patroclus, (one) of the former (or first), or (the) worthier, friends, and gave to him not less than twenty thousands of armed folks mingled (al)together, for to do away all the kin of (the) Jews; and joined to him Gorgias, a knightly man, and most expert (or experienced) in things of battle.

- <sup>10</sup> Forsooth Nicanor promised stead-fastly to the king, that he should fill the tribute that was to be given to (the) Romans, two thousands of talents, (out) of (or from) the (sale of the) captivity of (the) Jews (or of the Jewish captives).
- <sup>11</sup> And anon he sent to (the) cities of the sea coast, and called together to (or for) even-buying of (the) prisoners, or of (the) bondmen, of (the) Jews; and promised, that he shall sell ninety bondmen for a talent [or one talent], not beholding to the vengeance that should pursue him of Almighty God.
- $^{12}$  Forsooth when Judas found (out this), he showed to these Jews that were with him, the coming of Nicanor.
- <sup>13</sup> Of which [or Of whom] some inwardly dreaded, and believed not to (or in) the rightwiseness of God, and were turned into flight;
- <sup>14</sup> others soothly, if any left of them, came (or others sold all that they had left, and came), and together besought the Lord, for to deliver them from (the) wicked Nicanor, which had sold them before that he came nigh;
- <sup>15</sup> and though not for them, but for the testament that was to the fathers of them, and for the calling to help of his holy name and great on them.
- <sup>16</sup> Forsooth Maccabeus called to-gether seven thousands that were with him, and prayed, that they should not be reconciled to (the) enemies, neither should dread the multitude of (the) enemies wickedly coming against them, but strongly should fight;
- <sup>17</sup> having before the(ir) eyes, the despite that was done in the holy place, unjustly of (or by) them, and also the wrong of the city, had in scorning; yet also the ordinances of (the) eld [or old] men destroyed.
- <sup>18</sup> For why he said, They soothly trust in arms *(or weapons)(al)*together and hardiness; forsooth we trust in the Lord Almighty, that may do away with one looking, both them that come against us, and all the world.
- <sup>19</sup> Forsooth he admonished them also of (the) helps of God, that were done against (their) fathers; and that under Sennacherib an hundred thousand fourscore thousand and five thousand [or an hundred fourscore and five thousand] perished;
- <sup>20</sup> and of the battle that was to them against (the) Galatians, in Babylon; whether if it come to the thing, or (the) truth, when all fellows Macedonians doubted, they six thousands alone slew an hundred thousand and twenty thousands [or an hundred and twenty thousands], for (the) help given to them from heaven; and for these things they had full many benefices.
- $^{21}$  By these words they were made steadfast, and ready for to die for (the) laws and (the) country.
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore he ordained his brethren leaders to (or of) each order, Simon, and Joseph, and Jonathan, and made subject to each a thousand and five hundred (men).
- <sup>23</sup> Also to this thing, when the holy book was read to them of Ezra, and a token was given of God's help, he was duke (or leader) in the first battle array, and joined battle with Nicanor.
- <sup>24</sup> And for the Almighty was made (the) helper to (or of) them, they slew over nine thousand of men; forsooth they constrained the more part of Nicanor's host, made feeble by wounds, for to flee.

- <sup>25</sup> Forsooth when the riches [or the monies] of them, that came to (or for) the buying of them, were taken up, on each side they pursued them; but they (re)turned again, closed (al)to-gether by an hour;
- <sup>26</sup> for why it was before (the) sabbath, for which cause they lasted not (in) pursuing (them).
- <sup>27</sup> Forsooth they gathered the arms or armours of them, and (the) spoils, and did (the) sabbath, and blessed the Lord, that delivered them in (or unto) this day, dropping into (or upon) them (the) beginning of mercy.
- <sup>28</sup> Forsooth after the sabbath, they parted spoils to the feeble folks, and fatherless, and motherless, and widows; and they with theirs had the residues.
- <sup>29</sup> When these things were thus done, and commonly of (or by) all men beseeching was made, they asked the merciful Lord, for to be reconciled into the end to his servants.
- <sup>30</sup> And of these that were with Timothy (or Timotheus) and Bacchides, striving against themselves, they slew over twenty thousand, and they wielded his strengths (or strongholds); and they parted more preys, and made even portion to (the) feeble folks, fatherless, and motherless, and widows, but and (also) to (the) elder men.
- <sup>31</sup> And when they had gathered the arms or armours of them, diligently they putted together, or kept, all things in covenable places; forsooth they bare to Jerusalem the residue spoils.
- <sup>32</sup> And they slew Philarches, that was with Timothy (or Timotheus), a man full of great trespasses, that had tormented (the) Jews in many things.
- <sup>33</sup> And when (the) feasts of or for victory were done in Jerusalem, they burnt them that had burnt (the) holy gates, that is to say, Callisthenes, when he had flown into an house; for why worthy meed (or reward) was yielded to them for their unpiousnesses.
- <sup>34</sup> Forsooth the wickedest Nicanor, that brought a thousand merchants to the selling [or buying] of (the) Jews,
- <sup>35</sup> was meeked, or made low, by (the) help of the Lord, of them which he guessed none; and when he had put away the cloth*(es)* of glory, he fled alone by privy places, and came to Antioch, and had (the) highest infelicity, or wretchedness, of (or over) the death of his host.
- <sup>36</sup> And he that (had) promised him-(self) to restore tribute to (the) Romans, of (or from) the captivity of (the) men of Jerusalem, preached now that (the) Jews had one defender God, and for (or because of) him, they were unable for to be wounded, for they pursued laws ordained of him.

- <sup>1</sup> In the same time Antiochus *(re)*turned again unhonestly (or with disgrace or dishonour) from Persia.
- <sup>2</sup> For he had entered into that city, that is said Persepolis, that is, the chief city of Persia, and he attempted for to rob the temple, and oppress the city; but for (or because) the multitude ran together to (their) arms, they were turned into flight; and so it befell, that Antiochus after flight vile-like, [or lowly], *(re)*turned again.
- <sup>3</sup> And when he came about (to) Ecbatana, he knew what things were done against Nicanor and Timothy.

- <sup>4</sup> Forsooth he was enhanced in wrath, and deemed that he might (re)turn into (the) Jews the wrong of them, that had driven him (away). And therefore he bade the chariot to be led in haste, doing journey without ceasing; for why heavenly doom drove, or constrained, him, for that he spake so proudly, that he shall come to Jerusalem, and to make it a gathering of (the) sepulchre(s) of (the) Jews.
- <sup>5</sup> But the Lord God of Israel, that beholdeth all things, smote him with a wound incurable and invisible; for as he ended this same word, an hard sorrow of entrails took him, and bitter torments of inward things.
- <sup>6</sup> And soothly justly enough, for he that had tormented the entrails of other men, with many and new torments,
- <sup>7</sup> though he in no manner ceased of (or from) his malice. Forsooth over this he was filled with pride, and breathed fire in (his) soul against (the) Jews, and commanding the need for (it) to be hast*(en)*ed, it befell, that he going in fierceness fell down off the chariot, and that the members were travailed with the grievous hurtling *(al)*together of (his) body.
- <sup>8</sup> And he that seemed to himself for to command also to (the) waves of the sea, and over man's manner was filled with pride, and for to weigh in (the) balance the heights of (the) hills, was then made low to (the) earth, and was borne in a bier, either (a) horse-litter, and witnessed in himself the open virtue (or manifest power) of God;
- <sup>9</sup> so that (the) worms boiled out of the body of the unpious man, and the quick (or living) fleshes of him floated out in sorrows. Also with the savour of him, and stinking, his host was grieved;
- <sup>10</sup> and (now) no man might bear him, for (the) unsuffering of (his) stink (or his insufferable smell), that a little before (had) deemed him*(self)* for to touch the stars of heaven.
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore hereby he was led down from grievous pride, and began for to come to (the) knowing of himself, and was warned by God's vengeance, for by all moments his sorrows took increases.
- $^{12}$  And when he might not then [or now] suffer his (own) stink, thus he said, It is just for to be subject to God, and that a deadly (or a mortal) man feel not even things to God.
- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth the cursed man prayed (to) the Lord of these things, of whom he should not get mercy or of whom he should get no mercy.
- <sup>14</sup> And now he desireth to yield free the city, to which he came hast(en)-ing, for to draw down it [or to lead it down] to (the) earth (or the ground), and for to make a sepulchre of things borne together.
- <sup>15</sup> And now he promiseth to make the Jews even to (the) men of Athens, which Jews he said that he should not have worthy, yea, of (a) sepulchre, but to betake to fowls and wild beasts, for to be drawn, and to destroy with (their) little children;
- <sup>16</sup> also to adorn with best gifts the holy temple, which he (had) robbed before, and to multiply (its) holy vessels, and to (the) giving of his rents (for the) costs (or charges) pertaining to (the) sacrifices;
- $^{17}$  over these things and that he shall be made a Jew, and to walk by each place of the land, and to preach the power of God.

- <sup>18</sup> But, for (the) sorrows ceased not, the just doom of God had above come on him (or had come upon him), he despaired, and wrote to (the) Jews, by manner of beseeching, an epistle, containing these things.
- <sup>19</sup> To the best citizens, (the) Jews, most health, and welfare, and to be rich, or in prosperity, the king and prince Antiochus.
- <sup>20</sup> If ye fare well, and your sons, and all things be to you of sentence, that is, befall at (or to) your will, we do most thankings.
- <sup>21</sup> And I am ordained in sickness, and soothly I am mindful benignly of you, and I *(re)*turned again from places of Persia, and am caught with (a) grievous infirmity, and I led (it) needful for to have care for (the) common profit;
- $^{22}$  and I despair not of (or for) myself, but I have much hope to escape (this) sickness.
- <sup>23</sup> For I behold that also my father, in what times he led (an) host in(to) (the) higher places, showed, who after him should receive princehood;
- $^{24}$  if that any contrary thing befell, or hard thing were told, these that were in countries (or in the land), shall know to whom the sum, or charge, of [all] things was left, and should not be troubled.
- <sup>25</sup> To these things I beheld of (or to) next, that all the mighty men and neighbours espy times, and abide coming, and I have ordained my son Antiochus king, whom I, running again often into (the) high realms (or the high provinces of my kingdom), commended to many of you, and I wrote to him what things be subject.
- $^{26}$  Therefore I pray you, and ask, that ye be mindful of (the) benefices openly and privily, and that each of you keep faith to*(wards)* me, and to*(wards)* my son.
- <sup>27</sup> For I trust, that he shall do mildly, and manly (or humanely), or courteously, and pursue my purpose, and be common, or treatable, to you.
- $^{28}$  Therefore the man-queller and blasphemer was smitten worst, and as he had treated others, he died in pilgrimage in (the) mountains, in wretchedful death.
- $^{29}$  Forsooth Philip, his even-sucker, translated [or transferred], or bare over, the body; which dreaded the son of Antiochus, and went to Ptolemy Philometor, into Egypt.

- $^{1}$  Forsooth Maccabeus, and they that were with him, for the Lord defended them, received soothly the temple, and (the) city.
- <sup>2</sup> Forsooth he destroyed the altars, that aliens made by (or in)(the) streets, and also [the] temples of washing.
- <sup>3</sup> And when the temple was purged, they made another altar, and of stones fired, or flints, by fire conceived, they offered sacrifices after two years, and putted incense, and lanterns, and loaves of proposition.
- <sup>4</sup> And when these things were done, they were cast down to (the) earth, and prayed the Lord, that they should no more fall in*[to]* such evils; but though in anytime they had sinned, that they should be chastised of (or by) him more easily, and should not be betaken to barbarians, [or heathen], and blasphemous men.

- <sup>5</sup> Forsooth in what day the temple was defouled of (or by)(the) aliens, it befell that in the same day cleansing was made, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that was Kislev.
- <sup>6</sup> And with gladness in (or for) eight days they did by manner of (the Feast of) Tabernacles, bethinking that before a little of time they had done the solemn day of Tabernacles, in hills and in dens, by (the) custom of beasts.
- <sup>7</sup> For which thing they bare before rods, and green branches, and palms, to him that gave prosperity for to cleanse his place.
- <sup>8</sup> And they deemed with common behest (or command), and with doom, to all the folk of (the) Jews, for to do these feast days in all years.
- <sup>9</sup> And the ending of (the) life of Antiochus, that was called noble, (or Epiphanes), had it thus.
- <sup>10</sup> Now forsooth we shall tell of Eupator, son of unpious Antiochus (or And now we shall tell of Antiochus Eupator, who was the son of this unpious man), what things were done, and abridge, or shortly tell, the evils that were done in battles.
- <sup>11</sup> For when this Eupator had received the realm, he ordained on (or over)(the) needs of the realm a man (called) Lysias, prince of knight-hood, of Phenice and *(Celo)*Syria (or the governor of Phoenicia and Greater Syria).
- $^{12}$  For why Ptolemy, that was said (or called) Macron, ordained for to hold just things against (or unto)(the) Jews, and most(ly) for (the) wicked-ness that was done against them, and peaceably for to do with them.
- <sup>13</sup> But for this thing he was accused of (or by)(the king's) friends with (or before) Eupator, when he heard often, Thou traitor, for that he had forsaken Cyprus, betaken to him of (or by) Philometor, and had translated to Antiochus noble (or Epiphanes), also he had gone away from him, (and) with venom he ended the life.
- <sup>14</sup> Forsooth Gorgias, when he was duke of places, with comelings taken, overcame often (the) Jews in battle.
- <sup>15</sup> Forsooth (the) Jews that held covenable strengths (or strongholds), received men driven from Jerusalem, and assayed, either attempted, for to fight.
- <sup>16</sup> These forsooth that were with Maccabeus, prayed the Lord by prayers, that he should be (a) helper to them, and they made (an) assault into (the) strengths of (the) Idumeans.
- $^{17}$  And they were busy by much strength, and wielded places, and slew men running again, and strangled all together, not less than five and twenty thousands.
- $^{\rm 18}$  For sooth when some fled together into two towers full strong, having all apparel to against-fight,
- <sup>19</sup>Maccabeus left Simon, and Joseph, and again Zacchaeus, and them that were with them (or with him), many enough, to the overcoming of them; and he was converted [or turned again] to those battles that constrained more.
- $^{20}$  Soothly these that were with Simon, were led by covetousness, and were counselled by money, of (or by) some that were in the towers; and when they had taken seventy thousand double drachmas, they let some [to] flee out.

- <sup>21</sup> Forsooth when that thing that was done, was told to Maccabeus, he gathered the princes of (the) people, and he accused (them), that they had sold (their) brethren for money, for they delivered [or dismissed](or had freed)(the) adversaries of them.
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore he slew these (men) made traitors, and anon (or at once) occupied the two towers.
- <sup>23</sup> Forsooth in doing all things weal-somely, either by prosperity, in arms, and hands, he slew in the two strengths more than twenty thousands.
- <sup>24</sup> And Timothy (or Timotheus), that before was overcome of (or by)(the) Jews, called [or gathered] together an host of strange (or foreign) multitude, and gathered the multitude of horse-men of Asia, and came with arms (or weapons), as to take Judea.
- <sup>25</sup> Forsooth Maccabeus, and they that were with him, when he nighed, besought God, and besprinkled the(ir) head(s) with earth, and beforegirded the(ir) loins with hair-shirts,
- <sup>26</sup> and kneeled down at the brink of the altar, (so) that he should be helpful to them, forsooth that to (the) enemies of them he were (an) enemy, and were (an) adversary to (their) adversaries, as the law saith.
- <sup>27</sup> And so after (the) prayer, when they had taken arms, they went forth far from the city, and they were made next to (their) enemies, and sat (waiting).
- <sup>28</sup> Forsooth in (or at) the first rising of the sun, both joined battle; these soothly had the Lord (as a) promiser of victory and prosperity; for they had hardiness (as) the duke of (the) battle.
- <sup>29</sup> But when (the) great fight was, five fair man, that is, angels in the likeness of men, on horses with golden bridles, appeared to (the) adversaries from heaven, and gave leading to (the) Jews;
- <sup>30</sup> of which twain [or of whom two] had Maccabeus in the middle, and set about with their armours or arms, and kept him sound, either without harm. Forsooth they casted darts and lightnings against (the) adversaries; of which thing and they were shamed [or confused] with blindness, and were [full]-filled with perturbation, and fell down.
- <sup>31</sup> Forsooth there were slain of foot-men twenty thousand and five hundred, and horsemen six hundred.
- <sup>32</sup> Soothly Timothy (or Timotheus) fled into the stronghold [or a stronghold] of Gazara, of which stronghold Chereas was sovereign.
- <sup>33</sup> Forsooth Maccabeus, and they that were with him, were glad, and besieged the stronghold by four days.
- <sup>34</sup> And they that were within, trusted in the secureness of the place, and cursed above manner, and casted, or proudly pronounced, cursed words, that is, blasphemy against God.
- <sup>35</sup> But when the fifth day shined, twenty young men of these that were with Maccabeus, were kindled in (their) souls for (the) blasphemy, and went manly to the wall, and they went with fierce will, and went up;
- <sup>36</sup> but and others also ascended [or going up], and assailed for to burn (the) towers and (the) gates, and (al)together burn the cursers quick (or alive). Forsooth by continual two days they wasted the stronghold,
- <sup>37</sup> and slew Timothy, hiding himself, found in some place; and they slew his brother Chereas, and Apollophanes.

 $^{38}$  When these things were done, they blessed the Lord in (or with) hymns and confessions, which (or who) did great things in Israel, and gave them (the) victory.

CHAPTER 11

- <sup>1</sup> But a little time after, Lysias, the procurator of the king, and kinsman, and sovereign of offices [or provost of needs], bare grievously of these things that befell,
- <sup>2</sup> and gathered fourscore thousands, and all the multitude of horsemen, and came against (the) Jews, and deemed himself to make the city taken a dwelling to (or for) heathen men,
- <sup>3</sup> forsooth to have the temple into winning of money, as other temples of (the) heathen men, and (the) priest-hood set to sale by each year;
- <sup>4</sup> and bethought not on the power of God, but in mind, or understanding, he was made without bridle, and trusted in (the) multitude of footmen, and in thousands of horsemen, and in fourscore elephants.
- <sup>5</sup> Soothly he went into Judea, and came nigh to Bethsura, that was in a strait place, from Jerusalem in (the) space of five furlongs, and fought against that strength (or stronghold).
- <sup>6</sup> Soothly when Maccabeus, and they that were with him, knew that (the) strengths (or strongholds) were impugned, with weeping and tears they prayed the Lord, and all the company together, for to send a good angel to the health of Israel.

<sup>7</sup>And Maccabeus himself took first arms, and admonished others to take together peril with him, and bear help to (or for) their brethren.

- <sup>8</sup> And when they went forth to-gether with ready will from Jerusalem, an horseman, that is, an angel in the likeness of an horseman, or knight, appeared going before them in white cloth(es), in golden armours or arms, and flourishing a shaft.
- <sup>9</sup> Then all together (they) blessed the merciful Lord, and waxed strong in souls (or grew confident); and were ready for to pierce not only men, but and most fierce beasts, and iron walls.
- <sup>10</sup> Therefore they went ready, having an helper of (or from) heaven, and the Lord having mercy on them.
- <sup>11</sup> Soothly by (or in)(the) custom of lions, in fierceness they hurled into (the) enemies, and casted down of them eleven thousands of footmen, and a thousand and six hundred of horsemen. Soothly they turned all (the others) into flight;
- <sup>12</sup> forsooth many of them wounded, escaped naked, but and Lysias himself foully fleeing escaped.
- <sup>13</sup> And for he was not witless, he areckoned with(in) himself the making less done against him, and understood that (the) Hebrews be unovercome, and trust to (the) help of Almighty God;
- <sup>14</sup> and he sent to them, and promised him(self) to consent to all things that be just, and to compel the king for to be made (a) friend.
- <sup>15</sup> Forsooth Maccabeus granted to the prayers of Lysias, and counselled to profit in all things; and whatever things Maccabeus wrote of (the) Jews to Lysias, the king granted those things.
- <sup>16</sup> For why epistles were written to (the) Jews from Lysias, containing (or in) this manner. Lysias to the people of (the) Jews, health.

<sup>17</sup> John and Absalom, that were sent from you, betook writs, and asked, that I should [ful] fill those things that were signified by them.

18 Therefore whatever things might be brought forth to the king, I expounded, and which the thing suffered, that is, was covenable (or suitable) and just, he granted.

- <sup>19</sup> Therefore if in needs ye keep faith, also from henceforth I shall endeavour or shall attempt for to be (the) cause of good things to (or for) you.
- <sup>20</sup> Of other things soothly I com-manded by all words, both to these and to them that be sent of (or from) me, for to speak together with you.
- <sup>21</sup> Fare ye well. In the hundred year and eight and fortieth, in the four and twentieth day of the month Dios-corinthius, that is, in June.
- <sup>22</sup> Forsooth the epistle of the king contained these things. King Antiochus to Lysias, brother, health.
- <sup>23</sup> For our father is translated among (the) gods, we will (or desire) that they that be in our realm do without noise, and give diligence to their things;
- <sup>24</sup> we have heard that (the) Jews assented not to the father, to be translated (or brought over) to the custom of (the) Greeks, but will (or desire)[for to] hold their (own) ordinance, and that therefore they ask of us, that their lawful things be granted to them.

25 Therefore we will (or desire) that also this folk be quiet, and have ordained and deemed, that the temple be restored to them, (so) that they should do by [or after] the custom of their greater men.

- <sup>26</sup> Therefore thou shalt do well, if thou shalt send to them, and shalt give (to them)(the) right hand; (so) that, when our will (or desire) is known, they be in (or of) good comfort, and serve to their own profits.
- <sup>27</sup> Soothly to the Jews the king's epistle was such. King Antiochus to the senate, or (the) elder men, of (the) Jews, and to (the) other Jews, health.
  - <sup>28</sup> If ye fare well, so it is as we will, but and we (our)selves fare well.
- <sup>29</sup> Menelaus came to us, and said, that ye will (or that ye desire to) go down to yours, that be with us.
- <sup>30</sup> Therefore to these that (shall) go together, we give right hands of secureness till to the thirtieth day of the month Xanthicus, that is, April,
- 31 (and) that (the) Jews use their (own) meats, and laws, as and before; and no man of them in any manner suffer dis-ease (because) of these things, that be done by ignorance.

<sup>32</sup> Soothly we sent also Menelaus, that shall speak to you.

- <sup>33</sup> Fare ye well. In the hundred year and eight and fortieth, the fifteenth day of the month Xanthicus,
- 34 also (the) Romans sent an epistle, having it thus. Quintus Memmius, and Titus Manlius, legates of (the) Romans, to the people of (the) Jews, health.
- 35 Of these things that Lysias, (the) cousin of the king, hath granted to you, also we granted.
- <sup>36</sup> Forsooth of which things he deemed to be told again to the king, anon (or at once) send ye some man; and speak ye among you diligentlier, (so) that we deem as it accordeth unto you. For we go to Antioch,
- <sup>37</sup> and therefore haste(n) ye for to again-write, that and we know of what will ye be (or what your desire is).

 $^{38}\,\mathrm{Fare}$  ye well. In the hundred year and four and fortieth, in the fifteenth day of the month Xanthicus,

CHAPTER 12

- <sup>1</sup> when these covenants were made, Lysias went to the king; forsooth (the) Jews gave work to earth-tilling.
- <sup>2</sup> But these that dwelt, or were resident, Timothy, and Apollonius, the son of Gennaeus, but and Jerome, and Demophon proud, and Nicanor, prince of Cyprus, suffered not them for to do in silence and quiet, or rest.
- <sup>3</sup> Forsooth men of Joppa have done such a felony; they prayed (the) Jews with which they dwelt, for to go up, with wives, and sons, into small boats, which they had made ready, as if none enmities lay privily among them.
- <sup>4</sup> Therefore by [or after] the common doom of the city, and for they accorded, and for (the) cause of peace, had nothing suspect, when they came into the depth, they drowned two hundred (of them), not less.

<sup>5</sup> And as (or when) Judas knew (of) this cruelty done against (some) men of his folk, he commanded to (the) men that were with him;

- <sup>6</sup> and he called to help [or in-called] the just doomsman God, and he came against the slayers of (his) brethren, and by night he burnt the haven, he burnt the boats, (and) forsooth he slew by sword them that fled from the fire.
- <sup>7</sup> And when he had done these things, he went away, as again to *(re)*turning again, and utterly to des-troying [or to destroy] all men of Joppa.
- <sup>8</sup> But when he knew, that also they that were at Jamnia would do in like manner to (the) Jews dwelling with them,
- <sup>9</sup> also to (the) Jamnites he above came by night, and burnt the haven, with (the) ships; so that the light appeared to Jerusalem from two hundred furlongs and forty (away).
- <sup>10</sup> When they had gone then from thence by nine furlongs [or When now they had gone thence by nine furlongs], and made journey to(wards) Timothy, men of Arabia, five thousand men, and horsemen five hundred, joined battle with him.
- <sup>11</sup> And when (a) strong fight was made, and by (the) help of God it befell easily, or by prosperity, the residue of (the) men of Arabia, that were overcome, asked of Judas the right hands for to be given to them; promising themselves to give pastures, and to profiting in other things.
- 12 Forsooth Judas deemed verily (or truly) them (to be) profitable in many things, and promised (them) peace; and when they had taken right hands, they departed to their tabernacles.
- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth he assailed also some city (made) firm by bridges (or buttresses), and about-set (or set about) with walls, which was inhabited of (or by) companies of heathen men mingled (or mixed), both men and women, to which the name (of it)was Caspin.
- <sup>14</sup>Forsooth these that were within, trusted in the stableness of (the) walls, and in (the) apparel of foods, and did slacklier, stirring Judas with curses, either swearings, and blaspheming, and speaking which things it is not leaveful (or lawful)(to speak).
- <sup>15</sup> Soothly Maccabeus called to help [or in-called] the great Prince of the world, which without wethers, that be engines like wethers (or rams), and without engines, in the times of Jesus, either Joshua, casted down Jericho: and hurled fiercely to the walls, <sup>16</sup> and took the city by (the) will of the Lord, and did unnumberable slayings; so that the pool of standing water of two furlongs of (or in) breadth, seemed [or was seen] to flow with (the) blood of slain men.

2ND MACCABEES CHAPTER 12:31

<sup>17</sup> From thence they went seven hundred and fifty furlongs, and came into Charax, to the Jews that be called Toubiani.

<sup>18</sup> And soothly they caught not Timothy in those places; and (or for) when no journey [or no need] was fully done, Timothy(re)turned again, while (a) most firm strength (or force) was left in a certain place.

19 Forsooth Dositheus and Sosipater, that were dukes with Maccabeus, slew ten thousand men left of (or by) Timothy in the strength.

<sup>20</sup> And Maccabeus ordained about him six thousand, and ordained by cohorts, or companies of knights, and went forth against Timothy, having with him an hundred and twenty thousand of footmen, and of horse-men two thousand and five hundred.

<sup>21</sup> Forsooth when the coming of Judas was known, Timothy before-sent (the) women, and sons, and other apparel into a strength (or a stronghold) that is called Carnaim; for it was unable to be overcome, and hard in going-to, for (the) straitnesses of (the) places.

- <sup>22</sup> And when the first company of Judas appeared, dread was made to (the) enemies by (the) presence of God, that beholdeth all things; and they were turned into flight, one after another, so that they were cast down more of (or by) their own, and were feebled with strokes of their swords.
- <sup>23</sup> Judas soothly continued greatly, punishing unholy men, and [he] casted down of them thirty thousand of men.
- <sup>24</sup> Timothy soothly himself fell into the parts (or the hands) of Dositheus and Sosipater; and he asked by many prayers, that he were delivered quick (or alive); for he had fathers, and mothers, and brethren, of many of (the) Jews, which it should befall for to be deceived by his death.

<sup>25</sup> And when he had given faith, that he should restore them by (the) covenant, [or after (the) thing ordained], they dismissed him unhurt, for

(the) health (or deliverance) of brethren.

<sup>26</sup> Forsooth Judas (re)turned again from Carnaim, after that he had slain five and twenty thousands.

<sup>27</sup> After the flight and death of these (men), he moved the host to(wards) Ephron, (a) strong city, in which the multitude of diverse folks dwelt; and strong young men, standing together for (the) walls, strongly fought against (him); forsooth in this were many engines, and apparels of darts.

<sup>28</sup> But when they had called to help the Almighty, that by his power allbreaketh (the) mights of (his) enemies, they took the city, and casted down of them that were within five and twenty thousand.

<sup>29</sup> From thence they went to the city of Scythes (or Scythopolis), which was far from Jerusalem (by) six hundred furlongs.

<sup>30</sup> Forsooth for these Jews that were with (the) Scythopolitans witnessed, that they were had of them benignly, yea, in times of adversity, and that they did mildly with them, <sup>31</sup> they did thankings to them; and also stirred from henceforth for to be benign against (or towards) their kin, and came to Jerusalem, when the solemn day of weeks nighed.

- <sup>32</sup> And after Pentecost, they went against Gorgias, (the) sovereign [or provost] of Idumea (or of Edom).
- <sup>33</sup> Soothly he went out with three thousand footmen, and four hundred horsemen;
- <sup>34</sup> and when they were assembled, it befell that a few of (the) Jews felled down.
- <sup>35</sup> Forsooth Dositheus, an horsemen of Bacenor, a strong man, held Gorgias; and when he would take him quick (or alive), an horseman of Thracia fell on him, and cutted off his shoulder, and so Gorgias flew into Marisa.
- <sup>36</sup> And when they that were with Gorgias (had) fought longer, and they were made weary, Judas inwardly called the Lord for to be made (their) helper, and duke of (the) battle;
- <sup>37</sup> and he began with (a) country voice (or in his own language), and with hymns raised (up a) cry, and made the knights of Gorgias to flee.
- <sup>38</sup> Forsooth Judas with the host gathered, came into the city (of) Adullam; and when the seventh day came above, they were cleansed by [or after] (the) custom, and did (the) sabbath in the same place.
- <sup>39</sup> And in the day pursuing (or following), Judas came with his men, for to take away the bodies of (the) men cast down, and for to put (them) with (their) fathers, and mothers, in (the) sepulchres of (their) fathers.
- $^{40}$  Forsooth they found under (the) coats of (the) slain men, of the gifts of (or for the) idols that were at Jamnia, from which the law forbiddeth Jews; therefore it was made known to all men, that they fell down for this cause.
- $^{41}\,\mathrm{And}$  therefore all blessed the just doom of the Lord, which made privy things known.
- <sup>42</sup> And so they converted (or turned) to prayers, and prayed, that that trespass that was done, were betaken to forgetting. And soothly the strongest Judas admonished the people, for to keep them*(selves)* without sin, seeing under (or right before)(their) eyes, what things were done for (the) sins of them that were cast down.
- $^{43}$  And when (a) collection was made, he sent twelve thousand drachmas of silver to Jerusalem, to be offered (as) a sacrifice for (the) sins of (the) dead men, and bethought well and religiously of (the) again-rising;
- <sup>44</sup> for if he hoped not, that they that fell should rise again, it was seen (as) superfluous and vain for to pray for (the) dead men;
- $^{45}$  and for he beheld, that they that took sleeping, or death, with piety, had best grace kept. Therefore holy and healthful thinking (it) is, for to pray for dead men, that they be released of (or from)(their) sins.

- <sup>1</sup> In the hundred and nine and fortieth year Judas knew, that Antiochus Eupator came with (a) multitude against Judea;
- <sup>2</sup> and with him came Lysias, procurator and sovereign of offices [or provost of needs], having with him an hundred and ten thousand of footmen, and of horsemen five thousand, and elephants two and twenty, (and) chariots with scythes [or with sickles] three hundred.

- <sup>3</sup> Forsooth and Menelaus joined him(self) to them, and with great deceit besought Antiochus, not for (the) health (or for the deliverance) of the country, but hoping that he should be ordained into princehood.
- <sup>4</sup> But the King of kings raised the wills of Antiochus against the sinner; and when Lysias showed that he was (the) cause of all evils, he commanded, as custom is to them, him taken, (and) for to be slain in the same place.
- <sup>5</sup> Soothly in the same place was a tower of fifty cubits, having on each side a gathering of (or full of) ashes; this was beholding into a ditch.
- <sup>6</sup> From thence he commanded the sacrileger, or (the) cursed man, for to be cast down into (the) ashes, when all men putted forth him to the death.
- <sup>7</sup> And by such (a) law it befell the breaker of (the) law for to die, neither (that) Menelaus for to be given to (the) earth. And forsooth justly enough;
- <sup>8</sup> for why for he did many tres-passes against the altar of God, whose fire and ashes was holy, (so) he was condemned in the death of ashes.
- <sup>9</sup> But the king without bridle in mind, or understanding, came to show him worse to (the) Jews, than his father.
- <sup>10</sup> And when these things were known, Judas commanded the people, that by night and day they should call to help the Lord; that as evermore, also now he should help them; which soothly dreaded for to be *(de)*prived of law, and country, and holy temple;
- <sup>11</sup> and that he suffered not the people, that (just) a while *(a)*go had a little quickened again, for to be subject again to blasphemous nations.
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore when all men did to-gether that thing, and asked (for) mercy of (or from) the Lord with weeping, in fasting/s by (or for) all three days, and kneeled [down], Judas admonished them for to make them*(selves)* ready.
- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth he with (the) elder men thought for to go out, before that the king moved (his) host to Judea, and got the city, and to betake the end of the thing to the doom of the Lord.
- <sup>14</sup> Therefore he gave power of all things to God, (the) Maker (out) of nought of the world, and admonished his (men) to fight strongly, and stand till to the death [or unto death], for (the) laws, (the) temple, (the) city, (the) country, and (the) citizens; and he ordained the host about Modin.
- <sup>15</sup> And when a token was given to his (men) of (the) victory of (or from) God, he chose the strongest young men, and by night he assailed the king's hall in (the) tents, and he slew fourteen thousand men, and the most (or greatest) of (the) elephants, with these (men) that were put above.
- <sup>16</sup> And they filled the tents of (the) enemies with (the) highest dread and disturbing, and when these things were done easily, [or wealsomely], either in prosperity, they went away.
- <sup>17</sup> Forsooth this was done in the day lighting, for the protection of the Lord helped him.
- <sup>18</sup> But when the king had taken (a) taste of hardiness of (the) Jews by craft, he assayed hardinesses of places;
- <sup>19</sup> and moved the tents to Bethsura, that was a stronghold of (the) Jews; but he was driven (away), (and) hurtled, and *(di)*minished, or wasted.
  - <sup>20</sup> Forsooth to these that were within, Judas sent needful things.

<sup>21</sup> Forsooth Rhodocus, some man of the host of Jews, told out privates (or secrets) to (the) enemies; which was sought, and taken, and (im)prisoned.

<sup>22</sup> Again the king had (a) word to them that were in Bethsura, and gave the right hand, and received (theirs), and went away. He joined battle with Judas, and Judas was overcome.

<sup>23</sup> Forsooth as he knew that Philip had rebelled at Antioch, which was left on needs, he was astonished in mind, either understanding, and besought (the) Jews, and was subject to them, and swore of all things, of which it was seen just; and he was reconciled, and offered sacrifice, and worshipped the temple, and putted gifts (forth).

<sup>24</sup> He embraced, or kissed, Mac-cabeus, and made him prince and duke from Ptolemais till to (the) Gerrhenians.

<sup>25</sup> Soothly as he came to Ptolemais, men of Ptolemais bare grievously (the) according of friendship, and had indignation, lest peradventure they would break (the) peace.

<sup>26</sup> Then Lysias went up into the doom place, and expounded reason, and ceased the people, and *(re)*turned again to Antioch; and in this manner the king's going out and (re)turning again went forth.

CHAPTER 14

<sup>1</sup> But after (the) time of three years Judas knew, and they that were with him, that Demetrius (son of) Seleucus ascended or went up to covenable places, with (a) strong multitude, and ships, by the haven of Tripoli,

<sup>2</sup> and hath holden countries (or had taken the country) against Antiochus, and his duke Lysias.

<sup>3</sup> Forsooth one Alcimus, that was (the) highest priest, but willfully was defouled in times of mingling together, beheld that in no manner health was to (or for) him, neither access, or nighing, [or coming to], to the altar,

- <sup>4</sup> and he came to king Demetrius, in the hundred and fiftieth year, and offered to him a golden crown, and (a) palm, (and) over these things and offered vessels, that were seen to be of (or from) the temple; and soothly in that day he was still.
- <sup>5</sup> Forsooth he got a covenable time of his madness, and he was called of (or by) Demetrius to counsel, and was asked with what things and counsels Jews endeavoured, and he answered,
- <sup>6</sup> They that be said Hasideans of (the) Jews, of which [or whom] Judas Maccabeus is (the) sovereign, nourish battles, and move dissensions, neither suffer the realm for to be quiet.

<sup>7</sup> For why and I am defrauded of (the) glory of (my) father and mother, soothly I say, of (the) highest priest-hood, and I came hither,

- <sup>8</sup> first, soothly keeping faith to the king's profits, (and) the second time, soothly counselling also to citizens, for why by shrewdness (or depravity) of them, all our kin is travailed greatly.
- <sup>9</sup> But I pray, thou king, when all these things be known, behold to the country, and kin, by thy manliness (or according to thy humanity), or courtesy, showed to all men.
  - <sup>10</sup> For why as long as Judas liveth, it is impossible that peace be to needs.
- <sup>11</sup> Forsooth when such things were said of (or by) him, and other friends, having them enmity, enflamed Demetrius against Judas.

12 Which anon sent Nicanor, sove-reign of elephants, a duke into Judea, $^{13}$  with commandments given for to take that Judas quick, for to scatter soothly them that were with him, and for to ordain Alcimus highest priest of the most (or the great) temple.

 $^{14}$  Then (the) heathen men, that fled Judas from Judea, flock-meal joined them to Nicanor, and guessed the wretchednesses and deaths of Jews (to be) prosperities of (or for) their things.

- <sup>15</sup> Therefore when (the) coming of Nicanor was heard (of), and coming together of (the) nations, (the) Jews besprinkled with earth prayed him, that ordained his people into without end for to keep, and which covereth, or defendeth, his part with open signs.
- <sup>16</sup> Forsooth for the duke commanded, anon (or at once) they (re)moved from thence, and came together to the castle Dessau (or to the town of Adasa).

17 Simon forsooth, brother of Judas, joined battle with Nicanor, but he was all-broken with (the) sudden coming of (the) adversaries.

- <sup>18</sup> Nevertheless Nicanor heard (of) the virtue (or might) of Judas' fellows, and greatness of hardiness, which they had for strives of the country, and dreaded for to make doom by blood.
- <sup>19</sup> Wherefore he before-sent Posidon-ius, and Theodotus, and Mattathias, for to give right hands, and take (or to make peace).
- <sup>20</sup> And when long counsel was done of (or on) these things, and the duke himself had told to the multi-tude, one sentence was of all, for to grant to friendships.
- <sup>21</sup> Therefore [or And so] they ordain-ed a day, in which they should do privily betwixt themselves; and stools, or small seats, were brought forth, and set to (or set out)(for) each.
- <sup>22</sup> Forsooth Judas commanded armed men for to be in covenable places, lest peradventure anything of evil should rise suddenly of (or from)(the) enemies; and they made a covenable (or a suitable) speech together.
- <sup>23</sup> Forsooth Nicanor dwelt in Jeru-salem, and nothing did evil (or did no evil); and he let go (the) flocks of (the) companies, that were gathered (unto him).
- <sup>24</sup> Forsooth he had Judas evermore dearworthy of heart, and was bowed to the man;
- <sup>25</sup> and prayed him for to wed a wife, and [to] engender sons; and he made weddings, did quietly, and they lived commonly, or communally, or together.
- <sup>26</sup> Alcimus forsooth saw the charity (or the love) of them together, and accordings, and came to Demetrius, and said, that Nicanor assenteth to alien, either other men's, things, and hath ordained Judas, (a) traitor of the realm, (to be)(the) successor to him.
- <sup>27</sup> Therefore the king was made sharp, and stirred to wrath with such worst accusings, and wrote to Nicanor, and said, that soothly he bare grievously of (the) according of friendship, and nevertheless commanded for to send Maccabeus bound to Antioch.
- <sup>28</sup> And when these things were known, Nicanor was astonished, and grievously bare (it), if he made void those things that were accorded [or that accorded], and (as) he was nothing hurt, or harmed, of (or by) the man;
- <sup>29</sup> but for he might not against-stand the king, he kept covenability (or he waited for an opportunity), in which he should perform the commandment.

<sup>30</sup> And Maccabeus saw, that Nicanor did with him most sternly, and gave fiercelier customable coming together, and he understood that this sternness [or fierceness] was not of (or for) good, and with a few of his (men) gathered, he hid him*(self)* from Nicanor.

<sup>31</sup> And as he knew this thing, that he was strongly before-come, or espied, of (or by) the man, he came to the most and holiest temple, and he commanded to the priests offering customable (or the accustomed) sacrifices, that the man be betaken to him.

<sup>32</sup> And when they said with (an) oath, that they knew not, where he was that was sought,

<sup>33</sup> he stretched forth the hand to the temple, and swore, If ye shall not be-take to me Judas bound, I shall draw down this temple of God into plainness (or even with the ground), and dig out the altar, and I shall hallow this temple to Liber (or Pater), or Bacchus, that is, (the) god of wine, the father.

<sup>34</sup>And when he had said these things, he went away. For sooth the priests held forth (their) hands into heaven, and called him to help that ever(more) is (a) for-fighter of the folk of them, and said these things,

- <sup>35</sup> Thou, Lord of all creatures [or Thou, Lord of university, or of all creatures], (or O Lord of all Creation), that of nothing hast need, wouldest (or desiredest) that the temple of thine habitation be made in (or among) us.
- <sup>36</sup> And now, thou Lord, holy of all holy, keep without end this house undefouled, that (just) a little (while) ago was cleansed.
- <sup>37</sup> Forsooth Razis, one of the elder men of Jerusalem, was accused to Nicanor; and Razis was a man, (a) lover of the city, and well-hearing (or well heard of) or and well-praising (or highly praised), that for affection, or love, was called (the) father of (the) Jews.
- <sup>38</sup> This man many times held purpose of continence in Judea [or in Jewry], and was appeased (or was satisfied) for to betake body and soul for perseverance, or lasting.

Jews, and sent five hundred knights, for to take him.

- $^{40}$  For he guessed, if he had deceived him, that he should bring in most death to (the) Jews.
- <sup>41</sup> Forsooth when (the) companies coveted for to fall into his house, and for to break the gate, and for to move to fire, when now he was taken, that is, was nigh the taking, he assailed himself with (a) sword;
- <sup>42</sup> choosing to die nobly, rather than to be made subject to sinners, and against his birth for to be led with unworthy wrongs.
- <sup>43</sup> But when by hast(en)ing he had given wound with uncertain stroke, and (the) companies betwixt (the) doors burst in, he ran again hardily to the wall, and casted down himself manly into the companies.

44 And when they gave swiftly place to his fall, he came by the middle of the knoll,

- <sup>45</sup> and yet while he breathed, he was kindled in heart, and rose (up). And when his blood with great flowing flowed down, and with most grievous wounds he was wounded, by running he passed the company; and stood on an high stone [or standing upon some high stone],
- <sup>46</sup> and now was made without blood, and embraced his entrails with both hands, and casted (them) forth on the companies, and called to help the lordshipper of life and spirit [or he in-calling the lordshipper of life and spirit], that he should yield again these things to him; and thus he was dead from life.

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth as Nicanor found that Judas was in the place of Samaria, he thought for to join battle in (or on) the day of sabbath with all fierceness.
- <sup>2</sup> Forsooth when (the) Jews, that pursued (or followed) him by need, said, Do thou not so fiercely and heathenly, but give thou honour to the day of hallowing, and worship thou him, that beholdeth all things.
- <sup>3</sup> And he (who was) unblessed, asked, If there is a Mighty (One) in heaven, that commanded the day of sabbaths for to be done?
- <sup>4</sup> And when they answered, There is a quick (or a living) Lord [or There is one Lord], and he is mighty in heaven, that commanded the seventh day for to be done.
- <sup>5</sup> And he said, And I am mighty on (the) earth, which command armours, (or arms, or weapons) for to be taken, and needs of the king for to be fulfilled. Nevertheless he got not, for to perform counsel.
- <sup>6</sup> And soothly Nicanor was enhanced (or was exalted) with sovereign or masterful pride, and thought for to ordain a common victory of (or over) Judas.
- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth Maccabeus trusted ever-more with all hope, that help should come to him of (or from) the Lord,
- <sup>8</sup> and he admonished his (people), that they should not inwardly dread at the coming to (them) of (the) nations, but should have in mind the helps done to (or for) them of (or from) heaven, and now should hope that the victory should come to them of (or from) the Almighty.
- <sup>9</sup> And he spake to them of the law, and (the) prophets, and admonished (them) of (the) battles which they did before, and (so he) ordained, [or confirmed], them readier.
- <sup>10</sup> And so when the souls of them were raised (up), he showed *(al)*together the falseness of (the) heathen men, and (the) breaking of oaths.
- <sup>11</sup> Forsooth he armed each of them, not by (the) strengthening of shield and shaft, but with (the) best words and admonishings, and expounded a sweven worthy of believe (or a dream worthy to be believed), by which he gladded all.
- <sup>12</sup> Soothly the vision was such. Judas saw Onias, that was (the) highest priest, a good man and benign, shamefast in sight, and mild (or meek) in manners, and fair in speech, and which was exercised in virtues from a child, holding forth the hands for to pray for all the people of (the) Jews.
- <sup>13</sup> After this thing, that also another man appeared, wonderful in age and glory, and in having of great fairness about him.
- <sup>14</sup> Forsooth he saw Onias answering for to have said, This is the lover of (the) brethren, and of the people of Israel; this is he, that much prayeth for the people, and [for] all the holy city, Jeremy (or Jeremiah), the prophet of God.
- <sup>15</sup> Forsooth he saw that Jeremy hath straight(en)ed (out)(or stretched) forth the right hand, and hath given a golden sword to Judas, and said,

- <sup>16</sup> Take thou the holy sword, a gift of (or from) God, in (or with) which thou shalt cast down the adversaries of my people Israel.
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore they were admonished with (the) full great words of Judas [or And so they admonished with words of Judas full good], of (or by) which (their) fierceness might be enhanced (or lifted up), and (the) souls of (the) young men be comforted (or strength-ened), and they ordained for to fight, and torment (al)together strongly, that virtue should deem of needs, or causes, for that the holy city, and (the) temple were in peril.
- <sup>18</sup> For why [or Soothly] for (their) wives, and (their) sons, and also for (their) brethren, and cousins, was less busyness (or less care), but the most and first dread was for holiness of the temple (or but their first and fore-most fear was for the holy Temple).
- <sup>19</sup> But not (the) least busyness (or care) had them that were in the city, for these that should assail, or fight together.
- <sup>20</sup> And when now all men hoped doom to be, and (the) enemies come [or and (the) enemies came], and the host was ordained, (and the) beasts and horsemen put together in covenable (or suitable) place(s),
- <sup>21</sup> Maccabeus beheld the coming of (the) multitude, and diverse apparel of armours, and (the) fierceness of (the) beasts, and he stretched out the hands to heaven, and called to help the Lord doing great wonders, which not by or after power of arms (or weapons), but as it pleaseth to him, giveth victory to worthy men.
- <sup>22</sup> Forsooth he said, calling to help in this manner, Thou Lord, that sentest thine angel under Hezekiah, king of Judea, and hast slain of (or in) the tents, either hosts, of Sennacherib, an hundred thousand fourscore and five thousand [or an hundred (and) four-score and five thousand];
- <sup>23</sup> and now, lordshipper of heavens, send thou thy good angel before us, in dread and trembling of (the) greatness of thine arm,
- <sup>24</sup> (so) that they dread, that come with blasphemy against thine holy people. And soothly thus he perfectly prayed.
- <sup>25</sup> Forsooth Nicanor, and they that were with him, moved to(wards) (them) with trumps and songs.
- <sup>26</sup> Judas forsooth, and they that were with him, called God to help by (or with) prayers [of acknowledging], and went together.
- <sup>27</sup> Soothly they fighting with (their) hand(s), but praying (to) God in (or with)(their) hearts, casted down five and thirty thousand, not less, and (were) delighted greatly by (the) presence of God [or by (or in) the presence of God greatly delighting].
- <sup>28</sup> And when they had ceased, and with joy *(re)*turned again, they knew that Nicanor had fallen, with his armours.
- <sup>29</sup> Therefore when (a) cry was made, and (a) perturbation was stirred, by (their) country('s) voice (or in their own language) they blessed the Lord Almighty.
- <sup>30</sup> Forsooth Judas, that by all things in body and soul was ready for to die for (the) citizens, bade [or commanded], that the head of Nicanor, and (his) hand with the shoulder gird*(ed)* off, should be brought forth to Jerusalem.
- <sup>31</sup> Whither when he fully came, when men of his lineage were called together, and (the) priests to the altar, he called also them that were in the high tower.

 $^{32}$  And when the head of Nicanor was showed, and the cursed hand, which he holding forth against the holy house of Almighty God greatly gloried.

33 also he commanded (that) the tongue of (the) unpious Nicanor (be) cut off, for to be given to (the) birds gobbet-meal (or piecemeal); for sooth he commanded the hand of the mad man for to be hanged up against (or opposite) the temple.

<sup>34</sup>Therefore all blessed the Lord of heaven, and said, Blessed be the Lord.

that kept his place undefouled.

35 Forsooth he hanged up Nicanor's head in the highest tower, (so) that it were (an) evident, or known, and open sign of the help of God.

<sup>36</sup> Therefore all men, by common counsel, deemed in no manner for to pass this day without solemnity, but for to have solemnity [or worshipping] in (or on) the thirteenth day of the month Adar, that is said, by voice of Syria (or in the Syrian language), the first day of Mordecai.

37 Therefore when these things were done against Nicanor, and of those times when the city was wielded of (or by)(the) Hebrews, also I in these things shall make an end of (my) word(s).

38 And soothly if well, and as it accordeth to the story, this thing and I will (or I desire); if (or) else less worthily, it is to forgive [or to be granted]

(or to be forgiven) to me.

<sup>39</sup> Soothly as for to drink evermore wine, either [or] evermore water, it is contrary, but for to use changeable, either[or]now one, now another, is delightable; so to men reading, if the word be evermore sought to (or for) each part, it shall not be covenable (or suitable), or pleasing; therefore here it shall be ended.

Here endeth the second book of Maccabees, which is (the) end of the Old Testament[Here endeth the story of Maccabees, the which is the last book of the Old Testament]; see now the New Testament.

3RD EZRA

- <sup>1</sup> And Josiah made (the) pask (or the Passover) in Jerusalem to the Lord, and he offered (the) pask the fourteenth day of the month of the first month,
- <sup>2</sup> ordaining (the) priests by their whiles of days, clothed in stoles, or long clothes, in the temple of the Lord.
- <sup>3</sup> And he said to the deacons [or to the Levites], the holy servants of Israel, that they should hallow themselves to the Lord, in (the) setting of the holy ark of the Lord in the house, that king Solomon, the son of David, builded;

<sup>4</sup> It shall not be to you no more to take it upon (your) shoulders; and now serveth to our Lord, and do ye (the) care of that folk of Israel, of the part after towns, and their lineages after towns, and their lineages,

<sup>5</sup> after (or according to) the writing of David, king of Israel, and after the great worshipful doing of Solomon, his son, in all the temple, and after your little fathers part of (the) princehood of them, that stand in the sight of the brethren of the sons of Israel.

<sup>6</sup> Offer ye (the) pask, and maketh ready the sacrifices to your brethren; and do ye after the behest of the Lord, that is given to Moses.

<sup>7</sup> And Josiah gave to the folk that was found there, sheep, of lambs, and of kids, and of she-goats, thirty thousand; calves, three thousand.

<sup>8</sup> These gifts be given (out) of the king's own things, after the behest of the Lord to the people, and to (the) priests, into (the) pask; sheep in number two thousand, and calves an hundred.

<sup>9</sup> And Jeconiah, and Samaeas, and Nathanael, his brother, and Sabias, and Ochiel, and Joram, gave into (the) pask, five thousand sheep, and five hundred calves.

<sup>10</sup> And when these things were nobly done, the priests and deacons [or Levites] stood, having therf loaves by lineages.

<sup>11</sup> And after the parts of the prince-hood of (the) fathers, they offered to the Lord in the sight of the people, after those things that be written in the book of Moses.

 $^{12}$  And they roasted the pask with fire, as it behooved; and they soddened hosts in seething vessels and in pots, with well-willing.

<sup>13</sup> And they brought it to all that there were of the folk; and after these things they made ready to (or for) themselves and to (or for the) priests.

<sup>14</sup> Forsooth the priests offered inner fatness [or tallow], unto the hour was ended; and (the) deacons prepared to (or for) themselves [or and (the) Levites made ready to themselves], and to (or for) their brethren, and to (or) the sons of Aaron.

15 And men sacrificing [or the sacri-ficers] offered their daughters, after the order and the behests (or commands) of David; and Asaph, and

Zechariah, and Eddinous, that was of the king;

<sup>16</sup> and the porters by all the gates offered, so that none passed his gate. Forsooth their brethren prepared to (or made ready for) them.

<sup>17</sup> And so those things, that pertained to the sacrifice of the Lord, be ended. In that day they did (the) pask,

- $^{18}$  and offered hosts upon the sacrifice of the Lord, after the behest (or the command) of king Josiah.
- <sup>19</sup> And the sons of Israel, that were found present, did in that time (the) pask, and the feast day of therf loaves by seven days.
- <sup>20</sup> And there was not solemnized such a pask in Israel, from the times of Samuel, the prophet.
- <sup>21</sup> And all the kings of Israel hallowed not such a pask, as did Josiah, and the priests, and deacons [or Levites], and (the) Jews, and all Israel, that were found in the commemoration, or mind-making, (or memory-making), at Jerusalem.
  - <sup>22</sup> In the eighteenth year, Josiah reigning, this pask was hallowed.
- <sup>23</sup> And the works of Josiah be made right in the sight of the Lord, in (or with a) full dreading heart;
- $^{24}$  and those things for sooth that were about him be written, in the rather times of them that sinned, and the which were unreligious against the Lord, before, or more than, all heathen folk, and the which sinners sought not the words of the Lord upon Israel.
- <sup>25</sup> And after all this deed (or all these deeds) of Josiah, Pharaoh, king of Egypt, went up, coming to cast away in Carchemish upon Euphrates; and Josiah went into (the) meeting to (or of) him.
- <sup>26</sup> And the king of Egypt sent to Josiah, saying, What is to me and to thee, king of Judea?
- <sup>27</sup> I am not sent of (or from) the Lord (against thee), upon Euphrates forsooth is my battle; hastily therefore go down.
- <sup>28</sup> And Josiah was not turned again (or did not turn back) upon the chariot, but he endeavoured himself to over-come Pharaoh [or but (he) enforced to overcome him], not taking heed to the word of the prophet (Jeremiah), from the mouth of the Lord;
- <sup>29</sup> but he set to him battle in the field of Megiddo; and (the) princes came down to (fight) king Josiah.
- <sup>30</sup> And then the king said to his children, or (to his) servants, Moveth me away from the battle; forsooth I am greatly made sick (or very weak). And anon (or at once) his children (or his servants) moved him away from the battle array.
- $^{31}$  And he went up upon his secondary chariot; and coming to Jerusalem, he died, and was buried in his father's sepulchre.
- <sup>32</sup> And in all Judah (or in all Jewry) they bewailed Josiah, and they that before-set with wives, wailed him unto this day; and this is granted to be done evermore in all the kindred of Israel.
- <sup>33</sup> These things forsooth be written in the book of (the) stories of (the) kings of Judah, and the glory of Josiah, and his understanding in the law of God, by all (the) deeds of the doing of him; for evenly those were done of (or by) him, and the which be not written in the book of (the) kings of Israel and of Judah.
- <sup>34</sup> And they that were of the kindred took Jehoahaz, the son of Josiah, and set him (as) king for Josiah, his father, when he was of three and thirty years (old).
- 35 And he reigned upon Israel three months; and then the king of Egypt put him away, (so) that he reigned not in Jerusalem.

- <sup>36</sup> And he polled (or taxed) the folk of (or for) an hundred talents of silver, and of (or for) a talent of gold.
- $^{\rm 37}$  And the king of Egypt set Jehoiakim, his brother, king of Judea and of Jerusalem;
- <sup>38</sup> and he bound the master judges of Jehoiakim, and taking Zarius, his brother, he brought him again to (or out of) Egypt.
- <sup>39</sup> Jehoiakim was of five and twenty years, when he reigned in the land of Judah and of Jerusalem; and he did evil things in the sight of the Lord.
- <sup>40</sup> After this forsooth Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, went up, and binding Joakim in a strong bond, brought him into Babylon;
- <sup>41</sup> and Nebuchadnezzar took and brought the holy vessels of God, and (made) sacred (or consecrated)those in his temple in Babylon.
- <sup>42</sup> Forsooth of his uncleanness and unreligiosity it is written in the book of the times of (the) kings.
- <sup>43</sup> And Joakim, his son, reigned for him; when for sooth he was ordained king, he was of eight(een) years (old).
- <sup>44</sup> Forsooth he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem; and did evil in (the) sight of the Lord.
- <sup>45</sup> And after a year Nebuchadnezzar sent (for), and brought him over into Babylon, together with the sacred vessels of the Lord.
- 46 And he set Zedekiah king of Judah and of Jerusalem, when he was of one and twenty years (old). Forsooth he reigned eleven years;
- <sup>47</sup> and he did evil in (the) sight of the Lord, and was not adread of the words that be said of Jeremy (or by Jeremiah), the prophet, from the mouth of the Lord.
- <sup>48</sup> And he adjured, or charged by oath, of (or by) king Nebuchadnezzar, forsworn went away, and his noll made hard, he over-passed the lawful things of the Lord God of Israel.
- $^{49}$ And the dukes of the Lord's people bare them(selves) wickedly many things, and they did unpiously over all the wickednesses of (the) Gentiles; and they defouled (or defiled) the temple of the Lord, that was holy in Jerusalem.
- <sup>50</sup> And (the) God of their fathers sent by his angel to again-call them, for the which thing he spared to them, and to their tabernacles [or their tabernacle].
- <sup>51</sup> They forsooth scorned in their corners, and that day that the Lord spake, they were bobbing his prophets.
- <sup>52</sup> The which Lord is stirred to wrath upon his folk, for their irreligiosity. And the kings of (the) Chaldeans commanded, and went up,
- <sup>53</sup> (and) they slew the young men of them with (the) sword, about the holy temple of them; and they spared not to young man, nor to maiden, nor to old man, and to full waxen man (or to fully grown man); but also all they be taken into the hands of them;
- <sup>54</sup> and they took all the sacred vessels of the Lord, and the king's coffers, and brought those into Babylon.
- <sup>55</sup> And they burned up the house of the Lord, and destroyed the walls of Jerusalem, and they burned (up) his (or its) towers with fire.
- <sup>56</sup> And they wasted all the worship-ful things, and brought them to nought; and they brought the people left of (or by) the sword into Babylon.

- <sup>57</sup> And they were his thralls, unto the time that (the) Persians reigned, in the fulfilling of the word of the Lord, in the mouth of Jeremy;
- <sup>58</sup> till that the land would do benignly their sabbaths, he sabbatized all the time of their forsaking, in the applying of seventy years.

- <sup>1</sup> Reigning Cyrus, king of Persia, in the fulfilling of the word of the Lord, in the mouth of Jeremy (or Jeremiah),
- <sup>2</sup> the Lord raised up the spirit of Cyrus, king of Persia; and he preached in(to) all his realm (al)together by scripture (or by writing),
- <sup>3</sup> saying, These things saith Cyrus, king of Persia, The Lord of Israel, the high Lord, hath ordained me king to the world of earths (or over the whole earth);
- $^4$  and he signified to me to build to (or for) him an house in Jerusalem, that is in Judah.
- <sup>5</sup> If there is any man of your kindred, his Lord go up with him into Jerusalem.
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore how many ever dwell in places about, help they them that dwell in that place, in gold and silver,
- <sup>7</sup> in gifts, with horse(s), and beasts, and with other things, the which after vows be laid up into the house of the Lord, that is in Jerusalem.
- <sup>8</sup> And the standing princes of (the) lineages of (the) towns of Judah, of the lineage of Benjamin, and priests and deacons [or Levites], whom the Lord stirred to wend [or to go] up, and to build up the house of the Lord, that is in Jerusalem;
- <sup>9</sup> and they, that were in the environ, or in (the) compass, of them, should help in (or with) all silver and gold of it, and in (or with) beasts, and in (or with) many vows; and many others, of whom the wit is stirred, help they also.
- <sup>10</sup> And king Cyrus brought forth the sacred vessels of the Lord, the which Nebuchadnezzar translated (or brought over) from Jerusalem, and (had made) sacred (or consecrated) them in his (temple of) maumet(s).
- <sup>11</sup> And Cyrus, king of Persia, bringing them forth, took those to Mithradates, that was upon (or over) the treasures of him.
  - <sup>12</sup> Forsooth by him they be taken to Sanabassar, governor of Judea.
- <sup>13</sup> Of these things forsooth this is the number; silvern hallowed vessels of liquors (or for liquids), two thousand and four hundred; thirty silvern drink-ing vessels; thirty golden vials (or phials); and two thousand and four hundred silvern vials (or phials); and a thousand other vessels.
- $^{14}$  Forsooth all the golden and silvern vessels were four thousand and four hundred and eight and sixty.
- <sup>15</sup> And they be delivered out to Sanabassar, together with them, that were come into Jerusalem of the captivity, or thralldom, of Babylon.
- <sup>16</sup> Forsooth in the time of Artaxerxes, king of Persia, there wrote to him, of these that dwelled in Judea and in Jerusalem, Belemus, and Mithradates, and Tabellius, and Rathymus, Beelteth-mus, and Semellius, the scribe, and others dwelling in Samaria, and in other places, they wrote this subject letter to king Artaxerxes.

- <sup>17</sup> Lord, thy children (or thy servants) Rathymus, and Semellius, the scribe, and other doomsmen of thy court, of things that fall in Celosyria and Phenice (or in Greater Syria and Phoenicia).
- <sup>18</sup> And now be it known to the lord the king, that (the) Jews, the which went up from you to us, coming into Jerusalem, a city of fleers-away [or a city again-flown to], and a full evil city, they build up the ovens of it, and they *(re)*set the walls, and rear (or raise up) the temple.
- <sup>19</sup> That if this city and walls were made up (again), [or were full ended], they shall not suffer to yield tributes, but also they shall against-stand to kings.
- <sup>20</sup> And for cause that that thing is done about the temple, to have it rightly we have deemed to not despise that same thing,
- <sup>21</sup> but to make known to the lord [the] king, that if it shall be seen pleasing to the king, be it sought in the books of thy fathers;
- <sup>22</sup> and thou shalt find in (the) remembrances written of them, and thou shalt know, that that city was again-flown (or rebellious), and kings and cities smiting together,
- <sup>23</sup> and (the) Jews fleeing again (or rebelling), and making battles in it always; for the which cause this city was forsaken [or is desert(ed)].
- <sup>24</sup> Now therefore we make known to the lord [the] king, that if this city were built up, and the walls of it were areared, there shall be no coming down to thee into Celosyria and Phenice.
- <sup>25</sup> Then the king wrote again to Rathymus, that wrote those things that befell, and to Beeltethmus, and to Semellius, the scribe, and to others ordained sovereigns and dwelling in Syria, and in Phenice (or in Phoenicia), [or to others ordained, and dwellers in Syria, and Phenice], he wrote to them these things that be set under.
- <sup>26</sup> I have read the letter, that thou sentest to me. Therefore I commanded it to be sought; and it was found, that that city was always withstanding to kings,
- <sup>27</sup> and (the) men again-fugitive, and making battles in it; and most strong kings have been lordshipping in Jerusalem, and asking tributes of Celosyria and Phenice (or Phoenicia).
- <sup>28</sup> Now therefore I (have) command-(ed) to prevent those men to build up the city, and to look [or to purvey], that anything be not made hereafter; but that they pass not into full much [or go they not forth into more],
- $^{29}$  since they be of malice, so that grievances be not brought there to kings.
- <sup>30</sup> Then after these things were rehearsed (or read), that were written of (or from) Artaxerxes, the king, Rath-ymus, and Semellius, the scribe, and they that were with them ordained, enjoining, hieingly (or hastily) came into Jerusalem, with horsemen, and people, and with company; and they began to prevent (or to hinder) the builders. And they voided (or ceased)then from the building of the temple [in Jerusalem], unto the second year of the realm of Darius, king of Persia.

<sup>1</sup> King Darius made a great supper to (or for) all his servants, and to all the master judges of Media and Persia,

- <sup>2</sup> and to all that weared (or wore) purple, and to governors, and to counsellors, and to prefects under him, from India unto Ethiopia, to an hundred and seven and twenty provinces.
- <sup>3</sup> And when they had eaten and drunken, and were fulfilled, they *(re)*turned again (home). Then king Darius went up in his little bed-place, and slept, and (then) was *(a)*waked.
- <sup>4</sup> Then those three young men, keepers of the body (or his body-guards), the which kept the body of the king [or that kept the body of the king], said one to another.
- <sup>5</sup> Say we each of us a word, that before pass (or surpass)in knowing; and whose ever word seem wiser than of another [or the tother], king Darius shall give to him great gifts,
- <sup>6</sup> and to be covered with purple, and to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold; and he shall give him a golden chariot, with the bridle, and a mitre of bis (or fine linen), and a bie (or a band) about the neck;
- <sup>7</sup> and he shall sit in the second place from Darius, for his wisdom; and he shall be called Darius' cousin.
- <sup>8</sup> Then each of them three writing his word, sealed (it), and put those under the pillow of king Darius;
- <sup>9</sup> and said, When the king hath risen, they will take [or they shall give] to him their things written, and whatever thing the king shall deem of (these) three, and the master judges of Persia, forsooth the word of him is wiser than of the others, to him shall be given the victory, as it is written.
  - <sup>10</sup> One wrote, Wine is strong.
  - <sup>11</sup> Another wrote, The king is stronger.
- $^{\rm 12}$  The third wrote, Women be strongest; truth overcometh for sooth over all things.
- <sup>13</sup> And when the king had risen up, they took their things written [or they took their written things], and gave those to him, and he read (them).
- <sup>14</sup> And he sent (forth) and called all the master judges of Persia, and of the land(of) Media, and the clothed men in purple, and the rulers of (the) provinces, and (the) prefects;
  - <sup>15</sup> and they set in council, and the writings were read before them.
- <sup>16</sup> And the king said, Calleth the young men, and they shall show their words. And they were called, and they came in.
- <sup>17</sup> And Darius said to them, Show ye to us of these things that be written. And the first, that had said of the strength of wine, he began,
- <sup>18</sup> and said to them, Men! full sur-passing(ly) strong is wine; to all men that drink it, it beareth down the mind;
- <sup>19</sup> also it maketh the mind vain, both of (the) king and of the fatherless child; also of servant and of free men, of poor and of rich;
- <sup>20</sup> and it turneth all the mind into secureness, and [in] to gladness; and it remembereth not any sorrow and debt;
- <sup>21</sup> and it maketh all the entrails honest (or rich); and it remembereth not king, nor master judge; and all things it maketh speak by talent(s);
- <sup>22</sup> and when they have drunken, they remember not friendship nor brotherhood, and not long after they take (out) swords;
- <sup>23</sup> and when they have been drenched of (or drowned in) wine, and rise, they have no mind (or memory of) what things they did.

 $^{24}$  O men! whether wine is not surpassingly strong, that thus constraineth men to do? And this thing said, he held his peace.

- <sup>1</sup> And the next follower began to say, that said of the strength of a king,
- <sup>2</sup> O men! whether men be not sur-passingly strong, the which hold land and sea, and all things that be in them?
- <sup>3</sup> The king forsooth surpasseth above all things, and he hath lordship of them, and they do all thing(s), what-ever he will say to them.
- <sup>4</sup> And if he send them to fighters, they go, and destroy hills, and walls, and towers:
- <sup>5</sup> they be slain and slay, and they pass not the word of the king; for if they overcome, they bring to the king all things, whatever things they have spoiled evermore, and all other things.
- <sup>6</sup> And how many ever (or however many) bear not knighthood, nor fight, but ear (or plow) the land, again when they shall reap, they bring tributes to the king.
- <sup>7</sup> And he is(but) one (man) alone; and if he bid to slay, they slay; and if he bid them to forgive, they forgive;
- <sup>8</sup> and if he say them to smite [or and if he say to smite], they smite; if he say to outlaw, they outlaw; if he bid them to build, they build;
- <sup>9</sup> if he bid to throw down, they throw adown; if he bid to plant, they plant;
- <sup>10</sup> and all (the) folk and virtues (or hosts) obeish (or obey) to him; and over all these things he shall sit, and drink, and sleep.
- <sup>11</sup> These forsooth keep him about [or in environ keep him], and may not go each one (or be not able to go each one), and do their own works, but in his word men obeish (or obey) to him.
- $^{12}$  What manner wise surpasseth not the king before others, that thus is loosed? And he held his peace.
- <sup>13</sup> The third, that had said of women, and of truth; this is said(or he was called) Zerubbabel; he began to speak,
- <sup>14</sup> O men! the king is not great, neither many other men, nor wine surpasseth before; who is it then that hath lordship of them?
- $^{1\bar{5}}$  Whether not women, that have *(be)*gotten kings, and all the people, the which kings have lordship both of (the) sea and of (the) land, and of women they be born?
- $^{16}$  And they brought forth them that planted vines, of the which wine is made.
- $^{17}$  And they make the stoles, or long clothes, of all men, and they do glory to men, and men may not or be not able to be severed from women.
- <sup>18</sup> If they gather together gold and silver, and all fair thing, and see a woman in good(ly) array, and in good fairness,
- <sup>19</sup> they, forsaking all these things, take heed to her, and the mouth opened, they behold her, and they draw more to her than to gold and [or] silver, or any precious thing.
- <sup>20</sup> A man shall forsake his father, that nourished him, and his own land, and to a woman he joineth him(self) together,
- $^{21}$  and with a woman he liveth his life, and neither remembereth father, nor mother, nor the land of his birth.

- $^{22}\,\mathrm{And}$  therefore it behoove th us to know, that women have lordship of us. Whether ye sorrow not?
- <sup>23</sup> And also a man taketh his sword, and goeth in the way to do thefts, and manslaughters, and to sail over the sea, and over floods (or on rivers);
- $^{24}$  and he seeth a lion, and he goeth in darknesses; and when he hath done his theft, and guiles, and ravens, he bringeth it to his lief (or to his love).
  - <sup>25</sup> And again a man loveth his wife more than father or mother;
- $^{26}$  and many men be made mad for their wives, and  $\it many$  be made thralls for them:
- <sup>27</sup> and many perished, and were strangled, and many have sinned for women, [or and sinned, for women].
- <sup>28</sup> And now *(be)*lieveth me; forsooth a king is great, and his power [or for great is the king in his power], for all regions, or kingdoms about, be afeared to touch him.
- <sup>29</sup> I saw neverthelater (or neverthe-less) Apame, the daughter of Bartacus, the wonderful man [or the daughter of (the) wonderful man Bartacus], the secondary wife (or concubine) of the king, sitting beside the king at the right side;
- <sup>30</sup> and taking away the diadem (or the crown) from his head, and putting it on herself, and with the palm of her left hand she smote the king.
- <sup>31</sup> And over these things, the mouth opened, he beheld her, and if she laugh to (or at) him, he laughed, and if she were wroth to him, he glosseth (or he flattereth), or pleaseth, unto the time that he be reconciled [in] to grace.
- $^{32}$  O men! why be not women strongest? Great is the earth, and heaven is high, that do these things.
- <sup>33</sup> Then the king and the purpled men beheld either into (the) other; and he began to speak of truth.
- <sup>34</sup>O men! whether women be not strong? Great is the earth, and heaven is high, and the course of the sun is swift; it is turned in the compass of heaven, and again it runneth again into the same place in a day.
- <sup>35</sup> Whether he is not a great doer, that maketh these things? and truth great, and stronger before all things?
- <sup>36</sup> All (the) earth calleth inwardly (the) truth, also it blesseth heaven, and all works be moved and dread it; and there is no wicked thing with it.
- <sup>37</sup> (A) Wicked king, and wicked women, and all the sons [or all the works] of men be wicked, and there is not truth in them, and in their wickedness they shall perish;
- <sup>38</sup> and truth dwelleth, and waxeth into without end, and it liveth, and wieldeth, into worlds of worlds.
- <sup>39</sup> It is not with truth to out-take (or to accept) persons, and differences; but it doeth those things that be rightful [or rightwise], to all unrightwise and evil men; and all men be made benign in his works.
- $^{40}$  And there is not wickedness in his doom, but there is strength, and realm, and power, and majesty of all endurings above time. Blessed be the God of truth!
- <sup>41</sup> And then he left (off) in speaking. And all the peoples cried, and said, Great is truth, and it *(sur)*passeth before all others.

- <sup>42</sup> Then the king said to him, Ask, if thou wilt, anything moreover, than there be written, and I shall give (it) to thee, after that thou art found (the) wiser; and next to me thou shalt sit, and thou shalt be called my cousin.
- <sup>43</sup> Then said he to the king, Be thou mindful of the vow, that thou vowedest, to build up Jerusalem, in the day in which thou took the realm;
- <sup>44</sup> and to send again (or away) all the vessels, that be taken from Jerusalem, the which Cyrus parted (or set apart), when he slew Babylon, and would send again those things thither.
- <sup>45</sup> And thou wouldest build up the temple, that Idumeans burned (up), for Judea is put out of their terms, or marches, of (or by) the Chaldeans.
- <sup>46</sup> And now, lord, this it is that I ask, and that I bid; this is the majesty that I ask of thee, that thou do the vow that thou vowedest to the King of heaven, of (or with) thy mouth.
- <sup>47</sup> Then Darius, the king, rising kissed him, and wrote epistles to all the dispensators, and prefects, and to men clothed in purple, that they should lead him forth, and them that were with him, all wending [or going] up to build Jerusalem.
- <sup>48</sup> And to all the prefects that were in *(Celo)*Syria and Phenice (or in Greater Syria and Phoenicia), and (in) Lebanon, he wrote epistles, that they should draw (up) cedar trees from the hill Lebanon into Jerusalem, (and) that they build up the city with them.
- <sup>49</sup> And he wrote to all the Jews, that went up from the realm in(to) Judea, for freedom, that any man of power, or master judge, and prefect, should not come over to the gates of them,
- <sup>50</sup> and each region, that they had hold (of), to be free from them; and that Idumeans leave up [or left] the castles of Jews, that they withheld (and that the Edomites should let go of the towns of the Jews, that they held),
- <sup>51</sup> and to give year by year twenty talents, into (the) making of the temple, unto the time that it be full(y) builded;
- <sup>52</sup> and each day to offer hosts upon the place of sacred things (or the altar), as they be commanded; to offer, by all years, (an)other ten talents;
- $^{53}$  and to all men, that go forth from Babylon, to make the city, as freedom were, both to them, and to the sons of them, and to [all] the priests that go before.
- <sup>54</sup> Forsooth also he wrote the quantity; and he commanded the sacred stole(s), or vestment (s), to be given, in which they should serve;
- <sup>55</sup> and he wrote (the) wages to be given to the deacons [or Levites], unto the day that the house should be fully ended, and Jerusalem made out;
- <sup>56</sup> and he wrote to all men keeping the city, to give to the builders lots and wages.
- <sup>57</sup> And he left (for) them (or he let go to them) all the vessels, that Cyrus had parted (or had set apart) from Babylon; and all things, whatever Cyrus said, he commanded it to be done, and to be sent to Jerusalem.
- <sup>58</sup> And when that young man had gone forth, raising his face toward Jeru-salem, he blessed the King of heaven,
- <sup>59</sup> and said, Of thee, Lord, is victory, and of thee is wisdom, and clearness (or glory), and I am thy servant.
- <sup>60</sup> Thou art blessed [or Blessed thou art], for thou hast given to me wisdom, and I acknowledge to thee, Lord of our fathers.

<sup>61</sup> And he took the epistles, or (the) letters, and went forth into Babylon; and he came, and told to all his brethren, that were in Babylon.

62 And they blessed the God of their fathers, that gave to them forgiveness and refreshing,

63 that they should go up, and build Jerusalem, and the temple, where his name is named in it; and they joyed [full out] with musics and with gladness (for) seven days.

CHAPTER 5

<sup>1</sup> After these things forsooth there were princes chosen of (or from their) towns, that they should wend [or go] up, by houses, by their lineages, and the wives of them, and the sons and daughters of them, and servants and handmaidens of them, and their beasts.

<sup>2</sup> And king Darius sent together with them a thousand horsemen, to the time that they brought them into Jerusalem, with peace, and with musics, and timbres, and trumps;

- $^{\rm 3}$  and all the brethren were playing. And he made them to go up together with them.
- <sup>4</sup> And these be the names of the men, that went up, by their towns, into lineages, and into (the) part of the princehood of them.
- <sup>5</sup> Priests; the sons of Phinehas, the sons of Aaron, Jesus, (or Jeshua, or Joshua), the son of Josedek, the son of Saraeas, (and) Joakim, the son of Zerubbabel, son of Salathiel, of the house of David, of the progeny of Phares (or Perez), of the lineage forsooth of Judah,
- <sup>6</sup> that spake under Darius, king of Persia, marvellous doing words, in the second year of his realm [or of his reign], in April (or Nisan), the first month.
- <sup>7</sup> Forsooth these it be, that went up of Judah from the captivity, or thralldom, of the transmigration, whom Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, translated (or brought over) into Babylon;
- <sup>8</sup> and each is *(re)*turned again into Jerusalem, and into all the cities of Judea, each into his own city, that came with Zerubbabel, and with Jesus, (or Jeshua, or Joshua); Nehemiah, Zar-aeas, and Resaiah, Eneneus, Mardoch-aeus (or Mordecai), Beelsarus, Asphar-asus, Reeliah, Romelius, (and) Baana, one of the princes of them.
- <sup>9</sup> And the number from the Gentiles of them, from the provosts, or reeves, of them; the sons of Phoros, two thousand an hundred seventy and two; (the sons of Saphat, four hundred seventy and two);

<sup>10</sup> the sons of Ares, seven hundred fifty and six;

- 11 the sons of Pahath-moab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve;
- <sup>12</sup> the sons of Elam, a thousand two hundred fifty and four; the sons of Zathui, nine hundred forty and five; the sons of Chorbe, seven hundred and five; the sons of Bani, six hundred forty and eight;
- <sup>13</sup> the sons of Bebai, six hundred twenty and three; the sons of Astaa, three thousand two hundred twenty and two;
- <sup>14</sup> the sons of Adonikam, six hundred sixty and seven; the sons of Bagoi, two thousand sixty and six; the sons of Adin, four hundred fifty and four;
- <sup>15</sup> the sons of Ater (the son of) Hezekiah, ninety and two; the sons of Keilan and Azetas, threescore and seven; the sons of Azurus, four hundred thirty and two;

- <sup>16</sup> the sons of Annias, an hundred and one; the sons of Arom, thirty-two; the sons of Bassa, three hundred twenty and three; the sons of Arsiphurith, an hundred and two (or twelve);
- <sup>17</sup> the sons of Baeterus, three thousand and five; the sons of Bethlo-mon, an hundred twenty and three;
- <sup>18</sup> the sons of Netophah, fifty and five; the sons of Anathoth, an hundred fifty and eight; the sons of Bethas-moth, forty and two;
- <sup>19</sup> the sons of Cariathiarius, twenty and five; the sons of Caphira and Beroth, seven hundred forty and three; the sons of Pira, seven hundred;
- <sup>20</sup> the sons of Chadias and Ammidoi, four hundred twenty and two; the sons of Cirama and Gabdes, six hundred twenty and one;
- <sup>21</sup> the sons of Macalon, an hundred twenty and two; the sons of Betolio, fifty and two; the sons of Phinis, an hundred fifty and six;
- <sup>22</sup> the sons of Calamolalus and Onus, seven hundred twenty and five; the sons of Jerechus, two hundred forty and five;
  - <sup>23</sup> the sons of Sanaas, three thousand three hundred and thirty.
- $^{24}$  Priests: the sons of Jeddu, the son of Jesus, (or Jeshua, or Joshua), among the sons of Anasib, nine hundred seventy and two; the sons of Emmer-uth (or Immer), a thousand fifty and two;
- <sup>25</sup> the sons of Phassurus, a thousand forty and seven; the sons of Charme, a thousand and seventeen.
- <sup>26</sup> Deacons [or Levites]; the sons of Jessue, and Cadmielus, and Bannus, and Sudius, four and seventy; all the number from the two and twenty year, thirty thousand four hundred and two and sixty; sons, and daughters, and wives, all the numbering, sixty thousand two hundred and two and forty.
- <sup>27</sup> The sons of priests, that sung in the temple; the sons of Asaph, an hundred and eight and twenty.
- <sup>28</sup> Ushers forsooth (or The porters); the sons of Salum, the sons of Atar, the sons of Tolmon, the sons of Dacubi, the sons of Ateta, the sons of Sabi, (in) all an hundred and nine and thirty.
- <sup>29</sup> Priests, serving in the temple (or The Temple servants); (the) sons of Esau, the sons of Asipha, the sons of Taboth, the sons of Keras, the sons of Susa, the sons of Phaleas, the sons of Labana, the sons of Aggaba,
- <sup>30</sup> the sons of Acud, the sons of Uta, the sons of Ketab, the sons of Gaba, the sons of Subai, the sons of Anan, the sons of Cathua, the sons of Geddur,
- <sup>31</sup> the sons of Jairus, the sons of Desan, the sons of Noeba, the sons of Chaseba, the sons of Gazera, the sons of Ozius, the sons of Phinoe, the sons of Asara, the sons of Basthae, the sons of Asana, the sons of Maani, the sons of Naphisi, the sons of Acum, the sons of Achipha, the sons of Asur, the sons of Pharakim, the sons of Baaloth,
- <sup>32</sup> the sons of Meedda, the sons of Coutha, the sons of Charea, the sons of Barchue, the sons of Serar, the sons of Thomi, the sons of Nasith, the sons of Atepha.
- <sup>33</sup> Solomon, the sons of him (or The sons of Solomon's servants); the sons of Asapphioth, the sons of Pharida, the sons of Jeeli, the sons of Lozon, the sons of Isdael, the sons of Saphythi,
- <sup>34</sup> the sons of Hagia, the sons of Phacareth, the sons of Sabie, the sons of Sarothie, the sons of Masias, the sons of Gas, the sons of Addus, the sons of Subas, the sons of Apherra, the sons of Barodis, the sons of Saphat, the sons of Adlon.

35 All these were in holy serving; and the children of Solomon were four hundred fourscore and two.

<sup>36</sup> These be the sons that went up to (or from) Thermeleth and Thelsas; the princes of them were Charaathalar and Alar;

<sup>37</sup> and they might not tell out their cities, and their progenies, what manner they be; and of Israel, the sons of Dalan, the sons of Ban, the sons of Necodan, (six hundred and fifty-two).

- 38 And of the priests, that used (the office of the) priesthood, and were [not] found; the sons of Obdia, the sons of Accos, the sons of Joddus, that took Augia (as his) wife, (one) of the daughters of Barzillai, and they be called by the name of her;
- <sup>39</sup> and of these is sought the genealogy written [or the written genealogy] of the kindred, and they be prevented to use (the office of the) priesthood.
- 40 And Nehemiah said to them, and Attharias, that they take not part of the holy things, till the time that there arise a taught bishop, into showing (or revelation) and truth.
- 41 All Israel forsooth was twelve thousand (or All Israel twelve years of age and older), out-take (or besides) servants and handmaidens, two and forty thousand three hundred and sixty.

42 The servants of them, and handmaidens were seven thousand three hundred and seven and thirty (or forty); singers and singsters [or singeresses], two hundred and five and sixty (or forty);

- 43 camels, four hundred and five and thirty; horses, seven thousand six and thirty; mules, two hundred thousand and five and forty (or two hundred and five and forty); beasts under yoke, five thousand (and five hundred) and five and twenty.
- 44 And of those provosts, or reeves, by towns, while they should come into the temple of God, that was in Jeru-salem, to be avowed to rear up the temple in his place, after their virtue;
- 45 and the holy treasury to be given into the temple of works [or to be given into the temple (into) the holy treasury of works], were eleven thousand bezants, and an hundred priests' stoles.
- <sup>46</sup> And there dwelled (the) priests, and deacons [or Levites], and others, that were of the people, in Jerusalem, and in the realm [or region]; and the holy singers, and ushers (or the porters), and all Israel, in their regions.
- 47 While the seventh month yet lasted, and when the sons of Israel were each in his own things, they came together of one accord into the porch (or open space), that was before the east gate.
- <sup>48</sup> And while Jesus, (or Jeshua, or Joshua), the son of Josedek, and his brethren, (the) priests, stood, and Zerubbabel, the son of Salathiel, and his brethren, they made ready an altar,
- <sup>49</sup> that they would offer on it burnt sacrifices, after those things that be written in the book of Moses, the man of God.
- 50 And there came to them of other nations of the land, and reared (up) the holy treasury in his (or its own) place, all the folk of the land; and they offered hosts, and burnt sacrifices of the morrowtide to the Lord.

51 And they did the feast of tabernacles, and a solemn day, as it is written in the law, and sacrifices each day, as it behooved.

- <sup>52</sup> And after these things they ordain-ed offerings, and hosts of sabbaths, and of new moons, and of all solemn days hallowed [or all hallowed solemn days].
- <sup>53</sup> And how many ever vowed to the Lord, from the time of the new moon of the seventh month, they took hosts to offer to God; and the temple of the Lord was not yet builded up [or yet was not built up].
- <sup>54</sup> And they gave money to masons, and to wrights, and drinks [or and drink] and meats, with joy.
- <sup>55</sup> And they gave cars (or carts) to (the) Sidonians and to (the) Tyrians (or the men of Tyre), that they should carry over to them from Lebanon wood cedar beams, and to make a navy into the haven of Joppa, after the decree that was written to them from Cyrus, king of Persia.
- <sup>56</sup> And in the second year (after) they came into (or back to) the temple of God, into Jerusalem; the second month Zerubbabel began, the son of Salathiel, and Jesus, (or Jeshua, or Joshua), the son of Josedek, and the brethren of them, and (the) priests, and Levites (or deacons), and all they that came from the captivity into Jerusalem;
- <sup>57</sup> and founded the temple of God, in the new moon of the second month of the second year, when they had come into Judea and to Jerusalem;
- <sup>58</sup> and set deacons [or Levites] from the age of twenty years (old) upon the works of the Lord. And Jesus, (or Jeshua, or Joshua), stood, (and) his son(s), and his brethren, all the deacons [or all Levites] together casting, and executors, or followers, of the law, and doing works in the house of the Lord.
- $^{59}$  And there stood (the) priests, hav-ing stoles, or long clothes, with trumps, and (the) Levites (or the deacons), the sons of Asaph, having cymbals,
- <sup>60</sup> together praising the Lord, and blessing him, after the manner of David, king of Israel.
- <sup>61</sup> And they sung a song to the Lord, for his sweetness and his worship into worlds, or ever (more), upon all Israel.
- $^{62}$  And all the people sung with trumps, and cried with (a) great (or a loud) voice, praising together the Lord, in the rearing (up) of the Lord's house.
- 63 And there came many of the priests, and of (the) deacons [or Levites], and of (the) presidents after (the) towns (or the princes of the towns), to the elders that had seen the rather house (or the first Temple), and at the building up of this house, with cry*(ing)*, and with great wailing;
  - 64 and many with trumps, and great joy,
- 65 so that the people heard not the trumps, for the great wailing of the people. Forsooth there was a company singing worshipfully in trumps (or with the trumpets), so that it was heard afar.
- <sup>66</sup> And the enemies heard the lineages of Judah and of Benjamin, and came to know, what was this voice (or meaning) of (the) trumps.
- <sup>67</sup> And they knew, that they that were of the captivity builded, [or built], the temple to the Lord God of Israel.
- <sup>68</sup> And the enemies coming nigh to Zerubbabel, and to Jesus, (or Jeshua, or Joshua), and to the reeves of (the) towns, they said to them, We shall build together with you.

<sup>69</sup> In like manner forsooth we have heard our Lord, and we have gone together from the days of Asbasareth (or Esarhaddon), king of Assyrians, that over-passed from hence, [or that went over hence], (or that brought us here).

<sup>70</sup> And Zerubbabel, and Jesus, (or Jeshua, or Joshua), and the princes of the towns of Israel said to them, It (be)longeth not to us and to you together to build up the house of our God;

- <sup>71</sup> forsooth we alone shall build the house of our God, after those things, that Cyrus, king of Persia, commanded.
- <sup>72</sup> The Gentiles forsooth of the land living with them that be in Judea, and rearing up the work of building, and bringing forth both (their) espies and people, they prevented them to build up;
- <sup>73</sup> and they hindered (the) men, haunting the goings-to, (so) that the building should not be ended in all the time of the life of the king Cyrus; and they drew along the making-up by two years, unto the reign of Darius.

- <sup>1</sup> Forsooth in the second year of the realm of Darius, Haggai prophesied, and Zechariah, the son of Addo, a prophet, with Judea and in Jerusalem, in the name of the Lord God of Israel, upon them.
- <sup>2</sup> Then standing Zerubbabel, the son of Salathiel, and Jesus, (or Jeshua, or Joshua), the son of Josedek, they began to build up the house of the Lord, that is in Jerusalem; when there were nigh to them, (yea), (the) prophets of the Lord, and helped them.
- <sup>3</sup> In that time came to them Sisinnes, the under-little-king of Syria and of Phenice (or Phoenicia), and Sathrabuzanes, and his fellows. And they said to them,
- <sup>4</sup> Who commanded to you, that ye build this house, and this roof, and many other things (that) ye perform? and who be those builders [or the builders], that build up these things?
- <sup>5</sup> And the elder men of Israel had grace of (or from) the Lord, when the visitation of them was made upon them that were of the captivity;
- <sup>6</sup> and they were not hindered to build up, to the time that it were signified to Darius of all these things, and an answer were taken again.
- <sup>7</sup> This is the ensample of the letter, that Sisinnes, the under-(little-)king of Syria and of Phenice (or of Phoenicia), and Sathrabuzanes, and their fellows, rulers in Syria and in Phenice (or in Phoenicia), sent to the king. To king Darius, greeting(s).
- <sup>8</sup> All things be they known to the lord the king; forsooth when we came into the region of Judea, and went into Jerusalem, we found men
- <sup>9</sup> building a great house of God, and a temple of great polished stones, and of precious materials in the walls;
- <sup>10</sup> and those works busily in making, and to help, and to make wealsome in the hands of them, and in all glory, full diligently to be performed.
- <sup>11</sup> Then we asked the elder men, saying, Who suffered (or allowed) you to build this house, and to build [or (to) found] these works?
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore for sooth we asked them, (so) that we might make known to thee the men, and the provosts, or reeves; and we asked them the writing of the names of the masters of the work.

13 And they answered to us, saying, We be servants of the Lord, that made both heaven and earth [or that made heaven and earth];

<sup>14</sup> and this house was builded [or built] before these many years of (or built) by) the king of Israel, that was great, and a full strong king, and it was destroyed again[or full ended].

- 15 And for our fathers stirred and sinned against [the] God of Israel, he betook them into the hands of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, king of (the) Chaldeans:
- <sup>16</sup> and they destroyed and burned up this house, and they brought the people made thrall [or captive] into Babylon.
- 17 In the first year reigning Cyrus, king of Babylon, king Cyrus wrote to build up this house;
- <sup>18</sup> and those holy golden vessels and silvern, that Nebuchadnezzar had borne away from the house of God, that is in Jerusalem, and had (made) sacred (or had consecrated) them in his temple, again king Cyrus brought them forth from the temple that was in Babylon, and they were betaken to Zerubbabel, and to Sanabassar, the under-little-king.
- <sup>19</sup> And it was commanded to them, that they offer these vessels, and they should lay them up in the temple, that was in Jerusalem, and to build up that temple of God in that place.
- <sup>20</sup> Then Sanabassar under-laid the foundaments of the house of the Lord, that is in Jerusalem; and from thence unto now is (still) abuilding, and hath taken no full ending.
- 21 Now then, O king! if it is deemed of (or by) thee, that it be perfectly sought [or be it perfectly sought] in the king's libraries of king Cyrus, that be in Babylon;
- <sup>22</sup> and if it were found in the counsel of king Cyrus, (that) the making of the house of the Lord, that is in Jerusalem, to be begun, and if it shall be showed of (or by) the lord our king, write he to us of these things.
- <sup>23</sup> Then king Darius commanded to be inwardly sought in the libraries; and there was found in Ecbatana, a borough town, that is in the middle region, a place (or a roll), in the which were written these things.

<sup>24</sup> The first year reigning Cyrus king, Cyrus commanded to build up the house of the Lord, that is in Jerusalem, where they burned with continual fire;

- <sup>25</sup> whose height was made of sixty cubits, and the breadth of sixty cubits, squared with three polished stones, and with solar (or throne) tree of the same region, and with one new solar (or with three rows of polished stones, and one row of new wood from the same region); and costs to be given (out) of the house of king Cyrus;
- <sup>26</sup> and the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both golden and silvern, that Nebuchadnezzar bare away, that those [or they] be put thither into the house, that is in Jerusalem, where they were put.
- <sup>27</sup> And he commanded Sisinnes, the under-little-king of Syria and Phenice (or Phoenicia), and Sathrabuzanes, and his fellows, to do their(own) business, and they that were in Syria and Phenice (or Phoenicia) ordained rulers, that they should abstain them(selves) from the same place.
- <sup>28</sup> And I also commanded to make (or build)it up all (again), and I looked forth, that they help them that be of the captivity of (the) Jews, unto the time that the temple of the house of the Lord be full(y) ended (or finished);

<sup>29</sup> and a quantity to be given dili-gently to these men of the travail of the tributes of Celosyria and Phenice (or taxes of Greater Syria and Phoenicia), to the sacrifice of the Lord, to Zerubbabel, the prefect, to bulls, and wethers (or rams), and to lambs;

<sup>30</sup> also forsooth both wheat, and salt, wine, and oil, busily by all years, as the priests, that be in Jerusalem, ordained to be fulfilled each day, without any delay;

<sup>31</sup> also that there be offered offer-ings of liquors (or liquid sacrifices) to the highest God, for the king, and for his children, and pray they for the life of them.

- <sup>32</sup> And be it denounced (or announced), that whosoever over-pass anything of these things that be written, either [or] despise (them), be there taken a tree of their own, and be they hanged thereon, and their goods be escheated (or forfeited) to the king.
- <sup>33</sup> Therefore also the Lord, whose name is inwardly called there, outlaw he each king and folk, that stretch out their hand to offend [or to hinder], or to evil treat that house of the Lord, that is in Jerusalem.
- $^{34}$  I, king Darius, have made a decree, to be done as most diligently after these things.

- <sup>1</sup> Then Sisinnes, the under-little-king of Celosyria and Phenice (or the governor of Greater Syria and Phoe-nicia), and Sathrabuzanes, and their fellows, obeyed to these things, that were deemed of (or by) king Darius,
- <sup>2</sup> and stood full diligently into the holy works, working together with the elder men of (the) Jews, (and) princes of Syria (or the temple officers).
- <sup>3</sup> And the holy works be made wealsome, as the prophets Haggai and Zechariah prophesied.
- <sup>4</sup> And they fulfilled all things, after the behest (or the command) of the Lord God of Israel, and after the counsel of Cyrus, and of Darius, and of Artaxerxes, king(s) of Persia.
- <sup>5</sup> And our house is ended (or was finished), in the three and twentieth day of the month of March, in the sixth year of king Darius.
- <sup>6</sup> And the sons of Israel, and the priests, and (the) deacons [or Levites], and others that were of the captivity, the which be set to, did after those things that be written in the book of Moses.
- <sup>7</sup> And they offered into the dedi-cation of the temple of the Lord, an hundred bulls, two hundred wethers (or rams), four hundred lambs;
- <sup>8</sup> (and) twelve kids, for the sins of all Israel, after the number of the twelve lineages of Israel.
- <sup>9</sup> And the priests and (the) deacons [or Levites] stood, clothed [or clad] with the stoles, by their lineages, upon the works of the Lord God of Israel, after the book of Moses; and there were porters [or ushers] by all the gates.
- $^{10}$  And the sons of Israel did that pask, with them that were of the captivity, in the moon of the first month, the fourteenth day, when the priests and (the) deacons be hallowed.
- <sup>11</sup> And all the sons of (the) captivity they be not hallowed together, for (or but) all the Levites be hallowed together.
- <sup>12</sup> And they offered (the) pask to all the sons of (the) captivity, and to their brethren (the) priests, and to themselves.

- <sup>13</sup> And the sons of Israel, the which were of the captivity, all they that had left (or separated) from all the cursed-nesses of (the) Gentiles, or heathen folk, of the earth, ate, and sought the Lord;
- <sup>14</sup> and they hallowed the feast day of therf loaves, seven days eating in the sight of the Lord;
- <sup>15</sup> for he converted the counsel of the king of Assyria in (or towards) them, to comfort (or to strengthen) the hands of them to (or in) the works of the Lord God of Israel.

- <sup>1</sup> And after this, while Artaxerxes, king of Persia, reigned, there went to Ezra, a man that was the son of Seraiah (or there came Ezra, the son of Seraiah), son of Azariah, son of Hilkiah, son of Shallum,
- <sup>2</sup> son of Zadok, son of Ahitub, son of Amariah, son of Azariah, son of Meraioth, son of Zerahiah, son of Uzzi, son of Bukki, son of Abishua, son of Phinehas, son of Eleazar, son of Aaron, the first priest.
- <sup>3</sup> This Ezra went up from Babylon, when he was (a) scribe, and witty, (or witting, or knowing) in the law of Moses, the which was given of (or by) the Lord of Israel, to say it and do it.
- <sup>4</sup> And the king gave to him glory, that he had found grace in all dignity, and in desire, in the sight of him.
- <sup>5</sup> And there went up with him into Jerusalem (some) of the sons of Israel, both priests, and deacons, and (the) holy singers of the temple, and ushers, (or porters), and servants of the temple.
- <sup>6</sup> In the seventh year reigning Artaxerxes, in the fifth month, this is the seventh year of the realm [or the reign], going out forsooth from Babylon in the new moon of the fifth month, they came to Jerusalem, after the behests (or commands) of him, when the prosperity of the way was granted [or given] to them of (or by) that Lord.
- <sup>7</sup> In these things forsooth Ezra wielded great discipline, lest he passed (over) anything of those things that were of the law of the Lord, and of the behests (or commandments), and in teaching all Israel all rightwiseness and doom (or judgements).
- <sup>8</sup> They forsooth that write the writings of king Artaxerxes, coming nigh, took writing that (or Now regarding the ordinance, or the decree), that came from king Artaxerxes to Ezra, the priest, and reader of the law of the Lord, the ensample of the which thing written is set next after [or of which thing the example is laid under(neath)].
- <sup>9</sup> King Artaxerxes to Ezra, the priest, and reader of the law of the Lord, sendeth greeting(s).
- <sup>10</sup> More benign I deeming also to benefits, commanded to them that desire of the folk of (the) Jews their own things willfully (or willingly), and of the priests, and of (the) deacons [or Levites], that be in my realm, to fellowship with thee into Jerusalem.
- <sup>11</sup> Then if any covet to go with thee, come they together, and go they forth, as it pleaseth to me, and to my seven friends (the) counsellors;
- $^{12}$  that they visit those things, that be done after (or unto) Judea and Jerusalem, keeping the law, as thou hast in the law of the Lord;

<sup>13</sup> and bear they gifts to the Lord of Israel, whom I knew, and the friends of Jerusalem, and all the gold and the silver, that were found in the realm of Babylon, be it borne to the Lord in Jerusalem.

<sup>14</sup> with that that is given of (or by) those folk in (or for) the temple of the Lord, of (or by) them that is in Jeru-salem; that this gold be gathered and silver [or that be gathered this gold and silver], to bulls, and wethers (or rams), and to lambs, and kids, and that to these be covenable (or suitable);

15 that they offer hosts to the Lord, upon the altar of the Lord of them, that is in Jerusalem.

<sup>16</sup> And all things whatever thou wilt do with thy brethren, perform it with (the) gold and silver, for thy will, after the behest of the Lord thy God.

<sup>17</sup> And the sacred holy vessels, the which were given to thee, to (or for) the works of the Lord's house, thy God, that is in Jerusalem,

<sup>18</sup> and other things, whatever will help to (or for) the works of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it(out) of the king's treasury, when thou wilt make the work with thy brethren, with gold and silver; and perform thou all thing(s) after the will of thy Lord.

<sup>19</sup> And I, king Artaxerxes, have commanded to [the] keepers of the treasures of Syria and of Phenice (or to the treasury officials of Syria and Phoenicia), that whatever things Ezra, the priest, and (the) reader of the law of the Lord, write for, busily (or swiftly) be it given to him, <sup>20</sup> unto an hundred talents of silver, also and of gold [or (in) like manner and of gold]; and unto an hundred bushels of wheat, and an hundred vessels of wine, and other things, whatever abound, without taxing.

<sup>21</sup> All things be done *(un)*to the highest God, after the law of God, lest peradventure wrath arise up in the realm of the king, and of his son, and of the sons of him.

- <sup>22</sup> To you forsooth it was said, that to all the priests, and deacons [or Levites], and to (the) holy singers, and servants of the temple, and to (the) scribes of this temple, no tribute, nor any other preventing or hindering be borne to them, nor have there any man power to against-cast (or impose) anything to them.
- <sup>23</sup> Thou forsooth, Ezra, after the wisdom of God ordain doomsmen (or judges) and arbitrators, in all Syria and Phenice (or Phoenicia), and teach all (those) that know (not) the law of thy God [or all that the law of thy God knew (not), teach];

<sup>24</sup> that how many ever [over]-pass (or transgress) the law, they be busily (or swiftly) punished, or by death, or by torment, or also by mulcting, or punishing, of money, or by departing away.

<sup>25</sup> And Ezra, the scribe, said, Blessed be the Lord God of our fathers, that gave this will (or this desire) into the heart of the king, to clarify (or to glorify) his house, that is in Jerusalem;

<sup>26</sup> and hath worshipped (or honoured) me in (the) sight of the king, and of his counsellors, and of his friends, and of his purpled men.

- <sup>27</sup> And I am made steadfast in inwit, after the helping of the Lord our God; and I gathered of Israel men (or I gathered men of Israel), that they should go up together with me.
- <sup>28</sup> And these be the provosts, after their countries, and apportional prince-hoods of them, that with me went up from Babylon, in the realm of Artaxerxes.

- <sup>29</sup> Of the sons of Phineas was Gershom; of the sons of Ithamar, Gamael; of the sons of David, Attus, the son of Sechenias;
- <sup>30</sup> of the sons of Phoros, Zechariah, and with him be turned again an hundred men and fifty;
- <sup>31</sup> of the sons of Pahath-moab, Eliaonias, (the son of) Zaraeas, and with him two hundred men and fifty;
- <sup>32</sup> of the sons of Zathoe, Sechenias (the son of) Jezelus, and with him two hundred men and fifty; of the sons of Adin, Obeth (the son of) Jonathan, and with him two hundred men and fifty;
- $^{33}$  of the sons of Elam, Jessias (the son of) Gotholias, and with him seventy men;
- <sup>34</sup> of the sons of Sophotias, Zerahiah (the son of) Michael, and with him fourscore men:
- <sup>35</sup> of the sons of Joab, Abadias (the son of) Jezelus, and with him two hundred men and twelve:
- <sup>36</sup> of the sons of Bani, Assalimoth (the son of) Josiphiah, and with him an hundred men and sixty;
- <sup>37</sup> of the sons of Babi, Zechariah (the son of) Bebai, and with him two hundred men and eight (or twenty-eight men);
- <sup>38</sup> of the sons of Astath, Johanan (the son of) Hacatan, and with him an hundred men and ten;
- <sup>39</sup> of the sons of Adonikam, that be the last, and these be the names of them, Eliphalatus, Jeuel, and Samaeas, and with them seventy men;
  - <sup>40</sup> (This verse is omitted in the original text.)
- <sup>41</sup> And I gathered them to the flood, that is said Theras and Methati (or And I gathered them together at the river, that is called Theras); there we were (for) three days, and I knew them.
  - $^{42}$  And of the sons of (the) priests and of (the) Levites I found not there.
  - <sup>43</sup> And I sent to Eleazar, and to Iduel, and Maasmas,
- <sup>44</sup> and Elnathan, and Samaeas, and Joribus, Nathan, Ennatas, Zechariah, [and] Mosollamus, the which were leaders and wise men.
- <sup>45</sup> And I said to them that they should come to Doldaeus, (the chief official), that was at the place of the treasury.
- <sup>46</sup> And I sent to them, that they should say to Doldaeus, and (to) his brethren, and to them that were in the treasury, that they should send to us them that should use (the office of the) priesthood in the house of the Lord our God.
- <sup>47</sup> And they brought to us, after the strong hand of the Lord our God, wise men of the sons of Mahli, son of Levi, son of Israel, Asebebias, and (his) sons, and (his) brethren, that were eighteen;
- <sup>48</sup> (and) Asebias, and Annunus, and Hosaeas, his brother, of the sons of Chanunaeus; and the sons of them, were twenty men.
- <sup>49</sup> And of them that served in the temple, the which David and they princes gave [or the which David gave, and they princes], to the working to the Levites, to the temple, of men serving, two hundred and twenty. The names of all be signified in (the) scriptures (or in the register).
- <sup>50</sup> And I vowed there fasting to (the) young men, in the sight of the Lord, (so) that I should seek of him a good way to us (or so that I should seek from him a good way for us), and to (or for) them that were with us, of sons, and beasts, for espies (or safe from ambush).

- <sup>51</sup> Forsooth I shamed to ask of the king (for) footmen and horsemen, in fellowship of grace, of keeping against our adversaries.
- $^{52}$  For sooth we said to the king, For the virtue of the Lord shall be with them, that inwardly seek him in all effect.
- <sup>53</sup> And (so) again we prayed the Lord our God, after these things, whom also we had benignly; and we be made whole to our God.
- <sup>54</sup> And I parted (or set apart) of the provosts of the folk, and of the priests of the temple, twelve men, and Sarabias (or yea, Sarabias), and Asamias, and ten men with them of their brethren.
- <sup>55</sup> And I weighed (out) to (or for) them (the) silver and (the) gold, and (the) priests' vessels, of the house of the Lord our God, the which the king had given, and his counsellors, and princes, and all Israel.
- <sup>56</sup> And when I had peised (or weighed)it(out), I took an hundred talents of silver and fifty, and silvern vessels of an hundred talents, and of gold an hundred talents,
- <sup>57</sup> and of golden vessels sevenscore, and twelve brazen vessels of good shining metal, yielding the likeness of gold.
- <sup>58</sup> And I said to them, Both ye be holy to the Lord, and the vessels be holy, and the gold and the silver is of the avow to the Lord God of our fathers.
- <sup>59</sup> Wake ye, and keep it, till the time that ye take it of (or to) the provosts of the people, and of the priests, and of the deacons, and of (the) princes of the cities of Israel, and Jerusalem [or in Jerusalem], in the privy chamber of the house of our God.
- $^{60}$  And these priests and deacons [or Levites], that took (the) gold and silver, and (the) vessels, that were in Jerusalem, they brought those into the temple of the Lord.
- <sup>61</sup> And we moved forth from the flood of Theras, the twelfth day of the first month, till that we went into Jerusalem.
- <sup>62</sup> And when the third day was done, the fourth day forsooth the peised gold and silver was betaken into the house of the Lord our God, to Marmathi, the son of Uri, the priest;
- 63 and with him was Eleazar, the son of Phinehas; and there were with them Jozabdus, the son of Jeshua, and Moeth, and Sabannus, the son of a deacon (or and Moeth, the son of Sabannus, Levites); all things (were delivered to them) at number and weight.
  - <sup>64</sup> And the weight of them is written (up) in the same hour.
- <sup>65</sup> Those forsooth, that came from the captivity, offered sacrifice of (or unto) the Lord of Israel, twelve bulls for all Israel, fourscore wethers and six (or eighty-six rams),
- <sup>66</sup> two and seventy lambs, twelve goats for sin, and twelve kine for health; all into the sacrifice of the Lord.
- <sup>67</sup> And again they read the behests of the king to the king's dispensers, and to the little-under-kings (or to the under-little-kings) of Celosyria, and of Phenice; and they worshipped the folk and the temple of the Lord.
  - 68 And after these things were ended, they came to me, saying,
- <sup>69</sup> The kindred of Israel, and the princes, and the priests, and Levites (or deacons), and alien folks, and (the) nations of the land, have not parted away [or severed] their uncleannesses from the Canaanites, and Hittites, and from (the) Perizzites, and Jebusites, and from the Moabites, and Egyptians, and Idumeans (or Edomites);

- <sup>70</sup> forsooth they were joined to the daughters of them, both they and their sons; and the holy seed was [or is] mingled (or mixed) together with the heathen folk of the land; and the provosts and master judges were partners of this wickedness, from the beginning of that realm.
- <sup>71</sup> And anon (or at once) as I heard these things, I cut my clothes, and the hallowed [or the sacred] coat, and I tore the hairs of mine head, and the beard, and I sat sorrowing, and dreary.
- <sup>72</sup> And there came to me then as many as ever were moved in (or by) the word of the Lord God of Israel, wailing me [or me wailing] upon this wickedness (or while I wailed over this iniquity); and I sat sorrowful unto the eventide sacrifice.

73 And then I rising from fasting, having my clothes cut, kneeled much

[or much kneeling], and stretching out mine hands to the Lord,

 $^{74}$  I said, Lord, I am confounded (or confused), and I am adread before thy face.

- <sup>75</sup> Forsooth our sins be multiplied upon our heads, and our wickednesses be enhanced (or be exalted or raised up) unto heaven;
- <sup>76</sup> for from the time of our fathers we have been in great sin unto this day.
- $^{77}$  And for our own sins, and for the sins of our fathers we be taken, with our brethren, and with our priests, and with kings of the land, into sword, and captivity, and into prey, with confusion, unto the day that is now.
- <sup>78</sup> And now how much is it, that the mercy of thee, Lord God, falleth to us; leave thou to us a root and a name, into the place of thine hallowing (or in the place of thy sanctuary),
- <sup>79</sup> to uncover (or to discover) our giver of light in the house of the Lord our God, to give to us meat in the time of our servage (or to give us food in the time of our servitude).
- <sup>80</sup> And when we served (in bondage), we were not forsaken of (or by) the Lord our God; but he set us in grace, putting to us kings of Persia to give us meat (or food),
- $^{81}$  and to clarify (or to glorify) the temple of the Lord our God, and to build (up) the deserts (or the ruins) of Zion, and to give to us stableness in Judea and in Jerusalem.
- 82 And now, Lord, what say we, having these things? We have overpassed thy behests (or have transgress-ed thy commandments), the which thou give [or thou gave] into the hands of thy children (or which thou gavest by the hands of thy servants), (the) prophets, that said,
- <sup>83</sup> Forsooth the land, in(to) which ye have entered, to wield the heritage of it, is a defouled (or a defiled) land with the filths of [the] heathen men of the land, and the uncleannesses of them have full-filled all (of) it [or have full-filled it all] in (or with) his uncleanness.
- <sup>84</sup> And now therefore ye shall not join your daughters to their sons, and their daughters ye shall not take to yours sons;
- 85 and ye shall not seek to have peace with them (for) all time, (so) that coming above ye eat the best things of the land, and (so) that ye deal the heritage to your sons, ever(more).

- $^{86}$  And those things that fall to us, be they all done for our shrewd (or depraved) works, and our great sins.
- <sup>87</sup> And thou hast given to us such a root, and again we be turned again to over-pass (or transgress) thy lawful things, (so) that the uncleannesses of the heathen folk of this land were mingled.
- <sup>88</sup> Whether thou shalt not wrath to us, to lose (or to destroy) us, for till the root be forsaken, and our seed?
- <sup>89</sup> Lord God of Israel, thou art sooth-fast; forsooth the root is forsaken, unto the day that is now.
- <sup>90</sup> Lo! now we be in thy sight in our wickednesses; forsooth it is not yet to stand before thee in these things.
- <sup>91</sup> And when Ezra honouring (or worshipping) acknowledged, weeping, he fell down to the earth before the temple, there be gathered before him a full great multitude of Jerusalem [or be gathered before him of Jerusalem a full great company or crowd], men, and women, and young men, and young women; forsooth the weeping was great in that multitude.
- <sup>92</sup> And when Jechonias, the son of Jeel, of the sons of Israel, had cried, Ezra said, We have sinned against the Lord (or And then Jechonias, the son of Jeel, one of the sons of Israel, cried out, and said, O Ezra, we have sinned against the Lord), for that we have set with us into matrimony heathen women, of the Gentiles of the land.
- <sup>93</sup> And now whosoever is over all Israel in these things, be there to us an oath of (or to) the Lord, to put away all our wives, that be, with their sons, of the heathen folk:
- $^{94}$  as it is deemed to (or by) thee of the greater men, after the law of the Lord.
- $^{95}$  Arise now up, and show [out]thy will; for sooth to thee abideth this need, and we be with thee; do manly.
- <sup>96</sup> And Ezra arising up, made the princes of (the) priests, and the deacons [or the Levites], and (or of) all Israel, to swear to do after all these things; and they swore.

- <sup>1</sup> And Ezra rising up from the fore-porch (or the courtyard) of the temple, went into the cell (or the room) of Johanan, the son of Eliasibus.
- $^{2}$  And he harboured there, tasted no bread, nor drank water, for the wickednesses of the multitude.
- <sup>3</sup> And there was made a preaching in all Judea and in Jerusalem, to all that were of the captivity (that they should be) gathered (together) in Jerusalem,
- <sup>4</sup> (And) Whosoever again-cometh not to the second or the third day, after the doom of the elder men sitting, his faculties shall be taken away, and (that) he be deemed alien (or stranger, or cast out) from the multitude of the captivity.
- <sup>5</sup> And all, that were of the lineage(s) of Judah and Benjamin, were gathered together, three days (later) in Jerusalem; this is the ninth month, the twentieth day of the month.
- <sup>6</sup> And all the multitude sat in the floor (or the open space) of the temple, trembling for winter then being.

- <sup>7</sup> And Ezra rising up, said to Israel, Ye have done wickedly, setting to you into matrimony heathen wives, (so) that ye add to the sins of Israel.
- <sup>8</sup> And now give ye to the Lord God of our fathers confession, and great worthiness;
- <sup>9</sup> and perform ye his will, and goeth away from the heathen folk of the land, and from heathen wives.
- <sup>10</sup> And all the multitude cried, and they said with a great (or a loud) voice, We shall do, as thou hast said.
- <sup>11</sup> But for the multitude is great, and the time is winter, and we may not stand unholpen, [or unhelped], (or without help), and this work is not to (or for) us of one day, nor of two; (for) much we have sinned in these things;
- <sup>12</sup> therefore stand the provosts of the multitude, and all that dwell with us, and how many ever have with them heathen wives;
- <sup>13</sup> and stand they nigh in the time that is taken [or in the accept(able) time of (or in) all place(s)], priests, and doomsmen, till that they lose (or turn away) the wrath of the Lord, of this need (or over this matter).
- $^{14}$  Jonathan forsooth, the son of Azael, and Hezekiah, (the son of) Thocanus, took after these things, and Mosollamus, and Levi, and Sabbataeus wrought together with them.
  - <sup>15</sup> And all that were of the captivity stood there, after all these things.
- <sup>16</sup> And Ezra, (the) priest, chose to him*(self)* men, (the) great princes, of the fathers of them, after the names; and they sat together, in the new moon of the tenth month, to examine this need (or this matter).
- <sup>17</sup> And it is determined of the men, that had heathen wives, unto the new moons of the first month.
- <sup>18</sup> And there be found mingled (or mixed) among of the priests, that had heathen wives;
- <sup>19</sup> of the sons of Jesus, (or Jeshua, or Joshua), the son of Josedek, and of his brethren, Mathelas, and Eleazar, and Joribus, and Joadanus.
- <sup>20</sup> And they laid (or put up)their hands, that they should (or would) put away their wives, and for to sacrifice a ram, into prayer for their ignorance.
- <sup>21</sup> And of the sons of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabdaeus, and Manes, and Samaeus, and Jereel, (and) Azarias;
- <sup>22</sup> and of the sons of Phaesus, Elionas, Massias, Ishmael, and Nathanael, and Okidelus, and Saloas.
- <sup>23</sup> And of the deacons [or the Levites], Jozabadus, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Phathaeus, and Judas, and Jonas.
  - <sup>24</sup> And of the hallowed [or the sacred] singers, Eliasibus, (and) Bacchurus.
- $^{25}$  And of the ushers, Sallumus, and Tolbanes. (And of the porters, Shallum, and Telem.)
- <sup>26</sup> And of Israel, of the sons of Phoros, Jermas, and Jeddias, and Melchias, and Maelus, and Eleazar, and Asibias, and Bannaeas.
- <sup>27</sup> And of the sons of Ela, Matthanias, and Zechariah, (and) Jezrielus, and Jeremoth, and Aedias.
- <sup>28</sup> And of the sons of Zamoth, Eliadas, and Eliasimus, and Othonias, and Jarimoth, and Sabathus, and Zardaeus.
- <sup>29</sup> And of the sons of Bebai, Johannes, and Ananias, and Ozabadus, and Emathis.
- <sup>30</sup> And of the sons of Mani, Olamus, and Mamuchus, and Jedaeus, and Jasubus, and Asaelus, and Jeremoth.

<sup>31</sup> And of the sons of Addi, Naathus, and Moossias, and Laccunus, and Naidus, Matthanias, and Sesthel, and Balnuus, and Manasseas.

32 And of the sons of Annas, Elionas, and Asaeas, and Melchias, and Sabbaeus, and Simon Chosamaeus.

- <sup>33</sup> And of the sons of Asom, Altan-naeus, Mattathias, and Bannaeus, and Eliphalat, and Manasseh, and Shimei.
- <sup>34</sup> And of the sons of Bani, Jeremiah, and Momdis, and Ismaerus, and Juel, and Mandae, and Paedias, and Anos, Carabasion, and Enasibus, and Mamni-tanaemus, and Eliasis, and Bannus, and Eliali, and Somis, and Selemias, and Nathaniah; and of the sons of Ezora, Sessis, and Ezril, and Azael, and Samatus, and Zambris, and Josephus.
- <sup>35</sup> And of the sons of Nooma, Mazitias, and Zabadaeas, and Edaes, and Juel, (and) Banaeas.
- <sup>36</sup> All (of) these (had) joined to them-(selves) heathen wives, and (now) left them (or let them go), with their sons.
- <sup>37</sup> And (the) priests, and deacons, and they that were of Israel, dwelled in Jerusalem in an one region (or dwelled in Jerusalem, and its vicinity), (in) the new moon of the seventh month; and the sons of Israel were in their abidings.
- <sup>38</sup> And all the multitude gathered together in the floor (or in the open space), that is from the east of the hallowed [or the sacred] gate.
- <sup>39</sup> And they said to Ezra, (the) bishop and reader, that he should bring forth the law of Moses, that was given of (or by) the Lord God of Israel.
- <sup>40</sup> And Ezra, the bishop, brought forth the law to all the multitude of them, from man unto woman, and to all the priests, to hear the law, in the new moon of the seventh month.
- <sup>41</sup> And he read in the floor (or the open space), that is before the holy gate of the temple, from the first light of the day unto even(ing), before men and women; and all they gave wit, (or thought, or understanding) to the law.
- <sup>42</sup> And Ezra, the priest, and reader of the law, stood [up] upon the treen (or the wooden) chair, that was made therefore.
- <sup>43</sup> And there stood with him Mattathias, and Sammus, and Ananias, Azariah, Uriah, Hezekiah, and Baal-samus, at the right side;
- <sup>44</sup> and at the left side, Phaldaeus, Mishael, Melchias, Lothasubus, Nabariah, and Zechariah.
- <sup>45</sup> And Ezra took a book before all the multitude; forsooth he sat before in worship (or in honour), in the sight of all.
- <sup>46</sup> And when he had assoiled the law (or had opened, or had expounded upon, the law), all they stood upright. And Ezra blessed the Lord God, alder-Highest God of (the) Sabbath, Almighty or all mighty.
- <sup>47</sup> And all the people answered, Amen. And again they raised up their hands, and falling down unto the earth, they honoured (or worshipped) the Lord.
- <sup>48</sup> And Ezra commanded, that these should teach the law, Jesus, (or Jeshua, or Joshua), and Annus, and Sarabias, and Jadinus, and Jacubus, and Sabba-taeas, and Autaeas, and Maeannas, and Calitas, and Azarias, and Jozab-dus, and Ananias, and Phiathas, (the) deacons [or Levites]. The which taught the law of the Lord, and in (or to) the multitude they read the law of the Lord; and each by himself, that under-stood the lesson, told it before them.

<sup>49</sup> And Attharates said to Ezra (or And the governor said to Ezra), the bishop and reader, and to the Levites that taught the multitude, saying,

<sup>50</sup> This day is holy to the Lord. And all they wept, when they had heard the law.

<sup>51</sup> And Ezra said, Ye therefore, after ye be gone atwain, eateth all most fat things, and drinketh all most sweet, and send ve gifts to them that have not;

<sup>52</sup> forsooth this day of the Lord is holy; and be ye not sorry, the Lord

forsooth shall clarify us (or for the Lord shall glorify us).

- 53 And the deacons for the Levites denounced (or announced), or showed. openly to all men, saying, This day is holy; will ye not (to) be sorry (or resolve not to be sorrowful).
- 54 And then all they went away, to eat, and to drink, and to have plenty of meat (or food), and to give gifts to them that have not, whereof to eat plenteously.
- 55 Greatly forsooth they be enhanced in the words, with the which they be taught. And all they were gathered into Jerusalem, to make solemn the gladness, after the testament of the Lord God of Israel.

PRAYER OF MANASSEH

- <sup>1</sup> Lord God Almighty of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their just seed,
  - <sup>2</sup> which madest heaven and earth, with all the adorning of those,
- $^3$  which hast marked the sea by the word of thy commandment, which hast (en)closed (al)together the depth, or the deepness, of (the) waters, and hast marked them to (or hast sealed them by or with) thy fearedful and praiseable name,
- <sup>4</sup> which all men dread, and tremble of the cheer of thy virtue, (whom all men fear, and tremble at the face of thy power, or before thy power,)

<sup>5</sup> and the wrath, or the ire, of thy menacing on sinners is unsufferable, either may not be sustained.

<sup>6</sup> Soothly the mercy of thy promise is full great and unsearchable, either may not be comprehended by man's wit (or cannot be comprehended by one's understanding);

<sup>7</sup> for thou art the Lord most high over all (the) earth; thou art patient, or long-abiding, and much merciful, and doing penance, or repenting, on the malices of men. Truly, Lord, by thy goodness thou hast promised penance of forgiveness of sins, that is, forgiving of sins for (the) repenting of men;

- <sup>8</sup> and thou, Lord, that art God of just men, hast not set penance to just men, (as) to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, (yea), to them that sinned not against thee, (but thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner). (and thou, Lord, who art God of the just, hast not set penance for the just, for Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, yea, for those who sinned not against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance unto me, who is a sinner.)
  - <sup>9</sup> For I have sinned more than the number is of the gravel of the sea;
- <sup>10</sup> my wickednesses be multiplied. I am bowed (down) with much bond(s), (or with many bands), of iron, and no breathing is to me; for I have stirred thy wrathfulness, and I have done evil before thee, and I have set (up) abominations, and I have multiplied offensions (or offences).
- <sup>11</sup> And now, I bow the knees of mine heart, and beseech goodness of (or from) thee, Lord.
  - <sup>12</sup> I have sinned, Lord; I have sinned, and I acknowledge my wickedness.
- <sup>13</sup> I ask, and I pray thee, Lord; forgive thou to me, forgive thou to me; lose (or destroy) thou me not (al)together with my wickednesses, neither reserve thou evils to me without end (or forever).
- <sup>14</sup> For, Lord, by thy great mercy thou shalt save me (who is) unworthy, and I shall praise thee ever(more) in all the days of my life; for all the virtue, that is, all those orders of angels, of heavens praiseth thee (or for all the powers of the heavens praise thee), and to thee is glory into worlds of worlds. Amen.

- <sup>17</sup> And so all the generations from Abraham to David be fourteen generations, and from David to the transmigration of Babylon be fourteen generations, and from the transmigration of Babylon to Christ be fourteen generations. (And so all the generations from Abraham to David be fourteen generations, and from David to the exile to Babylon be fourteen generations, and from the exile to Babylon to the Messiah be fourteen generations.)
- <sup>18</sup> But the generation of Christ was thus (or But the birth of the Messiah was thus). When Mary, the mother of Jesus, was espoused to Joseph, before that they came together, she was found having of the Holy Ghost in the womb, [or she was found having in the womb of the Holy Ghost], (or she was found being with child by the Holy Spirit).
- <sup>19</sup> And Joseph, her husband, for he was rightful [or when he was a just man], and would not publish her, he would privily have left her. (And her husband Joseph, for he was a good man, and would not make her public, he wanted to privately let her go.)
- <sup>20</sup> But while he thought (on) these things, lo! the angel of the Lord appeared to him in sleep, and said, Joseph, the son of David, do not thou dread to take Mary, (to be) thy wife; for that thing that is born in her is of the Holy Ghost. (But while he thought on these things, behold! the angel of the Lord appeared to him in sleep, and said, Joseph, the son of David, do not fear to take Mary to be thy wife; for that which is born in her is by the Holy Spirit.)

- <sup>21</sup> And she shall bear a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus; for he shall make his people safe from their sins (or for he shall save his people from their sins).
- <sup>22</sup> For all this thing was done, that it should be fulfilled, that was said of the Lord by a prophet, saying, <sup>23</sup> Lo! a virgin shall have in [the] womb, and she shall bear a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, that is to say, God with us.

<sup>24</sup> And Joseph rose [up] from sleep, and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took Mary, (to be) his wife;

 $^{25}$  and he knew her not, till she had born her first begotten son, and he called his name Jesus.

CHAPTER 2

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the days of king Herod, lo! astronomers, (or behold! astrologers), [or lo! kings, or wise men], came from the east to Jerusalem,
- <sup>2</sup> and said, Where is he, that is born [the] king of (the) Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and we have come to worship him.
  - <sup>3</sup> But king Herod heard, and was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.
- <sup>4</sup> And he gathered together all the princes of (the) priests, and scribes of the people, and inquired of them, where Christ should be born. (And he gathered together all the high priests, and the scribes of the people, and inquired of them, where the Messiah would be born.)

<sup>5</sup> And they said to him, In Bethlehem of Judea; for so it is written by a prophet, <sup>6</sup> And thou, Bethlehem, the land of Judah, art not the least among the princes of Judah; for of thee a duke shall go out, that shall govern my people Israel.

<sup>7</sup>Then Herod called privily the astronomers, [or the kings], and learned busily of them the time of the star that appeared to them. (Then Herod privately called the astrologers/called the kings, and diligently learned from them the time of the star that appeared to them.)

<sup>8</sup> And he sent them into Bethlehem, and said, Go ye, and ask ye busily of the child, (or Go, and diligently ask about the child), and when ye have found (him), tell ye it to me, (so) that I also come, and worship him.

<sup>9</sup> And when they had heard the king, they went forth. And lo! the star, that they saw in the east, went before them, till it came, and stood above, where the child was.

<sup>11</sup> And they entered into the house, and found the child with Mary, his mother; and they felled down, and worshipped him. And when they had opened their treasures, they offered to him gifts, gold, incense, and myrrh.

<sup>12</sup> And when they had taken an answer in sleep, that they should not turn again to Herod, they turned again by another way into their [own] country. (And when they had received a warning in their sleep, that they should not return to Herod, they returned by another way to their own country.)

13 And when they were gone, lo! the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in sleep, and said, Rise up, and take the child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there, till that I say to thee; for it is to come, that Herod seek the child, to destroy him.

<sup>14</sup> And Joseph rose [up], and took the child and his mother by night, and went into Egypt,

- <sup>15</sup> and he was there till the death of Herod; that it should be fulfilled, that was said of the Lord by the prophet, (or so that it would be fulfilled, what was said by the Lord through the prophet), saying, From Egypt I have called my son.
- <sup>16</sup> Then Herod seeing that he was scorned, either deceived, of the astronomers, [or of the kings], was full wroth; and he sent, and slew all the children, that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years (of) age and within, after the time that he had inquired of the astronomers, [or after the time that he had sought out of the kings]. (Then Herod seeing that he was scorned, or deceived, by the astrologers/by the kings, was enraged; and he sent his soldiers, and killed all the children, who were in Bethlehem, and in all its coasts, from two years of age and under, after the time that he had learned of from the astrologers/from the kings.)

<sup>17</sup> Then it was fulfilled, that was said by Jeremy, the prophet, saying, (Then it was fulfilled, what was said by the prophet Jeremiah, saying,)

<sup>18</sup> A voice was heard on high, weeping and much wailing, Rachel beweeping her sons, and she would not be comforted, for they be nought [or for they be not].

<sup>19</sup> But when Herod was dead, lo! the angel of the Lord appeared to

Joseph in sleep in Egypt,

<sup>20</sup> and said, Rise up, and take the child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel; for they that sought the life of the child be dead.

<sup>21</sup> Joseph rose [up], and took the child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

<sup>22</sup> And he heard that Archelaus reigned in Judea for Herod, his father, and dreaded to go thither (or and he feared to go there). And he was warned in sleep, and went into the parts of Galilee;

<sup>23</sup> and [he] came, and dwelt in a city, that is called Nazareth, that it should be fulfilled, that was said by prophets, (or so that it would be fulfilled, what was said by the prophets), For he shall be called a Nazarene.

- $^{1}$  In those days John (the) Baptist came, and preached in the desert of Judea,
- <sup>2</sup> and said, Do ye penance, for the kingdom of heaven shall [come] nigh. (and said, Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is near.)
- <sup>3</sup> For this is he, of whom it is said by Esaias, the prophet, saying, (or For it is he, of whom it was said by the prophet Isaiah, saying), A voice of a crier in (the) desert, [or A voice of a man crying in (the) desert], Make ye ready the ways of the Lord; make ye right the paths of him.
- <sup>4</sup> And this John had clothing [or a cloth] of camel's hairs, and a girdle of skin about his loins; and his meat was honeysuckles [or locusts], and honey of the wood. (And this John had a cloak of camel's hair, and a girdle of skin about his loins; and his food was locusts, and honey from the woods.)
- <sup>5</sup> Then Jerusalem went out to him, and all Judea, and all the country(side) about (the) Jordan (River);

- <sup>6</sup> and they were washed of him [or and they were christened of him] in (the) Jordan, (or and they were baptized by him in the Jordan River), acknowledging their sins.
- <sup>7</sup> But he saw many of the Pharisees and of (the) Sadducees coming to his baptism, and said to them, Generation of adders (or Children of snakes), who showed to you to flee from the wrath that is to come?
- <sup>8</sup> Therefore do ye worthy fruits of penance, (And so do worthy fruits of repentance,)
- <sup>9</sup> and do not ye say within you(rselves), We have Abraham to our father [or We have the father Abraham]; for I say to you, that God is mighty to raise up (out) of these stones the sons of Abraham. (and do not say within yourselves, We have Abraham for our father; for I tell you, that God is mighty enough to raise up the sons of Abraham from these stones.)
- <sup>10</sup> And now the ax is put to the root of the tree; therefore every tree that maketh not good fruit, shall be cut down, and shall be cast into the fire.
- <sup>11</sup> I wash you in water, into penance (or for repentance); but he that shall come after me is stronger than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear; he shall baptize you in the Holy Ghost, and (in) fire, [+or he shall christen you in the Holy Ghost, and in fire], (or he shall baptize you with the Holy Spirit, and with fire).
- <sup>12</sup> Whose winnowing cloth, [or tool, or fan], is in his hand, and he shall fully cleanse his cornfloor, (or and he shall completely cleanse his grain floor, or his threshing floor), and shall gather his wheat into his barn; but the chaff he shall burn with (the) fire that may not be quenched [or that is unquenchable].
- <sup>13</sup> Then Jesus came from Galilee into (the) Jordan to John, to be baptized of him. (Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan River to John, to be baptized by him.)
- $^{14}$  And John forbade him, and said, I owe to be baptized of thee (or I ought to be baptized by thee), and thou comest to me?
- <sup>15</sup> But Jesus answered, and said to him, Suffer now (or Allow this), for thus it falleth to us to fulfill all rightwiseness. Then John suffered him [or Then John let him].
- <sup>16</sup> And when Jesus was baptized, anon (or at once) he went up from the water; and lo! (the) heavens were opened to him, and he saw the Spirit of God coming down as a dove, and coming (or lighting) on him;
- $^{17}$  and lo! a voice from heaven, saying, This is my [be] loved Son, in which I have well pleased to me (or in whom I am well pleased).

- <sup>1</sup> Then Jesus was led of a spirit into desert, to be tempted of the fiend [or of the devil]. (Then Jesus was led by the Spirit into the desert, to be tested by the Devil.)
- <sup>2</sup> And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, afterward he hungered.
- <sup>3</sup> And the tempter came nigh (or And the Tester came near), and said to him, If thou be God's Son [or If thou art the Son of God], say that these stones be made (into) loaves.

- <sup>4</sup> Which answered, and said to him, It is written, Not only in bread liveth man, but in each word that cometh forth of God's mouth. [The which answering said to him, It is written, A man liveth not in bread alone, but in every word that cometh forth from the mouth of God.]
- <sup>5</sup> Then the fiend [or the devil] took him into the holy city, and setted him on the pinnacle of the temple,
- <sup>6</sup> and said to him, If thou art God's Son, send thee adown, [or If thou art the Son of God, send thee down]; for it is written, That to his angels he commanded of thee, and they shall take thee in (their) hands, lest peradventure thou hurt thy foot at a stone.
- <sup>7</sup> Again Jesus said to him, It is written, Thou shalt not tempt thy Lord God, [or Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God], (or Thou shalt not test the Lord thy God).
- <sup>8</sup> Again the fiend [or the devil] took him [up] into a full high hill, and showed to him all the realms of the world, and the joy [or the glory] of them; (And the Devil took him up onto a very high hill, or onto a mountain, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world, and their glory;)
- $^{\rm 9}$  and said to him, All these I shall give to thee, if thou fall down and worship me.
- <sup>10</sup> Then Jesus said to him, Go, Satan; for it is written, Thou shalt worship thy Lord God [or Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God], and to him alone thou shalt serve.
- <sup>11</sup> Then the fiend [or the devil] left him; and lo! angels came nigh, and served to him (or and ministered to him).
- <sup>12</sup> But when Jesus had heard that John was taken (captive), he went into Galilee.
- $^{13}$  And he left the city of Nazareth, and came, and dwelt in the city of Capernaum, beside the sea, in the coasts of Zabulon and Nephthalim (or of Zebulun and Naphtali),
- <sup>14</sup> that it should be fulfilled, that was said by Esaias, the prophet, saying, (so that it would be fulfilled, what was said by the prophet Isaiah, saying,)
- <sup>15</sup> The land of Zabulon and the land of Nephthalim, the way of the sea over (the) Jordan (River), of Galilee of heathen men (or in Galilee of the Gentiles),
- <sup>16</sup> the people that walked [or that dwelt] in darknesses saw (a) great light (or the people who lived in darkness saw a great light), and while men sat in the country of [the] shadow of death, light arose to them.
- <sup>17</sup> From that time Jesus began to preach, and [to] say, Do ye penance, for the kingdom of heavens shall come nigh, [or Do ye penance, for the realm of heaven hath nighed], (or Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is near).
- <sup>18</sup> And Jesus walked beside the sea of Galilee, and saw two brethren, Simon, that is called Peter, and Andrew, his brother, casting nets into the sea; for they were fishers. (And Jesus walked beside Lake Galilee, and saw two brothers, Simon, that is called Peter, and Andrew, his brother, throwing their nets into the lake; for they were fishermen.)
- <sup>19</sup> And he said to them, Come ye after me, and I shall make you to be made fishers of men.
- <sup>20</sup> And anon they left their nets, and *(pur)*sued him. (And at once they left their nets, and followed him.)

- <sup>21</sup> And he went forth from that place, and saw twain other brethren, James of Zebedee, and John, his brother, in a ship with Zebedee, their father, amending their nets, and he called them.
- <sup>22</sup> And anon they left the nets and the father, and (pur)sued him. (And at once they left their nets and their father, and followed him.)
- <sup>23</sup> And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in the synagogues of them, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every languor, [or all sorrow, or ache], and each sickness among the people. (And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Gospel, or the Good News, of the Kingdom, and healing every languor, or every sorrow, or ache, and every sickness among the people.)
- <sup>24</sup> And his fame went into all (of) Syria; and they brought to him all that were at mal-ease, and that were taken with diverse languors [or sorrows], and torments, and them that had fiends [or devils], (or and those who had demons), and lunatic men, and men (sick) in [the] palsy, and he healed them.
- <sup>25</sup> And there *(pur)*sued him much people of Galilee, and of Decapolis, and of Jerusalem, and of Judea, and of beyond (the) Jordan. (And many people followed him from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judea, and from over the Jordan River.)

- <sup>1</sup> And Jesus, seeing the people, went up into the hill (or went up onto a hill); and when he was set, his disciples came to him. [+Jesus forsooth, seeing the companies, went up into an hill; and when he had sat, his disciples came nigh to him.]
  - <sup>2</sup> And he opened his mouth, and taught them, and said,
- <sup>3</sup> Blessed be poor men in spirit, for the kingdom of heavens is theirs. [Blessed be the poor in spirit, for the kingdom of heaven is theirs.]
- <sup>4</sup> Blessed be mild men, for they shall wield the earth. (Blessed be the meek, or the humble, for they shall possess the earth.)
  - <sup>5</sup> Blessed be they that mourn, for they shall be comforted.
- <sup>6</sup> Blessed be they that hunger and thirst (for) rightwiseness, for they shall be fulfilled.
- $^7$  Blessed be merciful  $men[or\ Blessed\ (be)\ the\ merciful],$  for they shall get mercy.
  - <sup>8</sup> Blessed be they that be of clean heart, for they shall see God.
- <sup>9</sup> Blessed be peaceable men, for they shall be called God's children. [Blessed (be) the peaceable, for they shall be called the sons of God.]
- <sup>10</sup> Blessed be they that suffer persecution for rightwiseness, for the kingdom of heavens is theirs [or for the kingdom of heaven is theirs].
- 11 Blessed be ye, when men shall curse you, and shall pursue you (or shall persecute you), and shall say all evil against you lying, for me.
- <sup>12</sup> Joy ye, and be ye glad, for your meed is plenteous in heavens; for so they have pursued also (the) prophets that were before you. (Rejoice, and be glad, for your reward in heaven is great; for in like manner they have persecuted the prophets who were before you.)
- <sup>13</sup> Ye be (the) salt of the earth; (so) that if the salt vanish away, wherein shall it be salted? To nothing it is worth over, [no] but that it be cast out, and be defouled of men, (or Then it is good for nothing, except that it be thrown away, and be defiled, or trodden upon, by people).

- <sup>14</sup> Ye be [the] light of the world; a city set on an hill may not be hid (or a city set on a hill cannot be hidden);
- <sup>15</sup> nor men tendeth a lantern, and putteth it under a bushel, but on a candlestick, (so) that it give light to all that be in the house.
- <sup>16</sup> So shine your light before men, (so) that they see your good works, and glorify your Father that is in heavens (or and glorify your Father who is in heaven).
- <sup>17</sup> Do not ye deem, [or guess], (or Do not think), that I came to undo [or to destroy] the law, or the prophets; I came not to undo [or to destroy] the law, but to fulfill (it).
- <sup>18</sup> Forsooth I say to you, till heaven and earth pass (away), one letter, [or one i, that is, the least letter], or one tittle shall not pass (away) from the law, till all things be done.
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore he that breaketh one of these least commandments, and teacheth thus men, shall be called the least in the realm of heavens (or shall be called the least in the Kingdom of Heaven); but he that doeth (them), and teacheth (them), shall be called great in the kingdom of heavens.
- <sup>20</sup> And I say to you, that but your rightwiseness be more plenteous than (that) of scribes and of Pharisees (or that unless your righteousness be more plentiful than that of the scribes and of the Pharisees), ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heavens.
- <sup>21</sup> Ye have heard that it was said to old men, Thou shalt not slay; and he that slayeth, shall be guilty to the doom. (Ye have heard that it was said to men of old, Thou shalt not kill; and he who killeth, shall be brought to judgement, or Thou shalt not murder; and he who murdereth, shall be brought to the court.)
- <sup>22</sup> But I say to you, that each man that is wroth to his brother, shall be guilty to (the) doom (or shall be brought to judgement); and he that saith to his brother, Fie!, [that is, a word of scorn], shall be guilty to the council; but he that saith Fool, [that is, a word of despising], shall be guilty to the fire of hell.
- <sup>23</sup> Therefore if thou offerest thy gift at the altar, and there thou bethinkest (or and there thou rememberest), that thy brother hath somewhat [or hath something] against thee,
- <sup>24</sup> leave there thy gift before the altar, and go first to be reconciled to thy brother, and then thou shalt come, and shalt offer thy gift.
- <sup>25</sup> Be thou consenting to thine adversary soon, while thou art in the way with him (or while thou art on the way with him), lest peradventure thine adversary take thee to the doomsman [or to the judge], and the doomsman take thee to the minister, and thou be sent into prison.
- <sup>26</sup> Truly I say to thee (or I tell you the truth), Thou shalt not go out from thence, till thou yield the last farthing.
- <sup>27</sup> Ye have heard that it was said to old men, Thou shalt not do lechery. (Ye have heard that it was said to men of old, Thou shalt not do adultery.)
- <sup>28</sup> But I say to you, that every man that seeth a woman [for] to covet her, hath now done lechery by her in his heart (or hath now done adultery with her in his heart).

<sup>29</sup> (So) That if thy right eye cause thee to stumble, pull it out, and cast it from thee; for it speedeth to thee (or for it is more expedient for thee), that one of thy members perish, than that all thy body go into hell.

<sup>30</sup> And if thy right hand cause thee to stumble, cut it away, and cast [it] from thee; for it speedeth to thee (or for it is more expedient for thee), that one of thy members perish, than that all thy body go into hell.

<sup>31</sup> And it hath been said, Whoever leaveth his wife, give he to her a libel [or a little book] of forsaking, (or give her a bill of divorce, or a notice of his leaving).

<sup>32</sup> But I say to you, that every man that leaveth his wife, except (for) [the] cause of fornication, maketh her to do lechery (or maketh her to do adultery), and he that weddeth the forsaken wife, doeth adultery.

<sup>33</sup> Again ye have heard, that it was said to old men (or that it was said to men of old), Thou shalt not forswear, but thou shalt yield thine oaths to the Lord.

<sup>34</sup> But I say to you, that ye swear not for anything (or that ye do not swear by anything); neither by heaven, for it is the throne of God;

<sup>35</sup> neither by the earth, for it is the stool of his feet; neither by Jerusalem, for it is the city of a great king [or for it is the city of the great king];

<sup>36</sup> neither thou shalt swear by thine head, for thou mayest not make one hair white, or black;

- <sup>37</sup> but be your word, Yea, yea; Nay, nay; and that that is more than these, is of evil. (but let your words be, Yes, yes; No, no; and anything more than this, cometh from the Evil One.)
  - <sup>38</sup> Ye have heard that it hath been said, Eye for eye, and tooth for tooth.
- <sup>39</sup> But I say to you, that ye against-stand not an evil man, [or But I say to you, to not against-stand evil]; but if any smite thee in the right cheek, show to him [or give to him] also the other; (But I tell you, that ye should not stand against an evil person; but if anyone strike thee on the right cheek, give to him also the other cheek;)
- <sup>40</sup> and to him that will strive with thee in doom, and take away thy coat, leave thou to him also thy mantle [or thine over-cloth]; (and to him who will fight with thee in court, to take away thy coat, give to him also thine overcoat:)
- <sup>41</sup> and whoever constraineth thee (to go) a thousand paces, go thou with him (an)other twain.
- <sup>42</sup> Give thou to him that asketh of thee, and turn thou not away from him that will borrow of thee. (Give to him who asketh of thee, and do not turn away from him who desireth to borrow from thee.)
- $^{43}$  Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy.
- <sup>44</sup> But I say to you, love ye your enemies, do ye well to them that hate you, and pray ye for them that pursue, and slander you; (But I tell you, love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who persecute, and slander you;)
- <sup>45</sup> that ye be the sons of your Father that is in heavens, that maketh his sun to rise upon good and evil men, and raineth on just men and unjust (men). (so that ye be the sons of your Father who is in heaven, who maketh his sun to rise upon the good and the evil, and raineth upon the just and the unjust.)

<sup>46</sup> For if ye love them that love you, what meed shall ye have? whether [the] publicans do not (do) this thing? (Because if ye love those who love you, what reward should ye get? do not the tax collectors also do this?)

<sup>48</sup> Therefore be ye perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

CHAPTER 6

- <sup>1</sup> Take heed, that ye do not your rightwiseness before men, to be seen of them, else ye shall have no meed at your Father that is in heavens. (Take heed, that ye do not do your righteousness before men, to be seen by them, or else ye shall have no reward with your Father, who is in heaven.)
- <sup>2</sup> Therefore when thou doest alms, do not thou trumpet before thee, as (the) hypocrites do in (the) synagogues and (in the) streets, that they be worshipped of men; soothly I say to you, they have received their meed. (And so when thou givest charity, do not thou make a noise or a public show about it, like the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, so that they find honour with men; I tell you the truth, they have received their reward.)

doeth,

- <sup>4</sup> that thine alms be in huddles, and thy Father that seeth in huddles, shall requite to thee [or shall yield to thee]. (so that thy charity be given in secret, and thy Father who seeth in secret, shall reward thee.)
- <sup>5</sup> And when ye pray, ye shall not be as (the) hypocrites, that love to pray standing in (the) synagogues and in corners of (the) streets, to be seen of men, [or that they be seen of men], (or so that they be seen by men); truly I say to you, they have received their meed, (or I tell you the truth, they have received their reward).
- <sup>6</sup> But when thou shalt pray, enter into thy couch (or enter into thy bedchamber), and when the door is shut, pray (to) thy Father in huddles, (or pray to thy Father in secret, or in private), and thy Father that seeth in huddles, shall yield to thee.
- <sup>7</sup> But in praying do not ye speak much, as heathen men do (or as the Gentiles do), for they guess that they be heard in their much speech.
- <sup>8</sup> Therefore do not ye be made like to them, for your Father knoweth what is need[ful] to you, before that ye ask him.
- <sup>9</sup> And thus ye shall pray, Our Father that art in heavens (or Our Father who art in heaven), hallowed be thy name;
- <sup>10</sup> thy kingdom come to (or thy kingdom come); be thy will done in earth as it is in heaven [or thy will be done as in heaven and in earth];
  - <sup>11</sup> give to us this day our each day's bread;
  - <sup>12</sup> and forgive to us our debts, as we forgive to our debtors;
- $^{13}$  and lead us not into temptation (or and do not bring us to the test), but deliver us from evil. Amen.
- <sup>14</sup> For if ye forgive to men their sins, your heavenly Father shall forgive to you your trespasses [or your sins].
- <sup>15</sup> Soothly if ye forgive not to men [the sins of them], neither your Father shall forgive to you your sins.

- <sup>16</sup> But when ye fast, do not ye be made as (the) hypocrites (be, looking) sorrowful, for they deface themselves, [or they put their faces out of kindly (or natural) terms], to seem fasting to men; truly I say to you, they have received their meed, (or I tell you the truth, they have received their reward).
  - <sup>17</sup> But when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face,
- <sup>18</sup> that thou be not seen fasting to men, but (only) to thy Father that is in huddles, (or so that thou not be seen to be fasting by men, but only by thy Father who is in secret), and thy Father that seeth in privy, [or in huddles], (or in secret), shall yield to thee.
- <sup>19</sup> Do not ye treasure to you(rselves) treasures [here] in (or on the) earth, where rust and moth destroyeth (it), and where thieves delve (it) out, and steal (it), (or and where thieves dig it up, and steal it);
- <sup>20</sup> but gather ye to you(rselves) treasures in heaven, where neither rust nor moth destroyeth (it), and where thieves delve not (it) out, nor steal (it), (or and where thieves cannot dig it up, nor can steal it).
  - <sup>21</sup> For where thy treasure is, there also thine heart is.
- <sup>22</sup> The lantern of thy body is thine eye; if thine eye be simple, (or if thine eye is single, or if it is sound), all thy body shall be light-full;
- <sup>23</sup> but if thine eye be wayward, all thy body shall be dark[-full]. If then the light that is in thee be darknesses, how great shall those darknesses be?
- <sup>24</sup> No man may serve two lords, for either he shall hate the one, and love the tother; either he shall sustain the one, and despise the other. Ye may not serve God and riches (or Ye cannot serve God and money, or wealth).
- <sup>25</sup> Therefore I say to you, that ye be not busy to your life, what ye shall eat; nor to your body, with what ye shall be clothed. Whether life is not more than meat, and the body more than the cloth? (And so I tell you, do not be concerned about your life, what ye shall eat; nor about your body, with what ye shall be clothed. Is not life more than food, and the body more than a cloak?)
- <sup>26</sup> Behold ye the fowls of the air (or Look at the birds of the air), for they sow not, neither reap, neither gather into barns; and your Father of heaven feedeth them. Whether ye be not more worthy than they?
- $^{27}$  But who of you (by) thinking may put [or may add] to his stature one cubit?
- <sup>28</sup> And of clothing what be ye busy? Behold the lilies of the field, how they wax. They travail not, neither they spin; (And why be concerned about clothing? Look at the lilies of the field, how they grow. They do not labour, nor do they spin;)
- <sup>29</sup> and I say to you, that Solomon in all his glory was not covered as one of these.
- <sup>30</sup> And if God clotheth thus the hay of the field, that today is, and tomorrow is cast into an oven [or is sent into the furnace], (then) how much more you of little faith?
- <sup>31</sup> Therefore do not ye be busy (or And so do not be concerned), saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, With what thing shall we be covered?
- <sup>32</sup> For heathen men seek all these things; and your Father knoweth, that ye have need to all these things. (For the Gentiles seek all these things; and your Father knoweth, that ye have need of all these things.)

- <sup>33</sup> Therefore seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his rightwiseness, and all these things shall be cast to you. (And so seek first the Kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these other things shall be thrown, or shall come, unto you.)
- <sup>34</sup> Therefore do not ye be busy into the morrow, for the morrow shall be busy (un)to itself; for it sufficeth to the day his own malice. (And so do not be concerned about tomorrow, for tomorrow shall have its own concerns; for each day sufficeth with its own malice, or its own problems.)

<sup>1</sup> Do not ye deem, that ye be not deemed; (Do not judge, so that ye be not judged;)

- <sup>2</sup> for in what doom ye deem, ye shall be deemed, and in what measure ye mete, it shall be meted again to you. (for with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged, and by what measure ye measure, it shall be measured unto you.)
- <sup>3</sup> But what seest thou a little mote in the eye of thy brother (or And why seest thou a little speck in thy brother's eye), and seest not a beam in thine own eye?
- <sup>4</sup> Or how sayest thou to thy brother, Brother, suffer [that] I shall do out a mote from thine eye, and lo! a beam is in thine own eye? (or Brother, allow me to take out the speck from thine eye, and behold! a beam is in thine own eye?)
- <sup>5</sup> Hypocrite, first do out the beam of thine eye/do thou out first the beam of thine own eye, and then thou shalt see to do out the mote of the eye of thy brother.
- $^6$  Do not ye give holy thing(s) to hounds, neither cast ye your margarites before swine, (or throw your pearls to the hogs, or to the pigs), lest peradventure they defoul them with their feet, and the hounds be turned, and tear you all to pieces.
- <sup>7</sup> Ask ye, and it shall be given to you; seek ye, and ye shall find; knock ye, and it shall be opened to you.
- <sup>8</sup> For each that asketh, taketh, (or For each one who asketh, receiveth); and he that seeketh, findeth; and it shall be opened to him, that knocketh.
- <sup>9</sup> What man of you is, that if his son ask him (for some) bread, whether he will take to him a stone? (or will he give him a stone?)
- $^{10}$  Or if he ask (for)[a] fish, whether he will give [to] him an adder? (or will he give him a snake?)
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore if ye, when ye be evil men, know how to give good gifts to your sons, how much more your Father that is in heavens shall give good things to men that ask him?
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore all things, whatever things ye will that men do to you, do ye to them, for this is the law and the prophets. (And so everything, whatever ye want or desire people to do for you, do that for them, for this is the Law and the Prophets.)
- <sup>13</sup> Enter ye by the strait gate (or Enter by the narrow gate); for the gate that leadeth to perdition, [or to damnation], is large, and the way is broad, and there be many that enter by it.
- <sup>14</sup> How strait (or narrow) is the gate, and narrow the way, that leadeth to life, and there be few that find it.

- <sup>15</sup> Be ye ware of false prophets, that come to you in clothings of sheep, but withinforth they be wolves of raven [or but within they be ravishing (or snatching) wolves];
- <sup>16</sup> of their fruits ye shall know them. Whether men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of briers? (by their fruits ye shall know them. Do people gather grapes from thorns, or figs from briars?)

<sup>17</sup> So every good tree maketh good fruits; but an evil tree maketh evil fruits.

- $^{18}$  A good tree may not make evil fruits, neither an evil tree [may] make good fruits. (A good tree cannot make bad fruits, nor can a bad tree make good fruits.)
- <sup>19</sup> Every tree that maketh not good fruit, shall be cut down, and shall be cast into the fire (or and shall be thrown into the fire).
  - <sup>20</sup> Therefore of (or by) their fruits ye shall know them.
- <sup>21</sup> Not every man that saith to me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heavens; but he that doeth the will of my Father that is in heavens, he shall enter into the kingdom of heavens.
- <sup>22</sup> Many shall say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, whether we have not prophesied in thy name, and have cast out fiends [or devils] in thy name, and have done many virtues in thy name? (Many shall say to me on that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name, and have thrown out demons in thy name, and have done many works of power, or miracles, in thy name?)
- <sup>23</sup> And then I shall acknowledge to them, That I knew you never; depart away from me, ye that work wickedness.
- <sup>24</sup> Therefore every man that heareth these my words, and doeth them, shall be made like to a wise man, that hath builded his house on a stone.
- <sup>25</sup> And rain came down, and floods came, and winds blew, and rushed into that house; and it felled not down, for it was founded on a stone.
- <sup>26</sup> And every man that heareth these my words, and doeth them not, is like a fool, that hath builded his house on gravel [or on sand].
- <sup>27</sup> And rain came down, and floods came, and winds blew, and hurled against that house; and it felled down, and the falling down thereof was great.
- <sup>28</sup> And it was done, when Jesus had ended these words, the people wondered on his teaching;
- $^{29}$  for he taught them, as he that had power, and not as the scribes and the Pharisees.

- <sup>1</sup> But when Jesus was come down from the hill, much people *(pur)*sued him [or many companies followed him].
- <sup>2</sup> And lo! a leprous man came, and worshipped him, and said, Lord, if thou wilt, thou mayest make me clean. (And behold! a leprous man came, and honoured him, and said, Lord, if thou desirest it, or if thou wantest to do it, thou can make me clean.)
- <sup>3</sup> And Jesus held forth the hand, and touched him, and said, I will, be thou made clean. And anon the leprosy of him was cleansed. (And Jesus held forth his hand, and touched him, and said, I will, be thou made clean. And at once he was cleansed of the leprosy.)

- <sup>4</sup> And Jesus said to him, See, say thou to no man; but go, show thee to the priests, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, in witnessing to them (or as a testimony to them).
- <sup>5</sup> And when he had entered into Capernaum, the centurion nighed to him, and prayed him, (And when he entered into Capernaum, a centurion came up to him, and beseeched him,)
- <sup>6</sup> and said, Lord, my child lieth in the house sick on the palsy [or sick in the palsy], and is evil tormented. (and said, Lord, my servant lieth in the house sick with palsy, and is greatly tormented.)
  - <sup>7</sup> And Jesus said to him, I shall come, and shall heal him.
- <sup>8</sup> And the centurion answered, and said to him, Lord, I am not worthy, that thou enter under my roof; but only say thou by (a) word, and my child shall be healed, (or but only say the word, and my servant shall be healed).
- <sup>9</sup> For why I am a man ordained under power, and have knights under me (or and have soldiers under me); and I say to this (one), Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.
- <sup>10</sup> And Jesus heard these things, and wondered, and said to (the) men that *(pur)*sued him, Truly I say to you, I found not so great faith in Israel. (And Jesus heard these things, and wondered, and said to the people who followed him, I tell you the truth, I have not found such great faith in all of Israel.)
- <sup>11</sup> And I say to you, that many shall come from the east and the west, and shall rest with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heavens;
- <sup>12</sup> but the sons of the realm shall be cast out into outer-more [or uttermost] darknesses; there shall be weeping, and grinding of teeth.
- <sup>13</sup> And Jesus said to the centurion, Go, and as thou hast believed, be it done to thee. And the child was healed from that hour, (or And the servant was healed from that hour, or at that moment).
- <sup>14</sup> And when Jesus was come into the house of Simon Peter, he saw his wife's mother lying (down), and shaken [or shaking] with fevers.
- <sup>15</sup> And he touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she rose, and served them.
- <sup>16</sup> And when it was even(ing), they brought to him many that had devils, and he casted out (the) spirits by (a) word, and healed all that were evilat-ease [or having sickness];
- <sup>17</sup> that it were fulfilled, that was said by Esaias, the prophet, saying, (or so that it was fulfilled, what was said by the prophet Isaiah, saying), He took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.
- <sup>18</sup> And Jesus saw much people about him, and bade [or commanded]his disciples[to] go over the water.
- <sup>19</sup> And a scribe nighed, and said to him, Master, I shall (pur)sue thee, whither ever thou shalt go. (And a scribe approached, and said to him, Teacher, I shall follow thee, wherever thou shalt go.)
- <sup>20</sup> And Jesus said to him, Foxes have dens [or burrows], and birds of the air have nests, but man's Son hath not wherein to rest his head [or but man's Son hath not where he shall rest his head].
- <sup>21</sup> Another of his disciples said to him, Lord, suffer me to go first, and bury my father, (or Lord, first allow me to go, and bury my father).

- <sup>22</sup> But Jesus said to him, (Pur)Sue thou me, and let the dead men bury their dead men, (or Follow me, and let the dead bury their dead).
- <sup>23</sup> And when he was gone up into a little ship, his disciples *(pur)*sued him (or his disciples followed him).
- <sup>24</sup> And lo! a great stirring was made in the sea, so that the ship was covered with waves; but he slept.
- <sup>25</sup> And his disciples came to him, and raised him, and said, Lord, save us; (for) we perish.
- <sup>26</sup> And Jesus said to them, What be ye of little faith aghast [or afeared]? (or Why be so afraid, ye of little faith?) Then he rose [up], and commanded to the winds and the sea, and a great peaceableness was made.
- <sup>27</sup> And (the) men wondered, and said, What manner man is this, for the winds and the sea obey to him?
- <sup>28</sup> And when he was come over the water into the country of (the) men of Gergesenes, two men met him, that had devils (or who had demons), and came out of (the) graves (or from the tombs), full mad, [or going out from (the) burials, full fierce, or wicked], so that no man might go by that way.
- <sup>29</sup> And lo! they cried, and said, What to us and to thee, Jesus, the Son of God? art thou come hither before the time to torment us?
- <sup>30</sup> And not far from them was a flock of many swine [or a drove of many hogs] pasturing. (And not far from them was a herd of many pigs at pasture.)
- <sup>31</sup> And the devils prayed him, and said, If thou castest out us from hence, send us into the drove of swine [or into the drove of hogs]. (And the demons beseeched him, and said, If thou throwest us out of here, then send us into that herd of pigs.)
- <sup>32</sup> And he said to them, Go ye. And they went out, and went into the swine [or into the hogs]; and lo! in a great rush all the drove went headlong into the sea, and they were dead in the waters. (And he said to them, Go! And they went out, and went into the pigs; and behold! in a great rush the whole herd went headlong into the lake, and they were dead in the water.)
- <sup>33</sup> And the herders fled away, and came into the city, and told all these things, and of them that had the fiends, [or the devils], (or and about them who had the demons).
- <sup>34</sup> And lo! all the city went out to meet Jesus; and when they had seen him, they prayed [him], that he would pass from their coasts, (or they beseeched him, that he would go away from their coasts).

- <sup>1</sup> And Jesus went up into a boat, and passed over the water, and came into his city.
- <sup>2</sup> And lo! they brought to him a man sick in (the) palsy, lying in a bed. And Jesus saw the faith of them, and said to the man sick in (the) palsy, Son, have thou trust; thy sins be forgiven to thee.
  - <sup>3</sup> And lo! some of the scribes said within themselves, This blasphemeth.
- <sup>4</sup> And when Jesus had seen their thoughts, he said, Whereto think ye evil things in your hearts? (And when Jesus had perceived their thoughts, he said, Why think ye such evil things in your hearts?)
- <sup>5</sup> What is lighter to say (or What is easier to say), Thy sins be forgiven to thee, either to say, Rise thou, and walk?

- <sup>6</sup> But (so) that ye know that man's Son hath power to forgive sins in (or on the) earth, then he said to the sick man in (the) palsy [or then he said to the man sick in (the) palsy], Rise up; take thy bed, and go into thine house.
  - <sup>7</sup> And he rose, and went into his house.
- <sup>8</sup> And the people seeing dreaded, and glorified God, that gave such power to men. (And the people seeing this were filled with fearful reverence, and glorified God, who gave such power to men.)
- <sup>9</sup> And when Jesus passed from thence, he saw a man, Matthew by name, sitting in a tollbooth. And he said to him, (Pur)Sue thou me (or Follow me).

And he rose, and followed him.

- <sup>10</sup> And it was done, while he sat at the meat in the house, lo! many publicans and sinful men came, and sat at the meat with Jesus and his disciples. (And it was done, while he sat at a meal in the house, behold! many tax collectors and sinners came, and sat at the meal with Jesus and his disciples.)
- <sup>11</sup> And the Pharisees saw, and said to his disciples, Why eateth your master with publicans and sinful men? (or Why is your teacher eating with tax collectors and sinners?)
- <sup>12</sup> And Jesus heard, and said, A leech is not needful to men that fare well, but to men that be evil-at-ease [or having evil]. (And Jesus heard them, and said, A physician is not needed by men who be well, but by men who be sick.)
- <sup>13</sup> But go ye, and learn what it is, I will mercy, (or I want mercy, or kindness), and not sacrifice; for I came, not to call rightful [or rightwise] men, but sinful men to penance(or but sinners to repentance).
- <sup>14</sup> Then the disciples of John came to him, and said, Why we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?
- <sup>15</sup> And Jesus said to them, Whether the sons of the spouse may mourn [or may wail] as long as the spouse is with them? But (the) days shall come, when the spouse shall be taken away from them, and then they shall fast.
- <sup>16</sup> And no man putteth a patch of rough cloth, [or of rude, or new, cloth], into an old clothing; for it doeth away [or it taketh away] the fullness of the cloth, and a worse breaking is made. (And no one putteth a patch of new cloth onto an old piece of clothing; for it doeth away the fullness of the cloak, and a bigger hole is made.)
- <sup>17</sup> Neither men put new wine into old bottles, else the bottles be broken, and destroyed, and the wine shed out. But men put new wine into new bottles, and both be kept. [Neither men send new wine into old wine vessels, else the wine vessels be broken, and the wine is shed out, and the wine vessels perish. But men send new wine into new wine vessels, and both be kept.]
- <sup>18</sup> Whiles that Jesus spake these things to them, lo! a prince came, and worshipped him, (or behold! a leader (of a synagogue) came, and honoured him), and said, Lord, my daughter is now dead; but come thou, and put thine hand on her, and she shall live (again).
- <sup>19</sup> And Jesus rose, and his disciples, and *(pur)*sued him (or and followed him).
- <sup>20</sup> And lo! a woman, that had a bloody flux, [or that suffered the running of blood], (for) twelve years, nighed behind, and touched the hem of his cloth. (And behold! a woman, who had suffered a flow, or an issue, of blood for twelve years, approached behind him, and touched the hem of his cloak.)

 $^{21}$  For she said within herself, If I touch only the cloth of him, I shall be safe. (For she said within herself, If I only touch his cloak, then I shall be saved, or I shall be healed.)

<sup>22</sup> And Jesus turned, and saw her, and said, Daughter, have thou trust; thy faith hath made thee safe, (or thy faith hath saved thee, or hath healed thee). And the woman was [made] whole from that hour (or at that moment).

- <sup>23</sup> And when Jesus came into the house of the prince, and saw (the) minstrels, and the people making noise, (And when Jesus came into the house of the leader (of the synagogue), and saw the musicians, and the people making a commotion,)
- <sup>24</sup>he said, Go ye away, for the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth. And they scorned him.
- <sup>25</sup> And when the folk was put out (or And when the people were put out), he went in, and held her hand; and the damsel rose [up].
  - <sup>26</sup> And this fame, (or this story, or this telling), went out into all that land.
- <sup>27</sup> And when Jesus passed from thence, two blind men crying (pur)sued him, and said, Thou son of David, have mercy on us. [And Jesus passing from thence, two blind men (pur)sued him, crying, and saying, Thou son of David, have mercy on us.](And when Jesus went away from there, two blind men followed him, and crying out, they said, O Son of David, have mercy on us.)
- <sup>28</sup> And when he came into the house, the blind men came to him; and Jesus said to them, What will ye, that I do to you? (or What do you desire that I do for you? or What do you want me to do for you?) And they said, Lord, that our eyes be opened. And Jesus said, Believe ye, that I may do this thing to you? [or Believe ye, that I may do this thing?](or Believe ye, that I can do this for you?) They said to him, Yea, Lord.
- $^{29}\,\mathrm{Then}$  he touched their eyes, and said, After your faith be it done to you.
- <sup>30</sup> And the eyes of them were opened. And Jesus threatened them, and said, See ye, that no man know.
  - 31 But they went out, and famed him through(out) all that land.
- <sup>32</sup> And when they were gone out, lo! they brought to him a dumb man, having a devil, (or they brought to him a man who could not speak, because he had a demon).
- <sup>33</sup> And when the devil was cast out, the dumb man spake. And the people wondered, and said, It hath not been seen thus in Israel [or It appeared never so in Israel].
- <sup>34</sup> But the Pharisees said, In the prince of devils he casteth out devils (or By the Prince of demons he throweth out demons).
- <sup>35</sup> And Jesus went about all the cities and castles, teaching in the synagogues of them, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every languor [or all ache], and every sickness. (And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Gospel, or the Good News, of the Kingdom, and healing every languor, or every ache and sorrow, and every sickness.)
- <sup>36</sup> And he saw the people, and had ruth on them; for they were travailed, and lying as sheep not having a shepherd. (And he saw the people, and had compassion for them; for they were troubled, and living like sheep not having a shepherd.)

- <sup>37</sup> Then he said to his disciples, Soothly there is much ripe corn (or Truly there is a great harvest to be gotten), but few workmen.
- 38 Therefore pray ye the Lord of the ripe corn, that he send workmen into his ripe corn. (And so pray to the Lord of the harvest, that he send workers to gather in his harvest.)

<sup>1</sup> And when his twelve disciples were called together, he gave to them power of unclean spirits (or he gave to them power over unclean spirits), to cast them out of men, and to heal every languor [or all ache], and [all] sickness.

<sup>2</sup> And these be the names of the twelve apostles; the first, Simon, that is called Peter, and Andrew, his brother; James of Zebedee, and John, his brother:

- <sup>3</sup> Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew, (a) publican (or a tax collector); and James [of] Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus;
- <sup>4</sup> Simon Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, that betrayed Christ, [or which betrayed him], (or who betrayed the Messiah).
- <sup>5</sup> Jesus sent these twelve, and commanded [to] them, and said, Go ye not into the way of heathen men (or Go not on the way to the Gentiles), and enter ye not into the cities of (the) Samaritans;
  - <sup>6</sup> but rather go ye to the sheep of the house of Israel, that have perished.
- <sup>7</sup> And go ye, and preach ye, and say, that the kingdom of heavens shall nigh; (And go, and preach, and say, that the Kingdom of Heaven is near;)
- 8 heal ye sick men, raise ye dead men, cleanse ye mesels [or leprous men], cast ye out devils; freely ye have taken, freely give ye. (heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, throw out the demons; freely ye have received, freely give.)
  - <sup>9</sup> Do not ye wield (or possess) gold, nor silver, nor money in your girdles, <sup>10</sup> not a scrip in the way, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor a staff [or a rod]; for a workman is worthy (of) his meat, (or for a workman is worthy of his food, or hath earned his keep).

- <sup>11</sup> Into whatever city, or castle, ye shall enter (or Whatever city, or village, ye shall enter into), ask ye who therein is worthy, and there dwell ye, till ye go out.
  - <sup>12</sup> And when ye go into an house, greet ye it, and say, Peace to this house.
- 13 And if that house be worthy, your peace shall come on it; but if that house be not worthy, your peace shall turn again to you (or your peace shall return to you).
- 14 And whoever receiveth not you, nor heareth your words, go ye forth from that house or city, and sprinkle off the dust of your feet, [or (and) smite away the dust from your feet], (or and shake off the dust from your feet).
- <sup>15</sup> Truly I say to you, it shall be more sufferable to the land of (the) men of Sodom and of Gomorrha in the day of judgement, than to that city. (I tell you the truth, it shall be more bearable for the land of the men of Sodom
- and Gomorrah on the Day of Judgement, than for that city.)

  16 Lo! I send you as sheep in the middle [or into the midst] of wolves; therefore be ye sly, [or prudent, or wary, or wise], as serpents, and (as) simple as doves.

- <sup>17</sup> But be ye ware of men, for they shall take you in (to) councils, and they shall beat you in their synagogues;
- <sup>18</sup> and to mayors, or to presidents, and to kings, ye shall be led (in) for me, in witnessing to them, and to heathen men. (and to mayors, or to governors, and to kings, ye shall be led in for me, to give a testimony to them, and to the Gentiles.)
- <sup>19</sup> But when they take (hold of) you, do not ye think, how or what thing ye shall speak, for it shall be given to you in that hour, what ye shall speak;
- <sup>20</sup> for it be not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father, that speaketh in (or through) you.
- <sup>21</sup> And the brother shall betake the brother into death (or And a brother shall deliver, or shall betray, a brother unto death), and the father the son, and sons shall rise against [their] father and mother, and shall torment them by death [or to the death].
- <sup>22</sup> And ye shall be in hate [or in hatred] to all men for my name; but he that shall dwell still [or shall continue] into the end, shall be made safe. (And ye shall be hated by everyone for my name; but he who shall continue unto the end, shall be saved.)
- $^{23}$  And when they pursue you in this city, flee ye into another (or And when they persecute you in this city, flee to another). Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), ye shall not end the cities of Israel, before that man's Son come.
- $^{24}$  The disciple is not above the master, [or The disciple is not above his master], (or The student is not above the teacher), nor the servant above his lord;
- <sup>25</sup> it is enough to the disciple, that he be as his master, and to the servant as his lord, (or it is enough for the student, that he be like his teacher, and for the servant, that he be like his lord). If they have called the husbandman, [or the father of the household], Beelzebub, (then) how much more his household members?
- <sup>26</sup> Therefore dread ye not them; for nothing is hid [or is covered], that shall not be showed; and nothing is privy, that shall not be known. (And so do not fear them; for nothing is hidden, that shall not be shown, or brought out into the open; and nothing is private, or is secret, that shall not be made known.)
- <sup>27</sup> That thing that I say to you in (the) darknesses, say ye in the light; and preach ye on houses [or upon roofs], that thing that ye hear in the ear.
- <sup>28</sup> And do not ye dread them that slay the body; for they may not slay the soul; but rather dread ye him, that may lose both soul and body into hell. (And do not fear those who can kill the body; for they cannot kill the soul; but rather fear him, who can destroy both body and soul in hell.)
- <sup>29</sup> Whether two sparrows be not sold for an halfpenny? and one of them shall not fall on the earth without your Father. (Be not two sparrows sold for half a penny? and not one of them shall fall to the ground without your Father knowing about it, or allowing it.)
  - <sup>30</sup> And all the hairs of your head be numbered.
- <sup>31</sup> Therefore do not ye dread (or And so do not fear); ye be better than many sparrows.
- <sup>32</sup> Therefore every man that shall acknowledge me before men, I shall acknowledge him before my Father that is in heavens.

- <sup>33</sup> But he that shall deny me before men, I shall deny him before my Father that is in heavens.
- <sup>34</sup> Do not ye deem (or guess) that I came to send peace into [the] earth; I came not to send peace, but (the) sword.
- <sup>35</sup> For I came to part a man against his father (or For I came to set a man against his father), and the daughter against her mother, and the son's wife against the husband's mother;
  - <sup>36</sup> and the enemies of a man be they, that be at home with him.
- <sup>37</sup> He that loveth father or mother more than me, is not worthy to me/is not worthy of me. And he that loveth son or daughter more than me, is not worthy to me [or is not worthy of me].
- <sup>38</sup> And he that taketh not (up) his cross, and (pur)sueth me (or and followeth me), is not worthy to me [or is not worthy of me].
- <sup>39</sup> He that findeth his life, shall lose it; and he that loseth his life for me, shall find it.
- $^{40}$  He that receiveth you, receiveth me; and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.
- <sup>41</sup> He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet, shall take [or shall receive] the meed (or the reward) of a prophet. And he that receiveth a just man in the name of a just man, shall take [or shall receive] the meed, (or the reward), of a just man.
- <sup>42</sup> And whoever giveth drink to one of these least, a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, truly I say to you, he shall not lose his meed. (And whoever giveth drink to one of these least ones, even just a cup of cold water, because he is my student, or my follower, I tell you the truth, he shall not lose his reward.)

- $^{1}$  And it was done, when Jesus had ended (these words), he commanded to his twelve disciples, and passed from thence to teach and preach in the cities of them.
- <sup>2</sup> But when John in bonds had heard (of) the works of Christ (or But when John in prison had heard of the works of the Messiah), he sent two of his disciples,
  - <sup>3</sup> and said to him, Art thou he that shall come, or we abide another?
- <sup>4</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to them, Go ye, and tell again to John those things that ye have heard and seen.
- <sup>5</sup> Blind men see, crooked men go, mesels be made clean, deaf men hear, dead men rise again, poor men be taken to preaching of the gospel. (The blind see, the lame walk, the lepers be cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead rise again, the poor be taken to the preaching of the Gospel or the Good News.)
- <sup>6</sup> And he is blessed, that shall not be caused to stumble in me. (And he is blessed, who shall not be caused to stumble because of me.)
- <sup>7</sup> And when they were gone away, Jesus began to say of John to the people, What thing went ye out into (the) desert to see? a reed waved with the wind?
- <sup>8</sup> Or what thing went ye out to see? a man clothed with soft clothes? Lo! they that be clothed with soft clothes be in the houses of kings.
- <sup>9</sup> But what thing went ye out to see? a prophet? Yea, I say to you, and more than a prophet.

<sup>10</sup> For this is he, of whom it is written, Lo! I send mine angel before thy face, that shall make ready thy way before thee (or who shall prepare thy way before thee).

11 Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), there rose none more [or none greater] than John (the) Baptist among the children of women; but he that is less [or that is the least] in the kingdom of heavens, is more than

<sup>13</sup> For all [the] prophets and the law till John prophesied;

- 14 and if ye will receive (it), he is Elias, that is to come. (and if ye will receive it, he is Elijah, who was to come.)
  - 15 He that hath ears of hearing, hear he.

<sup>16</sup> But to whom shall I guess this generation like? It is like to children sitting in the chapping (or at the market), that cry to their peers, <sup>17</sup> and say, We have sung to you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned to you, and ye have not wailed.

- 18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil.
- <sup>19</sup> The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Lo! a man a glutton, and a drinker of wine, and a friend of publicans and of sinful men. And wisdom is justified of her sons (or And wisdom is proved right by its results).
- <sup>20</sup> Then Jesus began to say reproof to (the) cities, in which full many virtues of him were done, for they did not penance. (Then Jesus began to rebuke the cities, in which a great many works of power, or miracles, were done by him, because they did not repent.)
- <sup>21</sup> Woe to thee! Chorazin, woe to thee! Bethsaida; for if the virtues that be done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, sometime they had done penance in hair-shirt and ashes. (Woe to thee, Chorazin! woe to thee, Bethsaida! for if the works of power, or the miracles, that had been done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented in sackcloth and ashes long ago.)

<sup>22</sup> Nevertheless I say to you, it shall be less pain(ful) to Tyre and Sidon

in the day of doom (or on the Day of Judgement), than to you.

<sup>23</sup> And thou, Capernaum, whether thou shalt be araised up into heaven? Thou shalt go down into hell. For if the virtues that be done in thee had been done in Sodom (or For if the works of power, or the miracles, that had been done in thee had been done in Sodom), peradventure they should have dwelled till into this day.

<sup>24</sup> Nevertheless I say to you, that to the land of Sodom it shall be less pain(ful) in the day of doom (or on the Day of Judgement), than to thee.

<sup>25</sup> In that time Jesus answered, and said, I acknowledge to thee, Father, Lord of heaven and of earth, for thou hast hid these things from wise men, and ready, [or wary, or prudent, or sly], (or for thou hast hidden these things from the wise and the prudent), and hast showed them to little children;

<sup>26</sup> so, Father, for so it was pleasing before thee.

<sup>27</sup> All things be given to me of my Father (or Everything is given to me by my Father); and no man knew the Son, but the Father, neither any man knew the Father, but the Son, and to whom the Son would show (him). [All things be given to me of my father; and no man knoweth the son, no but the father, neither any man knoweth the father, no but the son, and to whom the son would show (him).1

28 All ye that travail, and be charged (or All ye who labour, and be burdened), come to me, and I shall fulfill you for and I shall refresh you].

<sup>29</sup> Take ye my yoke on you, and learn ye of me, for I am mild and meek in heart; and ye shall find rest to your souls. (Take my voke upon you, and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart; and ye shall find rest for your souls.)

<sup>30</sup> For my yoke is soft, and my charge (or my burden)is light. [For my voke is sweet, and my charge is easy.]

CHAPTER 12

<sup>1</sup> In that time Jesus went by (some) corns in the sabbath day [or on the sabbath dayl; and his disciples hungered, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat (them).

<sup>2</sup> And the Pharisees, seeing, said to him, Lo! thy disciples do that thing that is not leaveful to them to do in [the] sabbaths. (And the Pharisees, seeing that, said to him, Behold! thy disciples do what is not lawful for them to do on the Sabbath.)

<sup>3</sup> And he said to them, Whether ye have not read, what David did, when he hungered, and they that were with him?

- <sup>4</sup> how he entered into the house of God, and ate (the) loaves of proposition, [either of setting forth], which loaves it was not leaveful to him to eat, neither to them that were with him, [no] but to (the) priests alone? (or which bread it was not lawful for him to eat, nor for those who were with him, but only for the priests?)
- <sup>5</sup> Or whether ye have not read in the law, that in (or on) the sabbaths (the) priests in the temple defoul the sabbaths (or defile the Sabbath), and they be without blame?

<sup>6</sup> And I say to you, that here is a greater than the temple. (And I tell you, that here is something greater than the Temple.)

- <sup>7</sup> And if ye knew, what it is, I will mercy, and not sacrifice, ye should never have condemned innocents. (And if ye only knew, what is meant by, I want mercy, or kindness, and not sacrifice, ye would never have condemned the innocent.)
  - <sup>8</sup> For man's Son is Lord, yea, of the sabbath.

<sup>9</sup> And when he passed from thence, he came into the synagogue of them.

10 And lo! a man that had a dry hand. And they asked him, and said, Whether it be leaveful to heal in the sabbath? that they should accuse him. (And behold! a man who had a withered hand. And they asked him, and said, Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath? so that they could accuse him.)

11 And he said to them, What man of you shall there be, that hath one sheep, and if it fall into a ditch in (or on) the sabbaths, whether he shall not (take) hold (of it), and lift it up?

12 How much more is a man better than a sheep? Therefore it is leaveful to do good in the sabbaths, [or And so it is leaveful to do good in the sabbath], (or And so it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath).

13 Then he said to the man. Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched

(it) forth; and it was restored to health as the other.

- $^{14}$  And the Pharisees went out, and made a counsel (or a plan) against him, (as to) how they should destroy him.
- <sup>15</sup> And Jesus knew it, and went away from thence; and many *(pur)*sued him (or and many followed him), and he healed them all.
  - <sup>16</sup> And he commanded to them, that they should not make him known;
- <sup>17</sup> that that thing were fulfilled, that was said by Esaias, the prophet, saying, (so that it was fulfilled, which was said by the prophet Isaiah, saying,)
- <sup>18</sup> Lo! my child, whom I have chosen, my darling, in whom it hath well pleased to my soul; I shall put my Spirit on him, and he shall tell doom to (the) heathen men (or and he shall tell out judgement to the Gentiles).
- $^{19}$  He shall not strive, nor cry, neither any man shall hear his voice in (the) streets.
- <sup>20</sup> A bruised reed he shall not break [or He shall not break (al)together a shaken reed], and he shall not quench smoking flax, till he cast out doom (or judgement), (un)to victory;
- <sup>21</sup> and heathen men shall (have) hope in his name. (and the Gentiles shall have hope in his name.)
- <sup>22</sup> Then a man blind and dumb, that had a fiend [or a devil], was brought to him; and he healed him, so that he spake, and saw.
- <sup>23</sup> And all the people wondered, and said, Whether this be the son of David?
- <sup>24</sup> But the Pharisees heard, and said, He this (man) casteth not out fiends, (no) but in Beelzebub, (the) prince of (the) fiends. [+But the Pharisees hearing, said, This (man) casteth not out fiends, no but in Beelzebub, prince of devils]. (But the Pharisees heard, and said, He throweth out demons by Beelzebub, the Prince of demons.)
- <sup>25</sup> And Jesus, witting their thoughts, said to them, Each kingdom parted against itself, shall be desolated, [or shall be desolate], (or Each kingdom divided against itself, shall be destroyed), and each city, or house, parted against itself, shall not stand.
- <sup>26</sup> And if Satan casteth out Satan, he is parted against himself, (or And if Satan throweth out Satan, he is divided against himself); therefore how shall his kingdom stand?
- <sup>27</sup> And if I in Beelzebub cast out devils, in whom, [or by whose might], (do) your sons cast (them) out? Therefore they shall be your doomsmen (or And so they shall be your judges).
- <sup>28</sup> But if I in the Spirit of God cast out fiends, then the kingdom of God is come into you [or is come among you]. (But if I by the Spirit of God throw out devils and demons, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.)
- <sup>29</sup> Either how may any man enter into the house of a strong man, and take away his vessels, [no] but he first bind the strong man, and then he shall spoil his house? (Or how can any man enter into the house of a strong man, and take away his things? first he must bind up the strong man, and then he can rob his house.)
- <sup>30</sup> He that is not with me, is against me; and he that gathereth not together with me, scattereth abroad.
- <sup>31</sup> Therefore I say to you, all sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven to men, but [the] blasphemy of the Spirit shall not be forgiven (or but blasphemy against the Holy Spirit shall not be forgiven).

- <sup>32</sup> And whoever saith a word against man's Son, it shall be forgiven to him; but who that saith a word against the Holy Ghost (or but who that saith a word against the Holy Spirit), it shall not be forgiven to him, neither in this world, nor in the tother.
- <sup>33</sup> Either make ye the tree good, and his fruit good; either make ye the tree evil and his fruit evil; for a tree is known of his fruit (or for a tree is known by its fruit).
- <sup>34</sup> Ye generation of adders, how may ye speak good things, when ye be evil? (or Ye children of snakes, how can ye say anything good, when ye yourselves be evil?) For the mouth speaketh (out) of the plenty [or (out) of the great abundance] of the heart.
- $^{35}$  A good man bringeth forth good things of good treasure, and an evil man bringeth forth evil things of evil treasure.
- <sup>36</sup> And I say to you, that of every idle word, that men speak, they shall yield reason thereof in the day of doom; (And I tell you, that for every idle word, that men speak, they shall have to give a reason for it on the Day of Judgement;)
- <sup>37</sup> for of thy words thou shalt be justified, and of thy words thou shalt be condemned.
- <sup>38</sup> Then some of the scribes and the Pharisees answered to him, and said, Master, we will see a token of thee, (or Teacher, we desire to see a sign from thee).
- <sup>39</sup> Which answered, and said to them, An evil kindred and a spouse-breaker seeketh a token [or An evil generation and adulterous seeketh a token], and a token shall not be given to it, [no] but the token of Jonas, the prophet. (And he answered, and said to them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh a sign, and no sign shall be given to it, except for the sign of the prophet Jonah.)
- <sup>40</sup> For as Jonas was in the womb of a whale three days and three nights (or For as Jonah was in the belly of a whale for three days and three nights), so man's Son shall be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights.
- <sup>41</sup> Men of Nineveh shall rise in (the) doom with this generation, and shall condemn it; for they did penance in the preaching of Jonas, and lo! here [is] a greater (man) than Jonas. (Men of Nineveh shall rise at the Judgement with this generation, and they shall condemn it; for they repented after the preaching of Jonah, and behold! here (is) something greater than Jonah.)
- <sup>42</sup> The queen of the south shall rise in doom with this generation, and (she) shall condemn it; for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and lo! here [is] a greater (man) than Solomon. (The Queen of the South shall rise at the Judgement with this generation, and she shall condemn it; for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold! here (is) something greater than Solomon.)
- <sup>43</sup> When an unclean spirit goeth out from a man, he goeth by dry places, seeking rest, and findeth not [or and he findeth none].
- <sup>44</sup> Then he saith, I shall turn again into mine house, from whence I went out. And he cometh, and findeth it void, and cleansed with besoms, and made fair. (Then he saith, I shall return to my house, from where I went out. And he cometh, and findeth it empty, and swept clean, and made neat and tidy.)

<sup>45</sup> Then he goeth (out), and taketh (back) with him seven other spirits worse than himself; and they enter [in], and dwell there. And the last things of that man be made worse than the former. So it shall be to this worst generation, (or And so the last things of that man be made worse than the first things. So it shall be with this evil generation).

46 Yet while he spake to the people, lo! his mother and his brethren stood withoutforth, seeking to speak with him.

<sup>47</sup> And a man said to him, Lo! thy mother and thy brethren stand withoutforth, seeking thee.

48 And he answered to the man, that spake to him, and said, Who is my mother? and who be my brethren?

 $^{\rm 49}$  And he held forth his hand into his disciples, and said, Lo! my mother and my brethren;

<sup>50</sup> for whoever doeth the will of my Father that is in heavens, he is my brother, and sister, and mother.

CHAPTER 13

<sup>1</sup> In that day Jesus went out of the house, and sat beside the sea.

<sup>2</sup> And much people was gathered to him, so that he went up into a boat, and sat; and all the people stood on the brink (or and all the people stood on the shore).

<sup>3</sup> And he spake to them many things in parables, and said, Lo! he that soweth, went out to sow his seed.

<sup>4</sup> And while he soweth, some seeds felled beside the way, and (the) birds of the air came, and ate them.

- <sup>5</sup> But other seeds felled into stony places, where they had not much earth; and anon they sprung up (or and at once they sprouted), for they had not (any) deepness of earth.
- <sup>6</sup> But when the sun was risen, they sweltered, [or they burned for the heat], (or they were parched), and for they had not root, they dried up.
- <sup>7</sup> And other seeds felled among thorns; and the thorns waxed up (or and the thorns grew up), and strangled them.
- <sup>8</sup> But other seeds felled into good land, and gave fruit; some an hundredfold, another sixtyfold, another thirtyfold.

<sup>9</sup> He that hath ears of hearing, hear he.

 $^{10}$  And the disciples came nigh, and said to him, Why speakest thou in parables to them?

- <sup>11</sup> And he answered, and said to them, For to you it is given to know the privates [or the mysteries] of the kingdom of heavens, (or For to you it is given to know the secrets of the Kingdom of Heaven); but it is not given to them.
- $^{12}$  For it shall be given to him that hath, and he shall have plenty; but if a man hath not, also that thing that he hath shall be taken away from him.

13 Therefore I speak to them in parables, for they seeing see not, and they hearing hear not, neither understand;

<sup>14</sup> that the prophecy of Esaias saying be fulfilled in them (or so that the prophecy of Isaiah be fulfilled in them, saying), With hearing ye shall hear, and ye shall not understand; and ye seeing shall see, and ye shall not see;

15 for the heart of this people is greatly fatted, and they heard heavily with (their) ears, and they have closed their eyes, lest sometime they see with eyes, and with ears hear, and understand in heart, and they be converted, and I heal them.

- <sup>16</sup> But your eyes that see be blessed, and your ears that hear.
- $^{17}$  Forsooth I say to you, that many prophets and just men coveted to see those things that ye see, and they saw not, and to hear those things that ye hear, and they heard not.
  - <sup>18</sup> Therefore hear ye the parable of the sower.
- <sup>19</sup> Each that heareth the word of the realm, and understandeth (it) not, the evil spirit cometh, and ravisheth (or snatcheth up) that that is sown in his heart; this it is [or this is he], that is sown beside the way.
- <sup>20</sup> But this that is sown on the stony land, this it is, that heareth the word of God, and anon with joy taketh it (or and at once receiveth it with joy). [Forsooth he that is sown in stony land, is this, that heareth the word of God, and anon with joy taketh it.]
- <sup>21</sup> And he hath not root in himself, but is temporal. For when tribulation and persecution is made for the word, anon he is slandered. (But it hath no root in him, and is but temporary. For when tribulation and persecution cometh because of this word, at once he is caused to stumble.)
- <sup>22</sup> But he that is sown in thorns, is this that heareth the word, and the busyness (or the concerns) of this world, and the fallacy [or the falseness] of riches strangleth the word, and it is made without fruit.
- <sup>23</sup> But he that is sown into good land, is this that heareth the word, and understandeth (it), and bringeth forth fruit. And some maketh an hundredfold, truly another sixtyfold and another thirtyfold.
- <sup>24</sup> Another parable Jesus put forth to them, and said, The kingdom of heavens is made like to a man, that sowed good seed in his field.
- <sup>25</sup> And when men slept, his enemy came, and sowed above tares in the middle of (the) wheat, [+or and sowed above darnels, or cockles, in the midst of the wheat], and (then) went away.
- <sup>26</sup> But when the herb was grown, and made fruit, then the tares, [or the darnels, or (the) cockles], appeared.
- <sup>27</sup> And the servants of the husbandman came, and said to him, Lord, whether hast thou not sown good seed in thy field? whereof then hath it tares, [or darnels, or cockles]?
- <sup>28</sup> And he said to them, An enemy hath done this thing. And the servants said to him, Wilt thou that we go, and gather them?
- <sup>29</sup> And he said, Nay, lest peradventure ye in gathering (the) tares, [or the darnels, or (the) cockles], draw up with them [also] the wheat by the root.
- <sup>30</sup> Suffer ye them both to wax into reaping time; and in the time of ripe corn, I shall say to the reapers, (or Allow them both to grow until harvest time; and at harvest time, I shall say to the harvesters), First gather ye together the tares, [or the darnels, or (the) cockles], and bind them together in knitches, [or small bundles], to be burnt, but gather ye the wheat into my barn.
- <sup>31</sup> Another parable Jesus put forth to them, and said, The kingdom of heavens is like to a corn of sinapi, which a man took, and sowed in his field. (Jesus put forth another parable to them, and said, The Kingdom of Heaven is like a kernel, or a grain, of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field.)

- <sup>32</sup> Which [truly] is the least of all seeds, but when it hath waxen, it is the most of all worts, (or but when it hath grown, it is the largest of all herbs, or all plants), and is made (into) a tree; so that [the] birds of the air come, and dwell in the boughs [or in the branches] thereof.
- <sup>33</sup> Another parable Jesus spake to them [or He spake another parable to them], The kingdom of heavens is like to sourdough (or is like yeast), which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till it were all soured (or until it was all leavened).
- <sup>34</sup> Jesus spake all these things in parables to the people, and he spake not to them without parables,
- <sup>35</sup> (so) that it should be fulfilled, that is said by the prophet, saying, I shall open my mouth in parables; I shall tell out hid things [or things hid] from the making of the world (or I shall tell out hidden things from the creation of the world).
- <sup>36</sup>Then he left the people (or Then he dismissed the people, or let them go), and came into an house; and his disciples came to him, and said, Expound to us the parable of the tares, [or the darnels, or (the) cockles], of the field.
  - <sup>37</sup> Which answered, and said, He that soweth good seed is man's Son;
- <sup>38</sup> the field is the world; but the good seed, these be the sons of the kingdom, but (the) tares, these be (the) evil children, [or forsooth (the) darnels, or (the) cockles, these be (the) sons of the wicked (one)];
- <sup>39</sup> the enemy that soweth them is the fiend [or the devil]; and the ripe corn (or the harvest) is the ending of the world, the reapers be (the) angels.
- <sup>40</sup> Therefore as (the) tares, [or (the) darnels, or (the) cockles], be gathered together, and be burnt in [the] fire, so it shall be in the ending of the world.
- <sup>41</sup> Man's Son shall send his angels, and they shall gather from his realm all causes of stumbling, and them that do wickedness;
- <sup>42</sup> and they shall send them into the chimney of fire; there shall be weeping, and beating together of teeth (or and grinding of teeth).
- <sup>43</sup> Then just men shall shine as the sun, in the realm of their Father (or in their Father's Kingdom). He that hath ears of hearing, hear he.
- <sup>44</sup> The kingdom of heavens is like to (a) treasure hid in a field (or The Kingdom of Heaven is like a treasure hidden in a field), which a man that findeth, hideth; and for (the) joy of it he goeth, and selleth all (the) things that he hath, and buyeth that field.
- <sup>45</sup> Again the kingdom of heavens is like to a merchant, that seeketh good margarites [or good pearls];
- <sup>46</sup> but when he hath found one precious margarite (or one precious pearl), he went, and sold all (the) things that he had, and bought it.
- <sup>47</sup> Again the kingdom of heavens is like to a net cast into the sea, and that gathereth together of all kinds of fishes;
- <sup>48</sup> which when it was full, they drew it up, and sat by the brink, and chose the good into their vessels, but the evil they cast out. (which when it was full, they drew it up, and sat on the shore, and chose the good ones for their pails, or their baskets, but the bad ones they threw away.)
- <sup>49</sup> So it shall be in the end(ing) of the world. Angels shall go out, and shall separate evil men from the middle [or from the midst] of just men.
- <sup>50</sup> And they shall send them into the chimney of fire; there shall be weeping, and grinding of teeth.

- 51 Have ye understood all these things? They say to him, Yea.
- <sup>52</sup> He saith to them, Therefore every wise man of [the] law [taught] in the kingdom of heavens, is like to an husbandman, that bringeth forth of his treasure new things and old.
- <sup>53</sup> And it was done, when Jesus had ended these parables, he passed from thence (or he went away from there).
- <sup>54</sup> And he came into his country, and taught them in their synagogues, so that they wondered, and said, From whence this wisdom and virtues, (or works of power, or miracles), came to this? [or Whereof to him this wisdom and virtues?](or From where did he get such wisdom and power to work such miracles?)
- <sup>55</sup> Whether this is not the son of a carpenter? Whether his mother be not said Mary? (or Is not his mother called Mary?), and his brethren, James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Judas?
- <sup>56</sup> and his sisters, whether they all be not among us? From whence then all these things come or came to this? [and his sisters, whether they be not all among us? Therefore whereof to him all these things?]
- <sup>57</sup> And so they were offended in him. But Jesus said to them, A prophet is not without honour, [no] but in his own country, and in his own house. (And so they were offended by him, or they were contemptuous of him. And Jesus said to them, A prophet is not without honour, except in his own hometown, and among his own family.)
- <sup>58</sup> And he did not there many virtues, for the unbelief of them. (And he did not do many works of power, or miracles, there, because of their unbelief.)

- <sup>1</sup> In that time Herod tetrarch, [that is, (the) prince of the fourth part], heard (of) the fame of Jesus;
- <sup>2</sup> and said to his children, This is John (the) Baptist, he is risen from death [or he hath risen from (the) dead], and therefore virtues work in him, (or and that is why works of power, or miracles, can be done by him).
- <sup>3</sup> For Herod had (taken) hold (of) John, and bound him, and putted him in prison for Herodias, the wife of his brother.
- <sup>4</sup> For John said to him, It is not leaveful to thee to have her. (For John said to him, It is not lawful for thee to have her as your wife.)
- <sup>5</sup> And he willing to slay him, dreaded the people; for they had him as a prophet. (And he wanted to kill him, but he feared the people; for they said that he was a prophet.)
- <sup>6</sup> But in the day of Herod's birth (or But on Herod's birthday), the daughter of Herodias danced in the middle, and pleased Herod.
- <sup>7</sup> Wherefore with an oath he promised to give to her, whatever thing she asked of him.
- <sup>8</sup> And she before-warned of her mother, said, [or And she before-admonished of her mother, saith], (or And having earlier been admonished by her mother, she answered), Give thou to me here the head of John (the) Baptist in a dish.
- <sup>9</sup> And the king was sorrowful, but for the oath, and for them that sat together at the meat, (or but because of his promise, or his oath, and because of those who sat together with him at the meal), he commanded (it) to be given (to her).

- <sup>10</sup> And he sent (word), and beheaded John in the prison.
- <sup>11</sup> And his head was brought in a dish, and it was given to the damsel, and she bare it to her mother (or and she carried it to her mother).
- $^{12}$  And his disciples came, and took his body, and buried it; and they came, and told to Jesus.
- <sup>13</sup> And when Jesus had heard (about) this thing, he went from thence in a boat, into a desert place beside. And when the people had heard, they followed him on their feet from (the) cities.
- <sup>14</sup> And Jesus went out, and saw a great people [or a great multitude], and had ruth on them (or and had compassion for them), and he healed the sick men (and women and children) of them.
- <sup>15</sup> But when eventide was come, his disciples came to him, and said, The place is (a) desert, and the time is now passed; let the people go into (the) towns, to buy them(selves) meat (or to buy some food for themselves).
- <sup>16</sup> Jesus said to them, They have not need to go [or They have no need to go]; give ye them somewhat to eat (or you give them something to eat).
  - <sup>17</sup> They answered, We have not here, [no] but five loaves and two fishes.
- <sup>18</sup> And he said to them, Bring ye them hither to me (or Bring them here to me).
- <sup>19</sup> And when he had commanded the people to sit to [the] meat on the hay (or And when he had commanded the people to sit down on the hay for the meal), he took (the) five loaves and (the) two fishes, and he beheld into heaven, and blessed (or and gave thanks), and brake (them), and gave [(the) loaves] to his disciples; and the disciples gave (them) to the people.
- <sup>20</sup> And all ate, and were fulfilled, [or And all ate, and were filled]. And they took the remnants of broken gobbets, twelve coffins full, (or And they gathered up the remaining pieces of food, twelve baskets full).
- <sup>21</sup> And the number of men that ate was five thousand of men, without (the) women and (the) little children.
- <sup>22</sup> And anon (or at once) Jesus compelled the disciples to go up into a boat, and [to] go before him over the sea, while he left the people, (or while he dismissed the people, or let them go).
- <sup>23</sup> And when the people was left, he ascended alone into an hill to pray, (or And after the people were dismissed, or let go, he went up alone onto a hill to pray). But when the evening was come, he was there alone.
- <sup>24</sup> And the boat in the middle of the sea was shogged with (the) waves, for the wind was contrary to them. [+Forsooth the boat in the midst of the sea was thrown (about) with (the) waves, for the wind was contrary to them.]
- <sup>25</sup> But in the fourth waking of the night, he came to them walking on the sea. (But about the fourth watch of the night, he came to them walking on the lake)
- <sup>26</sup> And they, seeing him walking on the sea, were disturbed [or were distroubled], and said, That it is a phantom; and for dread they cried (or and they cried out in fear).
- <sup>27</sup> And anon Jesus spake to them, and said, Have ye trust, I am (he); do not ye dread. (And at once Jesus spoke to them, and said, Have trust, it is me; do not fear.)

<sup>28</sup> And Peter answered, and said, Lord, if thou art (thee), (or if it is thee), command me to come to thee on the waters.

<sup>29</sup> And he said, Come thou. And Peter went down from the boat, and walked on the waters to come to Jesus.

<sup>30</sup> But he saw the wind strong, and was afeared; and when he began to drench, he cried, and said, Lord, make me safe. (But when he saw the strength of the wind, he was afraid; and when he began to drown, he cried, and said, Lord, save me.)

<sup>31</sup> And anon (or at once) Jesus held forth his hand, and took Peter[or (and) caught him], and said to him, Thou of little faith, why hast thou doubted?

- <sup>32</sup> And when he had ascended into the boat, the wind ceased. (And when he had gone up into the boat, the wind ceased.)
- <sup>33</sup> And they, that were in the boat, came, and worshipped him, and said, Verily, thou art God's Son (or Truly, thou art the Son of God).

34 And when they had passed over the sea, they came into the land of Gennesaret.

- <sup>35</sup> And when men of that place had known him, they sent into all that country(side), (or they sent word throughout all that region); and they brought to him all that had sicknesses [or and they brought to him all having evil].
- <sup>36</sup> And they prayed him, that they should touch the hem of his clothing; and whoever touched (it) were made safe (or and whoever touched it were healed).

- $^{1}$  Then the scribes and the Pharisees came to him from Jerusalem, and said,
- <sup>2</sup> Why break thy disciples the traditions of (the) elder men? [or Why (do) thy disciples break the traditions, either the teachings, of (the) elder men?] (or Why do thy disciples break the traditions of the elders?) for they wash not their hands, when they eat bread.
- <sup>3</sup> He answered, and said to them, Why break ye the commandment of God for your tradition?
- <sup>4</sup> For God said, Honour thy father and thy mother, and he that curseth father or mother, die he by death.
- <sup>5</sup> But ye say, Whoever saith to father or mother, Whatever gift is of me, it shall profit to thee, (or Whatever gift is for me, it shall profit thee);
- <sup>6</sup> and he hath not worshipped [or he hath not honoured] his father or his mother; and ye have made the commandment of God void (or empty) for your tradition.
- <sup>7</sup> Hypocrites, Esaias the prophet, prophesied well of you, and said, (Hypocrites, the prophet Isaiah prophesied well about you, and said,)
  - 8 This people honoureth me with lips, but their heart is far from me;
- <sup>9</sup> and they worship me without cause, [or truly they worship me without cause], (or and they worship me for no good reason, or in vain), (while) teaching the doctrines and the commandments of men.
- <sup>10</sup> And when the people were called together to him, he said to them, Hear ye, and understand ye.
- <sup>11</sup> That thing that entereth into the mouth, defouleth not a man; but that thing that cometh out of the mouth, defouleth a man. (That which entereth into the mouth, defileth not a person; but that which cometh out of the mouth, defileth a person.)

- <sup>12</sup> Then his disciples came, and said to him, Thou knowest [or Knowest thou], that, if this word be heard, the Pharisees be offended?
- 13 And he answered, and said, Every planting, that my Father of heaven hath not planted, shall be drawn up by the root.
- <sup>14</sup> Suffer ye them (or But allow them); (for) they be blind, and (the) leaders of blind men. And if a blind man lead a blind man, both fall into the ditch.
  - 15 Peter answered, and said to him, Expound to us this parable.
- $^{16}\,\mathrm{And}$  he said, Yet be ye also without understanding?/Yet ye be without understanding?
- <sup>17</sup> Understand ye not, that all thing that entereth into the mouth, goeth into the womb (or goeth into the belly), and is sent out into the going away?
- <sup>18</sup> But those things that come forth from the mouth, go out from the heart, and those things defoul the man (or and those things defile the person).
- <sup>19</sup> For of the heart go out evil thoughts [or For out of the heart cometh evil thoughts], manslayings, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witnessings (or false testimonies), blasphemies.
- <sup>20</sup> These things it be that defoul a man; but to eat with hands not washed, defouleth not a man. (These be the things which defile a person; but to eat with hands not washed, defileth not a person.)
- $^{21}$  And Jesus went out from thence, and went into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.
- <sup>22</sup> And lo! a woman of Canaan went out of those coasts, and cried, and said to him, Lord, the son of David, have mercy on me; my daughter is evil travailed of a fiend [or of a devil]. (And behold! a Canaanite woman from those parts cried to him, and said, Lord, the Son of David, have mercy on me; my daughter is greatly troubled and tormented by a demon.)
- <sup>23</sup> And he answered not to her a word. And his disciples came, and prayed him, and said, Leave thou her, (or Let her go, or Send her away), for she crieth after us.
- $^{24}\,\mathrm{He}$  answered, and said, I am not sent, but to the sheep of the house of Israel that have perished.
- <sup>25</sup> And she came, and worshipped him, and said, Lord, help me. (And she came, and honoured him, and said, Lord, help me.)
- <sup>26</sup> Which answered, and said, It is not good to take the bread of children, and cast [it] to (the) hounds.
- <sup>27</sup> And she said, Yes, Lord; for [the] whelps eat of the crumbs, that fall down from the board of their lords. (And she said, Yes, Lord; but even the pups can eat the crumbs, that fall down from their masters' table.)
- <sup>28</sup> Then Jesus answered, and said to her, A! woman, thy faith is great; be it done to thee, as thou wilt. And her daughter was healed from that hour (or at that moment).
- <sup>29</sup> And when Jesus had passed from thence, he came beside the sea of Galilee. And he went up into an hill, and sat there. (And when Jesus had left there, he came beside Lake Galilee. And he went up onto a hill, and sat there.)
- <sup>30</sup> And much people came to him, and had with them dumb men and crooked [men], (or and lame men), feeble and blind, and many others; and they casted down them at his feet, [or and they cast them down at his feet], (or and they set them down at his feet). And he healed them,

- <sup>31</sup> so that the people wondered, seeing dumb men speaking, and crooked [men] going, (or and lame men walking), blind men seeing; and they magnified (the) God of Israel.
- <sup>32</sup> And Jesus, when his disciples were called together, said to them, I have ruth of the people, for they have abided now three days with me, and have nothing to eat; and I will not leave them fasting, lest they fail in the way. (And Jesus, when his disciples were called together, said to them, I have compassion for the people, for now they have been here three days with me, and have nothing to eat; and I will not let them go away fasting, lest they faint on the way home.)
- <sup>33</sup> And the disciples say to him, Whereof then so many loaves among us in (the) desert, to fulfill so great a people? [And the disciples say to him, Therefore whereof so many loaves to us in (the) desert, (so) that we (can) fill so great a company of people?]
- <sup>34</sup> And Jesus said to them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few small fishes [or and a few little fishes].
- <sup>35</sup> And he commanded to the people, to sit to [the] meat on the earth. (And he commanded the people, to sit down on the ground for the meal.)
- <sup>36</sup> And he took the seven loaves and (the) five fishes, and did thankings (or and gave thanks), and brake them, and gave (them) to his disciples; and the disciples gave (them) to the people.
- <sup>37</sup> And all ate, and were fulfilled, [or And all ate, and were filled], and they took (up) that that was left of [the] remnants (or and they gathered up the remaining pieces of food that were left), seven baskets full.
- <sup>38</sup> And they that ate were four thousand of men, without (the) little children and (the) women.
- <sup>39</sup> And when he had left the people (or And when he had let the people go), he went up into a boat, and came into the coasts of Magdala.

- <sup>1</sup> And the Pharisees and the Sadducees came to him tempting [him], and prayed him to show them a token from heaven. (And the Pharisees and the Sadducees came to him to test him, and beseeched him to show them a sign from heaven.)
- <sup>2</sup> And he answered, and said to them, When the eventide is come, ye say, It shall be clear, for heaven is ruddy [or for the heaven is red]; (And he answered, and said to them, When the evening hath come, ye say, It shall be clear, for the heavens, or the sky, is red;)
- <sup>3</sup> and the morrowtide, Today tempest, for (the) heaven(s) shineth heavily. Then ye know how to deem [wisely] the face of heaven, but ye may not know the tokens of (the) times. (and in the morning, Today there shall be a storm, for the sky is dark. So ye wisely know how to judge the face of the heavens, but ye cannot discern the signs of the times./but can ye not understand the signs of the times?)
- <sup>4</sup> An evil generation and adulterous seeketh a token; and a token shall not be given to it, but the token of Jonas, the prophet, (or An evil and adulterous generation seeketh a sign; and a sign shall not be given to it, except the sign of the prophet Jonah). And when he had left them, he went forth [or he went away].

- <sup>5</sup> And when his disciples came over the sea, they forgot to take loaves.
- <sup>6</sup> And he said to them, Behold ye, and beware of the sourdough of (the) Pharisees and of (the) Sadducees. (And he said to them, Look for, and beware of the yeast, or the leaven, of the Pharisees and the Sadducees.)
- <sup>7</sup> And they thought among them[selves], and said, For we have not taken loaves (or Because we have not brought any bread).
- <sup>8</sup> But Jesus witting said to them, What think ye among you of little faith, for ye have not taken loaves? (But Jesus, knowing what they were saying, said to them, Why think ye among yourselves, because we have not brought any bread? O ye of little faith!)
- <sup>9</sup> Yet ye understand not, neither have mind, of five loaves into five thousand of men, and how many coffins ye took (up)? (Yet ye understand not, nor remember, the five loaves for the five thousand men, and how many baskets did ye fill up?)
- <sup>10</sup> neither of seven loaves into four thousand of men, and how many baskets ye took (up)? (nor the seven loaves for the four thousand men, and how many baskets did ye fill up?)
- <sup>11</sup> Why understand ye not, for I said not to you of bread, Be ye ware of the sourdough of (the) Pharisees and of (the) Sadducees? (Why do ye not understand, that I did not speak to you about bread when I said, Beware of the yeast, or the leaven, of the Pharisees and the Sadducees?)
- <sup>12</sup> Then they understood, that he said not to beware of [the] sourdough of loaves, but of the teaching of (the) Pharisees and of (the) Sadducees. (Then they understood, that he did not say to beware of the yeast, or the leaven, of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.)
- <sup>13</sup> And Jesus came into the parts of Caesarea of Philippi, and asked his disciples, and said, Whom say men to be man's Son?
- <sup>14</sup> And they said, Some John (the) Baptist; others Elias (or Elijah); and others Jeremy (or Jeremiah), or one of the prophets.
  - <sup>15</sup> Jesus said to them, But whom say ye me to be?
- <sup>16</sup> Simon Peter answered, and said, Thou art Christ, the Son of God living [or the son of (the) quick God]. (Simon Peter answered, Thou art the Messiah, the Son of the living God.)
- <sup>17</sup> Jesus answered, and said to him, Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona; for flesh and blood showed not to thee, but my Father that is in heavens.
- <sup>18</sup> And I say to thee, that thou art Peter, and on this stone I shall build my church, and the gates of hell shall not have might or power, [or strength], against it.
- <sup>19</sup> And to thee I shall give the keys of the kingdom of heavens; and whatever thou shalt bind on earth, shall be bound also in heavens; and whatever thou shalt unbind on earth, shall be unbound also in heavens.
- <sup>20</sup> Then he commanded to his disciples, that they should say to no man, that he was Jesus Christ.
- <sup>21</sup> From that time Jesus began to show to his disciples, that it behooved him to go to Jerusalem, and suffer many things, of the elder men [or of the elders], and of the scribes, and of (the) princes of (the) priests, (or and the elders).

suffer many things, from the elders, and from the scribes, and from the high priests); and be slain, and the third day to rise again.

<sup>22</sup> And Peter took (hold of) him, and began to blame him (or and began to rebuke him), and said, Far be it from thee, Lord; this shall not be to thee.

- <sup>23</sup> And he turned, and said to Peter, Satan, go thou after me; thou art a cause of stumbling to me; for thou savourest not [or thou understandest not] those things that be of God, but (only) those things that be of men.
- <sup>24</sup> Then Jesus said to his disciples, If any man will come after me, deny he himself, and take (up) his cross, and *(pur)*sue me (or and follow me);
- $^{25}$  for he that will make his life safe, shall lose it; and he that shall lose his life for me, shall find it.
- <sup>26</sup> For what profiteth it to a man [or Soothly what profiteth to a man], if he win all the world, and suffer impairing of his soul? or what (ex)changing shall a man give for his soul?
- <sup>27</sup> For man's Son shall come in the glory of his Father, with his angels, and then he shall yield to every man after his works.
- <sup>28</sup> Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), there be some of them that stand here (today), which shall not taste death, till they see man's Son coming in his kingdom.

- <sup>1</sup> And after six days Jesus took Peter, and James, and John, his brother, and led them aside into an high hill, (or and led only them up onto a high hill, or a mountain),
- <sup>2</sup> and was transfigured, [or turned], into another likeness before them. And his face shone as the sun; and his clothes were made (as) white as snow.
- <sup>3</sup> And lo! Moses and Elias appeared to them, and spake with him. (And behold! Moses and Elijah appeared to them, and spoke with him.)
- <sup>4</sup> And Peter answered, and said to Jesus, Lord, it is good (for) us to be here. If thou wilt, make we here three tabernacles; to thee one, to Moses one, and one to Elias. (And Peter answered, and said to Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here. If thou desirest, we shall make three tents, or three tabernacles, here; one for thee, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.)
- <sup>5</sup> Yet while he spake, lo! a bright cloud overshadowed them; and lo! a voice out of the cloud, that said, This is my dearworthy Son, in whom I have well pleased to me; hear ye him, (or This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; listen to him).
- <sup>6</sup> And the disciples heard, and felled down on their faces, and dreaded greatly (or and greatly feared).
- <sup>7</sup> And Jesus came, and touched them, and said to them, Rise up, and do not ye dread (or and do not fear).
  - 8 And they lifted up their eyes, and saw no man, but Jesus alone.
- <sup>9</sup> And as they came down of the hill [or down from the mountain], Jesus commanded to them, and said, Say ye to no man the vision, till man's Son rise again from death [or till man's Son rise again from (the) dead].
- <sup>10</sup> And his disciples asked him, and said, What then say the scribes, that it behooveth that Elias come first? (And his disciples asked him, Why then do the scribes say, that it behooveth that Elijah must come first?)

- <sup>11</sup> He answered, and said to them, Elias shall come (or Elijah shall come), and he shall restore all things.
- <sup>12</sup> And I say to you, that Elias is now come, and they knew him not, but they did in him whatever things they would; and so man's Son shall suffer of them. (And I tell you, that Elijah hath now come, and they knew him not, but they did to him whatever things they wanted to do; and so man's Son shall also suffer by them.)
  - 13 Then the disciples understood, that he said to them of John the Baptist.
- <sup>14</sup> And when he came to the people, a man came to him, and felled down on his knees before him, and said,

15 Lord, have mercy on my son; for he is (a) lunatic, and suffereth evil, for oft times he falleth into the fire, and oft times into the water.

<sup>16</sup> And I brought him to thy disciples, and they might not heal him (or but they could not heal him).

- <sup>17</sup> Jesus answered, and said, A! thou generation unbelieveful [or out of the faith] and wayward, (or O thou unfaithful and wayward generation!); how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? Bring ye him hither to me.
- <sup>18</sup> And Jesus blamed him, and the devil went out from him; and the child was healed from that hour. (And Jesus rebuked the demon, and he went out of him; and the boy was healed at that moment.)
- <sup>19</sup> Then the disciples came to Jesus privily, and said to him, Why might not we cast him out? (Then the disciples came privately to Jesus, and asked him, Why could we not throw him out?)
- <sup>20</sup> Jesus saith to them, For your unbelief. Truly I say to you, if ye have faith, as a corn of sinapi, ye shall say to this hill, Pass thou [from] hence, and it shall pass (away); and nothing shall be impossible to you; (Jesus said to them, Because of your lack of faith. I tell you the truth, if ye have faith, like a kernel, or a grain, of mustard seed, ye shall say to this mountain, Go away from here, and it shall go away; and nothing shall be impossible for you;)
  - <sup>21</sup> but this kind is not cast out, [no] but by prayer and fasting.
- <sup>22</sup> And whiles they were abiding together in Galilee, Jesus said to them, Man's Son shall be betrayed into the hands of men;
- <sup>23</sup> and they shall slay him, and the third day he shall rise again to life. And they were [made] full sorry, [or And they were sorrowful greatly], (or And they were greatly grieved).
- <sup>24</sup> And when they came to Capernaum, they that took tribute, came to Peter, and said to him, Your master payeth not tribute? (And when they came to Capernaum, those who collected the Temple tax, came to Peter, and said to him, Your teacher payeth no tax?)
- <sup>25</sup> And he said, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus came before him, and said, Simon, what seemeth to thee? Kings of the earth, of whom take they tribute? of their sons, either of aliens? (or Kings of the earth, from whom do they collect tolls or taxes? from their own people, or from strangers, or foreigners?)
- <sup>26</sup> And he said, Of aliens (or From foreigners). Jesus said to him, Then (the) sons be free.
- <sup>27</sup> But that we offend them not, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take that first cometh up; and, when his mouth is opened, thou shalt find a stater, [that is, a certain (kind) of money]; take it, and give (it) [to them] for thee and for me.

CHAPTER 18

<sup>1</sup> In that hour the disciples came to Jesus, and said, Who, guessest thou, is [the] greater in the kingdom of heavens? (At that time the disciples came to Jesus, and asked, Who, thinkest thou, is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven?)

midst] of them;

- <sup>3</sup> and said, I say truth to you [or Truly I say to you], [no] but ye be turned, and [be] made as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heavens. (and said, I tell you the truth, unless ye be changed, and be made like little children, ye shall not enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.)
- <sup>4</sup> Therefore whoever meeketh him[self] as this little child, he is (the) greater in the kingdom of heavens. (And so whoever humbleth himself, like this little child, he is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven.)

<sup>5</sup> And he that receiveth one such little child in my name, receiveth me.

- <sup>6</sup> But whoso causeth to stumble one of these small (ones), [or these little (ones)], that believe in me, it speedeth to him, that a millstone of asses be hanged in his neck, and he be drenched in the deepness of the sea. (But whosoever causeth to stumble one of these little ones, who believe in me, it is more expedient for him, that a donkey's millstone be hung about his neck, and he be drowned in the depth of the sea.)
- <sup>7</sup> Woe to the world, for causes of stumbling; for it is need(ful), (or it is necessary), that causes of stumbling come; nevertheless woe to that man by whom a cause of stumbling cometh.
- <sup>8</sup> And if thine hand or thy foot cause thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it away from thee. It is better to thee to enter [in] to life feeble, either crooked, (or It is better for thee to enter into (eternal) life maimed, or lame), than having twain hands or two feet to be sent into (the) everlasting fire.
- <sup>9</sup> And if thine eye cause thee to stumble, pull it out, and cast it away from thee. It is better to thee, with one eye to enter into life, (or It is better for thee to enter into (eternal) life with one eye), than having twain eyes to be sent into the fire of hell [or into hellfire].
- <sup>10</sup> See ye, that ye despise not one of these little (ones). For I say to you [or Truly I say to you], that the angels of them in heavens see (for)evermore the face of my Father that is in heavens, (or For I tell you the truth, that their guardian angels in heaven always see the face of my Father who is in heaven).
  - <sup>11</sup> For man's Son came to save that thing that perished.
- 12 What seemeth to you? If there were to a man an hundred sheep, and one of them hath erred, whether he shall not leave (the) ninety and nine in (the) desert [or in the hills], and shall go to seek that that erred? (What seemeth to you? If a man hath a hundred sheep, and one of them hath wandered off, shall he not leave the ninety-nine on the hills, and go to seek the one which hath wandered off?)
- <sup>13</sup> And if it fall that he find it, truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), that he shall have joy thereof, [or for he shall joy thereon], more than on (the) ninety and nine that erred not.

- <sup>14</sup> So it is not the will of your Father that is in heavens [or that is in heaven], that one of these little (ones) perish.
- <sup>15</sup> But if thy brother sinneth against thee, go thou, and reprove him, betwixt thee and him alone, (or And if thy brother sinneth against thee, go, and rebuke him, between thee and him alone); if he heareth thee, thou hast won thy brother.
- <sup>16</sup> And if he heareth thee not, take with thee one or twain, (so) that every word stand in the mouth of twain or three witnesses.
- <sup>17</sup> And if he heareth not them, say thou to the church. But if he heareth not the church, be he as an heathen and (as) a publican to thee, [or be he to thee as an heathen man and a publican], (or be he like a Gentile and a tax collector to thee).
- <sup>18</sup> I say to you truly, (or Truly I say to you, or I tell you the truth), whatever things ye bind on earth, those shall be bound also in heaven; and whatever things ye unbind on earth, those shall be unbound also in heaven.
- <sup>19</sup> Again I say to you, that if twain of you consent on earth, of everything whatever they ask, it shall be done to them of my Father that is in heavens. (Again I tell you, that if two of you consent, or agree, on the earth, about anything, whatever they ask, it shall be done for them by my Father who is in heaven.)
- <sup>20</sup> For where twain or three be gathered in my name, there I am in the middle of them. [For where two or three be gathered in my name, there I am in the midst of them.]
- $^{21}$  Then Peter came to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I shall forgive him? Whether till seven times?
- $^{22}$  Jesus saith to him, I say not to thee, till seven times; but till seventy times seven times.
- <sup>23</sup> Therefore the kingdom of heavens is likened to a king, that would reckon with his servants.
- <sup>24</sup> And when he began to reckon, one that owed to him ten thousand talents, was brought to him. [+And when he began to put reason, one was brought to him, that owed to him ten thousand bezants, or talents.]
- <sup>25</sup> And when he had not whereof to yield, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and children, and all things that he had, and (so) to be paid.
- <sup>26</sup> But that servant felled down, and prayed him, and said, Have patience in me (or Have patience with me), and I shall yield to thee all things.
- <sup>27</sup> And the lord had mercy on that servant, and suffered him to go, (or and allowed him to go), [or (and) delivered him, (or let him go)], and forgave him the debt.
- <sup>28</sup> But that servant went out, and found one of his even-servants, that owed him an hundred pence, (or But that servant went out, and found one of his fellow servants, who owed him a hundred pennies); and he held him, and strangled him, and said, Yield that thou owest.
- <sup>29</sup> And his even-servant fell down, and prayed him, and said, Have patience in me, and I shall requite all things to thee. (And his fellow servant fell down at his feet, and beseeched him, and said, Have patience with me, and I shall repay everything to thee.)
- <sup>30</sup> But he would not; but went out, and put him [or sent him] into prison, till he paid all the debt.

- <sup>31</sup> And his even-servants, seeing the things that were done, sorrowed greatly, (or And his fellow servants, seeing what was done, greatly sorrowed). And they came, and told to their lord all the things that were done.
- <sup>32</sup> Then his lord called him, and said to him, Wicked servant, I forgave to thee all the debt, for thou prayedest me.
- <sup>33</sup> Therefore whether it behooved not also thee to have mercy on thine even-servant, as I had mercy on thee? (And so did it not also behoove thee to have mercy on thy fellow servant, like I had mercy on thee?)

34 And his lord was wroth, and took him to tormentors, till he paid all the debt.

<sup>35</sup> So my Father of heaven shall do to you, if ye forgive not every man to his brother, of your hearts. (So shall my Father in heaven do to you, if any of you do not forgive his brother, from your heart.)

- <sup>1</sup> And it was done, when Jesus had ended these words, he passed from Galilee (or he went forth from Galilee), and came into the coasts of Judea over (the) Jordan (River).
- $^2$  And much people (pur)sued him (or And many people followed him), and he healed them there.
- <sup>3</sup> And the Pharisees came to him, tempting him, and said, Whether it be leaveful to a man to leave his wife, for any cause? [+or Whether it is leaveful for a man to leave, or forsake, his wife, for whatever cause?](And the Pharisees came to him, to test him, and said, Is it lawful for a man to leave his wife, for any reason?)
- <sup>4</sup> Which answered, and said to them, Have ye not read, for he that made men at the beginning, made them male and female?
- <sup>5</sup> And he said, For this thing a man shall leave (his) father and mother, and he shall draw [or shall cleave] to his wife; and they shall be twain in one flesh.
- <sup>6</sup> And so they be not now twain, but one flesh. Therefore man separate not that thing that God hath joined [or Therefore a man part not that thing that God enjoined, or knit together].
- <sup>7</sup> They say to him, What then commanded Moses, to give a libel [or a little book] of forsaking, and (then) to leave of [or to forsake]? (And they said to him, Then why did Moses command us, to write a bill of forsaking, or a notice of divorce, and then we be able to leave, or to forsake, a woman?)
- <sup>8</sup> And he said to them, For Moses, for the hardness of your heart(s), suffered you to leave your wives, (or It was because of the hardness of your hearts, that Moses allowed you to leave your wives); but from the beginning it was not so.
- <sup>9</sup> And I say to you, that whoever leaveth his wife, [no] but for fornication, and weddeth another, doeth lechery [or doeth adultery]; and he that weddeth the forsaken wife, doeth lechery [or doeth adultery].
- <sup>10</sup> His disciples say to him, If the cause of a man with his wife is so, it speedeth not to be wedded (or it is more expedient not to be married).
- <sup>11</sup> And he said to them, Not all men take this word; (no) but they to which it is given. (And he said to them, Everyone cannot receive this word; only those to whom it is given.)

- <sup>12</sup> For there be geldings, which be so born of the mother's womb [or which be thus born of their mother's womb]; and there be geldings, that be made of men; and there be geldings, that have gelded themselves, for the kingdom of heavens. He that may take, take he, (or He who can receive this word, receive it).
- <sup>13</sup> Then little children were brought to him, that he should put [his] hands to them, and pray (for them). And the disciples blamed them. (Then little children were brought to him, so that he would lay his hands on them, and pray for them. And the disciples rebuked them.)
- <sup>14</sup> But Jesus said to them, Suffer ye that (the) little children come to me [or Suffer ye (the) little children (to) come to me], and do not ye forbid them; for of such is the kingdom of heavens. (But Jesus said to them, Allow the little children to come to me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.)
- <sup>15</sup> And when he had put to them (his) hands, he went from thence. (And after he had laid his hands on them, he went away from there.)
- <sup>16</sup> And lo! one came, and said to him, Good master, what good [thing] shall I do, that I have everlasting life? (And behold! one came, and said to him, Good Teacher, what good thing should I do, so that I can have, or so that I can get, eternal life?)
- <sup>17</sup> Which saith to him, What askest thou me of good thing(s)? (or Why askest me about good things, or about what is good?) There is one good God. But if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.
- <sup>18</sup> He saith to him, Which? And Jesus said, Thou shalt not do manslaying, thou shalt not do adultery, thou shalt not do theft, thou shalt not say false witnessing, (or thou shalt not give false testimony, or thou shalt not lie);
- <sup>19</sup> worship thy father and thy mother [or honour thou thy father and thy mother], and, thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.
- $^{20}$  The young man saith to him, I have kept all these things from my youth, what yet faileth to me?
- <sup>21</sup> Jesus saith to him, If thou wilt be perfect, go, and sell all (the) things that thou hast, and give (the proceeds) to poor men (or to the poor), and (then) thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come, and (pur)sue me (or and follow me).
- <sup>22</sup> And when the young man had heard these words, he went away sorrowful, for he had many possessions.
- <sup>23</sup> And Jesus said to his disciples, I say to you truth, [or Truly I say to you], (or I tell you the truth), for a rich man of hard shall enter into the kingdom of heavens.
- $^{24}$  And again I say to you, it is lighter (for) a camel to pass through a needle's eye, [or it is easier (for) a camel to pass through the hole of a needle], than (for) a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heavens.
- <sup>25</sup> When these things were heard, the disciples wondered greatly, and said, Who then may be safe? (or Then who can be saved?)
- <sup>26</sup> Jesus beheld (them), and said to them, With men this thing is impossible; but with God all things be possible.
- <sup>27</sup> Then Peter answered, and said to him, Lo! we have forsaken all things, and we have (pur)sued thee; what then shall be to us? (Then Peter answered, and said to him, Behold! we have forsaken everything, and we have followed thee; then what shall be for us?)

- <sup>28</sup> And Jesus said to them, Truly I say to you, that ye that have forsaken all things, and have (pur)sued me, in the regeneration when man's Son shall sit in the seat of his majesty, [also] ye shall sit on twelve seats, deeming the twelve kindreds of Israel. (And Jesus said to them, I tell you the truth, that ye who have forsaken everything, and have followed me, in the regeneration when man's Son shall sit on the throne of his majesty, ye shall also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.)
- <sup>29</sup> And every man that forsaketh house, [or] brethren or sisters, [or] father or mother, [or] wife or children, or fields, for my name, he shall take an hundredfold, and shall wield everlasting life, (or he shall receive a hundred times as much, and shall gain, or possess, eternal life).

<sup>30</sup> But many shall be, the first the last, and the last the first.

- <sup>1</sup>The kingdom of heavens is like to an husbandman, that went out first by the morrow [or early], to hire workmen into his vineyard. (The Kingdom of Heaven is like a farmer, who went out early in the morning, to hire workmen for his vineyard.)
- <sup>2</sup> And when the covenant was made with the workmen, of a penny for the day, he sent them into his vineyard.
- <sup>3</sup> And he went out about the third hour (or about nine o'clock in the morning), and saw others standing idle in the market.
- <sup>4</sup> And he said to them, Go ye also into mine vineyard, and that that shall be rightful, I shall give to you. And they went forth.
- <sup>5</sup> Again he went out about the sixth hour, and the ninth, and did in like manner.
- <sup>6</sup> But about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing (there); and said to them, What stand ye idle here all day? [or What stand ye here idle all day?](or Why stand ye here idle all day?)
- <sup>7</sup> They say to him, For no man hath hired us. He saith to them, Go ye also into my vineyard.
- <sup>8</sup> And when (the) evening was come, the lord of the vineyard saith to his procurator, Call the workmen, and yield to them their hire, (or Call the workmen, and pay them their wages), and begin thou at the last till to the first.
- <sup>9</sup> And so when they were come, that came about the eleventh hour, also they took every each (one) of them a penny, [or also they took even-pence, that is, every man a penny], (or each one of them received a penny).
- <sup>10</sup> But (then) the first came, and deemed (or judged), that they should take more, but they (also) took each one by themselves a penny; [Truly and the first coming deemed, that they were worthy to take more, but also they took even-pence.](But then the first came, and thought that they should receive more, but each one of them also received a penny;)
- <sup>11</sup> and in the taking, they grudged against the husbandman, (and upon receiving it, they grumbled against the farmer.)
- 12 and said, These last wrought one hour, and thou hast made them even to us, that have borne the charge of the day, and [the] heat? (and said, These last men have worked only one hour, and thou hast made them equal to us, or and thou hast paid them equal to us, we who have borne the burden all day long, and the heat?)

- <sup>13</sup> And he answered to one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee none wrong, [or Friend, I do thee no wrong]; whether thou hast not accorded with me for a penny? (or did thou not agree to work for me for a penny?)
- $^{14}$  Take thou that that is thine, and go; for I will give to this last man, as to thee.
- <sup>15</sup> Whether it is not leaveful to me to do that that I will? (or Is it not lawful for me to do what I desire, or what I want, with my own money?) Whether thine eye is wicked, for I am good?
- <sup>16</sup> So the last shall be the first, and the first shall be the last; for many be called, but few be chosen.
- $^{17}$  And Jesus went up to Jerusalem, and took his twelve disciples in private, and said to them,
- <sup>18</sup> Lo! we go up to Jerusalem, and man's Son shall be betaken to (the) princes of (the) priests, and to (the) scribes, (or and man's Son shall be delivered, or given over, to the high priests, and the scribes); and they shall condemn him to death.
- <sup>19</sup> And they shall betake him to (the) heathen men, for to be scorned, and scourged, and crucified, (or And they shall deliver him unto the Gentiles, to be scorned, and scourged, and crucified); and the third day he shall rise again to life.
- <sup>20</sup> Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee came to him with her sons, honouring [or worshipping], and asking something of him.
- <sup>21</sup> And he said to her, What wilt thou? She saith to him, Say that these two my sons sit [or Say that these my two sons sit], one at thy right half, and one at thy left half, in thy kingdom. (And he said to her, What desirest thou? or What do you want? She said to him, Say that these my two sons sit one at thy right hand, or on thy right side, and one at thy left hand, or on thy left side, in thy Kingdom.)
- <sup>22</sup> Jesus answered, and said, Ye know not what ye ask. May ye drink of the cup that I shall drink of? [or May ye drink the cup that I am to drink?] They say to him, We may. (Jesus answered, and said, Ye do not know what ye ask. Can ye drink from the cup that I shall drink from? They said to him, We can.)
- <sup>23</sup> He saith to them, Ye shall drink my cup; but to sit at my right half or [at my] left half, is not mine to give to you; but to whom it is made ready of my Father. (He said to them, Ye shall drink from my cup; but to sit at my right hand or at my left hand, is not mine to give to you; but for whom it is prepared by my Father.)
- $^{24}$  And the ten hearing, had indignation of the two brethren. (And the other ten hearing this, felt indignation toward the two brothers.)
- <sup>25</sup> But Jesus called them to him, and said, Ye know, that [the] princes of heathen men be lords of them, and they that be [the] greater [or (the) more], use power on them. (And Jesus called them to him, and said, Ye know, that the leaders of the Gentiles be their lords, and they who be the greater ones have power over the others.)
- <sup>26</sup> It shall not be so among you; but whoever will be made [the] greater [or (the) more] among you, be he your minister (or he will be your servant);

- <sup>27</sup> and whoever among you will be the first, (yea), he shall be your servant.
- <sup>28</sup> As man's Son came not to be served, but to serve, and to give his life (as a) redemption for many.
- <sup>29</sup> And when they went out of Jericho, much people (pur)sued him. (And when they left Jericho, many people followed him.)
- <sup>30</sup> And lo! two blind men sat beside the way, and heard that Jesus passed (by); and they cried, and said, Lord, the son of David, have mercy on us.
- <sup>31</sup> And the people blamed them, that they should be still, (or And the people rebuked them, so that they would be quiet); and they cried the more, and said, Lord, the son of David, have mercy on us.
- <sup>32</sup> And Jesus stood, and called them, and said, What will ye, that I do to you? (or What desire ye, that I do for you? or What do ye want me to do for you?)
  - <sup>33</sup> They say to him, Lord, that our eyes be opened.
- <sup>34</sup> And Jesus had mercy on them, and touched their eyes; and anon they saw, and (pur)sued him (or and at once they saw, and followed him).

- <sup>1</sup> And when Jesus came nigh to Jerusalem, and came to Bethphage, at the mount of Olives, then sent he his two disciples, [And when Jesus came nigh to Jerusalem, and came to Bethphage, to the mount of Olives, then Jesus sent his two disciples,]
- <sup>2</sup> and said to them, Go ye into the castle that is against you, and anon ye shall find an ass tied (up), and a colt with her; untie ye, and bring (them) to me. (and said to them, Go ye into the village that is opposite you, and at once ye shall find a donkey tied up, and a colt with her; untie them, and bring them to me.)
- <sup>3</sup> And if any man say to you anything, say ye, that the Lord hath need to them; and anon he shall leave them. (And if anyone say anything to you, say, that the Lord hath need of them; and then at once, he shall let them go, or come here.)
- $^4$  All this was done, that that thing should be fulfilled, that was said by the prophet, saying,
- <sup>5</sup> Say ye to the daughter of Sion (or Say to the daughter of Zion), Lo! thy king cometh to thee, meek, sitting on an ass, and a foal [or a colt] of an ass under yoke.
  - <sup>6</sup> And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded [to] them.
- <sup>7</sup> And they brought an ass, and the foal [or the colt], and laid their clothes on them, and made him [to] sit above. (And they brought the donkey, and the colt, and laid their clothes on them, and had him sit upon the donkey.)
- <sup>8</sup> And full much people spreaded their clothes in the way; others cutted branches of (the) trees, and strewed in the way. (And many people spread their clothes on the way, or on the road; others cut off branches from the trees, and strew them on the way.)
- <sup>9</sup> And the people that went before, and that (pur)sued (or who followed), cried, and said, Hosanna to the son of David; blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in high things, [or Hosanna in the highest things], (or Hosanna in the highest).

- <sup>10</sup> And when he was entered into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, and said, Who is this?
  - <sup>11</sup> But the people said, This is Jesus, the prophet, of Nazareth of Galilee.
- <sup>12</sup> And Jesus entered into the temple of God, and cast out of the temple all that bought and sold; and he turned upside-down the boards of (the) (money-)changers, and the chairs of men that sold culvers. (And Jesus entered into the Temple of God, and threw out of the Temple all who bought and sold; and he turned upside-down the tables of the money-changers, and the chairs of men who sold doves and pigeons.)

<sup>13</sup> And he said to them, It is written, Mine house shall be called an house of prayer (or My House shall be called a House of Prayer); but ye have made it (into) a den of thieves.

<sup>14</sup> And (the) blind and (the) crooked came to him in the temple, and he healed them. (And the blind and the lame came to him in the Temple, and he healed them.)

- <sup>15</sup> But the princes of (the) priests, and the scribes, (or But the high priests, and the scribes), seeing the marvelous [or the wonderful] things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of David, they had indignation [or disdain],
- <sup>16</sup> and said to him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus said to them, Yea; whether ye have never read, That (out) of the mouth(s) of young children, and of suckling children, thou hast made perfect praising?
- <sup>17</sup> And when he had left them, he went forth out of the city, into Bethany; and there he dwelt, and taught them of the kingdom of God.
- <sup>18</sup> But on the morrow, he, turning again into the city, hungered. (But the next morning, as he returned to the city, he was hungry.)
- <sup>19</sup> And he saw a fig tree beside the way, and came to it, and found nothing therein [or nothing thereon], [no] but leaves only. And he said to it, Never fruit come forth of thee [or Never be fruit born of thee], into without end. And anon the fig tree was dried up (or And at once the fig tree dried up).
- <sup>20</sup> And the disciples saw, and wondered, saying, How anon it dried, [or How it dried up anon], (or How at once, or so quickly, it dried up).
- <sup>21</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to them, Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), if ye have faith, and doubt not, not only ye shall do of the fig tree, but also if ye say to this hill, Take [away thee], and cast thee into the sea, (or Go away, and throw thyself into the sea), it shall be done so [or it shall be done].

<sup>22</sup> And all things whatever ye believing shall ask (for) in prayer, ye shall take (or ye shall receive them).

- <sup>23</sup> And when he came into the temple, the princes of (the) priests, and (the) elder men of the people, (or the high priests, and the elders of the people), came to him that taught, [or came to him (while he was) teaching], and said, In what power doest thou these things? and who gave [to] thee this power?
- <sup>24</sup> Jesus answered, and said to them, And I shall ask you one word (or And I shall ask you one question), the which if ye tell me, I shall say to you, in what power I do these things.
- <sup>25</sup> Of whence was the baptism of John; of heaven, or of men? And they thought within themselves, saying, If we say of heaven, he shall say to us, Why then believe ye not to him? (From where was the baptism of John; from heaven, or from men? And they thought within themselves, saying, If we say from heaven, he shall say to us, Then why did ye not believe him?)

- <sup>26</sup> If we say of men, we dread the people, for all had John as a prophet. (If we say from men, we fear the people, for everyone believed that John was a prophet.)
- <sup>27</sup> And they answered to Jesus, and said, We know not. And he said to them, Neither I say to you, in what power I do these things.
- <sup>28</sup> But what seemeth to you? A man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work this day in my vineyard.
- <sup>29</sup> And he answered, and said, I will not; but afterward he forthought, and went forth, [or but afterward he stirred by penance, or forthinking, (or repenting), went], (or but later he repented, and went, and worked).
- <sup>30</sup> But he came to the other, and said in like manner. And he answered, and said, Lord, I go; and he went not (or but he did not go).
- <sup>31</sup> Who of the twain did the father's will? They say to him, The first. Jesus saith to them, Truly I say to you, for publicans and whores shall go before you into the kingdom of God. (Which of the two did the father's will? They said to him, The first one. Then Jesus said to them, I tell you the truth, tax collectors and prostitutes now go ahead of you into the Kingdom of God.)
- <sup>32</sup> For John came to you in the way of rightwiseness, and ye believed not to him; but publicans and whores believed to him. But ye saw, and had no forthinking after, that ye believed to him, [or But ye seeing, had not penance afterward, that ye should believe to him]. (For John came to you by the way of righteousness, and ye did not believe him; but tax collectors and prostitutes believed him. Yes, ye saw this, but ye had no repenting later, so that ye believed him.)
- <sup>33</sup> Hear ye another parable. There was an husbandman, that planted a vineyard, and hedged it about, and delved a presser therein, and builded a tower, and hired it to earth-tillers, and went far (away) in pilgrimage. (Listen to another parable. There was a landowner, who planted a vineyard, and hedged it about, and dug a hole for a winepress in it, and built a look-out tower, and rented the land to farmers, and then went on a journey.)
- <sup>34</sup> And when the time of fruits nighed, he sent his servants to the earthtillers, to take (the) fruits of it. (And when the time of fruits approached, he sent his servants to the farmers, to receive some of its fruits.)
- <sup>35</sup> And the earth-tillers took his servants, and they beat one, they slew another, and stoned another.
- <sup>36</sup> Again he sent other servants, more than the first, and in like manner they did to them [or and they did to them in like manner].
- $3^{7}$  And at the last he sent his son to them, and said, They shall dread my son. (And finally he sent his son to them, and said, They shall fear my son, or They shall show reverence, or respect, for my son.)
- <sup>38</sup> But the earth-tillers, seeing the son, said within themselves, This is the heir; come ye, slay we him, and we shall have his heritage. (But the farmers, seeing the son, said to each other, He is the heir; come, let us kill him, and then we shall get his inheritance.)
- <sup>39</sup> And they took him, and casted him out of the vineyard, and slew him. (And they took him, and threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him.)

- <sup>40</sup> Therefore when the lord of the vineyard shall come, what shall he do to those earth-tillers?
- <sup>41</sup> They say to him, He shall lose evil (or He shall destroy evil), (yea), the evil men, and he shall set to hire his vineyard to other earth-tillers, which shall yield to him (the) fruit in their times.
- <sup>42</sup> Jesus saith to them, Read ye never in (the) scriptures, The stone which the builders reproved, this is made into the head of the corner? Of the Lord this thing is done, and it is marvelous [or it is wonderful] in our eyes.
- <sup>43</sup> Therefore I say to you, that the kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and [it] shall be given to a folk doing [the] fruits of it. (And so I tell you, that the Kingdom of God shall be taken away from you, and it shall be given to a nation and a people bringing forth its proper fruits.)
- <sup>44</sup> And he that shall fall on this stone, shall be broken; but on whom it shall fall, it shall bruise him [or it shall pound him] all to pieces.
- <sup>45</sup> And when the princes of (the) priests, and [the] Pharisees had heard his parables, they knew that he said of them. (And when the high priests, and the Pharisees had heard his parables, they knew that he had spoken about them.)
- <sup>46</sup> And they sought to (take) hold (of) him, but they dreaded the people (or but they feared the people), for they had him as a prophet.

- <sup>1</sup> And Jesus answered, and spake again in parables to them, and said,
- <sup>2</sup> The kingdom of heavens is made like to a king that made weddings to his son. (The Kingdom of Heaven is like a king who gave a wedding for his son.)
- $^{3}\,\mathrm{And}$  he sent his servants to call men that were bidden to the weddings, and they would not come.
- <sup>4</sup> Again he sent other servants, and said, Say to the men that be bidden to the feast, Lo! I have made ready my meat, (or Behold! I have prepared my food), my bulls and my volatiles, [or my fat beasts], be slain, and all things be ready; come ye to the weddings.
- <sup>5</sup> But they despised, and went forth, one into his town, another to his merchandise. [Soothly they despised, or reckoned not, and they went away, one into his vineyard, forsooth another to his merchandise.]
  - <sup>6</sup> But others held his servants, and tormented them, and slew [them].
- <sup>7</sup> But the king, when he had heard, was wroth; and he sent his hosts, and destroyed those man-quellers, and burnt their city. (But the king, when he had heard, was enraged; and he sent his army, or his soldiers, and destroyed those murderers, and burned down their city.)
- $^8\,\rm Then$  he said to his servants, The weddings be ready, but they that were called to the feast, were not worthy.
- $^{9}$  Therefore go ye into the ends of ways, and whomever ye find, call ye to the weddings.
- <sup>10</sup> And his servants went out into the ways, and gathered together all that they found, good and evil; and the bridal was [or the weddings be] full-filled with men sitting at the meat (or and the wedding feast was filled full with people come for the meal).

<sup>11</sup> And the king entered, to see men sitting at the meat (or to see those who had come for the meal); and he saw there a man not clothed with bride clothes [or and he saw there a man not clothed with bridal clothes].

<sup>12</sup> And he said to him, Friend, how enteredest thou hither without bride clothes? And he was dumb (or And he did not answer).

- <sup>13</sup> Then the king bade his ministers, [or Then the king said to his ministers], (or Then the king said to his servants), Bind him both hands and feet, and send ye him into outer-more [or uttermore] darknesses; there shall be weeping, and grinding of teeth.
  - <sup>14</sup> For many be called, but few be chosen.
- <sup>15</sup> Then (the) Pharisees went away, and took a counsel [or took counsel] to take Jesus in word. (Then the Pharisees went away, and made a plan to catch Jesus with his own words.)
- <sup>16</sup> And they send to him their disciples, with (the) Herodians, and said, Master, we know, that thou art soothfast, and thou teachest in truth the way of God, and thou chargest [or care(st)] not of (or for) any man*('s opinion)*, for thou beholdest not the person of men.
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore say to us, what seemeth to thee. Is it leaveful that tribute be given to the emperor, (yea) either nay? [+or Is it leaveful that tribute be given to Caesar, rent, (yea) or nay?](or Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, yes or no?)
- <sup>18</sup> And when Jesus had known the wickedness of them, he said, Hypocrites, what tempt ye me? (And when Jesus had perceived their malice, he said, Hypocrites, why do you test me? or why do you try to trap me?)
- <sup>19</sup> Show ye to me the print of the money. And they brought to him a penny.
- <sup>20</sup> And Jesus said to them, Whose is this image, and the writing above? (or Whose image is this, and the writing upon it?)
- <sup>21</sup> They say to him, The emperor's. Then he said to them, Therefore yield ye to the emperor those things that be the emperor's, and to God those things that be of God. [+They say to him, Of Caesar. Then he saith to them, Therefore yield ye to Caesar those things that be of Caesar/those things that be Caesar's, and to God those things that be of God.]
  - <sup>22</sup> And they heard, and wondered; and they left him, and went away.
- <sup>23</sup> In that day (some) Sadducees, that say there is no rising again to life(or who say that there is no resurrection), came to him, and asked him,
- <sup>24</sup> and said, Master, (or Teacher), Moses said, if any man is dead, not having a son, that his brother wed his wife, and raise seed to his brother.
- $^{25}$  And there were seven brethren to us; and the first wedded a wife, and is dead. And he had no seed, and left his wife to his brother;
  - <sup>26</sup> also the second, and the third, till to the seventh.

<sup>27</sup> But the last of all, [also] the woman is dead.

<sup>28</sup> Also [or Therefore] in the rising again to life(or And so in the resurrection), whose wife of the seven shall she be? for all had her.

<sup>29</sup> Jesus answered, and said to them, Ye err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the virtue of God. (Jesus answered, and said to them, Ye err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.)

<sup>30</sup> For in the rising again to life(or For in the resurrection to life), neither they shall wed, neither shall be wedded; but they be as the angels of God in heaven.

- 31 And of the rising again of dead men (or And about the resurrection of the dead), have ye not read, that [it] is said of the Lord, that saith to you,
- 32 I am God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob? he is not (the) God of dead men, but of living men, (or he is not the God of the dead, but of the living).
  - <sup>33</sup> And the people hearing, wondered on his teaching.
- 34 And the Pharisees heard that he had put silence to (the) Sadducees, and came together (to him).
- 35 And one of them, a teacher of the law, asked Jesus, and tempted him, (or and tested him, or and tried to trap him),
- <sup>36</sup> Master, which is a great commandment in the law? (Teacher, which is the greatest, or the most important, commandment in the Law?)
- <sup>37</sup> Jesus said to him, Thou shalt love thy Lord God [or Thou shalt love the Lord thy God], of all thine heart, and in all thy soul, and in all thy mind. (Jesus said to him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.)
- 38 This is the first and the most (important) commandment. (This is the first and the greatest commandment.)
  - <sup>39</sup> And the second is like to this; Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.
  - <sup>40</sup> In these two commandments hangeth all the law and the prophets.
  - 41 And when the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them,
- 42 and said, What seemeth to you of Christ (or What seemeth to you regarding the Messiah), whose son is he? They say to him, Of David.
- 43 He saith to them, How then David in spirit calleth him Lord, and saith, (He said to them, How then did David by the Holy Spirit call him Lord, and say,)
- 44 The Lord said to my Lord, Sit [thou] on my right half, till I put thine enemies a stool of thy feet? (The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, or on my right side, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?)
  - 45 Then if David calleth him Lord, how (then) is he his son?
- 46 And no man might answer a word to him, neither any man was hardy from that day (on), (or nor was any man bold enough from that day on), to ask him (anything) more.

- <sup>1</sup> Then Jesus spake to the people, and to his disciples, <sup>2</sup> and said, On the chair of Moses, scribes and Pharisees have sat. <sup>3</sup> Therefore keep ye, and do ye all (the) things, whatever things they say
- to you. But do not ye do after their works; for they say, and do not. (And so obey ye them, and do everything, whatever they tell you to do. But do not do, or follow, after their works; for they say to do something, but they do not do it themselves.)
- <sup>4</sup> And they bind grievous charges (or heavy burdens), and that may not be borne, and put (them) on [the] shoulders of men; but with their (own) finger they will not move them (or but with their own finger they will not even touch them).
- <sup>5</sup> Therefore they do all their works to be seen of men (or And so they do all their works to be seen by men); for they draw abroad their phylacteries, and magnify [their] hems.

- <sup>6</sup> And they love the first sitting places in suppers [or at suppers], and the first chairs in synagogues;
- <sup>7</sup> and salutations in [the] chapping, and to be called of men, master. (and respectful greetings at the market, and to be called by men, Teacher, or Rabbi.)
- <sup>8</sup> But do not ye be called master; for one is your master, and all ye be brethren. (But do not ye be called Rabbi; for there is only one Teacher, and all of ye be brothers.)
- <sup>9</sup> And do not ye call to you(rselves) a father on earth, for one is your Father, that is in heavens, (or for there is only one Father, who is in heaven).
- <sup>10</sup> Neither be ye called masters, for one is your master, Christ. (Nor be ye called teachers, for there is only one Teacher, the Messiah.)
- <sup>11</sup> He that is (the) greatest among you, shall be your minister. (He who is the greatest among you, shall be your servant.)
- <sup>12</sup> For he that higheth himself, shall be meeked; and he that meeketh himself, shall be enhanced. (For he who maketh himself high, shall be humbled; and he who maketh himself humble, shall be exalted.)
- <sup>13</sup> But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, that close (the door of) the kingdom of heavens before men [or for ye close (the door of) the realm of heaven before men]; and ye enter not, neither suffer other men entering to enter. (But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, who shut the door of the Kingdom of Heaven in front of people; and ye enter not, nor allow others entering to enter.)
- <sup>14</sup> Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, that eat (up) the houses of widows, and pray by long prayer; for this thing ye shall take the more doom (or ye shall receive the greater, or the harsher, judgement).
- <sup>15</sup> Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, that go about the sea and the land, to make one proselyte; and when he is made, ye make him (to be) a son of hell, double more than ye be.
- <sup>16</sup> Woe to you, blind leaders, that say, Whoever sweareth by the temple of God, it is nothing; but he that sweareth in the gold of the temple (or but he who sweareth by the gold of the Temple), is (a) debtor [or oweth].
- <sup>17</sup> Ye fools and blind (or Ye blind fools), for what is greater, the gold, or the temple that halloweth the gold?
- <sup>18</sup> And whoever sweareth in the altar, it is nothing; but he that sweareth in the gift that is on the altar, oweth [or is a debtor]. (And whoever sweareth by the altar, it is nothing; but he who sweareth by the gift that is on the altar, is a debtor.)
- <sup>19</sup> Blind men, for what is more, the gift, or the altar that halloweth the gift?
- <sup>20</sup> Therefore he that sweareth in the altar, sweareth in it, and in all things that be thereon. (And so he who sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all the things that be on it.)
- <sup>21</sup> And he that sweareth in the temple, sweareth in it, and in him that dwelleth in the temple. (And he who sweareth by the Temple, sweareth by it, and by Him who dwelleth in the Temple.)
- <sup>22</sup> And he that sweareth in heaven, sweareth in the throne of God, and in him that sitteth thereon. (And he who sweareth by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by Him who sitteth on it.)

- <sup>23</sup> Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, that tithe mint, anise, and cumin, and have left those things that be of more charge of the law (or that be of greater importance in the Law), (yea), doom (or judgement), and mercy, and faith. And it behooved [or needed] to do these things, and not to leave (undone) those (other things).
  - <sup>24</sup> Blind leaders, cleansing a gnat, but swallowing a camel.
- <sup>25</sup> Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, that cleanse the cup and the platter withoutforth; but within ye be full of raven, and uncleanness, (or but within ye be full of the spoils gotten from robberies, and uncleanness).

(so) that [also] that that is withoutforth be made clean.

<sup>27</sup> Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, that be like to sepulchres whited [or made white], which withoutforth seem fair to men, (or who be like white tombs, which on the outside look beautiful to men); but within they be full of (the) bones of dead men, and of all filth.

<sup>28</sup> So ye withoutforth seem just [or rightful] to men; but within ye be full of hypocrisy and wickedness.

- <sup>29</sup> Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, that build [the] sepulchres of (the) prophets, and make fair the burials of just men, (Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, who build the tombs of the prophets, and make the tombs of the righteous beautiful,)
- <sup>30</sup> and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we should not have been their fellows in (spilling) the blood of (the) prophets. (and say, If we had lived in the days of our fathers, we would not have been their partners in spilling the blood of the prophets.)
- <sup>31</sup> And so ye be in[to] witnessing to yourselves, that ye be the sons of them that slew the prophets. (And so ye testify about yourselves, that ye be the sons of those who killed the prophets.)
- <sup>32</sup> And (so) full-fill ye (then) the measure of your fathers. [And (so) fill ye (full) the measure of your fathers.]
- <sup>33</sup> Ye adders, and adders' brood [or (the) fruits of adders], how shall ye flee from the doom of hell? (Ye snakes, and children of snakes, how shall ye flee from the judgement of hell, or from being condemned to hell?)
- <sup>34</sup> Therefore lo! I send to you prophets, and wise men, and scribes [or writers]; and of them ye shall slay and crucify, and of them ye shall scourge in your synagogues, and shall pursue from city into city, [or and shall pursue from city to city], (or and shall persecute them from city to city);
- <sup>35</sup> that all the just blood come on you, that was shed on the earth, from the blood of just Abel to the blood of Zacharias, the son of Barachias, whom ye slew betwixt the temple and the altar. (so that all the righteous or innocent blood come upon you, that was shed upon the earth, from the blood of innocent Abel to the blood of Zechariah, the son of Barachiah, whom ye killed between the Temple and the altar.)
- $^{36}\,\mathrm{Truly}$  I say to you (or I tell you the truth), all these things shall come on this generation.
- <sup>37</sup> Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that slayest prophets, and stonest them that be sent to thee, how oft would I gather together thy children, as an hen gathereth together her chickens under her wings, and thou wouldest not (or but thou would not let me).

- <sup>38</sup> Lo! your house shall be left to you desert(ed)[or forsaken].
- <sup>39</sup> And I say to you, ye shall not see me from henceforth, till ye say, Blessed is he, that cometh in the name of the Lord.

- <sup>1</sup> And Jesus went out of the temple; and his disciples came to him, to show him the buildings of the temple.
- <sup>2</sup> But he answered, and said to them, See ye all these things? Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), a stone shall not be left on a stone/a stone shall not be left here on one stone, that not it shall be destroyed [or which shall not be destroyed].
- <sup>3</sup> And when he sat on the mount of Olives, his disciples came to him privily (or in private), and said, Say to us, when these things shall be, and what (is the) token (or the sign) of thy coming, and of the ending of the world.
- <sup>4</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to them, Look ye [or See ye], that no man deceive you.
- <sup>5</sup> For many shall come in my name, and shall say, I am Christ (or I am the Messiah); and they shall deceive many.
- <sup>6</sup> For ye shall hear battles, and opinions of battles; see ye that ye be not disturbed [or that ye be not distroubled]; for it behooveth these things to be done, but not yet is the end.
- <sup>7</sup> For folk shall rise together against folk, and realm against realm, and pestilences, and hungers, and earth-movings shall be by places; (For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and plagues, and famines, and earthquakes shall be in places;)
  - <sup>8</sup> and all these be (but the) beginnings of (the) sorrows.
- <sup>9</sup> Then men shall betake you into tribulation, and shall slay you, and ye shall be in hate [or in hatred] to all folks for my name. (Then men shall deliver you unto trials and troubles, and shall kill you, and ye shall be hated by all the nations and all the peoples, for my name's sake.)
- <sup>10</sup> And then many shall be caused to stumble, and betray each other, and they shall hate each other.
  - <sup>11</sup> And many false prophets shall rise, and deceive many.
- <sup>12</sup> And for wickedness shall be plenteous, the charity of many shall wax cold (or the love of many shall grow cold);
- <sup>13</sup> but he that shall dwell still [or steadfast] into the end, shall be safe. (but he who shall endure unto the end, shall be saved.)
- <sup>14</sup> And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world, in[to] witnessing to all folks; and then the end shall come. (And this Gospel, or Good News, of the Kingdom shall be preached in all the world, as a testimony to all the nations and all the peoples; and then the end shall come.)
- <sup>15</sup> Therefore when ye see the abomination of discomfort, that is said of (or by) Daniel, the prophet, standing in the holy place; he that readeth (this), understand he;
  - <sup>16</sup> then they that be in Judea, flee to the mountains;
- <sup>17</sup> and he that is in the house roof (or and he who is on the roof of the house), come not down to take anything (out) of his house;

- <sup>18</sup> and he that is in the field, turn not again to take his coat (or do not return to get his coat).
- $^{19}\,\mathrm{But}$  woe to them that be with child, and nourishing [or nursing] in those days.
- <sup>20</sup> Pray ye, that your flying be not made in winter, or in the sabbath. (Pray ye, that your fleeing be not made in winter, or on the Sabbath.)
- <sup>21</sup> For then shall be great tribulation, what manner was not from the beginning of the world to now [or till now], neither shall be made.
- <sup>22</sup> And but those days had been abridged (or shortened), each flesh, [or all flesh, that is, mankind], should not be made safe (or none of mankind could be saved); but those days shall be made short, for the chosen men.
- <sup>23</sup> Then if any man say to you, Lo! here is Christ, or there, do not ye believe (him). (Then if anyone say to you, Behold! here is the Messiah, or there, do not believe them.)
- <sup>24</sup> For false Christs and false prophets shall rise (up), (or For false Messiahs and false prophets shall rise up), and they shall give great tokens [or great signs] and wonders; so that also the chosen be led into error, if it may be done.
  - <sup>25</sup> Lo! I have before-said to you.
- <sup>26</sup> Therefore if they say to you, Lo! he is in (the) desert, do not ye go out; lo! he is in privy places, (or behold! (he is) in private, or secret, places), do not ye believe (them).
- $^{27}$  For as lightning goeth out from the east, and appeareth into the west, so shall be also the coming of man's Son.
  - $^{\rm 28}$  Wherever the body shall be, also the eagles shall be gathered thither.
- <sup>29</sup> And anon (or at once) after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be made dark, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from (the) heaven(s), and the virtues (or the powers) of (the) heavens shall be moved [or shall be stirred].
- <sup>30</sup> And then the token of man's Son shall appear in (the) heaven(s), and then all the kindreds, [or all the lineages], (or all the tribes), of the earth shall wail; and they shall see man's Son coming in the clouds of (the) heaven(s), with much virtue, and majesty. (And then the sign of man's Son shall appear in the heavens, and then all the peoples of the earth shall wail; and they shall see man's Son coming on the clouds of the heavens, with great power, and majesty.)
- <sup>31</sup> And he shall send (out) his angels with a trumpet, and a great voice (or and a great blast); and they shall gather his chosen from (the) four winds, from the highest things of heaven (un)to the ends of them.
- <sup>32</sup> And learn ye the parable of the fig tree. When his branch is now tender, and the leaves be sprung, ye know that summer is nigh, (or When its branch is now tender, and the leaves be sprung out, ye know that summer is near);
- <sup>33</sup> and so ye when ye shall see all these things, know ye that it is nigh, (yea), in the gates, (or know that it is near, yes, even at the door).
- <sup>34</sup> Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), for this generation shall not pass (away), till all (these) things be done;
- <sup>35</sup> heaven and earth shall pass (away), but my words shall not pass (away).

- <sup>36</sup> But of that day and hour no man knoweth, neither [the] angels of heaven, [no] but the Father alone (or but only the Father).
- <sup>37</sup> But as it was in the days of Noe (or Noah), so shall be the coming of man's Son.
- <sup>38</sup> For as in the days before the great flood, they were eating and drinking, wedding and taking to wedding, till that day, that Noe (or Noah) entered into the ship;
- <sup>39</sup> and they knew not, till the great flood came, and took (away) all men, so shall be the coming of man's Son.
- <sup>40</sup> Then twain shall be in a field, one shall be taken, and the other left;
- <sup>41</sup> two women shall be grinding in a quern [or (at a) mill], one shall be taken, and the other left; twain in a bed, the one shall be taken, and the other left.
- <sup>42</sup> Therefore wake ye, (or And so be on watch, or stay awake), for ye know not in what hour the Lord shall come.
- <sup>43</sup> But know ye this, that if the husbandman knew in what hour the thief were to come, certainly he would wake, and suffer not his house to be undermined (or and would not allow his house to be robbed).
- <sup>44</sup> And therefore be ye ready, for in what hour ye guess not, man's Son shall come.
- <sup>45</sup> Who guessest thou is a true [or is a faithful] servant and prudent, whom his lord ordained on his household, to give them meat in (its) time? (Then who thinkest thou, is a faithful and a wise servant, whom his lord hath ordained upon, or over, his household, to give them their food at the proper time?)
- $^{46}$  Blessed is that servant, whom his lord, when he shall come, shall find so doing.
- <sup>47</sup> Truly I say to you, for on all his goods he shall ordain him. (I tell you the truth, that he shall put him in charge over all of his property.)
  - <sup>48</sup> But if that evil servant say in his heart, My lord tarrieth to come,
- <sup>49</sup> and beginneth to smite his even-servants, and to eat, and drink with drunken men;
- <sup>50</sup> the lord of that servant shall come in the day [in] which he hopeth not, and in the hour that he knoweth not,
- <sup>51</sup> and shall part him (or and shall divide him in pieces), and put his part with (the) hypocrites; there shall be weeping, and grinding of teeth.

- <sup>1</sup> Then the kingdom of heavens shall be like to ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went out to meet the husband and the wife;
  - <sup>2</sup> and five of them were fools, and five (of them were) prudent.
  - <sup>3</sup> But the five fools took their lamps, and took not oil with them;
  - <sup>4</sup> but the prudent (ones) took oil in their vessels with the lamps.
- <sup>5</sup> And whiles the husband tarried, all they napped and slept [or all napped and slept].
- <sup>6</sup> But at midnight a cry was made, Lo! the spouse cometh, go ye out to meet with him [or go ye out to meet him].
  - <sup>7</sup> Then all those virgins rose up, and arrayed their lamps.
- <sup>8</sup> And the fools said to the wise (ones), Give ye to us (some) of your oil, for our lamps be quenched.

<sup>9</sup>The prudent (ones) answered, and said, Lest peradventure it suffice not to us and to you, go ye rather to men that sell (it), and buy to you (or and buy some for yourselves).

<sup>10</sup> And while they went to buy (some), the spouse came; and those that were ready, entered [in] with him to the weddings; and the gate was shut.

- <sup>11</sup> And at the last the other virgins came, and said, Lord, lord, open to us.
- <sup>12</sup> And he answered, and said, Truly I say to you, I know you not. (And he answered, and said, I tell you the truth, I do not know you.)
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore wake ye, for ye know not the day nor the hour. (And so be on watch, or stay awake, for you do not know the day or the hour.)
- <sup>14</sup> For as a man that goeth [far] in pilgrimage, called his servants, and betook to them his goods, (or and gave his substance, or his assets, to them);
- <sup>15</sup> and to one he gave five bezants or five talents, to another twain, and to another one, to each after his own virtue; and he went forth anon. (and to one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one, to each according to his own power, or his own ability; and then he went forth at once.)
- <sup>16</sup> And he that had (received) five bezants [or five talents] went forth, and wrought in them, and won (an)other five. (And he who had received five talents went forth, and worked with them, and earned another five.)
- <sup>17</sup> Also and he that had taken twain, won (an)other twain (or earned another two).
- <sup>18</sup> But he that had taken one, went forth, and delved in the earth (or and dug in the ground), and hid the money of his lord.
- $^{19}$  But after (a) long time, the lord of those servants came, and reckoned with them.
- <sup>20</sup> And he that had taken five bezants, came, and brought (an)other five, and said, Lord, thou betookest to me five bezants, lo! I have gotten above five others. [+And he that had taken five talents, nighing (or approaching), offered (an)other five, saying, Lord, thou betookest to me five talents, lo! I have gotten over (an)other five.](And he who had received five talents, came, and brought another five, and said, Lord, thou gavest to me five talents, behold! I have earned another five.)
- <sup>21</sup> His lord said to him, Well be thou, good servant and faithful, (or Well done, good and faithful servant); for on few things thou hast been true, [or thou hast been faithful], (now) I shall ordain thee on many things; enter thou into the joy of thy lord.
- <sup>22</sup> And he that had taken two bezants, or two talents, came, and said, Lord, thou betookest to me two bezants; lo! I have won over (an)other twain. [+Forsooth he that had taken two talents, nighed (or approached), and said, Lord, thou betookest to me two talents, lo! I have gotten over (an)other two.](And he who had received two talents, came, and said, Lord, thou gavest to me two talents; behold! I have earned another two.)
- <sup>23</sup> His lord said to him, Well be thou, good servant and true [or good servant and faithful], (or Well done, good and faithful servant); for on few things thou hast been true, [or thou hast been faithful], (now) I shall ordain thee on many things; enter thou into the joy of thy lord.
- <sup>24</sup> But he that had taken one bezant [or one talent], came, and said, Lord, I know that thou art an hard man; thou reapest where thou hast not sown, and thou gatherest together where thou hast not spread abroad; (But he who had received one talent, came, and said, Lord, I know that thou art a hard man; thou harvestest where thou hast not sown, and thou gatherest together where thou hast not spread abroad;)

<sup>25</sup> and I dreading (or and I greatly fearing thee), went, and hid thy bezant

[or thy talent] in the earth; lo! thou hast that that is thine.

<sup>26</sup> His lord answered, and said to him, Evil servant and slow, knewest thou that I reap where I sowed not, and gather together where I spreaded not abroad? (His master answered, and said to him, Wicked and lazy servant, knewest thou that I harvest where I did not sow, and gather together where I did not spread abroad?)

<sup>27</sup> Therefore it behooved thee to betake my money to (money-)changers, that when I came, I should have received that that is mine with usuries. (And so it behooved thee to give my money to the money-changers, so that when I came back, I could have received what was mine with interest.)

<sup>28</sup> Therefore take away from him the bezant, and give to him that hath ten bezants. [And so take away the talent from him, and give ye it to him that hath ten talents.]

- <sup>29</sup> For to every man that hath me shall give, and he shall increase [+or For to every man having it shall be given, and he shall have plenty, or increase]; but from him that hath not, also that that he seemeth to have, shall be taken away from him.
- <sup>30</sup> And cast ye out the unprofitable servant into outer-more [or uttermore] darknesses; there shall be weeping, and grinding of teeth.

<sup>31</sup> When man's Son shall come in his majesty, and all his angels with him, then he shall sit on the seat (or on the throne) of his majesty;

<sup>32</sup> and all folks shall be gathered before him (or and all the nations and all the peoples shall be gathered before him), and he shall separate them [or he shall part them] atwain, as a shepherd separateth [or parteth] sheep from kids;

<sup>33</sup> and he shall set the sheep on his right half, and the kids on the left half [or and the kids forsooth on his left half]. (and he shall set the sheep

- <sup>34</sup>Then the king shall say to them, that shall be on his right half, Come ye, the blessed of my Father, take ye in possession the kingdom made ready to you from the making [or from the beginning] of the world. (Then the King shall say to those, who shall be on his right side, Come, the blessed of my Father, take into possession the Kingdom prepared for you from the creation of the world.)
- <sup>35</sup> For I hungered [or Forsooth I was hungry], and ye gave me (something) to eat; I thirsted, and ye gave me (something) to drink; I was harbourless, and ye harboured me;
- <sup>36</sup> naked, and ye covered me; sick, and ye visited me; I was in prison, and ye came to me.
- <sup>37</sup> Then just men shall answer to him, and say (or Then the righteous shall say to him), Lord, when saw we thee hungry, and we fed thee; thirsty, and we gave to thee, [or and we gave thee], (something to) drink?
- <sup>38</sup> and when saw we thee harbourless, and we harboured thee, [or when forsooth saw we thee harbourless, and we gathered thee to harbour]; or naked, and we covered thee?

<sup>39</sup> or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and we came to thee?

- $^{40}$  And the king answering shall say to them, Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), as long as ye did (it) to one of these my least brethren, ye did (it) to me.
- <sup>41</sup> Then the king shall say also to them, that shall be on his left half, Depart from me, ye cursed, into (the) everlasting fire, that is made ready to the devil and his angels. (Then the King shall say to those, who shall be on his left side, Go away from me, ye cursed, into the eternal fire, which is prepared for the Devil and his angels.)
- <sup>42</sup> For I hungered, and ye gave not me (anything) to eat; I thirsted, and ye gave not me (anything) to drink; [+For I hungered, and ye gave not to me (anything) to eat; I thirsted, and ye gave not to me (anything) to drink;]
- <sup>43</sup> I was harbourless, and ye harboured not me, [or I was harbourless, and ye gathered not me to harbour]; naked, and ye covered not me; sick, and in prison, and ye visited not me.
- <sup>44</sup> Then and they shall answer to him, and shall say, Lord, when saw we thee hungering, or thirsting, or harbourless, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and we served not to thee?
- <sup>45</sup> Then he shall answer to them, and say, Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), as long as ye did (it) not to one of these least (ones), neither ye did (it) to me [or ye did (it) not to me].
- <sup>46</sup> And these shall go into everlasting torment; but the just men shall go into everlasting life. (And they shall go into eternal torment; but the righteous shall go into eternal life.)

- $^{\rm 1}\,\mathrm{And}$  it was done, when Jesus had ended all these words, he said to his disciples,
- <sup>2</sup> Ye know, that after two days pask shall be made, and man's Son shall be betaken to be crucified. (Ye know, that in two days it shall be Passover, and man's Son shall be delivered, or shall be given over, to be crucified.)
- <sup>3</sup> Then the princes of (the) priests, and the elder men of the people were gathered into the hall of the prince of (the) priests, that was said Caiaphas, (Then the high priests, and the elders of the people were gathered together in the hall of the High Priest, who was called Caiaphas,)
- <sup>4</sup> and made a counsel to (take) hold (of) Jesus with guile, and slay him; [and made a counsel, that they should (take) hold (of) Jesus with guile, and slay him;](and made a plan to take hold of Jesus by treachery, and kill him;)
- <sup>5</sup> but they said, Not in the holiday, [or Not in the feast day], (or Not on the Feast Day), lest peradventure noise (or a commotion) were made in the people.
  - <sup>6</sup> And when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leprous,
- <sup>7</sup> a woman that had a box of alabaster of precious ointment, came to him, and shedded it out on the head of him resting (or and poured it out upon his head while he was resting).
- <sup>8</sup> And the disciples seeing (this) had disdain, and said, Whereto is this loss?
- <sup>9</sup> for it might be sold for much [or for this might have been sold for much], and be given to poor men.

- <sup>10</sup> But Jesus knew, and said to them, What be ye heavy to this woman? (or Why be so harsh with this woman?) for she hath wrought in me a good work [or (for) she hath wrought a good work in me].
- <sup>11</sup> For ye shall ever[more] have poor men with you, but ye shall not always have me.
- <sup>12</sup> For this woman sending this ointment into my body, did (it)[for] to bury me. (For this woman poured this ointment upon my body, in preparation for my burial.)
- <sup>13</sup> Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), wherever this gospel shall be preached in all the world, it shall be said, that she did this, in mind of him (or in remembrance of him).
- $^{14}$  Then one of the twelve, that was called Judas Iscariot, went forth to the princes of (the) priests, [or went to the princes of (the) priests], (or went to the high priests),
- <sup>15</sup> and said to them, What will ye give to me, and I shall betake him to you? (or What will ye give to me, if I shall deliver him, or shall betray him, to you?) And they ordained to him thirty pieces of silver.
  - <sup>16</sup> And from that time he sought opportunity, to betray him.
- <sup>17</sup> And in the first day of therf loaves the disciples came to Jesus, and said, Where wilt thou [that] we make ready to thee, [for] to eat (the) pask? (And on the first day of Unleavened Bread the disciples came to Jesus, and said, Where desirest thou that we prepare for thee, for to eat the Passover?)
- <sup>18</sup> Jesus said, Go ye into the city to a man, and say to him, The master saith, My time is nigh; at thee I make (the) pask with my disciples. (Jesus said, Go into the city to a man, and say to him, The Teacher said, My time is near; I shall keep, or I shall eat, the Passover with my disciples at thine house.)
- <sup>19</sup> And the disciples did, as Jesus commanded to them; and they made the pask ready (or and they prepared the Passover).
- <sup>20</sup> And when the eventide was come, he sat to (the) meat, [or he sat at the meat], (or he sat down for the meal), with his twelve disciples.
- <sup>21</sup> And he said to them, as they ate, Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), that one of you shall betray me.
- <sup>22</sup> And they full sorry, [or And they made sorrowful greatly], (or And they greatly grieved), began each by himself to say, Lord, whether I am he?
- <sup>23</sup> And he answered, and said, He that putteth with me his hand in the platter, shall betray me. (And he said, He who putteth his hand in the platter with me, shall betray me.)
- <sup>24</sup> Forsooth man's Son goeth, as it is written of him; but woe to that man, by whom man's Son shall be betrayed; it were good to him (or it would be better for him), if that man had not been born.
- $^{25}$  But Judas that betrayed him, answered, saying, Master, (or Teacher), whether I am he? Jesus said to him, Thou hast said (it).
- <sup>26</sup> And while they supped, Jesus took bread, and blessed [it], (or and gave thanks), and brake (it), and gave (it) to his disciples, and said, Take ye, and eat; this is my body.
- <sup>27</sup> And he took the cup, and did thankings (or and gave thanks), and gave to them, and said, Drink ye all thereof;

- <sup>28</sup> this is my blood of the new testament (or this is my blood of the new covenant), which shall be shed for many, into remission of sins.
- $^{29}$  And I say to you, I shall not drink from this time, of this fruit of the vine, into that day when I shall drink it (a)new with you, in the kingdom of my Father.
- <sup>30</sup> And when the hymn was said, they went out into the mount of Olives. (And after the hymn was sung, they went out to the Mount of Olives.)
- $^{31}$  Then Jesus said to them, All ye shall suffer cause of stumbling in me, in this night; for it is written, I shall smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered.
- <sup>32</sup> But after that I shall rise again (or But after that I am resurrected), I shall go before you into Galilee.
- <sup>33</sup> Peter answered, and said to him, Though all [men] shall be caused to stumble in thee, I shall never be caused to stumble.
- <sup>34</sup> Jesus said to him, Truly I say to thee (or I tell you the truth), for in this night before the cock crow, thrice thou shalt deny me.
- <sup>35</sup> Peter said to him, Yea, though it behooveth that I die with thee, I shall not deny thee. Also all the disciples said (the same thing).
- <sup>36</sup> Then Jesus came with them into a town, that is said Gethsemane (or Then Jesus came with them to a place, that is called Gethsemane). And he said to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I go thither, and pray.
- <sup>37</sup> And when he had taken Peter, and (the) two sons of Zebedee, he began to be heavy and sorry [or he began to be sorrowful and heavy in heart].
- <sup>38</sup> Then he said to them, My soul is sorrowful *(un)*to the death; abide ye here, and wake ye with me (or wait here, and keep watch, or and stay awake, with me).
- <sup>39</sup> And he went forth a little, and felled down on his face, praying, and saying, My Father, if it is possible, pass this cup from me, [or My Father, if it is possible, (let) this cup pass from me]; nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt, (or nevertheless not what I desire, or what I want, but what thou (desirest), or what thou (wantest to be done)).
- <sup>40</sup> And he came to his disciples, and found them sleeping. And he said to Peter, So, whether ye might not one hour wake with me? [or So, might ye not one hour wake with me?](or So, could ye not keep watch with me, or could ye not stay awake with me, for one hour?)
- <sup>41</sup> Wake ye, and pray ye, that ye enter not into temptation; for the spirit is ready, but the flesh is sick, [or unstable, or unsteadfast]. (Be on watch, or Stay awake, and pray, so that ye enter not into the test; for the spirit is ready, but the flesh is frail or weak.)
- $^{42}$  Again the second time he went, and prayed, saying, My Father, if this cup may not pass, but I drink it, thy will be done.
- <sup>43</sup> And again he came, and found them sleeping; for their eyes were heavied.
- <sup>44</sup> And he left them, and went again, and prayed the third time, and said the same word(s).
- <sup>45</sup> Then he came to his disciples, and said to them, Sleep ye now, and rest ye; lo! the hour hath nighed, (or behold! the hour hath approached, or the time is now), and man's Son shall be betaken [or shall be betrayed] into the hands of sinners;

 $^{46}$  rise ye, go we; lo! he that shall take (hold of) me, is nigh. (get up, let us go; behold! he who shall take hold of me, is near.)

<sup>47</sup>Yet while he spake, lo! Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great company, with swords and bats, [or staves], (or clubs), sent from the princes of (the) priests, and from the elder men of the people, (or sent from the high priests, and from the elders of the people).

<sup>48</sup> And he that betrayed him, gave to them a token (or a sign), and said, Whomever I shall kiss, he it is; hold ye (onto) him (or seize him).

<sup>49</sup> And anon he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, Master; and he kissed him. (And at once he came to Jesus, and said, Good evening, Teacher; and he kissed him.)

<sup>50</sup> And Jesus said to him, Friend, whereto art thou come? Then they came nigh, and laid hands on Jesus, and held him (or and seized him).

<sup>51</sup> And lo! one of them that were with Jesus, stretched out his hand, and drew out his sword; and he smote the servant of the prince of (the) priests (or and he struck the servant of the High Priest), and cut off his ear.

<sup>52</sup> Then Jesus said to him, Turn thy sword into his place (or Return thy sword into its place); for all that take (up a) sword, shall perish by (the) sword.

<sup>53</sup> Whether guessest thou, that I may not pray (to) my Father, and he shall give to me now more than twelve legions of angels?

54 How then shall the scriptures be fulfilled? for so it behooveth to be done.

- <sup>55</sup> In that hour Jesus said to the people, As to a thief ye have gone out, with swords and bats, [or staves], to take (hold of) me; day by day I sat among you, and taught in the temple, and ye held me not. (At that time Jesus said to the people, Ye have gone out like after a thief, with swords and bats, or clubs, to seize me; yet day after day I sat among you, and taught in the Temple, and ye did not seize me then.)
- <sup>56</sup> But all this thing was done, (so) that the scriptures of (the) prophets should be fulfilled. Then all the disciples fled, and left him.
- <sup>57</sup> And they held Jesus, and led him to Caiaphas, the prince of (the) priests (or the High Priest), where the scribes and the Pharisees, and the elder men of the people were come together, [or where the scribes and the elder men of the people had come together].

<sup>58</sup> But Peter (pur)sued him afar, into the hall of the prince of (the) priests, (or But Peter followed him from afar, into the courtyard of the High Priest); and he went in, and sat (down) with the servants, to see the end.

<sup>59</sup> And the prince of (the) priests, and all the council sought false witnessing against Jesus, that they should *(be)*take him to (the) death; (And the High Priest, and all the council sought false testimony against Jesus, so that they could deliver him unto death;)

<sup>60</sup> and they found not, when many false witnesses were come. But at the last, two false witnesses came,

61 and said, This (man) said, I may destroy the temple of God, and after the third day build it again [or and after three days build it again]. (and said, He said, I shall destroy the Temple of God, and after three days build it up again.)

<sup>62</sup> And the prince of (the) priests rose, and said to him, Answerest thou nothing to those things, that these witness against thee? (And the High Priest rose, and said to him, Answerest thou nothing about these things, that they testify against thee?)

- 63 But Jesus was still. And the prince of (the) priests said to him, I conjure thee by the living God, that thou say to us, if thou art Christ, the Son of God. (But Jesus was silent. And the High Priest said to him, I command thee by the living God, that thou tell us, if thou art the Messiah, the Son of God.)
- <sup>64</sup> Jesus said to him, Thou hast said (it); nevertheless I say to you, hereafter ye shall see man's Son sitting at the right half of the virtue of God, and coming in the clouds of (the) heaven(s). (Jesus said to him, Thou hast said it; nevertheless I tell you, hereafter ye shall see man's Son sitting at the right hand, or on the right side, of the power of God, and coming on the clouds of the heavens.)
- 65 Then the prince of (the) priests rent his clothes, and said, He hath blasphemed; what yet have we need to witnesses? lo! now ye have heard blasphemy; (Then the High Priest tore his clothes, and said, He hath blasphemed; why do we need any more witnesses? behold! now ye have heard blasphemy;)
- <sup>66</sup> what seemeth to you? And they answered, and said, He is guilty of death.
- <sup>67</sup> Then they spat in his face, and smote him with buffets; and others gave strokes with the palm of their hands in[to] his face,
- <sup>68</sup> and said, Thou Christ, declare to us, [or Thou Christ, prophesy to us], who is he that smote thee? (and mockingly said, O Messiah, declare to us, or prophesy for us, who is he that struck thee?)
- <sup>69</sup> And Peter sat without in the hall (or And Peter sat outside in the courtyard); and a damsel [or an handmaid] came to him, and said, Thou were with Jesus of Galilee.
  - <sup>70</sup> And he denied before all [men], and said, I know not what thou sayest.
- $^{71}$  And when he went out at the gate, another damsel [or another handmaid] saw him, and said to them that were there, And this was with Jesus of Nazareth.
  - 72 And again he denied with an oath, For I knew not the man.
- <sup>73</sup> And a little after (that), they that stood (there) came, and said to Peter, Truly and thou art [one] of them; for thy speech maketh thee known.
- <sup>74</sup>Then he began to curse and to swear, that he knew not the man. And anon (or at once) the cock crew.
- $^{75}$  And Peter bethought on the word(s) of Jesus, that he had said, Before the cock crow, thrice thou shalt deny me. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

- <sup>1</sup> But when the morrowtide was come, all the princes of (the) priests, and the elder men of the people took counsel against Jesus, that they should take him to the death. (But when the morning was come, all the high priests, and the elders of the people made a plan against Jesus, how they would put him, or send him, to death.)
- <sup>2</sup> And they led him bound, and betook him to Pilate of Pontii, (the)[chief] justice [or the president]. (And they led him bound, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate, the Governor.)

<sup>3</sup> Then Judas that betrayed him, saw [or seeing] that he was condemned, he repented, and brought again the thirty pieces [of silver] to the princes of (the) priests, and to the elder men of the people, (or and returned the thirty pieces of silver to the high priests, and to the elders of the people),

<sup>4</sup> and said, I have sinned, betraying rightful [or just] blood. And they said, What (is it) to us? busy thee [or see thou]. (and said, I have sinned, betraying righteous blood. And they said, What is that to us? it is thy concern.)

<sup>5</sup> And when he had cast forth the [plates (or pieces) of] silver in the temple, he passed forth, and went, and hanged himself with a snare.

<sup>6</sup> And the princes of (the) priests took the [plates (or pieces) of] silver, and said, It is not leaveful to put it into the treasury, for it is the price of blood. (And the high priests took the pieces of silver, and said, It is not lawful to put it in the treasury, for it is the payment for blood.)

<sup>7</sup> And when they had taken counsel, they bought with it a field of a potter [or they bought with them a field of a potter], into [the] burying of pilgrims. (And when they had made a plan, they bought a potter's field with it, for the burying of visitors.)

<sup>8</sup> Therefore that field is called Aceldama, that is, a field of blood, into this day.

<sup>9</sup> Then that was fulfilled, that was said by the prophet Jeremy saying, And they have taken thirty pieces [of silver], the price of a man (ap) praised, whom they (ap) praised of the children of Israel; (Then that was fulfilled, that was said by the prophet Jeremiah, saying, And they have taken thirty pieces of silver, the appraised price of a man, whom they of the children of Israel appraised, or put a price upon;)

<sup>10</sup> and they gave them into a field of a potter (or and they used it to buy a potter's field), as the Lord hath ordained to me.

- <sup>11</sup> And Jesus stood before the doomsman (or the judge); and the justice [or the president] asked him, and said, Art thou king of Jews? Jesus saith to him, Thou sayest (it). (And Jesus stood before the Governor; and the Governor asked him, and said, Art thou the King of the Jews? Jesus saith to him, Thou sayest it.)
- <sup>12</sup> And when he was accused of the princes of (the) priests, and of the elder men of the people, he answered nothing. (And when he was accused by the high priests, and by the elders of the people, he answered nothing.)

<sup>13</sup> Then Pilate saith to him, Hearest thou not, how many things, [or how many witnessings, (or how many testimonies)], they say against thee?

- <sup>14</sup> And he answered not to him any word, so that the justice [or the president] wondered greatly. (And he did not answer any word to him, so that the Governor greatly wondered.)
- <sup>15</sup> But for a solemn day the justice [or the president] was wont to deliver to the people one bound, whom they would. (And on the Feast Day, or during the Festival, the Governor had a custom to release one prisoner to the people, whomever they wanted.)

<sup>16</sup> And he had then a famous man bound [or Forsooth he had one famous man bound], that was said Barabbas. (And he had then a notorious prisoner, who was called Barabbas.)

17 Therefore Pilate said to them, when they were [gathered] together, Whom will ye, that I deliver to you [or that I leave to you]? whether

Barabbas, or Jesus, that is said Christ? (And so Pilate said to them, when they were gathered together, Whom do ye desire, that I release to you? or Whom do ye want, that I let go to you? Barabbas, or Jesus, who is called the Messiah?)

- <sup>18</sup> For he knew, that by envy they betrayed him [or they betook him]. (For he knew, that they had betrayed him, or that they had delivered him, out of envy.)
- <sup>19</sup> And while he sat for doomsman [or for judge], his wife sent (word) to him, and said, Nothing to thee and to that just man (or Do not have anything to do with that innocent or righteous man); for I have suffered this day many things for him, by a vision.
- $^{20}$  Forsooth the princes of (the) priests, and the elder men counselled the people, (or But the high priests, and the elders counselled the people), that they should ask (for) Barabbas, but (that) they should (seek to) destroy Jesus.
- <sup>21</sup> But the justice [or the president] answered, and said to them, Whom of the twain will ye, that be delivered, [or be left (or be let go)], to you? And they said, Barabbas. (But the Governor answered, and said to them, Whom of the two do ye desire to be released, or to be let go, to you? And they said, Barabbas.)
- <sup>22</sup> Pilate saith to them, What then shall I do of Jesus, that is said Christ? All they say, Be he crucified. (Pilate said to them, Then what should I do with Jesus, who is called the Messiah? And they all cried, Crucify him!)
- <sup>23</sup> The justice [or The president] saith to them (or The Governor said to them), What evil hath he done? And they cried (the) more, and said, Be he crucified.
- <sup>24</sup> And Pilate seeing that he profited nothing, but that the more noise was made (or but that only a greater commotion was made), he took water, and washed his hands before the people, and said, I am guiltless of the blood of this rightful man; busy you (or let it be your concern). [Forsooth Pilate seeing that he profited nothing, but (that) the more a noise was made, (after some) water (was) taken, he washed his hands before the people, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just man; see ye.]
- $^{25}$  And all the people answered, and said, His blood be on us, and on our children.
- <sup>26</sup> Then he delivered, [or he left (or he let go)], to them Barabbas, but he [be] took to them Jesus scourged, to be crucified. (Then he released, or he let go, Barabbas to them, but he delivered Jesus unto them, after that he had been scourged, to be crucified.)
- <sup>27</sup> Then [the] knights of the justice [or of the president] took Jesus in(to) the moot hall, and gathered to him all the company of knights. (Then the soldiers of the Governor took Jesus into the Hall of Judgement, and gathered unto him all the company of soldiers.)
  - <sup>28</sup> And they unclothed him, and did about him a red mantle;
- <sup>29</sup> and they folded a crown of thorns, and put (it) on his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they kneeled before him, and scorned him, and said, Hail, king of Jews, (or Hail, the King of the Jews).
  - <sup>30</sup> And they spat on him, and took a reed, and smote his head.

- <sup>31</sup> And after that they had scorned him, they unclothed him of the mantle, and they clothed him with his clothes, and led him (away) to crucify him [or and led him (away) for to be crucified].
- <sup>32</sup> And as they went out, they found a man of Cyrene coming from the town, Simon by name; they constrained him to take his cross (or and they compelled him to carry his cross).
- <sup>33</sup> And they came into a place that is called Golgotha [or And they came to a place that is called Golgotha], that is, the place of Calvary.
- <sup>34</sup> And they gave [to] him to drink wine meddled or mingled with gall (or And they gave him wine to drink mixed with gall); and when he had tasted (it), he would not drink (it).
- <sup>35</sup> And after that they had crucified him, they parted his clothes, and cast lots, to fulfill that (that) is said by the prophet, saying, They parted to them my clothes, and on my cloth they cast lots. (And after that they had crucified him, they divided up his clothes, and threw dice, to fulfill what is said by the prophet, saying, They divided my clothes among themselves, and for my cloak they threw dice.)
  - <sup>36</sup> And they sat, and kept (watch over) him;
- <sup>37</sup> and set [or put] above his head his cause (or the charge against him), written (out), This is Jesus of Nazareth, king of Jews, [or This is Jesus, the king of Jews], (or This is Jesus, the King of the Jews).
- <sup>38</sup> Then two thieves were crucified with him, one on the right half, and one on the left half, (or one on his right side, and one on his left side).
  - <sup>39</sup> And men that passed forth blasphemed him, moving their heads,
- <sup>40</sup> and saying, Vath [or Fie]to thee, that destroyest the temple of God, and in the third day buildest it again; save thou thyself; if thou art the Son of God, come down of the cross, [or come down off the cross], (or come down from the cross).
- <sup>41</sup> Also and [the] princes of (the) priests scorning, with scribes and elder men, said, (And also the high priests, with the scribes and the elders, scorned him, and said,)
- <sup>42</sup> He made other men safe, he may not make himself safe; if he is [the] king of Israel, come he now down from the cross, and we believe to him; (He saved other men, but he cannot save himself; if he is the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and then we shall believe in him;)
- <sup>43</sup> he trusted in God; deliver he him now, if he will; for he said, That I am God's Son, [or for he said, I am the Son of God].
- $^{44}$  And the thieves, that were crucified with him, upbraided him of the same thing.
- <sup>45</sup> But from the sixth hour, darknesses were made on all the earth [or upon all the land], till [to] the ninth hour. (But from noon, darkness was made upon all the land, until three o'clock in the afternoon.)
- <sup>46</sup> And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a great voice, and said, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani, that is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
- <sup>47</sup> And some men that stood there, and hearing, said, This calleth Elias. (And some men who stood there, and heard him, said, He calleth Elijah.)
- <sup>48</sup> And anon (or at once) one of them running, took and filled a sponge with vinegar, and put [it] on a reed, and gave (it) to him to drink.

- <sup>49</sup> But others said, Suffer thou; see we whether Elias come to deliver him. (But others said, Wait; let us see if Elijah shall come to save him.)
- <sup>50</sup> Forsooth Jesus again cried with a great voice, and (then) gave up the ghost [or sent out the spirit].
- <sup>51</sup> And lo! the veil of the temple was rent in two parts, from the highest to the lowest, (or And behold! the veil of the Temple was torn in two parts, from the top to the bottom). And the earth shook, and the stones were cloven, [or And the earth was moved, and the stones were cleft]:
- <sup>52</sup> and burials were opened, and many bodies of (the) saints that had slept, rose up. (and graves were opened, and many bodies of God's people who had died, rose up.)
- <sup>53</sup> And they went out of their burials (or And they went out of their graves), and after his resurrection they came into the holy city, and appeared to many.
- <sup>54</sup> And the centurion and they that were with him keeping (watch over) Jesus, when they saw the earth-shaking, and those things that were done, they dreaded greatly, and said, Verily this was God's Son. (And the centurion and those who were with him keeping watch over Jesus, when they saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they were greatly afraid, and said, Truly this was the Son of God.)
- <sup>55</sup> And there were there many women afar [or Forsooth many women were there afar], that (pur)sued Jesus from Galilee, and ministered to him. (And many women were there, watching from afar, who had followed Jesus from Galilee, and served him.)
- <sup>56</sup> Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary, the mother of James, and of Joseph, and the mother of Zebedee's sons.
- <sup>57</sup> But when the evening was come, there came a rich man of Arimathaea, Joseph by name, and he was a disciple of Jesus.
- <sup>58</sup> He went to Pilate, and asked (for) the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be given (to him).
- <sup>59</sup> And when the body was taken (down), Joseph wrapped it in a clean sendal [or in a clean linen cloth],
- 60 and laid it in his new burial, that he had hewn in a stone; and he wallowed a great stone to the door of the burial, and went away. (and laid it in his new tomb, which he had cut out of the stone; and he rolled a great
- stone against the door of the tomb, and then he went away.)

  <sup>61</sup> But Mary Magdalene and another Mary were there, sitting against the sepulchre. (But Mary Magdalene and the other Mary were there, sitting opposite the tomb.)
- <sup>62</sup> And on the tother day, that is after pask even(ing), the princes of (the) priests and [the] Pharisees came together to Pilate, (And in the morning of the next day, that was after the evening of the Passover, the high priests, and the Pharisees came together to Pilate,)
- <sup>63</sup> and said, Sir [or Sire], we have mind (or we have remembered), that that beguiler [or that deceiver] said (while) yet living, After three days I shall rise again to life.
- <sup>64</sup> Therefore command thou, that the sepulchre be kept (or guarded) into the third day; lest his disciples come, and steal him, and say to the people, He hath risen from death [or He is risen from (the) dead]; and the last error shall be worse than the former (or and then the last lie shall be worse than the first lie).

 $^{65}$  Pilate said to them, Ye have the keeping (or Ye have the guarding of it); go ye, keep ye (watch over it) as (sure as) ye can.

66 And they went forth, and kept (watch over) the sepulchre, marking [or sealing] the stone, with [the] keepers. (And so they went there, and kept watch over the tomb, and sealed the stone, with the guards.)

CHAPTER 28

<sup>1</sup> But in (the hour after) the eventide of the sabbath, [or (the) holiday], that beginneth to shine in the first day of the week (or that beginneth to shine on the first day of the week), Mary Magdalene came, and another Mary (or and the other Mary), to see the sepulchre.

<sup>2</sup> And lo! there was made a great earth-shaking; for the angel of the Lord came down from heaven, and nighed, and turned away the stone, and sat thereon. (And behold! there was a great earthquake; for the angel of the Lord came down from heaven, and approached, and rolled away the stone, and then sat on it.)

<sup>3</sup> And his looking was as lightning, and his clothes (were as)[white] as snow;

<sup>4</sup> and for dread of him the keepers were afeared, and they were made as dead men. (and the guards were greatly afraid of him, and they were made like dead men.)

<sup>5</sup> But the angel answered, and said to the women, Do not ye dread (or Do not fear), for I know that ye seek Jesus, that was crucified;

<sup>6</sup> he is not here, for he is risen, as he said (he would be); come ye, and see ye the place, where the Lord was laid.

- <sup>7</sup> And (now) go ye soon, and say ye to his disciples, that he is risen. And lo! he shall go before you into Galilee; there ye shall see him. Lo! I have before-said to you.
- <sup>8</sup> And they went out soon from the burials [or from the sepulchre], with dread, and great joy, running to tell to his disciples. (And they went out quickly from the tomb, with fearful reverence, and great joy, running to tell his disciples.)
- <sup>9</sup> And lo! Jesus met them, and said, Hail ye. And they nighed [or And they came to (him)], and held his feet, and worshipped him.
- <sup>10</sup> Then Jesus said to them, Do not ye dread (or Do not fear); go ye, tell ye to my brethren, that they (should) go into Galilee; there they shall see me.
- <sup>11</sup> And when they were gone, lo! some of the keepers came into the city, and told to the princes of (the) priests all (the) things that were done. (And when they were gone, behold! some of the guards came into the city, and told the high priests all the things that were done, or about everything that had happened.)
- <sup>12</sup> And when they were gathered together with the elder men, and had taken their counsel, they gave to the knights much money, (And when they were gathered together with the elders, and had made their plan, they gave the soldiers a lot of money,)
- $^{13}$  and said, Say ye, that his disciples came by night, and have stolen him, while ye slept.

<sup>14</sup> And if this be heard of the justice [or of the president], we shall counsel him, and make you secure. (And if this be heard by the Governor, we shall talk with him, and keep you safe.)

15 And when the money was taken, they did, as they were taught, (or they did, as they were told). And this word is published among the Jews, till into this day.

- <sup>16</sup> And the eleven disciples went into Galilee, into an hill (or up onto a hill), where Jesus had ordained to them.
  - <sup>17</sup> And they saw him, and worshipped (him); but some of them doubted.

18 And Jesus came nigh, and spake to them, and said, All power in heaven and in earth is given to me.

<sup>19</sup> Therefore go ye, and teach all folks, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; (And so go, and teach all the nations and all the peoples, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit;)

<sup>20</sup> teaching them to keep all (the) things, whatever things I have commanded to you; and lo! I am with you in all days, into the end of the world. (teaching them to obey everything, whatever I have commanded to you; and behold! I am with you always, unto the end of the world.)

MARK

- <sup>1</sup> The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God. (The beginning of the Gospel, or the Good News, of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.)
- <sup>2</sup> As it is written in Esaias, the prophet, (or As it is written by the prophet Isaiah), Lo! I send mine angel before thy face, that shall make thy way ready before thee.
- <sup>3</sup> The voice of a crier in (the) desert, Make ye ready the way of the Lord, make ye his paths right. [The voice of one crying in (the) desert, Make ye ready the way of the Lord, make ye his paths rightful.]
- <sup>4</sup> John was in (the) desert baptizing, and preaching the baptism of penance, into (the) remission of sins. (John was in the desert baptizing, and preaching the baptism of repentance, for the forgiveness of sins.)
- <sup>5</sup> And all the country of Judea went out to him, and all (the) men of Jerusalem; and they were baptized of him in the flume of Jordan, [or in the flood of Jordan], (or and they were baptized by him in the Jordan River), acknowledging their sins.
- <sup>6</sup> And John was clothed with hairs of camels, and a girdle of skin was about his loins; and he ate honeysuckles, and wild honey, [or and he ate locusts, and honey of the wood],
- <sup>7</sup> and preached, and said, A stronger than I shall come after me, and I am not worthy to kneel down, and unloose, [or to undo, or unbind], [the thong of] his shoes.
- <sup>8</sup>I have baptized you in water; but he shall baptize you in the Holy Ghost (or but he shall baptize you with the Holy Spirit).
- <sup>9</sup> And it was done in those days, Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in (the) Jordan (or and was baptized by John in the Jordan River).
- <sup>10</sup> And anon he went up (out) of the water, and saw (the) heavens opened, and the Holy Ghost [or the (Holy) Spirit] coming down as a culver, and dwelling on him. (And at once he went up out of the water, and saw the heavens opened, and the Holy Spirit coming down like a dove, and remaining on him.)
- $^{11}$  And a voice was made from (the) heavens, Thou art my *(be)*loved Son, in thee I am pleased.
- <sup>12</sup> And anon the Spirit put him forth into (the) desert. (And at once the Spirit led him forth into the desert.)
- <sup>13</sup> And he was in (the) desert forty days and forty nights, and was tempted of Satan, and he was with beasts, and angels ministered to him. (And he was in the desert for forty days and forty nights, and was tested by Satan, and he was with beasts, and angels served him.)
- <sup>14</sup> But after that John was taken, Jesus came into Galilee, and preached the gospel of the kingdom of God, (But after that John was taken captive, Jesus came to Galilee, and preached the Gospel, or the Good News, of the Kingdom of God,)
- <sup>15</sup> and said, That the time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God shall come nigh; do ye penance [or forthink ye], and believe ye to the gospel. (and

- said, The time is fulfilled, and the Kingdom of God hath come near; repent, and believe the Gospel or the Good News.)
- <sup>16</sup> And as he passed beside the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew, his brother, casting their nets into the sea; for they were fishers. (And as he walked beside Lake Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew, his brother, throwing their nets into the lake; for they were fishermen.)
- $^{17}$  And Jesus said to them, Come ye after me; I shall make you to be made fishers of men.
- <sup>18</sup> And anon they left the nets, and (pur)sued him. (And at once they left their nets, and followed him.)
- <sup>19</sup> And he went forth from thence a little, and saw James of Zebedee, and John, his brother, in a boat making their nets.
- <sup>20</sup> And anon (or at once) he called them; and they left Zebedee, their father, in the boat with (the) hired servants, and they (pur)sued him (or and they followed him).
- <sup>21</sup> And they entered into Capernaum, and anon in the sabbaths (or and at once on the Sabbath), he went into the synagogue, and taught them.
- <sup>22</sup> And they wondered on his teaching; for he taught them, as he that had power, and not as [the] scribes.
- <sup>23</sup> And in the synagogue of them was a man in an unclean spirit, and he cried out, (And in their synagogue was a man with an unclean spirit, and he cried out,)
- <sup>24</sup> and said, What to us and to thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? hast thou come to destroy us? I know that thou art the holy (One) of God.
- <sup>25</sup> And Jesus threatened him, and said, Wax [thou] dumb (or Be silent), and go out of the man.
- $^{26}\,\text{And}$  the unclean spirit wrenching him, and crying with a great voice, went out from him.
- <sup>27</sup> And all men wondered, so that they sought within themselves, and said, (or so that they asked among themselves, and said), What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for in power he commandeth to unclean spirits, and they obey to him.
- <sup>28</sup> And the fame, [or the tale, or (the) tiding(s)], of him went forth anon into all the country of Galilee. (And the story about him went forth at once throughout all the province of Galilee.)
- <sup>29</sup> And anon (or at once) they went out of the synagogue, and came into the house of Simon and of Andrew, with James and John.
- <sup>30</sup> And the mother of Simon's wife lay sick in the fevers; and anon they say to him of her (or and at once they told him about her).
- <sup>31</sup> And he came nigh, and areared her [up], and when he had taken her hand, anon the fever left her (or at once the fever left her), and she served them.
- <sup>32</sup> But when the eventide was come, and the sun was gone down, they brought to him all that were of mal-ease, and them that had fiends. [Forsooth the evening made, when the sun went down, they brought to him all having evil, and having devils.](But when the evening had come, and the sun had gone down, they brought to him all who were sick, and those who had demons.)
  - <sup>33</sup> And all the city was gathered at the gate.

- <sup>34</sup> And he healed many, that had diverse sicknesses, and he cast out many fiends [or devils], and he suffered them not to speak, for they knew him. (And he healed many, who had various sicknesses, and he threw out many demons, and he did not allow them to speak, for they knew who he was.)
- <sup>35</sup> And he rose full early [or in the morrowing], (or And he rose early in the morning), and went out, and went into a desert place, and prayed there.
- <sup>36</sup> And Simon *(pur)*sued him (or And Simon followed him), and they that were with him.
- $^{37}$  And when they had found him, they said to him, That all men seek thee.
- <sup>38</sup> And he said to them, Go we into the next towns and cities, that I preach also there, for thereto [or to (or for) this thing] I came. (And he said to them, Let us go to the next towns and cities, so that I can also preach there, for I came for this purpose.)
- <sup>39</sup> And he preached in the synagogues of them, and in all Galilee, and casted out fiends. (And he preached in their synagogues, and throughout all of Galilee, and threw out devils and demons.)
- <sup>40</sup> And a leprous man came to him, and besought [him], kneeling, and said, If thou wilt, thou mayest cleanse me, (or If thou desirest it, or If thou want to do it, thou can cleanse me).
- 41 And Jesus had mercy on him, and stretched out his hand, and touched him, and said to him, I will, be thou made clean.

- $^{42}$  And when he had said this, anon (or at once) the leprosy parted away from him [or anon the leprosy went away from him], and he was cleansed.
- <sup>43</sup> And Jesus threatened (or warned) him, and anon (or at once) put him out,
- 44 and said to him, See thou, say to no man; but go, show thee to the prince of (the) priests, and offer for thy cleansing into witnessing to them, those things that Moses bade. (and said to him, See that thou tell no one; but go, show thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing as a testimony to them, those things that Moses commanded.)
- <sup>45</sup> And he went out, and began to preach, and to publish the word, so that now he might not go openly into the city, but be withoutforth in (the) desert places; and they came to him on all sides.

- $^{1}$  And again he entered into Capernaum, after eight days. And it was heard, that he was in an house,
- <sup>2</sup> and many came together, so that they might not be in the house, nor at the gate. And he spake to them the word.
- <sup>3</sup> And there came to him men that brought a man sick in the palsy, which was borne of four [men]. [And there came to him men bringing or bearing a sick man in palsy, the which was borne of four men.](And there came to him men that brought a man sick with palsy, who was carried by four men.)
- <sup>4</sup> And when they might not bring him to Jesus for the people, they uncovered the roof where he was, and [they] opened it, and they let down the bed in which the sick man in palsy lay.
- <sup>5</sup> And when Jesus had seen the faith of them, he said to the sick man in palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven to thee.

- <sup>6</sup> But there were some of the scribes sitting (there), and thinking in their hearts,
- <sup>7</sup> What speaketh he thus? He blasphemeth; who may forgive sins, [no] but God alone? (Why speaketh he thus? He blasphemeth; for who can forgive sins, except God alone?)
- <sup>8</sup> And [anon] when Jesus had known this by the Holy Ghost, that they thought so within themselves, he saith to them, What think ye these things in your hearts? (And at once when Jesus had known this by the Holy Spirit, that they thought so within themselves, he said to them, Why think these things in your hearts?)
- <sup>9</sup> What is lighter (or is easier) to say to the sick man in palsy, Sins be forgiven to thee, or to say, Rise (up), take thy bed, and walk?
- <sup>10</sup> But (so) that ye know that man's Son hath power in earth (or on the earth) to forgive sins, he said to the sick man in palsy,
  - <sup>11</sup> I say to thee, rise up, take thy bed, and go into thine house.
- <sup>12</sup> And anon he rose up, and when he had taken the bed, he went before all men, so that all men wondered, and honoured God, and said, For we saw never so. (And at once he rose up, and when he had taken the bed, he went forth before everyone, so that everyone wondered, and worshipped God, and said, For we have never seen anything like this.)
- $^{13}$  And he went out again to the sea, and all the people came to him; and he taught them.
- <sup>14</sup> And when he passed (by), he saw Levi of Alphaeus sitting at the tollbooth, and he said to him, (Pur)Sue me. And he rose, and (pur)sued him. (And when he passed by, he saw Levi of Alphaeus sitting at the tollbooth, and he said to him, Follow me. And he rose, and followed him.)
- <sup>15</sup> And it was done, when he sat at the meat in his house, many publicans and sinful men sat together at the meat with Jesus and his disciples; for there were many that followed him. (And it was done, when he sat at a meal in his house, many tax-collectors and sinners sat there at the meal with Jesus and his disciples; for there were many that followed him.)
- <sup>16</sup> And (the) scribes and (the) Pharisees seeing, that he ate with publicans and sinful men, said to his disciples, Why eateth and drinketh your master with publicans and sinners? (And the scribes and the Pharisees seeing, that he ate with tax-collectors and sinners, said to his disciples, Why eateth and drinketh your teacher with tax-collectors and sinners?)
- <sup>17</sup> When this was heard, Jesus said to them, Whole men have no need to a leech, (no) but they that be evil-at-ease (do), [or (no) but they that have evil (do)], (Healthy men have no need for a physician, only those who have sickness); for I came not to call just men, but sinners.
- <sup>18</sup> And the disciples of John and the Pharisees were fasting; and they came, and said to him, Why fast the disciples of John, and the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?
- <sup>19</sup> And Jesus said to them, Whether the sons of the spousals [or of the weddings] may fast, as long as the spouse is with them? As long (a) time as they have the spouse with them, they may not fast, (or they cannot fast, or they shall not fast).
- <sup>20</sup> But (the) days shall come, when the spouse shall be taken away from them, and then they shall fast in those days.

- <sup>21</sup> No man seweth a patch of new cloth to an old cloth, else he taketh away the new patch from the old, and a more breaking is made. (No one seweth a patch of new cloth onto an old cloak, because the new patch will tear away from the old, and a bigger hole will be made.)
- <sup>22</sup> And no man putteth new wine into old bottles, else the wine shall burst the bottles, and the wine shall be shed out, and the bottles shall perish. But new wine shall be put into new bottles. [And no man putteth new wine into old wine vessels, else the wine shall burst or shall break the wine vessels, and the wine shall be poured out, and the wine vessels shall perish. But new wine oweth (or ought) to be put into new wine vessels.]
- <sup>23</sup> And it was done again, when the Lord walked in the sabbaths by the corns (or when the Lord walked through a cornfield on the Sabbath), and his disciples began to pass forth [or to go forth], and [to] pluck (the) ears of the corn.
- <sup>24</sup> And the Pharisees said to him, Lo! what thy disciples do in the sabbaths, that is not leaveful. (And the Pharisees said to him, Behold! what thy disciples do on the Sabbath, that is not lawful.)
- <sup>25</sup> And he said to them, Read ye never what David did, when he had need, and he hungered, and they that were with him?
- <sup>26</sup> How he went into the house of God, under Abiathar, (the) prince of (the) priests, and ate (the) loaves of proposition, [either of setting forth], which it was not leaveful to eat, [no] but to (the) priests alone, and he gave to them that were with him. (How he went into the House of God, under the High Priest Abiathar, and ate the loaves of proposition, or the showbread, which it was not lawful to eat, except for the priests, and he gave some to those who were with him.)
- <sup>27</sup> And he said to them, The sabbath is made for man, and not man for the sabbath:
  - <sup>28</sup> and so man's Son is Lord also of the sabbath.

- <sup>1</sup> And he entered again into the synagogue, and there was a man having a dry hand.
- <sup>2</sup> And they espied him, if he healed in the sabbaths (or on the Sabbath), to accuse him.
- <sup>3</sup> And he said to the man that had a dry hand, Rise [thou] into the middle, (or Stand here in our midst, or Stand before us).
- <sup>4</sup> And he saith to them, Is it leaveful to do well in the sabbaths, either evil? to make a soul safe, either to lose? And they were still. (And he said to them, Is it lawful to do good on the Sabbath, or evil? to save a soul or a life, or to destroy it? And they were silent.)
- <sup>5</sup> And he beheld them about with wrath, and had sorrow on the blindness of their heart(s), and saith to the man, Hold forth thine hand. And he held (it) forth, and his hand was restored to him.
- <sup>6</sup> Soothly [the] Pharisees went out anon, and made a counsel with (the) Herodians against him, how they should lose him. (And the Pharisees went out at once, and took counsel, or made a plan, with the Herodians against him, how they could destroy him.)
- <sup>7</sup> But Jesus with his disciples went to the sea; and much people from Galilee and from Judea (pur)sued him (or and many people from Galilee and Judea followed him), <sup>8</sup> and from Jerusalem, and from Idumaea, and from beyond (the) Jordan (River), and they that were about Tyre and Sidon, (yea), a great multitude, hearing the things that he did, came to him.

<sup>9</sup> And Jesus said to his disciples, that the boat should serve him, for the people, lest they thrust him [or lest they oppressed him];

<sup>10</sup> for he healed many, so that they felled fast to him, to touch him. And how many ever had sicknesses, [or sores, or wounds],

<sup>11</sup> and unclean spirits, when they saw him, felled down to him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God.

- <sup>12</sup> And greatly he menaced them, that they should not make him known. (And he greatly threatened them, so that they would not make him known.)
- <sup>13</sup> And he went (up) into an hill (or And he went up onto a hill), and called to him whom he would; and they came to him.
- <sup>14</sup> And he made, that there were twelve with him, to send them (out) to preach.
- <sup>15</sup> And he gave to them power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out fiends (or and to throw out devils and demons).

<sup>16</sup> And to Simon he gave a name, Peter,

- <sup>17</sup> and he called James of Zebedee and John, the brother of James, and he gave to them (the) names of Boanerges, that is, the sons of thundering [or the sons of thunder].
- <sup>18</sup> And he called Andrew and Philip, and Bartholomew and Matthew, and Thomas, and James [of] Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus, and Simon Canaanite,
  - <sup>19</sup> and Judas Iscariot, that betrayed him. And they came to an house,
- <sup>20</sup> and the people came together again, so that they might not eat bread. (and so many people came together there, that they could not even eat any food.)
- <sup>21</sup> And when his kinsmen had heard, they went out to (take) hold (of) him; for they said, that he is turned into madness. (And when his family had heard, they went out to take hold of him; for people said, that he had gone mad.)
- <sup>22</sup> And the scribes that came down from Jerusalem, said, That he hath Beelzebub, and that in the prince of devils he casteth out fiends. (And the scribes who came down from Jerusalem, said, He hath Beelzebub, and by the Prince of demons he throweth out demons.)
- <sup>23</sup> And he called them together, and he said to them in parables, How may Satan cast out Satan? (or How can Satan throw out Satan?)
- $^{24}$ And if a realm be parted against itself, that realm may not stand. (And if a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.)
  - <sup>25</sup> And if an house be parted against itself, that house may not stand.
- <sup>26</sup> And if Satan hath risen against himself, he is parted (or he is divided), and he shall not be able to stand, but hath an end.
- <sup>27</sup> No man may go into a strong man's house, and take away his vessels, [no] but he bind first the strong man (or unless he first bind the strong man), and then he shall spoil his house, [or he shall ravish, (or he shall rob), his house].
- <sup>28</sup> Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), that all sins and blasphemies, by which they have blasphemed, shall be forgiven to the sons of men.
- <sup>29</sup> But he that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost, hath not remission into without end, but he shall be guilty of everlasting trespass. (But he who blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit, shall never be forgiven, for he shall be guilty of eternal sin.)

- <sup>30</sup> For they said, He hath an unclean spirit. (For people said, He hath an unclean spirit.)
- <sup>31</sup> And (so) his mother and his brethren came, and stood withoutforth, and sent to him, and called him.
- 32 And the people sat about him; and they said to him, Lo! thy mother and thy brethren withoutforth seek thee.
- 33 And he answered to them, and said, Who is my mother and my brethren?
- <sup>34</sup> And he beheld them that sat about him, and said, Lo! my mother and my brethren.
- <sup>35</sup> For who that doeth the will of God, he is my brother, and my sister, and (my) mother.

- <sup>1</sup> And again Jesus began to teach at the sea; and much people was gathered to him, so that he went into a boat, and sat in the sea, and all the people was about the sea on the land.
- <sup>2</sup> And he taught them in parables many things. And he said to them in his teaching.
- <sup>3</sup> Hear ye. Lo! a man sowing goeth out to sow, [or Lo! a sower went out to sow].
- <sup>4</sup> And while he soweth, some seed felled about the way [or beside the way], and (the) birds of (the) heaven(s), [or the birds of the air], came, and ate it.
- <sup>5</sup> Other felled down on stony places, where it had not much earth; and anon it sprang up (or and at once it sprouted), for it had not (any) deepness of earth [or for it had no deepness of earth].
- <sup>6</sup> And when the sun rose up, it withered for heat, and it dried up, for it had no root(s).
- <sup>7</sup> And other felled down into thorns, and [the] thorns sprang up, and strangled it, and it gave no fruit.
- <sup>8</sup> And other felled down into good land, and gave fruit, springing up, and waxing (or growing); and one brought (forth) thirtyfold, and one sixtyfold, and one an hundredfold.
- <sup>9</sup> And he said, He that hath ears of hearing, hear he. [And he said, He that hath ears to hear, hear.]
- 10 And when he was by himself, the twelve that were with him asked him to expound the parable.
- <sup>11</sup> And he said to them, To you it is given to know the private [or the mystery] of the kingdom of God (or To you it is given to know the secret of the Kingdom of God). But to them that be withoutforth, all things be made in parables,
- 12 (so) that they seeing see, and see not, and they hearing hear, and understand not; lest sometime they be converted, and (their) sins be forgiven to them.
- $^{1\bar{3}}$  And he said to them, Know not ye this parable? and how ye shall know all parables? (And he said to them, Do ye not understand this parable? then how shall ye understand any parable?)
  - <sup>14</sup> He that soweth, soweth a word.

- <sup>15</sup> But these it be that be about the way, where the word is sown; and when they have heard, anon cometh Satan (or at once Satan cometh), and taketh away the word that is sown in their hearts.
- <sup>16</sup> And in like manner be these that be sown on stony places, which when they have heard the word, anon they take it with joy (or at once they receive it with joy);
- <sup>17</sup> and they have not root in themselves, but they be lasting (but) a little time [or but they be temporal]; afterward when tribulation riseth, and persecution for the word, anon (or at once) they be caused to stumble.
- <sup>18</sup> And there be others that be sown in thorns; these it be, that hear the word.
- <sup>19</sup> and dis-ease of the world, and deceit of riches, and other charge of covetousness entereth (or and the burden of envy entereth), and strangleth the word, and it is made without fruit.
- <sup>20</sup> And these it be that be sown on good land, which hear the word, and take (it), (or and receive it), and make fruit, one thirtyfold, and one sixtyfold, and one an hundredfold.
- $^{21}$  And he said to them, Whether a lantern cometh, that it be put under a bushel, or under a bed? nay, but that it be put on a candlestick?
- <sup>22</sup> There is nothing hid, that shall not be made open [or that shall not be showed]; neither anything is privy, that shall not come into (the) open. (There is nothing hidden, that shall not be made open or revealed; nor is anything private, or kept secret, that shall not be brought out into the open.)
  - <sup>23</sup> If any man have ears of hearing, hear he.
- <sup>24</sup> And he said to them, See ye what ye hear. In what measure ye mete, it shall be meted to you again, and it shall be cast to you (or By which measure ye measure, it shall be measured unto you again, yea, it shall be thrown unto you).
- <sup>25</sup> For it shall be given to him that hath, and it shall be taken away from him that hath not, also that that he hath. [Forsooth it shall be given to him that hath, and if a man hath not, yea this that he hath shall be taken away from him.]
- <sup>26</sup> And he said, So the kingdom of God is, as if a man cast seed into the earth,
- <sup>27</sup> and he sleep, and it rise up night and day, and bring forth seed, and wax fast (or grow fast), while he knoweth not.
- <sup>28</sup> For the earth [by his own working, or by his own will], (or by its own working, or by its own will), maketh fruit, first the grass, afterward the ear, and after[ward] full fruit in the ear.
- <sup>29</sup> And when of itself it hath brought forth fruit, anon (or at once) he sendeth a sickle, for reaping time is come.
- <sup>30</sup> And he said, To what thing shall we liken the kingdom of God? or to what parable shall we comparison it?
- <sup>31</sup> As a corn of sinapi, (or Like a kernel, or a grain, of mustard seed), which when it is sown in the earth, is less than all (the) seeds that be in the earth;
- <sup>32</sup> and when it is sprung up, it waxeth into a tree (or it groweth into a tree), and is made greater than all (the) herbs; and it maketh great branches, so that [the] birds of (the) heaven(s) may dwell under the shadow thereof (or so that the birds of the air can live under its shadow).

- 33 And in many such parables he spake to them the word, as they might hear (or as much as they could understand);
- <sup>34</sup> and he spake not to them without parable(s). But he expounded to his disciples all things by themselves.
- 35 And he said to them in that day, when evening was come, Pass we again-ward. (And he said to them on that day, when the evening had come, Let us go over to the other side of Lake Galilee.)

<sup>36</sup> And they left the people (or And they let the people go), and took him, so that he was in a boat; and other boats were with him.

- <sup>37</sup> And a great storm [or a tempest] of wind was made, and cast waves into the boat, so that the boat was full/-filled], (or so that the boat was filled
- 38 And he was in the hinder part of the boat, and slept on a pillow. And they raised him, and said to him, Master, (or Teacher), pertaineth it not to thee, that we perish?
- <sup>39</sup> And he rose up, and menaced the wind (or and threatened the wind), and said to the sea, Be still, wax dumb. And the wind ceased, and great peaceableness was made.
- <sup>40</sup> And he said to them, What dread ye? (or Why fear ye?) Yet ye have no faith?/Ye have not faith yet? [or Not yet have ye faith?]
- 41 And they dreaded with great dread (or And they feared with a great fear), and said to each other, Who, guessest thou, is this? for the wind and the sea obey to him.

- <sup>1</sup> And they came over the sea into the country of Gadarenes.
- <sup>2</sup> And after that he was gone out of the boat, anon a man in an unclean spirit ran out of the burials (or out from the graves) to him. (And after that he had gotten out of the boat, at once a man with an unclean spirit ran out from the tombs to him.)
- <sup>3</sup> Which man had an house in (the) burials [or in (the) graves], and neither with chains now might any man bind him. (And this man lived among the tombs, and now no man could bind or restrain him, not even with chains.)
- <sup>4</sup> For oft times he was bound in stocks and chains, and he had broken the chains, and had broken the stocks to small gobbets (or and had broken the stocks into small pieces), and no man might make him tame [or and no man might tame him].
- <sup>5</sup> And (for)evermore, night and day, in (the) burials, and in (the) hills, he was crying and beating himself with stones. (And always, night and day, among the tombs, and in the hills, he was crying and beating himself with stones.)
- <sup>6</sup> And he saw Jesus afar, and ran, and worshipped him. (And he saw Jesus from afar, and ran over, and honoured him.)
- <sup>7</sup> And he cried with (a) great voice, and said, What to me and to thee, thou Jesus, the Son of the highest God? I conjure thee (or I adjure thee) by God, that thou torment me not.
  - <sup>8</sup> And Jesus said to him, Thou unclean spirit, go out from the man.
- <sup>9</sup> And Jesus asked him, What is thy name? And he saith to him, A legion is my name; for we be many.

- <sup>10</sup> And he prayed Jesus much, that he should not put them out of the country. (And he greatly beseeched Jesus, that he would not send them out of the province.)
- <sup>11</sup> And there was there about the hill a great flock of swine [or a great drove of hogs] pasturing. (And there was there about the hill a great herd of pigs at pasture.)
- <sup>12</sup> And the spirits prayed Jesus, and said, Send us into the swine, [or Send us into the hogs], (or Send us into the pigs), (so) that we enter into them.
- <sup>13</sup> And anon Jesus granted (that) to them. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine [or (and) into the hogs], and with a great rush the flock was cast headlong into the sea, a two thousand, and they were drenched in the sea. (And at once Jesus granted that to them. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the pigs, and with a great rush the herd was thrown headlong into the lake, about two thousand of them, and they were drowned in the lake.)
- <sup>14</sup> And they that kept (watch over) them, fled [or Soothly they that fed them, fled], and told into the city, and into the fields; and they went out, to see what was done.
- <sup>15</sup> And they came to Jesus, and saw him that had been travailed of the fiend, sitting clothed, and of whole mind; and they dreaded. (And they came to Jesus, and saw him who had been troubled by the demon, sitting clothed, and being of whole mind; and they had fear, or and they were afraid.)
- <sup>16</sup> And they that saw, how it was done to him that had a fiend (or how it was done to him who had a demon), and of the swine [or and of the hogs], told to them.
- <sup>17</sup> And they began to pray him, that he should go away from their coasts. (And they beseeched him, that he would go away from their coasts.)
- <sup>18</sup> And when he went up into a boat, he that was travailed of the devil, began to pray him, that he should be with him. (And when he went up into the boat, he who was troubled by the demon, beseeched him, that he would go with him.)
- <sup>19</sup> But Jesus received him not, but said to him, Go thou into thine house to thine, and tell to them, how great things the Lord hath done to thee, and had mercy of thee. (But Jesus would not take him, but said to him, Go back to thine house or thy family, yea, unto thine, and tell them what great things the Lord hath done for thee, and how he had mercy on thee.)
- <sup>20</sup> And he went forth, and began to preach in Decapolis, how great things Jesus had done to him (or what great things Jesus had done for him); and all men wondered.
- <sup>21</sup> And when Jesus had gone up into the boat again over the sea, much people came together to him, and was about (or beside) the sea.
- <sup>22</sup> And one of the princes of [the] synagogues (or And one of the leaders of one of the synagogues), by name Jairus, came, and saw him, and he fell down at his feet,
- <sup>23</sup> and prayed him much, and said, My daughter is nigh dead; come thou, put thine hand on her, that she be safe, and live. (and greatly beseeched him, and said, My daughter is near death; come thou, put thine hand on her, so that she can be saved, and live, or so that she can be healed, and live.)

- <sup>24</sup> And he went forth with him, and much people (pur)sued him, and thrust, either oppressed, him. (And he went with him, and many people followed him, and pressed him.)
- <sup>25</sup> And a woman that had been in the bloody flux (for) twelve years, [And a woman that was in the flux of blood (for) twelve years,](And a woman who had a flowing, or an issue, of blood for twelve years,)
- <sup>26</sup> and had received many things of full many leeches, and had spended all her good(s), (or and had received many treatments from a great many physicians, and had spent all her money), and was nothing amended [or and (had) nothing profited], but was rather the worse,
- <sup>27</sup> when she had heard of Jesus, she came among the people behind, and touched his cloth (or and touched his cloak).
- $^{28}$  For she said, That if I touch yea his cloth, I shall be safe. (For she said to herself, If I touch even his cloak, then I shall be saved, or I shall be healed.)
- <sup>29</sup> And anon (or at once) the well of her blood was dried up, and she feeled in her body that she was healed of the sickness.
- <sup>30</sup> And anon Jesus knew in himself the virtue that was gone out of him (or And at once Jesus knew in himself that power had gone out of him), and he turned to the people, and said, Who touched my clothes?
- <sup>31</sup> And his disciples said to him, Thou seest the people thrusting [or pressing] thee, and sayest, Who touched me?
  - <sup>32</sup> And Jesus looked about to see her that had done this thing.
- <sup>33</sup> And the woman dreaded, and quaked, (or And the woman was afraid, and shook), witting that it was done in her, and came, and felled down before him, and said to him all the truth. [Forsooth the woman dreading, and trembling, knowing that it was done in her, came, and fell down before him, and said to him all the truth.]
- <sup>34</sup> And Jesus said to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee safe; go in peace, and be thou whole of thy sickness. (And Jesus said to her, Daughter, thy faith hath saved thee, or thy faith hath healed thee; go in peace, and be thou healed of thy sickness.)
- <sup>35</sup> Yet while he spake, messengers came to the prince of the synagogue (or messengers came to the leader of the synagogue), and said, Thy daughter is dead; what travailest thou the master (or the teacher) further?
- <sup>36</sup> But when the word was heard that was said, Jesus said to the prince of the synagogue, Do not thou dread, only believe thou. (But when this word was heard that was said, Jesus said to the leader of the synagogue, Do not fear, only believe.)
- <sup>37</sup> And he took no man to (pur)sue him (or And he allowed no one to follow him), but Peter, and James, and John, the brother of James.
- <sup>38</sup> And they came into the house of the prince of the synagogue. And he saw noise, and men weeping and wailing much. (And they came into the house of the leader of the synagogue. And he saw a commotion, with people loudly weeping and wailing.)
- <sup>39</sup> And he went in, and said to them, What be ye troubled (about), and weep? (or Why be ye troubled, and weep?) The damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.

- <sup>40</sup> And they scorned him. But when (they) all were put out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and they entered, where the damsel lay.
- <sup>41</sup> And he held the hand of the damsel, and said to her, Talitha, cumi, that is to say, Damsel, I say to thee, arise.
- $^{42}$  And anon the damsel rose (or And at once the young girl rose), and walked; and she was of twelve years. And they were abashed with a great astonishing.
- <sup>43</sup> And he commanded to them greatly, that no man should know it. And he commanded (them) to give her meat [or And he commanded (them) to give to her (something) to eat].

- $^{\rm 1}\,{\rm And}$  he went out from thence, and went into his own country; and his disciples followed him.
- <sup>2</sup> And when the sabbath was come, Jesus began to teach in a synagogue. And many heard him, and wondered in his teaching (or and wondered about his teaching), and said, Of whence cometh to this [man] all these things? and what is the wisdom that is given to him, and such virtues, (or such works of power, or such miracles), which be made by his hands?
- <sup>3</sup> Whether this is not a carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James and of Joseph and of Judas and of Simon? whether his sisters be not here with us? And they were offended in him, (or And they were offended by him, or they were contemptuous of him).
- <sup>4</sup> And Jesus said to them, That a prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his kin, and in his house. (And Jesus said to them, A prophet is not without honour, except in his own hometown, and among his kin, and his family.)
- <sup>5</sup> And he might not do there any virtue, save that he healed a few sick men, laying on them his hands. (And he could not do any work of power or miracle there, except that he healed a few sick men, laying his hands on them.)
- <sup>6</sup> And he wondered for the unbelief of them. And he went about (the) castles on each side, and taught. (And he wondered at their unbelief. And he went about the villages on each side, and taught.)
- <sup>7</sup> And he called together (the) twelve, and began to send them by two together; and gave to them power of unclean spirits (or and gave them power over unclean spirits),
- <sup>8</sup> and commanded (to) them, that they should not take anything in the way, (or that they should not take anything on the way, or for the journey), but a staff [or a rod] only, not a scrip, nor bread, neither money in the girdle,
- <sup>9</sup> but shod with sandals, and that they should not be clothed with two
- <sup>10</sup> And he said to them, Whither ever ye enter into an house, dwell ye there, till ye go out from thence.
- <sup>11</sup> And whoever receive you not, nor hear you, go ye out from thence, and shake away the powder from your feet, into witnessing to them. (And whoever will not receive you, or listen to you, go ye out from there, and shake off the dust from your feet, as a testimony against them.)

- $^{12}$  And they went forth, and preached, that men should do penance (or that men should repent).
- <sup>13</sup> And they casted out many fiends (or And they threw out many devils and demons), and anointed with oil many sick men, and they were healed.
- <sup>14</sup> And king Herod heard, for his name was made open, and he said, That John (the) Baptist hath risen again from death, and therefore virtues work in him. (And King Herod heard about this, for Jesus' fame had spread far and wide, and he said, John the Baptist hath risen again from the dead, and so works of power, or miracles, work in him.)
- <sup>15</sup> Others said, That it is Elias (or He is Elijah); but others said, That it is a prophet, as one of the prophets.
- <sup>16</sup> And when this thing was heard, Herod said, This is John, whom I have beheaded, he is risen again from death (or he hath risen from the dead).
- <sup>17</sup> For that Herod sent (for), and held John, and bound him into prison, for Herodias, the wife of Philip, his brother; for he had wedded her.
- <sup>18</sup> For John said to Herod, It is not leaveful to thee (or It is not lawful for thee), to have the wife of thy brother.
- <sup>19</sup> And Herodias laid ambush to him, and would slay him, and might not. (And Herodias laid ambush for him, and wanted to kill him, but could find no opportunity to do so.)
- <sup>20</sup> And Herod dreaded John, and knew him a just man and holy, and kept him, (or And Herod feared John, and knew him to be a just and holy man, and kept him in custody, or And Herod revered John, and knew him to be a just and holy man, and kept him safe). And Herod heard him, and he did many things, and gladly heard him.
- <sup>21</sup> And when a covenable day was fallen, Herod in his birthday made a supper to the princes, and tribunes, and to the greatest of Galilee. (And when an opportune day had fallen, Herod held a supper on his birthday for the leaders, or the officials, and the tribunes, and for the greatest of Galilee.)
- <sup>22</sup> And when the daughter of that Herodias was come in, and danced, and pleased to Herod [or and pleased Herod], and also to (the) men that sat at the meat (or and also the men who sat at the meal), the king said to the damsel, Ask thou of me what thou wilt, and I shall give (it) to thee.
- <sup>23</sup> And he swore to her, That whatever thou ask, I shall give (it) to thee, though it be(even) half of my kingdom.
- <sup>24</sup> And when she had gone out, she said to her mother, What shall I ask (for)? And she said, The head of John [the] Baptist.
- <sup>25</sup> And when she was come in anon (or at once) with haste to the king, she asked, and said, I will that anon, (or I desire, or I want, at once), (that) thou give to me in a dish the head of John (the) Baptist.
- <sup>26</sup> And the king was sorry for the oath, and for (the) men that sat together at the meat, he would not make her sorry [or heavy]; (And the king was sorry for the promise that he had made, or for the oath that he had taken, but because of the men who sat there with him at the meal, he would not make her grieved or disappointed;)
- <sup>27</sup> but he sent a man-queller and commanded, that John's head were brought in a dish. And (so) he beheaded him in the prison,
- <sup>28</sup> and brought his head in a dish, and gave it to the damsel, and the damsel gave it to her mother.

<sup>29</sup> And when this thing was heard, his disciples came, and took his body, and laid it in a burial, (or and laid it in a tomb, or in a grave).

<sup>30</sup> And the apostles came together to Jesus, and told to him all (the) things, that they had done, and taught.

- <sup>31</sup> And he said to them, Come ye by yourselves into a desert place; and rest ye a little. For there were many that came, and went again, and they had not space [for] to eat (or and they had no time even to eat).
  - <sup>32</sup> And they went into a boat, and went into a desert place by themselves.
- <sup>33</sup> And they saw them go away (or And the people saw them go away), and many knew, and they went afoot from all (the) cities, and ran [together] thither, and came before them.
- <sup>34</sup> And Jesus went out, and saw much people, and had ruth [or mercy] on them, (or and had compassion for them), for they were as sheep not having a shepherd. And he began to teach them many things.

35 And when it was late in the day, his disciples came to him, and said,

This is a desert place, and the time is now passed;

- <sup>36</sup> let them go into the next towns and villages, to buy them(selves) meat to eat (or to buy themselves some food to eat).
- <sup>37</sup> And he answered, and said to them, Give ye (something) to them for to eat. And they said to him, Go we, and buy we loaves with two hundred pence, and (then) we shall give (something) to them for to eat.
- <sup>38</sup> And he saith to them, How many loaves have ye? Go ye, and see. And when they had known, they say, Five, and two fishes.
- <sup>39</sup> And he commanded to them, that they should make all men sit to meat by companies (or that they should make everyone to sit down for the meal in groups), on [the] green hay.
- <sup>40</sup> And they sat down by parts [or (in) parties], by hundreds, and by fifties.
- <sup>41</sup> And when he had taken the five loaves, and two fishes, he beheld into heaven, and blessed (or and gave thanks), and brake [the] loaves, and gave (them) to his disciples, (so) that they should set (them) before them. And he parted (the) two fishes to all (or And he divided the two fish among all the people);

<sup>42</sup> and all ate, and were full-filled. [and all ate, and were fulfilled.](and all ate, and were filled full.)

<sup>44</sup> And they that ate, were five thousand of men.

<sup>45</sup> And anon he made his disciples to go up into a boat, to pass before him over the sea to Bethsaida, while he left the people. (And at once he made his disciples to go up into a boat, to cross over the lake to Bethsaida ahead of him, while he let the people go, or while he dismissed the people.)

<sup>46</sup> And when he had left them, he went into an high hill, to pray. (And when he had dismissed them, or had let them go, he went up onto a high hill, or a mountain, to pray.)

<sup>47</sup> And when it was even(ing), the boat was in the middle [or in the midst] of the sea, and he alone in the land (or and he was alone on the land);

<sup>48</sup> and he saw them travailing in rowing; for the wind was contrary to them. And about the fourth waking of the night, he wandering on the sea, came to them, and would pass (by) them. (and he saw them labouring, or struggling, with the rowing; for the wind was contrary to them. And about the fourth watch of the night, he came to them, walking on the lake, and would pass by them.)

- <sup>49</sup> And as they saw him wandering on the sea (or And as they saw him walking on the lake), they guessed that it were a phantom, and cried out;
- <sup>50</sup> for (they) all saw him, and they were afraid, [or and they were troubled, or disturbed]. And anon he spake with them, and said to them, Trust ye, I am (he); do not ye dread, (or And at once he spoke with them, and said to them, Have trust, it is me; do not fear).
- <sup>51</sup> And he came up to them into the boat, and the wind ceased. And they wondered more within themselves;
  - <sup>52</sup> for they understood not of the loaves; for their heart was blinded.
- <sup>53</sup> And when they were passed over the sea (or And when they had crossed over the lake), they came into the land of Gennesaret, and setted to land.
- $^{54}\,\mathrm{And}$  when they were gone out of the boat, anon (or at once) they knew him.
- <sup>55</sup> And they ran through all that country(side), and began to bring sick men in beds on each side, where they heard that he was.
- <sup>56</sup> And whither ever he entered into villages, or into towns, or into cities, they set sick men in (the) streets, and prayed him, that they should touch namely the hem of his cloth; and how*(ever)* many that touched him, were made safe. (And wherever he entered into villages, or into towns, or into cities, they put their sick people in the streets, and beseeched him, that they could merely touch the hem of his cloak; and however many did touch him, all of them were saved, or were healed.)

- $^{\rm 1}$  And the Pharisees and some of the scribes came from Jerusalem together to him.
- <sup>2</sup> And when they had seen some of his disciples eat bread with unwashen hands, they blamed [them], (or they rebuked them).
- <sup>3</sup> For the Pharisees and all the Jews eat not, [no] but they wash often their hands, holding the traditions of (the) elder men.
- <sup>4</sup> And when they turn again from [the] market (or And when they return from the market), they eat not, [no] but they be washed; and many other things there be, that be taken to them to keep (or to obey), as (the) washing of cups, and of water vessels [or of cruets], and of vessels of brass, and of beds.
- <sup>5</sup> And (the) Pharisees and (the) scribes asked him, and said, Why go not thy disciples after the tradition(s) of (the) elder men, but with unwashen (or unwashed) hands they eat bread?
- <sup>6</sup> And he answered, and said to them, Esaias prophesied well of you, hypocrites, (or Isaiah prophesied well about you, hypocrites), as it is written, This people worshippeth me with (their) lips [or This people honoureth me with (their) lips], but their heart is far from me;
- <sup>7</sup> and in vain they worship me, teaching the doctrines and the behests [or the commandments] of men.

- <sup>8</sup> For ye leave the commandment of God, and hold (fast to) the traditions of men, as [the] washing of water vessels [or of cruets], and of cups; and many other things like these ye do.
- <sup>9</sup> And he said to them, Well ye have made the commandment of God void (or empty and useless), to keep your tradition.
- <sup>10</sup> For Moses said, Worship thy father and thy mother [or Honour thou thy father and thy mother]; and he that curseth father or mother, die he by death.
- <sup>11</sup> But ye say, If a man say to (his) father or mother, Corban, that is, Whatever gift is of me, it shall profit to thee, (or Whatever gift is for me, it shall also profit thee):
- <sup>12</sup> and over [or further(more)] ye suffer not him [to] do anything to (his) father or mother, (and more than this, ye do not allow him to do anything for his father or mother,)
- <sup>13</sup> and ye break the word of God by your tradition, that ye have given; and ye do many [other] such things.
- <sup>14</sup> And he again called the people, and said to them, Ye all hear me, and understand.
- <sup>15</sup> Nothing that is without a man, that entereth into him, may defoul him (or can defile him); but those things that come forth of a man, those it be that defoul a man.
- 16 If any man have ears of hearing, hear he. [Forsooth if any man have ears to hear, hear he.]
- <sup>17</sup> And when he was entered into an house, from the people, his disciples asked him (about) the parable.
- <sup>18</sup> And he said to them, Ye be unwise also. Understand ye not, that all thing withoutforth that entereth into a man, may not defoul him? (or Do ye not understand, that everything from outside that entereth into a man, cannot defile him?)
- <sup>19</sup> for it hath not entered into his heart, but into the womb, and beneath it goeth out, purging all meats (or cleaning out all the food).
- <sup>20</sup> But he said, The things that go out of a man, those defoul a man (or these defile a person).
- <sup>21</sup> For from within, of the heart of men come forth evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, manslayings,
- <sup>22</sup> thefts, avarices, [or covetousness, or over-hard keeping of goods], wickednesses, guile, unchastity, evil eye, blasphemies, pride, folly (or foolishness).
- <sup>23</sup> All these evils come forth from within, and defoul a man (or and defile a person).
- <sup>24</sup> And Jesus rose up from thence, and went into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon. And he went into an house, and would that no man knew; and he might not be hid. (And Jesus left there, and went to the coasts of Tyre and Sidon. And he went into a house, and wanted that no one knew that he was there; but he could not stay hidden.)
- <sup>25</sup> For a woman, anon as she heard of him (or as soon as she heard about him), whose daughter had an unclean spirit, entered, and fell down at his feet.
- <sup>26</sup> And the woman was (a) heathen, of the generation of Syrophenician. And she prayed him, that he would cast out a devil from her daughter, (or And she beseeched him, that he would throw a demon out of her daughter).

- <sup>27</sup> And he said to her, Suffer thou (or Allow) that the children be fulfilled first [or Suffer thou that the sons be filled first]; for it is not good to take the bread of children, and give [it] to hounds.
- <sup>28</sup> And she answered, and said to him, Yes, Lord; for little whelps eat under the board of the crumbs of (the) children. (And she answered him, Yes, Lord; but even little pups can eat the crumbs of the children under the table.)
- <sup>29</sup> And Jesus said to her, Go thou, for this word the fiend (or the demon) went out of thy daughter.
- <sup>30</sup> And when she was gone into her house home [or And when she had gone home/And when she had gone into her house], she found the damsel lying on the bed, and the devil gone out from her. (And when she went home, she found the young girl lying on the bed, and the demon had gone out of her.)
- <sup>31</sup> And again Jesus went out from the coasts of Tyre, and came through Sidon to the sea of Galilee, between the middle of the coasts of Decapolis.
- <sup>32</sup> And they bring to him a man deaf and dumb, and prayed him to lay his hand/s on him.
- <sup>33</sup> And he took him aside from the people, and put his fingers into his ears; and he spat, and touched his tongue.
- $^{34}$  And he beheld into heaven, and sorrowed within, and said [to him], Ephphatha, that is, Be thou opened.
- <sup>35</sup>And anon (or at once) his ears were opened, and the band of his tongue was unbound, and he spake rightly.
- <sup>36</sup> And he commanded to them, that they should say to no man; but how much he commanded to them, so much the more they preached,
- <sup>37</sup> and by so much the more they wondered, and said, He did well all things, both he hath made deaf men to hear, and dumb men to speak.

- <sup>1</sup> In those days, when much people was with Jesus, and had not what they should eat, when his disciples were called together, he said to them,
- <sup>2</sup>I have ruth on the people, for lo! now the third day they abide me, and they have not what to eat; (I have compassion for the people, for behold! now it is the third day that they be with me, and they have nothing to eat;)
- <sup>3</sup> and if I leave them fasting into their houses, they shall fail in the way; for some of them came from (a)far. (and if I let them go fasting unto their houses, they shall faint on the way; for some of them came from afar.)
- <sup>4</sup> And his disciples answered to him, Whereof shall a man be able to fill them with loaves here in (the) wilderness?
  - <sup>5</sup> And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? Which said, Seven.
- <sup>6</sup> And he commanded the people to sit down on the earth (or And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground). And he took the seven loaves, and did thankings (or and gave thanks), and brake (them), and gave (them) to his disciples, (so) that they should set (them) forth. And they setted (them) forth to the people.
- <sup>7</sup>And they had a few small fishes; and he blessed them, and commanded, that they were set forth (also).
- <sup>8</sup> And they ate, and were fulfilled, [or And they ate, and were filled]; and they took up that that was left of [the] remnants, seven baskets (full). (And they ate, and were filled full; and they gathered up the remaining pieces of food that were left, seven baskets full.)

- <sup>9</sup> And they that ate, were as four thousand of men; and he left them. (And those who ate, were four thousand people; and then he dismissed them, or and then he let them go.)
- <sup>10</sup> And anon (or at once) he went up into a boat, with his disciples, and came into the coasts of Dalmanutha.
- <sup>11</sup> And the Pharisees went out, and began to dispute with him, and asked a token of him from heaven, and tempted him. (And the Pharisees went out, and began to argue with him, and asked him for a sign from heaven, and tested him.)
- <sup>12</sup> And he sorrowing within in spirit, said, What seeketh this generation a token, [or a sign, either (a) miracle]? Truly I say to you, a token [or a sign] shall not be given to this generation. (And he sorrowing within himself, said, Why seeketh this generation a sign? I tell you the truth, a sign shall not be given to this generation.)
- <sup>13</sup> And he left them, and went up again into a boat, and went over the sea (or and went over the lake).
- <sup>14</sup> And they forgot to take bread, and they had not with them [no] but one loaf in the boat.
- <sup>15</sup> And he commanded [to] them, and said, See ye, and beware of the sourdough of the Pharisees, and of the sourdough of Herod. (And he said to them, Watch out, and beware of the yeast, or the leaven, of the Pharisees, and of the yeast, or the leaven, of Herod.)
- <sup>16</sup> And they thought, and said one to another, For we have not (brought any) loaves [or For we have not (brought any) bread].
- <sup>17</sup> And when this thing was known, Jesus said to them, What think ye, for ye have not loaves? (or Why do ye think about, or talk about, not having any bread?) Yet ye know not, neither understand; yet ye have your heart(s) blinded.
- <sup>18</sup> Ye having eyes, see not, and ye having ears, hear not; neither ye have mind (or nor ye remember),
- <sup>19</sup> when I brake five loaves among five thousand, and how many coffins full of broken meat took ye up? (or and how many baskets full of pieces of food did ye gather up?) They said to him, Twelve.
- <sup>20</sup> When also seven loaves among four thousand of men, how many baskets [full] of broken meat took ye up? (or how many baskets full of pieces of food did ye gather up?) And they say to him, Seven.
  - <sup>21</sup> And he said to them, How understand ye not yet?
- <sup>22</sup> And they came to Bethsaida, and they brought to him a blind man, and they prayed him, that he would touch him.
- <sup>23</sup> And when he had taken the blind man's hand, he led him out of the street (or he led him out of the village), and he spat into his eyes, and set his hands on him; and he asked him, if he saw anything.
  - <sup>24</sup> And he beheld, and said, I see men as trees walking (about).
- <sup>25</sup> Afterward again he set his hands on his eyes, and he began to see, and he was restored, so that he saw clearly all things (or so that he saw everything clearly).
- <sup>26</sup> And he sent him into his house, and said, Go into thine house; and if thou goest into the street, say to no man.

- <sup>27</sup> And Jesus entered [in] and his disciples, into the castles of Caesarea of Philippi. And in the way, he asked his disciples, and said to them, Whom say men that I am? (And Jesus and his disciples went to the villages of Caesarea of Philippi. And on the way, he asked his disciples, Who do people say that I am?)
- <sup>28</sup> Which answered to him, and said, Some say, John (the) Baptist; others say, Elias (or Elijah); and others say, as one of the prophets.
- <sup>29</sup> Then he saith to them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answered, and said to him, Thou art Christ (or Thou art the Messiah).
- <sup>30</sup> And he charged them, that they should not say of him to any man. (And he commanded them, that they should not say this about him to anyone.)
- <sup>31</sup> And he began to teach them, that it behooveth man's Son to suffer many things, and to be reproved of the elder men, and of the highest priests, and of the scribes, (or and to be rejected by the elders, and by the high priests, and by the scribes), and to be slain, and after three days, to rise again.
- <sup>32</sup> And he spake openly the word. And Peter took (hold of) him, and began to blame him [or And Peter taking (hold of) him, began to blame him], and said, Lord, be thou merciful to thee, for this shall not be. (And he openly spoke these words. And Peter took hold of him, and began to rebuke him, and said, Lord, be thou merciful to thyself, do not let this be, or do not let this happen.)
- <sup>33</sup> And he turned, and saw his disciples, and menaced Peter (or and threatened Peter), and said (to him), Go after me, [thou] Satan; for thou savourest not those things that be of God [or for thou understandest not those things that be of God], (no) but those things that be of men.
- <sup>34</sup> And when the people was called together, with his disciples, he said to them, If any man will come after me, deny he himself, and take his cross, and *(pur)*sue he me, [or and (pur)sue me], (or and follow me).
- <sup>35</sup> For he that will make safe his life, shall lose it, [or Soothly whoso(ever) will make his soul, that is, his life, safe, shall lose it]; and he that loseth his life for me, and for the gospel, shall make it safe. (For he who will save his life, shall lose it; and he who loseth his life for me, and for the Gospel or the Good News, shall save it.)
- <sup>36</sup> For what profiteth it to a man, if he win all the world, and do impairing to his [own] soul?
  - <sup>37</sup> or what (ex)changing shall a man give for his soul?
- <sup>38</sup> But who that acknowledgeth me and my words, in this generation adulterous and sinful (or in this sinful and adulterous generation), also man's Son shall acknowledge him, when he shall come in the glory of his Father, with his angels.

<sup>1</sup> And he said to them, Truly I say to you, that there be some men standing here, which shall not taste death, till they see the realm of God coming in virtue. (And he said to them, I tell you the truth, that there be some standing here now, who shall not taste death, before they see the Kingdom of God coming in power, or coming with power.)

- <sup>2</sup> And after six days Jesus took Peter, and James, and John, and led them by themselves alone into an high hill, (or and led only them up onto a high hill, or a mountain); and he was transfigured before them.
- <sup>3</sup> And his clothes were made full shining and (as) white as snow, which manner white clothes a fuller may not make on (the) earth.
- <sup>4</sup> And Elias with Moses appeared to them, and they spake with Jesus. (And Eliah and Moses appeared to them, and they spoke with Jesus.)
- <sup>5</sup> And Peter answered, and said to Jesus, Master, it is good (for) us to be here; and make we here three tabernacles, one to thee, one to Moses, and one to Elias. (And Peter said to Jesus, Teacher, it is good for us to be here; and we shall make here three tents, or three tabernacles, one for thee, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.)
- <sup>6</sup> For he knew not what he should say; for they were aghast by dread [or for they were afeared by dread].
- <sup>7</sup> And there was made a cloud overshadowing them; and a voice came out of the cloud, and said, This is my most dearworthy Son, hear ye him (or listen to him).
- <sup>8</sup> And anon they beheld about, and saw no more any man, [no] but Jesus only with them. (And at once they looked about, and saw no one there, except Jesus with them.)
- <sup>9</sup> And when they came down from the hill, he commanded them, that they should not tell to any man those things that they had seen, but when (or until) man's Son hath risen again from death, [+or no but when (or until) man's Son hath risen from (the) dead].
- <sup>10</sup> And they held the word at themselves (or And they held the word within themselves), seeking what this should be, when he had risen again from death [or when he hath risen from (the) dead].
- <sup>11</sup> And they asked him, and said, What then say [the] Pharisees and [the] scribes, that it behooveth Elias to come first. (And they asked him, Why then do the Pharisees and the scribes say, that it behooveth Elijah to come first.)
- <sup>12</sup> And he answered, and said to them, When Elias cometh (or When Elijah shall come), he shall first restore all things; and as it is written of man's Son, that he suffer many things, and be despised.
- <sup>13</sup> And I say to you that Elias is come, and they did to him whatever things they would, as it is written of him. (And I tell you that Eliah hath come, and they did whatever they wanted to do to him, as it is written about him.)
- <sup>14</sup> And he coming to his disciples, saw a great company about them, and [the] scribes disputing with them.
- <sup>15</sup> And anon all the people seeing Jesus, was astonied, and they dreaded; and they running to, greeted him. (And at once all the people seeing Jesus, were astonished, and they had fearful reverence; and running to him, they greeted him.)
  - <sup>16</sup> And he asked them, What (thing) dispute ye among you?
- <sup>17</sup> And one of the company answered, and said, Master, (or Teacher), I have brought to thee my son, that hath a dumb spirit;
- <sup>18</sup> and wherever he taketh him, he hurtleth him down, and he foameth, and beateth together with (his) teeth, and waxeth dry (or and then groweth

- dry). And I said to thy disciples, that they should cast him out, and they might not.
- <sup>19</sup> And he answered to them, and said, A! thou generation out of belief, [or O! thou generation unbelieveful], (or O thou unbelieving, or unfaithful, generation!), how long shall I be among you, how long shall I suffer you? Bring ye him to me.
- <sup>20</sup> And they brought him. And when he had seen him, anon the spirit troubled him (or at once the spirit troubled him); and he was thrown down to the ground, and wallowed, and foamed.
- <sup>21</sup> And he asked his father, How long is it, since this hath befallen to him? And he said, From childhood;
- <sup>22</sup> and oft he hath put him into the fire, and into water, to lose him (or to destroy him); but if thou mayest (do) anything, help us, and have mercy on us.
- <sup>23</sup> And Jesus said to him, If thou mayest believe (or If thou can believe), all things be possible to a man that believeth.
- <sup>24</sup> And anon (or And at once) the father of the child cried with tears, and said, Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief.
- <sup>25</sup> And when Jesus had seen the people running together, he menaced the unclean spirit (or he threatened the unclean spirit), and said to him, Thou deaf and dumb spirit, I command thee, go out from him, and enter no more into him.
- <sup>26</sup> And he crying, and much wrenching him, went out from him; and he was made as dead, so that many said, that he was dead.
  - <sup>27</sup> And Jesus held his hand, and lifted him up; and he rose.
- <sup>28</sup> And when he had entered into an house, his disciples asked him privily, Why might not we cast him out? (And when he had entered into a house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could we not throw him out?)
- <sup>29</sup> And he said to them, This kind in nothing may go out [or This kind may not go out in anything], [no] but in prayer and fasting. (And he said to them, This kind cannot be made to go out, except by prayer and fasting.)
- 30 And they went from thence, and went forth into Galilee; and they would not, that any man knew, [or and he would not, that any man know], (or and he did not want, that anyone knew that he was there).
- <sup>31</sup> And he taught his disciples, and said to them, For man's Son shall be betrayed into the hands of men, and they shall slay him, and he slain shall rise again on the third day.
- <sup>32</sup> And they knew not the (meaning of the) word(s), and dreaded to ask him (or and feared to ask him).
- <sup>33</sup> And they came to Capernaum. And when they were in the house, he asked them, What treated ye in the way? (or What did ye discuss on the way?)
- <sup>34</sup> And they were still; for they disputed among them[selves] in the way, who of them should be [the] greatest. (And they were silent; for they had argued among themselves on the way, who of them was the greatest.)
- <sup>35</sup> And he sat, and called the twelve, and said to them, If any man will be the first among you, he shall be the last of all, and the minister [or the servant] of all.
- <sup>36</sup> And he took a child, and set him in the middle [or in the midst] of them; and when he had embraced him, he said to them,

- $^{37}$  Whoever receiveth one of such children in my name, he receiveth me; and whoever receiveth me, he receiveth not me alone, but him that sent me.
- <sup>38</sup> John answered to him, and said, Master, we saw one casting out fiends in thy name, which (pur)sueth not us, and we have forbidden him. (John answered to him, and said, Teacher, we saw one throwing out devils and demons in thy name, and he followeth not us, and we have forbidden him.)
- <sup>39</sup> And Jesus said, Do not ye forbid him; for there is no man that doeth virtue in my name, and may soon speak evil of me. (And Jesus said, Do not forbid him; for there is no one who doeth a work of power, or a miracle, in my name, and can soon after speak evil about me.)
  - <sup>40</sup> He that is not against us, is for us.
- <sup>41</sup> And whoever giveth [to] you (even) a cup of cold water to drink in my name, for ye be of Christ, truly I say to you, he shall not lose his meed. (And whoever giveth to you even just a cup of cold water to drink in my name, for ye belong to the Messiah, I tell you the truth, he shall not lose his reward.)
- <sup>42</sup> And whoever shall cause to stumble one of these little (ones) that believe in me, it were better to him that a millstone were done about his neck, and he were cast into the sea. (And whoever shall cause one of these little ones who believe in me to stumble, it would be better for him if a millstone was put around his neck, and he was thrown into the sea.)
- <sup>43</sup> And if thine hand cause thee to stumble, cut it away; it is better to thee to enter feeble into life, (or it is better for thee to enter into (eternal) life weak, or maimed), than (to) have two hands, and (to) go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched [or into (the) fire unquenchable],
  - 44 where the worm of them dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.
- <sup>45</sup> And if thy foot cause thee to stumble, cut it off; it is better to thee to enter crooked into everlasting life, (or it is better for thee to enter into eternal life bent, or lame), than (to) have two feet, and (to) be sent into hell of fire [or into hellfire], that never shall be quenched,
  - <sup>46</sup> where the worm of them dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.
- <sup>47</sup> That if thine eye cause thee to stumble, cast it out; it is better to thee to enter goggle-eyed into the realm of God (or it is better for thee to enter into the Kingdom of God with one eye), than (to) have two eyes, and (to) be sent into hell of fire, [+or than having two eyes, to be sent into hellfire],
  - <sup>48</sup> where the worm of them dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.
- <sup>49</sup> And every man shall be salted with fire, and every slain sacrifice shall be made savoury with salt. [+Forsooth every man shall be made savoury with fire, and every slain sacrifice shall be salted with salt.]
- <sup>50</sup> Salt is good; if salt be unsavoury, in what thing shall ye make it savoury? Have ye salt among you, and have ye peace among you.

- <sup>1</sup> And Jesus rose up from thence, and came into the coasts of Judea over (the) Jordan (River), [or And Jesus rising up from thence, came into the ends of Judea beyond (the) Jordan (River)]; and again the people came together to him, and as he was wont, again he taught them.
- <sup>2</sup> And the Pharisees came [nigh], and asked him, Whether it be leaveful to a man to leave [or to forsake] his wife? and they tempted him. (And the Pharisees came near, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to leave his wife? and they tested him.)

- <sup>3</sup> And he answered, and said to them, What commanded Moses to you?
- <sup>4</sup> And they said, Moses suffered (us) to write a libel of forsaking, and to forsake. (And they said, Moses allowed us to write a bill of forsaking, or a notice of divorce, and then we be able to forsake, or to leave, a woman.)

<sup>5</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to them, For the hardness of your heart(s)

Moses wrote to you this commandment [or this precept].

<sup>6</sup> But from the beginning of creature(s), (or But from the beginning of Creation), God made them male and female:

<sup>7</sup> and said, For this thing a man shall leave his father and mother, and shall draw [or shall cleave] to his wife,

- <sup>8</sup> and they shall be twain in one flesh. And so now they be not twain, but one flesh.
- <sup>9</sup> Therefore that thing that God hath joined together, no man separate [or part].
- <sup>10</sup> And again in the house his disciples asked him of the same thing. (And in the house his disciples asked him about this same thing.)
- <sup>11</sup> And he said to them, Whoever leaveth his wife, and weddeth another, he doeth adultery on her.
- <sup>12</sup> And if the wife leave her husband, and be wedded to another, she doeth lechery [or she doeth adultery].
- <sup>13</sup> And they brought to him little children, (so) that he should touch them; and the disciples threatened the men, that brought them.
- <sup>14</sup> And when Jesus had seen them, he bare (it) heavy, and said to them, Suffer ye (the) little children to come to me (or Allow the little children to come to me), and forbid ye them not, for of such is the kingdom of God.
- <sup>15</sup> Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), whoever receiveth not the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter into it.
- <sup>16</sup> And he embraced them, and laid his hands on them, and blessed them. <sup>17</sup> And when Jesus was gone out into the way, a man ran before, and kneeled before him, and prayed him, and said, Good master, what shall I do, that I receive everlasting life? (or and said, Good Teacher, what should I do, so that I can get, or I can receive, eternal life?)
- <sup>18</sup> And Jesus said to him, What sayest thou that I am good? (or Why sayest thou that I am good?) There is no man good, but God himself, [or None is good, no but God alone].
- <sup>19</sup> Thou knowest the commandments, do thou none adultery, slay not, steal not, say not false witnessing (or do not give false testimony), do no fraud, worship thy father and thy mother (or honour thy father and thy mother).

<sup>20</sup> And he answered, and said to him, Master, (or Teacher), I have kept all these things from my youth.

- <sup>21</sup> And Jesus beheld him, and loved him, and said to him, One thing faileth to thee; go thou, and sell all (the) things that thou hast, and give (the proceeds) to poor men, and (then) thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come, *(pur)*sue thou me (or follow me).
- <sup>22</sup> And he was full sorry in the word, [or The which made sorrowful in the word], (or And he was greatly grieved by these words), and went away mourning, for he had many possessions.

- <sup>23</sup> And Jesus beheld about, and said to his disciples, How hard they that have riches [or money] shall enter into the kingdom of God.
- <sup>24</sup> And the disciples were astonied in his words (or And the disciples were astonished at his words). And Jesus again answered, and said to them, Ye little children [or Little sons], how hard it is for men that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God.
- <sup>25</sup> It is lighter (for) a camel to pass through a needle's eye [or It is easier that a camel pass through a needle's eye], than (for) a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.
- <sup>26</sup> And they wondered more, and said among themselves, And who may be saved? (or Then who can be saved?)
- <sup>27</sup> And Jesus beheld them, and said, With men it is impossible, but not with God; for all things be possible with God.
- <sup>28</sup> And Peter began to say to him, Lo! we have left all things, and have (pur)sued thee (or and have followed thee).
- <sup>29</sup> Jesus answered, and said, Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), there is no man that leaveth house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or children, or fields for me and for the gospel,
- <sup>30</sup> which shall not take an hundredfold so much now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and fields, with persecutions, and in the world to coming everlasting life [or and in the world to come everlasting life]. (who shall not now receive in this time a hundred times as much, yea, houses, and brothers, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and fields, with persecutions, and in the world to come eternal life.)
  - <sup>31</sup> But many shall be, the first the last, and the last the first.
- <sup>32</sup> And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus went before them, and they wondered, and followed, and dreaded (or had fear). And again Jesus took the twelve (aside), and began to say to them, what things were to come to him.
- <sup>33</sup> For lo! we ascend to Jerusalem, and man's Son shall be betrayed to the princes of (the) priests, and to [the] scribes, and to the elder men; and they shall condemn him by death, and they shall [be] take him to heathen men. (For behold! we go up to Jerusalem, and man's Son shall be betrayed to the high priests, and to the scribes, and to the elders; and they shall condemn him to death, and they shall deliver him to the heathens, or they shall hand him over to the Gentiles.)
- <sup>34</sup> And they shall scorn him, and bespit him, and beat him; and they shall slay him, and in the third day he shall rise again (or and on the third day he shall rise again).
- <sup>35</sup> And James and John, Zebedee's sons, came to him, and said, Master, we will, that whatever we ask, thou do to us. (And James and John, Zebedee's sons, came to him, and said, Teacher, we desire, or we want, that whatever we ask, thou do for us.)
- <sup>36</sup> And he said to them, What will ye that I do to you? (And he said to them, What do ye desire, or want, that I do for you?)
- <sup>37</sup> And they said, Grant to us, that we sit the one at thy right half, and the other at thy left half, in thy glory. (And they said, Grant unto us, that we sit the one at thy right hand, or on thy right side, and the other at thy left hand, or on thy left side, in thy glory.)

- <sup>38</sup> And Jesus said to them, Ye know not what ye ask; may ye drink the cup, which I shall drink, (or can ye drink the cup, which I shall drink), or be washed with the baptism, in which I am baptized?
- <sup>39</sup> And they said to him, We may (or We can). And Jesus said to them, [Truly] Ye shall drink the cup that I drink, and ye shall be washed with the baptism, in which I am baptized;
- <sup>40</sup> but to sit at my right half or left half is not mine to give to you (or but to sit at my right hand or my left hand is not mine to give to you), (no) but to whom it is made ready.
- <sup>41</sup> And the ten heard, and began to have indignation of James and John. (And the other ten heard, and began to feel indignant with James and John.)
- <sup>42</sup> But Jesus called them, and said to them, Ye know, that they that seem [or that be seen] to have princehood of folks, be (the) lords of them, and the princes of them have power of them. (And Jesus called them, and said to them, Ye know, that they who be seen to have lordship over the nations and the peoples, be their lords, and so their leaders have power over them.)
- 43 But it is not so among you, but whoever will be made [the] greater, shall be your minister (or shall be your servant);
  - <sup>44</sup> and whoever will be the first among you, shall be (the) servant of all.
- <sup>45</sup> For why man's Son came not, that it should be ministered to him, but that he should minister, and give his life again-buying [or as a redemption] for many. (For man's Son came not, so that he would be served, but that he would serve, and give his life as a redemption for many.)
- <sup>46</sup> And they came to Jericho; and when he went forth from Jericho, and his disciples, and a full much people (or a great many people), Bartimaeus, a blind man, the son of Timaeus, sat beside the way, and begged.
- <sup>47</sup> And when he heard, that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry, and say, Jesus, the son of David, have mercy on me.
- <sup>48</sup> And many threatened him, that he should be still; and he cried much the more [or and he cried much more, saying], Jesus, the son of David, have mercy on me.
- $^{49}$  And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be called; and they called the blind man, and said to him, Be thou of better heart, rise up, he calleth thee.
- <sup>50</sup> And he cast away his cloth (or And he threw away his cloak), and skipped, and came to him.
- <sup>51</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to him, What wilt thou, that I shall do to thee? The blind man said to him, Master, that I see. (And Jesus said to him, What desirest thou, that I shall do for thee? The blind man said to him, Teacher, that I see.)
- <sup>52</sup> Jesus said to him, Go thou, thy faith hath made thee safe. And anon he saw, and (pur)sued him in the way. (Jesus said to him, Go, thy faith hath saved thee, or thy faith hath healed thee. And at once he saw, and followed him on the way.)

- <sup>1</sup> And when Jesus came nigh to Jerusalem and to Bethany, to the mount of Olives, he sendeth two of his disciples,
- <sup>2</sup> and saith to them, Go ye into the castle that is against you (or Go into the village that is opposite you); and anon (or at once) as ye enter there ye shall find a colt tied, on which no man hath sat yet; untie ye (it), and bring him (here).

- <sup>3</sup> And if any man say anything to you, What do ye? say ye, that he is needful to the Lord, and anon, he shall leave him hither. (And if anyone say anything to you, Why do ye that? say, that he is needed by the Lord, and then at once, he shall let him go, or let him come here.)
- <sup>4</sup> And they went forth, and found a colt tied before the gate withoutforth, in the meeting of two ways; and they untied him.
- <sup>5</sup> And some of them that stood there said to them, What do ye, untying the colt?
- <sup>6</sup> And they said to them, as Jesus commanded them; and they left it to them (or and they let it go with them).
- <sup>7</sup> And they brought the colt to Jesus, and they laid on him their clothes (or and they laid their clothes on him), and Jesus sat on him.
- <sup>8</sup> And many strewed their clothes in the way, and other men cutted branches [or boughs] off (the) trees, and strewed (them) in the way. (And many spread their clothes on the way, or on the road, and others cut branches or boughs off the trees, and strew them on the way.)
- <sup>9</sup> And they that went before, and that *(pur)*sued (or and who followed), cried, and said, Hosanna, blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord;
- <sup>10</sup> blessed be the kingdom of our father David that is to come; Hosanna in (the) highest things [or Hosanna in (the) highest].
- <sup>11</sup> And he entered into Jerusalem, into the temple; and when he had seen all things about, when it was even(ing), he went out into Bethany, with the twelve.
- $^{12}$  And another day (or And the next day), when he went out of Bethany [or when he went out from Bethany], he hungered.
- <sup>13</sup> And when he had seen a fig tree (from) afar having leaves, he came, if happily he should find anything thereon; and when he came to it, he found nothing, except leaves; for it was not (the) time of figs.
- <sup>14</sup> And Jesus answered and said to it, Now never eat any man fruit of thee (any) more [or Now no more without end any man eat fruit of thee]. And his disciples heard (him);
- <sup>15</sup> and they came to Jerusalem. And when he was entered into the temple, he began to cast out sellers and buyers in the temple; and he turned upside-down the boards of (the money-)changers, and the chairs of men that sold culvers; (and they came to Jerusalem. And after he went into the Temple, he began to throw out the sellers and the buyers in the Temple; and he turned upside-down the tables of the money-changers, and the chairs of those who sold doves and pigeons;)
- <sup>16</sup> and he suffered not, that any man should bear a vessel through the temple. (and he would not allow anyone to carry a vessel through the Temple.)
- <sup>17</sup> And he taught them, and said, Whether it is not written, That mine house shall be called the house of praying to all folks? but ye have made it a den of thieves. (And he taught them, and said, Is it not written, My House shall be called the House of Prayer for all the nations and all the peoples? but ye have made it a den of thieves.)

- <sup>18</sup> And when this thing was heard, the princes of priests, and [the] scribes sought how they should lose him; for they dreaded him, for all the people wondered on his teaching. (And when this was heard, the high priests, and the scribes sought how they could destroy him; for they feared him, for all the people wondered about his teaching.)
  - <sup>19</sup> And when evening was come, he went out of the city.
- <sup>20</sup> And as they passed forth early (the next day), they saw the fig tree made dry from the roots.
- <sup>21</sup> And Peter bethought (to) him(self), and said to him, [or And Peter having mind, (or remembering), said to him], Master, (or Teacher), lo! the fig tree, whom thou cursedest, is dried up.
  - <sup>22</sup> And Jesus answered and said to them, Have ye the faith of God;
- <sup>23</sup> truly I say to you, that whoever saith to this hill, Be thou taken, and cast into the sea; and doubt not in his heart, but believeth, that whatever he say, shall be done, it shall be done to him. (I tell you the truth, that whoever saith to this hill, Be thou taken, and thrown into the sea; and doubt not in his heart, but believeth, that whatever he say, shall be done, it shall be done for him.)
- <sup>24</sup> Therefore I say to you, all things whatever things ye praying shall ask (for), believe ye that ye shall take (them), (or believe that ye shall receive them), and they shall come to you.
- <sup>25</sup> And when ye shall stand to pray, forgive ye, if ye have anything against any man, (so) that [also] your Father that is in heavens, forgive to you your sins.
- <sup>26</sup> And if ye forgive not [or For if ye forgive not], neither your Father that is in heavens, shall forgive to you your sins.
- <sup>27</sup> And again they came to Jerusalem. And when he walked in the temple, the highest priests, and (the) scribes, and the elder men came to him, (And they came again to Jerusalem. And when he walked in the Temple, the high priests, and the scribes, and the elders came to him,)
- <sup>28</sup> and said to him, In what power doest thou these things? or who gave to thee this power, that thou do these things?
- <sup>29</sup> Jesus answered and said to them, And I shall ask you one word (or And I shall ask you something), and answer ye to me, and I shall say to you in what power I do these things.
- <sup>30</sup> Whether was the baptism of John of heaven, or of men? answer ye to me. (Was the baptism of John from heaven, or from men? answer me.)
- <sup>31</sup> And they thought within themselves, saying, If we say of heaven, he shall say to us, Why then believe ye not to him (or If we say from heaven, he shall say to us, Then why did ye not believe him);
- <sup>32</sup> if we say of men, we dread the people; for all men had John, that he was verily a prophet. (if we say from men, we fear the people; for everyone believed about John, that he was truly a prophet.)
- $^{33}$  And they answered, and said to Jesus, We know not. And Jesus answered, and said to them, Neither I say to you, in what power I do these things.

<sup>1</sup> And Jesus began to speak to them in parables. A man planted a vineyard, and set an hedge about it, and delved a pit, and builded a tower, and hired it (out) to earth-tillers, and went forth in pilgrimage, (or A man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and dug a hole for a winepress, and built a look-out tower, and hired it out to farmers, and went forth on a journey).

- <sup>2</sup> And he sent to the earth-tillers in time a servant, to receive of the earth-tillers of the fruit of the vineyard. (And in time he sent a servant to the farmers, to receive from the farmers some of the fruit from the vineyard.)
- <sup>3</sup> And they took him, and beat him, and left him void (or and let him go away empty).
- <sup>4</sup> And again he sent to them another servant, and they wounded him in the head, and tormented him [or and punished him with chidings, or reprovings].

<sup>5</sup> And again he sent another, and they slew him, and others more, beating some, and slaving others [or soothly they killed others].

6 Dut wat he had a most deservanthy one and he cont his

<sup>6</sup> But yet he had a most dearworthy son, and he sent him last to them, and said, Peradventure they shall dread [with reverence] my son, (or Perhaps they shall fear my son, or Surely they shall revere, or respect, my son).

- <sup>7</sup> But the earth-tillers said together, [or Forsooth the tenants said to themselves], (or But the tenants said to each other), This is the heir; come ye, slay we him, and the heritage shall be ours. (But the farmers said to each other, He is the heir; come, let us kill him, and then the inheritance shall be ours.)
- <sup>8</sup> And they took him, and killed him, and casted him out without the vineyard (or and threw him out of the vineyard).
- <sup>9</sup> Then what shall the lord of the vineyard do? He shall come, and lose the earth-tillers (or and destroy the farmers), [or He shall come, and lose the tenants (or and destroy the tenants)], and give the vineyard to others.
- <sup>10</sup> Whether ye have not read this scripture, The stone which the builders have despised, this is made into the head of the corner?
  - $^{11}$  This thing is done of the Lord, and it is wonderful in our eyes.
- <sup>12</sup> And they sought to (take) hold (of) him, and they dreaded the people (or but they feared the people); for they knew that to them he (had) said this parable; and (so) they left him, and they went away.
- <sup>13</sup> And they sent to him some of the Pharisees and (some) of the Herodians, to take him in word (or to catch him with his own words).
- <sup>14</sup> Which came, and said to him, Master, (or Teacher), we know that thou art soothfast, and reckest not (or takest no heed) of any man; for neither thou beholdest into the face of any man, but thou teachest the way of God in truth. Is it leaveful that tribute be given to the emperor, or we shall not give? (or Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or should we not pay them?)
- <sup>15</sup> Which witting their privy falseness, said to them, What tempt ye me, [hypocrites]? (or Why do you hypocrites test me?) bring ye to me a penny, (so) that I (can) see (it).
- <sup>16</sup> And they brought (it) to him. And he said to them, Whose is this image, and the writing above (or upon it)? And they say to him, The emperor's [or Caesar's].
- <sup>17</sup> And Jesus answered and said to them, Then yield ye to the emperor those things that be the emperor's [or Therefore yield ye to Caesar those things that be of Caesar]; and to God those things that be of God. And they wondered of him (or And they wondered about him).

<sup>18</sup> And (some) Sadducees, that say that there is no resurrection, came to him, and asked him, and said, $^{19}$  Master, (or Teacher), Moses wrote to us, that if the brother of a man were dead, and left his wife, and have no sons, his brother take his wife, and raise up seed to his brother.

<sup>20</sup> Then seven brethren there were, [or Therefore seven brethren were], (or And so there were seven brothers); and the first took a wife, and died, and left no seed.

<sup>21</sup> And the second took her, and died, and neither he left seed. And the third also.

- <sup>22</sup> And in like manner the seven took her, and left no seed. And the woman the last of all died.
- <sup>23</sup> Then in the resurrection, when they shall rise again, whose wife of these shall she be? for seven had her to wife.
- <sup>24</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to them, Whether ye err not therefore, that ye know not [the] scriptures, neither the virtue of God? (And Jesus answered, and said to them, And so do ye not err, because ye know not the Scriptures, nor the power of God?)
- <sup>25</sup> For when they shall rise again from death, neither they shall wed, nor shall be wedded, but they shall be as (the) angels of God in heavens. [+Forsooth when they shall rise again from (the) dead, neither they shall wed, neither shall be wedded, but they shall be as (the) angels of God in heaven.]
- <sup>26</sup> And of dead men, that they rise again, have ye not read in the book of Moses, on the bush (or in the bush), how God spake to him, and said, I am God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob?
- <sup>27</sup> He is not (the) God of dead men, but of living men; therefore ye err much.
- <sup>28</sup> And one of the scribes, that had heard them disputing together, came nigh, and saw that Jesus had well-answered them, and asked him, [or and seeing that he had answered them well, asked him], which was the first commandment of all (or which is the first, or the greatest, commandment of all?).
- <sup>29</sup> And Jesus answered to him, That the first commandment of all is, Hear thou, Israel, thy Lord God is one God, [or Hear, Israel, the Lord thy God is one God]; (And Jesus answered to him, The first, or the greatest, commandment of all is this, Hear O Israel, the Lord thy God is one God;)
- <sup>30</sup> and thou shalt love thy Lord God of all thine heart, and of all thy soul, and of all thy mind, and of all thy might, [or and thou shalt love the Lord thy God of all thine heart, and of all thy soul, and of all thy mind, and of all thy virtue, or might, or strength]. This is the first commandment (or This is the first, or the greatest, commandment of all).
- <sup>31</sup> And the second is like to this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.
- <sup>32</sup> And the scribe said to him, Master, (or Teacher), in truth thou hast well said; for one God is (or for there is but one God), and there is none other, except him;
- <sup>33</sup> [and] that he be loved of all the heart, and of all the mind, and of all the understanding, and of all the soul, and of all the strength, and to love the neighbour as himself, is greater, [or and to love thy neighbour as himself, is more], than all burnt offerings and sacrifices.

34 And Jesus seeing that he had answered wisely, said to him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And then no man durst ask him more anything (or And then no one dared to ask him anything more).

35 And Jesus answered and said, teaching in the temple, How say [the] scribes, that Christ is the son of David? (And Jesus said, teaching in the Temple, How can the scribes say, that the Messiah is the Son of David?)

<sup>36</sup> For David himself said in the Holy Ghost, The Lord said to my lord, Sit [thou] on my right half, till I put thine enemies the stool of thy feet. (For David himself said by the Holy Spirit, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, or on my right side, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.)

<sup>37</sup> Then if David himself calleth him Lord, how then is he his son? And much people gladly heard him.

<sup>38</sup> And he said to them in his teaching, Be ye ware of (the) scribes, that will wander or that will go in stoles, and be saluted in [the] chapping (or and be respectfully greeted at the market),

<sup>39</sup> and sit in synagogues in the first chairs [or and sit in the first chairs in synagogues], and in the first sitting places in suppers;

- 40 which devour the houses of widows under [the] colour of long prayer; they shall take the longer doom, [either (the longer) damnation], (or they shall receive the greater condemnation).
- 41 And Jesus sitting against (or opposite) the treasury, beheld how the people cast money into the treasury; and many rich men casted many things.
- 42 But when a poor widow was come, she cast two minutes (or she threw in two mites), that is, a farthing.
- 43 And he called together his disciples, and said to them, Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), that this poor widow cast more than all, that cast into the treasury.
- 44 For all they cast of that thing that they had plenty of; but this (out) of her poverty cast all things that she had, all her livelode, [or all her lifelode], (or all her livelihood).

- <sup>1</sup> And when he went out of the temple, one of his disciples said to him, Master, (or Teacher), behold, what manner stones, and what manner buildings.
- <sup>2</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to him, Seest thou all these great buildings? there shall not be left a stone on a stone, which shall not be destroyed.
- <sup>3</sup> And when he sat in the mount of Olives against the temple (or And when he sat on the Mount of Olives opposite the Temple), Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him by themselves,
- <sup>4</sup> Say thou to us, when these things shall be done, and what token [or what sign] shall be, when all these things shall begin to be ended.
- <sup>5</sup> And Jesus answered, and began to say to them, Look ye [or See ye], that no man deceive you;
- <sup>6</sup> for many shall come in my name, saying, That I am (he); and they shall deceive many.
- <sup>7</sup> And when ye hear battles and opinions of battles, dread ye not (or fear not); for it behooveth these things to be done, but not yet anon (or at once)is the end, [or for it behooveth that these things be done, but the end is not yet].

- <sup>8</sup> For folk shall rise on folk, and realm on realm, and earth-movings and hunger shall be by places; these things shall be(but the) beginnings of (the) sorrows.
- <sup>9</sup> But see ye yourselves, for they shall take you in (to) councils, and ye shall be beaten in synagogues; and ye shall stand before kings and doomsmen (or judges) for me, in witnessing to them (or to give a testimony to them).
- <sup>10</sup> And it behooveth, that the gospel be first preached among all folk. (But it behooveth, that the Gospel or the Good News, first be preached to all the nations and all the peoples.)
- <sup>11</sup> And when they take you, and lead you forth, do not ye before-think what ye shall speak, but speak ye that thing that shall be given to you in that hour; for ye be not the speakers [or soothly ye be not speaking], but the Holy Ghost (or the Holy Spirit).
- <sup>12</sup> For the brother shall betake the brother into death [or Forsooth a brother shall betray a brother into death], and the father the son, and sons shall rise together against fathers and mothers, and punish them by death.
- <sup>13</sup> And ye shall be in hate to all men for my name; but he that lasteth into the end, shall be safe. [+And ye shall be in hatred to all men for my name; but he that shall sustain into the end, shall be safe.](And ye shall be hated by everyone because of my name; but he who lasteth unto the end, shall be saved.)
- <sup>14</sup> But when ye shall see the abomination of discomfort, standing where it oweth not (or standing where it ought not to be); he that readeth (this), understand (it); then they that be in Judea, flee to the mountains.
- <sup>15</sup> And he that is above in the roof (or And he who is above on the roof), come not down into the house, neither enter he, to take anything (out) of his house;
- <sup>16</sup> and he that shall be in the field, turn not again behind to take his cloth. (and he who is in the field, do not return to get his cloak.)
- $^{17}$  But woe to them that be with child, and nourishing [or nursing] in those days.
- <sup>18</sup> Therefore pray ye, that those things, [or that your fleeing], (or that your flying), be not done in winter.
- <sup>19</sup> But those days of tribulation shall be such, (in) which manner were not from the beginning of creature(s), (or in which manner were never so since the beginning of Creation), which God hath made, till now, neither shall be.
- <sup>20</sup> And but the Lord had abridged those days, all flesh, [or (all) mankind], had not be safe, (or And if the Lord had not shortened those days, no one could be saved); but for the chosen which he chose, the Lord hath made short the days.
- <sup>21</sup> And then if any man say to you, Lo! here is Christ, (or Behold! here is the Messiah), lo! there, believe ye not.
- <sup>22</sup> For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall give tokens [or signs] and wonders, to deceive, if it may be done, yea, them that be chosen, [or yea, the chosen]. (For false messiahs and false prophets shall arise, and shall make miracles and wonders, to deceive, yes, God's chosen, if it can be done.)

- <sup>23</sup> Therefore take ye keep, (or And so be on guard, or take heed); lo! I have before-said to you all things.
- $^{24}$  But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be made dark, and the moon shall not give her light,
- <sup>25</sup> and the stars of heaven shall fall down, and the virtues that be in (the) heavens shall be moved. (and the stars of the heavens shall fall down, and the powers that be in the heavens shall be shaken.)

<sup>26</sup> And then they shall see man's Son coming in the clouds of (the) heaven(s), with great virtue (or with great power) and glory.

<sup>27</sup> And then he shall send his angels, and shall gather his chosen from the four winds, from the highest thing of earth till to the highest thing of heaven [or from the lowest thing of earth unto the highest thing of heaven].

<sup>28</sup> But of the fig tree learn ye the parable. When now his branch is tender, and (its) leaves be sprung out, ye know that summer is nigh.

- <sup>29</sup> So when ye see these things be done, know ye, that it is nigh in the doors, (or that it is near, right at the door).
- <sup>30</sup> Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), that this generation shall not pass away, till all these things be done.
- <sup>31</sup> Heaven and earth shall pass (away), but my words shall not pass (away).
- <sup>32</sup> But of that day or hour no man knoweth, neither (the) angels in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father.
- <sup>33</sup> See ye, wake ye, and pray ye, (or Look, be on watch, or stay awake, and pray); for ye know not, when the time is.
- <sup>34</sup> For as a man that is gone far in pilgrimage, left his house, and gave to his servants power of every work, and commanded to the porter, that he [should] wake. (For it is like a man who left his house, and went far away on a journey, and who gave his servants authority to do their work, and commanded to the porter, that he should be on watch or stay awake.)
- <sup>35</sup> Therefore wake ye, (or And so be on watch, or stay awake), for ye know not, when the lord of the house cometh, in the eventide, or at midnight, or at cock's crowing, or in the morning;
  - <sup>36</sup> lest when he come suddenly, he find you sleeping.
- <sup>37</sup> Forsooth that I say to you, I say to all, Wake ye, (or Be on watch, or Stay awake).

- <sup>1</sup> Pask and the feast of therf loaves was after two days (or Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread was two days off). And the high priests and the scribes sought, how they should (take) hold (of) him with guile, and slay [him].
- <sup>2</sup> But they said, Not in the feast day, lest peradventure a noise were made among the people. (But they said, Not on the Feast Day, lest a commotion was made among the people.)
- <sup>3</sup> And when he was at Bethany, in the house of Simon leprous, and rested, [or and sat at the meat], (or and sat at the meal), a woman came, that had a box of alabaster of precious ointment spikenard; and when the box of alabaster was broken, she poured it on his head.

- <sup>4</sup> But there were some that bare it heavily within themselves, and said, Whereto is this loss of ointment made?
- <sup>5</sup> For this ointment might have been sold for more than three hundred pence, and be given to poor men. And they grudged against her (or And they grumbled against her).
- <sup>6</sup> But Jesus said, Suffer ye her; what be ye heavy to her? she hath wrought a good work in me. (But Jesus said, Allow her to do this; why be so harsh to her? she hath done a good thing for me.)
- <sup>7</sup> For evermore ye shall have poor men with you, and when ye will, ye may do well to them; but ye shall not (for)evermore have me. (Ye shall always have the poor with you, and when ye desire, ye can do good things for them; but ye shall not always have me.)
- <sup>8</sup> She did that that she had (to); she came before to anoint my body into burying (or she came beforehand to anoint my body for burial).
- <sup>9</sup> Truly I say to you, wherever this gospel shall be preached in all the world, and that this woman hath done, shall be told into mind of him [or shall be told into mind of her]. (I tell you the truth, wherever this gospel shall be preached in all the world, that which this woman hath done, shall be told in remembrance of her.)
- <sup>10</sup> And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went to the high priests, to betray him to them.
- <sup>11</sup> And they heard, and joyed, and promised to give him money. And he - sought how he should betray him covenably (or opportunely).
- <sup>12</sup> And the first day of therf loaves, when they offered (the) pask, the disciples said to him, Whither wilt thou that we go, and make ready to thee, that thou eat the pask? (And the first Day of Unleavened Bread, when they slew the Passover lambs, the disciples said to him, Where desirest thou that we go, and prepare for thee, so that thou can eat the Passover?)
- <sup>13</sup> And he sendeth two of his disciples, and saith to them, Go ye into the city, and a man bearing a gallon of water shall meet you; *(pur)*sue ye him (or follow him).
- <sup>14</sup> And whither ever he entereth, say ye to the lord of the house, That the master saith, Where is mine eating place, where I shall eat (the) pask with my disciples? (And wherever he entereth, say ye to the master of the house, The Teacher saith, Where is my eating place, where I can eat the Passover with my disciples?)
- <sup>15</sup> And he shall show to you a great supping place arrayed, and there make ye ready to us (or and there prepare it for us).
- <sup>16</sup> And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said to them; and they made ready the pask (or and they prepared the Passover).
  - <sup>17</sup> And when the eventide was come, he came with the twelve.
- <sup>18</sup> And when they sat at the meat, and ate, Jesus said, Truly I say to you, that one of you that eateth with me, shall betray me. (And when they sat at the meal, and ate, Jesus said, I tell you the truth, that one of you who eateth with me, shall betray me.)
- <sup>19</sup> And they began to be sorry, [or to be sorrowful], (or to be grieved), and to say to him, each by themselves, Whether I?
- <sup>20</sup> Which said to them, One of the twelve that putteth [in]his hand with me in the platter.

- <sup>21</sup> And soothly man's Son goeth, as it is written of him; but woe to that man, by whom man's Son shall be betrayed. It were good to him (or It would be better for him), if that man had not been born.
- <sup>22</sup> And while they ate, Jesus took bread, and blessed (or and gave thanks), and brake [it], and gave (it) to them, and said, Take ye; this is my body.
- <sup>23</sup> And when he had taken the cup, he did thankings (or he gave thanks), and gave (it) to them, and all drank thereof.

<sup>24</sup> And he said to them, This is my blood of the new testament (or This is my blood of the new covenant), which shall be shed for many.

<sup>25</sup> Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), for now I shall not drink of this fruit of the vine, into that day when I shall drink it *(a)*new in the realm of God.

 $^{26}$  And when the hymn was said, they went out into the hill of Olives.

(And after the hymn was sung, they went out to the Mount of Olives.)

- <sup>27</sup> And Jesus said to them, All ye shall be caused to stumble in me in this night; for it is written, I shall smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered.
  - <sup>28</sup> But after that I shall rise again, I shall go before you into Galilee.
- <sup>29</sup> And Peter said to him, Though all shall be caused to stumble, but not I.
- <sup>30</sup> And Jesus said to him, Truly I say to thee (or I tell you the truth), that today before that the cock in this night crow twice, thou shalt thrice deny me. [+And Jesus saith to him, Truly I say to thee, for today before that the cock crow twice in this night, thrice thou shalt deny me.]
- <sup>31</sup> But he said more, Though it behoove, that I die together with thee, I shall not forsake thee, [or And he spake more, Though it shall behoove me to die together with thee, I shall not deny thee]. And in like manner (they) all said (the same thing).
- <sup>32</sup> And they came into a place, whose name is Gethsemane. And he said to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I pray.
- <sup>33</sup> And he took Peter and James and John with him, and began to dread, and to be distressed, [or to be heavy], (or and began to have fear, and to be grieved).
- <sup>34</sup> And he said to them, My soul is sorrowful [till] to the death; abide ye here, and wake ye with me, (or wait here, and keep watch with me, or wait here, and stay awake).
- <sup>35</sup> And when he was gone forth a little, he felled down on the earth (or he fell down on the ground), and prayed, that if it might be, that the hour should pass from him.
- <sup>36</sup> And he said, Abba, Father, all things be possible to thee, bear over from me this cup [or turn (away) from me this cup]; but not that I will, but that thou wilt, be done, (or but nevertheless not what I desire, or what I want, but what thou (desirest), or what thou (wantest to be done, be done)).

<sup>37</sup> And he came (back), and found them sleeping. And he said to Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? mightest thou not wake with me one hour? (or could thou not keep watch with me, or stay awake with me, for one hour?)

<sup>38</sup> Wake ye, and pray ye, that ye enter not into temptation; for the spirit is ready, but the flesh is sick. (Be on watch, or Stay awake, and pray, so that ye enter not into the test; for the spirit is ready, but the flesh is frail or weak.)

- <sup>39</sup> And again he went, and prayed, and said the same word(s);
- <sup>40</sup> and he turned again (or and he returned), and again found them sleeping; for their eyes were heavied. And they knew not, what they should answer to him.
- <sup>41</sup> And he came the third time, and said to them, Sleep ye now, and rest ye; it sufficeth. The hour is come; lo! man's Son shall be betrayed into the hands of sinful men.
  - 42 Rise ye, go we; lo! he that shall betray me is nigh.
- <sup>43</sup> And yet while he spake, Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, came, and with him much people with swords and staves, (or clubs), sent from the high priests, and the scribes, and from the elder men.
- <sup>44</sup> And his traitor had given to them a token [or a sign], and said, Whomever I kiss, he it is; hold ye him, and lead ye him (away) warily.
- <sup>45</sup> And when he came, anon he came to him, and said, Master; and he kissed him. (And when he came, he came up to him at once, and said, Teacher; and he kissed him.)
  - <sup>46</sup> And they laid hands on him, and held him.
- <sup>47</sup> But one of the men that stood about, drew out a sword, and smote the servant of the highest priest (or and struck the servant of the High Priest), and cut off his ear.
- <sup>48</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to them, As to a thief ye have gone out with swords and staves, to take (hold of) me? (And Jesus answered, and said to them, Like for a thief ye have gone out with swords and bats, or clubs, to seize me?)
- <sup>49</sup> Day by day I was among you, and taught in the temple, and ye held not me (or and ye did not seize me then); (no) but that the scriptures be fulfilled.
  - <sup>50</sup> Then all his disciples forsook him, and fled.
- <sup>51</sup> But a young man, clothed with (a) linen cloth on the bare, (pur)sued him; and they held him. (But a young man, clothed only with a linen cloak, followed him; and they also held onto him.)
- <sup>52</sup> And he left the linen clothing, and flew naked away from them. [And the linen cloth forsaken, he naked fled away from them.](And he left the linen cloak, and fled away from them naked.)
- <sup>53</sup> And they led Jesus to the highest priest (or And they led Jesus to the High Priest). And all the priests and scribes and elder men came together.
- <sup>54</sup> But Peter (pur)sued him afar into the hall of the highest priest (or But Peter followed him from afar into the courtyard of the High Priest). And he sat with the servants, and warmed him(self) at the fire.
- <sup>55</sup> And the highest priests, and all the council, sought witnessing against Jesus to (be)take him to the death; but they found not. (And the high priests, and all the council, sought testimony against Jesus to deliver him unto death; but they could not find any.)
- <sup>56</sup> For many said false witnessing against him, and the witnessings were not covenable. (For many said false testimony against him, but their testimonies were not suitable, or were not in agreement.)
- <sup>57</sup> And some rose up, and bare false witnessing against him, and said, (And some rose up, and gave false testimony against him, and said,)
- <sup>58</sup> For we heard him saying, I shall undo this temple made with hands (or I shall destroy this Temple made with human hands), and after the third day [or and by the third day], I shall build another not made with (human) hands.

- <sup>59</sup> And the witnessing of them was not covenable. (But their testimony was not suitable, or was not in agreement.)
- <sup>60</sup> And the highest priest rose up into the middle [or into the midst], and asked Jesus, and said, Answerest thou nothing to those things that be put against thee of these [men]? (And the High Priest rose up into the midst, and asked Jesus, Answerest thou nothing to those things that be put against thee by these men?)
- <sup>61</sup> But he was still, and answered nothing. Again the highest priest asked him, and said to him, Art thou Christ, the Son of the blessed God? (or Again the High Priest asked him, Art thou the Messiah, the Son of the blessed God?)
- <sup>62</sup> And Jesus said to him, I am; and ye shall see man's Son sitting on the right half of the virtue of God, and coming in the clouds of heaven. (And Jesus said to him, I am; and ye shall see man's Son sitting at the right hand, or on the right side, of the power of God, and coming with the clouds of the heavens.)
- <sup>63</sup> And the highest priest rent his clothes, and said, What yet desire we witnesses? (And the High Priest tore his clothes, and said, Why do we still desire more witnesses?)
- <sup>64</sup> Ye have heard blasphemy. What seemeth to you? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.
- <sup>65</sup> And some began to bespit him, and to cover his face, and to smite him with buffets, and to say to him, Declare thou, [or And some began to spit on him, and to hide his face, and smite him with buffets, and say to him, Prophesy thou]. And the ministers beat him with strokes (or And the servants beat him with strikes of their hands, or with their fists).
- <sup>66</sup> And when Peter was in the hall beneath, one of the damsels [or one of the handmaidens] of the highest priest came. (And while Peter was still below in the courtyard, one of the High Priest's handmaids or servantesses came by.)
- <sup>67</sup> And when she had seen Peter warming him(self), she beheld him, and said, And thou were with Jesus of Nazareth.
- <sup>68</sup> And he denied, and said, Neither I know, neither I know, what thou sayest. And he went withoutforth before the hall; and anon the cock crew (or And then he went out of the courtyard; and at once the cock crowed).
- <sup>69</sup> And again when another damsel [or another handmaiden] had seen him, she began to say to men that stood about, That this is of them (or This man is one of them).
- <sup>70</sup> And he again denied. And after a little, again they that stood nigh, said to Peter, Verily, thou art of them, (or Truly, thou art one of them), for thou art of Galilee also.
- $^{71}$  But he began to curse and to swear, For I know not this man, of whom ye say.
- <sup>72</sup> And anon again the cock crew (or And at once the cock crowed again). And Peter bethought on the word(s) that Jesus had said to him, Before (that) the cock crow twice, thrice thou shalt deny me. And he began to weep.

- <sup>1</sup> And anon in the morrowtide the high priests made a counsel with the elder men, and the scribes, and with all the council, and bound Jesus and led, and betook him to Pilate. (And at once when morning came, or early in the morning, the high priests made a plan with the elders, and the scribes, and with all the council, and bound Jesus and led him away, and delivered him to Pilate.)
  - <sup>2</sup> And Pilate asked him, Art thou king of Jews? (or Art thou the King of the Jews?) And Jesus answered, and said to him, Thou sayest.

- <sup>3</sup> And the high priests accused him in many things. (And the high priests accused him of many things.)
- <sup>4</sup> But Pilate again asked him (or But Pilate asked him again), and said, Answerest thou nothing? Seest thou in how many things they accuse thee?

<sup>5</sup> But Jesus answered no[thing] more, so that Pilate wondered.

- <sup>6</sup> But by the feast day he was wont to leave to them, one of the men bound [or one of the prisoners], whomever they asked. (But on the Feast Day his custom was to let go, or to release, to them, one of the prisoners, whomever they asked for.)
- <sup>7</sup> And there was one that was said Barabbas, that was bound with men of dissension, that had done manslaughter in [the] sedition.
- <sup>8</sup> And when the people was gone up, he began to pray (them), as he (for)evermore did to them. (And when the people had gathered, they began to be seech him, to do as he always did for them.)
- <sup>9</sup> And Pilate answered to them, and said, Will ye that I leave to you the king of Jews? (And Pilate answered to them, Do ye desire that I let go, or that I release, the King of the Jews to you?)

<sup>10</sup> For he knew, that the high priests had taken him by envy.

<sup>11</sup> But the bishops stirred [or excited] the people, that he should rather leave to them Barabbas. (But the high priests stirred up, or excited, the people, so that rather he would let go, or release, Barabbas to them.)

12 And again Pilate answered, and said to them, What then will ye that I shall do to the king of Jews? (And again Pilate asked them, Then what do ye want me to do with the King of the Jews?)

- 13 And they again cried, Crucify him, [that is, put him on the cross].
- <sup>14</sup> But Pilate said to them, What evil hath he done? And they cried the more, Crucify him.
- <sup>15</sup> And Pilate, willing to make satisfaction to the people, (or desiring to fulfill the will of the people), left to them Barabbas, (or let go, or released, Barabbas to them), and he betook to them Jesus, beaten with scourges, to be crucified.
- <sup>16</sup> And (the) knights led him withinforth, into the porch of the moot hall. And they called together all the company of (the) knights, (And the soldiers led him outside, into the courtyard of the Hall of Judgement. And they called together all the company of the soldiers,)

<sup>17</sup> and they clothed him with purple. And they wreathed a crown of thorns, and put (it) on him.

<sup>18</sup> And they began to greet him, and said, Hail, king of Jews, (or Hail, King of the Jews).

<sup>19</sup> And they smote his head with a reed, and bespat him [or and spat on him]; and (then) they kneeled, and (mockingly) worshipped him.

- <sup>20</sup> And after that they had scorned him, they unclothed him of the purple, and clothed him with his clothes, and led out him, to crucify him, (or and led him away, to crucify him).
- $^{21}$  And they compelled a man that passed by the way, that came from the town, Simon of Cyrene, the father of Alexander and of Rufus, to bear his cross.
- <sup>22</sup> And they led him into a place (called) Golgotha [or And they led him into the place of Golgotha], that is to say, the place of Calvary.
- <sup>23</sup> And they gave to him to drink wine meddled (or mixed) with myrrh [or And they gave him for to drink wine meddled (or mixed) with myrrh], and he took (it) not (or but he would not drink it).
- <sup>24</sup> And they crucified him, and parted his clothes, and cast lot(s) on those, who should take what. (And they crucified him, and divided up his clothes, and threw dice for them, for who should take what.)
- <sup>25</sup> And it was the third hour (or about nine o'clock in the morning), and they crucified him.
- <sup>26</sup> And the title of his cause was written, King of Jews. (And the charge against him was written out above him, The King of the Jews.)
- <sup>27</sup> And they crucified with him two thieves, one at the right half, and one at his left half, [or one on his right half, and one on his left half], (or one on his right side, and one on his left side).
- <sup>28</sup> And the scripture was fulfilled that saith, And he is ordained with wicked men [or And he is areckoned with wicked men].
- <sup>29</sup> And as they passed forth, they blasphemed him, moving their heads, and saying, Vath! [or Fie!] thou that destroyest the temple of God, and in three days buildest it again;
  - <sup>30</sup> come adown from the cross, and make thyself safe (or and save thyself).
- <sup>31</sup> Also the high priests scorned him each to (the) other, with the scribes, and said, He hath made other men safe, (but) he may not save himself. (And the high priests scorned him one to another, along with the scribes, saying, He hath saved other men, but he cannot save himself.)
- <sup>32</sup> Christ, [the] king of Israel, come down now from the cross, that we see (it), and believe, (or Messiah, King of Israel, come down now from the cross, so that we can see it, and believe). And they that were crucified with him, despised him, [or And they that were crucified with him, put false reproof to him].
- <sup>33</sup> And when the sixth hour was come, darknesses were made on all the earth, till into the ninth hour. (And when it was almost noon, darkness was made upon all the land, and it continued until three o'clock.)
- <sup>34</sup> And in the ninth hour (or And at three o'clock in the afternoon), Jesus cried with a great voice, and said, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani, that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
- <sup>35</sup> And some of the men that stood about heard, and said, Lo! he calleth Elias, (or Behold! he calleth Elijah).
- <sup>36</sup> And one ran, and filled a sponge with vinegar, and putted (it) about to a reed, and gave (it to) him to drink, and said, Suffer ye, see we, if Elias (or if Elijah) come to do him down.
  - <sup>37</sup> And Jesus gave out a great cry, and died [or sent out the spirit].

- <sup>38</sup> And the veil of the temple was rent [or cut] atwo, from the highest to beneath. (And the veil of the Temple was torn in two, from the top to the bottom.)
- <sup>39</sup> But the centurion that stood over against saw, that he so crying had died, and he said, Verily, this man was God's Son, [or Verily, this man was the Son of God]. (And the centurion, who stood opposite him, saw that after he crying out so had died, and he said, Truly, this man was the Son of God.)
- <sup>40</sup> And there were also women beholding from afar, among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary, the mother of James the less, and of Joseph, and of Salome [or and Salome].
- <sup>41</sup> And when Jesus was in Galilee, they followed him, and ministered to him (or and served him), and many other women, that came up together with him to Jerusalem.
- <sup>42</sup> And when the eventide was come, for it was the eventide that is before the sabbath, (And when it was evening, and so the day before the Sabbath,)
- <sup>43</sup> Joseph of Arimathaea, the noble decurion, came, and he abode the realm of God (or and he was waiting for the Kingdom of God); and boldly he entered to Pilate, and asked (for) the body of Jesus.
- <sup>44</sup> But Pilate wondered, if he were now dead. And when the centurion was called, he asked him, if he were [now] dead; (But Pilate wondered, if he was already dead. And when the centurion was called, he asked him, if he was already dead;)
- <sup>45</sup> and when he knew of the centurion, he granted the body of Jesus to Joseph [or he gave the body of Jesus to Joseph]. (and when he knew this from the centurion, he gave Joseph permission to take down Jesus' body.)
- <sup>46</sup> And Joseph bought linen cloth [or (a) sendal], and took him down, and wrapped [him] in the linen cloth, and laid him in a sepulchre that was hewn of a stone [or and put him in a new sepulchre that was hewn in a stone], and wallowed a stone to the door of the sepulchre (or and rolled a stone against the door of the tomb).
  - <sup>47</sup> And Mary Magdalene and Mary of Joseph beheld, where he was laid.

- <sup>1</sup> And when the sabbath was passed, Mary Magdalene, and Mary of James, and Salome bought sweet smelling ointments, to come and to anoint Jesus.
- <sup>2</sup> And full early in one of the week days (or And very early on the first day of the week), they came to the sepulchre, when the sun was risen.
- <sup>3</sup> And they said together, Who shall move away to us the stone from the door of the sepulchre? [or Who shall turn away to us the stone from the door of the sepulchre?](And as they arrived they said to each other, Who shall move away the stone from the door of the tomb for us? For the stone was very large and very heavy.)
- <sup>4</sup> And they beheld, and saw the stone wallowed away, for it was full great. (But when they looked, they saw that the stone had already been rolled away.)
- <sup>5</sup> And they went into the sepulchre, and saw a youngling, covered with a white stole, sitting at the right half; and they were afeared. (And they went into the tomb, and saw a young person, clothed in a white stole, sitting on the right side; and they were afraid.)

- <sup>6</sup> Which saith to them, Do not ye dread; ye seek Jesus of Nazareth crucified, (or But he said to them, Do not fear; ye seek Jesus of Nazareth who was crucified); he is risen, he is not here; lo! the place where they laid him.
- <sup>7</sup> But go ye, and say to his disciples, and to Peter, that he shall go before you into Galilee; there ye shall see him, as he said to you.
- <sup>8</sup> And they went out, and fled from the sepulchre; for dread and quaking had assailed them [or for dread and trembling had assailed them], and to no man they said anything, for they dreaded. (And they went out, and fled from the tomb; for fear and trembling had assailed them, but they said nothing to anyone, for they were afraid.)
- <sup>9</sup> And Jesus rose early the first day of the week, and appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom he had cast out seven devils (or from whom he had thrown out seven demons).
- <sup>10</sup> And she went, and told to them that had been with him, which were(or who were) wailing and weeping [or mourning and weeping].
- <sup>11</sup> And they hearing that he lived, and was seen of her (or and was seen by her), believed not.
- $^{12}$  But after these things when twain of them wandered (or were walking), he was showed in another likeness to them going into a town. [+Forsooth after these things, he was showed in another likeness, or figure, to twain of them walking and going into a town.]
- $^{13}$  And they went, and told to the others, and neither they believed to them.
- <sup>14</sup> But after(ward) at the last, when the eleven sat at the meat, Jesus appeared to them, and reproved the unbelief of them, and the hardness of (their) heart(s), for they believed not to them, that had seen that he was risen from death [or that had seen him to have risen from (the) dead]. (But later, when the Eleven sat at a meal, Jesus appeared to them, and rebuked them for their unbelief, and for the hardness or the stubbornness of their hearts, for they did not believe those, who had seen that he was risen from the dead.)
- <sup>15</sup> And he said to them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to each creature. (And he said to them, Go into all the world, and preach the Gospel, or the Good News, to all Creation, or to everyone.)
- <sup>16</sup> Who that believeth, and is baptized, shall be safe (or shall be saved); but he that believeth not, shall be condemned. [+He that shall believe, and shall be christened, shall be saved; soothly he that shall not believe, shall be damned.]
- <sup>17</sup> And these tokens [or these signs] shall (pur)sue them, that believe. In my name they shall cast out fiends; they shall speak with new tongues; (And these signs shall follow those who believe. In my name they shall throw out devils and demons; they shall speak in new and strange languages;)
- <sup>18</sup> they shall do away serpents; and if they drink any venom, [or (any) deadly thing], it shall not annoy (or shall not harm) them. They shall set their hands on sick men, and they shall wax whole, (or They shall put their hands on the sick, and they shall grow whole, or they shall be healed).
- <sup>19</sup> And the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken to them, was taken up into heaven, and he sitteth on the right half of God (or and he sitteth at the right hand, or on the right side, of God).

 $^{20}$  And they went forth, and preached everywhere, for the Lord wrought [or working] with them, and confirmed the word with signs, [either miracles], following.

LUKE

- [ ¹ Forsooth for many men enforced to ordain the telling of things, which be filled in us, (Because many men endeavoured to order the telling of things, which happened among us,)
- <sup>2</sup> as they that saw at the beginning, and were ministers of the word, betaken, (as they who saw it from the beginning, and were servants of the word, that was delivered,)
- <sup>3</sup> it is seen also to me, having from the beginning all things diligently by order, to write to thee, thou best Theophilus, (it is seen also by me, having put all things diligently in order from the beginning, to write to thee, O most excellent Theophilus,)
- <sup>4</sup> (so) that thou know the truth of those words, of which thou art learned.]*
- <sup>5</sup> In the days of Herod, (the) king of Judea, there was a priest, Zacharias by name (or called Zechariah), of the sort of Abia, and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth.
- <sup>6</sup> And both were just before God (or And both were good and righteous before God), going in all the commandments and justifyings of the Lord, without (com)plaint.
- <sup>7</sup> And they had no child, for Elisabeth was barren, and both were of great age [or had gone far] in their days.
- <sup>8</sup> And it befell, that when Zacharias should do the office of priesthood, in the order of his course before God, (And it befell, that when Zechariah should do the duties of the priesthood, by the order of his course before God,)
- <sup>9</sup> after the custom of the priesthood, he went forth by lot, and entered into the temple [of the Lord], to (offer the) incense.
- <sup>10</sup> And all the multitude of the people was withoutforth, and prayed in the hour of incensing. (And a great multitude of people were outside, and prayed during the hour of incense.)
- <sup>11</sup> And an angel of the Lord appeared to him, and stood on the right half of the altar of incense (or and stood on the right side of the altar of incense).
- <sup>12</sup> And Zacharias seeing (him) was (made) afraid [or was distroubled], and dread fell upon him. (And when Zechariah saw him he was afraid, and fear fell upon him.)
- $^{13}$  And the angel said to him, Zacharias, dread thou not, (or Zechariah, fear not); for thy prayer is heard, and Elisabeth, thy wife, shall bear to thee a son, and his name shall be called John.
- $^{14}$  And joy and gladding shall be to thee; and many shall have joy in his nativity,  $or\ birth$ .
- <sup>15</sup> For he shall be great before the Lord, and he shall not drink wine nor cider, and he shall be full-filled with the Holy Ghost, [or and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost], (or and he shall be filled with the Holy Spirit), yet from his mother's womb.

- <sup>16</sup> And he shall convert many of the children of Israel to their Lord God; [And he shall convert many of the sons of Israel to the Lord God of them;]
- <sup>17</sup> and he shall go before him in the spirit and virtue of Elias (or and he shall go before him in the spirit and in the power of Elijah); and he shall turn the hearts of the fathers into the sons, and men out of belief, [or that believe not], to the prudence of just men (or to the wisdom of the righteous), to make ready a perfect people to the Lord.
- <sup>18</sup> And Zacharias said to the angel, Whereof shall I know this? for I am old, and my wife hath gone far in her days.
- <sup>19</sup> And the angel answered, and said to him, For I am Gabriel, that stand nigh before God, (or Yea, I am Gabriel, who standeth near to God); and I am sent to thee to speak, and to evangelize [or to tell] to thee these things.
- <sup>20</sup> And lo! thou shalt be dumb, and thou shalt not be able to speak till into the day, in which these things shall be done; for thou hast not believed to my words (or for thou hast not believed my words), which shall be fulfilled in their time.
- <sup>21</sup> And the people was abiding Zacharias (or And the people were waiting for Zechariah), and they wondered, (why) that he tarried (so) in the temple.
- <sup>22</sup> And he went out, and might not speak to them, and they knew that he had seen a vision in the temple. And he beckoned to them, and dwelled still dumb.
- $^{23}$  And it was done, when the days of his office were fulfilled, he went into his house.
- $^{24}$  And after these days Elisabeth, his wife, conceived, and hid her(self) (for) five months, and said,
- $^{25}$  For so the Lord did to me in the days, in which he beheld, to take away my reproof [or my shame] among men.
- <sup>26</sup> But in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God into a city of Galilee, whose name was Nazareth,
- <sup>27</sup> to a maiden [or to a virgin], wedded to a man, whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the name of the maiden was Mary.
- $^{28}\,\mathrm{And}$  the angel entered to her, and said, Hail, full of grace; the Lord is with thee; blessed be thou among women.
- <sup>29</sup> And when she had heard (this), she was troubled in his word (or she was troubled by his words), and thought what manner salutation this was.
- <sup>30</sup> And the angel said to her, Dread thou not, Mary, (or Fear not, Mary), for thou hast found grace with God.
- <sup>31</sup>Lo! thou shalt conceive in [the] womb, and shalt bear a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus.
- <sup>32</sup> This shall be great [or He shall be great], and he shall be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God shall give to him the seat of David, his father, (or and the Lord God shall give him the throne of his father David),
- <sup>33</sup> and he shall reign in the house of Jacob [into] without end, and of his realm shall be none end (or and there shall be no end to his Kingdom).
- <sup>34</sup> And Mary said to the angel, On what manner shall this thing be done, for I know not (a) man? or for I know no man?
- <sup>35</sup> And the angel answered, and said to her, The Holy Ghost shall come from above into thee, and the virtue of the Highest shall overshadow thee, (or The Holy Spirit shall come from above upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee); and therefore that holy thing that shall be born of thee, shall be called the Son of God.

- <sup>36</sup> And lo! Elisabeth, thy cousin, and she also hath conceived a son in her old (age), and this month is the sixth to her that is called barren;
- $^{37}$  for every word shall not be impossible with God. (for nothing is impossible with God.)
- <sup>38</sup> And Mary said, Lo! the handmaid of the Lord or Lo! the handmaiden of the Lord; be it done to me after thy word. And the angel departed from her.
- <sup>39</sup> And Mary rose up in those days, and went with haste into the mountains [or into the hilly places], into a city of Judea.
  - <sup>40</sup> And she entered into the house of Zacharias, and greeted Elisabeth.
- <sup>41</sup> And it was done, as Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the young child in her womb gladded. And Elisabeth was full-filled with the Holy Ghost, [or And Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost], (or And Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit),
- <sup>42</sup> and cried with a great voice (or and cried with a loud voice), and said, Blessed be thou among women, and blessed be the fruit of thy womb.
- <sup>43</sup> And whereof is this thing to me, that the mother of my Lord come to me?
- <sup>44</sup> For lo! as the voice of thy salutation was made in mine ears, the young child gladded in joy in my womb [or the young child gladded with joy in my womb].
- <sup>45</sup> And blessed be thou, that hast believed, for those things that be said of the Lord to thee, shall be perfectly done. [And blessed be thou, that hast believed, for those things that be said to thee from the Lord, shall be perfectly done.]
  - <sup>46</sup> And Mary said, My soul magnifieth the Lord,
- <sup>47</sup> and my spirit hath gladded in God, mine health [or mine health-giver]. (and my spirit hath rejoiced in God, my salvation.)
- <sup>48</sup> For he hath beheld the meekness of his handmaid or the meekness of his handmaiden. For lo! (because) of this all generations shall say that I am blessed, [or Lo! forsooth of this (or because of this) all generations shall say me blessed].
- $^{49}$  For he that is mighty hath done to me great things, and his name is holy.
- <sup>50</sup> And his mercy is from kindred into kindreds, to men that dread him (or to those who have fearful reverence for him).
- <sup>51</sup> He made might in his arm, he scattered proud men with the thought of his heart.
- $^{52}$  He put down mighty men from their seats, and enhanced meek men. (He brought down the mighty from their thrones, and exalted, or raised up, the humble.)
- <sup>53</sup> He hath full-filled hungry men with goods [or He hath filled hungry men with good things], and he hath left rich men void.
- <sup>54</sup> He, having mind of his mercy, took Israel, his child; (He, remembering his kindness, helped his servant Israel;)
- $^{55}$  as he hath spoken to our fathers, to Abraham and to his seed, into worlds (or forever).

- <sup>56</sup> And Mary dwelled with her, as it were three months, and turned again into her house. (And Mary remained with her for three months, and then returned to her house.)
- $^{57}\,\mathrm{But}$  the time of bearing child was fulfilled to Elisabeth, and she bare a son.
- <sup>58</sup> And the neighbours and the cousins of her heard, that the Lord had magnified his mercy with her; and they thanked him [or and they together joyed to her, (or with her)].
- <sup>59</sup> And it was done in the eighth day, they came to circumcise the child; and they called him Zacharias, by the name of his father. (And it was done on the eighth day, they came to circumcise the child; and they called him Zechariah, after his father's name.)
  - <sup>60</sup> And his mother answered, and said, Nay, but he shall be called John.
- $^{61}$  And they said to her, For no man is in thy kindred, that is called [by] this name.
- <sup>62</sup> And they beckoned to his father, what he would that he were called (or what he wanted him to be called).
- <sup>63</sup> And he asking (for) a pointel (or And he asking for a stylus), wrote, saying, John is his name. And all men wondered.
- <sup>64</sup> And anon his mouth was opened, and his tongue, and he spake, and blessed God. (And at once his mouth was opened, and his tongue, and he spoke, and blessed God.)
- <sup>65</sup> And dread was made on all their neighbours (or And all their neighbours were filled with fearful reverence), and all these words were published on all the mountains [or on all the hilly places] of Judea.
- 66 And all men that heard putted (it) in their heart(s), and said, What manner child shall this be? For the hand of the Lord was with him.
- <sup>67</sup> And Zacharias, his father, was full-filled with the Holy Ghost [or was filled with the Holy Ghost], and prophesied, and said, (And his father Zechariah was filled with the Holy Spirit, and he prophesied, and said,)
- <sup>68</sup> Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, for he hath visited, and made redemption of his people (or and made redemption for his people).
- <sup>69</sup> And he hath raised to us an horn of health, in the house of David, his child. (He hath raised up for us a Deliverer of salvation, in the house of his servant David.)
- <sup>70</sup> As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, that were from the world. (As he spoke by the mouths of his holy prophets, who lived long ago.)
- <sup>71</sup> Health from our enemies (or Salvation or Deliverance from our enemies), and from the hand(s) of all (the) men that hated us.
- <sup>72</sup> To do mercy with our fathers, and to have mind of his holy testament. (To give mercy to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant.)
  - 73 The great oath that he swore to Abraham, our father,
- <sup>74</sup> to give himself to us. That we without dread, delivered from the hand of our enemies, serve to him, [to give himself to us. That we delivered from the hand of our enemies, serve to him without dread (or without fear),](to give himself to us. That we now, without any fear, having been delivered from the hand of our enemies, serve him,)
  - <sup>75</sup> in holiness and rightwiseness before him in all our days.

- <sup>76</sup> And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest; for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord, to make ready his ways (or to prepare his way).
- <sup>77</sup> To give science of health to his people, into remission of their sins; (To give the knowledge of salvation to his people, by the forgiveness of their sins;)

<sup>78</sup> by the inwardness of the mercy of our God, in the which he springing up from on high hath visited us.

<sup>79</sup> To give light to them that sit in darknesses, and in the shadow of death; to (ad)dress our feet into the way of peace. (To give light to those who sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death; to direct our feet in the way of peace.)

<sup>80</sup> And the child waxed, and was comforted in spirit, and was in desert places unto the day of his showing to Israel. (And the child grew, and was strengthened in spirit, and lived in the desert until the day of his first appearance before Israel.)

- $^{1}$  And it was done in those days, a commandment went out from the emperor Augustus [or a commandment went out from Caesar Augustus], that all the world should be described (or that a census should be taken throughout the Empire).
- <sup>2</sup> This first describing was made of Cyrenius, (the) justice, [or (the) keeper], of Syria. (This first census was made when Quirinius was the Governor of Syria.)
- <sup>3</sup> And all men went to make profession, [or acknowledging], each into his own city.
- <sup>4</sup> And Joseph went up from Galilee, from the city [of] Nazareth, into Judea, into a city of David, that is called Bethlehem, for that he was of the house and of the family of David,
- <sup>5</sup> (so) that he should acknowledge with Mary, his wife, that was wedded to him, and was great with child.
- <sup>6</sup> And it was done, while they were there, the days were fulfilled, that she should bear (the) child.
- <sup>7</sup> And she bare her first-born son, and wrapped him in 'clothes, and laid him in a cratch, for there was no place to him in no chamber. (And she bare her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a feed-trough, for there was no place for him in any room.)
- <sup>8</sup> And shepherds were in the same country, waking and keeping the watches of the night on their flock. (And shepherds were there in the countryside, awake and keeping the night watch over their flocks.)
- <sup>9</sup> And lo! the angel of the Lord stood beside them, and the clearness of God shined about them; and they dreaded with great dread. (And behold! the angel of the Lord stood beside them, and the glory of God shone about them; and they feared with a great fear.)
- <sup>10</sup> And the angel said to them, Do not ye dread; for lo! I preach to you a great joy, that shall be to all people. (And the angel said to them, Do not fear; for behold! I preach to you a great joy, that shall be for all people.)
- 11 For a Saviour is born today to you, that is Christ the Lord (or who is the Messiah the Lord), in the city of David.

- <sup>12</sup> And this is a token to you; ye shall find a young child wrapped in 'clothes, and laid in a cratch. (And this is a sign for you; ye shall find a young child wrapped in swaddling clothes, and laid in a feed-trough.)
- <sup>13</sup> And suddenly there was made with the angel a multitude of heavenly knighthood, praising God, and saying, (And suddenly there was made with the angel a multitude of heavenly host, praising God, and saying,)
- <sup>14</sup> Glory be in the highest things to God, and in earth peace to men of good will. (Glory be to God in the highest place, and on earth peace to men of good will.)
- <sup>15</sup> And it was done, as the angels passed away from them into heaven, the shepherds spake together, and said, Go we over to Bethlehem, and see we this word that is made, which the Lord hath made, and showed to us.

16 And they hieing came, and found Mary and Joseph, and the young child laid in a greatch (or and the young child laid in a feed-trough)

- child laid in a cratch (or and the young child laid in a feed-trough).
  - 17 And they seeing, knew of the word that was said to them of this child.
- <sup>18</sup> And all men that heard wondered, and of these things that were said to them of the shepherds. (And everyone who heard about it, wondered about these things that were told to them by the shepherds.)
  - <sup>19</sup> But Mary kept all these words, bearing (them) together in her heart.
- <sup>20</sup> And the shepherds turned again, glorifying and praising God in all things that they had heard and seen, as it was said to them. (And the shepherds returned home, glorifying and praising God for all the things which they had heard and seen, as it was said to them.)
- <sup>21</sup> And after that eight days were ended, that the child should be circumcised, his name was called Jesus, which (name he) was called of the angel (or which name he was called by the angel), before that he was conceived in the womb.
- <sup>22</sup> And after that the days of the purification of Mary were fulfilled, after Moses' law, they took him into Jerusalem, to offer him to the Lord,
- <sup>23</sup> as it is written in the law of the Lord, For every male-kind opening the womb, shall be called holy to the Lord;
- <sup>24</sup> and that they shall give an offering, after that it is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtles, or two culver birds, (or A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons).
- <sup>25</sup> And lo! a man was in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and this man was just, and virtuous [or dread-full], and abode the comfort of Israel; and the Holy Ghost was in him. (And behold! there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name (was) Simeon; and this man (was) righteous, and virtuous, (or full of reverence), and awaited the strengthening of Israel; and the Holy Spirit was in him.)
- <sup>26</sup> And he had taken an answer of the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, [no] but he saw first the Christ of the Lord. (And he had received an answer from the Holy Spirit, that he would not see death, until he had seen the Messiah of the Lord.)
- <sup>27</sup> And he came in (the) Spirit into the temple (or And directed by the Spirit he came to the Temple). And when his father and mother led [in] the child Jesus to do after the custom of the law for him,
  - 28 he took him into his arms, and blessed God, and said,
- <sup>29</sup> Lord, now thou leavest thy servant after thy word in peace; (Lord, now thou lettest thy servant go or to depart in peace, according to thy word;)

- <sup>30</sup> for mine eyes have seen thine health, (for my eyes have seen thy salvation or thy deliverance,)
  - 31 which thou hast made ready before the face of all (the) peoples;
- <sup>32</sup> light to the showing of heathen men, and (the) glory of thy people Israel. (light for the showing to the Gentiles, and glory to thy people Israel.)
- <sup>33</sup> And his father and his mother were wondering on these things, that were said of him (or that were said about their son).
- <sup>34</sup> And Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary, his mother, Lo! this (child) is set into the falling down and into the rising again of many men in Israel, and into a token, to whom it shall be against-said, (or and as a sign, to which it shall be said against, or which shall be rejected).
- $^{35}$  And a sword shall pass through thine own soul, (so) that the thoughts be showed of many hearts.
- <sup>36</sup> And Anna was a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the lineage of Aser. And she had gone forth in many days, and had lived with her husband seven years from her maidenhood.
- <sup>37</sup> And this (woman) was a widow to fourscore years and four; and she departed not from the temple, but served God night and day in fastings and prayers.
- <sup>38</sup> And this (woman) came upon them in that hour, and acknowledged to the Lord, and spake of him to all that abided the redemption of Israel. (And she came upon them at that time, and thanked the Lord, and spoke about him to all who waited for Israel's redemption.)
- <sup>39</sup> And as they had full done all things [or And as they had perfectly done all things], after the law of the Lord, they turned again into Galilee, into their city Nazareth, (or they returned to Galilee, to their city of Nazareth).
- <sup>40</sup> And the child waxed, and was comforted, full of wisdom, (or And the child grew, and was strengthened, and was full of wisdom); and the grace of God was in him.
- <sup>41</sup> And his father and mother went each year into Jerusalem, in the solemn day of pask. (And his father and mother went each year to Jerusalem, for the Feast Day, or the Festival, of Passover.)
- $^{42}$  And when Jesus was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem, after the custom of the feast day.
- $^{43}$  And when the days were done, they turned again (or they returned home); and the child abode in Jerusalem, and his father and mother knew it not.
- <sup>44</sup> For they guessing that he had been in the fellowship, came a day's journey, and sought him among his cousins and his acknowledged [or and (his) known].
- <sup>45</sup> And when they found him not, they turned again into Jerusalem, and sought him. (And when they could not find him, they returned to Jerusalem, and searched for him.)
- <sup>46</sup> And it befell, that after the third day they found him in the temple, sitting in the middle of the doctors, (or the teachers of the Law), hearing them and asking them.
- $^{47}$  And all men that heard him, wondered on the prudence and the answers of him.

- <sup>48</sup> And they saw (him), and wondered. And his mother said to him, Son, what hast thou done to us thus? (or Son, why hast thou done this to us?) Lo! thy father and I sorrowing have sought thee.
- <sup>49</sup> And he said to them, What is it that ye sought me? (or Why is it that ye have searched for me?) knew ye not, that in those things that be of my Father, [or knew ye not, that in those things that be my Father's], it behooveth me to be?
  - <sup>50</sup> And they understood not the word, which he spake to them.
- <sup>51</sup> And he came down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject to them. And his mother kept together all these words, and bare them in her heart.
- <sup>52</sup> And Jesus profited in wisdom, age, and grace, with God and men. (And Jesus grew in wisdom, age, and grace, with God and men.)

- <sup>1</sup> In the fifteenth year of the empire of Tiberius, the emperor (or Caesar), when Pilate of Pontii (or Pontius Pilate) governed Judea, and Herod was(the) prince of Galilee, and Philip, his brother, was(the) prince of Ituraea, and of the country of Trachonitis (or and of the province of Trachonitis), and Lysanias was(the) prince of Abilene,
- <sup>2</sup> under the princes of (the) priests, Annas and Caiaphas, the word of the Lord was made on John, the son of Zacharias, in (the) desert. (under the High Priests, Annas and Caiaphas, the word of the Lord came to John, the son of Zechariah, in the desert.)
- <sup>3</sup> And he came into all the country of (the) Jordan, and preached baptism of penance into remission of sins. (And he came into all the countryside of the Jordan River, and preached the baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins.)
- <sup>4</sup> As it is written in the book of the words of Esaias, the prophet, (or As it is written in the book of the words of the prophet Isaiah), The voice of a crier in (the) desert, [or The voice of one crying in (the) desert], Make ye ready the way of the Lord, make ye his paths right.
- <sup>5</sup> Each valley shall be full-filled, and every hill and little hill shall be made low; and shrewd things shall be into dressed things, and sharp things into plain ways; [Each valley shall be filled, and each mountain and little hill shall be made low; and shrewd things shall be into dressed things, and sharp things into plain ways;](Every valley shall be filled full or filled in, and every mountain and little hill shall be made low; and depraved or crooked things shall be made into aligned or straight things, and rugged or rough ways into smooth or flat ways;)
- <sup>6</sup> and every flesh [or each man] shall see the health of God. (and everyone shall see God's salvation or deliverance.)
- <sup>7</sup> Therefore he said to the people, which went out to be baptized of him, Kindlings of adders, who showed to you to flee from the wrath to coming? [Therefore he said to the companies, that went out, (so) that they should be baptized of him, Fruits, or kindlings, of adders, who showed to you to flee from the wrath to come?](And so he said to the people, who went out to be baptized by him, Children of snakes, who showed to you to flee from the wrath to come?)

- <sup>8</sup> Therefore do ye worthy fruits of penance (or And so do ye worthy fruits of repentance), and begin ye not to say, We have a father Abraham; for I say to you, that God is mighty to raise (up out) of these stones the sons of Abraham.
- $^{9}$  And now an ax is set [or is put] to the root of the tree; and therefore every tree that maketh not good fruit, shall be cut down, and shall be cast into the fire.
- <sup>10</sup> And the people asked him, and said, What then shall we do? (And the people asked him, Then what should we do?)
- <sup>11</sup> He answered, and said to them, He that hath two coats, give he to him that hath none; and he that hath meats (or and he who hath some food), do in like manner.
- <sup>12</sup> And [the] publicans came to be baptized; and they said to him, Master, what shall we do? (And the tax-collectors came to be baptized; and they said to him, Teacher, what should we do?)
- $^{13}$  And he said to them, Do ye nothing more, than that is ordained to you.
- <sup>14</sup> And [the] knights asked him, and said, What shall also we do? (or And the soldiers asked him, What should we do?) And he said to them, Smite ye wrongfully no man, neither make ye false challenge, and be ye satisfied with your wages.
- <sup>15</sup> When all the people guessed, and all men thought in their hearts of John, lest peradventure he were Christ (or that perhaps he was the Messiah),
- <sup>16</sup> John answered, and said to all men, I baptize you in water; but a stronger (One) than I shall come after me, of whom I am not worthy to unbind the lace [or the thong] of his shoes; he shall baptize you in the Holy Ghost and fire (or he shall baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire).
- <sup>17</sup> Whose winnowing tool, or fan, is in his hand, and he shall purge his floor of corn, [or and he shall purge his cornfloor], (or and he shall purge his floor of grain, or his threshing floor), and shall gather the wheat into his barn; but the chaff he shall burn with fire unquenchable.
- <sup>18</sup> And many other things also he spake, and preached to the people. [Forsooth and he stirring, or admonishing, many other things, evangelized to the people.]
- <sup>19</sup> But Herod [the] tetrarch, when he was blamed of John for Herodias (or after he was rebuked by John for wedding Herodias), the wife of his brother, and for all the evils that Herod did,
- $^{20}\,\mathrm{he}$  increased this over all (or he added something even worse), and shut John in prison.
- <sup>21</sup> And it was done, when all the people was baptized, and when Jesus was baptized, and prayed, heaven was opened (or the heavens were opened).
- <sup>22</sup> And the Holy Ghost came down in bodily likeness, as a dove on him; and a voice was made from heaven, Thou art my dearworthy Son, in thee it hath well pleased to me. (And the Holy Spirit came down in bodily likeness, like a dove upon him; and a voice was made from heaven, Thou art my dearworthy Son, I am well pleased with thee.)

- <sup>23</sup> And Jesus himself was beginning as of thirty years, that he was guessed the son of Joseph, which was of Heli,
- <sup>24</sup> which was of Matthat, which was of Levi, which was of Melchi, that was of Janna, that was of Joseph,
- <sup>25</sup> that was of Mattathias, that was of Amos, that was of Naum, that was of Esli, that was of Nagge,
- <sup>26</sup> that was of Maath, that was of Mattathias, that was of Semei, that was of Joseph, that was of Juda,
- <sup>27</sup> that was of Joanna, that was of Rhesa, that was of Zorobabel, that was of Salathiel, that was of Neri,
- <sup>28</sup> that was of Melchi, that was of Addi, that was of Cosam, that was of Elmodam, that was of Er,
- <sup>29</sup> that was of Jose, that was of Eliezer, that was of Jorim, that was of Matthat, that was of Levi,
- <sup>30</sup> that was of Simeon, that was of Juda, that was of Joseph, that was of Jonan, that was of Eliakim,
- <sup>31</sup> that was of Melea, that was of Menan, that was of Mattatha, that was of Nathan, that was of David,
- <sup>32</sup> that was of Jesse, that was of Obed, that was of Booz, that was of Salmon, that was of Naasson,
- <sup>33</sup> that was of Aminadab, that was of Aram, that was of Esrom, that was of Phares, that was of Juda(h),
- <sup>34</sup> that was of Jacob, that was of Isaac, that was of Abraham, that was of Thara, that was of Nachor,
- <sup>35</sup> that was of Saruch, that was of Ragau, that was of Phalec, that was of Heber, that was of Sala,
- <sup>36</sup> that was of Cainan, that was of Arphaxad, that was of Sem, that was of Noe, that was of Lamech,
- <sup>37</sup> that was of Mathusala, that was of Enoch, that was of Jared, that was of Maleleel, that was of Cainan,
  - <sup>38</sup> that was of Enos, that was of Seth, that was of Adam, that was of God.

- <sup>1</sup> And Jesus full of the Holy Ghost turned again from (the) Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into (the) desert (And Jesus full of the Holy Spirit returned from the Jordan River, and was led by the Spirit into the desert)
- <sup>2</sup> (for) forty days, and was tempted of the devil (or and was tested by the Devil), and [he] ate nothing in those days; and when those days were ended, he hungered.
- <sup>3</sup> And the devil said to him, If thou art God's Son, say to this stone, that it be made (into) bread.
- <sup>4</sup> And Jesus answered to him, It is written, That a man liveth not in bread alone, but in every word of God. (And Jesus answered him, It is written, A man liveth not by bread alone, but by every word from God.)
- <sup>5</sup> And the devil led him into an high hill, and showed to him all the realms of the world in a moment of time; (And the Devil led him up onto a high mountain, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time;)
- <sup>6</sup> and said to him, I shall give to thee all this power, and the glory of them, for to me they be given, and to whom I will, I give them; (and said to him, I shall give thee all this power, and their glory, for they have been given to me, and to whom I desire, I give them;)

- <sup>7</sup> therefore if thou fall down, and worship before me, all (these) things shall be thine.
- <sup>8</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to him, It is written, Thou shalt worship thy Lord God [or Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God], and to him alone thou shalt serve.
- <sup>9</sup> And he led him into Jerusalem, and set him on the pinnacle of the temple, and said to him, If thou art God's Son, send thyself from hence down;
- <sup>10</sup> for it is written, For he hath commanded to his angels of thee, (or For he hath commanded to his angels about thee), that they keep thee (safe) in all thy ways,
- <sup>11</sup> and that they shall take thee in (their) hands, lest peradventure thou hurt thy foot at [or on] a stone.
- <sup>12</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt thy Lord God, [or It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God], (or Thou shalt not test the Lord thy God).
- <sup>13</sup> And when every temptation was ended, the fiend [or the devil] went away from him for a time. (And when every test was ended, the Devil went away from him for a while.)
- <sup>14</sup> And Jesus turned again in the virtue of the Spirit into Galilee, and the fame went forth of him through all the country. (And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit to Galilee, and the story about him went forth throughout all the land.)
- <sup>15</sup> And he taught in the synagogues of them, and was magnified of all men. (And he taught in their synagogues, and was praised by everyone.)
- <sup>16</sup> And he came to Nazareth, where he was nourished (or where he grew up), and he entered after his custom in (or on) the sabbath day into a synagogue [or and he entered after his custom in the sabbath day into the synagogue], and rose to read.
- <sup>17</sup> And the book of Esaias, the prophet, was taken to him; and as he turned the book, he found a place, where it was written, (And the scroll of the prophet Isaiah was given to him; and as he turned the scroll, he found a place, where it was written,)
- <sup>18</sup> The Spirit of the Lord is[up] on me, for which thing he anointed me; he sent me to preach [or to evangelize] to poor men, to heal contrite men in heart, and to preach remission (or a pardon) to (the) prisoners [or to (the) captives], and sight to blind men, and to deliver broken men into remission (or and to give relief to broken men);
- <sup>19</sup> to preach the year of the Lord pleasant, and the day of yielding again. [to preach the year of the Lord accepted, or pleasant, and the day of retribution, or yielding again.](to proclaim the exceptional year of the Lord, yea, the Day of Reward.)
- <sup>20</sup> And when he had closed the book, he gave [it] again to the minister, and sat, (or And when he had rolled up the scroll, he gave it back to the priest, and sat down); and the eyes of all men in the synagogue were beholding into him.
- $^{21}$  And he began to say to them, For in this day this scripture is fulfilled in your ears.

- <sup>22</sup> And all men gave witnessing to him (or And everyone gave good testimony about him), and wondered in the words of grace, that came forth of [or that came out of] his mouth. And they said, Whether this is not the son of Joseph?
- <sup>23</sup> And he said to them, Soothly ye shall say to me this likeness, Leech, heal thyself, (or Truly, or Surely, ye shall say to me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself). The Pharisees said to Jesus, How (or What) great things have we heard done in Capernaum, do thou also here in thy country.
- <sup>24</sup> And he said, Truly I say to you, that no prophet is received [or is accepted] in his own country. (And he said, I tell you the truth, no prophet is accepted in his hometown.)
- <sup>25</sup> In truth I say to you, that many widows were in the days of Elias, the prophet, in Israel, when heaven was closed three years and six months, when great hunger was made in all the earth [or in every land]; (Truly I say to you, or I tell you the truth, that there were many widows in Israel, in the days of the prophet Elijah, when the heavens were closed up for three years and six months, when great hunger was made in every land;)
- <sup>26</sup> and to none of them was Elias sent, (no) but into Sarepta of Sidon, to a woman a widow [or no but to Sarepta of Sidon, to a woman widow]. (and to none of them was Elijah sent, except unto Sarepta of Sidon, yea, to a widow woman.)
- <sup>27</sup> And many mesels were in Israel, under Eliseus, the prophet, and none of them was cleansed, [no] but Naaman of Syria. (And there were many lepers in Israel, at the time of the prophet Elisha, and none of them were cleansed, except for Naaman of Syria.)
  - <sup>28</sup> And all in the synagogue hearing these things, were filled with wrath.
- <sup>29</sup> And they rose up, and drove him out without the city, and led him to the top of the hill on which their city was builded, to cast him down (or to throw him down).
- <sup>30</sup> But Jesus passed (forth), and went through the middle of them; (But Jesus passed forth, and went through their midst;)
- <sup>31</sup> and he came down into Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and there he taught them in (or on)[the] sabbaths.
- <sup>32</sup> And they were astonied in his teaching, for his word was in power. (And they were astonished with his teaching, for there was power in his words.)
- <sup>33</sup> And in their synagogue was a man having an unclean fiend, and he cried with (a) great voice, (And in their synagogue was a man who had a devil, or a demon, yea, an unclean spirit, and he cried with a loud voice,)
- <sup>34</sup> and said, Suffer, what to us and to thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to lose us? (or art thou come to destroy us?) I know thee, that thou art the holy (One) of God.
- <sup>35</sup> And Jesus blamed him, and said, Wax dumb, and go out from him. And when the fiend had cast him forth into the middle (of them), he went away from him, and he annoyed him nothing. (And Jesus rebuked him, and said, Be still, and go out of him. And when the demon had thrown him forth into their midst, he went out of him, and he did him no harm.)
- <sup>36</sup> And dread was made in all men, and they spake together, and said, What is this word, for in power and virtue he commandeth to unclean spirits, and they go out? (And everyone was filled with fearful reverence, and they spoke together, and said, What be these words of his? for in power and with authority he commandeth to unclean spirits, and they go out!)

- <sup>37</sup> And the fame was published of him into each place of the country. (And the story about him was told in every part of the land.)
- <sup>38</sup> And Jesus rose up from the synagogue, and entered into the house of Simon; and the mother of Simon's wife was holden with great fevers, and they prayed him for her (or and they beseeched him for her).
- <sup>39</sup> And Jesus stood over her, and commanded to the fever, and it left her; and anon she rose up (or and at once she got up), and served them.
- <sup>40</sup> And when the sun went down, all that had sick men with diverse languors, [or aches], led them to him; and he set his hands on each by themselves, and healed them.
- <sup>41</sup> And fiends went out from many, and cried, and said, For thou art the Son of God. And he blamed, and suffered them not to speak, for they knew him, that he was Christ. (And devils and demons went out from many, and cried, and said, For thou art the Son of God. And he rebuked them, and did not allow them to speak, for they knew him, that he was the Messiah.)
- <sup>42</sup> And when the day was come, he went out, and went into a desert place; and the people sought him, and they came to him, and they held (onto) him, that he should not go away from them (or so that he would not go away from them).
- <sup>43</sup> To whom he said, For also to other cities it behooveth me to preach [or to evangelize] the kingdom of God, for therefore I am sent [or for thereto I am sent].
  - <sup>44</sup> And (so) he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

- <sup>1</sup> And it was done, when the people came fast to Jesus, to hear the word of God, he stood beside the pool [or the water] of Gennesaret, (or he stood by Lake Gennesaret, that is, Lake Galilee),
- <sup>2</sup> and saw two boats standing beside the pool [or (at the edge of) the water]; and the fishers were gone down, and washed their nets, (or and the fishermen had left them, and were washing their nets).
- <sup>3</sup> And he went up into a boat, that was Simon's, and prayed (or asked) him to lead it a little from the land; and he sat, and taught the people out of the boat.
- <sup>4</sup> And as he ceased to speak, he said to Simon, Lead out into the depth, and slack ye your nets to take (some) fish.
- <sup>5</sup> And Simon answered, and said to him, Commander, we travailed all the night, and took nothing, but in thy word I shall lay out the net. (And Simon answered, and said to him, Master, (or Teacher), we laboured all night, and took nothing, but at thy word I shall lay out the net.)
- <sup>6</sup> And when they had done this thing, they *(en)*closed together a great multitude of fishes; and their net was broken.
- <sup>7</sup> And they beckoned to fellows, that were in another boat, that they should come, and help them. And they came, and filled both the boats, so that they were almost drenched (or so that they were almost drowned).
- <sup>8</sup> And when Simon Peter saw this thing, he felled down to the knees of Jesus, and said, Lord, go (away) from me, for I am a sinful man.

- <sup>9</sup> For he was on each side astonied (or astonished), and all that were with him, in the taking of (the) fishes which they took.
- $^{10}$  Soothly in like manner James and John, the sons of Zebedee, that were fellows of Simon Peter. And Jesus said to Simon, Do not thou dread (or Do not fear); now from this time thou shalt take men.
- <sup>11</sup> And when the boats were led up to the land, they left all things, and they *(pur)*sued him (or and they followed him).
- <sup>12</sup> And it was done, when he was in one of the cities, lo! a man full of leprosy; and seeing Jesus (he) fell down on his face, and prayed him (or and beseeched him), and said, Lord, if thou wilt, thou mayest make me clean.
- <sup>13</sup> And Jesus held forth his hand, and touched him, and said, I will, be thou made clean. And anon the leprosy passed away from him (or And at once the leprosy went away from him).
- $^{14}$  And Jesus commanded to him, that he should say to no man; But go, show thee to a priest, and offer for thy cleansing, as Moses bade, into witnessing to them (or as a testimony to them).
- <sup>15</sup> And the word walked about the more of him (or And the story about him spread far and wide); and much people came together, to hear, and to be healed of their sicknesses.
  - <sup>16</sup> And he went into (the) desert, and prayed.
- <sup>17</sup> And it was done in one of the days, he sat, and taught; and there were Pharisees sitting, and doctors of the law, that came of each castle of Galilee, and of Judea, and of Jerusalem; and the virtue of the Lord was to heal sick men. (And it was done on one of the days, he sat, and taught; and there were Pharisees, and teachers of the Law, sitting there, who had come from every village of Galilee, and from Judea, and from Jerusalem; and the power of the Lord was there to heal the sick.)
- <sup>18</sup> And lo! men bare in a bed a man that was sick in the palsy [or a man that was sick in palsy], (or And behold! men brought in a bed a man who was sick with palsy), and they sought to bear him in, and set (him) before him.
- <sup>19</sup> And they found not in what part they should bear him in, for the (crowd of) people, and (so) they went upon the roof, and by the slates they let him down with the bed, into the midst, before Jesus.
- <sup>20</sup> And when Jesus saw the faith of them, he said, Man, thy sins be forgiven to thee.
- <sup>21</sup> And the scribes and the Pharisees began to think, saying, Who is this, that speaketh blasphemies? who may forgive sins, [no] but God alone?
- <sup>22</sup> And as Jesus knew the thoughts of them, he answered, and said to them, What think ye evil things in your hearts? (or Why do ye think evil things in your hearts?)
- $^{23}$  What is lighter (or is easier) to say, Sins be forgiven to thee, or to say, Rise up, and walk?
- <sup>24</sup> But that ye know, that man's Son hath power in earth to forgive sins, he said to the sick man in palsy, (or But so that ye know, that man's Son hath power on the earth to forgive sins, he said to the man sick with palsy), I say to thee, rise up, take thy bed, and go into thine house.

- $^{25}$  And anon he rose up before them (or And at once he got up in front of them), and took the bed in which he lay, and went into his house, and magnified God.
- <sup>26</sup> And great wonder took all, and they magnified God; and they were full-filled with great dread, [or and they were filled with great dread], (or and they were filled with much fearful reverence), and said, For we have seen marvelous things today.
- <sup>27</sup> And after these things Jesus went out, and saw a publican, Levi by name, sitting at the tollbooth. And he said to him, (Pur)Sue thou me; (And after these things Jesus went out, and saw a tax-collector, named Levi, sitting at the tollbooth. And he said to him, Follow me;)
- <sup>28</sup> and when he had left all (his) things, he rose up, and *(pur)*sued him (or and followed him).
- <sup>29</sup> And Levi made to him a great feast in his house; and there was a great company of publicans, and of others that were with them, sitting at the meat. (And Levi made a great feast for him in his house; and there was a great group of tax-collectors, and others who were with them, sitting at the meal.)
- <sup>30</sup> And the Pharisees and the scribes of them grudged, and said to his disciples, Why eat ye and drink with publicans, and sinful men? (And the Pharisees and their scribes grumbled, and said to his disciples, Why do ye eat and drink with tax-collectors, and sinners?)
- <sup>31</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to them, They that be whole have no need to a leech, (or Those who be whole, or be well, have no need for a physician), but (rather) they that be sick [or but they that have evil];
- <sup>32</sup> for I came not to call just men, but sinful men to penance. (for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.)
- <sup>33</sup> And they said to him, Why (do) the disciples of John fast oft, and make prayers, also and of the Pharisees, but thine eat and drink?
- <sup>34</sup> To whom he said, Whether ye may make the sons of the spouse to fast, while the spouse is with them? (To whom he said, Can ye make the sons of the spouse to fast, while the spouse is still with them?)
- <sup>35</sup> But (the) days shall come, when the spouse shall be taken away from them, and then they shall fast in those days.
- <sup>36</sup> And he said to them also a likeness (or a parable); For no man taketh a piece from a new cloth, and putteth it into an old clothing, (or For no man taketh a piece from a new cloak, and putteth it onto an old piece of clothing); else both he breaketh the new, and the piece of the new accordeth not to the old.
- <sup>37</sup> And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine shall break the bottles, and the wine shall be shed out, and the bottles shall perish. [And no man putteth new wine into old wine vessels; else the new wine shall break the wine vessels, and the wine shall be shed out, and the wine vessels shall perish.]
- <sup>38</sup> But new wine oweth to be put into new bottles, and both be kept. [But new wine is to be put into new wine vessels, and both be kept.](But new wine ought to be put into new bottles, and then both shall be kept or preserved.)
- <sup>39</sup> And no man drinking the old, will anon (drink) the new (or will at once drink the new); for he saith, The old is the better [or The old is better].

- <sup>1</sup> And it was done in the second first sabbath [or Forsooth it was done in the first second sabbath], when he passed by the corns, his disciples plucked (some) ears of corn; and they rubbing (them) with their hands, ate (them).
- <sup>2</sup> And some of the Pharisees said to them, What do ye that, that is not leaveful in the sabbaths? (or Why do ye that, which is not lawful on the Sabbath?)
- <sup>3</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to them, Have ye not read, what David did, when he hungered, and they that were with him;
- <sup>4</sup> how he entered into the house of God, and took (the) loaves of proposition, and ate (them), and gave to them that were with him; which loaves it was not leaveful to eat, (no) but only to priests [or no but to priests alone]. (how he entered into God's House, and took the loaves of the showbread, and ate them, and gave them to those who were with him; whichbread it was not lawful to eat, except for the priests.)
  - <sup>5</sup> And he said to them, For man's Son is Lord, yea, of the sabbath.
- <sup>6</sup> And it was done in another sabbath (or on another Sabbath), that he entered into a synagogue, and taught. And a man was there, and his right hand was dry.
- <sup>7</sup> And the scribes and the Pharisees espied him, if he would heal him in the sabbath (or if he would heal him on the Sabbath), (so) that they should find cause, whereof they should accuse him.
- <sup>8</sup> And he knew the thoughts of them, and he said to the man that had a dry hand, Rise up, and stand in the middle (of us). And he rose, and stood (there).
- <sup>9</sup> And Jesus said to them, I ask you, if it is leaveful to do well in the sabbath [day], or evil? to make a soul safe, or to lose? (And Jesus said to them, I ask you, is it lawful to do good on the Sabbath day, or evil? to save a life, or a soul, or to destroy it?)
- $^{10}$  And when he had beheld all men about, he said to the man, Hold forth thine hand. And he held (it) forth, and his hand was restored to health.
- <sup>11</sup> And they were full-filled with unwisdom [or Soothly they were filled with unwisdom], and spake together, what they should do of Jesus (or what they would do about Jesus).
- <sup>12</sup> And it was done in those days, he went out into an hill to pray (or he went up onto a hill to pray); and he was all night dwelling in the prayer of God.
- <sup>13</sup> And when the day was come, he called his disciples, and chose twelve of them, which he called [or he named] also apostles;
- <sup>14</sup> Simon, whom he called Peter, and Andrew, his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew,
- <sup>15</sup> Matthew and Thomas, James Alphaeus, and Simon, that is called Zelotes (or the Zealot),
  - <sup>16</sup> Judas of James, and Judas Iscariot, that was (the) traitor.
- <sup>17</sup> And Jesus came down from the hill with them, and stood in a field place; and the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people, of all Judea, and Jerusalem, and of the sea coasts, and of Tyre and Sidon, (or from all of Judea, and Jerusalem, and from the sea coasts, and from Tyre and Sidon), that came to hear him, and to be healed of their sicknesses;

- $^{18}$  and they that were travailed of [or with] unclean spirits, were healed. (and those who were troubled by unclean spirits, or devils and demons, were healed.)
- <sup>19</sup> And all the people sought to touch him, for virtue went out of him (or for power went out of him), and healed all.
- <sup>20</sup> And when his eyes were cast up, into his disciples, he said, (or And he turned his eyes upon his disciples, and he said), Blessed be ye, poor men [+or Blessed be ye, (the) poor], for the kingdom of God is yours.
- <sup>21</sup> Blessed be ye, that now hunger, for ye shall be full-filled. Blessed be ye, that now weep, for ye shall laugh. [Blessed be ye that hunger now, for ye shall be filled. Blessed be ye that weep now, for ye shall laugh.]
- <sup>22</sup> Ye shall be blessed, when men shall hate you, and separate you away, and put reproof to you[or and shall put shame on you], and cast out your name as evil, for man's Son.
- <sup>23</sup> Joy ye in that day, and be ye glad; for lo! your meed is much in heaven; for after these things the fathers of them did to (the) prophets. (Rejoice on that day, and be glad; for behold! your reward is great in heaven; for thus their fathers did to the prophets.)
  - <sup>24</sup> Nevertheless woe to you, rich men, that have your comfort.
- <sup>25</sup> Woe to you that be full-filled, for ye shall hunger. Woe to you that now laugh, for ye shall mourn, and weep. [Woe to you that be filled, for ye shall hunger. Woe to you that laugh now, for ye shall mourn, and weep.]
- <sup>26</sup>Woe to you, when all men shall bless you; after these things the fathers of them did to [false] prophets (or for thus their fathers did to the false prophets).
- <sup>27</sup> But I say to you that hear, love ye your enemies, do ye well to them that hated you [or do ye well to them that hate you];
- <sup>28</sup> bless ye men that curse you, pray ye for men that defame you [or that falsely challenge you].
- <sup>29</sup> And to him that smiteth thee on the one cheek, show also the other [or give also the tother]; and from him that taketh away from thee a cloth, do not thou forbid the coat, (or and as for him who taketh away a cloak from thee, give also thy coat to him).
- <sup>30</sup> And give to each that asketh thee, and if a man taketh away those things that be thine, ask thou not again (for them).
- <sup>31</sup> And as ye will that men do to you (or And as ye desire that men do to you), do ye also to them in like manner.
- <sup>32</sup> And if ye love them that love you, what thank(s), [or what grace], is to you? for sinful men love men that love them. (And if ye love those who love you, what credit is that to you? for sinners love those who love them.)
- <sup>33</sup> And if ye do well to them that do well to you, what grace, [or what thank(s)], is to you? for sinful men do this thing. (And if ye do good to those who do good to you, what credit is that to you? for sinners do this same thing.)
- <sup>34</sup> And if ye lend to them of which ye hope to take again, what thank(s), [or what grace], is to you? for sinful men lend to sinful men, to take again as much. (And if ye lend to those from whom ye hope to receive back, what credit is that to you? for sinners lend to sinners, to receive back as much.)

- <sup>35</sup> Nevertheless love ye your enemies, and do ye well, and lend ye, hoping nothing thereof, and your meed shall be much (or and your reward shall be great), and ye shall be the sons of the Highest, for he is benign, [or of good will], on unkind men and evil men.
  - <sup>36</sup> Therefore be ye merciful, as your Father is merciful.
- <sup>37</sup> Do not ye deem, and ye shall not be deemed, (or Do not judge, and ye shall not be judged). Do not ye condemn, and ye shall not be condemned; forgive ye, and it shall be forgiven to you.
- <sup>38</sup> Give ye, and it shall be given to you. They shall give into your bosom a good measure, and well-filled, and shaken together, and overflowing; for by the same measure, by which ye mete, it shall be meted again to you, (or for by the same measure, by which ye measure, it shall be measured unto you).
- <sup>39</sup> And he said to them a likeness (or a parable), Whether the blind may lead the blind? nor fall they not both into the ditch? [or whether they fall not both into the ditch?]
- <sup>40</sup> A disciple is not above his master (or A student is not above his teacher); but each shall be perfect, if he be as his master.
- <sup>41</sup> And what seest thou in thy brother's eye a mote (or And why seest thou a speck in thy brother's eye), but thou beholdest not a beam, that is in thine own eye?
- <sup>42</sup> Or how mayest thou say to thy brother, Brother, suffer, (and) I shall cast out the mote of thine eye, (or Brother, allow me, and I shall take out the speck from thine eye), and thou beholdest not a beam that is in thine own eye? Hypocrite, first take out [or cast out] the beam of thine eye, and then thou shalt see to take out the mote of thy brother's eye.
- <sup>43</sup> It is not a good tree, that maketh evil fruits, neither an evil tree, that maketh good fruits;
- <sup>44</sup> for every tree is known of his fruit. And men gather not figs of thorns, neither men gather a grape of a bush of briers. (for every tree is known by its fruit. And people do not gather figs from thorns, nor do they gather grapes from a briar bush.)
- <sup>45</sup> A good man (out) of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth good things, and an evil man (out) of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things; for (out) of the plenty of the heart the mouth speaketh.
- <sup>46</sup> And what call ye me, Lord, Lord, (or And why do ye call me, Lord, Lord), and do not (do) those things that I say.
- <sup>47</sup> Each that cometh to me, and heareth my words, and doeth them, I shall show to you, to whom he is like.
- <sup>48</sup> He is like to a man that buildeth an house, that digged deep, and set [or put] the foundament on a stone (or and laid its foundation on a stone). And when a great flood was made, the flood was hurled to that house, and it might not move it, for it was founded on a firm stone.
- <sup>49</sup> But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like to a man building his house on [the] earth, without (a) foundament, (or upon the ground, without a foundation); into which the flood was hurled, and anon it fell down (or and at once it fell down); and the falling down of that house was made great.

- $^{1}$  And when he had fulfilled all his words into the ears of the people (or And when he had finished all his words to the people), he entered into Capernaum.
- $^{2}\,\mathrm{But}$  a servant of a centurion, that was precious to him, was sick, and drawing to the death.
- <sup>3</sup> And when he had heard of Jesus, he sent to him the elder men of (the) Jews, and prayed him (or beseeched him), that he would come, and heal his servant.
- <sup>4</sup> And when they came to Jesus, they prayed him busily (or they earnestly beseeched him), and said to him, For he is worthy, (so) that thou grant to him this thing;
- <sup>5</sup> for he loveth our folk, and he builded to us a synagogue. (for he loveth our nation and our people, and he hath built a synagogue for us.)
- <sup>6</sup> And Jesus went with them. And when he was not far from the house, the centurion sent to him (his) friends, and said, Lord, do not thou be travailed, (or And when he was not far from the house, the centurion sent his friends to him, and said, Lord, do not be troubled), for I am not worthy, that thou enter under my roof;
- <sup>7</sup> for which thing I deemed not myself worthy, that I come to thee; but say thou by word, and my child shall be healed. (for that reason I judged myself not worthy, that I should come to thee; but say thou the word, and my servant shall be healed.)
- <sup>8</sup> For I am a man ordained under power, and have knights under me (or and have soldiers under me); and I say to this, Go, and he goeth, and to another, Come, and he cometh, and to my servant, Do this thing, and he doeth [it].
- <sup>9</sup> And when this thing was heard, Jesus wondered; [and he turned], and said to the people (pur)suing him, Truly I say to you, neither in Israel (have) I found so great faith, [or not in Israel (have) I found so great faith], (or and he turned, and said to the people following him, I tell you the truth, I have not found such great faith in Israel).
- <sup>10</sup> And they that were sent, turned again home, and found the servant whole, that was sick. (And they who were sent, returned home, and found the servant healed, who was sick.)
- <sup>11</sup> And it was done afterward, Jesus went into a city, that is called Nain, and his disciples; and full great people went with him. [+And it was done afterward Jesus went into a city, that is called Nain, and his disciples went with him, and a full great company of people.]
- <sup>12</sup> And when he came nigh to the gate of the city (or And when he came near to the city gate), lo! the son of a woman that had no more children, was borne out dead, [or lo! an only son of his mother was borne out dead]; and this was a widow; and much people of the city [was] with her.
- <sup>13</sup> And when the Lord Jesus had seen her, he had ruth on her, [or he (was) moved by mercy on her], (or he had compassion for her), and said to her, Do not thou weep.
- <sup>14</sup> And he came nigh, and touched the bier; and they that bare the bier stood (there). And he said, Young man, I say to thee, rise up.
- <sup>15</sup> And he that was dead sat up again [or And he that was dead sat up], and began to speak; and he gave him (back) to his mother.

- <sup>16</sup> And dread took all men (or And fearful reverence took hold of everyone), and they magnified God, and said, For a great prophet is risen among us, and, For God hath visited his people.
- <sup>17</sup> And this word went out of him into all Judea (or And this story about him went out into all Judea), and into all the country(side) about.
  - <sup>18</sup> And John's disciples told him of all these things.
- <sup>19</sup> And John called twain of his disciples, and sent them to Jesus, and said, Art thou he that is to come, or abide we another? (or Art thou he who is to come, or do we wait for another?)
- <sup>20</sup> And when the men came to him, they said, John (the) Baptist sent us to thee, and said, Art thou he that is to come, or (do) we abide another?
- <sup>21</sup> And in that hour he healed many men of their sicknesses, and wounds, and [of] evil spirits (or and from evil spirits); and he gave sight to many blind men.
- <sup>22</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to them, Go ye again, and tell ye to John those things that ye have heard and seen; blind men see, crooked men go, mesels be made clean, deaf men hear, dead men rise again, poor men be taken to preaching of the gospel, (or the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers be cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead rise again, the poor be taken to the preaching of the Gospel or the Good News).
  - <sup>23</sup> And he that shall not be caused to stumble in me, is blessed.
- <sup>24</sup> And when the messengers of John were gone forth, he began to say of John to the people, What went ye out into (the) desert to see? a reed wagged with the wind? [And when the messengers of John had gone away, he began to say of John to the companies, What went ye out into (the) desert to see? a reed waved with the wind?]
- <sup>25</sup> But what went ye out to see? a man clothed with soft clothes? Lo! they that be in [a] precious cloth, (or Behold! those who wear expensive clothing), and (be) in delights, be in kings' houses.
- <sup>26</sup> But what went ye out to see? a prophet? Yea, I say to you, and more than a prophet.
- <sup>27</sup> This is he, of whom it is written, Lo! I send mine angel before thy face, which shall make ready thy way before thee.
- <sup>28</sup> Certainly I say to you, there is no man a more prophet among the children of women, than is John (the) Baptist, [or Soothly I say to you, among the children of women, no man is (a) more prophet (or is a greater prophet) than John (the) Baptist]; but he that is less in the kingdom of heavens, is more than he. (Truly I say to you, or I tell you the truth, no man is a greater prophet among the children of women, than is John the Baptist; but whoever is the least in the Kingdom of Heaven, is greater than he.)
- <sup>29</sup> And all the people hearing, and publicans (or and tax-collectors), that had been baptized with the baptism of John, justified God;
- <sup>30</sup> but the Pharisees and the wise men of the law, that were not baptized of him, despised the counsel of God against themselves. (but the Pharisees and the men wise in the Law, who were not baptized by him, rejected God's plan or purpose for themselves.)
- <sup>31</sup> And the Lord said, Therefore to whom shall I say men of this generation like, and to whom be they like?
- <sup>32</sup> They be like to children sitting in the chapping (or at the market), and speaking together, and saying, We have sung to you with pipes, and ye have not danced; we have made mourning [or lamentation] and ye have not wept.

<sup>33</sup> For John (the) Baptist came, neither eating bread, nor drinking wine, and ye say, He hath a fiend, (or He hath a devil, or a demon).

<sup>34</sup> Man's Son came eating and drinking, and ye say, Lo! a man a devourer [or a glutton], and drinking wine, a friend of publicans, and of sinful men, (or and ye say, Behold! a glutton, and a wine imbiber, a friend of tax-collectors. and of sinners).

35 And wisdom is justified of [all] her sons. (And wisdom is justified by all of her sons.)

- <sup>36</sup> But one of the Pharisees prayed Jesus, that he should eat with him. And he entered into the house of the Pharisee, and sat at the meat. (But one of the Pharisees beseeched Jesus, that he would eat with him. And so he entered into the house of the Pharisee, and sat down for the meal.)
- <sup>37</sup> And lo! a sinful woman, that was in the city, as she knew, that Jesus sat at [the] meat (or sat down for a meal) in the house of the Pharisee, she brought an alabaster box of ointment;

his feet, and anointed (them) with ointment.

- <sup>39</sup> And the Pharisee seeing, that had called him, said within himself, saying, If this were a prophet, he should know, who and what manner woman it were that toucheth him, [or If this were a prophet, soothly he should know, who and what manner woman it is that toucheth him], for she is a sinful woman.
- <sup>40</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to him, Simon, I have something to say to thee. And he said, Master, say thou, (or Teacher, tell me).
- <sup>41</sup> And he answered, Two debtors were to one lender; and one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty;
- <sup>42</sup> but when they had not whereof to yield, he forgave [freely] to both. Who [of them] then loveth him more?
- <sup>43</sup> Simon answered, and said, I guess, that he to whom he forgave more. And he answered to him, Thou hast deemed rightly (or Thou hast judged correctly).
- <sup>44</sup> And he turned to the woman, and said to Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest no water to my feet (or thou gavest me no water for my feet); but this [woman] hath moist(en)ed my feet with (her) tears, and wiped (them) with her hairs.

45 Thou hast not given to me a kiss; but this [woman], since she entered

[or since I entered], ceased not to kiss my feet.

- <sup>46</sup> Thou anointedest not mine head with oil; but this anointed my feet with ointment.
- <sup>47</sup> For which thing I say to thee, many sins be forgiven to her, for she hath loved much; and to whom is less forgiven, he loveth less.
  - <sup>48</sup> And Jesus said to her, Thy sins be forgiven to thee.
- <sup>49</sup> And they that sat together at the meat (or And they who sat together at the meal), began to say within themselves, Who is this that [also], (or who even), forgiveth sins.
- <sup>50</sup> But he said to the woman, Thy faith hath made thee safe; go thou in peace, (or Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace).

- <sup>1</sup> And it was done afterward, and Jesus made journey by cities and castles (or by towns and villages), preaching and evangelizing the realm of God, and (the) twelve with him;
- <sup>2</sup> and some women that were healed of wicked spirits and sicknesses, Mary, that is called Magdalene, of whom seven devils went out,
- <sup>3</sup> and Joanna, the wife of Chuza, the procurator of Herod, and Susanna, and many others, that ministered to him of their riches, (or who served him out of their own resources, or with their own money).
- <sup>4</sup> And when much people was come together, and men hied [or hasted] to him, from the cities, he said by a similitude, [or by a likeness, or (an) example], (or by a parable),
- <sup>5</sup> He that soweth, went out to sow his seed. And while he soweth, some fell beside the way, and was defouled (or and was defiled), and (the) birds of the air ate it.
- <sup>6</sup> And other fell on a stone, and it sprang up (or and it sprouted), and dried, for it had not moisture [or for it had no moisture].
- <sup>7</sup> And other fell among thorns, and the thorns sprang up together, and strangled it.
- <sup>8</sup> And other fell into good earth, and it sprang up, and made an hundredfold fruit. He said these things, and cried, He that hath ears of hearing, hear he.
  - <sup>9</sup> But his disciples asked him, what this parable was.
- <sup>10</sup> And he said to them, To you it is granted to know the private [or the mystery] of the kingdom of God (or To you it is granted to know the secret of the Kingdom of God); but to other men (I speak) in parables, (so) that they seeing see not, and they hearing understand not.
  - <sup>11</sup> And this is the parable. The seed is God's word;
- <sup>12</sup> and they that be beside the way, be these that hear; and afterward the fiend cometh (or and afterward the Devil cometh), and taketh away the word from their heart(s), lest they believing be made safe (or lest they believe and be saved).
- <sup>13</sup> But they that fell on a stone, be these that when they have heard, receive the word with joy. And these have no roots; for at a time they believe, and in time of temptation they go away (or but in the time of testing they go away).
- <sup>14</sup> But that that fell among thorns, be these that heard, and (because) of (the) busynesses (or the concerns), and (the) riches, and (the) lusts of (this) life they go forth, and be strangled, and bring forth no fruit.
- <sup>15</sup> But that that fell into good earth, be these that, in a good heart, and best, (or be those who, with a good and true heart), hear the word, and hold (it), and bring forth fruit in patience.
- <sup>16</sup> No man lighteth a lantern, and covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed, (no) but on a candlestick, (so) that men that enter (can) see light.
- <sup>17</sup> For there is no privy thing, which shall not be opened; neither hid thing, which shall not be known, and come into (the) open. (For there is nothing private, or secret, which shall not be made open; nor any hidden thing, which shall not be made known, and brought out into the open.)

- <sup>18</sup> Therefore see ye, how ye hear; for it shall be given to him that hath, and whoever hath not, also that that he weeneth, [or that he guesseth], (or that he thinketh), that he have, shall be taken away from him.
- <sup>19</sup> And his mother and brethren came to him; and they might not come to him for the people.
- <sup>20</sup> And it was told to him, Thy mother and thy brethren stand withoutforth, willing to see thee. (And he was told, Thy mother and thy brothers stand outside, desiring to see thee.)
- $^{21}$  And he answered, and said to them, My mother and my brethren be these, that hear the word of God, and do it.
- <sup>22</sup> And it was done in (or on) one of the days, he went up into a boat, and his disciples. And he said to them, Pass we over the sea (or Let us go over to the other side of the lake). And (so) they went up.
- <sup>23</sup> And while they rowed, he slept. And a tempest of wind came down into the water, and they were driven hither and thither with waves, and were in peril.
- <sup>24</sup> And they came nigh, and raised him, and said, Commander (or Master), we perish. And he rose up, and blamed the wind (or and rebuked the wind), and the tempest of the water; and it ceased, and peaceability was made.
- <sup>25</sup> And he said to them, Where is your faith? Which dreading wondered, and said together, (or Who with fear and wonder, said to each other), Who, guessest thou, is this? for he commandeth to the winds and to the sea, and they obey to him.
- <sup>26</sup> And they rowed to the country of Gadarenes, that is against Galilee (or that is opposite Galilee).
- <sup>27</sup> And when he went out to the land, a man ran to him, that had a devil now long time, and he was not clothed with cloth, neither dwelled in (a) house, but in sepulchres. (And when he got onto the land, a man ran over to him, who for a long time now had a demon, and he was not clothed with a cloak, nor lived in a house, but dwelt among the tombs.)
- <sup>28</sup> This (man), when he saw Jesus, fell down before him, and he crying with a great voice said, (or and he cried with a loud voice, and said), What to me and to thee, Jesus, the Son of the Highest God? I beseech thee, that thou torment me not.
- <sup>29</sup> For he (had) commanded the unclean spirit, that he should go out from the man. For he took him oft times, and he was bound with chains, and kept in stocks, and when the bonds were broken, he was led of the devil into desert (or he was led by the demon into the desert).
- <sup>30</sup> And Jesus asked him, and said, What name is to thee? And he said, A legion; for many devils were entered into him, [or for many devils had entered into him], (or for there were many demons in him).
- <sup>31</sup> And they prayed him (or And they beseeched him), that he should not command them, that they should go into hell [or that they should go into the deepness].
- <sup>32</sup> And there was a flock of many swine [or of many hogs] pasturing in an hill, and they prayed him, that he should suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them. (And there was a herd of many pigs at pasture on a hill, and they beseeched him, that he would allow them to enter into them. And he allowed them.)

- <sup>33</sup> And so the devils went out from the man, and entered into the swine [or into the hogs]; and with a rush the flock went headlong into the pool [or into the lake of water], and was drenched. (And so the demons went out of the man, and entered into the pigs; and with a rush the herd went headlong into the lake, and were drowned.)
- $^{34}$  And when the herders saw this thing done, they fled, and told into the city, and into the towns.
- <sup>35</sup> And they went out to see that thing that was done. And they came to Jesus, and they found the man sitting clothed, from whom the devils went out, and in whole mind at his feet; and they dreaded (or and they had great fear).
- <sup>36</sup> And they that saw told to them, how he was made whole of the legion. (And they who saw it all, told them how he was healed from the legion of devils and demons.)
- <sup>37</sup> And all the multitude of the country of Gadarenes prayed him, that he should go (away) from them, for they were held with great dread. And he went up into a boat, and turned again (to the other side). (And all the multitude from the countryside of Gadarenes beseeched him, that he would go away from them, for they were held with great fear. And so he went up into the boat, and returned to the other side.)
- <sup>38</sup> And the man of whom the devils were gone out, [or And the man of whom the fiends went out], prayed him, that he should be with him. [Soothly] Jesus left him (or let him go), and said, (And the man from whom the demons went out, beseeched him, that he could be with him. But Jesus sent him away, and said,)
- <sup>39</sup> Go again into thine house, and tell how great things God hath done to thee. And he went through all the city, and preached, how great things Jesus had done to him. (Return to thine house, and to thy people, and tell them what great things God hath done for thee. And so he went through all the city, and preached, what great things Jesus had done for him.)
- <sup>40</sup> And it was done, when Jesus was gone (home) again [or when Jesus had gone (home) again], the people received him; for all were abiding him (or for all of them were waiting for him).
- <sup>41</sup> And lo! a man, to whom the name was Jairus, and he was [a] prince of a synagogue (or and he was a leader of a synagogue); and he fell down at the feet of Jesus, and prayed him (or beseeched him), that he should enter into his house,
- <sup>42</sup> for he had but one daughter [or an only daughter], almost of twelve years old, and she was dead. And it befell, the while he went, he was thronged of the people. (for he had an only daughter, almost twelve years old, and she was dying. And it befell, that while he went, he was thronged by the people.)
- <sup>43</sup> And a woman that had a flux of blood (for) twelve years, and had spended all her chattel [or all her substance] in leeches, and might not be cured of any, (And there was a woman who had a flowing, or an issue, of blood for twelve years, and had spent all of her resources on physicians, and could not be cured by any of them,)
- $^{44}$  and she came nigh behind, and touched the hem of his cloth, and anon the flux of her blood ceased. (and she came up close behind him, and touched the hem of his cloak, and at once the flowing, or the issue, of her blood ceased.)

- <sup>45</sup> And Jesus said, Who is it that touched me? And when all men denied (it), Peter said, and they that were with him, Commander (or Master), the people thrust [or throng] and dis-ease thee, and thou sayest, Who touched me?
- <sup>46</sup> And Jesus said, Some man hath touched me, for [I have known] that virtue went out of me. (And Jesus said, Someone hath touched me, for I know that power hath gone out of me.)
- <sup>47</sup> And the woman seeing, that it was not hid from him, came trembling, and fell down at his feet, and for what cause she had touched him she showed before all the people, and how anon she was healed (or and how at once she was healed).
- <sup>48</sup> And he said to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee safe, (or Daughter, thy faith hath saved thee, or thy faith hath healed thee); go thou in peace.
- <sup>49</sup> And yet while he spake, a man came from the (house of the) prince of the synagogue, and said to him, Thy daughter is dead, do not thou travail the Master (any further). (And while he spoke, a man came from the house of the leader of the synagogue, and said to him, Thy daughter is now dead, or Thy daughter hath died, so do not further trouble or bother the Teacher.)
- <sup>50</sup> And when this word was heard, Jesus answered to the father of the damsel, Do not thou dread, but believe thou only [or but only believe thou], and she shall be safe, (or Do not fear, but only believe, and she shall be saved, or she shall be healed).
- <sup>51</sup> And when he came to the house, he suffered no man to enter with him, [no] but Peter and John and James, and the father and the mother of the damsel. (And when he came to the house, he did not allow anyone to go in with him, except for Peter and John and James, and the father and the mother of the young girl.)
- $^{52}$  And all wept, and bewailed her. And he said, Do not ye weep, for the damsel is not dead, but (only) sleepeth.
  - 53 And they scorned him, and knew that she was dead.
  - <sup>54</sup> But he held her hand, and cried, and said, Damsel, rise up.
- <sup>55</sup> And her spirit turned again, and she rose anon, (or And her spirit returned, and she got up at once). And he commanded (them) to give to her (something) to eat.
- <sup>56</sup> And her father and mother wondered greatly; and he commanded them, that they should not say to any [man](or to anyone) that thing that was done.

- <sup>1</sup> And when the twelve apostles were called together, Jesus gave to them virtue and power on all devils, and that they should heal sicknesses. (And when the twelve apostles were called together, Jesus gave them authority and power over all demons, and so that they could heal sicknesses.)
  - <sup>2</sup> And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal sick men.
- <sup>3</sup> And he said to them, Nothing take ye in the way (or Take nothing on or for the way), neither a staff [or a rod], nor scrip, neither bread, nor money, and neither have ye two coats.

- <sup>4</sup> And into what[ever] house ye enter, dwell ye there (or remain there), and go ye not out from thence.
- <sup>5</sup> And whoever receive not you [or And whoever shall not receive you], go ye out of that city, and shake ye off the powder of your feet into witnessing on them (or and shake off the dust from your feet as a testimony against them).

<sup>6</sup> And they went forth, and went about by castles (or and went through the villages), preaching [or evangelizing] and healing everywhere.

- <sup>7</sup> And Herod [the] tetrarch [or (the) prince of the fourth part], heard (of) all [the] things that were done of him, and he doubted, for that it was said of some men, that John was risen from death [or for (that) John had risen from (the) dead]; (And Herod, the tetrarch, or the prince of a quarter of the kingdom, heard of all of the things that were done by him, and he wondered about it, for it was said by some people, that John had risen from the dead;)
- <sup>8</sup> and of some men, that Elias had appeared; but of others, that one of the old prophets was risen. (and by some, that Elijah had appeared; but by others, that one of the prophets of old had arisen.)
- <sup>9</sup> And Herod said, I have beheaded John; and who is this, of whom I hear such things? And he sought to see him.
- <sup>10</sup> And the apostles turned again, and told to him all (the) things that they had done, (or And the apostles returned, and told him about everything that they had done). And he took them, and went beside into a desert place, that is [called] Bethsaida.
- <sup>11</sup> And when the people knew this, they followed him. And he received them, and spake to them of the kingdom of God (or and spoke to them about the Kingdom of God); and he healed them that had need of (a) cure.
- <sup>12</sup> And the day began to bow down, and the twelve came, and said to him, Leave the people, that they go, and turn into the castles and towns, that be about, that they find meat, for we be here in a desert place. (And the day began to bow down, and the Twelve came, and said to him, Let the people go, or Send them away, so that they can go, and return to the villages and towns, that be about, so that they can find some food, for we be here in this deserted place.)
- <sup>13</sup> And he said to them, Give ye to them (something) to eat. And they said, There be not to us more than five loaves and two fishes, but peradventure that we go, and buy meats to all this people, [or but peradventure we go, and buy meats for all the company], (or but perhaps we can go, and buy some food for all of these people).
- <sup>14</sup> And the men were almost five thousand. And he said to his disciples, Make ye them to sit to (the) meat by companies, a fifty together, (or And he said to his disciples, Make them to sit down for the meal in groups, fifty together).
- <sup>15</sup> And they did so, and they made all men sit to [the] meat. (And they did so, and they made everyone to sit down for the meal.)
- <sup>16</sup> And when he had taken the five loaves and two fishes, he beheld into heaven, and blessed them, and brake (them), and dealed (them out) to his disciples, (so) that they should set or put forth before the companies.
- <sup>17</sup> And all men ate, and were full-filled [or and were filled]; and that that (was) left to them of broken meats was taken up, twelve coffins. (And everyone ate, and were filled; and the pieces of food which were left by them were gathered up, yea, twelve baskets full.)

- <sup>18</sup> And it was done, when he was alone praying, his disciples were with him, and he asked them, and said, Whom say the people that I am?
- <sup>19</sup> And they answered, and said, John (the) Baptist, others say Elias, and others say[or but others say], one prophet of the former is risen. (And they answered, and said, John the Baptist, others say Elijah, and others say, one of the former prophets, or one of the first prophets, is risen.)
- <sup>20</sup> And he said to them, But whom say ye that I am? Simon Peter answered, and said, The Christ of God, (or Simon Peter answered, and said, God's Messiah).
- <sup>21</sup> And he blaming them (or And he rebuking them), commanded [them] that they should say (that) to no man, [+And he blaming them commanded them that they should say to no man these things,]
- <sup>22</sup> and said these things, For it behooveth man's Son to suffer many things, and to be reproved of the elder men, and of the princes of (the) priests, and of the scribes, (or and to be rejected by the elders, and by the high priests, and by the scribes), and to be slain, and the third day to rise again.
- <sup>23</sup> And he said to all [men], If any [man] will come after me, deny he himself, and take he his cross every day, and *(pur)*sue he me (or and follow me).
  - 24 For he that will make his life safe shall lose it; and he that loseth his life for me, shall make it safe.

- <sup>25</sup> And what profiteth [it to] a man, if he win all the world, and lose himself, and do impairing of himself, [or and do impairing to himself], (or and do harm to himself).
- <sup>26</sup> For whoso shameth me and my words, man's Son shall shame him, when he cometh in his majesty, and of the Father's, and of the holy angels. (For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and my words, man's Son shall be ashamed of him, when he cometh in his majesty, or in his glory, and in the glory of the Father, and of the holy angels.)
- <sup>27</sup> And I say to you, verily there be some standing here, which shall not taste death, till they see the realm of God. (Truly I say to you, or I tell you the truth, there be some standing here, who shall not taste death, until they see the Kingdom of God.)
- <sup>28</sup> And it was done after these words almost eight days, and he took Peter and James and John, and he ascended into an hill, to pray, (or and he went up onto a hill, to pray).
- <sup>29</sup> And while he prayed, the likeness of his face was changed, and his clothing was white shining.
- <sup>30</sup> And lo! two men spake with him, and Moses and Elias (And behold! two men spoke with him, yea, Moses and Elijah)
- <sup>31</sup> were seen in (their) majesty; and they said (of) his going out, which he should fulfill in Jerusalem. (were seen in their glory; and they spoke of his death, yea, of his destiny, which he would fulfill in Jerusalem.)
- <sup>32</sup> And Peter, and they that were with him, were heavy of sleep, [or were grieved, or heavied, with sleep], and they waking saw his majesty, and the two men that stood with him, (or but awakening they saw his glory, and the two men who stood with him).

- <sup>33</sup> And it was done, when they departed from him, Peter said to Jesus, Commander, it is good that we be here, and make we here three tabernacles, one to thee, and one to Moses, and one to Elias. And he knew not what he should say. (And it was done, when they had left him, Peter said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here, and we shall make here three tents, or three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. And he did not know what he should say.)
- <sup>34</sup> But while he spake these things, a cloud was made, and overshadowed them; and they dreaded (or and they feared), when they entered into the cloud.
- <sup>35</sup> And a voice was made out of the cloud, and said, This is my dearworthy Son, hear ye him (or listen to him).
- <sup>36</sup> And while the voice was made, Jesus was found alone. And they were still, and to no man said in those days any of those things, that they had seen, [or And they held (their) peace, and said to no man in those days aught of those things that they had seen]. (And after the voice was heard, Jesus was there alone. And they were silent, and did not tell anyone in those days, about anything that they had seen.)
- <sup>37</sup> But it was done in the day (pur)suing, when they came down of the hill, much people met them. (But it was done on the following day, when they came down from the hill, that many people met them.)
- <sup>38</sup> And lo! a man of the company cried, and said, Master, I beseech thee, behold my son, for I have no more; (And behold! a man among the people cried, and said, Teacher, I beseech thee, look at my son, for I have no other child;)
- <sup>39</sup> and lo! a spirit taketh him, and suddenly he crieth, and hurtleth [him] down, and draweth him with foam [or with froth], and scarcely he goeth away (before) drawing him all to pieces.
- <sup>40</sup> And I prayed thy disciples, that they should cast him out, and they might not. (And I beseeched thy disciples, that they should throw out the spirit, but they could not do it.)
- <sup>41</sup> And Jesus answered and said to them, A! unfaithful generation and wayward (or O unfaithful and wayward generation!), how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? bring hither thy son.
- <sup>42</sup> And when he came nigh, the devil hurtled him down, and wrenched him. And Jesus blamed the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and yielded him (back) to his father, (or And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, yea, the demon, and healed the child, and gave him back to his father).
- <sup>43</sup> And all men wondered greatly in the greatness of God. And when all men wondered in all (the) things that he did, he said to his disciples, (And everyone wondered greatly at the greatness of God. And when everyone wondered at all the things that he did, he said to his disciples,)
- <sup>44</sup> Put ye these words in your hearts, for it is to come, that man's Son be betrayed into the hands of men.
- <sup>45</sup> And they knew not this word, and it was hid before them, that they feeled it not; and they dreaded to ask him of this word. (But they did not know what this meant, and it was hidden to them, so that they could not perceive or understand it; and they feared to ask him about these words.)
  - <sup>46</sup> But a thought entered into them, who of them should be (the) greatest.

- $^{47}$  And Jesus, seeing the thoughts of the heart(s) of them, (or And Jesus, knowing the thoughts in their hearts), took a child, and setted him beside him;
- <sup>48</sup> and said to them, Whoever receiveth this child in my name, receiveth me; and whoever receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me; for he that is (the) least among you all, is the greatest.
- <sup>49</sup> And John answered and said, Commander, we saw a man casting out fiends in thy name, and we have forbidden him, for he *(pur)*sueth not thee with us. (And John said, Master, we saw a man throwing out devils and demons in thy name, and we have forbidden him, for he followeth not thee with us.)
- <sup>50</sup> And Jesus said to him, Do not ye forbid (him), for he that is not against us, is for us.
- <sup>51</sup> And it was done, when the days of his taking up were fulfilled (or when it would soon be the day that he would be taken up into heaven), he set fast his face, to go to Jerusalem,
- <sup>52</sup> and sent messengers before his sight. And they went, and entered into a city of Samaritans, to make ready to him (or to prepare it for him).
- $^{53}$  And they received not him, for the face of him was going into Jerusalem.
- <sup>54</sup> And when James and John, his disciples, saw (that), they said, Lord, wilt thou that we say, that fire come down from heaven, and waste them, [as Elias did]? (And when James and John, his disciples, saw that, they said, Lord, desirest thou that we command, that fire come down from heaven, and destroy them, like Elijah did?)
- <sup>55</sup> And he turned, and blamed them (or and rebuked them), and said, Ye know not, whose spirits ye be;
- <sup>56</sup> for man's Son came not to lose men's souls, but to save [them]. And they went into another castle. (for man's Son came not to destroy men's souls, but to savethem. And so they went to another village.)
- <sup>57</sup> And it was done, when they walked in the way, a man said to him, I shall (pur)sue thee, whither ever thou [shalt] go. (And it was done, when they walked on the way, a man said to him, I shall follow thee, wherever thou shalt go.)
- <sup>58</sup> And Jesus said to him, Foxes have dens [or ditches], and (the) birds of the air have nests, but man's Son hath not where he [shall] rest his head.
- <sup>59</sup> And he said to another, (Pur)Sue thou me. And he said, Lord, suffer me first to go, and bury my father. (And he said to another, Follow me. And he said, Lord, first allow me to go, and bury my father.)
- <sup>60</sup> And Jesus said to him, Suffer that dead men bury their dead men; but go thou, and tell (everyone about) the kingdom of God. (And Jesus said to him, Allow the dead to bury their dead; but thou go, and tell everyone about the Kingdom of God.)
- <sup>61</sup> And another said, Lord, I shall *(pur)*sue thee, but first suffer me to leave (in peace) all things that be at home [or but first suffer me to tell to them that be at home]. (And another said, Lord, I shall follow thee, but first allow me to say good-bye to all who be at home.)
- $^{62}$  And Jesus said to him, No man that putteth his hand to the plough, and beholding backward, is able to the kingdom of God. (And Jesus said to him, No man who putteth his hand to the plow, and looking backward, is fit for the Kingdom of God.)

- <sup>1</sup> And after these things the Lord Jesus ordained also other seventy and twain (or two), and sent them by twain and twain before his face into every city and place, whither he was to come.
- <sup>2</sup> And he said to them, There is much ripe corn, and few workmen; therefore pray ye the Lord of the ripe corn, that he send workmen into his ripe corn. (And he said to them, There is a great harvest, but few workers; and so beseech the Lord of the harvest, that he send workers to gather in his harvest.)
  - <sup>3</sup> Go ye, lo! I send you as lambs among wolves.
- <sup>4</sup> Therefore do not ye bear a satchel, neither scrip, neither shoes, and greet ye no man by the way (or and greet no one on the way).
  - <sup>5</sup> Into what[ever] house that ye enter, first say ye, Peace to this house.
- <sup>6</sup> And if a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest on him; but if none, it shall turn again to you, (or but if not, it shall return to you).
- <sup>7</sup> And dwell ye in the same house, eating and drinking those things that be at them; for a workman is worthy (of) his hire. Do not ye pass from house into house. (And live in the same house, eating and drinking those things that be there with them; for a workman is worthy of his wages. Do not go from house to house.)
- <sup>8</sup> And into whatever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat ye those things that be set [or that be put] to you (or eat those things that be put before you);
- <sup>9</sup> and heal ye the sick men (or the sick people) that be in that city. And say ye to them, The kingdom of God shall [come] nigh to you, (or The Kingdom of God hath come near to you).
- <sup>10</sup> And into what [ever] city ye enter, and they receive you not, go ye out into the streets of it, and say ye,
- <sup>11</sup> We wipe off against you the powder that cleaved to us of your city; nevertheless know ye this thing, that the realm of God shall come nigh. (We wipe off against you the dust that cleaved to us from your city; nevertheless know ye this thing, that the Kingdom of God hath come near to you.)
- <sup>12</sup> I say to you, that to Sodom it shall be easier [or it shall be less pain(ful)] than to that city in that day.
- <sup>13</sup> Woe to thee, Chorazin; woe to thee, Bethsaida; for if in Tyre and Sidon the virtues had been done, which have been done in you, sometime they would have sat in haircloth and ashes, and have done penance. (Woe to thee, Chorazin! woe to thee, Bethsaida! for if in Tyre and Sidon the works of power, or the miracles, had been done, which have been done in you, long ago they would have sat in sackcloth and ashes, and have repented.)
- <sup>14</sup> Nevertheless to Tyre and Sidon it shall be easier in the doom, than to you. (Nevertheless for Tyre and Sidon, it shall be easier at the Judgement, than for you.)
- <sup>15</sup> And thou, Capernaum, art enhanced till to heaven; thou shalt be drenched [down] till into hell. (And thou, Capernaum, art exalted unto heaven? or art raised up into the sky? thou shalt be drowned down till into hell!)

- <sup>16</sup> He that heareth you, heareth me; and he that despiseth you, despiseth me; and he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me.
- <sup>17</sup> And the two and seventy disciples turned again with joy (or And the seventy-two disciples returned with joy), and said, Lord, also devils be subject to us in thy name.
- <sup>18</sup> And he said to them, I saw Satan falling down from heaven, as (or like) lightning.
- <sup>19</sup> And lo! I have given to you power to tread on serpents, and scorpions, and on all the virtue of the enemy (or and over all the power of the enemy), and nothing shall harm you.
- <sup>20</sup> Nevertheless do not ye [have] joy in this thing, that spirits be subject to you; but joy ye, that your names be written in heavens. (Nevertheless do not rejoice over this, that the spirits, or the devils and the demons, be subject to you; rather rejoice, that your names be written in heaven.)
- <sup>21</sup> In that hour he gladded in the Holy Ghost, and said, I acknowledge to thee, Father, Lord of heaven and of earth, for thou hast hid these things from wise men and prudent, and hast showed them to small [or to little] children. Yea, Father, for so it pleased before thee [or for so it pleased to thee]. (At that time he was filled with gladness by the Holy Spirit, or At that time he rejoiced in the Holy Spirit, and said, I acknowledge to thee, Father, Lord of heaven and of earth, for thou hast hidden these things from wise and prudent men, and thou hast shown them to little children. Yes, Father, for so it pleased thee.)
- <sup>22</sup> All things be given to me of my Father (or Everything is given to me by my Father), and no man knoweth who is the Son, but the Father; and who is the Father, but the Son, and to whom the Son will show (it).
- <sup>23</sup> And he turned to his disciples, and said, Blessed be the eyes, that see those things that ye see.
- $^{24}$  For I say to you, that many prophets and kings would have seen those things, that ye see, and they saw not; and hear those things, that ye hear, and they heard not.
- <sup>25</sup> And lo! a wise man of the law rose up, tempting him, and saying, Master, what thing shall I do to have everlasting life? (And behold! a man wise in the Law rose up to test him, and asked, Teacher, what should I do to get eternal life?)
  - <sup>26</sup> And he said to him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?
- <sup>27</sup> He answered, and said, Thou shalt love thy Lord God of all thine heart [or Thou shalt love the Lord thy God of all thine heart], and of all thy soul, and of all thy strengths, and of all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself. (He answered, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself.)
- <sup>28</sup> And Jesus said to him, Thou hast answered rightly (or Thou hast answered correctly); do this thing, and thou shalt live.
- <sup>29</sup> But he willing to justify himself, said to Jesus, And who is my neighbour? (But desiring to justify himself, he said to Jesus, And who is my neighbour?)
- <sup>30</sup> And Jesus beheld (him), and said, A man came down from Jerusalem into Jericho [or Some man came down from Jerusalem to Jericho], and fell among thieves, and they robbed him, and wounded him, and went away, and left the man half alive.

- <sup>31</sup> And it befell, that a priest came down the same way, and passed forth (or and passed by him), when he had seen him.
- <sup>32</sup> Also a deacon, when he was beside the place, and saw him, passed forth. (Also a Levite, when he was beside the place, and saw him, passed by him.)
- <sup>33</sup> But a Samaritan, going the way, came beside him; and he saw him, and had ruth on him (or and had compassion for him); [Forsooth some Samaritan, making journey, came beside the way; and he seeing him, was stirred by mercy;]
- <sup>34</sup> and came to him, and bound together his wounds, and poured in oil and wine; and laid him on his beast, and led him in to an hostelry, and did the care of him (or and took care of him).
- <sup>35</sup> And another day (or And the next day), he brought forth two pence, and gave (them) to the hosteller, and said, Have the care of him (or Take care of him); and whatever thou shalt give over, I shall yield to thee, when I come again.
- <sup>36</sup> Who of these three, seemeth to thee, was (a) neighbour to him, that fell among [the] thieves?
- <sup>37</sup> And he said (to him), He that did mercy into him, (or He who did mercy, or who was kind to him). And Jesus said to him, Go thou, and do thou in like manner.
- <sup>38</sup> And it was done, while they went, he entered into a castle (or he went into a village); and a woman, Martha by name, received him into her house.
- <sup>39</sup> And to this was a sister, Mary by name, which also sat beside the feet of the Lord, and heard his word(s).
- <sup>40</sup> But Martha busied (herself) about the oft service [or Forsooth Martha busied (herself) about much service]. And she stood, and said, Lord, takest thou no keep (or carest thou not), that my sister hath left me alone to serve? therefore say thou to her, that she help me.
- <sup>41</sup> And the Lord answered, and said to her, Martha, Martha, thou art busy, and art troubled about full many things;
- 42 but one thing is necessary. Mary hath chosen the best part, which shall not be taken away from her.

- <sup>1</sup> And it was done, when he was praying in a place, as he ceased, one of his disciples said to him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John taught his disciples.
- <sup>2</sup> And he said to them, When ye pray, say ye, Father, [or Father ours], (or Our Father), hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come to (or Thy kingdom come); thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven.
  - <sup>3</sup> Give to us today our each day's bread.
- <sup>4</sup> And forgive to us our sins, as we forgive to each man that oweth to us. And lead us not into temptation (or And do not bring us to the test).
- <sup>5</sup> And he said to them, Who of you shall have a friend, and shall go to him at midnight, and shall say to him, Friend, lend to me three loaves;
- <sup>6</sup> for my friend cometh to me from the way, and I have not what I shall set [or what I shall put] before him.

- <sup>7</sup> And he withinforth answer and say, Do not thou be heavy to me; the door is now shut, and my children be with me in bed; I may not rise, and give (something) to thee, (or I cannot get up, and give something to thee).
- <sup>8</sup> And if he shall dwell still knocking [or And if he shall continue knocking], I say to you, though he shall not rise, and give (anything) to him, for that that he is his friend, nevertheless for his continual asking, he shall rise, and give (something) to him, as many as he hath need to (or as much as he hath need of).
- <sup>9</sup> And I say to you, ask ye, and it shall be given to you; seek ye, and ye shall find; knock ye, and it shall be opened to you.
- <sup>10</sup> For each that asketh, taketh (or receiveth), and he that seeketh, findeth; and to a man that knocketh, it shall be opened.
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore who of you asketh his father (for) bread, whether he shall give [to] him a stone? or if he asketh (for a) fish, whether he shall give [to] him a serpent for the fish? (or shall he give him a snake instead of the fish?)
- 12 or if he asketh (for) an egg, whether he shall areach [to] him a scorpion?
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore if ye, when ye be evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more your Father of heaven shall give a good Spirit to men that ask him.
- $^{14}$  And Jesus was casting out a fiend (or And Jesus was throwing out a demon), and it was dumb. And when he had cast out the fiend, the dumb man spake; and the people wondered.
- <sup>15</sup> And some of them said, In Beelzebub, (the) prince of devils, he casteth out devils. (And some of them said, By Beelzebub, the Prince of demons, he throweth out demons.)
- <sup>16</sup> And others tempting asked of him a token from heaven. (And others testing him, asked for a sign from heaven.)
- <sup>17</sup> And as he saw the thoughts of them, he said to them, Every realm parted against itself shall be desolate(d), (or Every kingdom divided against itself shall be destroyed unto rubble), and an house shall fall on an house.
- <sup>18</sup> And if Satan be parted against himself, how shall his realm stand? For ye say, that I cast out fiends in Beelzebub. (And if Satan is divided against himself, how can his kingdom stand? For ye say, that I throw out devils and demons by Beelzebub.)
- <sup>19</sup> And if I in Beelzebub cast out fiends, in whom cast out your sons? [or in whom your sons cast out?] Therefore they shall be your doomsmen. (And if I throw out devils and demons by Beelzebub, by whom do your sons throw them out? And so they shall be your judges.)
- <sup>20</sup> But if I cast out fiends in the finger of God, then the realm of God is come among you. (But if I throw out devils and demons by the finger of God, then the Kingdom of God hath come among you, or hath come unto you.)
- <sup>21</sup> When a strong, armed man keepeth his house, all things that he wieldeth be in peace (or everything that he possesseth be at peace).
- <sup>22</sup> But if a stronger (man) than he come upon him, and overcome him, he shall take away all his armour [or all his arms] in which he trusted, (or he shall take away all his weapons in which he trusted), and shall deal abroad his robberies [or his spoils].

 $^{23}$  He that is not with me, is against me; and he that gathereth not together with me, scattereth abroad.

<sup>24</sup> When an unclean spirit goeth out of a man, he wandereth by dry places, and seeketh rest; and he finding none, saith, I shall turn again into mine house, from whence I came out, (or and he finding no place to rest, saith, I shall return to my house, where I came from).

<sup>25</sup> And when he cometh (back), he findeth it cleansed with besoms, and fair arrayed, [or adorned], (or he findeth it swept clean, and neat and tidy).

- <sup>26</sup> Then he goeth, and taketh with him (or and getteth with him), seven other spirits worse than himself, and they enter [in], and dwell there. And the last things of that man be made worse than the former (things), (or the first things).
- <sup>27</sup> And it was done, when he had said these things, a woman of the company raised [up] her voice, and said to him, Blessed be the womb that bare thee, and blessed be the teats that thou hast sucked (or and blessed be the breasts that thou hast suckled).

<sup>28</sup> And he said, But yea, blessed be they, [or And he said, Rather, blessed be they], that hear the word of God, and keep it, (or who hear the word of God, and obey it, or do it).

- <sup>29</sup> And when the people ran together, he began to say, This generation is a wayward generation; it seeketh a token (or a sign), and a token shall not be given to it, [no] but the token of Jonas the prophet (or except the sign of the prophet Jonah).
- <sup>30</sup> For as Jonas was a token to men of Nineve (or For as Jonah was a sign to the men of Nineveh), so man's Son shall be to this generation.
- <sup>31</sup> The queen of the south shall rise in (the) doom with men of this generation, and shall condemn them; for she came from the ends of the earth, to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and lo! here is a greater (man) than Solomon. (The Queen of the South shall rise at the Judgement with men of this generation, and shall condemn them; for she came from the ends of the earth, to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold! here is something or someone greater than Solomon.)
- <sup>32</sup> Men of Nineve shall rise in [the] doom with this generation, and shall condemn it; for they did penance in the preaching of Jonas [or for they did penance at the preaching of Jonas], and lo! here is a greater (man) than Jonas. (Men of Nineveh shall rise at the Judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it; for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold! here is something or someone greater than Jonah.)
- <sup>33</sup> No man tendeth, [or lighteneth], (or lighteth), a lantern, and putteth it in huddles (or hideth it), neither under a bushel, but (rather) on a candlestick, (so) that they that go in(side), see light.
- <sup>34</sup> The lantern of thy body is thine eye; if thine eye be simple, (or if thine eye is single, or is sound), all thy body shall be light[-full]; but if it be wayward, all thy body shall be dark-full.
- <sup>35</sup> Therefore see thou, lest the light that is in thee, be darknesses (or be darkness).
- <sup>36</sup> Therefore if all thy body be bright, and have no part of darknesses, (or And so if all thy body be bright, and have no part with darkness), it shall be all bright, and as a lantern of brightness it shall give light to thee. [Therefore if all thy body shall be light-full, not having any part of darknesses, it shall be all light-full, and as a lantern of brightness, or shining, it shall give light to thee.]

- <sup>37</sup> And when he spake, a Pharisee prayed him, that he should eat with him. And he entered, and sat to (the) meat [or (and) sat at the meat]. (And after he spoke, a Pharisee beseeched him, that he would eat with him. And he entered, and sat down for the meal.)
- <sup>38</sup> And the Pharisee began to say, guessing within himself, why he was not washed before [the] meat (or why he did not wash before the meal).
- <sup>39</sup> And the Lord said to him, Now ye Pharisees cleanse that that is withoutforth of the cup and the platter; but that thing that is within of you [or but that thing of you that is within], is full of raven and wickedness.
- <sup>40</sup> Fools, whether he that made that that is withoutforth, made not also that that is within?
- <sup>41</sup> Nevertheless that that is over-plus, [or superfluous], give ye alms, and lo! all things be clean to you.
- <sup>42</sup> But woe to you, Pharisees, that tithe mint, and rue, and each herb, and leave doom and the charity of God (or and pass over the judgement and the love of God). For it behooved to do these things, and not to leave those (others).
- <sup>43</sup> Woe to you, Pharisees, that love the first chairs in synagogues, and salutations in chapping. (Woe to you, Pharisees, who love the first chairs in the synagogues, and greetings of respect at the marketplace.)
- <sup>44</sup> Woe to you, that be as sepulchres (or who be like graves), that be not seen [or which appear not], and men walking above know not.
- <sup>45</sup> But one of the wise men of the law answered, and said to him, Master, thou saying these things, also to us doest despite [or doest despite also to us]. (But one of the men wise in the Law said to him, Teacher, thou saying these things, doest disrespect to us, or insultest us.)
- <sup>46</sup> And he said, Also woe to you, wise men of [the] law, for ye charge men with burdens which they may not bear, and ye yourselves with your one finger touch not the heavinesses. (And he said, And woe to you, men wise in the Law, for ye load men with burdens which they cannot bear, but ye yourselves touch not the heavinesses with even one finger.)
- <sup>47</sup> Woe to you, that build (the) tombs [or the burials] of (the) prophets; and your fathers slew them.
- <sup>48</sup> Truly ye witness, that ye consent to the works of your fathers; for they slew them, but ye build their sepulchres. (Ye testify truthfully, that ye consent to the works of your fathers; for they killed the prophets, and ye build their tombs.)
- <sup>49</sup> Therefore the wisdom of God said, I shall send to them prophets and apostles, and of them they shall slay and pursue, (And so the wisdom of God said, I shall send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall persecute and kill,)
- <sup>50</sup> (so) that the blood of all [the] prophets, that was shed from the making [or from the beginning] of the world, be sought of this generation; (so that the blood of all the prophets, that was shed from the creation of the world, be sought from this generation;)
- <sup>51</sup> from the blood of just Abel to the blood of Zacharias, that was slain betwixt the altar and the House (of the Lord), [+or from the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the - house]. So I say to you, it shall be sought of this generation. (from the blood of good and righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah, who perished between the altar and the Temple. So I tell you, it shall be sought from this generation.)

- <sup>52</sup> Woe to you, wise men of the law, for ye have taken away the key of cunning (or the key of knowing); and ye yourselves entered not [in], and ye have forbidden them that entered. (Woe to you, men wise in the Law, for ye have taken away the key of knowledge; and ye yourselves did not enter in, and ye have forbidden those who tried to enter in.)
- 53 And when he said these things to them, the Pharisees and the wise men of the law (or and the men wise in the Law) began grievously to against-stand [him], and (to) stop his mouth of many things,
- <sup>54</sup> ambushing him, and seeking to take something of his mouth, to accuse him. (ambushing him, and seeking to catch him with his own words, so as to be able to accuse him.)

- <sup>1</sup> And when much people stood about, so that they trod each on (the) other [or so that they trod (upon) each other], he began to say to his disciples, Be ye ware of the sourdough of the Pharisees, that is hypocrisy, (or Beware of the yeast, or the leaven, of the Pharisees, which is their hypocrisy).
- <sup>2</sup> For nothing is covered, that shall not be showed; neither hid, that shall not be known. (For nothing is covered, which shall not be shown, or brought out into the open; nor hidden, which shall not be made known.)
- <sup>3</sup> For why those things that ye have said in darknesses, shall be said in light; and that that ye have spoken in [the] ear in bedchambers, shall be preached in roofs. (Because everything that ye have said in the dark, shall be said in the light; and that which ye have spoken privately in the bedchambers, shall be preached from the rooftops.)
- $^4$  And I say to you, my friends, be ye not afeared of them that slay the body, and after these things have no more what they shall do.
- <sup>5</sup> But I shall show to you, whom ye shall dread; dread ye him, that after he hath slain, hath power to send into hell. And so I say to you, dread ye him. (But I shall tell you, whom ye should fear; fear him, who after he hath killed, hath power to send into hell. And so I tell you, fear him.)
- <sup>6</sup> Whether five sparrows be not sold for two halfpence [or two farthings]; and one of them is not in forgetting before God?
- <sup>7</sup> But also all the hairs of your head be numbered. Therefore do not ye dread; ye be of more price, than many sparrows, (or And so, do not fear; ye be of more value, than many sparrows).
- <sup>8</sup> Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), each man that acknowledgeth me before men, man's Son shall acknowledge him before the angels of God.
- <sup>9</sup> But he that denieth me before men, shall be denied before the angels of God.
- <sup>10</sup> And each that saith a word against man's Son [or And each that saith a word against the Son of man], it shall be forgiven to him; but it shall not be forgiven to him, that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost (or who blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit).

- $^{11}$  And when they lead you into synagogues, and to magistrates, and potentates, do not ye be busy (or do not be concerned), how or what ye shall answer, or what ye shall say.
- <sup>12</sup> For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in that hour (or For the Holy Spirit shall teach you at that time), what it behooveth you to say.
- <sup>13</sup> And one of the people said to him, Master, say to my brother, that he part with me the heritage, (or Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me).
- <sup>14</sup> And he said to him, Man, who ordained me a doomsman or a parter, on you, [or over you]? (And he said to him, Man, who put me over you as a judge, or a divider?)
- $^{1\bar{5}}$  And he said to them, See ye, and beware of all covetousness; for the life of a man is not in the abundance of the things, which he wieldeth (or that he possesseth).
- <sup>16</sup> And he told to them a likeness (or a parable), and said, The field of a rich man brought forth plenteous fruits.
- <sup>17</sup> And he thought within himself, and said, What shall I do, for I have not whither I shall gather my fruits? (And he thought to himself, and said, What shall I do, for I have no place where I can store all my crops?)
- <sup>18</sup> And he saith, This thing I shall do; I shall throw down my barns, and I shall make greater (ones), and thither I shall gather all (the) things that grow to me (or and there I shall gather together all the things that grow for me), and (all) my goods.
- <sup>19</sup> And I shall say to my soul, Soul, thou hast many goods kept into full many years; rest thou, eat, drink, and make feast.
- <sup>20</sup> And God said to him, Fool, in this night they shall take (away) thy life from thee, [or Fool, in this night they shall ask of thee thy soul]. And (then) whose shall those things be, that thou hast arrayed?
  - <sup>21</sup> So is he that treasureth to himself, and is not rich in God.
- $^{22}$  And he said to his disciples, Therefore I say to you, do not ye be busy to your life (or do not be concerned about your life), what ye shall eat, neither to your body, with what ye shall be clothed.
- $^{23}$  The life is more than meat (or Life is more than food), and the body more than clothing.
- <sup>24</sup> Behold the crows, for they sow not, neither reap, to which is neither cellar, nor barn, and God feedeth them. How much more ye be of more price than they, [or How much more be ye of more price than they], (or How much more valuable ye be than them).
- <sup>25</sup> And who of you by thinking may put [or may add] one cubit to his stature?
- <sup>26</sup> Therefore if ye may not do that that is (the) least, what be ye busy of other things? (And so if ye cannot do anything about that which is so little, why be concerned about the other things?)
- <sup>27</sup> Behold ye the lilies of the field, how they wax; they travail not, neither spin, (or Look at the lilies of the field, how they grow; they do not labour; nor spin). And I say to you, that neither Solomon in all his glory was clothed as one of these.
- <sup>28</sup> And if God clotheth thus the hay, that today is in the field, and tomorrow is cast into an oven; how much more you of little faith.

- <sup>29</sup> And do not ye seek, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; and do not ye be raised (up) on high.
- <sup>30</sup> For folks of the world seek all these things; and your Father knoweth, that ye have need to all these things. (For the peoples of the world seek all these things; and your Father knoweth, that ye have need of all these things.)
- <sup>31</sup> Nevertheless seek ye first the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be cast to you (or and all these things shall be given to thee).
- <sup>32</sup> Do not ye, little flock, dread, for it pleased to your Father to give you a kingdom. (Do not, little flock, have fear, for it pleased your Father to give you the Kingdom.)
- <sup>33</sup> Sell ye those things that ye have in possession [or that ye wield], and give ye alms. And make to you satchels that wax not old, treasure that faileth not in heavens, whither a thief nigheth not, neither moth destroyeth. (Sell those things that ye possess, and give what you receive to charity. And make for yourselves totes or bags, that do not grow old, treasure that faileth not in heaven, where a thief approacheth not, nor a moth destroyeth.)
- <sup>34</sup> For where is thy treasure, there thine heart shall be. [Forsooth where thy treasure is, there also thine heart shall be.]
  - 35 Be your loins girded above, and lanterns burning in your hands;
- <sup>36</sup> and be ye like to men that abide their lord, when he shall turn again from the weddings, that when he shall come, and knock, anon they open (the door) to him. (and be like men who wait for their lord, when he shall return from a wedding, so that when he shall come, and knock, they open the door at once for him.)
- <sup>37</sup> Blessed be those servants, that when the lord shall come, he shall find (them) waking. Truly I say to you, that he shall gird himself, and make them sit to (the) meat [or sit at the meat], and he shall go, and serve them. (Blessed be those servants, who when their lord shall come back, he shall find them keeping watch. I tell you the truth, that he shall gird himself, and make them sit down for the meal, and he shall go, and serve them.)
- <sup>38</sup> And if he come in the second waking, and if he come in the third waking, and find so, those servants (shall) be blessed. (And if he come in the second watch, or in the third watch, and find them so, those servants shall be blessed.)
- <sup>39</sup> And know ye this thing, for if an husbandman knew, in what hour the thief would come, soothly he should wake, and not suffer his house to be (under)mined, (or truly he would be on watch, and not allow his house to be undermined).
  - <sup>40</sup> And be ye ready, for in what hour ye guess not, man's Son shall come.
  - <sup>41</sup> And Peter said to him, Lord, sayest thou this parable to us, or to all?
- <sup>42</sup> And the Lord said, Who, guessest thou, is a true [or a faithful] dispenser, and prudent, whom the lord hath ordained on his household, to give them in time a measure of wheat? (And the Lord said, Who, thinkest thou, is a true, or a faithful, and prudent steward, whom the lord hath ordained over his household, to give them a measure of wheat at the proper time?)
- <sup>43</sup> Blessed is that servant, that the lord when he cometh, shall find so doing. [Blessed is that servant, whom when the lord shall come, he shall find doing so.]

- <sup>44</sup> Verily I say to you, that on all things that he wieldeth, he shall ordain him. (Truly I say to you, or I tell you the truth, that he shall ordain him over everything that he possesseth.)
- <sup>45</sup> That if that servant say in his heart (or But if that servant say in his heart), My lord tarrieth to come; and begin to smite children (or the other servants), and handmaidens, and eat, and drink, and be filled [or be full-filled] over-measure,
- <sup>46</sup> the lord of that servant shall come, in the day that he hopeth not, and in the hour that he knoweth not, and shall part him (or and shall divide him in pieces), and put his part with unfaithful men.
- <sup>47</sup> But that servant that knew the will of his lord, and made not him(self) ready, and did not after his will, shall be beaten with many beatings.
- <sup>48</sup> But he that knew not, and did worthy things of strokes, shall be beaten with few. For to each man to whom much is given, much shall be asked of him; and they shall ask more of him, to whom they betook much, (or and they shall ask more from him, to whom they have delivered, or entrusted, much).
- $^{49}$  I came to send fire into the earth, and what will I, but that it be kindled? (I came to send fire onto the earth, and how I wish, that it were already kindled!)
- <sup>50</sup> And I have to be baptized with a baptism, and how am I constrained, till that it be perfectly done?
- <sup>51</sup> Ween ye, [or Guess ye], (or Think ye), that I came to give peace into [the] earth? Nay, I say to you, but parting (or division).
- <sup>52</sup> For from this time there shall be five parted in one house; three shall be parted against twain (or two), and twain shall be parted against three;
- $^{53}$  the father against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the husband's mother against the son's wife, and the son's wife against her husband's mother.
- <sup>54</sup> And he said also to the people, When ye see a cloud rising from the sun going down, anon ye say (or at once ye say), Rain cometh; and so it is done.
- <sup>55</sup> And when ye see the south blowing, ye say, That heat shall be; and it is done.
- <sup>56</sup> Hypocrites, ye know how to prove the face of heaven and of earth, but how prove ye not this time[?]. (Hypocrites, ye know how to interpret the face of heaven and of earth, but not how to interpret this present time?)
- <sup>57</sup> But what and of yourselves ye deem not that is just? [Forsooth why and of yourselves deem ye not this thing that is just?](But why can ye not judge for yourselves what is the right thing to do?)
- <sup>58</sup> But when thou goest with thine adversary in the way (or on the way) to the prince [or Forsooth when thou goest with thine adversary to the prince in the way], do busyness to be delivered from him; lest peradventure he take thee to the doomsman (or lest perhaps he take thee to the judge), and the doomsman betake thee to the masterful asker, and the masterful asker send thee into prison.
- <sup>59</sup> I say to thee, thou shalt not go out from thence, till thou yield the last farthing.

- <sup>1</sup> And some men were present in that time (or And there were some men who were present at that time), that told to him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate (had) mingled with the sacrifices of them.
- <sup>2</sup> And he answered, and said to them, Ween ye that these men of Galilee were sinners more than all Galileans, for they suffered such things? (And he said to them, Do ye think that these men of Galilee were greater sinners than any other Galileans, because they suffered such things?)
- <sup>3</sup> I say to you, nay; all ye shall perish in like manner, [no] but ye have penance (or unless ye repent).
- <sup>4</sup> And as (for) those eighteen, on which the tower in Siloam fell down, and slew them, guess ye, that they were debtors more than all men that dwell in Jerusalem?
- <sup>5</sup> I say to you, nay; but also all ye shall perish, if ye do not penance (or if ye do not repent). [Nay, I say to you; but also ye all shall perish, if ye shall not do penance.]
- <sup>6</sup> And he said this likeness (or this parable), A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit in it, and found none.
- <sup>7</sup> And he said to the tiller of the vineyard, Lo! three years be, since I come seeking fruit in this fig tree, and I find none; therefore cut it down, whereto occupieth it the earth? (or why should it take up any space in the ground?)
- <sup>8</sup> And he answering said to him, Lord, suffer it also this year, the while I delve about it, and I shall dung it [or and dung it]; (And he answering said to him, Lord, allow it to remain this year, while I dig about it, and dung it;)
- <sup>9</sup> if it shall make fruit, [(or) else] if not, in time coming thou shalt cut it down.
- <sup>10</sup> And he was teaching in their synagogue in the sabbaths (or on the Sabbath).
- <sup>11</sup> And lo! a woman, that had a spirit of sickness eighteen years, and was crooked [or and was bowed down], and neither in any manner might look upward.
- <sup>12</sup> Whom when Jesus had seen, he called [her] to him, and said to her, Woman, thou art delivered of thy sickness [or thou art left (or thou art let go) of thy sickness].
- <sup>13</sup> And he set on her his hands, and anon she stood upright, and glorified God. (And he put his hands upon her, and at once she stood upright, and praised God.)
- <sup>14</sup> And the prince of the synagogue answered, having disdain for Jesus had healed in the sabbath; and he said to the people, There be six days, in which it behooveth to work; therefore come ye in these, and be ye healed, and not in the day of sabbath. (And the leader of the synagogue spoke, indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath; and he said to the people, There be six days, on which it behooveth to work; and so come here on them, and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day.)
- <sup>15</sup> But the Lord answered to him, and said, Hypocrite, whether each of you untieth not in (or on) the sabbath his ox, or ass, from the cratch (or from the feed-trough), and leadeth (it) to water? [+Forsooth the Lord answering to him said, Hypocrite, whether each of you in the sabbath untieth not his ox, or his ass, from the cratch, or the stall, and leadeth (it) to water?]

- <sup>16</sup> Behooved it not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo! eighteen years, to be unbound of this bond in the day of sabbath? (or on the Sabbath day?)
- <sup>17</sup> And when he said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed, and all the people joyed in all (the) things, that were gloriously done of him (or that were wonderfully done by him).
- 18 Therefore he said, To what thing is the kingdom of God like? and to what thing shall I guess it to be like?
- <sup>19</sup> It is like to a corn of sinapi, which a man took, and cast into his garden [or into his yard]; and it waxed, and was made into a great tree, and fowls of the air rested in the branches thereof. (It is like a kernel, or a grain, of mustard seed, which a man took, and threw into his garden; and it grew, and was made into a great tree, and the birds of the air nested in its branches.)

20 And again he said, To what thing shall I guess the kingdom of God

- $^{21}$  It is like to sourdough that a woman took, and hid it in three measures of meal, till all were soured. (It is like the yeast, or the leaven, which a woman took, and put it in three measures of meal, until all of it was leavened.)
- <sup>22</sup> And he went by cities and castles (or towns and villages), teaching and making journey into Jerusalem.
- <sup>23</sup> And a man said to him, Lord, if there be few, that be saved? And he said to them,
- <sup>24</sup> Strive ye to enter by the strait gate (or Strive to enter by the narrow gate); for I say to you, many seek to enter [in], and they shall not be able (to).
- <sup>25</sup> For when the husbandman is entered, and the door is closed, [or For when the husbandman hath entered, and closed the door], ye shall begin to stand withoutforth, and knock at the door, and say, Lord, open to us. And he shall answer, and say to you, I know you not, of whence ye be.
- $^{26}$  Then ye shall begin to say, We have eaten before thee and drunk [or We have eaten and drunk before thee], and in our streets thou hast taught.
- <sup>27</sup> And he shall say to you, I know you not, of whence ye be; go away from me, all ye workers of wickedness.
- <sup>28</sup> There shall be weeping and grinding of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets in the kingdom of God; and you to be put out.
- <sup>29</sup> And they shall come from the east and the west, and from the north and the south, and shall sit at the meat in the realm of God. (And they shall come from the east and the west, and from the north and the south, and shall sit down for the meal in the Kingdom of God.)
- <sup>30</sup> And lo! they that were the first, be the last; and they that were the last, be the first.
- $^{31}$  In that day some of the Pharisees came nigh, and said to him, Go out, and go from hence, for Herod will slay thee.
- <sup>32</sup> And he said to them, Go ye, and say to that fox, Lo! I cast out fiends, and I make perfectly healings, today and tomorrow, and the third day I am ended. (And he said to them, Go, and say to that fox, Behold! today and tomorrow, I throw out devils and demons, and I make complete cures, and on the third day I have finished my work.)

<sup>33</sup> Nevertheless it behooveth me today, and tomorrow, and the day that *(pur)*sueth (or the day that followeth), to walk; for it falleth not [for] a prophet to perish out of Jerusalem.

<sup>34</sup> Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that slayest (the) prophets, and stonest them that be sent to thee, how oft would I gather together thy sons, as a bird gathereth his nest under (his) feathers [or under (his) wings], and thou wouldest not (let me).

<sup>35</sup> Lo! your house shall be left to you desert(ed). And I say to you, that ye shall not see me, till it come, when ye shall say, Blessed is he, that cometh in the name of the Lord.

- <sup>1</sup> And it was done, when he had entered into the house of a prince of (the) Pharisees, in the sabbath, to eat bread, they espied him. (And it was done, when he had entered into the house of a leader of the Pharisees, on the Sabbath, to eat a meal, they watched him.)
  - <sup>2</sup> And lo! a man sick in the dropsy was before him.
- <sup>3</sup> And Jesus answering spake to the wise men of [the] law, and to the Pharisees, and said, Whether it is leaveful to heal in the sabbath? (And Jesus spoke to the men wise in the Law, and to the Pharisees, and asked, Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?)
- <sup>4</sup> And they held (their) peace. And Jesus took (hold of him), and healed him, and let him go.
- <sup>5</sup> And he answered to them, and said, Whose ass or ox of you shall fall into a pit, and he shall not anon draw him out in the day of sabbath? (And he said to them, Whose ass or ox of yours shall fall into a pit, and he shall not at once pull him out on the Sabbath day?)
  - <sup>6</sup> And they might not answer to him to these things.
- <sup>7</sup> He said also a parable of men bidden to a feast, and he beheld how they chose the first sitting places, and said to them, (And he also said to them a parable about men bidden to a feast, as he saw how they chose the first, or the best, places to sit, and so he said to them,)
- <sup>8</sup> When thou art bidden to bridals, sit not to (the) meat in the first place, [or When thou shalt be bidden to weddings, sit not at the meat in the first place]; lest peradventure a worthier than thou be bidden of him, (When thou art invited to a wedding, do not sit down for the meal in the first, or the best, place; lest perhaps a worthier than thou be invited by him,)
- <sup>9</sup> and lest he come that called thee and him, and say to thee, Give place to this, and then thou shalt begin with shame to hold the lowest place.
- <sup>10</sup> But when thou art bidden to a feast, go, and sit down in the last place, (so) that when he cometh, that bade thee to the feast, he say to thee, Friend, come [up] higher. Then worship shall be to thee, before men that sit [together] at the meat, (or Then honour shall be to thee, before those who sit together at the meal).
- <sup>11</sup> For each that enhanceth himself, shall be lowed [or shall be made low]; and he that meeketh himself, shall be highed. (For everyone who exalteth himself, or who raiseth himself up, shall be made low; and he who humbleth himself, shall be put up higher.)
- 12 And he said to him, that had bidden him to the feast, When thou makest a meat, or a supper, do not thou call thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy cousins, neither neighbours, nor rich men; lest peradventure they bid thee again to the feast, and it be yielded again to thee.

<sup>13</sup> But when thou makest a feast, call poor men, feeble [men], crooked

(or the lame), and (the) blind,

- <sup>14</sup> and (then) thou shalt be blessed; for they have not whereof to yield [again] to thee, for it shall be yielded to thee in the rising again of just men (or and so it shall be requited to thee at the resurrection of the righteous).
- 15 And when one of them that sat together at the meat (or And when one of them who sat there at the meal), had heard these things, he said to him, Blessed is he, that shall eat bread in the realm of God.
  - <sup>16</sup> And he said to him, A man made a great supper, and called many.
- <sup>17</sup> And he sent his servant in the hour of supper, to say to men that were bidden to the feast, that they should come, for now all things be ready.
- 18 And all began together to excuse them(selves). The first said [to him], I have bought a town, and I have need to go out, and see it; I pray thee, have me excused.
  - <sup>19</sup> And the tother said, I have bought five yokes of oxen, and I go to prove them; I pray thee, have me excused.

- <sup>20</sup> And another said, I have wedded a wife; and therefore I may not come.
- <sup>21</sup> And the servant turned again (or And the servant returned), and told these things to his lord. Then the husbandman was wroth, and said to his servant, Go out swiftly into the great streets and the small streets of the city, and bring in hither poor men, and feeble, [and] blind men, and crooked (or and the lame).

<sup>22</sup> And the servant said, Lord, it is done, as thou hast commanded, and yet there is a void place (or and there still be empty places).

- <sup>23</sup> And the lord said to the servant, Go out into (the) ways and hedges, and constrain men to enter, that mine house be full-filled, for be filled, (or so that my house be filled full).
- <sup>24</sup> For I say to you, that none of those men that be called, shall taste my supper.
  - <sup>25</sup> And much people went with him; and he turned, and said to them,
- <sup>26</sup> If any man cometh to me, and hateth not his father, and mother, and wife, and sons, and brethren, and sisters or sistren, and yet his own life, he may not be my disciple (or he cannot be my disciple).

<sup>27</sup> And he that beareth not his cross, and cometh after me, may not be my disciple (or cannot be my disciple).

- <sup>28</sup> For who of you willing to build a tower, whether he sit not first or he first sitteth not, and counteth the expenses that be needful, if he have (them) to perform (it)? (For who of you desiring to build a tower, will he not first sit, and count out the expenses that be needed, to see if he hath enough money to finish it or to complete it?)
- <sup>29</sup> Lest after that he hath set the foundament, and may not perform (it), all that see, begin to scorn him, (Lest after that he hath laid the foundation, and cannot finish it, all who see it, begin to scorn him,)
- <sup>30</sup> and say, For this man began to build, and might not make an end. (and say, This man began to build, but he could not finish it.)
- 31 Or what king that will go to do a battle against another king, whether he sitteth not first, and bethinketh, if he may with ten thousand go to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand?

- <sup>32</sup> Else yet while he is afar, he sendeth a messenger, and prayeth (for) those things that be of peace. (Or else while he is still far off, he sendeth a messenger, and beseecheth for those things that be of peace.)
- <sup>33</sup> So therefore each of you, that forsaketh not [or renounceth not] all (the) things that he hath, may not be my disciple (or cannot be my disciple).
  - <sup>34</sup> Salt is good; but if salt vanish, in what thing shall it be savoured?
- <sup>35</sup> Neither in earth, nor in [the] dunghill it is profitable, but it shall be cast out (or but it shall be thrown away). He that hath ears of hearing, hear he.

- <sup>1</sup> And publicans and sinful men were nighing to him, to hear him. (And tax-collectors and sinners were coming near to him, to listen to him.)
- <sup>2</sup> And the Pharisees and (the) scribes grudged, saying, For this [man] receiveth sinful men, and eateth with them. (And the Pharisees and the scribes grumbled, saying, For this man welcometh sinners, and eateth with them.)
  - <sup>3</sup> And he spake to them this parable, and said,
- <sup>4</sup> What man of you that hath an hundred sheep, and if he hath lost one of them, whether he leaveth not ninety and nine in (the) desert, and goeth to it that perished, till he find it? (or and goeth after that which is lost, until he find it?)
- <sup>5</sup> And when he hath found it, he joyeth, and layeth [or putteth] it on his shoulders:
- <sup>6</sup> and he cometh home, and calleth together his friends and neighbours, and saith to them, Be ye glad with me, for I have found my sheep, that had perished [or that I had lost].
- <sup>7</sup> And I say to you, so joy shall be in heaven on one sinful man doing penance, more than on ninety and nine just, that have no need to penance [or that have no need of penance]. (And I tell you, there shall be more joy in heaven over one sinner repenting, than over ninety-nine righteous men, who have no need of repentance.)
- <sup>8</sup> Or what woman having ten bezants [or ten drachmas], and if she hath lost one bezant [or one drachma], whether she tendeth not [or she lighteth not] a lantern, and turneth upside-down the house, and seeketh diligently, till she find it?
- <sup>9</sup> And when she hath found (it), she calleth together (her) friends and neighbours, and saith, Be ye glad with me, for I have found the bezant [or the drachma] that I had lost.
- <sup>10</sup> So I say to you, joy shall be before the angels of God on one sinful man doing penance. (So I tell you, there is joy among the angels of God over one sinner repenting.)
  - 11 And he said, A man had two sons;
- <sup>12</sup> and the younger of them said to the father [or and the younger said to his father], Father, give me the portion of (the) chattel [or of (the) substance] that falleth to me. And he parted to them the chattel [or the substance], (or And he divided the goods between them).
- <sup>13</sup> And not after many days, when all things were gathered together, the younger son went forth in pilgrimage into a far country; and there he wasted his goods [or his substance] in living lecherously.

- $^{14}$  And after that he had ended all things, a strong hunger was made in that country, and he began to have need.
- <sup>15</sup> And he went, and drew him(self) to one of the citizens of that country. And he sent him into his town, to feed swine, (or to feed his pigs), [or (so) that he should feed hogs].
- <sup>16</sup> And he coveted to fill his womb of the pods that the hogs ate, and no man gave (anything) to him. (And he desired to fill his belly with the pods which the pigs ate, but no one gave him anything to eat.)
- <sup>17</sup> And he turned again to himself, and said, How many hired men in my father's house have plenty of loaves; and I perish here through hunger.
- <sup>18</sup> I shall rise up, and go to my father, and I shall say to him, Father, I have sinned (up) into heaven [or I have sinned against heaven], and before thee:
- <sup>19</sup> and now I am not worthy to be called thy son, make me as one of thine hired men.
- <sup>20</sup> And he rose up, and came to his father. And when he was yet afar, his father saw him, and was stirred by mercy. And he ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.
- $^{21}$  And the son said to him, Father, I have sinned (up) into heaven [or I have sinned against heaven], and before thee; and now I am not worthy to be called thy son.
- <sup>22</sup> And the father said to his servants, Swiftly bring ye forth the first stole, and clothe ye him, and give ye a ring in his hand (or and put a ring on his finger), and shoes on his feet;
- <sup>23</sup> and bring ye a fat calf [or and bring ye a calf made fat], and slay ye, and eat we, and make we feast.
- <sup>24</sup> For this my son was dead, and hath lived again; he perished (or he was lost), and is found. And all men began to eat [gladly].
- <sup>25</sup> But his elder son was in the field; and when he came, and nighed to the house (or and approached the house), he heard a symphony and a crowd.
  - $^{26}$  And he called one of the servants, and asked, what these things were.
- <sup>27</sup> And he said to him, Thy brother is come (home), and thy father slew a fat calf [or and thy father hath slain a fatted calf], for he received him safe (again).
- <sup>28</sup> And he was wroth, and would not come in. Therefore his father went out, and began to pray him (or And so his father went out to him, and began to beseech him).
- <sup>29</sup> And he answered to his father, and said, Lo! so many years I serve thee, and I never brake thy commandment(s); and thou never gave to me a kid, that I with my friends should have eaten.
- <sup>30</sup> But after that this thy son, that hath devoured his substance with whores, came, thou hast slain to him a fat calf [or a fatted calf], (or thou hast killed a fatted calf for him).
- <sup>31</sup> And he said to him, Son, thou art (for)evermore with me, (or Son, thou art always with me), and all my things be thine.
- <sup>32</sup> But it behooved to make feast, and to have joy; for this thy brother was dead, and lived again [or and liveth again]; he perished, and is found, (or for thy brother was dead, but now he liveth again; he was lost, but now he is found).

- <sup>1</sup> He said also to his disciples, There was a rich man, that had a bailiff, [or a farmer], (or a steward, or a manager); and this was denounced to him, as he had wasted his goods.
- <sup>2</sup> And he called him, and said to him, What hear I this thing of thee? (or Why do I hear this about thee?) yield (the) reckoning (or the accounting) of thy bailiffship, for thou might not now be bailiff, [+or yield reason of thy farm, for now thou shalt no more hold the farm].
- <sup>3</sup> And the bailiff said within himself, What shall I do, for my lord taketh away from me the bailiffship? delve may I not, I shame to beg, (or I cannot dig, and I am ashamed to beg). [Forsooth the farmer said within himself, What shall I do, for my lord taketh away from me the farm? I may not delve, I am ashamed to beg.]
- <sup>4</sup>I know what I shall do, (so) that when I am removed from the bailiffship [or (so) that when I shall be removed from the farm], they receive me into their houses.
- <sup>5</sup> Therefore when all the debtors of his lord were called together, he said to the first, How much owest thou to my lord?
- <sup>6</sup> And he said, An hundred barrows of oil. And he said to him, Take thy caution [or Take thine obligation], and sit soon, and write fifty.
- <sup>7</sup> Afterward he said to another, And how much owest thou? Which answered, An hundred cors of wheat [or An hundred measures of wheat]. And he said to him, Take thy letters, and write fourscore.
- <sup>8</sup> And the lord praised the bailiff of wickedness [or And the lord praised the farmer of wickedness], for he had done prudently; for the sons of this world be more prudent in their generation, than the sons of light. (And the lord praised the steward for his wickedness, or his shrewdness, for he had done prudently; for the sons of this world be more prudent with their affairs, than the sons of the light be.)
- <sup>9</sup> And I say to you, make ye to you friends of the riches of wickedness, (so) that when ye shall fail, they receive you into everlasting tabernacles.
- <sup>10</sup> He that is true in the least thing, is true also in the more (thing), [or He that is faithful in the least thing, is faithful also in the more]; and he that is wicked in a little thing, is wicked also in the more (things). (He who is true in the least thing, is also true in the greater thing; and he who is wicked in a little thing, is also wicked in the greater things.)
- <sup>11</sup>Therefore if ye were not true in the wicked thing of riches [or Therefore if ye were not true in the wicked riches], who shall betake to you that that is very [or (that) that is sooth]? (or who shall deliver unto you that which is truly valuable?)
- <sup>12</sup> And if ye were not true in other men's thing(s), who shall give to you that that is yours?
- <sup>13</sup> No servant may serve to two lords; for either he shall hate the one, and love the other; either he shall draw to the one, and despise the other. Ye may not serve to God and to riches (or Ye cannot serve God and money, or wealth). [No manservant may serve two lords; forsooth either he shall hate one, and love the other; either he shall cleave to one, and despise the other. Ye may not serve to God and riches.]
- <sup>14</sup> But the Pharisees, that were covetous, heard all these things, and they scorned him.

- <sup>15</sup> And he said to them, Ye it be, that justify you(rselves) before men; but God hath known your hearts [or soothly God knoweth your hearts], for that that is high to men, is (an) abomination before God.
- <sup>16</sup> The law and the prophets till to John; from that time the realm of God is evangelized [or is preached], and each man doeth violence into it.
- <sup>17</sup> Forsooth it is lighter (for) heaven and earth to pass (away), than that one tittle fall from the law. (For it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one dot to fall away from the Law.)
- <sup>18</sup> Every man that forsaketh his wife, and weddeth another, doeth lechery [or doeth adultery]; and he that weddeth the wife forsaken of the husband, doeth adultery, (or and he who weddeth the wife left by her husband, doeth adultery).
- <sup>19</sup> There was a rich man, and (he) was clothed in purple, and white silk, and ate every day shiningly.
- $^{20}$  And there was a beggar, Lazarus by name, that lay at his gate full of boils,
- $^{21}$  and coveted to be fulfilled of the crumbs [+or coveting to be filled with the crumbs], that fell down from the rich man's board (or table), and no man gave to him; but (the) hounds came, and licked his boils.
- $^{22}$  And it was done, that the beggar died, and was borne of (the) angels (or was carried by the angels) into Abraham's bosom. And the rich man was dead also, and was buried in hell.
- $^{23}$  And he raised up his eyes, when he was in torments, and saw Abraham afar, and Lazarus in his bosom.
- $^{24}$  And he cried, and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he dip the end of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.
- $^{25}$  And Abraham said to him, Son, have mind (or remember), for thou hast received good things in thy life, and Lazarus also evil things; but he is now comforted, and thou art tormented.
- <sup>26</sup> And in all these things a great dark place [or a great dark depth] is stablished betwixt us and you; that they that will from hence pass to you, may not, (or so that they who want to pass over from here to you, cannot), neither from thence (to) pass over hither.
- $^{27}$  And he said, Then I pray thee, father, that thou send him into the house of my father.
- <sup>28</sup> For I have five brethren, that he witness to them, (or For I have five brothers, so that he can testify to them), lest also they come into this place of torments.
- $^{\rm 29}$  And Abraham said to him, They have Moses and the prophets; hear they them.
- <sup>30</sup> And he said, Nay, father Abraham, but if any of dead men go to them [or but if any of (the) dead shall go to them], they shall do penance (or then they shall repent).
- <sup>31</sup> And he said to him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither if any of (the) dead men rise again, they shall believe to him. (And he said to him, If they will not listen to Moses and the prophets, even if a dead man shall rise again, they shall not believe him.)

- $^{1}$  And Jesus said to his disciples, It is impossible that causes of stumbling come not; but woe to that man, by whom they come.
- <sup>2</sup> It is more profitable to him, if a millstone be put about his neck, and he be cast into the sea, than that he cause to stumble one of these little (ones).
- <sup>3</sup> Take ye heed to yourselves; if thy brother hath sinned against thee, blame him; and if he do penance, forgive him. (Keep watch over yourselves; if thy brother hath sinned against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.)
- <sup>4</sup> And if seven times in the day he do sin against thee, and seven times in the day he be converted to thee, and say, It forthinketh me, forgive thou him, (or and say, I repent, then forgive him).
- <sup>5</sup> And the apostles said to the Lord, Increase to us faith, [or Increase faith to us], (or Increase our faith).
- <sup>6</sup> And the Lord said, If ye have faith as the corn [or a corn] of sinapi (or If ye have faith the size of a kernel, or a grain, of mustard seed), ye shall say to this (syca)more tree, Be thou drawn up by the root, and be over-planted into the sea [or and be thou planted over into the sea], and it shall obey to you.
- <sup>7</sup> But who of you hath a servant earing, or pasturing oxen, which saith to him, when he turneth again from the field, Anon go, and sit to [the] meat; (But who of you hath a servant plowing, or pasturing oxen, who saith to him, when he returneth from the field, At once go, and sit down for your meal;)
- <sup>8</sup> and saith not to him, Make ready, (so) that I (can) sup, and gird thee, and serve me, while I eat and drink, and after this thou shalt eat and drink;
- <sup>9</sup> whether he hath grace to that servant (or shall he give thanks to that servant), for he did that that he commanded him? Nay, I guess.
- <sup>10</sup> So [also] ye, when ye have done all (the) things that be commanded to you, say ye, We be unprofitable servants, we have done that that we ought to do.
- <sup>11</sup> And it was done, the while Jesus went to Jerusalem, he passed through the midst of Samaria, and Galilee.
- 12 And when he entered into a castle (or And when he entered into a village), ten leprous men came to meet him, which stood afar,
- <sup>13</sup> and raised [up] their voice, and said, Jesus, Commander (or Master), have mercy on us.
- <sup>14</sup> And as he saw them, he said, Go, show ye you(rselves) to the priests. And it was done, while they went, they were cleansed.
- <sup>15</sup> And one of them, as he saw that he was cleansed, went again, magnifying God with a great voice. (And one of them, as soon as he saw that he was healed, returned to him, praising God with a loud voice.)
- <sup>16</sup> And he fell down on the face before his feet, and did thankings, [or doing graces], (or and giving thanks); and this was a Samaritan.
- <sup>17</sup> And Jesus answered, and said, Whether ten be not cleansed (or Were ten not healed), and where be the (other) nine?
- <sup>18</sup> There is none found, that turned again, and gave glory to God, but this alien [or this stranger]. (There is no one who returned, and gave glory to God, except this foreigner.)

- <sup>19</sup> And he said to him, Rise up, go thou; for thy faith hath made thee safe, (or for thy faith hath saved thee, or thy faith hath healed thee).
- <sup>20</sup> And he was asked of the Pharisees, when the realm of God cometh, (or And he was asked by the Pharisees, when the Kingdom of God would come). And he answered to them, and said, The realm of God cometh not with espying,
- <sup>21</sup> neither they shall say, Lo! here, or lo[!] there; for lo! the realm of God is within you (or for behold! the Kingdom of God is within you).
- <sup>22</sup> And he said to his disciples, Days shall come, when ye shall desire to see one day of man's Son, and ye shall not see (it).
- <sup>23</sup> And they shall say to you, Lo! here, and lo! there. Do not ye go, neither (pur)sue (them), (or Do not go out, nor follow after them);
- <sup>24</sup> for as lightning shining from under (the) heaven(s) shineth into [or on] those things that be under (the) heaven(s), so shall man's Son be in his day.
- <sup>25</sup> But first it behooveth him to suffer many things, and to be reproved of this generation, (or and to be rebuked, or to be rejected, by this generation).
- <sup>26</sup> And as it was done in the days of Noe (or of Noah), so it shall be in the days of man's Son.
- <sup>27</sup> They ate and drank, wedded wives, and were given to weddings, till into the day in which Noe (or Noah) entered into the ship; and the great flood came, and lost all, (or and then the great flood came, and destroyed everything).
- $^{28}$  Also as it was done in the days of Lot, they ate and drank, bought and sold, planted and builded;
- <sup>29</sup> but in the day that Lot went out of Sodom, the Lord rained (down) fire and brimstone from heaven, and lost all (or and destroyed everything).
- <sup>30</sup> Like this thing it shall be [or After this thing it shall be], in what day man's Son shall be showed. (It shall be like that, on the day when man's Son shall be revealed.)
- <sup>31</sup> In that hour [or In that day], he that is in the roof, (or At that time, he who is on the roof), and his vessels in the house, come he not down to take them away; and he that shall be in the field, also turn not again behind (or back).
  - <sup>32</sup> Be ye mindful of the wife of Lot. (Remember Lot's wife.)
- <sup>33</sup> Whoever seeketh to make his life safe, shall lose it; and whoever loseth it, shall quicken it, (or and whoever loseth it, shall save it, or shall preserve it).
- <sup>34</sup> But I say to you, in that night two shall be in one bed, one shall be taken, and the other forsaken (or and the other left);
- <sup>35</sup> two women shall be grinding together, the one shall be taken, and the other forsaken (or and the other left);
  - <sup>36</sup> two in a field, the one shall be taken, and the other left [orforsaken].
- <sup>37</sup> They answer, and say to him, Where, Lord? Which said to them, Wherever the body shall be, thither shall be gathered together also the eagles. [They answering said to him, Where, Lord? Which said to him, Wherever the body shall be, also the eagles shall be gathered together thither.]

- <sup>1</sup> And he said to them also a parable, that it behooveth to pray *(for)*evermore (or that it behooveth to always pray), and not fail;
- <sup>2</sup> and said, There was a judge in a city, that dreaded not God, neither shamed of men. (and said, There was a judge in a city, who did not fear God, nor could be shamed by any man.)
- <sup>3</sup> And a widow was in that city, and she came to him, and said, (A) Venge me of mine adversary;
- <sup>4</sup> and he would not (for a) long time. But after these things he said within himself, Though I dread not God, and shame not of man, (or Though I do not fear God, and I cannot be shamed by any man),
- <sup>5</sup> nevertheless for this widow is heavy [or is dis-easeful] to me, I shall (a)venge her; lest at the last she coming condemn me [or she strangle me].
- <sup>6</sup> And the Lord said, Hear ye, what the doomsman of wickedness saith (or Listen to what the wicked judge saith);
- <sup>7</sup> and whether God shall not do [the] vengeance of his chosen, crying to him day and night, and shall have patience in them? (and so shall God not take vengeance for his chosen, those crying to him day and night, and shall also have patience with them?)
- <sup>8</sup> Soothly I say to you, for soon he shall do [the] vengeance of them. Nevertheless guessest thou, that man's Son coming shall find faith in earth? (Truly I say to you, or I tell you the truth, that soon he shall take vengeance for them. Nevertheless guessest thou, that when man's Son cometh, he shall find faith on the earth?)
- <sup>9</sup> And he said also to some men, that trusted in themselves, as they were rightful, [or that trusted in themselves, as rightful], (or who believed themselves to be good and righteous), and despised others, this parable, saying,
- <sup>10</sup> Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican (or and the other one a tax-collector).
- <sup>11</sup> And the Pharisee stood, and prayed by himself these things, and said, God, I do thankings to thee, (or God, I give thanks to thee), for I am not as other men, raveners, unjust, adulterers, as also this publican (is);
- <sup>12</sup> I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all (the) things that I have in possession.
- <sup>13</sup> And the publican stood afar (or And the tax-collector stood far off), and would not raise [up] his eyes to heaven, but smote his breast, and said, God be merciful to me, (a) sinner.
- <sup>14</sup> Truly I say to you, this went down into his house, and was justified from the other. For each that enhanceth himself, shall be made low, and he that meeketh himself, shall be enhanced. (I tell you the truth, this man went down to his house, and was justified rather than the other man. For everyone who exalteth himself, or who raiseth himself up, shall be made low, and he who humbleth himself, shall be exalted, or shall be raised up.)
- <sup>15</sup> And they brought to him young children, that he should touch them; and when the disciples saw this thing, they blamed them. (And they brought young children to him, so that he would touch them; and when the disciples saw this, they rebuked them.)
- <sup>16</sup> But Jesus called together them, and said, Suffer ye (the) children to come to me, and do not ye forbid them, for of such is the kingdom of heavens. (But Jesus called them together, and said, Allow the children to come to me, and do not forbid them, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.)

- <sup>17</sup> Truly I say to you, whoever shall not take the kingdom of God as a child, he shall not enter into it. (I tell you the truth, whoever shall not receive, or shall not accept, the Kingdom of God like a child, he shall not enter into it.)
- <sup>18</sup> And a prince asked him, and said, Good master, in what thing doing shall I wield everlasting life? (And a leader of the synagogue asked him, and said, Good Teacher, what must I do to get, or to possess, eternal life?)
- <sup>19</sup> And Jesus said to him, What sayest thou me (to be) good? (or Why sayest thou that I am good?) No man is good, but God alone.
- <sup>20</sup> Thou knowest the commandments, Thou shalt not slay, Thou shalt not do lechery, Thou shalt not do theft, Thou shalt not say false witnessing, Worship thy father and thy mother. (Thou knowest the commandments, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not do adultery, Thou shalt not do theft, Thou shalt not give false testimony, or Thou shalt not lie, Honour thy father and thy mother.)
- $^{21}$  Which said (or And he replied), I have kept all these things from my youth.
- <sup>22</sup> And when this thing was heard, Jesus said to him, Yet one thing faileth to thee; sell thou all (the) things that thou hast, and give to poor men, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come, and *(pur)*sue thou me, [or and come, and (pur)sue me], (or and come, and follow me).
- <sup>23</sup> And when these things were heard, he was sorrowful, for he was full rich.
- <sup>24</sup> And Jesus seeing him made sorry [or made sorrowful] said, How hard they that have money [or riches] shall enter into the kingdom of God;
- <sup>25</sup> for it is lighter [or forsooth it is easier], (for) a camel to pass through a needle's eye, than (for) a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.
- <sup>26</sup> And they that heard these things said, Who may be made safe? (And they who heard these things said, Then who can be saved?)
- $^{27}$  And he said to them, Those things that be impossible with men, be possible with God.
- <sup>28</sup> But Peter said, Lo! we have left all things, and have (pur)sued thee. (But Peter said, Behold! we have left everything, and have followed thee.)
- <sup>29</sup> And he said to him, Truly I say to you (or I tell you the truth), there is no man that shall forsake house, or father and mother, or brethren, or wife, or children, or fields, for the realm of God (or for the Kingdom of God).
- <sup>30</sup> and shall not receive many more things in this time, and in the world to coming everlasting life, [or and in the world to come everlasting life], (or and in the world to come eternal life).
- <sup>31</sup> And Jesus took his twelve disciples, and said to them, Lo! we go up to Jerusalem, and (there) all things shall be ended, that be written by the prophets of man's Son (or which be written by the prophets about man's Son).
- 32 For he shall be betrayed to heathen men (or For he shall be handed over to the Gentiles), and he shall be scorned, and scourged, and bespat;
- $^{33}$  and after that they have scourged him, they shall slay him, and the third day he shall rise again.

- $^{34}$  And they understood nothing of these; and this word was hid from them (or and the meaning was hidden from them), and they understood not those things that were said.
- <sup>35</sup> But it was done, when Jesus came nigh to Jericho (or when Jesus approached Jericho), a blind man sat beside the way, and begged.

<sup>36</sup> And when he heard the people passing (by), he asked, what this was.

<sup>37</sup> And they said to him, that Jesus of Nazareth passed (by).

- <sup>38</sup> And he cried, and said, Jesus, the son of David, have mercy on me.
- <sup>39</sup> And they that went before, blamed him, that he should be still, (or And they who went ahead of Jesus, rebuked him, saying that he should be quiet); but he cried much the more [or soothly he cried much more], Thou son of David, have mercy on me.
- <sup>40</sup> And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought forth to him. And when he came nigh, he asked him, and said,
- $^{41}$  What wilt thou that I shall do to thee? (or What desirest thou that I shall do for thee?) And he said, Lord, that I see.

42 And Jesus said to him, Behold; thy faith hath made thee safe, (or Behold; thy faith hath saved thee, or thy faith hath healed thee).

<sup>43</sup> And anon he saw, and (pur) sued him, and magnified God. And all the people, as it saw, gave praising to God. (And at once he saw, and followed him, and praised God. And all the people, who saw it happen, also praised God.)

CHAPTER 19

<sup>2</sup> And lo! a man, Zacchaeus by name, and this was a prince of publicans, [or and he was (a) prince of publicans], (or and this man was a chief tax-collector), and he was rich.

<sup>3</sup> And he sought to see Jesus, who he was, and he might not, for the people, for he was little in stature.

<sup>4</sup> And he ran before (or And so he ran ahead), and ascended [up] into a sycamore tree, to see him; for he was to pass from thence.

- <sup>5</sup> And Jesus beheld up, when he came to the place, and saw him, and said to him, Zacchaeus, haste thee, and come down, for today I must dwell in thine house.
  - <sup>6</sup> And he hieing [or he hasting] came down, and joying(ly) received him.

<sup>7</sup> And when all men saw, they grudged (or they grumbled), saying, For he had turned to a sinful man.

- <sup>8</sup> But Zacchaeus stood, and said to the Lord, Lo! Lord, I (now) give the half of my goods to poor men; and if I have anything defrauded any man, I yield four so much, [or I yield fourfold], (or and if I have defrauded anyone of any amount, I shall repay them four times as much).
- <sup>9</sup> Jesus saith to him, For today health is made to this house, for that he is Abraham's son; (Jesus said to him, Today salvation or deliverance hath come to this house, because he too is Abraham's son:)

<sup>10</sup> for man's Son came to seek, and make safe that thing that perished.

(for man's Son came to seek, and to save those who were lost.)

<sup>11</sup> When they heard these things, he added, and said a parable, for that he was nigh to Jerusalem, and for they guessed, that anon (or at once) the kingdom of God should be showed.

- <sup>12</sup> Therefore he said, A worthy man [or Some noble man] went into a far country, to take to him(self) a kingdom, and to turn again (or and then to return home).
- <sup>13</sup> And when his ten servants were called, he gave to them ten bezants (or he gave them ten coins); and said to them, Chaffer ye, [or Merchandize ye], (or Trade), till I come (back).
- <sup>14</sup> But his citizens hated him, and sent a messenger after him, and said, [or Forsooth his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying], We will not, that he reign on us, (or We do not desire, that he reign over us, or We do not want him to rule over us).
- <sup>15</sup> And it was done, that he turned again (or that he returned), when he had taken the kingdom; and he commanded his servants to be called, to which he had given (the) money, to know, how much each had won by chaffering (or to learn, how much each had earned by merchandizing, or trading).
- <sup>16</sup> And the first came, and said, Lord, thy bezant hath won ten bezants, (or Lord, thy coin hath earned ten coins).
- <sup>17</sup> He said to him, Well be, thou good servant; for in little thing thou hast been true, thou shalt be having power on ten cities [or thou shalt have power upon ten cities]. (He said to him, Well done, O good servant; because in a little thing thou hast been true, thou shalt have power over ten cities.)
- <sup>18</sup> And the tother came, and said, Lord, thy bezant hath made five bezants. (And the next came, and said, Lord, thy coin hath earned five coins.)
- <sup>19</sup> And to this he said, And be thou on five cities. (And to him he said, And thou shalt be over five cities.)
- <sup>20</sup> And the third came, and said, Lord, lo! thy bezant, (or Lord, behold! thy coin), that I had, put up [or kept] in a sudarium, [or (a) sweating cloth], (or in a napkin).
- <sup>21</sup> For I dreaded thee, for thou art an austere man; thou takest away that that thou settedest not, and thou reapest that that thou hast not sown. (For I feared thee, for thou art a stern and a hard man; thou takest away that which thou hast not brought, and thou harvestest that which thou hast not sown.)
- <sup>22</sup> He saith to him, Wicked servant, of thy mouth I deem thee. Knewest thou, that I am an austere man, taking away that thing that I setted not, and reaping that thing that I sowed not [or that I have not sown]? (He said to him, Wicked servant, with the words of thy own mouth I shall judge thee. Knewest thou, that I am a stern and hard man, taking away that which I have not brought, and harvesting that which I have not sown?)
- <sup>23</sup> and why hast thou not given my money to the board, and I coming should have asked (for) it [or should have received it] with usuries? (and why hast thou not given my money to the money-changers, and then when I came back, I would have received it with some interest?)
- <sup>24</sup> And he said to (the) men standing nigh, Take away from him the bezant, and give ye [it] to him that hath ten bezants. (And he said to the men standing near, Take away the coin from him, and give it to him who hath ten coins.)
- <sup>25</sup> And they said to him, Lord, he hath ten bezants, (or Lord, he hath ten coins!).

- <sup>26</sup> And I say to you, to each man that hath, it shall be given, and he shall increase; but from him that hath not, also that thing that he hath, shall be taken of him [or shall be taken from him].
- <sup>27</sup> Nevertheless bring ye hither those (of) mine enemies, that would not that I reigned on them, and slay ye (them) before me. (And bring here those enemies of mine, who do not desire that I reign over them, or who do not want me to rule over them, and kill them before me.)
- <sup>28</sup> And when these things were said [or And these things said], he went before (or he went forth), and went up to Jerusalem.
- <sup>29</sup> And it was done, when Jesus came nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount, that is called of Olivet (or at the Mount of Olives), he sent his two disciples,
- <sup>30</sup> and said, Go ye into the castle that is against you (or Go into the village that is opposite you); into which as ye enter, ye shall find a colt of an ass tied, on which never (any) man sat; untie ye him, and bring ye (it) to me.
- <sup>31</sup> And if any man ask you, why ye untie (it), thus ye shall say to him, For the Lord desireth his work.
- <sup>32</sup> And they that were sent, went forth, and found as he said to them, a colt standing (there).
- <sup>33</sup> And when they untied the colt, the lords of it said to them, What untie ye the colt? [or Why untie ye the colt?]
- <sup>34</sup> And they said, For the Lord hath need to him (or For the Lord hath need of him).
- <sup>35</sup> And they led him to Jesus; and they casted their clothes on the colt, and set [or put] Jesus on him. (And they led it to Jesus; and they threw their clothes onto the colt, and then put Jesus on it.)
- <sup>36</sup> And when he went, they spreaded their clothes in the way. (And as he went, they spread their clothes on the way, or on the road.)
- <sup>37</sup> And when [now] he came nigh to the coming down of the mount of Olivet, all the people that came down began to joy, and to praise God with (a) great voice on all the virtues, that they had seen, (And when he came near to the descent of the Mount of Olives, all the people who came down began to rejoice, and to praise God with loud voices, for all the works of power, or all the miracles, that they had seen,)
- <sup>38</sup> and said, Blessed be the king, that cometh in the name of the Lord; peace in heaven, and glory in high things.
- <sup>39</sup> And some of the Pharisees of the people said to him, Master, blame thy disciples, (or Teacher, rebuke thy disciples).
- <sup>40</sup> And he said to them, I say to you (or I tell you), for if these be still, (the) stones shall cry (out).
- <sup>41</sup> And when he nighed, he saw the city, and wept on it, (And when he approached, he saw the city, and wept over it,)
- <sup>42</sup> and said, For if thou haddest known, thou shouldest weep also; for in this [thy] day, the things be in peace to thee, but now they be hid from thine eyes. (and said, For if thou haddest only known, thou (wouldest weep) also; yea, in this thy day, for the things that would (bring) peace to thee, but now they be hidden from thine eyes.)
- <sup>43</sup> But days shall come in thee [or For days shall come to thee], and thine enemies shall environ thee with a pale, and they shall go about thee, and make thee strait on all sides (or and make thee narrow, or hemmed in, on every side),

- <sup>44</sup> and cast thee down to the earth (or and throw thee down to the ground), and thy sons [or thy children] that be in thee; and they shall not leave in thee a stone upon a stone, for thou hast not known the time of thy visitation.
- <sup>45</sup> And he entered into the temple, and began to cast out men selling therein and buying, (And he entered into the Temple, and began to throw out the men who were there buying and selling,)
- <sup>46</sup> and said to them, It is written, That mine house is an house of prayer, (or It is written, My House is a House of Prayer), but ye have made it a den of thieves.
- <sup>47</sup> And he was teaching every day in the temple. And the princes of (the) priests, and the scribes, and the princes of the people sought to lose him; (And he was teaching every day in the Temple. And the high priests, and the scribes, and the leaders of the people sought to destroy him;)
- <sup>48</sup> and they found not, what they should do to him, for all the people was [fervently] occupied, and heard him, [or for all the people was hanged up, or all-occupied, hearing him]. (but they could not figure out, what they should do to him, for all the people were fervently occupied, hanging on his every word, or attentively listening to him.)

- ¹ And it was done in one of the days, when he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel [or evangelizing], the princes of (the) priests, and [the] scribes came together with the elder men; (And it was done on one of the days, when he taught the people in the Temple, and preached the Gospel or the Good News, or evangelized, the high priests, and the scribes came together with the elders;)
- <sup>2</sup> and they said to him, Say to us, in what power thou doest these things, or who is he that gave to thee this power?
- <sup>3</sup> And Jesus answered, and said to them, And I shall ask you one word; answer ye to me. (And Jesus said to them, And I shall ask you a question; you answer me.)
- <sup>4</sup> Was the baptism of John of heaven, or of men? (Was the baptism of John from heaven, or from men?)
- <sup>5</sup> And they thought within themselves, saying, For if we say, Of heaven (or From heaven), he shall say, Why then believe ye not to him?
- <sup>6</sup> and if we say, Of men (or From men), all the people shall stone us; for they be certain, that John is a prophet.
  - <sup>7</sup> And they answered, that they knew not, of whence it was.
- <sup>8</sup> And Jesus said to them, Neither I say to you, in what power I do these things.
- <sup>9</sup> And he began to say to the people this parable. A man planted a vineyard, and hired it (out) to tillers; and he was gone in pilgrimage (for a) long time. (And he told the people this parable. A man planted a vineyard, and rented it to farmers, and then went on a journey for a long time.)
- <sup>10</sup> And in the time of gathering of grapes, he sent a servant to the tillers, that they should give to him of the fruit of the vineyard; which beat him, and let him go (away) void. (And at the time of gathering in the grapes, he sent a servant to the farmers, so that they could give him some of the fruit of the vineyard; but they beat him, and sent him away empty-handed.)

- <sup>11</sup> And he thought yet to send another servant; and [also] they beat this (man), and tormented him sore, and let him go (away) void (or and sent him away empty-handed).
- <sup>12</sup> And he thought yet to send the third, and him also they wounded, and casted him out (or and threw him out).
- <sup>13</sup> And the lord of the vineyard said, What shall I do? I shall send my dearworthy son; peradventure, when they see him, they shall dread (him), [or they shall be ashamed (in his presence)], (or perhaps, when they see him, they shall fear him, or surely, when they see him, they shall show reverence, or respect, for him).
- <sup>14</sup> And when the tillers saw him, they thought within themselves, and said, This is the heir, slay we him, that the heritage be ours. (But when the farmers saw him, they said to each other, He is the heir, let us kill him, and then the inheritance shall be ours.)
- <sup>15</sup> And they casted him out of the vineyard (or And they threw him out of the vineyard), and killed him. What shall then the lord of the vineyard do to them?
- <sup>16</sup> He shall come, and destroy these tillers, and give the vineyard to others. And when this thing was heard, they said to him, God forbid.
- $^{17}$  But he beheld them, and said, What then is this that is written, The stone which men building reproved, this is made into the head of the corner?
- <sup>18</sup> Each that shall fall on that stone, shall be bruised [or shall be broken], but on whom it shall fall, it shall all-break him, [or it shall break him into small parts], (or it shall break him all to pieces).
- <sup>19</sup> And the princes of (the) priests, and (the) scribes, sought to lay on him hands in that hour, [or And the princes of the priests, and the scribes, sought to lay hands on him in that hour], and they dreaded the people; for they knew that to them he said this likeness. (And the high priests, and the scribes, wanted to lay their hands on him at that time, but they feared the people; for they knew that he had said this parable about them.)
- <sup>20</sup> And they espied, and sent spies, that feigned them[selves](to be) just, that they should take him in word, and betake him to the power of the prince, and to the power of the justice. (And they watched him, and sent spies, who pretended to be righteous, or honest men, so that they could catch him with his own words, and then deliver him unto the power and the authority of the Governor.)
- <sup>21</sup> And they asked him, and said, Master (or Teacher), we know, that rightly thou sayest and teachest, [or Master, we know, that thou sayest and teachest rightly]; and thou takest not the person of man (or and thou favourest not any person), but thou teachest in truth the way of God.
- <sup>22</sup> Is it leaveful to us to give tribute to the emperor, [or to Caesar], or nay? (Is it lawful for us to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?)
- <sup>23</sup> And he beheld the deceit of them, and said to them, What tempt ye me? (or Why do you test me?)
- <sup>24</sup> Show ye to me a penny; whose image and superscription hath it? They answered, and said to him, The emperor's [or Caesar's].

- <sup>25</sup> And he said to them, Yield ye therefore to the emperor those things that be the emperor's, [or Yield ye therefore to Caesar those things that be Caesar's], and those things that be of God, to God.
- <sup>26</sup> And they might not reprove his word before the people; and they wondered in his answer, and held (their) peace.
- <sup>27</sup> Some of the Sadducees, that denied the again-rising from death to life [or the resurrection], came, and asked him.
- <sup>28</sup> and said, Master (or Teacher), Moses wrote to us, if the brother of any man have a wife, and he be dead [or died], and he was without heirs [or free children], that his brother take his wife, and raise (up) seed to his brother.
- <sup>29</sup> And so there were seven brethren. The first took a wife, and is dead without heirs, [or without sons, or free children];
- <sup>30</sup> and the *brother(pur)*suing took her, (or and the brother following took her), [or and the second took her], and he is dead without (any) son;
- <sup>31</sup> and the third took her; also and all seven, and they left not seed [or and left no seed], but be dead;
  - 32 and the last of all the woman is dead.
- <sup>33</sup> Therefore in the rising again, whose wife of them shall she be? for seven had her to wife. (And so in the resurrection, whose wife of them shall she be? for all seven had her as their wife.)
- $^{34}$  And Jesus said to them, Sons of this world wed, and be given to weddings;
- <sup>35</sup> but they that shall be had worthy of that world, and of the rising again from death (or and of the resurrection from the dead), neither be wedded, nor wed wives,
- <sup>36</sup> neither they shall be able to die more; for they be even with (the) angels, and be the sons of God, since they be the sons of the rising again from death. (nor shall they be able to die any longer; for they be equal with the angels, and be the children of God, since they be the children of the resurrection.)
- <sup>37</sup> And that dead men rise again, also Moses showed beside the bush, as he saith, (or And that the dead rise again, Moses showed beside the bush, when he said), The Lord God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob.
- <sup>38</sup> And God is not (the God) of dead men, but of living men; for all men live to him. (And God is not the God of the dead, but of the living; because everyone is alive to him.)
- <sup>39</sup> And some of the scribes answering, said, Master, thou hast well said, (or Teacher, thou hast answered well).
- <sup>40</sup> And they durst no more ask him anything. (And they did not dare to ask him anything more.)
- <sup>41</sup> But he said to them, How say men, Christ to be the son of David, [Forsooth he said to them, How say men, that Christ is the son of David,] (And he said to them, How can men say, that the Messiah is the Son of David?)
- <sup>42</sup> and David himself saith in the book of Psalms, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right half, (For David himself said in the Book of Psalms, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, or on my right side,)

- <sup>43</sup> till I put thine enemies a stool of thy feet? (until I make thine enemies thy footstool.)
- <sup>44</sup> Therefore David calleth him Lord, and how is he his son? (And so if David calleth him Lord, then how is he his son?)
  - <sup>45</sup> And in (the) hearing of all the people, he said to his disciples,
- <sup>46</sup> Be ye ware of the scribes, that will wander in stoles, and love salutations in the chapping, and the first chairs in the synagogues, and the first sitting places in [the] feasts; (Beware of the scribes, who will walk about in stoles, and love respectful greetings at the market, and the first chairs in the synagogues, and the first sitting places at the feasts;)
- <sup>47</sup> that devour the houses of widows, and feign long praying; these shall take the more damnation. (but who rob widows of their homes, and fake piety by saying long prayers; they shall receive the greater condemnation.)

- $^{1}$  And he beheld, and saw the rich men, that cast their gifts into the treasury;
- <sup>2</sup> but he saw also a little poor widow casting two farthings [or two little minutes]. (but he also saw a poor little widow throwing in two mites.)
- <sup>3</sup> And he said, Truly I say to you, that this poor widow cast (in) more than all men. (And he said, I tell you the truth, this poor widow threw in more than everyone else.)
- <sup>4</sup> For why all these of [the] thing that was plenteous [or abundant] to them cast in to the gifts of God; but this widow of that thing that failed to her, cast (in) all her livelode, [or all her lifelode], (or threw in all her livelihood), that she had.
- <sup>5</sup> And when some men said of the temple, that it was appareled [or that it was adorned] with good stones and gifts, he said,
- <sup>6</sup> These things that ye see, days shall come, in which a stone shall not be left on a stone, which shall not be destroyed.
- <sup>7</sup> And they asked him, and said, Commander (or Master), when shall these things be? and what token (or what sign)shall be, when they shall begin to be done?
- <sup>8</sup> And he said, See ye, that ye be not deceived; for many shall come in my name, saying, For I am, and the time shall nigh, (or for many shall come in my name, saying, I am he, and the time is near); therefore do not ye go after them.
- <sup>9</sup> And when ye shall hear (of) battles and strives [or dissensions] within, do not ye be afeared; it behooveth first these things to be done, but not yet anon is an end [or the end], (or but the end (will) not (come) at once).
- <sup>10</sup> Then he said to them, Folk shall rise against folk, and realm against realm; (And he said to them, For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom;)
- <sup>11</sup> and great movings of the earth shall be by places, and pestilences, and hungers, and dreads from (the) heaven(s), and great tokens shall be. (and great earthquakes shall be in places, and pestilences, and famines, and there shall be fearful things and great signs in the sky.)
- 12 But before all these things they shall set their hands on you, and shall pursue you, betaking (you) into synagogues and keepings, [either prisons], and drawing you to kings and to justices, for my name; (But before all these things they shall put their hands on you, and shall persecute (you), delivering you into synagogues and into prisons, and drawing (you) unto kings and unto governors, for my name's sake;)

13 but it shall fall to you into witnessing. (and it shall fall to you to give your testimony.)

14 Therefore put ye (it) in your hearts, not to think before, how ye shall answer:

15 for I shall give to you mouth and wisdom, to which all your adversaries shall not be able to against-stand, and gainsay. (for I shall give you the words and the wisdom, to which all your adversaries shall not be able to stand against, or to say anything against.)

<sup>16</sup> And ye shall be taken of father [or Soothly ye shall be betrayed of father], and mother, and brethren, and cousins, and friends, and by death they shall torment [some] of you; (And ye shall be betrayed by father, and mother, and brothers, and cousins, and friends, and they shall torment some of you unto death;)

<sup>17</sup> and ye shall be in hate to all men for my name. [and ye shall be hated of all men for my name.](and ve shall be hated by everyone for my name's sake.)

18 And an hair of your head shall not perish; (But not a hair of your head shall perish;)

<sup>19</sup> in your patience ye shall wield (or ye shall possess) your souls.

<sup>20</sup> But when ye shall see Jerusalem be environed with an host [of battle], then know ye, that the desolation of it shall nigh. (But when ye shall see Jerusalem encompassed with an army ready for battle, then know ye, that its destruction is near.)

<sup>21</sup> Then they that be in Judea, flee to the mountains; and they that be in the middle of it, go away; and they that be in the countries, enter not into it. (Then they who be in Judea, flee to the mountains; and they who (be) in its cities, go away; and they who (be) in the countryside, enter not into the cities.)

<sup>22</sup> For these be the days of vengeance, (so) that all (the) things that be written, be fulfilled.

<sup>23</sup> And woe to them, that be with child, and nourishing [or nursing] in those days; for a great dis-ease [or pressure] shall be on the earth (or in the land), and wrath to this people.

- <sup>24</sup> And they shall fall by the sharpness of (the) sword, and they shall be led (away as) prisoners [or led captive] into all folks; and Jerusalem shall be defouled of heathen men, till the times of (the) nations be fulfilled. (And they shall fall by the sharpness of the sword, and they shall be led away captive into all the nations; and Jerusalem shall be trodden down by the Gentiles, until the times of the nations be fulfilled.)
- 25 And tokens (or signs) shall be in the sun, and the moon, and in the stars; and in the earth overlaying of folks, for confusion of the sound of the sea and of floods [or of waves];
- 26 for men shall wax dry for dread and abiding, (or for the fear and expectation), that shall come into [or on] all the world; for (the) virtues of (the) heaven(s) shall be moved (or for the powers of the heavens shall be shaken).

- <sup>27</sup> And then they shall see man's Son coming in a cloud, with great power and majesty. (And then they shall see man's Son coming on a cloud, with great power and majesty.)
- <sup>28</sup> And when these things begin to be made [or begin to be done], behold ye, and raise ye (up) your heads, for your redemption nigheth (or your redemption draweth near).
- <sup>29</sup> And he said to them a likeness (or a parable), See ye the fig tree, and all trees,
- <sup>30</sup> when they bring forth now of themselves fruit [or when they bring forth fruit now of them(selves)], ye know that summer is nigh (or that summer is near);
- <sup>31</sup> so [also] ye, when ye see these things to be done, know ye, that the kingdom of God is nigh (or that the Kingdom of God is near).
- <sup>32</sup> Truly I say to you, that this generation shall not pass, till all things be done. (I tell you the truth, that this generation shall not pass away, until all these things have happened.)
- <sup>33</sup> Heaven and earth shall pass (away), but my words shall not pass (away).
- <sup>34</sup> But take ye heed to yourselves (or Keep watch over yourselves), lest peradventure your hearts be grieved with gluttony, and drunkenness, and (the) busynesses of this life, and that day come suddenly on you;
- $^{35}$  for as a snare it shall come on all men, that sit on the face of all the earth.
- <sup>36</sup> Therefore wake ye, praying in each time, (or And so be on watch, and always pray), that ye be had worthy to flee all these things that be to come [or that ye be worthy to flee all these things that shall come], and to stand before man's Son.
- <sup>37</sup> And in days he was teaching in the temple, but in nights he went out, and dwelled in the mount, that is called of Olivet. (And during those days he was teaching in the Temple, but at night he went out, and stayed on the Mount of Olives.)
- <sup>38</sup> And all the people rose early [or And all the people came early], to come to him in the temple, for to hear him.

- <sup>1</sup> And the holiday [or the holy day] of therf loaves, that is said pask, nighed. (And the holiday, or the holy day, of Unleavened Bread, that is called Passover, approached.)
- <sup>2</sup> And the princes of (the) priests, and the scribes sought, how they should slay Jesus, but they dreaded the people. (And the high priests, and the scribes, sought how they could kill Jesus, but they feared the people.)
  - <sup>3</sup> And Satan entered into Judas, that was called Iscariot, one of the twelve.
- <sup>4</sup> And he went, and spake with the princes of (the) priests, (or And he went, and spoke with the high priests), and with the magistrates, how he should betray him to them.
- <sup>5</sup> And they joyed, and made (a) covenant to give him money. (And they rejoiced, and made a contract to give him money.)
- <sup>6</sup> And he promised, and he sought opportunity, to betray him, without the people.

- <sup>7</sup> But the days of therf loaves came, in which it was need(ful), that the sacrifice of pask were slain. (And the days of Unleavened Bread came, in which it was needed, that the Passover sacrifice was killed.)
- <sup>8</sup> And he sent Peter and John, and said, Go ye, and make ye ready to us the pask, that we eat. (And he sent off Peter and John, saying, Go, and prepare the Passover for us, so that we can eat it.)
- <sup>9</sup> And they said, Where wilt thou, that we make (it) ready? (And they said, Where do you want us to prepare it?)
- <sup>10</sup> And he said to them, Lo! when ye shall enter into the city, a man bearing a vessel of water shall meet you; *(pur)*sue ye him into the house (or follow him into the house), into which he entereth.
- <sup>11</sup> And ye shall say to the husbandman of the house, The master saith to thee, Where is a chamber, where I shall eat the pask with my disciples? (And ye shall say to the head of the house, The Teacher saith to thee, Where is the room, where I shall eat the Passover with my disciples?)
- <sup>12</sup> And he shall show to you a great supping place strewed, and there make ye (it) ready (or and prepare it there).
- <sup>13</sup> And (so) they went, and found (it) as he said to them, and they made ready the pask (or and they prepared the Passover).
- <sup>14</sup> And when the hour was come, he sat at the meat (or he sat down for the meal), and the twelve apostles with him.
- <sup>15</sup> And he said to them, With desire I have desired to eat with you this pask, before that I suffer; (And he said to them, With great desire I have wanted to eat this Passover with you, before that I suffer;)
- <sup>16</sup> for I say to you, that from this time I shall not eat it, till it be fulfilled in the realm of God. (for I tell you, that from this time on I shall not eat it, until it is fulfilled in the Kingdom of God.)
- <sup>17</sup> And when he had taken the cup, he did graces, [or he did thankings], and said, Take ye, and part ye among you; (And when he had taken the cup, he gave thanks, and said, Take this, and share it among you;)
- <sup>18</sup> for I say to you, that I shall not drink of the kind [or of the generation] of this vine, till the realm of God come (or until the Kingdom of God shall come).
- <sup>19</sup> And when he had taken bread, he did thankings, [or he did graces], (or he gave thanks), and brake (it), and gave (it) to them, and said, This is my body, that shall be given for you; do ye this thing in mind of me [or into my commemoration].
- <sup>20</sup> He took also the cup [or the chalice], after that he had supped, and said, This cup is the new testament in my blood, that shall be shed for you, (or This cup is the new covenant sealed with my blood, that shall be shed for you).
- <sup>21</sup> Nevertheless lo! the hand of him that betrayeth me, is with me at the table.
- <sup>22</sup> And man's Son goeth, as it is determined; nevertheless woe to that man, by whom he shall be betrayed.
- <sup>23</sup> And they began to seek among them[selves], who it was of them, that was to do this thing.
- <sup>24</sup> And strife was made among them, which of them should be seen to be (the) greatest.

- <sup>25</sup> But he said to them, Kings of heathen men be lords of them (or Kings of the Gentiles be their lords), and they that have power on them be called good doers,
- <sup>26</sup> but ye (be) not so (or but it be not so with you); but he that is [the] greatest among you, be made as a younger [or as the younger], and he that is [a] before-goer, as a servant.
- <sup>27</sup>For who is greater, he that sitteth at the meat, or he that ministereth? whether not he that sitteth at the meat? And I am in the middle [or in the midst] of you, as he that ministereth. (For who is greater, he who sitteth at the meal, or he who serveth it? whether not he who sitteth at the meal? But I am in the midst of you, like he who serveth.)
- <sup>28</sup> And ye [it] be, that have dwelled with me in my temptations; (And ye it be, who have remained with me during my tests and trials;)

<sup>29</sup> and I assign to you, as my Father hath assigned to me, a realm (or a Kingdom). [and I dispose to you, as my Father hath disposed to me, a realm.]

- <sup>30</sup> that ye eat and drink on my board in my realm, and sit on thrones, and deem the twelve kindreds of Israel. (so that ye will eat and drink at my table in my Kingdom, and sit on thrones, and judge the twelve tribes of Israel.)
- <sup>31</sup> And the Lord said to Simon, Simon, lo! Satan hath asked (for) you, that he should riddle you as wheat (or so that he could sift you like wheat);
- <sup>32</sup> but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and thou sometime converted [or and thou converted sometime], confirm thy brethren, (or and after thou hast returned to thy right mind, that thou strengthen thy brothers).
- <sup>33</sup> Which said to him, Lord, I am ready to go into prison and into death with thee. [+Which said to him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, into prison and into death.]

34 And he said, I say to thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow today, till thou thrice forsake that thou knowest me.

<sup>35</sup> And he said to them, When I sent you without satchel, and scrip, and shoes, whether anything failed to you? And they said, Nothing.

<sup>36</sup> Therefore he said to them, But now he that hath a satchel, take also a scrip; and he that hath none, sell his coat, and buy a sword.

- <sup>37</sup> For I say to you, that yet it behooveth that thing that is written to be fulfilled in me, And he is areckoned with wicked men; for those things that be of me have an end.
- <sup>38</sup> And they said, Lord, lo! two swords here. And he said to them, It is enough.
- <sup>39</sup> And he went out, and went after the custom into the hill of Olives [or the hill of Olivet]; and the disciples (pur)sued him. (And he went out, and as was his custom, went over to the Mount of Olives, and the disciples followed him.)
- <sup>40</sup> And when he came to the place, he said to them, Pray ye, lest ye enter into temptation, (or Pray ye, lest ye enter into, or be put to, the test).
- <sup>41</sup> And he was taken away from them, as much as is a stone's cast (or as much as a stone's throw); and he kneeled, and prayed,
- <sup>42</sup> and said, Father, if thou wilt, do away this cup from me; nevertheless not my will be done, but thine, [or nevertheless not my will, but thine be done].
  - <sup>43</sup> And an angel appeared to him from heaven, and comforted him.

- <sup>44</sup> And he was made in agony [or in anguish], and prayed the longer [or (and) prayed longer]; and his sweat was made as drops of blood running down into the earth (or and his sweat was made like drops of blood running down onto the ground).
- $^{45}$  And when he was risen from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for heaviness.
- <sup>46</sup> And he said to them, What, sleep ye? Rise ye, and pray ye, that ye enter not into temptation. (And he said to them, Why do ye sleep? Rise, and pray, so that ye do not enter into, or be put to, the test.)
- <sup>47</sup> Yet while he spake, lo! a company, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them; and he came [nigh] to Jesus, to kiss him.
  - <sup>48</sup> And Jesus said to him, Judas, betrayest thou man's Son with a kiss?
- <sup>49</sup> And they that were about him, and saw that that was to come, said to him, Lord, whether we smite (them) with (our) sword(s)? (or Lord, shall we strike them with the swords?)
- <sup>50</sup> And one of them smote the servant of the prince of (the) priests (or And one of them struck the servant of the High Priest), and cut off his right ear.
- <sup>51</sup> But Jesus answered, and said, Suffer ye till hither (or Allow this to be). And when he had touched his ear, he healed him.
- <sup>52</sup> And Jesus said to them, that came to him, the princes of (the) priests, and (the) magistrates [or the masters] of the temple, and (the) elder men, As to a thief ye have gone out with swords and staves? (And Jesus said to those, who came to take hold of him, the high priests, and the magistrates, or the officials, of the Temple, and the elders, You have gone out with swords and bats, or clubs, like after a thief?)
- <sup>53</sup> When I was each day with you in the temple, ye stretched not out (your) hands into me; but this is your hour, and the power of darknesses.
- <sup>54</sup> And they took him, and led (him) to the house of the prince of (the) priests; and Peter *(pur)*sued him afar. (And they took hold of him, and then led him to the High Priest's house; and Peter followed him from afar.)
- <sup>55</sup> And when a fire was kindled in the middle of the great house, and they sat about, Peter was in the middle of them. (And when a fire was kindled in the middle of the courtyard, they sat around it, and Peter was in their midst.)
- <sup>56</sup> Whom when a damsel, [or a handmaid, or a handmaiden], had seen sitting at the light, and had beheld him, she said, And this (man) was with him (or Yea, he was with him).
- <sup>57</sup> And he denied him (or But he denied it), and said, Woman, I know him not.
- <sup>58</sup> And after a little another man saw him, and said, And thou art (one) of them. But Peter said, A! man, I am not.
- <sup>59</sup> And when a space was made as of one hour, another affirmed, and said, Truly this (man) was with him; for also he is of Galilee, (or Surely he was with him; for he is also from Galilee).
- <sup>60</sup> And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And anon yet while he spake, the cock crew, (or And at once while he was still speaking, the cock crowed).
- <sup>61</sup> And the Lord turned again [or And the Lord turned], and beheld Peter; and Peter had mind of the word(s) of Jesus, as he had said, (or and Peter remembered Jesus' words, that he had said), Before that the cock crow, thrice thou shalt deny me.

- 62 And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.
- <sup>63</sup> And the men that held him scorned him, and smote him (or and struck him).
- <sup>64</sup> And they blindfolded him, and smote his face, and asked him, and said, Declare, thou Christ, to us, who is he that smote thee? [or Prophesy thou, who is it that smote thee?](or Prophesy thou! who is it that struck thee?)

65 Also they blaspheming said against him many other things. [Also they blaspheming said many other things against him.]

- <sup>66</sup> And as the day was come, the elder men of the people, and the princes of (the) priests, and the scribes came together, (or the elders of the people, and the high priests, and the scribes came together), and led him into their council, and said,
- <sup>67</sup> If thou art Christ, say to us. And he said to them, If I say to you, ye will not believe to me; (If thou art the Messiah, tell us. And he said to them, If I tell you, ye will not believe me;)
- <sup>68</sup> and if I ask (you), ye will not answer to me, neither ye will deliver me[or neither ye shall (give me) leave]. (and if I ask you, ye will not answer me, nor will ye let me go.)
- <sup>69</sup> But after this time man's Son shall be sitting on the right half of the virtue of God. (But after this time man's Son shall be sitting at the right hand, or on the right side, of the power of God.)
- 70 Therefore all said, Then art thou the Son of God? And he said, Ye say that I am.
- <sup>71</sup> And they said, What yet desire we witnessing? for we ourselves have heard of his mouth. (And they said, Why do we need any more testimony? for we ourselves have heard it from his own mouth.)

- <sup>1</sup> And all the multitude of them arose, and led him to Pilate.
- <sup>2</sup> And they began to accuse him, and said, We have found this (man) turning upside-down our folk, and forbidding tribute to be given to the emperor, and saying that himself is Christ a king. [Forsooth they began to accuse him, saying, We have found this man turning upside-down our folk, and forbidding tribute to be given to Caesar, and saying himself to be Christ (a) king.](And they began to accuse him, and said, We have found this man turning our nation upside-down, subverting our people, and forbidding taxes to be paid to Caesar, and saying that he is the Messiah, a king.)

<sup>3</sup> And Pilate asked him, and said, Art thou king of Jews? (or Art thou the King of the Jews?) And he answered, and said, Thou sayest.

- <sup>4</sup> And Pilate said to the princes of (the) priests, and to the people, I find nothing of cause (worthy of death) in this man. (And Pilate said to the high priests, and to the people, I find no case against this man, or I see no reason to condemn this man.)
- <sup>5</sup> And they waxed stronger (or And they grew stronger and more insistent), and said, He moveth the people, teaching through all Judea, beginning from Galilee till hither.

<sup>6</sup> And Pilate hearing Galilee asked, if he were a man of Galilee.

- <sup>7</sup> And when he knew that he was of the power of Herod, he sent him to Herod; which was at Jerusalem in those days [or and he was at Jerusalem in those days].
- <sup>8</sup> And when Herod saw Jesus, he joyed full much; for (a) long time he coveted to see him, for he heard many things of him, and hoped to see some token [or some miracle] done of him. (And when Herod saw Jesus, he greatly rejoiced; for he had desired to see him for a long time, because he had heard many things about him, and hoped to see some sign, or some miracle, done by him.)
  - <sup>9</sup> And he asked him in many words; and he answered nothing to him.
- <sup>10</sup> And the princes of (the) priests (or And the high priests), and the scribes stood, steadfastly accusing him.
- <sup>11</sup> But Herod with his host despised him, and scorned him, and clothed him with a white cloth, and sent him again to Pilate. (But Herod and his soldiers mocked him, and scorned him, and clothed him with a white cloak, and then sent him back to Pilate.)
- <sup>12</sup> And Herod and Pilate were made friends from that day [or And Herod and Pilate were made friends in that day]; for before they were enemies together (or but before this day they were enemies).
- <sup>13</sup> And Pilate called together the princes of (the) priests, and the magistrates of the people, (And Pilate called together the high priests, and the magistrates of the people.)
- <sup>14</sup> and said to them, Ye have brought to me this man, as turning away the people, and lo! I asking before you find no cause (worthy of death) in this man, of these things, in which ye accuse him; (and said to them, Ye have brought me this man, for subverting the people, and behold! I asking before you find no case against this man, or I see no reason to condemn this man, regarding those things, of which ye accuse him;)
- <sup>15</sup> neither (did) Herod, for he hath sent him again to us, and lo! nothing worthy of death is done to him. (nor did Herod, for he hath sent him back to us, and behold! nothing worthy of death hath been done by him.)
- <sup>16</sup> And therefore I shall amend him, and deliver him. [+Therefore I shall leave him amended, or deliver him chastised.](And so I shall chastise him, and then let him go.)
- <sup>17</sup> But he must needs deliver to them one by the feast day. [Forsooth he had need to deliver to them one by the feast day.](But he had to release one prisoner to them on the Feast Day, or at the Festival.)
- <sup>18</sup> And all the people cried together, and said, Do him away, and deliver to us Barabbas; (And all the people cried together, and shouted, Do him away, and release Barabbas to us, or and give us Barabbas;)
- <sup>19</sup> which was sent into prison for disturbing, [or some dissention, or some sedition], made in the city, and for manslaying. (who was sent into prison for sedition made in the city, and for murder.)
- <sup>20</sup> And again Pilate spake to them, and would deliver Jesus. [Forsooth again Pilate spake to them, willing to deliver Jesus.](And again Pilate spoke to them, and wanted to release Jesus.)
  - <sup>21</sup> And they cried out, and said, Crucify, crucify him.
- <sup>22</sup> And the third time he said to them, For what evil hath he done? I find no cause (worthy) of death in him; therefore I shall chastise him, and [I] shall deliver him, (or I find no case, or crime, worthy of death against him; and so I shall chastise him, and then I shall let (him) go, or and then I shall release (him)).

- <sup>23</sup> And they continued with great voices asking [or And they continued asking with great voices], that he should be crucified; and the voices of them waxed strong. (And they continued shouting with loud voices, saying that he should be crucified; and their voices grew stronger and more insistent.)
  - <sup>24</sup> And (then) Pilate deemed their asking to be done.
- <sup>25</sup> And he delivered to them him, that for manslaying (or for murder) and sedition was sent into prison, (for) whom they (had) asked; but he betook Jesus to their will (or but he delivered Jesus unto their will).
- <sup>26</sup> And when they led him (away), they took a man, Simon of Cyrene, coming from the town, and they laid on him the cross to bear after Jesus.

<sup>27</sup> And there (pur)sued him much people (or And many people followed him), and women that bewailed, and bemourned him.

- <sup>28</sup> And Jesus turned to them, and said, Daughters of Jerusalem, do not ye weep on me, but weep ye on yourselves and on your sons, (or Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep for me, but rather weep for yourselves and for your children).
- <sup>29</sup> For lo! days shall come, in which it shall be said, Blessed be barren women, and [the] wombs that have not born children, and the teats that have not given suck (or and the breasts that have not been suckled).
- <sup>30</sup> Then they shall begin to say to (the) mountains, Fall ye down on us, and to (the) small hills, Cover ye us.
- <sup>31</sup> For if in a green tree they do these things [or For if they do these things in a green tree], what shall be done in a dry (one)? (For if they do these things when the tree is green, what shall they do when it is dry?)

<sup>32</sup> Also other two wicked men were led (away) with him, to be slain. (And two other wicked men were led away to be killed, or executed, with him.)

- <sup>33</sup> And when they came into a place, that is called of Calvary, [+or And after that they came to a place, which is called Calvary], there they crucified him, and the thieves, one on the right half, and the other on the left half, (or one on his right side, and the other on his left side).
- <sup>34</sup> But Jesus said, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do. And they parted his clothes, and cast lots (for them), (or And they divided up his clothes, and threw dice for them).
- <sup>35</sup> And the people stood abiding; and the princes scorned him with them, and said, Other men he made safe; make he himself safe, if this be Christ, the chosen of God. (And the people stood about waiting and watching; and their leaders scorned him, and said, He saved other men; let him save himself, if this be the Messiah, the chosen One of God.)
- <sup>36</sup> And the knights nighed (or And the soldiers came near), and scorned him, and proffered vinegar to him [or and offered vinegar to him],
- <sup>37</sup> and said, If thou art king of Jews, make thee safe. (and said, If thou art the King of the Jews, save thyself.)
- <sup>38</sup> And the superscription was written over him with Greek letters, and of Latin, and of Hebrew, [or And the superscription was written on, (or over, or above), him, with letters of Greek, of Latin, and of Hebrew], This is the king of Jews (or This is the King of the Jews).

- <sup>39</sup> And one of these thieves that hanged (there), [or Forsooth one of those thieves that hanged (there)], blasphemed him, and said, If thou art Christ, make thyself safe and us, (or If thou art the Messiah, save thyself and us).
- <sup>40</sup> But the other answering, blamed him, and said, Neither thou dreadest God, [thou] that art in the same condemnation [or in the same damnation]? (But the other one answering him, rebuked him, and said, Fearest thou not God, thou who art under the same condemnation, or the same damnation?)
- <sup>41</sup> And truly we justly, for we have received worthy things to (or for)our works [or (for our) deeds]; but this did nothing of evil [or soothly this hath done no evil].
- <sup>42</sup> And he said to Jesus, Lord, have mind of me (or remember me), when thou comest into thy kingdom.
- $^{43}$  And Jesus said to him, Truly I say to thee (or I tell you the truth), this day thou shalt be with me in paradise.
- <sup>44</sup> And it was almost the sixth hour, and darknesses were made on all the earth, into the ninth hour [or till the ninth hour]. (And it was almost noon, and then darkness came upon all the land, until three o'clock.)
- <sup>45</sup> And the sun was made dark, and the veil of the temple was rent atwo [or was cut down the middle]. (And the sun was darkened, and the veil of the Temple was torn in two.)
- <sup>46</sup> And Jesus crying with a great voice, said, Father, into thine hands I betake my spirit, (or And Jesus crying with a loud voice, said, Father, into thine hands I deliver, or I commend, my spirit). And he saying these things, gave up the ghost, [or And he saying these things, sent out the spirit, or died].
- <sup>47</sup> And the centurion seeing that thing that was done, glorified God, and said, Verily, this man was just. (And the centurion, seeing all that was done, glorified God, and said, Truly, this man was good and righteous, or It is true, this man was innocent.)
- <sup>48</sup> And all the people of them that were there together at this spectacle, and saw those things that were done, smote their breasts, and turned again (or and then returned home).
- <sup>49</sup> But all his known stood afar, and (the) women that *(pur)*sued him from Galilee (or and the women who followed him from Galilee), seeing these things.
- <sup>50</sup> And lo! a man, Joseph by name, of Arimathaea, a city of Judea, that was a decurion, a good man and a just (man), [And lo! a man, Joseph by name, that was a decurion, that is, having ten men under him, a good man and just, of Arimathaea, a city of Judea,](And behold! a man called Joseph, of Arimathaea, a city of Judea, who was a member of the Council or the Sanhedrin, a good and righteous man,)
- <sup>51</sup> this man consented not to the counsel and to the deeds of them; and he abode the kingdom of God. (this man did not agree with, or approve of, their plan and their deeds; and he was waiting for the Kingdom of God.)
  - 52 This Joseph came to Pilate, and asked (for) the body of Jesus,
- <sup>53</sup> and took it down, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, and laid him in a grave hewn (or and laid him in a tomb cut out of the rock), in which not yet any man had been laid [or in which not yet any man was put].

- <sup>54</sup> And the day was the even(ing) of the holiday, [or of the holy day, the making ready of pask], and the sabbath began to shine. (And that day was the evening of the day after Passover, and the Sabbath was about to begin.)
- <sup>55</sup> And the women (pur)suing (him), that came with him from Galilee, saw the grave, and how his body was laid. (And the women following him, who had come with him from Galilee, saw the tomb, and how his body was placed in it.)
- <sup>56</sup> And they turned again, and made ready sweet smelling spices, and ointments; but in the sabbath they rested, after the commandment. (And then they returned home, and prepared sweet smelling spices, and ointments; but on the Sabbath they rested, according to the commandment.)

- <sup>1</sup> But in one day of the week full early, they came to the grave, and brought sweet smelling spices, that they had arrayed [or which they had made ready]. (But very early on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb, and brought the sweet smelling spices, which they had prepared.)
- <sup>2</sup> And they found the stone turned away from the grave. (And they found the stone rolled away from the entrance to the tomb.)
  - <sup>3</sup> And they went in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.
- <sup>4</sup> And it was done, the while they were astonied in thought of this thing, lo! two men stood beside them in shining cloth [or lo! two men stood beside them in shining clothing]. (And it was done, while they were astonished in their thoughts over this, behold! two men stood beside them in shining cloaks.)
- <sup>5</sup> And when they dreaded, and bowed their semblance into the earth, they said to them, What seek ye him that liveth with dead men? [or What seek ye the living with the dead?](And they had fear, or they were afraid, and bowed their faces to the ground, but the men said to them, Why search for him who liveth among the dead?)
- <sup>6</sup> He is not here, but is risen. Have ye mind, how he spake to you, when he was yet in Galilee, (or Remember, how he spoke with you, when he was still in Galilee),
- <sup>7</sup> and said, For it behooveth man's Son to be betaken into the hands of sinful men, (or and said, For it behooveth man's Son to be delivered into the hands of sinners), and to be crucified, and the third day to rise again.
- <sup>8</sup> And they bethought on his words. (And they remembered, and thought on his words.)
- <sup>9</sup> And they went again from the grave (or And they went away from the tomb), and told all these things to the eleven, and to all [the] others.
- <sup>10</sup> And there was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary of James, and other women that were with them, that said to the apostles these things [or that said these things to the apostles].
- <sup>11</sup> And these words were seen to them as madness, and they believed not to them (or and they did not believe them).
- $^{12}$  But Peter rose up, and ran to the grave (or and ran to the tomb); and he bowed down, and saw the linen clothes lying alone. And he went (away) by himself, wondering on that that was done.

- <sup>13</sup> And lo! twain of them went in that day into a castle (or And behold! two of them went that day to a village), that was from Jerusalem the space of sixty furlongs, by name Emmaus.
  - <sup>14</sup> And they spake together of all these things that had befallen.
- <sup>15</sup> And it was done, the while they talked, and sought by themselves, Jesus himself nighed (or approached), and went with them.
- <sup>16</sup> But their eyes were holden, that they knew him not. (But their eyes were held, so that they did not know him.)
- <sup>17</sup> And he said to them, What be these words, that ye speak together wandering, and ye be sorrowful? (And he asked them, What be these things, that ye talk about as ye be walking, and ye be so sad?)
- <sup>18</sup> And one, whose name was Cleopas, answered, and said [to him], Thou thyself art a pilgrim in Jerusalem (or Thou thyself art a visitor, or a stranger, in Jerusalem), [or Thou alone art a pilgrim in Jerusalem (or Thou art alone and a visitor, or a stranger, in Jerusalem)], and (so) hast thou not known, what things be done in it in these days?
- <sup>19</sup> To whom he said, What things? And they said to him, Of Jesus of Nazareth, that was a man prophet, mighty in work and word before God and all the people;
- <sup>20</sup> and how the high priests and our princes betook him into condemnation [or into damnation] of death, and crucified him. (and how the high priests and our leaders delivered him unto the damnation of death, and crucified him.)
- $^{21}$  But we hoped, that he should have again-bought Israel, (or And we had hoped, that he would have redeemed, or ransomed, Israel). And now on all these things the third day is today, that these things were done.
- <sup>22</sup> But also some women of ours made us afeared, which before day[light] were at the grave; (And some of our women have made us afraid, who before daylight were at the tomb;)
- <sup>23</sup> and when his body was not found, they came, and said, that they saw also a sight of angels, which said (or who said), that he liveth.
- <sup>24</sup> And some [men] of ours went to the grave, and they found so as the women said, but they found not him. (And some of our men went to the tomb, and they found it just as the women had said, but they did not find him.)
- $^{25}$  And he said to them, A! fools (or O fools!), and slow of heart to believe in all (the) things that the prophets have spoken.
- <sup>26</sup> Whether it behooved not Christ to suffer these things (or Did it not behoove the Messiah to suffer these things), and so to enter into his glory?
- <sup>27</sup> And he began at Moses and at all the prophets, and declared [or expounded] to them in all (the) scriptures, that were of him (or that were about him).
- <sup>28</sup> And they came nigh to the castle, whither they went, (or And they came near to the village, where they were going). And he made countenance that he would go further.
- <sup>29</sup> And they constrained him, and said, Dwell with us (or Remain with us), for it draweth to (the) night, and the day is now bowed down. And (so) he entered [in] with them.

- <sup>30</sup> And it was done, while he sat at the meat with them (or while he sat down for the meal with them), he took bread, and blessed (it), and brake (it), and (then) took (it) to them [or and (then) gave (it) to them].
- $^{31}$  And the eyes of them were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished from their eyes.
- <sup>32</sup> And they said together, Whether our heart was not burning in us, while he spake to us in the way, and [he] opened to us [the] scriptures? (And they said to each other, Were not our hearts burning in us, while he spoke to us on the way, and he opened the Scriptures to us?)
- <sup>33</sup> And they rose up in the same hour, and went again into Jerusalem [or (and) went again to Jerusalem], and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, (And they rose up at once, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the Eleven gathered together, and those who were with them,)
- <sup>34</sup> saying, That the Lord is risen verily, and appeared to Simon. (and they were saying, Truly the Lord hath risen, or It is true that the Lord hath risen, and hath appeared to Simon.)
- <sup>35</sup> And they told what things were done in the way (or And then they told them what had happened on the way), and how they knew him in (the) breaking of (the) bread.
- <sup>36</sup> And while they spake these things, Jesus stood in the middle of them, and said to them, Peace (be) to you; I am (here), do not ye dread. (And while they spoke of these things, suddenly Jesus stood in their midst, and said to them, Peace be to you; I am here, do not fear, or do not be afraid.)
- $^{37}$  But they were afraid and aghast, and guessed them(selves) to see a spirit.
- <sup>38</sup> And he said to them, What be ye troubled (or Why be ye troubled), and thoughts come up into your hearts?
- <sup>39</sup> See ye my hands and my feet, for I myself am (or for I am here). Feel ye, and see ye; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see that I have.
- <sup>40</sup> And when he had said this thing, he showed (his) hands and feet to them.
- <sup>41</sup> And yet while they believed not, and wondered for joy, he said, Have ye here anything that shall be eaten? [or Have ye anything here that shall be eaten?]
- <sup>42</sup> And they proffered to him a part of a fish roasted, and an honeycomb. [And they offered to him a part of a fish roasted, and a comb of honey.]
- <sup>43</sup> And when he had eaten before them, he took that that (was) left, and gave (it) to them;
- <sup>44</sup> and [he] said to them, These be the words that I spake to you, when I was yet with you; for it is need(ful) that all things be fulfilled, that be written in the law of Moses, and in (the) prophets, and in (the) psalms, of me (or about me).
- <sup>45</sup> Then he opened to them wit, that they should understand [the] scriptures. (Then he opened their minds, or their thinking, so that they could understand the Scriptures.)
- <sup>46</sup> And he said to them, For thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer (or and thus it behooved the Messiah to suffer), and rise again from death the third day [or and rise again from (the) dead the third day];

<sup>47</sup> and penance, and remission of sins to be preached in his name to all folks, beginning at Jerusalem. (and repentance, and forgiveness of sins to be preached in his name to all the nations and all the peoples, beginning at Jerusalem.)

<sup>49</sup> And I shall send the promise of my Father into you; but sit ye in the city, till ye be clothed with virtue from on high, (or but remain in the city, until ye be clothed with power from on high).

50 And he led them forth into Bethany, and when his hands were lifted up, he blessed them.

<sup>51</sup> And it was done, the while he blessed them [or while he blessed them], he departed from them, and was borne (up) into heaven.

52 And they worshipped (him), and went again into Jerusalem with great joy,

<sup>53</sup> and were *(for)*evermore in the temple (or and were always in the Temple), praising and blessing God.

JOHN

- <sup>1</sup> In the beginning was the word, [that is, God's son, (or God's Son)], and the word was at God, and God was the word.
  - <sup>2</sup> This (Word) was in the beginning at (or with) God.
- <sup>3</sup> All things were made by him, and without him was made nothing [or nought], (of) that thing that was made. (Everything was made by him, and without him nothing was made, out of all that was made.)
  - <sup>4</sup> In him was life, and the life was the light of men;
- <sup>5</sup> and the light shineth in darknesses, and [the] darknesses comprehended not it. (and the light shineth in the darkness, but the darkness did not understand it.)
  - <sup>6</sup> A man was sent from God, to whom the name was John.
- <sup>7</sup> This man came into witnessing, that he should bear witnessing of the light, that all men should believe by him. (This man came as a witness, that he would testify about the light, so that all men could believe through him.)
- <sup>8</sup> He was not that light, but that he should bear witnessing of the light. (He was not that light, but he testified about the light.)
- <sup>9</sup> There was a very light (or There was a true light), which (en)lighteneth each man that cometh into this world.
- <sup>10</sup> He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.
  - <sup>11</sup> He came into his own things, and his (own) received him not.
- <sup>12</sup> But how many ever received him, he gave to them power to be made the sons of God, to them that believe in his name (or to those who believe in him);
- <sup>13</sup> the which not of bloods, neither of the will of (the) flesh, neither of the will of man, but be born of God. (who be born not of blood, nor by the desire of the flesh, nor by the desire of man, but be born of God.)
- <sup>14</sup> And the word was made man, and dwelled among us, and we have seen the glory of him, as the glory of the one begotten Son of the Father, full of grace and of truth. [And the word, that is, God's son, (or God's Son), is made flesh, or man, and hath dwelled in us, and we have seen the glory of him, the glory as of the one begotten of the Father, the son (or the Son) full of grace and truth.]
- <sup>15</sup> John beareth witnessing of him, and crieth, and saith, (or John testified about him, and cried out, and said), This (man) is he of whom I said, He that shall come after me, is made before me, for he was before me;
- <sup>16</sup> and of the plenty of him we all have taken, and grace for grace. (and all of us have received so much from him, blessing upon blessing.)
- <sup>17</sup> For the law was given by Moses; but grace and truth is made by Jesus Christ.
- <sup>18</sup> No man saw ever God [or No man ever saw God], [no] but the one begotten Son, that is in the bosom of the Father, he hath told out (about him).
- <sup>19</sup> And this is the witnessing of John, when (the) Jews sent from Jerusalem priests and deacons to him, that they should ask him, Who art thou? (And this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to him, so that they could ask him, Who art thou?)

- <sup>20</sup> He acknowledged, and denied not, and he acknowledged, For I am not Christ. (He confessed, and did not deny it, yea, he confessed, I am not the Messiah.)
- <sup>21</sup> And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? (or Elijah?) And he said, I am not. Art thou a prophet? [or Art thou the prophet?](or Art thou the Prophet?) And he answered, Nay.
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore they said to him, Who art thou? (So) That we (can) give an answer to these that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?
- <sup>23</sup> He said, I am a voice of a crier in desert, Dress ye the way of the Lord, as Esaias the prophet, said. [He saith, I am a voice of a man crying in desert, Dress ye the way of the Lord, as Esaias, the prophet, said.](He said, I (am) a voice of a (man) crying in the desert, Align or Make straight the way of the Lord, as the prophet Isaiah said.)
  - <sup>24</sup> And they that were sent, were of the Pharisees.
- <sup>25</sup> And they asked him, and said to him, What then baptizest thou, if thou art not Christ, neither Elias, neither a prophet? (And they asked him, Why then do thou baptize, if thou art not the Messiah, nor Elijah, nor the Prophet?)
- <sup>26</sup> John answered to them, and said, I baptize in water, but in the middle of you hath stand [or stood] one, that ye know not; (John answered them, and said, I baptize in water, but in the midst of you hath stood one, whom ye know not;)
- <sup>27</sup> he it is, that shall come after me, that was made before me, of whom I am not worthy to loose(n) the thong of his shoe.
- <sup>28</sup> These things were done in Bethany beyond, [or over], (the) Jordan, where John was baptizing. (These things were done in Bethany on the other side of the Jordan River, where John was baptizing.)
- <sup>29</sup> Another (or The next) day John saw Jesus coming to him, and he said, Lo! the lamb of God; lo! he that doeth away the sins of the world.
- <sup>30</sup> This is he, that I said of, After me is come a man [or After me cometh a man], which was made before me; for he was rather [or former] than I (or for he already was, before that I was).
- <sup>31</sup> And I knew him not, but that he be showed in Israel, therefore I came baptizing in water.
- <sup>32</sup> And John bare witnessing, and said, I saw the Spirit coming down as a culver from heaven, and (it) dwelled on him [or and dwelling upon him]. (And John testified, and said, I saw the Spirit coming down like a dove from heaven, and dwelling upon him.)
- <sup>33</sup> And I knew him not; but he that sent me to baptize in water, said to me, On whom thou seest the Spirit coming down, and dwelling on him, this is he, that baptizeth in the Holy Ghost, (or this is he, who baptizeth with the Holy Spirit).
- $^{34}$  And I saw, and bare witnessing (or and I testify), that this is the Son of God.
  - 35 Another day John stood, and two of his disciples;
  - <sup>36</sup> and he beheld Jesus walking, and saith, Lo! the lamb of God.
  - <sup>37</sup> And (the) two disciples heard him speaking, and [they] followed Jesus.

- <sup>38</sup> And Jesus turned, and saw them *(pur)*suing him, and saith to them, What seek ye? And they said to him, Rabbi, that is to say, Master, where dwellest thou? (And Jesus turned, and saw them following him, and said to them, What do ye seek? And they said to him, Teacher, where do you live?)
- <sup>39</sup> And he saith to them, Come ye, and see. And they came, and saw where he dwelled; and dwelt with him that day. And it was as the tenth hour. (And he said to them, Come, and see. And they came, and saw where he lived; and remained with him that day. And it was about four o'clock in the afternoon.)
- <sup>40</sup> And Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was one of the twain, that heard of John, and had (pur)sued him. (And Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was one of the two, who had heard that from John, and had followed him.)
- <sup>41</sup>This found first his brother Simon, and he said to him, We have found Messias, that is to say, Christ; (And at once he found his brother Simon, and he said to him, We have found the Messiah, that is to say, the Christ;)
- $^{42}$  and he led him to Jesus. And Jesus beheld him, and said, Thou art Simon, the son of Johanna (or the son of John); thou shalt be called Cephas, that is to say, Peter.
- $^{43}$  And on the morrow he would go out into Galilee, and he found Philip; and he saith to him, (Pur)Sue thou me, (or and Jesus said to him, Follow me).
  - <sup>44</sup> Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and of Peter.
- <sup>45</sup> Philip found Nathanael, and said to him, We have found Jesus, the son of Joseph, of Nazareth, (about) whom Moses wrote in the law and the prophets.
- <sup>46</sup> And Nathanael said to him, Of Nazareth may some good thing be? (or Can anything good come from Nazareth?) Philip said to him, Come, and see.
- <sup>47</sup> Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and said of him, Lo! verily a man of Israel, in whom is no guile. (Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and said of him, Behold! truly a man of Israel, in whom there is no deceit.)
- <sup>48</sup> Nathanael said to him, Whereof hast thou known me? Jesus answered, and said to him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou were under the fig tree, I saw thee.
- <sup>49</sup> Nathanael answered to him, and said, Rabbi (or Teacher), thou art the Son of God, thou art (the) king of Israel.
- <sup>50</sup> Jesus answered, and said to him, For I said to thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, thou believest; thou shalt see more than these things [or thou shalt see more things than these].
- <sup>51</sup> And he said to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), ye shall see heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending up and coming down on man's Son.

- <sup>1</sup> And the third day weddings were made in the Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there.
  - <sup>2</sup> And Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the weddings.
- <sup>3</sup> And when wine failed, the mother of Jesus said to him, They have not wine (or They have no wine).

- <sup>4</sup> And Jesus saith to her, What to me and to thee, woman? mine hour came not yet. (And Jesus said to her, What is it to me or to thee, woman? my hour hath not come yet, or it is not yet my time.)
- <sup>5</sup> His mother saith to the ministers, Whatever thing he saith to you, do ye. (His mother said to the servants, Whatever he saith to you, do it.)
- <sup>6</sup> And there were set (there) six stone cans, after the cleansing of the Jews, holding each two or three metretes. [Forsooth there were put six stone pots, after the cleansing of (the) Jews, taking each two or three measures.] (And there were put there six stone pots, or six stone water jars, for the purification rites of the Jews, each one holding two or three measures, or twenty or thirty gallons.)
- <sup>7</sup> And Jesus saith to them, Fill ye the pots with water. And they filled them, up to the mouth [or unto the highest part].
- <sup>8</sup> And Jesus said to them, Draw ye (it) now, and bear ye to the master of the feast. And they bare (it to him).
- <sup>9</sup> And when the master of the feast had tasted the water made (into) wine, and knew not whereof it was, but the ministers knew that drew the water (or but the servants who drew the water knew), the master of the feast calleth the spouse,
- <sup>10</sup> and saith to him, Each man setteth first good wine, and when men be *[full-]*filled, then that that is worse; but thou hast kept the good wine into this time.
- $^{11}$  Jesus did this the beginning of signs (or Jesus did this, the first of his miracles), in the Cana of Galilee, and showed his glory; and his disciples believed in him.
- <sup>12</sup> After these things he came down to Capernaum, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples; and they dwelled there not many days.
- <sup>13</sup> And the pask of (the) Jews was nigh (or And the Passover of the Jews was near), and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.
- <sup>14</sup> And he found in the temple men selling oxen, and sheep, and culvers, and [money-]changers sitting (there). (And he found men in the Temple selling oxen, and sheep, and doves and pigeons, and money-changers sitting there.)
- <sup>15</sup> And when he had made as it were a scourge of small cords, he drove out all of (or from) the temple, and (the) oxen, and (the) sheep; and he shedded [out] the money of (the) changers, and turned upside-down the boards, (or and he poured out the money of the money-changers, and turned upside-down their tables). [+And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he cast all out of the temple, and sheep, and oxen; and he shedded out the money of (the) changers, and turned upside-down the boards.]
- <sup>16</sup> And he said to them that sold culvers (or And he said to those who sold the doves and pigeons), Take away from hence these things, and do not ye make the house of my Father (into) an house of merchandise.
- <sup>17</sup> And his disciples had mind, for it was written, (or And his disciples remembered, that it is written), The fervent love of thine house hath eaten me. [Forsooth his disciples had mind, for it is written, The zeal of thine house hath eaten me (or My zeal for thine house hath consumed me).]
- <sup>18</sup> Therefore the Jews answered, and said to him, What token [or What sign] showest thou to us, that thou doest these things?

- <sup>19</sup> Jesus answered, and said to them, Undo ye this temple (or Destroy this temple), and in three days I shall raise it (up again).
- <sup>20</sup> Therefore the Jews said to him, In forty and six years this temple was builded, and shalt thou in three days raise it (up again)? (And so the Jews said to him, This Temple took forty-six years to build, and shalt thou raise it up again in three days?)
  - <sup>21</sup> But he said of the temple of his body.
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore when he was risen from death, his disciples had mind (or his disciples remembered), that he said these things of his body, [Therefore when he had risen from (the) dead, his disciples had mind, for he said this thing]; and they believed to the scripture, and to the word that Jesus said.
- <sup>23</sup> And when Jesus was at Jerusalem in pask, in the feast day, many believed in his name, seeing his signs that he did. (And when Jesus was in Jerusalem for Passover, on the Feast Day, or for the Festival, many believed in him, seeing the miracles that he did.)
  - <sup>24</sup> But Jesus trusted not himself to them, for he knew all men;
- <sup>25</sup> and for it was not need(ful) to him, that any man should bear witnessing of (a) man, for he knew, what was in (each) man. (and he did not need, that anyone should testify about anyone else, for he knew, what was in each person.)

- <sup>1</sup> And there was a man of the Pharisees, Nicodemus by name, a prince of the Jews (or a leader of the Jews).
- <sup>2</sup> And he came to Jesus by night, and said to him, Rabbi, we know, that thou art come from God a master, [or Rabbi, we know, for of God thou hast come a master]; for no man may do these signs, that thou doest, [no] but God be with him. (And he came to Jesus by night, and said to him, Teacher, we know, that thou art a teacher sent from God; for no man can do these miracles, that thou doest, unless God be with him.)
- <sup>3</sup> Jesus answered, and said to him, Truly, truly, I say to thee, [no] but a man be born again, he may not see the kingdom of God, (or Truly, I tell thee the truth, unless a man is born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God).
- <sup>4</sup> Nicodemus said to him, How may a man be born, when he is old? whether he may enter again into his mother's womb, and be born again?
- <sup>5</sup> Jesus answered, Truly, truly, I say to thee, [no] but a man be born again of water, and of the Holy Ghost, he may not enter into the kingdom of God. (Jesus answered, Truly, I tell thee the truth, unless a man be born again from water, and from the Holy Spirit, he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God.)
- <sup>6</sup> That that is born of the flesh, is flesh; and that that is born of the Spirit, is spirit. (That which is born from the flesh, is flesh; and that which is born from the Spirit, is spirit.)
  - <sup>7</sup> Wonder thou not, for I said to thee, It behooveth you to be born again.
- <sup>8</sup> The Spirit breatheth where he will, and thou hearest his voice, but thou knowest not, from whence he cometh, nor whither he goeth; so is each man that is born of the Spirit. (The Spirit breatheth where he wanteth, and thou hearest his voice, but thou knowest not, where he cometh from, nor where he goeth; so is each man who is born from the Spirit.)

- <sup>9</sup> Nicodemus answered, and said to him, How may these things be done? (or How can these things be done?)
- <sup>10</sup> Jesus answered, and said to him, Thou art a master in Israel (or Thou art a teacher in Israel), and knowest not these things?
- <sup>11</sup> Truly, truly, I say to thee, for we speak that that we know, and we witness that that we have seen, and ye take not our witnessing. (Truly, I tell thee the truth, for we speak of that which we know, and we testify about that which we have seen, but ye do not receive or accept our testimony.)
- <sup>12</sup> If I have said to you earthly things, and ye believe not, how if I say to you heavenly things, shall ye believe?
- <sup>13</sup> And no man ascendeth [up] into heaven, [no] but he that came down from heaven, man's Son that is in heaven, [or the Son of man which is in heaven], (or the Son of man who was in heaven).
- <sup>14</sup> And as Moses areared [or reared up] a serpent in (the) desert, so it behooveth man's Son to be raised [up],
- <sup>15</sup> that each man that believeth in him, perish not, but have everlasting life. (so that everyone who believeth in him, perish not, but have eternal life.)
- <sup>16</sup> For God loved so the world [or Forsooth God so loved the world], that he gave his one begotten Son, that each man that believeth in him perish not, but have everlasting life (or but have eternal life).
- $^{17}$  For God sent not his Son into the world, that he judge the world, but that the world be saved by him.
- <sup>18</sup> He that believeth in him, is not deemed; but he that believeth not, is now deemed, for he believeth not in the name of the one begotten Son of God. [He that believeth in him, is not deemed, or condemned; forsooth he that believeth not, is now condemned, for he believeth not in the name of the only begotten son of God.]
- <sup>19</sup> And this is the doom, for light came into the world, and men loved more (the) darknesses than (the) light; for their works were evil. (And this is the judgement, yea, the light came into the world, but men loved the darkness more than the light; because their works were evil.)
- <sup>20</sup> For each man that doeth evil, hateth the light; and he cometh not to the light, (so) that his works be not reproved.
- $^{21}$  But he that doeth (the) truth, cometh to the light, (so) that his works be showed, that they be done in God.
- <sup>22</sup> After these things Jesus came, and his disciples, into the land of Judea, and there he dwelled with them, and baptized.
- <sup>23</sup> And John was baptizing in Aenon, beside Salim, for many waters were there; and they came, and were baptized [or were christened].
  - <sup>24</sup> And John was not yet sent into prison.
- <sup>25</sup> Therefore a question was made of John's disciples with the Jews, of the purification, (or about the purification), [or (the) cleansing].
- <sup>26</sup> And they came to John, and said to him, Master [or Rabbi], he that was with thee beyond or over Jordan, to whom thou hast borne witnessing, lo! he baptizeth, and all men come to him. (And they came to John, and said to him, Teacher, he who was with thee on the other side of the Jordan River, about whom thou hast witnessed, or thou hast testified, behold! he baptizeth, and all come to him.)

- <sup>27</sup> John answered, and said, A man may not take anything, [no] but it be given to him from heaven. (John answered, and said, No one can receive anything, unless it be given to him from heaven, yea, from God.)
- <sup>28</sup> Ye yourselves bear witnessing to me, that I said, I am not Christ, but that I am sent before him. (Ye yourselves can bear witness to me, or can testify about me, that I said, I am not the Messiah, but that I am sent before him.)
- <sup>29</sup> He that hath a wife, is the husband [or the spouse]; but the friend of the spouse that standeth, and heareth him, joyeth with joy, for the voice of the spouse. Therefore in this thing my joy is fulfilled.
- <sup>30</sup> It behooveth him to wax, (or It is necessary for him to grow, or to increase), but me to be made less [or to be diminished].

<sup>31</sup> He that came from above, is above all; he that is of the earth, speaketh of the earth; he that cometh from heaven, is above all.

- <sup>32</sup> And he witnesseth that thing that he hath seen, and heard, and no man taketh (or receiveth) his witnessing. (And he testifieth about that thing that he hath seen, and heard, but no man accepteth his testimony.)
- <sup>33</sup> But he that taketh (or receiveth) his witnessing, hath confirmed that God is soothfast. (But he who accepteth his testimony, hath confirmed that God is truthful.)
- $^{34}$  But he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God; for not to measure God giveth the Spirit.
  - 35 The Father loveth the Son, and he hath given all things into his hand.
- <sup>36</sup> He that believeth in the Son, hath everlasting life; but he that is unbelieveful to the Son, shall not see everlasting life, but the wrath of God dwelleth on him. (He who believeth in the Son, hath eternal life; but he who believeth not in the Son, shall not see eternal life, but the wrath of God shall come upon him.)

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore as Jesus knew, that the Pharisees heard, that Jesus maketh and baptizeth more disciples than John,
  - <sup>2</sup> though Jesus baptized not, but his disciples,
  - <sup>3</sup> he left Judea, and went again into Galilee.
- <sup>4</sup> And it behooved him to pass by Samaria. (And it was necessary that he pass through Samaria.)
- <sup>5</sup> Therefore Jesus came into a city of Samaria, that is called Sychar, beside the place [or the field] that Jacob gave to Joseph, his son.
- <sup>6</sup> And the well of Jacob was there; and Jesus was weary of the journey, and sat thus upon the well. And the hour was, as it were the sixth. (And Jacob's well was there; and Jesus was weary from the journey, and sat down by the well. And it was about noon.)
- <sup>7</sup> And a woman came from Samaria, to draw water, (or And a woman of Samaria came to draw water). And Jesus saith to her, Give me (a) drink.
- <sup>8</sup> And his disciples were gone into the city, to buy meat (or to buy some food).
- <sup>9</sup> Therefore that woman of Samaria saith to him, How (is it that) thou, that art a Jew, askest of me (for) a drink, that am a woman of Samaria? for [the] Jews used not to deal with [the] Samaritans.

- <sup>10</sup> Jesus answered, and said to her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is, that saith to thee, Give me (a) drink, thou peradventure wouldest have asked of him, and he should have given to thee quick water (or and then he would have given thee living water).
- <sup>11</sup> The woman saith to him, Sire, thou hast not wherein to draw, and the pit is deep; whereof then hast thou quick water? (The woman said to him, Sir, thou hast nothing with which to draw up the water, and the well is deep; from where then would thou get this living water?)
- <sup>12</sup> Whether thou art greater than our father Jacob, that gave to us the pit? and he drank thereof, and his sons, and his beasts. (Art thou greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well? and he, and his sons, and his beasts, all drank from it.)
- $^{13}$  Jesus answered, and said to her, Each man that drinketh of this water, shall thirst again;
- <sup>14</sup> but he that drinketh of the water that I shall give him, shall not thirst [into] without end; but the water that I shall give him, shall be made in him a well of water, springing up into everlasting life (or springing up for eternal life).
- <sup>15</sup> The woman saith to him, Sire (or Sir), give me this water, (so) that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.
  - <sup>16</sup> Jesus saith to her, Go, call thine husband, and come hither.
- <sup>17</sup> The woman answered, and said, I have none husband. Jesus saith to her, Thou saidest well, That I have none husband; [The woman answered, and said, I have not an husband. Jesus saith to her, Thou saidest well, For I have not an husband;]
- <sup>18</sup> for thou hast had five husbands, and he that thou hast [now], is not thine husband. This thing thou saidest soothly (or Thou hast spoken truthfully).
  - <sup>19</sup> The woman saith to him, Lord, I see, that thou art a prophet.
- <sup>20</sup> Our fathers worshipped in this hill, and ye (Jews) say, that at Jerusalem is a place, where it behooveth (all) to worship.
- <sup>21</sup>Jesus saith to her, Woman, believe thou to me, for the hour shall come, when neither in this hill, neither in Jerusalem, ye shall worship the Father.
- <sup>22</sup> Ye worship that that ye know not; we worship that that we know; for health is of the Jews, (or for salvation is from the Jews, or salvation cometh from the Jews).
- <sup>23</sup> But the time is come, and now it is, when true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth; for also the Father seeketh such, that worship him.
- $^{24}\,\mathrm{God}$  is a Spirit, and it behooveth them that worship him, to worship in spirit and truth.
- <sup>25</sup> The woman saith to him, I know that Messias is (to) come, that is said Christ, (or I know that the Messiah is to come, who is called Christ); therefore when he cometh, he shall tell us all things.
  - <sup>26</sup> Jesus saith to her, I am he [or I am], that speaketh with thee.
- <sup>27</sup> And anon his disciples came, and wondered, that he spake with the woman; nevertheless no man said to him, What seekest thou, or, What speakest thou with her? (And at once his disciples came back, and were surprised, that he spoke with the woman; nevertheless no one said to him, Why speakest thou with her?)

- <sup>28</sup> Therefore the woman left her water pot, and went into the city, and said to the men,
- <sup>29</sup> Come ye, and see a man, that said to me all things that I have done; whether he be Christ? (or could he be the Messiah?)
  - <sup>30</sup> And they went out of the city, and came to him.
- <sup>31</sup> In the meanwhile his disciples prayed him, and said, Master [or Rabbi], eat. (Meanwhile his disciples beseeched him, and said, Teacher, have something to eat.)
- <sup>32</sup> But he said to them, I have meat to eat, that ye know not (of). (But he said to them, I have food to eat, that ye know nothing about.)
- <sup>33</sup> Therefore the disciples said together, Whether any man hath brought him meat to eat? (And so the disciples said to each other, Hath someone else brought him something to eat?)
- <sup>34</sup> Jesus saith to them, My meat is that I do the will of him that sent me, [and] that I perform the work of him. (Jesus said to them, My food is that I do the will of him who sent me, until I finish his work.)
- <sup>35</sup> Whether ye say not, that yet four months be, and ripe corn cometh? Lo! I say to you, lift up your eyes, and see ye the fields, for now they be white to reap. (Do ye not say, that there still be four months, and then the harvest shall come? Behold! I tell you, lift up your eyes, and see ye the fields, for they be ready to be harvested now!)
- <sup>36</sup> And he that reapeth taketh hire, and gathereth fruit into everlasting life, (or And he who harvesteth receiveth his wages, and gathereth crops for eternal life); (so) that both he that soweth, and he that reapeth, have joy together.

<sup>37</sup> In this thing is the word true, For one is that soweth, and another that reapeth.

- $^{38}$  I sent you to reap, that that ye have not travailed, (or I sent you to harvest, that which ye have not laboured over); other men have travailed, and ye have entered into their travails.
- <sup>39</sup> And of that city many [of the] Samaritans believed in him, for the word of the woman, that bare witnessing (or who testified), That he said to me all (the) things that I have done, [or For he said to me all (the) things, whatever I did].
- <sup>40</sup> Therefore when (the) Samaritans came to him, they prayed him to dwell there (or they beseeched him to remain there); and he dwelt there two days.
  - 41 And many more believed for his word(s),
- <sup>42</sup> and said to the woman, That now not for thy speech we believe; for we have heard, and we know, that this is verily the Saviour of the world, (or for we have heard, and we know, that he is truly the Saviour of the world).
  - <sup>43</sup> And after two days he went out from thence, and went into Galilee.
- <sup>44</sup> And he bare witnessing, that a prophet in his own country hath none honour. [Soothly Jesus bare witnessing, for a prophet in his own country hath not honour, or worship.](And he testified, that a prophet is not honoured in his hometown.)
- <sup>45</sup> Therefore when he came into Galilee, men of Galilee received him, when they had seen all (the) things that he had done in Jerusalem in the feast day (or for they had seen all the things that he had done in Jerusalem on the Feast Day, or at the Festival); for also they had come to the feast day.

- <sup>46</sup> Therefore he came again into the Cana of Galilee, where he made the water [into] wine. And there was a little king (or And there was a royal official), whose son was sick at Capernaum.
- <sup>47</sup> When this (man) had heard, that Jesus should come from Judea into Galilee, he went to him, and prayed him (or beseeched him), that he should come down, and heal his son; for he began to die.
- <sup>48</sup> Therefore Jesus said to him, But ye see tokens, and great wonders, ye believe not. (And Jesus said to him, Unless ye see signs or miracles, and great wonders, ye will not believe.)
- <sup>49</sup> The little king saith to him (or The royal official said to him), Lord, come down, before that my son die.
- <sup>50</sup> Jesus saith to him, Go, thy son liveth. The man believed to the word(s), that Jesus said to him, and he went (home).
- <sup>51</sup> And now when he came down (or was close to home), the servants came to meet him, and told to him, and said, That his son lived.
- <sup>52</sup> And he asked of them the hour, in which he was amended. And they said to him, For yesterday in the seventh hour the fever left him.
- 53 Therefore the father knew, that that hour it was, in which Jesus said to him, Thy son liveth; and he believed, and all his house.
- <sup>54</sup> Jesus did again this second token (or Jesus did this second sign or miracle), when he came from Judea into Galilee.

- $^{\rm 1}\,\rm After$  these things there was a feast day of the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.
- <sup>2</sup> And in Jerusalem is a washing place (or a pool), that in Hebrew is called Bethesda, and (it) hath five porches. [Forsooth at Jerusalem is a standing water of beasts (or a watering pool for beasts), that in Hebrew is called Bethesda, having five little gates, or entries.]
- <sup>3</sup> In these lay a great multitude of sick men, blind, crooked (or lame), and dry (or withered), abiding (or waiting for) the moving [or the stirring] of the water.
- <sup>4</sup> For the angel of the Lord came down (at) certain times into the [standing] water (or into the pool), and the water was moved; and he that first came down into the cistern, after the moving of the water, was made whole (or was healed) of whatever sickness he was held (by).
  - <sup>5</sup> And a man was there, having eight and thirty years in his sickness.
- <sup>6</sup> And when Jesus had seen him lying (there), and had known, that he had much time (there), he saith to him, Wilt thou be made whole?
- <sup>7</sup> The sick man answered to him, Lord, I have no man, (so) that when the water is moved [or (it) is troubled], to put me into the cistern (or into the pool); for while I come, another goeth down before me.
- 8 Jesus saith to him, Rise up, take thy bed, and go. (Jesus said to him, Get up, pick up thy bed, and go.)
- <sup>9</sup> And anon the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and went forth. And it was sabbath in that day. (And at once the man was healed, and picked up his bed, and went forth. And that day was the Sabbath.)
- <sup>10</sup> Therefore the Jews said to him that was made whole, It is (the) sabbath, it is not leaveful to thee, to take away thy bed. (And so the Jews said to him who was healed, It is the Sabbath, and it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.)

- <sup>11</sup> He answered to them, He that made me whole, said to me, Take (up) thy bed, and go. (He answered to them, He who healed me, said to me, Pick up thy bed, and go.)
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore they asked him, What man is that [or Who is that man], that said to thee, Take up thy bed, and go? (or Who said to thee, Pick up thy bed, and go?)
- <sup>13</sup> But he that was made whole, wist not who it was, (or But he who was healed, did not know who it was). And Jesus (had) bowed away from the people, that was set in the place.
- <sup>14</sup> Afterward Jesus found him in the temple, and said to him, Lo! thou art made whole, (or Behold! thou art healed); now do not thou do sin [or now do not thou sin], lest any worse thing befall to thee.
- <sup>15</sup> (Then) That man went, and told to the Jews, that it was Jesus that made him whole.
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore the Jews pursued Jesus, for he did this thing in the sabbath. (And so the Jews persecuted Jesus, because he did this miracle on the Sabbath.)
  - <sup>17</sup> And Jesus answered to them, My Father worketh till now, and I work.
- <sup>18</sup> Therefore the Jews sought more to slay him, for not only he brake the sabbath, but he said that God was his Father, and made him(self) even (or equal) to God.
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore Jesus answered, and said to them, Truly, Iruly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), the Son may not of himself do anything, [no] but that thing that he seeth the Father doing; for whatever things he doeth, the Son doeth in like manner those things.
- <sup>20</sup> For the Father loveth the Son, and showeth to him all (the) things that he doeth; and he shall show to him greater works than these, (so) that ye wonder.
- <sup>21</sup> For as the Father raiseth dead men, and quickeneth (them), so the Son quickeneth whom he will. (For as the Father raiseth the dead, and giveth them life, so the Son giveth life to whomever he desireth.)
- <sup>22</sup> For neither the Father judgeth any man, but hath given every doom to the Son, (For the Father judgeth no one, but hath given every judgement to the Son.)
- <sup>23</sup> (so) that all men honour the Son, as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son, honoureth not the Father that sent him.
- <sup>24</sup> Truly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), that he that heareth my word, and believeth in him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and he cometh not into doom, (or hath eternal life, and he cometh not unto judgement), but passeth from death into life.
- <sup>25</sup> Truly, truly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), for the hour cometh, and now it is, when dead men (or when the dead) shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and they that hear (it), shall live.
- <sup>26</sup> For as the Father hath life in himself, so he gave to the Son, to have life in himself;
- <sup>27</sup> and he gave to him power to make doom, (or and he gave him the authority to pass judgement), for he is man's Son.
- <sup>28</sup> Do not ye wonder in this, for the hour cometh, in which all men that be in burials, shall hear the voice of God's Son. (Do not wonder at this, for the hour cometh, in which all those who be in graves, shall hear the voice of God's Son.)

<sup>29</sup> And they that have done good things, shall go into again-rising of life [or shall come forth into rising again of life]; but they that have done evil things, into again-rising of doom. (And they who have done good, shall be resurrected for life; but they who have done evil, shall be resurrected for judgement or for condemnation.)

<sup>30</sup> I may nothing do of myself, but as I hear, I deem, [or I may not of myself do anything, but as I hear, I judge], and my doom is just (or and my judgement is just and fair), for I seek not my will, but the will of the Father that sent me.

<sup>31</sup> If I bear witnessing of myself, my witnessing is not true; (If I testify about myself, my testimony is not accepted as true;)

<sup>32</sup> another is that beareth witnessing of me, and I know that his witnessing is true, that he beareth of me. (but there is another who testifieth about me, and I know that his testimony is true, what he testifieth about me.)

<sup>33</sup> Ye sent to John, and he bare witnessing to [the] truth. (Ye sent messengers to John, and he testified about the truth, or and he testified truthfully.)

- <sup>34</sup> But I take not witnessing of (any) man; but I say these things, that ye be safe. (But I do not need the testimony of anyone; but I say these things, so that ye can be saved.)
- <sup>35</sup> He was a lantern burning and shining, [or giving light]; but ye would (be) glad, or(would have)joy, (or rejoice), at an hour in his light.
- <sup>36</sup> But I have more witnessing than John, for the works that my Father gave to me to perform them [or forsooth the works that my Father gave me that I perform them], those works that I do bear witnessing of me, that the Father sent me. (But I have a greater witness than John, or But I have better testimony than John's, for the works that my Father gave to me to complete, or to finish, those works that I do testify about me, that the Father sent me.)
- <sup>37</sup> And the Father that sent me, he bare witnessing of me, (or And the Father who sent me, he testified about me). (But) Neither ye heard ever his voice, neither ye saw his likeness, [or (his) form].

<sup>38</sup> And ye have not his word dwelling in you; for ye believe not to him, whom he sent.

- <sup>39</sup> Seek ye the scriptures, in which ye guess to have everlasting life; and those it be, that bear witnessing of me. (Ye study the Scriptures, through which ye hope to gain eternal life; and they do indeed testify about me.)
  - <sup>40</sup> And (yet) ye will not come to me, (so) that ye (can) have (eternal) life.
- <sup>41</sup> I take not clearness of men; (I do not receive my glory, or my honour, from people;)
  - 42 but I have known you, that ye have not the love of God in you.
- <sup>43</sup> I came in the name of my Father, and ye took not me (or but ye did not receive me). If another come in his own name, ye shall receive him.
- <sup>44</sup> How may ye believe, that receive glory each of (the) other, and ye seek not the glory that is of God alone? (How can ye believe, ye who receive your glory from one another, and seek not the glory that is from God alone?)
- <sup>45</sup> Do not ye guess, that I am to accuse you with the Father; it is Moses that accuseth you, in whom ye hope.

- <sup>46</sup> For if ye believed to Moses, peradventure ye should believe also to me; for he wrote of me. (For if ye believed Moses, perhaps ye would also believe me; for he wrote about me.)
- <sup>47</sup> But if ye believe not to his letters, how shall ye believe to my words? (But if ye do not believe what he wrote, how shall ye believe what I say?)

- <sup>1</sup> After these things Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, that is (also called the Sea of) Tiberias. (After these things Jesus went over Lake Galilee, that is also called Lake Tiberias.)
- <sup>2</sup> And a great multitude *(pur)*sued him; for they saw the tokens that he did on them that were sick. (And a great multitude followed him; for they saw the signs or miracles that he did for those who were sick.)
- <sup>3</sup> Therefore Jesus went into an hill (or And so Jesus went up onto a hill), and sat there with his disciples.
- <sup>4</sup> And the pask was full nigh, a feast day of the Jews. (And the Passover was very near, a Feast Day, or a Festival, for the Jews.)
- <sup>5</sup> Therefore when Jesus had lifted up his eyes, and had seen, that a great multitude came to him, he saith to Philip, Whereof shall we buy loaves, (so) that these men eat?
- <sup>6</sup> But he said this thing, tempting him (or testing him); for he knew what he was to do.
- <sup>7</sup> Philip answered to him, The loaves of two hundred pence suffice not to them, (so) that each man (can) take a little (some) what.
  - <sup>8</sup> One of his disciples, Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, saith to him,
- <sup>9</sup> A child is here, that hath five barley loaves and two fishes; but what be these among so many?
- <sup>10</sup> Therefore Jesus saith, Make them sit to the meat. And there was much hay in the place. And so men sat to the meat, as five thousand in number. [Therefore Jesus saith, Make ye men to sit at the meat. Forsooth there was much hay in the place. Therefore men sat at the meat, in number as five thousand.](And so Jesus said, Make them to sit down for the meal. And there was much hay in that place. And so the men sat down for the meal, five thousand in number.)
- <sup>11</sup> And Jesus took [the] five loaves, and when he had done thankings, he parted (them) to the men that sat to the meat [or he parted to men sitting at the meat], and also of the fishes, as much as they would. (And Jesus took the five loaves, and when he had given thanks, he divided them to those who sat down for the meal, and also the fish, as much as they wanted.)
- <sup>12</sup> And when they were [full-]filled (or And when they were filled full), he said to his disciples, Gather ye (up) the remnants that be left, (so) that they perish not.
- <sup>13</sup> And so they gathered, and filled twelve coffins, of the remnant(s) of the five barley loaves and two fishes, that (were) left to them that had eaten. (And so they gathered up, and filled twelve baskets, with the remnants of the five barley loaves and the two fish, that were left by those who had eaten.)
- <sup>14</sup> Therefore those men, when they had seen the sign [or the token, or (the) miracle], that he had done, said, For this is verily the prophet (or For he is truly the Prophet), that is to come into the world.

- <sup>15</sup> And when Jesus had known, that they were to come to take him, and make him king, he flew alone again into an hill (or he went by himself into the hills). [+Therefore when Jesus had known, that they were to come that they should ravish him, (or that they had come so that they could snatch him, or they could seize him), and make him king, he alone fled again into an hill.]
- <sup>16</sup> And when (the) eventide was come, his disciples went down to the sea.
- <sup>17</sup> And they went up into a boat, and they came over the sea into Capernaum. And darknesses were made then (or And it became dark then), and Jesus was not come to them [or and Jesus had not come to them].
  - <sup>18</sup> And for a great wind blew, the sea rose up.
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore when they had rowed as five and twenty furlongs or thirty, they saw Jesus walking on the sea, and to be nigh the boat; and they dreaded, (or and they had fear, or and they were afraid).
  - <sup>20</sup> And he said to them, I am (here); do not ye dread (or do not fear).
- <sup>21</sup> Therefore they would take him into the boat, and anon the boat was at the land (or and at once the boat was at the land), to which they went.
- <sup>22</sup> On the tother day (or On the next day), the people, that stood over the sea, saw, that there was none other boat there but that one, and that Jesus entered not with his disciples into the boat, but his disciples alone went [or but his disciples went alone].
- <sup>23</sup> But other boats came from Tiberias beside the place, where they had eaten bread, and did thankings to God (or and gave thanks to God).
- $^{24}$  Therefore when the people had seen, that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they went up into boats, and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus.
- <sup>25</sup> And when they had found him over the sea, they said to him, Rabbi (or Teacher), how camest thou hither?
- <sup>26</sup> Jesus answered to them, and said, Truly, Iruly, I say to you (or Truly, I tell you the truth), ye seek me, not for ye saw the miracles, but for ye ate of the loaves, and were [ful] filled.
- <sup>27</sup> Work ye not (for) meat that perisheth, but (for) that that dwelleth into everlasting life, which meat man's Son shall give to you; for God the Father hath marked him. (Work not for the food that perisheth, but for that which remaineth unto eternal life, whichfood man's Son shall give to you; for God the Father hath sealed him.)
- <sup>28</sup> Therefore they said to him, What shall we do, (so) that we work the works of God?
- <sup>29</sup> Jesus answered, and said to them, This is the work of God, that ye believe to him (or so that ye believe in him), whom he sent.
- <sup>30</sup> Therefore they said to him, What token then doest thou, that we see, and believe to thee? what workest thou? (And so they said to him, Then what sign doest thou, so that we can see it, and believe in thee? what miracle workest thou?)
- <sup>31</sup> Our fathers ate manna in (the) desert, as it is written, He gave to them bread from heaven to eat.
- <sup>32</sup> Therefore Jesus saith to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, Moses gave you not bread from heaven, but my Father giveth you very bread from heaven; (And so Jesus said to them, Truly, I tell you the truth, it is not Moses that gave you the bread from heaven, but my Father, who now giveth you the true bread from heaven;)

- <sup>33</sup> for it is very bread that cometh down from heaven (or for it is the true bread which cometh down from heaven), and giveth life to the world.
- <sup>34</sup> Therefore they said to him, Lord, *(for)ever[more]* give [to] us this bread.
- <sup>35</sup> And Jesus said to them, I am (the) bread of life; he that cometh to me, shall not hunger; and he that believeth in me, shall never thirst.
  - $^{36}$  But I said to you, that ye have seen me, and ye believe(d) not.
- <sup>37</sup> All thing(s) that the Father giveth to me, shall come to me; and I shall not cast him out, that cometh to me. (All those that the Father giveth to me, shall come to me; and I shall not throw him out, yea, anyone who cometh to me.)
- $^{\rm 38}$  For I came down from heaven, not that I do my will, but the will of him that sent me.
- <sup>39</sup> And this is the will of the Father that sent me, that all (the) thing(s) that the Father gave to me, I lose not [or nought] of it, but again-raise it in the last day. (And this is the will of the Father who sent me, that out of all those whom the Father gave to me, I shall not lose any of them, but I shall raise them all up on the Last Day.)
- <sup>40</sup> And this is the will of my Father that sent me, that each man that seeth the Son, and believeth in him, have everlasting life; and I shall again-raise him in the last day. (And this is the will of my Father who sent me, that each person who seeth the Son, and believeth in him, have eternal life; and I shall raise each one up on the Last Day.)
- <sup>41</sup> Therefore the Jews grudged of him (or And so the Jews grumbled about him), for he had said, I am (the) bread that came down from heaven.
- <sup>42</sup> And they said, Whether this is not Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we have known. How then saith he this, That I came down from heaven?
- <sup>43</sup> Therefore Jesus answered, and said to them, Do not ye grudge together. (And so Jesus answered, and said to them, Do not grumble to each other.)
- <sup>44</sup> No man may come to me, but if the Father that sent me, draw him, [or no but the Father that sent me, draw him]; and I shall again-raise him in the last day. (No one can come to me, unless the Father who sent me, draw him; and I shall raise each one up on the Last Day.)
- <sup>45</sup> It is written in the prophets, And all men shall be able to be taught of God (or Everyone shall be taught by God). Each man that hath heard of the Father, and hath learned, cometh to me.
- <sup>46</sup> Not for any man hath seen the Father, but this that is of God, hath seen the Father. (Not that anyone hath seen the Father, but he who is from God, hath seen the Father.)
- <sup>47</sup> Soothly, soothly, I say to you, he that believeth in me, hath everlasting life. (Truly, truly, I say to you, or Truly, I tell you the truth, he who believeth in me, hath eternal life.)
  - 48 I am [the] bread of life.
  - <sup>49</sup> Your fathers ate manna in (the) desert, and be dead.
- <sup>50</sup> This is (the) bread coming down from heaven, that if any man eat thereof, he die not, (or so that if anyone eat of it, they shall not die).

- $^{51}$  I am (the) living bread, that came down from heaven. If any man eat of this bread, he shall live (into) without end. And the bread that I shall give, is my flesh for the life of the world.
- <sup>52</sup> Therefore the Jews chided together, and said, How may this give to us his flesh to eat?
- <sup>53</sup> Therefore Jesus saith to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), [no] but ye eat the flesh of man's Son, and drink his blood, ye shall not have life in you.
- <sup>54</sup> He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath everlasting life, and I shall again-raise him in the last day. (He who eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life, and I shall raise him up on the Last Day.)
- <sup>55</sup> For my flesh is very meat, and my blood is very drink. (For my flesh is the true food, and my blood is the true drink.)
- $^{56}\,\mathrm{He}$  that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.
- <sup>57</sup> As my Father living sent me, and I live for the Father, and he that eateth me, he shall live for me. (For the living Father sent me, and I live for the Father, and he who eateth me, shall live because of me.)
- $^{58}$  This is (the) bread, that came down from heaven. Not as your fathers ate manna, and be dead; he that eateth this bread, shall live (into) without end.
  - <sup>59</sup> He said these things in the synagogue, teaching in Capernaum.
- <sup>60</sup> Therefore many of his disciples hearing [this], said, This word is hard, who may hear it? (And many of his disciples who heard this, said, This word is hard, who can bear to hear such words? or who can listen to such words?)
- <sup>61</sup> But Jesus witting at [or within] himself, that his disciples grudged of this thing, said to them, This thing offendeth you? (And Jesus knowing within himself, that his disciples grumbled about this, said to them, This offendeth you?)
- <sup>62</sup> Therefore if ye see man's Son ascending [up], where he was before? (And so what if ye see man's Son ascending up, to the place where he was before?)
- 63 It is the spirit that quickeneth, the flesh profiteth nothing; the words that I have spoken to you, be spirit and life. (It is the Spirit that giveth life, the flesh profiteth nothing; the words that I have spoken to you, be of the Spirit and of life.)
- <sup>64</sup> But there be some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning, which were believing (or who believed in him), and who was to betray him.
- <sup>65</sup> And he said, Therefore I said to you, that no man may come to me, [no] but it were given to him of my Father (or unless it was granted to him by my Father).
- $^{66}\,\mathrm{From}$  this time many of his disciples went aback, and went not now with him.
  - <sup>67</sup> Therefore Jesus said to the twelve, Whether ye will also go away?
- <sup>68</sup> And Simon Peter answered to him, Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast words of everlasting life (or Thou hast the words of eternal life);

<sup>69</sup> and we believe, and have known, [or and we have believed, and know], that thou art Christ (or that thou art the Messiah), the Son of God.

<sup>70</sup> Therefore Jesus answered to them, Whether I chose not you twelve, and one of you is a fiend? (or and yet one of you is a devil?)

<sup>71</sup> And he said this of Judas of Simon Iscariot, for this was to betray him, when he was one of the twelve.

CHAPTER 7

- <sup>1</sup> After these things Jesus walked into Galilee, for he would not walk into Judea, for the Jews sought to slay him.
- <sup>2</sup> And there was nigh a feast day of the Jews, Scenopegia, [that is, a feast of tabernacles, (or the Festival of Tabernacles)].
- <sup>3</sup> And his brethren said to him, Pass from hence (or Go forth from here), and go into Judea, (so) that also thy disciples see thy works that thou doest;
- <sup>4</sup> for no man doeth anything in huddles (or in secret), and himself seeketh to be (out in the) open, [+or forsooth no man doeth anything in hid place, or (in) privy, (or for no one doeth anything in a hidden place, or in private), and he seeketh to be (out) in (the) open]. If thou doest these things, show thyself to the world.

- <sup>6</sup> Therefore Jesus saith to them, My time came not yet, but your time is (for)evermore ready. (My hour hath not yet come, or It is not yet my time, but it is always your time.)
- <sup>7</sup>The world may not hate you, soothly it hateth me; for I bear witnessing thereof (or for I testify to it), that the works of it be evil.
- <sup>8</sup> Go ye up to this feast day, but I shall not go up to this feast day, for my time is not yet fulfilled, [or full-filled], (or for my time is not yet filled full, or hath not yet fully come to fruition).
  - <sup>9</sup> When he had said these things, he dwelt in Galilee.
- <sup>10</sup> And after that his brethren were gone up, then he went up to the feast day, not openly, but as in private.
- 11 Therefore the Jews sought him in the feast day (or And so the Jews looked for him on the Feast Day, or at the Festival), and said, Where is he?
- <sup>12</sup> And much grudging was of him among the people (or And there was much grumbling about him among the people). For some said, That he is good; and others said, Nay, but he deceiveth the people;
- $^{13}$  nevertheless no man spake openly of him, for dread of the Jews (or for fear of the Jews).
- <sup>14</sup> But when the middle feast day came, Jesus went up into the temple (or Jesus went to the Temple), and taught.
- <sup>15</sup> And the Jews wondered, and said, How knoweth this man letters, since he hath not learned? (or How can this man know so much, since he hath not studied?)
- <sup>16</sup> Jesus answered to them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.
- <sup>17</sup> If any man will do his will, he shall know of the teaching, whether it be of God, or [whether] I speak of myself.
- <sup>18</sup> He that speaketh of himself, seeketh his own glory; but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him, is soothfast (or is truthful), and unrightwiseness is not in him.

- <sup>19</sup> Whether Moses gave not to you a law, and none of you doeth [or keepeth] the law? What seek ye to slay me? (Did not Moses give you the Law? and yet none of you obeyeth the Law. Why do ye seek to kill me?)
- $^{20}$  And the people answered, and said, Thou hast a devil; who seeketh to slay thee?
- $^{21}$  Jesus answered, and said to them, I have done one work, and all ye wonder.
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore Moses gave to you circumcision; not for it is of Moses, but of the fathers, (or not that it was from Moses, but from the fathers); and in (or on) the sabbath ye circumcise a man.
- <sup>23</sup> If a man take circumcision in the sabbath, that the law of Moses be not broken, (why) have ye indignation, [or wrath], to me, for I made all a man whole in the sabbath? (And if a man receive his circumcision on the Sabbath, so that the Law of Moses be not broken, then why have ye indignation, or wrath, against me, for I made a man all whole, or I healed him, on the Sabbath?)
- <sup>24</sup> Do not ye deem after the face, but deem ye a rightful doom. (Do not simply judge on the surface, but rather make the correct judgement.)
- <sup>25</sup> Therefore some of Jerusalem said, Whether this is not he, whom the Jews seek to slay?
- <sup>26</sup> and lo! he speaketh openly, and they say nothing to him. Whether the princes know verily that this is Christ? (or Perhaps our leaders know that he is truly the Messiah?)
- <sup>27</sup> But we know this man, of whence he is; but when Christ shall come, no man knoweth of whence he is. (And yet we know this man, where he is from; but when the Messiah shall come, no one shall know where he is from.)
- <sup>28</sup> Therefore Jesus cried in the temple (when he was) teaching, and said, Ye know me, and ye know of whence I am; and I came not of myself, but he is true that sent me, whom ye know not.
- $^{29}$  I know him, and if I say that I know him not, I shall be like to you, a liar; but I know him, for of him I am (or for I am from him), and he sent me.
- <sup>30</sup> Therefore they sought to take (hold of) him, and no man set on him hands, for his hour came not yet. (And so they sought to take hold of him, but no one put his hands on him, for his hour had not yet come, or for it was not yet his time.)
- <sup>31</sup> And many of the people believed in him, and said, When Christ shall come, whether he shall do more tokens than those that this doeth? (or When the Messiah shall come, shall he do more signs, or miracles, than these which he doeth?)
- <sup>32</sup> The Pharisees heard the people musing of him, (concerning) these things; and the princes and the Pharisees sent ministers, to take him. (The Pharisees heard the people musing about him, concerning these things; and the leaders, or the high priests, and the Pharisees sent their servants, to take hold of him.)
- <sup>33</sup> Therefore Jesus said to them, Yet a little time I am with you, and (then) I go to the Father, that sent me.
- <sup>34</sup> Ye shall seek me, and ye shall not find me; and where I am, ye may not come (or ye cannot come).

- <sup>35</sup> Therefore the Jews said to themselves, Whither shall this go, for we shall not find him? whether he will go into the scattering of heathen men, and will teach the heathen? (And so the Jews said to themselves, Where shall he go, that we shall not be able to find him? shall he go unto the Dispersion among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles?)
- <sup>36</sup> What is this word, which he said, Ye shall seek me, and ye shall not find me; and where I am, ye may not come? (or and where I am, ye cannot come?)
- <sup>37</sup> But in the last day of the great feast, (or But on the last day of the great Feast, or the great Festival), Jesus stood, and cried (out), and said, If any man thirsteth, come he to me, and drink.
- <sup>38</sup> He that believeth in me, as the scripture saith, Rivers of quick water shall flow out of his womb. (He who believeth in me, as the Scripture saith, Rivers of living water, or Rivers of life-giving water, shall flow out of his belly.)
- <sup>39</sup> But he said this thing of the (Holy) Spirit [or of the Holy Ghost], whom men that believed in him should take (or which those who believed in him would receive later); for the Spirit was not yet given, for Jesus was not yet glorified.
- <sup>40</sup> Therefore of that company, when they had heard these words of him, they said, This is verily a prophet (or He is truly the Prophet).
- <sup>41</sup> Others said, This is Christ. But some said, Whether Christ cometh from Galilee? (Others said, He is the Messiah. But some said, Will the Messiah come from Galilee?)
- <sup>42</sup> Whether the scripture saith not, that of the seed of David, and of the castle of Bethlehem, where David was, Christ cometh? (Saith not the Scripture, that from the seed of David, and from the village of Bethlehem, where David was, the Messiah shall come?)
  - $^{43}$  Therefore dissension was made among the people for him.
- 44 And some of them would have taken (hold of) him, but no man set (his) hands on him.
- <sup>45</sup> Therefore the ministers came to the bishops, and Pharisees, and they said to them, Why brought ye not him? (And so the servants came back to the high priests, and the Pharisees, and they said to them, Why have ye not brought him back to us?)
- $^{46}$  The ministers answered (or The servants answered), Never (a) man spake so, as this man speaketh.
- $^{\rm 47}$  Therefore the Pharisees answered to them, Whether ye be deceived also?
- <sup>48</sup> whether any of the princes, or (we) of the Pharisees believed in him? (do any of the leaders, yea, the high priests, or we of the Pharisees believe in him?)
- <sup>49</sup> But this people, that knoweth not the law, be cursed. (Let these people, who do not know the Law, be cursed!)
- <sup>50</sup> Nicodemus saith to them, he that came to him by night, that was one of them,
- <sup>51</sup> Whether our law deemeth a man, [no] but it have first heard of him [or no but first it have heard of him], and know what he doeth? (Certainly our Law judgeth no one, unless it first have heard from him, and know what he doeth?)

- <sup>52</sup> They answered, and said to him, Whether thou art a man of Galilee also? Seek thou (the) scriptures, and see thou, that a prophet riseth not (out) of Galilee.
- <sup>53</sup> And they turned again, each into his house. (And then each of them returned to his own house.)

- <sup>1</sup> But Jesus went into the mount of Olivet. (And then Jesus went to the Mount of Olives.)
- $^2$  And early again (the next morning) he came into the temple; and all the people came to him; and he sat, and taught them.
- <sup>3</sup> And (the) scribes and (the) Pharisees brought a woman taken in adultery, and they setted her in the middle (or and they put her in the midst of everyone),
- <sup>4</sup> and said to him, Master, this woman is now taken in adultery. (and said to him, Teacher, this woman was caught in adultery.)
- <sup>5</sup> And in the law Moses commanded us to stone such; therefore what sayest thou?
- <sup>6</sup> And they said this thing tempting (or to test) him, (so) that they might accuse him. And Jesus bowed himself down, and wrote with his finger in the earth (or and wrote on the ground with his finger).
- <sup>7</sup> And when they abided [or continued] asking him, he raised himself (up), and said to them, He of you that is without sin, first cast a stone into her, (or He of you who is without sin, throw the first stone at her).
- $^8$  And again he bowed [down] himself, and wrote in the earth (or and wrote on the ground).
- <sup>9</sup> And they hearing these things, went away one after another, and they began from the elder men; and Jesus dwelt alone, and the woman standing in the middle.
- <sup>10</sup> And Jesus raised himself (up), and said to her, Woman, where be they that accused thee? no man hath condemned thee.
- <sup>11</sup> She said, No man, Lord. Jesus said to her, Neither I shall condemn thee; go thou, and now afterward do not thou (do) sin (any) more, [or and now afterward do not thou sin], (or and hereafter, do not do any more sin).
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore again Jesus spake to them, and said, I am the light of the world; he that *(pur)*sueth me, walketh not in (the) darknesses, (or he who followeth me, walketh not in the darkness), but shall have the light of life.
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore the Pharisees said, Thou bearest witnessing of thyself; thy witnessing is not true. (And so the Pharisees said, Thou testifiest about thyself; thy testimony is not true.)
- <sup>14</sup> Jesus answered, and said to them, And if I bear witnessing of myself, my witnessing is true, (or Jesus answered, and said to them, And if I testify about myself, then my testimony is true); for I know from whence I came, and whither I go. But ye know not from whence I came, nor whither I go.
- <sup>15</sup> For ye deem after the flesh, but I deem no man; (For ye judge after the flesh, but I judge no man;)
- $^{16}$  and if I deem, my doom is true, (or and if I judge, then my judgement is true), for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

- $^{17}$  And in your law it is written, that the witnessing of two men is true. (And in your Law it is written, that the testimony of two men who agree is true.)
- <sup>18</sup> I am, that bear witnessing of myself, and the Father that sent me, beareth witnessing of me. (I am he, who giveth testimony about myself, and the Father who sent me, also giveth testimony about me.)
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore they said to him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Neither ye know me, nor ye know my Father; if ye knew me, peradventure ye should know also my Father.
- <sup>20</sup> Jesus spake these words in the treasury, teaching in the temple; and no man took (hold of) him, for his hour came not yet, (or for his hour had not yet come, or for it was not yet his time).
- <sup>21</sup> Therefore again Jesus said to them, Lo! I go, and ye shall seek me, and ye shall die in your sin; whither I go, ye may not come, (or where I go, ye cannot come).
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore the Jews said, Whether he shall slay himself, for he saith, Whither I go, ye may not come? (And so the Jews said, Shall he kill himself, for he said, Where I go, ye cannot come?)
- <sup>23</sup> And he said to them, Ye be of beneath, I am of above; ye be of this world, I am not of this world.
- $^{24}$  Therefore I said to you, that ye shall die in your sins; for if ye believe not that I am, ye shall die in your sins.
- <sup>25</sup> Therefore they said to him, Who art thou? Jesus said to them, The beginning, [or the first of all thing(s)], which [I] also speak to you, (or what I have told you).
- <sup>26</sup> I have many things to speak, and to deem of you, but he that sent me is soothfast; and I speak in the world these things, that I heard of him. (I have many things to say, and to judge about you, and he who sent me is truthful; and I say in the world these things, that I heard from him.)
- <sup>27</sup> And they knew not, that he called his Father God. (And they did not know or understand, that he called God his Father.)
- <sup>28</sup> Therefore Jesus said to them, When ye have araised man's Son, then ye shall know, that I am, and of myself I do nothing, (or When ye have raised up man's Son, then ye shall know, what I am, and that by myself I can do nothing); but as my Father taught me, I speak these things.
- <sup>29</sup> And he that sent me is with me, and left me not alone; for I do (for)evermore those things, that be pleasing to him, (or for I always do those things, that be pleasing to him).
  - <sup>30</sup> When he spake these things, many believed in him.
- <sup>31</sup> Therefore Jesus said to the Jews, that believed in him, If ye dwell in my word, verily, ye shall be my disciples, (or If ye remain in my word, truly, ye shall be my disciples);
  - 32 and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.
- <sup>33</sup> Therefore the Jews answered to him, We be the seed of Abraham, and we served never to (any) man, [or and to no man we served ever], (or and we were never in servitude, or in slavery, to any man); how sayest thou, That ye shall be free?
- <sup>34</sup> Jesus answered to them, Truly, I ruly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), each man that doeth sin, is [the] servant of sin.

- <sup>35</sup> And the servant dwelleth not in the house [into] without end, but the Son dwelleth [into] without end.
- <sup>36</sup> Therefore if the Son make you free, verily, ye shall be free. (And so if the Son shall make you free, truly, or in truth, ye shall be free.)
- <sup>37</sup> I know that ye be Abraham's sons, but ye seek to slay me, for my word taketh not (hold) in you.
- <sup>38</sup> I speak those things, that I saw at my Father; and ye do those things, that ye saw at your father.
- <sup>39</sup> They answered, and said to him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith to them, If ye be the sons of Abraham, (then) do ye the works of Abraham.
- <sup>40</sup> But now ye seek to slay me, a man that have spoken to you [the] truth, that I heard of God (or that I heard from God); Abraham did not this thing.
  - <sup>41</sup> Ye do the works of your father. Therefore they said to him, We be not
- born of fornication; we have (but) one Father, God.
- <sup>42</sup> But Jesus saith to them, If God were your Father, soothly ye should love me; for I passed forth of God, [or forsooth I proceeded, or came forth, of God], and came (here); for neither I came of myself, but he sent me. (But Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, truly ye would love me, for I came forth from God, and came here; yea, I did not come here on my own accord, but he sent me.)
- <sup>43</sup> Why know ye not my speech? for ye may not hear my word. (Why do ye not understand what I say? because ye cannot hear, or ye cannot listen to, my words.)
- <sup>44</sup> Ye be of the father, the devil, and ye will do the desires of your father. He was a manslayer from the beginning, and he stood not in (the) truth; for (the) truth is not in him. When he speaketh leasing, he speaketh of his own; for he is a liar, and (the) father of it, (or When he speaketh lies, he speaketh his own language; for he is a liar, and the father of them).
- <sup>45</sup> But for I say (the) truth, ye believe not to me. (But because I speak the truth, ye do not believe me.)
- <sup>46</sup> Who of you shall reprove me of sin? if I say (the) truth, why believe ye not to me? (Who of you can prove me guilty of sin? or can convict me of sin? if I speak the truth, then why do ye not believe me?)
- <sup>47</sup> He that is of God, heareth the words of God; therefore ye hear not, (or and so ye cannot hear, or and so ye will not listen), for ye be not of God.
- <sup>48</sup> Therefore the Jews answered, and said [to him], Whether we say not well (or Do we not rightly, or correctly, say), that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil?
- <sup>49</sup> Jesus answered, and said, I have not a devil, but I honour my Father, and ye have unhonoured me. (Jesus answered, and said, I do not have a devil, or I am not possessed, and I honour my Father, but ye dishonour me.)
- <sup>50</sup> For I seek not my glory; there is he, that seeketh, and deemeth. (Because I do not seek my own glory; but there is He, who seeketh it, and judgeth for me.)
- <sup>51</sup> Truly, truly, I say to you, if any man keep my word(s), he shall not taste death [into] without end. (Truly, I tell you the truth, if any man obey my words, he shall never taste death or he shall never die.)
- <sup>52</sup> Therefore the Jews said, Now we have known, that thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets, and thou sayest, If any man keep my word(s), (or If any man obey my words), he shall not taste death [into] without end.

<sup>53</sup> Whether thou art greater than our father Abraham, that is dead, and the prophets be dead; whom makest thou thyself?

<sup>54</sup> Jesus answered, If I glorify myself, my glory is nought, (or then my glory, or my boasting, is nothing); my Father is, that glorifieth me, whom ye say, that he is your God.

55 And ye have not known him, but I have known him; and if I say that I know him not, I shall be a liar like to you; but I know him, and I keep his word(s), (or and I obey his words).

<sup>56</sup> Abraham, your father, gladded [or full out joyed] to see my day; and he saw (it), and joyed. (Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day; yea, he saw it, and rejoiced.)

57 Then the Jews said to him, Thou hast not yet fifty years, and hast thou seen Abraham?

<sup>58</sup> Therefore Jesus said to them, Truly, truly I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), before that Abraham should be, I am, [or before that Abraham was made, I am].

<sup>59</sup> Therefore they took stones, to cast to him (or to throw at him); but Jesus hid him(self), and went out of the temple.

CHAPTER 9

<sup>2</sup> And his disciples asked him, Master, who sinned, this man, or his elders, [or Rabbi, who sinned, this man, or his father and mother], that he should be born blind? (And his disciples asked him, Teacher, who sinned, this man, or his father and mother, so that he would be born blind?)

be showed in him.

<sup>4</sup> It behooveth me to work the works of him that sent me, as long as the day is [or the while the day is]; the night shall come, when no man may work (or when no one can work).

<sup>5</sup> As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

- <sup>6</sup> When he had said these things, he spat into the earth, and made clay of the spittle (or and made clay with the spittle), and anointed the clay on his eyes,
- <sup>7</sup> and said to him, Go, and be thou washed in the water, [or (in the) cistern], of Siloam, that is to say, Sent, (or Go, and be washed in the pool of Siloam, which is translated, Sent). Then he went, and washed, and came (back) seeing.
- <sup>8</sup> And so (his) neighbours, and they that had seen him before, for he was a beggar, said, Whether this is not he, that sat, and begged?
- <sup>9</sup> Other men said, That this it is, (or Some men said, Yea, it is him); and other men said, Nay, but he is like him. But he said, I am [he].
  - <sup>10</sup> Therefore they said to him, How be thine eyes opened?
- <sup>11</sup> He answered, That man, that is said Jesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said to me, Go thou to the water, [or (to the) cistern], of Siloam, and wash, (or Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash); and I went, and washed, and (then I) saw.

<sup>12</sup> And they said to him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

- 13 They led him that was blind to the Pharisees.
- <sup>14</sup> And it was (the) sabbath, when Jesus made clay, and opened his eyes.
- <sup>15</sup> Again the Pharisees asked him, how he had seen. And he said to them, He laid to me [or He put to me] clay on the eyes (or He put some clay on my eyes); and I washed, and (now) I see.
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore some of the Pharisees said, This man is not of God, that keepeth not the sabbath, (or And so some of the Pharisees said, This man cannot be from God, for he keepeth not the Sabbath). Other men said, How may a sinful man do these signs, [or miracles]. And strife [or division] was among them.
- 17 Therefore they said again to the blind man, What sayest thou of him, that opened thine eyes? And he said, That he is a prophet.

<sup>18</sup> Therefore the Jews believed not of him, that he was blind, and had seen, till they called his father and mother, that had seen.

 $^{19}$  And they asked them, and said, Is this your son, which ye say was born blind? how then seeth he now?

<sup>20</sup> His father and mother answered to them, and said, We know, that this is our son, and that he was born blind;

- <sup>21</sup> but how he seeth now, we know not, or who opened his eyes, we know not; ask ye him, he hath age, speak he of himself, (or you ask him, he is old enough, yea, let him speak for himself).
- <sup>22</sup> His father and mother said these things, for they dreaded the Jews; for then the Jews had conspired, that if any man acknowledged him (as) Christ, he should be done out of the synagogue. (His father and mother said these things, for they feared the Jews; for then the Jews had conspired together, that if anyone acknowledged him as the Messiah, they would be put out of the synagogue.)
- <sup>23</sup> Therefore his father and mother said, That he hath age, ask ye him. (And so his father and mother said, He is old enough, you ask him.)
- <sup>24</sup> Therefore again they called the man, that was blind, and said to him, Give thou glory to God; we know, that this man is a sinner.
- <sup>25</sup> Then he said, If he is a sinner, I know not; one thing I know, that when I was blind, now I see. (Then he said, If he is a sinner, I do not know; but the one thing I do know, is that before I was blind, and now I can see.)
- <sup>26</sup> Therefore they said to him, What did he (do) to thee? how opened he thine eyes?
- <sup>27</sup> He answered to them, I said to you now, and ye heard (me); what will ye again hear (it)? whether ye will be made his disciples? (He answered to them, I told you before, and ye heard me; why will ye hear it again? will ye also be made his disciples?)
- <sup>28</sup> Therefore they cursed him, and said, Be thou (made) his disciple; we be [the] disciples of Moses.
- <sup>29</sup> We know, that God spake to Moses; but we know not this (man), of whence he is.
- <sup>30</sup> That man answered, and said to them, For in this is a wonderful thing, that ye know not, of whence he is, and he hath opened mine eyes.
- <sup>31</sup> And we know, that God heareth not sinful men, but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, he heareth him.
- <sup>32</sup> From the world it is not heard (of), that any man opened the eyes of a blind-born man (or of someone born blind);

- <sup>33</sup> [no] but this man were of God, he might not do anything. (unless this man was from God, he could not do anything.)
- <sup>34</sup>They answered, and said to him, Thou art all born in sins, and teachest thou us? [or and thou teachest us?] And they put him out.
- <sup>35</sup> Jesus heard, that they had put him out; and when he had found him, he said to him, Believest thou in the Son of God?
- <sup>36</sup> He answered, and said, Lord, who is he, (so) that I (can) believe in him?
- <sup>37</sup> And Jesus said to him, And thou hast seen him, and he it is, that speaketh with thee, (or and it is he, who speaketh with thee now).
  - <sup>38</sup> And he said, Lord, I believe. And he fell down, and worshipped him.
- <sup>39</sup> Therefore Jesus said to him, I came into this world, in doom (or for judgement), (so) that they that see not, see, and they that see, be made blind.
- <sup>40</sup> And some of the Pharisees heard, that were with him (or who were with him), and they said to him, Whether we be blind?
- <sup>41</sup> Jesus said to them, If ye were blind, ye should not have sin; but now (that) ye say, That we see, your sin dwelleth still.

- <sup>1</sup> Truly, truly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), he that cometh not in by the door into the fold of [the] sheep, but ascendeth [up] by another way, is a night thief and a day thief.
  - <sup>2</sup> But he that entereth by the door, is the shepherd of the sheep.
- <sup>3</sup> To this the porter openeth, and the sheep hear his voice, and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.
- <sup>4</sup> And when he hath done out [or he hath sent out] his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep (pur)sue him (or and the sheep follow him); for they know his voice.
- <sup>5</sup> But they (pur)sue not an alien, but flee from him; for they have not known the voice of aliens. (But they do not follow a stranger, but flee from him; for they do not know the voice of strangers.)
- <sup>6</sup> Jesus said to them this proverb; but they knew not what he spake to them.
- <sup>7</sup> Therefore Jesus said to them again, Truly, truly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), I am the door of the sheep.
- <sup>8</sup> As many as have come, were night thieves and day thieves, but the sheep heard not them (or but the sheep did not listen to them).
- <sup>9</sup>I am the door. If any man shall enter by me, he shall be saved; and he shall go in, and shall go out, and he shall find pastures.
- <sup>10</sup> A night thief cometh not, [no] but that he steal, slay, and lose, (or except to steal, kill, and destroy); and I came, (so) that they (can) have life, and have (it) more plenteously.
  - <sup>11</sup> I am a good shepherd; a good shepherd giveth his life for his sheep.
- <sup>12</sup> But an hired hind, and that is not the shepherd, (or But a hired hand, and who is not the shepherd), whose be not the sheep his own [or whose the sheep be not his own], seeth a wolf coming, and he leaveth the sheep, and fleeth; and the wolf ravisheth (or snatcheth up), and scattereth the sheep.

- <sup>13</sup> And the hired hind fleeth, for he is an hired hind, (or And the hired hand fleeth, for he is but a hired hand), and it pertaineth not to him of the sheep.
  - <sup>14</sup> I am a good shepherd, and I know my sheep, and my sheep know me.
- <sup>15</sup> As the Father hath known me, I know the Father; and I put (forth or lay down) my life for my sheep.
- <sup>16</sup> I have other sheep, that be not of this fold, and it behooveth me to bring them together, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be made one fold and one shepherd.
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore the Father loveth me, for I put (forth) my life, that again I take it. (And so the Father loveth me, for I lay down my life, so that I can receive it back again.)
- <sup>18</sup> No man taketh it from me, but I put it of myself. I have power to put it, and I have power to take it again. This commandment I have taken of my Father. (No one taketh it from me, but I lay it down by myself. I have the power to put it forth, and I have the power to receive it back again. This commandment I have received from my Father.)
  - <sup>19</sup> Again dissension was made among the Jews for these words.
- <sup>20</sup> And many of them said, He hath a devil, and maddeth, [or waxeth mad]; what hear ye him? (or why listen to him?)
- <sup>21</sup> Other men said, These words be not of a man that hath a devil. Whether the devil may open the eyes of blind men? [or Whether a devil may open the eyes of blind men?]
- <sup>22</sup> But the feasts of (the) hallowing of the temple (or the Feast or the Festival of Dedication) were made in Jerusalem, and it was winter.
  - <sup>23</sup> And Jesus walked in the temple, in (or on) the porch of Solomon.
- <sup>24</sup> Therefore the Jews came about him, and said to him, How long takest thou away our soul? if thou art Christ (or if thou art the Messiah), say thou to us openly [or plainly].
- <sup>25</sup> Jesus answered to them, I speak to you, and ye believe not; the works that I do in the name of my Father, bear witnessing of me (or testify about me).
  - <sup>26</sup> But ye believe not, for ye be not of my sheep.
- <sup>27</sup> My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they *(pur)*sue me (or and they follow me).
- <sup>28</sup> And I give to them everlasting life, and they shall not perish [into] without end, and none shall ravish them out of mine hand. (And I give them eternal life, and they shall never perish, and no one shall snatch them out of my hand.)
- <sup>29</sup> That thing that my Father gave to me, is more than all things; and no man may ravish (them), (or can snatch them), from my Father's hand.
  - <sup>30</sup> I and the Father be one.
  - <sup>31</sup> The Jews took up stones, to stone him.
- <sup>32</sup> Jesus answered to them, I have showed to you many good works of my Father, for which work of them stone ye me?
- <sup>33</sup> The Jews answered to him, We stone thee not of good work, but of blasphemy, (or We stone thee not for good works, but for thy blasphemy), and for thou, since thou art a man, makest thyself God.

- $^{34}$  Jesus answered to them, Whether it is not written in your law, That I said, Ye be gods?
- <sup>35</sup> If he said that they were gods, to whom the word of God was made, and the scripture may not be undone (or and the Scripture cannot be destroyed),
- <sup>36</sup> that that the Father hath hallowed, and hath sent into the world, ye say, That thou blasphemest, for I said, I am God's Son?
  - <sup>37</sup> If I do not the works of my Father, do not ye believe to me;
- <sup>38</sup> but if I do, though ye will not believe to me, believe ye to the works (or believe in the works); (so) that ye know and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in the Father.

<sup>39</sup> Therefore they sought to take (hold of) him, and he went out of their hands.

- <sup>40</sup> And he went again over (the) Jordan (or And he went over again to the other side of the Jordan River), into that place where John was first baptizing, and he dwelt there.
- <sup>41</sup> And many came to him, and said, For John did no miracle [or sign]; and all things whatever John said of this (man), were sooth (or were true).

42 And many believed in him.

CHAPTER 11

- <sup>1</sup> And there was a sick man, Lazarus of Bethany, of the castle of Mary and Martha, his sisters, (or in the village of Mary and Martha, his sisters).
- <sup>2</sup> And it was Mary, which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hairs, whose brother Lazarus was sick.

lovest, is sick.

- <sup>4</sup> And Jesus heard, and said to them, This sickness is not to the death, but for the glory of God, (so) that man's Son be glorified by him [or (so) that God's Son be glorified by it].
  - <sup>5</sup> And Jesus loved Martha, and her sister Mary, and Lazarus.
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore when Jesus heard, that he was sick, then he dwelled in the same place (for) two days.
  - <sup>7</sup> And after these things he said to his disciples, Go we again into Judea.
- 8 The disciples say to him, Master [or Rabbi], now the Jews sought to stone thee, and again goest thou thither? (The disciples said to him, Teacher, not long ago the Jews sought to stone thee there, and now thou goest there again?)
- <sup>9</sup> Jesus answered, Whether there be not twelve hours of the day? (or Be there not twelve hours in the day?) If any man wander in the day [or Whoever walketh in the day], he hurteth not (himself), for he seeth the light of this world.
- <sup>10</sup> But if he wander in the night (or But if he walk in the night), he stumbleth, for (the) light is not in (or with) him.
- <sup>11</sup> He said these things, and after these things he saith to them, Lazarus, our friend, sleepeth, but I go to raise him from sleep.
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore his disciples said, Lord, if he sleepeth, he shall be safe. (And so his disciples said, Lord, if he sleepeth, then he shall be secure or he shall be whole again.)
- <sup>13</sup> But Jesus had said of his death; but they guessed, that he said of [the] sleeping of sleep.

- <sup>14</sup> Then therefore Jesus said to them openly, Lazarus is dead;
- <sup>15</sup> and I have joy for you, that ye believe, for I was not there; but go we to him. (and I am happy for you, that your faith will increase, because I was not there; let us go to him.)
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore Thomas, that is said Didymus, said to (his) even-disciples, Go we also, that we die with him. (And Thomas, who is called the Twin, said to his fellow disciples, Let us also go, so that we can die with him.)
  - <sup>17</sup> And so Jesus came, and found him having then four days in the grave.
  - <sup>18</sup> And Bethany was beside Jerusalem, as it were fifteen furlongs.
- <sup>19</sup> And many of the Jews came to Mary and Martha, to comfort them of their brother (or to comfort them over their brother's death).
- <sup>20</sup> Therefore as Martha heard, that Jesus came, she ran to him; but Mary sat at home.
- <sup>21</sup> Therefore Martha said to Jesus, Lord, if thou haddest been here, my brother had not be dead, (or Lord, if thou haddest been here, my brother would not have died).
- <sup>22</sup> But now I know, that whatever things thou shall ask of God, God shall give to thee.
  - <sup>23</sup> Jesus saith to her, Thy brother shall rise again.
- <sup>24</sup> Martha saith to him, I know, that he shall rise again in the again-rising in the last day. (Martha said to him, I know, that he shall rise again at the resurrection on the Last Day.)
- <sup>25</sup> Jesus saith to her, I am again-rising and life (or I am the resurrection and the life); he that believeth in me, yea, though he be dead, he shall live;
- <sup>26</sup> and each that liveth [or and all that liveth], and believeth in me, shall not die [into] without end. Believest thou this thing?
- <sup>27</sup> She saith to him, Yea, Lord, I have believed, that thou art Christ, the Son of the living God, that hast come into this world. (She said to him, Yes, Lord, I do believe, that thou art the Messiah, the Son of the living God, who hath come into this world.)
- <sup>28</sup> And when she had said this thing, she went, and called Mary, her sister, in silence, and said, The Master is come, and calleth thee. (And after she had said this, she went back home, and called aside her sister Mary, and said, The Teacher hath come, and calleth for thee.)
  - <sup>29</sup> She, as she heard, arose anon (or got up at once), and came to him.
- <sup>30</sup> And Jesus came not yet into the castle (or And Jesus was not yet in the village), but he was yet in that place, where Martha had come to meet him.
- <sup>31</sup>Therefore the Jews that were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose swiftly, and went out, they *(pur)*sued her (or they followed her), and said, For she goeth to the grave, to weep there.
- <sup>32</sup> But when Mary was come (to) where Jesus was, she seeing him felled down to his feet, and said to him, Lord, if thou haddest been here, my brother had not be dead, (or Lord, if thou haddest been here, my brother would not have died).
- <sup>33</sup> Therefore when Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews weeping that were with her, he made noise in (his) spirit (or he sighed loudly), and (he was) troubled himself.
- 34 and said, Where have ye laid him? They said to him, Lord, come, and see.

- <sup>35</sup> And Jesus wept.
- <sup>36</sup> Therefore the Jews said, Lo! how he loved him.

<sup>37</sup> And some of them said, Whether this man that opened the eyes of the born-blind man, might not make that this (man) should not die?

<sup>38</sup> Therefore Jesus again making noise in himself, came to the grave. And there was a den, and a stone was laid thereon. (And so Jesus again sighing loudly, came to the tomb. And it was a cave, and a stone was laid against the entrance to it.)

<sup>39</sup> And Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith to him, Lord, he stinketh now, for he hath lain (there) four days [or soothly he is of four days dead].

<sup>40</sup> Jesus saith to her, Have I not said to thee, that if thou believest, thou shalt see the glory of God?

<sup>41</sup> Therefore they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I do thankings to thee, (or Father, I give thanks to thee), for thou hast heard me;

<sup>42</sup> and I knew, that thou *(for)*evermore hearest me, (or and I know, that thou always hearest me), but for the people that standeth about, I said (this), (so) that they believe, that thou hast sent me.

43 When he had said these things, he cried with a great voice, Lazarus, come forth, [or Lazarus, come thou out].

- <sup>44</sup> And anon he that was dead, came out, bound the hands and feet with bonds, and his face bound with a sudarium, [or (a) sweating cloth], (or a napkin). And Jesus saith to them, Unbind ye him, and suffer ye him to go forth. (And at once he who was dead, came out, and his hands and his feet were bound with bonds, and his face was bound with a cloth. And Jesus said to them, Unbind him, and allow him to go forth.)
- <sup>45</sup> Therefore many of the Jews that came to Mary and Martha, and saw what things Jesus did, believed in him.
- $^{46}$  But some of them went to the Pharisees, and said to them, what things Iesus had done.
- <sup>47</sup> Therefore the bishops (or And so the high priests), and the Pharisees gathered a council against Jesus, and said, What do we (do)? for this man doeth many miracles [or many signs].
- <sup>48</sup> If we leave him thus, all men shall believe in him; and (then the) Romans shall come, and shall take (away) our place, and our folk. (If we leave him alone, everyone shall believe in him; and then the Romans shall come, and shall destroy our Temple, and our nation.)

<sup>49</sup> But one of them, Caiaphas by name, when he was bishop of that year (or who was the High Priest that year), said to them, Ye know nothing,

- <sup>50</sup> nor think, that it speedeth to you, that one man die for the people, and that all the folk perish not. (nor understand, that it is more expedient for you, that one man should die for the people, so that the whole nation shall not perish.)
- <sup>51</sup> But he said not this thing of himself, but when he was bishop of that year, he prophesied, that Jesus was to die for the folk, (But he did not say this of his own accord, but as he was the High Priest that year, he had prophesied, that Jesus was to die for the nation,)

<sup>52</sup> and not only for the folk (or and not only die for the nation), but that he should gather into one the sons of God that were scattered.

<sup>53</sup> Therefore from that day (forth) they thought, (or sought), (or made plans) for (how) to slay him.

<sup>54</sup> Therefore Jesus walked not then openly among the Jews; but he went into a country(side) beside [the] desert (or but he went into the countryside near the desert), into a city, that is said Ephraim, and there he dwelled with his disciples.

<sup>55</sup> And the pask of the Jews was nigh, and many of the country went up to Jerusalem before the pask, to hallow themselves. (And the Passover of the Jews was near, and many from the countryside, or and many from all over the country, went up to Jerusalem before the Passover, to sanctify or to purify themselves.)

temple, What guess ye, for he cometh not to the feast day?

<sup>57</sup>For the bishops, and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that if any man know where he is, that he show (them), that they take him. (For the high priests, and the Pharisees had given an order, that if anyone knew where he was, that they should tell them, so that they could take hold of him.)

CHAPTER 12

- <sup>1</sup>Therefore Jesus before six days of pask came to Bethany, where Lazarus had been dead, whom Jesus raised (from the dead). (And so six days before the Passover Jesus came to Bethany, where Lazarus had died, whom Jesus had raised from the dead.)
- <sup>2</sup> And they made to him a supper there, and Martha ministered to him; and Lazarus was one of the men that sat at the meat with him. (And they made a supper for him there, and Martha served him; and Lazarus was one of the men who sat at the meal with him.)
- <sup>3</sup> Therefore Mary took a pound of ointment of true nard [or spikenard] precious, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hairs; and the house was full-filled with the savour of the ointment.

said,

- <sup>5</sup> Why is not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to poor men? (Why is this ointment not sold for three hundred pennies, and that given to the poor?)
- <sup>6</sup> But he said this thing, not for it pertained to him of needy men, but for he was a thief, and had the purses, and bare those things that were sent (into them), (or and carried off whatever was put into them).

<sup>7</sup> Therefore Jesus said, Suffer ye her, that into the day of my burying she keep that (which is left); (And so Jesus said, Allow her, or Let her, do this, so that on the day of my burial she can use what is left;)

<sup>8</sup> for ye shall *(for)*evermore have poor men with you, but ye shall not *(for)*evermore have me. (for ye shall always have the poor with you, but ye shall not always have me.)

<sup>9</sup> Therefore much people of the Jews knew, that Jesus was there; and they came, not only for Jesus, but to see Lazarus, whom he had raised from death [or whom he raised from (the) dead].

<sup>10</sup> But the princes of (the) priests thought, or sought, to slay Lazarus, (And so the high priests also made plans to kill Lazarus,)

- 2407
- <sup>11</sup> for many of the Jews went away for him, and believed in Jesus. 12 But on the morrow much people, that came together to the feast day, when they had heard, that Jesus came to Jerusalem, (But the next morning, many people who had come for the Feast Day, or the Festival, when they had heard, that Jesus had come to Jerusalem,)

- 13 took branches of palms, and came forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna, blessed is the king of Israel, that cometh in the name of the Lord
  - <sup>14</sup> And Jesus found a young ass, and sat on him, as it is written,
- 15 The daughter of Sion, do not thou dread, (or The daughter of Zion, do not fear); lo! thy king cometh, sitting on an ass's foal [or sitting on the colt of a she-assl.
- <sup>16</sup> His disciples knew not (at) first these things, but when Jesus was glorified, then they had mind, that these things were written of him, and these things they did to him. (His disciples at first did not understand the meaning of these things, but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered, that these things were written about him, and that the people had done these things for him.)
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore the people bare witnessing, that was with him, when he called Lazarus from the grave, and raised him from death [or and raised him from (the) dead]. (And so the people, who were with him, when he called Lazarus out of the tomb, and raised him from the dead, testified about that.)
- 18 And therefore the people came, and met with him, for they heard that he had done this sign (or this miracle).
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore the Pharisees said to themselves, Ye see, that we profit nothing; lo! all the world hath gone after him.
- 20 And there were some heathen men, of them that had come up to worship in the feast day. (And there were some Gentiles, among those who had come to worship on the Feast Day or at the Festival.)
- <sup>21</sup> And these came to Philip, that was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and prayed him, and said, Sire, we will see Jesus, [or Sire, we would (like to) see Jesus]. (And they came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and beseeched him, and said, Sir, we want to see Jesus.)
- <sup>22</sup> Philip cometh, and saith to Andrew; and again Andrew and Philip said to Jesus.
- <sup>23</sup> And Jesus answered to them, and said, The hour cometh, that man's Son be clarified, (or The time hath come, for man's Son to be glorified).
- <sup>24</sup> Truly, truly, I say to you, [no] but a corn of wheat fall into the earth. and be dead, (or Truly, I tell you the truth, unless a kernel, or a grain, of wheat fall into the earth, and it die), it dwelleth alone; but if it be dead, it bringeth [forth] much fruit.
- <sup>25</sup> He that loveth his life, shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world, keepeth it into everlasting life (or keepeth it safe for eternal life).
- <sup>26</sup> If any man serve me, (pur)sue he me (or follow me); and where I am, there my minister [or my servant] shall be. If any man serve me, my Father shall worship him (or my Father shall honour him).
- <sup>27</sup> Now my soul is troubled, and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour; but therefore I came into this hour for but for that thing I came into this hour];

<sup>28</sup> Father, clarify thy name. And a voice came from heaven, and said, And I have clarified (it), and again I shall clarify (it). (Father, glorify thy name. And a voice came from heaven, and said, I have glorified it, and I shall glorify it again.)

<sup>29</sup> Therefore the people that stood (there), and heard, said, that thunder was made; other men said, an angel spake to him.

<sup>30</sup> Jesus answered, and said, This voice came not for me, but for you.

<sup>31</sup> Now is the doom of the world, now the prince of this world shall be cast out. (Now is the Judgement of this world, now the Prince of this world shall be thrown out.)

<sup>32</sup> And if I shall be enhanced from the earth, I shall draw all things to myself. (And if I shall be raised or lifted up from the earth, then I shall draw everyone to me.)

<sup>33</sup> And he said this thing, signifying by what death he was to die.

<sup>34</sup> And the people answered to him, We have heard of the law, that Christ dwelleth [into] without end; and how sayest thou, It behooveth man's Son to be areared? Who is this man's Son? (And the people said to him, We have heard in the Law, that the Messiah remaineth forever; so how sayest thou, It behooveth the Son of man to be raised up? Who is this Son of man?)

<sup>35</sup> And then Jesus saith to them, Yet a little light is in you; walk ye, the while ye have light, that (the) darkness(es) catch you not; he that wandereth in (the) darknesses, knoweth not whither he goeth. (And then Jesus said to them, Yet a little light is in you, or There is but a little light left to you; walk ye, the while ye have the light, so that the darkness catch you not; he who walketh, or who goeth, in the darkness, knoweth not where he goeth.)

<sup>36</sup> While ye have (the) light, believe ye in the light, (so) that ye be the children of (the) light. Jesus spake these things, and went, and hid him(self) from them.

<sup>37</sup> And when he had done so many miracles [or so many signs] before them, they believed not in him; (And though he had done so many miracles before them, they still did not believe in him;)

<sup>38</sup> that the word of Esaias, the prophet, should be fulfilled, which he said, Lord, who hath believed to our hearing, and to whom is the arm of the Lord showed? (so that the word of the prophet Isaiah would be fulfilled, when he said, Lord, who hath believed our message, and to whom is the Lord's power shown or revealed?)

<sup>39</sup> Therefore they might not believe, for again Esaias said, (And so they could not believe, for again Isaiah said,)

<sup>40</sup> He hath blinded their eyes, and hath made hard the heart(s) of them, (so) that they see not with (their) eyes, and understand [not] with (their) heart(s); and that they be converted, and I heal them.

<sup>41</sup> Esaias said these things, when he saw the glory of him, and spake of him. (Isaiah said these things, when he saw his glory, and spoke about him.)

<sup>42</sup> Nevertheless of the princes, many believed in him, but for the Pharisees they acknowledged not, that they should not be put out of the synagogue; (Nevertheless, among the leaders, many believed in him, but because of the Pharisees they did not acknowledge him publicly, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue;)

<sup>43</sup> for they loved the glory of men, more than the glory of God.

- <sup>44</sup> And Jesus cried, and said, He that believeth in me, believeth not in me, but in him that sent me (or but in him who sent me).
  - 45 He that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.

<sup>46</sup> I (as a) light came into the world, that each that believeth in me, dwell not in (the) darknesses. (I came as a light into the world, so that everyone who believeth in me, remain not in darkness.)

<sup>47</sup> And if any man heareth my words, and keepeth them not, I deem him not; for I came not, that I deem the world, but that I make the world safe. (And if anyone heareth my words, and obeyeth them not, I do not judge that person; for I came not, that I judge the world, but that I save the world.)

- <sup>48</sup> He that despiseth me, and taketh not my words, hath him that shall judge him; that word that I have spoken [or the word that I have spoken], shall deem him in the last day. (He who despiseth me, and receiveth not my words, hath that which shall judge him; yea, the words that I have spoken, will judge him on the Last Day.)
- <sup>49</sup> For I have not spoken of myself, but that Father that sent me, [he] gave to me a commandment, what I shall say, and what I shall speak.
- <sup>50</sup> And I know, that his commandment is everlasting life (or that his command bringeth eternal life); therefore those things that I speak, as the Father said to me, so I speak.

- <sup>1</sup> But before the feast day of pask, Jesus witting, that his hour is come, [or Jesus witting, for his hour cometh], (But before the Feast Day, or the Festival, of Passover, Jesus knowing, that his hour had come), that he pass from this world to the Father, when he had loved his that were in the world, into the end he loved them.
- <sup>2</sup> And when the supper was made, when the devil had put then into the heart, that Judas of Simon Iscariot should betray him, [And the supper made, when the devil had sent now into the heart of Judas of Simon Iscariot, that he should betray him,]
- <sup>3</sup> he witting (or knowing) that the Father gave all things to him into his hands, and that he went out from God, and (now) goeth (back) to God,
- <sup>4</sup> he riseth from the supper, and doeth off his clothes; and when he had taken a linen cloth, he girded him(self).
- <sup>5</sup> And afterward he put water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe (them) with the linen cloth, with which he was girded.
- <sup>6</sup> And so he came to Simon Peter, and Peter saith to him, Lord, washest thou my feet?
- <sup>7</sup> Jesus answered, and said to him, What I do, thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know afterward.
- <sup>8</sup> Peter saith to him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered to him, If I shall not wash thee, thou shalt not have (any) part with me.
- <sup>9</sup> Simon Peter saith to him, Lord, not only my feet, but both the hands and the head.
- <sup>10</sup> Jesus saith to him, He that is washed, hath no need but that he wash the feet, but he is all clean (or then he is altogether clean); and ye be clean, but not all.
- <sup>11</sup> For he knew, who it was that should betray him (or who it was that would betray him); therefore he said, Ye be not all clean.

- <sup>12</sup> And so after that he had washed their feet, he took his clothes; and when he was set to (the) meat again, again he said to them, Ye know what I have done to you [or Know ye what I have done to you(?)]. (And so after that he had washed their feet, he took his clothes; and when he had sat down at the meal again, he said to them, Do ye understand what I have done for you?)
- <sup>13</sup> Ye call me Master and Lord, and ye say well; for I am. (Ye call me Teacher and Lord, and ye say correctly; for that is what I am.)
- <sup>14</sup> Therefore if I, Lord and Master, have washed your feet, and ye shall wash one another's feet [or ye owe to wash another the other's feet]; (And so, if I, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, ye ought to wash one another's feet;)
- <sup>15</sup> for I have given to you (an) ensample, that as I have done to you, so do ye.
- $^{1\acute{6}}$  Truly, I ruly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), the servant is not greater than his lord, neither an apostle is greater than he that sent him.
  - <sup>17</sup> If ye know these things, ye shall be blessed, if ye do them.
- <sup>18</sup> I say not of (or about) all (of) you, (for) I know which I have chosen; but that the scripture be fulfilled, He that eateth my bread, shall raise his heel against me.
- <sup>19</sup> Truly, I say to you before it be done, (so) that when it is done, ye believe that I am (or ye believe who I am).
- $^{20}$  Truly, truly, I say to you, he that taketh whomever I shall send, receiveth me, (or Truly, I tell you the truth, he who receiveth whomever I shall send, receiveth me); and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.
- $^{21}$  When Jesus had said these things, he was troubled in spirit, and witnessed (or testified), and said, Truly, truly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), that one of you shall betray me.
- $^{22}$  Therefore the disciples looked (around) together, doubting of whom he said.
- <sup>23</sup> And so one of his disciples was resting in the bosom of Jesus, whom Jesus loved. (And one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved, was sitting close beside Jesus.)
- <sup>24</sup> Therefore Simon Peter beckoned to him, and said to him, Who is it, of whom he saith?
- <sup>25</sup> And so when he had rested again on the breast of Jesus, he saith to him, Lord, who is it? (And so when he was close beside Jesus again, he asked him, Lord, who is it?)
- <sup>26</sup> Jesus answered, He it is, to whom I shall areach a sop of bread. And when he had wet bread [or And when he had dipped in (some) bread], he gave (it) to Judas of Simon Iscariot.
- $^{27}$  And after the morsel, then Satan entered into him. And Jesus saith to him, That thing that thou doest, do thou swiftly.
- <sup>28</sup> And none of them that sat at the meat knew (or And none of those who sat at the meal knew), whereto [or what thing] he said to him.
- $^{29}$  For some guessed, for Judas had (the) purses, that Jesus had said to him, Buy thou those things, that be needful to us to the feast day, (or Go and buy for us those things, that we need for the Feast Day or for the Festival), or that he should give something to needy men.

- <sup>30</sup> Therefore when he had taken the morsel, he went out anon (or he left at once); and it was night.
- <sup>31</sup> Therefore when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now man's Son is clarified, and God is clarified in him. (And so when Judas had gone out, Jesus said, Now man's Son is glorified, and God is glorified in him.)

<sup>32</sup> If God is clarified in him, and God shall clarify him in himself, and anon (or at once) he shall clarify him. (If God is glorified in him, then God shall glorify him in himself, and he shall glorify him now.)

<sup>33</sup> Little sons, yet a little I am with you; ye shall seek me, and, as I said to the Jews, Whither I go, ye may not come, (or Where I go, ye cannot come); and to you I say (it) now.

<sup>34</sup> I give to you a new commandment, that ye love together, as I have loved you, and that ye love together. (I give you a new commandment, that ye love one another, as I have loved you, yea, that ye love one another.)

35 In this thing all men shall know, that ye be my disciples, if ye have love together (or if ye love one another).

<sup>36</sup> Simon Peter saith to him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered, Whither I go, thou mayest not (pur)sue me now, but thou shalt (pur)sue me afterward. (Simon Peter said to him, Lord, where goest thou? Jesus answered, Where I go, thou cannot follow me now, but thou shalt follow me later.)

<sup>37</sup> Peter saith to him, Why may I not (pur)sue thee now? I shall put (forth) my life for thee. (Peter said to him, Why can I not follow thee now? I shall lay down my life for thee.)

<sup>38</sup> Jesus answered, Thou shalt put (forth)(or lay down) thy life for me? Truly, I say to thee, (or Truly, I tell thee the truth), the cock shall not crow, till thou shalt deny me thrice.

<sup>39</sup> And he saith to his disciples,

CHAPTER 14

- <sup>1</sup> Be not your heart afraid [or distroubled], nor dread it, (or Let not your heart be troubled, nor let it have fear or let it be fearful); ye believe in God, and believe ye in me.
- <sup>2</sup> In the house of my Father be many dwellings; if anything less, I had said to you, for I go to make ready to you a place (or for I go to prepare a place for you).
- <sup>3</sup> And if I go, and make ready to you a place, (or And if I go, and prepare a place for you), again I [shall] come, and I shall take you (un)to myself, (so) that where I am, ye be.

- <sup>5</sup> Thomas saith to him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest, and how may we know the way? (Thomas said to him, Lord, we do not know where thou goest, so how can we know the way?)
- <sup>6</sup> Jesus saith to him, I am (the) way, (the) truth, and (the) life; no man cometh to the Father, but by me.
- <sup>7</sup> If ye had known me, soothly ye had known also my Father; and afterward ye shall know him, and ye have seen him.
  - <sup>8</sup> Philip saith to him, Lord, show to us the Father, and it sufficeth to us.

- <sup>9</sup> Jesus saith to him, So long (a) time I am with you, and have ye not known me? Philip, he that seeth me, seeth also the Father. How sayest thou, show to us the Father?
- <sup>10</sup> Believest thou not, that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me? The words that I speak to you, I speak not of myself; but the Father himself that dwelleth in me, [he] doeth the works.
- <sup>11</sup> Believe ye not, that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me? Else believe ye for those works.
- <sup>12</sup> Truly, truly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), if a man believeth in me, also he shall do the works that I do; and he shall do greater works than these, for I go to the Father. [Truly, truly, I say to you, he that believeth in me, and he shall do the works that I do; and he shall do more works than these, for I go to the father.]
- $^{13}$  And whatever thing ye ask the Father in my name, I shall do this thing, (so) that the Father be glorified in the Son.
  - <sup>14</sup> If ye ask anything in my name, I shall do it.
- <sup>15</sup> If ye love me, keep ye my commandments (or obey my commandments).
- <sup>16</sup> And I shall pray the Father, and he shall give to you another Comforter, the Spirit of truth, to dwell with you [into] without end (or to remain with you forever);
- <sup>17</sup> which Spirit the world may not take (or which Spirit the world cannot receive), for it seeth him not, neither knoweth him. But ye shall know him, for he shall dwell with you, and he shall be in you.
  - <sup>18</sup> I shall not leave you fatherless, I shall come to you.
- <sup>19</sup> Yet a little, and the world seeth not now me [or and the world seeth not me now]; but ye shall see me, for I live, and ye shall live.
- <sup>20</sup> In that day ye shall know, that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.
- <sup>21</sup> He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them (or obeyeth them), he it is that loveth me; and he that loveth me, shall be loved of my Father (or shall be loved by my Father), and I shall love him, and I shall show to him myself.
- <sup>22</sup> Judas saith to him, not he of Iscariot, Lord, what is done, (or Lord, why is it), that thou shalt show thyself to us, and not to the world?
- <sup>23</sup> Jesus answered, and said to him, If any man loveth me, he shall keep my word(s), (or he shall obey my words); and my Father shall love him, and we shall come to him, and we shall dwell with him.
- <sup>24</sup> He that loveth me not, keepeth not my words (or obeyeth not my words); and the word which ye have heard, is not mine, but the Father's, that sent me.
  - <sup>25</sup> These things I have spoken to you, dwelling among you;
- <sup>26</sup> but that Holy Ghost, the Comforter, whom the Father shall send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and shall show, [or remember], to you all things, whatever things I shall say to you. (but the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, whom the Father shall send in my name, he shall teach you everything, and shall remind you of everything, whatever I have said to you.)
- <sup>27</sup> Peace I leave to you, my peace I give to you; not as the world giveth, I give to you; be not your heart afraid [or troubled], nor dread it, (or let not your heart be troubled, nor let it have fear or let it be fearful).

- <sup>28</sup> Ye have heard, that I said to you, I go, and (then I shall) come (back) to you. If ye loved me, forsooth ye should have joy, for I go to the Father, for the Father is greater than I.
- <sup>29</sup> And now I have said to you, before that it be done, (so) that when it is done, ye believe (it).
- <sup>30</sup> Now I shall not speak many things with you; for the prince of this world cometh, and hath not in me anything, [or and he hath not anything in me], (or and he hath no power over me).
- <sup>31</sup> But (so) that the world know, that I love the Father; and as the Father gave a commandment to me, so I do (it). Rise ye, go we hence, (or Get up, let us go now).

- <sup>1</sup> I am a very vine, and my Father is an earth-tiller. (I am the true vine, and my Father is the farmer.)
- <sup>2</sup> Each branch in me that beareth not fruit, he shall take away it (or he shall take it away); and each that beareth fruit, he shall purge it, (so) that it bear the more fruit. [Each scion, or branch, not bearing fruit in me, he shall do it away; and each that beareth fruit, he shall purge it, (so) that it bear more fruit.]
- <sup>3</sup> Now ye be (made) clean, for the word that I have spoken to you. (Now ye be cleansed, or ye be purified, by the words which I have spoken to you.)
- <sup>4</sup> Dwell ye in me, and I in you; as a branch may not make fruit of itself, [no] but it dwell in the vine, so neither ye, [no] but ye dwell in me. (Remain in me, and I in you; for a branch cannot make fruit by itself, unless it remain on the vine, so neither can ye, unless ye remain in me.)
- <sup>5</sup> I am the vine, ye be the branches. Who that dwelleth (or remaineth) in me [or He that dwelleth in me], and I in him, this beareth much fruit, for without me ye may nothing do (or for ye can do nothing without me).
- <sup>6</sup> If any man dwelleth not in me, he shall be cast out as a branch, and shall wax dry; and they shall gather him (up), and they shall cast him into the fire, and he shall burn. (If anyone remaineth not in me, he shall be thrown out like a branch, and shall grow dry; and they shall gather him up, and they shall throw him into the fire, and he shall be burned up.)
- <sup>7</sup> If ye dwell in me, and my words dwell in you, whatever thing ye will, ye shall ask (for it), and it shall be done to you. (If ye remain in me, and my words remain in you, whatever that ye want, ye shall ask for it, and it shall be done for you.)
- <sup>8</sup> In this thing my Father is clarified (or My Father is glorified in this), that ye bring forth full much fruit, and that ye be made my disciples.
- <sup>9</sup> As my Father loved me, I have loved you; dwell ye in my love (or remain in my love).
- <sup>10</sup> If ye keep my commandments, ye shall dwell in my love; as I have kept the commandments of my Father, and dwell in his love. (If ye obey my commandments, ye shall remain in my love; as I have obeyed my Father's commandments, and remain in his love.)
- <sup>11</sup> These things I spake to you, (so) that my joy be in you, and your joy be full-filled (or and that your joy be filled full).

- 12 This is my commandment, that ye love together (or that ye love one another), as I have loved you.
- 13 No man hath more love than this, that a man put (forth) his life for his friends.
  - <sup>14</sup> Ye be my friends if ye do those things, that I command to you.
- 15 Now I shall not call you servants, for the servant knoweth not, what his lord shall do; but I have called you friends, for all (the) things whatever I heard of my Father, I have made known to you.
- <sup>16</sup> Ye have not chosen me, but I chose you; and I have put you, that ye go, and bring forth fruit, and your fruit dwell; that whatever thing ye ask the Father in my name, he give to you. (Ye have not chosen me, but I chose you; and I have ordained you, so that ye go, and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit remain; so that whatever ye ask the Father for in my name, he shall give it to you.)
- 17 These things I command to you, that ye love together (or that ye love one another).
  - <sup>18</sup> If the world hate you, know ye, that it had me in hate rather than you.
- <sup>19</sup> If ye had been of the world, the world should love that thing that was his (or the world would love that which was its own); but for ye be not of the world, but I chose you from the world, therefore the world hateth vou.
- <sup>20</sup> Have ye mind of my word(s), which I said to you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have pursued me, they shall pursue you also; if they have kept my word, they shall keep yours also. (Remember my words, which I said to you, The servant is not greater than his lord or master. If they have persecuted me, they shall also persecute you; if they have obeyed my words, they shall also obey yours.)
- 21 But they shall do to you all these things for my name, for they know not him that sent me.
- <sup>22</sup> If I had not come, and had not spoken to them, they should not have sin; but now they have none excusation [or not excusing] of their sin. (If I had not come, and had not spoken to them, they would not be guilty of sin; but now they have no excuse for their sin.)
  - <sup>23</sup> He that hateth me, hateth also my Father.
- <sup>24</sup> If I had not done the works in them, which none other man did, they should not have sin, (or If I had not done the works among them, which no other man hath ever done, they would not be guilty of sin); but now both they have seen, and have hated me and my Father.

25 But that the word be fulfilled, that is written in their law, For they had me in hate without cause. (So that the word be fulfilled, that is written in their Law, For they hated me for no good reason.)

- <sup>26</sup> But when the Comforter shall come, which I shall send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, which cometh forth [or proceedeth] of the Father, he shall bear witnessing of me; (But when the Comforter shall come, whom I shall send to you from the Father, yea the Spirit of Truth, who cometh forth from the Father, he shall testify about me;)
- <sup>27</sup> and ye shall bear witnessing (or ye shall testify), for ye be with me from the beginning.

CHAPTER 16

<sup>1</sup> These things I have spoken to you, (so) that ye be not caused to stumble.

- <sup>2</sup> They shall make you without the synagogues, but the hour cometh, that each man that slayeth you, deem that he doeth service to God. (They shall put you out of the synagogues, and the time cometh, when each man who killeth you, shall think that he doeth a service to God.)
- $^{3}$  And they shall do to you these things, for they have not known the Father, neither me.
- <sup>4</sup> But these things I spake to you, that when the hour of them shall come, ye have mind, (or so that when their time shall come, ye shall remember), that I said (this) to you. I said not to you these things from the beginning, for I was with you.
- <sup>5</sup> And now I go to him that sent me, and no man of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? (And now I go to him who sent me, and none of you asketh me, Where goest thou?)
- <sup>6</sup> but for I have spoken to you these things, heaviness [or sorrow] hath full-filled your heart(s). (but because I have spoken these things to you, now sorrow hath filled your hearts full.)
- <sup>7</sup> But I say to you (the) truth, it speedeth to you, that I go, (or But I tell you the truth, it is more expedient for you, that I go away); for if I go not forth, the Comforter shall not come to you; but if I go forth, I shall send him to you. [But I say to you truth, it speedeth to you, that I go; soothly if I shall not go away, the comforter shall not come to you; forsooth if I shall go away, I shall send him to you.]
- <sup>8</sup> And when he cometh, he shall reprove the world of sin, and of rightwiseness, and of doom, (And when he cometh, he shall prove the world wrong about sin, and about righteousness, and about judgement.)
  - <sup>9</sup> Of sin (or About sin), for they have not believed in me;
- $^{10}\,\mathrm{and}$  of rightwiseness (or and about righteousness), for I go to the Father, and now ye shall not see me;
- <sup>11</sup> but of doom, for the prince of this world is now deemed. (and about judgement, for the Prince of this world is now judged.)
- <sup>12</sup> Yet I have many things to say to you, but ye may not bear them now (or but ye cannot bear them now).
- <sup>13</sup> But when the Spirit of truth cometh, he shall teach you all truth; for he shall not speak of himself, but whatever things he shall hear, he shall speak; and he shall tell to you those things that be to come.
- $^{14}$  He shall clarify me, for of mine he shall take, and shall tell to you. (He shall glorify me, for he shall receive it from me, and then he shall tell it to you.)
- <sup>15</sup> All things, whatever [things] the Father hath, be mine; therefore I said to you, that of mine he shall take, and (then) shall tell to you. (Everything, whatever the Father hath, is mine; and so I said to you, that he shall receive it from me, and then he shall tell it to you.)
- <sup>16</sup> A little, and then ye shall not see me; and again a little, and ye shall see me, for I go to the Father.
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore some of his disciples said together, What is this thing that he saith to us, A little, and ye shall not see me; and again a little, and ye shall see me, for I go to the Father?
- <sup>18</sup> Therefore they said, What is this that he saith to us, A little? we know not what he speaketh.

- <sup>19</sup> And Jesus knew, that they would ask him, and he said to them, Of this thing ye seek among you(rselves), for I said, A little, and ye shall not see me; and again a little, and ye shall see me.
- <sup>20</sup> Truly, truly, I say to you, (or Truly, I tell you the truth), that ye shall mourn and weep, but the world shall have joy; and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall turn into joy.
- <sup>21</sup> A woman when she beareth (a) child, hath heaviness [or sorrow], for her time is come; but when she hath born a son, now she thinketh not on the pain, for (or because of her) joy, for a man is born into the world.

<sup>22</sup> And therefore ye have now sorrow, but again I shall see you, and your heart(s) shall have joy, and no man shall take from you your joy.

- <sup>23</sup> And in that day ye shall not ask (of) me anything; truly, truly, I say to you, if ye ask the Father (for) anything in my name, he shall give [it] to you. (And on that day ye shall ask nothing of me; truly, I tell you the truth, if ye ask the Father for anything in my name, he shall give it to you.)
- <sup>24</sup> Till now ye (have) asked nothing in my name; ask ye, and ye shall take, (or ask, and ye shall receive), (so) that your joy be full.
- <sup>25</sup> I have spoken to you these things in proverbs; the hour cometh, when now I shall not speak to you in proverbs, but openly of my Father I shall tell to you [or but openly of my Father I shall tell you].
- <sup>26</sup> In that day ye shall ask in my name; and I say not to you, that I shall pray (to) the Father for you;
- <sup>27</sup> for the Father himself loveth you, for ye have loved me, and have believed, that I went out from God.
- <sup>28</sup> I went out from the Father, and I came into the world; again I leave the world, and go to the Father.
- $^{29}\,\mathrm{His}$  disciples said to him, Lo! now thou speakest openly, and thou sayest no proverb.
- <sup>30</sup> Now we know, that thou knowest all things; and it is not need(ful) to thee, [or and it is no need to thee], (or and there is no need), that any man ask thee (anything more). In this thing we believe, that thou wentest out from God.
  - <sup>31</sup> Jesus answered to them, Now ye believe.
- <sup>32</sup> Lo! the hour cometh, and now it cometh, that ye be scattered, each into his own things, and that ye leave me alone; and I am not alone (or but I am not alone), for the Father is with me.
- <sup>33</sup> These things I have spoken to you, (so) that ye have peace in me; in the world ye shall have dis-ease, [or have pressing, or over-laying], (or in the world ye shall have pressure), but trust ye, I have overcome the world.

- <sup>1</sup> These things Jesus spake, and when he had cast [or (had) lifted] up his eyes into heaven, he said, Father, the hour cometh, clarify thy Son, that thy Son clarify thee. (Jesus spoke these things, and when he had lifted up his eyes unto heaven, he said, Father, the time cometh, glorify thy Son, so that thy Son can glorify thee.)
- <sup>2</sup> As thou hast given to him power on each flesh, [or man], (so) that (to) all (the) thing(s) that thou hast given to him, he give to them everlasting life. (For thou hast given him authority over everyone, so that to all those whom thou hast given to him, he can give them eternal life.)

- <sup>3</sup> And this is everlasting life, that they know thee very God alone, and whom thou hast sent, Jesus Christ. (And this is eternal life, that they know thee, the true God alone, and whom thou hast sent, Jesus Christ.)
- <sup>4</sup> I have clarified thee on the earth, I have ended the work, that thou hast given to me to do. (I have glorified thee on the earth, I have finished the work, that thou hast given me to do.)
- <sup>5</sup> And now, Father, clarify thou me at thyself, with the clearness that I had at thee, before the world was made. (And now, Father, glorify me before thee, or in thy presence, with the glory that I had with thee, before the world was made.)
- <sup>6</sup> I have showed thy name to those men, which thou hast given to me of the world; they were thine, and thou hast given them to me, and they have kept thy word (or and they have obeyed thy command).

<sup>7</sup> And now they have known, that all (the) things that thou hast given to me, be of thee.

- <sup>8</sup> For the words that thou hast given to me, I gave to them; and they have taken, and have known verily, that I went out from thee, (or and they have received it, and have truly known, that I went out from thee); and they believed, that thou sentest me.
- <sup>9</sup> I pray for them, I pray not for the world, but for them that thou hast given to me, for they be thine.
- <sup>10</sup> And all my things be thine, and thy things be mine; and I am clarified in them (or and I am glorified in them).
- <sup>11</sup> And now I am not in the world, and these be in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy name, which thou hast given to me, (so) that they be one, as we be(one).
- <sup>12</sup> While I was with them, I kept them in thy name; those that thou gavest to me, I kept, and none of them perished, [no] but the son of perdition, (so) that the scripture be fulfilled.
- $^{13}$  But now I come to thee, and I speak these things in the world, that they have my joy fulfilled in themselves. (And now I come to thee, but I say these things while I am still in the world, so that they have my joy filled full within themselves.)
- <sup>14</sup> I gave to them thy word, and the world had them in hate, (or I gave thy words to them; and the world hated them); for they be not of the world, as I am not of the world.
- <sup>15</sup> I pray not, that thou take them away from the world, but that thou keep them from evil.
  - <sup>16</sup> They be not of the world, as I am not of the world.
  - <sup>17</sup> Hallow thou them in (the) truth; thy word is truth.
  - <sup>18</sup> As thou sentest me into the world, also I sent them into the world.
- <sup>19</sup> And I hallow myself for them, (so) that also they be hallowed in (the) truth.
- <sup>20</sup> And I pray not only for them, but also for them that shall believe into me by the word of them; (And I pray not only for them, but also for those who shall believe in me because of their words;)
- <sup>21</sup> that all [they] be one, as thou, Father, in me, and I in thee, that also they in us be one, (or that they all be one, like thou, Father, in me, and I in thee, that also they be one in us); (so) that the world believe, that thou hast sent me.

<sup>22</sup> And I have given to them the clearness, that thou hast given to me, that they be one, as we be one; (And I have given them the glory, that thou hast given me, so that they be one, like we be one;)

<sup>23</sup> I in them, and thou in me, that they be ended into one (or so that they perfectly or completely become one); and (so) that the world know, that thou sentest me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved also me.

<sup>24</sup> Father, they which thou hast given to me, I will that where I am, that they be with me, that they see my clearness, that thou hast given to me; for thou lovedest me before the making of the world. (Father, they whom thou hast given to me, I desire that where I am, that they be with me, so that they can see my glory, which thou hast given to me; for thou hast loved me before the making or the creation of the world.)

<sup>25</sup> Father, rightfully the world knew thee not, [or Rightful Father, (or Righteous Father), the world knew not thee], but I knew thee, and these knew, that thou sentest me.

 $^{26}$  And I have made thy name known to them, and shall make known; that the love by which thou hast loved me, be in them, and I in them.

CHAPTER 18

<sup>1</sup> When Jesus had said these things, he went out with his disciples over the strand of Cedron, (or he went out with his disciples across the Kidron Stream, or the Kidron Gorge, or the Kidron Valley), where (there) was a yard, or a garden, into which he entered, and his disciples.

<sup>2</sup> And Judas, that betrayed him, knew the place, for oft Jesus came thither with his disciples.

- <sup>3</sup> Therefore when Judas had taken a company of knights, and ministers of the bishops, and of the Pharisees, he came thither with lanterns, and brands, and armours [or arms]. (And so when Judas had taken a company of soldiers, and servants, or officers, from the high priests, and from the Pharisees, he came there with lanterns, and torches, and weapons.)
- <sup>4</sup> And so Jesus witting all things that were to come on him, went forth, and said to them, Whom seek ye?
- <sup>5</sup> They answered to him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith to them, I am (he). And Judas that betrayed him, stood with them.
- <sup>6</sup> And when he said to them, I am (he), they went aback, and fell down on the earth. (And when he said to them, I am he, they went backward, and fell down on the ground.)

<sup>7</sup> And again he asked them, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.

- <sup>8</sup> He answered to them, I said to you, that I am (he); therefore if ye seek me, suffer ye these to go away, (or and so if ye came for me, allow these men to go away).
- <sup>9</sup> (So) That the word which he said should be fulfilled, For I lost not any of them, which thou hast given to me.
- <sup>10</sup> Therefore Simon Peter had a sword, and drew it out, and smote the servant of the bishop (or and struck the servant of the High Priest), and cut off his right ear. And the name of the servant was Malchus.
  - <sup>11</sup> Therefore Jesus said to Peter, Put thou thy sword into thy sheath; wilt thou not, that I drink the cup, that my Father gave to me?

<sup>12</sup> Therefore the company of knights, and the tribune, and the ministers of the Jews, took Jesus, and bound him, (And so the company of soldiers, and the tribune, and the servants, or the officers, of the Jews, took hold of Jesus, and bound him,)

- <sup>13</sup> and led him first to Annas; for he was [the] father of Caiaphas' wife, that was bishop of that year. (and first they led him to Annas; he was the father of the wife of Caiaphas, and Caiaphas was the High Priest that year.)
- <sup>14</sup> And it was Caiaphas, that gave counsel to the Jews, that it speedeth (or it was expedient), that one man (should) die for the people.
- <sup>15</sup> But Simon Peter *(pur)*sued Jesus, and another disciple; and that disciple was known to the bishop. And he entered with Jesus, into the hall of the bishop; (And Simon Peter, and another disciple, followed Jesus; and that disciple was known to Annas, who was a former High Priest. And he entered with Jesus, into the courtyard of the former High Priest;)
- <sup>16</sup> but Peter stood at the door withoutforth. Therefore that other disciple, that was known to the bishop, went out, and said to the woman that kept the door, and brought in Peter. (but Peter stood at the door, or at the gate, outside the courtyard. And so that other disciple, who was known to the former High Priest, went out, and spoke to the woman who kept watch at the door, or at the gate, and brought Peter in.)
- <sup>17</sup> And the damsel, (the) keeper of the door, said to Peter, Whether thou art also of this man's disciples? He said, I am not. (And the young woman, who kept watch at the door, or at the gate, said to Peter, Art thou also one of this man's disciples? He said, I am not.)
- <sup>18</sup> And the servants and [the] ministers stood at the coals (or And the servants and the officers stood by the coals), for it was cold, and they warmed them(selves); and Peter was with them, standing (there) and warming him(self).
- <sup>19</sup> And the bishop asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his teaching. (And the former High Priest asked Jesus about his disciples, and about his teaching.)
- <sup>20</sup> Jesus answered to him, I have spoken openly to the world; I taught evermore in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither all the Jews came together, and in huddles [or in private] I spake nothing. (Jesus answered to him, I have spoken openly to all the world; I always taught in the synagogue, and at the Temple, where all the Jews came together, and I never said anything in private.)
- <sup>21</sup> What askest thou me? (or Why askest me?) ask them that heard me, what I have spoken to them; lo! they know, what things I have said.
- <sup>22</sup> When he had said these things, one of the ministers standing nigh, gave a buffet to Jesus, and said, Answerest thou so to the bishop? (When he had said these things, one of the officers standing nearby, gave a blow to Jesus, and said, Answerest thou so to the High Priest?)
- $^{23}$  Jesus answered to him, If I have spoken evil, bear thou witnessing of evil; but if I said well, why smitest thou me? (Jesus said to him, If I have said anything wrong, testify to what that wrong was; but if I have spoken truthfully, why strikest me?)
- <sup>24</sup> And Annas sent him bound to Caiaphas, the bishop. (And then Annas, the former High Priest, sent Jesus while still in bonds, or still tied up, to Caiaphas, the current High Priest.)

- <sup>25</sup> And (meanwhile) Simon Peter stood, and warmed him*(self)*; and they said to him, Whether also thou art his disciple? (or Art thou also his disciple?) He denied, and said, I am not.
- <sup>26</sup> One of the bishop's servants (or One of the former High Priest's servants), (a) cousin of him, whose ear Peter cut off, said, Saw I thee not in the yard with him? [+or Whether I saw thee not in the garden with him?]

<sup>27</sup> And Peter again denied, and anon the cock crew. (And again Peter denied it, and at once the cock crowed.)

- <sup>28</sup> Then they led Jesus to Caiaphas, into the moot hall; and it was early, and they entered not into the moot hall, that they should not be defouled, but that they should eat pask. (And then they led Jesus from Caiaphas, to the Hall of Judgement, at the Governor's palace; and it was early in the morning, and they did not enter into the Hall of Judgement at the Governor's palace, so that they would not be defiled, and then they could still eat the Passover.)
- <sup>29</sup> Therefore Pilate went out withoutforth to them, and said, What accusing bring ye against this man? (And so Pilate went outside to them, and said, What accusation, or what charge, do ye make against this man?)
- <sup>30</sup> They answered, and said to him, If this were not a mis-doer, we had not betaken him to thee. (They said to him, If he were not a wrong-doer, we would not have delivered him, or we would not have brought him, to thee.)
- <sup>31</sup> Then Pilate saith to them, Take ye him, and deem ye him, after your law. And the Jews said to him, It is not leaveful to us, to slay any man; (Then Pilate said to them, Take him, and judge him yourselves, according to your Law. And the Jews said to him, It is not lawful for us, to kill any man;)
- <sup>32</sup> (so) that the word of Jesus should be fulfilled, which he said, signifying by what death he should die.
- <sup>33</sup> Therefore again Pilate entered into the moot hall, and called Jesus, and said to him, Art thou king of Jews? (And so Pilate went back into the Hall of Judgement in the Governor's palace, and called Jesus, and said to him, Art thou the King of the Jews?)
- <sup>34</sup> Jesus answered, and said to him, Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or others have said (it) to thee of me?
- <sup>35</sup> Pilate answered, Whether I am a Jew? Thy folk and the bishops betook thee to me (or Thy own people and the high priests have delivered thee to me); what hast thou done?
- <sup>36</sup> Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world; if my kingdom were of this world, my ministers would strive, that I should not be taken to the Jews; but now my kingdom is not here. (Jesus answered, My Kingdom is not of this world; if my Kingdom was of this world, my servants would fight, so that I would not be delivered, or handed over; to the Jews; but now my Kingdom is not here.)
- <sup>37</sup> And so Pilate said to him, Then art thou a king? Jesus answered, Thou sayest, that I am a king. To this thing I am born, and to this I came into the world, to bear witnessing to truth (or to testify to the truth). Each [man] that is of (the) truth, heareth my voice.
- <sup>38</sup> Pilate saith to him, What is truth? And when he had said this thing, again he went out to the Jews, and said to them, I find no cause (or crime worthy of death) in him, [or I find no cause against him], (or I find no case against him).

- <sup>39</sup> But it is a custom to you, that I deliver, [or that I leave], (or I let go), one to you in pask; therefore will ye that I deliver to you the king of Jews? (But it is a custom for you, that I release, or that I let go, one prisoner for you at Passover; and so do ye desire that I release to you the King of the Jews?)
- <sup>40</sup> All they cried again (or And they all cried again), and said, Not this (man), but Barabbas. And Barabbas was a thief.

CHAPTER 19

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore Pilate took then Jesus, and scourged him. [+Therefore then Pilate took Jesus, and scourged him.]
- <sup>2</sup> And (the) knights wreathed a crown of thorns, and set (it), [or put (it)], on his head, and did about him a cloth of purple, and came to him, (And the soldiers wove, or plaited, a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and did about him a cloak of purple, and came to him,)

<sup>3</sup> and said, Hail, king of Jews. And they gave to him buffets. (and said, Hail, King of the Jews! And they gave him blows on his head and his body.)

- <sup>4</sup> Again Pilate went out, and said to them, Lo! I bring him out to you, that ye know, that I find no cause (or crime worthy of death) in him. (And Pilate went out again, and said to them, Behold! I bring him back out to you now, so that ye know, that I find no case against him.)
- <sup>5</sup> And so Jesus went out, bearing a crown of thorns, and a cloth of purple (or and a cloak of purple). And he saith to them, Lo! the man.
- <sup>6</sup> But when the bishops and ministers had seen him, they cried, and said, Crucify, crucify him. Pilate saith to them, Take ye him, and crucify ye [him], for I find no cause (or crime worthy of death) in him. (But when the high priests, and their servants, or their officers, had seen him, they cried, and said, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate said to them, You take him, and you crucify him, for I find no case against him.)
- <sup>7</sup> The Jews answered to him, We have a law, and by the law he oweth to die (or and by that law he ought to die), for he made him(self) God's Son.
- <sup>8</sup> Therefore when Pilate had heard this word, he dreaded the more, [or he dreaded more], (or he was more fearful, or he was even more afraid).
- <sup>9</sup> And he went into the moot hall again, and said to Jesus, Of whence art thou? (or And he went into the Hall of Judgement again, and said to Jesus, Where do you come from?) But Jesus gave none answer to him [or Forsooth Jesus gave not (an) answer to him].
- <sup>10</sup> Pilate saith to him, Speakest thou not to me? Knowest thou not, that I have power to crucify thee, and I have power to deliver thee? (or Knowest thou not, that I have the power to crucify thee, and I have the power to release thee or to let thee go?)
- <sup>11</sup> Jesus answered, Thou shouldest not have any power against me, [no] but it were given to thee from above; therefore he that betook me to thee, hath the more sin, (or and so he who delivered me, or who handed me over to thee, hath done the greater sin).
- <sup>12</sup> From that time Pilate sought to deliver him (or From that moment on, Pilate sought to release him); but the Jews cried, and said, If thou deliverest this man, thou art not the emperor's friend; for each man that maketh himself king, gainsaith the emperor, [or If thou leavest this man, (or if thou lettest this man go), thou art not the friend of Caesar; for each man that maketh himself king, against-saith Caesar].

- <sup>13</sup> And Pilate, when he had heard these words, led Jesus forth, and sat for doomsman in a place, that is said Lycostratos, but in Hebrew Golgotha. (And Pilate, when he had heard these words, led Jesus forth, and sat as judge in a place, that is called Lycostratos, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha.)
- <sup>14</sup> And it was pask eve, as it were the sixth hour, [or Forsooth it was the making ready, or even, of pask, as the sixth hour, or midday]. And he saith to the Jews, Lo! your king. (And it was the eve of Passover, about noon. And he said to the Jews, Behold! here is your king!)
- <sup>15</sup> But they cried, and said, Take away, take away, [or Do away, do away]; crucify him. Pilate saith to them, Shall I crucify your king? The bishops answered, We have no king but the emperor, [or We have not a king no but Caesar], (or The high priests answered, We have no king but Caesar!).
- <sup>16</sup> And then Pilate betook him to them, that he should be crucified, (or And then Pilate delivered him, or handed him over to them, so that he could be crucified). And they took Jesus, and led him out.
- <sup>17</sup> And he bare to himself a cross (or And he carried his own cross), and went out into that place, that is said (or is called) Calvary, (and) in Hebrew Golgotha;
- $^{18}$  where they crucified him, and others twain with him, one on this side and one on that side, and Jesus in the middle.
- <sup>19</sup> And Pilate wrote a title, and set (it), [or put (it)], on the cross; and it was written, Jesus of Nazareth, king of Jews, (or the King of the Jews).
- $^{20}$  Therefore many of the Jews read this title, for the place where Jesus was crucified, was nigh the city, and it was written in Hebrew, Greek, and Latin.
- <sup>21</sup> Therefore the bishops of the Jews said to Pilate, Do not thou write king of Jews, but that he said, I am king of Jews. (And so the high priests of the Jews said to Pilate, Do not write The King of the Jews, but that he said, I am the King of the Jews.)
  - <sup>22</sup> Pilate answered, That that I have written, I have written.
- <sup>23</sup> Therefore the knights when they had crucified him, took his clothes, and made four parts, to each knight a part, and (there was also) a coat. And the coat was without seam, and woven all about. (And so the soldiers when they had crucified him, took his clothes, and divided them into four parts, to each soldier one part, and there was also a cloak or a robe. And the cloak or the robe was without a seam, and woven in one piece.)
- <sup>24</sup> Therefore they said together, Cut we not it, but cast we lot(s), whose it is; that the scripture be fulfilled, saying, They parted my clothes to them, and on my cloth they cast lot(s). And the knights did these things. (And so they said to each other, We shall not cut it, but rather we shall throw dice, to see whose it is; so that the Scripture be fulfilled, saying, They divided my clothes among themselves, and for my cloak or my robe they threw dice. And the soldiers did these things.)
- $^{25}$  But beside the cross of Jesus stood his mother, and the sister of his mother, Mary Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.
- <sup>26</sup> Therefore when Jesus had seen his mother, and the disciple standing (there), whom he loved, he saith to his mother, Woman, lo! thy son.

- <sup>27</sup> Afterward he saith to the disciple, Lo! thy mother. And from that hour the disciple took her into (or as) his (own)mother.
- <sup>28</sup> Afterward Jesus witting, that now all things be ended, (so) that the scripture were fulfilled, he saith, I thirst.
- <sup>29</sup> And a vessel was set (there) full of vinegar. And they laid in hyssop about the sponge full of vinegar, and put (it) to his mouth./And a vessel was set (there) full of eisell. And they took a sponge full of eisell, putting it about with hyssop, and proffered it to his mouth.
- <sup>30</sup> Therefore when Jesus had taken the vinegar, he said, It is ended. And when his head was bowed down, he gave up the ghost./And when Jesus had tasted this eisell, he said, It is ended. And he bowed down the head, and sent out the spirit.
- <sup>31</sup> Therefore for it was the pask eve, that the bodies should not abide [or dwell] on the cross in the sabbath, for that was a great sabbath day, the Jews prayed Pilate, that the hips of them should be broken, and they [should be] taken away. (And so because it was the eve of Passover, so that the bodies would not remain on the cross on the Sabbath, for that was a Great Sabbath day, the Jews beseeched Pilate, that their hips should be broken, and that they should be taken away.)
- <sup>32</sup> Therefore (the) knights came (or And so the soldiers came), and they brake the thighs of the first, and of the other, that was crucified with him.
- <sup>33</sup> But when they were come to Jesus [or Forsooth when they had come to Jesus], as they saw him dead then, they brake not his thighs;
- <sup>34</sup> but one of the knights opened his side with a spear, and anon blood and water went out. (but one of the soldiers opened his side with a spear, and at once blood and water went out.)
- <sup>35</sup> And he that saw (this), bare witnessing [thereof], and his witnessing is true; and he knoweth that he saith true things, (so) that ye (can) believe. (And he who saw this, testified to it, and his testimony is true; and he knoweth that he saith true things, so that ye can believe.)
- <sup>36</sup> And these things were done, (so) that the scripture should be fulfilled, Ye shall not break a bone of him.
- $^{37}$  And again another scripture saith, They shall see in whom they pierced through.
- <sup>38</sup> But after these things Joseph of Arimathaea prayed Pilate, that he should take away the body of Jesus, for that he was a disciple of Jesus, but privily for dread of the Jews. And Pilate suffered (him). And so he came, and took away the body of Jesus. (But after these things Joseph of Arimathaea beseeched Pilate, so that he could take away the body of Jesus, because he was a disciple of Jesus, but privately, or in secret, for fear of the Jews. And Pilate allowed him. And so he came, and took away the body of Jesus.)
- <sup>39</sup> And Nicodemus came also, that had come to him first by night, [or that had come to Jesus first in the night], (or who had first come to Jesus in the night), and brought a meddling, (or a medley, or a mixture), of myrrh and aloes, as it were an hundred pound.
- <sup>40</sup> And they took (down) the body of Jesus, and bound it in linen clothes with sweet smelling ointments [or spices], as it is (the) custom to Jews for to bury (or as is the custom of the Jews for burial).

- <sup>41</sup> And in the place where he was crucified, was a garden, and in the garden a new grave (or and in the garden was a new tomb), in which yet no man was laid [or in which not yet any man was put].
- <sup>42</sup> Therefore there they put Jesus, for the vigil of (the) Jews' feast, for the sepulchre was nigh. (And so they put Jesus there, because it was the eve of the Jews' Feast, or Festival, and the tomb was nearby.)[Therefore there for the making ready (day) of (the) Jews, for the sepulchre was nigh, they put Jesus. (And so because it was the preparation day of the Jews, and the tomb was nearby, they put Jesus there.)]

CHAPTER 20

<sup>1</sup> And in one day of the week, Mary Magdalene came early to the grave, when it was yet dark. And she saw the stone moved away from the grave. (And early on the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene came to the tomb, when it was still dark. And she saw the stone moved away from the tomb.)

<sup>2</sup> Therefore she ran, and came to Simon Peter, and to another disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith to them, They have taken (away) the Lord from the grave, (or and said to them, They have taken the Lord away from the tomb), and we know not, where they have laid him.

<sup>3</sup> Therefore Peter went out, and that other disciple, and they came to the grave. (And so Peter went out, and that other disciple, and they came to the tomb.)

- <sup>4</sup> And they twain ran together, and that other disciple ran before Peter, and came first to the grave. (And the two men ran together, and that other disciple ran before Peter, and came to the tomb first.)
- <sup>5</sup> And when he stooped (down), he saw the sheets lying (there), nevertheless he entered not (or but he did not go in).
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore Simon Peter came (pur)suing him, and he entered into the grave, and he saw the sheets laid (there), (And so Simon Peter came following behind him, and he entered into the tomb, and he saw the sheets laid there,) <sup>7</sup> and the sudarium that was on his head, not laid with the sheets, but by itself wrapped into a place (or but rolled up in a place by itself).

<sup>8</sup> Therefore then that disciple that came first to the grave, entered, and saw, and believed. (And then that disciple who first came to the tomb, entered, and saw everything, and believed.)

<sup>9</sup> For they knew not yet the scripture, that it behooved him to rise again from death. [Forsooth they wist not yet the scripture, for it behooved him to rise again from (the) dead.]

<sup>10</sup> Therefore the disciples went again to themselves. (And so the disciples went off by themselves.)

- <sup>11</sup> But Mary stood at the grave withoutforth weeping. And while she wept, she bowed her(self)(down), and beheld forth into the grave. (But Mary stood at the tomb outside weeping. And while she wept, she bowed herself down, and looked into the tomb.)
- <sup>12</sup> And she saw two angels sitting in white, one at the head and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus was laid.
- <sup>13</sup> And they say to her, Woman, what weepest thou? (or And they said to her, Woman, why weepest thou?) She said to them, For they have taken away my Lord, and I know not, where they have laid him.

- <sup>14</sup> When she had said these things, she turned backward [or she turned aback], and saw Jesus standing (there), and knew not that it was Jesus.
- 15 Jesus saith to her, Woman, what weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She guessing that he was the gardener, saith to him, Sire, if thou hast taken him up, say to me, where thou hast laid him, and I shall take him away. (Jesus said to her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She thinking that he was the gardener, said to him, Sir, if thou hast taken him some place, tell me, where thou hast laid him, and I shall take him away.)
- <sup>16</sup> Jesus saith to her, Mary. She turned, and saith to him, Rabboni, that is to say, Master (or Teacher).
- $^{17}$  Jesus saith to her, Do not thou touch me, for I have not yet ascended to my Father; but go to my brethren, and say to them, I ascend to my Father and to your Father, to my God and to your God.
- <sup>18</sup> Mary Magdalene came, telling to the disciples, That I saw the Lord, and these things he said to me.
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore when it was even(ing) in that day, [in] one of the sabbaths, and the gates were shut, where the disciples were gathered, for dread of the Jews, Jesus came, and stood in the middle of the disciples, and he saith to them, Peace [be] to you. (And so when it was evening on that day, on one of the Sabbaths (or on the first day of the week), and the doors were shut, where the disciples were gathered, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came, and stood in the midst of the disciples, and he said to them, Peace be to you.)
- <sup>20</sup> And when he had said this, he showed to them [his] hands and side; therefore the disciples joyed (or and so the disciples rejoiced), for the Lord was seen.
- $^{21}$  And he saith to them again, Peace (be) to you; as the Father sent me, I send you.
- <sup>22</sup> When he had said this, he blew on them, and said, Take ye the Holy Ghost (or and said, Receive the Holy Spirit);
- $^{23}$  whose sins ye forgive, those be forgiven to them; and whose sins ye withhold, those be withheld.
- <sup>24</sup> But Thomas, one of the twelve, that is said Didymus (or who is called the Twin), was not with them, when Jesus came.
- <sup>25</sup> Therefore the other disciples said, We have seen the Lord. And he said to them, [No] But I see in his hands the printing of the nails, (or And he said to them, Unless I see the scarring, or the marks, from the nails in his hands), and put my finger into the place of the nails, and put mine hand into his side, I shall not believe (it).
- <sup>26</sup> And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Jesus came, while the gates were shut, and stood in the middle, and said, Peace (be) to you, (or And Jesus came, while the doors were shut, and stood in their midst, and said, Peace be to you).
- <sup>27</sup> Afterward he saith to Thomas, Put in here thy finger, and see mine hands, and put hither thine hand, and put [it] into my side, and do not thou be unbelieveful, but faithful.
  - <sup>28</sup> Thomas answered, and said to him, My Lord and my God.
- <sup>29</sup> Jesus saith to him, Thomas, for thou hast seen me, thou believedest; blessed be they, that saw not, and have believed.
- <sup>30</sup> And Jesus did many other signs (or miracles) in the sight of his disciples, which be not written in this book.

<sup>31</sup> But these be written, that ye believe, that Jesus is Christ, the Son of God, and that ye believing have life in his name. (But these be written, so that ye believe, that Jesus is the Messiah, the Son of God, and that ye believing have life in his name.)

CHAPTER 21

- <sup>1</sup> Afterward Jesus again showed him(self) to his disciples, at the sea of Tiberias (or at the Sea of Galilee, that is, Lake Galilee). And he showed him(self) thus.
- <sup>2</sup> There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, that is said Didymus (or who is called the Twin), and Nathanael, that was of the Cana of Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and twain other of his disciples (or and two other disciples of Iesus).
- <sup>3</sup> Simon Peter saith to them, I (shall) go to fish. They say to him, And we (shall) come with thee. And they went out, and went into a boat. And in that night they took nothing.
- <sup>4</sup> But when the morrow was come, Jesus stood in the brink, (or But early the next morning, Jesus stood on the shore); nevertheless the disciples knew not, that it was Jesus.
- <sup>5</sup> Therefore Jesus saith to them, Children, whether ye have any supping thing? They answered to him, Nay.
- <sup>6</sup> He said to them, Put ye [or Send ye] the net into the right half of the rowing (or Throw the net onto the right side of the boat), and ye shall find (something). And they putted [or sent] the net; and then they might not draw it (in) for (the) multitude of fishes.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore that disciple, whom Jesus loved, said to Peter, It is the Lord. Simon Peter, when he had heard that it is the Lord, girt him(self) with a coat, for he was naked, and went into the sea.

- <sup>8</sup> But the other disciples came by boat, for they were not far from the land, but as (of) a two hundred cubits [or but as it were two hundred cubits], drawing the net of fishes.
- <sup>9</sup> And as they came down into the land (or And as they came ashore), they saw coals lying (there), and fish laid on, and bread.
  - <sup>10</sup> Jesus saith to them, Bring ye of the fishes, which ye have taken now.
- <sup>11</sup> Simon Peter went up, and drew the net into the land, full of great fishes, an hundred fifty and three; and when they were so many, the net was not broken. (Simon Peter went, and drew the net onto the land, full of large fish, a hundred and fifty-three of them; and although there were so many, the net was not broken.)
- <sup>12</sup> Jesus saith to them, Come ye, and eat ye. And no man of them that sat at the meat, durst ask him, Who art thou, witting that it is the Lord. (Jesus said to them, Come, and eat. And none of them who sat at the meal, dared ask him, Who art thou, knowing that it was the Lord.)
  - <sup>13</sup> And Jesus came, and took bread, and gave (it) to them, and fish also.
- <sup>14</sup> Now this [is the] third time (that) Jesus was showed to his disciples, when he had risen again from death [or from (the) dead].
- <sup>15</sup> And when they had eaten, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon of John (or Simon the son of John), lovest thou me more than these? He saith to him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith to him, Feed thou my lambs (or Feed my lambs).

<sup>16</sup> Again he saith to him, Simon of John (or Simon the son of John), lovest thou me? He saith to him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith to him, Feed thou my lambs (or Feed my male sheep).

<sup>17</sup> He saith to him the third time, Simon of John (or Simon the son of John), lovest thou me? Peter was heavy, [or sorry], (or was grieved), for he said to him the third time, Lovest thou me, and he saith to him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith to him, Feed my sheep (or Feed my female sheep).

18 Truly, truly, I say to thee, when thou were younger, thou girdedest thee, and wanderedest where thou wouldest; but when thou shalt wax older, thou shalt hold forth thine hands, and another shall gird thee, and shall lead thee whither thou wilt not. (Truly, I tell thee the truth, when thou were younger, thou girdedest thyself, and walkedest where thou wanted to go; but when thou shalt grow older, thou shalt hold forth thine hands, and another shall gird thee, and shall lead thee where thou desirest not.)

<sup>19</sup> He said this thing, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had said these things, he saith to him, (Pur)Sue thou me (or Follow me).

IOHN CHAPTER 21:16

<sup>20</sup> Peter turned, and saw that disciple (pur)suing, whom Jesus loved, which also rested in the supper on his breast, and said to him, Lord, who is it, that shall betray thee? (Peter turned, and saw that disciple following, whom Jesus loved, who had sat close beside him at the supper, and had asked him, Lord, who is it, that shall betray thee?)

but what (about) this (man)?

<sup>22</sup> Jesus saith to him, So I will, that he dwell till I come, what (is it) to thee? (pur)sue thou me. (Jesus said to him, If I desire, that he live until I come, what is it to thee? follow me.)

<sup>23</sup> Therefore this word went out among the brethren, that that disciple dieth not. And Jesus said not to him, that he dieth not, but, So I will, that he dwell till I come, what (is it) to thee? (But Jesus did not say to him, that he would not die, but rather, If I desire, that he live until I come, what is it to thee?)

<sup>24</sup> This is that disciple, that beareth witnessing of these things, and wrote them; and we know, that his witnessing is true. (This is that disciple, who testifieth about these things, and wrote them; and we know, that his testimony is true.)

<sup>25</sup> And there be also many other things that Jesus did, which if they be written each by itself (or which if all of them be written down), I deem that the world itself shall not [be able to] take the books, that be to be written. [Amen.]

DEEDS OF APOSTLES

 $^{1}$  Theophilus, first I made a sermon [or a word] of all [the] things, that Jesus began to do and teach,

<sup>2</sup> into the day of his ascension, in which he commanded by the Holy Ghost to his apostles (or on which he commanded by the Holy Spirit to his apostles), whom he had chosen; [till into the day, in which he commanding to the apostles by the Holy Ghost, whom he chose, was taken up;]

<sup>3</sup> to whom he showed himself alive after his passion (or his suffering), by many arguments, [or provings], appearing to them (for) forty days, and speaking of the realm of God.

<sup>4</sup> And he ate with them, and commanded [to them], that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but abide the promise of the Father (or but wait for the promise of the Father), which ye heard, he said, by my mouth;

<sup>5</sup> for John baptized in water, but ye shall be baptized in the Holy Ghost (or but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit), after these few days.

- <sup>6</sup> Therefore they that were come together, asked him, and said, Lord, whether in this time thou shalt restore the kingdom of Israel? [Therefore they that came together, asked him, saying, Lord, if in this time shalt thou restore the kingdom of Israel?]
- <sup>7</sup> And he said to them, It is not yours to know the times either moments, which the Father hath put in his power;
- 8 but ye shall take the virtue of the Holy Ghost coming from above into you (or but ye shall receive power when the Holy Spirit coming from above goeth into you), and ye shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and Samaria, and to the utmost for to the uttermost] of the earth.

<sup>9</sup> And when he had said these things, in their sight he was lifted up, and a cloud received him from their eyes.

- <sup>10</sup> And when they beheld him going into heaven (or And after they saw him go up into the heavens), lo! two men stood beside them in white clothing,
- <sup>11</sup> and said, Men of Galilee, what stand ye beholding into heaven? This Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall come (back), as ye saw him going into heaven. (and said, Men of Galilee, why stand ye looking up into the heavens? This Jesus, who is taken up from you to heaven, shall come back, as ye saw him going to heaven.)
- <sup>12</sup> Then they turned again to Jerusalem, from the hill that is called of Olivet, which is beside Jerusalem, an holiday's journey [or having the journey of a sabbath]. (Then they returned to Jerusalem, from the Mount of Olives, which is near Jerusalem, a holy day's journey away.)
- <sup>13</sup> And when they were entered into the house, where they dwelled, they went up into the solar, [or into the higher things], (or they went up into the upper room), Peter and John, and James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes (or and Simon the Zealot), and Judas of James.
- <sup>14</sup> All these were lastingly continuing [or dwelling together] with one will, in prayer, with women, and Mary, the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

<sup>15</sup> In those days Peter rose up in the middle of the brethren, and said, (or In those days Peter rose up into the midst of the brothers, and said); and there was a company of men together, almost an hundred and twenty;

<sup>16</sup> Brethren, it behooveth that the scripture be [ful] filled, which the Holy Ghost before-said by the mouth of David (or which the Holy Spirit foretold by the mouth of David), of Judas that was (the) leader of them that took Jesus;

<sup>17</sup> and was numbered among us, and got a part of this service [or of this ministry]. (and was numbered among us, and had a part in this ministry.)

- 18 And this Judas had a field of the hire of wickedness, and he was hanged, and burst apart the middle, and all his entrails were shed abroad. (And this Judas bought a field with his wicked wages, and he hanged himself, and fell to the ground, and burst open his middle, and all his bowels, or all his innards, were poured out.)
- <sup>19</sup> And it was made known to all men that dwelt in Jerusalem, so that that field was called Aceldama in the language of them, that is, the field of blood.
- <sup>20</sup> And it is written in the book of Psalms, The habitation of them be made desert [or The habitation of him be made desert], and be there none that dwell in it, and another take his bishopric.
- $^{21}$  Therefore it behooveth of these men, that be gathered together with us in all the time, in which the Lord Jesus entered [in], and went out among us,
- <sup>22</sup> and began from the baptism of John till into the day in which he was taken up from us, that one of these be made a witness of his resurrection with us.
- $^{23}$  And they ordained twain, Joseph, that was called Barsabas, that was named Justus, and Matthias.
- <sup>24</sup> And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, that knowest the hearts of all men, show whom thou hast chosen of these twain,
- <sup>25</sup> that one take the place of this service [or of this ministry] and apostlehood, of which Judas trespassed, that he should go into his place (or so that he can take his place).
- $^{26}$  And they gave lots to them, and the lot felled on Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAPTER 2

<sup>1</sup> And when the days of Pentecost were [ful] filled, all the disciples were together in the same place.

<sup>2</sup> And suddenly there was made a sound from heaven (or from the heavens), as of a great wind coming, and it filled all the house where they sat.

<sup>3</sup> And diverse tongues as (flames of) fire appeared to them [or And tongues diversely parted as (flames of) fire appeared to them], and it sat on each of them.

<sup>4</sup> And all were filled with the Holy Ghost, and they began to speak in diverse languages [or with diverse tongues], as the Holy Ghost gave to them to speak. (And all were filled with the Holy Spirit, and they began to speak in different languages, which the Holy Spirit made them able to speak.)

<sup>5</sup> And there were in Jerusalem dwelling Jews (or And there were Jews living in Jerusalem), religious men, of each nation that is under heaven.

<sup>6</sup> And when this voice was made, the multitude came together, and were astonied, (or were astonished), [or was confounded], in thought, (or And when this sound was made, the multitude came together, and were bewildered in their understanding), for each man heard them speaking in his own language [+or in his own tongue].

And all were astonied (or astonished), and wondered, and said together, Whether not all these that speak be men of Galilee for Whether not all these that speak be Galileans],

<sup>8</sup> and how heard we [or have we heard] each man our (own) language (or and how have each of us heard our own language) in which we be born?

<sup>9</sup> Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and they that dwell at [or in]

Mesopotamia, Judea, and Cappadocia, Pontus, and Asia,

<sup>10</sup> Phrygia, and Pamphylia, Egypt, and the parts of Libya, that is about Cyrene, and comelings (or and newcomers), Romans, and Jews, and

<sup>11</sup> men of Crete, and of Arabia, we have heard them speaking in our (own) languages [or in our (own) tongues] the great things of God.

12 And all were astonied, and wondered, saying together, What will this thing be? (And all were astonished, and wondered, and they said to each other, What meaneth this thing?)

<sup>13</sup> And others scorned, and said, For these men be full of must. (But others scorned them, and said, These men be full of wine.)

- <sup>14</sup> But Peter stood with the eleven, and raised up his voice, and spake to them, Ye Jews, and all that dwell at Jerusalem (or and all who live in Jerusalem), be this known to you, and with ears perceive ye my words.
- 15 For not as ye ween [or not as ye guess], these be drunken, when it is the third hour of the day; (For it is not as ye think, that these be drunk, when it is but nine o'clock in the morning;)

16 but this it is, that was said by the prophet Joel,

- <sup>17</sup> And it shall be in the last days, the Lord saith, I shall pour out my Spirit on each flesh [or I shall pour out my Spirit on all flesh]; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your elders shall dream swevens (or your old men shall dream dreams).
- 18 And on my servants and on mine handmaidens in those days I shall pour out (a portion) of my Spirit, and they shall prophesy.
- <sup>19</sup> And I shall give great wonders in (the) heaven(s) above, and signs in (or on the) earth beneath, blood, and fire, and heat [or vapour] of smoke.
- <sup>20</sup> The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that the great and the open day of the Lord [shall] come.
- <sup>21</sup> And it shall be, each man whichever shall call to help the name of the Lord [or each man whoever shall in-call the name of the Lord], shall be safe (or shall be saved).
- <sup>22</sup> Ye men of Israel, hear ye these words. Jesus of Nazareth, a man proved of God before you by virtues, and wonders, and tokens, which God did by him in the middle of you, as ye know, (Israelites, listen to these words. Jesus of Nazareth, a man of God approved before you by works of power, or miracles, and wonders, and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye know,)
- <sup>23</sup> ye tormented, and killed him by the hands of wicked men, by counsel determined and betaken by the fore-knowing [or by the prescience] of God.

(ye tormented, and killed him by the hands of wicked men, delivered up by the predetermined plan and in the foreknowledge of God.)

- 24 Whom God raised, when [the] sorrows of hell were unbound, by that that it was impossible that he were holden of it (or because it was impossible that he would be held by it).
- <sup>25</sup> For David saith of him, I saw afar the Lord before me (for)evermore, for he is on my right half, that I be not moved. (For David said of him, I saw the Lord always before me, for he is on my right side, or at my right hand, so that I shall not be moved.)

<sup>26</sup> For this thing mine heart joyed, and my tongue made full out joy [or gladded], and moreover my flesh shall rest in hope.

<sup>27</sup> For thou shalt not leave my soul in hell, neither thou shalt give thine Holy (One) to see corruption.

- <sup>28</sup> Thou hast made known to me the ways of life, thou shalt [full-]fill me with mirth with thy face (or thou shalt fill me full of joy by thy presence).
- <sup>29</sup> Brethren, be it leaveful boldly to say to you of the patriarch David, for he is dead and buried, and his sepulchre is among us into this day. (Brothers, may it be lawful for me to boldly say this to you about the patriarch David, that he is dead and buried, and his tomb is here among us unto this day.)
- <sup>30</sup> Therefore when he was a prophet, and knew, that with a great oath God had sworn to him, that of the fruit of his loins should one sit on his seat (or that a man from the fruit of his loins should sit on his throne),
- 31 he seeing afar spake of the resurrection of Christ (or he seeing far ahead spoke of the resurrection of the Messiah), for neither he was left in hell, neither his flesh saw corruption.
  - <sup>32</sup> God raised this Jesus, to whom we all be witnesses.
- 33 Therefore he was enhanced by the right hand of God, and through the promise of the Holy Ghost that he took of the Father, he shedded out this Spirit, that ye see and hear. (And so he was exalted, or raised up, by the right hand of God, and through the promise of the Holy Spirit that he received from the Father, he poured out this Spirit, that ye now see and hear.)
- 34 For David ascended not into heaven; but he saith, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right half, (or Sit on my right side, or at my right hánd),
- 35 till I put thine enemies the stool of thy feet. (until I make thine enemies thy footstool.)
- <sup>36</sup> Therefore most certainly know all the house of Israel, that God made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus, whom ye crucified. (And so let all the house of Israel most certainly know, that God made this Jesus, whom ye crucified, both Lord and Messiah.)
- <sup>37</sup> When they heard these things, they were compuncted in heart; and they said to Peter and to other apostles, Brethren (or Brothers), what shall we do?
- 38 And Peter said to them, Do ye penance, and each of you be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ, into remission of your sins; and ye shall take the gift of the Holy Ghost. (And Peter said to them, Repent, and each of you be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ, for the forgiveness of your sins; and then ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.)

<sup>39</sup> For the promise is to you, and to your sons, and to all that be far (off), whichever our Lord God hath called. [Forsooth repromission is to you, and to your sons, and to all that be far, whomever the Lord our God hath called to (him).]

- <sup>40</sup> Also with other words full many he witnessed to them, and admonished them, and said, Be ye saved from this shrewd [or from this wicked] generation. (And with a great many other words he testified to them, and admonished them, and said, Save yourselves from this depraved generation.)
- <sup>41</sup> Then they that received his word were baptized, and in (or on) that day souls were increased, about three thousand;

<sup>42</sup> and [they] were lasting stably in the teaching of the apostles, and in (the) communing of the breaking of bread, and in prayers.

- <sup>43</sup> And dread was made to each man. And many wonders and signs were done by the apostles in Jerusalem, and great dread was in all. (And there was fearful reverence in each man. And many wonders and miracles were done by the apostles in Jerusalem, and great and fearful reverence was in all.)
  - <sup>44</sup> And all that believed were together, and had all things (in) common.
- <sup>45</sup> They sold (their) possessions and chattel, [or substances, or goods], and parted those things to all men, as it was need(ful) to each. (They sold their possessions and goods, and divided those things to everyone, as it was needed by each person.)
- <sup>46</sup> And each day they dwelled stably with one will in the temple, and brake bread about houses (or and broke bread in their houses), and took meat (or meals) with full out joy [or with gladness] and simpleness of heart,
- <sup>47</sup> and praised together God, and had grace to (or favour with) all the folk [or all the people]. And the Lord increased them that were made safe, each day into the same thing (or And the Lord added to those who were saved, each and every day).

- <sup>1</sup> And Peter and John went up into the temple, at the ninth hour of praying, [or at the ninth hour of prayer], (or at three o'clock in the afternoon).
- <sup>2</sup> And a man, that was lame from the womb of his mother, was borne (there), and was laid [or was put] each day at the gate of the temple, that is said 'Fair' (or that is called 'Beautiful'), to ask (for) alms of men that entered into the temple.
- <sup>3</sup> This (man), when he saw Peter and John beginning to enter into the temple, prayed, that he should take alms. (And when he saw Peter and John entering the Temple, he beseeched, or asked for, some money.)
- <sup>4</sup> And Peter with John beheld on him, and said, [or Forsooth Peter with John beholding him, said], Behold thou into us. (And Peter and John looked at him, and Peter said, Look at us.)
- <sup>5</sup> And he beheld into them, and hoped, that he should take somewhat [or something] of them. (And he looked at them, and hoped that he would receive something from them.)
- <sup>6</sup> But Peter said, I have neither silver nor gold; but that I have, I give to thee. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up, and go.

- <sup>7</sup> And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up; and anon (or at once) his legs and his feet were strengthened together;
- <sup>8</sup> and he leaped, and stood, and wandered (or and walked about). And he entered with them into the temple, and wandered, and leaped, and praised God.
  - <sup>9</sup> And all the people saw him walking, and praising God.
- <sup>10</sup> And they knew him, that he it was that sat at alms at the fair gate of the temple, (or And they knew him, that it was he who sat at the Beautiful Gate of the Temple begging for money). And they were filled with wondering, and astonishing, in that thing that befelled to him.
- <sup>11</sup> But when they saw Peter and John, all the people ran to them at the porch that was called of Solomon (or that was named for Solomon), and wondered greatly.
- <sup>12</sup> And Peter saw, and answered to the people, Men of Israel, what wonder ye in this thing? either what behold ye us, as (if) by our (own) virtue, either power, we made this man for to walk? [+or as (if) by our virtue, either piety, we make this man to walk?](And Peter saw them, and said to the people, Israelites, why wonder ye at this thing? or why look at us, as if by our own power, we made this man to walk?)
- <sup>13</sup> God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob, [and] God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus, whom ye betrayed, and denied before the face of Pilate, when he deemed him to be delivered, [or left], (or to be let go), (or when he judged him, and would have released him).
- <sup>14</sup> But ye denied the holy and the rightful (man), [or Ye forsooth denied the holy and just man], and asked (for) a manslayer to be given to you. (But ye rejected this holy and just man, and asked for a murderer to be given to you.)
- <sup>15</sup> And ye slew the maker of life, whom God raised from death [or whom God raised from (the) dead], of whom we be witnesses.
- <sup>16</sup> And in the faith of his name he hath confirmed this man, whom ye see and know; the name of him, and the faith that is by him, gave to this man full healing [or full health] in the sight of all (of) you.
- <sup>17</sup> And now, brethren, I wot that by unwitting ye did, as also your princes (did). (And now, brothers, I know, that ye did this by unknowing, or ignorance, as also your leaders did.)
- <sup>18</sup> But God that before-told by the mouth of all (the) prophets, that his Christ should suffer (or that his Messiah should suffer), hath fulfilled so.
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore be ye repentant, and be ye converted, (so) that your sins be done away, (so) that when the times of refreshing shall come from the sight of the Lord,
  - <sup>20</sup> and (then) he shall send that Jesus Christ, that is now preached to you.
- <sup>21</sup> Whom it behooveth heaven to receive, into the times of restitution of all things, which the Lord spake by the mouth of his holy prophets from the (beginning of the) world (or of which the Lord spoke by the mouth of his holy prophets from long ago, or from the creation of the world).
- <sup>22</sup> For Moses said, For the Lord your God shall raise to you a prophet, of your brethren; as me, ye shall hear him by all things [or ye shall hear him upon all things], whatever he shall speak to you (or whatever he shall say to you).

<sup>23</sup> And it shall be, that every man [or every soul] that shall not hear that prophet (or who shall not listen to that prophet), shall be destroyed, for exiled, from the people.

<sup>24</sup> And all (the) prophets from Samuel and afterward, that spake, told

(of) these days.

<sup>25</sup> But ye be the sons of (the) prophets, and of the testament that God ordained to our fathers (or and of the covenant that God ordained to our fathers), and said to Abraham, In thy seed all the families of earth shall be

<sup>26</sup> God raised his Son first to you, and sent him blessing you, that each man convert him(self) from his wickedness (or so that each man be turned from his own wickedness).

CHAPTER 4

<sup>1</sup> And while they spake to the people, the priests and the magistrates of the temple, and the Sadducees came upon them,

<sup>2</sup> and sorrowed, that they taught the people, and told in Jesus the againrising from death [or and told by Jesus (the) again-rising from (the) dead]. (and were vexed, that they taught the people, and told them about the resurrection from the dead through Jesus.)

<sup>3</sup> And they laid (their) hands on them, and putted them into (the) ward [or into (the) keeping] into the morrow (or and put them in the prison until the morning): for it was then eventide.

<sup>4</sup> But many of them that had heard the word, believed; and the number of men was made five thousands for and the number of them is made five thousandl.

<sup>5</sup> And amorrow it was done [or Forsooth in the morrow it was done], that the princes of them, and elder men and scribes were gathered in Jerusalem; (And the next morning it was done, that their high priests, and elders, and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem;)

6 and Annas, (the) prince of priests, (or and Annas, the former High Priest), and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and how many ever were of the kind [or of the kindred] of priests.

<sup>7</sup> And they set them in the middle, and asked, In what virtue, either in what name, have ye done this thing? (And they set them in their midst, and asked, By what power, or in what name, have ye done this thing?)

8 Then Peter filled with the Holy Ghost, said to them, Ye princes of the people, and ye elder men, hear ye. (Then Peter filled with the Holy Spirit.

said to them, Ye high priests of the people, and ye elders, listen.)

<sup>9</sup> If we today be deemed in the good deed of a sick man, in whom [or in which] this man is made safe, (If today we be judged for this good deed for a sick man, by which this man is saved,)

- <sup>10</sup> be it known to you all, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from death [or whom God raised from (the) dead], in this (man)[or in him], this man standeth whole before you.
- <sup>11</sup> This is the stone, which was reproved of (or rejected by) you (when) building, which is made into the head of the corner;
- 12 and health is not in any other. For neither (any) other name under heaven is given to men, in which it behooveth us to be made safe. (and salvation, or deliverance, is not by any other. For no other name under heaven is given to men, by which it behooveth us to be saved.)

- $^{13}$  And they saw the steadfastness of Peter and of John, and when it was found that they were men unlettered [or without letters], and lay men, they wondered, and they knew them that they were with Jesus.
- <sup>14</sup> And they saw the man that was healed, standing with them, and they might nothing gainsay (them), (or and they could not say anything against them).
- <sup>15</sup> But they commanded them to go forth without the council (or And they ordered them to go outside the Council chamber). And they spake together,
- <sup>16</sup> and said, What shall we do to these men? for the sign (or this miracle) is made known by them to all men, that dwell at Jerusalem; it is open, and we be not able to deny (it), [or and we may not deny (it)].
- <sup>17</sup> But that it be no more published into the people, menace we to them (or let us threaten them), (so) that they speak no more in this name to any man.
- <sup>18</sup> And they called them, and announced (or commanded) to them, that on no manner they should speak, neither teach, in the name of Jesus.
- <sup>19</sup> But Peter and John answered, and said to them, If it be rightful in the sight of God to hear you rather than God, deem ye (or ye judge).
- <sup>20</sup> For we must needs speak those things, that we have seen and heard. [Forsooth we may not not speak (about) the things that we have seen and heard.]
- <sup>21</sup> And they menaced them, and left them, and found not how they should punish them, for the people; for all men clarified (God, for) that thing that was done in that that was befallen. (And they threatened them, and then let them go, for they could not find any way to punish them, because of the people; for all the people glorified God, for what was done in all that befell.)
- <sup>22</sup> For the man was more than forty years old, in whom this sign of healing [or this sign of health] was made. (For the man was more than forty years old, in whom this miracle of a cure was done.)
- <sup>23</sup> And when they were delivered, [or were left], (or were let go), they came to their fellows, and told to them, how great things [or how many things] the princes of (the) priests and the elder men had said to them. (And when they were delivered, or released, they came back to their fellows, and told them everything that the high priests and the elders had said to them.)
- $^{24}$  And when they heard, with one heart they raised (up their) voice to the Lord, and said, Lord, thou that madest heaven and earth, (the) sea, and all things that be in them,
- <sup>25</sup> which saidest by the Holy Ghost, by the mouth of our father David, thy child, Why heathen men gnashed with (their) teeth together [or wrathed], and the peoples thought vain things? (who said by the Holy Spirit, by the mouth of our father David, thy servant, Why did the Gentiles gnash with their teeth together, or be enraged, and the peoples thought empty and futile things?)
- <sup>26</sup> (The) Kings of the earth stood nigh, and (the) princes came together into one, against the Lord, and against his Christ (or and against his Messiah).

<sup>27</sup> For verily, Herod and Pontius Pilate, with heathen men, and peoples of Israel, came together in this city against thine holy child Jesus, whom thou anointedest, (For truly, Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, came together in this city against thine holy servant Jesus, whom thou anointedest,) <sup>28</sup> to do the things, that thine hand and thy counsel (or thy plan or thy purpose) deemed to be done.

<sup>29</sup> And now, Lord, behold into the threatenings of them, and grant to thy servants to speak thy word with all trust,

- <sup>30</sup> in that thing that thou hold forth thine hand, that healings and signs (or miracles) and wonders be made by (or through) the name of thine holy Son Jesus.
- <sup>31</sup> And when they had prayed, the place was moved, in which they were gathered; and all were filled with the Holy Ghost (or and everyone was filled with the Holy Spirit), and spake the word of God with trust.

<sup>32</sup> And of the multitude of men believing was (of) one heart and one will; neither any man said (that) anything of those things that he wielded (or he possessed) to be his own, but all things were (held in) common to them.

- <sup>33</sup> And with great virtue, the apostles yielded witnessing of the againrising of Jesus Christ our Lord, and great grace was in all (of) them [or and great grace was in them all]. (And with great power, the apostles testified about the resurrection of Jesus Christ our Lord, and everyone was richly blessed.)
- <sup>34</sup> For neither any needy man was among them, for how many ever were possessors of fields, either of houses, they sold (them), and brought the prices of those things that they sold (or and brought the payments for those things that they sold), <sup>35</sup> and laid (them) before the feet of the apostles. And it was parted to each, as it was need(ful) to each, (or And it was divided unto each, as it was needed by each).

<sup>36</sup> Forsooth Joseph, that was named Barnabas of [the] apostles (or who was called Barnabas by the apostles), that is to say (or which is translated), the son of comfort, of the lineage (or of the tribe) of Levi, [or a Levite by kin], a man of Cyprus, <sup>37</sup> when he had a field, sold it, and brought the price (or and brought the payment for it), and laid it before the feet of the apostles.

- <sup>1</sup> But a man, Ananias by name, with Sapphira, his wife, sold a field,
- <sup>2</sup> and defrauded of the price of the field (or and lied about the payment for the field); and his wife was witting. And he brought (only) a part, and laid [it] before the feet of the apostles.
- <sup>3</sup> And Peter said to him, Ananias, why hath Satan tempted thine heart, that thou lie to the Holy Ghost, and to defraud (God) of the price of the field? (And Peter said to him, Ananias, why hath thou let Satan test thine heart, so that thou lie to the Holy Spirit, and defraud God of the payment for the field?)
- <sup>4</sup> Whether it unsold was not thine; and when it was sold, it was in thy power? Why hast thou put this thing in thine heart? Thou hast not lied to men, but to God.

- <sup>5</sup> Ananias heard these words, and felled down, and was dead [or and died]. And great dread was made on all that heard (about this), (or And great and fearful reverence came upon all who heard about this).
- <sup>6</sup> And young men rose (up), and moved him away, and bare him out, and buried (him).
- <sup>7</sup> And there was made a space of three hours, and his wife knew not that thing that was done, and entered.
- <sup>8</sup> And Peter answered to her, Woman, say to me, whether ye sold the field for so much? And she said. Yea, for so much.
- <sup>9</sup> And Peter said to her, What befelled to you [or What soothly came together to you, or accorded], to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? (or What befell to you, to test the Spirit of the Lord?) Lo! the feet of them that have buried thine husband be at the door, and they shall bear thee out.
- <sup>10</sup> Anon she felled down at his feet, and died. And the young men entered, and found her dead, and they bare her out, and buried [her] to (or beside) her husband. (At once she fell down at his feet, and died. And the young men returned, and found her dead, and they carried her out, and buried her beside her husband.)
- <sup>11</sup> And great dread was made in all the church, and into all that heard (of) these things. (And great and fearful reverence came upon all the church, and upon all who heard about these things.)
- $^{12}$  And by the hands of the apostles signs (or miracles) and many wonders were made in the people. And all were of one accord in the porch of Solomon.
- <sup>13</sup> But no man of others durst (or dared to) join himself with them, but the people magnified them.
- <sup>14</sup> And the multitude of men and of women believing in the Lord was more increased,
- <sup>15</sup> so that they brought out sick men into (the) streets, and laid (them) in (or on) little beds and couches, (so) that when Peter came, namely the shadow of him should shadow each of them, and they should be delivered from their sicknesses (or and they would be released from their sicknesses). [so that into (the) streets they brought out sick men, and put (them) in little beds and couches, (so) that when Peter came, namely the shadow of him should shadow each of them, and they were delivered from all sicknesses.]
- <sup>16</sup> And the multitude(s) of cities nigh to Jerusalem ran, bringing sick men, and (they) that were travailed of unclean spirits (or and those who were troubled by unclean spirits, or demons), which all were healed.
- $^{17}$  But the prince of priests rose up (or But the High Priest rose up), and all that were with him, that is the heresy of (the) Sadducees, and (they) were filled with envy;
- $^{18}$  and they laid hands on the apostles, and put them in the common ward [or in the common keeping]. (and they laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the prison.)
- <sup>19</sup> But the angel of the Lord opened by night the gates of the prison, and led them out, and said, [Forsooth the angel of the Lord by night opened the gates of the prison, and leading them out, said,]
- <sup>20</sup> Go ye, and stand ye, and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

<sup>21</sup> Whom when they had heard, they entered early into the temple, and taught. And the prince of priests came (or And the High Priest came), and they that were with him, and called together the council (or the Sanhedrin), and all the elder men of the children of Israel; and sent (men) to the prison, (so) that they should be brought forth.

<sup>22</sup> And when the ministers came, and found them not, and for the prison was opened, [or Soothly when the ministers came, and, the prison opened, found them not], they turned again and told (them), (But when the servants, or the officers, came, and opened the prison, and did not find them, they returned, and told them,)

<sup>23</sup> and said, We found the prison shut with all diligence, and the keepers standing at the gates (or and the guards standing at the gates); but we opened (it), and found no man therein.

<sup>24</sup> And as the magistrates of the temple, and the princes of (the) priests heard these words, they doubted of them, what was done. (And when the Temple magistrate, and the high priests, heard these words, they wondered, what had become of them.)

<sup>25</sup> But a man came, and told to them, For lo! those men which ye have put into prison, be in the temple, and stand (there), and teach the people.

- <sup>26</sup> Then the magistrate went with the ministers, and brought them without violence; for they dreaded the people, lest they should be stoned. (Then the magistrate went with the servants, or the officers, and brought them in without force; because they feared the people, lest they should be stoned.)
- <sup>27</sup> And when they had brought them, they set them in the council; and the prince of priests asked them, (And when they had brought them in, they put them before the Council; and the High Priest spoke to them,)
- <sup>28</sup> and said, In commandment we commanded you, that ye should not teach in this name, and lo! ye have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and ye will bring on us the blood of this man.

<sup>29</sup> And Peter answered, and the apostles, and said, It behooveth (us) to obey to God, more than to men.

<sup>30</sup> [The] God of our fathers raised Jesus, whom ye slew, hanging in a tree. (The God of our fathers raised Jesus, whom ye killed, by hanging him on a tree, or on the cross.)

- <sup>31</sup> God enhanced with his right hand this prince and Saviour, that penance were given to Israel [or for to give penance to Israel], and remission of sins. (With his right hand God exalted, or raised up, this Leader and Saviour, to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness for their sins.)
- <sup>32</sup> And we be witnesses of these words, and the Holy Ghost (or as is the Holy Spirit), whom God gave to all obeying to him.

33 When they heard these things, they were tormented, and thought to slay them.

 $^{54}$  But a man rose in the council, a Pharisee, Gamaliel by name, a doctor of the law, a worshipful man to all the people, and (he) commanded the men to be put withoutforth for a while. (But a man stood up in the Council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a teacher of the Law, a man honoured by all the people, and he commanded the men to be put outside for a while.)

35 And he said to them, Ye men of Israel (or Israelites), take attention to yourselves on these men, what ye shall do.

- <sup>36</sup> For before these days (there was) Theudas, that said himself to be some man, to whom a number of men consented, about four hundred; which was slain, and all that believed to him, were scattered, and brought to nought.
- <sup>37</sup> After this, Judas of Galilee was in the days of profession, and turned away the people after him; and all how many ever consented to him, were scattered, and he perished. (After this, there was Judas of Galilee during the days of professing, or during the census, and he turned away the people after him; but all whomever consented to him, were scattered, after that he perished.)
- <sup>38</sup> And now therefore I say to you, depart ye from these men, and suffer ye them; for if this counsel either work is of men, it shall be undone; (And so now I say to you, go away from these men, and let them be; for if this plan, or this work, is from men, it shall be destroyed, or it shall be ended;)
- <sup>39</sup> but if it is of God, ye may not undo them, lest peradventure ye be found to repugn against God. (but if it is from God, ye cannot stop, or destroy, them, lest perhaps ye be found to fight against God.)[forsooth if it is of God, ye may not undo them. But suffer ye them, lest peradventure ye be found for to repugn God. (but if it is from God, ye cannot stop them. So let them be, lest perhaps ye be found to be fighting with God.)]
- <sup>40</sup> And they consented to him; and they called together the apostles, and announced (or commanded) to them, (after) that (they) were beaten, that they should no more speak in the name of Jesus, and (then) they let them go.
- $^{41}$  And they went joying from the sight of the council, that they were had worthy to suffer despising for the name of Jesus.
- <sup>42</sup> But each day they ceased not in the temple, and about houses, to teach and preach Jesus Christ. (But each day they did not cease in the Temple, and in their houses, to teach and to preach about Jesus Christ.)

- <sup>1</sup> But in those days, when the number of disciples increased, the Greeks grudged against the Hebrews, for that their widows were despised in every day's ministering. (But in those days, when the number of disciples increased, the Greeks grumbled against the Hebrews, because their widows did not receive their portion of each day's sharing, or of the daily distribution.)
- <sup>2</sup> And the twelve called together the multitude of (the) disciples, and said, It is not rightful, that we leave the word of God, and minister to boards, (or It is not right, that we leave the word of God, to serve tables).
- <sup>3</sup> Therefore, brethren, behold ye men of you of good fame [or of good witnessing], [seven], full of the Holy Ghost, and of wisdom, whom we shall ordain on this work; (And so, brothers, look for, or find, men among you of good reputation, seven who be full of the Holy Spirit, and of wisdom, whom we shall ordain upon this work;)
- <sup>4</sup> for we shall be busy to prayer, and to preach, [or and (the) ministry, or preaching, of] the word of God. (for we shall be busy with prayer, and with the preaching, or the ministering, of the word of God.)

<sup>5</sup> And the word pleased before all the multitude [or And the word pleased to all the multitude]; and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost (or a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit), and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas, a comeling, [or a guest], (or a newcomer), a man of Antioch.

<sup>6</sup> They ordained these before the sight of the apostles, and they prayed, and laid (their) hands on them.

- <sup>7</sup> And the word of the Lord waxed, and the number of the disciples in Jerusalem was much multiplied; also a much company of priests obeyed to the faith. (And the word of the Lord grew, or spread, and the number of the disciples in Jerusalem greatly increased; and also a great number of priests obeyed the faith.)
- <sup>8</sup> And Stephen, full of grace and of strength, made wonders and great signs in the people. (And Stephen, full of grace and strength, made great wonders and miracles among the people.)
- <sup>9</sup> But some rose (up) of (or from) the synagogue, that was called of Libertines, and Cyrenians, and of men of Alexandria, and of them that were of Cilicia and of Asia, and disputed with Stephen.

10 And they might not withstand the wisdom and the spirit, that (he) spake.

<sup>11</sup> Then they privily sent men, that should say, that they [have] heard him saying words of blasphemy against Moses and God.

- <sup>12</sup> And so they moved together the people, and the elder men (or the elders), and the scribes; and they came together, and took (hold of) him, and brought (him) into the council.
- <sup>13</sup> And they ordained false witnesses, that said, This man ceaseth not to speak words against the holy place, and the law.
- $^{14}$  For we heard him saying, That this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the traditions, which Moses betook (or delivered) to us.
- <sup>15</sup> And all men that sat in the council beheld him, and saw his face as the face of an angel.

- <sup>1</sup> And the prince of priests said to Stephen, Whether these things have them so? (And the High Priest said to Stephen, Be these things true?)
- <sup>2</sup> Which said, Brethren and fathers, hear ye, (or And he said, Brothers and fathers, listen). [The] God of glory appeared to our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before that he dwelt in Charran,
- <sup>3</sup> and said to him, Go out of thy land, and of thy kindred, (or Go out of thy land, and away from thy kinfolk), and come into the land, which I shall show to thee.
- <sup>4</sup>Then he went out of the land of (the) Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran. And from thence after that his father was dead, he translated him into this land (or he led him to this land), in which ye dwell now.
- <sup>5</sup> And he gave not to him heritage in it (or But he did not give him any inheritance in it), neither a pace of a foot, but he promised to give him it into possession, and to his seed after him, when he had not a son.
- <sup>6</sup> And God spake to him, That his seed shall be [a] comeling [or a guest] in an alien land, and they shall make them subject to servage, and shall evil treat them, (for) four hundred years and thirty [or (for) four hundred years]; (And God said to him, That his descendants shall be newcomers in a foreign or a strange land, and they shall make them subject to servitude, or to slavery, and shall treat them wickedly, for four hundred years;)

<sup>7</sup> and I shall judge the folk to whom they shall serve, (or and I shall judge the nation for whom they shall be slaves), saith the Lord. And after these things they shall go out, and they shall serve to me in this place.

- <sup>8</sup> And he gave to him the testament of circumcision; and so he engendered Isaac, and circumcised him in the eighth day. And Isaac engendered Jacob, and Jacob engendered the twelve patriarchs. (And he gave to him the covenant of circumcision; and so he begat Isaac, and circumcised him on the eighth day. And Isaac begat Jacob, and Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs.)
- <sup>9</sup> And the patriarchs had envy to Joseph, and sold him into Egypt. And God was with him.
- 10 and delivered him (out) of all his tribulations, and gave him grace and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh, king of Egypt. And he ordained him sovereign on Egypt, and on all his house.
- 11 And hunger came into all Egypt, and Canaan, and great tribulation; and our fathers found not meat (or and our fathers could not find any food).
- 12 But when Jacob had heard, that wheat was in Egypt, he sent our fathers (on their) first (visit).
- 13 And in the second time Joseph was known of his brethren (or And on the second visit Joseph made himself known to his brothers), and his kin was made known to Pharaoh.
- <sup>14</sup> And Joseph sent, and called (for) Jacob, his father, and all his kindred, seventy and five men [or souls].
  - <sup>15</sup> And Jacob came down into Egypt, and was dead, he and our fathers;
- <sup>16</sup> and they were translated into Sychem, and were laid in the sepulchre, that Abraham bought by price of silver of the sons of Emmor, the son of Sychem. (and they were taken to Shechem, and were laid in the tomb, that Abraham bought with silver from the sons of Hamor, the father of Shechem.)
- <sup>17</sup> And when the time of (the) promise came nigh, which God had acknowledged to Abraham, the people waxed (or grew), and multiplied in Egypt,
  - <sup>18</sup> till another king (a)rose in Egypt, which knew not Joseph.
- <sup>19</sup> This (man) beguiled our kin, and tormented our fathers, that they should put away [or they should put out] their young children, for they should not live.
- <sup>20</sup> In the same time Moses was born, and he was loved of God for he was accepted of God], (or At that time Moses was born, and he was loved by God); and he was nourished (or was nursed) three months in the house of his father.
- <sup>21</sup> And when he was put out in the river, the daughter of Pharaoh took him up, and nourished him into her son (or and raised him as her own son).
- 22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of (the) Egyptians, and he was mighty in his words and works.
- <sup>23</sup> But when the time of forty years was [full-]filled to him, it rose up into his heart, that he should visit his brethren, the sons of Israel.

- <sup>24</sup> And when he saw a man suffering wrong, he (a)venged him, and did vengeance for him that suffered the wrong, and killed the Egyptian.
- $^{25}$  For he guessed that his brethren should understand, that God should give to them health (or deliverance) by the hand of him; but they understood not.
- <sup>26</sup> For in the day (pur)suing he appeared to them (who were) chiding (or For on the following day he appeared to two men who were fighting), and he accorded them [or he reconciled them] in peace, and said, Men, ye be brethren; why annoy (or harm) ye each other?
- <sup>27</sup> But he that did the wrong to his neighbour, putted him away, and said, Who ordained thee prince and doomsman on us? (But he who did the wrong to his neighbour, pushed him away, and said, Who made thee lord and judge over us?)
  - <sup>28</sup> Whether thou wilt slay me, as yesterday thou killedest the Egyptian?
- $^{29}$  And in this word Moses flew, and was made a comeling in the land of Madian (or and was made a newcomer in the land of Midian), where he begat two sons.
- <sup>30</sup> And when he had [ful] filled forty years, an angel appeared to him in (the) fire of (the) flame of a bush, in desert of the mount of Sina (or in the desert of Mount Sinai).
- <sup>31</sup> And Moses saw, and wondered on the sight. And when he nighed to behold, the voice of the Lord was made to him, (And Moses saw, and wondered at the sight. And when he approached to look at it, the voice of the Lord was made to him,)
- $^{32}$  and said, I am (the) God of your fathers, (the) God of Abraham, God of Isaac, [and] God of Jacob. Moses was made trembling, and durst (or dared) not behold.
- <sup>33</sup> But God said to him, Do off the shoes of thy feet, for the place in which thou standest is holy earth (or for the place where thou standest is holy ground).
- <sup>34</sup> I seeing saw the tormenting [or the affliction] of my people that is in Egypt, and I heard the mourning of them, and came down to deliver them. And now come thou, and I shall send thee into Egypt.
- <sup>35</sup> This Moses whom they denied, saying, Who ordained thee prince and doomsman on us? God sent this prince and again-buyer, with the hand of the angel, that appeared to him in the bush. (This Moses whom they denied, saying, Who ordained thee lord and judge over us? God sent this leader and this redeemer, by the hand of the angel, who appeared to him in the bush.)
- <sup>36</sup> This Moses led them out, and did wonders and signs (or miracles) in the land of Egypt, and in the Red Sea (or and in the Sea of Reeds), and in (the) desert (for) forty years.
- <sup>37</sup> This is Moses, that said to the sons of Israel, God shall raise to you a prophet of your brethren, [and] as me ye shall hear him.
- <sup>38</sup> This it is, that was in the church in wilderness, with the angel that spake to him in the mount of Sina, and with our fathers; which took words of life to give to us. (This is he, who was with the congregation in the wilderness, with the angel who spoke to him on Mount Sinai, and with our fathers; who received the Words of Life to give to us.)

<sup>39</sup> To whom our fathers would not obey, but putted him away, and were turned away in their hearts into Egypt (or and their hearts were turned back to Egypt),

<sup>40</sup> saying to Aaron, Make thou to us gods, that shall go before us; for to this Moses that led us out of the land of Egypt, we know not what is done to him.

<sup>41</sup> And they made a calf in those days, and offered a sacrifice to the maumet, [or to the simulacrum], (or and offered a sacrifice to the idol); and they were glad in the works of their hands.

<sup>42</sup> And God turned, and betook them to serve to the knighthood (or to the host) of heaven, (or And God turned away from them, and delivered them over to serve, or to worship, the stars of the heavens), as it is written in the book of [the] prophets, Whether ye, house of Israel, offered to me slain sacrifices, either sacrifices, (for) forty years in (the) desert?

<sup>43</sup> And ye have taken the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures that ye have made to worship them; and I shall translate you into Babylon (or and so I shall lead you to Babylon).

<sup>44</sup> The tabernacle of witnessing was with our fathers in desert, (or The Tabernacle, or the Tent, of the Testimony was with our fathers in the desert), as God assigned to them, and spake to Moses, that he should make it after the form that he saw.

<sup>45</sup> Which also our fathers took with Jesus, (or he)that was(called)Joshua, and brought into the possession of (the) heathen men, which God putted away from the face of our fathers, till into the days of David,

<sup>46</sup> that found grace with God, and asked that he should find a tabernacle to (the) God of Jacob. (who found grace with God, and asked if he could make a Tabernacle for the God of Jacob.)

<sup>47</sup> But Solomon builded the house to him. [Solomon forsooth built an house to him.](But it was Solomon who built a House, or the Temple, for him.)

<sup>48</sup> But the high God dwelleth not in things made by hand, as he saith by the prophet,

<sup>49</sup> Heaven is a seat to me (or Heaven is my throne), and the earth is the stool of my feet; what house shall ye build to me, saith the Lord, either what place is of my resting? [or which is the place of my resting?]

<sup>51</sup> With hard noll, and uncircumcised hearts and ears, ye withstand (for)evermore the Holy Ghost; and as your fathers, so ye. (With a stiff neck, and uncircumcised hearts and ears, ye always stand against the Holy Spirit; and so ye be just like your fathers.)

52 Whom of the prophets have not your fathers pursued (or Whom of the prophets have your fathers not persecuted), and have slain them that before-told of the coming of the rightful man [or of the just man], whose traitors and manslayers ye were now?

- 53 Which took the law in ordinance of angels, and have not kept it. (Who received the Law through the facility of angels, but have not obeyed it.)
- <sup>54</sup> And they heard these things, and were diversely tormented in their hearts, and they grinded, or gnashed, with (their) teeth on (or at) him.
- 55 But when Stephen was full of the Holy Ghost, he beheld into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right half of the virtue of God. (But when Stephen was full of the Holy Spirit, he beheld into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right side, or at the right hand, of the power of God.)

- <sup>56</sup> And he said, Lo! I see heavens opened, and man's Son [or the Son of man] standing on the right half of the virtue of God. (And he said, Behold! I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right side, or at the right hand, of the power of God.)
- <sup>57</sup> And they cried with a great voice, and stopped their ears, and made with one will an assault into him.
- $^{58}$  And they brought him out of the city, and stoned [him]. And the witnesses did off their clothes, beside the feet of a young man, that was called Saul.
- <sup>59</sup> And they stoned Stephen, that called God to help (or who called to God for help), saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.
- <sup>60</sup> And he kneeled, and cried with a great voice, and said, Lord, set not to them this sin, (or Lord, do not hold this sin against them). And when he had said this thing, he died [or he slept in the Lord].

- $^{1}$  But Saul was consenting to his death. And great persecution was made that day in the church, that was in Jerusalem. And all men were scattered by the countries (or into the provinces) of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.
- <sup>2</sup> But good [or dread-full] men buried Stephen, and made great mourning on him. (And some good or devout men buried Stephen, and greatly mourned over him.)
- <sup>3</sup> But Saul greatly destroyed the church, and entered by houses, and drew out men and women, and betook them into prison [or into keeping], (or and delivered them to prison).
  - <sup>4</sup> And they that were scattered, passed forth, preaching the word of God.
- <sup>5</sup> And Philip came down into a city of Samaria, and preached to them Christ. (And Philip came down to a city in Samaria, and preached to them about the Messiah.)
- <sup>6</sup> And the people gave attention to these things that were said of (or by) Philip, with one will hearing and seeing the signs that he did.
- <sup>7</sup> For many of them that had unclean spirits, cried with (a) great voice, and (they) went out. And many sick in the palsy, and crooked (or and lame), were healed.
  - <sup>8</sup> Therefore great joy was made in that city.
- <sup>9</sup> But there was a man in that city, whose name was Simon, a witch, that had deceived the folk of Samaria (or who had deceived the Samaritan people), saying, that himself was some great man.
- <sup>10</sup> [To] Whom all harkened, from the least to the most, and said, This is the virtue (or the power) of God, which is called great.
- <sup>11</sup> And they believed him, for (a) long time he had madded them (or he had astonished them) with his witchcrafts. [Forsooth they beheld him, for this thing, that much time he had made them mad with his witchings.]
- <sup>12</sup> But when they had believed to Philip, preaching of the kingdom of God, men and women were baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. [Soothly

when they had believed to Philip, evangelizing of the kingdom of God, in the name of Jesus Christ, men and women were baptized.]

- <sup>13</sup> And then also Simon himself believed; and when he was baptized, he drew (himself)(un)to Philip; and he saw also that signs and great virtues were done, he was astonied, and wondered, (or and when he saw that miracles and great works of power were done, he was astonished, and wondered).
- <sup>14</sup> But when the apostles that were at Jerusalem, had heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent to them Peter and John.
- <sup>15</sup> And when they came (there), they prayed for them, that they should receive the Holy Ghost (or so that they would receive the Holy Spirit);
- <sup>16</sup> for he came not yet into any of them [or forsooth not yet he came into any of them], but they were baptized only in the name of the Lord Jesus.
- <sup>17</sup>Then they laid (their) hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost (or and they received the Holy Spirit).
- <sup>18</sup> And when Simon had seen, that the Holy Ghost was given by (the) laying on of [the] hands of the apostles, and he proffered [or he offered] to them money, (And when Simon had seen, that the Holy Spirit was given by the laying on of the hands of the apostles, then he offered them money,)
- <sup>19</sup> and said, Give ye also to me this power, that whomever I shall lay on mine hands [or that on whomever I shall put on hands], that he receive the Holy Ghost. (and said, Give also to me this power, so that whomever I shall lay my hands on, he shall receive the Holy Spirit.)
- <sup>20</sup> But Peter said to him, Thy money be with thee into perdition, for thou guessedest that the gift of God should be had for money [or for thou guessedest the gift of God to be had (or gotten), or wielded, (or possessed), by money].
- $^{21}$  There is no part, nor lot to thee, in this word, for thine heart is not rightful before God.
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore do thou penance for this wickedness of thee (or And so repent for this wickedness of thine), and pray God, if peradventure this thought of thine heart be forgiven to thee.
- $^{23}\,\mbox{For I}$  see that thou art in the gall of bitterness and in the bond of wickedness.
- $^{24}$  And Simon answered, and said, Pray ye for me to the Lord, (so) that nothing of these things that ye have said, come on me.
- <sup>25</sup> And they witnessed, and spake the word of the Lord, and went again to Jerusalem, and preached [or evangelized] to many countries of Samaritans. (And they testified, and spoke the word of the Lord, and then returned to Jerusalem, preaching in many villages of the Samaritans as they went forth.)
- $^{26}$  And an angel of the Lord spake to Philip, and said, Rise thou, and go to meet the south, to the way that goeth down from Jerusalem into Gaza; this is (the) desert.
- <sup>27</sup> And he rose (up), and went forth. And lo! a man of Ethiopia, a mighty manservant, a gelding of Candace, the queen of (the) Ethiopians, which was on all her riches, came to worship in Jerusalem. (And he got up, and went forth. And behold! an Ethiopian man, a powerful manservant, a eunuch of Candace, the Ethiopian queen, who was over, or was in charge of, all of her wealth, came to worship in Jerusalem.)

- <sup>28</sup> And he turned again, sitting on his chariot, and reading Esaias, the prophet. (And he was returning home, sitting in his chariot, and reading the prophet Isaiah.)
- <sup>29</sup> And the Spirit said to Philip, Nigh thou, and join thee to this chariot. (And the Spirit said to Philip, Approach him, and join thyself to this chariot.)
- <sup>30</sup> And Philip ran to, and heard him reading Esaias, the prophet, (or And Philip ran over, and heard him reading the prophet Isaiah). And he said, Guessest thou, whether thou understandest, what things thou readest?
- <sup>31</sup> And he said, How may I, if no man show to me? And he prayed Philip (or And he beseeched Philip), that he should come up, and sit with him.
- <sup>32</sup> And the place of the scripture that he read, was this, As a sheep he was led to slaying, and as a lamb before a man that sheareth him is dumb without voice, so he opened not his mouth.
- <sup>33</sup> In meekness his doom was taken up; who shall tell out the generation(s) of him? For his life shall be taken away from the earth. (He was humbled, or He was humiliated, and was denied justice; now who can tell out about his descendants? For his life was taken away from the earth.)
- <sup>34</sup> And the gelding answered to Philip, and said (or And the eunuch said to Philip), I beseech thee, of what prophet saith he this thing? of himself, or of any other?
- <sup>35</sup> And Philip opened his mouth, and began at this scripture, and preached [or evangelized] to him (about) Jesus.
- <sup>36</sup> And while they went by the way, they came to a water [or they came to some water]. And the gelding said, Lo! water; who forbiddeth me to be baptized?
- <sup>37</sup> And Philip said, If thou believest of all thine heart, it is leaveful, (or And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, it is lawful). And he answered, and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.
- <sup>38</sup> And he commanded the chariot to stand still. And they went down both into the water, Philip and the gelding, and Philip baptized him, (or And they both went down into the water, Philip and the eunuch, and Philip baptized him).
- <sup>39</sup> And when they were come up (out) of the water, the Spirit of the Lord ravished (or snatched up) Philip, and the gelding saw him no more; and he went in his way joying (or and he went on his way rejoicing).
- <sup>40</sup> And Philip was found in Azotus; and he passed forth, and preached [or evangelized] to all (the) cities, till he came to Caesarea.

- <sup>1</sup> But Saul, yet a blower [or a breather] of menaces, and of beatings, [or slaying(s)], against the disciples of the Lord, came to the prince of (the) priests, (But Saul, still a breather of threats, and killings, against the disciples of the Lord, came to the High Priest,)
- <sup>2</sup> and asked of (or from) him letters into Damascus, to the synagogues; that if he found any men or women of this life, he should lead them bound (back) to Jerusalem.
- <sup>3</sup> And when he made his journey, it befelled, that he came nigh to Damascus. And suddenly a light from heaven shone about him;

- <sup>4</sup> and he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying to him, Saul, Saul, what pursuest thou me? (or Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?)
- <sup>5</sup> And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou pursuest. It is hard to thee, to kick against the prick. (And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest. It is hard for thee, to kick against the prod.)
- <sup>6</sup> And he trembled, and wondered, and said, Lord, what wilt thou that I do? And the Lord said to him, Rise up, and enter into the city, and it shall be said to thee, what it behooveth thee to do.
- <sup>7</sup> And those men that went with him, stood astonied, (or astonished), [or were made afeared, or out of mind]; for they heard a voice, but they saw no man.
- <sup>8</sup> And Saul rose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw nothing. And they drew him by the hands, and led him into Damascus.
  - <sup>9</sup> And he was three days not seeing; and he ate not, neither drank.
- <sup>10</sup> And a disciple, Ananias by name, was at Damascus. And the Lord said to him in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Lo! I, Lord.
- <sup>11</sup> And the Lord said to him, Rise thou, and go into a street that is called Rectus; and seek, in the house of Judas, Saul by name, of Tarsus. For lo! he prayeth:
- $1^{\hat{2}}$  and he saw a man, Ananias by name, entering and laying on him hands, that he receive sight (or so that he can see again).
- <sup>13</sup> And Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard of many of this man, how great evil he did to thy saints in Jerusalem; (And Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard about this man from many people, what great evil he did to God's people in Jerusalem;)
- <sup>14</sup> and this hath power of the princes of (the) priests, to bind all men that call thy name to help. (and he hath received authority from the high priests, to bind up, or to take captive, all who call on thy name for help.)
- <sup>15</sup> And the Lord said to him, Go thou, for this is to me a vessel of choosing, that he bear my name before heathen men, and kings, and before the sons of Israel. (And the Lord said to him, Go, for he is a vessel that I have chosen, to bring my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and before the Israelites.)
- <sup>16</sup> For I shall show to him, how great things it behooveth him to suffer for my name.
- <sup>17</sup> And Ananias went, and entered into the house; and laid on him his hands, and said, Saul brother, the Lord Jesus sent me, that appeared to thee in the way, in which thou camest, that thou see, and be full-filled with the Holy Ghost, (or Brother Saul, the Lord Jesus sent me, who appeared to thee on the way, in which thou camest, so that thou may see again, and be filled with the Holy Spirit).
- <sup>18</sup> And anon as the scales felled from his eyes (or And at once as the scales fell from his eyes), he received (his) sight (again). And he (a)rose, and was baptized.
- <sup>19</sup> And when he had taken meat, he was comforted, (or And when he had eaten some food, he was strengthened). And he was by some days with the disciples, that were at (or in) Damascus.
- <sup>20</sup> And anon, he entered into the synagogues, (or And at once, he went to the synagogues), and preached (about) the Lord Jesus, for this is the Son of God.

- <sup>21</sup> And all men that heard him, wondered, and said, Whether this is not he that impugned in Jerusalem them that called to help this name? and hither he came for this thing [or and hither for this thing he came], that he should lead them bound (back) to the princes of (the) priests? (And everyone who heard him, wondered, and said, Is this not he who attacked those in Jerusalem who called on this name for help? and did he not come here for this purpose, that he would lead such believers bound and captive back to the high priests?)
- <sup>22</sup> But Saul much the more waxed strong [or Forsooth Saul much more waxed strong], and confounded the Jews that dwelled at Damascus, and affirmed that this is Christ. (But Saul grew stronger, and confused the Jews who lived in Damascus, and affirmed that Jesus is the Messiah.)

<sup>23</sup> And when many days were [ful] filled, (the) Jews made a counsel, that they should slay him. (And after many days had passed, the Jews made a plan, that they would kill him.)

<sup>24</sup> And the ambushes of them were made known to Saul. And they kept (watch on) the gates day and night, that they should slay him (or so that they could kill him).

<sup>25</sup> But his disciples took him by night, and delivered him, and let him down in a basket by the wall.

<sup>26</sup> And when he came into Jerusalem, he assayed [or he attempted] to join him(self) to the disciples; and all dreaded him (or but everyone feared him), and believed not that he was a disciple.

<sup>27</sup> But Barnabas took, and led him to the apostles, and told to them, how in (or on) the way, (that) he had seen the Lord, and that he spake to him, and how in Damascus he did trustily in the name of Jesus.

<sup>28</sup> And he was with them, and entered (in), and went out in Jerusalem, and did trustily in the name of Jesus.

<sup>29</sup> And he spake with heathen men, and disputed with Greeks (or And he spoke and disputed with the Greek-speaking Jews). And they sought to slay him.

 $^{30}$  Which thing when the brethren had known, they led him by night to Caesarea, and let him go to Tarsus.

<sup>31</sup> And the church by all Judea, and Galilee, and Samaria, had peace, and was edified, and walked in the dread of the Lord, and was [full-]filled with (the) comfort of the Holy Ghost. (And the church in all of Judea, and Galilee, and Samaria, had peace, and was edified, and walked in fearful reverence of the Lord, and was filled with the strength of the Holy Spirit.)

<sup>32</sup> And it befelled, that Peter, the while he passed about all, came to the holy men that dwelled at Lydda.

 $3\overline{3}$  And he found [there] a man, Aeneas by name, that from eight years (old) he had lain bed-ridden; and he was sick in the palsy.

<sup>34</sup> And Peter said to him, Aeneas, the Lord Jesus Christ heal thee; rise thou, and array, either make ready, thee. And anon he rose (or And at once he rose up).

<sup>35</sup> And all (the) men that dwelt at Lydda, and at Saron, saw him, which were converted to the Lord. (And everyone who dwelt at Lydda, and at Saron, who saw him, were converted to the Lord.)

<sup>36</sup> And in Joppa was a discipless, whose name was Tabitha, that is to say, Dorcas. This was full of good works and almsdeeds, that she did.

<sup>37</sup> And it befelled in those days, that she was sick, and died. And when they had washed her, they laid her in a solar (or they laid her in an upper

38 And for Lydda was nigh Joppa, the disciples heard that Peter was therein, and sent two men to him, and prayed (or beseeched). That thou tarry not to come to us.

- <sup>39</sup> And Peter rose up, and came with them. And when he was come, they led him into the solar (or into the upper room). And all the widows stood about him, weeping, and showing coats and clothes, which Dorcas made to them (or which Dorcas had made for them).
- <sup>40</sup> And when all men were put withoutforth (or And after everyone was sent out of the room), Peter kneeled, and prayed. And he turned to the body, and said, Tabitha, arise thou. And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, she sat up.
- <sup>41</sup> And he took her by the hand, and raised her (up). And when he had called the holy men and widows, he assigned her alive.
  - 42 And it was made known by all Joppa; and many believed in the Lord.
- 43 And it was made, that many days he dwelled in Joppa, at (or with) one Simon, a currier [or a tanner].

CHAPTER 10

- <sup>1</sup> A man was in Caesarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of the company of knights, that is said of Italy; (There was a man in Caesarea, named Cornelius, who was a centurion, or the leader, of a group of soldiers, called the Italian Company;)
- <sup>2</sup> a religious man, and dreading the Lord, with all his household; doing many alms to the people, and praying (to) the Lord (for)evermore. (a religious man, who had fearful reverence for the Lord, with all his family; giving many gifts to the Jewish people, and always praying to the Lord.)

3 This saw in a vision openly, as in the ninth hour of the day, [or (at) noon], an angel of God entering in to him, and saying to him, Cornelius.

<sup>4</sup> And he beheld him, and was adread (or and was afraid), and said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said to him, Thy prayers and thine alms-deeds have ascended up into mind, in(to) the sight of the Lord.

5 And now send thou men into Joppa, and call one Simon, that is named

Peter.

- <sup>6</sup> This is harboured at a man, Simon, (a) currier, [or (a) tanner], whose house is beside the sea. This shall say to thee, what it behooveth thee to
- <sup>7</sup> And when the angel that spake to him, was gone away [or had gone away], he called two men of his house, and a knight that dreaded the Lord (or and a soldier who had fearful reverence for the Lord), which were at his bidding [or that obeyed to him].
  - <sup>8</sup> And when he had told to them all these things, he sent them into Joppa.
- <sup>9</sup> And on the day (pur)suing, while they made journey, and nighed to the city, Peter went up into the highest place of the house to pray, about the sixth hour. (And on the following day, while they journeyed, and approached the city, Peter went up to the highest place of the house to pray, at about noon.)
- <sup>10</sup> And when he was hungered, he would have eaten. But while they made ready, a ravishing of the spirit, [or an excess of soul], felled on him;

<sup>11</sup> and he saw heaven opened, and a vessel coming down, as a great sheet with four corners [or with four cords], to be let down from heaven into earth (or to be let down from heaven onto the earth),

12 in which were all (the) four-footed beasts, and (the) creeping [things] of the earth, and (the) volatiles of (the) heaven(s), [either of the air], (or and the birds of the air).

13 And a voice was made to him, Rise thou, Peter, and slay, and eat.

<sup>14</sup> And Peter said, Lord, forbid [it], for I never eat any common thing, and unclean (or unclean).

<sup>15</sup> And again the second time the voice was made to him, That thing that God hath cleansed, say thou not unclean.

- <sup>16</sup> And this thing was done by thrice; and anon the vessel was received again into heaven (or and then at once the vessel was taken up again into heaven).
- <sup>17</sup> And while that Peter doubted within himself, what the vision was that he saw, lo! the men, that were sent from Cornelius, sought the house of Simon, and stood at the gate.
- <sup>18</sup> And when they had called, they asked if Simon, that is named Peter, had there harbour. (And they called out, and asked if Simon, who was called Peter, was harboured there.)

<sup>19</sup> And while Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said to him, Lo! three men seek thee.

- <sup>20</sup> Therefore rise thou, and go down, and go with them, and doubt thou nothing, for I sent them.
- <sup>21</sup> And Peter came down to the men, and said, Lo! I am (he), whom ye seek; what is the cause, for which ye be come? [or for which ye have come?]
- <sup>22</sup> And they said, Cornelius, the centurion, a just man, and dreading God, and having good witnessing of all the folk of Jews, took answer of an holy angel, to call thee into his house, and to hear words of thee. (And they said, Cornelius, the centurion, a righteous man, and revering God, and receiving good testimony from all the Jewish people, received a word from a holy angel, to call thee to his house, and to hear some words from thee.)
- <sup>23</sup> Therefore he led them in, and received (them) in harbour; and that night they dwelled with him. And in the day (pur)suing he rose (or And on the following day he rose up), and went forth with them; and some of the brethren followed him from Joppa [or and some of (the) brethren from Joppa followed him], (so)that they be witnesses to Peter.
- <sup>24</sup> And the tother day (or And the next day), he entered into Caesarea. And Cornelius abode them, with his cousins, and necessary friends, that were called together.
- <sup>25</sup> And it was done, when Peter was come in [or when Peter had entered], Cornelius came meeting him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped (or and honoured)him.
- <sup>26</sup> But Peter raised him (up), and said, Arise thou, also I myself am a man, as thou.
- <sup>27</sup> And he spake with him, and went in, and found many that were come together.
- <sup>28</sup> And he said to them, Ye know, how abominable it is to a Jew, to be joined either to come to an alien (or to a foreigner); but God showed to me, that no man say a man common, either unclean (or unclean).

- $^{29}$  For which thing I came, when I was called, without doubting. Therefore I ask you, for what cause have ye called me?
- <sup>30</sup> And Cornelius said, Today, four days into this hour [or From the fourth day passed till to this hour], I was praying and fasting in the ninth hour in mine house. And lo! a man stood before me in a white cloth (or a man stood before me in a white cloak),
- $^{31}$  and said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almsdeeds be in mind in the sight of God (or and thy acts of charity be remembered before God).
- <sup>32</sup> Therefore send thou into Joppa, and call Simon, that is named Peter; this (man) is harboured in the house of Simon (the) currier, beside the sea. This (man), when he shall come, shall speak to thee.
- <sup>33</sup> Therefore anon I sent to thee (or And so at once I sent for thee), and thou didest well in coming to us. Now therefore we all be present in thy sight, to hear the words, whatever be commanded to thee of the Lord.
- <sup>34</sup> And Peter opened his mouth, and said, In truth I have found, that God is no acceptor of persons, (or In truth I have found, that God hath no favourites among people);
- <sup>35</sup> but in each folk he that dreadeth God, and worketh rightwiseness, is accept(able) to him. (but among all people and every nation, he who hath fearful reverence for God, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to him.)
- <sup>36</sup> God sent a word to the children of Israel, showing peace by Jesus Christ; this is (the) Lord of all things, [or this is the Lord of all men], (or he is the Lord of everyone).
- <sup>37</sup> Ye know the word that is made (or the tidings that be told) through(out) all Judea, and (that) began at Galilee, after the baptism that John preached, (about) Jesus of Nazareth;
- <sup>38</sup> how God anointed him with the Holy Ghost, and virtue; which passed forth in doing well [or which passed forth in well-doing], and healing all men oppressed of the devil, for God was with him. (how God anointed him with the Holy Spirit, and with power; and he went forth doing good, and healing everyone oppressed by the Devil, for God was with him.)
- <sup>39</sup> And we be witnesses of all things, which he did in the country of (the) Jews, and of Jerusalem; whom they slew, hanging on a tree.
- <sup>40</sup> And God raised this (man) in (or on) the third day, and gave him to be made known.
- <sup>41</sup> not to all the people, but to witnesses before-ordained of God; to us that ate and drank with him, after that he rose again from death [or after that he rose again from (the) dead].
- <sup>42</sup> And he commanded to us to preach to the people, and to witness, that he it is, that is ordained of God doomsman of the quick and of the dead. (And he commanded us to preach to the people, and to testify, that it is he, who is ordained by God to be the Judge of the living and of the dead.)
- <sup>43</sup> To this all (the) prophets bear witnessing [or To this all prophets bear witness], that all men that believe in him, shall receive remission of sins by his name. (And all the prophets testify about him, that all who believe in him, shall receive forgiveness for their sins through his name.)

 $^{44}$  And yet while that Peter spake these words, the Holy Ghost felled on all that heard the word. (And while Peter spoke these words, the Holy Spirit fell upon all who heard the word.)

<sup>45</sup> And the faithful men of (the) circumcision, that came with Peter, wondered, that also into nations the grace of the Holy Ghost is shed out. (And the faithful men of the circumcision, who came with Peter, wondered and were amazed, that the gift of the Holy Spirit was also poured out on heathen men, that is, upon the Gentiles.)

 $^{46}$  For they heard them speaking in languages [or speaking with tongues], and magnifying God. Then Peter answered (or Then Peter asked),

- <sup>47</sup> Whether any man may forbid water, that these be not baptized, that have also received the Holy Ghost as we? (Would anyone forbid the water, with which these people can be baptized, yea, they who have also received the Holy Spirit like we have?)
- <sup>48</sup> And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Then they prayed him, that he should dwell with them some days.

CHAPTER 11

<sup>1</sup> And the apostles, and the brethren that were in Judea, heard that also heathen men received the word of God, and they glorified God. (And the apostles, and the brothers who were in Judea, heard that the Gentiles had also accepted the word of God, and they glorified God.)

<sup>2</sup> But when Peter came to Jerusalem, they that were of (the) circumcision, disputed against him,

<sup>3</sup> and said, Why enteredest thou to men that have prepuce, and hast eaten with them? (and said, Why hast thou gone to those who have foreskin, or who be uncircumcised, and hast eaten with them?)

<sup>4</sup> And Peter began, and expounded to them by order, and said,

<sup>5</sup> I was in the city of Joppa, and prayed, and I saw in (the) ravishing of my mind, [or in (the) excess of my soul], a vision, that a vessel came down, as a great sheet with four cords [or with four corners], and was sent down from heaven; and it came to me.

<sup>6</sup> Into which I looking beheld, and saw (the) four-footed beasts of the earth, and (other) beasts, and (the) creeping beasts, and (the) volatiles of (the) beasts (a) for of the girl (or and the birds of the girl)

(the) heaven(s), [or of the air], (or and the birds of the air).

- <sup>7</sup> And I heard also a voice that said to me, Peter, rise thou, and slay, and eat.
- <sup>8</sup> But I said, Nay, Lord; for common thing either unclean entered never into my mouth. (But I said, No, Lord; for a common or an unclean thing hath never entered into my mouth.)
- <sup>9</sup> And the voice answered the second time from heaven, That thing that God hath cleansed, say thou not unclean.
- $^{10}$  And this was done by thrice, and (then) all (the) things were received again into heaven.
- <sup>11</sup> And lo! three men anon stood in the house, in which I was, (or And behold! three men at once arrived at the house, where I was); and they were sent from Caesarea to me.
- 12 And the Spirit said to me, that I should go with them, and doubt nothing. Yea, and these six brethren came with me, and we entered into the house of the man.

DEEDS OF APOSTLES CHAPTER 11:28

- 13 And he told to us, how he saw an angel in his house, standing and saying to him, Send thou into Joppa, and call Simon, that is named Peter,
- <sup>14</sup> which shall speak to thee words, in which thou shalt be safe, and all thine house. (who shall speak to thee the words, by which thou shalt be saved, and all of thine house.)
- 15 And when I had begun to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, as into us in the beginning. (And when I had begun to speak, the Holy Spirit fell upon them, as upon us at the beginning.)
- <sup>16</sup> And I bethought on the word of the Lord, as he said, For John baptized in water, but ye shall be baptized in the Holy Ghost (or For John baptized with water, but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit).
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore if God gave to them the same grace, as to us that believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I, that might forbid the Lord, that he give not the Holy Ghost [or that he should not give the Holy Ghost] to them that believed in the name of Jesus Christ? (And so if God gave them the same gift, as to us who believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I, who would forbid the Lord, yea, that he should not give the Holy Spirit to those who believed in the name of Jesus Christ?)
- 18 When these things were heard, they held peace, and glorified God, and said, Therefore also to heathen men God hath given penance to life. (When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, and said, And so God hath given life-giving repentance also to the Gentiles.)
- <sup>19</sup> And they that were scattered of the tribulation that was made under Stephen (or Now those who were scattered after the persecution that was made after Stephen's death), walked forth to Phenice, and to Cyprus, and to Antioch, and spake the word to no man, but to (the) Jews alone.
- <sup>20</sup> But some of them were men of Cyprus, and of Cyrene; which when they had entered into Antioch, they spake to the Greeks, and preached the Lord Jesus.
- <sup>21</sup> And the hand of the Lord was with them, and much number of men believing was converted to the Lord.
- 22 And the word came to the ears of the church, that was at Jerusalem, on these things; and they sent Barnabas to Antioch.
- <sup>23</sup> And when he was come, and saw the grace of the Lord, he joyed, and admonished all men to dwell in the Lord in purpose of heart; (And when he had come, and saw the blessing of the Lord, he rejoiced, and admonished everyone to remain in the Lord with a resolute heart:)
- 24 for he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost (or and full of the Holy Spirit), and of faith. And much people was increased to the Lord.
  - <sup>25</sup> And he went forth to Tarsus, to seek Saul;
- <sup>26</sup> and when he had found him, he led (him) to Antioch. And all a year they lived there in the church, and taught much people, so that the disciples were named first at Antioch christian men (or were first called Christians at Antioch).
  - <sup>27</sup> And in these days prophets came over from Jerusalem to Antioch.
- <sup>28</sup> And one of them rose up, Agabus by name, and signified by the Spirit a great hunger to coming [or a great hunger to come] in all the world, which hunger was made under Claudius (or and this famine occurred during the reign of Claudius).

<sup>29</sup> And all the disciples purposed, after that (that) each had, for to send (or to contribute) into (the) ministry to (the) brethren that dwelled in Judea.

 $^{30}$  Which thing also they did, and sent it to the elder men, by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAPTER 12

<sup>1</sup> And in the same time Herod the king sent power, [or hands], (or his men), to torment some men of the church.

<sup>3</sup> And he saw that it pleased to the Jews, and cast to take also Peter; and the days of therf loaves were. (And he saw that it pleased the Jews, and sent forth men to take hold of Peter; and it was during the Days, or the Feast, of Unleavened Bread.)

<sup>4</sup> And when he had caught Peter, he sent him into prison; and betook him to four quaternions of knights, to keep him, and would after pask bring him forth to the people. (And when he had caught Peter, he put him into prison; and gave him over to four squads of four soldiers each, to guard him, and intended after Passover to bring him before the people.)

<sup>5</sup> And Peter was kept in prison; but prayer was made of the church without ceasing to God for him (or but prayer without ceasing was made by the church to God for him).

<sup>6</sup> But when Herod should bring him forth, in that night Peter was sleeping betwixt two knights, and was bound with two chains; and the keepers before the door kept the prison. (But on the night before Herod would bring him before the people, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, and was bound with two chains; and the guards outside at the door, or at the gate, kept watch over the prison.)

<sup>7</sup> And lo! an angel of the Lord stood nigh, and light shone in the prison house. And when he had smitten the side of Peter, he raised, [or waked], him, and said, Rise thou swiftly. And another chains felled down from his hands (or And at once the chains fell off his hands).

<sup>8</sup> And the angel said to him, Gird thee, and do on thine hoses. And he did so. And he said to him, Do about thee thy clothes, and *(pur)*sue me (or and follow me).

<sup>9</sup> And he went out, and (pur)sued him; and he wist not that it was sooth, that (it) was done by the angel, (or And he went out, and followed him; and he knew not that it was true, that it was done by the angel); for he guessed himself to have seen a vision.

- <sup>10</sup> And they passed the first and the second ward, and came to the iron gate that leadeth to the city, which anon (or at once) was opened to them, [or the which willfully, (or on its own accord), is opened to them]. And they went out, and came [forth] into one street, and anon (or at once) the angel passed away from him.
- <sup>11</sup> And Peter turned again to himself, and said, Now I know verily (or Now I truly know), that the Lord sent his angel, and delivered me from the hand of Herod, and from all the abiding of the people of (the) Jews.
- <sup>12</sup> And he beheld, and came to the house of Mary, the mother of John, that is named Mark, where many were gathered together, and praying.
- <sup>13</sup> And when he knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel [or a wench], Rhoda by name, came forth to see (who it was).

- <sup>14</sup> And when she knew the voice of Peter, for joy she opened not the gate, but ran in, and told (them), that Peter stood at the gate.
- <sup>15</sup> And they said to her, Thou maddest [or Thou art mad]. But she affirmed, that it was so. And they said, It is his angel.
- <sup>16</sup> But Peter abode still, and knocked. And when they had opened the door, they saw him, and wondered.
- <sup>17</sup> And he beckoned to them with his hand to be still, and told how the Lord had led him out of the prison. And he said, Tell ye to James and to the brethren these things. And he went out, and went into another place (or and went to another place).
- <sup>18</sup> And when the day was come, there was not little troubling among the knights, what was done of Peter. (And when the daylight had come, there was a great deal of concern among the soldiers, about what had become of Peter.)
- <sup>19</sup> And when Herod had sought him, and found (him) not, after that he had made inquiring of the keepers, he commanded them to be brought to him, (or And when Herod had them search for him, and he was not found, after that he had questioned the guards, he commanded that they be put to death). And he came down from Judea into Caesarea, and dwelled there.
- <sup>20</sup> And he was wroth to (the) men of Tyre and of Sidon. And they of one accord came to him, when they had counselled with Blastus, that was the king's chamberlain, (and) they asked (for) peace, for as much as their countries (or their provinces) were victualed of him [or were nourished by him].
- <sup>21</sup> And in a day that was ordained, Herod was clothed with king's clothing, and sat for doomsman, and spake to them, (or and sat as judge, and spoke to them).
  - <sup>22</sup> And the people cried, The voice of God, and not of man.
- <sup>23</sup> And anon an angel of the Lord smote him, for he had not given honour to God; and he was wasted of worms, and died. (And at once an angel of the Lord struck him, for he had not given honour to God; and he was wasted by worms, and died.)
- $^{24}$  And the word of the Lord waxed, (or grew, or spread), and was multiplied.
- <sup>25</sup> And Barnabas and Saul turned again from Jerusalem, when the ministry was [ful] filled, and (they) took John, that was named Mark. (And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when their service, or work, was completed, and they took John, who was called Mark, with them.)

- <sup>1</sup> And prophets and doctors (or teachers of the Law) were in the church that was at Antioch, in which Barnabas, and Simon, that was called Black, and Lucius Cyreneus, and Manaen, that was the suckling-frère of Herod tetrarch (or who was the foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch), that is, (the)prince of the fourth part, and Saul were.
- <sup>2</sup> And when they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said to them, Separate ye to me Saul and Barnabas, into the work to which I have taken them. (And when they served the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Spirit said to them, Set apart Saul and Barnabas, for the work to which I have called them.)

- $^{\rm 3}$  Then they fasted, and prayed, and laid hands on them, and let them go.
- $^4$  But they were sent of the Holy Ghost (or And they were sent by the Holy Spirit), and went forth to Seleucia, and from thence they went by boat to Cyprus.
- <sup>5</sup> And when they came to Salamis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of (the) Jews; and they had also John in ministry [or in service].
- <sup>6</sup> And when they had walked by all the isle to Paphos, they found a man, a witch, [or they found some man witch], a false prophet, a Jew, to whom the name was Barjesus, (who was also called Elymas),
- <sup>7</sup> that was with the proconsul Sergius Paulus, a prudent man. This (man) called Barnabas and Paul, and desired to hear the word of God.
- <sup>8</sup> But (this) Elymas the witch withstood them; for his name is expounded so [or (it) is interpreted so]; and he sought to turn away the proconsul from belief.
- <sup>9</sup> But Saul, which is said also Paul, was filled with the Holy Ghost, and beheld into him, (But Saul, who (is) also (called) Paul, was filled with the Holy Spirit, and looked at him,)
- <sup>10</sup> and said, A! thou full of all guile, and all falseness, thou son of the devil, thou enemy of all rightwiseness, thou leavest not (off) to turn upside-down, [or to subvert, or to destroy], the rightful ways of the Lord.
- <sup>11</sup> And now lo! the hand of the Lord is on thee, and thou shalt be blind, and not seeing the sun into a time. And anon, (or at once), [a] mist and darkness felled down on him; and he went about, and sought him that should give [the] hand to him.
- $^{12}$  Then the proconsul, when he had seen the deed, believed, wondering on the teaching of the Lord.
- <sup>13</sup> And when from Paphos Paul had gone by boat, and they that were with him, they came to Perga of Pamphylia; but John departed from them, and turned again to Jerusalem (or and returned to Jerusalem).
- <sup>14</sup> And they went from Perga, and came to Antioch of Pisidia; and they entered into the synagogue in the day of sabbaths, and sat, (or and they entered into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and sat down).
- <sup>15</sup> And after the reading of the law and of the prophets, the princes of the synagogue sent to them (or the leaders of the synagogue sent word to them), and said, Brethren, if any word of exhortation to the people is in you, say ye.
- <sup>16</sup> And Paul rose, and with hand bade silence, and said, Men of Israel, and ye that dread God, hear ye. (And Paul rose up, and with his hand ordered silence, and said, Israelites, and ye who have fearful reverence for God, listen to me.)
- <sup>17</sup> God of the people of Israel chose our fathers, and enhanced the people, when they were comelings in the land of Egypt, and in an high arm he led them out of it; (God of the people of Israel chose our fathers, and raised up the people, when they were foreigners in the land of Egypt, and with an outstretched arm he led them out of it;)
- $^{18}$  and by the time of forty years he suffered their manners (or their ways) in (the) desert.

- <sup>19</sup> And he destroyed seven folks in the land of Canaan, and by sort parted to them their land, (And he destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, and by lot, or for an inheritance, divided up their land to them,)
- <sup>20</sup> as after four hundred and fifty years. And after these things he gave doomsmen (or judges), [till] to Samuel, the prophet.
- <sup>21</sup> And from that time they asked (for) a king, and God gave to them Saul, the son of Cis, a man of the lineage of Benjamin, by forty years. (And at that time they asked for a king, and God gave them Saul, the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for forty years.)
- <sup>22</sup> And when he was done away, he raised to them David the king, to whom he bare witnessing (or of whom he testified), and said, I have found David, the son of Jesse, a man after mine (own) heart, which (or who) shall do all my will.
- $^{23}$  Of whose seed by the promise God hath led out to Israel a Saviour Jesus,
- <sup>24</sup> when John preached before the face of his coming the baptism of penance (or the baptism of repentance) to all the people of Israel.
- <sup>25</sup> But when John [ful] filled his course, he said, I am not he, whom ye deem me to be (or whom ye judge me to be); but lo! he (that) cometh after me, and I am not worthy to do off [or to unbind] the shoes of his feet.
- <sup>26</sup> Brethren, and sons of the kind of Abraham, and which that in you dread God, to you the word of this health is sent. (Brothers, and sons of the kindred of Abraham, and those of you who have fearful reverence for God, to you the message of this salvation is sent.)
- <sup>27</sup> For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and (the) princes of it, (or For they who live in Jerusalem, and their leaders), that knew not this Jesus, and the voices of (the) prophets, that by every sabbath be read, deemed, and fulfilled;
- <sup>28</sup> and they found in him no cause (worthy) of death, and (yet) asked of Pilate, that they should slay him. (and they found in him no crime worthy of death, but yet they asked of Pilate, that he should be killed, or executed.)
- $^{29}$  And when they had ended all things that were written of him, they took him down off the tree, and laid him in a grave (or and laid him in a tomb).
- <sup>30</sup> And God raised him from death in the third day; [Forsooth God raised him from (the) dead the third day;]
- <sup>31</sup> which was seen by many days to them that went up together with him from Galilee into Jerusalem, which be till now his witnesses to the people. (who was seen for many days by those who went up together with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who up to the present be his witnesses to the people.)
  - $^{32}$  And we show to you the promise that was made to our fathers;
- $^{33}$  for God hath fulfilled this to their sons, and again-raised Jesus (or and raised up Jesus); as in the second psalm it is written, Thou art my Son, today I begat thee.
- <sup>34</sup> And he that again-raised him from death [or Forsooth that he again-raised him from (the) dead], that he should not turn again into corruption, said thus, For I shall give to you the holy true things of David. (And he who raised him from the dead, so that he would never return to corruption, or to death and destruction, said thus, I shall give you the holy and true blessings which I promised to David.)

- <sup>35</sup> Therefore and in another stead he saith, Thou shalt not give thine holy (One) to see corruption. (And so in another place he saith, Thou shalt not allow thine Holy One to experience death and destruction, that is, to rot in the grave.)
- <sup>36</sup> But David in his generation, when he had ministered to the will of God (or when he had served the will of God), died [or slept], and was laid with his fathers, and saw corruption;
- <sup>37</sup> but he whom God raised from death [or soothly he whom God raised from (the) dead], saw not corruption (or did not suffer corruption, or rot in the grave).
- <sup>38</sup> Therefore, brethren, be it known to you, that by him remission of sins is told to you, (And so brothers, let it be known to you, that through him forgiveness of sins is now told to you,)
- <sup>39</sup> from all sins, of which ye might not be justified in the law of Moses (or under the Law of Moses). In this each man that believeth, is justified.
- $^{\rm 40}$  Therefore see ye, that it come not to you, that is before-said in the prophets,
- <sup>41</sup>Ye despisers, see ye, and wonder ye, [+or See ye, despisers, and wonder ye], and be ye scattered abroad; for I work a work in your days, a work that ye shall not believe, if any man shall tell it[out] to you.
- <sup>42</sup> And when they went out, they prayed, that in the sabbath (pur)suing (or that on the following Sabbath), they should speak to them these words.
- <sup>43</sup> And when the synagogue was left, many of the Jews and comelings worshipping God (pur)sued Paul and Barnabas; that spake, and counselled them, that they should dwell in the grace of God. (And when the synagogue was let go, many of the Jews and newcomers worshipping God followed after Paul and Barnabas; who spoke, and counselled them, that they should remain in the grace of God.)
- $^{44}$  And in the sabbath (pur)suing (or And on the following Sabbath), almost all the city came together, to hear the word of God.
- <sup>45</sup> And (the) Jews saw the people, and (they) were filled with envy, and gainsaid these things that were said of Paul (or and spoke against those things that were said by Paul), and blasphemed.
- <sup>46</sup> Then Paul and Barnabas steadfastly said, To you it behooved (us) first to speak the word of God; but for ye put it away, and have deemed you(rselves) unworthy to everlasting life [+or and have deemed you(rselves) unworthy of everlasting life], lo! we turn to (the) heathen men. (Then Paul and Barnabas resolutely said, It behooved us first to speak the word of God to you; but because ye have pushed it away, and have deemed yourselves unworthy of eternal life, behold! we shall turn to the Gentiles.)
- <sup>47</sup> For so the Lord commanded us, I have set thee into (a) light of (the) heathen men, that thou be into health to the utmost [or to the uttermost] of the earth. (For so the Lord commanded us, I have ordained thee to be a light for the Gentiles, so that thou be a means of salvation unto the uttermost terms, or limits, of the earth.)
- <sup>48</sup> And (the) heathen men heard, and joyed, and glorified the word of the Lord; and believed, as many as were before-ordained to everlasting life.

(And the Gentiles heard, and rejoiced, and glorified the word of the Lord; and believed, as many as were foreordained, or predestined, for eternal life.)

<sup>49</sup> And the word of the Lord was [far] sown in all that country (or region).

- <sup>50</sup> But the Jews stirred religious women, and honest, and the worthiest [or the first] men of the city, and stirred persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and drove them out of their countries. (But the Jews excited some honest and religious women, and the worthiest men of the city, and stirred up persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and drove them out of their region.)
- <sup>51</sup> And they shook away into them the dust of their feet [or And they shook away the powder of (their) feet into them], and came to Iconium.
- <sup>52</sup> And the disciples were filled with joy and the Holy Ghost. (And so the disciples were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit.)

- <sup>1</sup> And it befelled at Iconium, that they entered together into the synagogue of (the) Jews, and spake, so that [a] full great multitude of Jews and Greeks believed.
- <sup>2</sup> But the Jews that were unbelieveful, raised persecution, and stirred to wrath the souls of (the) heathen men against the brethren; but the Lord gave soon peace (or but the Lord soon gave peace).
- <sup>3</sup> Therefore they dwelled much time, and did trustily in the Lord, bearing witnessing to the word of his grace (or testifying to the message of his grace), giving signs (or miracles) and wonders to be made by the hands of them.
- <sup>4</sup>But the multitude of the city was parted (or But the multitude in that city was divided), and some were with the Jews, and some with the apostles.
- <sup>5</sup> But when there was made an assault of the heathen men and the Jews, with their princes (or with their leaders), to torment (them), and to stone them,
- <sup>6</sup> they understood, and fled together to the cities of Lycaonia, and Lystra, and Derbe, and into all the country(side) about.
- <sup>7</sup> And they preached there the gospel, and all the multitude was moved together in the teaching of them. (And so) Paul and Barnabas dwelt at Lystra. (And they preached the Gospel or the Good News there, and everyone was greatly moved by their teaching. And so Paul and Barnabas remained at Lystra.)
- <sup>8</sup> And a man at Lystra was sick in the feet, and had sat crooked from his mother's womb, which never had gone. (And a man at Lystra was sick in the feet, and had been lame from his mother's womb, and had never walked.)
- <sup>9</sup> This (man) heard Paul speaking; and Paul beheld him and saw that he had faith, that he should be made safe, (He listened as Paul spoke; and Paul looked at him, and saw that he had firm faith, so that he could be saved,)
- $^{10}$  and said with a great voice, Rise thou upright on thy feet. And he leaped (up), and walked.
- 11 And the people, when they had seen that that Paul did, reared their voice in Lycaonian tongue, and said, Gods made like to men be come down to us.
- <sup>12</sup> And they called Barnabas, Jupiter, and Paul, Mercury, for he was (the) leader of the word.

<sup>13</sup> And the priest of Jupiter that was before the city (or And the priest of Jupiter, whose temple was just outside the city), brought bulls and crowns (or garlands) before the gates, with (the) peoples, and would have made (a) sacrifice (there).

<sup>14</sup> And when the apostles Barnabas and Paul heard this, they rent their coats (or they tore their coats); and they skipped out among the people, and cried,

- <sup>15</sup> and said, Men, what do ye this thing? and we be deadly men like you, and show (these tidings) to you, that ye be converted from these vain things to the living God, that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that be in them; (and said, Men, why do ye this? for we be mortal men just like you, and we tell these tidings to you, so that ye be converted from these futile and useless things to the living God, who made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all the things that be in them;)
- <sup>16</sup> which in generations passed suffered all folks to go into their own ways. (who in generations passed allowed all the peoples to go their own ways.)
- <sup>17</sup> And yet he left not himself without witnessing in well-doing, for he gave rains from heaven, and times of bearing fruit, and full-filled your hearts with meat, and gladness. (And yet he did not leave himself without testimony or evidence of his good deeds, for he gave rain from the heavens, and times of bearing fruit, and filled you full with food, and your hearts with gladness.)
- <sup>18</sup> And they saying these things, scarcely assuaged the people, (so) that they offered not to them.
- $^{19}$  But some Jews came over from Antioch and Iconium, and counselled [or stirred (up)] the people, and [they] stoned Paul, and drew him out of the city, and guessed that he was dead.
- <sup>20</sup> But when [the] disciples were come about him, he (a)rose, and went into the city; and in the day (pur)suing, [or and in the (pur)suing day], (or and on the following day), he went forth with Barnabas into Derbe.
- <sup>21</sup> And when they had preached [or had evangelized] to that city, and taught many, they turned again to Lystra (or they returned to Lystra), and Iconium, and to Antioch;
- <sup>22</sup> confirming the souls of the disciples, and admonishing, that they should dwell in the faith, (or that they should remain in the faith, or that they should live in the faith), and said, That by many tribulations it behoveth us to enter into the kingdom of heavens.
- <sup>23</sup> And when they had ordained priests to them by all cities, and had prayed with fastings, they betook them to the Lord (or they delivered them unto the Lord), in whom they believed.
  - <sup>24</sup> And they passed (through) Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia;
- $^{25}$  and they spake the word of the Lord in Perga, and came down into Italy.
- <sup>26</sup> And from thence they went by boat to Antioch, from whence they were taken to the grace of God (or from where they had been committed, or delivered, unto God's grace), into the work that they (had now)[ful] filled.
- <sup>27</sup> And when they were come, and had gathered the church, they told how great things (that) God did with them [or they told how many things

(that) God did with them], and that he had opened to heathen men the door of faith (or and that he had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles).

<sup>28</sup> And they dwelled not a little time with the disciples.

CHAPTER 15

<sup>1</sup> And some men came down from Judea, and taught (the) brethren, That but ye be circumcised after the law of Moses, ye may not be made safe,

[or ye may not be saved], (or ye cannot be saved).

<sup>2</sup> Therefore when there was made not a little dissension to Paul and Barnabas against them, they ordained, that Paul and Barnabas, and some others of them, should go up to the apostles and (the) priests in Jerusalem, on this question.

<sup>3</sup> And so they were led forth of the church, and passed by Phenice and Samaria; and they told the conversation [or the living] of heathen men, and they made great joy to all the brethren. (And so they were led forth from the church, and went through Phoenicia and Samaria; and they told them the news of the conversion of the Gentiles, and they gave great joy to all the brothers.)

<sup>4</sup> And when they came to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles, and of the elder men, (or they were received by the church, and by the apostles, and by the elders), and told, how great things (that) God did with them [or how many things (that) God did with them].

- <sup>5</sup> But some of the heresy of the Pharisees, that believed, rose up, and said, That it behooveth them to be circumcised, and to command to keep also the law of Moses.
  - <sup>6</sup> And the apostles and elder men came together, to see of this word.
- <sup>7</sup> And when there was made a great seeking thereof, Peter rose, and said to them, Brethren, ye know, that of old days in you, God chose by my mouth heathen men, to hear the word of the gospel, and to believe, (or Brothers, ye know, that in the old days, or in our early days, God chose that the Gentiles would hear the word of the Gospel or the Good News, from my mouth, and believe it):

<sup>8</sup> and God, that knew the hearts, bare witnessing, and gave to them the Holy Ghost, as also to us; (and God, who knew their hearts, testified, and gave them the Holy Spirit, as he also gave to us;)

<sup>9</sup> and nothing diversed betwixt us and them, cleansing the hearts of them by faith.

- <sup>10</sup> Now then what tempt ye God (or Then why now do ye test God), to put a yoke on the neck of the disciples, which neither we, neither our fathers might bear?
- 11 But by the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ we believe to be saved, as also they. (For we believe it is by the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ that we be saved, as they also be.)
- 12 And all the multitude held (their) peace, and heard Barnabas and Paul, telling how great signs and wonders, for how many signs and wonders, (that) God did by them in (the) heathen men. (And all the multitude held their peace, and listened to Barnabas and Paul, telling how many miracles and wonders that God did by them among the Gentiles.)
- 13 And after that they held (their) peace, James answered, and said, Brethren, hear ye me.

- <sup>14</sup> Simon told, how God visited, first to take (out) of heathen men, a people to his name. [Simon told, how first God visited, to take (out) of (or from among) (the) heathen men a people to his name.](Simon told, how God first visited, to take, or to choose, from among the Gentiles, a people to his name.)
  - <sup>15</sup> And the words of (the) prophets accord to him, as it is written,
- <sup>16</sup> After this I shall turn again (or After this I shall return), and build the tabernacle of David, that fell down; and I shall build again the cast-down things of it, and I shall raise it (up);
- <sup>17</sup> that other men seek the Lord, and all folks, on whom my name is called to help, [or in-called], (or so that other men seek the Lord, yea, all the peoples and nations, who call on my name for help); the Lord doing this thing, saith.
- <sup>18</sup> From the (beginning of the) world, the work of the Lord is known to the Lord. (From long ago, or from the creation of the world, the Lord's work was made known.)
- <sup>19</sup> For which thing I deem them that of (the) heathen men be converted to God, to be not dis-eased [or unquieted],
- <sup>20</sup> but to write to them, that they abstain them from (the) defoulings of maumets [or of simulacra], and from fornication, and strangled things, and blood. (but to write to them, that they abstain themselves from the defilements of idols, that is, from food offered to idols, and from fornication, and from strangled things, and from blood.)
- <sup>21</sup> For Moses of (or from the) old times hath in all (the) cities them that preach him in (the) synagogues, whereby each sabbath he is read.
- <sup>22</sup> Then it pleased to the apostles, and to the elder men (or to the elders), with all the church, to choose (some) men of them, and send (them) to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas, Judas, that was named Barsabas, and Silas, the first men among (the) brethren;
- <sup>23</sup> and wrote by the hands of them, Apostles and elder brethren to them that be at Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia, brethren of heathen men (or to the Gentile brothers), greeting(s).
- $^{24}$  For we heard that some went out from us, and troubled you with words, and turned upside-down your souls, to which men we commanded not,
- $^{25}$  it pleased to us gathered into one, to choose men, and send (them) to you, with our most dearworthy Barnabas and Paul,
  - <sup>26</sup> men that gave their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.
- $^{27}$  Therefore we sent Judas and Silas, and they shall tell the same things to you by words.
- <sup>28</sup> For it is seen to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to put to you nothing more of charge, than these needful things, (For it is seen by the Holy Spirit, and by us, to put no other burden upon you, other than these necessary things,)
- <sup>29</sup> that ye abstain you from the offered things of maumets [or of simulacra], and blood strangled, and fornication, (or that ye abstain yourselves from the food offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled things, and from fornication). From which ye keeping you(rselves), shall do well. Fare ye well.

<sup>30</sup> Therefore they were let go [or dismissed], and came down to Antioch; and when the multitude was gathered, they (be)took the epistle (or they delivered the letter);

<sup>31</sup> which when they had read (it), they joyed on the comfort. (and when they had read it, they rejoiced over the encouragement that it gave to them.)

- <sup>32</sup> And Judas and Silas and they, for they were prophets, comforted (or strengthened)(the) brothers, and confirmed [them] with full many words.
- <sup>33</sup> But after that they had been there a little while, they were let go of (the) brethren with peace, (or they were sent forth by the brothers with peace), [or they were dismissed with peace of (or from)(the) brethren], (back) to them that had sent them.

34 But it was seen to Silas, to dwell there; and Judas went alone to Jerusalem.

<sup>35</sup> And Paul and Barnabas dwelt at Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with others many [or with many others].

- <sup>36</sup> But after some days, Paul said to Barnabas, Turn we again, and visit we [our] brethren by all (the) cities, in which we have preached the word of the Lord, how they have them. (But after some days, Paul said to Barnabas, Let us return, and visit our brothers in all the cities, in which we have preached the word of the Lord, to learn how they be doing.)
  - <sup>37</sup> And Barnabas would take with him John, that was named Mark (or who was called Mark).

<sup>38</sup> But Paul prayed him, that he that departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them into the work, should not be received. (But Paul beseeched him, saying that he who had left them at Pamphylia, and did not go with them in the work, should not be taken with them now.)

<sup>39</sup> And dissension was made, so that they departed atwain. And Barnabas took Mark, and came by boat to Cyprus.

<sup>40</sup> And Paul chose Silas, and went forth from the brethren, and was betaken to the grace of God (or and was delivered unto God's grace).

<sup>41</sup> And he went by Syria and Cilicia, and confirmed the church, commanding to keep the behests [or the precepts] of the apostles and (the) elder men.

CHAPTER 16

<sup>1</sup> And he came into Derbe and Lystra. And lo! a disciple was there, by (the) name (of) Timothy, the son of a Jewess christian, and of the father heathen (or and of a Gentile father).

<sup>2</sup> And [the] brethren that were in Lystra and Iconium, yielded good witnessing to him. (And the brothers who were in Lystra and Iconium, testified good things about him, or spoke approvingly about him.)

<sup>3</sup> And Paul would, that this man should go forth with him, and he took, and circumcised him, for (the) Jews that were in those places. For all knew, that his father was heathen. (And Paul wanted, that this man would go forth with him, and he took, and circumcised him, for the Jews who were in those places. For everyone knew, that his father was a Gentile.)

<sup>4</sup> When they passed by (the) cities, they betook to them to keep the teachings, that were deemed of (the) apostles and elder men, that were at Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup> And the churches were confirmed in faith, and increased in number each day.

<sup>6</sup> And they passed (through) Phrygia, and the country of Galatia, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to speak the word of God in Asia (or but they were forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word of God in Asia).

<sup>7</sup> And when they came to Mysia, they assayed [or they attempted] to go into Bithynia, and the Spirit of Jesus suffered not them, [or and the Spirit of Jesus suffered them not], (or but the Spirit of Jesus did not allow them).

<sup>8</sup> But when they had passed by Mysia, they came down to Troas;

<sup>9</sup> and a vision by night, [or in (the) night], was showed to Paul. But a man of Macedonia [or Some man of Macedonia] that stood, prayed him (or beseeched him), and said, Go thou into Macedonia, and help us.

<sup>10</sup> And as he had seen the vision, anon we sought to go forth into Macedonia (or at once we took action to go forth to Macedonia), and were made certain, that God had called us to preach [or to evangelize] to them.

- <sup>11</sup> And we went by ship from Troas, and came to Samothracia with straight course, [or Soothly we going by boat, or sailing, from Troas, with straight course came to Samothracia]; and the day (pur)suing to Neapolis (or and the following day to Neapolis);
- <sup>12</sup> and from thence to Philippi, that is the first part of Macedonia, the city colony. And we were in this city some days, and spake together.
- <sup>13</sup> And in the day of sabbaths we went forth without the gate beside the river, where prayer seemed to be [or where prayer was seen to be]; and we sat, and spake to women that came together.
- <sup>14</sup> And a woman, Lydia by name, a purpless of the city of Thyatira, worshipping God, heard; whose heart the Lord opened to give attention to these things, that were said of Paul.
- <sup>15</sup> And when she was baptized and her house, she prayed (or she beseeched us), and said, If ye have deemed that I am faithful to the Lord, enter ye into mine house, and dwell (there). And she constrained us.
- <sup>16</sup> And it was done, when we went to prayer, that a damsel [or a wench] that had a spirit of divination, met us, which gave great winning to her lords in divining, (or who brought much profit to her masters by her divining, or through her fortune-telling).
- <sup>17</sup> This (woman)(pur)sued Paul and us, and cried, and said, These men be servants of the high God, that tell to you the way of health. (She followed Paul and the rest of us, and cried, and said, These men be servants of the Most High God, who can tell you the way of salvation.)
- <sup>18</sup> And this she did in many days (or And she did this for many days). And Paul sorrowed, and turned, and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ, that thou go out of her. And he went out in the same hour.
- <sup>19</sup> And the lords of her saw, that the hope of their winning went away, and they took (hold of) Paul and Silas, and led [them] into the chapping, either doom place, to the princes. (And her masters saw, that their hope for more profit went away, and they took hold of Paul and Silas, and led (them) to the market, (or to the seat of judgement), that is, the city square, to the city leaders.)
- <sup>20</sup> And they brought them to the magistrates, and said, These men disturb [or distrouble] our city, for they be Jews,
- <sup>21</sup> and show a custom, which [it] is not leaveful to us to receive (or which it is not lawful for us to accept), neither do, since we be Romans.

- <sup>22</sup> And the people and magistrates ran against them, and when they had rent to pieces the coats of them (or and when they had torn their coats to pieces), they commanded them to be beaten with rods.
- <sup>23</sup> And when they had given to them many wounds, they sent them into prison, and commanded to the keeper, that he should keep them diligently. (And after they had given them many wounds, they threw them into prison, and commanded the warden of the prison, that he should guard them carefully.)
- <sup>24</sup> And when he had taken such a precept, he put them into the inner prison, and restrained the feet of them in a tree (or and restrained their feet in the stocks).
- <sup>25</sup> And at midnight Paul and Silas worshipped, and praised God; and they that were in [the] keeping (or and those who were in the prison), heard them.
- <sup>26</sup> And suddenly a great earth-moving was made, so that the foundaments of the prison were moved. And anon all the doors were opened, and the bonds of all were loosed. (And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so strong that the foundations of the prison were shaken. And at once all the doors were opened, and everyone's bonds were loosened.)
- <sup>27</sup> And the keeper of the prison was awaked (or And the warden of the prison was awakened), and saw the gates of the prison opened, and with a sword drawn out he would have slain himself, and guessed that the men that were bound had fled.
- <sup>28</sup> But Paul cried with a great voice, and said, Do thou none harm to thyself [or Do thou nothing of evil to thyself], for all we be here. (But Paul cried with a loud voice, and said, Do not harm thyself, for all of us still be here.)
- <sup>29</sup> And he asked (for) light, and entered [in], and trembled, and fell down to Paul and to Silas at their feet.
- <sup>30</sup> And he brought them withoutforth, and said, Lords, what behooveth me to do, that I be made safe? (And he brought them outside, and said, Lords, what must I do, so that I can be saved?)
- <sup>31</sup> And they said, Believe thou in the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be safe, and thine house. (And they said, Believe in the Lord Jesus, and thou, and thy family, shall be saved.)
- $^{32}$  And they spake to him the word of the Lord, with all that were in his house.
- <sup>33</sup> And he took them in the same hour of the night, and washed their wounds. And he was baptized, and all his house anon, (or And he, and his whole family, or and all his household, were baptized at once).
- <sup>34</sup> And when he had brought them into his house, he set to them a board. And he was glad with all his house, and believed to God. (And when he had brought them into his house, he set a table for them, or he gave them a meal. And he had joy with all his household, and believed in God.)
- <sup>35</sup> And when (the) day was come, the magistrates sent constables, and said, Deliver thou those men [or Dismiss ye those men].
- <sup>36</sup> And the keeper of the prison told these words to Paul, That the magistrates have sent, that ye be delivered; now therefore go ye out, and go ye in peace. (And the warden of the prison said to Paul, The magistrates have sent word, that we should be released; and so now go out, and go thy way in peace.)

<sup>37</sup> And Paul said to them, They sent us men of Rome into prison, that were beaten openly and uncondemned, and now privily they bring us out; not so (fast), but come they themselves, and deliver us out, (or no! let them come here themselves, and release us).

38 And the constables told these words to the magistrates; and they dreaded, for they heard that they were Romans, (or and they had great fear, when they learned that they were Romans).

<sup>39</sup> And they came, and besought them, and they brought them out, and prayed, that they should go out of the city. (And so they came, and found them, and they brought them out, and beseeched them, that they would go away from their city.)

40 And they went out of the prison, and entered [in] to (the house of) Lydia. And when they saw (the) brethren, they comforted them, and went forth. (And they left the prison, and went to Lydia's house. And when they saw the brothers, they strengthened or encouraged them, and then they went forth.)

- <sup>1</sup> And when they had passed by Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of (the) Jews.
- <sup>2</sup> And by custom Paul entered to them, and by three sabbaths he declared to them of the scriptures, (And as was his custom, Paul went to them, and on three Sabbaths he declared the Scriptures to them,)
- <sup>3</sup> and opened, and showed that it behooved Christ to suffer, and rise again from death, [or to suffer, and rise again from (the) dead], and that this is Jesus Christ, whom I tell to you. (and expounded upon them, and showed that it behooved the Messiah to suffer, and to rise again from the dead, and that this is Jesus Christ, about whom I tell you.)
- <sup>4</sup> And some of them believed, and were joined to Paul and to Silas; and a great multitude of heathen men worshipped God, and noble women not a few.
- <sup>5</sup> But the Jews had envy, and took of (or from) the common people some evil men, and when they had made a company, they moved the city. And they came to Jason's house, and sought to bring them forth among the people (or out to the people).
- <sup>6</sup> And when they found them not, they drew Jason and some brethren to the princes of the city, and cried, That these it be, that moved the world, and hither they came, (And when they found them not, they dragged Jason and some of the brothers to the leaders of the city, and cried, These it be, who stirred up the world, and now they have come here,)
- <sup>7</sup> whom Jason received. And these all do against the commandments of the emperor [or against the commandments of Caesar], and say, that Jesus is another king.
- <sup>8</sup> And they moved the people, and the princes of the city, hearing these things. (And they stirred up the people, and the leaders of the city, when they heard these things.)
- <sup>9</sup> And when satisfaction was taken of Jason, and of others, they let Paul and Silas go.

- <sup>10</sup> And anon by night, (the) brethren let [Paul and] Silas go into Berea, [or (the) brethren sent Paul and Silas into Berea], (or And at once in the night, the brothers sent Paul and Silas to Berea). And when they came thither, they entered into the synagogue of the Jews.
- 11 But these were the worthier [or the nobler] of them that be at Thessalonica, which received the word with all desire, each day seeking [the] scriptures, if these things had them so.
- <sup>12</sup> And many of them believed, and of heathen women honest and men not a few (or and more than a few honourable heathen men and women). [And soothly many of them believed, and of honest heathen women and men not (a) few.]
- <sup>13</sup> But when the Jews in Thessalonica had known, that also at Berea the word of God was preached of Paul (or that also at Berea the word of God was preached by Paul), they came thither, moving and disturbing [or distroubling] the multitude.
- <sup>14</sup> And then anon (the) brethren delivered [or dismissed] Paul, that he should go to the sea; but Silas and Timothy dwelt there. (And then at once the brothers sent off Paul, so that he could go down to the seacoast; but Silas and Timothy remained there.)
- <sup>15</sup> And they that led forth Paul, led him to Athens. And when they had taken a commandment of him to Silas and Timothy (or And when they had received an order from him for Silas and Timothy), that full hieingly they should come to him, they went forth.
- <sup>16</sup> And while Paul abode them at Athens (or And while Paul waited for them in Athens), his spirit was moved in him, for he saw the city given to idolatry.
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore he disputed in the synagogue with the Jews, and with men that worshipped God, and in the doom place, [or in the chapping], by all days to them that heard. (And so he disputed in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the men who worshipped God, and also in the city square, or at the market, every day with all those who would listen.)
- <sup>18</sup> And some Epicureans, and Stoics, and philosophers disputed with him. And some said, What will this sower of words say? And others said, He seemeth to be a teller of new fiends; for he told to them (of) Jesus, and (of) the again-rising, (or for he told them about Jesus, and about the resurrection).
- <sup>19</sup> And they took, and led him to Areopagus, [that is, a common school], and said, May we know, what is this new doctrine, that is said of thee?
- $^{20}$  For thou bringest in some new things to our ears; therefore we will know, what these things will be.
- $^{21}$  For all men of Athens and comelings (or newcomers) harboured (there), gave attention to none other thing, but either to say, either to hear, some new thing.
- <sup>22</sup> And Paul stood in the middle of Areopagus, and said, Men of Athens, by all things I see you as vain (or as futile) worshippers.
- <sup>23</sup> For I passed (by), and saw your maumets, [or your simulacra], (or and I saw your idols), and found an altar, in which was written, To the unknown God. Therefore which thing ye unknowing (or not knowing) worship, (or which ye worship in ignorance), this thing I (shall) show to you.

<sup>24</sup> God that made the world and all things that be in it, this (God), for he is (the) Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hand [or made by hand],

<sup>25</sup> neither is worshipped by man's hands, neither hath need of anything, for he giveth life to all men, and breathing, and all things;

<sup>26</sup> and made of one all the kind of men to inhabit on all the face of the earth, determining times ordained, and (the) terms of the dwelling [or of the habitation] of them,

<sup>27</sup> to seek God, if peradventure they feel him, either find (him), though he be not far from each of you.

<sup>28</sup> For in him we live, and move, and be. As also some of your poets said,

And we be also the kind [or the kin] of him.

- <sup>29</sup> Therefore since we be the kind [or the kin] of God, we shall not deem [or guess] that (a) godly thing is like gold, and silver, either stone, either to *(the)(en)*graving of craft and thought of man.
- <sup>30</sup> For God despiseth the times of this uncunning, and now showeth to men, that all everywhere do penance; (For God despiseth the times of this unknowing, or this ignorance, and now showeth to all, so that everyone everywhere shall repent;)
- <sup>31</sup> for that he hath ordained a day, in which he shall deem the world in equity (or on which he shall judge the world with fairness), in a man in which he ordained, and gave faith to all men, and raised him from death [or raising him from (the) dead].
- <sup>32</sup> And when they had heard (of) the again-rising of dead men, [or Soothly when they had heard (of) the again-rising of (the) dead], (or And when they had heard of the resurrection of the dead), some scorned, and some said, We shall hear thee again of this thing.
- <sup>33</sup> So Paul went out of the middle of them. (And then Paul went away from their midst.)
- <sup>34</sup> But some men drew [or cleaved] to him, and believed. Among which Dionysius Areopagite was, and a woman, by name Damaris, and other men with them.

- $^{\mathrm{1}}$  After these things Paul went out of Athens, and came to Corinth.
- <sup>2</sup> And he found a man, a Jew, Aquila by name, of Pontus by kind, that (of) late came from Italy, and Priscilla, his wife, for that Claudius commanded all Jews to depart from Rome; and he came to them.
- <sup>3</sup> And for that he was of the same craft, he dwelled with them, and wrought; and they were of rope-makers craft, [or soothly they were of tent-makers craft, that is, to make coverings to (or for) travelling men].
- <sup>4</sup> And he disputed in the synagogue by each sabbath, putting among (them) the name of the Lord Jesus; and he counselled (the) Jews and Greeks.
- <sup>5</sup> And when Silas and Timothy came from Macedonia, Paul gave busyness to the word, and witnessed to the Jews, that Jesus is Christ, (or and testified to the Jews, that Jesus is the Messiah).
- <sup>6</sup> But when they gainsaid and blasphemed, he shook away his clothes, [or he shook off his clothes], (or he shook out his clothes), and said to them, Your blood be on your head; I shall be clean from henceforth, and I shall go to (the) heathen men (or to the Gentiles).

- <sup>7</sup> And he passed from thence, and entered into the house of a just man, Titus by name, that worshipped God, whose house was joined to the synagogue.
- <sup>8</sup> And Crispus, (the) prince of the synagogue, believed to the Lord, with all his house. And many of the Corinthians heard, and believed, and were christened. (And Crispus, the leader of the synagogue, believed in the Lord, with all his house. And many of the Corinthians heard, and believed, and were baptized.)
- <sup>9</sup> And the Lord said by night to Paul by a vision, Do not thou dread, but speak, and be not still; (And the Lord said to Paul one night in a vision, Do not fear, or Fear not, but continue to speak, and do not be silent;)
- <sup>10</sup> for I am with thee, and no man shall be put to thee to harm thee, for much people is to me in this city (or for many people be with me in this city).
- $^{11}$  And he dwelled there a year and six months, teaching among them the word of God.
- <sup>12</sup> But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, [the] Jews rose up with one will against Paul, and led him to the doom (place), (or and led him to the seat of judgement or the court),
  - <sup>13</sup> and said, Against the law this (man) counseleth men to worship God.
- <sup>14</sup> And when Paul began to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, If there were any wicked thing, either evil trespass [or worst trespass], ye Jews, rightly I should suffer you, (or certainly I would allow you to present your case);
- <sup>15</sup> but if questions be of the word, and of (the) names of your law, busy yourselves [or ye yourselves see]; I will not be doomsman of these things (or I will not be the judge of these matters).
  - <sup>16</sup> And he drove them from the doom place.
- <sup>17</sup> And all took Sosthenes, (the) prince of the synagogue, and smote him before the doom place; and nothing of these was to care to Gallio. (And all the people took hold of Sosthenes, the leader of the synagogue, and beat him there in front of the seat of judgement or the court; but none of this was of any concern to Gallio.)
- <sup>18</sup> And when Paul had abided many days, he said farewell to (the) brethren, and by boat came to Syria. And Priscilla and Aquila came with him, which had clipped his head in Cenchrea; for he had a vow.
- <sup>19</sup> And he came to Ephesus, and there he left them (or and he departed from them there); and he went into the synagogue, and disputed with (the) Jews.
- <sup>20</sup> And when they prayed (him), that he should dwell more time (there), he consented not, (And when they beseeched him, that he would spend more time there, he would not agree to it,)
- <sup>21</sup> but he made farewell to (the) brethren, and said, [It behooveth me to make the solemn day coming at Jerusalem, and (then)] again I shall turn again to you, (or and then I shall return to you), if God will [or God willing]; and he went forth from Ephesus.
- $^{22}$  And he came down to Caesarea, and he went up, and greeted the church, and came down to Antioch.

- <sup>23</sup> And when he had dwelled there somewhat of time, he went forth, walking by row [or walking by order] through the country of Galatia, and (then) Phrygia, and confirmed all the disciples.
- <sup>24</sup> But a Jew, Apollos by name, a man of Alexandria of kind, a man eloquent (or an eloquent man), came to Ephesus; and he was mighty in (the) scriptures.
- <sup>25</sup> This man was taught the way of the Lord, and was fervent in spirit, and spake, and taught diligently those things that were of Jesus, and knew only the baptism of John (or but he only knew of the baptism by John).
- <sup>26</sup> And this man began to do trustily in the synagogue. Whom when Priscilla and Aquila heard, they took him, and more diligently expounded to him the way of the Lord.
- <sup>27</sup> And when he would go to Achaia, (the) brethren (were) excited, [or (the) brethren admonished, or counselled], and wrote to the disciples, that they should receive him; which when he came, gave much to them that believed.
- <sup>28</sup> For he greatly overcame (the) Jews, and showed openly by (the) scriptures, that Jesus is Christ (or that Jesus is the Messiah).

- <sup>1</sup> And it befell, when Apollos was at Corinth, that Paul when he had gone (to) the higher coasts, he came to Ephesus, and found some of the disciples (there).
- <sup>2</sup> And he said to them, Whether ye that believe have received the Holy Ghost? And they said to him, But neither have we heard [or But neither we have heard], if the Holy Ghost is. (And he said to them, Have ye who believe received the Holy Spirit? And they said to him, None of us have heard that there is a Holy Spirit.)
- <sup>3</sup> And he said, Therefore in what thing be ye baptized? And they said, In the baptism of John.
- <sup>4</sup> And Paul said, John baptized the people in the baptism of penance (or John baptized the people with a baptism of repentance), and taught, that they should believe in him that was to coming after him, [or and taught, that they should believe into him that was to come after him], that is, in Jesus.
- $^{5}$  When they heard these things, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.
- <sup>6</sup> And when Paul had laid on them his hands, the Holy Ghost came into them [or the Holy Ghost came (up)on them], and they spake with languages, and prophesied. (And when Paul had laid his hands on them, the Holy Spirit came upon them, and they spoke in strange and ecstatic tongues, and prophesied.)
  - <sup>7</sup> And all were almost twelve men.
- <sup>8</sup> And he went into the synagogue, and spake with trust (for) three months, disputing and treating [or softly moving], of the kingdom of God (or arguing about and quietly discussing the Kingdom of God).
- <sup>9</sup> But when some were harded [or were made hard], and believed not, and cursed the way of the Lord before the multitude, he went away from them, and separated (or set apart) the disciples, and disputed in the school of a mighty man each day.

- <sup>10</sup> This was done by two years, so that all that dwelled in Asia heard the word of the Lord, Jews and heathen men. (This was done for two years, so that all who lived in Asia heard the word of the Lord, yea, both Jews and Gentiles.)
- <sup>11</sup> And God did virtues not small [or little] by the hand of Paul, (And God did works of power or miracles, that were not small or insignificant, by Paul's hand,)
- $^{12}$  so that on sick men the sudaria, [or sweating clothes], (or napkins), were borne from his body, and sicknesses departed from them, and wicked spirits went out.
- <sup>13</sup> But also some of the Jewish exorcists went about, and assayed [or attempted] to *[in-]*call the name of the Lord Jesus Christ on them that had evil spirits, and said, I conjure you by Jesus, whom Paul preacheth.
- $^{14}$  And there were [some] seven sons of a Jew, Sceva, a prince of (the) priests (or a high priest), that did this thing.
- <sup>15</sup> But the evil spirit answered, and said to them, I know Jesus, and I know Paul; but who be ye?
- <sup>16</sup> And the man in which was the worst devil, leaped on them, and had victory [or lordship] on both (or over all of them), and was (so) strong against them, that they naked and wounded fled away from that house.
- <sup>17</sup> And this thing was made known to all the Jews and heathen men, that dwelled at Ephesus; and dread fell down on them all, and they magnified the name of the Lord Jesus. (And this was made known to all the Jews and Gentiles, who lived in Ephesus; and fearful reverence fell upon them, and they magnified the name of the Lord Jesus.)
- <sup>18</sup> And many men believed, and came, acknowledging and telling their deeds.
- <sup>19</sup> And many of them that *(pur)*sued curious things, brought together (their) books, and burned them before all (the) men; and when the prices of those were accounted, they found money of fifty thousand pence; (And many of them who followed curious things, brought together all their books, and burned them before everyone; and when the value of those books was reckoned, they found that they were worth about fifty thousand pence;)
- <sup>20</sup> so strongly the word of God waxed, (or grew, or spread), and was confirmed.
- <sup>21</sup> And when these things were [ful] filled, Paul purposed in spirit, after that Macedonia was passed (through) and Achaia (also), to go to Jerusalem, and said, For after that I shall be there, it behooveth me also to see Rome [or it behooveth me to see also Rome].
- <sup>22</sup> And he sent into Macedonia two men, that ministered to him (or who served him), Timothy, and Erastus, and he dwelled for a time in Asia.
- <sup>23</sup> And a great troubling was made in that day, of the way of the Lord [or in the way of the Lord].
- <sup>24</sup> For a man, Demetrius by name, a worker in silver, made silver houses to Diana, [that is, a false goddess], and gave to craftsmen much winning (or great profit);
- <sup>25</sup> which he called together them that were such manner workmen, and said, Men, ye know that of this craft winning is to us, (or Men, ye know that from this craft there is great profit for us);

- $^{26}$  and ye see and hear, that this Paul counseleth and turneth away much people, not only of Ephesus, but almost of all Asia, and said, that they be not gods, that be made with hands.
- <sup>27</sup> And not only this part shall be in peril to us, to come into reproof, but also the temple of the great Diana shall be accounted into nought (or but even the temple of the great Diana shall be reckoned as worthless); yea, and the majesty of her shall begin to be destroyed [or but and the majesty of her shall be destroyed], whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.
- <sup>28</sup> When these things were heard, they were [full-]filled with ire, and cried, and said, Great is the Diana of the Ephesians.
- <sup>29</sup> And the city was filled with confusion, and they made an assault with one will into the theatre, and took Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, (and) fellows of Paul.
- <sup>30</sup> And when Paul would have entered into the people, the disciples suffered not. (And when Paul wanted to go out to the people, the disciples would not allow him to go.)
- <sup>31</sup> And also some of the princes of Asia, that were his friends, sent to him, and prayed (him), that he should not give himself into the theatre. (And also some of the leaders of Asia, who were his friends, sent word to him, and beseeched him, so that he himself would not go to the theatre.)
- $^{32}$  And other men cried other thing(s); for the church was confused, and many knew not for what cause they were come together.
- <sup>33</sup> But of the people they drew away one Alexander, while (the) Jews putted him forth. And Alexander asked with his hand silence, and would yield reason to the people.
- $^{34}$  And as they knew that he was a Jew, one voice of all (the) men was made, crying as by twain (or by two) hours, Great is Diana of (the) Ephesians.
- <sup>35</sup> And when the scribe, that is, a town clerk, had ceased the people, he said, Men of Ephesus, what man is he, that knoweth not, that the city of Ephesians is the worshipper of the great Diana, and of the child of Jupiter?
- <sup>36</sup> Therefore when it may not be gainsaid to these things, it behooveth you to be ceased [or to be assuaged], and to do nothing follily; (And so since these things cannot be denied, or argued against, it behooveth you to cease your uproar, and to do nothing foolish;)
- $^{37}$  for ye have brought these men, neither sacrilegers, neither blaspheming your goddess.
- <sup>38</sup> That if Demetrius, and the workmen that be with him, have cause against any man, there be courts, and dooms, and judges; accuse they each other (there).
- <sup>39</sup> If ye seek aught of any other thing, it may be absolved in the lawful church, (or it can be resolved, or settled, in a lawful assembly).
- $^{40}$  For why we be in peril to be reproved of this day's dissension [or sedition], since no man is guilty, of whom we may yield (a) reason of this running together.
  - <sup>41</sup> And when he had said this thing, he let the people go.

- <sup>1</sup> And after [that] the noise (had) ceased, Paul called the disciples, and admonished them, and said farewell; and he went forth, to go into Macedonia.
- <sup>2</sup> And when he had walked by those coasts [or those parts], and had admonished them by many words, he came to Greece.
- <sup>3</sup> Where when he had been (there) three months, the Jews laid ambush for him, that was to sail into Syria; and he had counsel to turn again by Macedonia. (And when he had been there for three months, the Jews laid ambush for him, as he was about to sail to Syria; and so he made plans to return by way of Macedonia.)
- <sup>4</sup> And Sopater of Pyrri Berea (pur)sued him (or And Sopater the son of Pyrrhus, from Berea, followed him); of (the) Thessalonians, Aristarchus, and Secundus, and Gaius Derbeus, and Timothy; and (the) Asians, Tychicus and Trophimus.
- <sup>5</sup> These (men) for they went before, abode us at Troas. (And because these men went ahead of us, they waited for us at Troas.)
- <sup>6</sup> For we shipped after the days of therf loaves from Philippi (or For we set sail from Philippi after the Feast of Unleavened Bread), and came to them at Troas in five days, where we dwelt seven days.
- <sup>7</sup> And in the first day of the week (or And on the first day of the week), when we came to break bread, Paul disputed with them, and should go forth in the morrow; and he drew along the sermon till into midnight.
- <sup>8</sup> And many lamps were in the solar (or And there were many lamps in the upper room), where we were gathered together.
- <sup>9</sup> And a young man, Eutychus by name, sat on the window, (and) when he was fallen into an heavy sleep, while Paul disputed long, all sleeping he fell down from the third stage; and he was taken up, and was brought (in) dead.
- <sup>10</sup> To whom when Paul came down, he lay on him, and embraced (him), and said, Do not ye be troubled; for his soul is in him.
- <sup>11</sup> And he went up, and brake bread, and ate, and spake enough unto the day [or till into the light]; and so he went forth.
- <sup>12</sup> And they brought the child alive, and they were comforted greatly. (And they brought the young man home alive, and they were greatly comforted.)
- <sup>13</sup> And we went up into a ship, and shipped into Assos, to take Paul from thence; for so he had assigned [or he had disposed] to make (the) journey by land.
  - <sup>14</sup> And when he found us in Assos, we took him, and came to Mitylene.
- <sup>15</sup> And from thence we shipped in the day (pur)suing, and we came against Chios, and another day we havened at Samos, and in the day (pur)suing, we came to Miletus. (And we sailed from there on the following day, and we came opposite Chios, and the next day we havened at Samos, and on the following day, we came to Miletus.)
- <sup>16</sup> And Paul purposed to ship over to Ephesus, lest any tarrying were made to him in Asia; for he hied, if it were possible to him, that he should be in the day of Pentecost at Jerusalem, (or for he made haste, so that if it was possible for him, he would be in Jerusalem on the Day of Pentecost).

- <sup>17</sup> From Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the greatest men of birth [or the more through birth, either the elder men], of the church.
- <sup>18</sup> And when they came to him, and were together, he said to them, Ye know from the first day, in which I came into Asia, how with you by each time I was,
- <sup>19</sup> serving to the Lord with all meekness, and mildness, and tears, and temptations, that felled to me of (the) ambushings of (the) Jews; (serving the Lord with all humility, amid the tears, and tests, that came to me from the ambushing of the Jews;)
- <sup>20</sup> how I withdrew not [or nought] of profitable things to you, that I told not to you, and taught you openly, and by houses; (how I kept nothing profitable from you, yea, that I did not tell you, but rather, I taught you openly, or in public, and also in your homes;)
- <sup>21</sup> and I witnessed to Jews and to heathen men penance into God, and faith into our Lord Jesus Christ. (and I testified to Jews and to Gentiles alike, the need for repentance unto God, and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ.)
- <sup>22</sup> And now lo! I am bound in spirit, and go into Jerusalem; and I know not what things shall come to me in it,
- <sup>23</sup> [no] but that the Holy Ghost by all cities witnesseth to me, and saith, that bonds and tribulations at Jerusalem abide me. (except that the Holy Spirit in every city testifieth to me, that bondage, or imprisonment, and troubles await me in Jerusalem.)
- <sup>24</sup> But I dread nothing of these, neither I make my life preciouser than myself, so that I end, [or fulfill], my course, and the ministry of the word, which I received of the Lord Jesus, to witness the gospel of the grace of God. (But I fear none of that, nor do I make my life of any great value, I only desire that I fulfill my course, and the ministry of the word, which I received from the Lord Jesus, yea, to testify to the Gospel, or the Good News, of the grace of God.)
- <sup>25</sup> And now lo! I know, that ye shall no more see my face, all ye by which I passed (or all ye of whom I have been among), preaching the kingdom of God.
- <sup>26</sup> Wherefore I witness to you this day (or And so I testify to you this day), that I am clean of the blood of all men.
- <sup>27</sup> For I fled not away [or For I flew not away], that I told not to you all the counsel of God. (For I did not fly away, or hold anything back, so that I did not tell you all of God's plans.)
- <sup>28</sup> Take ye attention to you(rselves), and to all (of) the flock, in which the Holy Ghost hath set you, [or hath put you], (as) bishops (or among whom the Holy Spirit hath made you overseers), to rule the church of God, which he purchased with his blood.
- $^{29}$  I know, that after my departing, ravening (or snatching) wolves shall enter into you, not sparing the flock;
- <sup>30</sup> and men speaking shrewd [or wayward] things shall rise (up out) of yourselves (or and men speaking depraved things shall rise up from among you), (so) that they lead away (the) disciples after them.
- 31 For which thing wake ye, holding in mind, (or For which thing be on watch, keeping in mind), that by three years night and day I ceased not, (along) with (my) tears, admonishing each of you.

- <sup>32</sup> And now I betake you to God and to the word of his grace, that is mighty to edify and give heritage in all that be made holy. (And now I deliver you unto God and unto the word of his grace, that is mighty to edify and to give you an inheritance among all those who be made holy.)
  - 33 And of no man I coveted silver, and gold, either cloth (or cloak),
- <sup>34</sup> as [ye] yourselves know; for to those things that were needful to me, and to these that be with me, these hands ministered. (as you yourselves know; for my own hands served, or worked, to acquire those things that were needed by me, and by those who were with me.)
- <sup>35</sup> All these things I showed to you, for so it behooveth men travailing to receive sick men, and to have mind of the word of the Lord Jesus; for he said, It is more blessful to give, than to receive, [or It is more blessed to give, more than to receive]. (I showed all of these things to you, because it behooveth all of us who labour, to accept, or to help, the frail or the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus; for he said, It is more blessed to give, than to receive.)
- $^{36}$  And when he had said these things, he kneeled, and prayed with all (of) them.
- <sup>37</sup> And great weeping of all men was made; and they felled on the neck of Paul, and kissed him,
- <sup>38</sup> and sorrowed most(ly) in the word that he said, for they shall no more see his face. And (then) they led him to the ship.

- <sup>1</sup> And when it was done, that we should sail, and were passed away from them, with straight course we came to Coos, and the day (pur)suing to Rhodes, and from thence to Patara, and from thence to Myra. (And it was done, that we should set sail, and when we were gone away from them, with straight course we came to Cos, and the following day to Rhodes, and from there to Patara, and from there to Myra.)
- $^2$  And when we found a ship passing over to Phenicia (or Phoenicia), we went up into it, and sailed forth.
- <sup>3</sup> And when we appeared to Cyprus, we left it at the left half, and sailed into Syria, and came to Tyre. For there the ship should be uncharged. (And when Cyprus appeared to us, we left it on the left side, or the port side, and sailed unto Syria, and came to Tyre. For the ship was to be unloaded there.)
- <sup>4</sup> And when we found (some) disciples, we dwelled there seven days; which said by (the Holy) Spirit to Paul, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.
- <sup>5</sup> And when the days were [ful] filled, we went forth, and all men with wives and children led forth us without the city; and we kneeled in the sea brink, and we prayed. (And when the days were fulfilled, we went forth, and all the men with their wives and children led us outside the city; and we kneeled on the seashore, and we prayed.)
- <sup>6</sup> And when we had made farewell together, we went up into the ship; and they turned again into their own places (or and they returned to their own homes).
- <sup>7</sup> And when the ship sailing was filled from Tyre, we came down to Ptolemais, and when we had greeted well the brethren, we dwelled one day at them, (or and after we had warmly greeted the brothers, we stayed there one day with them).

<sup>8</sup> And another day we went forth, and came to Caesarea. And we entered into the house of Philip (the) evangelist, that was one of the seven, and dwelled at him. (And the next day we went forth, and came to Caesarea. And we entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the Seven, and stayed with him.)

<sup>9</sup> And to him were four daughters, virgins, that prophesied.

10 And when we dwelled there some days, a prophet, Agabus by name, came over from Judea.

- <sup>11</sup> This (man) when he came to us, took (hold of) the girdle of Paul, and bound together his feet and hands, and said, The Holy Ghost saith these things, Thus [the] Jews shall bind in Jerusalem the man, whose is this girdle; and they shall betake him into heathen men's hands. (And when he came to us, he took hold of Paul's belt, and then bound up his own hands and feet with it, and said, The Holy Spirit saith these things, Thus shall the Jews in Jerusalem bind the man, whose belt this is; and they shall deliverhim into the hands of the Gentiles.)
- <sup>12</sup> Which thing when we heard, we prayed, and they that were of that place, that he should not go up to Jerusalem (or that he would not go up to Jerusalem).
- <sup>13</sup> Then Paul answered, and said, What do ye, weeping and tormenting mine heart? (or Why be ye weeping, and tormenting my heart so?) For I am ready, not only to be bound, but also to die in Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.
  - <sup>14</sup> And when we might not counsel him, we were still, and said, The will of the Lord be done.

- <sup>15</sup> And after these days we were made ready, and went up to Jerusalem. [Soothly after these days we made ready, ascended (or went up) to Jerusalem.]
- <sup>16</sup> And some of the disciples came with us from Caesarea, and led with them a man, Jason of Cyprus, an old disciple, at whom we should be harboured.
- <sup>17</sup> And when we came to Jerusalem, brethren received us willfully. (And when we arrived at Jerusalem, the brothers willingly, or gladly, received us.)
- <sup>18</sup> And in the day *(pur)*suing, Paul entered with us to James, and all the elder men were gathered (there). (And on the following day, Paul came with us to James, and all the elders were gathered there.)
- <sup>19</sup> Which when he had greeted (them), he told by all things, what [things] God had done in heathen men, by the ministry of him. (And when he had greeted them, he told them everything that God had done among the Gentiles, through his ministry.)
- <sup>20</sup> And when they heard, they magnified God, and said to him, Brother, thou seest how many thousands be in (the) Jews, that have believed to God, and all be lovers [or (pur)suers] of the law (or and all of them be ardent followers of the Law).
- <sup>21</sup> And they heard of thee, that thou teachest departing from Moses of those Jews that be by heathen men, that say, that they owe not to circumcise their sons, neither owe to enter by [or after] custom. (But they have heard about thee, that thou teachest going away from Moses for those Jews who live among the Gentiles, and say, that they ought not to circumcise their sons, nor ought to go after, or to follow, our customs.)

- <sup>22</sup> Therefore what is [this]? (or And so what is it?) It behooveth that the multitude come together; for they shall hear, that thou art come (here).
- <sup>23</sup> Therefore do thou this thing, that we say to thee. There be to us four men, that have a vow on them.
- <sup>24</sup> Take thou these men, and hallow thee with them; hang on them, that they shave their heads; and that all men know, that those things that they heard of thee be false, but that thou walkest, and thyself keepest the law. (Take these men, and purify thyself, along with them; yea, hang on them, so that they shave their heads; and so that all men know, that those things that they have heard about thee be false, and that thou walkest in, and thou obeyest, the Law.)
- $^{2\bar{5}}$  But of these that believed of heathen men (or But to those who believe among the Gentiles), we have written, deeming that they abstain them(selves) from thing(s) offered to idols, and from blood, and also from strangled thing(s), and from fornication.
- <sup>26</sup> Then Paul took the men, and in the day (pur)suing (or and on the following day), he was purified with them, and entered into the temple, and showed the [ful] filling of (the) days of purifying, till the offering was offered for each of them.

<sup>27</sup> And when seven days were ended, the Jews that were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred all the people, and laid hands on him,

- <sup>28</sup> and cried, Men of Israel, help ye us. This is the man, that against the people and the law and this place teacheth everywhere all men, moreover and (he) hath led heathen men into the temple, and hath defouled this holy place. (and cried, Israelites, help us! This is the man, who teacheth everyone everywhere against our people and the Law and this place, and moreover he hath even led Gentiles into the Temple, and hath defiled this holy place.)
- <sup>29</sup> For they saw Trophimus of Ephesus in the city with him, whom they guessed that Paul had brought into the temple.
- <sup>30</sup> And all the city was moved, and a running together of the people was made. And they took Paul, and drew (or dragged) him out of the temple; and anon the gates were closed (or and at once the Temple gates were closed).
- <sup>31</sup> And when they sought to slay him, it was told to the tribune of the company of knights, that all Jerusalem is confounded. (And when they tried to kill him, it was told to the commander of the company of the soldiers stationed there, that all of Jerusalem was in an uproar.)
- <sup>32</sup> Which anon took knights, and centurions, and ran to them. And when they had seen the tribune, and the knights, they ceased to smite Paul. (Who at once took some soldiers, and centurions, and ran to them. And when they had seen the commander, and the soldiers, they ceased to strike Paul.)
- $^{33}$  Then the tribune came, and caught (hold of) him, and commanded, that he were bound with two chains; and asked, who he was, and what he had done.
- <sup>34</sup> But others cried other thing(s) among the people. And when he might know no certain thing for the noise/And when he might not know (any) certain thing for the noise, he commanded him to be led into the castles (or he commanded that he be brought into the fortress).

35 And when Paul came to the grees, it befell that he was borne of (the) knights, for (the) strength of the people. (And when Paul came to the steps, it befell that he had to be carried by the soldiers, because of the pressing of the people.)

followed him), and cried, Take him away.

<sup>37</sup> And when Paul began to be led into the castles, he said to the tribune, Whether it is leaveful to me, to speak anything to thee? And he said, Knowest thou Greek? (And as Paul was brought into the fortress, he said to the commander, Is it lawful for me, to say anything to thee? And he asked, Knowest thou how to speak Greek?)

and led out into the desert four thousand men, all murderers?)

<sup>39</sup> And Paul said to him. For I am a Jew. of Tarsus of Cilicia, a citizen. which city is not unknown. And I pray thee, suffer me to speak to the people, (or And I beseech thee, allow me to speak to the people).

40 And when he suffered (him), Paul stood in the grees, and beckoned with the hand to the people, (or And when he allowed him to speak, Paul stood on the steps, and beckoned with his hand to the people). And when a great silence was made, he spake in Hebrew tongue, and said,

CHAPTER 22

<sup>2</sup> And when some heard that in (the) Hebrew tongue he spake to them, they gave the more silence [or they gave more silence]. And he said,

<sup>3</sup> I am a man a Jew, born at Tarsus of Cilicia, nourished and in this city beside the feet of Gamaliel [or nourished for sooth in this city beside the feet of Gamaliel], taught by the truth of (our) fathers' law, a lover [or a follower] of the law (or an ardent follower of the Law), as also ye all be today.

<sup>4</sup> And I pursued this way till to the death, binding [together] and betaking into holds men and women, (And I persecuted the followers of this way unto the death, taking them captive, and delivering them to prison, yea, both men

<sup>5</sup> as the prince of priests yieldeth witnessing to me, and all the greatest of birth [or and all the more in birth]. Of whom also I took epistles to (the) brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring from thence men bound into Jerusalem, that they should be pained. (as the High Priest, and all the greatest of birth, or the elders, have testified about me. And from whom I took letters to the brothers, and went to Damascus, to bring back to Jerusalem from there men in bondage, so that they could be punished.)

<sup>6</sup> And it was done, while I went, and nighed to Damascus (or and approached to Damascus), at midday suddenly from heaven a great plenty of light [or a copious light] shone about me.

<sup>7</sup> And I felled down to the earth, and heard a voice from heaven, saying to me, Saul, Saul, what pursuest thou me? It is hard to thee, to kick against the prick, [+or It is hard for thee, to kick against the prick]. (And I fell down to the ground, and heard a voice from heaven, saying to me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee, to kick against the prod.)

- <sup>8</sup> And I answered, Who art thou Lord? And he said to me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou pursuest, (or I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest).
- <sup>9</sup> And they that were with me saw but the light, but they heard not the voice of him, that spake with me, (or but they did not hear the voice of him, who spoke with me).
- $^{10}$  And I said, Lord, what shall I do? And the Lord said to me, Rise thou, and go to Damascus; and there it shall be said to thee, of all (the) things which it behooveth thee to do.
- <sup>11</sup> And when I saw not, for the clarity of that light, I was led by the hand of fellows, and I came to Damascus. (And when I saw not, because of the brightness of that light, I was led by the hands of my fellows, and I came to Damascus.)
- <sup>12</sup> And a man, Ananias, that by the law had (the) witnessing of all (the) Jews dwelling in Damascus, (And a man, Ananias, who lived by the Law, and received good testimony from all the Jews living in Damascus,)
- $^{13}$  came to me, and stood nigh, and said to me, Saul, brother, behold. And I in the same hour beheld into him (or And at that very moment I saw him).
- <sup>14</sup> And he said, (The) God of our fathers hath before-ordained thee, that thou shouldest know the will of him, and shouldest see the rightful man, [that is, (the) just Christ], and hear the voice of his mouth.
- $^{\rm 15}\,\rm For$  thou shalt be his witness to all men, of those things that thou hast seen and heard.
- <sup>16</sup> And now, what dwellest thou? (or And now, why waitest thou?) Rise up, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, by the name of him called to help, [or Rise up, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, (and) in-call the name of him].
- <sup>17</sup> And it was done to me, as I turned again into Jerusalem (or after I returned to Jerusalem), and prayed in the temple, that I was made in (a) ravishing of (the) soul,
- <sup>18</sup> and I saw him saying to me, Hie thou, and go out fast of Jerusalem, for they shall not receive thy witnessing of me. (and I saw him saying to me, Haste thou, and quickly go out of Jerusalem, for they shall not accept thy testimony about me.)
- <sup>19</sup> And I said, Lord, they know, that I was *(en)*closing together in prison, and beating by synagogues them that believed into thee [or and beating by synagogues them that believed in thee]. (And I said, Lord, they know, that I was enclosing in prison, and beating in the synagogues, those who believed in thee.)
- <sup>20</sup> And when the blood of Stephen, thy witness, was shed out, I stood nigh, and consented, and kept the clothes of (the) men that slew him.
- <sup>21</sup> And he said to me, Go thou, for I shall send thee far (away) to (the) nations.
- <sup>22</sup> And they heard him till [to] this word; and they raised their voice, and said, Take away from the earth such a manner man; for it is not leaveful that he live. (And they listened to him until this word; and then they raised up their voices, and said, Take away such a manner man from the earth; for it is not lawful that he live.)

<sup>23</sup> And when they cried, and cast away their clothes, and threw dust in the air,

<sup>24</sup> the tribune commanded him to be led into the castles, and to be beaten with scourges, and to be tormented, that he knew [or that he should know], for what cause they cried so to him. (the commander ordered him to be brought into the fortress, and then to be beaten with scourges, and to be tormented, so that he could know, for what reason they shouted so about him.)

<sup>25</sup> And when they had bound him with cords [or And when they had restrained him with ropes], Paul said to a centurion standing nigh to him, Whether it is leaveful to you (or Is it lawful for you), to scourge a Roman, and (someone) uncondemned?

<sup>26</sup> And when this thing was heard, the centurion went to the tribune (or the commander), and told to him, and said, What art thou to doing? for this man is a citizen of Rome.

<sup>27</sup> And the tribune came nigh, and said to him, Say thou to me, whether thou art a Roman? And he said, Yea.

<sup>28</sup> And the tribune answered, I with much sum got this freedom. And Paul said, And I was born a citizen of Rome.

- <sup>29</sup> Therefore anon, they that should have tormented him, departed away from him. And the tribune dreaded, after that he knew, that he was a citizen of Rome, and for he had bound him [or and that he had bound him]. (And so at once, those who would have tormented him, went away from him. And the commander feared, after that he knew, that he was a citizen of Rome, and because he had bound him.)
- <sup>30</sup> But in the day (pur)suing he would know more diligently, for what cause he were accused of the Jews, and unbound him, and commanded (the) priests and all the council to come together. And he brought forth Paul, and set him among them. (But on the following day, because he wanted to know, for what reason Paul was accused by the Jews, he unbound him, and commanded the priests and all the Council to come to him. And then he brought forth Paul, and set him among them.)

CHAPTER 23

<sup>1</sup> And Paul beheld into the council (or And Paul looked at the Council), and said, Brethren, I with all good conscience have lived before God, till into this day.

<sup>2</sup> And Ananias, (the) prince of priests, commanded to men that stood nigh to him, that they should smite his mouth. (And Ananias, the High Priest, commanded to the men who stood near to him, that they should strike him on his mouth.)

- <sup>3</sup> Then Paul said to him, Thou whited wall [or Thou wall made white], God [shall] smite thee; thou sittest, and deemest me by the law, and against the law thou commandest me to be smitten. (Then Paul said to him, Thou whitewashed wall, God shall strike thee; thou sittest, and judgest me by the Law, and then against the Law thou commandest me to be struck?)
- <sup>4</sup> And they that stood nigh, said, Cursest thou the highest priest of God? [or Cursest thou the high priest of God?](And they who stood nearby, said, Cursest thou the High Priest of God?)
- <sup>5</sup> And Paul said, Brethren, I knew not, that he is [the] prince of priests; for it is written, Thou shalt not curse the prince of thy people. (And Paul said, Brothers, I did not know, that he is the High Priest; for it is written, Thou shalt not curse the leader of thy people.)

- <sup>6</sup> But Paul knew, that one part was of (the) Sadducees, and the other (was) of (the) Pharisees; and he cried in the council, Brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of Pharisees; I am deemed of the hope and of the again-rising of dead men, [or of the hope and (the) again-rising of (the) dead I am deemed], (or I am on trial over the hope for the resurrection of the dead).
- <sup>7</sup> And when he had said this thing, dissension was made betwixt the Pharisees and the Sadducees, and the multitude was parted (or and so the gathering was divided).
- <sup>8</sup> For (the) Sadducees say, that no rising again of dead men is, (or For the Sadducees say, that there is no resurrection of the dead), neither angel, neither spirit; but (the) Pharisees acknowledge ever either. [+Forsooth Sadducees say, that no rising again is of (the) dead, neither angel, neither spirit; forsooth Pharisees acknowledge both.]
- <sup>9</sup> And a great cry was made. And some of the Pharisees rose up, and fought, saying, We find nothing of evil in this man; what if a spirit, either an angel, spake to him?
- <sup>10</sup> And when great dissension was made, the tribune dreaded, lest Paul should be drawn to pieces of them; and he commanded knights to go down, and to take [or to ravish] him (away) from the middle of them, and to lead him into the castles. (And when great dissension was made, the commander feared, lest Paul should be drawn to pieces by them; and he commanded some soldiers to go down, and to snatch him from their midst, and to bring him into the fortress.)
- <sup>11</sup> And in the night (pur)suing the Lord stood nigh to him, and said, Be thou steadfast; for as thou hast witnessed of me in Jerusalem, so it behooveth thee to witness also at Rome. (And on the following night the Lord stood near to him, and said, Be thou resolute; for as thou hast testified about me in Jerusalem, it behooveth thee to also testify about me in Rome.)
- <sup>12</sup> And when the day was come, some of the Jews gathered them(selves), and made a vow, and said, that they should neither eat, nor drink, till they slew Paul.
- <sup>13</sup> And there were more than forty men, that made this swearing together [or this conjuration]. (And there were more than forty men, who formed this conspiracy.)
- <sup>14</sup> And they went to the princes of (the) priests, and elder men, (or And they went to the high priests, and the elders), and said, With devotion we have avowed [us], that we shall not taste anything, till we have slain Paul.
- <sup>15</sup> Now therefore make ye known to the tribune (or And so make it known to the commander), with the council, that he bring him forth to you, as if ye should know something more certainly of him; and we (shall) be ready to slay him, before that he come [nigh].
- <sup>16</sup> And when the son of Paul's sister had heard (of) the ambush [or the treason], he came, and entered into the castles (or into the fortress), and told to Paul.
- <sup>17</sup> And Paul called to him(self) one of the centurions, and said, Lead this young man to the tribune, for he hath something to show to him, (or Lead this young man to the commander, for he hath something to tell him).

- <sup>18</sup> And he took him, and led to the tribune, and said, Paul, that is bound, prayed me to lead to thee this young man, that hath something to speak to thee. (And he took him, and brought him to the commander, and said, Paul, who is bound, beseeched me to bring this young man to thee, for he hath something to say to thee.)
- <sup>19</sup> And the tribune took his hand, and went with him asides half, and asked him, What thing is it, that thou hast to show to me? (And the commander took his hand, and drew him aside, and asked him, What is it, that thou hast to tell me?)
- <sup>20</sup> And he said, The Jews be accorded to pray thee (or The Jews be in agreement to beseech thee), that tomorrow thou bring forth Paul into the council, as if they should inquire something more certainly of him.
- <sup>21</sup> But believe thou not to them; for more than forty men of them ambush him, which have avowed, that they shall neither eat nor drink, till they slay him; and now they be ready, abiding thy promise.
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore the tribune left the young man (or And so the commander let the young man go, or dismissed him), and commanded, that he should speak to no man, that he had made these things known to him.
- <sup>23</sup> And he called together two centurions, and he said to them, Make ye ready two hundred knights, that they go to Caesarea, and horsemen seventy, and spearmen two hundred, from the third hour of the night. (And he called together two centurions, and he said to them, Make ready two hundred soldiers, so that they can go to Caesarea, and seventy horsemen, and two hundred spearmen, at nine o'clock this evening.)
- <sup>24</sup> And make ye ready an horse, for Paul to ride on, to lead him safe to Felix, the president. For the tribune dreaded, lest the Jews would take him by the way, and slay him, and afterward he might be challenged, as (if) he had taken money. (And prepare a horse, for Paul to ride on, and lead him safely to Governor Felix. Because the commander feared, that the Jews might take hold of him on the way, and kill him, and afterward he might be challenged, that he had received some money.)
  - <sup>25</sup> [And] He wrote to him an epistle, containing these things.
- <sup>26</sup> Claudius Lysias to the best Felix, president, health. (Claudius Lysias to the most excellent Governor Felix, greetings and best wishes.)
- <sup>27</sup> This man that was taken (hold) of (by) the Jews, and began to be slain, I came upon them with mine host (or I came upon them with my army), and delivered him from them, when I knew that he was a Roman.
- <sup>28</sup> And I would know the cause, which they putted against him; and I led him [in] to the council of them (or and I brought him in to their Council).
- <sup>29</sup> And I found, that he was accused of questions of their law, but he had no crime worthy (of) the death, either (of) bonds (or of bondage, or imprisonment).
- <sup>30</sup> And when it was told me of the ambush, that they (had) arrayed for him, [or And when it was told to me of the treasons, that they (had) made ready to him], I sent him to thee, and I warned also the accusers, that they say at thee, (or and I have told his accusers, that they must tell their charges to thee). Farewell.
- <sup>31</sup> And so the knights (or the soldiers) as they were commanded, took Paul, and led him by night into Antipatris.

<sup>32</sup> And in the day *(pur)*suing, when the horsemen were left, that should go with him, they turned again to the castles. (And on the following day, the soldiers returned to the fortress, leaving the horsemen, who would go with him.)

<sup>33</sup> And when they came to Caesarea, they took the epistle to the president, and they set also Paul before him. (And when they arrived at Caesarea, they delivered the letter to the Governor, and they also put Paul before him.)

<sup>34</sup> And when he had read, and asked, of what province he was, and knew that he was of Cilicia,

<sup>35</sup> I shall hear thee, he said, when thine accusers come. And he commanded him to be kept in the moot hall of Herod (or And he commanded that Paul be kept in Herod's Judgement Hall, in his palace).

CHAPTER 24

<sup>1</sup> And after five days, Ananias, prince of priests, came down with some elder men, and Tertullus, a fair speaker, [or an orator, or an advocate], which went to the president against Paul. (And five days later, Ananias, the High Priest, came down with some elders, and Tertullus, an advocate, and they went before the Governor against Paul.)

<sup>2</sup> And when Paul was summoned, Tertullus began to accuse him, and said, When in much peace we do by thee, and many things be amended by thy wisdom,

<sup>3</sup> (for)evermore and everywhere, thou best Felix, we have received with all doing of thankings. (always and in every place, O most excellent Felix, we be most grateful for this opportunity.)

 $^4\,\mathrm{But}$  lest I tarry thee longer, I pray thee, shortly hear us for thy meekness.

<sup>5</sup> We have found this wicked man stirring dissension, to all (the) Jews in all the world, and (the) author of dissension of the sect of Nazarenes; [We have found this man bearing venom, or pestilence, and stirring sedition, or dissention, to all the Jews in all the world, and (the) author of sedition of the sect of Nazarenes;]

<sup>6</sup> and he also enforced to defoul the temple; whom also we took (hold of), and would deem after our law. (and he also endeavored to defile the Temple; whom we then took hold of, and would judge according to our Law.)

<sup>7</sup> But Lysias, the tribune, came above with great strength, and delivered him from [or out of] our hands; (But Lysias, the commander, came upon us with great strength and delivered him out of our hands) with great strength, and delivered him out of our hands;)

<sup>8</sup> and commanded his accusers to come to thee, of whom thou deeming (or of whom thou judging), mayest know of all these things, of which we accuse him.

<sup>9</sup> And (the) Jews put to (or And the Jews agreed), and said, that these things had them so.

<sup>10</sup> And Paul answered, when the president granted him to say, Of many years I know thee, that thou art doomsman to this folk, and I shall do enough for me with good reason. (And Paul answered, when the Governor allowed him to speak, For many years I know thee, that thou art the judge of these people, and I shall defend myself with sound reasoning.)

11 For thou mayest know, for to me be not more than twelve days [or for to me be no more than twelve days], since I came up to worship in

Jerusalem;

- <sup>12</sup> and neither in the temple they found me disputing with any man, neither making concourse of the people, neither in the synagogues, neither in (the) city;
- <sup>13</sup> neither they may prove to thee, of the which things they now accuse me. (nor can they prove to thee, the things of which they now accuse me.)
- <sup>14</sup> But I acknowledge to thee this thing, that after the sect which they say (to be) heresy, so I serve to God the Father, believing to all things that be written in the law and (the) prophets;
- <sup>15</sup> and I have hope in God, which also they themselves abide, the againrising to coming of just men and wicked [or the again-rising to come of just men and wicked]. (and I have this hope in God, which they also wait for, yea, the resurrection to come of both the good or the righteous, and the wicked.)
- <sup>16</sup> In this thing I study without hurting, to have conscience to God, and to men (for)evermore. (In this thing I work diligently, to always have a clear conscience before God, and before men.)
- <sup>17</sup> But after many years, I came to do almsdeeds to my folk (or I came to give gifts of charity to my people), and offerings, and avows [or and vows];
- 18 in which they found me purified in the temple, not with company, neither with noise. And they caught (hold of) me, and they cried, and said, Take away our enemy. And some Jews of Asia,
- $^{19}$  which it behooved to be now present at thee, [or whom it behooved to be now present at thee], (or here before thee), and accuse (me), if they had anything against me,
- $^{20}$  either these themselves say, if they (have) found in me anything of wickedness, since I stand in the council,
- $^{21}$  but only of this <code>[one]</code> voice, by which I cried standing among them, For of the again-rising of dead men <code>[or For of the again-rising of (the) dead]</code> I am deemed this day of you. (but only because of this one thing, which I cried out while standing among them, yea, Because of the resurrection of the dead I am judged, or I am on trial, this day before you.)
- <sup>22</sup> Soothly Felix delayed [or deferred] them, and knew most certainly of the way, and said, When Lysias, the tribune (or the commander), shall come down, I shall hear you.
- <sup>23</sup> And he commanded to a centurion to keep him, and that he had rest [or and to have (some) rest], neither to forbid any man to minister of his own things to him.
- <sup>24</sup> And after some days Felix came, with Drusilla his wife, that was a Jewess, and called Paul, and heard of him the faith that is in Christ Jesus (or and heard from him about faith in the Messiah Jesus).
- <sup>25</sup> And while he disputed of rightwiseness, and chastity, and of doom to coming [or and of doom to come], Felix was made trembling, and answered, That pertaineth now, go; but in time covenable, I shall call thee. (And while he disputed about righteousness, and love, and the judgement to come, Felix began to tremble, and answered, That pertaineth for now, now go; but at a suitable time, I shall call for thee again.)
- <sup>26</sup> Also he hoped, that money should be given to him of Paul (or And he hoped, that Paul would give him some money); for which thing again [or oft] he called him, and spake with him.

CHAPTER 25

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore when Festus came into the province, after the third day he went up to Jerusalem from Caesarea.
- <sup>2</sup> And the princes of (the) priests, and the worthiest [or the first] of the Jews went to him against Paul, and prayed him, (And the high priests, and the leaders of the Jews went before him against Paul, and beseeched him,)
- <sup>3</sup> and asked grace against him, that he should command him to be led to Jerusalem; and they set ambush to slay him in the way (or and they prepared to kill him on the way).

<sup>4</sup>But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept in Caesarea; soothly that he himself should proceed more advisedly [or more hastily].

<sup>5</sup> Therefore he said, They that in you (who) be mighty, come down together; and if any crime is in the man (or and if the man hath done any crime), accuse they him.

<sup>6</sup> And he dwelled among them no more than eight either ten days, and came down to Caesarea; and the tother day he sat for doomsman (or and the next day he sat as judge), and commanded Paul to be brought (to him).

<sup>7</sup> And when he was brought forth, (the) Jews stood about him, which came down from Jerusalem, putting against him many and grievous causes, which they might not prove. (And when he was brought forth, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem, stood about him, making many serious charges against him, that they could not prove.)

<sup>8</sup> For Paul yielded reason in all things, (saying), That neither against the law of (the) Jews, neither against the temple, neither against the emperor

[or neither against Caesar], I sinned anything.

<sup>9</sup> But Festus would do grace to the Jews [or Forsooth Festus (was) willing to give grace to the Jews], and answered to Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be deemed of these things before me? (or and be judged about these things before me there?)

- <sup>10</sup> And Paul said, At the doom place of the emperor I stand [or At the doom place of Caesar I stand], where it behooveth me to be deemed, (or And Paul said, I stand now at the Emperor's seat of judgement or the court, where it behooveth me to be judged). I have not annoyed (or harmed) the Jews, as thou knowest well.
- <sup>11</sup> For if I have annoyed (or harmed), either done anything worthy (of) death, I forsake not to die; but if nothing of those is, that they accuse me (of), no man may give me to them. I appeal to the emperor [or I appeal to Caesar].

12 Then Festus spake with the council, and answered, (or Then Festus spoke with the Council, and said), To the emperor thou hast appealed, to the emperor thou shalt go, [or To Caesar thou hast appealed, to Caesar thou shalt go].

- <sup>13</sup> And when some days were passed, Agrippa king (or King Agrippa), and Bernice came down to Caesarea, to welcome [or to greet] Festus.
- <sup>14</sup> And when they dwelled there many days, Festus showed to the king of Paul, and said, A man is left bound of Felix, (And after they had been there for many days, Festus told the king about Paul, and said, There is a man left here in bondage by Felix,)

- <sup>15</sup> of which, when I was at Jerusalem, (the) princes of (the) priests, and the elder men of the Jews came to me, and asked damnation against him. (of whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the high priests, and the elders of the Jews came to me, and asked for condemnation against him.)
- <sup>16</sup> To whom I answered, That it is not custom to Romans, to damn any man, (or It is not the Roman custom, to condemn any man), before that he that is accused have his accusers present, and take (the) place of defending, to put away the crimes, that be put against him.
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore when they came together hither, without any delay, in the day (pur)suing I sat for doomsman (or on the following day I sat as judge), and commanded the man to be brought.
- <sup>18</sup> And when his accusers stood [nigh], they said no cause of which things I had suspicion of evil. (And when his accusers stood here before me, they made no case in which I found any suspicion of wrong-doing.)
- <sup>19</sup> But they had against him some questions of their vain worshipping, [or (their futile) religion], and of one Jesus (who was) dead, whom Paul affirmed to live.
- <sup>20</sup> And I doubted of such manner questions, and said, Whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be deemed of these things? (And I was uncertain about such matters, and asked, Would he go to Jerusalem, and be judged on these matters there?)
- <sup>21</sup> But for Paul appealed, that he should be kept to the knowing of the emperor (or of Caesar), I commanded him to be kept, till I send him to the emperor [or till I shall send him to Caesar]. (But because Paul appealed, that he should be sent to the Emperor for judgement, or for a decision, or for sentencing, I commanded him to be kept under guard, until I could send him to the Emperor.)
- <sup>22</sup> And Agrippa said to Festus, I myself would (like to) hear the man. And he said, Tomorrow thou shalt hear him.
- <sup>23</sup> And on the tother day (or And on the next day), when Agrippa and Bernice came with great desire, [or (with much) pride of state], and entered into the auditorium, with tribunes and the principal men of the city, when Festus bade, Paul was brought (in).
- <sup>24</sup> And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men that be with us, ye see this man, of which all the multitude of Jews prayed me at Jerusalem, and asked, and cried, that he should live no longer. (And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all those who be with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews at Jerusalem beseeched me, and asked, and cried, that he should no longer live.)
- <sup>25</sup> But I found, that he had done nothing worthy of death; and I deemed to send him to the emperor (or and I decided to send him to Caesar), for he appealed this thing, [or soothly him appealing this thing to the emperor, I deemed to send (him to him)].
- <sup>26</sup> Of which man I have (it) not certain, what thing I shall write to the lord. For which thing I (have) brought him to you, and most(ly) to thee, thou king Agrippa [or O king Agrippa], that when asking is made (or so that after he is questioned), I have what I shall write.

<sup>27</sup> For it is seen to me without reason, to send a bound man, and not to signify the cause of him, (or and not to specify his case, or the charges, against him).

CHAPTER 26

<sup>1</sup> And Agrippa said to Paul, It is suffered to thee (or It is allowed for thee), to speak for thyself. Then Paul held forth the hand, and began to yield reason.

<sup>2</sup> Of all (the) things, in which I am accused of the Jews, thou king Agrippa, I guess me blessed at thee, when I shall defend me this day; (Because of all the things, that I am accused of by the Jews, O King Agrippa, I believe that I am most fortunate to be before thee, when I shall defend myself today;)

<sup>3</sup> most(ly) for thou knowest all things that be among (the) Jews, (their) customs and questions. For which thing, I beseech (thee), hear me patiently.

<sup>4</sup> For all (the) Jews that before knew me from the beginning, know my life from youth;

<sup>5</sup> that from the beginning was in my folk in Jerusalem, if they will bear witnessing [or if they will bear witness], that by the most certain sect of our religion, I lived a Pharisee. (who from the beginning was among my people in Jerusalem, and they can testify, that by the most strictest sect of our religion, I lived as a Pharisee.)

<sup>6</sup> And now for the hope of repromission, that is made to our fathers of God, I stand subject in (the) doom (place); (And now for the hope of the promise, that was made to our fathers by God, I stand before the court;)

<sup>7</sup> in which hope our twelve lineages, serving night and day hope to come; of which hope, sir king, [or of which hope, thou king], I am accused of the Jews. (of which hope our twelve tribes, serving night and day hope to come; because of which hope, O King, I am now accused by these Jews.)

<sup>8</sup> What unbelieveful thing is deemed at you, if God raiseth dead men? (Why is it so unbelievable in your judgement, that God raiseth the dead?)

<sup>9</sup> And soothly I guessed, that I ought to do many contrary things against the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

<sup>10</sup> Which thing(s) also I did in Jerusalem, and I enclosed many of the saints in prison, when I had taken power of the princes of (the) priests. And when they were slain, I brought the sentence [or I gave the sentence]. (Which things I did in Jerusalem, and I imprisoned many of God's people, when I had been given the authority by the high priests. And when it was deemed that they should be executed, I voted for that punishment, or for that sentence.)

<sup>11</sup> And by all synagogues oft I punished them, and constrained (them) to blaspheme; and more I waxed mad against them, and pursued (them) [till] into alien cities. (And in all the synagogues I often punished them, and compelled them to blaspheme; and I grew more mad against them, and I persecuted them even in foreign cities.)

<sup>12</sup> In which, [the] while I went to Damascus, with power and suffering of the princes of (the) priests, (In which, while I was on my way to Damascus, with power and authority from the high priests,)

13 at midday, in the way I saw, sir king, [or thou king], (or in the middle of the day, on the way I saw, O King), that from heaven a light shined about me, (sur)passing the shining of the sun, and about them that were together with me.

- <sup>14</sup> And when we all had fallen down into the earth, I heard a voice saying to me in (the) Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, what pursuest thou me? it is hard to thee, to kick against the prick, [or it is hard for thee, to kick against the prick]. (And after we all had fallen down to the ground, I heard a voice saying to me in the Hebrew language, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee, to kick against the prod.)
- $^{15}$  And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus, whom thou pursuest, (or I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest).
- <sup>16</sup> But rise up, and stand on thy feet. For why to this thing I appeared to thee, that I ordain thee minister and witness of those things that thou hast seen, and of those things in which I shall show to thee [or and of those things in which I shall appear to thee]. (But rise up, and stand on thy feet. Because I have appeared to thee for this reason, so that I can ordain thee to be my servant and witness of those things that thou hast seen, and of those things which I shall yet show to thee or in which I shall yet appear to thee.)
- <sup>17</sup> And I shall deliver thee from (the) peoples and folks, to which now I send thee, (And I shall rescue thee from the peoples and nations, to whom I now send thee,)
- <sup>18</sup> to open the eyes of them, that they be converted [or turned] from darkness to light, and from (the) power of Satan to God, that they take remission of sins, and (their) part among (the) saints, by faith that is in me. (to open their eyes, so that they be turned from the darkness to the light, and from the power of Satan to God, so that they receive forgive-ness for their sins, and their place among God's people, by their faith that is in me.)
- <sup>19</sup> Wherefore, sir king Agrippa [or thou king Agrippa], I was not unbelieveful to the heavenly vision; (And so, O King Agrippa, I did not disobey the heavenly vision;)
- <sup>20</sup> but I told [or I showed] to them, that be at Damascus first, and at Jerusalem, and by all the country of Judea, and to (the) heathen men, that they should do penance, and be converted to God, and do worthy works of penance. (but I told first to those who be at Damascus, and then to those at Jerusalem, and then to those throughout all the country of Judea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent, and be converted to God, and do worthy works of repentance.)
- $^{21}$  For this cause, (the) Jews took (hold of) me, when I was in the temple, to slay me [or and would slay me]. (And because of this, or for this reason, the Jews took hold of me, when I was in the Temple, to kill me.)
- <sup>22</sup> But I was helped by the help of God [till] into this day, and stand, witnessing to less and to more (or testifying to the least and to the greatest). And I say nothing else than which things the prophets and Moses spake that shall come,
- <sup>23</sup> if Christ is to suffer, if he is the first of the again-rising of dead men [or if (he is) the first of the again-rising of (the) dead], that shall show light to the people and to heathen men. (that the Messiah is to suffer, and that he is the first of the resurrection of the dead, who shall show light to the (Jewish) people and to the Gentiles.)

- <sup>24</sup> When he spake these things, and yielded reason, Festus said with (a) great voice, Paul, thou maddest, [or Paul, thou waxest (or thou growest) mad]; many letters turn thee to madness. (And when he had said these things, and made his defence, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art mad; too much study hath driven thee mad.)
- <sup>25</sup> And Paul said, I mad not, thou best Festus, (or But Paul said, I am not mad, O most excellent Festus), but I speak out the words of truth and of soberness.
- <sup>26</sup> For also the king, to whom I speak steadfastly, knoweth of these things; for I deem, that nothing of these is hid from him (or that none of this is hidden from him); for neither in a corner was aught (or anything) of these things done.
  - <sup>27</sup> Believest thou, king Agrippa, to prophets? I know that thou believest.
- <sup>28</sup> And Agrippa said to Paul, In little thing thou counselest me [for] to be made a christian man(?).
- <sup>29</sup> And Paul said, I desire with God, both in little and in great (or both for the least and the greatest), (yea), not only (for) thee, but (for) all these (people) that hear (me) today, to be made such as I am, except (for) these bonds.
- $^{30}$  And the king rose up, and the president, and Bernice, and they that sat nigh to them.
- <sup>31</sup> And when they went away, they spake together, and said, That this man hath not done anything worthy (of) death, neither (of) bonds [or (of) bonds]. (And when they went away, they spoke together, and said, This man hath not done anything worthy of death, or of bondage, or imprisonment.)
- <sup>32</sup> And Agrippa said to Festus, This man might be delivered, if he had not appealed to the emperor. [Forsooth Agrippa said to Festus, This man might be dismissed, if he had not appealed to Caesar.]

- <sup>1</sup> But as it was deemed (for) him to ship into Italy, they betook Paul with other keepers [or with other men kept] to a centurion, by (the) name (of) Julius, of the company of knights of the emperor. (And when it was decided that he should sail to Italy, they delivered Paul with other prisoners to a centurion, named Julius, from the Emperor's cohort or regiment of soldiers.)
- <sup>2</sup> And we went up into the ship of Adramyttium, and began to sail, and were borne about the places of Asia, while Aristarchus of Macedonia, Thessalonica, dwelled still with us.
- <sup>3</sup> And in the day (pur)suing, we came to Sidon; and Julius treated courteously Paul, and suffered [him] to go to friends, and to do his needs [or and to do the care of him]. (And on the following day, we came to Sidon; and Julius treated Paul courteously, and allowed him to go to his friends, and to get his needs filled, or and for them to take care of him.)
- <sup>4</sup> And when we removed from thence [or And when we were taken up from thence], we under-sailed to Cyprus, for that (the) winds were contrary.
- <sup>5</sup> And we sailed in the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, and came to Lystra, that is Lycia.
- <sup>6</sup> And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria, sailing into Italy, and putted us over into it.

- <sup>7</sup> And when in many days we sailed slowly, and scarcely came against Cnidus, for the wind hindered us, we sailed to Crete, beside Salmone.
- <sup>8</sup> And scarcely we sailed beside, and came into a place, that is called of good haven, to whom the city Lasea was nigh.
- <sup>9</sup> And when much time was passed, and when sailing then was not secure, for that (the time of) fasting was passed, Paul comforted them (or Paul strengthened them),
- <sup>10</sup> and said to them, Men, I see that (the) sailing beginneth to be with wrong and much harm, not only of the charge, and of the ship, but also of our lives, (or not only for the cargo, and for the ship, but also even for our own lives).
- <sup>11</sup> But the centurion believed more to the governor, and to the lord of the ship, than to these things that were said of Paul. (But the centurion trusted more in what the captain and the owner of the ship said, than what was said by Paul.)
- <sup>12</sup> And when the haven was not able [for] to dwell in (over) winter, full many ordained counsel to sail from thence, if on any manner [or if in any manner] they might come to Phenice, (for) to dwell in winter at the haven of Crete, which beholdeth to Africa, that is, (to the)southwest, and to Corum, that is, (to the)northwest.
- $^{13}$  And when the south blew, they guessed them(selves) to hold purpose; and when they had removed [or had taken up] from Assos, they sailed to Crete.
- <sup>14</sup> And not after much [time], the wind Tifonyk, that is called (the) northeast, [or (the) wind of tempest], was against it.
- <sup>15</sup> And when the ship was ravished, and might not enforce against the wind [or into the wind], when the ship was given (over) to the blowings of the wind, we were borne (And when the ship was snatched, or was seized, and could not endeavour against the wind, when the ship was given over to the blowing of the wind, we were borne)
- <sup>16</sup> with course into an isle, that is called Cauda; and scarcely we might get a little boat (under control in these circumstances). (with course by an island called Cauda; and we were barely able to control the ship's little boat under such circumstances.)
- <sup>17</sup> And when this (little boat) was taken up, they used helps, girding together the ship; and dreaded (or and feared), lest they should fall into sandy places. And when the vessel was under-set, so they were borne.
- <sup>18</sup> And for we were thrown with (a) strong tempest, in the day (pur)suing they made casting out. (And because we were tossed about by a strong tempest, on the following day they began to throw out the cargo.)
- $^{19}$  And the third day with their hands they cast away the instruments of the ship.
- <sup>20</sup> And when [neither] the sun neither the stars were seen by many days, and tempest not a little nighed, now all the hope of our health was done away. (And when neither the sun nor the stars were seen for many days, and a great tempest approached, now all the hope for our deliverance was gone.)
- <sup>21</sup> And when much fasting had been, then Paul stood in the middle of them, and said, A! men [or O! men], it behooved, when ye heard me, not to have taken away the ship from Crete, and get this wrong and (this) casting out.

- <sup>22</sup> And now I counsel you to be of good comfort [or of good heart], for loss of no person of you shall be [or soothly there shall be loss of no soul of you], (no), except of the ship.
- <sup>23</sup> For an angel of God, whose I am, and to whom I serve, stood nigh to me in this night,
- <sup>24</sup> and said, Paul, dread thou not (or fear not); it behooveth thee to stand before the emperor [or it behooveth thee to stand nigh to Caesar]. And lo! God hath given to thee all that be in the ship with thee.
- <sup>25</sup> For which thing, ye men, be of good comfort [or be of good heart]; for I believe to my God (or for I believe my God), that so it shall be, as it is said to me.
  - <sup>26</sup> And it behooveth us to come into some isle.
- <sup>27</sup> But afterward that in the fourteen day the night came on us sailing in the stony sea (or But then on the fourteenth day when the night came upon us sailing on the stormy sea), about midnight the shipmen supposed some country to appear to them.
- <sup>28</sup> And they cast down a plummet [or Which sent down a plummet], and found twenty fathoms of deepness. And after a little they were departed from thence, and found fifteen fathoms.
- <sup>29</sup> And they dreaded (or feared), lest we should have fallen into sharp places; and from the last part of the ship they sent (out) four anchors, and desired that the day had become. [Soothly they dreaded, lest we should fall into sharp places; and from the last part of the ship they sent (out) four anchors, and desired that the day were made.]
- <sup>30</sup> And when the shipmen sought to flee from the ship, when they had sent a little boat into the sea (or when they had sent the little boat into the sea), under colour as they should begin to stretch forth the anchors from the former part of the ship,
- <sup>31</sup> Paul said to the centurion and to the knights, But these dwell in the ship, ye may not be made safe. (Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Unless these men stay on the ship, ye shall not be saved.)
- <sup>32</sup> Then [the] knights cutted away the cords of the little boat, and suffered it to fall away. (So the soldiers cut away the cords of the little boat, and allowed it to fall away.)
- <sup>33</sup> And when the day was come, Paul prayed all (the) men to take meat (or Paul beseeched all the men to have some food), and said, The fourteenth day this day ye abide, and dwell fasting, and take nothing.
- <sup>34</sup> Wherefore I pray you to take meat, for your health, (or And so I beseech you to have some food, for your own well-being); for of none of you the hair of the head shall perish.
- <sup>35</sup> And when he had said these things, Paul took bread, and did thankings to God in the sight of all (the) men (or and gave thanks to God before all the men); and when he had broken (it), he began to eat (it).
- <sup>36</sup> And all were made of better comfort, [or (were) made more patient, or hardy], and they took meat. (And all were strengthened, after they had eaten some food.)
  - <sup>37</sup> And we were all (the) men in the ship, two hundred seventy and six.

<sup>38</sup> And they were [full-]filled with meat, and discharged the ship, and cast (the) wheat into the sea. (And they were filled full with the food, and discharged the ship, and threw the wheat into the sea.)

<sup>39</sup> And when the day was come, they knew no land; and they beheld an haven that had a water-bank, into which they thought, if they might (or if they could), to bring up the ship.

<sup>40</sup> And when they had taken up the anchors, they betook them [in] to the sea (or they dropped them in the sea), and slacked together the jointures of (the) rudders. And with a little sail lifted up, by (the) blowing of the wind they went (forth) to the bank.

<sup>41</sup> And when we felled into a place of gravel gone all about with the sea, they hurtled the ship. And when the former part was fixed, it dwelled unmoveable, and the last part (of it) was broken of [or by] the strength of the sea.

- <sup>42</sup> And [the] counsel of the knights' was, to slay (the) men that were in (the) ward [or in the keeping], lest any should escape, when he had swimmed out. (And the soldiers' plan, or their thinking, was to kill the men who were in the hold, lest anyone would escape, after he had swam away.)
- <sup>43</sup> But the centurion would keep Paul (alive), and forbade it to be done. And he commanded them that might swim, to go [first] into the sea, and escape, and go out to the land.
- <sup>44</sup> And they bare some others on boards, (and) some on those things that were of the ship. And so it was done, that all [the] men escaped to the land.

CHAPTER 28

- <sup>1</sup> And when we had escaped, then we knew that the isle was called Melita.
- <sup>2</sup> And the heathen men did to us not (just a) little courtesy, [or Soothly (the) barbarians gave to us not (just a) little humanity], (or And the Gentiles there did not just a little courtesy to us). And when a fire was kindled, they refreshed us all, for the rain that came, and the cold.

<sup>3</sup> But when Paul had gathered a quantity of cuttings of vines, and laid (them) on the fire, an adder came forth from the heat (or a snake came out because of the heat), and took him by the hand.

<sup>4</sup> And when the heathen men of the isle saw the beast hanging in his hand, they said together, For this man is a manslayer; and when he escaped from the sea, God's vengeance suffereth him not to live in (the) earth. (And when the Gentiles of that island saw the beast hanging on his hand, they said to each other, This man is a murderer; and although he escaped from the sea, God's vengeance shall not allow him to live upon the earth.)

<sup>5</sup> But he shook away the beast into the fire, and had none harm, [or and suffered nothing of evil], (or and was not harmed).

- <sup>6</sup> And they guessed that he should be turned into swelling, and fall down suddenly, and die. But when they abided long, and saw that nothing of evil was done in him, they turned (to) them*(selves)* together, and said, that he was God (or a god).
- <sup>7</sup> And in those places were manors [or fields] of the prince of the isle, Publius by name, which received us by three days benignly [or with good will], and 'found' us.

- <sup>8</sup> And it befell, that the father of Publius lay travailed with fevers and bloody flux (or dysentery). To whom Paul entered, and when he had prayed, and laid his hands on him, he healed him.
- <sup>9</sup> And when this thing was done, all that in the isle had sicknesses came (or all those on the island who had sicknesses came), and were healed [or were cured].
- <sup>10</sup> Which also honoured us with many worships (or And they honoured us with many gifts), and putted (on board) what things were necessary to (or for) us, when we shipped.
- <sup>11</sup> And after three months we shipped (out) in (or on) a ship of Alexandria, that had wintered in (or at) the isle, to which was an excellent sign of Castor.
  - <sup>12</sup> And when we came to Syracuse, we dwelled there three days.
- $^{13}$  From thence we sailed about, and came to Rhegium; and after one day, while the south blew, in the second day we came to Puteoli.
- <sup>14</sup> Where when we found (some) brethren, we were prayed to dwell there with them seven days (or we were beseeched to stay there with them for seven days). And so we (finally) came to Rome.
- <sup>15</sup> And from thence, when brethren had heard, they came to us to the chapping of Appii, and to the Three Taverns. And when Paul had seen them, he did thankings to God, and took trust. (And from there, when the brothers had heard, they came to meet us at the market, or at the city square, of Appii, and to the Three Taverns. And when Paul had seen them, he gave thanks to God, and took trust.)
- <sup>16</sup> And when we came to Rome, it was suffered to Paul to dwell by himself, with a knight keeping him. (And when we came to Rome, Paul was allowed to live by himself, with a soldier guarding him.)
- <sup>17</sup> And after the third day, he called together the worthiest of the Jews. And when they came, he said to them, Brethren, I did nothing against the people either custom(s) of (our) fathers, and I was bound at Jerusalem, and was betaken into the hands of (the) Romans. (And after three days, he called together the leaders of the Jews. And when they came, he said to them, Brothers, I did nothing against our people, or against our fathers' customs, but I was taken captive in Jerusalem, and was delivered into the hands of the Romans.)
- <sup>18</sup> And when they had asked of me, (they) would have delivered me, for that no cause (worthy) of death was in me. (And after they had questioned me, they would have released me, because no case, or crime, worthy of death was found against me.)
- <sup>19</sup> But for the Jews gainsaid (me), I was constrained to appeal to the emperor [or to Caesar], (or But because the Jews spoke against me, I was compelled to appeal to the Emperor); not as having anything to accuse my people (of).
- <sup>20</sup> Therefore for this cause I prayed to see you, and speak to you, (or And so for this reason I asked to see you, and to speak to you); for for the hope of Israel I am gird about with this chain.
- <sup>21</sup> And they said to him, Neither we have received letters of thee from Judea, neither any of (the) brethren coming showed, either spake, any evil thing of thee. (And they said to him, We have not received any letters about they said to him, We have not received any letters about they said to him, we have not received any letters about the said to him.

thee from Judea, nor have any of the brothers coming here shown, or spoken, anything bad about thee.)

<sup>22</sup> But we pray to hear of thee, what things thou feelest; for of this sect it is known to us, that everywhere men gainsaith it. (But we would like to listen to thee, whatever thou would like to say; for this sect is known to us, and everywhere people speak against it.)

<sup>23</sup> And when they had ordained a day to him, many men came to him into the inn. To which he expounded, witnessing the kingdom of God, and counselled them of Jesus, of the law of Moses, and of prophets, from the morrow till to [the] eventide. (And so when they had ordained a day for him, many came to him at the inn. To whom he expounded, testifying about the Kingdom of God, and counselled them about Jesus, and the Law of Moses, and the prophets, from the morning until the evening.)

<sup>24</sup> And some believed to these things that were said of Paul, some believed not. (And some believed these things that were said by Paul, and some did not believe them.)

<sup>25</sup> And when they were not consenting together, they departed. And Paul said one word, For the Holy Ghost spake well by Esaias, the prophet, to our fathers, (or And so Paul said this last thing to them, For the Holy Spirit spoke rightly by the prophet Isaiah, to our fathers),

<sup>26</sup> and said, Go thou to this people, and say to them, With ear ye shall hear, and ye shall not understand; and ye seeing shall see, and ye shall not behold.

<sup>27</sup> For the heart of this people is greatly fatted, and with ears they heard heavily, and they closed together their eyes, lest peradventure they see with (their) eyes, and with (their) ears hear, and by (their) heart understand, and be converted, and I heal them.

<sup>28</sup> Therefore be it known to you, that this health of God, is sent to (the) heathen men, and they shall hear. (And so let it be known to you, that this salvation of God is now sent to the Gentiles, and they shall listen.)

<sup>29</sup> And when he had said these things, (the) Jews went out from him, and had much question, or musing, [or seeking], among themselves.

<sup>30</sup> And he dwelled (a) full two years in his hired place; and he received all that entered to him.

<sup>31</sup> and preached the kingdom of God, and taught those things that be of the Lord Jesus Christ, with all trust, without forbidding. Amen.

ROMANS

- <sup>1</sup> Paul, the servant of Jesus Christ, called an apostle, separated into the gospel of God, (or set apart for the Gospel, or the Good News, of God);
  - <sup>2</sup> which he had promised before by his prophets in (the) holy scriptures
- <sup>3</sup> of his Son, which is made to him of the seed of David by the flesh, [of his Son, the which is made of the seed of David after the flesh,](of his Son, who was made for him from the seed of David by the flesh,)
- <sup>4</sup> and he was before-ordained, [or predestined by grace], the Son of God in virtue, by the Spirit of hallowing of the again-rising of dead men, of Jesus Christ our Lord, (and he was predestined by grace the Son of God in power, by the Spirit, by the consecrating of the resurrection from the dead, yea, Jesus Christ our Lord,)
- <sup>5</sup> by whom we have received grace and the office of apostle, [or apostlehood], to obey to the faith in all folks, for his name, (or to lead to the faith in his name those in all nations and peoples),
  - <sup>6</sup> among which ye be also called of Jesus Christ,
- <sup>7</sup> to all that be at Rome, darlings [or the (be)loved] of God, and called holy, grace [be] to you, and (the) peace of God our Father, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
- <sup>8</sup> First I do thankings to my God (or First I give thanks to my God), by Jesus Christ, for all (of) you, for your faith is showed in all the world.
- <sup>9</sup> For God is a witness to me, to whom I serve in my spirit, in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make mind of you (for)ever[more] in my prayers, (For God is my witness, to whom I serve in my spirit, in the Gospel, or the Good News, of his Son, so that without ceasing I always remember you in my prayers,)
- <sup>10</sup> and beseech [or praying], if in any manner sometime I have a speedy way in the will of God to come to you.
- <sup>11</sup> For I desire to see you, to (im) part somewhat to you of spiritual grace [or that I give to you something of spiritual grace], (so) that ye be confirmed,
- <sup>12</sup> that is, to be comforted together in you (or to be strengthened by you), by [that] faith that is both yours and mine together.
- <sup>13</sup> And, brethren, I will not, that ye not know, that oft I purposed to come to you, and I am hindered till this time, that I have some fruit in you, as in other folks. (And brothers, I do not desire, that ye do not know, that I often planned to come to you, but I am hindered until this time, so that I can have some fruit in you, as I have in other nations and peoples.)
- <sup>14</sup> To Greeks and to barbarians, to wise men and to unwise men, I am (a) debtor,
- <sup>15</sup> so that that is in me is ready to preach the gospel [or to evangelize] also to you that be at Rome.
- <sup>16</sup> For I shame not the gospel, for it is the virtue of God into health, to each man that believeth, to the Jew first, and to the Greek. (For I am not ashamed of the Gospel or the Good News, for it is the power of God unto salvation, to everyone who believeth, to the Jew first, and to the Greek.)

- 2496
- $^{17}$  For the rightwiseness of God is showed in it, of faith into faith, as it is written, For a just man liveth of faith.
- <sup>18</sup> For the wrath of God is showed from heaven on all unpiety and wickedness [or unrightwiseness] of those men, that withhold [or that hold aback] the truth of God in unrightwiseness.
- <sup>19</sup> For that thing of God that is known, is showed [or is made open] to them, for God hath showed (it) to them.
- <sup>20</sup> For the invisible things of him, that be understood, be beheld of the creature of the world (or be seen from the creation of the world), by those things that be made, yea, and the everlasting virtue of him (or and his eternal power), and the Godhead, so that they may not be excused [or they be unexcusable].
- <sup>21</sup> For when they had known God, they glorified him not as God, neither did thankings (or nor gave thanks); but they vanished in their thoughts, and the unwise heart of them was darked [or made dark].
  - <sup>22</sup> For they saying that themselves were wise, they were made fools.
- <sup>23</sup> And they (ex)changed the glory of (the) uncorruptible God into the likeness of an image of a deadly [or a corruptible] man, and of birds, and of four-footed beasts, and of serpents. (And they exchanged the glory of the incorruptible or the immortal God, for the likeness of an image of a mortal man, and those of birds, and of four-footed beasts, and of serpents.)
- <sup>24</sup> For which thing God betook them into the desires of their heart (or For which thing God delivered them unto the desires of their hearts), into uncleanness, (so) that they punish with wrongs their bodies in themselves.
- <sup>25</sup> The which [men] changed the truth of God into leasing (or into lying), and praised and served a creature rather than the Creator, that is blessed into worlds of worlds [or into without end]. Amen. (And these men changed the truth of God into lies, and praised and served creatures, or the Creation, rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever and ever. Amen.)
- <sup>26</sup> Therefore God betook them into (the) passions of shame [or of evil fame]. For the women of them changed the natural use into that use that is against kind. (And so God delivered them unto their shameless passions. And their women changed from the natural use, or the natural way, to that way that is against nature.)
- <sup>27</sup> Also the men forsook the kindly use of women, and burned in their desires together, and men into men wrought filthhood, and received into themselves the meed that behooved (them) of their error. (And the men gave up the natural use of women, and burned in their desires for one another, and men with men wrought filthhood, and received unto themselves the reward that they deserved for their error.)
- <sup>28</sup> And as they proved that they had not God in knowing, God betook them into a reprovable wit, that they do those things that be not covenable; (And as they proved that they did not have true knowledge of God, God delivered them unto their corrupted minds, or their corrupted way of thinking, so that they do those things that be not suitable;)
- <sup>29</sup> that they be full-filled with all wickedness (or so that they be filled full with all wickedness), malice, fornication, covetousness, waywardness, full of envy, manslayings, strife, guile, evil will,

- <sup>30</sup> privy backbiters, detractors, hateful to God, debaters [or despisers], proud, and high over-measure, finders of evil things, not obedient to father and mother,
- <sup>31</sup> unwise, unmannerly, without love [or without affection], without (a) bond of peace, without mercy.
- <sup>32</sup> The which when they had known the rightwiseness of God, understood not, that they that do such things be worthy (of) the death, not only they that do those things (or not only they who do such things), but also they that consent to the doers.

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore thou art unexcusable, each man that deemest (or each one who judgest), for in what thing thou deemest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou doest the same things which thou deemest.
- <sup>2</sup> And we know, that the doom of God is after (the) truth against them, that do such things. (And we know, that the judgement of God is according to the truth against those, who do such things.)
- <sup>3</sup> But guessest thou, man, that deemest them that do such things, and thou doest those things, that thou shalt escape the doom of God? (or that thou shalt escape God's judgement?)
- <sup>4</sup> Whether thou despisest the riches of his goodness, and the patience, and the long abiding? Knowest thou not, that the benignity, [or (the) good will], of God leadeth thee to forthinking, (or to repenting), [or to penance]?
- <sup>5</sup> But after thine hardness and unrepentant heart, thou treasurest to thee wrath in[to] the day of wrath, and of (the) showing of the rightful doom of God (or and of the showing of God's righteous judgement),
  - <sup>6</sup> that shall yield to each man after his works;
- <sup>7</sup> soothly to them that be by patience of good work, glory, and honour, and uncorruption, to them that seek everlasting life; (truly to those who patiently do good works, and seek glory, and honour, and incorruption, he shall give eternal life;)
- <sup>8</sup> but to them that be of strife (or but to those who argue and fight), and that assent not to (the) truth, but believe to wickedness, wrath and indignation,
- <sup>9</sup> tribulation and anguish, into each soul of man that worketh evil, to the Jew first, and to the Greek; (he shall give troubles and anguish, yea, unto each person who worketh evil, to the Jew first, and to the Greek;)
- <sup>10</sup> but glory, and honour, and peace, to each man that worketh good thing(s), (or to each person who doeth good things), to the Jew first, and to the Greek.
- <sup>11</sup> For acception of persons, [that is, to put one before another without desert, (or without deserving it)], is not with God. (For favouring people is not God's way.)
- <sup>12</sup> For whoever have sinned without the law, shall perish without the law; and whoever have sinned in the law, they shall be deemed by the law. (For whoever have sinned without the Law, shall perish without the Law; and whoever have sinned in the Law, they shall be judged by the Law.)
- $^{13}$  For the hearers of the law be not just with God, but the doers of the law shall be made just.

- <sup>14</sup> For when heathen men that have not (the) law, do kindly those things that be of the law, (or For when the Gentiles who do not have the Law, do by kind, or naturally, those things that be in the Law), they not having such manner [of] law, be (a) law *(un)*to themselves,
- <sup>15</sup> that show the work of the law written in their hearts (or who show the work of the Law written on their hearts). For the conscience of them yieldeth to them a witnessing (or a testimony) betwixt themselves of thoughts that be accusing or defending,
- <sup>16</sup> in the day when God shall deem the privy things of men after my gospel, by Jesus Christ. (on the day when God shall judge the private, or the secret, things of men, according to my Gospel or Good News, through Jesus Christ.)
- <sup>17</sup> But if thou art named a Jew, and restest in the law, and hast glory (or pride) in God, (But if thou art called a Jew, and leanest on the Law, and hast boasted about God,)
- <sup>18</sup> and hast known his will, and thou learned by the law *(ap)*provest [or hast proved] the more profitable things,
- <sup>19</sup> and trustest thyself to be a leader of blind men, the light of them that be in darknesses (or the light for those who be in darkness),
- <sup>20</sup> a teacher of unwise men, a master of young children (or a teacher of young children), that hast the form of cunning, (or of knowing), [or of science], (or of knowledge), and of (the) truth in the law;
- <sup>21</sup> what then teachest thou another, and teachest not thyself? (or why then teachest thou someone else, but teachest not thyself?) Thou that preachest that me/that men shall not steal, stealest? [or Thou that preachest to not steal, stealest?]
- <sup>22</sup> Thou that teachest that me/that men shall not do lechery, doest lechery? [or Thou that sayest to not do lechery, doest lechery?] Thou that loathest maumets [or idols], doest sacrilege? (Thou who teachest that me or that men shall not do adultery, doest adultery? Thou who loathest idols, doest sacrilege?)
- <sup>23</sup> Thou that hast glory in the law, unworshippest God by breaking of the law? (Thou who hast boasted about the Law, dishonourest God by breaking the Law?)
- <sup>24</sup> For the name of God is blasphemed by you among (the) heathen men, as [it] is written.
- <sup>25</sup> For circumcision profiteth, if thou keep the law; but if thou be a trespasser against the law, thy circumcision is made prepuce. (For circumcision profiteth, if thou keep the Law; but if thou be a trespasser against the Law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.)
- <sup>26</sup> Therefore if (the) prepuce (or the heathen men) keep the rightwiseness of the law, whether his prepuce shall not be areckoned into circumcision? (And so if the uncircumcised, or the Gentiles, keep the righteousness of the Law, shall not his uncircumcision be reckoned as circumcision?)
- <sup>27</sup> And the prepuce of kind that fulfilleth the law, shall deem thee, that by (the) letter and circumcision art a trespasser against the law. (And the uncircumcised, or the Gentiles, who by kind, or naturally, fulfill the Law, shall judge thee, who by the letter and thy circumcision art a trespasser against the Law.)

<sup>28</sup> For he that is in (the) open (or only by appearance) is not a Jew, neither it is [the] circumcision that is openly in the flesh;

<sup>29</sup> but he that is a Jew in hid, and the circumcision of (the) heart, in spirit, not by the letter [or not in (the) letter], whose praising is not of men, but of God. (but he who is a Jew inside, or internally, and whose heart is circumcised by the work of the Spirit, not simply by following the written Law, and whose praising is not from men, but from God.)

- <sup>1</sup> What then is more to a Jew, or what (is the) profit of circumcision?
- <sup>2</sup> Much by all wise [or by all manner]; first, for the speakings of God were betaken to them, (or first, for the speakings of God, or God's messages, were delivered to them, or were given to them).
- <sup>3</sup> And what if some of them believed not? Whether the unbelief of them hath voided the faith of God? (or Hath their lack of faith made God's faithfulness null and void?)
- <sup>4</sup> God forbid. For God is soothfast, [or true], (or truthful), but each man (is) a liar; as it is written, That thou be justified in thy words, and overcome, when thou art deemed (or when thou art judged).
- <sup>5</sup> But if our wickedness commend the rightwiseness of God, what shall we say? Whether God is wicked, that bringeth in wrath? After man I say.
- <sup>6</sup> God forbid. Else how shall God deem this world? (God forbid. Or how else would God judge this world?)
- <sup>7</sup> For if the truth of God hath abounded in my leasing (or in my lying), into the glory of him, what yet am I deemed as a sinner? (For if God's truth hath abounded in my lies, unto his glory, why am I still judged like a sinner?)
- <sup>8</sup> And not as we be blasphemed, and as some say that we say, Do we evil things, (so) that good things come. Whose damnation is just.
- <sup>9</sup> What then? (Sur)pass we them? Nay; for we have showed by skill, that all both Jews and Greeks be under sin, [What therefore? Pass we them? Nay; soothly we have showed by skill, the Jews and Greeks all to be under sin.]
- $^{10}$  as it is written, For there is no man (that is) just; (as it is written, For there is no one who is righteous;)
  - <sup>11</sup> there is no man understanding, neither seeking God.
- <sup>12</sup> All bowed away, together they be made unprofitable; there is none that doeth (any) good thing, there is none till to one.
- <sup>13</sup> The throat of them is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they did guilefully, [or treacherously]; the venom of snakes is under their lips.
  - <sup>14</sup> The mouth of whom is full of cursing and bitterness;
  - 15 the feet of them be swift to shed blood.
- <sup>16</sup> Sorrow and cursedness be in the ways of them, [+Contrition, or defouling together, and infelicity/unhappiness be in the ways of them,]
  - <sup>17</sup> and they knew not the way of peace;
- <sup>18</sup> the dread of God is not before their eyes. (the fear of God, or fearful reverence for God, is not in their thoughts.)
- <sup>19</sup> And we know, that whatever things the law speaketh, it speaketh to them that be in the law, (so) that each mouth be stopped, and each world be made subject to God.

- <sup>20</sup> For of the works of the law each flesh shall not be justified before him: for by the law there is knowing of sin.
- 21 But now without the law the rightwiseness of God is showed, that is witnessed of the law and the prophets. (But now without the Law God's righteousness is shown, which is testified to by the Law and the prophets.)
- <sup>22</sup> And the rightwiseness of God is by the faith of Jesus Christ into all men and on all men that believe in him; for there is no parting [or distinction].
- <sup>23</sup> For all men sinned, and have need to the glory of God: (For all have sinned, and have need of God's glory:)
- <sup>24</sup> and be justified freely by his grace, by the again-buying [or by the redemption] that is in Christ (or that is in the Messiah).
- <sup>25</sup> Whom God ordained (the) forgiver [or purposed (as) an helper], by faith in his blood, to the showing of his rightwiseness, for [the] remission of before-going sins, in the bearing up of God,
- <sup>26</sup> to the showing of his rightwiseness in this time, that he be just, and justifying him that is of the faith of Jesus Christ.
- <sup>27</sup> Where then is thy glorying? (or Then where is thy boasting?) It is excluded. By what law? Of deeds doing? Nay, but by the law of faith.
  - <sup>28</sup> For we deem a man to be justified by faith, without works of the law.
- <sup>29</sup> Whether of the Jews is God only? Whether he is not also of (the) heathen men? Yes, and of (the) heathen men. (Is God only for the Jews, or only of the Jews? Is he not also for, or of, the Gentiles? Yes, he is also for or of the Gentiles.)
- 30 For there is one God, that justifieth (the) circumcision by faith, and (the) prepuce (or the heathen men) by faith. (For there is one God, who justifieth the circumcised by faith, and the uncircumcised, or the Gentiles, by faith.)
- 31 Destroy we therefore the law by faith? God forbid; but we stablish the law.

- <sup>1</sup> What then shall we say, that Abraham, our father after the flesh, found?
- <sup>2</sup> For if Abraham is justified of works of the law, he hath glory, but not with God. (For if Abraham is justified by works of the Law, he can boast, but not of God or not before God.)
- <sup>3</sup> For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed to God (or Abraham believed God), and it was areckoned to him to rightwiseness.
- <sup>4</sup> And to him that worketh, meed is not areckoned by grace, but by debt. (And to him who worketh, his wages, or his reward, is not reckoned as a gift, but as a debt that is owed to him.)
- <sup>5</sup> Soothly to him that worketh not, but believeth into him that justifieth a wicked [or an unpious] man, his faith is areckoned to rightwiseness, after the purpose of God's grace.
- <sup>6</sup> As David saith the blessedness of a man, whom God accepteth, he giveth to him rightwiseness without works of the law,
- <sup>7</sup> Blessed be they, whose wickednesses be forgiven, and whose sins be hid, [or be covered], (or and whose sins be hidden, or covered over).

  8 Blessed is that man, to whom God areckoned not sin.

- <sup>9</sup> Then whether dwelleth this blessedness only in (the) circumcision, or also in (the) prepuce? (or also among the uncircumcised, or among the Gentiles?) For we say, that the faith was areckoned to Abraham to rightwiseness.
- <sup>10</sup> How then was it areckoned? in circumcision, or in prepuce? Not in circumcision, but in prepuce. (But when was it reckoned? when he was circumcised, or when he was uncircumcised? Not when he was circumcised, but when he was uncircumcised.)
- <sup>11</sup> And he took a sign of circumcision, a token [or a marking] of (the) rightwiseness of the faith which is in (the) prepuce, that he be (the) father of all men believing by prepuce, that it be areckoned also to them to rightwiseness; (And he later received the sign of circumcision, a marking of the righteousness of his faith, when he was still uncircumcised, and so he is the father of all believing men who be uncircumcised, so that righteousness is also reckoned to them:)
- 12 and that he be (the) father of (the) circumcision, not only to them that be of (the) circumcision, but also to them that (pur)sue the steps of the faith, which faith is in (the) prepuce of our father Abraham. [and that he be (the) father of (the) circumcision, not only to them that be of circumcision, but and to them that (pur)sue the steps of the faith of our father Abraham, that is in (the) prepuce (or who was uncircumcised).](and so he is the father of the circumcised, not only to those who be of the circumcision, but also to those who follow the steps of the faith, which faith Abraham had while he was still uncircumcised.)
- <sup>13</sup> For not by the law is [the] promise to Abraham, or to his seed, that he should be [the] heir of the world, but by the rightwiseness of faith.
- $^{14}\,\mathrm{For}$  if they that be of the law, be heirs, faith is destroyed, (the) promise is done away.
- $^{15}$  For the law worketh wrath; for where (there) is no law, there is no trespass, neither is (there) trespassing [or prevarication].
- <sup>16</sup>Therefore rightwiseness is of (the) faith, (so) that by grace (the) promise be stable [or be steadfast] to each seed, not to that seed only that is of the law, but to that that is of the faith of Abraham, which (or who) is (the) father of us all.
- <sup>17</sup> As it is written, For I have set thee father of many folks (or For I have made thee the father of many nations and peoples), before God to whom thou hast believed. The which God quickeneth dead men, [or The which quickeneth the dead], (or The which God giveth life to the dead), and calleth those things that be not, as those that be.
- <sup>18</sup> [The] Which Abraham against hope believed into hope, that he should be made father of many folks (or that he would be made the father of many nations and peoples), as it was said to him [or after that it is said to him], Thus shall thy seed be, as the stars of (the) heaven(s), and as the gravel [or (the) sand] that is in the brink of the sea (or and like the sand that is on the seashore).
- <sup>19</sup> And he was not made unsteadfast in the belief, neither he beheld his body then nigh dead, when he was almost of an hundred years (old), nor the womb of Sarah nigh dead.
- <sup>20</sup> Also in the promise of God he doubted not with untrust; but he was comforted in (his) belief, giving glory to God,

- <sup>21</sup> witting most fully (or fully knowing) that whatever things (that) God hath promised, he is mighty also to do (them).
  - <sup>22</sup> Therefore it was areckoned to him to rightwiseness.

<sup>23</sup> And it is not written only for him, that it was areckoned to him to rightwiseness.

<sup>24</sup> but also for us, to whom it shall be areckoned, that believe in him that raised our Lord Jesus Christ from death. [but and for us, to which it shall be reckoned, believing into him that raised our Lord Jesus Christ from (the) dead.]

25 Which was betaken for our sins (or Who was delivered, or given over, for our sins), and rose again for our justifying.

CHAPTER 5

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore we, justified of faith, have we peace at God by our Lord Jesus Christ. (And so we, justified by faith, let us have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.)
- <sup>2</sup> By whom we have nigh going to [or access], by faith into this grace, in which we stand, and have glory in the hope of the glory of God's children.
- <sup>3</sup> And not this only, but also we glory in tribulations, witting that tribulation worketh patience, (And not only this, but also we can boast, or we can rejoice, in trials and troubles, knowing that trouble worketh patience,)

- <sup>5</sup> And hope confoundeth not, for the charity of God is spread abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost, that is given to us. (And hope shameth not us, for the love of God is spread abroad in our hearts by the Holy Spirit, who is given to us.)
- <sup>6</sup> And while that we were sick after the time, what died Christ for wicked men? (And while that we were frail or weak at the time, why did the Messiah die for wicked men?)
- <sup>7</sup> For scarcely dieth any man for the just man [or Soothly scarcely dieth any man for the just]; and yet for a good man peradventure some man (might) dare die.
- <sup>8</sup> But God commendeth his charity in us; for if when we were yet sinners, after the time Christ was dead for us, (But God showeth his love for us; for if when we were still sinners, at that time the Messiah died for us,)

<sup>9</sup> then much more now we justified in his blood, shall be safe from wrath by him. (then much more now we having been justified by his blood, shall be saved from God's wrath, or from his righteous anger, through him.)

- <sup>10</sup> For if when we were enemies, we be reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more we reconciled shall be safe in the life of him. (For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, then much more now we who be reconciled shall be saved by his life.)
- <sup>11</sup> And not only this, but also we glory in God, (or but also we can boast, or we can rejoice, in God), by our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have received now reconciling.
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore as by one man sin entered into this world, and by sin death, and so death passed forth into all men, in which man all men sinned.
- <sup>13</sup> For unto the law sin was in the world; but sin was not reckoned, when [the] law was not.

- <sup>14</sup> But death reigned from Adam unto Moses, also into them that sinned not in (the) likeness of the trespassing of Adam, the which is (the) likeness of Christ to coming, [or the which is (the) form, or (the) likeness, of (the) one to come], (or who was the likeness of the Messiah to come).
- <sup>15</sup> But not as [the] guilt [or as the trespass], so the gift; for if through the guilt [or through the trespass] of one many be dead, much more the grace of God and the gift in the grace of one man Jesus Christ hath abounded into many men.
- <sup>16</sup> And not as by one sin, so by the gift; for the doom, (or the judgement, or the sentence), of one into condemnation, but the (gift of) grace of (or over) many guilts [or many trespassings] into justification.
- <sup>17</sup> For if in the guilt of one death reigned through one, much more men that take plenty of grace (or those who receive an abundance of grace), and of giving, and of rightwiseness, shall reign in life by one Jesus Christ.
- <sup>18</sup> Therefore as by the guilt of one into all men into condemnation, so by the rightwiseness of one into all men into (the) justifying of life.
- <sup>19</sup> For as by (the) unobedience of one man many be made sinners, so by the obedience of one many shall be [ordained] just.
- <sup>20</sup> And the law entered, (so) that guilt should be plenteous; but where guilt was plenteous, grace was more plenteous [or abounded].
- <sup>21</sup> That as sin reigned into death, so grace reign by rightwiseness into everlasting life (or so grace reign by righteousness unto eternal life), by Jesus Christ our Lord.

- $^{1}$  Therefore what shall we say? Shall we dwell in sin, (so) that grace be plenteous?
  - <sup>2</sup> God forbid. For how shall we that be dead to sin, live yet therein?
- <sup>3</sup> Whether, brethren, ye know not, that whichever we be baptized in Christ Jesus, we be baptized in his death? (Brothers, do ye not know, that whoever is baptized into union with the Messiah Jesus, is baptized into his death?)
- <sup>4</sup> For we be together buried with him by baptism into death; that as Christ arose from death by the glory of the Father, [or that as Christ rose from (the) dead by (the) glory of the father], (or that as the Messiah rose from the dead by the glory of the Father), so walk we in a newness of life.
- <sup>5</sup> For if we planted together be made to the likeness of his death, also we shall be of the likeness of his rising again (or we shall also be made to the likeness of his resurrection);
- <sup>6</sup> witting this thing (or knowing this), that our old man is crucified together (with him), (so) that the body of sin be destroyed, (so) that we serve no more to sin.
  - <sup>7</sup> For he that is dead [to sin], is justified from sin.
- <sup>8</sup> And if we be dead with Christ (or And if we have died with the Messiah), we believe that also we shall live together with him;
- <sup>9</sup> witting that Christ, rising again from death [or rising again from (the) dead], now dieth not, death shall no more have lordship on him. (knowing that the Messiah, rising again from the dead, now dieth not, death shall no more have lordship over him.)

- $^{10}$  For that he was dead to sin, he was dead once; but that he liveth, he liveth to God.
- $^{11}\,\mathrm{So}$  ye deem yourselves to be dead to sin, but living to God in Jesus Christ our Lord.
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore reign not sin in your deadly body, that ye obey to his covetings. (And so do not let sin reign in your mortal body, so that ye obey its desires.)
- <sup>13</sup> Neither give ye your members (as) armours, (or as arms, or as instruments), of wickedness to sin, but give ye yourselves to God, as they that live of dead men, and your members (as) armours, (or as arms, or as instruments), of rightwiseness to God.
- $^{14}$  For sin shall not have lordship over you; for ye be not under the law, but under grace.
- $^{15}\,\mathrm{What}$  therefore? Shall we do sin, for we be not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.
- <sup>16</sup> Know ye not, that to whom ye give yourselves (as) servants to obey to, ye be (the) servants of that thing, to which ye have obeyed, either of sin to death, either of obedience to rightwiseness?
- <sup>17</sup> But I thank God, that (once) ye were servants of sin; but ye have obeyed of heart into that form of teaching, in which ye be betaken. (But I thank God, that before ye were servants of sin; but now ye have obeyed with your heart that form of teaching, which was delivered unto you, or unto which ye be delivered.)
  - <sup>18</sup> And ye delivered from sin, be made (the) servants of rightwiseness.
- <sup>19</sup> I say that thing that is of man, for the unsteadfastness, [or the infirmity, or unstableness], of your flesh, (or for the frailty, or the weakness, of your flesh). But as ye have given your members to serve to uncleanness, and to wickedness into wickedness, so now give ye your members to serve to rightwiseness into holiness.
- <sup>20</sup> For when ye were servants of sin, ye were free of rightwiseness. (For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from the control of righteousness.)
- <sup>21</sup> Therefore what fruit had ye then in those things, in which ye shame now? For the end of them is death. (And so what fruit had ye then in those things, of which ye now be ashamed? For their end is death.)
- <sup>22</sup> But now ye delivered from sin, and made servants to God, have your fruit into holiness, and the end everlasting life (or and the end is eternal life).
- <sup>23</sup> For the wages of sin is death; the grace of God is everlasting life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (For the wages of sin (be) death; but the gift of God (is) eternal life in the Messiah Jesus.)

- <sup>1</sup> Brethren, whether ye know not; for I speak to men that know the law; for the law hath lordship in a man (or for the Law hath lordship over a man), as long (a) time as he liveth?
- <sup>2</sup> For that woman that is under an husband, is bound to the law, while the husband liveth; but if her husband is dead, she is delivered [or she is unbound] from the law of the husband.

- <sup>3</sup> Therefore she shall be called (an) adulteress, if she be with another man, while the husband liveth; but if her husband is dead, she is delivered from the law of the husband, (or but if her husband dieth, she is released from the marriage law), (so) that she be not (an) adulteress, if she be with another man.
- <sup>4</sup> And so, my brethren, ye be made dead to the law by the body of Christ, (so) that ye be of another, that rose again from death (or who rose again from the dead), (so) that ye bear fruit to God. [Truly, brethren, and ye be made dead to the law through the body of Christ, that ye be another's, that rose again from (the) dead, (so) that we bear fruit to God.]

<sup>5</sup> For when we were in (the) flesh, (the) passions of sins, that were by the law (or which were stirred up by the Law), wrought in our members, to bear fruit to death.

<sup>6</sup> But now we be unbound from the law of death, in which we were held, so that we serve in (a) newness of spirit, and not in (the) oldness of (the) letter.

<sup>7</sup> What therefore shall we say? The law is sin? God forbid. But I knew not sin, [no] but by [the] law, (or But I did not know sin, except for the Law); for I knew not that coveting was sin, [no] but for the law said, Thou shalt not covet.

<sup>8</sup> And through occasion taken, sin by the commandment hath wrought in me all covetousness: for without the law, sin was dead.

<sup>9</sup> And I lived without the law sometime; but when the commandment was come [or but when the commandment had come], sin lived again. But I was dead.

<sup>10</sup> and this commandment that was to life, was found to me, to be to death.

 $^{11}$  For sin, through occasion taken by the commandment, deceived me, and by that it slew me.

 $^{12}$  Therefore the law is holy, and the commandment is holy, and just, and good.

- <sup>13</sup> Is then that thing that is good, made death to me? God forbid. But sin, that it seem sin, through good thing wrought death to me, (so) that me sin over-manner/(so) that men sin over-manner through the commandment. [Therefore that that is good, is made death to me? Far be it. But that sin appear, or be known, (as) sin, through good thing wrought death to me, (so) that there be made sin sinning over-manner or over-measure, by (the) commandment.]
- <sup>14</sup> And we know, that the law is spiritual; but I am fleshly, sold under sin.
- <sup>15</sup> For I understand not that I work; for I do not the good thing that I will, (or for I do not do the good thing that I desire to do), but I do that evil thing that I hate.
- <sup>16</sup> And if I do that thing that I will not, (then) I consent to the law, that it is good. (And if I do that which I do not desire to do, then I agree with the Law, that it is good, or that it is right.)
- <sup>17</sup> But now I work not it now, but the sin that dwelleth in me. [Now soothly I work not it now/Now soothly I work not that thing now, but that sin that dwelleth in me.]
- <sup>18</sup> But I know, that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good; for will lieth to me, (or for the will, or the desire, to do good, lieth before me), but I find not (how) to perform (any) good thing.

- $^{19}$  For I do not that good thing that I will, but I do that evil thing that I will not. (For I do not do that good thing that I desire to do, but I do that evil thing that I do not desire to do.)
- <sup>20</sup> And if I do that evil thing that I will not (or And if I do that evil thing that I do not desire to do), (then) I work not it, but the sin that dwelleth in me.
- <sup>21</sup> Therefore I find the law to me willing to do good thing [or Therefore I find a law to me willing (or desiring) to do (the) good thing], for evil thing lieth to me. (And so I find this law in me; I desire to do the good thing, but only the evil thing lieth before me.)
- <sup>22</sup> For I delight (al)together to the law of God, after the inner man. (For I greatly delight in the Law of God, in my inner man.)
- <sup>23</sup> But I see another law in my members, fighting against the law of my soul, and making me captive in the law of sin, that is in my members.
- <sup>24</sup> I am an unhappy [or a woeful] man; who shall deliver me from the body of this sin?
- <sup>25</sup> The grace of God, by Jesus Christ our Lord. Therefore I myself by the soul serve to the law of God; but by the flesh to the law of sin.

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore now nothing of condem-nation is to them that be in Christ Jesus, which wander not after the flesh. (And so now there is no condemnation for those who be in the Messiah Jesus, who do not walk, or go, according to the flesh.)
- <sup>2</sup> For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath delivered me from the law of sin, and of death [or and death]. (For the law of the Spirit of life in the Messiah Jesus hath delivered me from the law of sin, and of death.)
- <sup>3</sup> For that that was impossible to the law, in what thing it was sick by (the) flesh, (or For that which was impossible for the Law, because the flesh was frail or weak), God sent his Son into the likeness of (the) flesh of sin, and of sin condemned sin in (the) flesh;
- <sup>4</sup> (so) that the justifying of the law were fulfilled in us, (so) that [we] go not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.
- <sup>5</sup> For they that be after the flesh, understand [or savour] those things that be of the flesh; but they that be after the Spirit, feel (or experience) those things that be of the Spirit.
- <sup>6</sup> For the prudence (or the wisdom) of (the) flesh is death; but the prudence (or the wisdom) of (the) Spirit is life and peace.
- <sup>7</sup> For the wisdom of the flesh is enemy to God; for it is not subject to the law of God, for neither it may [be subject to the law], (or nor could it be subject to the law).
- <sup>8</sup> And they that be in (the) flesh, may not please to God. (And those who be in the flesh, cannot please God.)
- <sup>9</sup> But ye be not in (the) flesh, but in (the) Spirit; if nevertheless the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. But if any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, this is not his.
- <sup>10</sup> For if Christ is in you, the body is dead for sin [or the body is dead from sin], but the Spirit liveth for justifying. (For if the Messiah is in you, then though the body shall die because of sin, the Spirit shall give life to you, because you have been justified.)

- <sup>11</sup> And if the Spirit of him that raised Jesus Christ from death dwelleth in you, (then) he that raised Jesus Christ from death, shall quicken also your deadly bodies, for the Spirit of him that dwelleth in you. [+For if the Spirit of him that raised Jesus Christ from (the) dead dwelleth in you, (then) he that raised Jesus Christ from (the) dead, shall quicken also your deadly bodies, for the Spirit of him is dwelling in you.](And if the Spirit of him who raised Jesus Christ from the dead liveth in you, then he who raised Jesus Christ from the dead, shall also enliven, or shall give life, to your mortal bodies, through the Spirit of him who liveth in you.)
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore, brethren, we be debtors, not to the flesh, (so) that we live after (or according to) the flesh.
- <sup>13</sup> For if ye live after (or according to) the flesh, ye shall die; but if ye by the Spirit slay the deeds of the flesh, ye shall live.
  - <sup>14</sup> For whoever be led by the Spirit of God, these be the sons of God.
- <sup>15</sup> For ye have not taken again the spirit of servage in dread, but ye have taken the Spirit of adoption of sons, that is, sons of God by grace, in which we cry, Abba, Father. (For ye have not received the spirit of servitude, or of slavery, in fear, but ye have received the Spirit of the adoption of sons, that is, sons of God by grace, in which we cry, Abba, or Father.)
- <sup>16</sup> And that Spirit yieldeth witnessing (or testifieth) to our spirit, that we be the sons of God:
- <sup>17</sup> if sons, and heirs, heirs forsooth of God, and heirs together with Christ, [or soothly heirs of God, truly even-heirs of Christ], (or truly heirs of God, and fellow heirs with the Messiah); if nevertheless we suffer together, (so) that also we be glorified together.
- <sup>18</sup> And I deem, that the passions of this time be not even worthy, to the glory to coming [or to the glory to come], that shall be showed in us. (And I judge, that the sufferings of this time be not worthy of any comparison, to the glory that is to come, that shall be showed to us, or which shall be given to us.)
- <sup>19</sup> For the abiding of creature (or of all Creation) abideth the showing of the sons of God.
- <sup>20</sup> But the creature is subject to vanity, not willing(ly), but for him that made it subject in hope; (But all Creation is subject to emptiness and futility, not out of free will, or of its own choice, but because of him who made it so, but also with hope;)
- <sup>21</sup> for that creature shall be delivered from servage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the sons of God. (for that Creation shall be set free from the servitude, or the slavery, of corruption into the freedom of the glory of the sons of God.)
- <sup>22</sup> And we know, that each creature (or that all Creation) sorroweth, and travaileth with pain till yet.
- <sup>23</sup> And not only it, but also we us-selves, that have the first fruits of the Spirit, and we us-selves sorrow within us for the adoption of God's sons, abiding the again-buying of our body (or awaiting the redemption of our body).

- <sup>24</sup> But by hope we be made safe (or But through hope we be saved). For hope that is seen, is not hope; for who hopeth (for) that thing, that he seeth?
  - <sup>25</sup> And if we hope (for) that thing that we see not, we abide by patience.
- <sup>26</sup> And also the Spirit helpeth our infirmity; for what we shall pray, as it behooveth, we know not, but that Spirit asketh for us with sorrowings, that may not be told out. (And the Spirit also helpeth our frailty or weakness; because we do not know what we ought to pray for, or because we do not know how we should pray, but that Spirit asketh for us with groanings, that cannot be told out.)
- <sup>27</sup> For he that seeketh the hearts, knoweth what the Spirit desireth, for by God, [that is, after God's will], he asketh for (the) holy men.
- <sup>28</sup> And we know, that to men that love God, all things work together into good, to them that after (the) purpose be called saints (or for them who according to his purpose be called God's people).
- <sup>29</sup> For those that he knew before, he before-ordained by grace to be made like to the image of his Son, (so) that he be the first begotten among many brethren.
- <sup>30</sup> And those that he before-ordained to bless, them he called; and whom he called, them he justified; and whom he justified, them he glorified.
- 31 What then shall we say to these things? If God be for us, who is against 11s?
- 32 Which also spared not his own Son, but betook him for us all (or but delivered him for us all), how also gave he not to us all things with him?
- 33 Who shall accuse against the chosen men of God? It is God that justifieth,
- 34 who is it that condemneth? It is Jesus Christ that was dead, yea, the which rose again, the which is on the right half of God, and the which prayeth for us. (who is it who condemneth? It is Jesus Christ, who died, yea, who rose again, who is on the right side, or at the right hand, of God, and who prayeth for us.)
- 35 Who then shall part us from the charity of Christ? (or What then shall separate us from the love of the Messiah?) tribulation, or anguish, or hunger, or nakedness, or persecution, or peril, or (the) sword?
- <sup>36</sup> As it is written, For we be slain all day for thee; we be guessed as (the) sheep of slaughter, [or we be guessed as sheep to slaughter], (or we have been thought of, or we have been treated like, sheep for the slaughter).
- <sup>37</sup> But in all these things we overcome, for him that loved us (or through him who loved us).
- 38 But I am certain, that neither death, neither life, neither angels, neither principats (or principalities), neither virtues (or powers), neither present things, neither things to coming [or neither things to come], neither strength,
- <sup>39</sup> neither height, neither deepness, neither any other creature, may part us from the charity of God, that is in Christ Jesus our Lord. (neither height, nor depth, nor anything else in all Creation, can separate us from the love of God, that is in the Messiah Jesus our Lord.)

- <sup>1</sup> I say (the) truth in Christ Jesus, I lie not, for my conscience beareth witnessing to me in the Holy Ghost, (I tell the truth in the Messiah Jesus, I do not lie, for my conscience testifieth to me by the Holy Spirit,)
  - <sup>2</sup> for great heaviness is to me, and continual sorrow to my heart.
- <sup>3</sup> For I myself desired to be parted [or to be cursed] from Christ for (the sake of) my brethren, that be my cousins after the flesh, (For I myself desired to be separated from the Messiah, that is, to be accursed for the sake of my brothers, who be my cousins after the flesh,)
- <sup>4</sup> that be men of Israel [or that be Israelites]; whose is (the) adoption of sons, and glory, and testament (or and the covenant), and (the) giving of the law, and service, and promises;
- <sup>5</sup> whose be the fathers, and of which is Christ after the flesh, that is God above all things, blessed into worlds. Amen. (whose be the fathers, and whom is the Messiah according to the flesh, who is above everything, and blessed by God forever. Amen.)
- <sup>6</sup> But not that the word of God hath fallen down, [or (hath) failed unfulfilled]. For not all that be of Israel, these be Israelites.
  - <sup>7</sup> Neither they that be [the] seed of Abraham, all be sons; but in Isaac the - seed shall be called to thee;
- <sup>8</sup> that is to say, not they that be (the) sons of the flesh, be(the) sons of God, but they that be (the) sons of [the] promise be deemed (or be judged to be) in the seed.
- <sup>9</sup> For why this is the word of promise, After this time I shall come, and a son shall be (given) to Sarah.
- <sup>10</sup> And not only she, but also Rebecca had two sons of one lying-by, [or of one knowing of man], of Isaac, our father.
- <sup>11</sup> And when they were not yet born, neither had done anything of good either evil, (so) that the purpose of God should dwell by election, not of works, but of God calling,
- <sup>12</sup> it was said to him [or it is said to her], That the more should serve the less.
  - <sup>13</sup> as it is written, I loved Jacob, but I hated Esau.
- <sup>14</sup> What therefore shall we say? Whether wickedness be with God? God forbid.
- <sup>15</sup> For he saith to Moses, I shall have mercy on whom I shall have mercy; and I shall give mercy on whom I shall have mercy.
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore it is not neither of [a] man willing (or desiring), neither running, but of God having mercy.
- <sup>17</sup> And the scripture saith to Pharaoh, For to this thing I have stirred thee, that I show in thee my virtue (or so that I show my power through dealing with thee), and that my name be told in all [the] earth.
- <sup>18</sup> Therefore of whom God will, he hath mercy; and whom he will, he endureth. (And so for whom God desireth, he hath mercy; and for whom he desireth, he maketh hard or he maketh stubborn.)
- <sup>19</sup> Then sayest thou to me, What is sought yet? [or What thing is yet sought?] for who withstandeth his will?
- <sup>20</sup>O! man, who art thou, that answerest to God? Whether a made thing saith to him that made it, What hast thou made me so? (or Why hast thou made me so?)

- <sup>21</sup> Whether a potter of clay hath not power to make of the same gobbet one vessel into honour, another into despite, [or low office]? (Hath not a potter of clay the power, or the right, to make out of the same piece one vessel to be honoured, and another to be despised?)
- <sup>22</sup> And if God willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, hath suffered in great patience vessels of wrath able into death, [or into perdition, or damnation],

<sup>23</sup> to show the riches of his glory into vessels of mercy, which he made ready into glory.

- <sup>24</sup> Which also he called [us], not only of the Jews, but also of (the) heathen men, (And so he hath called us, not only from among the Jews, but also from among the Gentiles.)
- <sup>25</sup> as he saith in Osee (or in Hosea), I shall call not my people my people, and not my (be)loved my (be)loved, and not getting mercy getting mercy [or and not having mercy having mercy];

<sup>26</sup> and it shall be in the place, where it is said to them, Not ye my people, there they shall be called the sons of (the) living God.

<sup>27</sup> But Esaias crieth for Israel, If the number of children of Israel shall be as [the] gravel of the sea, the remnants shall be made safe. (But Isaiah crieth for Israel, Even if the number of the children of Israel shall be like the sand of the sea, only a remnant shall be saved.)

<sup>28</sup> Forsooth a word making an end, and abridging in equity, for the Lord shall make a word abridged, [or made short], on all the earth.

<sup>29</sup> And as Esaias before-said, [No] But (the) God of hosts had left to us seed, we had been made as Sodom, and we had been like as Gomorrha. (And as Isaiah said before, If the God of hosts had not left us some seed or a few descendants, we would have become like Sodom, and we would have been like Gomorrah.)

<sup>30</sup> Therefore what shall we say? That heathen men that (pur)sued not rightwiseness, have gotten [or have caught] rightwiseness, yea, the rightwiseness that is of faith. (And so then what shall we say? That the Gentiles, who did not follow righteousness, have gotten righteousness, yea, the righteousness that is from faith.)

<sup>31</sup> But Israel *(pur)*suing the law of rightwiseness, came not perfectly to the law of rightwiseness. (But Israel following the law of righteousness, did not perfectly come to, or attain, the law of righteousness.)

- <sup>32</sup>Why? For not of faith, but as of works. And they spurned against the stone of offence, [or (against the stone of) spurning], (Why? Because their efforts were not based on faith, but rather on works. And so they stumbled against the stone of stumbling,)
- <sup>33</sup> as it is written, Lo! I put a stone of offence (or a stone of spurning) in Sion, and a stone of stumbling; and each that shall believe in it, shall not be confounded, [or shamed]. (as it is written, Behold! I put a stone of offense in Zion, yea, a stone of stumbling; and everyone who shall believe in it, shall not be put to shame.)

CHAPTER 10

<sup>1</sup> Brethren, the will of mine heart and my beseeching is made to God for them into health. (Brothers, my heart's desire and my beseeching be made to God for their salvation.)

- <sup>2</sup> But I bear witnessing to them, that they have the love of God, but not after cunning (or knowing). (For I can testify about them, that they have the love of God, but it is not based on true knowledge.)
- <sup>3</sup> For they unknowing (or not knowing) God's rightwiseness, and seeking to make steadfast their own rightwiseness, be not subject to the rightwiseness of God.
- <sup>4</sup> For the end of the law is Christ, to rightwiseness to each man that believeth. (For the end of the law is the Messiah, unto righteousness for each man who believeth.)
- <sup>5</sup> For Moses wrote, For the man that shall do rightwiseness that is of the law, shall live in it.
- <sup>6</sup> But the rightwiseness that is of belief, saith thus, Say thou not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? that is to say, to lead down Christ, (or that is to say, to bring down the Messiah);
- <sup>7</sup> or who shall go down into hell? that is, to again-call Christ from death, (or that is, to bring the Messiah up from the dead). [+or who shall go down into (the) deepness, or into (the) depth(s)? that is, to again-call Christ from the dead.]
- <sup>8</sup> But what saith the scripture? The word is nigh in thy mouth, and in thine heart; this is the word of belief (or this is the word of faith), which we preach.
- <sup>9</sup> That if thou acknowledge in thy mouth the Lord Jesus Christ, and believest in thine heart, that God raised him from death [or that God raised him from (the) dead], thou shalt be safe. (If thou acknowledge with thy mouth that Jesus Christ is the Lord, and believest in thine heart, that God raised him from the dead, then thou shalt be saved.)
- <sup>10</sup> For by heart me believeth to rightwiseness [or Forsooth by heart men believeth to rightwiseness], but by mouth acknowledging is made to health (or unto salvation).
- <sup>11</sup> For why the scripture saith, Each that believeth in him, shall not be confounded. (Because the Scripture saith, Everyone who believeth in him, shall not be shamed.)
- <sup>12</sup> And there is no distinction of Jew and of Greek (or And there is no difference between Jew and Greek); for the same Lord of all is rich into all, that inwardly call him [or that in-call him].
- <sup>13</sup> For each man, whoever shall inwardly call the name of the Lord [or whoever shall in-call the name of the Lord], shall be safe (or shall be saved).
- <sup>14</sup> How then shall they inwardly call him [or How therefore shall they in-call him], into whom they have not believed? or how shall they believe to him, whom they have not heard? (or how shall they believe in him, whom they have not heard?) How shall they hear, without a preacher?
- <sup>15</sup> and how shall they preach, but (that) they be sent? As it is written, How fair be the feet of them that preach [or that evangelize] peace, of them that preach good things.
- <sup>16</sup> But not all men obey to the gospel. For Esaias saith, Lord, who believed to our hearing? (But not everyone obeyeth the Gospel or the Good News. For Isaiah saith, Lord, who believed our message?)
- <sup>17</sup>Therefore faith is of hearing [or Therefore faith by hearing], but hearing by the word of Christ (or through the word of the Messiah).

<sup>18</sup> But I say, Whether they heard not? Yes, soothly, the sound of them went out into all the earth, (Yes, truly, their voices went out unto all the earth), and their words into the ends of the world.

<sup>19</sup> But I say, Whether Israel knew not? First Moses saith, I shall lead you to envy, that ye be no folk (or so that ye be not a nation), [or First Moses saith, I shall lead you to envy, to not a folk]; (for) that ye be an unwise folk, I shall send you into wrath.

- <sup>20</sup> And Esaias is bold, and saith, I am found of men that seek me not; openly I appeared to them, that asked not (about) me. (And Isaiah is bold, and saith, I am found by men who did not seek me; openly I appeared to them, who did not ask for me.)
- <sup>21</sup> But to Israel he saith, All day I stretched out mine hands to a people that believed not [to me], but gainsaid me. (But to Israel he says, All day I have stretched out my hands to a people that did not believe me, but rather, spoke against me.)

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore I say, Whether God hath put away his people? God forbid. For I am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the lineage of Benjamin. (And so I say, Hath God discarded his people? God forbid. For I am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.)
- <sup>2</sup> God hath not put away his people, which he before-knew. Whether ye know not, what the scripture saith in Elias? (or Do ye not know, what the Scripture saith in the story about Elijah?) How he prayeth God against Israel,
- <sup>3</sup> Lord, they have slain thy prophets, they have under-delved thine altars, and I am left alone, and they seek my life.
- <sup>4</sup> But what saith God's answer to him? I have left to me seven thousands of men, that have not bowed their knees before Baal.
- <sup>5</sup> So therefore also in this time, the remnants be made safe, (or And so also in this time, a remnant hath been saved), by the choosing of the grace of God.
- $^6$  And if  $it\ be$  by the grace of God,  $it\ is$  not now of works; else grace is not now grace.
- <sup>7</sup> What then? Israel hath not gotten this that he sought, but (the) election hath gotten (it); and the others be blinded.
- <sup>8</sup> As it is written, God gave to them a spirit of compunction, eyes that they see not, and ears, that they hear not, into this day.
- <sup>9</sup> And David saith, Be the board of them made into a snare before them (or Let their table, or their feasts, be made into a snare for them), and into catching, and into (a) cause of stumbling, and into yielding [again] to them.
- <sup>10</sup> Be the eyes of them made dark, (so) that they see not; and bow thou down always the back of them.
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore I say, Whether they offended so, that they should fall down? God forbid. But by the guilt of them health is made to heathen men, that they, (the Israelites), (pur)sue them, (or But because of their guilt, salvation hath come to the Gentiles, so that they, the Israelites, follow them).
- <sup>12</sup> (So) That if the guilt of them be (the) riches of the world, and the making less [or the diminishing] of them be (the) riches of heathen men (or of the Gentiles), how much more the plenty of them?

- <sup>13</sup> But I say to you, heathen men, for as long as I am (an) apostle of heathen men, I shall honour my ministry [or my service], (But I say to you, Gentiles, that as long as I am an apostle to the Gentiles, I shall give honour to my ministry,)
- <sup>14</sup> if in any manner I stir my flesh for to follow, and that I make some of them safe (or and that I save some of them).
- <sup>15</sup> For if the loss of them is the reconciling of the world, what is the taking up [of them], but (the giving of) life of dead men? [+or no but (the giving of) life to (the) dead?](or nothing less than the giving of life to the dead! or the giving of life from the dead!)
- <sup>16</sup> For if a little part of that that is tasted be holy, the whole gobbet is holy; and if the root is holy, also the branches.
- <sup>17</sup> What if any of the branches be broken, when thou were a wild olive tree, art grafted [or art set in] among them, and art made (a) fellow of the root, and of the fatness of the olive tree,
- $^{18}$  do not thou have glory (or boast) against the branches. For if thou gloriest (or For if thou boastest), thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore thou sayest, The branches be broken, (so) that I be grafted in [or so that I be inset].
- <sup>20</sup> Well, for unbelief the branches be broken; but thou standest by faith. Do not thou understand [or savour] high things, but dread thou (them), (or fear them),
- <sup>21</sup> for if God spared not the kindly branches (or for if God did not spare the natural branches), [see thou] lest peradventure he spare not thee.
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore see the goodness, and the fierceness of God; yea, the fierceness into them that fell down, but the goodness of God into thee, if thou dwellest in goodness, else also thou shalt be cut down.
- <sup>23</sup> Yea, and they shall be set in [or they shall be inset], if they dwell not in unbelief. For God is mighty, to set them in again.
- <sup>24</sup> For if thou art cut down of the kindly wild olive tree, and against kind art set into a good olive tree, how much more they that be by kind, shall be set in their olive tree? (For if thou art cut down from the naturally wild olive tree, and against nature art grafted into a good or a cultivated olive tree, how much more then they who be of that very nature, shall be able to be grafted into their olive tree?)
- <sup>25</sup> But, brethren, I will not, that ye not know this mystery, that ye be not wise to yourselves; for blindness hath fallen a part in Israel, till that the plenty of heathen men entered, (But, brothers, I do not desire, that ye do not know this mystery, so that ye do not think yourselves to be wise; for blindness hath fallen in part upon Israel, until the multitude of the Gentiles have entered,)
- <sup>26</sup> and so all Israel should be made safe. As it is written, He shall come of Sion, that shall deliver, and turn away the wickedness [or the unpiety] of Jacob. (and so all Israel shall be saved. As it is written, He shall come from Zion, who shall deliver them, and shall take away wickedness or impiety from Jacob.)
- <sup>27</sup> And this testament to them of me (or And this is my covenant with them), when I shall do away their sins.

- <sup>28</sup> After the gospel they be enemies for you, but they be most dearworthy by the election [or after the election] for the fathers.
- <sup>29</sup> And the gifts and the calling of God be without forthinking. (or repenting), [or revoking].
- <sup>30</sup> And as sometime also ye believed not to God, but now ye have gotten mercy for the unbelief of them;
- 31 so and these now believed not into your mercy, (so) that also they get mercy.
  - <sup>32</sup> For God closed all things together in unbelief [or Forsooth God closed
- together all things in unbelief], (so) that he have mercy on all.
- 33 O! the highness of the riches of the wisdom and of the cunning, (or the knowing, or the knowledge), of God [+or O! the depth of the riches of wisdom and cunning of God]; how incomprehensible be his dooms (or how incomprehensible be his judgements), and his ways be unsearchable.
- <sup>34</sup> For why who knew the wit of the Lord (or For who knew the mind, or the thinking, of the Lord), or who was his counsellor?
- 35 or who former gave to him (or who first gave to him), and (after) it shall be requited [again] to him?
- <sup>36</sup> For of him, and by him, and in him be all things. To him be glory into worlds [of worlds], (or To him be glory forever and ever). Amen.

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore, brethren, I beseech you by the mercy of God, that ye give your bodies (as) a living sacrifice, holy, pleasing to God, and your service reasonable (or which is your reasonable service).
- <sup>2</sup> And do not ye be conformed to this world, but be ye reformed in (the) newness of your wit, that ye prove which is the will of God, (or but be ye reformed in the renewing of your mind, or in your thinking, so that ye prove what is the will of God), good, and well pleasing, and perfect.
- <sup>3</sup> For I say, by the grace that is given to me, to all that be among you, that ye understand not more than it behooveth to understand, but for to understand to soberness, [or to not savour, or know, more than it behooveth to know, but to know to soberness]; and to each man, as God hath parted the measure of faith.
- <sup>4</sup> For as in one body we have many members, but all the members have not the same deed [or the same act];
- <sup>5</sup> so we many be one body in Christ, and each be members one of another. (so we many bodies be but one body in the Messiah, and each of us be members of one another.)
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore we that have gifts diversing [or Therefore having gifts diversing], after the grace that is given to us, either prophecy, after the reason of faith:
- <sup>7</sup> either service [or ministry], in ministering; either he that teacheth, in
- 8 he that stirreth softly, in admonishing [or in exhortation]; he that giveth, in simpleness (or with sincerity); he that is sovereign, [or is (a) prelate, or is before], in busyness (or with zeal and concern); he that hath mercy, in gladness.
- <sup>9</sup> Love without feigning, hating evil, drawing [or fast(ly) cleaving] to (the) good;

- <sup>10</sup> loving together the charity of brotherhood. Each come before to worship (the) other [or Coming before together in honour];
  - 11 not slow in busyness, fervent in spirit, serving to the Lord,

12 joying in hope, patient in tribulation, busy in prayer,

- 13 giving good to the needs of (the) saints, keeping hospitality. (giving what is needed to God's people, being hospitable.)
- <sup>14</sup> Bless ye men that pursue you; bless ye, and do not ye curse (them); (Bless those who persecute you; yea, bless them, and do not curse them;)

15 for to joy with men that joy, for to weep with men that weep.

<sup>16</sup> Feel ye the same thing together; not understanding high things, [or not savouring, or cunning, (or knowing), high things], but consenting to meek (or to humble) things, [following meek (or humble) fathers]. Do not ye be prudent with yourselves (or Do not think yourselves to be overly wise);

<sup>17</sup> to no man yielding evil for evil, but purvey ye good things, not only before God. but also before all men.

<sup>18</sup> If it may be done, that that is of you, have ye peace with all men.

<sup>19</sup> Ye most dear brethren, not defending, [or venging], yourselves, but give ye place to wrath [or ire]; for it is written, The Lord saith, To me vengeance, and I shall yield (it).

 $^{21}$  Do not thou be overcome of evil, but overcome thou evil by good. (Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.)

CHAPTER 13

<sup>1</sup> Every soul be subject to higher powers. For there is no power but of God (or For there is no authority except from God), and those things that be of God, be ordained.

<sup>2</sup> Therefore he that against-standeth power, against-standeth the ordinance of God; and they that against-stand (that), get to themselves damnation.

- <sup>3</sup> For princes be not to the dread of good work(s), but of evil (works), (or For rulers or leaders should not be feared by those who do good works, but by those who do evil works). But wilt thou, that thou dread not power? Do thou (a) good thing, and thou shalt have (the) praising of it; [For why princes be not to the dread of good work(s), but of evil. Soothly wilt thou not dread power? Do good, and thou shalt have (the) praising of it;]
- <sup>4</sup> for he is the minister of God to thee into good. But if thou doest evil, dread thou; for not without cause he beareth the sword, for he is the minister of God, venger into wrath to him that doeth evil. (for he is God's servant for your own good. But if thou doest evil, fear thou; for not without cause he beareth the sword, for he is God's servant, the avenger unto wrath of those who do evil.)
- <sup>5</sup> And therefore by need be ye subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience.
- <sup>6</sup> For therefore ye give tributes, they be the ministers of God, and serve for this same thing. (And so for this ye pay taxes, for they be God's servants, and serve by these duties.)

- <sup>7</sup> Therefore yield ye to all men (your) debts, to whom tribute, tribute, to whom toll, [or (a) custom (duty) for things borne about], toll, [or such (a) custom (duty)], to whom dread, dread, to whom honour, honour. (And so yield to all men your debts, to whom taxes, taxes, to whom a custom duty or a toll, a custom duty or a toll, to whom fear, fear, to whom honour, honour.)
- <sup>8</sup> To no man owe ye anything, [no] but that ye love together (or except that ye love one another). For he that loveth his neighbour, hath fulfilled the law.
- <sup>9</sup> For, Thou shalt do no lechery (or Thou shalt not do adultery), Thou shalt not slay, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not say false witnessing (or Thou shalt not give false testimony), Thou shalt not covet the thing of thy neighbour, and if there be any other commandment, it is enstored, or included, [or enclosed], in this word, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

<sup>10</sup> The love of thy neighbour worketh not evil; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.

- <sup>11</sup> And we know (at) this time, that the hour is now, that we rise from sleep; for now is our health near*(er)*, [or soothly now our health is nearer], (or for now our salvation, or our deliverance, is nearer), than when we (first) believed.
- <sup>12</sup> The night went before, but the day hath nighed. Therefore cast we away the works of darknesses, and be we clothed in the armours of light [or and be we clothed with the armours of light]. (The night went before, but now the day hath approached. And so let us throw off the works of darkness, and be we clothed in the armour of light.)
- <sup>13</sup> As in [the] day wander, (or walk, or go), we honestly (or decently), not in superfluous feasts [or in oft eatings], and drunkennesses, not in beds (or bedchambers) and unchastities, not in strife and in envy;
- <sup>14</sup> but be ye clothed in the Lord Jesus Christ, and do ye not the busyness [or the cares] of (the) flesh in desires.

- <sup>1</sup> But take ye a sick man in belief, not in deemings of thoughts, [or not in deceptions, or disputations, of thoughts]. (Accept a man frail or weak in the faith, without judging or arguing about his thoughts and beliefs.)
- <sup>2</sup> For another man believeth, that he may eat all things; but he that is sick, [or unsteadfast], eat worts. (For one man believeth, that he can eat anything and everything; but he who is frail or weak, eateth only vegetables and herbs.)
- <sup>3</sup> He that eateth, despise not him that eateth not; and he that eateth not, deem not him that eateth (or judge not him who eateth). For God hath taken him (un)to him(self), [or For why God hath taken him], (or Because God hath accepted him).
- <sup>4</sup> Who art thou, that deemest another's servant? (or Who art thou, who judgest another's servant?) To his lord he standeth, or falleth from him, [or To his lord he standeth, or falleth down]. But he shall stand; for the Lord is mighty to make him perfect, [or to ordain him, or make (him) steadfast].
- <sup>5</sup> For why one deemeth a day betwixt a day, another deemeth each day. Each man increase in his wit (or Each man increase in his understanding, or in his thinking).

- <sup>6</sup> He that understandeth the day, understandeth to the Lord, [or He that savoureth the day, savoureth to the Lord]. And he that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for he doeth thankings to God (or for he giveth thanks to God). And he that eateth not, eateth not to the Lord, and doeth thankings to God.
  - <sup>7</sup> For no man of us liveth (un)to himself, and no man dieth (un)to himself.
- <sup>8</sup> For whether we live, we live to the Lord; and whether we die, we die to the Lord. Therefore whether we live or die, we be of the Lord [or we be (the) Lord's].
- <sup>9</sup> For why for this thing Christ was dead, and rose again, that he be (the) Lord both of quick and of dead men [or of quick and of dead]. (Because the Messiah died, and rose again for this, so that he be the Lord both of the living and of the dead.)
- <sup>10</sup> But what deemest thou thy brother? or why despisest thou thy brother? for all we shall stand before the throne of Christ. (But why judgest thy brother? or why despisest thy brother? for all of us shall stand before the throne of the Messiah.)
- <sup>11</sup> For it is written, I live, saith the Lord, for to me each knee shall be bowed, and each tongue shall acknowledge to God.
- $^{12}$  Therefore each of us shall yield reason to God for himself. (And so each of us shall have to answer to God for himself, or give an account of himself.)
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore no more deem we (or judge) each other; but more deem ye this thing, that ye put not hurting, or (any) cause of stumbling, to a brother.
- <sup>14</sup> I know and trust in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is (made) unclean by him, no but to him that deemeth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean.
- <sup>15</sup> And if thy brother be made sorry, [or heavy], in (his) conscience for meat, now thou walkest not after charity. Do not thou through thy meat lose him, for whom Christ died. (And if thy brother be grieved in his conscience over food, now thou walkest not with love. Do not because of thy food, or by thy eating, destroy him for whom the Messiah died.)
  - <sup>16</sup> Therefore be not your good thing blasphemed [or despised].
- <sup>17</sup> For why the realm of God is not meat and drink, but rightwiseness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. (Because the Kingdom of God is not food and drink, but righteousness and joy in the Holy Spirit.)
- $^{18}$  And he that in this thing serveth Christ, pleaseth God, and is proved to men. (And he who doeth this serveth the Messiah, pleaseth God, and is approved by men.)
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore *(pur)*sue we those things that be of peace, and keep we together those things that be of edification. (And so follow those things that be about peace, and hold we together those things that be for our edification.)
- <sup>20</sup> Do not thou for meat lose the work of God. For all things be clean, but it is evil to the man that eateth by offending. (Do not because of food, or by thy eating, destroy the work of God. For all things be clean, but it becometh evil to the man who, by his eating, causeth someone else to stumble.)
- <sup>21</sup> It is good to not eat flesh, and to not drink wine, neither in what thing thy brother offendeth, or is caused to stumble, or is made sick, [or unsteadfast], (or is made frail, or weak).

- <sup>22</sup> Thou hast faith with thyself, have thou (it) before God. Blessed is he that deemeth not himself in that thing that he (ap)proveth [or Blessed is he that deemeth not, or condemneth not, himself in that thing that he proveth].
- <sup>23</sup> For he that deemeth, is condemned [or is damned], if he eateth; for it, [his eating], is not of faith (or is not based on faith). And all thing that is not of faith, is sin.

- <sup>1</sup> But we firmer men owe to sustain [or to bear up] the feeblenesses of sick men, [or (those) unfirm in (the) faith], and not [to] please to ourselves. (But we stronger men ought to bear up the weakness of frail or weak men, or those unstable in the faith, and not to please ourselves.)
  - <sup>2</sup> Each of us please to his neighbour in[to] good, to edification.
- <sup>3</sup> For Christ pleased not to himself (or For the Messiah did not please himself), [but], as it is written, The reproofs of men despising thee, felled on me, [or The reproofs, or shames, of men despising thee, fell on me].
- <sup>4</sup> For whatever things be written, those be written to our teaching, (so) that by (the) patience and (the) comfort of (the) scriptures we have hope.
- <sup>5</sup> But (the) God of patience and of solace give to you to understand the same thing, each into (the) other, after (the example of) Jesus Christ, (And may the God of patience and of solace help you to agree on matters, with one another, after the example of Jesus Christ,)
- $^{\rm 6}$  (so) that ye of one will with one mouth worship God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.
- <sup>7</sup> For which thing take ye together, as also Christ took you into the honour of God. (For which thing accept one another, as also the Messiah hath accepted you, for the honour or the glory of God.)
- <sup>8</sup> For I say, that Jesus Christ was a minister (or a servant) of (the) circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises of (the) fathers.
- <sup>9</sup> And (the) heathen men owe to honour God for mercy (or And the Gentiles ought to honour God for his mercy); as it is written, Therefore, Lord, I shall acknowledge to thee among (the) heathen men, and I shall sing to thy name.
- <sup>10</sup> And again he saith, Ye heathen men, be ye glad [or (make) joy] with his people. (And again it saith, Ye Gentiles, rejoice with his people!)
- <sup>11</sup> And again, All heathen men, praise ye the Lord; and all peoples, magnify ye him. (And again, All the Gentiles, praise the Lord; yea, all the peoples, praise him.)
- 12 And again Esaias saith, There shall be a root of Jesse, that shall rise up to govern heathen men, and heathen men shall (have) hope in him. (And again, Isaiah saith, There shall be a root of Jesse, that shall rise up to govern the Gentiles, and the Gentiles shall have hope in him.)
- <sup>13</sup> And God of hope full-fill you in all joy and peace in believing, that ye increase [or ye abound] in hope and virtue of the Holy Ghost. (And may the God of hope fill you full with all joy and peace by your believing, or by your faith in him, so that ye increase or abound in the hope and the power of the Holy Spirit.)
- <sup>14</sup> And, brethren, I myself am certain of you, that also ye be full of love, and ye be [full-]filled with all cunning, (or with all knowing), [or with all

- science], so that ye may admonish each other. (And, brothers, I myself am certain about you, that ye also be full of love, and that ye be filled full with all knowledge, so that ye can admonish one another.)
- <sup>15</sup> And, brethren, more boldly I wrote to you a part, as bringing you into mind, for the grace that is given to me of God, (And, brothers, more boldly I wrote to you in part, as bringing you into remembrance, of the gift that is given to me by God,)
- <sup>16</sup> that I be the minister of Christ Jesus among heathen men. And I hallow the gospel of God, that the offering of heathen men be accepted [or be made acceptable], and hallowed in the Holy Ghost. (that I be the servant of the Messiah Jesus among the Gentiles. And I consecrate the Gospel, or the Good News, of God, so that the offering of the Gentiles be made acceptable, and consecrated by the Holy Spirit.)
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore I have glory in Christ Jesus to God. (And so I have glory in the Messiah Jesus to God.)
- <sup>18</sup> For I dare not speak anything of those things, which Christ doeth not by me, into obedience of (the) heathen men, in word and deeds, (For I dare not say anything about those things, which the Messiah doeth not by me, to bring the Gentiles into obedience to God, by word and deed,)
- <sup>19</sup> in virtue of tokens and great wonders, in virtue of the Holy Ghost, so that from Jerusalem by compass to the Illyricum sea [or till unto Illyricum], I have [full-]filled the gospel of Christ. (by the power of miracles, or signs, and great wonders, by the power of the Holy Spirit, so that from Jerusalem all around unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the Gospel, or the Good News, of the Messiah.)
- <sup>20</sup> And so I have preached this gospel, not where Christ was named, (or not where the Messiah hath already been spoken of, or not where the Messiah hath already been heard of), lest I build upon another's ground,
- $^{21}$  but as it is written, For to whom it is not told of him, they shall see, and they that heard not, shall understand.
- $^{22}$  For which thing I was hindered full much to come to you, and I am hindered till [to] this time.
- <sup>23</sup> And now I have not further place, [or cause of longer dwelling (there)], in these countries (or in these regions), but I have (a) desire to come to you, of many years that [now] be passed.
- <sup>24</sup> When I begin to pass into Spain (or When I go forth to Spain), I hope that in my going I shall see you, and of you I shall be led thither, if I [shall] use you first in part.
- <sup>25</sup> Therefore now I shall pass forth to Jerusalem, to minister to (the) saints. (But now I shall go forth to Jerusalem, to serve God's people.)
- <sup>26</sup> For Macedonia and Achaia have assayed to make some gift, [or some collection, or (a) gathering of money], to (the) poor men of (the) saints, that be in Jerusalem. (For the churches in Macedonia and in Achaia have decided to make a gift of some money, for those of God's people in Jerusalem who be poor.)
- <sup>27</sup> For it pleased to them, and they be debtors of them; for if heathen men be made partners of their ghostly things, they owe also in fleshly things to minister to them. (For it pleased them to do this, and they be their debtors; for if the Gentiles be made the partners of their spiritual things, then they, the Gentiles, ought also to serve them with fleshly things.)

- <sup>28</sup> Therefore when I have ended this thing, and have assigned to them this fruit, I shall pass by you into Spain (or I shall pass by you as I go to Spain).
- <sup>29</sup> And I know, that I coming to you, shall come in the abundance, [or (in the) plenty], of the blessing of Christ. (And I know, that when I come, I shall come with a full measure of the Messiah's blessing.)
- <sup>30</sup> Therefore, brethren, I beseech you by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by the charity of the Holy Ghost, that ye help me in your prayers [for me] to the Lord, (And so, brothers, I beseech you by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by the love of the Holy Spirit, that ye help me by your prayers for me to the Lord,)
- <sup>31</sup> that I be delivered from the unfaithful men, that be in Judea, and that the offering of my service be accepted in Jerusalem to (the) saints; (so that I be delivered from the unfaithful men, who be in Judea, and that the offering of my service be accepted by, or acceptable to, God's people in Jerusalem;)
- <sup>32</sup> (so) that I come to you in joy, by the will of God, and that I be refreshed with you.
  - <sup>33</sup> And (may the) God of peace be with you all. Amen.

- $^{1}$  And I commend to you Phebe, our sister, which is in the service of the church that is at Cenchrea, (And I commend to you our sister Phoebe, who is in the service of the church that is at Cenchrea,)
- <sup>2</sup> that ye receive her in the Lord worthily to (the) saints, and that ye help her in whatever cause she shall need of you (or and that ye help her with whatever she shall need from you). For she hath helped many men, and myself.
- <sup>3</sup> Greet Priscilla and Aquila, mine helpers in Christ Jesus, (Greetings to Priscilla and Aquila, my helpers in the Messiah Jesus,)
- <sup>4</sup> which under-putted their necks for my life; to whom not I alone do thankings, but also all the churches of (the) heathen men. (who risked their necks for me; for whom not I alone give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles.)
- <sup>5</sup> And greet ye well their household church [or their home-church]. Greet well Epaenetus, (be)loved to me, that is the first of Asia in Christ, Jesus (or Hearty greetings to Epaenetus, beloved to me, who is the first Asian convert to the Messiah Jesus).
- $^6$  Greet well Mary, the which hath travailed much in us. (Hearty greetings to Mary, who hath laboured much with us, or for us.)
- <sup>7</sup> Greet well Andronicus and Junia, my cousins, and mine even-prisoners, which be noble among the apostles, and which were before me in Christ. (Hearty greetings to Andronicus and Junia, my cousins, and my fellow prisoners, who be of note among the apostles, and who were in the Messiah before me.)
- <sup>8</sup> Greet well Amplias (or Hearty greetings to Amplias), most dearworthy to me in the Lord.

- <sup>9</sup> Greet well Urbane, our helper in Christ Jesus, and Stachys, my darling [or my (be)loved]. (Hearty greetings to Urbane, our helper in the Messiah Jesus, and Stachys, my beloved.)
- <sup>10</sup> Greet well Apelles, the noble in Christ [or noble in Christ]. Greet well them that be of Aristobulus' house.

11 Greet well Herodion, my cousin. Greet well them that be of Narcissus' house, that be in the Lord.

- 12 Greet well Tryphena and Tryphosa, which women travail in the Lord. Greet well Persis, most dearworthy woman, that hath travailed much in the Lord.
  - 13 Greet well Rufus, chosen in the Lord, and his mother, and mine.
- 14 Greet well Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and brethren that be with them (or and the brothers who be with them).
- 15 Greet well Philologus, and Julia, and Nereus, and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints that be with them (or and all of God's people who be with them).
- <sup>16</sup> Greet ye well together in holy kiss. All the churches of Christ greet you well. (Give hearty greetings to one another with a holy kiss. All the churches of the Messiah send you hearty greetings.)
- <sup>17</sup> But, brethren, I pray you, that ye espy them that make dissensions and hurtings [or offences], besides the doctrine that ye have learned, and bow away from them.
- <sup>18</sup> For such men serve not to the Lord Christ, but to their womb, (or For such men do not serve the Lord Messiah, but their own bellies), and by sweet words and blessings deceive the hearts of innocent men.
- <sup>19</sup> But your obedience is published into every place, therefore I have joy in you. But I will (or I desire), that ye be wise in good thing(s), and simple in evil (things).
- <sup>20</sup> And (may the) God of peace tread Satan under your feet swiftly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.
- 21 Timothy, mine helper, greeteth you well (or sendeth hearty greetings), and also Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater, my cousins.
- <sup>22</sup> I Tertius greet you well, that wrote this epistle, in the Lord. (I Tertius, who wrote this letter, send you hearty greetings, in the Lord.)
- <sup>23</sup> Gaius, mine host, greeteth you well, and all the church. Erastus, (the) treasurer, [or (the) keeper], of the city, greeteth you well, and Quartus [the] brother. (My host Gaius, sendeth you hearty greetings, and all the church. Erastus, the treasurer of the city, sendeth you hearty greetings, and also our brother Quartus.)
  - <sup>24</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.
- <sup>25</sup> And honour and glory be to him, that is mighty to confirm you by my gospel, and (the) preaching of Jesus Christ, by the revelation of (the) mystery held still, in times everlasting; [Forsooth to him, that is mighty to confirm you by my gospel, and (the) preaching of Jesus Christ, after the revelation of (the) mystery holden still, that is, not showed, in times everlasting:1
- <sup>26</sup> which mystery is now made open by (the) scriptures of (the) prophets, by the commandment of God without beginning and ending, to the obedience of faith in all heathen men (or to bring all the Gentiles to faith and obedience).

<sup>27</sup> the mystery known by Jesus Christ to God alone wise [or the mystery known to God alone wise by Jesus Christ], to whom be honour and glory into worlds of worlds. Amen. (to God who alone is wise, through Jesus Christ, to whom be honour and glory forever and ever. Amen.)

1ST CORINTHIANS

<sup>1</sup> Paul, called (an) apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Sosthenes, (a) brother,

- <sup>2</sup> to the church of God that is at Corinth, to them that be hallowed in Christ Jesus, and called saints, (or to those who be consecrated in the Messiah Jesus, and be called God's people), with all that inwardly call the name of our Lord Jesus Christ [or with all that in-call the name of our Lord Jesus Christ], in each place of them and of ours (or in every place of theirs and of ours).
- <sup>3</sup> grace (be) to you and (the) peace of God, our Father, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
- <sup>4</sup> I do thankings to my God (for)evermore for you, in the grace of God that is given to you in Christ Jesus. (I give thanks always to my God for you, for the grace of God which is given to you in the Messiah Jesus.)

<sup>5</sup> For in all things ye be made rich in him, in each word, and in each cunning, (or knowing), [or science], (or in all knowledge),

- <sup>6</sup> as the witnessing of Christ is confirmed in you; (as the testimony of the Messiah is confirmed in you;)
- <sup>7</sup> so that nothing fail to you in any grace (or of any blessing), that abide the showing [or the revelation] of our Lord Jesus Christ;
- <sup>8</sup> which also shall confirm you into the end without crime, [or great sin], in the day of the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.
- <sup>9</sup> A true God [or Forsooth God is true], by whom ye be called into the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.
- <sup>10</sup> But, brethren, I beseech you, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all say the same thing, and that dissensions, [or schisms, or divisions, or discords], be not among you; but be ye perfect in the same wit, (or in the same thinking, or of the same mind), and in the same cunning, (or the same knowing, or with the same knowledge).
- $^{11}$  For, my brethren, it is told to me of them that be at Chloe's, that strives (or arguments) be among you.
- <sup>12</sup> And I say that, that each of you saith, For I am of Paul, and I am of Apollos, and I am of Cephas, [that is, Peter], but I am of Christ.

13 Whether Christ is parted? (or Is the Messiah divided?) whether Paul was crucified for you, either ye be baptized in the name of Paul?

- <sup>14</sup> I do thankings to my God (or I give thanks to my God), that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Gaius;
  - <sup>15</sup> lest any man say, that ye be baptized in my name.

<sup>16</sup> And I baptized also the house of Stephanas, but I know not, that I baptized any other.

<sup>17</sup> For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel [or to evangelize]; not in (the) wisdom of word(s), that the cross of Christ be not voided away (or so that the cross of the Messiah be made of no consequence).

<sup>18</sup> For the word of the cross is folly to them that perish; but to them that be made safe, that is to say, to us, it is the virtue of God. (For the word of the cross is foolishness to those who perish; but for those who be saved, that is to say, for us, it is the power of God.)

- <sup>19</sup> For it is written, I shall destroy the wisdom of wise men, and I shall reprove the prudence of prudent men.
- <sup>20</sup> Where is the wise man? where is the wise lawyer? [or where is the writer, or the man of (the) law?] where is the purchaser of this world? Whether God hath not made the wisdom of this world fond [or foolish]?
- <sup>21</sup> For the world, in (the) wisdom of God, knew not God by wisdom, [or For why for in the wisdom of God, the world knew not God by wisdom], it pleased to God, by [the] folly of preaching, to make them safe that believed, (or it pleased God, by the foolishness of preaching, to save those who believed).
  - <sup>22</sup> For Jews seek signs, and Greeks seek wisdom;
- <sup>23</sup> but we preach Christ crucified, to the Jews (a) cause of stumbling, and to heathen men folly; (but we preach the crucified Messiah, to the Jews a stumbling block, and to the Gentiles foolishness;)
- <sup>24</sup> but to those Jews and Greeks that be called, we preach Christ the virtue of God, and the wisdom of God. (but to those Jews and Greeks who be called, we preach the Messiah to be the power of God, and the wisdom of God.)
- <sup>25</sup> For that that is (a) folly thing of God, is wiser than men; and that that is the feeble, [or (the) frail], thing of God, is stronger than men. (For that which is a foolish thing of God, is wiser than men; and that which is the frail or the weak thing of God, is stronger than men.)
- <sup>26</sup> But, brethren, see ye your calling, (or But, brothers, see to your calling); for not many (of you be) wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble.
- <sup>27</sup> But God chose those things that be fond [or that be foolish] of the world, to confound wise men; and God chose the feeble, [or (the) frail], things of the world, to confound the strong things; (But God chose those things that be foolish in the world, to shame the wise; and God chose the frail or the weak things of the world, to shame the strong;)
- <sup>28</sup> and God chose the unnoble things and (the) despisable things of the world, and those things that be not, to destroy those things that be;
- $^{29}$  that each man have not glory in his sight. (so that no one can boast in the presence of God or before God.)
- <sup>30</sup> But of him ye be in Christ Jesus, which is made of God to us wisdom, and rightwiseness, and holiness, and again-buying; (For ye be in the Messiah Jesus, whom God made to be for us our wisdom, and righteousness, and holiness, and redemption;)
- <sup>31</sup> that, as it is written, He that glorieth, have glory in the Lord. (so that, as it is written, He who boasteth, boast of the Lord.)

- <sup>1</sup> And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not in the highness of word(s), either of wisdom, telling, [or showing], to you the witnessing of Christ (or telling the testimony of the Messiah).
- <sup>2</sup> For I deemed not me to know anything among you, but Christ Jesus, and him crucified. (For I judged, or I determined, that when I was among you, I did not know anything, except the Messiah Jesus, and his crucifixion.)

- <sup>3</sup> And I in sickness, and dread, and in much trembling, was among you [or was with you]; (And I in frailty or weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling, was with you;)
- <sup>4</sup> and my word(s) and my preaching was not in (or with) subtly stirring [or persuadable] words of man's wisdom, but in (the) showing of (the) Spirit and of virtue (or and of the power);
- <sup>5</sup> (so) that your faith be not in the wisdom of men, but in the virtue of God (or but in the power of God).
- <sup>6</sup> For we speak wisdom among perfect men, but not (the) wisdom of this world, neither of (the) princes of this world, that be destroyed, (or nor of the rulers of this world, who be destroyed);
- <sup>7</sup> but we speak the wisdom of God in mystery, which wisdom is hid; which wisdom God before-ordained before (the) worlds into our glory, (but we speak God's secret wisdom, which wisdom is hidden; whichwisdom God before-ordained before the making or the creation of the world for our glory,)
- <sup>8</sup> which none of the princes of this world knew; for if they had known (it), they should never have crucified the Lord of glory. (which none of the rulers of this world knew; for if they had known it, they would never have crucified the Lord of glory.)
- <sup>9</sup> But as it is written, That eye saw not, nor ear heard, neither it ascended into the heart of man, what things God arrayed [or made ready before] to them that love him (or what things God hath prepared for those who love him);
- $^{10}$  but God showed to us by his Spirit. For why the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.
- <sup>11</sup> And who of men knoweth, what things be of man, but the spirit of man that is in him? So what things be of God, no man knoweth, but the Spirit of God.
- <sup>12</sup> And we have not received the spirit of this world, but the Spirit that is of God, that we know what things be given to us of God. (And we have not received the spirit of this world, but the Spirit that is from God, so that we know what things be given to us from God.)
- <sup>13</sup> Which things we speak also, not in wise [or in taught] words of man's wisdom, but in the doctrine of the Spirit, and make a likeness [or a comparison] of spiritual things to ghostly men (or and make a comparison of spiritual things for spiritual men).
- <sup>14</sup> For a beastly man perceiveth not those things that be of the Spirit of God; for it is folly to him, and he may not understand, for it is examined, [or assayed], ghostly. (For a fleshly man perceiveth not those things that be of God's Spirit; for it is foolishness to him, and he cannot understand, for it is examined spiritually.)
- <sup>15</sup> But a spiritual man deemeth (or judgeth) all things, and he is deemed of (or by) no man.
- <sup>16</sup> As it is written, And who knew the wit of the Lord, or who taught him? And we have the wit of Christ. (As it is written, And who knew the mind, or the thoughts, of the Lord, or who taught him? And we have the mind of the Messiah.)

- <sup>1</sup> And I, brethren, might not speak to you as to spiritual men, but as to fleshly men; as to little children in Christ,
- <sup>2</sup> I gave to you milk to drink, not meat (or solid food); for ye might not yet understand, neither ye may now (or nor can ye now),
- <sup>3</sup> for yet ye be fleshly. For while envy and strife is among you, whether ye be not fleshly, and ye go after man?
- <sup>4</sup> For when some saith, I am of Paul, and another, But I am of Apollos, whether ye be not [fleshly] men?
- <sup>5</sup> What therefore is Apollos, and what Paul? They be ministers (or servants) of him, to whom ye have believed; and to each man as God hath given.
- <sup>6</sup> I planted, Apollos moisted (or Apollos watered), but God gave increasing.
- <sup>7</sup>Therefore neither he that planteth is anything, neither he that moisteth (or nor he who watereth), but God that giveth increasing.
- <sup>8</sup> And he that planteth, and he that moisteth, be one; and each shall take his own meed, after his travail. (And he who planteth, and he who watereth, be one; and each shall receive his own reward, according to his labour.)
- <sup>9</sup> For we be the helpers of God; ye be the earth-tilling of God, ye be the building of God.
- <sup>10</sup> After the grace of God that is given to me, as a wise master carpenter I setted the foundament, (or By the grace of God that is given to me, like a wise master carpenter I set the foundation); and another buildeth above. But each man see, how he buildeth above, [or Soothly each man see, how and what things he buildeth upon].
- <sup>11</sup> For no man may set another foundament, except [or besides] that that is set, which is Christ Jesus. (And no other foundation can be laid by any man, besides that which was laid, which is the Messiah Jesus.)
- <sup>12</sup> For if any man buildeth over [or upon] this foundament, (with) gold, silver, precious stones, sticks, hay, or stubble,
- <sup>13</sup> every man's work shall be open; for the day of the Lord shall declare (it), for it shall be showed in fire; the fire shall prove the work of each man, what manner work it is.
- <sup>14</sup> If the work of any man dwell still, which he builded above [or upon], he shall receive meed (or he shall receive a reward).
- <sup>15</sup> If any man's work burn, he shall suffer harm, either impairing; but he shall be safe, so nevertheless as by fire, (or but he shall be saved, as if from a fire).
- <sup>16</sup> Know ye not, that ye be the temple of God, (or Do ye not know, that ye be God's temple), and the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?
- <sup>17</sup> And if any [man] defouleth the temple of God, God shall lose him; for the temple of God is holy, which ye be. (And if any man defileth God's temple, God shall destroy him; for God's temple is holy, which ye be.)
- <sup>18</sup> No man deceive himself. If any man among you is seen to be wise in this world, be he made a fool, (so) that he (can truly) be wise.
- <sup>19</sup> For the wisdom of this world is folly with God (or For this world's wisdom is foolishness to God); for it is written, I shall catch wise men in their fell wisdom, [or subtle guile];

<sup>20</sup> and again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of wise men, for those be vain (or for they be empty and useless).

<sup>21</sup> Therefore no man have glory in men (or And so let no man boast about men). For all things be yours,

<sup>22</sup> either Paul, either Apollos, either Cephas (or Peter), either the world, either life, either death, either things present, either things to coming [or either things to come]; for all things be yours,

23 and ye be of Christ, and Christ is of God. (and ye (be) of the Messiah, and the Messiah (is) of God.)

CHAPTER 4

- <sup>1</sup> So a man guess, [or deem], us as ministers of Christ, (or So think of us as servants of the Messiah), and (as) dispensers of the mysteries of God.
  - $^{2}\,\mathrm{Now}$  it is sought here among the dispensers, that a man be found true.
- <sup>3</sup> And to me it is for the least thing, that I be deemed of you (or if I be judged by you), or of man's day; but neither I deem (or I judge) myself.

<sup>4</sup> For I am nothing over-trusting, [or guilty], to myself, but not in this thing I am justified; for he that deemeth me, is the Lord.

- <sup>5</sup>Therefore do not ye deem before the time, till that the Lord come, which shall lighten the hid things of (the) darknesses, and shall show the counsels of (the) hearts; and then praising shall be to each man of God. (And so do not judge before the time, until that the Lord come, who shall lighten things hidden in the darkness, and shall reveal the plans in the hearts; and then praises shall be to each person in God.)
- <sup>6</sup> And, brethren, I have transfigured these things into me and into Apollos, for you; that in us ye learn (or so that ye can learn from us), lest over that it is written [or lest over that is written], one against another be blown with pride for another [man].
- <sup>7</sup> Who deemeth thee? (or Who judgeth thee?) And what hast thou, that thou hast not received? And if thou hast received (it), what gloriest thou (or why boastest thou), as (if) thou haddest not received (it)?
- <sup>8</sup> Now ye be [full-]filled, now ye be made rich; ye reign without us; and I would that ye reign, (so) that also we (could) reign with you.
- <sup>9</sup> And I guess, that God showed us the last apostles, (or For I think, that God hath made us apostles the last, or the lowest), (yea), as those that be sent to the death; for we be made a spectacle to the world, and to angels, and to men.
- <sup>10</sup> We fools for Christ, but ye prudent in Christ; we sick, but ye strong; ye noble, but we unnoble. (We be fools for the Messiah, but ye be wise in the Messiah; we be frail or weak, but ye be strong; ye be noble, but we be ignoble.)
- <sup>11</sup> Till into this hour we hunger, and thirst, and be naked, and be smitten with buffets, and we be unstable, [moving from place to place],
- <sup>12</sup> and we travail working with our hands; we be cursed, and we bless; we suffer persecution, and we abide long;
- <sup>13</sup> we be blasphemed, and we beseech; as cleansings of this world we be made the out-casting(s) of all things till yet.
- <sup>14</sup> I write not these things, (so) that I confound you, but (that) I warn you as my most dearworthy sons.

<sup>15</sup> For why if ye have ten thousand of under-masters in Christ, but not many fathers; for in Christ Jesus I have (en)gendered you by the gospel. (For ye may have ten thousand tutors in the Messiah, but only one father; for in the Messiah Jesus I have begat you, by preaching the Gospel or the Good News.)

<sup>16</sup> Therefore, brethren, I pray you, be ye followers of me, as I of Christ. (And so brothers, I beseech you, be followers of me, like I am of the Messiah.)

- <sup>17</sup> Therefore I sent to you Timothy, which is my most dearworthy son, and faithful in the Lord, which shall teach you [or shall admonish you (in)] my ways, that be in Christ Jesus, (or who shall teach you my way of life, that is in the Messiah Jesus); as I teach everywhere in each church.
  - 18 As though I should not come to you, so some be blown with pride;
- 19 but I shall come to you soon, if God will (or God willing); and I shall know not the word(s) of them that be blown with pride, but the virtue (or but the power).

<sup>20</sup> For the realm of God is not in word(s), but in virtue. (For the Kingdom of God is not of words, but of power.)

<sup>21</sup> What will ye? Shall I come to you in a rod, or in charity, and in a spirit of mildness? (What desire ye? Shall I come to you with a rod, or with love, and in a spirit of meekness and humility?)

CHAPTER 5

<sup>1</sup> Yet all manner of fornication is heard among you, and such fornication, which is not among heathen men (or which is not even seen among the Gentiles), so that some man have the wife of his father.

<sup>2</sup> And ye be swollen [or blown] with pride, and not more had wailing, that he that did this work, be taken away from the middle of you.

<sup>3</sup> And I absent in body, but present in spirit, now have deemed (or now have judged), as (if I were) present, him that hath thus wrought,

- <sup>4</sup> when ye be gathered together in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, and my spirit, with the virtue of the Lord Jesus (or with the power of the Lord Jesus),
- <sup>5</sup> to betake such a man to Satan, into the perishing of flesh, that the spirit be safe in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. (to deliver such a man unto Satan, into the perishing of the flesh, so that his spirit be saved on the Day of our Lord Jesus Christ.)

<sup>6</sup> Your glorying is not good. Know ye not, that a little sourdough impaireth [or corrupteth] all the gobbet? (Your boasting, or your pride, is not good. Know ye not, that a little yeast corrupteth all the piece?)

- <sup>7</sup> Cleanse ye out the old sourdough, (so) that ye be (a) new sprinkling together, as ye be therf, [or without souring], (or unleavened). For Christ offered is our pask, [or Forsooth Christ is offered our pask], (or For the sacrificed Messiah is our Passover).
- <sup>8</sup> Therefore eat we, not in old sourdough, neither in sourdough of malice and waywardness, but in therf things of clearness, and of truth. (And so, let us not eat the old yeast, yea, the yeast of malice and wickedness, but the unleavened things of sincerity, and of truth.)
- <sup>9</sup> I wrote to you in an epistle, that ye be not meddled, [or mingled, or commune not], with lechers, <sup>10</sup> not with (the) lechers of this world, nor with covetous men, nor raveners, nor with men serving to maumets [or to idols], else ye should have gone out of this world (or else ye would have had to have gone out of this world).

<sup>11</sup> But now I have written to you, that ye be not meddled, [or mingled, or commune not with such]. If he that is named a brother among you, and is a lecher, or covetous, or serving to idols, or a curser, or full of drunkenness, or a ravener, to take no meat with such, (or to have no meals, or to eat no food, with such people).

<sup>12</sup> For what is it to me to deem of them that be withoutforth? Whether ye deem not of things [or of them] that be withinforth? (For why should I judge those who be outside of us? Ye should judge those who be inside with us.)

<sup>13</sup> For God shall deem them that be withoutforth (or And God shall judge those who be outside of us). Do ye away evil from yourselves.

CHAPTER 6

<sup>1</sup> Dare any of you that hath a cause against another, be deemed at wicked men, and not at holy men [or saints]? (Dare any of you who hath a case against another, be judged by wicked men, and not by God's people?)

<sup>2</sup> Whether ye know not, that (the) saints shall deem this world? And if the world shall be deemed by you, be ye unworthy to deem the least things? (Do ye not know, that God's people shall judge this world? And so if the world shall be judged by you, be ye unworthy to judge these least things?)

<sup>3</sup> Know ye not, that we shall deem angels? (or Do ye not know, that we shall judge the angels?)(and so then) how much more (the) worldly things?

<sup>4</sup> Therefore if ye have worldly dooms (or And so if ye have worldly judgements to make), ordain ye those contemptible men, [or of little reputation], that be in the church, to deem (them).

<sup>5</sup>I say (this) to make you ashamed [or I say (this) to your shame]. So there is not any wise man, that may deem betwixt a brother and his brother, (or So is there not any wise man, who can judge between a brother and his brother):

<sup>6</sup> but brother with brother striveth in doom, and that among unfaithful men. (but a brother must fight, or argue, with another brother in court, and in front of men who be out of the faith?)

<sup>7</sup> And (so) now trespass is always among you, for ye have dooms among you (or because ye have legal wranglings among you). Why rather take ye not (the) wrong? why rather suffer ye not (the) deceit [or (the) fraud]?

8 But also ye do wrong, and do fraud [or and defraud], and that to brethren.

<sup>9</sup> Whether ye know not, that wicked men shall not wield the kingdom of God? Do not ye err; neither lechers, neither men that serve maumets, neither adulterers, neither lechers against kind, neither they that do lechery with men, (Do ye not know, that the wicked shall not possess the Kingdom of God? Do not err; neither lechers, nor men who serve idols, nor adulterers, nor lechers against nature, nor those who do lechery with men,)

10 neither thieves, neither avaricious [or covetous] men, neither men full of drunkenness, neither cursers, neither raveners, shall wield the kingdom of God (or shall possess the Kingdom of God).

- <sup>11</sup> And ye were sometime these things; but ye be washed, but ye be hallowed (or but ye be consecrated), but ye be justified in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God.
- <sup>12</sup> All things be leaveful to me, but not all things be speedful. All things be leaveful to me, but I shall not be brought down under any man's power. (All things be lawful for me, but not all things be expedient. All things be lawful for me, but I shall not be brought down under the power of any man.)
- <sup>13</sup> Meat to the womb, and the womb to meats; and God shall destroy both this and that. And the body not to fornication, but to the Lord, and the Lord to the body. (Food for the belly, and the belly for food; and God shall destroy both this and that. And the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord is for the body.)
- <sup>14</sup> For God raised the Lord, and shall raise us by his virtue. (For God raised the Lord, and he shall also raise us by his power.)
- <sup>15</sup> Know ye not, that your bodies be members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ, and shall I make them the members of a whore? God forbid. (Do ye not know, that your bodies be parts of the Messiah? Shall I then take the parts of the Messiah, and make (them), or join (them), to the parts of a whore? God forbid.)
- <sup>16</sup> Whether ye know not, that he that cleaveth to a whore, is made one body? For he saith, There shall be twain in one flesh.
  - <sup>17</sup> And he that cleaveth to the Lord, is one Spirit.
- <sup>18</sup> Flee ye fornication; all sin whatever sin a man doeth, is without the body (or is outside the body); but he that doeth fornication, sinneth against his body.
- <sup>19</sup> Whether ye know not, that your members be the temple of the Holy Ghost, that is in you, whom ye have of God, and ye be not your own? (Do ye not know, that your bodies be the temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom ye have received from God, and ye be not your own?)
- <sup>20</sup> For ye be bought with (a) great price. Glorify ye, and bear ye God in your body, (or Glorify, and carry or bear about God in your body).

- <sup>1</sup> But of those things that ye have written to me, it is good to a man to touch not a woman (or it is good for a man not to touch a woman).
- $^2\,\mathrm{But}$  for fornication each man have his own wife, and each woman have her own husband.
  - <sup>3</sup> The husband yield debt to the wife, and also the wife to the husband.
- <sup>4</sup> The woman hath not power of her body, but the husband; and the husband hath not power of his body, but the woman [or but the wife]. (The woman hath not power over her body, but the husband; and the husband hath not power over his body, but the wife.)
- <sup>5</sup> Do not ye defraud each to (the) other (or Do not deny yourselves to one another), [no] but peradventure of consent for a time, (so) that ye give attention to prayer; and again turn again to the same thing (or and then return to being together), lest Satan tempt you for your uncontinence.
- <sup>6</sup> But I say this thing as giving leave [or by indulgence], not by commandment.

- <sup>7</sup> For I will (or I desire), that all men be as myself. But each man hath his proper gift of God (or But each man hath his own gift from God); one thus, and another thus.
- <sup>8</sup> But I say to them, that be not wedded, and to widows, it is good to them, if they dwell so as I. (But I say to them, who be not wedded, and to widows, it is good for them, if they remain like I am.)
- <sup>9</sup> And if they contain not themselves, [or be not chaste], be they wedded; for it is better to be wedded, than to be burnt. (And if they cannot contain themselves, or remain chaste, then let them be married; for it is better to be married, than to burn alone.)
- <sup>10</sup> But to them that be joined in matrimony, I command, not I, but the Lord, that the wife depart not from the husband;
- <sup>11</sup> and that if she departeth, that she dwell unwedded, or be reconciled to her husband; and the husband forsake not the wife (or and the husband must not desert the wife).
- <sup>12</sup> But to others I say, not the Lord. If any brother hath an unfaithful, [or heathen], wife, (or If any brother hath a Gentile wife), and she consenteth to dwell with him, leave he her not.
- <sup>13</sup> And if any woman hath an unfaithful (or heathen) husband (or And if any woman hath a Gentile husband), and this consenteth to dwell with her, leave she not the husband.
- <sup>14</sup> For the unfaithful husband is hallowed by the faithful woman, and the unfaithful woman is hallowed by the faithful husband. Else your children were unclean, but now they be holy.
- <sup>15</sup> That if the unfaithful departeth, depart he. For why the brother or sister is not subject to servage in such; for God hath called us in peace. (But if the unfaithful departeth, then let him depart. Because the brother or the sister is not subject to servitude or to slavery in such; for God hath called us to live in peace.)
- <sup>16</sup> And whereof knowest thou, woman, if thou shalt make the man safe; or whereof knowest thou, man, if thou shalt make the woman safe? (And whereof knowest thou, woman, if thou shalt save the man; or whereof knowest thou, man, if thou shalt save the woman?)
- $^{17}$  [No] But as the Lord hath parted to each, and as God hath called each man, so go he, as I teach in all (the) churches.
- <sup>18</sup> A man circumcised is called, bring he (himself) not (back) to (being) prepuce (or bring he himself not back to being uncircumcised). A man is called in prepuce, be he not circumcised.
- <sup>19</sup> Circumcision is nought, and prepuce is nought, but the keeping of the commandments of God (is everything). (Being circumcised is nothing, and being uncircumcised is nothing, but keeping, or obeying, the commandments of God is everything.)
  - <sup>20</sup> Each man in what calling he is called, in that dwell he.
- <sup>21</sup> Thou [a] servant art called, be it no charge to thee (or do not let that be a burden to you); but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.
- <sup>22</sup> He that is a servant, and is called in the Lord, is a free man of the Lord. Also he that is a free man, and is called, is the servant of Christ (or is a servant of the Messiah).
  - <sup>23</sup> With (a) price ye be bought; do not ye be made (the) servants of men.

<sup>24</sup> Therefore each man in what thing (that) he is called a brother, dwell he in this with God (or remain he in this with God).

<sup>25</sup> But of virgins I have no commandment of (or from) God; but I give counsel, as he that hath gotten mercy of the Lord (or as he who hath received mercy from the Lord), (so) that I be true.

- <sup>26</sup> Therefore I guess, that this thing is good for the present need; for it is good to a man to be so [or for it is good for a man to be so].
- <sup>27</sup> Thou art bound to a wife, do not thou seek unbinding; thou art unbound from a wife, do not thou seek a wife.
- <sup>28</sup> But if thou hast taken a wife, thou hast not sinned; and if a maiden is wedded, she sinned not; nevertheless such shall have tribulation of flesh. But I spare you.
- <sup>29</sup> Therefore, brethren, I say this thing, The time is short. Another is this, that they that have wives, be as though they had none;
- <sup>30</sup> and they that weep, as they wept not; and they that joy, as they joyed not; and they that buy, as they had not;
- <sup>31</sup> and they that use this world, as they that use [it] not. For why the figure, [or (the) fairness], of this world passeth (or Because the beauty of this world passeth away).
- <sup>32</sup> But I will, that ye be without busyness (or But I desire, that ye be without cares or concerns), for he that is without (a) wife, is busy (with) what things (that) be of the Lord, how he shall please God.
- <sup>33</sup> But he that is with a wife, is busy (with) what things (that) be of the world, how he shall please the wife [or how he shall please his wife], and he is parted (or and he is divided).
- <sup>34</sup> And a woman unwedded and [a] maiden thinketh what things be of the Lord, (so) that she be holy in body and spirit. But she that is wedded, thinketh what things be of the world, how she shall please the husband [or how she shall please her husband].
- <sup>35</sup> And I say these things to your profit, not that I cast to you a snare, but to that that is seemly, and that giveth easiness [or facility], without hindering to make prayers [or to beseech] to the Lord.
- <sup>36</sup> And if any man guesseth himself to be seen foul on his virgin, that she is full waxen [or that she is well old], and so it behooveth to be done, do she that that she will [+or do she what he will]; she sinneth not, if she be wedded, [+or s/he sinneth not, if s/he be wedded].
- <sup>37</sup> For he that ordained stably, [or steadfast(ly)], in his heart, not having need, but having power of his will, and hath deemed in his heart this thing, to keep his virgin(ity), doeth well. (For he who resolutely ordained in his heart, not having need, but having power over his will, and hath determined in his heart, to keep his virginity, doeth well.)
- <sup>38</sup> Therefore he that joineth his virgin (or his betrothed) in matrimony, doeth well, (or And so he who alloweth his daughter to be joined in matrimony, doeth well); and he that joineth not, doeth better.
- <sup>39</sup> The woman is bound to the law, as long (a) time as her husband liveth; and if her husband is dead, she is delivered from the law of the husband, be she wedded to whom she will, only in the Lord.
- $^{40}$  But she shall be more blessed, if she dwelleth thus, after my counsel; and I ween (or I guess), that I have the Spirit of God.

- <sup>1</sup> But of these things that be sacrificed to idols, we know, for all we have cunning, (or knowing, or knowledge). But cunning, (or knowing), [or science], bloweth [with pride], charity edifieth, (or But such knowledge swelleth a man with pride, while love edifieth).
- <sup>2</sup> But if any man guesseth, [or deem(eth)], that he knoweth anything, he hath not yet known how it behooveth him to know.
- <sup>3</sup> And if any man loveth God, this is known of him (or this is known by him).
- <sup>4</sup> But of meats (or of foods) that be offered to idols, we know, that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is no God but one.
- <sup>5</sup> For though there be some that be said gods, either in heaven, either in earth, as there be many gods, and many lords;
- <sup>6</sup> nevertheless to us (there) is one God, the Father, of whom be all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom be all things, and we by him.
- <sup>7</sup> But not in all men is cunning (or knowing). For some men with (the) conscience of idol(s), that is, they guess that the idol is some divine thing, till now eat (such food) as (a) thing offered to idols; and (so) their conscience is defouled, for it is sick. (But not all men have this knowledge. For some men with the consciousness, or the experience, of idols, that is, they think that the idol is some divine thing, till now eat such food that was offered to idols; and so their conscience is defiled, for it is frail or weak.)
- <sup>8</sup> Meat commendeth us not to God (or Food commendeth us not to God); for neither we shall fail, if we eat not, neither if we eat, we shall have plenty [or we shall abound].
- <sup>9</sup> But see ye, lest peradventure this your leave be made (a) hurting to sick men (or to frail and weak men). [+See ye forsooth, lest peradventure this your license, or leave, be made (a) hurting to sick men, or (to the) frail.]
- <sup>10</sup> For if any man shall see him, that hath cunning, (or knowing), (or who hath knowledge of God), eating in a place where idols be worshipped, whether his conscience, since it is sick, (or it is frail or weak), shall not be edified to eat things offered to idols?
- <sup>11</sup> And the sick, [or unsteadfast], brother, for whom Christ died, shall perish in thy cunning (or in thy knowing). (And the frail or weak brother, for whom the Messiah died, shall now perish because of thy so-called knowledge.)
- <sup>12</sup> For thus ye sinning against (the) brethren, and smiting their sick conscience, sin against Christ. (For thus ye sinning against the brothers, and striking or wounding their frail or weak conscience, sin against the Messiah.)
- <sup>13</sup> Wherefore if meat causeth my brother to stumble (or And so if any food causeth my brother to stumble), I shall never eat flesh, lest I cause my brother to stumble.

- <sup>1</sup> Whether I am not free? Am I not (an) apostle? Whether I saw not Jesus Christ, our Lord? Whether ye be not my work in the Lord?
- <sup>2</sup> And though to others I am not (an) apostle, but nevertheless to you I am; for ye be the little sign of mine apostlehood in the Lord.

1ST CORINTHIANS CHAPTER 9:18

- <sup>3</sup> My defence to them that ask me, that is. [My defence to them that ask me, is this.1
  - <sup>4</sup> Whether we have not (the) power to eat and drink?
- <sup>5</sup> Whether we have not (the) power to lead about a woman, a sister, as also other apostles, and (the) brethren of the Lord, and Cephas? (or and a) Peter?)
  - <sup>6</sup> Or I alone and Barnabas have not (the) power to work these things?
- <sup>7</sup> Who travaileth any time with his own wages? (or Who laboureth any time at his own expense?) Who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of his fruit? Who keepeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? [+Who fighteth, or holdeth knighthood, any time with his own soldiers' pay? Who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruits? Who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock?]
- 8 Whether after man I say these things? whether also the law saith not these things?
- <sup>9</sup> For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not bind [up] the mouth of the ox that thresheth. Whether of oxen is (a) charge to God? (or Whether oxen be of any concern to God?)
- 10 Whether for us he saith these things? For why those be written for us; for he that eareth, oweth to ear in hope, and he that thresheth, in hope to take (some) fruits. (Whether he saith these things for us? Yea, they be written for us; for he that ploweth, ought to plow in hope, and he that reapeth, in hope to take some fruits.)
- <sup>11</sup> If we sow spiritual things to you, is it great, if we reap your fleshly things? (If we sow spiritual things for you, is it too much to ask, that we be able to harvest your fleshly things?)
- 12 If others be partners of your power, why not rather we? But we use not this power, but we suffer all things, that we give no hindering to the evangel of Christ. (If ye give others this right, why not also us? But we do not need this right, rather we endure everything, so that we do not hinder the Gospel, or the Good News, of the Messiah.)
- <sup>13</sup> Know ye not, that they that work in the temple, eat those things that be of the temple, and they that serve to the altar, be partners of the altar?
- <sup>14</sup> So the Lord ordained to them that tell the gospel, to live of the gospel. (So the Lord hath ordained for those who tell the Gospel or the Good News, to live from the Gospel or the Good News.)
- <sup>15</sup> But I used none of these things; and I wrote not these things, that they be done so in me (or so that they be done for me); for it is good rather for me to die, than that any man avoid my glory (or make my boasting void).
- <sup>16</sup> For if I preach the gospel, glory is not to me, (or there is no boasting, or any glory, for me), for need-like I must do it; for woe to me, if I preach not the gospel.
- <sup>17</sup> But if I do this thing willfully [or willing(ly)], I have meed, (or But if I do this of my own free will, I have a reward); but if against my will, dispensing [or (a) dispensation] is betaken to me.
- 18 What then is my meed? (or Then what is my reward?) That I preaching the gospel, put the gospel without others' cost, [or expense, either taking of sustenance therefore], that I use not my power in the gospel, [or that I mis-use not my power in the gospel], (or so that I do not mis-use my power in the Gospel or the Good News).

- $^{19}$  For why when I was free of all men, I made me (a) servant of all men (or I made myself a servant to all men), to win the more men [or (so) that I should win more men].
- <sup>20</sup> And (so) to (the) Jews I am made as a Jew, to win the Jews; to them that be under the law, as (if) I were under the law, when I was not under the law, to win them that were under the law;
- <sup>21</sup> to them that were without (the) law, as (if) I were without (the) law, when I was not without [the] law of God, but I was in the law of Christ, to win them that were without [the] law, (or but I was in the law of the Messiah, to win those who were without the Law, or outside the Law).
- <sup>22</sup> I am made sick to sick men, to win sick men; to all men I am made all things, to make all men safe. (I am made frail or weak to frail or weak men, to win frail or weak men; to all men I am made all things, to save all men.)
  - <sup>23</sup> But I do all things for the gospel, (so) that I be made (a) partner of it.
- <sup>24</sup> Know ye not, that they that run in a furlong, all run, but one taketh the prize? So run ye, that ye catch (it), (or So run, so that ye win it).
- <sup>25</sup>Each man that striveth in (a) fight, abstaineth him(self) from all things; and they, that they take a corruptible crown, (or and they, so that they receive or they win a corruptible crown), but we an uncorrupt(ed)(one).
- $^{26}$  Therefore I run so, not as to an uncertain thing; thus I fight, not as beating the air;
- $^{27}$  but I chastise my body, and bring it into servage, [or into servitude], (or into slavery); lest peradventure when I preach to others, I myself be made reprovable.

- <sup>1</sup> Brethren, I will not, that ye unknow (or that ye not know), that all our fathers were under [a] cloud, and all passed (through) the (Red) sea; (Brothers, I do not desire, that ye do not know, that all our fathers were under the protection of a cloud, and all passed through the Sea of Reeds;)
  - $^{2}$  and all were baptized in Moses, in the cloud and in the sea;
- <sup>3</sup> and all ate the same spiritual meat, (and everyone ate the same spiritual food,)
- <sup>4</sup> and all drank the same spiritual drink; and they drank of the spiritual stone following them; and the stone was Christ (or and that stone was the Messiah).
- <sup>5</sup> But not in full many of them it was well pleasant to God; for why they were cast down in [the] desert. (But not very many of them pleased God; and because of that they were thrown down in the desert.)
- $^6$  But these things were done in figure of us (or But these things were done as an example for us), (so) that we be not coveters of evil things, as they coveted.
- <sup>7</sup> Neither be ye made idolaters, as some of them; as it is written, The people sat to eat and drink, and they rose up to play.
- <sup>8</sup> Neither do we fornication, as some of them did fornication, and three and twenty thousand were dead in one day.

- <sup>9</sup> Neither tempt we Christ, as some of them tempted, and perished of serpents. (Nor let us test the Lord, as some of them tested him, and perished from the bites of snakes.)
- <sup>10</sup> Neither grudge ye, as some of them grudged, and they perished of a destroyer [or of the waster]. (And do not grumble, like some of them grumbled, and they perished by the Destroyer.)
- <sup>11</sup> And all these things fell to them in figure; but they be written to our amending, into whom the ends of the worlds be come, [or soothly they be written to our correction, into whom the ends of the world have come]. (And all these things were examples for them; but they were written for our correction, unto whom the ends of the world have come.)
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore he that guesseth him(self), that he standeth, see he, that he fall not.
- <sup>13</sup> Temptation take not you, but man's temptation; for God is true, which shall not suffer you to be tempted above that that ye may; but he shall make with temptation also purveyance, that ye may suffer or sustain. (Do not let yourselves be overtaken or defeated by any test, for it is but each man'stesting; and God is true, and he shall not allow you to be tested beyond what ye can endure; and he shall also make provision with any test, so that ye can endure it, or so that ye can sustain it.)
- <sup>14</sup> Wherefore, ye most dearworthy to me, flee ye from the worshipping of maumets [or flee from worshipping of idols].
- <sup>15</sup> As to prudent men I speak, deem ye (or judge) yourselves that thing that I say [or ye yourselves deem that thing that I say].
- <sup>16</sup> Whether the cup of blessing which we bless, is not the communing of Christ's blood? and whether the bread which we break, is not the part-taking of the body of the Lord? (The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the sharing of the Messiah's blood? and the bread which we break, is it not the partaking of the Lord's body?)
- $^{\rm 17}\,{\rm For}$  we many be one bread and one body, all we that take part of one bread and of one cup.
- $^{\rm 18}$  See ye Israel after the flesh, whether they that eat sacrifices, be not partners of the altar?
- <sup>19</sup> What therefore say I, that a thing that is offered to idols is anything, or that the idol is anything?
- <sup>20</sup> But those things that heathen men offer, they offer to devils, and not to God. But I will not, that ye be made fellows of fiends; (But those things which the Gentiles offer, they offer to demons, and not to God. But I do not desire, that ye be made the partners of devils and demons;)
- <sup>21</sup> for ye may not drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of fiends; ye may not be partners of the board of the Lord, and of the board of fiends. (for ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils and demons; ye cannot be partners of the table of the Lord, and partners of the table of devils and demons.)
- <sup>22</sup> Whether we have envy to the Lord? whether we be stronger than he? (Could the Lord ever envy us? be we stronger than him?)
- $^{23}$  All things be leaveful to me, but not all things be speedful. All things be leaveful to me, but not all things edify. (All things be lawful for me, but not all things be expedient. All things be lawful for me, but not all things edify.)

No man seek (to protect or to esteem) that thing that is his own, but that thing that is of another (man).

<sup>25</sup> All thing that is sold in the butchery, eat ye, asking nothing for conscience.

<sup>26</sup> The earth and the plenty of it, is the Lord's.

<sup>27</sup> If any of heathen [or of unfaithful] men call you to supper (or If any of the Gentiles invite you to dinner), and ye will go, all thing that is set to you, eat ye, asking nothing for conscience.

28 But if any man saith, This thing is offered to idols, do not ye eat (it), for him that showed [this thing], and for conscience;

<sup>29</sup> and I say not, thy conscience, but of another man's. But whereto is my freedom [or my liberty] deemed of (or judged by) another man's conscience?

<sup>30</sup> Therefore if I take part with grace, what am I blasphemed, for that that I do thankings [or I do graces]? (And so if I take part after saying grace, why am I blasphemed or criticized for that over which I have said grace, or for which I have given thanks?)

31 Therefore whether ye eat, or drink, or do any other thing, do ye all things to the glory of God.

<sup>32</sup> Be ye without offence to Jews, and to heathen men, and to the church of God; (Give no offence to Jews, or to Gentiles, or to the church of God;)

<sup>33</sup> as I by all things please to all men, not seeking that that is profitable to me [or not seeking what is profitable to me], but that that is profitable to many men, that they be made safe (or so that they can be saved).

CHAPTER 11

<sup>1</sup> Be ye my followers, as I am of Christ. (Be followers of me, like I am of the Messiah.)

<sup>2</sup> And, brethren, I praise you, that by all things ye be mindful of me; and as I betook to you my commandments, ye hold (onto them), [or ye keep (them)]. (And, brothers, I praise you, because ye always remember me; and as I delivered to you my teachings, ye follow and obey them.)

<sup>3</sup> But I will that ye know, that Christ is [the] head of each man; but the head of the woman is the man; and the head of Christ is God. (But I desire that ye know, that the Messiah is the head of every man; and the head of the woman is the man; and the head of the Messiah is God.)

<sup>5</sup> But each woman praying, or prophesying, when her head is not covered, defouleth her head (or defileth her head); for it is one (or for it is such), as if she were polled, [or if she were made bald, or clipped].

<sup>6</sup> And if a woman be not covered [or veiled], be she polled; and if it is

<sup>6</sup> And if a woman be not covered [or veiled], be she polled; and if it is (a) foul thing to a woman to be polled, or to be made bald, (or and if it is a foul thing for a woman to be clipped, or to be cropped, or to be made bald), cover she her head.

<sup>7</sup> But a man shall not cover his head, for he is the image and (the) glory of God; but a woman is the glory of man.

8 For a man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

- <sup>9</sup> And the man is not made for the woman, but the woman for the man.
- <sup>10</sup> Therefore the woman shall have a covering on her head, (and) also (out of regard) for (the) angels. (And so the woman shall have a covering upon her head, out of respect for the angels.)
- 11 Nevertheless neither the man is without the woman, neither the woman is without [the] man, in the Lord.
- $^{12}$  For why as the woman is of the man, so the man is by the woman; but all things be of God.
- 13 Deem ye yourselves (or You yourselves judge); beseemeth it or becometh it a woman not covered on the head to pray to God?
- <sup>14</sup> Neither the kind itself teacheth us [that] (or Neither nature itself teacheth us that), for if a man nourish long hair, it is (a) shame to him;
- <sup>15</sup> but if a woman nourish long hair, it is (a) glory to her, for hairs be given to her for covering.
- <sup>16</sup> But if any man is seen to be full of strife (or And if anyone is seen to be always arguing), we have none such custom, neither (hath) the church of God.
- $^{17}\,\mathrm{But}$  this thing I command, not praising, that ye come together not into the better, but into the worse.
- <sup>18</sup> First for when ye come together into the church, I hear that dissensions, either partings, be, and in part I believe (it).
- <sup>19</sup> For it behooveth heresies to be, (so) that they that be *(ap)*proved, be openly known in you.
- <sup>20</sup> Therefore when ye come together into one, now it is not to eat the Lord's supper;
- $^{21}$  for why each man before taketh his supper to eat, and one is (still) hungry, and another is (now) drunken.
- <sup>22</sup> Whether ye have not houses to eat and (to) drink (in), or ye (so) despise the church of God, and confound, [or shame], them that have none [or them that have not]? What shall I say to you? I praise you, but herein I praise you not, [or in this thing I praise you not].
- <sup>23</sup> For I have taken of the Lord that thing, which I have betaken to you, (or For I have received from the Lord, that which I have delivered to you). For the Lord Jesus, in what night he was betrayed, took bread,
- <sup>24</sup> and did thankings [or graces], and brake (it), and said, Take ye, and eat ye; this is my body, which shall be betrayed for you; do ye this thing into my mind (or do this in remembrance of me).
- <sup>25</sup> Also [he took] the cup, after that he had supped, and said, This cup is the new testament in my blood; do ye this thing, as oft as ye shall drink [it], into my mind. (And (he took) the cup, after that he had supped, and said, This cup is the New Covenant sealed by my blood; do this, as often as ye shall drink (it), in remembrance of me.)
- <sup>26</sup> For as oft as ye shall eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye shall tell the death of the Lord, till that he come, [or ye shall show the death of the Lord, till he come].
- <sup>27</sup> Therefore whoever eateth the bread, or drinketh the cup of the Lord unworthily, he shall be guilty of the body and of the blood of the Lord.
- <sup>28</sup> But prove a man himself, and so eat he of that bread, and drink he of the cup.

<sup>29</sup> For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh doom, [or damnation], (or judgement), (un)to him[self], not wisely deeming the body of the Lord.

<sup>30</sup>Therefore among you many be sick and feeble [or unstrong], and many sleep, [or die]. (And so among you there be many who be frail and weak, and many who have died.)

31 And if we deemed wisely us-selves, we should not be deemed; (And if we wisely judged ourselves, then we would not be judged or come under God's judgement:)

32 but while we be deemed of the Lord (or but when we be judged by the Lord), we be chastised, (so) that we be not condemned with this world.

33 Therefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, abide ye together. (And so, my brothers, when ye come together to eat, wait for one another.)

<sup>34</sup> If any man hungereth, eat he at home, that ye come not together into doom (or so that ye do not come together under judgement). And I shall dispose other things, when I come.

CHAPTER 12

<sup>1</sup> But of spiritual things, brethren, I will not that ye unknow. (But regarding spiritual matters, brothers, I do not desire that ye do not know or be ignorant about such things.)

<sup>2</sup> For ye know, that when ye were heathen men, how ye were led going to dumb maumets [or to dumb simulacra]. (For ye know, how that when ye were Gentiles, ye were led like sheep unto mute and lifeless idols.)

<sup>3</sup> Therefore I make known to you, that no man speaking in the Spirit of God, saith departing from Jesus; and no man may say the Lord Jesus [is], [no] but in the Holy Ghost, (or and no one can say that Jesus is the Lord, unless he is guided by the Holy Spirit).

<sup>4</sup> And diverse graces there be, (or And there be many different gifts or blessings), but it is all one Spirit;

5 and diverse services there be, but it is all one Lord; 6 and diverse workings there be, but it is all one God, that worketh all things in all things. (and there be many different kinds of works, but it is all one God, who worketh everything in everything.)

<sup>7</sup> And to each man the showing of (the) Spirit is given to (his) profit (or for his benefit).

<sup>8</sup> And the word of wisdom is given to one by (the) Spirit; to another the word of cunning, (or of knowing), (or to another the word of knowledge), by the same Spirit;

<sup>9</sup> faith to another, in the same Spirit; to another, grace(s) of healings [or of healths], in one Spirit; (faith to another, by the same Spirit; to another, gifts of healing, by the one Spirit:)

10 to another, the working of virtues, (or works of power, or miracles); to another, prophecy; to another, very knowing, [or discretion], (or true discerning), of spirits; to another, kinds of (strange and ecstatic) languages [or tongues]; to another, (the) expounding [or (the) interpreting] of words.

11 And one and the same Spirit worketh all these things, parting to each by themselves as he will, (or dividing, or imparting, to each as he so desireth).

<sup>12</sup> For as there is one body, and (it) hath many members, and all the members of the body when those be many [or when they be many], be one body, so also Christ (or so also the Messiah).

- <sup>13</sup> For in one Spirit all we be baptized into one body, either Jews, either heathen, either servants, either free; and all we be filled with drink in one Spirit [or and all we have drunk in one Spirit]. (For by one Spirit or in one Spirit, we all were baptized into one body, whether Jews, or Gentiles, servants, or free men; and we all have drunk from the one Spirit, or of one Spirit.)
  - <sup>14</sup> For the body is not one member, but many.
- <sup>15</sup> If the foot shall say, For I am not the hand, I am not of the body; not therefore it is not of the body.
- <sup>16</sup> And if the ear saith, For I am not the eye, I am not of the body; not therefore it is not of the body.
- <sup>17</sup> If all the body is the eye, where is [the] hearing? and if all the body is hearing, where is [the] smelling?
- <sup>18</sup> But now God hath set members [or Now forsooth God hath put members], and each of them in the body, as he would (or as he wanted them to be).
- <sup>19</sup> And if all were one member, where were the body? (or where would the body be?)
  - <sup>20</sup> But now there be many members, but one body.
- $^{21}$  And (so) the eye may not say to the hand, I have no need to thy works (or I have no need of thy works); or again the head to the feet, Ye be not necessary to me.
- <sup>22</sup> But much more those that be seen to be the lower members of the body, [or the more sick], (or the more frail, or weaker, members of the body), be more needful;
- <sup>23</sup> and those that we guess to be the unworthier [or the unnobler] members of the body, to them we give more honour; and those members that be unhonest, have more honesty, (or and those members that be unseemly, have more seemliness).
- <sup>24</sup> For our honest members have need of none; but God tempered the body, giving more worship to it, to whom it failed, (For our seemly members have need of no one else; but God tempered the body, giving more honour to those parts, that seemed lacking,)
- <sup>25</sup> (so) that debate be not in the body, but that the members be busy into the same thing each for (the) other (or for one another).
- <sup>26</sup> And if one member suffereth anything, all members suffer therewith; either if one member joyeth [or glorieth], all members joy together.
- <sup>27</sup> And ye be the body of Christ (or And ye be the body of the Messiah), and members of member.
- <sup>28</sup> But God set some men in the church, first apostles, the second time prophets [or the second prophets], the third teachers, afterward virtues, (or works of power, or miracles), afterward graces of healings (or gifts of healing), helpings, governings, kinds of (strange and ecstatic) languages (or tongues), interpretations of words.
- <sup>29</sup> Whether all [be] apostles? whether all [be] prophets? whether all (be) teachers? whether all (be) virtues? (or whether all be works of power or miracles?)

<sup>30</sup> whether all have (the) grace of healings? whether all speak with (strange and ecstatic) languages? whether all expound [or interpret]? (whether all have the gift of healing? whether all speak with tongues? whether all interpret?)

2541

<sup>31</sup> But (pur)sue ye the better ghostly gifts (or But follow, or go after, the better spiritual gifts). And yet I (shall) show to you a more excellent, for worthy], way.

CHAPTER 13

<sup>1</sup> If I speak with tongues of men and of angels, and I have not charity, I am made as brass sounding, or a cymbal tinkling. (If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but I have no love, I am made like a sounding brass, or like a tinkling cymbal.)

<sup>2</sup> And if I have prophecy, and know all mysteries, and all cunning, (or all knowing), [or science], and if I have all faith, so that I (can) move hills from their place(s), [or from one place to another], and I have not charity, I am nought. (And if I have prophecy, and know all mysteries, and all knowledge, and if I have all faith, so that I can move mountains from one place to another, but I have no love, I am nothing.)

<sup>3</sup> And if I part all my goods into the meats of poor men, and if I betake my body, so that I burn, and if I have not charity, it profiteth to me nothing. (And if I part with, or divide up, all my goods, to provide food for the poor, and if I deliver, or give up, my body, to be burned, but I have no love, it profiteth nothing to me.)

<sup>4</sup>Charity is patient, it is benign; charity envieth not, it doeth not wickedly, it is not blown [with pride], (Love is patient, it is kind; love envieth not, it doeth not wickedly, it is not swollen with pride,)

<sup>5</sup> it is not covetous, [or it is not ambitious, or covetous of worships, (or honours)], it seeketh not those things that be his own [or her own], it is not stirred to wrath, it thinketh not evil,

6 it joyeth not on wickedness, but it joyeth together to (the) truth; [it joyeth not in wickedness, forsooth it joyeth together with (the) truth;]

<sup>7</sup> it suffereth all things, it believeth all things, it hopeth all things, it sustaineth all things.

<sup>8</sup> Charity falleth never down, whether prophecies shall be voided, either languages shall cease, either science shall be destroyed. (Love never falleth down, whether prophecies shall be made null and void, or strange and ecstatic languages shall cease, or knowledge shall be destroyed.)

<sup>9</sup> For a part we know, and a part we prophesy;

- <sup>10</sup> but when that shall come that is perfect, that thing that is of part shall be voided. (but when that shall come which is complete, or which is finished, that which is but partial, or is unfinished, shall be done away.)
- <sup>11</sup> When I was a little child, I spake as a little child, I understood as a little child, I thought as a little child; but when I was made a man, I avoided those things/I voided those things that were of a little child. (When I was a little child, I spoke like a little child, I understood like a little child, I thought like a little child; but when I became a man, I put away those things that were a little child's.)

<sup>12</sup> And we see now by a mirror in darkness, but then face to face; now I know of part, but then I shall know, as I am known. (And we see now by a mirror in the dark, but then face to face; now I know a part, but then I shall know, like I am known by God.)

<sup>13</sup> And now dwell faith, hope, charity, these three; but the most of these is charity. (And now remain faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love.)

- <sup>1</sup> (Pur)Sue ye charity, (or Follow or Go after love), (and) love ye spiritual things, but more that ye prophesy.
- <sup>2</sup> And he that speaketh in tongue(s), speaketh not to men, but to God; for no man heareth (it), (or And he who speaketh in a strange and ecstatic language, speaketh not to men, but to God; for no one can understand it). But the Spirit speaketh mysteries.
- <sup>3</sup> For he that prophesieth, speaketh to men to edification (or speaketh to men for edification), and admonishing, and comforting.
- <sup>4</sup> He that speaketh in tongue(s), that is, in(a)strange language, edifieth himself, (or He who speaketh in a strange and ecstatic language, edifieth himself); but he that prophesieth, edifieth the church of God.
- <sup>5</sup> And I will, that all ye speak in tongues, but more that ye prophesy. For he that prophesieth, is more than he that speaketh in (strange and ecstatic) languages, [or in tongues]; but peradventure he expound, [or interpret, or declare], that the church take edification. (And I do desire, that ye all speak in strange and ecstatic languages, or in tongues, but more importantly, that ye all prophesy. For he who prophesieth, is more helpful to others than he who speaketh in a strange and ecstatic language; unless of course, the speaker in tongues can also expound or interpret, so that the entire church can receive edification.)
- <sup>6</sup> But now, brethren, if I come to you, and speak in tongues, what shall I profit to you [or what shall it profit to you], [no] but if I speak to you either in revelation, either in science, either in prophecy, either in teaching? (But now, brothers, if I come to you, and speak in a strange and ecstatic language, what shall it profit you, unless I also speak to you either in revelation, or in knowledge, or in prophecy, or in teaching?)
- <sup>7</sup> For those things that be without soul, [or life], and giveth voices (or maketh sounds), (yea), either pipe, either harp, but those give (a) distinction of soundings [or no but if they shall give (a) distinction of soundings], how shall it be known that that is sung, either that that is trumped [or is harped].
- <sup>8</sup> For if a trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall make himself ready to battle? (or who shall prepare himself for battle?)
- <sup>9</sup> So but ye give an open word by tongue(s), how shall that that is said be known? (or And so, unless ye open, or ye interpret, the words spoken in a strange and ecstatic language, how shall what is said be understood?) For ye shall be speaking in vain [or in the air].
- <sup>10</sup> There be many kinds of languages [or tongues] in this world, and nothing is without voice (or and none of them is without sound or meaning).
- $^{11}$  But if I know not the virtue of a voice (or But if I do not know the meaning of a sound), I shall be to him, to whom I shall speak, (like) a barbaric; and he that speaketh to me, shall be(like) a barbaric.

- <sup>12</sup> So ye, for ye be lovers of spirits, [that is, of ghostly, (or spiritual) gifts], seek ye that ye be plenteous to (the) edification of the church.
- 13 And therefore he that speaketh in (a strange and ecstatic) language [or in tongue(s)], pray, that he expound (it), [or pray, that he interpret (it)]. (And so he who speaketh in a strange and ecstatic language, beseech him to interpret it.)
- <sup>14</sup> For if I pray in tongue(s), my spirit prayeth; mine understanding, [or my mind, or reasoning], is without fruit. (For if I pray in a strange and ecstatic language, my spirit prayeth; but my thinking, or my reasoning, is without fruit.)
- <sup>15</sup> What then? I shall pray in (my) spirit, I shall pray in (my) mind; I shall say psalm in (my) spirit, I shall say psalm also in (my) mind.
- <sup>16</sup> For if thou blessest in (thy) spirit, who filleth the place of an idiot, [or unlearned man], (or For if thou blessest from thy spirit, if an unlearned man be there), how shall he say Amen on thy blessing, for he knoweth not, what thou sayest?
- <sup>17</sup> For thou doest well (thy) thankings [or (thy) graces], but another man is not edified.
- <sup>18</sup> I thank my God, for I speak in the language of all (of) you; [I do graces to my God, for I speak in the tongue of all (of) you;]
- <sup>19</sup> but in the church I will (rather) speak five words in my wit, (or but in the church I would rather speak five words from my mind, or out of my thoughts), (so) that also I teach other men, than ten thousand words in (a) tongue [not understood].
- <sup>20</sup> Brethren, do not ye be made children in wits, (or Brothers, do not be made like children in your minds, or in your thoughts), but in malice be ye children; but in wits be ye perfect.
- <sup>21</sup> For in the law it is written, That in other tongues and other lips I shall speak to this people, and neither so they shall hear me, saith the Lord.
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore (strange and ecstatic) languages be into (a) token, not to faithful men, but to men out of the faith; but prophecies be not to men out of the faith, but to faithful men. (And so tongues be a sign, not for men in the faith, but for men out of the faith; and prophecies be a sign, not for men out of the faith, but for men in the faith.)
- <sup>23</sup> Therefore if all the church come together into one, and all men speak in tongues, if idiots, either men out of the faith, enter, whether they shall not say, What, be ye mad? (And so if all the church come together as one, and everyone speak in strange and ecstatic languages, if the unlearned, or those not in the faith enter, shall they not say, What is this? ye be crazy!)
- <sup>24</sup> But if all men prophesy, if any unfaithful man or idiot enter, he is convicted of all, he is wisely deemed of all (these words). (But if everyone prophesy, if anyone not in the faith, or someone unlearned, enter, he is convicted by all of these words, he is wisely judged by all of them.)
- <sup>25</sup> For the hid things of his heart be known, and so he shall fall down on the face, and shall worship God, and show verily that God is in you. (For the hidden things of his heart be known, and so he shall fall down on his face, and shall worship God, and truly show that God is there with you.)
- <sup>26</sup> What then, brethren? When ye come together, each of you hath a psalm, he hath teaching, he hath apocalypse, [or revelation], he hath tongue(s), (or he hath a strange and ecstatic language), he hath expounding [or interpreting]; all (these) things be they done to edification.

<sup>27</sup> Whether a man speaketh in tongue(s), (or And if someone speaketh in a strange and ecstatic language), [be this done] by two men, either three at the most, and by parts, (so) that (some)one (can) interpret.

<sup>28</sup> But if there be not an interpreter, be he still [or speak he not] in the church, and speak he (only) to himself and to God.

<sup>29</sup> Prophets twain or three say, and others wisely deem. (Let two or three prophets speak, and others wisely judge what they say.)

<sup>30</sup> But if anything be showed to a sitter [or (to) one (who is) sitting], the former be still (or the first speaker stop speaking).

- <sup>31</sup> For ye may all prophesy, each by himself, that all men learn (or so that everyone can learn), and all admonish.
  - <sup>32</sup> And the spirits of (the) prophets be subject to (other) prophets;

<sup>33</sup> for why God is not of dissension, but of peace; as I teach in all churches of holy men. (for God is not (the God) of conflict or discord, but (the God) of peace; as I teach in all the churches of the saints or of God's people.)

<sup>34</sup> Women in churches be still; for it is not suffered to them to speak, but to be subject, as the law saith. (Women should be silent in church; for it is not allowed for them to speak, but they should be subordinate, or in submission, like the Law saith.)

- <sup>35</sup> But if they will anything learn, ask they their husbands at home; for it is foul thing to a woman to speak in the church. (And if they desire to learn anything, let them ask their husbands at home; for it is a foul thing for a woman to speak in the church.)
- <sup>36</sup> Whether the word of God came forth of you, or to you alone it came? (Did the word of God come forth from you, or did it come to you alone?)
- <sup>37</sup> If any man is seen to be a prophet, or spiritual, know he those things that I write to you, for those be the commandments of the Lord [or for they be the commandments of the Lord].

<sup>38</sup> And if any man unknoweth (or not knoweth), he shall be unknowing.

(And if anyone is ignorant, let him be ignorant.)

- <sup>39</sup> Therefore, brethren, love ye to prophesy, and do not ye forbid to speak in tongues. (And so brothers, love prophesy, and do not forbid any to speak in strange and ecstatic languages.)
- <sup>40</sup> But be all things done honestly, and by due order in you. (But let all things be done with seemliness, and by due order among you.)

- <sup>1</sup> Soothly, brethren, I make the gospel known to you, which I have preached to you, which also ye have taken, in which ye stand, (Truly, brothers, I make the Gospel, or the Good News, known to you, which I have preached to you, and which ye have received, and in which ye stand,)
- <sup>2</sup> by which also ye shall be saved; by which reason I have preached to you, if ye hold, if ye have not believed idly. (and by which ye shall be saved; for which reason I have preached to you, if ye will hold onto it, and if ye have not idly believed it.)
- <sup>3</sup> For I betook to you at the beginning [or in the first] that thing which also I have received; that Christ was dead for our sins, by the scriptures;

(For I delivered or I gave to you, from the beginning, that which also I have received; that the Messiah died for our sins, according to the Scriptures;)

- <sup>4</sup> and that he was buried, and that he rose again in the third day, after [the] scriptures; (and that he was buried, and that he rose again on the third day, according to the Scriptures;)
- <sup>5</sup> and that he was seen to Cephas, and after these things to (the) eleven; (and that he was seen by Peter, and afterward by the Eleven;)
- <sup>6</sup> afterward he was seen to more than five hundred brethren together, of which many live yet, but some be dead; (afterward he was seen by more than five hundred brothers together, of whom many still live, but some of whom have died;)
- <sup>7</sup> afterward he was seen to James, and afterward to all the apostles. (afterward he was seen by James, and afterward by all the apostles.)
- <sup>8</sup> And last of all he was seen also to me, as to a dead-born child. (And last of all he was also seen by me, as if to a dead-born child.)
- <sup>9</sup> For I am the least of the apostles, that am not worthy to be called (an) apostle, for I pursued the church of God (or for I persecuted God's church).
- <sup>10</sup> But by the grace of God I am that thing that I am; and his grace was not void in me. For I travailed more plenteously than all they; but not I, but the grace of God with me. (But by the grace of God I am what I am; and his grace was not given to me in vain. For I worked harder than all of them; but not me really, but the grace of God working through me.)
  - <sup>11</sup> But whether I, or they, so we have preached, and so ye have believed.
- <sup>12</sup> And if Christ is preached, that he rose again from death [or that he rose again from (the) dead], how say some men among you, that the again-rising of dead men is not? (And if it be preached, that the Messiah rose again from the dead, then how can some men among you say, that there is no resurrection of the dead?)
- <sup>13</sup> And if the again-rising of dead men is not, neither Christ rose again from death. (And if there is no resurrection of the dead, then the Messiah did not rise again from the dead.)
- <sup>14</sup> And if Christ rose not, our preaching is vain, our faith is vain. (And if the Messiah did not rise again, then our preaching is in vain, and our faith is in vain.)
- <sup>15</sup> And we be found false witnesses of God, for we have said witnessing against God, that he raised Christ, whom he raised not, if dead men rise not again. (And we be found to be false witnesses about God, for we have said false testimony about God, that he raised the Messiah, whom he did not raise, if the dead do not rise again.)
- <sup>16</sup> For why if dead men rise not again, neither Christ rose again; (Because if the dead do not rise again, then neither did the Messiah rise again;)
- <sup>17</sup> and if Christ rose not again, our faith is vain; and yet ye be in your sins. (and if the Messiah did not rise again, then our faith is in vain; and ye still be in your sins.)
- <sup>18</sup> And then they that have died [or that (have) slept] in Christ, have perished. (And then those who have died in the Messiah, have truly perished.)

- <sup>19</sup> If in this life only we be hoping in Christ, we be more wretches than all men. (If it is only for this life that we have hope in the Messiah, then we be greater wretches than anyone.)
- <sup>20</sup> But now Christ hath risen again from death [or Now forsooth Christ rose again, from dead men], the first fruit(s) of dead men; (But the Messiah hath risen again from the dead, yea, he is the first fruits of the dead;)
- <sup>21</sup> for death was by a man, and by a man is again-rising (or the resurrection) from death. [+for soothly by a man (came) death, and by a man (the) again-rising of (the) dead.]
- <sup>22</sup> And as in Adam all men die, so in Christ all men shall be quickened. (And so as in Adam all men die, so in the Messiah all men shall be enlivened or shall be given life.)
- <sup>23</sup> But each man in his order; the first fruit(s), Christ, [or (the) first fruits, Christ], afterward they that be of Christ, that believed in the coming of Christ; (But each one in the proper order; the first fruits, the Messiah, afterward they who be of the Messiah, yea, those who believe at the coming of the Messiah;)
- <sup>24</sup> afterward an end, when he shall betake the kingdom to God and to the Father, when he shall void all princehood, and power, and virtue. (and then the end, when he shall deliver the Kingdom to God the Father, when he shall make void, or shall do away, all princehood, and power, and authority.)
- <sup>25</sup> But it behooveth him to reign, till he put all his enemies under his feet.
  - <sup>26</sup> And at the last, death the enemy shall be destroyed;
- $^{27}$  for he hath made subject all things under his feet. And when he saith, all things be subject to him, without doubt except him that subjected all things to him.
- <sup>28</sup> And when all things be subjected to him, then the Son himself shall be subject to him, that made all things subject to him, (so) that God be all things in all things.
- <sup>29</sup> Else what shall they do, that be baptized for dead men, if in no wise dead men rise again? whereto be they baptized for them? (Or else what shall they do, who be baptized for the dead, if in no way the dead rise again? why then be they baptized for them?)
- <sup>30</sup> And whereto be we in peril every hour? (And why be we in danger every hour?)
- $^{31}$  Each day I die for your glory, brethren, which glory I have in Christ Jesus our Lord. (Every day I die for your glory, brothers, which glory I have in the Messiah Jesus our Lord.)
- <sup>32</sup> If after man I have fought to beasts, [or against beasts], at Ephesus, what profiteth it to me, if dead men rise not again? (or what is the benefit to me, if the dead do not rise again?) Eat we, and drink we, for we shall die tomorrow.
- <sup>33</sup> Do not ye be deceived; for evil speeches destroy good conduct. [+Do not ye be deceived by false teaching; for sooth evil speeches, or false doctrine, corrupt good virtues.]
- <sup>34</sup> Awake ye, just men, and do not ye do sin [or and do not ye sin]; for some men have ignorance of God, but to reverence, that is, to your shame, I speak to you (or I speak about you).

35 But some man saith, How shall dead men rise again (or How can the dead rise again), or in what manner body shall they come?

<sup>36</sup> [O!] Unwise man, that thing that thou sowest, is not quickened, [no] but it die first; (O unwise man! that which thou sowest, is not brought back to life, unless it first die;)

<sup>37</sup> and that thing that thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that is to come, but a naked corn, (or a kernel, or a grain), as of wheat, or of some other seeds:

<sup>38</sup> and God giveth to it a body, as he will, and to each of (the) seeds a proper body. (and God giveth it a body, as he so desireth, yea, to each seed its own body.)

<sup>39</sup> Not each flesh is the same flesh (or All flesh is not the same flesh), but one is of men, another is of beasts, another is of birds, another is of fishes.

- <sup>40</sup> And there be heavenly bodies, and there be earthly bodies; but one glory is of heavenly bodies, and another is of earthly [bodies]. (And there be heavenly bodies, and there be earthly bodies; but one beauty or splendour is of or for heavenly bodies, and another beauty or splendour is of or for earthly bodies.)
- 41 Another clearness is of the sun, another clearness is of the moon, and another clearness is of the stars; and a star diverseth from a star in clearness. (And there is one beauty or splendour for the sun, another beauty or splendour is for the moon, and another beauty or splendour is for the stars: and a star diverseth from a star in its beauty or splendour.)

42 And so the again-rising of dead men (or And so the resurrection of the dead). It is sown in corruption, it shall rise in uncorruption;

43 it is sown in unnobleness, it shall rise in glory; it is sown in infirmity, it shall rise in virtue, (or it is sown in frailty and weakness, it shall rise in strength and power);

44 it is sown a beastly body, it shall rise a spiritual body, (or it is sown as a fleshly body, it shall rise as a spiritual body). If there is a beastly body, (then) there is also a spiritual body;

45 as it is written, The first man Adam was made into a soul living, the last Adam into a spirit quickening. (as it is written, The first Adam was made into a living soul, the last Adam into the enlivening, or the life-giving, Spirit.)

<sup>46</sup> But the first is not that [body] that is spiritual, but that that is beast-like

(or that is fleshly), afterward that that is spiritual.

- 47 The first man of earth is earthly; the second man of heaven is heavenly. (The first man from earth (is) earthly; the second Man from heaven (is) heavenly.)
- <sup>48</sup> Such as the earthly man is, such be the earthly men; and such as the heavenly man is, such be also the heavenly men.

<sup>49</sup> Therefore as we have borne the image of the earthly man, bear we also the image of the heavenly man. (And so as we have worn the image of the earthly man, let us also wear the image of the heavenly Man.)

50 Brethren, I say this thing, that flesh and blood may not wield the kingdom of God, neither corruption shall wield uncorruption [or incorruption]. (Brothers, I say this, that flesh and blood cannot possess the Kingdom of God, nor shall that which is corrupted or is mortal, possess incorruption or immortality.)

 $^{51}$  Lo! I say to you (a) private [or a mystery] of holy things, (or Behold! I shall tell you a secret about the holy things). And all we shall rise again, but not all we shall be changed to the state of glory;

<sup>52</sup> in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, in the last trump; for the trump shall sound, and dead men shall rise again, without corruption [or incorrupt], and we shall be changed. (in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet call; for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall rise again, without corruption, or incorrupt, or immortal, and so we shall be changed.)

<sup>53</sup> For it behooveth this corruptible thing to clothe uncorruption [or incorruption], and this deadly thing to put away [or to clothe] undeadliness. (For it behooveth that this corruptible thing be clothed with incorruption, yea, that this mortal thing put on, or be clothed with, immortality.)

54 But when this deadly thing shall clothe undeadliness, then shall the word be done [or be fulfilled], that is written, Death is sopped up in victory. (But when this mortal thing shall be clothed with immortality, then shall the word be fulfilled that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory!)

55 Death, where is thy victory? Death, where is thy prick? (Death, where is thy victory? Death, where is thy prod?)

<sup>56</sup> But the prick of death is sin; and the virtue of sin is the law. (And the prod of death is sin; and the power of sin cometh from the Law.)

<sup>57</sup> But do we thankings to God, that gave to us victory by our Lord Jesus Christ. (But we give thanks to God, who gave us victory by our Lord Jesus Christ.)

<sup>58</sup> Therefore, my dearworthy brethren, be ye steadfast, and unmoveable, being plenteous in (the) work of the Lord, (for) evermore witting that your travail is not idle in the Lord (or always knowing that your labour is never in vain, or futile, in, or done for, the Lord).

CHAPTER 16

<sup>1</sup> But of the gatherings [or of the collects] of money that be made into (the) saints (or Regarding the collection of money that be made for the saints or God's people), as I have ordained in the churches of Galatia, so also do ye

<sup>2</sup> one day of the week (or the first day of the week). Each of you keep, [or lay up], at himself, keeping that that pleaseth to him(self), (so) that when I come, the gatherings be not made.

<sup>3</sup> And when I shall be present, which men ye (ap)prove, I shall send them by epistles to bear your grace into Jerusalem. (And then when I shall be there, whichever men ye shall approve, I shall send them with letters to take your gift to Jerusalem.)

<sup>4</sup> That if it be worthy that also I go, they shall go with me. (And if it be worthwhile that I also go, they shall go with me.)

<sup>5</sup> But I shall come to you, when I shall pass by Macedonia; for why I shall pass by Macedonia. (But I shall come to you, when I shall pass through Macedonia; for I shall go through Macedonia.)

<sup>6</sup> But peradventure I shall dwell at you (or But perhaps I shall remain with you), or also dwell the winter (there), (so) that ye (can) lead me whither ever I shall go.

<sup>7</sup> And I will not now see you in my passing (through), [or Soothly I will not now see you in (or while) passing (through)], for I hope to dwell with you a while, if the Lord shall suffer, (or for I hope to remain with you for a while, if the Lord will allow it).

8 But I shall dwell at Ephesus, unto Whitsuntide.

<sup>9</sup> For a great door and an open or (an) evident is opened to me (or For a great door is opened to me for effective work), and (there be) many adversaries.

<sup>10</sup> And if Timothy come, see ye that he be without dread with you (or see that he be without anything to fear from you), for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I (do).

<sup>11</sup> Therefore no man despise him; but lead him forth in peace, (so) that he come to me; for I abide him with (the) brethren (or for I wait for him with the brothers).

12 But, brethren, I make known to you of Apollos, that I prayed (or beseeched) him much, that he should come to you, with (some) brethren. But it was not his will to come now (or But it was not his desire to come now); but he shall come, when he shall have leisure [or when it shall be able to him].

13 Walk ye, and stand ye in the faith; do ye manly, and be ye comforted in the Lord, (or be brave, and be strong in the Lord), 14 and be all your things done in charity. (and let everything ye do be done in love, or with love.)

<sup>15</sup> And, brethren, I beseech you, ye know the house(hold) of Stephanas, and of Fortunatus, and Achaicus, for they be the first fruits of Achaia, and into (the) ministry of (the) saints they have ordained themselves (or and they have committed themselves unto the service of God's people);

16 that also ye be subjects to such, and to each working together and travailing.

<sup>17</sup> For I have joy in the presence of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus; for they [full-]filled that thing that failed to you (or for they did fully what you were unable to do, because of your absence);

<sup>18</sup> for they have refreshed both my spirit and yours. Therefore know ye them, that be such manner men(or And so know and respect those who be such kind of men).

- <sup>19</sup> All the churches of Asia greet you well (or All the Asian churches send you hearty greetings). Aquila and Priscilla, with their home-church, greet you much in the Lord, at the which also I am harboured.
- <sup>20</sup> All (the) brethren greet you well. Greet ye well together in holy kiss. (All the brothers send you hearty greetings. Give hearty greetings to one another with a holy kiss.)

<sup>22</sup> If any man loveth not our Lord Jesus Christ, be he cursed, Maranatha, that is, in the coming of the Lord, or in the day of doom. (If anyone loveth not our Lord Jesus Christ, let him be cursed on the Day of Judgement.)

<sup>23</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

<sup>24</sup> My charity be with you all in Christ Jesus our Lord. Amen. (My love be with you all in the Messiah Jesus our Lord. Amen.)

2ND CORINTHIANS

- <sup>1</sup> Paul, (an) apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timothy, (a) brother, to the church of God that is at Corinth, with all (the) saints that be in all Achaia (or with all of God's people who be in all of Achaia),
- $^{2}$  grace (be) to you, and (the) peace of God our Father and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
- <sup>3</sup> Blessed be God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, (the) Father of mercies, and (the) God of all comfort,
- <sup>4</sup> which comforteth us in all our tribulation, that also we may comfort them, that be in all dis-ease [or in all pressure] by the admonishing by which also we be admonished of God. (who comforteth us in all our trials, so that we can also comfort those, who be under great pressure, by the admonishing by which we also be admonished by God.)
- <sup>5</sup> For as the passions of Christ be plenteous in us, so also by Christ our comfort is plenteous. (For as the sufferings of the Messiah be plentiful in us, so also through the Messiah our comfort is plentiful.)
- <sup>6</sup> And whether we be in tribulation, [or be troubled, or be pursued], (or be persecuted), for your tribulation and health (or salvation), either we be comforted, for your comfort, either we be admonished, for your admonishing and health (or salvation). Which worketh in you the suffering of the same passions (or the same sufferings), which also we suffer,
- <sup>7</sup> that our hope be firm for you; witting for as ye be fellows of passions, so ye shall be also of comfort. (so that our hope for you be firm; knowing that as ye be my fellows in sufferings, so ye shall also be my fellows in comfort.)
- <sup>8</sup> For, brethren, we will, that ye know of our tribulation, that was done in Asia; for over-measure we were grieved over-might [or above virtue], so that it distressed us, yea, to live. (For brothers, we desire, that ye know of our trouble, that we had in Asia; for over-measure we were grieved more than our strength could endure, so that it distressed us, yea, to live.)
- <sup>9</sup> But we in us-selves had (the) answer, [or (the) certainty], of death, (so) that we trust not in us, but in God that raiseth dead men (or but in God who raiseth the dead).
- <sup>10</sup> Which delivered us, and delivereth from so great perils, into whom we hope, also yet he shall deliver,
- $^{11}$  while also ye help in prayer for us; (so) that of the persons of many faces of that giving that is in us, thankings [or graces] be done for us by many men to God.
- $^{12}$  For our glory is this, the witnessing of our conscience (or the testimony of our conscience), that in (the) simpleness and cleanness of God (or with godly sincerity), and not in fleshly wisdom, but in the grace of God, we lived in this world, but more plenteously to you.
- $^{13}$  And we write not other things to you, than those that ye have read and know, and I hope that into the end ye shall know,
- $^{14}$  as also ye have known us a part; for we be your glory, as also ye be ours in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

- <sup>15</sup> And in this trusting I would first come to you, that ye should have the second grace (or so that ye would have a second blessing),
- <sup>16</sup> and pass by you into Macedonia, (or and pass by you, or visit you, on the way to Macedonia), and again from Macedonia come to you, and of you be led into Judea.
- <sup>17</sup> But when I would (do) this thing, whether I used unsteadfastness, either those things that I think, I think after the flesh, (so) that at me be, it is and it is not? [+Forsooth when I would (do) this thing, whether I used lightness, either unsteadfastness, or those things that I think, I think after the flesh, (so) that there be at me, is and is not, or yea and nay?]
- <sup>18</sup> But God is true, for our word that was at you, is and is not, is not therein, but is is in it. [+Forsooth God is true, for our word that was at you, there is not in it yea and nay/there is not in it is and nay, but is, that is (the) truth, is in it.]
- <sup>19</sup> For why Jesus Christ, the Son of God, which is preached among you by us (or who was preached among you by us), by me, and Silvanus, and Timothy, there was not in him, is and is not, but is was in him. [+Soothly Jesus Christ, the son of God, that is preached in you by us, by me, and by Silvanus, and Timothy, there was not in him yea and nay, but is, or yea, was in him/but in him was is.]
- <sup>20</sup> For why how many ever be (the) promises of God, in that is, be fulfilled, [or Forsooth how many ever be (the) promises of God, in him is, that is, they be fulfilled in him]. And therefore by him we say Amen to God, to our glory.
- <sup>21</sup> Soothly it is God that confirmeth us with you in Christ, and which anointed us, (Truly it is God who confirmeth us with you in the Messiah, and who anointed us,)
- $^{22}$  and which marked us, and gave (the) earnest [or a wed] of the Spirit in our hearts. (and who sealed us, and put the pledge of the Spirit in our hearts.)
- <sup>23</sup> For I call God to witness against my soul (or For I call upon God to testify about my soul), that I sparing you came not over to Corinth;
- <sup>24</sup> not that we be lords of your faith, but (that) we be helpers of your joy; for through belief ye stand (or for ye stand by faith).

- <sup>1</sup> And I ordained this [same] thing at me, that I should not come again in heaviness [or in sorrow] to you.
- <sup>2</sup> For if I make you sorry, [or heavy], who is he that gladdeth me, but he that is sorrowful of me? (For if I make you sorrowful, who is he who maketh me glad, but he whom I have made sorrowful?)
- <sup>3</sup> And this same thing I wrote to you, (so) that when I come, I have not sorrow on sorrow, of the which it behooved me to have joy. And I trust in you all, that my joy is of all you [or that my joy is of you all].
- <sup>4</sup> For of much tribulation and anguish of heart I wrote to you by many tears, not that ye be sorry, but that ye know what charity I have more plenteously in you. (For I wrote to you out of much trouble and anguish in my heart, and through many tears, not that ye be made sorrowful, but so that ye know of the love which I have most plentifully for you.)

<sup>5</sup> For if any man hath made me sorrowful, he hath not made me sorrowful but a part [or but in part], that I charge not you all (or so that I do not be a burden to all of you).

<sup>6</sup> This blaming that is made of many, sufficeth to him, that is such one [or that is such a manner man];

<sup>7</sup> so that on the contrary ye rather forgive and comfort (or strengthen), lest peradventure he that is such a manner man, be swallowed up, [or be sopped up, or despair], by more great heaviness.

<sup>8</sup> For which thing I beseech you, that ye confirm charity into him (or that ye confirm your love for him).

<sup>9</sup> For why therefore I wrote this, that I know your proof, whether in all things ye be obedient.

<sup>10</sup> For to whom ye have forgiven anything, also I have forgiven. For I, that that I forgave, if I forgave anything, have forgiven for you in the person of Christ (or have forgiven it for you in the presence of the Messiah),

11 that we be not deceived of Satan (or so that we be not deceived by Satan); for we know his thoughts.

- <sup>12</sup> But when I was come to Troas for the gospel of Christ, and a door was opened to me in the Lord, (But when I had come to Troas with the Gospel, or the Good News, of the Messiah, and a door was opened to me by the Lord,)
- <sup>13</sup> I had not rest to my spirit (or I had no rest for my spirit), for I found not my brother Titus, but I said to them farewell, and I passed (forth) into Macedonia
- <sup>14</sup> And I do thankings to God, that (for)evermore maketh us to have victory in Christ Jesus, and showeth by us the odour, [or (the) savour, or (the) sweetness], of his knowing in each place; (And I give thanks to God, who always maketh us to have victory in the Messiah Jesus, and showeth by us the aroma, or the fragrance, or the sweetness, of his knowledge in every place;)

<sup>15</sup> for we be the good odour, [or savour], of Christ to God, among these that be made safe, and among these that perish. (for we be the good aroma, or the sweet fragrance, of the Messiah to God, among those who be saved, and among those who perish.)

<sup>16</sup> To other soothly, (or Truly to the one), we be odour of death into death, but to the other we be(the) odour of life into life. And to these things who is so able?

<sup>17</sup> For we be not as [full] many, that do adultery by the word of God [or adulterating the word of God], but we speak of cleanness as of God, before God in Christ. (For we do not do like a great many, adulterating the word of God, but we speak with godly sincerity, before God in the Messiah.)

- <sup>1</sup> Begin we therefore again to praise (or to commend) us-selves? or whether we need, as some men, epistles [or letters] of praising to you, or of you? (or from you?)
- <sup>2</sup> Ye be our epistle, written in our hearts, which is known and read of all men (or which is known and read by all men),
- <sup>3</sup> and [ye be] made open, for ye be the epistle of Christ ministered of us, and written, not with ink, but by the Spirit of the living God; not in stone tables, but in fleshly tables of heart. (and ye be made open, for ye be the letter of the Messiah served by us, and written, not with ink, but by the Spirit of the living God; not on stone tablets, but on the fleshly tablets of the heart.)

<sup>4</sup> For we have such trust by Christ to God;

<sup>5</sup> not that we be sufficient to think anything of us/-selves/, as of us, but our sufficience is of God (or but our sufficiency is from God).

<sup>6</sup> Which also made us able ministers of the new testament, not by (the) letter, but by (the) Spirit; for the letter slayeth, but the Spirit quickeneth. (Who also made us able servants of the new covenant, not by the letter, but by the Spirit; for the letter killeth, but the Spirit enliveneth or giveth life.)

<sup>7</sup> And if the ministration of death written by letter(s) in stones was in glory, so that the children of Israel might not behold into the face of Moses, for the glory of his face, which [glory] is voided (or is done away),

8 how shall not the ministration of the Spirit be more in glory?

<sup>9</sup> For if the ministration of condemnation was in glory, much more the ministration of rightwiseness is plenteous in glory.

<sup>10</sup> For neither that that was clear (or that that was glorious) was glorified in this part for the excellent glory;

11 and if that that is voided (or that that was done away) was by glory, much more that that dwelleth still is in glory.

12 Therefore we that have such hope, use much trust;

13 and not as Moses laid [or put] a veil on his face, that the children of Israel should not behold into his face, which veil is voided. (and not as Moses put a veil on his face, so that the children of Israel could not behold his face, which veil is now done away.)

<sup>14</sup> But the wits of them be astonied; for into this day the same veil in [the] reading of the old testament, dwelleth not showed, for it is voided in Christ, (But their minds be astonished; for unto this day the same veil remaineth when they read from the Old Covenant, though it is not shown, but it is done away in the Messiah,)

<sup>15</sup> but into this day, when Moses is read, the veil is put on their hearts.

<sup>16</sup> But when Israel shall be converted to God, the veil shall be done away.

<sup>17</sup> And the Spirit is the Lord; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. [Forsooth the Lord is a Spirit; forsooth where is the Spirit of God, there is liberty.1

<sup>18</sup> And all we that with open face see the glory of the Lord, be transformed into the same image, from clearness into clearness (or from glory unto glory), as of the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAPTER 4

<sup>1</sup> Therefore we that have this administration, [or office], after this that we have gotten mercy, fail we not,

<sup>2</sup> but do we away the privy, (or the private, or the secret), things of shame, not walking in subtle guile, neither doing adultery by the word of God [or neither adulterating the word of God], but in (the) showing of the truth commending us-selves to each conscience of men before God.

<sup>3</sup> For if also our gospel is covered, or is hid, in these that perish it is covered; (And if our Gospel or Good News is covered, or it is hidden, it is only hidden for those who perish, or who go to destruction;)

2ND CORINTHIANS CHAPTER 4:18

- <sup>4</sup> in which [the] god of this world, that is, the devil, hath blinded the souls of unfaithful men, (so) that the (en)lightening [or the lighting] of the gospel of the glory of Christ, which is the image of God, shine not. (in which the god of this world, that is, the Devil, hath blinded the souls of the unfaithful or the unbelievers, so that the light of the Gospel, or the Good News, of the glory of the Messiah, who is the image of God, cannot shine for them.)
- <sup>5</sup> But we preach not us-selves, but our Lord Jesus Christ [or but Jesus] Christ our Lord; and us (as) your servants by Jesus.
- <sup>6</sup> For God, that said [the] light to shine of darknesses, he hath given light in our hearts, to the lightening [or the illumining] of the science of the clearness of God, in the face of Jesus Christ. (For God, who commanded the light to shine in the darkness, he hath given, or he hath put, the light in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Iesus Christ.)
- <sup>7</sup> And we have this treasure in brittle vessels, that the worthiness [or the highness] be of God's virtue (or so that the worthiness be of God's power), and not of us.
- <sup>8</sup> In all things we suffer tribulation, but we be not anguished, or annoyed, (or harmed); we be made poor, but we lack nothing [or we be not destitute];
- <sup>9</sup> we suffer persecution, but we be not forsaken; we be made low, but we be not confounded; we be cast down, but we perish not, (or we be thrown down, but we do not perish).
- <sup>10</sup> And (for)evermore we bear about the slaying [or the mortifying] of Jesus in our body (or And we always carry about the death of Jesus in our body), (so) that also the life of Jesus be showed in our bodies.
- 11 For evermore we that live, be taken into death, for Jesus, that the life of Jesus be showed in our deadly flesh. (For we who live, always be taken unto death, for the sake of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus be shown in our mortal flesh.)
  - 12 Therefore death worketh in us, but life in you.
- 13 And we have the same spirit of faith, as it is written, I have believed, wherefore I have spoken; and we believe, wherefore also we speak;
- 14 witting that he that raised Jesus (or knowing that he who raised up Iesus), shall raise up also us with Jesus, and shall ordain [us] with you.
- 15 And all things [be done] for you, (so) that a plenteous grace by many thankings be plenteous into the glory of God. [Soothly all things be done for you, (so) that grace being plenteous by many in doing of thanks be plenteous into (the) glory of God.]
- <sup>16</sup> For which thing we fail not, for though our outer man be corrupted; nevertheless the inner man is renewed from day to day.
- <sup>17</sup> But that light, [or easy], thing of our tribulation that lasteth now, but as it were by a moment, worketh in us over-measure an everlasting burden [or an everlasting weight] into the highness of glory;
- <sup>18</sup> while that we behold not those things that be seen, but those [things] that be not seen. For those things that be seen, be but during for a short time [or temporal]; but those things that be not seen, be everlasting [or eternall.

- <sup>1</sup> And we know, that if our earthly house of this dwelling be dissolved, that we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, everlasting in (the) heavens (or eternal in heaven).
- <sup>2</sup> For why in this thing we mourn, coveting to be clothed above with our dwelling, which is of heaven (or which is from heaven);
  - <sup>3</sup> if nevertheless we be found clothed, and not naked.
- <sup>4</sup> For why we that be in this tabernacle, sorrow within, and be heavied [or be grieved], for that we will not be (de)spoiled, but be clothed above; that that thing that is deadly, be sopped up of life, (or that that is mortal, shall be swallowed up by life or into eternal life).
- <sup>5</sup> But who is it that maketh us into this same thing? God, that gave to us the earnest, either(the)wed, of the Spirit, (or God, who gave us the pledge, or the guarantee, of it, by the Spirit). [Forsooth he that maketh us into this same thing, is God, that gave to us the earnest, or a wed, of (the) Spirit.]
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore we be hardy always (or And so we shall always be bold), and know that the while we be in this body, we go in pilgrimage from the Lord;
  - <sup>7</sup> for we walk by faith, and not by clear sight.
- <sup>8</sup> But we be hardy, and have good will, more to be in pilgrimage from the body, and to be present to God. (But we be bold, and be willing, rather to be in pilgrimage from the body, and to be present with God.)
- <sup>9</sup> And therefore we strive, whether absent, whether present, to please him.
- <sup>10</sup> For it behooveth us all to be showed before the throne of Christ, that every man tell [or receive] the proper things of the body, as he hath done, either good, either evil. (For it behooveth us all to be shown before the throne of the Messiah, so that every man receive his due, or that which he deserveth, because of what he hath done in the body, either good, or evil.)
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore we witting the dread of the Lord, (or And so we knowing the fear of the Lord, or And so we having reverence for the Lord), counsel men, for to God we be open; and I hope, that we be open also in your consciences.
- <sup>12</sup> We commend not us-selves again to you, but we give to you occasion to have glory for us, (so) that ye have [understanding] to them (or of them) that glory in the face, and not in the heart.
- <sup>13</sup> For either we by mind [or by reason] pass (forth), (or go away from sanity, or from soberness), [it is] to God, either we be sober, [it is] to you.
- <sup>14</sup> For the charity of Christ driveth us (or For the love of the Messiah compelleth us); guessing [or deeming] this thing, that if one died for all, then all were dead.
- <sup>15</sup> And Christ died for all (or And the Messiah died for all), (so) that they that live, live not now to themselves, but to him that died for them, and rose again.
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore we from this time know no man after the flesh; though we (have) known Christ after the flesh, but now we know not.
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore if any new creature is in Christ, the old things be passed. Lo! all things be made new, (And so if anyone is in the Messiah, he is a new creature, or a new creation, and the old things be passed away. Behold! all things be made new,)

- <sup>18</sup> and all things be of God, which reconciled us to him by Christ (or who reconciled us to him through the Messiah), and gave to us the service [or the ministry] of reconciling.
- <sup>19</sup> And [for] God was in Christ (or And because God was in the Messiah), reconciling to him the world, not reckoning to them their guilts (or their trespasses), and putted in us the word of reconciling.
- <sup>20</sup> Therefore we use (this) message for Christ, as if God admonisheth by us; we beseech you for Christ, be ye reconciled to God. (And so we give this message for the Messiah, or from the Messiah, as if God admonisheth by us; we beseech you for the Messiah, be ye reconciled to God.)
- <sup>21</sup> God the Father made him sin for us, which knew not sin, (so) that we should be made [the] rightwiseness of God in him.

- <sup>1</sup> But we helping [you in work and word] admonish [you], that ye receive not the grace of God in vain (or so that ye did not receive God's grace in vain).
- <sup>2</sup> For he saith, In time well pleasing I have heard thee, and in the day of health, I have helped thee. Lo! now a time acceptable, lo! now a day of health. (For he saith, In my time of favour I heard thee, and on the Day of Deliverance, or on the Day of Salvation, I helped thee. Behold! now is a time of favour, behold! now is the Day of Deliverance, or the Day of Salvation.)
- <sup>3</sup> Give we to no man any offence, (so) that our service be not reproved; [To no man giving any offence, or hurting, (so) that our ministry, or service, be not reproved;]
- <sup>4</sup> but in all things give we us-selves as the ministers (or the servants) of God, in much patience, in tribulations, in needs, in anguishes,
- <sup>5</sup> in beatings, [or scourgings], in prisons, in dissensions within, in travails, in wakings, in fastings,
- <sup>6</sup> in chastity, in cunning, (or in knowing), [or in science], in long abiding, in sweetness, in the Holy Ghost, in charity not feigned, (in chastity or in purity, in knowledge, in patience, in sweetness, in the Holy Spirit, in sincere love,)
- <sup>7</sup> in the word of truth, in the virtue of God; by armours of rightwiseness on the right half and on the left half; (in the word of truth, in the power of God; by the arms, or the weapons, of righteousness on the right side, or at the right hand, and on the left side, or at the left hand;)
- $^{8}$  by glory and unnobleness; by evil fame and good fame; as deceivers, and true men;
- <sup>9</sup> as they that be unknown and known; as men dying, and lo! we live; as chastised, and not made dead;
- <sup>10</sup> as sorrowful, and (for)evermore joying, [or as sorrowful, but evermore joying]; as having need, but making many men rich; as nothing having, and wielding all things. (as sorrowful, and yet always joyful; as having need, yet making many men rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing everything.)
- <sup>11</sup> A! ye Corinthians, our mouth is open to you, our heart is alarged; (O ye Corinthians! we have spoken openly or frankly to you, and our heart was enlarged or was open wide to you;)

- <sup>12</sup> ye be not anguished in us, but ye be anguished in your inwardnesses. [+ye be not made strait in us, but ye be made strait, or be ye anguished, in your entrails.]
- <sup>13</sup> And I say as to sons, ye that have the same reward, be ye alarged (or be ye enlarged, or open wide your hearts to us).
- <sup>14</sup> Do not ye bear the yoke with unfaithful men. For what parting, [or communing], of rightwiseness with wickedness? or what fellowship of light to darknesses? (Do not carry the yoke with the unfaithful or with unbelievers. For what sharing is there of righteousness with wickedness? or what fellowship of light with darkness?)
- <sup>15</sup> and what according of Christ to Belial? or what part of a faithful [man] with the unfaithful, [or (the) heathen]? (and what agreement is there between the Messiah and Belial or the Devil? or what sharing or communing is there between a believer and an unbeliever or a Gentile?)
- <sup>16</sup> and what consent to the temple of God with maumets? (or and what consent between God's temple and idols?) And ye be the temple of the living God, as the Lord saith, For I shall dwell in them, and I shall walk among them; and I shall be [the] God of them, and they shall be a people to me.
- <sup>17</sup> For which thing go ye out of the middle of them, and be ye separated (or be set apart), saith the Lord, and touch not (any) unclean thing; and I shall receive you,
- <sup>18</sup> and I shall be to you into a Father, and ye shall be to me into sons and daughters, saith the Lord almighty.

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore, most dearworthy brethren, we that have these promises, cleanse we us from all (the) filth of the flesh and of the spirit, doing holiness in the dread of God, (or being holy in the fear of God, or with reverence for God).
- <sup>2</sup> Take ye us; we have hurt no man, we have impaired no man [or we have corrupted no man], we have beguiled no man.
- $^3\,I$  say not to your condemning; for I said before, that ye be in our hearts, to die together and to live together.
- <sup>4</sup> Much trust is to me with you, much glorying is to me for you. I am *[full-]*filled with comfort, I am plenteous in joy [or I abound in joy] in all our tribulation.
- <sup>5</sup> For when we were come to Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we suffered all tribulation; withoutforth fightings, and dreads within (or and fears within).
- <sup>6</sup> But God that comforteth meek men, comforted us in the coming of Titus.
- <sup>7</sup> And not only in the coming of him, but also in the comfort by which he was comforted in you, telling to us your desire, your weeping, your love for me, so that I joyed (all the) more.
- <sup>8</sup> For though I made you sorry, in an epistle, it rueth me not; though it rued, [I] seeing that though that epistle made you sorry at an hour, (For though I made you sorrowful, by my letter, I do not regret it now; and though I did regret it, I seeing that though that letter made you sorrowful for a time,)
- <sup>9</sup> now I have joy; not for ye were made sorrowful, but for ye were made sorrowful to penance. For why ye be made sorry after God, that in nothing ye suffer impairment of us. (now I have joy; not for ye were made sorrowful, but for ye were made sorrowful unto repentance. For ye were made sorrowful by God, and ye did not suffer any impairment or any harm from us.)

- <sup>10</sup> For the sorrow that is after God, worketh penance into steadfast health; but sorrow of the world worketh death. (For the sorrow that is from God, worketh repentance unto certain salvation; but the sorrow of the world worketh death.)
- <sup>11</sup> For lo! this same thing, that ye be sorrowful after God, how much busyness it worketh in you; but defending, but indignation, but dread (or but fear), but desire, but love, but vengeance. In all things ye have given yourselves to be undefouled in the cause.
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore though I wrote to you, I wrote not for him that did the injury, neither for him that suffered, but to show our busyness (or our zeal), which we have for you before God.
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore we be comforted, but in your comfort more plenteously [or but in our comfort more plenteously] we joyed more on the joy of Titus, for his spirit is fulfilled of all you. (And so we were comforted by your comfort, or And so we were encouraged, yea our own encouragement was great, but we rejoiced even more abundantly over Titus' joy, for his spirit was filled full by all of you.)
- <sup>14</sup> And if I gloried anything with him of you, I am not confounded, [or shamed]; but as we have spoken to you all things [in truth], so also our glory that was at Titus, is made truth. (And if I have boasted of anything about you to him, I am not ashamed; for as we have spoken to you everything in truth, so also our boasting about you to Titus, is shown to be true.)
- <sup>15</sup> And the inwardness of him be more plenteously in you, which hath in mind the obedience of you all, how with dread and trembling ye received him. (And his inward affection for you hath grown more plentiful, when he hath remembered all of your obedience, and how with fear and trembling ye received him.)
  - <sup>16</sup> I have joy, that in all things I trust in you (or I trust you).

- $^{1}$  But, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God, that is given in the churches of Macedonia,
- <sup>2</sup> that in much assaying of tribulation, the plenty [or the abundance] of the joy of them was, and the highest poverty of them was plenteous into the riches of the simpleness of them (or their sincerity).
- <sup>3</sup> For I bear witnessing to them, after might, [or after power], and above might they were willful, (For I testify about them, yea, about their power, and even over their power, or beyond their limit, they were willing,)
- <sup>4</sup> with much admonishing beseeching us (for) the grace and the communing of (the) ministering [or of the ministry] that is made to holy men.
- $^{5}$  And not as we hoped, but they gave themselves first to the Lord, afterward to us by the will of God.
- $^{\rm 6}\,\mathrm{So}$  that we prayed Titus, that as he began, so also he perform in you this grace.

- <sup>7</sup> But as ye abound in all things, in faith, and word, and cunning, (or and knowing), [or and science], and all busyness, moreover and in your charity into us, that also in this grace ye abound. (But as ye abound in all things, in faith, and word, and knowledge, and all zeal, and moreover in your love for us, so that also in this gift ye abound.)
- <sup>8</sup> I say not as commanding, but by the busyness of other men proving also the good wit of your charity. (I say not as commanding, but by telling you of the concern of other men, I am proving, or testing, the good thoughts or the sincerity of your love.)
- <sup>9</sup> And ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, for he was made needy for you, when he was rich, (so) that ye should be made rich by his neediness.
- <sup>10</sup> And I give counsel in this thing; for this is profitable to you, that not only have begun to do, but also ye began to have will (or to have desire) from the former year.
- <sup>11</sup> But now perform ye in deed, that as the discretion of will is ready [to desire good], so be it also of performing of that that ye have.
- $^{12}$  For if the will be ready, it is accepted after that that it hath, not after that that it hath not.
- <sup>13</sup> And not that it be (a) remission, [or idleness, or sloth], to other men, and to you tribulation;
- <sup>14</sup> but of evenness in the present time your abundance fulfill the need of them, (so) that also the abundance of them be a fulfilling of your need, (so) that evenness be made;
- <sup>15</sup> as it is written, He that gathered much, was not increased, and he that gathered little, had not less.
- <sup>16</sup> And I do thankings to God, that gave the same busyness for you in the heart of Titus, (And I give thanks to God, who put the same concern for you in Titus' heart,)
- $^{17}$  for he received exhortation; but when he was busier, by his will he went forth to you.
- <sup>18</sup> And we sent with him a brother, whose praising is in the gospel by all (the) churches. (And we sent a brother with him, who is praised by all the churches for his service to, or his preaching of, the Gospel or the Good News.)
- <sup>19</sup> And not only praised, but also he is ordained of churches (as) the fellow of our pilgrimage into this grace, that is ministered of us, to the glory of the Lord, and to our ordained will; (And not only praised, but he is also ordained by the churches as the partner of our pilgrimage in this grace, that is administered by us, for the glory of the Lord, and unto our ordained will;)
- <sup>20</sup> eschewing this thing, that no man blame us in this plenty, that is ministered of us, to the glory of the Lord. (shunning this, so that no one can reproach us regarding this plenty, that is administered by us, for the glory of the Lord.)
- <sup>21</sup> For we purvey good things, not only before God, but also before all
- <sup>22</sup> For we sent with them also our brother, whom we have proved in many things oft, that he was busy, but now much busier, for much trust in you,

<sup>23</sup> either for Titus, that is my fellow and helper in you, either for our brethren, (the) apostles of the churches of the glory of Christ. (either for Titus, who is my fellow and helper with you, or for our brothers, the apostles of the churches to the glory of the Messiah.)

<sup>24</sup> Therefore show ye to them in the face of (the) churches, that showing that is of your charity (or that showing of your love), and of our glory for you.

CHAPTER 9

<sup>1</sup> For of the ministry that is made to holy men, it is to me of plenty to write to you. (And as for the service, or the aid, that is sent to the saints, or to God's people, it is unnecessary for me to write to you.)

<sup>2</sup> For I know your [ready] will, for the which I have glory of you with (the) Macedonians, for also Achaia is ready from a year passed, and your love hath stirred full many.

<sup>3</sup> And we have sent brethren, that this thing that we glory of you, be not voided in this part, that as I said, ye be ready. (And we have sent these brothers, so that our boasting about you in this matter, be not empty words, but as I said, so that ye be prepared.)

<sup>4</sup> Lest when (the) Macedonians come with me, and find you unready, we be shamed, that we say you not or that we saw you not, in this substance.

- <sup>5</sup> Therefore I guessed (it) necessary to pray (thé) brethren, that they come before to you, and make ready this promised blessing to be ready, so as blessing, and not as avarice, (or as a blessing, or as a gift, and not as an example of greed).
- <sup>6</sup> For I say this thing, he that soweth scarcely, shall also reap scarcely; and he that soweth in blessings, shall reap also of blessings.

<sup>7</sup> Each man as he casted in his heart, not of heaviness, or of need; for God loveth a glad(ful) giver.

<sup>8</sup> And God is mighty to make all grace abound in you, that ye in all things (for)evermore have all sufficience, and abound into all good work; (And God is powerful enough to give all necessary gifts in abundance to you, so that ye always have all sufficiency in everything, and can abound in all good works;)

<sup>9</sup> as it is written, He dealed abroad, he gave to poor men, his rightwiseness dwelleth [into] without end (or his righteousness remaineth forever and ever).

<sup>10</sup> And he that ministereth seed to the sower (or And he who serveth up seed to the sower), shall give also bread to eat, and he shall multiply your seed, and make much the increasings of (the) fruits of your rightwiseness;

<sup>11</sup> that in all things ye made rich wax plenteous [or abound] into all simpleness, which worketh by us (the) doing of thankings to God. (so that in all things ye made rich grow plenteous, or abound, in all sincerity, which worketh in us the giving of thanks to God.)

<sup>12</sup> For the ministry (or the service) of this office not only filleth those things that fail to holy men, but also multiplieth many thankings to God,

<sup>13</sup> by the proving of this ministry, which glorify God in the obedience of your acknowledging in the gospel of Christ (or in the Gospel, or the Good News, of the Messiah), and in (the) simpleness (or the sincerity) of (the) communication into them and into all [others],

- <sup>14</sup> and in the beseeching of them for you, that desire you for the excellent grace of God in you.
- <sup>15</sup> I do thankings to God of the gift of him, that may not be told (out). [I give thankings to God upon the unnarrable, (or unnarrative-able, or untellable), or that may not be told (out), gift of him.](I give thanks to God, for his gift, thanks that can never be sufficiently told out or described.)

- <sup>1</sup> And I myself, Paul, beseech you, by the mildness (or by the meekness) and (the) softness, [or (the) patience], of Christ, (or And I, Paul, beseech you, by the meekness, and the gentleness of the Messiah), which in the face am meek among you, and I absent trust in you.
- <sup>2</sup> For I pray you, that lest I present be not bold [or be not hardy] by the trust, in which I am guessed to be bold [or to be hardy] into some, that deem us, as if we wander after the flesh. (For I pray you, lest that when I am present I be not bold with the confidence, in which I am thought to be bold by some, who judge us, as if we walk or if we go after the flesh.)
  - <sup>3</sup> For we walking in the flesh, fight not after the flesh.
- <sup>4</sup> For the armours of our knighthood be not fleshly, but mighty by God to the destruction of strengths [or of wardings]. (For the arms or the weapons of our combat be not fleshly, but be made mighty by God for the destruction of strongholds.)
- <sup>5</sup> And we destroy counsels, and all highness that higheth [or raised] itself against the science of God, and drive into captivity all understanding into the service of Christ. (And we destroy plots and plans, and all the highness that raiseth itself against the knowledge of God, and drive into captivity all understanding in the service of, or obedience to, the Messiah.)
- <sup>6</sup> And we have ready to (a) venge all unobedience (or And we be ready to punish all disobedience or rebellion), when your obedience shall be [ful] filled.
- <sup>7</sup> See ye the things that be after the face. If any man trusteth to himself, that he is of Christ, think he this thing again with himself, for as he is Christ's, so also we (be). (Look at what is before you. If any man trusteth himself, that he is the Messiah's, then think he this within himself, that as he is the Messiah's, so we also be the Messiah's.)
- 8 For if I shall glory (or For if I shall boast), (in) anything more of our power, which the Lord gave to us into edifying, and not into your destruction, I shall not be (a)shamed.

- <sup>9</sup> But that I be not guessed as to fear you by epistles, (So that I do not be thought to frighten you by my letters,)
- <sup>10</sup> for they say, That epistles be grievous [or be heavy] and strong, but the presence of the body is feeble, and the word (is) worthy to be despised [or it is contemptible]. (for they say, His letters be weighty and strong, but in person he is frail or weak, and his speech contemptible.)
- <sup>11</sup> He that is such one, think this, for such as we absent be in word by epistles (or letters), such we be present in deed.
- <sup>12</sup> For we dare not put us among, or comparison us to some men, that commend themselves; but we measure us in us-selves, and comparison us-selves to us.

<sup>13</sup> For we shall not have glory over-measure, but by the measure of the rule which God measured to us, the measure that stretcheth [till] to you.

<sup>14</sup> For we overstretch not forth us, as not stretching to you. For to you we came in the gospel of Christ (or For we came to you to preach the Gospel. or the Good News, of the Messiah),

15 not glorying over-measure in other men's travails. For we have hope of your faith that waxeth in you (or For we have hope that by the faith that groweth in you), to be magnified by our rule in abundance, <sup>16</sup> also to preach into those things that be beyond you, not to have glory in *(an)*other man's rule (or not to boast about, or over, another man's field of work), in these things that be made ready.

<sup>17</sup> He that glorieth, have glory in the Lord. (He who boasteth, boast of the Lord.)

<sup>18</sup> For not he that commendeth himself is (ap) proved, but whom God commendeth.

- <sup>1</sup> I would that ye would suffer a little thing of mine unwisdom (or I wish that ye would allow me a little foolishness), but also support ye me [or bear me úpl.
- <sup>2</sup> For I love you by the love of God; for I have espoused you to one husband, to yield a chaste virgin to Christ, [or to give you, a chaste virgin, to one man, Christ], (or to give you as a pure virgin to the Messiah).
- <sup>3</sup> But I dread, lest as the serpent deceived Eve with his subtle fraud, so your wits be corrupted, and fallen down from the simpleness that is in Christ. (But I fear, that just as the serpent deceived Eve with his subtle fraud, so your minds now be corrupted, and have fallen away from your sincere devotion to the Messiah.)
- <sup>4</sup> For if he that cometh, preacheth another Christ, (or For if he who cometh, preacheth another Messiah), whom we preached not, or if ye take another spirit, whom ye took not [or whom ye received not], or another gospel, which ye received not, rightly ye should suffer.
- <sup>5</sup> For I ween (or I think) that I have done nothing less than the great apostles.
- <sup>6</sup> For though I be unlearned in word, but not in cunning (or in knowing), [or For why though I be unlearned in sermon, but not in science], (or For although I am not learned in giving sermons or in public speaking, I have some knowledge). For in all things I am open to you [or I am showed, or made known, to you].
- <sup>7</sup> Or whether I have done sin, meeking, [or making low], myself, that ye be enhanced (or so that ye be raised up), for freely I preached to you the gospel (or the Good News) of God?
- <sup>8</sup> I made naked, [or I spoiled, or I took gifts of], other churches, and I took wages to your service. (Yes, I robbed other churches, or I received gifts from other churches, and so I received my wages for my service or my ministry to you.)
- <sup>9</sup> And when I was among you, and had need, I was chargeous to no man; for brethren that came from Macedonia, fulfilled [or supplied] that that failed to me. And in all things I have kept [me], and shall keep me without charge to you. (And when I was among you, and had need, I was not a burden to anyone; for the brothers who came from Macedonia, supplied what I needed. And so in everything I have looked after myself, and shall not be a burden to you.)

<sup>10</sup> The truth of Christ is in me (or The truth of the Messiah is in me); for this glory shall not be broken in me in the countries [or in the regions] of

<sup>11</sup> Why? for I love not you? God knoweth.

<sup>12</sup> For that that I do, and that I shall do, is that I cut away the occasion of them that will (an) occasion, that in the thing, in which they glory, they be found [such] as we. (For what I do, and what I shall do, is that I cut away the occasion of those who desire an occasion, so that in that, in which they boast, they be found such as we.)

<sup>13</sup> For such false apostles be treacherous, [or guileful], workmen, and transfigure them(selves) into apostles of Christ. (For such false apostles be workers of deceit, who transform themselves into apostles of the Messiah.)

<sup>14</sup> And no wonder, for Satan himself transfigureth him(self) into an angel of light. (And no wonder, for Satan himself transformeth himself into an angel of light.)

<sup>15</sup> Therefore it is not great, if his ministers be transfigured as the ministers of rightwiseness, whose end shall be after their works. (And so it is no great thing, if his servants be transformed into the servants of righteousness, whose end shall be after their works.)

<sup>16</sup> Again I say, lest any man guess me, [or deem me], (or think me), to be unwise; else take ye me as unwise, that also I have glory a little (some)what

(or so that I can also boast a little).

<sup>17</sup> That that I speak, I speak not after God, but as in unwisdom, in this substance of glory (or in this matter of boasting).

<sup>18</sup> For many men glory after the flesh, and I shall glory. (For many men boast about fleshly matters, and so I shall boast.)

- <sup>20</sup> For ye suffer, if any man driveth you into servage, if any man devoureth (you), if any man taketh (you), if any man is enhanced [by pride], if any man smiteth you on the face. (For ye allow it, if any man driveth you into servitude or into slavery, if any man devoureth you, if any man catcheth you, if any man is raised up over you in pride, if any man striketh you on the face.)
- $^{2\dot{1}}$  By unnobleness I say, as if we were sick in this part (or as if we were frail or weak in this matter). In what thing any man dare, in unwisdom I say, and I dare.

<sup>22</sup> They be Hebrews, and I; they be Israelites, and I; they be the seed of Abraham, and I;

<sup>23</sup> they be the ministers of Christ, and I, (or they be the servants of the Messiah, like I am). As less wise I say, I more; in full many travails (or in many great labours), in prisons more plenteously, in wounds abovemanner, [or over-measure], in deaths oft times.

<sup>24</sup> I received of the Jews five times forty strokes one less; (I received from the Jews five times forty strikes less one;)

<sup>25</sup> thrice I was beaten with rods, once I was stoned, thrice I was at shipbreak (or three times I was shipwrecked), a night and a day I was in the deepness of the sea; <sup>26</sup> in ways oft, in perils of floods (or in danger from rivers), in perils of thieves, in perils of kin, in perils of heathen men (or in danger from the Gentiles), in perils in [the] city, in perils in (the) desert, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren,

<sup>27</sup> in travail and neediness, in many wakings, in hunger, in thirst, in many fastings, in cold and nakedness.

<sup>28</sup> Without those things that be withoutforth, mine each day's travailing [or mine each day's studying]is the busyness of all (the) churches.

<sup>29</sup> Who is sick, and I am not sick? (or Who is frail or weak, and I am not frail or weak?) who is caused to stumble (or to fall), and I am not burnt?

30 If it behooveth to glory, I shall glory in those things that be of mine infirmity, [or frailty]. (If it behooveth to boast, then I shall boast (about those things) that tell of, or show, my weakness, (or frailty).)

<sup>31</sup> God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, that is blessed into worlds, (or who is blessed forever, or forever be he blessed), knoweth that I lie not.

- <sup>32</sup> The provost of Damascus, of the king of the folk of Aretas, [or of the king of the folk, Aretas], kept the city of Damascenes to take me; (The governor of Damascus, under King Aretas, kept watch in the city of the Damascenes to take me captive;)
- $^{33}$  and by a window in a basket I was let down by the wall, and so I escaped his hands.

CHAPTER 12

<sup>1</sup> If it behooveth to have glory, it speedeth not (or It is not expedient to boast); but I shall come to the visions and the revelations of the Lord.

<sup>2</sup> I know a man in Christ that before fourteen years; whether in body, whether out of body, I know not, God knoweth; that such a man was ravished unto the third heaven. (I know a man in the Messiah who fourteen years ago; whether in the body, or out of the body, I do not know, but God knoweth; that man was snatched up into the third heaven.)

<sup>3</sup> And I know such a man; whether in body, or out of body, I know not, God knoweth; (And I know that this man, whether in the body, or out of the body, I do not know, but God knoweth;)

<sup>4</sup> that he was ravished into paradise, and heard privy words, which it is not leaveful to a man to speak. (that he was snatched up into paradise, and heard private or secret words, which it is not lawful for a man to speak or tell out.)

<sup>5</sup> For such manner things I shall glory (in); but (as) for me nothing, but in mine infirmities. (About such a man as this, I shall boast; but about myself nothing, except for my frailties and weaknesses.)

<sup>6</sup> For if I shall desire to glory (or For if I wish to boast), I shall not be unwise, for I shall say (the) truth; but I spare (thee), lest any man guess me over that thing that he seeth in me, or heareth anything of me.

<sup>7</sup> And lest the greatness of (these) revelations enhance me, (or exalt me, or raise me up), in pride, the prick of my flesh, an angel of Satan, is given to me, (so) that he buffet me.

<sup>8</sup> For which thing thrice I prayed the Lord, that it should go away from me.

<sup>9</sup> And he said to me, My grace sufficeth to thee; for virtue is perfectly made in infirmity. Therefore gladly I shall glory in mine infirmities, that the virtue of Christ dwell in me. (And he said to me, My grace sufficeth for thee; for power is made perfect in frailty or weakness. And so I shall gladly boast of my frailties and weaknesses, so that the power of the Messiah can live in me.)

- <sup>10</sup> For which thing I am pleased in mine infirmities, in despisings, [or reprovings], in needs, in persecutions, in anguishes, for Christ; for when I am sick, then I am mighty. (And so I am content in my frailties and weaknesses, in despisings, or reproaches, in needs, in persecutions, in anguishes, for the Messiah; for when I am frail or weak, then I am mighty.)
- <sup>11</sup> I am made unwitty (or witless), ye constrained me. For I ought to be commended of you; for I did nothing less than they that be apostles overmeasure. Though I am nought, (But I am being foolish, and ye compelled me. For I ought to be commended by you; for I did nothing less than those who be apostles over-measure or who be the greatest apostles. Although I am nothing,)
- <sup>12</sup> nevertheless the signs of mine apostlehood be made on you, in all patience, and signs (or miracles), and great wonders, and virtues (or works of power).
- <sup>13</sup> And what is it, that ye had less than (the) other churches, [no] but that I myself grieved you not, [betaking (nothing) of you]? (or taking nothing from you?) Forgive ye to me this wrong.
- <sup>14</sup> Lo! this third time I am ready to come to you, and I shall not be grievous to you; for I seek not those things that be yours, but you. For neither sons owe to [make] treasure to father and mother (or For sons ought not to give treasure to their father and mother), but the father and mother to the sons.
- <sup>15</sup> For I shall give most willfully (or For I shall give most willingly or out of my free will), and I myself shall be given over for your souls; though I more love you, and be less loved.
- $^{16}$  But (so) be it; I grieved not you, but when I was subtle [or wily], I took you with guile.
  - <sup>17</sup> Whether I deceived you by any of them, which I sent to you?
- <sup>18</sup> I prayed Titus, and I sent with him a brother. Whether Titus beguiled you? whether we went not in the same spirit? whether not in the same steps?
- <sup>19</sup> Sometime ye ween (or ye guess), that we shall excuse us with you. Before God in Christ we speak (or In the presence of God, we speak in the Messiah); and, most dear brethren, all things for your edifying.
- <sup>20</sup> But I dread, lest when I come, I shall not find you such as I will, and I shall be found of you such as ye will not, (or But I fear, that when I come there, I shall not find you such as I want, or as I desire, and that I shall be found by you such as ye do not want, or as ye do not desire); lest peradventure strivings, envies, indignations, dissensions and detractions, privy speeches of discord, swellings by pride, debates be among you;
- <sup>21</sup> and lest again when I come, God make me low [or make me humble] with you, and I bewail many of them, that before sinned, and did not penance on the uncleanness (or and who did not repent for the uncleanness), and fornication, and unchastity, that they have done.

<sup>1</sup> Lo! this third time I come to you, and in the mouth of two or of three witnesses every word shall stand.

<sup>2</sup> I said before, and say before, as present twice, and now absent, to them that before have sinned, and to all others; for if I come again, I shall not spare (you).

<sup>3</sup> Whether ye seek the proof [or (the) assaying] of that Christ, that speaketh in me, which is not feeble in you, [but is mighty in you]? (Do ye seek the proof of that Messiah, who speaketh through me, who is not frail or weak in you, but is mighty and powerful?)

<sup>4</sup> For though he was crucified of infirmity, but he liveth of the virtue of God. For also we be sick in him, but we shall live with him of the virtue of God in us. (For though he was crucified in weakness, now he liveth by the power of God. For we also be frail or weak in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God in us.)

<sup>5</sup> Assay yourselves, if ye be in the faith; ye yourselves prove (it). Whether ye know not yourselves, for Christ Jesus is in you? [no] but in hap ye be reprovable. (Test yourselves, if ye be in the faith; ye yourselves prove it. Do ye not know, that the Messiah Jesus is in you? unless perhaps ye be reproachable.)

<sup>6</sup> But I hope, that ye know, that we be not reprovable. (But I hope, that ye know, that we be not reproachable.)

<sup>7</sup> And we pray the Lord, that ye do nothing of evil; not that we seem proved (or not that we be seen as to have been proven correct), but that ye do that that is good, and that we be as reprovable.

<sup>8</sup> For we may do nothing against (the) truth, but, (rather), for the truth.

<sup>9</sup> For we joy, when we be sick, but ye be mighty; and we pray (for) this thing, (yea), your perfection. (For we rejoice, when we be frail or weak, but ye be strong or powerful; and we pray for this thing, yea, for your completion.)

<sup>10</sup> Therefore I absent write these things, that (when) I (am) present do not harder, (or so that when I come there, I do not have to be harsher), by the power, which the Lord gave to me into edification, and not into your destruction.

<sup>11</sup> Brethren (or Brothers), henceforward joy ye, be ye perfect, excite ye [or and teach ye]; understand ye the same thing; have ye peace, and (the) God of peace and of love shall be with you.

<sup>12</sup> Greet ye well together in holy kiss. (Give hearty greetings to one another with a holy kiss.)

13 All holy men greet you well. (All the saints, or All of God's people, send you hearty greetings.)

<sup>14</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the charity of God, and the communing of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen. (The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communing of the Holy Spirit, be with you all. Amen.)

GALATIANS

- <sup>1</sup> Paul the apostle, not of men, nor by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, that raised him from death [or that raised him from (the) dead],
- <sup>2</sup> and all the brethren that be with me, to the churches of Galatia, (and all the brothers who be with me, to the churches in Galatia,)
- <sup>3</sup> grace (be) to you and (the) peace of God the Father, and of the Lord Jesus Christ,
- <sup>4</sup> that gave himself for our sins, to deliver us from the present wicked world, by the will of God and our Father,
- <sup>5</sup> to whom is honour and glory into worlds of worlds. Amen. (to whom be honour and glory forever and ever. Amen.)
- <sup>6</sup> I wonder, that so soon ye be thus moved from him that called you into the grace of Christ, into another evangel [or into another gospel]; (I am amazed, that so quickly ye be moved away from him who called you into the grace of the Messiah, to another gospel;)
- <sup>7</sup> which is not another, but that there be some that trouble you, and will mis-turn the evangel of Christ. (which is not truly another gospel, but that there be some who trouble you, and will pervert the Gospel, or the Good News, of the Messiah.)
- <sup>8</sup> But though we, or an angel of heaven, preached to you, besides that that we have preached to you, be he accursed. [But though we, or an angel of heaven, evangelized to you, besides that that we have evangelized to you, cursed be he.]
- <sup>9</sup> As I have said before, and now again I say, if any man preach to you besides that that ye have received, be he accursed [or cursed be he].
- <sup>10</sup> For now whether counsel I men, or God? or whether I seek to please men? If I pleased yet men, I were not Christ's servant, (or If I still sought to please men, I would not be the Messiah's servant).
- <sup>11</sup> For, brethren, I make known to you the evangel [or the gospel], that was preached of me (or by me), for it is not by man;
- <sup>12</sup> nor I took it of man (or nor I received it from any man), nor learned (it from any man), but by [the] revelation of Jesus Christ.
- <sup>13</sup> For ye have heard my conversation sometime in the Jewry, that I pursued (sur)passingly, [or over-manner, or (over-) measure], the church of God, and fought against it. (For ye have heard about my life before among the Jewry, how I persecuted God's church beyond measure, and fought so very hard against it.)
- <sup>14</sup> And I profited in the Jewry above many of mine even-elders in my kindred, and was more abundantly a follower [or a lover] of my fathers' traditions.
- <sup>15</sup> But when it pleased him, that parted me (or who separated me) from my mother's womb, and called (me) by his grace,
- <sup>16</sup> to show his Son in me, that I should preach him among the heathen, anon I drew me not to flesh and blood; (to show his Son to me, so that I would preach him among the Gentiles, at once I drew me not to flesh and blood;)

 $^{17}$  nor I came to Jerusalem to the apostles, that were before me, but I went into Arabia, and again I turned again into Damascus. (nor did I come to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before me, but I went to Arabia, and then I returned to Damascus.)

<sup>18</sup> And since three years after I came to Jerusalem [or Afterward after three years I came to Jerusalem], to see Peter, and I dwelled with him (for) fifteen days;

- <sup>19</sup> but I saw none other of the apostles, but James, our Lord's brother.
- <sup>20</sup> And these things which I write to you, lo! before God I lie not.

<sup>22</sup> But I was unknown by face to the churches of Judea, that were in Christ (or who were in the Messiah);

- <sup>23</sup> and they had only an hearing, that he that pursued us sometime (ago), preacheth now the faith, against which he fought sometime (ago); (and they had only heard it said, that he who had persecuted us before, now preacheth the faith, which before he fought so very hard against;)
  - <sup>24</sup> and in me they glorified God. (and they praised God for me.)

- <sup>1</sup> And since fourteen years after [or Afterward after fourteen years], again I went up to Jerusalem with Barnabas, and took with me Titus.
- <sup>2</sup> I went up by revelation, and spake with them the evangel [or the gospel], which I preach among the heathen, (or I went up by revelation, and spoke, or shared, the Gospel, or the Good News, with them, which I preach among the Gentiles); and by themselves to these that seemed to be somewhat, lest I run [or lest peradventure I should run], or had run in vain.
- <sup>3</sup> And neither Titus, that had been with me, while he was heathen, was compelled to be circumcised; (And Titus, who had been with me, while he was a Gentile, was not compelled to be circumcised;)
- <sup>4</sup> but for false brethren that were brought in, which had [privily] entered to espy our freedom [or our liberty], which we have in Jesus Christ, to bring us [or to drive us] into servage (or to drive us into servitude, or into slavery).
- <sup>5</sup> But we gave no place to subjection, that the truth of the gospel should dwell with you. (But we did not submit to their domination, so that the truth of the Gospel or the Good News would remain with you.)
- <sup>6</sup> But of these that seemed to be somewhat (or to be esteemed); which they were sometime, it pertaineth not to me, for God taketh not the person of (a) man (or for God favoureth not any person); for they that seemed to be somewhat (or to be esteemed), gave me nothing.
- <sup>7</sup> But on the contrary, when they had seen, that the evangel of (the) prepuce (or for the uncircumcision) was given to me [or that the gospel of heathen men is betaken to me], as the evangel of (the) circumcision was given to Peter; (But on the contrary, when they had seen, that the Gospel, or the Good News, for the uncircumcised, or the heathen, or the Gentiles, was given to me, like the Gospel, or the Good News, for the circumcised, or the Jews, was given to Peter;)
- <sup>8</sup> for he that wrought to Peter in apostlehood of (the) circumcision, wrought also to me among the heathen; (for he who made Peter the apostle to the circumcised, also made me the apostle to the Gentiles;)

- <sup>9</sup> and when they had known the grace of God, that was given to me, James, and Peter [or Cephas], and John, which were seen to be the pillars, they gave the right hand of fellowship to me and to Barnabas, that we [preach] among the heathen (or that we preach among the Gentiles), and they into the circumcision;
- <sup>10</sup> only that we had mind of, [or that we should be mindful of], (the) poor men, the which thing I was full busy to do. (only that we should remember the poor, which I already was always doing.)
- <sup>11</sup> But when Peter was come to Antioch, I against-stood him in the face, (or I stood up against him, or I opposed him, to his face), for he was worthy to be reproved.
- <sup>12</sup> For before that there came some men from James [or Forsooth before that some came from James], he ate with heathen men; but when they were come, he withdrew, and departed him(self), dreading them that were of (the) circumcision. (For before that some men came from James, he ate with the Gentiles; but when they had come, he withdrew, and separated himself, fearing those who were of the circumcision.)
- <sup>13</sup> And the other Jews assented [or consented] to his feigning, so that Barnabas was drawn of (or by) them into that feigning.
- <sup>14</sup> But when I saw, that they walked not rightly to the truth of the gospel, I said to Peter [or to Cephas] before all men, If thou, that art a Jew, livest heathen-like, and not Jew-like, how constrainest thou heathen men to become Jews? (or how can thou compel Gentiles to become Jews?)
- <sup>15</sup> We Jews of kind, and not sinful men of the heathen, (We Jews by kind, or naturally, and not of the sinners of the Gentiles, as they be called,)
- <sup>16</sup> know that a man is not justified of the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ; and we believe in Jesus Christ, that we be justified of [or by] the faith of Christ, and not of the works of the law. Wherefore of the works of the law each flesh shall not be justified. (know that a man is not justified by the works of the Law, but by faith in Jesus Christ; and we believe in Jesus Christ, that we be justified by faith in the Messiah, and not by doing the works of the Law. And so by doing the works of the Law each flesh shall not be justified.)
- <sup>17</sup> And if we seek to be justified in Christ, we ourselves be found sinful men [or to be sinners], whether Christ be (a) minister of sin? God forbid. (And if we seek to be justified in the Messiah, and we ourselves be found to be sinners, then is the Messiah a servant of sin? God forbid.)
- <sup>18</sup> And if I build again things that I have destroyed, I make myself a trespasser.
- <sup>19</sup> For by the law I am dead to the law, [For by the law I am dead to the law, that I live to God;]
- <sup>20</sup> and I am fixed to the cross, that I live to God with Christ. And now live not I, but Christ liveth in me, (or and I am fixed to the cross, so that I live to God with the Messiah. But now I do not live, but the Messiah who liveth in me). But that I live now in (the) flesh, I live in the faith of God's Son, that loved me, and gave himself for me. [with Christ I am fixed to the cross. Forsooth I live now, not I, but Christ liveth in me. Forsooth that I live now in (the) flesh, I live in the faith of God's son, the which loved me, and betook (or delivered) himself for me.]

<sup>21</sup> I cast not away the grace of God; for if rightwiseness be through (the) law for for if rightwiseness is by the law, then Christ died without cause. (I do not throw away God's grace; because if righteousness can be gained through the Law, then the Messiah died without any reason or for no purpose.)

CHAPTER 3

<sup>1</sup> O! unwitty Galatians, before whose eyes Jesus Christ is exiled, [or O! ye witless men of Galatia, before whose eyes Jesus Christ is damned or condemned], and is crucified in you, who hath deceived you, that ye obey not to truth? (O foolish Galatians! before whom Jesus was shown to be condemned, and crucified, who hath deceived you, so that ye do not obey the truth?)

<sup>2</sup> This only I desire to learn of you, whether ye have received the Spirit of the works of the law, or of hearing of belief? (I only desire to learn this from you, did ye receive the Spirit by doing the works of the Law, or by hearing and believing?)

<sup>3</sup> So ye be fools, that when ye have begun in Spirit (or because what ye have begun in the Spirit), [now] ye be ended in (the) flesh.

<sup>4</sup> So great things [or So many things] we have suffered without cause, (or - without any reason, or for any purpose), if it be without cause.

  5 He that giveth to you [the] Spirit, and worketh virtues in you, whether of works of the law, or of hearing of belief? [Therefore he that giveth to you the spirit, and worketh virtues in you, whether of the works of the law, or of hearing of faith?](Giveth he the Spirit to you, and worketh works of power among you, because of ye doing the works of the Law, or because of ve hearing and believing?)
- <sup>6</sup> As it is written, Abraham believed to God, and it was reckoned to him to rightwiseness.

<sup>7</sup> And therefore know ye, that these that be of belief, be the sons of Abraham. [+Therefore know ve, that they that be of faith, they be the sons of Abraham.l

- 8 And the scripture seeing afar, that God justifieth the heathen of belief, [or Forsooth the scripture purveying, for God justifieth of faith heathen men], told before(hand) to Abraham, That in thee all the heathen [or all (the) folks] shall be blessed. (And the Scripture seeing afar off, that God justifieth the Gentiles by faith, said ahead of time to Abraham, Through thee all the nations and all the peoples shall be blessed.)
- <sup>9</sup> And therefore these that be of belief, [or Therefore they that be of faith], (or And so they who be of the faith or who have faith), shall be blessed with faithful Abraham.
- <sup>10</sup> For all that be of (or rely on) the works of the law, be under (a) curse; for it is written, Each man is cursed, that abideth not [or that dwelleth not] in all (the) things that be written in the book of the law (or in the Book of the Law), to do those things.
- 11 And that no man is justified in the law before God, it is open, for a rightful man liveth of belief. [Forsooth for no man is justified in the law with God, it is known, for a rightful man liveth by faith.]
- 12 But the law is not of belief (or But the Law is not a matter of faith), but he that doeth those things of the law, shall live in them.

<sup>13</sup> But Christ again-bought us [or delivered us] from the curse of the law (or But the Messiah redeemed us from the curse of the Law), and was made accursed for us; for it is written, Each man is cursed that hangeth in (or on) the tree:

<sup>14</sup> that among the heathen the blessing of Abraham were made in Jesus Christ, that we receive the promise of (the) Spirit through belief. [that the blessing of Abraham in heathen men should be made in Christ Jesus, that we take the promise of (the) Spirit by faith.](so that among the Gentiles the blessing of Abraham came through, or by, Jesus Christ, and so we receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.)

<sup>15</sup> Brethren, I say after man, no man despiseth the testament (or the covenant) of a man that is confirmed, or ordaineth above, (or can add, or subtract), (any)[other thing].

<sup>16</sup> The promises were said to Abraham and to his seed; he saith not, In [the] seeds, as in many, but as in one, And to thy seed, that is, Christ (or the Messiah).

<sup>17</sup> But I say, this testament is confirmed of God, (or But I say, this covenant is confirmed by God); the law that was made after four hundred and thirty years, maketh not the testament (in) vain to void away the promise [or maketh (it) not void for to do away the promise].

<sup>18</sup> For if [the] heritage were of the law, it were not now of (the) promise, (or For if the inheritance (is) by the Law, (it is) not by the Promise). But God granted [or gave] to Abraham through (the) promise.

<sup>19</sup> What then the law? that is, Whereto is the law profitable? [or What therefore profiteth the law?] It was set for trespassing, till the seed came, to whom he had made the promise. Which law was ordained by angels, in the hand of a mediator.

<sup>21</sup> Is then the law against the promises of God? God forbid. For if the law were given, that might quicken, verily were rightfulness of (the) law, [or verily rightwiseness were of (the) law], (or For if a law had been given, that could enliven, or that could give life, then truly righteousness would have come from keeping or obeying the Law).

22 But the scripture hath concluded all things under sin, (so) that the promise of the faith of Jesus Christ were given to them that believe.

<sup>23</sup> And before that belief came, they were kept under the law, enclosed into that belief that was to be showed. [Forsooth before that the faith came, we were kept under the law, shut together into that faith that was to be showed.]

<sup>24</sup> And so the law was our under-master in Christ, that we be justified of belief. [+Therefore the law was our little master (or our teacher) in Christ, that we be justified of faith.](And so the Law was our tutor in the Messiah, so that we would be justified through faith.)

<sup>25</sup> But after that belief came, we be not now under the under-master. [But after that the faith came, now we be not under the little master (or under the teacher).](But now that faith hath come, we be not under the tutor any longer.)

<sup>26</sup> For all ye be the children of God through the belief of Jesus Christ. [For all ye be the sons of God by faith in Christ Jesus.](For all of ye be God's children through faith in the Messiah Jesus.)

- <sup>27</sup> For all ye that be baptized, be clothed with Christ. (For all of ye who be baptized, be clothed with the Messiah.)
- 28 There is no Jew, nor Greek, no bondman, nor free man, no male, nor female; for all ye be one in Christ Jesus (or for all of ye be one in the Messiah Iesus).
- <sup>29</sup> And if ye be one in Jesus Christ, then ye be the seed of Abraham, and heirs by (the) promise.

- <sup>1</sup> But I say, as long (a) time as the heir is a little child, he diverseth nothing from a servant, when he is (the) lord of all things, [or when he is lord of all], (or even though he is the lord of all);
- <sup>2</sup> but he is under keepers and tutors, into the time determined of the father (or until the time determined by his father).
- <sup>3</sup> So we, when we were little children, we served under the elements of the world.
- <sup>4</sup> But after that the fulfilling of time came, God sent his Son, made of a - woman, made under the law, 5 that he should again-buy them that were under the law, that we should receive the adoption of sons. (so that he would redeem those who were under the Law, so that we could receive adoption as sons.)
- <sup>6</sup> And for ye be God's sons, God sent his Spirit into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. [Forsooth for ye be the sons of God, God sent the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, that is, father.]
- <sup>7</sup> And so there is not now a servant, but a son; and if he is a son, he is an heir by God.
- <sup>8</sup> But then ye unknowing God, served to them that in kind were not gods. (But when ve did not know God, ye served those who by their very nature were not gods.)
- <sup>9</sup> But now when ye have known God, and be known of God, how be ye turned again to the feeble [or to the sick] and needy elements, to the which ye will again serve? (But now when ye have known God, and ye be known by God, how can ye return to those elements which be frail or weak, and lacking, yet which ye will serve again?)
- <sup>10</sup> Ye take keep to days, [or Ye keep, or wait (upon), days], (or Ye care about special days), and months, and times, and years.
- 11 But I dread you, lest without cause, I have travailed among you, [or lest peradventure I have travailed in you without cause]. (But you make me fear, that I have laboured among you for no good reason, or for no good purpose, or without any good result.)
- 12 Be ye as I, for I am as ye. Brethren, I beseech you, ye have hurt me nothing, [or Brethren, I beseech you, ye have nothing hurt me].
- 13 But ye know, that by, (or with), (an) infirmity of (the) flesh I have preached to you [or I have evangelized to you] now before;
- 14 and ye despised not, neither forsook your temptation in my flesh, but ye received me as an angel of God, as Christ Jesus (or like the Messiah Jesus himself).
- <sup>15</sup> Where then is your blessing? [or Where is therefore your blessedness, that ye had before time?] For I bear you witness (or For I testify about you), that if it might have been done, ye would have put out your eyes, and have given them to me.

- <sup>16</sup> Am I then made an enemy to you, saying to you the sooth? (Am I then made your enemy, by telling you the truth?)
- <sup>17</sup> They love not you well [or They love you not well], but they will exclude you, that ye *(pur)*sue them (or so that ye follow them).
- <sup>18</sup> But (pur)sue ye the good (for)evermore in good, (or But instead, always follow, or go after, the good, simply because it is good), and not only when I am present with you.
- <sup>19</sup> My small children, which I bear again, till that Christ be formed in you, [My little sons, whom I child, or I bring forth by travail, again, till Christ be formed in you,](My young children, whom I bring forth through travail, or with great labour, until the Messiah is formed within you,)
- $^{20}$  and I would now be at you, and change my voice, for I am confounded among you. (I wish that I could be with you, and change my tone, for I am confused about you.)
  - <sup>21</sup> Say to me, ye that will be under the law, have ye not read the law?
- <sup>22</sup> For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, one of a servant [or of a handmaiden], and one of a free woman [or of a wife].
- <sup>23</sup> But he that was of the servant [or of the handmaiden] was born after the flesh; but he that was of the free woman [or of the wife] by a promise.
- <sup>24</sup> The which things be said by another understanding. For these be two testaments (or For they be two covenants); one in the hill of Sinai, (en)gendering into servage, (or begetting into servitude, or into slavery), which is Agar. [+Which things be said by allegory. For why these things be two testaments; soothly the one in the mount Sinai, (en)gendering into servage, that is Agar.]
- <sup>25</sup> For Sinai is an hill that is in Arabia, which hill is joined to it that is now Jerusalem, and serveth with her children.
  - <sup>26</sup> But that Jerusalem that is above, is free, which is our mother.
- <sup>27</sup> For it is written, Be glad, thou barren, that bearest not; break out and cry, [thou] that bringest forth no children; for many sons be of her that is left of her husband, more than of her that hath an husband, (or for there shall be more sons of her who was deserted by her husband, than of her who hath a husband).
  - <sup>28</sup> For, brethren, we be [the] sons of (the) promise after Isaac;
- <sup>29</sup> but now as this that was born after the flesh pursued him that was after the Spirit, so now. (but just as he who was born after the flesh persecuted him who was born according to the Spirit, so it is also today.)
- $^{30}$  But what saith the scripture? Cast out the servant [or the handmaiden] and her son, for the son of the servant shall not be heir with the son of the free wife.
- <sup>31</sup> And so, brethren, we be not sons of the servant [or of the handmaiden], but of the free wife, by which freedom [or liberty] Christ hath made us free. (And so brothers, we be not the sons of the handmaid, but the sons of the free wife, by which freedom the Messiah hath made us free.)

- <sup>1</sup> Stand ye therefore, and do not ye again be held in the yoke of servage. (And so stand firm, and do not be held again in the yoke of servitude or slavery.)
- <sup>2</sup> Lo! I, Paul, say to you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall nothing profit to you. (Behold! I, Paul, say to you, that if ye be circumcised, the Messiah shall be of no profit to you.)
- $^3$  And I witness again to each man that circumciseth himself (or And I testify again to each man who circumciseth himself), that he is a debtor of all the law to be done.
- <sup>4</sup> And ye be voided away from Christ, and ye that be justified in the law, ye have fallen away from grace. (And ye be devoid of the Messiah, yea, ye who be justified by the Law, ye have fallen away from grace.)
- <sup>5</sup> For we through the Spirit of belief abide the hope of rightwiseness. [For we by (the) Spirit of faith abide the hope of rightwiseness.]
- <sup>6</sup> For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision is anything worth, neither prepuce, but the belief that worketh by charity [or but (the) faith that worketh by charity]. (For in Jesus Christ circumcision is not worth anything, nor is uncircumcision, but only faith that worketh through love.)
  - <sup>7</sup> Ye ran well; who hindered you that ye obeyed not to the truth?
- $^8$  Consent ye to no man; for this counsel is not of (or from) him that hath called you.
- <sup>9</sup> A little sourdough impaireth [or maketh sour] all the gobbet. (A little leaven maketh the whole piece sour.)
- <sup>10</sup> I trust on you in our Lord, that ye should understand none other thing. And who that disturbeth you [or Forsooth he that distroubleth you], shall bear doom (or shall receive God's judgement), whoever he be.
- $^{11}$  And, brethren, if I preach yet circumcision, what suffer I yet persecution? then the stumbling of the cross is avoided/is voided. (And, brothers, if I still preach circumcision, why do I still suffer persecution? for then the stumbling of the cross is made null and void.)
- <sup>12</sup> I would that they were cut away, that disturb you. [I would that they that distrouble you, be also cut off.](I wish that those who disturb or trouble you, wanting you to be circumcised just like they be, would cut it all off!)
- <sup>13</sup> For, brethren, ye be called into freedom [or into liberty]; only give ye not freedom [or liberty] into (an) occasion of (the) flesh, but by charity of [the] Spirit serve ye together (or but in the love of the Spirit serve one another).
- <sup>14</sup> For every law [or all the law] is fulfilled in one word (or For all the Law is fulfilled in a single sentence), Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.
- <sup>15</sup> And if ye bite, and eat each other, see ye, lest ye be wasted each from (the) other (or lest ye destroy one another).
- <sup>16</sup> And I say to you in Christ(or And I say to you in the Messiah), walk ye in (the) Spirit, and ye shall not perform the desires of the flesh.
- <sup>17</sup> For the flesh coveteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these be adversaries together, that ye do not all things that ye will, (or for they be adversaries with each other, so that ye do not do the things that ye desire to do).

<sup>18</sup> That if ye be led by [the] Spirit, ye be not under the law. (But if ye be led by the Spirit, ye shall not be under the Law.)

<sup>19</sup> And the works of the flesh be open, which be fornication, uncleanness, unchastity, lechery,

<sup>20</sup> service of false gods [or serving of idols], witchcrafts, enmities, strivings [or strives], indignations, wraths, chidings, dissensions, sects [or heresies],

- <sup>21</sup> envies, manslayings, drunkennesses, unmeasurable eatings [or gluttonies], and things like to these, which I say to you before, as I have told to you before, for they that do such things, shall not have the kingdom of God, (or for they who do such things, shall not possess the Kingdom of God).
- <sup>22</sup> But the fruit of the Spirit is charity (or love), joy, peace, patience, long abiding (or endurance), benignity, [or good will], goodness, mildness (or meekness and humility), faith.

<sup>24</sup> And they that be of Christ, have crucified their flesh with vices and covetings [or concupiscences]. (And they who belong to the Messiah, have crucified their flesh with its vices and its coveting.)

<sup>25</sup> If we live by (the) Spirit, walk we by (the) Spirit;

<sup>26</sup> be we not made covetous of vain glory, stirring each other to wrath, or having envy each to (the) other. (be we not made covetous of empty boasting, stirring each other to anger, or having envy with one another.)

CHAPTER 6

<sup>1</sup> Brethren, if a man be occupied in any guilt [or overcome in any trespass], ye that be spiritual, inform ye [or teach] such one in (the) spirit of softness, [or meekness], beholding thyself, lest that thou be tempted, [falling in the same wise], (or lest thou be tested, failing in the same way, or in like manner).

<sup>2</sup> Each bear (the) other's charges, and so ye shall fulfill the law of Christ. (Bear each other's burdens, and so ye shall fulfill the law of the Messiah.)

<sup>3</sup> For who that troweth [or guesseth] that he be aught, when he is nought, he beguileth himself. (For he who thinketh that he is something, when he is really nothing, fooleth himself.)

<sup>4</sup> But each man prove his own work, and so he shall have glory [only] in himself, and not in another.

<sup>6</sup> He that is taught in word, commune he with him that teacheth him, in all goods [or in all good things].

<sup>7</sup> Do not ye err, God is not scorned; for those things that a man soweth, those things he shall reap, [or for why what things a man soweth, also these things he shall reap].

<sup>8</sup> For he that soweth in his flesh, of the flesh he shall reap corruption; but he that soweth in the Spirit, of the Spirit he shall reap everlasting life.

<sup>9</sup> And doing good fail we not; for in his time we shall reap, not failing.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore while we have time, work we good to all men; but most(ly) to them that be home-like [or that be the household members] of the faith. (And so while we have the time, do we good to all; but most of all to those who be members of the household, or the family, of faith.)

 $^{11}$  See ye, what manner letters I have written to you with mine own hand.

<sup>12</sup> For whoever will please in the flesh, these constrain you to be circumcised, only that they suffer not the persecution of Christ's cross (or so that they themselves shall not suffer persecution for the cross of the Messiah).

<sup>13</sup> For neither they that be circumcised keep the law; but they will (or they desire) that ye be circumcised, (so) that they have glory in your flesh.

- <sup>14</sup> But far be it from me to have glory, [no] but in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified to me, and I to the world.
- <sup>15</sup> For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision is anything (of) worth, nor prepuce, but a new creature. (For in Jesus Christ being circumcised is not worth anything, nor being uncircumcised, but only being a new creation.)

<sup>16</sup> And whoever shallsue this rule (or And whoever shall follow this rule), peace (be) on them, and mercy, and on (the) Israel of God.

<sup>17</sup> And hereafter [or From henceforth], no man be heavy to me; for I bear in my body the tokens, [or the wounds], of our Lord Jesus Christ (or for I bear on my body the signs, or the marks, of our Lord Jesus Christ).

<sup>18</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brethren. Amen.

EPHESIANS

- <sup>1</sup> Paul, the apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, to all the saints that be at Ephesus (or to all of God's people who be at Ephesus), and to the faithful men in Iesus Christ.
- <sup>2</sup> grace be to you and (the) peace of God, our Father, and of our Lord Jesus Christ.
- <sup>3</sup> Blessed be God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, that hath blessed us in all spiritual blessing in heavenly things in Christ,
- 4 as he hath chosen us in himself before the making of the world, that we were holy [or that we should be holy], and without wem in his sight, in charity. (as he hath chosen us for himself before the creation of the world, so that we were holy, and without spot or blemish before him, in love.)
- <sup>5</sup> Which hath before-ordained us into [the] adoption of sons by Jesus Christ into him, by the purpose of his will,
- <sup>6</sup> into the praising of the glory of his grace; in which he hath glorified us in his dearworthy Son. [into the praising of the glory of his grace; in which he made us able to his grace in his dearworthy Son.I
- <sup>7</sup> In whom we have redemption by his blood, [and] forgiveness of sins, after the riches of his grace,
  - 8 that abounded greatly in us in all wisdom and prudence,
- <sup>9</sup> to make known to us the sacrament (or the mystery) of his will, by the good pleasance of him; (to make known to us his secret plan, by his good pleasure:)
- <sup>10</sup> the which sacrament he purposed in him in the dispensation of (the) plenty of times, to store up all things in Christ (or to include everything in the Messiah), which be in heavens, and which be in earth, in him.

11 In whom [also] we be called by lot, before-ordained by the purpose of him that worketh all things by the counsel of his will;

12 that we be into the praising of his glory, we that have hoped before in Christ [or we that before hoped in Christ]. (so that we can praise his glory, we who first hoped in the Messiah, or we who were the first to hope in the Messiah.)

13 In whom also ye were called, when ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your health, in whom ye believing be marked with the Holy Ghost of promise, (In whom also ye were called, when ye heard the Word of Truth, the Gospel, or the Good News, of your salvation, in whom ye believing be sealed with the Holy Spirit, as was promised,)

<sup>14</sup> which is the earnest [or a wed] of our heritage (or which is the pledge of our inheritance), into the redemption of purchasing, into [the] praising of his glory.

15 Therefore and I hearing (of) your faith, that is in Christ Jesus, and the love into all (the) saints, (And so I hearing of your faith, that is in the Messiah Jesus, and your love for all of God's people,)

<sup>16</sup> cease not to do thankings for you, making mind of you in my prayers;

(never cease to give thanks for you, remembering you in my prayers;)

<sup>17</sup> (so) that (the) God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, give to you the spirit of wisdom and of revelation, into the knowing of him;

<sup>18</sup> and the eyes of your heart lightened, that ye know, which is the hope of his calling, and which be the riches of the glory of his heritage in saints; (and that the eyes of your hearts be enlightened, so that ye know, what is the hope of his calling, and what be the riches and the glory of his inheritance for God's people;)

<sup>19</sup> and which is the excellent greatness of his virtue, into us that have believed, by the working of the might of his virtue, (and what is the excellent greatness of his power, for those of us who have believed, by the working of the might of his power,)

<sup>20</sup> which he wrought in Christ, raising him from death [or raising him from (the) dead], and setting him on his right half in heavenly things, (which he worked in the Messiah, raising him from the dead, and setting him at his right hand, or on his right side, in heavenly things,)

<sup>21</sup> above each principat, and potentate, and virtue, and domination, (or above each principality, and authority, and power, and dominion), and above each name that is named, not only in this world, but also in the world to coming [or but also in the world to come];

<sup>22</sup> and made all things subject under his feet, and gave him to be (the) head over all the church,

<sup>23</sup> that is the body of him, and the plenty of him, which is all things in all things fulfilled.

CHAPTER 2

<sup>1</sup> And when ye were dead in your guilts and sins,

<sup>2</sup> in which ye wandered sometime, (or in which ye walked, or ye went some time ago), after the course of this world, after the prince of the power of this air, of the spirit that worketh now into the sons of unbelief;

<sup>3</sup> in which also we all lived sometime in the desires of our flesh, doing the wills of the flesh and of the thoughts (or doing the desires of the flesh and of the thoughts, or of the mind), and we were by kind (or by nature) the sons of wrath, as other men;

<sup>4</sup> but God, that is rich in mercy, for his full much charity in which he loved us, (but God, who is rich in mercy, for his very great love with which he loved us.)

<sup>5</sup> yea, when we were dead in (our) sins, quickened us together in Christ (or made us alive together with the Messiah), by whose grace ye be saved,

<sup>6</sup> and again-raised together, and made together to sit in heavenly things in Christ Jesus; (and ye be raised up, and allowed to sit in heavenly things with the Messiah Jesus;)

<sup>7</sup> that he should show in the worlds above coming the plenteous riches of his grace in goodness on us in Christ Jesus. (so that he could show in the world to come the plentiful riches of his grace in goodness for us in the Messiah Jesus.)

<sup>8</sup> For by grace ye be saved by faith, and this not of you (or and this is not by your own doing); for it is the gift of God,

<sup>9</sup> not of works, that no man have glory. (and not by works, so that no one

<sup>10</sup> For we be the making of him, made of nought in Christ Jesus, in good works, (or made out of nothing in the Messiah Jesus, for good works), which God hath ordained, that we go in those works.

- <sup>11</sup> For which thing be ye mindful that sometime ye were heathen in (the) flesh, which were said prepuce (or who were called the uncircumcision), from that that is said (the) circumcision made by hand in (the) flesh; (For which thing remember that sometime ago ye were Gentiles in the flesh, ye who were called the uncircumcised, by those who be called the circumcised, which is made in the flesh by our hands;)
- 12 and ye were in that time without Christ, aliened [or strangers] from the living (community) of Israel, and guests of the testaments, not having (any) hope of (the) promise, and without God in this world. (and at that time ye were without the Messiah, alienated from, or strangers to, the living community of Israel, and outside of the covenants, not having any hope of the Promise, and without God in this world.)

<sup>13</sup> But now in Christ Jesus ye that were sometime far, be made nigh in the blood of Christ. (But now in the Messiah Jesus ye who were sometime far off, be made near by the blood of the Messiah.)

<sup>14</sup> For he is our peace, that made both one, and unbinding the middle wall of a wall without mortar,

- <sup>15</sup> enmities in his flesh; and voided the law of commandments by dooms (or and voided the Law with its commandments and ordinances), (so) that he make two in himself into a new man, making peace,
- $^{16}$  to reconcile both in one body to God by the cross, slaying the enmities in himself.
- <sup>17</sup> And he coming preached peace to you that were far, and peace to them that were nigh; (And he coming preached peace to you who were far off, and peace to those who were near;)

<sup>18</sup> for by him we both have nigh coming in one Spirit to the Father.

- <sup>19</sup> Therefore now ye be not guests and strangers, but ye be citizens of saints, and [the] household members of God; (And so now ye be not guests and strangers, but ye be citizens along with God's people, and members of God's household, or of God's family.)
- <sup>20</sup> above builded on the foundament of (the) apostles and of (the) prophets, upon that highest cornerstone, Christ Jesus; (built upon the foundation of the apostles and of the prophets, and the highest cornerstone is the Messiah Jesus;)
  - <sup>21</sup> in whom each building made waxeth into an holy temple in the Lord.
- <sup>22</sup> In whom also ye be builded together into the habitation of God, in the Holy Ghost (or in the Holy Spirit).

- <sup>1</sup> For the grace of this thing I, Paul, the bound of Christ Jesus, for you heathen men, (For the grace of this thing I, Paul, the prisoner of the Messiah Jesus, for you Gentiles,)
- <sup>2</sup> if nevertheless ye have heard the dispensation of God's grace, that is given to me in you.
- <sup>3</sup> For by revelation the sacrament is made known to me, as I above wrote in short thing,
- <sup>4</sup> as ye may read, and understand my prudence in the mystery of Christ. (so ye can read, and understand my comprehension of the secret of the Messiah.)

- <sup>5</sup> Which was not known to other generations to the sons of men, as it is now showed to his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit,
- <sup>6</sup> that heathen men be even-heirs, and of one body, and partners together of his promise in Christ Jesus by the evangel; (that the Gentiles be equal heirs, and of one body, and partners together of his promise in the Messiah Jesus by the Gospel or the Good News;)
- <sup>7</sup> whose minister I am made, by the gift of God's grace, which is given to me by the working of his virtue (or which is given to me by the working of his power).
- <sup>8</sup> To me, least of all (the) saints, this grace is given to preach [or to evangelize] among heathen men the unsearchable riches of Christ, (To me, least of all of God's people, this grace is given to preach among the Gentiles the immeasurable riches of the Messiah,)
- <sup>9</sup> and to (en)lighten all men, which is the dispensation of [the] sacrament hid from worlds in God, that made all things of nought; (and to enlighten all men, which is the dispensation of the mystery, or the secret, hidden from the beginning, or from the Creation, in God, who made everything out of nothing;)
- $^{10}$  (so) that the much-fold wisdom of God be known to princes and potentates in heavenly things by the church,
- <sup>11</sup> by the before-ordinance of worlds [or after the setting of worlds], which he made in Christ Jesus our Lord. (according to his eternal purpose, which he made in the Messiah Jesus our Lord.)
- $^{12}$  In whom we have trust and nigh coming [to], in trusting by the faith of him.
- $^{13}\,\mathrm{For}$  which thing I ask, that ye fail not in my tribulations for you, which is your glory.
- <sup>14</sup> For grace of this thing I bow my knees to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,
- <sup>15</sup> of whom each fatherhood (or every family) in heavens and in earth is named, [of whom each fatherhood in heaven and in earth is named,]
- <sup>16</sup> (so) that he give to you, after the riches of his glory, (the) virtue (or the power) to be strengthened by his Spirit in the inner man,
- <sup>17</sup> that Christ dwell by faith in your hearts; that ye rooted and grounded in charity, (so that the Messiah live by faith in your hearts; so that ye rooted and grounded in love,)
- <sup>18</sup> may (be able to) comprehend with all (the) saints, which is the breadth, and the length, and the highness, and the deepness; (can grasp along with all of God's people, what is the breadth, and the length, and the highness, and the depth;)
- <sup>19</sup> also to know the charity of Christ more excellent(ly) than science, that ye be [full-]filled in all the plenty of God. (and also to know the love of the Messiah more completely than knowledge itself, so that ye be filled full with all the abundance of God.)
- <sup>20</sup> And to him that is mighty to do all things more plenteously than we ask or understand, by the virtue that worketh in us (or by the power that worketh in us),
- <sup>21</sup> to him be glory in the church, and in Christ Jesus, into all the generations of the world(s) of worlds. Amen. (to him be glory in the church, and in Messiah Jesus, from generation unto generation forever and ever. Amen.)

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore I bound for the Lord beseech you, that ye walk worthily in the calling, in which ye be called,
- <sup>2</sup> with all meekness and mildness, with patience supporting each other in charity, (in all humbleness and humility, with forbearance supporting each other in love,)
  - <sup>3</sup> busy to keep (the) unity of (the) Spirit in the bond of peace.
  - <sup>4</sup> One body and one Spirit, as ye be called in one hope of your calling;
  - <sup>5</sup> one Lord, one faith, one baptism,
- <sup>6</sup> one God and Father of all, which is above all men, and by all things, and in us all.
- <sup>7</sup> But to each of us grace is given by [or after] the measure of the giving of Christ; (But each of us is given grace according to the measure of the giving of the Messiah;)
- <sup>8</sup> for which thing he saith, He ascending on high, led captivity captive, he gave gifts to men.
- <sup>9</sup> But what is it, that he ascended up, no but that also he came down first into the lower parts of the earth?
- <sup>10</sup> He it is that came down, and that ascended [up] on (or above) all (the) heavens, (so) that he should fill all things.
- <sup>11</sup> And he gave some apostles (or And he made some of us apostles), some prophets, others evangelists, others shepherds and teachers,
- <sup>12</sup> to the full ending of (the) saints, into the work of (the) ministry, into [the] edification of Christ's body, (for the perfection or the completion of God's people, for the work of the ministry, for the instruction of the Messiah's body,)
- <sup>13</sup> till we run all, into (the) unity of (our) faith and of (our) knowing of God's Son, [or till we run all, in unity of faith and of knowing of God's Son], into a perfect man, after the measure of the age of the plenty of Christ (or according to the measure of the stature of the fullness of the Messiah);
- <sup>14</sup> (so) that we be not now little children, moving as (the) waves, and be not borne about with each wind of teaching, in the waywardness of men, in subtle wit, to the deceiving of error.
- <sup>15</sup> But do we (the) truth in charity, and wax in him by all things, that is Christ our head; (But speak we the truth in love, and grow in him in every way, who is the Messiah our head;)
- <sup>16</sup> of whom all the body set together, and bound together by each jointure of under-serving, by (the) working into the measure of each member, maketh increasing of the body, into [the] edification of itself in charity (or in love).
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore I say and witness (to) this thing in the Lord, that ye walk not now, as heathen men walk, in the vanity of their wit; (And so I say and testify to this in the Lord, that ye walk not now, like the Gentiles walk, in the emptiness and uselessness of their reasoning or of their thinking;)
- <sup>18</sup> that have understanding darkened with darknesses (or who have their understanding darkened with darkness), and be aliened, (or alienated), for made far], from the life of God, by (the) ignorance that is in them, for the blindness of their heart(s).

<sup>19</sup> Which despairing betook (or delivered) themselves to unchastity, into the working of all uncleanness in covetousness.

<sup>20</sup> But ye have not so learned Christ, (But ye have not so learned the Messiah.)

 $^{21}$  if nevertheless ye heard him, and be taught in him, as is (the) truth in Jesus.

<sup>22</sup> Do ye away by the old living, [or after the first living], the old man, that is corrupt by the desires of error;

<sup>23</sup> and be ye renewed [or made new again] in the spirit of your soul;

<sup>24</sup> and clothe ye the new man, which is made after God in rightwiseness and (in the) holiness of truth. [and clothe ye the new man, which after God is made of nought (or out of nothing) in rightwiseness and holiness of truth.]

<sup>25</sup> For which thing put ye away leasing (or lying), and speak ye (the) truth each man with his neighbour, for we be members each to (the) other, [or together], (or for we be members with one another of one body).

<sup>26</sup> Be ye wroth, and do not do sin [or and do not ye sin]; the sun fall not down on your wrath.

<sup>27</sup> Do not ye give stead (or a place) to the devil.

- <sup>28</sup> He that stole, now steal he not; but more rather travail he in working with his hands that that is good, (so) that he have whereof he shall give to the needy.
- <sup>29</sup> Each evil word go not out of your mouth; but if any (word) is good to the edification of (the) faith, (so) that it give grace to men that hear (it).
- 30 And do not ye make the Holy Ghost of God sorry, [or heavy], in which ye be marked in the day of redemption. (And do not make the Holy Spirit of God sorrowful, in whom, and by whom, ye be sealed unto the Day of Redemption.)
- <sup>31</sup> All bitterness, and wrath, and indignation, and cry, and blasphemy be taken away from you, with all malice;
- <sup>32</sup> and be ye together benign, [or of good will], merciful, forgiving together, as also God forgave to you in Christ. (and be benign, or have good will, with one another, merciful, and forgiving each other, as also God forgave you in the Messiah.)

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore be ye followers of God, as most dearworthy sons;
- <sup>2</sup> and walk ye in love, as Christ loved us (or as the Messiah loved us), and gave himself for us (as) an offering and a sacrifice to God, into the odour of sweetness.
- <sup>3</sup> And fornication, and all uncleanness, or avarice (or greed), be not named among you, as it becometh holy men;
- <sup>4</sup> either filth, or folly speech, or buffoonery [or harlotry], that pertaineth not to profit, but more rather doing of thankings. (or filth, or foolish speaking, or buffoonery, all that pertaineth not to profit, but more rather the giving of thanks or thanksgiving.)
- <sup>5</sup> For know ye this, and understand, that each lecher [or each fornicator], or unclean man, or covetous [man], that serveth to maumets [or to idols], hath not heritage in the kingdom of Christ and of God (or hath not an inheritance in the Kingdom of the Messiah and of God).

- <sup>6</sup> No man deceive you by vain words (or Let no one deceive you with empty and useless words); for why for these things the wrath of God came upon the sons of unbelief.
  - <sup>7</sup> Therefore do not ye be made partners of them.
- <sup>8</sup> For ye were sometime darknesses, (or For before ye were in darkness, or For before ye were darkness), but now ye be light in the Lord. Walk ye as the sons of light.
  - <sup>9</sup> For the fruit of light is in all goodness, and rightwiseness, and truth.
  - <sup>10</sup> And prove ye what thing is well pleasing to God.
- <sup>11</sup> And do not ye commune to unfruiteous works of darknesses; but more rather reprove ye [them]. (And do not share, or take part in, unfruitful works of darkness, but rather, rebuke them.)
  - 12 For what things be done of them in privy, it is foul, yea, to speak.
- <sup>13</sup> And all things that be reproved of the light, be openly showed [or be made open]; for all thing that is showed, is light. (And everything that is reproved is first brought into the light, so that it can be openly shown, or made open; for everything that is shown, is light.)
- <sup>14</sup> For which thing he saith, Rise thou that sleepest, and rise up from death, and Christ shall lighten thee. [For which thing he saith, Rise thou that sleepest, and rise up from (the) dead, and Christ shall illumine thee.](For which thing he saith, Rise thou who sleepest, yea, rise up from the dead, and the Messiah shall shine upon thee.)
- <sup>15</sup> Therefore, brethren (or brothers), see ye, how warily ye shall go; not as unwise men, but as wise men, (And so, people, see how prudently you should go; not as unwise people, but as wise people,)
  - <sup>16</sup> again-buying the time (or redeeming the time), for the days be evil.
- <sup>17</sup> Therefore do not ye be made unwise, but understanding which is the will of God [or of the Lord]. (And so do not be made unwise, but rather seek understanding of what is God's will.)
- <sup>18</sup> And do not ye be drunk of wine, in which is lechery [or in which is luxury], but be ye filled with the Holy Ghost; (And do not be drunk with wine, which leadeth to lechery, and to self-indulgence, but be filled with the Holy Spirit;)
- <sup>19</sup> and speak ye to yourselves in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and saying psalm(s) in your hearts to the Lord;
- <sup>20</sup> (for)evermore doing thankings for all things (or always giving thanks for everything), in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God and to the Father.
- $^{21}$  Be ye subject together in the dread of Christ. (Be subject to one another out of reverence for the Messiah.)
  - <sup>22</sup> Women, be they subject to their husbands, as to the Lord,
- <sup>23</sup> for the man is (the) head of the woman, as Christ is head of the church (or as the Messiah is the head of the church); he is(the) Saviour of his body.
- <sup>24</sup> But as the church is subject to Christ (or And just as the church is subject to the Messiah), so (let) women (be subject) to their husbands in all things.

- <sup>25</sup> Men, love ye your wives, as Christ loved the church (or as the Messiah loved the church), and gave himself for it,
- <sup>26</sup> to make it holy; and cleansed it with the washing of water, in the word of life,
- <sup>27</sup> to give the church glorious to himself, that it had no wem, [or spot], nor rivelling [or wrinkle], or any such thing, but that it be holy and undefouled. (to give the church glorious to himself, so that it had no blemish, or spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing, but that it be holy and undefiled.)
- <sup>28</sup> So and men shall love their wives, as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife, loveth himself;
- <sup>29</sup> for no man hated ever his own flesh, but nourisheth and fostereth it, as Christ doeth the church (or as the Messiah nourisheth and fostereth the church).
  - <sup>30</sup> And we be (the) members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
- <sup>31</sup> For this thing a man shall forsake his father and mother (or a man shall leave his father and his mother), and he shall draw [or he shall cleave] to his wife; and they shall be twain in one flesh.
- <sup>32</sup> This sacrament is great; yea, I say in Christ, and in the church. (In this is a great mystery or a great secret; yes, I speak here about the Messiah, and about the church.)
- <sup>33</sup> Nevertheless ye all, each man love his wife as himself; and the wife dread her husband (or and the wife revere her husband).

- $^1$  Sons, obey ye to your father and mother, in the Lord; for this thing is rightful, [or (it) is just], (or for this is the right thing to do).
- <sup>2</sup> Honour thou thy father and mother, that is the first commandment in [the] promise;
  - <sup>3</sup> (so) that it be well to thee, and that thou be long living on the earth.
- <sup>4</sup> And, fathers, do not ye provoke your sons to wrath; but nourish ye them in the teaching and (the) chastising of the Lord [or but nourish ye them in the discipline and (the) correction of the Lord].
- <sup>5</sup> Servants, obey ye to fleshly lords with dread and trembling, in simpleness of your heart, as to Christ; (Servants, obey your human lords with fearful reverence and trembling, and with sincerity in your hearts, as unto the Messiah;)
- <sup>6</sup> not serving at the eye, as pleasing to men, but as servants of Christ (or but as the Messiah's servants); doing the will of God by discretion,
  - <sup>7</sup> with good will serving as to the Lord, and not as to men;
- <sup>8</sup> witting (or knowing) that each man, whatever good thing he shall do, he shall receive this of the Lord, whether servant, whether free man.
- <sup>9</sup> And, ye lords, do the same things to them, forgiving menacings; witting that both their Lord and yours is in heavens, and the taking of persons is not with God. (And, ye lords, do the same thing for them, forgiving threats; knowing that both their Lord and yours is in heaven, and that the favouring of persons is not done by God.)
- 10 Here afterward, brethren, be ye comforted in the Lord, and in the might of his virtue. (Here afterward or Henceforth, brothers, be strengthened in the Lord, and in the power of his might.)

<sup>11</sup> Clothe you(rselves) with the armour of God, that ye may stand against the ambushings, [or (the) assailings], of the devil. (Clothe yourselves with the armour of God, so that ye can stand against the Devil's assaults.)

<sup>12</sup> For why striving [or battle] is not to us against flesh and blood, but against [the] princes and (the) potentates, against (the) governors of the world of these darknesses, (or against the rulers of the darkness in this world, or the rulers of this dark world), against spiritual things of wickedness, in heavenly things.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore take ye the armour of God, that ye may against-stand in the evil day, (or And so take or put on God's armour, so that ye can withstand, or stand against, the Devil on the Day of Evil); and in all things stand perfect.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore stand ye, and be girded about your loins in soothfastness, and clothed with the habergeon of rightwiseness, (And so stand, with your loins girded in truthfulness, or with truth, and clothed with the breastplate of righteousness,)

<sup>15</sup> and your feet shod in (the) making ready of the gospel of peace. (and your feet shod in the preparation of the Gospel, or the Good News, of peace.)

<sup>16</sup> In all things take ye the shield of faith, in which ye may quench all the fiery darts of him that is(the) most wicked or (of him who is) the worst.

<sup>17</sup> And take ye the helmet of health, and the sword of the Ghost, that is, the word of God. (And take or put on the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Holy Spirit, that is, the word of God.)

<sup>18</sup> By all prayer and beseeching pray ye all time in (the) Spirit, and in him waking in all busyness, and beseeching for all holy men [or for all (the) saints]. (By all prayer and beseeching pray all the time in the Spirit, and in him keeping watch with all diligence, and beseeching for all of God's people.)

19 and for me; that word be given to me in (the) opening of my mouth, with trust to make known the mystery of the gospel,

<sup>20</sup> for which I am set in message in a chain (or for which I am an ambassador in a chain); so that in it I be hardy (or I be bold) to speak, as it behooveth me [to speak out].

<sup>21</sup> And (so that) ye know, what things be about me, (and) what I do, Tychicus, my most dear brother, and true minister in the Lord (or and a true servant in the Lord), shall make all things known to you;

<sup>22</sup> whom I sent to you for this same thing, (so) that ye know what things be about us, and that he comfort your hearts (or and so that he strengthen your hearts).

<sup>23</sup> Peace to brethren, and charity, (or Peace be to the brothers, and love), with (the) faith of God our Father, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.

 $^{24}$  Grace (be) with all men that love our Lord Jesus Christ in uncorruption. Amen, that is, So be it.

PHILIPPIANS

- <sup>1</sup> Paul and Timothy, servants of Jesus Christ, to all the holy men in Christ Jesus, (or to all the saints, or to all of God's people, in the Messiah Jesus), that be at Philippi, with (the) bishops and (the) deacons,
- <sup>2</sup> grace and peace to you of God our Father, and of the Lord Jesus Christ. (grace and peace be to you from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.)
- <sup>3</sup> I do thankings to my God in all mind of you (I give thanks to my God in every remembrance of you)
- <sup>4</sup> (for)evermore in all my prayers for all (of) you with joy, and make beseeching (always in all my prayers for all of you, and make beseeching)
- <sup>5</sup> on your communing in the gospel of Christ, from the first day till now; (regarding your sharing in the Gospel, or the Good News, of the Messiah, from the first day until now;)
- <sup>6</sup> trusting this same thing, that he that began in you a good work, shall perform it till into the day of Jesus Christ.
- <sup>7</sup> As it is just to me to feel this thing for all (of) you (or And it is right for me to feel this for all of you), for that I have you in (my) heart, and in my bonds, and in (the) defending and (in the) confirming of the gospel, (so) that all (of) ye be fellows of my joy.
- <sup>8</sup> For God is a witness to me (or For God is my witness), how I covet all (of) you in the bowels of Jesus Christ.
- <sup>9</sup> And this thing I pray, that your charity be plenteous more and more in cunning, (or in knowing), [or in science], and in all wit; (And this I pray, that your love be more and more plentiful in knowledge, and in understanding all things;)
- <sup>10</sup> that ye prove the better things, that ye be clean and without offence in the day of Christ; (that ye approve the better things, so that ye be clean and without blemish on the Day of the Messiah;)
- <sup>11</sup> [full-]filled with the fruit of rightwiseness by Jesus Christ, into the glory and praising of God. (filled full with the fruit of righteousness by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and the praising of God.)
- <sup>12</sup> For, brethren, I will that ye know, that the things that be about me have come more to the profit of the gospel, (Because, brothers, I want you to know, that what happened to me hath truly helped to advance the work of the Gospel or the Good News,)
- <sup>13</sup> so that my bonds were made known in Christ, in each moot hall, and in all other places; (for my bondage or my imprisonment for the sake of the Messiah hath been made known, throughout the Hall of Judgement here, and in many other places as well;)
- <sup>14</sup> that more of [the] brethren trusting in the Lord more plenteously for my bonds, durst without dread speak the word of God. [that more of the brethren in the Lord trusting in my bonds, more plenteously durst without dread speak the word of God.](and because of my imprisonment, more of the brothers trusting more in the Lord, dare to speak the word of God without any fear.)

- <sup>15</sup> But some for envy and strife, some for good will, preach Christ; (But some out of envy and strife, and some out of good will, preach the Messiah;)
- <sup>16</sup> and some of charity, witting that I am put in the defence of the gospel. (and some out of love, knowing that I am put in the defence of the Gospel or the Good News.)
- <sup>17</sup> But some (out) of strife [or (out) of contention] show Christ not cleanly, guessing them(selves) to raise tribulation to my bonds. (But some to be contentious, do not reveal the Messiah purely, or do not sincerely proclaim the Messiah, thinking to make trouble for me here in prison.)
- <sup>18</sup> But what? while on all manner, either by occasion, either by truth, Christ is showed (or the Messiah is shown); and in this thing I have joy, but also I shall have joy.
- <sup>19</sup> And I know, that this thing shall come to me into health, by your prayer(s), and the under-ministering of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, (And I know, that this shall be my salvation, or my deliverance, by your prayers, and by the ministering of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,)
- <sup>20</sup> by mine abiding and hope. For in nothing I shall be ashamed, but in all trust as *(for)*evermore and now, Christ shall be magnified in my body, either by life, either by death. (by my abiding and hope. For I shall be ashamed of nothing, but in complete trust now and always, the Messiah shall be magnified in my body, either in life, or in death.)
- <sup>21</sup> For [to] me to live is Christ, and to die is winning. (For to me to live is the Messiah, and to die is gain, or it is better for me.)
- <sup>22</sup> That if to live in (the) flesh, [this] is (the) fruit of work to me, lo! what I shall choose, I know not. (But if to live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my work, behold! what I shall choose, I do not know.)
- <sup>23</sup> But I am constrained of two things, I have desire to be departed [from the body], and to be with Christ, it is much more better; (For I am constrained by two things, I have a desire to be departed (from this body), and to be with the Messiah, (it is) so much better than living;)
- <sup>24</sup> but to dwell in (the) flesh, is needful for you. (but to remain in the flesh, is necessary for your benefit.)
- <sup>25</sup> And I trusting this thing, know that I shall dwell, and perfectly dwell to all you, to your profit and joy of faith, (And I trusting in this thing, know that I shall remain, yea, I shall remain with all of you, for your profit and your joy in the faith,)
- <sup>26</sup> that your thanking abound in Christ Jesus in me, by my coming again to you. (so that your thanksgiving abound in the Messiah Jesus for me, by my coming again to you.)
- <sup>27</sup> Only live ye worthily to the gospel of Christ, that whether when I come and see you, either absent I hear of you, that ye stand in one spirit of one will, travailing together to the faith of the gospel. (Only be sure to live worthily unto the Gospel, or the Good News, of the Messiah, so that whether when I come and see you, or if absent I hear about you, that ye stand in one spirit of one will, working together in the faith for the Gospel or the Good News.)
- <sup>28</sup> And in nothing be ye afeared of adversaries, which is to them (a) cause (or a sign) of perdition, but to you a cause of health (or but for you a sign of your salvation). And this thing is of God.

<sup>29</sup> For it is given to you for Christ (or For it is given to you for the Messiah), that not only ye believe in him, but also that ye suffer for him;

30 having the same strife, which ye saw in me, and now ye have heard of me.

CHAPTER 2

<sup>1</sup> Therefore if any comfort is in Christ, if any solace of charity, (or And so if there is any comfort in the Messiah, if any consolation of love), if any fellowship of (the) Spirit, if any inwardness of mercy doing,

<sup>2</sup> [ful] fill ye my joy, that ye understand the same thing, and have the same charity, of one will, and feel the same thing; (fulfill my joy, in that ye understand the same thing, have the same love, be of one will, and of one purpose;)

- <sup>3</sup> nothing [doing] by strife, neither by vain glory, but in meekness, deeming each other to be higher [in virtue] than himself; (doing nothing by contention, nor by conceit, but in humility, judging others to be of greater virtue than thvself:)
- <sup>4</sup> not beholding each by himself what things be his own, but those things that be of other men.

<sup>5</sup> And feel ye this thing in you, which was also in Christ Jesus; (Have the same attitude in you, which was also in the Messiah Jesus;)

<sup>6</sup> which when he was in the form of God, deemed (it) not raven, that himself were even to God, [or deemed (it) not raven, himself to be even to God], (who when he was in the form of God, reckoned it not robbery, that although he was equal to God,)

<sup>7</sup> but he lowed [or he meeked] himself (or but he humbled himself), taking the form of a servant, and was made into the likeness of men,

8 and in habit was found as a man. He meeked himself, and was made obedient to the death, yea, to the death of the cross. (and in appearance was found as a man. He humbled himself, and was obedient unto death, yea, unto his death on the cross.)

<sup>9</sup> For which thing God enhanced him (or For which thing God exalted him), and gave to him a name that is above all name(s);

10 that in the name of Jesus each knee be bowed (or so that at the name of Jesus every knee shall be bowed), of heavenly things, [and] of earthly things, and of hell's;

<sup>11</sup> and each tongue (shall) acknowledge, that the Lord Jesus Christ is in the glory of God the Father.

- 12 Therefore, my most dearworthy brethren, as *(for)*evermore ye have obeyed, not in my presence only, but much more now in mine absence, work ye with dread and trembling your health. (And so, my most) dearworthy brothers, as ye have always obeyed, not only in my presence, but much more now in my absence, work out your own salvation with fearful reverence and trembling.)
- 13 For it is God that worketh in you, both to will, and to perform, for good will. (For it is God who worketh in you, both to desire, and to perform, for his own good purpose.)
  - <sup>14</sup> And do ye all things without grudgings (or grumblings), and doubtings;
- 15 that ye be without (com)plaint, and simple as the sons of God, without reproof, in the middle of a shrewd nation and a wayward (one); among which ye shine as (the) givers of light in the world. (so that ye be without fault, and sincere as the sons of God, yea, without reproach, in the midst of a depraved and a wicked nation; among whom ye shine as the givers of light in the world.)

- <sup>16</sup> And hold ye together the word of life to my glory in the day of Christ; for I have not run in vain, neither I have travailed in vain. (And hold on firmly to the Word of Life unto my glory, or to be my boasting, on the Day of the Messiah; and thus show that I have not run in vain, nor have I laboured in vain.)
- <sup>17</sup> But though I be offered or slain on the sacrifice and service of your faith, I have joy, and I thank you all (or and I thank all of you).
  - <sup>18</sup> And for the same thing have ye joy, and [together] thank ye me.
- <sup>19</sup> And I hope in the Lord Jesus, that I shall send Timothy soon to you, (so) that I (may) be of good comfort, when those things be known that be about you.
- <sup>20</sup> For I have no man so of one will, that is (so) busy for you with clean affection.
- <sup>21</sup> For all men seek those things that be their own, not those that be of Christ Jesus (or not those things that be of the Messiah Jesus).
- <sup>22</sup> But know ye the assay of him, for as a son to the father he hath served with me in the gospel.
- $^{23}$  Therefore I hope that I shall send him to you, anon as I see what things be about me. (And so I hope that I shall send him to you, as soon as I see what things be about me here.)
  - <sup>24</sup> And I trust in the Lord, that also myself shall come to you soon.
- <sup>25</sup> And I guessed it needful to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and even-worker, and mine even-knight, (or my brother and fellow worker, and my fellow soldier), but your apostle, and the minister of my need(s).

<sup>26</sup> For he desired you all, and he was sorrowful, therefore that ye heard that he was sick.

<sup>27</sup> For he was sick to the death, but God had mercy on him; and not only on him, but also on me, lest I had heaviness on heaviness.

<sup>28</sup> Therefore more hastily I sent him, (so) that when ye have seen him, ye have joy again, and I be without heaviness.

<sup>29</sup> Therefore receive ye him with all joy in the Lord, and have ye such with all honour.

<sup>30</sup> For the work of Christ he went to (the) death, giving his life, that he should fulfill that that failed of you with my service. (For the work of the Messiah he went unto death, giving his life, so that he could do for me, or so that he could fulfill for me, that service which you could not do.)

- <sup>1</sup> Henceforward, my brethren, have ye joy in the Lord. To write to you the same things, to me it is not slow, and to you it is necessary.
  - <sup>2</sup> See ye hounds, see ye evil workmen, see ye division [or concision].
- <sup>3</sup> For we be (the) circumcision, which by (the) Spirit serve to God, and glory in Christ Jesus, (or who by the Spirit serve God, and glory in, or boast about, the Messiah Jesus), and have not trust in the flesh,
- $^4$  though I have trust, yea, in the flesh. If any other man is seen to trust in the flesh, I more,

- <sup>5</sup> that was circumcised in the eighth day, of the kin [or of the kindred] of Israel, of the lineage of Benjamin, an Hebrew of Hebrews, by the law a Pharisee, (who was circumcised on the eighth day, of the kindred of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews, a Pharisee by the Law,)
- <sup>6</sup> by love pursuing the church of God, by rightwiseness that is in the law living without (com)plaint. (zealously persecuting God's church, by the righteousness that is in the Law living without any fault.)
- <sup>7</sup> But which things were to me winnings, I have deemed these impairings for Christ. (And those things which were to me winnings, now I have judged to be losses because of the Messiah.)
- <sup>8</sup> Nevertheless I guess all things to be impairment for the clear science (or for the glorious knowledge) of Jesus Christ my Lord. For whom I made all things impairment, and I deem as drit [or as turds], that I win Christ (or so that I may win the Messiah),
- <sup>9</sup> and that I be found in him, not having my rightwiseness that is of the law, but that that is of the faith of Christ Jesus, that is of God the rightwiseness in faith, (and that I be found in him, not having my righteousness that is from the Law, but the righteousness that is from faith in the Messiah Jesus, which is the righteousness from God through faith,)
- <sup>10</sup> to know him, and the virtue of his rising again, and the fellowship of his passion, and to be made like [or (to be) configured] to his death, (to know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the sharing of his suffering, and to be made like him in his death,)
- $^{11}$  if on any manner (or in any manner) I come to the resurrection that is from death. [+if on any manner I shall come to the resurrection that is of (the) dead.]
- <sup>12</sup> Not that now I have taken (hold of it), or now I am perfect; but I (pur)sue, if in any manner I comprehend [or I take (hold of)] in which thing also I am comprehended of Jesus Christ. (Not that now I have caught it, or that now I am perfect, or am completed; but I continue to pursue it, if by any means I can catch hold of that for which also I am caught by Jesus Christ.)
- <sup>13</sup> Brethren, I deem me not that I have comprehended, (or Brothers, I do not reckon that I have taken hold of it, or that I have caught it); but one thing, I forget those things that be behind, and stretching forth myself to those things that be before,
- <sup>14</sup> and pursue to the ordained meed [or to the prize] of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. (and pursue toward the ordained prize of the high calling of God in the Messiah Jesus.)
- <sup>15</sup> Therefore whoever we be perfect, feel we this thing. And if ye understand in other manner anything, this thing God shall show to you.
- <sup>16</sup> Nevertheless to what thing we have come, (so) that we understand the same thing, and that we perfectly dwell in the same rule.
- <sup>17</sup> Brethren, be ye my followers, and wait ye (on) them that walk so, as ye have our form. (Brothers, follow me, and watch those who walk so, so that ye have our form.)
- <sup>18</sup> For many walk, which I have said oft to you, but now I weeping say, [them], the enemies of Christ's cross (or the enemies of the Messiah's cross),

- <sup>19</sup> whose end is death, whose god is the womb, and the glory in [the] confusion of them, that savour [or that understand] earthly things.
- $^{20}$  But our living is in (the) heavens [or Forsooth our living is in heaven]; from whence also we abide (or we wait for) the Saviour our Lord Jesus Christ,
- <sup>21</sup> which shall reform the body of our meekness, that is made like [or (that is) configured] to the body of his clearness (or of his glory), by the working by which he may also make all things subject to him.

- <sup>1</sup>Therefore, my brethren most dearworthy and most desired, my joy and my crown, so stand ye in the Lord, most dear brethren.
  - <sup>2</sup> I pray Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, to understand the same thing in the Lord.

- <sup>3</sup> Also I pray and thee, germane fellow, help thou those women that travailed with me in the gospel, (or help those women who laboured with me in the Gospel or the Good News), with Clement and other mine helpers, whose names be in the book of life.
  - <sup>4</sup> Joy ye in the Lord (for)evermore; again I say, joy ye. (Always have joy in the Lord; again I say, have joy!)

- <sup>5</sup> Be your patience [or your temperance] known to all men; the Lord is nigh (or the Lord is near).
- <sup>6</sup> Be ye nothing busy, but in all prayer and beseeching, with doing of thankings, (or with the giving of thanks, or with thanksgiving), be your askings known at God.
- <sup>7</sup> And the peace of God, that passeth all wit, keep your hearts and understandings in Christ Jesus. (And the peace of God, which passeth all reasoning or all understanding, keep your hearts and understandings in the Messiah Jesus.)
- <sup>8</sup> From henceforth, brethren, whatever things be sooth (or whatever things be true), whatever things chaste (or pure), whatever things just, whatever things holy, whatever things able to be loved, [or amiable, or lovable], whatever things of good fame, if any virtue, if any praising of discipline, think ye (on) these things,
- <sup>9</sup> that also ye have learned, and taken, and heard, and seen in me. Do ye these things, and (the) God of peace shall be with you.
- <sup>10</sup> But I joyed greatly in the Lord, that sometime afterward ye flowered again to feel for me, as also ye feeled (before). But ye were occupied,
- <sup>11</sup> I say not as for need, for I have learned to be sufficient in which things I am.
- <sup>12</sup> And I know also how to be lowed, [or how to be bowed, or meeked], I know also how to have plenty [or how to abound], (And I know how to be humbled, and I know how to abound). Everywhere and in all things I am taught to be [full-]filled, and to hunger, and to abound, and to suffer mis-ease (or need).
- <sup>13</sup> I may all things in him that comforteth me. (I can do all things through him who strengtheneth me.)
  - <sup>14</sup> Nevertheless ye have done well, communing to my tribulation.
- <sup>15</sup> For ye, Philippians, know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I went forth from Macedonia, no church communed with me in reason, of thing given and taken, (or no other church shared things given and received with me), but ye alone.

<sup>16</sup> Which sent to Thessalonica once and twice also into use to me. (Ye who sent sustenance to Thessalonica not once but twice for my use.)

<sup>17</sup> Not for I seek (a) gift, but I require, [or (I) seek again], fruit abounding in your reason.

<sup>18</sup> For I have all things, and abound; I am [full-]filled [or replete] with those things taken of Epaphroditus (or with those things received from Epaphroditus), which ye sent into the odour of sweetness, a covenable (or a suitable) sacrifice, pleasing to God.

<sup>19</sup> And my God [ful] fill all your desire(s), by his riches in glory in Christ Jesus. (And my God shall fulfill all your desires, or shall fill all of your desires full, with his riches in glory through the Messiah Jesus.)

<sup>20</sup> But to God and our Father be glory into worlds of worlds. Amen. (But to God and our Father be glory forever and ever. Amen.)

<sup>21</sup> Greet ye well every holy man in Christ Jesus. Those brethren that be with me, greet you well. (Give hearty greetings to every saint, or to all of God's people, in the Messiah Jesus. Those brothers who be with me, send you hearty greetings.)

<sup>22</sup> All holy men greet you well, most soothly they that be of the emperor's [or of Caesar's] house. (All the saints, or all of God's people, send hearty greetings to you, most particularly those who be in the household of the Emperor.)

- <sup>1</sup> Paul, (an) apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timothy, (a)
- <sup>2</sup> to them that be at Colosse, holy and faithful brethren in Christ Jesus, grace and peace to you of God our Father and of the Lord Jesus Christ. (to those who be at Colosse, holy and faithful brothers in the Messiah Jesus, grace and peace be to you from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.)
- <sup>3</sup> We do thankings to God, and to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, (for)evermore praying for you, (We give thanks to God, and to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, always praying for you,)
- <sup>4</sup> hearing (of) your faith in Christ Jesus, and the love that ye have to all holy men, (hearing of your faith in the Messiah Jesus, and of the love that ye have for all the saints, or for all of God's people,)
- <sup>5</sup> for the hope that is kept to you in heavens. Which ye heard in the word of truth of the gospel, (for the hope which is kept for you in heaven. Which ye heard in the Word of Truth, yea, the Gospel or the Good News,)
- <sup>6</sup> that came to you, as also it is in all the world, and maketh fruit, and waxeth (or and groweth), as [it is] in you, from that day in which ye heard and knew the grace of God in truth.
- <sup>7</sup> As ye learned of Epaphras, our fellow [or our even-servant], most dearworthy, which is a true minister of Jesus Christ for you; (As ye learned from Epaphras, our fellow servant, and most dearworthy, who is a true servant of Jesus Christ for you;)
  - <sup>8</sup> which also showed to us your loving in (the) Spirit.
- <sup>9</sup> And therefore we from the day in which we heard, cease not to pray for you, and to ask, that ye be filled with the knowing of his will in all wisdom and ghostly (or spiritual) understanding;
- <sup>10</sup> (so) that ye walk worthily to God pleasing by all things, and make fruit in all good work, and wax in the science of God (or and grow in the knowledge of God),
- 11 and be comforted in all virtue, by the might of his clearness, in all patience and long abiding with joy, (and be strengthened in all power, by his glorious might, in all endurance and in long abiding with joy,)
- 12 that ye do thankings to God and to the Father, which made you worthy into the part of heritage of holy men in light. [+doing thankings to God the Father, the which made us worthy into the part of heritage of holy men in light.](so that ye give thanks to God the Father, who made you worthy to share in the inheritance of the saints, or of God's people, in the light.)
- 13 Which delivered us from the power of darknesses, and translated [us] into the kingdom of the Son of his loving,
- 14 in whom we have again-buying, and remission of sins. (in whom we have redemption, and the forgiveness of sins.)
- <sup>15</sup> Which is the image of God invisible, the first begotten of each creature. (Who is the image of the invisible God, the first-born before every created thing, or he who holdeth primacy over all Creation.)

- <sup>16</sup> For in him all things be made, in heavens and in earth, visible and invisible, either thrones, either dominations, either princehoods, either powers, all things be made of nought by him, and in him, (For in him all things be made, in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, yea, thrones, and dominions, and principalities, and powers, all things be made out of nothing, by him, and in him,)
  - <sup>17</sup> and he is before all, and all things be in him.
- <sup>18</sup> And he is (the) head of the body of the church; which is the beginning, and the first begotten of dead men, (or who is the Source, and the first-born to be raised from the dead), (so) that he hold the first dignity, in all things. [+And he is (the) head of the body of the church; the which is the beginning, or the first of all, and the first begotten of (the) dead, that he be holding primacy, or the first dignity, in (or over) all things.]
  - <sup>19</sup> For in him it pleased all plenty to inhabit,
- <sup>20</sup> and by him all things to be reconciled into him, and made peace by the blood of his cross, those things that be in earths, either that be in heavens. (and by him all things were reconciled to God, and he made peace by the blood of his cross, yea, for those things that be on earth, and those things that be in heaven.)
- $^{21}$  And when ye were sometime aliened [or made strangers], and enemies by wit, in evil works, (or and enemies in thought, and by evil works), now he hath reconciled you
- <sup>22</sup> in the body of his flesh by death, to have you holy, and unwemmed (or without spot), and without reproof before him.
- <sup>23</sup> If nevertheless ye dwell in the faith, founded, and stable, and unmoveable from the hope of the gospel that ye have heard, which is preached in all creature that is under heaven (or which is preached in all Creation that is under heaven). Of which I, Paul, am made a minister,
- <sup>24</sup> and now I have joy in passion(s) for you, and I [ful] fill those things that fail of the passions of Christ in my flesh, for his body, that is the church. (and now I have joy in my sufferings for you, and through them I fulfill that which fail of the sufferings of the Messiah in my flesh, for his body, that is the church.)
- <sup>25</sup> Of which I Paul am made (a) minister [or a servant] by the dispensation of God, that is given to me in you, that I [ful] fill the word of God,
- <sup>26</sup> the private [or the mystery] that was hid from worlds and generations. But now it is showed to his saints, (the secret that was hidden for countless generations. But now it is shown, or revealed, to God's people,)
- <sup>27</sup> to whom God would make known the riches of the glory of this sacrament in heathen men, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory. (to whom God would make known the riches of the glory of this secret among the Gentiles, which is the Messiah in you, the hope of glory.)
- <sup>28</sup> Whom we show, reproving each man, and teaching each man in all wisdom, that we offer each man perfect in Christ Jesus (or so that we offer each person complete in the Messiah Jesus).
- <sup>29</sup> In which thing also I travail, in striving by the working of him, that he worketh in me in virtue (or that he worketh in me in power).

- <sup>1</sup> But I will (or But I desire) that ye know, what busyness I have for you, and for them that be at Laodicea, and whichever saw not my face in (the) flesh.
- <sup>2</sup> that their hearts be comforted, and they be taught in charity, (or so that their hearts be strengthened, and they be taught in love), into all the riches of the plenty of understanding, into the knowing of [the] mystery of God, the Father of Jesus Christ,
- <sup>3</sup> in whom all the treasures of wisdom and of science, [or of cunning], (or of knowing), be hid. (in whom all the treasures of wisdom and of knowledge be hidden.)
- <sup>4</sup> For this thing I say, that no man deceive you in height of words. (And I say this to you, so that no one shall deceive you with high-sounding arguments.)
- <sup>5</sup> For though I be absent in body, [but] by spirit I am with you, joying and seeing your order and the firmness of your belief that is in Christ (or rejoicing and seeing your order and the firmness of your belief that is in the Messiah).
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore as ye have taken Jesus Christ our Lord, walk ye in him, (And so as ye have received Jesus Christ our Lord, now walk in him, or now live in him.)
- <sup>7</sup> and be ye rooted and builded above in him, (that is, in Christ, or the Messiah), and confirmed in the belief, as ye have learned, abounding in him in (the) doing of thankings, (or and abounding in thanksgiving, or in the giving of thanks, to him).
- <sup>8</sup> See ye that no man deceive you by philosophy and vain, (or empty and futile), fallacy, after the tradition(s) of men, after the elements of the world, and not after Christ.
  - <sup>9</sup> For in him dwelleth body-like all the fullness of the Godhead.
- $^{10}$  And ye be [ful] filled in him, that is (the) head of all principat and power.
- <sup>11</sup> In whom also ye be circumcised in (a) circumcision not made with hand(s), in (the) despoiling [or in (the) nakedness] of the body of flesh, but in (the) circumcision of, (or made by), Christ;
- <sup>12</sup> and ye be buried together with him in baptism, in whom also ye have risen again by (the) faith of the working of God, that raised him from death [or that raised him from (the) dead].
- <sup>13</sup> And when ye were dead in your guilts, and in the prepuce of your flesh, he quickened together you with him; forgiving to you all guilts [or all (your) trespasses], (And when ye were dead in your trespasses, and in the uncircumcision of your flesh, or with your flesh uncircumcised, he enlivened you with Him; forgiving all of your trespasses,)
- <sup>14</sup> doing away that writing of (the) decree that was against us, that was contrary to us; and he took away that from the middle, pitching it (or fixing it) on the cross;
- $^{15}$  and he spoiled principats and powers, and led out trustily, openly overcoming them in himself.
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore no man judge you in meat, or in drink, or in part of feast day, or of new moon, or of sabbaths, (And so let no man judge you about food, or drink, or taking part in Feast Days, or about new moons, or about the Sabbath.)

- <sup>17</sup> which be (but a) shadow of things to coming [or which be (but a) shadow of things to come]; for the body is of Christ.
- 18 (Let) No man deceive you, willing to teach in meekness (or with humility), and [the] religion of angels, those things which he hath not seen, walking vainly, swollen [or in-blown] with (the) wit of his flesh (or with a worldly mind),
- <sup>19</sup> and not holding the head, of which all the body, by bands and joinings together under-ministered and made, waxeth into [the] increasing of God.
- <sup>20</sup> For if ye be dead with Christ from the elements of the world, what yet as men living to the world deem ye? (For if ye be with the Messiah, and so dead to the elements of the world, then why do ye judge like men still living in the world?)
  - <sup>21</sup> That ye touch not, neither taste, neither treat with hands those things,
- <sup>22</sup> which all be into death by that use, after the commandments and teachings of men;
- <sup>23</sup> which have a reason of wisdom in vain religion [or in superstition] and meekness, and not to spare the body, not in any honour to the fulfilling of the flesh.

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore if ye have risen together with Christ, seek ye those things that be above, where Christ is sitting on the right half of God, (or at the right hand, or on the right side, of God).
- <sup>2</sup> Savour ye [or Understand ye] those things that be above, not those (things) that be on the earth.
  - <sup>3</sup> For ye be dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.
- $^4$  For when Christ shall appear, (who is) your life, then also ye shall appear with him in glory.
- <sup>5</sup> Therefore slay ye your members, which be on the earth, fornication, uncleanness, lechery, evil covetousness, and avarice (or greed), which is (the) service of maumets, [or of simulacra], (or which is being in service to idols);
  - <sup>6</sup> for which things the wrath of God came on the sons of unbelief;
- <sup>7</sup> in which also ye walked sometime, when ye lived in them (or when ye lived among them).
- <sup>8</sup> But now put ye away all things, wrath, indignation, malice, blasphemy and foul words of your mouth.
- $^9$  Do not ye lie,  $[or\ gab]$ , together; despoil ye you(rselves) from the old man with his deeds,
- <sup>10</sup> and clothe ye the new man, that is made new again into the knowing of God, after the image of him that made him;
- <sup>11</sup> where is not male and female, heathen man and Jew, circumcision and prepuce, barbarous and Scythian, bondman and free, but all things and in all things Christ. (where there is not male and female, Gentile and Jew, circumcised and uncircumcised, barbarian and Scythian, slave and free man, but the Messiah is all and in all.)

- $^{12}$  Therefore ye, as the chosen of God, holy and loved, clothe [ye] you with the entrails of mercy, benignity, and meekness (or humility), temperance, patience;
- <sup>13</sup> and support ye each one (the) other, [or bearing up together], and forgive to yourselves, if any man against any (other) hath a quarrel; as the Lord [Christ] forgave to you, so also ye. (and support one another, and forgive each other, if anyone hath a quarrel against another; like the Lord Messiah forgave you, so ye also should forgive.)
- <sup>14</sup> And upon all these things have ye charity (or love), that is the bond of perfectness [or the bond of perfection].
- <sup>15</sup> And the peace of Christ enjoy in your hearts, in which ye be called in one body, and be ye kind.
- <sup>16</sup> The word of Christ dwell in you plenteously, in all wisdom; and teach and admonish yourselves in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, in grace singing in your hearts to the Lord. (Let the Messiah's words remain plentifully in you, providing all wisdom; and teach and admonish each other with psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing with thanksgiving in your hearts to the Lord.)
- <sup>17</sup> All thing(s), whatever thing ye do, in word or in deed, all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, doing thankings to God and to the Father by him, [or doing thankings to God the Father by him], (or giving thanks to God the Father through him).
  - <sup>18</sup> Women, be ye subject to your husbands, as it behooveth in the Lord.
  - <sup>19</sup> Men, love ye your wives, and do not ye be bitter to them.
- <sup>20</sup> Sons, obey ye to your father and mother by all things [or in all things]; for this is well pleasing in the Lord. (Sons, obey your father and mother in everything, for this is greatly pleasing to the Lord.)
- $^{21}$  Fathers, do not ye provoke your sons to indignation, (so) that they be not made feeble-hearted.
- <sup>22</sup> Servants, obey ye by all things to fleshly lords, not serving at the eye, as pleasing to men, but in simpleness of heart, dreading the Lord [God], (or but with an honest, or a sincere, heart, having fearful reverence for the Lord).
- <sup>23</sup> Whatever ye do, work ye of will as to the Lord and not to men; (Whatever ye do, do it or work it with the thought that it is done for the Lord and not for men;)
- <sup>24</sup> witting that of the Lord ye shall take yielding of heritage. Serve ye to the Lord Christ. (knowing that from the Lord ye shall receive your inheritance as a reward. Serve the Lord Messiah.)
- <sup>25</sup> For he that doeth injury [or wrong] shall receive that that he did evil; and (the) acception [or (the) taking] of persons is not with God, (or and the favouring of persons is not done by God).

- <sup>1</sup> Lords, give ye to (your) servants that that is just and even (or what is just and fair), witting (or knowing) that also ye have a Lord in heaven.
- <sup>2</sup> Be ye busy in prayer, and wake in it, in doing of thankings; (Be diligent in prayer, and be watchful in it, and in thanksgiving, or in the giving of thanks:)

- <sup>3</sup> and pray each for (the) other, and for us, that God open to us the door of word, to speak the mystery of Christ; for which also I am bound, (and pray for one another, and for us, that God would open for us the door, or the occasion, to preach, yea, to speak about the secret of the Messiah; for which I am now in prison,)
  - <sup>4</sup> that I show it, so as it behooveth me to speak.
- <sup>5</sup> Walk ye in wisdom to them that be withoutforth, again-buying (the) time. (Walk with wisdom, or Show wisdom, to those who be outside, redeeming the time.)
- <sup>6</sup> Your word be savoured with salt (for) evermore in grace; that ye know, how it behooveth you to answer to each man. (Let your words always be gracious, and savoured with salt; so that ye know, how it behooveth you to answer to everyone.)
- <sup>7</sup> Tychicus, most dear brother, and faithful minister, and my fellow [or my even-servant] in the Lord, (or Tychicus, most dear brother, and faithful minister, and my fellow servant in the Lord), shall make all things known to you, that be about me.
- <sup>g</sup> Whom I sent to you to this same thing, (so) that he know what things be about you, and comfort your hearts,
- <sup>9</sup> with Onesimus, most dear and faithful brother, which is of you (or who is one of you); which shall make all things that be done here, known to you.
- <sup>10</sup> Aristarchus, (a) prisoner with me [or mine even-captive], greeteth you well (or sendeth you hearty greetings), and Marcus, the cousin of Barnabas, of whom ye have taken commandments; if he come to you, receive ye him;
- <sup>11</sup> and Jesus, that is said Justus; which be of (the) circumcision; they alone be mine helpers in the kingdom of God, that were to me in solace. (and Jesus, who is also called Justus; all of whom be of the circumcision; they alone be my helpers in the Kingdom of God, and were a great solace to me.)

me.)

12 Epaphras, that is of you, the servant of Jesus Christ, greeteth you well (or sendeth you hearty greetings); ever busy for you in prayers, (so) that ye stand perfect and full in all the will of God.

- <sup>13</sup> And I bear witnessing to him, that he hath much travail for you, and for them that be at Laodicea, and that be at Hierapolis. (And I testify about him, that he hath laboured much for you, and for those who be at Laodicea, and who be at Hierapolis.)
- <sup>14</sup> Luke, the leech, most dear, and Demas, greet you well. (Luke, the most dear physician, and Demas, send you hearty greetings.)
- <sup>15</sup> Greet ye well the brethren that be at Laodicea (or Give hearty greetings to the brothers who be at Laodicea), and the woman Nymphas, and the church that is in her house, [or and Nymphas, and the church that is in his house].
- <sup>16</sup> And when this epistle is read among you, do ye, that it be read in the church of (the) Laodiceans; and read ye that epistle that is of (the) Laodiceans.
- <sup>17</sup> And say ye to Archippus, See the ministry, that thou hast taken in the Lord (or that thou hast received from the Lord), that thou [ful] fill it.
- <sup>18</sup> My salutation, by the hand of Paul. Be ye mindful of my bonds. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

1ST THESSALONIANS

<sup>1</sup> Paul, and Silvanus, and Timothy, to the church of (the) Thessalonians, in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ, grace and peace (be) to you.

<sup>2</sup> We do thankings to God (for) evermore for all (of) you, and we make mind of you in our prayers without ceasing; (We always give thanks to God for all of you, and we remember you in our prayers without ceasing;)

- <sup>3</sup> having mind of the work of your faith [+or mindful of the work of your faith], and travail, and charity, and abiding of the hope of our Lord Jesus Christ, before God and our Father. (remembering the work of your faith, and your labour, and your love, and the endurance of your hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, before God and our Father.)
- <sup>4</sup> Ye beloved brethren of God, we witting your choosing, (You beloved brothers in God, we knowing of your choosing, or of your election,)
- <sup>5</sup> for our gospel was not at you in word only, but also in virtue, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much plenty; as ye know, which we were among you for you; (and so we brought you the Gospel or the Good News, not in words alone, but also in power, and in the Holy Spirit, or but also in the power of the Holy Spirit, and with great certitude; and ye know, what manner of men we were when we were among you for your own sakes;)
- <sup>6</sup> and ye be made followers of us, and of the Lord, receiving the word in much tribulation, with joy of the Holy Ghost, (or with joy in the Holy Spirit or from the Holy Spirit):

<sup>7</sup> so that ye be made (an) ensample to all men that believe, in Macedonia and in Achaia.

- <sup>8</sup> For of you the word of the Lord is published [or is much told (out)], not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but your faith that is to God, in each place is gone forth, [or but in each place your faith that is to God, is gone forth]; so that it is not need(ful) to us to speak anything (or so that it is not needed or necessary for us to say anything more).
- <sup>9</sup> For they show of you, what manner entry we had to you, and how ye be converted to God from maumets [or from simulacra], to serve to the living God and very; (For they tell about you, and how we visited you, and thereafter how ye be turned from idols, to serve the living and true God;)
- <sup>10</sup> and to abide his Son from heavens (or and to wait for his Son to come from heaven), whom he raised from death, the Lord Jesus, that delivered us from (the) wrath to coming. [and for to abide his son from heavens, whom he raised from (the) dead, Jesus, that delivered us from (the) wrath to come.]

- <sup>1</sup> For, brethren, ye know our entry to you, for it was not (in) vain;
- <sup>2</sup> but first we suffered, and were punished with wrongs, as ye know in Philippi, and had trust in our Lord, to speak to you the gospel of God in much busyness (or to tell you about the Gospel, or the Good News, of God with much diligence).
- <sup>3</sup> And our exhortation [or our teaching] is not of error, neither of uncleanness, neither in guile,

- <sup>4</sup> but as we be *(ap)*proved of God, that the gospel of God should be taken to us, so we speak, (or but as we be approved by God, that the Gospel, or the Good News, of God should be given to us, and so we speak); not as pleasing to men, but to God that proveth our hearts.
- <sup>5</sup> For neither we were any time in word(s) of glossing [or of flattering], as ye know, neither in occasion of avarice (or nor as an occasion for greed); God is (our) witness;
- <sup>6</sup> neither seeking glory of men, neither of you, neither of others, when we, as Christ's apostles, might have been in charge to you. (neither seeking praise from people, nor from you, nor from others, when we, as Christ's apostles, might have been in charge of you or might have been a burden to you.)[neither seeking glory of men, neither of you, neither of others, when we might have been chargeous (or burdensome) to you, as Christ's apostles.]
- $^{7}\,\mathrm{But}$  we were made little in the middle of you, as if a nurse foster her sons;
- <sup>8</sup> so we desiring you with great love, would have betaken to you not only the gospel of God (or would have delivered to you not only the Gospel, or the Good News, of God), but also our lives, for ye be made most dearworthy to us.
- <sup>9</sup> For, brethren, ye be mindful of our travail and weariness; we worked night and day, that we should not grieve any of you, and preached to you the gospel of God. (Because, brothers, ye remember our labour and our weariness; yea, we worked night and day, so that we would not grieve any of you, and preached to you the Gospel, or the Good News, of God.)
- <sup>10</sup> God and ye be witnesses, how holily (or how devoutly), and justly, and without *(com)*plaint [or quarrel], we were to you that believed.
- <sup>11</sup> As ye know, how we prayed you (or how we beseeched you), and comforted each of you, as the father his sons,
- $^{12}$  and we have witnessed (or and we have testified), that ye should go worthily to God, that called you into his kingdom and glory.
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore we do thankings to God without ceasing. For when ye had taken of us the word of the hearing of God, ye took it not as the word of men, but as it is verily, the word of God, that worketh in you that have believed. (And so we give thanks to God without ceasing. Because when ye had received from us the word of God, which ye heard, ye took it not as the word of men, but as it truly is, the word of God, which worketh in you who have believed.)
- <sup>14</sup> For, brethren, ye be made followers of the churches of God, that be in Judea, in Christ Jesus, for ye have suffered the same things of your evenlineages, as they of the Jews, (or and ye have suffered the same things from your fellow countrymen, as they have from the Jews).
- $^{15}$  Which slew both the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and pursued us (or and persecuted us), and they please not to God, and they be adversaries to all men;
- <sup>16</sup> forbidding us to speak to heathen men, that they be made safe, that they [full-]fill their sins (for)evermore; for the wrath of God came on them into the end. (forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles, so that they can be saved, so that they fill their sins full forevermore; but God's wrath hath come upon them in the end.)

- <sup>17</sup> And, brethren, we desolate from you for a time, by mouth and in beholding, [as in presence], but not in heart, have hied more plenteously to see your face with great desire.
- <sup>18</sup> For we would come to you, yea, I, Paul, once and again, but Satan hindered us.
- 19 For why what is our hope, or joy, or crown of glory? Whether ye be not before our Lord Jesus Christ in his coming? (or Shall it not be you, when we stand before our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?)
  - <sup>20</sup> For ye be our glory and joy. (Yea, ye be our glory and our joy.)

- <sup>1</sup> For which thing we suffered (it) no longer, and it pleased to us to dwell alone at Athens; (For which thing we could no longer bear it, and it pleased us to remain alone at Athens;)
- <sup>2</sup> and we sent Timothy, our brother, and minister of God in the evangel of Christ, (or and so we sent Timothy, our brother, and the servant of God in the Gospel, or the Good News, of the Messiah), to you to be confirmed, and to be taught, [or admonished], for your faith,
- <sup>3</sup> that no man be moved in these tribulations (or so that no one be moved, or be shaken, by these troubles). For [ye] yourselves know, that in this thing we be set.
- <sup>4</sup> For when we were at you, we before-said to you, that we should suffer tribulations; as it is (now) done, and ye know (it). (For when we were with you, we said ahead of time to you, or we warned you, that we would suffer troubles; as it is now done, and ye know it.)
- <sup>5</sup> Therefore I, Paul, no longer abiding, sent to know your faith, lest peradventure he that tempteth [shall] tempt you, and your travail be made (in) vain [or and our travail be made (in) vain]. (And so I, Paul, no longer waiting, sent to know your faith, lest perhaps he who testeth shall test you, and my labour be made in vain.)
- <sup>6</sup> But now, when Timothy shall come to us from you, and (shall) tell to us your faith and charity, and that ye have good mind of us, (for)ever[more] desiring to see us, as we also you; [Now forsooth Timothy coming to us from you, and telling to us your faith and charity, and for ye have evermore good mind of us, desiring for to see us, as we also you;](But now, Timothy hath come back to us from you, and hath told us about your faith and love, and that ye have a fond remembrance of us, always desiring to see us, as we also you;)
- <sup>7</sup> therefore, brethren, we be comforted in you, in all our need and tribulation, by your faith. (and so, brothers, we be strengthened by you, in all our need and troubles, by your faith.)
  - $^{\rm 8}$  For now we live, if ye stand in the Lord.
- <sup>9</sup> For what doing of thankings may we yield to God for you (or For what doing of thanks can we give to God for you), in all joy, in which we joy for you before our Lord?
- <sup>10</sup> night and day more plenteously praying, that we see your face, and fulfill those things that fail to your faith [or and fulfill those things that fail of your faith].

- <sup>11</sup> But God himself and our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ, (ad)dress our way to you. (But God himself and our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way to you.)
- <sup>12</sup> And the Lord multiply you, and make your charity to be plenteous of each to (the) other [or and make your charity for to abound together], and into all men, as also we in you; (And may the Lord make your love for one another be plentiful, or to abound more and more, and for all men, as also we for you, or and also our love for you;)
- 13 that your hearts be confirmed without (com)plaint in holiness, before God and our Father, in the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints. Amen. (so that your hearts be confirmed in holiness without fault or blemish, before God and our Father, in the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his people. Amen.)

- $^{1}$  Therefore, brethren, from henceforward we pray you, and beseech in the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us (or that as ye have received from us), how it behooveth you to go and to please God, so walk ye, (so) that ye abound more.
- $^{2}\ \mathrm{For}\ \mathrm{ye}\ \mathrm{know}\ \mathrm{what}\ \mathrm{commandments}\ \mathrm{I}\ \mathrm{have}\ \mathrm{given}\ \mathrm{to}\ \mathrm{you}\ \mathrm{by}\ \mathrm{the}\ \mathrm{Lord}\ \mathrm{Jesus}.$
- <sup>3</sup> For this is the will of God, (yea), your holiness, that ye abstain you(rselves) from fornication.
- <sup>4</sup> That each of you know how to wield his vessel in holiness, and honour; (So that each of you know how to control his body with holiness, and with honour;)
- <sup>5</sup> not in (the) passion(s) of lust, as (the) heathen men that know not God. (not in lustful passions, like the Gentiles who do not know God.)
- <sup>6</sup> And that no man over-go, neither deceive his brother, in chaffering. For the Lord is (the)(a)venger of all these things, as we before-said to you, and have witnessed. (And that no one overreach, or take advantage of, or deceive his brother, in merchandising or in trading. For the Lord is the avenger of all these things, as we said to you before, or as we warned you, and have so testified.)
  - <sup>7</sup> For God called not us into uncleanness, but into holiness.
- <sup>8</sup> Therefore he that despiseth these things, despiseth not man, but God, that also gave his Holy Spirit in us (or who also gave us his Holy Spirit).
- <sup>9</sup> But of the charity of brotherhood, we had no need to write to you; ye yourselves have learned of God, that ye love together; (But about the love for the brotherhood, we had no need to write to you; ye yourselves have learned from God, that ye should love one another;)
- <sup>10</sup> for ye do that into all (the) brethren in all (of) Macedonia. And, brethren, we pray you, that ye abound more; (and in fact ye do love all the brothers in all of Macedonia. And, brothers, we beseech you, that ye abound all the more;)
- 11 and take keep, that ye be quiet, [or and give work, or busyness, that ye be quiet], (or and take care, that ye be calm, or that ye live quietly); and that ye do your need, and that ye work with your [own] hands, as we have commanded to you;

- <sup>12</sup> and that ye wander honestly to them that be withoutforth, and that of no man ye desire anything. (and that ye walk honestly, or properly, with those who be outside of us, and that ye desire nothing from anyone.)
- <sup>13</sup> For, brethren, we will not, that ye unknow of men that die, that ye be not sorrowful, as others that have not hope. (And, brothers, we do not desire, that ye do not know about men who die, so that ye do not sorrow, like others who have no hope.)
- <sup>14</sup> For if we believe, that Jesus was dead, and rose again, so God shall lead with him them that be dead by Jesus. (For we believe, that Jesus died, and rose again, and so God shall bring back with him those who have died as believers.)
- <sup>15</sup> And we say this thing to you in the word of the Lord, that we that live, that be left in the coming of the Lord, shall not come before them that be dead. (And we say this to you by the word of the Lord, that we who live, who be left alive until the coming, or the return, of the Lord, shall not go before those who have died.)
- <sup>16</sup> For the Lord himself shall come down from heaven, in the commandment [or in the commanding], and in the voice of an archangel, and in the trump of God; and the dead men that be in Christ, shall rise again first. (For the Lord himself shall come down from heaven, at the command, and with the voice of an archangel, and with the trumpet of God; and the dead who believe in the Messiah, shall rise again first.)
- <sup>17</sup> Afterward we that live, that be left, shall be ravished together with them in (the) clouds, meeting Christ in the air; and so *(for)*evermore we shall be with the Lord. (Afterward we who live, who be left alive, shall be snatched up together with those in the clouds, meeting the Messiah in the air; and then forevermore, we shall be with the Lord.)
- $^{18}$  Therefore be ye comforted together in these words. (And so comfort ye or strengthen one another with these words.)

- $^{\mathrm{1}}$  But, brethren, of times and moments ye need not that I write to you.
- <sup>2</sup> For ye yourselves know diligently, that the day of the Lord shall come, as a thief in the night. (For ye yourselves assuredly know, that the Day of the Lord shall come, like a thief in the night.)
- $^3$  For when they shall say peace is, and secureness, then sudden death shall come on them [+or then suddenly perishing shall come on them], as sorrow to a woman that is with child, and they shall not escape.
- <sup>4</sup> But, brethren, ye be not in darknesses, that that day as a thief catch you. (But, brothers, ye do not be in darkness, so that that day shall catch you like a thief.)
- <sup>5</sup> For all ye be the sons of light, and sons of [the] day; we be not of night, neither of darknesses. (For all of ye be the children of the light, and the children of the day; we do not be of the night, nor of the darkness.)
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore sleep we not as others; but wake we, and be we sober. (And so let us not sleep like others; but watch, and be resolute.)
- $^{7}\,\mathrm{For}$  they that sleep, sleep in the night, and they that be drunken, be drunken in the night.

<sup>8</sup> But we that be of the day, be sober, clothed in the habergeon of faith and of charity, and in the helmet of hope of health. (But we who be of the day, be resolute, clothed in the breastplate of faith and of love, and in the helmet of the hope of salvation.)

<sup>9</sup> For God putted not us into wrath, but into the purchasing of health (or but unto the getting of salvation), by our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>10</sup> that was dead for us (or who died for us); (so) that whether we wake, whether we sleep, we live together with him.

<sup>11</sup> For which thing comfort ye together (or For which thing strengthen ye one another), and edify ye each other, as ye do.

- <sup>12</sup> And, brethren, we pray you, that ye know them that travail among you, and be sovereigns to you [or be before to you] in the Lord, and (who) teach you, (And, brothers, we beseech you, that ye acknowledge and honour those who labour among you, and be your leaders in the Lord, and who teach you,)
- <sup>13</sup> that ye have them more abundantly in charity (or and that ye have more love for them); and for the work of them, have ye peace with them.
- <sup>14</sup> And, brethren, we pray you, reprove unpeaceable men, [or reprove ye, or chastise, unquiet men]. Comfort ye men of little heart, receive ye sick men, be ye patient to all men. (And, brothers, we beseech you, rebuke the unpeaceable, or chastise the troublesome. Strengthen men of faint heart, receive the frail, or support the weak, and be patient with all men.)
- <sup>15</sup> See ye, that no man yield evil for evil to any man; but (for)evermore (pur)sue ye that that is good, each to (the) other, and to all men. (Ensure, that no one give back evil for evil to anyone; but always pursue that which is good, for one another, and for all people.)

- <sup>18</sup> in all things do ye thankings. For this is the will of God in Christ Jesus, in all you. (in all things give thanks. For this is the will of God in the Messiah Jesus, for all of you.)
  - <sup>19</sup> Do not ye quench the Spirit,

 $^{21}$  But prove ye all things, and hold ye (fast, or firm), (to) that thing that is good.

<sup>22</sup> Abstain [ye] you(rselves) from all evil species, [or (all evil) likeness]. (Absent yourselves from anything that hath even the appearance of evil.)

- <sup>23</sup> And God himself of peace make you holy by all things, that your spirit be kept whole, and soul, and body, without (com)plaint, in the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (And God himself, the God of peace, make you holy in everything, so that your spirit, and your soul, and your body, be kept whole, yea, without fault, into the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.)
- <sup>24</sup> God is true, that called you, which also shall do [(a) work of grace in you].

- <sup>26</sup> Greet ye well all (the) brethren in (a) holy kiss. (Give hearty greetings to all the brothers with a holy kiss.)
- <sup>27</sup> I charge you by the Lord, that this epistle be read to all (of the) holy brethren.

 $^{28}$  The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

2ND THESSALONIANS

- $^{1}$  Paul, and Silvanus, and Timothy, to the church of (the) Thessalonians, in God our Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ,
- $^2$  grace (be) to you and (the) peace of God, our Father, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
- <sup>3</sup> We owe to do thankings (for)evermore to God for you, brethren, so as it is worthy, for your faith over-waxeth [or ever-waxeth], and the charity of each of you to (the) other aboundeth. (We ought to always give thanks to God for you, brothers, for it is worthy to do so, for your faith ever-increaseth, and the love each of you have for the other aboundeth, or and the love you have for one another aboundeth.)

<sup>4</sup> So that we us-selves glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations. Which ye sustain

- <sup>5</sup> into the ensample of the just doom of God, that ye be had worthy in the kingdom of God, for which ye suffer. (as an example of the righteous judgement of God, so that ye become worthy of the Kingdom of God, for which ye suffer.)
- $^{\rm 6}$  If nevertheless it is just before God to requite tribulation to them that trouble you,
- <sup>7</sup> and to you that be troubled, rest with us in the showing of the Lord Jesus from heaven, with (the) angels of his virtue (or with the angels of his power),
- <sup>8</sup> in the flame of fire, that shall give vengeance to them that know not God, and that obey not to the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. (in the flames of fire, who shall give vengeance to those who do not know God, and who do not obey the Gospel, or the Good News, of our Lord Jesus Christ.)

<sup>9</sup> Which shall suffer everlasting pains, in perishing from the face of the Lord, and from the glory of his virtue (or and from the glory of his power),

<sup>10</sup> when he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be made wonderful in all men that believed, for our witnessing is believed on you, in that day. (when he shall come to be glorified among his people, and to be held wonderful among all those who believe, for ye have believed our testimony, on that Day.)

<sup>11</sup> In which thing also we pray (for)evermore for you, that our God make you worthy to his calling, and [ful] fill all the will of his goodness, and the work of faith in virtue; (In which thing also we always pray for you, that our God make you worthy of his calling, and fulfill all the purpose, or all the intention, of his goodness, and the work of faith in power;)

<sup>12</sup> that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ be clarified in you (or so that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ be glorified in you), and ye in him, by the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER 2

<sup>1</sup> But, brethren, we pray you by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and of our congregation into the same coming [or and our congregation into the same thing],

- <sup>2</sup> that ye be not moved soon from your wit, neither be afeared, (or that ye be not soon moved away from your reason, nor be made afraid), neither by spirit, neither by word, neither by epistle as sent by us, as if the day of the Lord be nigh.
- <sup>3</sup> (Let) No man deceive you in any manner. For but dissension [or departing away] come first, and the man of sin be showed, the son of perdition,
- <sup>4</sup> that is (the) adversary, and is enhanced over all thing that is said God, or that is worshipped, so that he sit in the temple of God, and show himself as if he were God. (that is the Adversary, and he is exalted over all that is called a god, or that is worshipped, so that he even sit in God's Temple, and show himself as if he were God.)
- <sup>5</sup> Whether ye hold not, that yet when I was at you, I said these things to you? (Do ye not remember, that while I was still with you, I said these things to you?)

<sup>6</sup> And now what withholdeth, [or letteth], (or hindereth), [him], ye know,

(so) that he be showed in his time.

- <sup>7</sup> For the private, [or the mystery], (or the secret), of wickedness worketh now; (so) only that he that holdeth (onto it) now, hold (firm), till he be done away.
- <sup>8</sup> And then that wicked man shall be showed, whom the Lord Jesus shall slay with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with (the) lightening, [or the illumining, or (the) shining], of his coming;

<sup>9</sup> him, whose coming is by the working of Satan, in all virtue (or in all power), and signs (or miracles), and great wonders, false, [or leasing (or lying)],

- <sup>10</sup> and in all deceit of wickedness, to them that perish. For that they received not the charity of (the) truth, that they should be made safe, (or Because they have not received the love of the truth, so that they could be saved).
- <sup>11</sup> And therefore God shall send to them a working of error, that they believe to leasing (or so that they believe the lie),

12 that all be deemed, [or be damned], (or condemned), which believed not to truth, (or so that all be judged, who did not believe the truth), but consented to wickedness.

- <sup>13</sup> But, brethren (be)loved of God, we owe to do thankings (for)evermore to God for you, that God chose us the first fruits into health, in (the) hallowing of (the) Spirit and in (the) faith of (the) truth; (But, brothers beloved by God, we ought to always give thanks to God for you, because God chose all of us as the first fruits unto salvation, by the sanctifying of the Spirit and by faith in the truth;)
- <sup>14</sup> in which also he called you by our gospel, (or in which he also called you by the Gospel, or the Good News, which we brought), into the getting of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.
- <sup>15</sup>Therefore, brethren, stand ye, (or And so, brothers, stand), and hold ye the traditions, that ye have learned, either by word, either by our epistle.
- <sup>16</sup> And our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father, which loved us (or who loved us), and gave everlasting comfort and good hope in grace,
- <sup>17</sup> stir [or admonish] your hearts, and confirm [you] in all good work and word.

<sup>1</sup> Brethren, from henceforward pray ye for us, that the word of God run, and be clarified (or and be glorified), as it is with you;

<sup>2</sup> and that we be delivered from noxious (or harmful) and evil men; for faith is not of (or in) all men.

- <sup>3</sup> But the Lord is true, that shall confirm you, and shall keep [us] from evil.
- <sup>4</sup> And, brethren, we trust of you in the Lord, for whatever things we command to you, both ye do and shall do.
- <sup>5</sup> And the Lord (ad)dress your hearts, in the charity of God, and in the patience of Christ. (And the Lord direct your hearts, in the love of God, and in the endurance of the Messiah.)
- <sup>6</sup> But, brethren, we announce to you in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw you(rselves) from each brother that wandereth out of order, [or against good order], and not after the teaching, that they received of us. (But, brothers, we command you in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from each brother who walketh, or who goeth, out of order, or against good order, and not after the teaching, that they received from us.)
- <sup>7</sup> For ye yourselves know, how it behooveth to *(pur)*sue us (or how it behooveth to follow us). For we were not unpeaceable [or unquiet] among you,
- <sup>8</sup> neither without our own travail, we ate bread of any man, but in travail and weariness wrought night and day, that we grieved none of you. (nor without our own work, did we eat anyone's bread, but with labour and in weariness worked night and day, so that we grieved none of you.)
- <sup>9</sup> Not as we had not power, but that we should give us-selves ensample to you to (pur)sue us. (Not as though we did not have the power, but so that we could give ourselves as an example for you to follow.)
- <sup>10</sup> For also when we were among you, we announced (or we commanded) this thing to you, that if any man will not work, neither eat he.
- <sup>11</sup> For we have heard that some among you go unrestfully, [or unquietly, or unpeaceably], and nothing work, but do curiously.
- $^{12}$  But we announce (or command) to them that be such men, and beseech in the Lord Jesus Christ, that they work with silence, and eat their own bread.
  - <sup>13</sup> But do not ye, brethren, fail well-doing.
- <sup>14</sup> (So) That if any man obey not to our word [sent] by (this) epistle, mark ye him, and commune ye not with him, (so) that he be ashamed;
- <sup>15</sup> and do not ye guess him as an enemy, but reprove ye him as a brother. (but do not think of him like an enemy, but rebuke him like a brother.)
- $^{16}$  And God himself of peace give to you everlasting peace in all place(s). The Lord be with you all.
- $^{17}\,\mathrm{My}$  salutation by the hand of Paul; which sign in each epistle I write thus.
  - <sup>18</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

1ST TIMOTHY

- <sup>1</sup> Paul, [the] apostle of Jesus Christ, by the commandment of God our Saviour, and of Jesus Christ our hope,
- <sup>2</sup> to Timothy, beloved son in the faith, grace and mercy and (the) peace, of God the Father, and of Jesus Christ, our Lord.
- <sup>3</sup> As I prayed thee, that thou shouldest dwell at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou shouldest command to some men, that they should not teach (any) other way,
- <sup>4</sup> neither give attention to fables and genealogies that be uncertain [or without end], which give questions, more than edification of God, that is in the faith.
- <sup>5</sup> For the end of the commandment is (the) charity of (a) clean heart, and good conscience, and of faith not feigned. (For the goal of this command is the love of a pure heart, and a good conscience, and true and sincere faith.)
- <sup>6</sup> From which things some men have erred, and be turned into vain speech;
- $^{7}$  and will to be teachers of the law (or and desire to be teachers of the Law), and understand not what things they speak, neither of what things they affirm.
  - <sup>8</sup> And we know that the law is good, if any man use it lawfully;
- <sup>9</sup> and witting this thing, that the law is not set [or is not put] to a just man, but to unjust men and not subject, to wicked men and to sinners, to cursed men and defouled, to slayers of father, and slayers of mother, to manslayers (and knowing this, that the Law is not made, or it is not ordained, for a good man, but for evil men and those disobedient, for wicked men and for sinners, for cursed men and defiled men, for killers of father, and killers of mother, for manslayers)
- <sup>10</sup> and lechers, to them that do lechery with men, leasing-mongers and forsworn, and if any other thing is contrary to the wholesome teaching, [+and fornicators, to them that trespass with males against kind, sellers, or stealers, of men, to leasing-mongers and to forsworn men, and if any other thing is contrary to wholesome teaching,](and lechers, for those who do lechery with men, for liars and perjurers, and if any other thing is contrary to the wholesome teaching,)
- <sup>11</sup> that is after the gospel of the glory of blessed God, which is betaken to me. (that is found in the Gospel or the Good News of the glory of the blessed God, or of the glorious and the blessed God, which was delivered to me.)
- <sup>12</sup> I do thankings to him, that comforted me in Christ Jesus our Lord, for he guessed me faithful, and put me in ministry, (I give thanks to him, who strengthened me, yea, the Messiah Jesus our Lord, for he believed me to be faithful, and set me in service,)
- <sup>13</sup> that first was a blasphemer, and a pursuer, and full of wrongs. But I have gotten the mercy of God, for I unknowing(ly) did in unbelief. (who before was a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and full of wrongs. But I have received God's mercy, for I unknowingly acted in unbelief, or out of ignorance.)

- <sup>14</sup> But the grace of our Lord over-abounded, with faith and love that is in Christ Jesus. (But the grace of our Lord was most plentiful, with the faith and love which is ours in the Messiah Jesus.)
- <sup>15</sup> A true word and worthy (of) all receiving, for Christ Jesus came into this world to make sinful men safe, of which I am the first. (Here is a true word and worthy of all acceptance, that the Messiah Jesus came into this world to save sinful men, of whom I am the first or of whom I am the worst.)
- <sup>16</sup> But therefore I have gotten mercy, that Christ Jesus should show in me first all patience, to the informing of them that shall believe to him into everlasting life. (And so I have received mercy, so that the Messiah Jesus could first show in me all his patience, for the informing of those who shall believe in him unto eternal life.)
- <sup>17</sup> And to the king of worlds, undeadly, and invisible God alone, be honour and glory into worlds of worlds. Amen. (And to the King of all the worlds, or the eternal King, immortal, and invisible God alone, be honour and glory forever and ever. Amen.)
- <sup>18</sup> I betake this commandment to thee, thou son Timothy, after the prophecies that have been heretofore in thee, that thou travail [or fight] in them a good travail,
- <sup>19</sup> having faith and good conscience, which some men cast away, and perished about the faith. (having faith and a good conscience, which some men threw away, and perished amid their faith.)
- <sup>20</sup> Of which is Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I betook to Satan (or whom I delivered unto Satan), (so) that they learn not to blaspheme.

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore I beseech first of all things, that beseechings, prayers, askings, (and) doing of thankings, (or and thanksgiving, or the giving of thanks), be made for all men,
- <sup>2</sup> for kings and all that be set in highness, (so) that we (can) lead a quiet and a peaceable life, in all piety and chastity.
- <sup>3</sup> For this thing is good and accepted before God, our Saviour, (For this is something good and acceptable before God, our Saviour,)
- <sup>4</sup> that will that all men be made safe (or who desireth that all men be saved), and that they come to the knowing of (the) truth.
- <sup>5</sup> For one God and one mediator is of God and of men, a man Christ Jesus, (For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, a man, the Messiah Jesus,)
- <sup>6</sup> that gave himself (as a) redemption for all men. Whose witnessing is confirmed in his times; (who gave himself for the redemption of all men. Whose testimony was confirmed in his time or at his time;)
- <sup>7</sup> in which I am set a preacher and an apostle. For I say (the) truth [in Christ Jesus], and I lie not, that am a teacher of heathen men in faith and in truth. (in whom I am put or am made a preacher and an apostle. For I tell the truth in the Messiah Jesus, and I do not lie, (I who am) a teacher of the Gentiles about faith and about truth, or (I who am) a teacher of the Gentiles in the true faith.)
- <sup>8</sup> Therefore I will (or And so I desire), that men pray in all place(s), lifting up clean hands without wrath and strife [or disputing].

- <sup>9</sup> Also women in suitable habit, with shamefastness and soberness arraying themselves, not in wreathed hairs, either in gold, or pearls, or precious cloth (or expensive clothing);
  - <sup>10</sup> but that that becometh women, promising piety by good works.
  - <sup>11</sup> A woman learn [she] in silence, with all subjection.
- <sup>12</sup> But I suffer not a woman to teach, neither to have lordship on the husband [or on the man], but to be in silence. (But I do not allow a woman to teach, or to have lordship over a man, but rather, to be silent or to be quiet.)
  - <sup>13</sup> For Adam was first formed, afterward Eve;
- $^{14}$  and Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived, in (the) breaking of the law [or in prevarication].
- <sup>15</sup> But she shall be saved by (the) generation of children, if she dwell perfectly in faith, and love, and holiness, with soberness.

- <sup>1</sup>A faithful word [I shall say]. If any man desireth a bishopric, he desireth a good work.
- <sup>2</sup> Therefore it behooveth a bishop to be without reproof, the husband of one wife, sober, prudent, chaste, virtuous, holding hospitality, a teacher;
- <sup>3</sup> not given much to wine, not a smiter, but temperate [or patient], not full of chiding [or full of strife], not covetous,
  - <sup>4</sup> well-ruling his house, and have sons subject with all chastity;
- <sup>5</sup> for if any man know not how to govern his house, how shall he have (the) diligence [or the keeping] of the church of God?
- <sup>6</sup> not new(ly) converted to the faith, lest he be borne up into pride, and fall into [the] doom of the devil. (not newly converted to the faith, lest he be raised up into pride, and then fall into the judgement of the Devil, or and then fall down under the same condemnation as the Devil.)
- <sup>7</sup> For it behooveth him to have also good witnessing of them that be withoutforth (or And it behooveth him to have good testimony from those who be outside the church), (so) that he fall not into reproof, and into the snare of the devil.
- <sup>8</sup> Also it behooveth deacons to be chaste, not double-tongued, not given much to wine [or not given to much wine], not following foul winning;
- $^{9}$  that have the mystery of faith in clean conscience. (who hold to the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience.)
- <sup>10</sup> But be they proved first, and minister they so, having no crime, [or great sin].
- $^{11}\,\mathrm{Also}$  it behooveth women to be chaste, not backbiting, sober, faithful in all things.
- $^{12}$  Deacons be husbands of one wife; which govern well their sons and their houses.
- <sup>13</sup> For they that minister well, shall get a good degree to themselves, and much trust in the faith, that is in Christ Jesus (or that is in the Messiah Jesus).
- $^{14}\,\mathrm{Son}$  Timothy, I write to thee these things, hoping that I shall come soon to thee;

15 but if I tarry, that thou knowest, how it behooveth thee to live in the house of God, that is the church of (the) living God, (as) a pillar and (a) firmness of (the) truth.

16 And openly it is a great sacrament of piety, that thing that was showed in (the) flesh, it is justified in (the) Spirit, it appeared to angels, it is preached to heathen men, it is believed in the world, it is taken up into glory.

CHAPTER 4

- <sup>1</sup> But the Spirit saith openly, that in the last times some men shall depart from the faith, giving attention to spirits of error, and to (the) teachings of devils (or and to the doctrines of demons);
- <sup>2</sup> that speak leasing in hypocrisy (or who speak lies and hypocrisy), and have their conscience corrupted,
- <sup>3</sup> forbidding to be wedded, and to abstain from meats, which God made to take with (the) doing of thankings, to faithful men, and them that have known the truth. (forbidding to be wedded, and to abstain from foods, which God made to be received with thanksgiving, or with the giving of thanks, by faithful men, and by those who have known the truth.)
- <sup>4</sup> For each creature of God is good, and nothing is to be cast away, which is taken with (the) doing of thankings; (For each creation of God is good, and nothing is to be thrown away, which is received with thanksgiving, or with the giving of thanks;)

<sup>5</sup> for it is hallowed by the word of God, and by prayer.

<sup>7</sup> But eschew thou [or shun thou] uncovenable fables (or But shun unsuitable fables), and old women's fables; haunt thyself to piety.

<sup>8</sup> For bodily exercitation is profitable to little thing; but piety is profitable to all things, that hath a promise of life that now is, and that is to come.

<sup>9</sup> A true word, and worthy (of) all acceptation [or (of) all acception]. (This word is true, and worthy of all acceptance.)

10 And in this thing we travail, and be cursed, for we hope in (the) living God, that is (the) Saviour of all men, most*(ly)* of faithful men (or and most) of all the faithful).

<sup>11</sup> Command thou this thing, and teach (it).

- 12 No man despise thy youth, but be thou ensample of faithful men (or but be an example to those in the faith), in word, in living, in charity (or in love), in faith, in chastity.
  - <sup>13</sup> Till I come, take attention to reading, to exhortation and teaching.
- 14 Do not thou little care (for), [or despise], the grace which is in thee, that is given to thee by prophecy, with (the) putting on of the hands of [the] priesthood.

15 Think thou (on) these things, in these be thou, (so) that thy profiting be showed to all men.

16 Take attention to thyself and to doctrine; be busy in them. For thou doing these things, shalt make both thyself safe, and them that hear thee

(or For thou doing these things, shalt save thyself, and those who listen to thee).

CHAPTER 5

- <sup>1</sup> Blame thou not an elder man (or Do not admonish, or rebuke, an older man), but beseech [him] as a father, young men as brethren;
  - <sup>2</sup> old women as mothers, young women as sisters, in all chastity.

<sup>3</sup> Honour thou [the] widows, that be very widows. (Honour the widows, who be true widows, or who be all alone.)

- <sup>4</sup> But if any widow hath children of sons, learn she first to govern her house, and requite to (her) father and mother; for this thing is accepted before God, (or for this is acceptable before God, or for God approveth of this)
- <sup>5</sup> And she that is a widow verily, and desolate, hope [she] into God, (or And she who is truly a widow, and desolate, let her put her hope in God), and be busy in beseechings and prayers night and day.
  - <sup>6</sup> For she that is living in delights, is dead [in (her) soul].
  - <sup>7</sup> And command thou this thing, (so) that they be without reproof.
- <sup>8</sup> For if any man hath not care of his own, and most(ly) of his household members (or of his own family), he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an unfaithful, [or (a) heathen], man.

<sup>9</sup> A widow be chosen [into the temple] not less than sixty years (old), that was (the) wife of one husband,

- <sup>10</sup> and hath witnessing in good works (or and hath testimony of good works), (yea), if she nourished children, if she received poor men to harbour, if she hath washed the feet of holy men, if she ministered to men that suffered tribulation, if she followed all good work(s).
- <sup>11</sup> But eschew thou younger widows; for when they have done lechery, they will be wedded in Christ, [or forsooth when they have done lechery in Christ, they will be wedded], (But shun younger widows; for when, while yet in the Messiah, they shall feel passion, or shall do lechery, and they will be wedded,)
- <sup>12</sup> having damnation (or and so shall receive condemnation), for they have made void the(ir) first faith.
- <sup>13</sup> Also they (being) idle learn to go about houses, not only idle, but [they be] full of words and curious [or and curiosity], speaking things that it behoveth not.
- <sup>14</sup> Therefore I will (or And so I desire), that younger widows be wedded, and bring forth children, and be housewives, to give none occasion to the adversary, because of (any) cursed thing.

- <sup>16</sup> If any faithful man hath widows, minister he to them, that the church be not charged, that it suffice to them that be very widows. (If anyone in the faith hath a widow in their family, let them minister unto her, so that the church be not burdened, and so that it can provide sufficiently for those who be true widows, or who be all alone.)
- <sup>17</sup> The priests that be well governors, [that is, (that) truly keep well (the) priesthood], be they had worthy to double honour; most(ly) they that travail in word and teaching (or and most of all those who labour in speaking and teaching).

- <sup>18</sup> For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not bridle the mouth of the ox threshing, and, A workman is worthy (of) his hire (or A worker is worthy of their wages).
- <sup>19</sup> Do not thou receive accusing against a priest, [no] but under twain or three witnesses.
- <sup>20</sup> But reprove thou men that sin before all men, that also others have dread. (And rebuke those who sin before everyone, so that others also have fearful reverence.)
- <sup>21</sup> I pray thee [or I adjure thee] before God, and Jesus Christ, (or I beseech thee before God, and Jesus Christ), and his chosen angels, that thou keep these things without prejudice, and do nothing in bowing to the other side.
- <sup>22</sup> Put thou hands to no man, neither anon commune thou with other men's sins. Keep thyself chaste. [Put thou hands to no man soon, neither commune thou with other men's sins. Keep thyself chaste.](Do not at once, or too hastily, lay hands upon any man for ordination, nor share thou in other men's sinning. Keep thyself pure.)
- $^{23}$  Do not thou yet drink water, but use a little wine, for thy stomach, and for thine oft falling infirmities.
- <sup>24</sup> Some men's sins be open, before going to doom (or before going unto Judgement); but of some men they come after [or they follow].
- $2^{\bar{5}}$  And also good deeds be open, and those that have them in other manner, may not be hid. (And some good deeds be done in the open, but those which be not, cannot be kept hidden forever.)

- <sup>1</sup> Whatever servants be under yoke, deem they their lords worthy (of) all honour, lest the name of the Lord and the doctrine be blasphemed [+or lest the name of their Lord God and his doctrine be blasphemed].
- <sup>2</sup> And they that have faithful, [or christian], lords, despise them not, for they be brethren; but more serve they [them], for they be faithful and loved, which be partners of beneficence, [or (of) good-doing]. Teach thou these things, and admonish thou these things.
- <sup>3</sup> If any man teach otherwise, and accordeth not to the wholesome words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to that teaching that is by piety,
- <sup>4</sup> he is proud, and knoweth nothing, but languisheth about questions and strivings [or fightings] of words, of the which be brought forth envies, strives, blasphemies, evil suspicions,
- <sup>5</sup> fightings of men, that be corrupt in soul [or in reason], and that be deprived from (the) truth, that deem winning to be piety, (or who believe their gain to be proof of their piety, or who believe their increase to be a reward for their piety).
- <sup>6</sup> But a great winning is piety, with sufficience. (But piety, in and of itself, is a great gain or a great reward, yea, with abundance.)
- <sup>7</sup> For we brought in nothing into this world, and no doubt, that we may not bear anything away. [+Forsooth we brought nothing into this world, (and) no doubt, that we may not bear away anything.](For we brought nothing into this world, and there is no doubt, that we cannot take anything out of it or away from it.)

- <sup>8</sup> But we having foods, and with what things we shall be covered [or and with what things we shall be clothed], be we satisfied with these things.
- <sup>9</sup> For they that will be made rich, fall into temptation, and into the snare of the devil, and into many unprofitable desires and noxious, which drench men (down) into death and perdition. (For those who will be made rich, fall into testing, and into the Devil's snare, and into many unprofitable and harmful desires, which drown men down into death and destruction.)

<sup>10</sup> For the root of all evils is covetousness, which some men coveting erred from the faith, and besetted them(selves) with many sorrows.

<sup>11</sup> But, thou, man of God, flee these things; but follow thou rightwiseness, piety, faith, charity (or love), patience, (and) mildness (or and meekness and humility).

<sup>12</sup> Strive thou a good strife of faith, catch everlasting life, into which thou art called, and hast acknowledged a good acknowledging before many witnesses.

- <sup>13</sup>I command to thee before God, that quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, that yielded a witnessing under Pilate of Pontii, a good confession, (I command thee before God, who enliveneth all things, or who giveth life to everything, and before the Messiah Jesus, who gave his testimony to Pontius Pilate, yea, a worthy testimony,)
- <sup>14</sup> that thou keep the commandment without wem, without reproof, into the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ; (that thou obey, or follow thy orders, without spot or blemish, and without reproof, unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ;)

<sup>15</sup> whom the blessed and alone almighty King of kings and Lord of lords shall show in his times.

- <sup>16</sup> Which alone hath undeadliness [or immortality], and dwelleth in light, to which light no man may come; whom no man saw, neither may see (or nor can see); to whom glory, and honour, and empire be without end, [or to whom (be) glory, and honour, and empire into without end]. Amen.
- <sup>17</sup> Command thou to the rich men of this world, that they understand not highly [or proudly], neither that they hope in (the) uncertainty of riches, but in the living God, that giveth to us all things plenteously to use;

<sup>18</sup> to do well, to be made rich in good works, lightly to give (or easy, or quickly, to give), to commune,

- <sup>19</sup> to treasure to themselves a good foundament, into (the) time to coming [or into (the) time to come], that they catch everlasting life. (to treasure unto themselves a good foundation, into the time to come, so that they can grasp eternal life.)
- <sup>20</sup> Thou Timothy, keep the thing [or the deposit] betaken to thee, eschewing cursed novelties of voices, and opinions of (the) false name of cunning (or of knowing); (O Timothy, guard the deposit delivered unto thee, shunning the cursed novelties, or chattering, of voices, and opinions in the name of false knowledge;)
- <sup>21</sup> which some men promising, about the faith fell down [or the which some men promising, fell down about the faith]. The grace of God be with thee. Amen.

2ND TIMOTHY

<sup>1</sup> Paul, [the] apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, by the promise of life that is in Christ Jesus, (Paul, the apostle of Jesus Christ, by the desire of God, by the promise of life that is in the Messiah Jesus,)

<sup>2</sup> to Timothy, his most dearworthy son, grace, mercy, and (the) peace of God the Father, and of Jesus Christ, our Lord.

- <sup>3</sup> I do thankings to my God, to whom I serve from my progenitors [or from my ancestors], in clean conscience, that without ceasing I have mind of thee in my prayers, night and day, (I give thanks to my God, whom I serve, like my ancestors, with a clean conscience, so that without ceasing I remember thee in my prayers, night and day,)
- <sup>4</sup> desiring to see thee; having mind of thy tears, [or mindful of thy tears], (or remembering thy tears), (so) that I be [ful] filled with joy.
- <sup>5</sup> And I bethink of that faith, that is in thee not feigned, which also dwelled first in thine aunt Lois, and in thy mother Eunice. And I am certain, that (is) also in thee.

<sup>6</sup> For which cause I admonish thee, that thou raise again the grace of God, that is in thee by the setting on of mine hands [or by the on-putting] of mine hands].

<sup>7</sup> For why God gave not to us the spirit of dread, but of virtue, and of love, and of soberness. (Because God did not give us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of resoluteness.)

- § Therefore do not thou shame the witnessing of our Lord Jesus Christ, neither (of) me, his prisoner; but travail thou together (with others) in the gospel by the virtue of God; (And so do not be ashamed of the testimony of our Lord Jesus Christ, nor of me, his prisoner or a prisoner for his sake; but labour together with others for the Gospel or the Good News, by the power of God;)
- <sup>9</sup> that delivered us, and called (us) with his holy calling, not after our works, but by his purpose and grace, that is given [to us] in Christ Jesus before worldly times; (who delivered us, and called us with his holy calling, not according to our works, but by his purpose and grace, that is given to us in the Messiah Jesus before the creation of the world or before time began;)
- <sup>10</sup> but now it is open by the lightening of our Saviour Jesus Christ, which destroyed death, and lightened life and uncorruption by the gospel. (but now it is made open by the appearance of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who destroyed death, and lightened life and uncorruption by the Gospel or the Good News.)

<sup>11</sup> In which I am set a preacher and apostle, and master of heathen men. (In which I am ordained a preacher and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.)

<sup>12</sup> For which cause also I suffer these things; but I am not confounded. For I know to whom I have believed, and I am certain that he is mighty to keep that (which) is taken to my keeping (or that which is delivered unto my keeping), into that day.

<sup>13</sup> Have thou the form of wholesome words, which thou heardest of me in (the) faith and love in Christ Jesus. (Have thou the form of wholesome words, which thou hast heard from me in the faith and love in the Messiah Jesus.)

- <sup>14</sup> Keep thou the good [deposit, or (the good) thing], taken to thy keeping by the Holy Ghost, that dwelleth in us. (Keep thou, or Guard, the good deposit delivered unto thy keeping by the Holy Spirit, who dwelleth in us.)
- <sup>15</sup> Thou knowest this, that all that be in Asia be turned away from me, of which is Phygellus and Hermogenes.
- <sup>16</sup> The Lord give mercy to the house of Onesiphorus, for oft he refreshed me, and shamed not my chain. (May the Lord show kindness to the family of Onesiphorus, for he often refreshed me, and he was not ashamed of my bonds, or my imprisonment.)
  - <sup>17</sup> But when he came to Rome, he sought me (out) busily, and found [me].
- <sup>18</sup> The Lord give to him to find (the) mercy of God in that day. And how great things he ministered to me at Ephesus, thou knowest better.

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore thou, my son, be comforted in (the) grace that is in Christ Jesus. (And so, my son, be thou strengthened by the grace that is ours in the Messiah Jesus.)
- <sup>2</sup> And what things thou hast heard of me by many witnesses, betake thou these to faithful men, which shall be able also to teach other men. (And those things that thou hast heard from me, in the presence of many witnesses, deliver them to the faithful, or share them with the faithful, who then shall be able to also teach others.)
- <sup>3</sup> Travail thou as a good knight of Christ Jesus. (Labour thou, or Endure thou, like a good soldier of the Messiah Jesus.)
- <sup>4</sup>No man holding knighthood to God, [en] wrappeth himself with worldly needs, (so) that he please to him, to whom he hath proved himself.
- <sup>5</sup> For he that fighteth in a battle, shall not be crowned, [no] but he fight lawfully.
  - <sup>6</sup> It behooveth an earth-tiller to receive (the) first of the fruits.
- $^{7}\,\mathrm{Understand}$  thou what things I say. For the Lord shall give to thee understanding in all things.
- <sup>8</sup> Be thou mindful that the Lord Jesus Christ of the seed of David hath risen again from death, after my gospel, [+Be thou mindful that the Lord Jesus Christ of the seed of David hath risen again from (the) dead, after my gospel,](Remember, that the Lord Jesus Christ of the seed of David hath risen again from the dead, according to my Gospel or my Good News,)
- <sup>9</sup> in which I travail unto bonds, as (if) working evil, but the word of God is not bound.
- <sup>10</sup> Therefore I suffer [or I sustain] all things for the chosen (ones), that also they get the health that is in Christ Jesus, with heavenly glory. (And so I endure everything for the chosen ones, so that they also get the salvation that is in the Messiah Jesus, along with heavenly glory.)
- <sup>11</sup> A true word [is this that I say], that if we be dead together [to the world], also we shall live together [in bliss];
- <sup>12</sup> if we suffer [or if we sustain], we shall reign together [with Christ], (or if we endure, we shall reign together with the Messiah); if we deny [him], he shall deny us;

<sup>13</sup> if we believe not, he dwelleth faithful, he may not deny himself. (if we do not believe, he remaineth faithful, for he cannot deny himself.)

<sup>14</sup> Teach thou these things, witnessing before God. Do not thou strive in words; for to nothing it is profitable, [no] but to the subverting of men that hear (it). (Teach these things, testifying before God. And do not argue; because it is profitable for nothing, but to the undermining of those who hear it.)

it.)

15 Busily keep [or Take care] to give thyself (as) a proved, praiseable workman to God, without shame, rightly treating the word of truth. (Work hard to make thyself an approved, praiseworthy workman for God, without shame, correctly proclaiming the Word of Truth.)

<sup>16</sup> But eschew thou [or shun thou] unholy and vain (or empty and useless) speeches, for why those profit much to unfaithfulness,

<sup>17</sup> and the word of them creepeth as a canker. Of whom Philetus is, and

Hymenaeus,

18 which felled down from the truth, saying that the rising-again is now done (or saying that the resurrection hath happened already), and they subverted [or they turned upside-down] the faith of some men.

<sup>19</sup> But the firm foundament of God standeth, having this mark, The Lord knoweth which be his, and, Each man that nameth the name of the Lord, departeth from wickedness. (But the firm foundation of God standeth, having this sign or this inscription, The Lord knoweth whom be his, and, Each man who nameth the name of the Lord, goeth away from wickedness.)

<sup>20</sup> But in a great house be not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of tree, and of earth, (or but also of wood, and of clay); and so some be into honour, and some into despite.

<sup>21</sup> Therefore, if any man cleanseth himself from these, he shall be a vessel hallowed into honour, and profitable to the Lord, ready to (do) all good work.

<sup>22</sup> And flee thou [the] desires of youth, but follow thou rightwiseness, faith, charity (or love), (and) peace, with them that inwardly call the Lord of a clean heart, [or with them that in-call the Lord of a clean heart], (or with those who call upon the Lord from a pure heart).

<sup>23</sup> And eschew thou [or shun] foolish questions, and without knowing, [or without discipline], (or without knowledge), witting (or knowing) that those (en)gender chidings.

- <sup>24</sup> But it behooveth the servant of the Lord to chide not; but to be mild to all men (or but to be meek and humble with everyone), able to teach, patient,
- <sup>25</sup> with temperance reproving them that against-stand the truth, that sometime God give to them forthinking, (or repenting), [or penance], (so) that they know the truth,
- <sup>26</sup> and that they rise again from the snares of the devil, of whom they be held prisoners at his will (or by whom they be held prisoners by his desire).

- <sup>1</sup> But know thou this thing, that in the last days perilous times shall nigh, (But know this, that in the Last Days perilous times shall approach,)
- <sup>2</sup> and men shall be loving themselves, covetous, high of bearing, proud, blasphemers, not obedient to (their) father and mother, unkind, cursed,

- <sup>3</sup> without affection, [or good will], without peace, false blamers [or false challengers], uncontinent, [or unchaste], unmild, without benignity,
- <sup>4</sup> traitors, over-thwart [or froward], swollen [or blown]with proud thoughts, blind, lovers of lusts more than of God,
- <sup>5</sup> having the likeness of piety, but denying the virtue of it (or but denying its power). And eschew thou (or shun) these men.
- <sup>6</sup> Of these they be that pierce houses, and lead women captives [or and lead little women captive], charged (or burdened) with sins, which be led with diverse desires,
- <sup>7</sup> (for)evermore learning, and never perfectly coming to the science, [or to the cunning], (or to the knowing), of truth. (always learning, and never perfectly coming to the knowledge of the truth.)
- <sup>8</sup> And as Jannes and Jambres against-stood Moses, so these against-stand the truth, men corrupt in understanding [or in soul], reproved about the faith.
- <sup>9</sup> But further they shall not profit, for the unwisdom of them shall be known to all men, as theirs was.
- <sup>10</sup> But thou hast gotten my teaching [or my doctrine], (or But thou hast received my teaching), ordinance, purposing [or purpose], faith, long abiding, love, patience,
- <sup>11</sup> persecutions, passions, which were made to me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra, what manner persecutions I suffered, and the Lord hath delivered me of all (or but the Lord hath delivered me from all of them).
- <sup>12</sup> And all men that will live faithfully [or piously] in Christ Jesus, shall suffer persecution. (And all who will live faithfully, or piously, in the Messiah Jesus, shall suffer persecution.)
- <sup>13</sup> But evil men and deceivers shall increase into worse, erring [themselves], and sending [others] into error.
- <sup>14</sup> But dwell thou in these things that thou hast learned, and that be betaken to thee, witting of whom thou hast learned (them); (But remain thou in these things that thou hast learned, and that be delivered to thee, knowing from whom thou hast learned them;)
- <sup>15</sup> for thou hast known holy letters from thy youth, which may learn thee [or which may inform thee] to health, by (the) faith that is in Christ Jesus. (for thou hast known the holy Scriptures from thy youth, which can lead thee to salvation, through faith that is in the Messiah Jesus.)
- <sup>16</sup> For all scripture inspired of (or by) God is profitable to teach, to reprove, to chastise, [for] to learn in rightwiseness,
  - <sup>17</sup> (so) that the man of God be perfect, learned to (do) all good work(s).

- <sup>1</sup> I witness before God and Christ Jesus, that shall deem the quick and the dead, by the coming of him, and the kingdom of him, (I testify before God and the Messiah Jesus, who shall judge the living and the dead, by his coming, and his reign,)
- <sup>2</sup> preach the word, be thou busy covenably without rest, (or be thou suitably busy, or be thou busy at every opportunity, without any rest, or without ceasing), reprove thou, beseech thou, blame thou in all patience and doctrine.

- <sup>3</sup> For (the) time shall be, when men shall not suffer [or shall not sustain] wholesome teaching (or when men shall not allow or permit wholesome teaching), but at their desires they shall gather together to themselves masters (or teachers) itching [or pleasing] to the ears.
- <sup>4</sup> And truly they shall turn away the(ir) hearing from (the) truth, but to fables they shall turn (or and instead they shall turn their attention to fables).
- <sup>5</sup> But wake thou (or Watch), in all things travail thou, do [thou] the work of an evangelist, fulfill thy service, [or (thine) office], be thou sober (or be resolute).
- <sup>6</sup> For I am sacrificed now, and the time of my departing is nigh (or and the time of my departure is near).
- <sup>7</sup> I have striven a good strife (or I have fought a good fight), I have ended the course, I have kept the faith.
- <sup>8</sup> In the tother time a crown of rightwiseness is kept to me, which the Lord, a just doomsman, shall yield to me in that day; and not only to me, but also to these that love his coming. (In the time to come a crown of righteousness is kept for me, which the Lord, a righteous Judge, shall give to me on that Day; and not only to me, but also to those who await his coming with love.)
  - <sup>9</sup> Hie thou to come to me soon.
- 10 For Demas, loving this world, hath forsaken me, and went to Thessalonica, Crescens into Galatia, Titus into Dalmatia;
- <sup>11</sup> Luke alone is with me. Take thou Mark, and bring (him) with thee; for he is profitable to me into service.
  - <sup>12</sup> Forsooth I sent Tychicus to Ephesus.
- $^{13}$  The cloth which I left at Troas at Carpas (or The cloak which I left with Carpas in Troas), when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but most(ly) the parchments.
- <sup>14</sup> Alexander, the treasurer, showed to me much evil; the Lord shall yield to him after his works.
- $^{15}$  Whom also thou eschew; for he against-stood full greatly our words. (Whom also thou should shun; for he very strongly stood against our words.)
- <sup>16</sup> In my first defence no man helped me, but all forsook me; be it not areckoned to them.
- <sup>17</sup> But the Lord helped me [or Forsooth the Lord stood nigh to me], and comforted me, that the preaching be [full-]filled by me, and that all folks hear, (and) that I am delivered from the mouth of the lion. (But the Lord stood near to me, or by me, and strengthened me, so that the preaching was fully proclaimed by me, and all the nations heard it, and I was delivered from the lion's mouth.)
- <sup>18</sup> And the Lord delivered me from all evil work, and shall make me safe into his heavenly kingdom, to whom be glory into worlds of worlds. Amen. (And the Lord shall deliver me from all evil works, and shall bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom, to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen.)
- <sup>19</sup> Greet well Prisca, and Aquila, and the house of Onesiphorus. (Give hearty greetings to Prisca, and Aquila, and Onesiphorus' household or family.)
- <sup>20</sup> Erastus (was) left [or dwelt] at Corinth, and I left Trophimus sick at Miletum.

 $^{21}$  Hie thou to come before winter. Eubulus, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all brethren, greet thee well, (or and all the brothers, send hearty greetings).

<sup>22</sup> Our Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. The grace of God be with you.

Amen.

TITUS

- <sup>1</sup> Paul, the servant of God, and (an) apostle of Jesus Christ, by the faith of the chosen of God, and by the knowing of the truth, which is after piety,
- <sup>2</sup> into the hope of everlasting life, which life God that lieth not, promised before (the) times of the world; (in the hope of eternal life, which life God who lieth not, promised before the creation of the world;)
- <sup>3</sup> but he hath showed in his times his word in preaching, that is betaken to me (or that is delivered to me), by the commandment of God, our Saviour,
- <sup>4</sup> to Titus, most dearworthy son [or beloved son], by the common faith, grace and (the) peace of God the Father, and of Christ Jesus, our Saviour, (or and of the Messiah Jesus, our Saviour).
- <sup>5</sup> For cause of this thing I left thee at Crete, (so) that thou amend those things that fail, and ordain priests by cities, as also I assigned to thee [or I disposed to thee].
- <sup>6</sup> If any man is without crime, [or great sin], an husband of one wife, and hath faithful sons, not in accusation of lechery, or not subject.
- <sup>7</sup> For it behooveth a bishop to be without crime, [as] a dispenser of God, not proud, not wrathful, not given to drunkenness, not [a] smiter, not covetous of foul winning(s);
  - <sup>8</sup> but holding hospitality, benign, prudent, sober, just, holy, continent,
- <sup>9</sup> taking [or embracing] that true word, that is after doctrine; that he be mighty to admonish in wholesome teaching [or doctrine], and to reprove them that gainsay (or and to rebuke those who speak against it).
- <sup>10</sup> For there be many unobedient, and vain speakers, and deceivers, most(ly) they that be of (the) circumcision, (or mostly those who be of the circumcision, or who be circumcised),
- <sup>11</sup> which it behooveth to be reproved (or who it behooveth to be rebuked); which subvert all houses, teaching which things it behooveth not, for [the] love of foul winning.
- <sup>12</sup> And one of them, their proper prophet said (or their own prophet said), Men of Crete be(for)evermore liars, evil beasts, of slow womb.
- <sup>13</sup> This witnessing is true. For which cause blame them sore, that they be (made) whole in (the) faith, (This testimony is true. For which reason sharply rebuke them, so that they can be made whole in the faith,)
- <sup>14</sup> not giving attention to (the) fables of (the) Jews, and to (the) commandments of men, that turn away them from (the) truth [or (that) turn them away from (the) truth].
- $^{15}$  And all things be clean to clean men; but to unclean men and to unfaithful (men), nothing is clean, for the soul and (the) conscience of them be made unclean.
- <sup>16</sup> They acknowledge that they know God, but by (their) deeds they deny [him]; when they be abominable, and unbelieveful, and reprovable to all good work(s)(or and unfit for any good work).

- <sup>1</sup> But speak thou those things that beseem [or that become] wholesome teaching;
- <sup>2</sup> that old men be sober, chaste, prudent, whole in faith, in love, and patience;
- <sup>3</sup> also old women in holy habit, not slanderers [or backbiters], not serving much to wine, well-teaching, (so) that they teach prudence.
- <sup>4</sup> Admonish thou young women, that they love their husbands, that they love their children;
- <sup>5</sup> and that they be prudent, chaste, sober, having care of the house, benign, subject to their husbands, (so) that the word of God be not blasphemed.
- <sup>6</sup> Also admonish young men, that they be sober (or that they be temperate).
- <sup>7</sup> In all things give thyself ensample of good works, in teaching, in wholeness [or in holiness of living], that is, in cleanness of soul and body, in firmness [of virtues].
- <sup>8</sup> An wholesome word, and unreprovable (or unreproachable); that he that is of the contrary side, be ashamed, having none evil thing to say of you.
- <sup>9</sup> Admonish thou servants to be subject to their lords; in all things pleasing, not gainsaying, (or not speaking back to them, or not speaking against them),
- <sup>10</sup> not defrauding, but in all things showing good faith, (so) that they honour in all things the doctrine of God, our Saviour.
  - 11 For the grace of God, our Saviour, hath appeared to all men,
- 12 and taught us, that we (should) forsake wickedness [or unpiety], and worldly desires, and live soberly, and justly, and piously in this world,
- <sup>13</sup> abiding the blessed hope and the coming of the glory of the great God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ;
- <sup>14</sup> that gave himself for us, to again-buy us from all wickedness, and make clean to himself a people acceptable, and (pur)suer of good works. (who gave himself for us, to redeem us from all wickedness, and to make clean an acceptable people unto himself, who be pursuers of good works.)
- <sup>15</sup> Speak thou these things, and admonish thou, and reprove thou with all commandment; no man despise thee. (Speak these things, and admonish, and rebuke them with all authority; let no man despise thee.)

- <sup>1</sup> Admonish them to be subjects to princes [or Admonish them to be subject to princes], and to powers; to obey to that that is said, and to be ready to (do) all good work(s);
- <sup>2</sup> to blaspheme no man, to be not full of chiding, but temperate [or patient], showing all mildness to all men (or showing meekness and humility to everyone).
- <sup>3</sup> For we were sometime unwise, unbelieveful, erring, and serving to desires, and to diverse lusts, doing in malice and envy, worthy to be hated, hating each other.
- <sup>4</sup> But when the benignity and the manhood [or the humanity] of our Saviour God appeared,

- <sup>5</sup> not of works of rightwiseness that we did, but by his mercy he made us safe, by [the] washing, [or (the) baptism], of (the) again-begetting, and (the) again-newing of the Holy Ghost, (not because of works of righteousness that we did, but by his mercy he saved us, by the washing, or the baptism, of rebirth, and the renewing power of the Holy Spirit,)
- <sup>6</sup> whom he shedded [out] into us plenteously by Jesus Christ, our Saviour, <sup>7</sup> that we justified by his grace, be heirs by hope of everlasting life. (so that we who be justified by his grace, be heirs through the hope of eternal life.)
- <sup>8</sup> A true word is [this], and of these things I will that thou confirm others, that they that believe in God, be busy to be above others [or to be before others] in good works. These things be good, and profitable to men. (This is a true word, and I desire that thou confirm these things to others, so that they who believe in God, be busy to be before others, or ahead of others, in doing good works. These things be good, and profitable for everyone.)
- <sup>9</sup> And eschew thou foolish questions, and genealogies, and strivings [or and strives], and fightings of the law; for those be unprofitable and vain. (And shun foolish questions, and genealogies, and fights, and arguments over the Law; for they be empty and useless.)
- <sup>10</sup> Eschew thou [or Shun thou] a man heretic, after one and the second correction:
- 11 witting that he that is such a manner man is subverted, and trespasseth, and is condemned by his own doom (or by his own judgement).
- <sup>12</sup>When I send to thee Artemas, or Tychicus, hie thou [or (make) haste] to come to me to Nicopolis; for I have purposed to dwell in winter there. (When I send Artemas, or Tychicus, to thee, hasten to come to me at Nicopolis; for I have decided to remain there for the winter.)
- 13 Busily before send Zenas [or Busily send before Zenas], a wise man of (the) law, and Apollos, (so) that nothing fail to them. (With whatever assistance you can provide, send forth Zenas, a man wise in the Law, and Apollos, so that nothing is lacking for them.)
- 14 They that be of ours, learn to be governors [or to be before] in good works, (or Those who be of us, learn to be leaders in good works, or the first to do good works), to necessary uses, (and) that they be not without fruit.
- 15 All men that be with me greet thee well. Greet thou well them, that love us in [the] faith. The grace of God be with you all. Amen. (All who are with me send hearty greetings to thee. Give hearty greetings to those in the faith who love us. The grace of God be with you all. Amen.)

PHILEMON

- <sup>1</sup> Paul, the bound of Christ Jesus, and Timothy, (a) brother, to Philemon, beloved, and our helper, (Paul, a prisoner of the Messiah Jesus, or a prisoner for the sake of the Messiah Jesus, and Timothy, a brother, to Philemon, beloved, and our helper,)
- <sup>2</sup> and to Apphia, most dear sister, and to Archippus, our even-knight (or our fellow soldier), and to the church that is in thine house,
- <sup>3</sup> grace be to you, and (the) peace of God our Father, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
- <sup>4</sup> I do thankings to my God, (for)evermore making mind of thee, in my prayers, (I give thanks to my God, always remembering thee, in my prayers,)
- <sup>5</sup> hearing (of) thy charity, and faith, that thou hast in the Lord Jesus, and to all holy men, (hearing of thy love, and the faith, which thou hast in the Lord Jesus, and for all the saints, or all of God's people,)
- <sup>6</sup> that the communing of thy faith be made open, in (the) knowing of all good thing(s) in Christ Jesus. (so that the sharing of thy faith be made open, in the knowledge of all the good things in the Messiah Jesus.)
- <sup>7</sup> And I had great joy and comfort in thy charity, for the entrails of holy men rested [or were refreshed] by thee, brother. (And I had great joy and strength in thy love, for the hearts of the saints, or of God's people, were refreshed by thee, brother.)
- <sup>8</sup> For which thing I having much trust in Christ Jesus (or For which thing I having much trust in the Messiah Jesus), to command to thee that that pertaineth to profit;
- <sup>9</sup> but I beseech more for charity, since thou art such as the old Paul, and now the bound of Jesus Christ. (but I beseech thee more out of love, since thou art like old Paul, now the prisoner of Jesus Christ, or now a prisoner for the sake of Jesus Christ.)
  - <sup>10</sup> I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I in bonds begat,
- <sup>11</sup> which sometime was unprofitable to thee, but now profitable, both to thee and to me;
- <sup>12</sup> whom I sent again to thee. And receive thou him as mine entrails (or And receive him as thou would receive me):
- <sup>13</sup> whom I would withhold with me, that he should serve for thee to me in (the) bonds of the gospel; (whom I would keep here with me, so that he could serve me for thee here where I am in prison for the sake of the Gospel or the Good News;)
- <sup>14</sup> but without thy counsel I would not do anything, that thy good should not be as of need, but willful. (but without thy counsel, or without thy consent, I would not do anything, so that thy good doing would not be done as out of necessity, but out of thy own free will or willingly.)
- <sup>15</sup> For peradventure therefore he departed from thee for a time, (so) that thou shouldest receive him [into] without end;
- <sup>16</sup> now not as a servant, but for a servant a most dear brother [or but more than a servant, (yea), (a) most dear brother], most(ly) to me; and how much more to thee, both in [the] flesh and in the Lord?

<sup>17</sup> Therefore if thou hast me a fellow, receive him as me;

- $^{18}$  for if he hath anything annoyed (or harmed) thee, either oweth (thee), areckon thou this thing to me.
- <sup>19</sup> I, Paul, wrote with mine (own) hand, (and) I shall yield (it); (and) that I say not to thee, that also thou owest to me thyself.

<sup>20</sup> So, brother, I shall use thee in the Lord; [full-]fill thou mine entrails in Christ (or fill thou my heart full with the Messiah).

- $^{21}$  I trusting of thine obedience wrote to thee, witting that thou shalt do over that I say (or knowing that thou shalt do even more than what I ask you to do).
- <sup>22</sup> Also make thou ready to me an house to dwell in; for I hope that by your prayers I shall be given to you.
- <sup>23</sup> Epaphras, (a) prisoner with me in Christ Jesus, greeteth thee well, (Epaphras, a prisoner like me of the Messiah Jesus, or a prisoner like me for the sake of the Messiah Jesus, heartily greeteth thee,)
  - <sup>24</sup> and Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, Lucas, mine helpers.
  - <sup>25</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

HEBREWS

- <sup>1</sup> God, that spake sometime by prophets in many manners to our fathers,
- <sup>2</sup> at the last in these days he hath spoken to us by the Son; whom he hath ordained (the) heir of all things, and by whom he made the worlds.
- <sup>3</sup> Which when also he is the brightness of glory, and [the] figure of his substance, and beareth all things by (the) word of his virtue, he maketh purgation of sins, and sitteth on the right half of the majesty in heavens; (Who when he is also the brightness of glory, and the example, or the image, of his substance, and beareth all things by the word of his power, he maketh purgation of sins, and sitteth at the right hand, or on the right side, of the Majesty in heaven;)

<sup>4</sup> and so much is made better than angels, by how much he hath inherited a more diverse name before them. (and is made so much better than the angels, for he hath inherited a more excellent name than they have.)

- <sup>5</sup> For to which of the angels said God any time, Thou art my Son, I have (en)gendered thee today? And again, I shall be to him into a Father, and he shall be to me into a Son? (For to which of the angels did God say at any time, Thou art my Son, I have begotten thee today? And again, I shall be like a Father to him, and he shall be like a Son to me?)
  - <sup>6</sup> And when again he bringeth in the first begotten Son into the world, he saith, And all the angels of God worship him.

<sup>7</sup> But he saith to (the) angels, He that maketh his angels spirits (or wind), and his ministers (a) flame of fire.

- 8 But to the Son he saith, God, thy throne is into the world of world(s), (or thy kingdom, or thy rule, is forever and ever); a rod of equity is the rod of thy realm:
- <sup>9</sup> thou hast loved rightwiseness, and hatedest wickedness; therefore the God [or therefore God], thy God, anointed thee with (the) oil of joy, more than thy fellows.
- <sup>10</sup> And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning foundedest the earth, and (the) heavens be (the) works of thine hands;

11 they shall perish, but thou shalt perfectly dwell; and all shall wax old as a cloth (or and all things shall grow old like a cloak),

- 12 and thou shalt change them as a cloth (or and thou shalt change them like a cloak), and they shall be changed. But thou art the same thyself, and thy years shall not fail.
- 13 But to which of the angels said God at any time, Sit thou on my right half, till I put thine enemies a stool of thy feet? (But to which of the angels did God say at any time, Sit thou at my right hand, or on my right side, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?)
- 14 Whether they all be not serving spirits, sent to serve for them that take the heritage of health? (Be they not all spirits that serve, yea, sent to serve those who receive the inheritance of salvation?)

CHAPTER 2

<sup>1</sup> Therefore more plenteously it behooveth us to keep those things, that we have heard, lest peradventure we float away.

- <sup>2</sup> For if that word that was said by (the) angels, was made firm, and each breaking of the law [or each trespassing], and unobedience took just retribution of meed, (For if that word that was said by the angels, was made firm, and each trespass, and disobedience, received just retribution as
- a reward,)

  <sup>3</sup> how shall we escape, if we despise so great an health? (or then how shall we escape, if we despise so great a salvation, or so great a deliverance?)

  Which, when it had taken beginning to be told out by the Lord, of them that heard (him), (it) is confirmed into us.
- <sup>4</sup> For God witnessed together by miracles [or by signs], and wonders, and great marvels, and diverse virtues, and partings [or distributions] of the Holy Ghost, by his will. (Because God testified by miracles or signs, and wonders, and great marvels, and various works of power, and distributions of the Holy Spirit, according to his will.)
- <sup>5</sup> But not to (the) angels God subjected the world that is to coming, of which we speak. [Forsooth not to angels God subjected the roundness of the earth to come, of which we speak.]
- <sup>6</sup> But some man witnessed in a place, and said, What thing is man, that thou art mindful of him, or man's son, for thou visitest him? (But someone testified, in some place, and said, What is a man, that thou rememberest him, or a man's son, that thou visitest him?)

<sup>7</sup> Thou hast made him a little less than (the) angels; thou hast crowned him with glory and honour; and thou hast ordained him on (or over) the works of thine hands.

<sup>8</sup> Thou hast made all things subject under his feet. And in that that he subjected all things to him, he left nothing unsubject to him. But now we see not yet all things subject to him;

<sup>9</sup> but we see him that was made a little less than (the) angels, Jesus, for the passion of death (or through the suffering of death), crowned with glory and honour, (so) that he through [the] grace of God should taste death for all men.

- <sup>10</sup> For it beseemed him, for whom all things, and by whom all things were made, which had brought many sons into glory, and was[the] author [or the maker] of the health of them, that he had an end by passion. (For it seemed appropriate for him, for whom all things, and by whom all things (were made), who had brought many sons unto glory, (and was) the Maker of their salvation, that he met his end in suffering.)
- <sup>11</sup> For he that halloweth, and they that be hallowed, be all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren,
- $^{12}\,\mathrm{saying}$  , I shall tell thy name to my brethren; in the middle of the church I shall praise thee.
- $^{13}$  And again, I shall be trusting into him; and again, Lo! I and my children, which God gave to me.
- <sup>14</sup> Therefore for children communed to flesh and blood, and he also took part of the same, that by death he should destroy him that had lordship of death (or so that by death he would destroy him who had authority over death), that is to say, the devil,
- <sup>15</sup> and that he should deliver them that by dread of death, by all life were bound to servage. (and that he would deliver those who by fear of death, for all their lives were bound in servitude or in slavery.)
  - <sup>16</sup> And he took never (the) angels, but he took the seed of Abraham.

- <sup>17</sup> Wherefore he ought to be likened to brethren by all things, that he should be made merciful and a faithful bishop to God, that he should be merciful to the trespasses of the people. (And so he ought to be likened tohis brothers in all things, so that he would be made a merciful and faithful High Priest to God, and so that he would be merciful to the people's trespasses.)
- <sup>18</sup> For in that thing in which he suffered, and was tempted, he is mighty to help also them that be tempted.

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore, holy brethren (or holy brothers), and partners of heavenly calling, behold ye the apostle and the bishop (or the High Priest) of our confession, Jesus,
- <sup>2</sup> which is true to him that made him, as also Moses in all the house(hold) of him.
- <sup>3</sup> But this bishop(or this High Priest) is had worthy of more glory than Moses, by as much as he hath more honour of the house(hold), that made the house.
- <sup>4</sup> For each house is made of some man; [forsooth] he that made all things (out) of nought is God. (For every house is made by someone; but he who made everything out of nothing is God.)
- <sup>5</sup> And Moses was true in all his house, as a servant, into witnessing of those things that were to be said; (And in all his household, Moses was a true or a faithful servant, testifying about those things that would be said later, or in the future;)
- <sup>6</sup> but Christ (is) as a son in his house. Which house we be, if we hold firm (our) trust and (the) glory of hope into the end. (but the Messiah is like a son in his household, or in his family. Which household or family we be, if we hold firm to our trust and the glory of hope unto the end.)
- <sup>7</sup> Wherefore as the Holy Ghost saith (or And so as the Holy Spirit said), Today, if ye have heard his voice,
- <sup>8</sup> do not ye harden your hearts, as in (the) wrathing, like the day of temptation in (the) desert; (do not harden your hearts, like in the rebellion, like on the day of testing in the desert;)
- <sup>9</sup> where your fathers tempted me, and proved (me), (or where your fathers tested me, and proved me), and saw my works (for) forty years.
- <sup>10</sup> Wherefore I was wroth to this generation, and I said, (For) Evermore they err in heart, for they knew not my ways; (And so I was angry with that generation, and I said, They always go astray in their hearts, because they do not know my ways;)
- <sup>11</sup> to which I swore in my wrath (or to whom I swore in my anger), they shall not enter into my rest.
- <sup>12</sup> Brethren (or Brothers), see ye, lest peradventure in any of you be an evil heart of unbelief, to depart from the living God.
- <sup>13</sup> But admonish yourselves by all days, the while today is named, that none of you be hardened by (the) fallacy [or by (the) falseness] of sin.
- <sup>14</sup> For we be made partners of Christ (or For we become the Messiah's partners), if nevertheless we hold the beginning of his substance firm into the end.

- <sup>15</sup> While it is said, today, if ye have heard the voice of him, do not ye harden your hearts, as in that wrathing, (or do not harden your hearts, like in that rebellion).
- <sup>16</sup> For some men hearing wrathed (or rebelled), but not all they that went out of Egypt by Moses.
- <sup>17</sup> But to whom was he wrathed forty years? Whether not to them that sinned, whose carrions were cast down in (the) desert? (But by whom was he angered for forty years? Whether not by those who sinned, whose carcasses were thrown down in the desert?)

18 And to whom swore he, that they should not enter into the rest of him, no but to them that were unbelieveful? [+To whom he swore soothly, for to not enter into his rest, no but to them that were unbelieveful?]

to not enter into his rest, no but to them that were unbelieveful?]

<sup>19</sup> And (so) we see, that they might not enter into the rest of him for unbelief.

CHAPTER 4

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore dread we, lest peradventure while the promise of entering into his rest is left (open), that any of us be guessed to be away, [or (that) any of us be guessed, or deemed, for to fail]. (And so let us be fearful, lest perhaps while the promise of entering into his rest is left open, that any of us be thought to miss our opportunity.)
- <sup>2</sup> For it is told also to us, as to them. And the word that was heard profited not to them, not mingled to (the) faith of those things that they heard.
- <sup>3</sup> For we that have believed, shall enter into (his) rest, as he said, As I swore in my wrath, they shall not enter into my rest, (or As I swore in my anger, They shall not enter into my rest), [or As I swore in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest]. And when the works were made perfect at the ordinance of the world,
- <sup>4</sup> he said thus in a place [or in some place] of the seventh day, And God rested in the seventh day from all his works.
- <sup>5</sup> And in this place again, They shall not enter into my rest [or If they shall enter into my rest].
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore for it (pur)sueth (or And so it followeth), that some men shall enter into it, and they to which it was told to before [or and they first to whom it is told], entered not for their unbelief.

<sup>7</sup> Again, he determineth some day, and saith in David, Today, after so much time of time, as it is before-said, Today if ye have heard his voice, do not ye harden your hearts.

do not ye harden your hearts.

<sup>8</sup> For if Jesus, that is, Joshua, had given rest to them, he should never speak of *(an)*other (rest) after this day.

- <sup>10</sup> For he that is entered into his rest, rested of his works, as also God of his. (For he who is entered into his rest, rested from his own works, like God rested from his.)
- $^{11}$  Therefore haste we to enter into that rest, (so) that no man fall into the same ensample of unbelief.
- <sup>12</sup> For the word of God is quick (or alive), and speedy in working, and more able to pierce than any twain-edged sword, and stretcheth forth [till] to the parting of the soul and of the spirit, and of the jointures and (the) marrows, and [it is the] deemer (or the judge) of thoughts, and of (the) intents of hearts.

<sup>13</sup> And no creature is invisible in the sight of God. For all things be naked and open to his eyes, to whom a word to us.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore we that have a great bishop, that pierced heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, hold we the acknowledging [or the confession] of our hope. (And so we who have a great High Priest, who pierced the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold onto the confession of our hope.)

<sup>15</sup> For we have not a bishop, that may not have compassion on our infirmities, (or For we do not have a High Priest, who cannot have compassion on our frailties or our weaknesses), but (One who) was tempted by all things by likeness, without sin.

<sup>16</sup> Therefore go we with trust to the throne of his grace, (so) that we get mercy, and find grace in covenable, (or in opportune, or in timely), help.

CHAPTER 5

- <sup>1</sup> For each bishop taken of men (or For every high priest taken from among men), is ordained for men in these things that be to God, (so) that he offer gifts and sacrifices for sins.
- <sup>2</sup>Which may together sorrow with them (or Who can feel compassion for those), that be uncunning, (or unknowing, or ignorant), and err; for also he is environed with infirmity.
- <sup>3</sup> And therefore he oweth (or And so he ought), as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

 $^4$  Neither any man taketh to him honour, but he that is called of God, as Aaron was.

- <sup>5</sup> So Christ clarified not himself, that he were bishop, but he that spake to him, Thou art my Son, today I (en)gendered thee. (So the Messiah did not glorify himself, so that he became High Priest, but he who spoke to him, and said, Thou art my Son, today I begat thee.)
- <sup>6</sup> As in another place he saith, Thou art a priest [into] without end, after the order of Melchisedec, (or Thou art a priest forever, after the order of Melchizedek).
- <sup>7</sup>Which in the days of his flesh offered, with great cry and tears, prayers and beseechings to him that might make him safe from death (or prayers and beseechings to him who could save him from death), and was heard for his reverence.
- <sup>8</sup> And when he was God's Son, he learned obedience of these things that he suffered:
- <sup>9</sup> and he brought to the end [or he led to perfection] is made (the) cause of everlasting health to all that obey him, (and he brought to perfection is made the Source of eternal salvation for all who obey him,)
- 10 and is called of God a bishop, by the order of Melchisedec. (and is named the High Priest by God, in the order of Melchizedek.)
- <sup>11</sup> Of whom there is to us a great word for to say, and able to be expounded, for ye be made feeble to hear.
- <sup>12</sup> For when ye ought to be masters for a time (or For although ye ought to be teachers by this time), again ye need that ye be taught, which be the letters [or the elements] of the beginning of God's words. And ye be made those, to whom is need of milk, and not [of] firm meat (or of solid food).

- <sup>13</sup> For each that is (a) partner of milk, is without (a) part (or a portion) of the word of rightwiseness, for he is (but) a little child.
- <sup>14</sup> But of perfect men is firm meat, of them that for custom have [their] wits exercised to (the) discretion of good and of evil. (But for grown men there is solid food, yea, for those who by custom have their minds, or their thoughts, exercised by the discretion of good and of evil.)

<sup>1</sup> Therefore we bringing in a word of the beginning of Christ, be we born to the perfection of him, not again laying the foundament of penance from dead works, and of the faith to God, (And so, having brought to you the beginning of the words, or the first lessons, about the Messiah, now let us be born unto his perfection, not again laying the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith in God,) <sup>2</sup> and of teaching of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of (the) rising again of dead men, and of everlasting doom. (and of the teaching of baptisms, and of the laying on of hands, and of the resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgement.)

<sup>3</sup> And this thing we shall do, if God shall suffer. (And we shall do this, if God shall allow it.)

<sup>4</sup> But it is impossible, that they that be once *(en)*lightened [or illumined], and have tasted also an heavenly gift, and be made partners of the Holy Ghost (or and be made partners of the Holy Spirit),

<sup>5</sup> and nevertheless have tasted the good word of God, and the virtues of the world to coming, [or and the virtues of the world to come], (or and the powers of the world to come),

<sup>6</sup> and be slid far away, that they be renewed again to penance. Which again crucify to themselves the Son of God, and have him to scorn.

- <sup>7</sup> For the earth that drinketh rain oft coming on it, and bringeth forth covenable (or suitable) herb(s), to them of which it is tilled, taketh blessing of God.
- <sup>8</sup> But that its bringing forth thorns and briars, is reprovable, (or is reproachable, or is worthy to be rebuked), and next to curse, whose ending shall be into burning.
- <sup>9</sup> But, ye most dearworthy, we trust of you better things, and near(er) to health (or and nearer to salvation), though we speak so.
- <sup>10</sup> For God is not unjust, that he forget your work and love, which ye have showed in his name; for ye have ministered to (the) saints, and (do) minister, (or for ye have served God's people, and continue to serve them).

11 And we covet that each of you show the same busyness to the [full-

Jfilling of hope into the end;

- <sup>12</sup> that ye be not made slow, but also (pur)suers of them, which by faith and patience shall inherit the promises. (so that ye be not made slow, but also followers of those, who by faith and patience, or endurance, shall inherit the promises.)
- <sup>13</sup> For God promising to Abraham, for he had none greater, by whom he should swear, swore by himself,
- $^{14}$  and said, I blessing shall bless thee, and I multiplying shall multiply thee;

 $^{15}$  and so he long abiding had the promise. [and so he long suffering got repromission.]

<sup>16</sup> For men swear by a greater than themselves, and the end of all their plea, [or all their controversy, or debate], is an oath to confirmation.

- 17 In which thing God willing to show plenteouslier (or In which God desiring to show more plentifully), to the heirs of his promise the firmness [or the unmoveableness] of his counsel, put betwixt an oath,
- 18 (so) that by two things unmoveable, by which it is impossible that God lie, we have (the) strongest solace, [or comfort], we that flee together to hold the hope that is put forth to us.
- <sup>19</sup> Which hope as an anchor we have secure to the soul, and firm, and going into the inner things of hiding;
- where the before-goer, Jesus, that is made bishop [into] without end by the order of Melchisedec, entered for us. (where the foregoer, Jesus, who is made High Priest forever in the order of Melchizedek, entered for us.)

CHAPTER 7

<sup>1</sup> And this Melchisedec, king of Salem, and [the] priest of the highest God, which met Abraham, as he turned again from the slaying of the kings, and blessed him; (And this Melchizedek, the king of Salem, and the priest of the Most High God, who met Abraham, as he returned from the killing of the kings, and blessed him;)

<sup>2</sup> to whom also Abraham parted tithes of all things (or to whom Abraham gave tithes of all that he had taken); first he is said (the) king of rightwiseness, and afterward (the) king of Salem, that is to say, (the) king of peace,

- <sup>3</sup> without father, without mother, without genealogy, neither having beginning of days, neither end of life; and he is likened to the Son of God, and dwelleth (a) priest [into] without end (or and remaineth a priest forever).
- <sup>4</sup> But behold ye how great is this [man], to whom Abraham the patriarch gave tithes of the best things.
- <sup>5</sup> For men of the sons of Levi taking priesthood have commandment to take tithes of the people, by the law, that is to say, of their brethren, though also they went out of the loins of Abraham. (For the men of the descendants of Levi who become priests have a command to receive tithes from the people, according to the Law, that is to say, from their brothers, even though they also came from the loins of Abraham.)
- <sup>6</sup> But he whose generation is not numbered in them, took tithes of (or from) Abraham; and he blessed this Abraham, which had repromissions (or who received the promises).
- <sup>7</sup> Without any gainsaying, that that is less, is blessed of the better. (For without a doubt or without any contradiction, that that is less, is blessed by the better.)
- <sup>8</sup> And here deadly men take tithes; but there he beareth witnessing, that he liveth. (And here mortal men, or those who die, receive tithes; but there, as the Scripture testifieth, he who yet liveth.)
- <sup>9</sup> And that it be said so, by Abraham also Levi, that took tithes (or who received tithes), was tithed;

- <sup>10</sup> and yet he was in his father's loins, when Melchisedec met him.
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore if perfection was by the priesthood of Levi, for under him the people took the law, what yet was it needful, (for) another priest to rise, by the order of Melchisedec, and not to be said by the order of Aaron? (And so if perfection had truly come by means of the priesthood of the sons of Levi, for under him the people received the Law, why then was it still necessary for another priest to arise, by the order of Melchizedek, and not to be called by, or to come from, the order of Aaron?)
- <sup>12</sup> For why when the priesthood is translated, it is need[ful] that also [the] translation of the law be made. (Because when there is a change in the priesthood, it is also necessary that there be a change in the Law.)
- <sup>13</sup> But he in whom these things be said, is of another lineage (or of another tribe), of which no man was priest to the altar.
- <sup>14</sup> For it is open [or it is openly known], that our Lord is born of Judah, in which lineage Moses spake nothing of priests. (For it is openly known, that our Lord was born from Judah, from which tribe Moses said nothing about priests.)
- <sup>15</sup> And more yet it is known, if by the order of Melchisedec another priest is risen up; (And more yet it is known, if by the order of Melchizedek another priest hath arisen;)
- <sup>16</sup> which is not made by the law(s) of fleshly commandment(s), but by [the] virtue of (a) life that may not be undone [or is indissoluble]. (who is made a priest not by a system of human laws, but by the power of a life that cannot be destroyed, or be dissolved.)
- <sup>17</sup> For he witnesseth, That thou art a priest [into] without end, by the order of Melchisedec; (For the Scripture testifieth, Thou art a priest forever, in the order of Melchizedek;)
- $^{18}$  (so) that reproving of the commandment before-going is made, for the unfirmness and unprofit of it.
- <sup>19</sup> For why the law brought nothing to perfection, but there is a bringing in of a better hope, by which we nigh to God. (Because the Law brought nothing to perfection, but there is the bringing in of a better hope, by which we can come near to God, or by which we can approach God.)
- <sup>20</sup> And how great it is, not without swearing, [that Christ is made priest after the order of Melchisedec], (or that the Messiah is made a priest in the order of Melchizedek);
- <sup>21</sup> but the others be made priests without an oath; but this priest with an oath, by him that said to him, The Lord swore, and it shall not rue him, Thou art a priest [into] without end, by the order of Melchisedec; (but the others be made priests without an oath; but this priest with an oath, by him who said to him, or as the Scripture said about him, The Lord swore, and he shall not regret it, Thou art a priest forever, in the order of Melchizedek;)
- <sup>22</sup> in so much Jesus is made (a)[better] promiser of the better testament (or of a better covenant).
- <sup>23</sup> And [soothly] the others were made many priests, therefore for they were forbidden by death to dwell still; (And truly there were many priests of those others, because they were forbidden by death to remain alive forever;)

- <sup>24</sup> but this man, for he dwelleth [into] without end, hath an everlasting priesthood. (but this man, because he liveth forever, hath an eternal priesthood.)
- <sup>25</sup> Wherefore also he may save [into] without end, coming nigh by himself to God, and (for)evermore liveth to pray for us. (And so he can also save forever, those who come near to God through him, and he always liveth to pray for us.)
- <sup>26</sup> For it beseemed that such a man were a bishop to us, holy, innocent, undefouled, clean, separated from sinful men, and made higher than (the) heavens; (For it is indeed appropriate that such a man became the High Priest for us, holy, innocent, undefiled, clean, separated from sinners, and made higher than the heavens;)
- <sup>27</sup> which hath not need each day, as priests, first for his own guilts (or his own trespasses) to offer sacrifices, and afterward for the people; for he did this thing in offering himself once.
- <sup>28</sup> And the law ordained men priests having sickness, [or frailty]; but the word of swearing, which is after the law, ordained the Son perfect [into] without end. (And the Law ordained men to be high priests who were weak, (or frail); but the words of the oath, which came after the Law, (ordained) the Son to be perfect forever.)

- <sup>1</sup> But a capital, that is, a short comprehending of many things, on those things that be said. We have such a bishop, that sat on the right half of the seat of greatness in heavens, (But a recapitulation of those things that have already been said. We have such a High Priest, who sat on the right side, or at the right hand, of the throne of the Greatness in heaven,)
- <sup>2</sup> the minister of (the) saints, and of the very tabernacle, that God made [or set], and not man. (the minister of God's people, and of the true Tabernacle, or the true Tent, that God made, or pitched, and not man.)
- <sup>3</sup> For each bishop is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices; wherefore it is need(ful), that also this bishop have something that he shall offer. (For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices; and so it is necessary, that also this High Priest have something that he shall offer.)
- <sup>4</sup>Therefore if he were on (the) earth, he were no priest, when there were (priests) that should offer gifts by the law,
- <sup>5</sup> which serve to the exemplar, [or (the) figure], and (the) shadow of heavenly things. As it was answered to Moses, when he should end [or when he should make] the tabernacle, See [thou], he said, make thou all things by the exemplar, that is showed to thee in the mount, (or make all things by the example, or the pattern, that was shown to thee on Mount Sinai).
- <sup>6</sup> But now he hath gotten a better ministry, by so much as he is a mediator of a better testament (or because he is a mediator of a better covenant), which is confirmed with better promises.
- $^{7}$  For if that first had lacked blame, the place of the second should not have been sought.
- <sup>8</sup> For he reproving them saith, Lo! days come, saith the Lord, and I shall make perfect a new testament on the house of Israel, and on the house of Iudah: (For he rebuking them said, Behold! the days shall come, saith the Lord, and I shall complete a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iudah:)

- <sup>9</sup> not like the testament that I made to their fathers, in the day in which I caught their hand, that I should lead them out of the land of Egypt; for they dwelled not perfectly in my testament, and I have despised them, saith the Lord. (not like the covenant which I made with their fathers, on the day in which I took their hands, so that I could lead them out of the land of Egypt; for they did not remain perfectly, or faithfully, in my covenant, and so I have despised them, saith the Lord.)
- <sup>10</sup> But this is the testament which I shall assign [or I shall dispose] to the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord, in giving my laws into the souls of them, and into the hearts of them I shall above write them; and I shall be to them into a God for and I shall be to them into Godl, and they shall be to me into a people. (But this is the covenant which I shall allot to the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord, in putting my laws into their minds, and I shall write them upon their hearts; and I shall be their God, and they shall be my people.)
- 11 And each man shall not teach his neighbour, and each man his brother, saying, Know thou the Lord; for all men shall know me, from the least to the more of them, (or for all shall know me, from the least unto the greatest of them).
- 12 For I shall be merciful to the wickedness of them, and now I shall not bethink on the sins of them (or and now I shall not remember their sins).
- 13 But in saying a new (testament) the former (testament) waxed old; and that that is of many days, and waxeth old, is nigh the death. (But in proclaiming a new covenant, the former covenant hath grown old; and that which is of many days, and groweth old, is nearly dead, or shall soon die.)

- <sup>1</sup> And the former testament had justifyings of worship (or And the former covenant had rules for worship), and holy thing(s)(en)during for a time.
- <sup>2</sup> For the tabernacle was made first, in which were candlesticks, and [a] board (or a table), and (the) setting forth [or (the) putting forth] of loaves, which is said holy.
- <sup>3</sup> And after the veil, the second tabernacle, that is said sanctum sanctorum, that is, (the)holy of holy things(or the Holy of Holies);
- <sup>4</sup> having a golden censer, and the ark of the testament (or the Covenant Box), covered about on each side with gold, in which was a pot of gold having manna, and the rod of Aaron that flowered, and the tables of the testament (or and the Tablets of the Covenant);
- <sup>5</sup> on which things were cherubims of glory, overshadowing the propitiatory, [or (the) mercyable place], (or over which things were the cherubims of God's glory, or the heavenly cherubim, overshadowing the mercy seat); of which things it is not now to say by all.
- <sup>6</sup> But when these were made thus together, priests entered (for)evermore in(to) the former tabernacle, (or the priests always went into the first tabernacle or tent), doing the offices of (the) sacrifices;

- <sup>7</sup> but in the second tabernacle, the bishop, (or the high priest), [alone]entered once in the year, not without blood, which he offered for his ignorance and (for) the people's.
- <sup>8</sup> For the Holy Ghost signified this thing, that not yet the way of (the) saints was opened, while the former tabernacle had state. (For the Holy Spirit signified this, that the way for God's people was not yet opened, or was not yet revealed, while the first tabernacle still stood.)
- <sup>9</sup> Which parable is of this present time, by which also gifts and sacrifices be offered, which may not make a man serving perfect by conscience, (Which parable is for this present time, in which gifts and sacrifices also be offered, which cannot make the man who serveth there, or who worshippeth there, inwardly perfect,)
- <sup>10</sup> only in meats (or they only be food), and drinks, and diverse washings, and rightwisenesses of (the) flesh, that were set [till] to the time of correction.
- <sup>11</sup> But Christ being a bishop of goods to coming, entered by a larger and perfecter tabernacle, not made by hand, that is to say, not of this making, (But the Messiah being the High Priest of the good things to come, entered into a larger and more perfect Tabernacle, or Tent, not made by hands, that is to say, not of this making,)
- <sup>12</sup> neither by (the) blood of goat bucks, or of calves, but by his own blood, entered once into the holy things, that were found by an everlasting redemption. (nor with the blood of goat bucks, or of calves, but with his own blood, he entered once into the Holy of Holies, and obtained eternal deliverance for us.)
- <sup>13</sup> For if the blood of goat bucks, and of bulls, and the ashes of a cow calf sprinkled, halloweth unclean men *(un)*to the cleansing of (the) flesh,
- <sup>14</sup> how much more the blood of Christ, which by the Holy Ghost offered himself unwemmed to God, shall cleanse our conscience from dead works, to serve (the) God that liveth? [or for to serve to (the) living God?](then how much more the blood of the Messiah, who by the Holy Spirit offered himself without fault, or without blemish, to God, shall cleanse our conscience from dead works, to serve the living God?)
- <sup>15</sup> And therefore he is a mediator of the new testament, that by death falling betwixt, into redemption of the trespassings that were under the former testament, they that be called take the behest of everlasting heritage. (And so he is the mediator of the new covenant, which by death falling between, for the redemption of the trespasses that were under the former covenant, they who be called receive the promise of the eternal inheritance.)
- <sup>16</sup> For where a testament is, it is need(ful), (or For where there is a testament, it is needed), that the death of the testament-maker come betwixt.
- <sup>17</sup> For a testament is confirmed in dead men; (or) else it is not (of) worth, [(or) else it is (of) no worth], while he liveth, that made the testament (or who made the testament).
  - <sup>18</sup> Wherefore neither the first testament was hallowed without blood.
- <sup>19</sup> For when each commandment of the law was read of Moses to all the people (or Because when Moses read each commandment of the Law to the people), he took the blood of calves, and of bucks of goats, with water, and red wool, and hyssop, and besprinkled both that book and all the people,

HEBREWS CHAPTER 10:5

- <sup>20</sup> and said, This is the blood of the testament that God commanded to you. (and said, This is the blood that sealeth the covenant which God hath commanded that you obey.)
- <sup>21</sup> Also he sprinkled with blood the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the service in like manner.
- <sup>22</sup> And almost all things be cleansed in blood by the law; and without shedding of blood remission of sins is not made (or and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness of sins).
- <sup>23</sup> Therefore it is need(ful), (or And so it is needed), that the exemplars of heavenly things be cleansed with these things; but those heavenly things with better sacrifices than these (sacrifices).
- <sup>24</sup> For Jesus entered not into (the) holy things made by hands, that be[the] exemplars of very things, but into heaven itself, that he appear now to the face of God for us; (Because Jesus did not enter into the Holy Place made with hands, which is the example, or the figure, or the shadow, of the true place, but into heaven itself, so that now he appear before God or in the presence of God, for us;)
- <sup>25</sup> neither that he offer himself oft, as the bishop entered into (the) holy things by all years in alien blood, (nor that he offer himself often, like the high priest who entered into the Holy of Holies each year with blood not his
- <sup>26</sup> (or) else it behooved him to suffer oft from the beginning of the world; but now once in the ending of the worlds, to the destruction of sin by his sacrifice he appeared.
- <sup>27</sup> And as it is ordained to men, once to die, but after this is the doom (or but after this is the Judgement),
- <sup>28</sup> so Christ was offered once, to void, [or (to) do away], the sins of many men; the second time he shall appear without sin to men that abide him into health. (so the Messiah was offered once, to do away the sins of many men; the second time he shall appear without sin to those who wait for him unto salvation, or for deliverance.)

- <sup>1</sup> For the law having, (or containing, or being but) a shadow of (the) good things to come, not that image of things, may never make men nighing [or coming nigh] perfect by those same sacrifices, (or can never make those who approach become perfect by those same sacrifices), which they offer without ceasing by all years;
- <sup>2</sup> (or) else they should have ceased to be offered, for as much as the worshippers cleansed once, had not furthermore conscience of sin.
- <sup>3</sup> But in them [by oft offering], (the) mind of sins is made by all years (or a remembrance of sins is made year after year).
- <sup>4</sup> For it is impossible that sins be done away by (the) blood of bulls, and of (the) bucks of goats.
- <sup>5</sup> Therefore he entering into the world, saith, Thou wouldest not sacrifice and offering; but thou hast shaped a body to me; (And so he entering into the world, saith, Thou desirest not sacrifice and offering; but thou hast shaped, or thou hast prepared, a body for me;)

- <sup>6</sup> [and] burnt sacrifices also for sin pleased not to thee.
- <sup>7</sup> Then I said, Lo! I come; in the beginning of the book it is written of me (or from the beginning of the Book it is written about me), that I do thy will, God.
- <sup>8</sup> He saying before, That thou wouldest not sacrifices, and offerings, and burnt sacrifices for sin, nor those things be pleasant to thee, which be offered by the law, (He saying first, Thou desirest not sacrifices, and offerings, and burnt sacrifices for sin, nor those things be pleasing to thee, which be offered by the Law,)
- <sup>9</sup> then I said, Lo! I come, that I do thy will, God. He doeth away the first, that he make steadfast the second.
- <sup>10</sup> In which will we be hallowed by the offering of the body of Christ Jesus once. (By whose will we be consecrated, or we be sanctified, by the offering of the body of the Messiah Jesus once.)
- <sup>11</sup> And each priest is ready ministering each day, and oft times offering the same sacrifices, which may never do away sins (or which can never do away sins).
- <sup>12</sup> But this man offering one sacrifice for sins, forevermore sitteth in the right half of God the Father [or forevermore sitteth on the right half of God the Father]; (But this man offering one sacrifice for sins, forevermore sitteth at the right hand, or on the right side, of God the Father;)
- <sup>13</sup> from thenceforth abiding, till his enemies be put a stool of [or under] his feet. (where he waiteth henceforth, until his enemies be made a footstool under his feet.)
  - <sup>14</sup> For by one offering he made perfect forever[more] hallowed men.
- <sup>15</sup> And the Holy Ghost witnesseth to us (or And the Holy Spirit testifieth to us); for after that he said,
- <sup>16</sup> This is the testament, which I shall witness to them after those days, the Lord saith, in giving my laws in(to) the hearts of them, and in the souls of them I shall above write them; (This is the covenant, about which I shall testify to them after those days, saith the Lord, in putting my laws in their hearts, and I shall write them upon their minds;)
- <sup>17</sup> and now I shall no more think on the sins and the wickedness(es) of them.
- <sup>18</sup> And where remission of these is, now is there none offering for sin. [+Forsooth where (there) is remission of these, now is none offering for sin.] (And where there is forgiveness for sins, now there is no more any need of offerings for sins.)
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore, brethren, having trust into the entering of (the) holy things, in the blood of Christ, (And so brothers, having trust to enter into the Holy of Holies, by the blood of the Messiah,)
- <sup>20</sup> which [he] hallowed to us a new way (or the new way which he hath consecrated for us), and living by the covering [or by a veil], that is to say, his flesh,
- <sup>21</sup> and we having the great priest on the house of God, (and we having the Great Priest over the household of God,)
- <sup>22</sup> nigh we with very heart (or let us approach with a true heart), in the plenty of faith; and be our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with clean water,

- $^{23}$  and hold we the confession of our hope, bowing to no side, [or unbowing, or unpliable]; for he is true that hath made the promise.
- $^{24}$  And behold we together in the stirring of charity (or of love), and of good works;
- <sup>25</sup> not forsaking our gathering together, as it is the custom to some men, but comforting [them], and by so much the more, by how much ye see the day nighing.
- <sup>26</sup> For why now a sacrifice for sins is not left to us, that sin willfully, after that we have taken the knowing of truth. (Because now there is no longer any sacrifice for sins for us, we who sin willingly, or with our free will, after that we have received the knowledge of the truth.)
- <sup>27</sup> For why some abiding of doom is dreadful, and the *(pur)*suing of fire, which shall waste (his) adversaries. (But instead, only waiting for fearful Judgement, and the fire following, which shall waste all his adversaries.)
- <sup>28</sup> Who that breaketh Moses' law, dieth without any mercy, by two or three witnesses (or on the evidence given by two or three witnesses);
- <sup>29</sup> how much more guess ye, that he deserveth worse torments, which defouleth the Son of God, and holdeth the blood of the testament polluted, in which he is hallowed, and doeth despite [or wrong] to the Spirit of grace? (then how much more do ye think, that he deserveth worse torments, who defileth the Son of God, and holdeth the blood of the covenant polluted, by which he was consecrated, or he was sanctified, and despiseth or doeth wrong to the Spirit of grace?)
- <sup>30</sup> For we know him that said, To me vengeance, and I shall yield (it). And again, For the Lord shall deem his people. (For we know him who said, Vengeance is mine, and I shall yield it. And again, The Lord shall judge his people.)
- <sup>31</sup> It is fearedful to fall into the hands of God living. [+It is fearful to fall into the hands of (the) living God.]
- <sup>32</sup> And have ye mind on the former days, in which ye were *(en)*lightened, and suffered great strife of passions. (And remember the early days, when ye were first enlightened, and struggled through great sufferings.)
- <sup>33</sup> And in the tother ye were made a spectacle by shames, and tribulations, (or by reproofs, and troubles); in another ye were made fellows of men living so.
- $^{34}$  For also to bound men ye had compassion, and ye received with joy the robbing of your goods, knowing that ye have a better and a dwelling substance.
  - <sup>35</sup> Therefore do not ye lose your trust, which hath great rewarding.
- <sup>36</sup> For patience is needful to you, that ye do the will of God, and bring again the promise. (Because it is necessary that ye be patient, or that ye endure, so that ye do God's will, and win the promise, or and receive the promise.)
- $^{\rm 37}\,\mathrm{For}$  yet a little, and he that is to come shall come, and he shall not tarry.
- <sup>38</sup> For my just man liveth of faith (or For my righteous man liveth by faith); (so) that if he withdraweth himself, he shall not please to my soul.

 $^{39}$  But we be not the sons of withdrawing away into perdition, but of faith into [the] getting of (the) soul, (or but of faithfulness unto the getting of life, or unto the saving of our souls).

CHAPTER 11

- <sup>1</sup> But faith is the substance of things that be to be hoped [or Forsooth faith is the substance of things to be hoped], and an argument, [or (a) certainty], of things not appearing.
- <sup>2</sup> And in this faith old men have gotten witnessing. (And by this faith men of old have received a good witness or a good testimony.)
- <sup>3</sup> By faith we understand that the worlds were made [or were shaped] by God's word, that visible things were made (out) of invisible things.
- <sup>4</sup> By faith Abel offered a much more sacrifice than Cain to God for By faith Abel offered full much more host, or sacrifice, to God than Cain, by which he got witnessing to be just, for God bare witnessing to his gifts; and by that faith he dead speaketh yet. (By faith Abel offered a much better sacrifice than Cain to God, by which he received testimony that he was righteous, for God gave testimony regarding his gifts; and through that faith though he is dead still speaketh.)
- <sup>5</sup> By faith Enoch was translated, that he should not see death; and he was not found, for the Lord translated him. For before [the] translation he had witnessing that he pleased God. (By faith Enoch was transferred or was carried away, so that he did not see death; and he was not found, because the Lord carried him away. For before he was carried away it is the testimony of Scripture that he had pleased God.)

<sup>6</sup> And it is impossible to please God without faith. For it behooveth that a man coming to God, believe that he is, and that he is [a] rewarder of men that seek him.

<sup>7</sup> By faith Noe dreaded, through (an) answer taken of these things that yet were not seen, and shaped a ship [or an ark] into the health of his house, (or By faith Noah feared, through an answer received regarding those things that were not yet seen, and made an ark for the salvation, or the deliverance, of his family); by which he condemned the world, and is ordained (an) heir of rightwiseness, which is by faith.

<sup>8</sup> By faith he that is called Abraham, obeyed to go out into a place, which he should take into heritage (or which he would receive for an inheritance); and he went out, not witting whither (or knowing where) he should go.

<sup>9</sup> By faith he dwelt in the land of promise, as in an alien land, (or like in a strange, or a foreign, land), dwelling in little houses with Isaac and Iacob. even-heirs of the same promise.

<sup>10</sup> For he abode a city having foundaments (or For he was waiting for a city with firm foundations), whose craftsman and maker is God.

11 By faith also that Sara barren, took virtue in conceiving of seed, (or Also by faith Sarah who was barren, received strength to conceive by seed), yea, against the time of age; for she believed him true, that had promised

12 For which thing of one, and yet nigh dead, there were born as (the) stars of (the) heaven(s) in multitude, and as (the) gravel, that is at the seaside out of number. [For which thing, and of one, and him nigh dead, men be born as stars of heaven in multitude, and as gravel, or (the) sand, that is at the seaside unnumerable.]

- <sup>13</sup> By faith all these be dead, when the behests were not taken, (or when the promises were not yet received, or were not yet fulfilled), but they beheld them afar, and greeting them well, and acknowledged that they were pilgrims, and harboured men on the earth.
  - <sup>14</sup> And they that say these things, signify that they seek a country.
- <sup>15</sup> If they had had mind of that, of which they went out, they had time of turning again; (And if they had remembered, or had thought upon, the place from which they had gone out, they would have found the way, or a time, to return;)
- <sup>16</sup> but now they desire a better, that is to say, (a) heavenly (country). Therefore God is not confounded, [or ashamed], to be called the God of them; for he made ready to them a city (or for he prepared a city for them).
- <sup>17</sup> By faith Abraham offered Isaac, when he was tempted; and he offered the one begotten [son], which had taken the behests; (By faith Abraham offered Isaac, when he was tested; yea, he offered his only begotten son, he who had received the promises;)
  - <sup>18</sup> to whom it was said, For in Isaac the seed shall be called to thee.
- <sup>19</sup> For he deemed (or For he judged), that God is mighty to raise him, yea, from death [or from (the) dead]; wherefore he took him also into a parable.
- $^{20}$  By faith also of things to coming [or By faith and of things to come], Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau.
- $^{21}$  By faith Jacob dying blessed all the sons of Joseph, and honoured the highness of his staff [or the highness of his rod].
- <sup>22</sup> By faith Joseph dying had mind of the passing forth of the children of Israel, and commanded of his bones. (By faith when Joseph was dying, he spoke of the going forth of the children of Israel from Egypt, and commanded about his bones.)
- <sup>23</sup> By faith Moses born, was hid three months of his father and mother, for that they saw the young child fair, [or seemly]; and they dreaded not the commandment of the king. (By faith after Moses was born, he was hidden for three months by his father and mother, for they saw that the young child was beautiful; and they did not fear, or they were not afraid of, the king's command.)
- $^{24}$  By faith Moses was made great, and denied that he was the son of Pharaoh's daughter,
- <sup>25</sup> and chose more [or rather] to be tormented with the people of God, than to have (the) mirth of temporal sin;
- <sup>26</sup> deeming the reproof of Christ (to be) more riches, than the treasures of [the] Egyptians, (or judging the rebuke of the Messiah to be greater riches, than the treasures of the Egyptians); for he beheld into the rewarding.
- $^{27}$  By faith he forsook Egypt, and dreaded not the hardness of the king, (or By faith he left Egypt, and did not fear the king's wrath); for he abode, as seeing him that was invisible.
- <sup>28</sup> By faith he hallowed pask, (or By faith he consecrated, or he sanctified, the Passover), and the shedding out of (the) blood, (so) that he that destroyed the first things of [the] Egyptians, should not touch them.

- <sup>29</sup> By faith they passed (through) the Red Sea, as by dry land, (or By faith they crossed over the Sea of Reeds, like on dry land), which (the same) thing (the) Egyptians assaying were devoured [in the waters].
- <sup>30</sup> By faith the walls of Jericho felled down, by *(the)(en)*compassing of seven days.
- $^{31}$  By faith Rahab the whore received the spies with peace, and perished not with (the) unbelieveful men.
- <sup>32</sup> And what yet shall I say? For time shall fail to me telling of Gedeon (or Gideon), Barak, Samson, Jephthae (or Jephthah), David, and Samuel, and of (the) other prophets;
- <sup>33</sup> which by faith overcame realms, wrought rightwiseness, got repromissions; they stopped the mouths of lions, (who by faith overcame kingdoms, worked righteousness, received the promises; they stopped the mouths of lions,)
- <sup>34</sup> they quenched the fierceness of fire, they drove away the edge of (the) sword, they recovered of sickness, they were made strong in battle, they turned (back) the hosts of aliens (or they turned back the armies of the foreigners).
- <sup>35</sup> Women received their dead children from death to life; but others were held forth, [or died], not taking redemption, that they should find a better again-rising. (Women received their dead raised from death back to life; but others died, not accepting release or deliverance, so that they would receive, or could get, a better resurrection.)
- $^{\rm 36}\,\mathrm{And}$  others as sayed scornings and beatings, moreover and bonds and prisons.
- <sup>37</sup> They were stoned, they were sawed, they were tempted, they were dead in (or by) slaying of (the) sword. They went about in badger skins, and in skins of goats, needy, anguished, tormented;
- <sup>38</sup> to which the world was not worthy. They wandered in (the) wildernesses (or They went about in the wilderness), and in (the) mountains and dens, and in caves of the earth.
- <sup>39</sup> And all these, proved by (the) witnessing of faith, took not repromission; (And all these, approved by the testimony of their faith, did not receive the promise;)
- <sup>40</sup> for God provided some better thing for us, that they should not be made perfect without us (or so that they would not be made perfect without us).

- ¹ Therefore we that have so great a cloud of witnesses put (forth) to [us], do we away all charge, and sin standing about us, and by patience run we to the battle, [or to the strife, or (the) fight], purposed to us, (And so we who have such a great crowd of witnesses put before us, let us do away every burden, and every sin standing about us, and then girded with endurance let us run to the battle, or to the strife, or the fight, purposed for us,)
- <sup>2</sup> beholding into the maker of faith, and the perfect ender, Jesus; which when joy was purposed to him, he suffered the cross, and despised confusion, and sitteth on the right half of the seat of God. (beholding the maker and the perfect finisher of faith, Jesus; who when joy was purposed to him, he suffered the cross, and despised its shame, and now sitteth at the right hand, or on the right side, of God's throne.)

- <sup>3</sup> And bethink ye on him that suffered such gainsaying of sinful men against himself, that ye be not made weary, failing in your souls. (And so think upon him who suffered such opposition, or such railing, against himself from sinners, so that ye be not made weary, and lose heart.)
  - <sup>4</sup> For ye against-stood not yet unto (the) blood, fighting against sin.
- <sup>5</sup> And ye have forgotten the comfort that speaketh to you as to sons, and saith, My son, do not thou despise the teaching [or the discipline] of the Lord, neither be thou made weary, the while thou art chastised of him.
- <sup>6</sup> For the Lord chastiseth him that he loveth; he beateth [or he scourgeth] every son that he receiveth.
- <sup>7</sup> Abide ye still in chastising; God proffereth him(self) to you as to sons [+or Last ye therefore in discipline; God offereth him(self) to you as to sons]. For what son is it, whom the father chastiseth not?
- <sup>8</sup> That if ye be out of chastising, whose partners be ye all made [+or That if ye be out of discipline, of which all ye be made partners], then ye be adulterers (or ye be bastards), and not sons.
- <sup>9</sup> And afterward we had fathers of our flesh, (yea), teachers, and we with reverence dreaded them (or and we had fearful reverence for them). Whether not much more we shall obey to the Father of spirits, and (then) we shall live?
- <sup>10</sup> And they in time of few days taught us by their will; but this Father teacheth to that thing that is profitable, in(to) receiving (of) the hallowing of him. (And they taught us for only a few days, or they disciplined us for only a short time, out of their own desires; but this Father teacheth or disciplineth that which is profitable, unto the receiving or the sharing of his holiness.)
- <sup>11</sup> And each chastising in [this] present time seemeth to be not of joy, but of sorrow; but afterward it shall yield (the) fruit of rightwiseness most peaceable to men exercised by it.
  - 12 For which thing raise ye [up] slow hands, and knees unbound,
- <sup>13</sup> and make ye rightful steps to your feet; (so) that no man halting err, but (that) more be healed.
- <sup>14</sup> (Pur)Sue ye peace with all men (or Seek peace with everyone), and holiness, without which no man shall see God.
- <sup>15</sup> Behold ye, that no man fail to the grace of God, (so) that no root of bitterness burrowing upward hinder [us], and many be defouled by it (or and by which many be defiled);
- <sup>16</sup> that no man be (a) lecher, either unholy, as Esau (was), which for one [meal's] meat sold his first things, [or (his) heritage], (or who for the food of one meal sold his birthright, or his inheritance).
- <sup>17</sup> For know ye, that afterward he coveting to inherit (a) blessing, was reproved. For he found not (a) place of penance, though he sought it with tears. (For know ye, that afterward he coveting to inherit a blessing, was rebuked. For he could not find a way to repentance, though he sought it with tears.)
- <sup>18</sup> But ye have not come to the fire able to be touched, and able to come to, and to the whirlwind [or the great wind], and (the) mist, and (the) tempest, <sup>19</sup> and sound of trump, and voice of words, (or and the sound of the trumpet, and the sound of words); which they that heard, excused them(selves), (so) that the word should not be made to them.

<sup>20</sup> For they bare not that that was said, And if a beast touched the hill, it was stoned [or it shall be stoned].

21 And so dreadful it was that was seen (or And what was seen was so fearful), that Moses said, I am afeared, and full of trembling.

<sup>22</sup> But ye have come nigh to the hill [of] Sion, and to the city of God living, [or and to the city of living God], (or But ye have come near to Mount Zion, and to the city of the living God), the heavenly Jerusalem, and to the multitude of many thousand angels,

<sup>23</sup> and to the church of the first men, which be written in (the) heavens, and to God, doomsman of all, and to the spirit(s) of just (and) perfect men, (and to the congregation or to the assembly of the first-born, whose names be written in heaven, and to God, the Judge of all, and to the spirits of righteous or good people made perfect,)

<sup>24</sup> and to Jesus, mediator of the new testament, (or and to Jesus, the mediator of the new covenant), and to the sprinkling of blood, speaking better than Abel [or better speaking than Abel's blood].

- <sup>25</sup> See ye, that ye forsake not [or that ye refuse (not)] the speaker; for if they that forsaked [or refusing] him that spake on the earth, escaped not, much more we that turn away from him that speaketh to us from (the) heavens. (See, that ye do not refuse to listen to the speaker; for if those who refused to listen to him, who spoke on the earth, did not escape, then how much more we who turn away from him, who now speaketh to us from heaven.)
- <sup>26</sup> Whose voice then moved the earth, but now he again promiseth, and saith, Yet once and I shall move not only the earth, but also heaven. (Whose voice then shook the earth, and now he again promiseth, and saith, Yet once more I shall shake not only the earth, but also heaven.)
- <sup>27</sup> And that he saith, Yet once (more), he declareth the translation of moveable things, as of made things, that those things dwell, that be unmoveable. (And that he saith, Yet once more, he declareth the shaking of moveable things, that is, of made or created things, so that those other things remain, which be unmoveable.)
- <sup>28</sup> Therefore we receiving the kingdom unmoveable, have we grace, by which serve we pleasing to God with dread and reverence. (And so having received an unshakeable kingdom, let us be grateful, and let our service please God, yea, with fearful reverence.)

<sup>29</sup> For our God is (a) fire that wasteth.

- <sup>1</sup> The charity of (the) brotherhood dwell in you, (Keep the love for the brotherhood dwelling in you,)
- <sup>2</sup> and do not ye forget hospitality; for by this some men pleased to angels, that were received to harbour.
- <sup>3</sup> Think ye on bound men, as (if) ye were together bound (with them), and of travailing men, as yourselves dwelling in the body. (Remember those in prison, as if ye were in prison together with them, and those who be struggling, like ye yourselves who remain in the body.)

<sup>4</sup> Wedding is in all things honourable, and (the) bed unwemmed, [or undefouled, (or undefiled)]; for God shall deem fornicators and adulterers (or for God shall judge fornicators and adulterers).

<sup>5</sup> Be your manners without covetousness, satisfied with present things; for he said, I shall not leave thee, neither forsake (thee), <sup>6</sup> so that we say trustily, The Lord is an helper to me; I shall not dread what a man shall do to me (or I shall not fear what anyone shall do to me).

- <sup>7</sup> Have ye mind of your sovereigns [or your provosts], that have spoken to you the word of God; of whom behold ye the going out of living, and (pur)sue ye the faith of them, (Remember your leaders, who have spoken the word of God unto you; think about their living and their dying, and follow the example of their faith,)
- 8 Jesus Christ, yesterday, and today, he is also into worlds. (Jesus Christ, he is yesterday, and today, and forevermore.)
- <sup>9</sup> Do not ye be led away with diverse and strange teachings. For it is best to stable the heart with grace, not with meats (or not with food), which profited not to men wandering [or going] in them.

<sup>10</sup> We have an altar, of which they that serve to the tabernacle, have not (the) power [or (the) leave] to eat. (We have an altar, from which those who serve in the Tabernacle, or the Tent, do not have the right to eat off of.)

- 11 For of which beasts the blood is borne in for sin into (the) holy things by the bishop, the bodies of them be burnt without the castles. (For of which beasts the blood for sin is carried into the Holy of Holies by the high priest, and their bodies be burned up outside the camp.)
- 12 For which thing Jesus, that he should hallow the people by his blood, suffered without the gate. (For which thing Jesus, so that he could consecrate, or he could sanctify, the people with his own blood, suffered outside the gate.)
- 13 Therefore go we out to him without the castles, bearing his reproof. (And so let us go out to him outside the camp, carrying the same rebuke or sharing the same reproach.)
- <sup>14</sup> For we have not here a city dwelling, but we seek a city to coming. [+Soothly we have not here a dwelling city, but we seek a city to come.]
- 15 Therefore by him offer we a sacrifice of praising (for) evermore to God, that is to say, the fruit of (our) lips acknowledging to his name.
- <sup>16</sup> And do not ye forget well-doing, and communing; for by such sacrifices God is well-served, (or is pleased, or is well-satisfied).
- <sup>17</sup> Obey ye to your sovereigns, [or to your provosts, or prelates], and be ye subject to them; for they perfectly wake (or for they diligently watch), as to yielding reason for your souls, (so) that they do this thing with joy, and not sorrowing; for this thing speedeth not to you (or for that would not be expedient for you).
- <sup>18</sup> Pray ye for us, and we trust that we have good conscience in all things, willing to live well (or desiring always to do the right thing).
- <sup>19</sup> Moreover I beseech you to do [this thing], (so) that I be restored the sooner to you.
- <sup>20</sup> And God of peace, that led out from death the great shepherd of (the) sheep, in the blood of [the] everlasting testament (or by the blood of the eternal covenant), our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>21</sup> shape you in all good thing(s), [+or make you able in each good work], (so) that ye do the will of him; and he do in you that thing that shall please before him, by Jesus Christ, to whom be glory into worlds of worlds (or to whom be glory forever and ever). Amen.

<sup>22</sup> And, brethren, I pray you, that ye suffer a word of solace; for by full few things I have written to you.

- <sup>23</sup> Know ye our brother Timothy, that is sent forth, with whom if he shall come more hastily, I shall see you. (Know that our brother Timothy hath been set free, or is now at liberty, and if he shall come in time, he shall be with me when I shall see you.)
- <sup>24</sup> Greet ye well all your sovereigns, and all (the) holy men, [or Greet well all your provosts, and all (the) saints]. The brethren of Italy greet you well. (Give a hearty greeting to all of your leaders, and to all of the saints, or to all of God's people. The brothers in Italy send you hearty greetings.)

<sup>25</sup> The grace of God be with you all. Amen.

JAMES

- <sup>1</sup> James, the servant of God, and of our Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve kindreds, that be in (the) scattering abroad, health. (James, the servant of God, and of our Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes, who be in the scattering abroad, or in the dispersion, or the Diaspora, greetings.)
- <sup>2</sup> My brethren, deem ye (it) all joy, when ye fall into diverse temptations, (My brothers, judge it to be most joyful, when ye undergo different tests,)
- <sup>3</sup> witting that the proving of your faith worketh patience; (knowing that the proving of your faith produceth patience, or increaseth endurance;)
- <sup>4</sup> and patience hath a perfect work, that ye be perfect and whole, and fail in nothing.
- <sup>5</sup> And if any of you needeth wisdom, ask he of God, which giveth to all men largely (or who giveth generously to everyone), and upbraideth not; and it shall be given to him.
- <sup>6</sup> But ask he in faith, and doubt nothing; for he that doubteth, is like to a wave of the sea, which is moved and borne about of the wind. (But ask he with faith, and do not doubt; for he who doubteth, is like a wave of the sea, which is moved and carried about by the wind.)
- <sup>7</sup> Therefore guess not that man, that he shall take anything of the Lord. (And so do not let that man think, that he shall receive anything from the Lord.)
  - <sup>8</sup> A man double in soul is unstable in all his ways.
- <sup>9</sup> And a meek brother have glory in his enhancing, (And a humble man have glory in his exalting,)
- <sup>10</sup> and a rich man in his lowness; for as the flower of grass he shall pass (away).
- <sup>11</sup> The sun rose up with heat, and dried the grass [or the hay], and the flower of it felled down, and the fairness of his cheer perished (or and the beauty of his face perished); and so a rich man withereth in his ways.
- <sup>12</sup> Blessed is the man, that suffereth temptation, (or Happy is the man, who undergoeth testing); for when he shall be proved, he shall receive the crown of life, which God promised to men that love him.
- <sup>13</sup> No man when he is tempted, say, that he is tempted of God; for why God is not a tempter of evil things, for he tempteth no man. (Let no man say, when he is tempted or tested, that he was tempted or tested by God; for God cannot be tempted by evil, and he tempteth no one.)
- <sup>14</sup> But each man is tempted, drawn (away) and stirred, of his own coveting. [Soothly each man is tempted of (or by) his own coveting, drawn (away) from reason, and snared, or deceived.](But each person is tempted or tested, drawn away and stirred, by his own lusts and envies.)
- <sup>15</sup> Afterward coveting [or Then coveting], when it hath conceived, bringeth forth sin; but sin, when it is [ful] filled, (en)gendereth death.
  - <sup>16</sup> Therefore, my most dearworthy brethren, do not ye err.
- <sup>17</sup> Each good gift, and each perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is none other changing, nor overshadowing of reward. [+Each best thing given, and all perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom is not any changing, neither shadowing of whileness, or (of) time.]

- <sup>18</sup> For willfully he begat us by the word of truth, that we be a beginning of his creature(s). (For willingly, or by free will, he begat us by the Word of Truth, so that we hold the first rank among all his creatures.)
- <sup>19</sup> Know ye, my brethren most *(be)*loved, be each man swift to hear, but slow to speak, and slow to wrath;
  - <sup>20</sup> for the wrath of man worketh not the rightwiseness of God.
- <sup>21</sup> For which thing cast ye away all uncleanness, and plenty of malice, and in mildness (or and in meekness and humility), receive ye the word that is planted, that may save your souls (or that can save your souls).
- $^{22}$  But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves.
- <sup>23</sup> For if any man is an hearer of the word, and not a doer, this shall be likened to a man that beholdeth the cheer of his birth in a mirror (or he shall be like a man who seeth his face in a mirror);
- <sup>24</sup> for he beheld himself, and went away, and anon he forgot which [or what] he was (or and at once he forgot what he was).
- <sup>25</sup> But he that beholdeth into the law of perfect freedom, and dwelleth in it, and is not made a forgetful hearer, but a doer of work(s), this shall be blessed in his deed(s).
- <sup>26</sup> And if any man guesseth himself to be religious, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiveth his heart, the religion of him is vain (or his religion is empty and useless).
- <sup>27</sup> A clean religion, and unwemmed with God and the Father, is this, to visit fatherless and motherless children, and widows in their tribulation, and to keep himself undefouled from this world. (A clean religion, and unspotted, or without blemish, with God the Father, is this, to visit fatherless and motherless children, and widows in their distress, and to keep himself undefiled from this world.)

- <sup>1</sup> My brethren, do not ye have the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ of glory, in (the) acception of persons. [My brethren, do not in acception, or taking, of persons, have the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ of glory.](My brothers, ye who have faith in our Lord Jesus Christ in glory, do not favour, or have respect for, certain people over others.)
- <sup>2</sup> For if a man that hath a golden ring, and in a fair clothing, (or For if a man who hath a gold ring, and beautiful clothes), cometh in your company, and a poor man entereth in a foul clothing,
- <sup>3</sup> and if ye behold into him that is clothed with clear clothing, and if ye say to him, Sit thou here well, (or and if ye see him who is clothed with beautiful clothes, and ye say to him, Sit thou here in this favoured place); but to the poor man ye say, Stand thou there, either sit under the stool of my feet;
- <sup>4</sup> whether ye deem not with yourselves, and be made doomsmen of wicked thoughts? (do not ye judge, and make yourselves judges, with your wicked thoughts?)

- <sup>5</sup> Hear ye, my most dearworthy brethren, whether God chose not poor men in this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom, that God promised to men that love him?
- <sup>6</sup> But ye have despised the poor man. Whether rich men oppress not you by power, and they draw you to dooms? (or and do they not drag you to the courts?)
- <sup>7</sup> Whether they blaspheme not the good name, that is called to help on you? [Whether they blaspheme not the good name, that is in-called of you?] (Do they not blaspheme the good name, that you call upon for help?)
- <sup>8</sup> Nevertheless if ye perform the King's law, by (the) scriptures, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well.
- <sup>9</sup> But if ye take persons, ye work sin, and be reproved of the law, as trespassers [or as transgressors]. (But if ye favour, or have respect for, certain people over others, ye work sin, and be rebuked by the Law, as trespassers or as transgressors.)
- <sup>10</sup> And whoever keepeth all the law, but offendeth in one, he is made guilty of all (of it).
- <sup>11</sup> For he that said, Thou shalt do no lechery [or Thou shalt not do lechery], said also, Thou shalt not slay; (so) that if thou doest no lechery, but thou slayest, thou art made [a] trespasser of the law.
- <sup>12</sup> Thus speak ye, and thus do ye, as beginning to be deemed (or to be judged) by the law of freedom.
- <sup>13</sup> For why doom without mercy is to him, that doeth no mercy; but mercy above raiseth doom. (For judgement without mercy is for him, who doeth no mercy; but mercy riseth above or triumpheth over judgement.)
- <sup>14</sup> My brethren, what shall it profit, if any man say that he hath faith, but he hath not works? whether faith shall be able to save him?
- <sup>15</sup> And if a brother or sister be naked, and have need of each day's livelode [or of each day's lifelode], (And if a brother or sister be naked, and have need of each day's livelihood,)
- <sup>16</sup> and if any of you say to them, Go ye in peace, be ye made hot, and be ye [full-]filled; but if ye give not to them those things that be necessary to the body, what shall it profit?
  - <sup>17</sup> So also faith, if it hath not works, is dead in itself.
- <sup>18</sup> But some man shall say, Thou hast faith, and I have works; show thou to me thy faith without works, and I shall show to thee my faith of works, (or show to me thy faith without works, and I shall show to thee my faith by my works).
- <sup>19</sup> Thou believest, that one God is; thou doest well; and (the) devils believe, and [together] tremble.
- <sup>20</sup> But wilt thou know, thou vain man (or O empty and useless man), that faith without works is idle?
- <sup>21</sup> Whether Abraham, our father, was not justified of works, (or Was not our father Abraham justified by works), offering Isaac, his son, on the altar?
- <sup>22</sup> Therefore thou seest, that faith wrought with his works, and his faith was [ful] filled of works. (And so thou seest, that faith was at work in his works, and his faith was fulfilled, or was brought to fruition, by his works.)
- <sup>23</sup> And the scripture was [ful] filled, saying, Abraham believed to God, and it was areckoned to him to rightwiseness, and he was called the friend of God.

- <sup>24</sup> Ye see that a man is justified of works, and not of faith only. (And so ye see that a man is justified by works, and not by faith alone.)
- <sup>25</sup> In like manner, whether also Rahab, the whore, was not justified of works, (or In like manner, was not Rahab, the whore, justified by works), and received the messengers, and sent them out by another way?
- <sup>26</sup> For as the body without (the) spirit is dead, so also faith without works is dead.

- <sup>1</sup> My brethren, do not ye be made (into) many masters, witting that ye take the more doom. (My brothers, do not let many of you become teachers, knowing that if ye do, ye shall receive a sterner judgement, or a greater condemnation.)
- <sup>2</sup> For all we offend in many things. If any man offendeth not in word, this is a perfect man, (or If some man offendeth not by speaking unkindly, or harshly, then he is a perfect man); for also he may lead about all the body with a bridle.
- <sup>3</sup> For if we put bridles into horses' mouths, for to consent to us, and (so) we lead about all the body of them.
- <sup>4</sup> And lo! ships, when they be great, and be driven of strong winds, yet they be borne about of a little rudder, where the moving of the governor will. (And behold! ships, although they be great, and be driven by strong winds, yet they can be turned about by a little rudder, wherever the captain desireth.)
- <sup>5</sup> So also the tongue is but a little member, and raiseth great things. Lo! how little fire burneth [or kindleth] a full great wood, (or Behold! how a little fire burneth a very large forest).
- <sup>6</sup> And our tongue is (a) fire, the university of wickedness. The tongue is ordained in our members, which defouleth all the body; and it is enflamed, [or set afire], of hell (or and it is set on fire from hell), and enflameth the wheel of our birth.
- <sup>7</sup> And all the kind(s) of beasts, and of fowls, and of serpents, and of others is chastised, and those be made tame of man's kind (or and they all can be tamed by mankind); [Soothly all kind(s) of beasts, and fowls, and serpents, and of others, be overcome, or under-yoked, and be made tame, of mankind, (or and can be made tame by mankind);]
- <sup>8</sup> but no man may chastise the tongue (or but no one can discipline the tongue), for it is an unpeaceable evil, and full of deadly venom.
- <sup>9</sup> In it we bless God, the Father, and in it we curse men, that be made to the likeness of God. (With it we bless God the Father, and with it we curse men, who be made in the likeness of God.)
- <sup>10</sup> (Out) Of the same mouth passeth forth [or cometh forth] blessing and cursing. My brethren (or My brothers), it behooveth not that these things be done so.
- <sup>11</sup> Whether a well of the same hole bringeth forth sweet (water), and salt water?
- <sup>12</sup> My brethren (or My brothers), whether a fig tree may make grapes, either a vine figs? So neither salt water may make sweet water.
- 13 Who is wise, and taught among you? show he of good living his working [or show he of good living his work], in mildness of his wisdom.

(Who is wise, and learned among you? show he by good living his work, along with the humility and the meekness of his wisdom.)

- <sup>14</sup> (So) That if ye have bitter envy, and strivings [or strives] be in your hearts, do not ye have glory (or do not boast), and be liars against the truth.
- <sup>15</sup> For this wisdom is not from above coming down, but earthly, and beastly, and fiendly (or and devilish).
- <sup>16</sup> For where (there) is envy and strife, there is unsteadfastness and all shrewd work (or and every depraved work).
- <sup>17</sup> But wisdom that is from above, first it is chaste, afterward peaceable, mild (or meek and humble), able to be counselled [or persuadable], consenting to good things, full of mercy and of good fruits, deeming without feigning (or judging with sincerity).
- <sup>18</sup> And the fruit of rightwiseness is sown in peace, to men that make peace. (And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace, by men who make peace.)

CHAPTER 4

- <sup>1</sup> Whereof be battles and chidings among you? Whether not (out) of your covetings, that fight in your members? (Where do battles and arguments among you come from? Whether not from your lusts and your envies, that fight among your members?)
- <sup>2</sup> Ye covet, and ye have not; ye slay, and ye have envy, and ye may not get (or and ye cannot get). Ye chide, and make battle; and ye have not, for that ye ask not.
- <sup>3</sup> Ye ask, and ye receive not; for that ye ask (with) evil (intent), as ye show openly in your covetings.
- <sup>4</sup> Adulterers, know not ye, that the friendship of this world is enemy to God? [+or that the friendship of this world is enmity to God?](or that friendship with this world, or love of or for this world, is enmity to God?) Therefore whoever will be the friend of this world, is made the enemy of God.
- <sup>5</sup> Whether ye guess, that the scripture saith vainly, (or Do ye think, that the Scripture saith emptily, or for no purpose), The spirit that dwelleth in you, coveteth to envy?
- <sup>6</sup> But he giveth the more grace; for which thing he saith, God withstandeth proud men, but to meek men he giveth grace, (or God opposeth the proud, but he giveth grace to the humble).

<sup>7</sup>Therefore be ye subject to God; but withstand ye the devil, and he shall flee from you.

- <sup>8</sup> Nigh ye to God, and he shall nigh to you. Ye sinners, cleanse ye the hands, and ye double in soul [or and ye double of will], purge ye the hearts. (Come near to God, and he shall come near to you. Ye sinners, cleanse your hands, and ye of two minds, purge your hearts.)
- <sup>9</sup> Be ye wretches, and wail ye [or and weep ye]; your laughing be turned into weeping, and [your] joy into (the) sorrow of heart.
- <sup>10</sup> Be ye meeked in the sight of the Lord, and he shall enhance you. (Be ye humble before the Lord, and he shall raise you up.)
- <sup>11</sup> My brethren, do not ye backbite each other. He that backbiteth his brother, either that deemeth his brother, backbiteth the law, and deemeth the law. And if thou deemest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a doomsman. (My brothers, do not slander each other. He who slandereth his brother, or who judgeth his brother, slandereth the Law, and judgeth the Law. And if thou judgest the Law, thou art not a doer of the Law, but a judge.)

<sup>12</sup> But one is maker of the law, and judge, that may lose and deliver. And who art thou, that deemest thy neighbour? (But there is One who is the Maker of the Law, and the Judge, who can destroy and save. And so who art thou, who judgest thy neighbour?)

<sup>13</sup> Lo! now ye, that say, Today either tomorrow we shall go into that city, and there we shall dwell a year, and we shall make merchandise, and we shall make winning(s), (or and we shall have great success, and make great profits);

<sup>14</sup> which know not, what is to you in the morrow. For what is your life? A smoke [or A vapour] appearing at a little time, and afterward it shall be wasted.

- <sup>15</sup> Therefore that ye say, If the Lord will, and if we live, we shall do this thing, either that thing. (And so ye should say, If the Lord desireth it, and if we live, we shall do this, or that.)
- <sup>16</sup> And now ye make full out joy in your prides; every such joying is wicked.

<sup>17</sup> Therefore it is sin to him, that knoweth to do good, and doeth not.

- $^{\rm 1}\,{\rm Do}$  now, ye rich men, weep ye, yelling in your wretchednesses that shall come to you.
- $^2$  Your riches be rotten, and your clothes be eaten of moths. (Your riches have rotted, and your clothes have been eaten by moths.)
- <sup>3</sup> Your gold and silver hath rusted, and the rust of them shall be to you into witnessing, and shall eat your fleshes, as fire. Ye have treasured to you wrath in the last days. (Your gold and silver have rusted, and their rust shall be the testimony against you, and shall eat your flesh, like fire. Ye have piled up wealth for yourselves in the Last Days.)
- <sup>4</sup> Lo! the hire of your workmen, that reaped your fields, which is defrauded of you, crieth; and the cry of them hath entered into the ears of the Lord of hosts. (Behold! the wages of your workers, who harvested your fields, and who were defrauded by you, crieth out; and their cry hath entered into the ears of the Lord of hosts.)
- <sup>5</sup> Ye have eaten on the earth, and in your lecheries ye have nourished your hearts. In the day of slaying
- <sup>6</sup> ye brought, and slew the just Man, and he against-stood not you. [ye led to, and slew the just man, and he withstood you not (or and he did not withstand you).](ye condemned, and killed the Just Man, and he did not oppose you, or and he did not stand against you.)
- <sup>7</sup> Therefore, brethren, be ye patient, till to the coming of the Lord. Lo! an earth-tiller abideth [the] precious fruit of the earth, patiently suffering, till he receive timeful and lateful fruit. (And so brothers, endure, until the coming of the Lord. Behold! a farmer waiteth for the precious fruit from the earth, yea, patiently waiting, until he receive (the fruit) in its time, and then even a later harvest.)

<sup>8</sup> And be ye patient, and confirm ye your hearts, for the coming of the Lord shall nigh. (And so be patient, and make your hearts firm, for the coming of the Lord shall approach, or it is near.)

<sup>9</sup> Brethren, do not ye be sorrowful for do not ye be scornfull each to (the) other, that ye be not deemed (or so that ye be not judged). Lo! the judge standeth nigh before the gate.

- <sup>10</sup> Brethren, take ve (an) ensample of evil going out, and of long abiding. and travail, [or and of (the) long abiding of travail], and of patience, the prophets, that spake to you in the name of the Lord, (or the prophets, who spoke to you in the name of the Lord).
- 11 Lo! we bless them that suffered. Ye have heard (of) the patience of Job, and ye saw the end of the Lord (or and ye saw his end with the Lord), for the Lord is merciful, and doing mercy.
- <sup>12</sup> Before all things, my brethren, do not ye swear, neither by heaven, neither by earth, neither by whatever other oath. But be your word Yea, yea, Nay, nay, that ye fall not under doom (or so that ye do not fall under iudgement).

<sup>13</sup> And if any of you is sorrowful, [or (is) heavy], pray he with (a) patient soul, and say he a psalm.

<sup>14</sup> If any of you is sick, lead he in (some) priests of the church (or send he for some priests from the church), and pray they for him, and anoint him with oil in the name of the Lord:

15 and the prayer of faith shall save the sick man[or and the prayer of faith shall save the sick], and the Lord shall make him light (or and the Lord shall put him at ease); and if he be in sins, they shall be forgiven to

<sup>16</sup> Therefore acknowledge ye each to (the) other your sins, and pray ye each for (the) other, (so) that we be saved. For the continual prayer of a just man is (of) much worth.

- <sup>17</sup> Elias was a deadly man like us (or Elijah was a mortal man like us), and in prayer he prayed, that it should not rain on the earth, and it rained not (for) three years and six months.
- <sup>18</sup> And again he prayed, and heaven gave rain, and the earth gave his fruit (or and the land brought forth its fruit).

 $^{19}$  And, brethren, if any of you erreth from (the) truth, and any converteth him,  $^{20}$  he oweth to know, that he that maketh a sinner to be turned from the error of his way(s), shall save the soul of him from death, and covereth the multitude of sins. [Amen.] (he ought to know, that he who maketh a sinner to turn from the error of his ways, shall save his soul from death, and covereth a multitude of sins. Amen.)

1ST PETER

<sup>1</sup> Peter, (an) apostle of Jesus Christ, to the chosen men, to the comelings of (the) scattering abroad, [or to the chosen guests, or (the) comelings, of (the) dispersion, or the scattering abroad], (or who be the newcomers, or the strangers, in the scattering abroad, or in the dispersion, or the Diaspora), of Pontus, of Galatia, of Cappadocia, of Asia, and of Bithynia,

<sup>2</sup> by the before-knowing [or the prescience] of God, the Father, in (the) hallowing of (the) Spirit, (or by the consecrating, or the sanctifying, of the Spirit), by (the) obedience, and (the) sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ, grace and peace be multiplied to you.

<sup>3</sup> Blessed be God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which by his great mercy begat us again into (a) living hope, by the again-rising of Jesus Christ from death, [or by the again-rising of Jesus Christ from (the) dead], (or by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead),

<sup>4</sup> into (a) heritage uncorruptible, and undefouled, and that shall not fade, that is kept in heavens for you, (to an incorruptible and undefiled inheritance, that shall not fade, and that is kept for you in heaven,)

<sup>5</sup> that in the virtue of God be kept by the faith into health, and is ready to be showed in the last time. (who by the power of God be kept by the faith unto salvation, and is ready to be shown on the Last Day or at the Time of the End.)

<sup>6</sup> In which ye shall make joy, though it behooveth now a little to be sorry in diverse temptations; (On which Day ye shall have joy, though it behooveth now to be sorrowful for a while, enduring different tests;)

<sup>7</sup> (so) that the proving of your faith be much more precious than gold, that is proved by fire; and be found into praising, and glory, and honour, in the revelation of Jesus Christ.

<sup>8</sup> Whom when ye have not seen, ye love; into whom also now ye not seeing, believe; but ye that believe shall have joy, and gladness that may not be told out, (or but ye who believe shall have joy, yea, joy that cannot be told out), and ye shall be glorified,

<sup>9</sup> and have [or bring again] the end of your faith, the health of your souls. (and receive the completion of your faith, yea, the salvation of your souls.)

- <sup>10</sup> Of which health prophets sought [out], (or Of which salvation the prophets sought out), and searched into, that prophesied of the grace to coming in you, [Of which health prophets sought out, and ensearched, that prophesied of the grace to come into you,]
- <sup>11</sup> and sought which either what manner time the Spirit of Christ signified in them, and before-told those passions that be in Christ, and the latter glories. (and sought at what time and in what manner the Spirit of the Messiah signified to them, and foretold the sufferings that be for the Messiah, and the latter glories.)
- <sup>12</sup> To which it was showed, for not to themselves, but to you they ministered those things, that now be told to you by them that preached to you by the Holy Ghost (or which now be told to you by those who preached to you through the Holy Spirit), sent from heaven, into whom angels desire to behold.

- <sup>13</sup> For which thing be ye gird the loins of your soul, sober (or resolute),
- perfect, and hope ye into that grace that is proffered to you by the showing of Jesus Christ [or and hope ye into that grace that is offered to you by the revelation of Jesus Christ],
- <sup>14</sup> as sons of obedience, not made like to the former desires of your uncunningness, (or your unknowingness), [or of your ignorance],
- <sup>15</sup> but like him that hath called you holy; (so) that also yourselves be holy in all living;
  - <sup>16</sup> for it is written, Ye shall be holy, for I am holy.
- <sup>17</sup> And if ye inwardly call him Father, which deemeth without acception of persons by the work of each man, live ye in dread in the time of your pilgrimage [in, (or on), (the) earth]; (And if ye inwardly call him Father, who judgeth without respect for persons, or without favouritism, but rather, according to the works of each man, live ye in fearful reverence during the time of your pilgrimage on the earth;)
- <sup>18</sup> witting that not by corruptible gold, either silver, ye be bought again of your vain living of (your) fathers' tradition, (knowing that not by corruptible gold, or silver, ye be redeemed, or released, from the empty and useless living of your fathers' traditions,)
- <sup>19</sup> (no) but by the precious blood as of the lamb undefouled and unspotted, Christ Jesus, (but rather, by the precious blood as of an undefiled and unspotted lamb, yea, the Messiah Jesus,)
- <sup>20</sup> that was known before the making of the world, but he is showed in the last times, for you (who was known before the creation of the world, but he was shown in these Last Times, for you)
- $^{21}$  that by him be faithful in God; that raised him from death [or that raised him from (the) dead], and gave to him everlasting glory, (so) that your faith and hope were in God.
- <sup>22</sup> And make ye chaste your souls in obedience of charity, in love of (the) brotherhood; of simple heart love ye together more busily (or with a sincere heart love one another more diligently).
- <sup>23</sup> And be ye born again, not of corruptible seed, but [of] uncorruptible (seed), by the word of (the) living God, and dwelling into without end (or and living forever).
- $^{24}$  For each flesh is(as) hay, and all the glory of it is as the flower of hay; the hay dried up, and his  $(or\ its)$  flower felled down;
- $^{25}$  but the word of the Lord dwelleth [into] without end (or but the word of the Lord remaineth forever). And this is the word, that is preached to you.

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore put ye away all malice, and all guile, and feignings [or simulations], and envies, and all backbitings [or all detractions];
- <sup>2</sup> as now born young children, reasonable, without guile, covet ye (the) milk [of full teaching], that in it ye wax into health (or so that by it ye grow in your salvation);
  - <sup>3</sup> if nevertheless ye have tasted, that the Lord is sweet.

- <sup>4</sup> And nigh ye to him, that is a living stone, and reproved of men, but chosen of God, and honoured; (And come near to him, who is a living stone, and rebuked and rejected by men, but chosen and honoured by God;)
- <sup>5</sup> and yourselves as quick stones (or and yourselves like living stones), be ye above builded into spiritual houses, and an holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.
- <sup>6</sup> For which thing the scripture saith, Lo! I shall set in Sion [or I shall put in Sion] the highest cornerstone, chosen and precious; and he that shall believe in him, shall not be confounded. (For which thing the Scripture saith, Behold! I shall put in Zion the highest cornerstone, chosen and precious; and he who shall believe in him, shall not be shamed.)
- <sup>7</sup> Therefore honour to you that believe; but to men that believe not, the stone whom the builders reproved, this is made into the head of the corner; (And so honour to you who believe; but to those who do not believe, the stone which the builders rejected, this is made into the head of the corner;)
- $^8$  and the stone of hurting, and the stone of stumbling, to them that offend to the word (or to those who stumble at the word), neither believe it, in which they be set.
- <sup>9</sup> But ye be a chosen kin [or Forsooth ye be a kind (that was) chosen], a kingly priesthood, (a) holy folk, a people of purchasing, that ye tell the virtues of him, that called you from darknesses into his wonderful light, (or so that ye tell out his praises, he who called you from darkness into his wonderful light).
- <sup>10</sup> Which sometime were not a people of God, but now ye be the people of God; which had not mercy, but now ye have mercy.
- $^{11}$  Most dear (ones), I beseech you, as comelings, [or as guests], (or as newcomers), and pilgrims, to abstain you from fleshly desires, that fight against the soul;
- <sup>12</sup> and have ye your conversation [or your life] good among heathen men, that in that thing that they backbite of you, as of mis-doers, they behold you of good works, and glorify God in the day of visitation. (and live a good life among the Gentiles, so that in those things in which they now slander you, as mis-doers, they shall instead see your good works, and glorify God on the Day of Visitation.)
- <sup>13</sup> Be ye subject to each creature of man, for God, (or Be subject to each creation, or to each institution of man, for God); either to the king, as to him that is higher [or is more worthy] in state,
- <sup>14</sup> either to dukes, as to those that be sent of him to the vengeance of mis-doers, and to the praising of good men [or of good deeds].
- <sup>15</sup> For so is the will of God, that ye do well, and make the uncunningness, (or the unknowingness, or the ignorance) of unprudent men [or of unwise men] to be dumb (or to be silent).
- $^{16}$  As free men, and not as having freedom the covering of malice, but as the servants of God.
- <sup>17</sup> Honour ye all men, love ye (the) brotherhood, dread ye God (or have fearful reverence toward God), honour ye the king.
- <sup>18</sup> Servants, be ye subject in all dread to (your) lords, not only to good and to mild (ones), but also to tyrants. (Servants, be subject in all fear or with all due respect, or reverence, for your lords, not only to good and to meek ones, but also to tyrants.)

- <sup>19</sup> For this is grace, if for conscience of God any man suffereth heavinesses [or sorrows], and suffereth unjustly.
- <sup>20</sup> For what grace is it, if ye sin, and be buffeted, and suffer? But if ye do well, and suffer patiently, this is grace with God.
- <sup>21</sup> For to this thing ye be called. For also Christ suffered for us, and left (an) ensample to you, that ye follow the steps of him. (For to this ye be called. For the Messiah also suffered for us, and left an example for you, so that ye follow his steps.)
- <sup>22</sup> Which did not sin, neither guile was found in his mouth. (Who did not sin, nor was a lie ever found in his mouth, or nor did a lie ever come out of his mouth.)
- <sup>23</sup> And when he was cursed, he cursed not; when he suffered, he menaced not; but he betook himself to him, that deemed him unjustly. (And when he was cursed, he did not curse back; when he suffered, he did not threaten; but he delivered himself unto him, who judged him unjustly.)
- <sup>24</sup> And he himself bare [or suffered] our sins in his body on a tree, (so) that we be dead to sins, and live to rightwiseness, by whose wan wound ye be healed.
- <sup>25</sup> For ye were as sheep erring, but ye be now turned to the shepherd [or but ye be converted now to the shepherd], and (the) bishop (or the High Priest) of your souls.

- <sup>1</sup> Also women be they subject to their husbands; that if any man, that is, (their)husbands, believe not to the word, by the conversation of women they (shall) be won without (any) word(s). (And women should be subject to their husbands; so that if their husbands do not believe the word of God, by the way their women live these men shall be won without any words.)
- <sup>2</sup> And behold ye in dread your holy conversation. (And so, ye women, watch over your pure way of living, with a fear of losing it.)
- <sup>3</sup> Of whom be there not withoutforth curious adorning of hair, either doing about of gold, either adorning of clothing;
- <sup>4</sup> but that is the hid man of (the) heart, in uncorruption, and of mild spirit, [or in (the) uncorruptibility of (a) quiet and mild spirit], which is rich in the sight of God. (but within, yea, hidden in the heart, and with a meek and a humble spirit, which is rich before God.)
- $^{\rm 5}\,{\rm For}$  so sometime holy women hoping in God adorned themselves, and were subject to their own husbands.
- <sup>6</sup> As Sara(h) obeyed to Abraham, and called him lord; of whom ye be daughters well-doing, and not dreading any perturbation.
- <sup>7</sup> Also men dwell together, and by cunning, (or knowing), [or science], give ye honour to the woman's frailty, [or to her vessel], (or to her body), as to the more feeble, and as to even-heirs of grace and of life, (so) that your prayers be not hindered.
- <sup>8</sup> And in faith all of one will (or of one intention), in prayer be ye each suffering with (the) other, lovers of (the) brotherhood, merciful, mild (or humble), meek; [Forsooth in faith all of one understanding, or will, in prayer be ye compassionate, or each suffering with (the) other, lovers of (the) fraternity, merciful, mild, meek;]

- <sup>9</sup> not yielding evil for evil, neither cursing for cursing, but on the contrary blessing; for in this thing ye be called, that ye wield blessing by heritage (or so that ye can possess the blessing by inheritance).
- <sup>10</sup> For he that will love life, and see good days, constrain his tongue from evil, and his lips, that they speak not guile, [or that they speak no guile], (or so that they do not speak lies).
- <sup>11</sup> And bow he (away) from evil, and do good; seek he peace, and perfectly follow it.
- <sup>12</sup> For the eyes of the Lord be on just men, and his ears on the prayers of them; but the cheer [or the face] of the Lord is on men that do evils.
- <sup>13</sup> And who is it that shall annoy you, if ye be (pur)suers and lovers of goodness? [And who is it that shall annoy to you, if ye shall be good (pur)suers?](And who is it that shall harm you, if ye be followers and lovers of goodness, or if ye pursue after that which is good?)
- <sup>14</sup> But also if ye suffer anything for rightwiseness, ye be blessed; but dread ye not the dread of them (or but do not fear them), (so) that ye be not disturbed for distractional.
- not disturbed [or distroubled].

  15 But hallow ye the Lord Christ in your hearts, and evermore be ye ready to [do] satisfaction to each man asking you (for the) reason of that faith and hope that is in you, but with mildness, and dread, (But consecrate the Lord Messiah in your hearts, and always be ye ready to give satisfaction to each man asking you for the reason for the faith and hope that is in you, but with meekness and humility, and fearful reverence,)
- <sup>16</sup> having good conscience; that in that thing that they backbite of you, they be confounded, which challenge falsely your good conversation in Christ. (having a clear conscience; so that for that thing in which they slander you, they shall be ashamed, yea, they who defame your pure life in the Messiah.)
- <sup>17</sup> For it is better that ye do well, and suffer, if the will of God will, than doing evil. [Soothly it is better, if the will of God will, ye well-doing, to suffer, than evil-doing.](For it is better that ye do good, and suffer, if it be God's will, than to do evil.)
- <sup>18</sup> For also Christ once died for our sins, he (the) just for (the) unjust, that he should offer to God us [or that he should offer us to God], made dead in (the) flesh, but made quick in (the) Spirit. (For also the Messiah once died for our sins, or For the Messiah also died for our sins once and for all, he the righteous for the unrighteous, so that he could offer us to God, made dead in the flesh, but made alive in the Spirit.)
- 19 For which thing he came in (the) Spirit, and also to them that were *(en)*closed together in prison;
- <sup>20</sup> which were sometime unbelieveful, when they abided the patience of God in the days of Noe (or of Noah), when the ship [or the ark] was made, in which a few, that is to say, eight souls were made safe by water (or eight lives were saved through water).
- <sup>21</sup> And so baptism of like form maketh us safe; not the putting away of the filths of (the) flesh, but the asking of a good conscience in God, by the again-rising of our Lord Jesus Christ, (And so a baptism of like form saveth us; not the putting away of the filths of the flesh, but the asking by a good conscience to God, through the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ,) <sup>22</sup> that is in the right half of God, and swalloweth death, that we should be made heirs of everlasting life, (or who is at the right hand, or on the right side, of God, and swalloweth death, so that we can be made heirs of eternal life). He went into heaven, and angels, and powers, and virtues (or authorities) be made subject to him.

CHAPTER 4

<sup>1</sup> Therefore for Christ suffered in (the) flesh (or And so because the Messiah suffered in the flesh), be ye also armed by the same thinking; for he that suffered in (the) flesh ceased from sins,

<sup>2</sup> that that is left now of (the) time in (the) flesh live not now to the desires of men, but to the will of God.

- <sup>3</sup> For the time that is passed is enough to the will of (the) heathen men to be ended, which walked in lecheries, and lusts, in much drinking of wine, in unmeasurable [or oft] eatings, and drinkings, and unleaveful worshipping of maumets [or of idols]. (For the time that is passed was enough for the desires of the Gentiles to be done, or to be finished, yea, they who lived, or went, in lecheries, and lusts, in much drinking of wine, in immeasurable or oft eatings, and drinkings, and unlawful worshipping of idols.)
- <sup>4</sup> In which now they be astonied (or astonished), in which thing they wonder (about), for ye run not together (with them) into the same confusion of lechery, and (so they) blaspheme (thee), (or and so they insult thee, or they vilify thee).

<sup>5</sup> And they shall give reason to him, that is ready to deem the quick and the dead. (But soon they shall have to give an answer to him, who is ready to judge the living and the dead.)

<sup>6</sup> For why for this thing it is preached [or it is evangelized] also to dead men, that they be deemed by men in (the) flesh, and that they live by God in (the) Spirit.

<sup>7</sup> For the end of all things shall nigh. Therefore be ye prudent, and wake ye in prayers; (For the end of everything shall approach or it is near. And so be prudent, and be on watch, keep praying;)

8 before all things have ye charity each to (the) other in yourselves always lasting; for charity covereth the multitude of sins. (above all, love one another always and earnestly; for love covereth a multitude of sins.)

<sup>9</sup> Hold ye hospitality together without grudging; (Have hospitality toward one another without grumbling;)

<sup>10</sup> each man as he hath received grace, ministering it into each other, [or ministering each to (the) other], (or serving one another), as good dispensers of the manifold grace of God.

11 If any man speaketh, speak he as the words of God; if any man ministereth, as of the virtue which God ministereth; (so) that God be honoured in all things by Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom is glory and lordship into worlds of worlds. Amen. (If anyone speaketh, (speak he) with the words of God; if anyone serveth, (serve he) with the strength which God supplieth; so that God be honoured in all things by Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom is glory and lordship forever and ever. Amen.)

- <sup>12</sup> Most dear brethren, do not ye go in pilgrimage in fervour, that is made to you to temptation (or that is made to test you), as if any new thing befall to you;
- <sup>13</sup> but commune ye with the passions of Christ, and have ye joy, (or but share in the sufferings of the Messiah, and rejoice), (so) that also ye be glad, and have joy in the revelation of his glory.
- <sup>14</sup> If ye be despised for the name of Christ, ye shall be blessed; for that that is of the honour, and of the glory, and of the virtue of God, and the Spirit that is his, shall rest on you. (If ye be despised for the name of the Messiah, ye shall be blessed; for that that is of the honour, and of the glory, and of the power of God, and the Spirit that is his, shall rest upon you.)
- <sup>15</sup> But no man of you suffer as a manslayer, either a thief, either curser, either a desirer of other men's goods [or of other men's things];
- <sup>16</sup> but if he suffer as a christian man, shame he not (or be he not ashamed), but glorify he God in this name.
- <sup>17</sup> For (the) time is, that doom begin at God's house; and if it begin first at us, what end shall be of them, that believe not to the gospel? (For it is now the time that judgement begin at God's household; and if (it begin) first with us, what end (shall be) for those, who do not believe the Gospel or the Good News?)

18 And if a just man scarcely shall be saved, where shall the unfaithful man and the sinner appear?

<sup>19</sup> Therefore and they that suffer by the will of God, betake their souls in good deeds to the faithful Maker of nought. (And so let them who suffer by God's will, deliver their souls through good deeds unto the faithful Maker of everything out of nothing.)

- <sup>1</sup> Therefore I, an even-elder man, and a witness of Christ's passions, which also am a communer of that glory, that shall be showed in (the) time to come; beseech the elder men, that be among you, (And so I, a fellow elder, and a witness of the Messiah's sufferings, who also (shall) partake of, or (shall) share in, that glory, which shall be shown, or shall be revealed, in the time to come; yea, I beseech the elders, who be among you,)
- <sup>2</sup> feed ye the flock of God, that is among you, and purvey ye, not as constrained, but willfully, by God; not for love of foul winning, but willfully, (feed the flock of God, who be among you, yea, provide for them, not like someone who is compelled, but willingly, or by free will, through God; not for the love of foul gain, or for immoral profit, but willingly, or by free will,)
- <sup>3</sup> neither as having lordship in the clergy, but (so) that ye be made (an) ensample to the flock, of (free) will [or by intent].
- <sup>4</sup> And when the prince of shepherds shall appear, ye shall receive the crown of glory, that may never fade (or that can never fade).
- <sup>5</sup> Also, ye young men, be ye subject to elder men, and all show ye together meekness (or and all of you show humility and humbleness before them); for the Lord withstandeth proud men, but he giveth grace to meek men.
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore be ye meeked under the mighty hand of God, that he raise you in the time [or in the day] of visitation, (And so be humble under the mighty hand of God, so that he can raise you up at the Time of Visitation, or on the Day of Visitation,)

<sup>7</sup> and cast ye all your busyness into him, for to him is (the) care of you. (and throw all your concerns onto him, for he careth for you.)

<sup>8</sup> Be ye sober, and wake ye, (or Be resolute, and be on watch), for your adversary, the devil, as a roaring lion goeth about, seeking whom he shall devour.

<sup>9</sup> Whom against-stand ye, strong in the faith, witting that the same passion is made to that brotherhood of you, that is in the world. (Yea, he whom you must stand against, or whom you must withstand, being strong in the faith, and knowing that your brothers, who be in the world, experience the same suffering.)

10 And God of all grace, that called you into his everlasting glory, you suffering a little [in Christ Jesus], (or though you do suffer now for a short time in the Messiah Jesus), he shall perform, and shall confirm, and shall make firm.

11 To him be glory and lordship, into worlds of worlds (or forever and ever). Amen.

- 12 By Silvanus, [a] faithful brother to you as I deem, I wrote shortly; beseeching, and witnessing that this is the very grace of God, in which ye stand. (I have written this short letter by Silvanus, a faithful brother of yours whom I trust; beseeching, and testifying that this is the true grace of God, in which ye should stand.)
- <sup>13</sup> The church that is gathered in Babylon, and Marcus, my son, greeteth you well. (The church that is gathered in Babylon, and my son Mark, send you hearty greetings.)
- 14 Greet ye well together in holy kiss. Grace be to you all that be in Christ. Amen. (Give hearty greetings to one another with a holy kiss. Grace be to all of you who be in the Messiah. Amen.)

2ND PETER

- <sup>1</sup> Simon Peter, (a) servant and (an) apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have taken with us the even-faith (or to those who have received the same faith as us), in the rightwiseness of our God and Saviour Jesus Christ,
- <sup>2</sup> grace and peace be [full-]filled to you, by the knowing of our Lord Jesus Christ.
- <sup>3</sup> How all things of his god-like virtue, that be to life and piety, be given to us, by the knowing of him, that called us for his own glory and virtue. (How all the things of his godly or his divine power, which be for life and piety, be given to us, through the knowledge of him, who called us to share in his own glory and power.)
- <sup>4</sup> By whom he gave to us most precious promises; that by these things ye shall be made fellows of God's kind (or of God's kin), and flee the corruption of that covetousness, that is in the world.
- <sup>5</sup> And bring ye in all busyness, and minister in your faith (with) virtue, and in virtue cunning, (or knowing), [or science], (or and with virtue knowledge);
- <sup>6</sup> in cunning, (or in knowing), [or in science], abstinence, in abstinence patience, in patience piety; (and with knowledge abstinence, with abstinence patience, with patience piety;)
- <sup>7</sup> in piety, love of (the) brotherhood, and in (the) love of (the) brotherhood charity. (with piety, love of the brotherhood, and with the love of the brotherhood kindness.)
- <sup>8</sup> For if these be with you, and overcome, [or be plenteous], they shall not make you void, (or empty and useless), neither without fruit, in the knowing of our Lord Jesus Christ.
- <sup>9</sup> But to whom these be not ready, he is blind, and gropeth with his hand, and forgetteth the purging of his old trespasses.
- <sup>10</sup> Wherefore, brethren, be ye more busy, (so) that by good works ye make your calling and choosing certain; for ye doing these things, shall not do sin any time, [or soothly ye doing these things, shall not sin any time].
- <sup>11</sup> For thus the entering into [the] everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, shall be ministered to you plenteously. (And so your entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, shall abundantly be afforded you.)
- <sup>12</sup> For which thing I shall begin to admonish you (for)evermore of these things; and I will, that ye be cunning (or knowing), and confirmed in this present truth. (For which thing I shall always admonish you about these things; and I desire, that ye know, or have knowledge of, and be confirmed, or established, in this truth that is present with you.)
- <sup>13</sup> Forsooth I deem justly [or Forsooth I deem (it) just], as long as I am in this tabernacle, to raise you in admonishing; (For I judge it just or appropriate, for as long as I am in this body, to remind you of these things;)
- <sup>14</sup> and I am certain, that the putting away [or the putting off] of my tabernacle is swift, by this that our Lord Jesus Christ hath showed to me.

- <sup>15</sup> But I shall give busyness, that oft after my death ye have mind of these things. (But I shall make every effort now, so that after my death ye shall often remember these things.)
- <sup>16</sup> For we not *(pur)*suing unwise tales (or For we not following unwise tales), have made known to you the virtue (or the power) and the beforeknowing [or the prescience] of our Lord Jesus Christ; but we were made beholders of his greatness.
- <sup>17</sup> For he took of God the Father honour and glory, by such manner voice slid down to him from the great glory, This is my (be)loved Son, in whom I have pleased to me; hear ye him. (For he received honour and glory from God the Father, when that voice came down to him from the Great Glory, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am pleased; listen to him.)
- <sup>18</sup> And we heard this voice brought from heaven, when we were with him in the holy hill (or when we were with him on the Mount of Transfiguration).
- <sup>19</sup> And we have a firmer word of prophecy, to which ye giving attention do well, as to a lantern that giveth light in a dark place, till the day begin to give light, and the day star spring in your hearts.
- <sup>20</sup> And first understand ye this thing, that each prophecy of scripture is not made by proper, [or by (one's) own], interpretation;
- <sup>21</sup> for prophecy was not brought any time by man's will, but the holy men of God inspired with the Holy Ghost spake. (for prophecy was not brought forth at any time by man's will, but rather, the saints of God, or God's people, inspired by the Holy Spirit spoke it forth.)

- <sup>1</sup> But also false prophets were in the people, as in you shall be masters liars, (or who be lying teachers, or false teachers), that shall bring in sects of perdition; and they deny that Lord that bought them, and bring on themselves hasty perdition [or damnation].
- <sup>2</sup> And many shall *(pur)*sue their lecheries, by whom the way of truth shall be blasphemed; (And many shall follow their lusts, by whom the Way of Truth shall be blasphemed;)
- <sup>3</sup> and they shall make merchandise of you in covetousness by feigned words. To whom doom (or judgement) now a while ago ceaseth not, and the perdition of them nappeth not.
- <sup>4</sup> For if God spared not (the) angels sinning, but betook them to be tormented, and to be drawn down with bonds of hell into hell, to be kept into doom (or to be kept unto the Day of Judgement);
- <sup>5</sup> and spared not the first world, but kept Noe (or Noah), the eighth man, the before-goer of rightwiseness, and brought in the great flood [or the deluge] to the world of unfaithful men;
- <sup>6</sup> and he drove (down) into powder the cities of (the) men of Sodom and of (the) men of Gomorrha (or of Gomorrah), and condemned (them) by turning (them) upside-down, and put them the ensample of them that were to doing evil, [or were doing unpiously], (or and made them an example for those who were doing evil);

<sup>7</sup> and delivered the just Lot, oppressed of the wrong, and of the lecherous conversation of cursed men; (and saved Lot, a good man, who was oppressed by all the wrong-doing, and by the lecherous living of cursed men;)

<sup>8</sup> for in sight and hearing he was just, and dwelled amongst them that from day into day tormented with wicked works a just soul.

- <sup>9</sup> For the Lord knoweth how to deliver pious men from temptation, and keep wicked men into the day of doom, to be tormented; (For the Lord knoweth how to deliver pious men from testing, and to keep, or to reserve, the wicked under torment, unto the Day of Judgement;)
- <sup>10</sup> but more them that walk after the flesh, in coveting of uncleanness, and despise lordshipping, and be bold, pleasing themselves, and dread not to bring in sects, blaspheming, (or and fear not to bring in blaspheming sects);
- <sup>11</sup> where angels, when they be more in strength and virtue (or power), bear not the execrable doom [or the cursed judgement] against them(selves).
- <sup>12</sup> But these be as unreasonable beasts, kindly, (or by kind, or naturally), into taking, and into death, blaspheming in these things that they know not, and shall perish in their corruption,
- <sup>13</sup> and receive the hire (or the wages) of unrightwiseness. And they guess delights of defouling and of wem, to be (the) likings of the day, (or And they think that the delights of defilement, and of spot, or of blemish, to be the pleasures of the day), flowing in their feasts with delights, doing lechery with you,
- <sup>14</sup> and have eyes full of adultery, and unceasing trespass, deceiving unsteadfast souls, and have the heart exercised to covetousness; the sons of cursing,
- <sup>15</sup> that forsake the right way, and erred, (pur)suing the way of Balaam of Bosor, which loved the hire of wickedness. (who forsake the right way, and erred, following the way of Balaam of Bosor, who loved the wages, or the recompense, for doing wickedness.)
- <sup>16</sup> But he had reproving [or correction] of (or for) his madness; a dumb beast under yoke, that spake with (the) voice of (a) man, that forbade the unwisdom of the prophet.
- <sup>17</sup> These be wells without water, and mists driven with whirlwinds [or and clouds driven with whirling winds], to whom the thick mist of darknesses is reserved.
- <sup>18</sup> And they speak in (the) pride of vanity, and deceive in (the) desires of (the) flesh of lechery them, that escape a little. Which live in error,
- <sup>19</sup> and promise freedom [or liberty] to them, when they be (the) servants of corruption. For of whom any man is overcome, of him also he is (their) servant.
- <sup>20</sup> For if men forsake the uncleannesses of the world, by the knowing of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and again be [en] wrapped in these, and be overcome, the latter things be made to them worse than the former.
- <sup>21</sup> For it was better to them to not know the way of rightwiseness, than to turn again after the knowing, from that holy commandment that was betaken to them. (For it would have been better for them to have never known the way of righteousness, than to turn away after knowing it, yea, from that holy commandment that was delivered to them.)

<sup>22</sup> For that very proverb befelled to them, The hound *(re)*turned again to his vomit, or casting(up), and a sow is washed in wallowing in fen [or in clay]. (This proverb hath proven true for them, A dog returneth to its vomit, and after a pig hath washed itself, it walloweth again in the mire.)

CHAPTER 3

<sup>1</sup> Lo! ye most dearworthy brethren, I write to you this second epistle, in which I stir your clear soul by admonishing together,

<sup>2</sup> that ye be mindful of those words (or so that ye remember those words), that I before-said of the holy prophets, and of the commandments of the holy apostles of the Lord and Saviour.

<sup>3</sup> First know ye this thing, that in the last days deceivers [or scorners] shall come in deceit, (or with guile, and treachery), going after their own covetings,

 $^4$  saying, Where is the promise, or the coming of him? for since the fathers died [or slept], all things last from the beginning of creature (or everything is as it was from the beginning of Creation).

<sup>5</sup> But it is hid from them willing this thing (or But it is hidden from those, or unknown to those, desiring this), that (the) heavens were before, and the earth of water was standing by (the) water, by God's word; [Soothly it is hid from them willing this thing, that (the) heavens were first, and the earth of water and by water being, or standing, together by God's word;]

<sup>6</sup> by which that same world (was) cleansed, then by water perished.

<sup>7</sup> But the heavens that now be, and the earth, be kept by the same word, and be reserved to fire into the day of doom (or and be reserved for the fire unto the Day of Judgement), and (the) perdition of wicked men.

<sup>8</sup> But, ye most dear (ones), this one thing be not hid to you, [or be not unknown], (or let not this be hidden from you, or be unknown to you), that one day with God is as a thousand years, and a thousand years be as one day.

- § The Lord tarrieth not his promise, as some [men] guess, but he doeth patiently for you, and will not that any man perish [or not willing any to perish], but that all turn again to penance. (The Lord delayeth not his promise, as some think, but he patiently waiteth for you, and desireth not that anyone perish, but that all turn, or come to repentance.)
- <sup>10</sup> For the day of the Lord shall come as a thief, in which (the) heavens with great rush, [or fierceness], shall pass (away), and (the) elements shall be dissolved by heat, and the earth, and all the works that be in it, shall be burnt (up).

<sup>11</sup> Therefore when all these things shall be dissolved, what manner men behooveth it you to be in holy livings and piety,

12 abiding and hieing into the coming of the day of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom (the) heavens burning shall be dissolved, and (the) elements shall fail by (the) burning [or (from the) heat] of (the) fire.

<sup>13</sup> Also we abide by his promises new heavens and (a) new earth, in which rightwiseness dwelleth.

<sup>14</sup> For which thing, ye most dear (ones), abiding these things, be ye busy to be found to him in peace, unspotted and undefouled. (For which thing, ye most dear ones, awaiting these things, do your best to be found at peace with him, without fault or blemish, and undefiled.)

<sup>15</sup> And deem ye (that the) long abiding of our Lord Jesus Christ (is) your health (or And understand well that the patience that our Lord Jesus Christ hath with us is our salvation), as also our most dear brother Paul wrote to you, by wisdom given to him.

<sup>16</sup> As and in all his epistles he speaketh in them of these things; in which be some hard things to understand, which unwise [or untaught] and unstable men deprave, as also they do other scriptures, to their own perdition.

- <sup>17</sup> Therefore ye, brethren, before-witting keep yourselves, lest ye be deceived [or be over-led] by (the) error of unwise men, and fall away from your own firmness.
- <sup>18</sup> But wax ye (or grow) in the grace and the knowing of our Lord Jesus Christ and our Saviour; to him be glory now and into the day of everlastingness. Amen.

1ST JOHN

<sup>1</sup> That thing that was from the beginning, which we heard, which we saw with our eyes, which we beheld, and our hands touched, of the word of life; (That which was from the beginning, which we heard, which we saw with our eyes, which we beheld, and our hands touched, of the Word of Life, or of the Living Word;)

<sup>2</sup> and the life is showed. And we saw, and witness, and tell to you the everlasting life, that was with the Father, and appeared to us. (and that Life was shown. And we saw, and testify, and tell you about the Eternal Life, who was with the Father, and appeared to us.)

<sup>3</sup> Therefore that thing, that we saw, and heard, we tell to you, (or And so that which we saw, and heard, we tell to you), (so) that also ye have fellowship with us, and our fellowship be with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

<sup>4</sup> And we write this thing to you, that ye have joy, and that your joy be full. (And we write this to you, so that ye have joy, and that your joy be complete.)

<sup>5</sup> And this is the telling, that we heard of him, and tell to you, that God is light, and there be no darknesses in him. (And this is the tiding, or the message, that we heard from him, and tell to you, that God is light, and there is no darkness in him.)

<sup>6</sup> If we say, that we have fellowship with him, and we wander in darknesses (or and we walk in the darkness), we lie, and do not (have the) truth.

- <sup>7</sup> But if we walk in (the) light, as also he is in (the) light, we have fellowship together; and the blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, cleanseth us from all sin.
- <sup>8</sup> If we say, that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and (the) truth is not in us.

<sup>9</sup> If we acknowledge our sins, he is faithful and just, that he forgive to us our sins, and cleanse us from all wickedness.

<sup>10</sup> And if we say, that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

- <sup>1</sup> My little sons, I write to you these things, (so) that ye sin not. But if any man sinneth, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ (who is)[just],
- <sup>2</sup> and he is the forgiveness [or (the) helping] for our sins; and not only for our sins, but also for the sins of all the world.
- <sup>3</sup> And in this thing we know, that we know him, if we keep his commandments (or if we obey his commands).
- <sup>4</sup> He that saith that he knoweth God, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and (the) truth is not in him. (He who saith that he knoweth God, and obeyeth not his commands, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.)
- <sup>5</sup> But the charity of God is perfect verily in him, that keepeth his word (or But the love of God is truly perfect in him, who obeyeth his word or his commands), [or Forsooth who keepeth his word, verily in him is perfect charity (or But who obeyeth his word, truly in him is perfect love)]. In this thing we know, that we be in him, if we be perfect in him.

<sup>6</sup> He that saith, that he dwelleth in him, he oweth to walk, as he walked. (He who saith, that he remaineth in him, he ought to walk, like he walked.)

<sup>7</sup> Most dear brethren(or Most dear brothers), I write to you, not a new commandment, but the old commandment, that ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word, that ye heard.

§ Again I write to you a new commandment, that is true both in him and in you; for (the) darknesses be passed (away), and very light shineth now, (or for the darkness hath gone away, and the true light shineth now).

<sup>9</sup> He that saith, that he is in (the) light, and hateth his brother, is in darknesses yet. (He who saith, that he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is still in darkness.)

<sup>10</sup> He that loveth his brother, dwelleth in (the) light, (or He who loveth his brother, remaineth in the light), and (a) cause of stumbling is not in him.

- <sup>11</sup> But he that hateth his brother, is in darknesses, and wandereth in darknesses, and knoweth not whither he goeth; for darknesses have blinded his eyes. (But he who hateth his brother, is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not where he goeth; for the darkness hath blinded his eyes.)
- <sup>12</sup> Little sons, I write to you, that your sins be forgiven to you for (the sake of) his name. [Little sons, I write to you, for your sins be forgiven to you for his name.]
- <sup>13</sup> Fathers, I write to you, for ye have known him, that is from the beginning, (or Fathers, I write to you, because ye have known him, who is from the beginning). Young men, I write to you, for ye have overcome the wicked (one). I write to you, young children [or infants], for ye have known the Father.
- <sup>14</sup> I write to you, brethren, for ye have known him, that is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, for ye be strong, and the word of God dwelleth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked (one). (I write to you, brothers, for ye have known him, who is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, for ye be strong, and God's Word liveth in you, or and God's word remaineth in you, and ye have overcome the Wicked One.)
- <sup>15</sup> Do not ye love the world, nor those things that be in the world. If any man loveth the world, the charity of the Father is not in him. (Do not love the world, nor those things that be in the world. If anyone loveth the world, the love of the Father is not in them.)
- <sup>16</sup> For all thing that is in the world, is covetousness of (the) flesh, and covetousness of (the) eyes, and (the) pride of life, which is not of the Father, but it is of the world.
- <sup>17</sup> And the world shall pass (away), and the covetousness of it; but he that doeth the will of God, dwelleth [into] without end, (or but he who doeth God's will, remaineth forever, or liveth forever).
- <sup>18</sup> My little sons, the last hour is; and as ye have heard, that (the) antichrist cometh, now many antichrists be made; wherefore we know, that it is the last hour. (My little sons, it is the Last Hour; and as ye have heard, that the Anti-Messiah, or the False Messiah, or the Enemy of the Messiah, cometh, and that now many anti-messiahs have appeared; and so we know, that it is the Last Hour.)

- <sup>19</sup> They went forth from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they had dwelt with us; but that they be known, that they be not all of us. (They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have remained with us; but now they be known, or but now it be known, that they be not of us.)
- <sup>20</sup> But ye have (an) anointing [or (an) unction] of the Holy Ghost, and know all things. (But ye have an anointing of the Holy Spirit, and know everything, or and know all the truth.)
- <sup>21</sup> I wrote not to you, as to men that know not the truth, but as to men that know it, and for each leasing is not of truth (or and because every lie is not of the truth).
- <sup>22</sup> Who is a liar, [no] but this that denieth that Jesus is not Christ? This is (the) antichrist, that denieth the Father, and the Son. (Who is a liar? none but he who denieth that Jesus is the Messiah. This is the Anti-Messiah, or the False Messiah, or the Enemy of the Messiah, who denieth the Father, and the Son.)
- <sup>23</sup> For each that denieth the Son, hath not the Father; but he that acknowledgeth the Son, hath also the Father.
- <sup>24</sup> That thing that ye heard at [or from] the beginning, dwell it in you; for if that thing dwelleth in you, which ye heard at (or from) the beginning, ye shall dwell in the Son and in the Father. (That which ye heard from the beginning, let it remain in you; for if that remaineth in you, which ye have heard from the beginning, ye shall remain in the Son and in the Father.)
- <sup>25</sup> And this is the promise, that he promised to us, everlasting life, (or Eternal Life, or eternal life).
- <sup>26</sup> I wrote these things to you, of them that deceive you, (I wrote these things to you, about those who deceive you,)
- <sup>27</sup> and that the anointing which ye received of him, dwell in you. And ye have not need, that any man teach you, but as his anointing teacheth you of all things, and it is true, and it is not leasing; and as he taught you, dwell ye in him. (and so that the anointing which ye have received from him, remain in you. And ye have no need, that any man teach you, for his anointing teacheth you everything, and it is true, and it is not a lie; and so as he taught you, remain in him, or live in him.)
- <sup>28</sup> And now, ye little sons, dwell ye in him, that when he shall appear, we have trust, and be not confounded of him in his coming. (And now, ye little sons, remain in him, so that when he shall appear, we have trust, and be not ashamed of him at his coming.)
- <sup>29</sup> If ye know that he is just, know ye that also each that doeth rightwiseness, is born of him. (If ye know that he is just or is righteous, know also that each one who doeth righteousness, is his child.)

- <sup>1</sup> See ye what manner charity the Father gave to us (or See what kind of love the Father gave us), that we be named the sons of God, and be his sons. For this thing the world knew not us, for it knew not him.
- <sup>2</sup> Most dear brethren(or Most dear brothers), now we be the sons of God, and yet it appeared not, what we shall be. We know, that when he shall appear, we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is.

- <sup>3</sup> And each man that hath this hope in him, maketh himself holy, as he is holy.
  - <sup>4</sup> Each man that doeth sin, doeth also wickedness, and sin is wickedness.
  - <sup>5</sup> And ye know, that he appeared to do away sins, and sin is not in him.
- <sup>6</sup> Each man that dwelleth in him, sinneth not; and each that sinneth, seeth not him, neither knew him. (Each one who remaineth in him, or who liveth in him, sinneth not; and each one who sinneth, seeth not him, nor knoweth him.)
- <sup>7</sup> Little sons, (let) no man deceive you; he that doeth rightwiseness, is just, as also he is just.
- <sup>8</sup> He that doeth sin, is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. In this thing the Son of God appeared, that he undo the works of the devil. (He who doeth sin, is of the Devil; for the Devil sinneth from the beginning. The Son of God appeared for this, yea, that he destroy the works of the Devil.)
- <sup>9</sup> Each man that is born of God, doeth not sin; for the seed of God dwelleth in him, and he may not do sin, for he is born of God. (Each one who is born of God, or who is a child of God, sinneth not; for God's seed liveth in him, and so he cannot do sin, for he is born of God or he is a child of God.)
- <sup>10</sup> In this thing the sons of God be known, and the sons of the fiend, (or By this the sons of God be known, and also the sons of the Devil). Each man that is not just, is not of God, and he that loveth not his brother [is not of God].
- <sup>11</sup> For this is the telling, that ye heard at the beginning, that ye love each other; (For this is the tiding, or the message, that ye heard from the beginning, that ye should love one another;)
- <sup>12</sup> not as Cain, that was of the devil, and slew his brother. And for what thing slew he him? for his works were evil, and his brother's (were) just. (not as Cain, who was of the Devil, and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? for his works were evil, and his brother's works were righteous.)
  - <sup>13</sup> Brethren (or Brothers), do not ye wonder, if the world hateth you.
- <sup>14</sup> We know, that we be translated from death to life, for we love (the) brethren. He that loveth not, (yet) dwelleth in death. (We know, that we be transferred from death unto life, for we love the brothers. He who loveth not, remaineth yet in death, or still liveth in death.)
- <sup>15</sup> Each man that hateth his brother, is a manslayer; and ye know, that each manslayer hath not everlasting life dwelling in him. (Each one who hateth his brother, is a murderer; and ye know, that no murderer hath Eternal Life living within him, or that no murderer hath eternal life dwelling within him.)
- <sup>16</sup> In this thing we have known the charity of God, for he put his life for us, and we owe to put our lives for our brethren. (In this we have known the love of God, for he gave his life for us, and so we ought to give our lives for our brothers.)
- <sup>17</sup> He that hath the chattel [or the substance] of this world, and seeth that his brother hath need, and closeth his entrails from him, how dwelleth the charity of God in him? (or how can he say that the love of God dwelleth within him?)

18 My little sons, love we not in word, neither in tongue, but in work and truth.

19 In this thing we know, that we be of (the) truth, and in his sight we admonish our hearts.

<sup>20</sup> For if our heart reproveth us (or For if our conscience rebuketh us), God is more than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Most dear brethren, if our heart reproveth not us, we have trust to God: (Most dearbrothers, if our conscience rebuketh us not, then we have God's trust:)

<sup>22</sup> and whatever we shall ask, we shall receive of him, for we keep his commandments, and we do those things that be pleasant before him. (and whatever we shall ask, we shall receive from him, for we obey his commands. and we do those things that be pleasing before him.)

<sup>23</sup> And this is the commandment of God, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and that we love each other, as he gave behest to us. (And this is God's command, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and that we love one another, as he commanded us.)

<sup>24</sup> And he that keepeth his commandments, dwelleth in him, and he in him, (or And he who obeyeth his commands, remaineth in him, and he in him). And in this thing we know, that he dwelleth in us, by the Spirit, whom he gave to us.

CHAPTER 4

<sup>1</sup> Most dear brethren, do not ye believe to each spirit, but prove ye the spirits, if they be of God, (or Most dear brothers, do not believe every spirit, but rather, test the spirits, to see if they be from God); for many false prophets went out into the world.

<sup>2</sup> In this thing the Spirit of God is known; each spirit that acknowledgeth that Jesus Christ hath come in (the) flesh, is of God; (The Spirit of God is known by this; every spirit that acknowledgeth that Jesus Christ hath come in the flesh, is from God;)

<sup>3</sup> and each spirit that undoeth Jesus, is not of God. And this is (of the) antichrist, of whom ye have heard, that he cometh; and right now he is in the world. (and every spirit that will not acknowledge Jesus, is not from God. Rather they be from the Anti-Messiah, or the False Messiah, or the Enemy of the Messiah, of whom ye have heard, that he cometh; and right now he is in the world.)

<sup>4</sup> Ye, little sons, be of God, and ye have overcome him; for he that is in you is more, than he that is in the world, (or for he who is in you is greater.

than he who is in the world).

<sup>5</sup> They be of the world, therefore they speak of the world, (or and so they speak about the world), and the world heareth them.

<sup>6</sup> We be of God; he that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth not us. In this thing we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of

<sup>7</sup> Most dear brethren, love we together, for charity is of God; and each that loveth his brother, is born of God, and knoweth God. (Most dear brothers, love one another, for love is from God; and each one who loveth his brother, is born of God, or is a child of God, and knoweth God.)

8 He that loveth not, knoweth not God: for God is charity (or for God is love).

- <sup>9</sup> In this thing, the charity of God appeared in us, (or In this, the love of God appeared to us), for God sent his one begotten Son into the world, (so) that we live by him.
- <sup>10</sup> In this thing is charity, not as we had loved God, but for he first loved us, (or And this is love, not because we had loved God, but because he first loved us), and sent his Son (as the) forgiveness [or (as the) helping] for our sins.
- <sup>11</sup> Ye most dear brethren, if God loved us, we owe to love each other. (Ye most dear brothers, if God loved us, we ought to love one another.)
- <sup>12</sup> No man saw ever God; if we love together, God dwelleth in us, and the charity of him is perfect in us. (No one ever saw God; but if we love one another, God remaineth in us, and his love is perfect, or complete, in us.)
- <sup>13</sup> In this thing we know, that we dwell in him, and he in us; for of his Spirit he gave to us (or for he gave his Spirit to us).
- <sup>14</sup> And we saw, and witness (or testify), that the Father sent his Son (as the) Saviour of the world.
- $^{\rm 15}$  Whoever acknowledgeth, that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.
- <sup>16</sup> And we have known, and believe to the charity, that God hath in us. God is charity, and he that dwelleth in charity, dwelleth in God, and God in him. (And we have known, and believe in the love, that God hath for us. God is love, and he who remaineth in love, remaineth in God, and God in him.)
- <sup>17</sup> In this thing is the perfect charity of God with us [or In this thing is the perfect charity of God in us], that we have trust in the day of doom; for as he is, also we be in this world. (In this then is the perfect love of God for us, so that we can have trust on the Day of Judgement; for as he is in this world, also we be in this world.)
- <sup>18</sup> Dread is not in charity, but perfect charity putteth out dread; for dread hath pain. But he that dreadeth, is not perfect in charity. (There is no fear in love, but perfect love putteth out fear; because fear hath pain, or fear cometh before pain. But he who feareth, is not perfect in love.)
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore love we God, for he loved us before. [Therefore love we God, for he former loved us (or for he first loved us).](And so let us love God, for he loved us first.)
- $^{20}$  If any man saith, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar. For he that loveth not his brother, whom he seeth, how may he love God (or how can he love God), whom he seeth not?
- <sup>21</sup> And we have this commandment of God, that he that loveth God, love also his brother.

- <sup>1</sup> Each man that believeth that Jesus is Christ, is born of God; and each man that loveth him that (en)gendered [or that loveth him that (en)gendereth], loveth him that is born of him. (Each one who believeth that Jesus is the Messiah, is born of God or is a child of God; and each one who loveth him that begetteth, loveth him who is born of him.)
- <sup>2</sup> In this thing we know, that we love the children of God, when we love God, and do his commandments (or and obey his commands).

- <sup>3</sup> For this is the charity of God, that we keep his commandments; and his commandments be not heavy [or grievous]. (For this is the love of God, that we obey his commands; and his commands be not heavy or grievous.)
- <sup>4</sup> For all thing that is born of God, overcometh the world, (or For everyone who is born of God or who is a child of God, overcometh the world); and this is the victory that overcometh the world, our faith.
- <sup>5</sup> And who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?
- <sup>6</sup> This is Jesus Christ, that came by water and blood; not in water only, but in water and blood. And the Spirit is he that witnesseth, that Christ is [the] truth, (or And the Spirit is he who testifieth, that the Messiah is the truth).
- <sup>7</sup> For three be, that give witnessing in heaven, the Father, the Son [or the Word], and the Holy Ghost; and these three be one. (For there be three, who give testimony in heaven, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit; and these three be one.)
- <sup>8</sup> And three be, that give witnessing in earth, (or And there be three, that give testimony on earth), the Spirit, water, and blood; and these three be one.
- <sup>9</sup> If we receive the witnessing of men, the witnessing of God is more; for this is the witnessing of God, that is more, for he witnessed of his Son. (If we accept the testimony of men, then the testimony of God is greater or is stronger; for this is the testimony of God, that is greater or is stronger, that he testified about his Son.)
- <sup>10</sup> He that believeth in the Son of God, hath the witnessing of God in him. He that believeth not to the Son, maketh him a liar; for he believeth not in the witnessing that God witnessed of his Son. (He who believeth in the Son of God, hath God's testimony in him. He who believeth not in the Son, maketh him out to be a liar; for he believeth not in the testimony that God testified about his Son.)
- <sup>11</sup> And this is the witnessing, for God gave to you everlasting life [or for God gave to us everlasting life], and this life is in his Son. (And this is the testimony, that God gave us Eternal Life, or eternal life, and this life is in his Son.)
- <sup>12</sup> He that hath the Son of God, hath also life; he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life. (He who hath the Son (of God), hath also life; he who hath not the Son (of God), hath not life.)
- <sup>13</sup> I write to you these things, that ye know, that ye have everlasting life, which believe in the name of God's Son. (I write these things to you, so that ye know, that ye have Eternal Life, or eternal life, ye who believe in the name of God's Son.)
- <sup>14</sup> And this is the trust which we have to God [or And this is the trust that we have in God], that whatever thing we ask after his will, he shall hear us (or he shall listen to us).
- <sup>15</sup> And we know, that he heareth us, whatever thing we [shall] ask; we know, that we have the askings, that we ask of him.
- <sup>16</sup> He that knoweth that his brother sinneth a sin not to death, ask he (for him), and life shall be given to him that sinneth not to death (or and life shall be given to him who sinneth not a deadly sin). There is a sin to death; not for it I say, that any man pray.

<sup>17</sup> Each wickedness is sin, and there is [a] sin to death.

<sup>18</sup> We know, that each man that is born of God, sinneth not; but the generation of God keepeth him (or but the Son of God keepeth him safe), and the wicked (one) toucheth him not.

<sup>19</sup> We know, that we be of God, and all the world is set in evil.

<sup>20</sup> And we know, that the Son of God came in (the) flesh, and gave to us wit, that we know him very God, and be in the very Son [Jesus] of him. This is very God, and everlasting life. (And we know, that the Son of God came in the flesh, and gave understanding to us, so that we can know him, the true God, and so that we can be in His true Son, Jesus. This is the true God, and Eternal Life, or eternal life.)

<sup>21</sup> My little sons, keep ye you (safe) from maumets. [Little sons, keep ye you (safe) from simulacra.] My little sons, keep away from idols (or false gods). [Amen.]

2ND JOHN

- <sup>1</sup> The elder man, to the chosen lady, and to her children, which I love in truth (or whom I truly love); and not I alone, but also all men that know (the) truth;
- <sup>2</sup> for the truth that dwelleth in you, and with you shall be [into] without end. (for the sake of the truth which dwelleth within you, and shall be with you forever.)
- <sup>3</sup> Grace be with you, mercy, and (the) peace of God the Father, and of Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and charity (or in truth and love).
- <sup>4</sup> I joyed full much, for I found (some) of thy sons going in truth, as we received commandment of the Father. (I greatly joyed, when I found some of thy sons going in the truth, as we were commanded by the Father.)
- <sup>5</sup> And now I pray thee, lady, not as writing a new commandment to thee, but that that we had from the beginning, that we love each other. (And now dear lady, I beseech thee, not as writing a new command to thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another.) <sup>6</sup> And this is charity, that we walk after his commandments. For this is the commandment, that as ye heard at the beginning, walk ye in him. (And this is love, that we walk, or that we live, according to his commands. For this is the command, which ye have heard from the beginning, walk or live in him.)
- <sup>7</sup> For many deceivers went out into the world, which acknowledge not that Jesus Christ hath come in (the) flesh; this is a deceiver and (the) antichrist. (For many deceivers went out into the world, who do not acknowledge that Jesus Christ hath come in the flesh; yea, such a person is a deceiver and the Anti-Messiah, or the False Messiah, or the Enemy of the Messiah.)
- <sup>8</sup> See ye yourselves, lest ye lose the things that ye have wrought, that ye receive full meed; (Watch yourselves, or Be on guard, lest ye lose the things that ye have worked for, so that ye receive your full reward;)
- <sup>9</sup> witting that each man that goeth before [or witting that each man that goeth away], and dwelleth not in the teaching of Christ, hath not God. He that dwelleth in the teaching [of Christ], hath both the Son and the Father. (knowing that everyone who goeth away, and remaineth not in the teaching of the Messiah, hath not God. He who remaineth in the teaching of the Messiah, hath both the Son and the Father.)
- <sup>10</sup> If any man cometh to you, and bringeth not this teaching, do not ye receive him into your house, neither say to him, Hail.
- <sup>11</sup> For he that saith to him, Hail, communeth with his evil works. Lo! I before-said to you, that ye be not confounded in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ (or Behold! I have told you this ahead of time, so that ye be not ashamed on the Day of our Lord Jesus Christ).
- <sup>12</sup> I have more things to write to you, and I would not by parchment and ink; for I hope that I shall come to you, and speak mouth to mouth, that our joy be full. (I have more things to write to you, but I will not write them with paper and ink; because I hope that I shall come to you, and then we can speak face to face, or in person, so that our joy will be complete.)  $^{13}$  The sons of thy chosen sister greet thee well. The grace of God be with thee. Amen. (The sons of thy chosen sister send hearty greetings to thee. The grace of God be with thee. Amen.)

3RD JOHN

- <sup>1</sup> The elder man to Gaius, most dear brother, whom I love in truth (or whom I truly love).
- <sup>2</sup> Most dear brother, of all things I make prayer, that thou enter, and fare wellfully (or fully well), as thy soul doeth wellfully (or fully well).
- <sup>3</sup> I joyed greatly, for brethren came, and bare witnessing to thy truth, as thou walkest in truth. (I greatly joyed, for the brothers came, and gave testimony about the truth of thee, or and gave testimony about thee and the truth, yea, how thou walkest in the truth.)
- <sup>4</sup> I have not more grace of these things (or I have no greater joy), than that I hear that my sons walk in (the) truth.
- <sup>5</sup> Most dear brother, thou doest faithfully, whatever thou workest in (the) brethren, and that into pilgrims, (Most dear brother, thou hast done faithfully, all that thou hast done for the brothers, who were strangers, or were visitors,)
- <sup>6</sup> which yielded witnessing to thy charity, in the sight of the church; which thou leadest forth, and doest well-worthily to God. (and they gave testimony about thy love, here in the church; yea, whom thou leadest forth, and helpest in a way worthy of God.)
- <sup>7</sup> For they went forth for his name, and took nothing of heathen men. (For they went forth for his name, and took nothing from the Gentiles.)
- <sup>8</sup> Therefore we owe to receive such, that we be even-workers of (the) truth. (And so we all ought to receive such men, so that we be fellow workers, or do our share of the work, in spreading the truth.)
- <sup>9</sup> I had written peradventure to the church, but this Diotrephes, that loveth to bear primacy, [or (the) chief places], in them, receiveth not us. (I had written to the church, but this Diotrephes, who loveth to be in the lead, or to take the chief place among them, would not receive us, or did not welcome us.)
- <sup>10</sup> For this thing, if I shall come, I shall admonish his works, which he doeth, chiding [or chattering] against us with evil words. And as if these things suffice not to him, neither he receiveth brethren, and forbiddeth them that receive, and putteth out of the church (or And as if this did not suffice for him, he would not receive the brothers, and forbade those who had wanted to receive them, and even put them out of the church).
- <sup>11</sup> Most dear brother, do not thou (pur)sue (any) evil thing, but that that is (a) good thing. He that doeth well, is of God; he that doeth evil, seeth not God. (Most dear brother, do not follow after anything evil, but only after that which is good. He who doeth good, is of God; he who doeth evil, seeth not God.)
- <sup>12</sup> Witnessing is yielded to Demetrius of all men, and of (the) truth itself; but also we bear witnessing, and thou knowest, that our witnessing is true. (A good testimony is given about Demetrius from everyone, and even by the truth itself; and I also give good testimony about him, and thou knowest, that my testimony is true.)
- <sup>13</sup> I had many things to write to thee, but I would not write to thee by ink and pen. (I have many things that I would write to thee, but I will not write them to thee with pen and ink.)

 $^{14}$  For I hope soon to see thee, and we shall speak mouth to mouth. Peace be to thee. (Your) Friends greet thee well. Greet thou well (my) friends by name. (Amen.) (Because I hope soon to see thee, and then we shall speak face to face, or in person. Peace be with thee. Your friends send hearty greetings to thee. Give hearty greetings to all of my friends by name. Amen.)

JUDE

- <sup>1</sup> Judas, the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to these that be loved, that be in God the Father, and to them that be called and kept of Jesus Christ, (Judah or Jude, the servant of Jesus Christ, and the brother of James, to those who be loved, who be in God the Father, and to those who be called and kept safe by Jesus Christ,)
- <sup>2</sup> mercy, and peace, and charity be [full-]filled to you. (may mercy, and peace, and love be filled full unto you.)
- <sup>3</sup> Most dear brethren, I doing all busyness to write to you of your common health, had need to write to you, and pray to strive strongly for the faith that is once taken to (the) saints. (Most dearbrothers, I making every effort to write to you about your shared salvation, had need to write to you, and beseech you to strive strongly for the faith that was given to God's people once and for all.)
- <sup>4</sup> For some unfaithful men privily entered, that sometime were beforewritten into this doom, and overturn the grace of our God into lechery, and deny him that is only a Lord, our Lord Jesus Christ. (For some unfaithful or unbelieving men have privately, or secretly, entered in among you, they whom long ago the judgement was written about, and who now turn the grace of our God into a license for lust, and deny him who is the only Lord, our Lord Jesus Christ.)
- <sup>5</sup> But I will admonish you once, that know all things, that Jesus saved his people from the land of Egypt, and the second time lost them that believed not. (But I will admonish you, ye who know all things, that Jesus saved his people once from the land of Egypt, but then afterward he destroyed those who did not believe.)
- <sup>6</sup> And he reserved under darkness (the) angels, that kept not their princehood, but forsook their house, into the doom of the great God (or unto the judgement of the great God), into everlasting bonds.
- <sup>7</sup> As Sodom, and Gomorrha (or and Gomorrah), and the nigh coasted cities, that in like manner did fornication, and went away after other flesh, and be made ensample(s), suffering pain of everlasting fire (or suffering the pain of eternal fire).
- <sup>8</sup> In like manner also these that defoul the flesh, and despise lordship, and blaspheme majesty. (In like manner also these people who defile the flesh, and despise authority, and blaspheme Majesty.)
- <sup>9</sup> When Michael, [the] archangel, disputed with the devil, and strove of Moses' body, he was not hardy to bring in doom of blasphemy, but said, The Lord command to thee. (When the archangel Michael disputed with the Devil, and argued over Moses' body, he was not so bold as to bring in the judgement of blasphemy, but instead said, The Lord shall command to thee!)
- <sup>10</sup> But these men blaspheme, whatever things they know not. For whatever things they know kindly as dumb beasts, in these they be corrupt, (or For whatever they know by kind, or naturally, like dumb beasts, by those things they be corrupted).

- <sup>11</sup> Woe to them that went the way of Cain, and that be shed out by (the) error of Balaam for meed, and perished in the gainsaying of Core. (Woe to those who went the way of Cain, and who were poured out by the error of Balaam while seeking reward, and who perished in rebellion like Korah.)
- <sup>12</sup> These be in their meats (or They be at their banquets), feasting together to filth, without dread feeding themselves. These be clouds without water, that be borne about of (the) winds (or who be carried about by the winds); harvest trees without fruit, twice dead, drawn up by the root(s);
- <sup>13</sup> waves of the mad sea, foaming out their confusions, [or waves of the wild sea, frothing out their confusions]; erring stars, to which the tempest of darknesses is kept [into] without end, (or stars gone astray, for whom the tempest of darkness is kept forever).
- <sup>14</sup> But Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these (or prophesied about them), and said, Lo! the Lord cometh with his holy thousands,
- <sup>15</sup> to do doom against all men, and to reprove all unfaithful men of all the works of the wickedness of them, by which they did wickedly, and of all the hard words, that wicked sinners have spoken against God. (to execute judgement against everyone, and to rebuke all the unbelievers for all the works of their wickedness, by which they did wickedly, and for all the hard words, which wicked sinners have spoken against God.)
- <sup>16</sup> These be grudgers full of (com)plaints, wandering after their desires; and the mouth of them speaketh pride, worshipping persons, because of winning. (These people be grumblers full of complaints, going after their own desires; and their mouths be full of pride, and give honour to people because of their profits, or their increases.)
- <sup>17</sup> And ye, most dear brethren, be mindful of the words which be beforesaid of [the] apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ; (And ye, most dear brothers, remember the words, which were earlier said by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ;)
- <sup>18</sup> which said to you, that in the last times there shall come beguilers [or scorners], wandering after their own desires, not in piety. (who said to you, that in the Last Days, or at the Time of the End, or the End Time(s), there shall come deceivers, or mockers, going after their own desires, and not in piety.)
- <sup>19</sup> These be, which separate themselves (or who set themselves apart), beastly men, not having (the) Spirit.
- <sup>20</sup> But ye, most dear brethren, above build yourselves on your most holy faith, and pray ye in the Holy Ghost, (But ye, most dear brothers, build yourselves up in your most holy faith, and pray in the Holy Spirit,)
- $^{21}$  and keep yourselves in the love of God, and abide ye the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ into life everlasting. (and keep yourselves in the love of God, and wait for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.)
- <sup>22</sup> And reprove ye these men that be deemed, (And rebuke those men who be judged,)
- <sup>23</sup> but save ye them, and take ye (hold of) them [or ravish them] from the fire. And do ye mercy to other men, in the dread of God, and hate ye also that defouled coat, which is fleshly. (but also save them, yea, snatch them out of the fire. And do mercy to other men, in fearful reverence for God, and hate also that defiled coat, which is your flesh.)

<sup>24</sup> But to him that is mighty to keep you without sin, and to ordain before the sight of his glory you unwemmed, in full out joy, (But to him who is mighty to keep you without sin, and to ordain you without spot, or blemish, before the presence of his glory, with great joy,)

<sup>25</sup> in the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, to God alone our Saviour, by Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, and magnifying, empire, and power, before all worlds, and now, and into all worlds of worlds. Amen (or before all time, and now, and forever and ever. Amen).

APOCALYPSE OF JOHN

<sup>1</sup> (The) Apocalypse of Jesus Christ [or The revelation of Jesus Christ], which God gave to him to make open to his servants, which things it behooveth to be made soon. And he signified, sending by his angel to his servant John,

<sup>2</sup> which bare witnessing to the word of God, and (to the) witnessing of Jesus Christ, in these things, whatever things he saw. (who testified to the word of God, and to the testimony of Jesus Christ, in these things, whatever he saw.)

<sup>3</sup> Blessed is he that readeth, and he that heareth the words of this prophecy, and keepeth those things that be written in it; for the time is nigh. (Blessed is he who readeth, and he who heareth the words of this prophecy, and obeyeth those things that be written in it; for the time is near.)

<sup>4</sup> John to the seven churches, that be in Asia, grace and peace (be) to you, of him that is, and that was, and that is to coming [or that is to come]; and of the seven spirits, that be in the sight of his throne;

<sup>5</sup> and of Jesus Christ, that is a faithful witness (or who is a faithful witness), the first begotten of dead men [or the first begotten of (the) dead], and (the) prince of (the) kings of the earth; which loved us, and washed us from our sins in his blood,

<sup>6</sup> and made us a kingdom, and priests to God and to his Father; to him be glory and empire into worlds of worlds (or to him be glory and empire forever and ever). Amen.

<sup>7</sup> Lo! he cometh with clouds, and each eye shall see him, and they that pricked him; and all the kindreds of the earth shall bewail themselves on him. Yea, Amen! (Behold! he cometh with clouds, and every eye shall see him, and they who pierced him; and all the peoples of the earth shall bewail themselves over him. Yea, Amen!)

<sup>8</sup> I am alpha and omega, the beginning and the end, saith the Lord God, that is, and that was, and that is to coming [or that is to come], (the) almighty. (I am Alpha and Omega, the Source and the Fulfillment, saith the Lord God, who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty.)

- <sup>9</sup> I, John, your brother, and partner in tribulation, and kingdom, and patience in Christ Jesus, was in an isle, that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the witnessing of Jesus. (I, John, your brother, and partner in suffering, and kingdom, and patience, or endurance, in the Messiah Jesus, was on an island called Patmos, because of the word of God, and because of my testimony about Jesus.)
- <sup>10</sup> I was in (the) Spirit in the Lord's day [or in the Sunday], and I heard behind me a great voice, as of a trump, (I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, or on a Sunday, and I heard a loud voice behind me, like the sound of a trumpet,)
- <sup>11</sup> saying to me, Write thou in a book that thing that thou seest, and send to the seven churches that be in Asia; to Ephesus, to Smyrna, and to Pergamos (or to Pergamum), and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea.

- <sup>12</sup> And I turned, that I should see the voice that spake with me, (or And I turned, so that I could see who spoke to me); and I turned, and I saw seven candlesticks of gold,
- <sup>13</sup> and in the middle of the seven golden candlesticks one like to the Son of man, clothed with a long garment, and girded at the teats with a golden girdle, (or and girded at the breast with a golden girdle, or and with a gold band around his chest).
- <sup>14</sup> And the head of him and his hairs were white, as white wool, and as snow; and the eyes of him as (a) flame of fire,
- <sup>15</sup> and his feet like to latten [or like the dross of gold], as in a burning chimney; and the voice of him as the voice of many waters. (and his feet were like latten, or the dross of gold, like in a furnace; and his voice was like the sound of many waters.)
- <sup>16</sup> And he had in his right hand seven stars, and a sword sharp on ever either side went out of his mouth [or and a sword sharp on both sides went out of his mouth]; and his face as the sun shineth in his virtue (or and his face shone like the sun in its strength).
- <sup>17</sup> And when I had seen him, I felled down at his feet, as dead. And he putted his right hand on me, and said, Do not thou dread (or Do not fear); I am the first and the last;
- $^{18}$  and I am alive, and I was dead; and lo! I am living into worlds of worlds, (or and behold! I shall remain alive forever and ever), and I have the keys of death and of hell.
- $^{19}$  Therefore write thou which things thou hast seen, and which be, and which it behooveth to be done after these things.
- $^{20}$  The sacrament of the seven stars [or The mystery of (the) seven stars], which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks; the seven stars be [the] angels of the seven churches, and the seven candlesticks be [the] seven churches.

- <sup>1</sup> And to the angel of the church of Ephesus write thou, These things saith he, that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, which walketh in the middle [or in the midst] of the seven golden candlesticks (or who walketh in the midst of the seven gold candlesticks).
- <sup>2</sup> I know thy works, and thy travail [or thy toil], and thy patience, and that thou mayest not suffer evil men, (or I know of thy works, and thy labour, and thy endurance, and that thou cannot allow or tolerate evil men); and thou hast assayed them that say that they be apostles, and be not, and thou hast found them (to be) liars;
- <sup>3</sup> and thou hast patience (or and thou hast endured), and thou hast suffered for my name [or and thou hast sustained for my name], and failedest not.
- <sup>4</sup> But I have against thee a few things, that thou hast left thy first charity. (But I have a few things against thee, yea, that thou hast left thy first love.)
- <sup>5</sup> Therefore be thou mindful from whence thou hast fallen, and do penance, and do the first works; or else, I shall come soon to thee, and I shall move thy candlestick from his place, [no] but thou do penance. (And so remember from where thou hast fallen, and repent, and do again the first works; or else, I shall come soon to thee, and I shall remove thy candlestick from its place, unless thou repent.)

- <sup>6</sup> But thou hast this good thing, that thou hatedest the deeds of (the) Nicolaitanes (or the Nicolaitans), which also I hate.
- <sup>7</sup> He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches. To him that overcometh, I shall give to eat of the tree of life, that is in the paradise of my God.
- <sup>8</sup> And to the angel of the church of Smyrna write thou, These things saith the first and the last, that was dead, and liveth.
- <sup>9</sup> I know thy tribulation, and thy poverty, but thou art rich; and thou art blasphemed of them, that say, that they be Jews, and be not, but be the synagogue of Satan. (I know thy suffering, and thy poverty, even though thou art rich; and thou art blasphemed by those, who say, that they be Jews, and be not, but be Satan's synagogue.)
- <sup>10</sup> Dread thou nothing of these things, which thou shalt suffer. Lo! the devil shall send some of you into prison, that ye be tempted [or that ye be proved]; and ye shall have tribulation (for) ten days. Be thou faithful to the death, and (then) I shall give to thee a crown of life. (Fear none of the things, which thou shalt suffer. Behold! the Devil shall send some of you into prison, so that ye can be tested; and ye shall suffer for ten days. But be faithful unto death, and then I shall give thee a crown of life.)
- <sup>11</sup> He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches. He that overcometh, shall not be hurt of the second death, (or He who shall overcome, shall not be hurt by the second death).
- <sup>12</sup> And to the angel of the church of Pergamos (or of Pergamum), write thou, These things saith he, that hath the sword sharp on either side [or on each side].
- <sup>13</sup> I know where thou dwellest, where the seat of Satan is (or where Satan's throne is); and thou holdest my name, and deniedest not my faith. And in those days was Antipas, my faithful witness, that was slain at you (or who was killed there before you), where Satan dwelleth.
- <sup>14</sup> But I have against thee a few things; for thou hast there men holding the teaching of Balaam, which taught Balac to send (a) cause of stumbling before the sons of Israel (or who taught Balak to put a cause of stumbling before the Israelites), to eat of (the) sacrifices of idols, and to do fornication;
- <sup>15</sup> so also thou hast men holding the teaching of (the) Nicolaitanes. (and thou hast men who believe and follow the teaching of the Nicolaitans.)
- <sup>16</sup> Also do thou penance (or And so repent); if anything less, I shall come soon to thee, and I shall fight with them with the sword of my mouth.
- <sup>17</sup> He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches. To him that overcometh I shall give angel meat hid [or manna]; and I shall give to him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, but he that taketh [it], (or and I shall give him a white stone, and a new name written on the stone, which no man knoweth, but he who receiveth it).
- <sup>18</sup> And to the angel of the church of Thyatira write thou, These things saith the Son of God, that hath eyes as (the) flame of fire, and his feet like latten, (or who hath eyes like fiery flames, and his feet be like latten, or like the dross of gold).

<sup>19</sup> I know thy works, and (thy) faith, and charity (or thy love), and thy service, and thy patience, and thy last works (be) more than the former

(or greater than thy first works).

<sup>20</sup> But I have against thee a few things; for thou sufferest the woman Jezebel, which saith that she is a prophetess, (or for thou hast allowed the woman Jezebel, who saith that she is a prophetess), to teach and deceive my servants, to do lechery, and to eat of things offered to idols.

<sup>21</sup> And I gave to her time, that she should do penance, and she would not do penance of her fornication. (And I gave her time, so that she would repent, but she would not repent of her fornication, or of her idolatry, or her immorality.)

<sup>22</sup> And lo! I send her into a bed, and they that do lechery with her shall be in most tribulation, [no] but they do penance of her works. (And behold! I shall send her into a bed, and those who do lechery with her shall suffer greatly, unless they repent of their works.)

<sup>23</sup> And I shall slay her sons into death, and all (the) churches shall know, that I am searching reins and hearts; and I shall give to each man of you after his works.

<sup>24</sup> And I say to you, and to (the) others that be at Thyatira, whoever have not this teaching, and that knew not the highness of Satan, how they say, I shall not send on you another charge (or I shall not put another burden upon you);

<sup>25</sup> nevertheless hold ye (onto) that that ye have, till I come.

- <sup>26</sup> And to him that shall overcome, and that shall keep till into the end my works, I shall give power on folks, (And to him who shall overcome, and who shall continue doing my works unto the end, I shall give power over the nations and the peoples,)
- <sup>27</sup> and he shall govern them in an iron rod (or and he shall govern them with an iron rod); and they shall be broken (al)together, as a vessel of a potter, as also I received of (or from) my Father;

<sup>29</sup> He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches.

CHAPTER 3

<sup>1</sup> And to the angel of the church of Sardis write thou, These things saith he, that hath the seven spirits of God, and the seven stars. I know thy works, for thou hast a name, that thou livest, and thou art dead.

<sup>2</sup> Be thou waking, (or Wake up, or Be on guard), and confirm thou (the) other things, that were to dying; for I find not thy works full (or finished) before my God.

- <sup>3</sup> Therefore have thou in mind, how thou receivedest, and heardest; and keep, and do penance. Therefore if thou wake not, I shall come as a night thief to thee, and thou shalt not know in what hour I shall come to thee. (And so remember, how thou hast received it, and hast heard it; and so obey it, and repent. And if thou do not wake up, or be on guard, I shall come to thee like a thief in the night, and thou shalt not know in what hour I shall come to thee.)
- <sup>4</sup> But thou hast a few names in Sardis, which have not defouled their clothes, (or But thou hast a few people in Sardis, who have not defiled their clothes); and they shall walk with me in white clothes, for they be worthy.

- <sup>5</sup> He that overcometh, shall be clothed thus with white clothes; and I shall not do away his name from the book of life, and I shall acknowledge his name before my Father, and before his angels.
  - <sup>6</sup> He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches.
- <sup>7</sup> And to the angel of the church of Philadelphia write thou, These things saith the holy and (the) true (one), that hath the key of David; which openeth, and no man closeth, he closeth, and no man openeth.
- <sup>8</sup> I know thy works, and lo! I gave before thee a door opened, which no man may close; for thou hast a little virtue, and hast kept my word, and deniedest not my name. (I know thy works, and behold! I have put before thee an open door, which no one can close; for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and deniedest not my name.)
- <sup>9</sup> Lo! I shall give to thee (those) of the synagogue of Satan, which say that they be Jews (or who say that they be Jews), and be not, but lie. Lo! I shall make them, (so) that they come, and worship before thy feet; and they shall know, that I loved thee,
- <sup>10</sup> for thou keptest the word of my patience. And I shall keep thee from the hour of temptation, that is to coming into all the world [or that is to come into all the world], to tempt men that dwell in earth. (because thou hast obeyed my word and endured, or because thou hast obeyed my word to endure. And I shall keep thee from the hour of testing, that is to come into all the world, to test those who live on the earth.)
- <sup>11</sup> Lo! I come soon; hold thou that that thou hast, (so) that no man take thy crown.
- <sup>12</sup> And him that shall overcome, I shall make (him) a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall no more go out; and I shall write on him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, of the new Jerusalem, that cometh down from (the) heaven of my God, and my new name.
  - 13 He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches.
- <sup>14</sup> And to the angel of the church of Laodicea write thou, These things saith (the) Amen, the faithful witness and (the) true (one), which is (the) beginning of God's creature(s), (or who is the beginning, or the Source, of all of God's Creation).
- <sup>15</sup> I know thy works, for neither thou art cold, neither thou art hot; I would (like) that thou were cold, either hot;
- <sup>16</sup> but for thou art lukewarm, and neither cold, neither hot, I shall begin to cast thee [or to vomit thee] out of my mouth.
- <sup>17</sup> For thou sayest, That I am rich, and full of goods, and have need of nothing; and thou knowest not, that thou art a wretch, and wretchful [or and wretched], and poor, and blind, and naked.
- <sup>18</sup> I counsel thee to buy of me burnt gold (or I counsel thee to buy from me gold which was refined in the fire), (so) that thou be made rich, and be clothed with white clothes, (so) that the confusion [or the shame] of thy nakedness be not seen; and anoint thine eyes with a collyrium, that is, a medicine for (the) eyes, gathered of (or from) diverse herbs, (so) that thou (can) see.
- <sup>19</sup> I reprove, and chastise whom I love; therefore (pur)sue thou good men, and do penance. (I rebuke, and chastise whom I love; and so pursue the good, and repent.)

- $^{20}$  Lo! I stand at the door, and knock; if any man heareth my voice, and openeth the gate to me, I shall enter to him, and sup with him, and he with me.
- <sup>21</sup> And I shall give to him that shall overcome, to sit with me in (or on) my throne, as also I overcame, and sat with my Father in (or on) his throne.
  - <sup>22</sup> He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches.

- ¹ After these things I saw, and lo! a door was opened in heaven. And the first voice that I heard, was as of a trump speaking with me, and said, Ascend thou up hither, and I shall show to thee which things it behooveth to be done soon after these things. (After these things I saw, and behold! a door was opened in heaven. And the voice like a trumpet, that I had heard before, (was) speaking to me, and it said, Come up here, and I shall show thee what it behooveth to be done next.)
- <sup>2</sup> And anon I was in (the) Spirit, and lo! a seat was set in heaven, and upon the seat one sitting. (And at once I was in the Spirit, and behold! there was a throne in heaven, and (One) sitting upon the throne.)
- <sup>3</sup> And he that sat (there), was like the sight of a stone jasper, and to sardine; and a rainbow was in [the] compass of the seat, (or and a rainbow was all around, or encompassed, the throne), like the sight of (an) emerald.
- <sup>4</sup> And in the compass of the seat were four and twenty small seats; and above [or upon] the thrones four and twenty elder men sitting, covered about with white clothes, and in the heads of them golden crowns. (And all around the throne were twenty-four small thrones; and sitting upon those thrones were twenty-four elders, clothed in white clothes, and with gold crowns on their heads.)
- <sup>5</sup> And lightnings, and voices (or and sounds), and thunderings came out of the throne; and seven lamps burning before the throne, which be the seven spirits of God.
- <sup>6</sup> And before the seat as a sea of glass, like crystal, and in the middle of the seat, and in the compass of the seat, [were] four beasts, full of eyes before and behind. (And in front of the throne was a sea of glass, like crystal, and in the midst of the throne, and around it, were four creatures, covered with eyes, in front and behind.)
- <sup>7</sup> And the first beast like a lion; and the second beast like a calf; and the third beast having a face as of a man; and the fourth beast like an eagle flying. (And the first creature was like a lion; and the second creature was like a calf; and the third creature had a face like a man; and the fourth creature was like an eagle in flight.)
- <sup>8</sup> And the four beasts had each of them six wings; and all about and within they were full of eyes; and they had not rest day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, the Lord God almighty, that was, and that is, and that is to coming [or and that is to come]. (And each of the four creatures had six wings; and all about, inside and out, they were covered with eyes; and they had no rest day or night, but were always saying, Holy, holy, holy, the Lord God Almighty, who was, and who is, and who is to come.)
- <sup>9</sup> And when those four beasts gave glory, and honour, and blessing to him that sat on the throne, that liveth into (the) worlds of worlds, (And when those four creatures gave glory, and honour, and blessing to Him who sat on the throne, who liveth forever and ever,)

- <sup>10</sup> the four and twenty elder men fell down before him that sat on the throne, and worshipped him that liveth into (the) worlds of worlds. And they cast their crowns before the throne, and said, (the twenty-four elders fell down before Him who sat on the throne, and worshipped Him who liveth forever and ever. And they threw their crowns before the throne, and said,)
- <sup>11</sup> Thou, Lord our God, art worthy to take glory, and honour, and virtue; for thou madest of nought all things, and for thy will those were, and be made of nought. (Thou, Lord our God, art worthy to receive glory, and honour, and power; for thou madest everything out of nothing, yea, because of thy will, they were made out of nothing, and they be.)

- $^{1}$  And I saw in the right hand of the sitter on the throne, a book written within and without, and sealed with seven seals.
- <sup>2</sup> And I saw a strong angel, preaching with a great voice (or asking with a loud voice), Who is worthy to open the book, and to undo the seals of it?
- <sup>3</sup> And none [or And no man] in heaven, neither in earth, neither under (the) earth, might open the book, neither behold it.
- <sup>4</sup> And I wept much, for none [or no man] was found worthy to open the book, neither to see it.
- <sup>5</sup> And one of the elder men said to me, Weep thou not; lo! a lion of the lineage of Juda(h), the root of David, hath overcome to open the book, and to undo the seven seals of it. (And one of the elders said to me, Weep not; behold! a lion from the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, hath overcome to open the book, and to undo its seven seals.)
- <sup>6</sup> And I saw, and lo! in the middle of the throne, and of the four beasts, and in the middle of the elder men, a lamb standing as slain, that had seven horns, and seven eyes, which be [the] seven spirits of God, sent into all the earth. (And I saw, and behold! in the midst of the throne, and of the four creatures, and of the elders, a Lamb standing there, who appeared to have been killed, and he had seven horns, and seven eyes, which be the seven spirits of God, sent into all the earth.)
- <sup>7</sup> And he came, and took of the right hand of the sitter in the throne the book. (And he came, and took the book from the right hand of Him who sat on the throne.)
- <sup>8</sup> And when he had opened the book, the four beasts and the four and twenty elder men fell down before the lamb; and had each of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which be the prayers of (the) saints. (And when he had opened the book, the four creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb; and each of them had harps, and gold basins, or gold bowls, full of incense, which be the prayers of God's people.)
- <sup>9</sup> And they sung a new song, and said, Lord our God, thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals of it; for thou were slain, and again-boughtest us to God in thy blood, of each lineage, and tongue, and people, and nation, (or for thou wast killed, and so thou hast redeemed us to God with thy blood, yea, from every tribe, and language, and people, and nation);

<sup>10</sup> and madest us a kingdom, and priests to our God; and we shall reign on earth. (and madest us into a kingdom, and priests for our God; and we shall rule on the earth.)

<sup>11</sup> And I saw, and heard the voice(s) of many angels all about the throne, and of the beasts, and of the elder men, (or And I saw, and heard the voices of many angels all about the throne, and the voices of the creatures, and of the elders). And the number of them was thousands of thousands,

<sup>12</sup> saying with a great voice, The lamb that was slain, is worthy to take virtue, and Godhead [or and Divinity], and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing. (saying with loud voices, The Lamb that was killed, is worthy to receive power, and Godhead, or Divinity, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.)

<sup>13</sup> And each creature that is in heaven, and that is on [the] earth, and under (the) earth, and the sea, and which things be in it, I heard all (of them) saying, To him that sat in the throne, and to the lamb, blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, into (the) worlds of worlds, (or To Him who sat on the throne, and to the Lamb, blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, forever and ever).

<sup>14</sup> And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty elder men fell down on their faces, and worshipped him that liveth into (the) worlds of worlds. (And the four creatures said, Amen. And the twenty-four elders fell down on their faces, and worshipped Him who liveth forever and ever.)

CHAPTER 6

<sup>1</sup> And I saw, that the lamb had opened one of the seven seals. And I heard one of the four beasts saying, as a voice of thunder, Come thou, and see. (And I saw, that the Lamb had opened one of the seven seals. And I heard one of the four creatures say, with a voice like thunder, Come, and see.)

<sup>2</sup> And I saw, and lo! a white horse; and he that sat on him had a bow, and a crown was given to him. And he went out overcoming, (so) that he should overcome.

<sup>3</sup> And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast saying, Come thou, and see. (And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second creature say, Come, and see.)

<sup>4</sup> And an other red horse went out; and it was given to him that sat on him [power], that he should take peace from the earth, and that they slay together themselves, (or so that he would take peace from the earth, so the people would kill each other); and a great sword was given to him.

<sup>5</sup> And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast saying, Come thou, and see. And lo! a black horse; and he that sat on him had a balance in his hand. (And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third creature say, Come, and see. And behold! a black horse; and he who sat on him had a balance in his hand.)

<sup>6</sup> And I heard as a voice in the middle of the four beasts, saying, (or And I heard a voice from the midst of the creatures say), A bilibre, that is, a weight of two pounds, of wheat for a penny, and three bilibres of barley for a penny; and hurt thou not (the) wine, nor (the) oil.

<sup>7</sup> And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard a voice of the fourth beast saying, Come thou, and see. (And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth creature say, Come, and see.)

<sup>8</sup> And lo! a pale horse; and the name was Death to him that sat on him, and hell *(pur)*sued him (or and hell followed him). And power was given to him on, (or over), (the) four parts of the earth, to slay with (the) sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with beasts of the earth.

<sup>9</sup> And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of men slain for the word of God, and for the witnessing that they had. (And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of men killed for the word of God, and for the testimony which they had given.)

<sup>10</sup> And they cried with a great voice, and said, How long thou, Lord, that art holy and true, deemest [thou] not, and vengest not our blood of these that dwell in the earth? (And they cried with loud voices, and said, How long O Lord, who art holy and true, judgest not, and avengest not our blood upon those who live on the earth?)

<sup>11</sup> And white stoles, for each soul a stole, were given to them; and it was said to them, that they should rest yet a little time, till the number of their fellows and of their brethren be fulfilled, that be to be slain, as also they Iwerel.

<sup>12</sup> And I saw, when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo! a great earthmoving was made, (and behold! there was a great earthquake); and the sun was made black, as a sackcloth of hair, and all the moon was made as blood.

<sup>13</sup> And the stars of heaven felled down on the earth, as a fig tree sendeth his unripe figs, when it is moved of a great wind. (And the stars of the heavens fell down upon the earth, like a fig tree sendeth its unripe figs, when it is moved by a great wind.)

<sup>14</sup> And (the) heaven(s) went away, as a book wrapped in [or enfolded]; and all the mountains and (the) isles were moved from their places.

<sup>15</sup> And the kings of the earth, and princes, and tribunes, and rich, and strong, and each bondman, and free man, hid them(selves) in dens and (in the) stones of (the) hills.

<sup>16</sup> And they say to (the) hills and to (the) stones, Fall ye on us, and hide ye us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the lamb;

<sup>17</sup> for the great day of their wrath cometh, and who shall be able to stand?

- <sup>1</sup> After these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding [the] four winds of the earth, (so) that they blew not on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree.
- <sup>2</sup> And I saw another angel ascending up from the rising of the sun, that had a sign of the living God. And he cried with a great voice to the four angels, to which it was given to annoy the earth, and the sea, (And I saw another angel going up from the rising of the sun, who had the seal of the living God. And he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to do great harm to the earth, and to the sea,)
- <sup>3</sup> and said, Do not ye annoy the earth, and the sea, neither [to] trees, till we mark the servants of our God in the foreheads of them. (and said, Do not harm the earth, or the sea, or the trees, until we mark the servants of our God with a seal upon their foreheads.)

- <sup>4</sup> And I heard the number of men that were marked, an hundred thousand and four and forty thousand marked, of every lineage of the sons of Israel; (And I heard that the number of men who were sealed, were a hundred and forty-four thousand, from every tribe of the Israelites;)
- <sup>5</sup> of the lineage of Juda (or from the tribe of Judah), twelve thousand marked; of the lineage of Reuben, twelve thousand marked; of the lineage of Gad, twelve thousand marked;
- <sup>6</sup> of the lineage of Aser, twelve thousand marked; of the lineage of Nephthalim, twelve thousand marked; of the lineage of Manasses, twelve thousand marked:
- <sup>7</sup> of the lineage of Simeon, twelve thousand marked; of the lineage of Levi, twelve thousand marked; of the lineage of Issachar, twelve thousand marked:
- <sup>8</sup> of the lineage of Zabulon (or from the tribe of Zebulon), twelve thousand marked; of the lineage of Joseph, twelve thousand marked; of the lineage of Benjamin, twelve thousand marked.
- <sup>9</sup> After these things I saw a great people, whom no man might number, of all folks, and lineages (or tribes), and peoples, and languages [or and tongues], standing before the throne, in the sight of the lamb; and they were clothed with white stoles, and palms were in the hands of them.
- <sup>10</sup> And they cried with a great voice, and said, Health to our God, that sitteth on the throne, and to the lamb. (And they cried with loud voices, and said, Salvation cometh from our God, who sitteth on the throne, and from the Lamb./And they cried with loud voices, and said, Victory to our God, who sitteth on the throne, and to the Lamb.)
- <sup>11</sup> And all the angels stood all about the throne, and of the elder men, and the four beasts. And they fell down in the sight of the throne, on their faces, and worshipped God, (And all the angels stood all around the throne, and the elders, and the four creatures. And they fell down before the throne, on their faces, and worshipped God,)
- <sup>12</sup> and said, Amen! blessing, and clearness, and wisdom, and doing of thankings, and honour, and virtue, and strength to our God, into worlds of worlds. Amen. (and said, Amen! blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and giving thanks, and honour, and power, and strength to our God, forever and ever. Amen.)
- <sup>13</sup> And one of the elder men answered, and said to me, Who be these, that be clothed with white stoles? and from whence came they? (And one of the elders asked me, Who be these, who be clothed with white stoles? and where do they come from?)
- <sup>14</sup> And I said to him, My lord, thou knowest. And he said to me, These be they, that came from (the) great tribulation, and washed their stoles, and made them white in the blood of the lamb (or and made them white with the Lamb's blood).
- <sup>15</sup> Therefore they be before the throne of God, and serve to him day and night, in his temple. And he that sitteth in the throne, dwelleth on them. (And so they be before the throne of God, and serve him day and night, in his Temple. And He who sitteth on the throne, liveth among them.)
- <sup>16</sup> They shall no more hunger, neither thirst, neither [the] sun shall fall on them, nor any heat.

<sup>17</sup> For the lamb, that is in the middle of the throne, shall govern them, and shall lead forth them to the wells of (the) waters of life [or and shall lead them forth to the wells of the waters of life]; and God shall wipe away each tear from the eyes of them. (For the Lamb, who is in the midst of the throne, shall govern them, and shall lead them forth to the springs of the water of life; and God shall wipe away every tear from their eyes.)

- <sup>1</sup> And when he had opened the seventh seal, a silence was made in heaven [or silence was made in heaven], as half an hour (or for half an hour).
- <sup>2</sup> And I saw seven angels standing in the sight of God, and seven trumps were given to them. (And I saw seven angels standing before God, and seven trumpets were given to them.)
- <sup>3</sup> And another angel came, and stood before the altar, and had a golden censer; and many incenses were given to him, that he should give of the prayers of all (the) saints on the golden altar (or so that he could offer them with the prayers of all of God's people on the gold altar), that is before the throne of God.
- <sup>4</sup> And the smoke of the incenses of the prayers of the holy men ascended up from the angel's hand before God. (And the smoke from the incense went up before God from the angel's hand, with the prayers of the saints or of God's people.)
- <sup>5</sup> And the angel took the censer, and filled it of the fire of the altar, and cast [it] into the earth. And thunders, and voices, and lightnings were made, and a great earth-moving. (And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire from the altar, and threw it down onto the earth. And there was thunder, and sounds, and lightning, and a great earthquake.)
- <sup>6</sup> And the seven angels, that had the seven trumps, made them ready, that they should trump. (And the seven angels, who had the seven trumpets, made them ready, so that they could blow them.)
- <sup>7</sup> And the first angel trumped; and hail was made, and fire mingled together in blood; and it was sent into the earth. And the third part of the earth was burnt, and the third part of (the) trees was burnt, and all the green grass was burnt.
- <sup>8</sup> And the second angel trumped; and as a great hill burning with fire was cast into the sea; and the third part of the sea was made blood,
- <sup>9</sup> and the third part of (the) creature(s) was dead, that had lives in the sea, and the third part of [the] ships perished.
- <sup>10</sup> And the third angel trumped; and a great star burning as a little (fire)brand, fell from heaven; and it fell into the third part of (the) rivers, and into the wells of waters. (And the third angel trumpeted; and a great star burning like a torch, fell from the heavens; and it fell into a third of the rivers, and into the springs of water.)
- <sup>11</sup> And the name of the star is said Wormwood. And the third part of (the) waters was made into wormwood; and many men were dead of the waters, for those were made bitter. (And the star was called Wormwood. And a third of the waters was made into wormwood; and many men died from the waters, because they were made bitter or they were poisoned.)

- <sup>12</sup> And the fourth angel trumped; and the third part of the sun was smitten (or and a third of the sun was struck), and the third part of the moon, and the third part of [the] stars, so that the third part of them was darked, and the third part of the day shined not, and also of the night.
- <sup>13</sup> And I saw, and heard the voice of an eagle flying by the middle of heaven, and saying with a great voice, Woe! woe! woe! to men that dwell in earth, of the other voices of the three angels, that shall trump after. (And I saw, and heard the voice of an eagle flying through the midst of the heavens, and saying with a loud voice, Woe! woe! woe! to the men who live on the earth, from the other soundings of the three angels, who shall trumpet next.)

- <sup>1</sup> And the fifth angel trumped; and I saw, that a star had fallen down from (the) heaven(s) into (the) earth; and the key of the pit of deepness was given to it [or and the key of the pit of deepness is given to him].
- <sup>2</sup> And it opened the pit of deepness [or And he opened the pit of deepness], and a smoke of the pit ascended up, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun was darked, and the air, of the smoke of the pit, (or and the sun, and the air, were darkened by the smoke from the pit).
- <sup>3</sup> And locusts went out of the smoke of the pit into (the) earth; and power was given to them, as scorpions of the earth have power.
- <sup>4</sup> And it was commanded to them, that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only (the) men, that have not the sign of God [or the mark of God] in their foreheads, (or but only those, who did not have God's seal upon their foreheads).
- <sup>5</sup> And it was given to them, that they should not slay them, but that they should be tormented (for) five months; and the tormenting of them, (was) as the tormenting of a scorpion, when he smiteth a man (or when he striketh someone).
- <sup>6</sup> And in those days men shall seek death, and they shall not find it; and they shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.
- <sup>7</sup>And the likeness of (the) locusts be like horses made ready into battle; and on the heads of them as crowns like gold, and the faces of them as the faces of men.
- $^{8}$  And they had hairs, as the hairs of women; and the teeth of them were as the teeth of lions.
- <sup>9</sup> And they had habergeons, as iron habergeons, and the voice of their wings as the voice of (the) chariots of many horses running to battle. (And they had breastplates, like iron breastplates, and the sound of their wings was like the sound of many chariots and their horses rushing to battle.)
- <sup>10</sup> And they had tails like scorpions, and pricks were in the tails of them; and the might of them was to annoy men (for) five months (or and their power was to be used to harm men for five months).
- <sup>11</sup> And they had on them a king (or And they had a king over them), the angel of (the) deepness, to whom the name in Hebrew is Abaddon, but by Greek Apollyon, and by Latin he hath a name Exterminus, that is, Destroyer.
  - <sup>12</sup> One woe is passed, and lo! yet come two woes.

13 After these things also the sixth angel trumped; and I heard a voice from the four corners of the golden altar (or and I heard a voice from the four corners of the gold altar), that is before the eyes of God,

14 and said to the sixth angel that had a trump, Unbind thou [the] four angels, that be bound in the great flood Euphrates. (and it said to the sixth angel who had a trumpet, Unbind the four angels, who be bound at the great Euphrates River.)

15 And the four angels were unbound, which were ready into (the) hour, and day, and month, and year, to slay the third part of men.

<sup>16</sup> And the number of the host of horsemen was twenty thousand times ten thousand (or And the number of the army of the horsemen was twenty thousand times ten thousand). And I heard the number of them.

<sup>17</sup> And so I saw horses in vision; and they that sat on them had fiery habergeons, and of jacinth, and of brimstone, (or and those who sat upon them had fire-red breastplates, and hyacinth or blue ones, and yellow ones). And the heads of the horses were as [the] heads of lions; and fire, and smoke, and brimstone, cometh forth (out) of the mouth(s) of them.

<sup>18</sup> Of these three plagues the third part of men was slain, of the fire, and of the smoke, and of the brimstone, that came out of the mouth(s) of them. (By these three plagues a third of mankind was killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, that came out of their mouths.)

19 For the power of the horses is in the mouth(s) of them, and in the tails of them; for the tails of them be like to serpents, having heads, and in them they annoy (or and with them they do much harm).

- <sup>20</sup> And the other men, that were not slain in these plagues, neither did penance of the works of their hands, that they worshipped not devils, and simulacra of gold, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of tree, which neither may see, neither hear, neither wander; (And the other men, who were not killed by these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands, so that they did not worship demons, and idols of gold, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of wood, which cannot see, nor hear, nor walk or go;)
- <sup>21</sup> and [they] did not penance of their manslayings, neither of their witchcrafts, neither of their fornication, neither of their thefts, were slain. (and they did not repent of their murders, nor of their witchcrafts, nor of their fornication or their idolatry, nor of their thefts.)

CHAPTER 10

<sup>1</sup> And I saw another strong angel coming down from heaven, clothed with a cloud, and the rainbow on his head; and the face of him was as the sun, and the feet of him as a pillar of fire.

<sup>2</sup> And he had in his hand a little book opened; and he set his right foot on the sea, and the left foot on the earth.

<sup>3</sup> And he cried with a great voice, as a lion when he roareth; and when he had cried, the seven thunders spake their voices. (And he cried with a loud voice, like a lion when he roareth; and when he had cried out, the seven thunders spoke.)

<sup>4</sup> And when the seven thunders had spoken their voices, I was to write. And I heard a voice from heaven, saying, Mark thou what things the seven thunders spake, and do not thou write them. (And when the seven thunders had spoken, I was about to write down what they had said. But I heard a voice from heaven, saying, Seal up what the seven thunders have spoken, and do not write it down.)

lifted up his hand to heaven,

<sup>6</sup> and swore by him that liveth into (the) worlds of worlds, that made of nought heaven, and those things that be in it, and the earth, and those things that be in it, and the sea, and those things that be in it, that time shall no more be. (and swore by Him who liveth forever and ever, who made out of nothing heaven, and those things that be in it, and the earth, and those things that be in it, and the sea, and those things that be in it, that time shall be no more.)

<sup>7</sup> But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel (or But in the days of the sounding of the seventh angel), when he shall begin to trump, the mystery of God shall be ended [or shall be fulfilled], as he preached by his servants (the) prophets.

<sup>8</sup> And I heard a voice from heaven again speaking with me, and saying, Go thou, and take the book, that is opened, from the hand of the angel, that standeth above the sea, and on the land, (or who standeth on the sea, and on the land).

<sup>9</sup> And I went to the angel, and said to him, that he should give me the book. And he said to me, Take the book, and devour it; and it shall make thy womb to be bitter, but in thy mouth it shall be (as) sweet as honey.

<sup>10</sup> And I took the book (out) of the angel's hand (or And I took the book from the hand of the angel), and devoured it, and it was in my mouth as sweet [as] honey; and when I had devoured it, my womb was bitter.

<sup>11</sup> And he said to me, It behooveth thee again to prophesy to heathen men, and to peoples, and languages [or and tongues], and to many kings. (And he said to me, It behooveth thee again to prophesy about or to the Gentiles, and the peoples, and the languages, and many kings.)

CHAPTER 11

<sup>1</sup> And a reed like a rod was given to me, and it was said to me, Rise thou, and mete the temple of God, and the altar, and (the) men that worship in it. (And a reed like a measuring rod was given to me, and it was said to me, Rise, and measure the Temple of God, and the altar, and the number of those who worship in it.)

<sup>2</sup> But cast thou out the foreyard [or the porch], that is without the temple, and mete not it; for it is given to (the) heathen men, and they shall defoul the holy city by forty months and twain. (But ignore the outer courtyard, which is outside the Temple, and do not measure it; for it was given to the Gentiles, and they shall defile the holy city for forty-two months.)

<sup>3</sup> And I shall give to my two witnesses (or And I shall send my two witnesses), and they shall prophesy (for) a thousand days two hundred and sixty, and [they] shall be clothed with sackcloths.

<sup>4</sup> These be two olives, and two candlesticks, (or They be the two olive trees, and the two candlesticks), and they stand in the sight of the Lord of the earth.

<sup>5</sup> And if any man will annoy (or will harm) them, fire shall go out of the mouth(s) of them, and (it) shall devour their enemies. And if any [man] will hurt them, thus it behooveth him to be slain.

- <sup>6</sup> These have (the) power to close, [or to shut up], (the) heaven(s), that it rain not in the days of their prophecy; and they have power on waters, to turn them into blood; and to smite the earth with every plague, and as oft as they will. (They have the power to close up the heavens, so that it will not rain in the days of their prophecy; and they have power over the waters, to turn them into blood; and to strike the earth with every plague, and as often as they desire.)
- <sup>7</sup> And when they shall end their witnessing, the beast that ascendeth up from (the) deepness [or from the depth], shall make battle against them, and shall overcome them, and shall slay them. (And when they shall end their testimony, the beast that goeth up from the abyss, shall make battle against them, and shall overcome them, and shall kill them.)
- <sup>8</sup> And the bodies of them shall lie in the streets of the great city, that is called ghostly Sodom, and Egypt, (or that is spiritually or symbolically called Sodom, or Egypt), where the Lord of them was crucified.
- <sup>9</sup> And some of the lineages, and of peoples, and of languages, and of heathen men, shall see the bodies of them by three days and an half; and they shall not suffer the bodies of them to be put in burials. (And some of the tribes, and of the peoples, and of the languages, and of the Gentiles, shall behold their bodies for three and a half days; and they shall not allow their bodies to be buried.)
- <sup>10</sup> And men inhabiting the earth shall have joy on them; and they shall make merry, and shall send gifts together, for these two prophets tormented them that dwell on the earth. (And all those inhabiting the earth shall rejoice over them; and they shall make merry, and shall send gifts to each other, for these two prophets tormented all who lived on the earth.)
- <sup>11</sup> And after three days and an half, the Spirit of (the) life of God entered into them; and they stood on their feet, and great dread fell on them that saw. (But after three and a half days, the breath of life from God entered into them; and they stood upon their feet, and great fear fell upon those who saw them.)
- <sup>12</sup> And they heard a great voice from heaven, saying to them, Come up hither. And they ascended [up] into heaven in a cloud, and the enemies of them saw them. (And they heard a loud voice from heaven, saying to them, Come up here. And they went up into heaven in a cloud, and their enemies saw them.)
- <sup>13</sup> And in that hour a great earth-moving was made, and the tenth part of the city fell down; and the names of men seven thousand were slain in the earth-moving; and the others were sent into dread, and gave glory to (the) God of heaven. (And at that moment there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city fell down; and seven thousand men were killed in the earthquake; and the others were sent into fear or terror, and gave glory to the God of heaven.)
  - <sup>14</sup> The second woe is gone, and lo! the third woe shall come soon.
- <sup>15</sup> And the seventh angel trumped, and great voices were made in heaven, and said, The realm of this world is made our Lord's, and of Christ [or and Christ's], his Son, or is made of our Lord, and of Christ, his Son; and he shall reign into worlds of worlds. Amen. (And the seventh angel blew his trumpet, and loud voices were heard in heaven, and they said. The Kingdom of this world is now our Lord's, and the Messiah's, His Son; and he shall reign forever and ever. Amen.)

- <sup>16</sup> And the four and twenty elder men, that sat in their seats in the sight of the Lord, fell on their faces, and worshipped God, (And the twenty-four elders, who sat on their thrones before the Lord, fell on their faces, and worshipped God,)
- <sup>17</sup> and said, We do thankings to thee, Lord God almighty, which art, and which were, and which art to coming [or and which art to come]; which hast taken thy great virtue, and hast reigned. (and said, We give thanks to thee, Lord God Almighty, who art, and who was, and who art to come; yea, thou hast taken thy great power, and hast reigned.)
- <sup>18</sup> And folks be wroth, and thy wrath came, and (the) time of dead men to be deemed, and to yield meed to thy servants, and prophets, and hallows, and (those) dreading thy name, to small and to great, and to destroy them that corrupted the earth. (And the nations and the peoples were angry, and thy wrath came, and the time for the dead to be judged, and to give reward to thy servants, and thy prophets, and thy saints or thy people, and all those who have fearful reverence for thy name, yea, to small and to great, and to destroy those who corrupted the earth.)
- <sup>19</sup> And the temple of God in heaven was opened, and the ark of his testament was seen in his temple; and lightnings were made, and voices, and thunders, and earth-moving, and great hail. (And God's Temple in heaven was opened, and the Covenant Box was seen in his Temple; and there was lightning, and sounds, and thunder, and an earthquake, and great hail.)

- <sup>1</sup> And a great sign appeared in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and in the head of her a crown of twelve stars. (And a great sight appeared in the heavens; a woman who was clothed with the sun, and the moon was under her feet, and on her head was a crown of twelve stars.)
- <sup>2</sup> And she had [(a) child] in (her) womb, [or And she having in womb, or being with child], and she cried, travailing of (the) child (or in labour with the child), and is tormented, that she bear (the) child.
- <sup>3</sup> And another sign was seen in heaven; and lo! a great red dragon, that had seven heads, and ten horns, and in the heads of him seven diadems. (And another sight was seen in the heavens; and behold! a great red dragon, that had seven heads, and ten horns, and on his seven heads were seven crowns.)
- <sup>4</sup> And the tail of him drew the third part of [the] stars of (the) heaven(s), and sent them into the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman, that was to bearing (her) child, that when she had born (her) child, he should devour her child, (or And the dragon stood before the woman, who was about to bring forth her child, so that when her child was born, he could eat her child).
- <sup>5</sup> And she bare a man child, that was to ruling all folks in an iron rod; and her son was ravished to God, and to his throne. (And she gave birth to a boy child, who would rule all the nations and all the peoples with an iron rod; and her son was snatched up unto God, and to his throne.)

- <sup>6</sup> And the woman flew into (the) wilderness, where she hath a place made ready of God (or where she hath a place prepared by God), (so) that he feed her there (for) a thousand days two hundred and sixty.
- <sup>7</sup> And a great battle was made in heaven, and Michael and his angels fought with the dragon. And the dragon fought (back), and his angels (or And the dragon and his angels fought back);
- <sup>8</sup> and they had not might [more](than the others), neither the place of them was found (any) more in heaven. (but they did not have as much strength as Michael and the other angels, and so there was no longer any place in heaven for them.)
- <sup>9</sup> And that dragon was cast down, the great old serpent, that is called the Devil, and Satan, that deceiveth all the world; he was cast down into the earth (or he was thrown down to the earth), and his angels were sent with him.
- <sup>10</sup> And I heard a great voice in heaven, saying, Now is made health, and virtue, and (the) kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ; for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before the sight of our God day and night. (And I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying, Now there is made salvation or victory, and power, and the Kingdom of our God, and the power of his Messiah; for the accuser of our brothers is thrown down, who accused them before our God day and night, or who accused them in the presence of our God day and night.)
- <sup>11</sup> And they overcame him for the blood of the lamb, and for the word of his witnessing, (or And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of his testimony); and they loved not their (own) lives [or their (own) souls] till to the death.
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore, ye heavens, be ye glad, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the earth, and to the sea; for the fiend is come down to you, and hath great wrath, witting that he hath (just a) little time. (And so, ye heavens, be glad, and ye who dwell in them. Woe to the earth, and to the sea; for the Devil hath come down to you, and he hath great anger, knowing that he hath just a little time left.)
- <sup>13</sup> And after that the dragon saw, that he was cast down into the earth, he pursued the woman, that bare the man child. (And after that the dragon saw, that he was thrown down to the earth, he pursued the woman, or he persecuted the woman, who gave birth to the boy.)
- <sup>14</sup> And two wings of a great eagle were given to the woman, (so) that she should fly [or should flee] into (the) desert, into her place, where she is fed by time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.
- <sup>15</sup> And the serpent sent out of his mouth after the woman water as a flood, that he should make her to be drawn (away) of the flood. (And the serpent sent a flood of water out of his mouth after the woman, so that he could carry her away with the flood.)
- <sup>16</sup> And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened his mouth, and sopped up the flood (or and swallowed up the flood), that the dragon sent [out] of his mouth.
- <sup>17</sup> And the dragon was wroth against the woman, and he went to make battle with others of her seed, that keep the commandments of God, and have the witnessing of Jesus Christ. (And the dragon raged against the woman, and he went to make battle with others of her seed, who obey God's commandments, and hold faithful to the testimony of Jesus Christ.)

 $^{18}$  And he stood on the gravel of the sea. (And he stood on the sand of the sea or on the seashore.)

- <sup>1</sup> And I saw a beast ascending up (out) of the sea (or And I saw a beast going up out of the sea), having seven heads, and ten horns; and on his horns ten diadems (or ten crowns), and on his heads the names [or the name] of blasphemy.
- <sup>2</sup> And the beast whom I saw, was like a [leo] pard, and his feet as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion; and the dragon gave his virtue and great power to him (or and the dragon gave his strength and authority and great power to him).
- <sup>3</sup> And I saw one of his heads, as slain into (the) death; and the wound of his death was cured [or was healed]. And all the earth wondered after the beast.
- $^4$  And they worshipped the dragon, that gave (his) power to the beast; and they worshipped the beast, and said, Who is like to the beast, and who shall be able to fight with it?
- <sup>5</sup> And a mouth speaking great things, and blasphemies, was given to it; and power was given to it, to do two and forty months (or to reign for forty-two months).
- <sup>6</sup> And it opened his mouth into blasphemies to God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven. (And it opened his mouth to blaspheme God, yea, to blaspheme his name, and his Tabernacle, and those who live in heaven.)
- <sup>7</sup> And it was given to him to make battle with (the) saints, and to overcome them; and power was given to him into each lineage, and people, and language, and folk. (And it was given to him to make battle with God's people, and to overcome them; and power was given to him over every tribe, and people, and language, and nation.)
- <sup>8</sup> And all men worshipped it, that dwell in earth, whose names be not written in the book of life of the lamb, that was slain from the beginning of the world. (And everyone shall worship it, who live on the earth, whose names be not written in the Lamb's Book of Life, from the creation of the world, yea,the Lamb who was killed.)
  - <sup>9</sup> If any man hath ears, hear he.
- <sup>10</sup> He that leadeth into captivity, shall go into captivity; he that slayeth with (the) sword, it behooveth him to be slain with (the) sword. This is the patience and the faith of (the) saints (or This is the endurance and the faithfulness of God's people).
- <sup>11</sup> And I saw another beast ascending up from the earth, and it had two horns, like the lamb; and it spake as the dragon, (And I saw another beast going up from the earth, and it had two horns, like the Lamb; but it spoke like the dragon,)
- <sup>12</sup> and [it] did all the power of the former beast, in his sight. And it made the earth, and (the) men dwelling in it, to worship the first beast, whose wound of death was cured [or was healed].

<sup>13</sup> And it did great signs (or great miracles), (so) that also it made fire to come down from (the) heaven(s) to the earth, in the sight of all men.

<sup>14</sup> And it deceiveth men, that dwell in (the) earth (or who live on the earth), for (the) signs which be given to it to do in the sight of the beast; saying to men that dwell in earth (or saying to those who live on the earth), that they (should) make an image of the beast, that hath the wound of [a] sword, and lived.

<sup>15</sup> And it was given to him, that he should give [a] spirit (or breath) to the image of the beast, and that the image of the beast speak. And he shall make, that whoever honour not the image of the beast, be slain.

<sup>16</sup> And he shall make all, small and great, rich and poor, free men and bondmen, to have a character, either(a)mark, in (or on) their right hand, either in (or on) their foreheads;

<sup>17</sup> (so) that no man may buy, either sell, [no] but they have the character (or unless they have the mark), either the name of the beast, either the number of his name.

<sup>18</sup> Here is wisdom; he that hath understanding, acount the number of the beast; for it is the number of man, and his number is six hundred sixty and six.

CHAPTER 14

<sup>1</sup> And I saw, and lo! a lamb stood on the mount of Sion [or and lo! the lamb stood on the mount Sion], and with him an hundred thousand and four and forty thousand, having his name, and the name of his Father written in their foreheads. (And I saw, and behold! the Lamb stood on Mount Zion, and with him were a hundred and forty-four thousand, having his name, and the name of his Father written on their foreheads.)

<sup>2</sup> And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder; and the voice which I heard, was as of many harpers harping in their harps. (And I heard a sound from heaven, like the sound of many waters, and like the sound of great thunder; and the sound which I heard, was like that of many harpers playing on their harps.)

<sup>3</sup> And they sung as a new song before the seat of God, and before the four beasts, and the elder men. And no man might say the song, but those hundred thousand and four and forty thousand, that be bought from the earth. (And they sang a new song before God's throne, and the four creatures, and the elders. And no man could learn the song, but those hundred and forty-four thousand, who be bought or ransomed from the earth.)

<sup>4</sup>These it be, that be not defouled with women; for they be virgins. These (pur)sue the lamb, whither ever he shall go; these be bought of all men, the first fruits to God, and to the lamb; (These it be, who be not defiled with women; for they be virgins. They follow the Lamb, wherever he shall go; for they be ransomed from out of all of mankind, the first fruits to God, and to the Lamb;)

<sup>5</sup> and in the mouth of them leasing is not found; for they be without wem before the throne of God. (and lies were not found in their mouths;

for they be without spot or blemish before the throne of God.)

<sup>6</sup> And I saw another angel, flying by the middle of heaven (or flying through the midst of heaven), having an everlasting gospel [or having the everlasting gospel], (so) that he should preach [or that he should evangelize] to men sitting on the earth, and on each folk, and lineage, and language, and people, (or and to every nation, and tribe, and language, and people);

- <sup>7</sup> and said with a great voice, Dread ye the Lord, and give ye to him honour, for the hour of his doom cometh; and worship ye him, that made heaven and earth, the sea, and all things that be in them, and the wells of waters. (and he said with a loud voice, Have fearful reverence for the Lord, and give him honour, for the hour of his Judgement cometh; and worship him, who made heaven and earth, the sea, and all the things that be in them, and the springs of water.)
- <sup>8</sup> And another angel (pur)sued, saying, That great [city] Babylon fell down, fell down, which gave drink to all folks of the wine of [the] wrath of her fornication. (And another angel followed, saying, That great city Babylon fell down, fell down, which made all the nations and all the peoples drink of the wrath of the wine of her fornication.)
- <sup>9</sup> And the third angel *(pur)*sued them, and said with a great voice, If any man worship the beast, and the image of it, and taketh the character in his forehead, either in his hand, (And the third angel followed them, and said with a loud voice, If anyone worship the beast, and its image, and receiveth its mark on his forehead, or on his hand,)
- <sup>10</sup> this shall drink of the wine of God's wrath, that is mingled with clear wine in the cup of his wrath, and [he] shall be tormented with fire and brimstone, in the sight of [the] holy angels, and before the sight of the lamb.
- <sup>11</sup> And the smoke of their torments shall ascend up into the worlds of worlds; neither they (shall) have rest day and night, which worship the beast and his image, and if any take the character of his name. (And the smoke of their torments shall go up forever and ever; and they shall not have any rest day or night, who worship the beast and his image, and if any receive the mark of his name.)
- <sup>12</sup> Here is the patience of (the) saints, which keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus. (Here is the endurance of God's people, who obey the commandments of God, and hold fast to their faithfulness in Jesus.)
- <sup>13</sup> And I heard a voice from heaven, saying to me, Write thou, Blessed be(the) dead men [or Blessed be (the) dead], that die in the Lord; from henceforth now the Spirit saith, that they rest of their travails; for the works of them (pur)sue them. (And I heard a voice from heaven, saying to me, Write, Blessed be the dead who die in the Lord; from henceforth now the Spirit saith, They can rest from their labours; for their works follow them.)
- <sup>14</sup> And I saw, and lo! a white cloud, and above the cloud a sitter [or and above the cloud one sitting], like the son of man, having in his head a golden crown, (or like the Son of man, having a gold crown on his head), and in his hand a sharp sickle.
- <sup>15</sup> And another angel went out of the temple, and cried with great voice to him that sat on the cloud, Send thy sickle, and reap, for the hour cometh, that it be reaped; for the corn of the earth is ripe. (And another angel went out of the Temple, and cried with a loud voice to him who sat on the cloud, Send thy sickle, and reap the harvest, for the hour cometh, that it be reaped; for the harvest of the earth is ready.)

<sup>16</sup> And he that sat on the cloud, sent his sickle into the earth, and reaped the earth.

<sup>17</sup> And another angel went out of the temple, that is in heaven, and he also had a sharp sickle.

<sup>18</sup> And another angel went out from the altar, that had power on fire; and he cried with a great voice to him that had the sharp sickle, and said, (or And another angel went out from the altar, who had power over the fire; and he cried with a loud voice to him who had the sharp sickle, and said), Send thy sharp sickle, and cut away [or cut off] the clusters of the vineyard of the earth, for the grapes of it be ripe.

<sup>19</sup> And the angel sent his sickle into the earth, and gathered (the) grapes of the vineyard of the earth, and sent (them) into the great lake of God's wrath (or and sent them into the great winepress of God's anger).

<sup>20</sup> And the lake was trodden without the city, and the blood went out of the lake, till to the horses' bridles, by furlongs a thousand and six hundred. (And the winepress was trodden outside the city, and the blood went out of the winepress, for a thousand and six hundred furlongs all around, yea, up to the bridles of the horses.)

CHAPTER 15

<sup>1</sup> And I saw another sign in heaven, great and wonderful; seven angels having the seven last vengeances [or plagues], for the wrath of God is ended in them. (And I saw another great and wonderful sight in heaven; seven angels having the seven last plagues, for God's anger is ended with them.)

<sup>2</sup> And I saw as a glassen sea mingled with fire (or And I saw a sea like glass mingled with fire), and them that overcame the beast, and his image, and the number of his name, standing above the glassen sea, having the harps of God;

<sup>3</sup> and singing the song of Moses, the servant of God, and the song of the lamb, and said, Great and wonderful be thy works, Lord God almighty; thy ways be just and true, Lord, king of worlds. (and singing the song of Moses, the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, and said, Great and wonderful be thy works, Lord God Almighty; thy ways be righteous and true, Lord, the King of all worlds.)

<sup>4</sup> Lord, who shall not dread thee, and magnify thy name? for thou alone art merciful [or pious]; for all folks shall come, and worship in thy sight, for thy dooms be open(ed). (Lord, who shall not have fearful reverence for thee, and magnify thy name? for thou alone art pious or art holy; for all the nations and all the peoples shall come, and worship before thee, for thy judgements be opened.)

<sup>5</sup> And after these things I saw, and lo! the temple of the tabernacle of witnessing was opened in heaven; (And after these things I saw, and behold! the Temple of the Tabernacle of the Testimony was opened in heaven;)

<sup>6</sup> and seven angels having [the] seven plagues, went out of the temple, and were clothed with a stole clean and white, and were before-girded with golden girdles about the breasts (or and with gold bands around their chests).

<sup>7</sup> And one of the four beasts gave to the seven angels seven golden vials, full of the wrath of God, that liveth into (the) worlds of worlds. (And one of the four creatures gave to the seven angels seven gold basins, or seven gold bowls, full of God's anger, who liveth forever and ever.)

<sup>8</sup> And the temple was filled with (the) smoke of the majesty of God, and of the virtue of him; and no man might enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were ended. (And the Temple was filled with smoke from the Majesty of God, and from his power; and no one could enter into the Temple, until the seven plagues of the seven angels were ended.)

- <sup>1</sup> And I heard a great voice from heaven, saying to the seven angels, Go ye, and shed out the seven vials of God's wrath into the earth. (And I heard a loud voice from heaven, saying to the seven angels, Go, and pour out the seven basins, or the seven bowls, of God's anger upon the earth.)
- <sup>2</sup> And the first angel went, and shedded out his vial into the earth (or and poured out his bowl onto the earth); and a wound fierce and worst was made on all that had the character [or the mark] of the beast, and on them that worshipped the beast, and his image.
- <sup>3</sup> And the second angel shedded out his vial into the sea, and the blood was made, as of a dead thing; and each man living was dead in the sea. (And the second angel poured out his bowl into the sea, and it was made like blood, like from a dead thing; and each living thing in the sea died.)
- <sup>4</sup> And the third angel shedded out his vial on the rivers, and on the wells of waters, [and blood is made], (And the third angel poured out his bowl into the rivers, and into the springs of water, and they were made like blood,)
- <sup>5</sup> and said [or and I heard the angel of (the) waters saying], Just art thou, Lord, that art, and that were holy, that deemest these things; (and I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O holy Lord, who art, and who was, and who judgest these things;)
- <sup>6</sup> for they shedded out the blood of (the) hallows, and (the) prophets, (or for they poured out the blood of the saints, or of God's people, and of the prophets), and thou hast given to them blood to drink; for they be worthy.
- <sup>7</sup> And I heard another [angel] saying, Yea! Lord God almighty, true and just be thy dooms. (And I heard another angel saying, Yea! Lord God Almighty! true and righteous (be) thy judgements.)
- <sup>8</sup> And the fourth angel shedded out his vial into the sun (or And the fourth angel poured out his bowl onto the sun), and it was given to him to torment men with heat and fire.
- <sup>9</sup> And men sweltered with great heat, and blasphemed the name of (the) God having power on these plagues, neither they did penance, that they should give glory to him. (And men were parched by the great heat, and blasphemed the name of the God who had power over these plagues, but they did not repent, so that they would give him glory.)
- <sup>10</sup> And the fifth angel shedded out his vial on the seat of the beast (or And the fifth angel poured out his bowl onto the throne of the beast), and his kingdom was made dark; and they are together their tongues for sorrow,
- <sup>11</sup> and they blasphemed (the) God of heaven, for (the) sorrows of their wounds [or for (their) sorrows and their wounds]; and they did not penance of their works (or but they did not repent of their works).

- <sup>12</sup> And the sixth angel shedded out his vial into that great river Euphrates, and dried the water of it, that [the] way were made ready to kings from the sun rising. (And the sixth angel poured out his bowl into the great Euphrates River, and dried up its water, so that a way was prepared for the kings of the east.)
- <sup>13</sup> And I saw three unclean spirits by the manner of frogs go out of the mouth of the dragon, and (out) of the mouth of the beast, and (out) of the mouth of the false prophet.
- <sup>14</sup> For they be (the) spirits of devils, making signs, [or wonders], and they go forth to (the) kings of all (the) earth, to gather them into [a] battle, to the great day of almighty God. (For these be the spirits of demons, making miracles, and they go forth to the kings of all the earth, to gather them for the battle, on the Great Day of Almighty God.)
- <sup>15</sup> Lo! I come, as a night thief. Blessed is he that waketh, and keepeth his clothes, that he wander not naked, and that they see not the filthhood of him. (Behold! I come, like a thief in the night. Blessed (is) he who watcheth, and keepeth his clothes on, so that he walk not, or go not naked, so that they do not see his nakedness.)
- <sup>16</sup> And he shall gather them into a place [or And he gathered them into a place], that is called in Hebrew Armageddon.
- <sup>17</sup> And the seventh angel shedded out his vial into the air, and a great voice went out of heaven from the throne, and said, It is done. (And the seventh angel poured out his bowl into the air, and a loud voice went out of heaven from the throne, and said, It is done.)
- <sup>18</sup> And lightnings were made, and voices, and thunders; and a great earth-moving was made, which manner never was, since men were on (the) earth, such (an) earth-moving so great. (And there were lightning, and sounds, and thunder; and there was a great earthquake, like never before, since men were on the earth, yea, such a great earthquake.)
- <sup>19</sup> And the great city was made [or was broken] into three parts, and the cities of (the) heathen men felled down; and great Babylon came into mind before God (or and the great Babylon came into God's remembrance), to give to it the cup of wine of the indignation of his wrath.
  - <sup>20</sup> And each isle flew away, and (the) hills be not found.
- <sup>21</sup> And a great hail as a talent came down from heaven into men; and men blasphemed God, for the plague of hail, for it was made full great. (And great hail like talents came down from the heavens onto men; and they blasphemed God, for the plague of hail, because it was so very great, or because it was so terribly severe.)

- <sup>1</sup> And one of the seven angels came, that had (the) seven vials, and spake with me, and said, Come thou, I shall show to thee the damnation of the great whore, that sitteth on many waters, (And one of the seven angels came, who had the seven basins, or the seven bowls, and spoke with me, and said, Come, and I shall show thee the damnation of the great whore, who sitteth above, or by, many waters,)
- <sup>2</sup> with which kings of the earth did fornication; and they that dwell in the earth be made drunk of the wine of her lechery. (with whom the kings of the earth did fornication or idolatry; and they who live on the earth be made drunk from the wine of her lechery.)

<sup>3</sup> And he took me [away] into (a) desert in (the) Spirit. And I saw a woman sitting on a red beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads, and ten horns. (And he took me away by the Spirit to a desert. And I saw a woman sitting on a red beast, covered with names of blasphemy, and which had seven heads, and ten horns.)

<sup>4</sup> And the woman was environed with purple, and red, and over-gilded with gold, and precious stone(s), and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand (or and had a gold cup in her hand), full of (the) abominations and

(the) uncleanness of her fornication.

<sup>5</sup> And a name (was) written in the forehead of her, Mystery, Babylon the great, (the) mother of fornications, and of (the) abominations of the earth. (And a name was written on her forehead, Mystery, the great Babylon, the mother of fornications, and of the abominations of the earth.)

<sup>6</sup> And I saw a woman drunken of the blood of (the) saints, and of the blood of (the) martyrs of Jesus, (or And this woman I saw was made drunk from the blood of God's people, and from the blood of the martyrs for Jesus).

And when I saw her, I wondered with (a) great wondering.

<sup>7</sup> And the angel said to me, Why wonderest thou? I shall say to thee the sacrament of the woman (or I shall tell thee the secret, or the mystery, of the woman), and of the beast that beareth her, that hath seven heads and ten horns.

- <sup>8</sup> The beast which thou seest [or The beast which thou sawest], was, and is not; and she shall ascend up from [the] deepness, and she shall go into perishing. And men dwelling in earth shall wonder, whose names be not written in the book of life from the making of the world, seeing the beast, that was, and is not. (The beast which thou hast seen, was, and is not; and she shall go up from the depth, or from the abyss, and she shall go into perdition, or into destruction. And men living on the earth shall wonder, whose names be not written in the Book of Life from the beginning or the creation of the world, seeing the beast, that was, and is not.)
- <sup>9</sup> And this is the wit, (for) who that hath wisdom, (or And this is the understanding or the explanation, for he who hath wisdom). The seven heads be seven hills, on which the woman sitteth,
- <sup>10</sup> and kings seven be [or and (there) be seven kings]. Five have felled down, and one is, and another cometh not yet. And when he shall come, it behooveth him to dwell (only for) a short time.
- <sup>11</sup> And the beast that was, and is not, and she is the eighth, and is of the seven, and shall go into perishing. (And the beast that was, and is not, he is an eighth king, and yet is of the seven, and shall go into destruction, or into perdition.)
- <sup>12</sup> And the ten horns which thou hast seen, be ten kings, that yet have not taken kingdom; but they shall take power as kings, one hour after the beast. (And the ten horns which thou hast seen, be ten kings, who have not yet received their kingdoms; but they shall receive their power as kings, one hour after the beast.)
- <sup>13</sup> These have one counsel, and shall betake their virtue and power to the beast. (They shall be of one accord, and shall deliver their authority and power to the beast.)

<sup>14</sup> These shall fight with the lamb, and the lamb shall overcome them; for he is (the) Lord of lords, and (the) King of kings; and they that be with him, be called, [and] chosen, and faithful.

15 And he said to me, The waters which thou hast seen, where the whore sitteth, be peoples, and folks, and languages, (or be peoples, and nations, and tongues).

16 And the ten horns that thou hast seen in the beast, these shall [hate the fornicary woman, or (the) whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat the fleshes of her, and shall burn (al)together her with fire [or and shall burn her (al)together with fire].

<sup>17</sup> For God gave into the hearts of them, that they do that that is pleasant to him, [or Soothly God gave into the hearts of them, that they do that that is pleasant before him], (and) that they give their kingdom(s) to the beast, till the words of God be ended. (For God put into their hearts, that they do what is pleasing to him, and that they give their kingdoms to the beast, until God's words be fulfilled.)

<sup>18</sup> And the woman whom thou hast seen, is the great city, that hath kingdom on the kings of the earth (or that ruleth over the kings of the earth).

CHAPTER 18

<sup>1</sup> And after these things I saw another angel coming down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened [or was lighted] of his glory (or by his glory).

<sup>2</sup> And he cried with a strong voice, saying, Great Babylon felled down, felled down, and is made the habitation of devils, and the keeping of each unclean spirit, and the keeping of each unclean fowl, and hateful. (And he cried with a loud voice, saying, The great Babylon fell down, fell down, and it is made the habitation of demons, and the domicile of every unclean spirit, and the home of every unclean and hateful, or loathsome, bird.)

<sup>3</sup> For all folks drunk of the wrath of the fornication of her, and kings of the earth, and merchants of the earth, did fornication with her; and they be made rich of the virtue of [the] delights of her. (For all the nations and all the peoples have drunk of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth, and the merchants of the earth, did fornication with her; and they be made rich from the abundance of her delights.)

<sup>4</sup> And I heard another voice of heaven, saying, My people, go ye out of it, and be ye not partners of the trespasses of it, and ye shall not receive of the wounds of it [or of the plagues of it]. (And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, My people, go out of it, and do not be made the partners of its trespasses, and then ye shall not share in its plagues, or its torments.)

<sup>5</sup> For the sins of it came unto heaven, and the Lord had mind of the wickedness(es) of it. (For its sins came unto heaven, and the Lord remembered its wickednesses.)

<sup>6</sup> Yield ye to it, as she yielded to you; and double ye double things, after her works; in the drink that she meddled to you, meddle or mingle ye double to her, (or of the drink which she mixed for you, mix ye double for her).

<sup>7</sup>As much as she glorified herself, and was in delights, so much torment give ye to her, and wailing, [or weeping, or mourning]; for in her heart she saith, I sit a queen, and I am not a widow, and I shall not see wailing, [or weeping, or mourning].

<sup>8</sup> And therefore in one day her wounds [or her plagues] shall come, death, and mourning, and hunger; and she shall be burnt in (the) fire, for God is strong, that shall deem her, (or for God is strong, who shall judge her).

<sup>9</sup> And the kings of the earth shall beweep, and bewail themselves on her (or and bewail themselves over her), which did fornication with her, and lived in delights, when they shall see the smoke of the burning of it;

<sup>10</sup> standing afar, for dread of the torments of it, saying, Woe! woe! that great city Babylon, and that strong city; for in one hour thy doom cometh. (standing afar, for fear of its torments, saying, Woe! woe! that great city Babylon, and that strong city; for in one hour thy judgement cometh.)

<sup>11</sup> And merchants of the earth shall weep on it, and mourn, for no man shall buy more the merchandise of them; (And the merchants of the earth shall weep over it, and mourn, for no one shall buy their merchandise any more;)

12 the merchandise of gold, and of silver, and of precious stone(s), and of pearl(s), and of biss, (or and of bisso, or fine linen), and of purple, and of silk, and of cotton, and of each tree thyine, and all vessels of ivory, and all vessels of precious stone(s), and of brass, and of iron, and of marble.

 $^{13}$  and of cinnamon, and of sweet smelling things, and ointments, and of incense, and of wine, and of oil, and of flour, and of wheat, and of work beasts, and of sheep, and of horses, and of chariots, and of servants, and of other lives of men.

<sup>14</sup> And thine apples of the desire of thy life, [or And thine apples, the desires of thy life], went away from thee, and all fatted things, and full clear (or truly glorious) perished [away] from thee.

- <sup>15</sup> And (the) merchants of these things shall no more find those things [or these goods]. They that be made rich of it, shall stand [a] far (off), for dread of (the) torments of it (or for fear of its torments), weeping, and mourning,
- <sup>16</sup> and saying, Woe! woe! that great city, that was clothed with bis, (or which was clothed in bisso, or fine linen), and purple, and red scarlet, and was over-gilded with gold, and precious stone(s), and margarites (or pearls),
- <sup>17</sup> for in one hour so many riches be destitute, either done away. And each governor, and all that sail by ship into place(s), and mariners, and they that work in the sea, stood (a)far (off),
- <sup>18</sup> and cried, seeing the place of the burning of it, saying, What [city]is like this great city?
- <sup>19</sup> And they cast powder on their heads, and cried, weeping, and mourning, and saying, Woe! woe! that great city, in which all that have ships in the sea be made rich of the prices of it; for in one hour it is desolate.
- <sup>20</sup> Heaven, and holy apostles, and prophets, make ye full out joy on it, for God hath deemed your doom on it. (Heaven, and the holy apostles, and the prophets, rejoice over it, for God hath taken vengeance upon it for you.)
- <sup>21</sup> And one strong angel took up a stone, as a great millstone, and cast (it) into the sea, and said, In this force [or In this fierceness] that great city Babylon shall be sent, and now it shall no more be found.

<sup>22</sup> And the voice of harps (or And the sound of harps), and of men of music, and singing with pipe and trump, shall no more be heard in it. And each craftsman, and each craft, shall no more be found in it. And the voice of a millstone shall no more be heard in thee (or And the sound of a millstone shall no more be heard in thee),

<sup>23</sup> and the light of [the] lantern shall no more shine in thee, and the voice of the husband and of the wife shall no more be heard in thee; for thy merchants were (the) princes of the earth. For in thy witchcrafts all folks erred (or For all the nations and all the peoples went astray in thy witchcrafts).

<sup>24</sup> And the blood of (the) prophets and of (the) saints is found in it, and of all men that be slain in (the) earth. (And the blood of the prophets and of God's people is found in it, yea, the blood of all those who were killed on the earth.)

- <sup>1</sup> After these things I heard as a great voice of many trumps in heaven, saying, Alleluia; praising, and glory, and virtue is to our God; (After these things I heard voices in heaven like the great sound of many trumpets, saying, Alleluia; praise, and glory, and power be to our God;)
- <sup>2</sup> for true and just be the dooms of him, which deemed the great whore, that defouled [or corrupted] the earth in her lechery, and (a)venged the blood of his servants, of the hands of her. (for true and righteous be his judgements, who judged the great whore, who corrupted the earth with her lechery, and avenged the blood of his servants, at the hands of her.)
- <sup>3</sup> And again they said, Alleluia. And the smoke of it ascendeth up, into the worlds of worlds, (or And its smoke goeth up forever).
- <sup>4</sup> And the four and twenty elder men and the four beasts felled down, and worshipped God sitting on the throne, and said, Amen, Alleluia. (And the twenty-four elders and the four creatures fell down, and worshipped God sitting on the throne, and said, Amen, Alleluia.)
- <sup>5</sup> And a voice went out of the throne, and said, All the servants of our God, say ye praisings to our God, and ye that dread God, small and great. (And a voice went out from the throne, and said, All the servants of our God, say praises to our God, and ye who have fearful reverence for God, great and small.)
- <sup>6</sup> And I heard a voice [as] of a great trump, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of great thunders, saying, Alleluia; for our Lord God almighty hath reigned. (And I heard a sound like a great trumpet, like the sound of many waters, and like the sound of loud thunder, saying, Alleluia; for our Lord God Almighty hath reigned.)
- <sup>7</sup> Joy we, and make we mirth, [or Joy we withinforth, and glad we withoutforth], and give glory to him; for the weddings of the lamb came, and the wife of him made ready herself (or and his wife-to-be made herself ready).
- <sup>8</sup> And it was given to her, that she cover her[self] with white bisso shining; for why bisso is the justifyings of (the) saints. (And it was given to her, that she cover herself with shining white linen; because fine linen is the justifyings or the righteous deeds of God's people.)

- $^9$  And he said to me, Write thou, Blessed be they that be called to the supper of the weddings of the lamb. And he said to me, These words of God be true.
- <sup>10</sup> And I felled down before his feet, to worship him. And he said to me, See thou, that thou do not; (for) I am a servant (along) with thee, and of thy brethren, having the witnessing of Jesus; worship thou God. For the witnessing of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. (And I fell down before his feet, to worship him. And he said to me, See that thou do not do that; for I am a servant along with thee, and with thy brothers, bearing the testimony of Jesus; worship God. For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.)
- <sup>11</sup> And I saw heaven opened, and lo! a white horse, and he that sat on him was called Faithful and soothfast; and with rightwiseness he deemeth, and fighteth. (And I saw heaven opened, and behold! a white horse, and he who sat upon him was called Faithful and Truthful, or Faithful and True; and he judgeth with righteousness, and fighteth or wageth war.)
- <sup>12</sup> And his eyes were as (the) flame of fire, and in his head many diadems (or and on his head were many crowns); and he had a name written, which no man knew, but he.
- <sup>13</sup> And he was clothed in a cloth sprinkled with blood (or And he was clothed in a cloak covered with blood); and the name of him was called The Son of God [or and the name of him was called The Word of God].
- <sup>14</sup> And the hosts that be in heaven, *(pur)*sued him on white horses, clothed with bisso, white and clean. (And the hosts that be in heaven, followed him on white horses, and they were clothed in fine linen, white and clean.)
- <sup>15</sup> And a sword sharp on either side [or on each side] came forth (out) of his mouth, that with it he smite folks (or and he shall strike the nations and the peoples with it); and he shall rule them with an iron rod. And he treadeth the presser of wine (or the winepress) of (the) strong vengeance of the wrath of almighty God.
- <sup>16</sup> And he hath written in his cloth, and in the hip [or in his hem], King of kings and Lord of lords. (And he hath written on his cloak, and on his hip, or on his thigh, King of kings and Lord of lords.)
- <sup>17</sup> And I saw an angel, standing in the sun; and he cried with a great voice, and said to all birds that flew by the middle of heaven, (or and he cried with a loud voice, and said to all the birds that flew through the midst of the heavens), Come ye, and be ye gathered [together] to the great supper of God,
- <sup>18</sup> (so) that ye eat the flesh of kings, and [the] flesh of tribunes, and [the] flesh of strong men, and (the) flesh of horses, and of those that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men and of bondmen, and of small and of great.
- <sup>19</sup> And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and the hosts of them gathered (or and their armies gathered), to make battle with him, that sat on the horse, and with his host.
- <sup>20</sup> And the beast was caught, and with her the false prophet, that made signs before her (or who made miracles before her); in which he deceived them that took the character [or the mark] of the beast, and that worshipped the image of it. These two were sent quick (or alive) into the pool of fire, burning with brimstone.

<sup>21</sup> And the others were slain with the sword of him that sat on the horse, that cometh forth (out) of the mouth of him; and all (the) birds were [full-Jfilled with the flesh of them (or and all the birds were filled full with their flesh).

- <sup>1</sup> And I saw an angel coming down from heaven, having the key of (the) deepness, (or having the key of the depth, or of the abyss), and a great chain in his hand.
- <sup>2</sup> And he caught the dragon, the old serpent, that is the Devil and Satan; and he bound him by a thousand years (or and he bound him for a thousand years).
- <sup>3</sup> And he sent him into (the) deepness, and closed, and marked [or sealed] on him, that he deceive no more the folks, till a thousand years be [ful] filled, (or And he sent him into the depth, or into the abyss, and enclosed it, and sealed it over him, so that he would no longer deceive the nations and the peoples, until the thousand years were over). After these things it behoveth him to be unbound (for) a little time.
- <sup>4</sup> And I saw seats, and they sat on them, and doom was given to them. And the souls of men beheaded for the witnessing of Jesus, and for the word of God, and them that worshipped not the beast, neither the image of it, neither took the character of it in their foreheads, neither in their hands. And they lived, and reigned with Christ (for) a thousand years. (And I saw thrones, and they who sat upon them, and judgement was given to them. And I saw the souls of men beheaded for their testimony about Jesus, and for the word of God, and those who did not worship the beast, or its image, nor received its mark on their foreheads, or on their hands. And they lived, and reigned with the Messiah for a thousand years.)
- <sup>5</sup> And (the) others of (the) dead men lived not [or The others of (the) dead lived not], till a thousand years were ended. This is the first again-rising. (And the others of the dead did not live, until the thousand years were over. This is the first resurrection.)
- <sup>6</sup> Blessed and holy is he, that hath part in the first again-rising. In these men the second death hath not power [or In these the second death hath no power]; but they shall be priests of God, and of Christ, and they shall reign with him a thousand years, (or but they shall be the priests of God, and of the Messiah, and they shall reign with him for a thousand years).
- <sup>7</sup> And when a thousand years shall be ended, Satan shall be unbound of his prison; (And when the thousand years shall be over, Satan shall be unbound from his prison;)
- <sup>8</sup> and he shall go out, and shall deceive folks, that be on (the) four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog. And he shall gather them [together] into battle, whose number is as the gravel of the sea. (and he shall go out, and shall deceive the nations and the peoples, that be on the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog. And he shall gather them together into battle, whose number is like, or is as great as, the sand of the sea.)
- <sup>9</sup> And they went up on the broadness of the earth, and environed the castles of (the) saints, and the *(be)*loved city. And fire came down of God from heaven, and devoured them. (And they ascended upon the broadness of the earth, and encompassed the camp of God's people, and the beloved city. And fire from God came down from heaven, and devoured them.)

10 And the devil, that deceived them, was sent into the pool of fire and brimstone, where both the beast and false prophets shall be tormented day and night, into (the) worlds of worlds. Amen. (And the Devil, who had deceived them, was sent into the pool of fire and brimstone, where both the beast and the false prophet shall be tormented day and night, forever and ever. Amen.)

11 And I saw a great white throne, and one sitting on it, from whose sight (the) earth fled [or flew away], and heaven, (or from whose sight the earth, and heaven, fled or flew away); and the place is not found of them.

12 And I saw (the) dead men, great and small, standing in the sight of the throne; and (the) books were opened; and another book was opened, which is the book of life; and dead men were deemed of these things that were written in the books, after the works of them. (And I saw the dead, great and small, standing in the sight of the throne; and the books were opened; and another book was opened, which is the Book of Life; and the dead were judged by those things that were written in these books, according to their works.)

13 And the sea gave (up) his dead men, that were in it; and death and hell gave (up) their dead, that were in them. And it was deemed of each, after the works of them. (And the sea gave up its dead, who were in it; and death and hell gave up their dead, who were in them. And everyone was judged, according to their works.)

<sup>14</sup> And hell and death were sent into the pool of fire. This is the second death.

15 And he that was not found written in the book of life, was sent into the pool of fire.

CHAPTER 21

<sup>1</sup> And I saw (a) new heaven and (a) new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth went away, and the sea is not now (or and the sea was no more).

<sup>2</sup> And I, John, saw the holy city Jerusalem, new, coming down from heaven, made ready of God, as a wife adorned to her husband, (or made ready by God, like a wife adorned for her husband).

<sup>3</sup> And I heard a great voice from the throne, saying, (or And I heard a loud voice from the throne, saying), Lo! the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall dwell with them; and they shall be his people, and he God with them shall be their God.

<sup>4</sup> And God shall wipe away each tear from the eyes of them; and death shall no more be, neither mourning, neither crying, neither sorrow, (all) shall be over (or all shall be ended); which first things went away.

<sup>5</sup> And he said, that sat in the throne, (or And he, who sat on the throne, said), Lo! I make all things new. And he said to me, Write thou, for these words be most faithful and true.

<sup>6</sup> And he said to me, It is done; I am alpha and omega, the beginning and the end. I shall give freely of the well of quick water to him that thirsteth. (And he said to me, It is done; I am Alpha and Omega, the Source and the Fulfillment. I shall give freely from the spring of living water to anyone who thirsteth.)

- <sup>7</sup> He that shall overcome, shall wield these things, (or He who shall overcome, shall possess these things); and I shall be God to him, and he shall be (a) son to me.
- <sup>8</sup> But to fearedful men, and unbelieveful, and cursed, and man-quellers, and fornicators, and to witches, and to worshippers of idols, and to all (the) liars, the part of them shall be in the pool burning with fire and brimstone, that is the second death. (But to cowards, and to the unbelieving, or the unfaithful, and to the cursed, and to murderers, and to fornicators, and to witches, and to worshippers of idols, and to all the liars, their portion, or their lot, shall be in the pool burning with fire and brimstone, that is the second death.)
- <sup>9</sup> And one came of the seven angels, having vials full of the seven last vengeances [or the seven last plagues]. And he spake with me, and said, Come thou, and I shall show to thee the spousess, the wife of the lamb. (And one of the seven angels came, bearing seven basins, or seven bowls, full of the seven last plagues. And he spoke with me, and said, Come, and I shall show to thee the spousess, the wife of the Lamb.)
- <sup>10</sup> And he took me up in (the) Spirit into a great hill and high (or And he took me up in the Spirit onto a great high hill); and he showed to me the holy city of Jerusalem, coming down from (the) heaven of God,
- <sup>11</sup> having the clarity of God (or shining with the glory of God); and the light of it like [to] a precious stone, as the stone jasper, as crystal.
- <sup>12</sup> And it had a wall great and high, having twelve gates, and in the gates of it twelve angels, and names written in, that be the names of [the] twelve lineages of the sons of Israel; (And it had a great high wall, with twelve gates, and at its gates were twelve angels, and the names written on those gates were the names of the twelve tribes of the Israelites;)
- <sup>13</sup> from the east three gates, and from the north three gates, and from the south three gates, and from the west three gates.
- <sup>14</sup> And the wall of the city had twelve foundaments, and in them, the twelve names of the twelve apostles, and of the lamb. (And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and written on them were the twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.)
- <sup>15</sup> And he that spake with me, had a golden measure of a reed, that he should mete the city, and the gates of it, and the wall. (And he who spoke with me, had a gold measuring rod, so that he could measure the city, and its gates, and the wall.)
- <sup>16</sup> And the city was set in square; and the length of it is so much, as much as is the breadth. And he meted the city with the reed, by furlongs twelve thousands, (or And he measured the city with the measuring rod, twelve thousands furlongs). And the height, and the length and the breadth of it, be even.
- <sup>17</sup> And he meted the walls of it, of an hundred and forty and four cubits, by (the) measure(ment) of man, that is, of the angel. (And he measured its walls, a hundred and forty-four cubits, according to human measurement, which the angel used.)
- <sup>18</sup> And the building of the wall thereof was of the stone jasper. And the city itself was clean gold, like [to] clean glass, (or And the city itself was made of pure gold, like clear or shining glass).

- <sup>19</sup> And the foundaments of the wall of the city were adorned with all precious stone(s), (or And the foundations of the city wall were adorned with every precious stone). The first foundament, jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, chalcedony; the fourth, emerald;
- <sup>20</sup> the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolyte; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprasus; the eleventh, jacinth (or hyacinth); the twelfth, amethyst.
- <sup>21</sup> And the twelve gates be twelve margarites, by each; and each gate was of each margarite. And the streets of the city were clean gold, as of glass full shining. (And the twelve gates were made out of twelve pearls; and each gate was made out of one pearl. And the city streets were made of pure gold, like shining glass.)

<sup>22</sup> And I saw no temple in it, for the Lord God almighty and the lamb, is the temple of it. (And I did not see any Temple in it, for the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, be its Temple.)

<sup>23</sup> And the city hath no need of the sun, neither of moon, that they shine in it; for the clarity of God shall lighten it [or shall light it]; and the lamb is the lantern of it. (And the city hath no need of the sun, nor of the moon, that they shine in it; for the glory of God shall light it, or shall illumine it: and the Lamb is its lantern.)

<sup>24</sup> And folks shall walk in the light of it (or And the nations and the peoples shall walk in its light); and the kings of the earth shall bring their glory and honour into it.

<sup>25</sup> And the gates of it shall not be closed by day; and night shall not be there.

<sup>26</sup> And they shall bring the glory and (the) honour of folks into it. (And they shall bring the glory and the wealth of the nations and the peoples into it.)

<sup>27</sup> Neither any man [or anything] defouled, and doing abomination and leasing, shall enter into it; [no] but they that be written in the book of life of the lamb. (And nothing defiled, and no one doing abomination and telling lies, shall enter into it; only thosewhose names be written in the Lamb's Book of Life.)

CHAPTER 22

<sup>1</sup> And he showed to me a river of quick water, shining as crystal, coming forth (out) of the seat of God, and of the lamb, (And he showed me a river of living water, shining like crystal, coming forth from the throne/s of God, and of the Lamb,)

<sup>2</sup> in the middle of the street of it. And on each side of the river, the tree of life, bringing forth twelve fruits, yielding his fruit by each month; and the leaves of the tree be to health of folks. (down the middle of the city's street. And on each side of the river, the Tree of Life, bringing forth twelve fruits, yielding its fruit every month of the year; and the leaves of the treebe for the healing of the nations and the peoples.)

<sup>3</sup> And each cursed thing shall no more be; but the seats of God and of the lamb shall be in it (or but the thrones of God and of the Lamb shall be in it). And the servants of him shall serve him.

<sup>4</sup> And they shall see his face, and his name [shall be] in their foreheads. (And they shall see his face, and his name shall be upon their foreheads.)

- <sup>5</sup> And (the) night shall no more be, and they shall not have (any) need to the light of a lantern, neither to (the) light of the sun; for the Lord God shall lighten them [or shall light them], and they shall reign into (the) worlds of worlds. (And the night shall be no more, and they shall not have any need for the light from a lantern, nor for the light from the sun; for the Lord God shall give them light, and they shall reign forever and ever.)
- <sup>6</sup> And he said to me, These words be most faithful and true. And the Lord God of spirits of prophets sent his angel, to show to his servants, what things it behooveth to be done soon, (or And the Lord God, who inspired the prophets, sent his angel, to show his servants, what things it behooveth to be done soon).
- <sup>7</sup> And lo! I come swiftly. Blessed is he, that keepeth the words of prophecy of this book. (And behold! I shall come quickly. Blessed (is) he, who obeyeth the words of prophecy in this book.)
- $^8$  And I am John, that heard and saw these things. And after that I had heard and seen (them), I felled down, to worship before the feet of the angel, that showed to me these things.
- <sup>9</sup> And he said to me, See thou, that thou do not; for I am a servant with thee, and of thy brethren, (the) prophets, and of them that keep the words of prophecy of this book; worship thou God. (And he said to me, See that thou do not do that; for I am a servant along with thee, and with thy brothers, the prophets, and with all those who obey the words of prophecy in this book; worship God.)
- <sup>10</sup> And he said to me, Sign, or seal, thou not the words of prophecy of this book; for the time is nigh. (And he said to me, Do not thou seal up the words of prophecy in this book; for the time is near.)
- <sup>11</sup> He that annoyeth, annoy he yet; and he that is in filths, wax he foul yet; and a just man, be [he] justified yet; and the holy, be [he] hallowed yet. (He who harmeth, still harm; and he who is in filth, continue to grow foul; and a righteous man, still be righteous; and the holy, continue to be holy.)
- <sup>12</sup> Lo! I come soon, and my meed (is) with me, to yield to each man after his works. (Behold! I will soon come, and my reward is with me, to yield to each person after their works.)
- <sup>13</sup> I am alpha and omega, the first and the last, beginning and end. (I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last, the Source and the Fulfillment.)
- <sup>14</sup> Blessed be they, that wash their stoles, (so) that the power of them be in the tree of life, and (they) enter by the gates into the city.
- <sup>15</sup> For withoutforth [shall be shut] (the) hounds, and witches, and unchaste men, and man-quellers, and (those) serving to idols, and each that loveth and maketh leasing. (For the hounds, and the witches, and the unchaste, and the murderers, and those who serve idols, and all those who love to tell lies, shall be shut outside.)
- <sup>16</sup> I Jesus sent mine angel, to witness to you these things in (the) churches, (or I Jesus sent my angel to testify to you about these things in the churches). I am the root and (the) kin of David, and the shining morrow star.
- <sup>17</sup> And the Spirit and the spousess [or the wife] say, Come thou. And he that heareth, say, Come thou; and he that thirsteth, come; and he that will, take he freely the water of life, (or and anyone who desireth, taketh freely of the water of life).

<sup>18</sup> And I witness to each man hearing the words of prophecy of this book, if any man shall put to these things, God shall put on him the vengeances [or the plagues] written in this book. (And I testify to everyone who heareth the words of prophecy in this book, if anyone shall add anything to these words, God shall put on him the plagues written in this book.)

<sup>19</sup> And if any man [shall] do away of the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away the part of him from the book of life, and from the holy city, and from these things that be written in this book. (And if anyone shall do away with any of the words of prophecy in this book, God shall take away his portion or his share from the Book of Life, and from the holy city, and from these things that be written in this book.)

<sup>20</sup> He saith, that beareth witnessing of these things, Yea, Amen. [Lo!] I come soon. Amen. Come thou, Lord Jesus. (He saith, who giveth testimony about these things, Yes, Amen. Behold! I will come soon. Amen. Come, Lord Jesus.)

<sup>21</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.
